HOLD ON TO HEALTHY HOGS. Chicago Live Stock Report: Not a few healthy, thrifty young hogs have appeared on the markets during the past few weeks that are a few months owners will wish they had back in their feed lots.

Our advice is to defer shipping until the disease is actually evident in your own herd, then rush the healthy ones to market. It is better to run the risk of losing a few head than to sacrifice the whole lot when possibly no real necessity exists.

Cholera is very erratic and, like lightning, no one can say just where it is going to strike. It may affect your neighbor's herd and yours escape entirely, provided of course they are properly isolated and do not run with or over ground that deceased hogs have occupied.

PROSPERITY HERE, SAYS M'GREA Prosperity that will eclipse anything the nation has ever enjoyed is what James McGrea, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, sees in the future.

"Prosperity—why it is here! Everybody can see that. The pulse of the whole country is beating to the rhythm of happier times. And we are just entering the new era of prosperity."

"The problem of car shortage depends upon several factors. First, there is the question of the ability of the farmers to store their grain. When they are not compelled by financial stress to realize upon it quickly, there is not the element of rush that suddenly brings an acute situation in car distribution.

"Farmers have never had such bumper crops. If there are storage facilities in their own bins or in their local elevators for the bounteous crops—and I think there are this year—another factor in car shortage is removed.

"Another important factor is the co-operation of shipper and consignee. The one can help by loading promptly and the other by unloading promptly."

Such being the case, let us all cease worrying, sit back and enjoy our prosperity while it is with us, for verily with all the political spellbinders of Yankeehoodhood unmuzzled prosperity may get disgusted and fly away.

SHOW FARMERS NOW. The federal government will expend about $125,000 this fiscal year in promoting the cause of better farm management, through the medium of county agents, who will impart instruction directly to the farmers and to farmers' organizations, says Farm and Fireside.

Such expenditure has been assured by a provision in the agricultural appropriation bill which allows $300,000 for farm-management purposes. A part of this sum will be used in pursuing the farm-management investigations of which William J. Spillman has charge.

Mr. Spillman, under whose division in the bureau of plant industry the direction of farm-management matters falls, estimates that about $125,000 will be available for the employment of agents in various counties and for the organization needed to make the work of these agents effective.

Farm-management efforts of the department of agriculture have thus far not been of a nature to bring the farmers of the country and the farm management experts of the department in close touch. But a new order of things is at hand. Plans are being perfected that will eventually result in the best expert advice of the

Daddy's Bedtime Story—A Dog That Can Ask For His Dinner

Bill Got the Cakes He Asked For. SHEPPIE gave a loud bark, and a scrambling could be heard as of claws feet hurrying over a back fence. "He's chasing Frankie Green's cat home," said Evelyn. "Yes. Can't you hear him say 'Bounce, bounce!' just as plain as anything?" added Jack.

"Well, it sounds just like a plain howlow to me," daddy replied, "but as talking dogs seem to be the new way as well have one too. "There's a talking dog now that's able to speak as many as eight words. "This dog, whose name is Bill, is a very wonderful chap. When he was a puppy he ran and played with the children. They were nice children, and when they were given anything good to eat they shared it with Bill.

"But Bill was a big dog, and no matter how fairly his little playmates divided, Bill was always ready for more at the end of the feast. "Bill had noticed that when the children said cake they usually got one of the sweets. Bill made up his mind to learn to say cake for himself. "The first time he tried even Bill himself knew that it sounded like just plain howlow, but he kept on trying, and finally he was able to give a cough and a woof that the children said was cake, plain as could be.

"Soon it was noticed that Bill had not much appetite at meal time, and then it was learned that Bill was going about town asking for cakes. "Then Bill learned to speak his own name, and by and by he was taught yes and no. He learned several other words in time.

"Then some one put a piece in the paper about Bill, and he became famous. By this time he was several years old, no longer a puppy, but a sober grownup dog who loved his own fireside and his own comfort. "The piece in the newspaper spoiled things for Bill. Letters and telegrams came pouring in to his master. Some of the letters were offers to buy the dog who could talk. Others were letters from men who had theaters or circuses and wanted Bill to come and let them show him off to the public.

"Bill's master would not think of selling him, but as he was not a rich man the offers of pay for showing his dog pleased him. "Bill was taken to the city. At the first theater where he was shown the people went wild over the dog. "Bill's master was paid a large sum of money every week, and the dog was fed on tenderloin steak and dainties, but traveling about over the country and getting up before crowds to show off his tricks are not pleasing to a dog, and maybe he often wished that he had not been so fond of cake as to learn to ask for it."

department on practical problems of farm management being given to farmers in many counties directly. What is going to be done by the government this year is only a beginning. Next year, there is good reason to believe, congress will largely increase the amount allowed for the spread of instruction and suggestion as to farm management. That the government will soon be paying out a million dollars a year for this purpose is not only possible but probable.

The plan is for the federal government to pay half the salary and expenses of the agent for each county. The other half is to be raised locally. That is, while the government will have about $125,000 to spend for this purpose between now and next June 30th, the end of the fiscal year, the fact that an equal sum will be raised in the different counties that want agents will bring the total expenditure for the promotion of farm-management advice and instruction up to $250,000.

RUSH FOR KANSAS LANDS Settlers Thronging Into Five Railroadless Counties. Larned, Kan., Sept. 30.—According to L. J. Pettijohn, receiver for the Dodge City land office, who has just completed a trip through the five Kansas railroadless counties, the rush of settlers has never been greater since the boom days.

The last of the big cattle ranches are breaking up, and there is a scramble for lands along the new Colmar cut-off of the Santa Fe. The road has just chosen two sections for the site of its newest town. The site is cut in two by the Kansas-Oklahoma line. A division point will be made of the place which is yet unnamed.

Mexican Digs Up Gold on a Mountain Top. San Jose, Cal., Oct. 1.—Seventy-five thousand dollars worth of buried treasure was unearthed by a Mexican banker of Ensenada, state of Sonora, from a mountain ridge in Benito county last week, according to a story told by William Rogers, who says he acted as the Mexican's guide. Rogers says his employer carried a map true in every detail to the topography of the section explored for the treasure. Two Mexican laborers accompanied the banker and dug out the treasure chest—an iron bound oak affair partly rotted with age. It was discovered eight feet under ground at the foot of a huge oak tree. The treasure consisted of $10,000 in silver bullion and $65,000 in gold ingots.

PISGAH FOREST TO BE CUT

Lumbermen Buy Timber on Vanderbilt's Huge North Carolina Estate.

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 2.—Eighty-six thousand acres of the Biltmore-Pisgah forest land, owned by George W. Vanderbilt, is to be commercialized, and the stumpage sold, according to the Asheville Citizen. This is in addition to the 29,000 acres already being cut over, and includes all but 12,000 or 15,000 acres of land immediately surrounding Biltmore house, which Mr. Vanderbilt is reserving for his home grounds. C. D. Beadle, business manager of the Biltmore estate, is exploiting the property and at Mr. Vanderbilt's suggestion has offered the stumpage for sale. As a result, a number of prospective buyers are already on the ground making cruises of the timber. The land itself has not been offered for sale.

The forest lands on the estate have been divided into five tracts, which have been assembled to form two units. One is the Davidson River tract and the other the Mills River tract. The latter includes the lands on the north and south forks of Mills River and the pink beds. Bids will be made on each of these two large units. Besides these, there are six or seven little tracts, topographically isolated, which will be comparatively difficult to cut.

The rumor sent out from Washington that Mr. Vanderbilt had offered most of his land to the government as a part of the Appalachian Forest Reserve Park which the Weeks law was pronounced an error by Mr. Beadle in conversation with a Citizen representative. "Mr. Vanderbilt," he said, "has made no such offer. He has expressed to me any intention of doing so." Under the Weeks law, the first move must be made by the property owners, and Mr. Vanderbilt's land can not be acquired by the government unless he offers it for sale.

Three years ago, when Mr. Beadle assumed charge of the timber interests, the forest lands were tied up by old contracts. One year ago the first of a new series of contracts was made by which the Gloucester Lumber Company acquired the timber rights on 29,000 acres. This company has since built a railway of twelve or fifteen miles' length in cutting over this property.

The forest is not to be despoiled. Conservation principals will be practiced, and only timber above 14 inches in diameter of the important kinds will be cut. This will be removed without injury to that left standing, so that excepting for the scars of roads and railways the woodland mountain scenery will remain unchanged.

BIG DEMAND FOR SERUM.

Kansas Product Wanted From New York to California. Manhattan, Kan., Oct. 1.—The serum plant at the Kansas agricultural college has made such a reputation in the production of anti-hog cholera serum that its product now is in demand from California to New York. Sixty thousand cubic centimeters of this serum—enough to vaccinate 3,000 hogs—are sent out from the college every day. That's the average. West Virginia is the biggest buyer. Orders also are received from Oregon, Maryland, Nebraska, Oklahoma, California and New York. In the production of the serum, hogs must die annually at the plant.

CARLOADS OF EGGS IN STORAGE. Concordia, Kan., Sept. 30.—Forty carloads of them—were sent into a cold storage plant here this week, to appear at regular intervals when summoned by the high cost of living. An insurance risk for $200,000 has been written on the product from the Kansas henneries. The plant, in operation for several years, has never stored such a quantity. Last summer $75,000 was spent in improving the place for storing the eggs.

HEARS PRAYERS, DIES

Suicide of an Eccentric Religious Enthusiast. Wealthy Fish Merchant in Washington Market, Manhattan, Retired From Business and Intended to Spend Life in Ease.

New York—After picking out a burial plot, making his will and carrying out other arrangements for his death, John Eisey, 71 years old, whose eccentricities had made him one of the city characters, committed suicide in his home, 95 Jewett avenue, Jersey City. Just before firing two bullets in to his head he had his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Augustus Eisey, read to him several extracts from a prayer-book. He sent her to her room to do some sewing and said he was going to take a short nap. Instead he went to bathroom, where he killed himself. Eisey several years ago was one of the wealthiest fish merchants in Washington Market, Manhattan. He sold out his place for $250,000 and then decided to devote himself to a life of religion and ease. Religion was his main interest in life. One of his children died 20 years ago and he founded the Eisey Chapel, in Jewett avenue, as a memorial. Before that time Eisey had carried his religious researches to the point of making frequent changes in his faith. When the chapel was opened he was among the Seventh-Day Adventists. He became convinced not long afterward that the Salvation Army workers were the exponents of his favorite doctrine, and he gave the chapel to the Salvationists when he was converted. Subsequently it was occupied as the Church of the First Born, by the Faith Cure sect and then went back to the Salvation Army. Eisey frequently talked from the pulpit and delighted to tell the influences that had worked to convert him to a new faith. He was married twice. His first wife divorced him and the second died in 1900. The widow of his son, Mrs. Augustus Eisey, and Mrs. Jessie Tulley, a housekeeper, lived with him in the Jewett street house. The old man had other valuable property, among the realty pieces being a mansion in Duncan avenue that he sold April to Edward J. Edwards, state controller. Several times since then he regretted the sale of this house. Two weeks ago with his daughter-in-law he went to Cypress Hills cemetery, in Brooklyn, where he made arrangements for a burial plot for himself and also he picked out one for Mrs. Eisey. He admitted to Mrs. Eisey he had made all his plans for death. However, there seemed to be no change in his spirits after that time. He seemed cheerful as he listened to several chapters from his newest religious book, Prevailing Prayer. After he was found with two bullets in his head in the bathroom he never recovered consciousness. "I don't know why he should have killed himself," said Mrs. Eisey. "He and I have lived to ourselves for years as fine as princes. He had plenty of money to last him all his life, but he worried about money he had lost and about the sale of the Duncan avenue house. Then he has not been the same since he gave up his business."

MOTHER URGES SON'S DEATH

Witness Says Woman Saw Boy Murdered by Another Youth in Baltimore.

Baltimore.—That Mrs. Emma Bamberger saw mortal wounds inflicted on her son and encouraged Albert Patterson to kill the boy was the startling testimony in the police court as the gruesome aftermath of a terrific struggle in which young Bamberger lost his life late the other night. "That woman ran across the street," said a witness. "She slapped the boy in the face and said 'Kill him.'"

TO CONFISCATE GIRLS' MAIL

How Postmaster Is to End Practice He Regards as Evil—To Give Letters to Parents.

Flushing, N. Y.—A new and effective scheme for curbing misuse of the post-office's general delivery window has been put into effect by Postmaster Thomas B. Lowrie here. He will henceforth confiscate all general delivery letters addressed to young girls of the village and turn them over to their parents or some male member of the family. Mr. Lowrie said he recently became aware that some of the girls of the village were receiving mail which he thought would stand inspection by their parents.

Man in Tree Dead a Year.

Missoula, Mont.—The mummified remains of a man, believed to have been E. Kost, a globe trotter, judging from papers found on him, was discovered in a tall tree. The man had been sitting above an old Indian hunting platform. Apparently he had slipped and his leg caught in the limb. The body had been hanging for more than a year.

Victim of Disease of Eyes Also is Enabled to Memorize Article at Sight.

New York—Visual power by which a man can read the entire page of an ordinary book at a glance and repeat every line word for word is the subject of an article by Dr. George M. Gould in the current number of The Journal of the American Medical Association. That this power is due not to a disease of the eyes, is Dr. Gould's contention. The man with the remarkable eyes is designated as "Mr. C." This man can read several books each evening, and usually he can repeat all he has read without error. He is fond of poetry and novels, and a quick glance at the pages suffices to fix its contents indelibly in his memory.

The case was easily explained by those who have knowledge of the physiology of binocular, or two-eyed vision, Dr. Gould says. Some time during the middle years of the man's life the central part of the retina, the "macular" region of the right eye, was destroyed by an inflammation caused by eye-strain. The "fixing" part of the retina was obliterated, leaving there a blind, round space or hole. The left eye was not diseased and contained the usual perfection of a macular or central vision. "By long, unconscious and forced exercise," continues Dr. Gould, "the healthy zone of the right retina surrounding the macular was educated to such a degree that it could, when unmoved, receive and transmit to the brain the image of the entire page, except that part falling upon the central portion, which has been destroyed."

BRITISH PLAN KID REPUBLIC

Youthful Citizens Will Make Own Laws, Punish Offenders and Work at Some Profession.

London.—On a beautiful farm of 100 acres, in Dorsetshire, is soon to be established England's first boy and girl republic, modeled after the successful junior republics in the United States. The youthful citizens and citizenesses, who will be recruited mostly from industrial schools and reformatories, will formulate their own standards of honor, administer their own laws and chasten their own offenders. Special training will be provided for the trade or profession which they may display aptitude, and they will be remunerated on the results. Out of the wages the young republicans will pay for their own board and lodging.

Harold Large, who has been appointed superintendent of the novel institution, recently returned from an inspection of similar communities in America. "Over there," he said, "your junior republics have jails in which the delinquents are confined, but we believe we can get along without them. If a lawbreaker remains obdurate he will simply be expelled from his boarding house, and hunger doubtless will bring repentance."

U. S. MAKES LOSS GOOD.

Money That Hogs Chewed Up Returned by Treasury.

Washington, Oct. 1.—"I see no hope of beef getting much cheaper," said Secretary Wilson, of the department of agriculture, yesterday, fresh from a vacation in the west. Secretary Wilson declared there was a much greater scarcity of cattle than he had realized. "The breeding grounds of stock cattle," he said, "heretofore sent to the cornfield to be finished by fattening on corn, cannot furnish much more of that class of cattle. Home-stealers have compelled the ranchmen to dispose of their cattle stock. There is a supply of meat that people should become accustomed to eating—mutton. Mutton on the hoof is less than half the price of beef."

HAS BULLET-PROOF SKULL

Despondent Shoemaker Falls in His Attempt at Suicide—Physicians Are Surprised.

Ely, Cal.—This city will evidently furnish the state with the first case of felony charge under the new law, against a man who attempted to commit suicide and failed. Joe Loissele, a shoemaker, despondent and tired of life, as he claims, when in his lodging house room, placed a revolver to his head and fired. The bullet, instead of reaching the brain, as would ordinarily be expected, flattened against the skull, creating only a painful wound.

Yawn Is Fatal to Man.

U. S. BARS POTATOES.

Take This Action to Keep Wart Disease Out of This Country.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 1.—Quarantine against Irish potatoes has been officially declared by the United States, closing out half a dozen countries which are affected by the potato wart disease, a malady that is greatly feared by potato growers, both in this country and in Canada. No more potatoes can be brought from the countries under quarantine until it is shown that the potato wart disease no longer exists in those countries. This is the last of the three plant diseases specially provided against in the federal plant quarantine law, which was passed by the last congress at the instance of Representative Simmons of Niagara Falls, N. Y.

The quarantine against the potato wart disease was determined upon at a meeting of the federal quarantine board of the department of agriculture. The countries affected by the quarantine include New Foundland, the Islands of Minicoulin and St. Pierre, Great Britain, including the united kingdom, Germany and Austria-Hungary. There was present at the hearings before the board, E. H. Grubb of Carbondale, Col., who is reported to have said he completely understood the quarantine against the fruit fly shall be effective at once, and to carry into effect this provision the board has established a quarantine against the Mediterranean fruit fly. The Hawaiian islands are the principal possessions of the United States where the fly exists. Congress appropriated $100,000 for its suppression and C. A. Marlatt, the chairman of the federal horticultural board, is now in the islands perfecting arrangements for the fly and for proper provisions to carry out the quarantine regulations. The other principal pests from which this country has suffered by reason of their importation in fruit and plants are the gypsy and brown tail moth, which, it is estimated, has done millions of dollars' worth of damage to the forest of this country, principally in the eastern states. A quarantine has also been established against the white pine blister rust, a disease which at one time promised to devastate the white and other pines.

WILL SELL INDIAN LANDS

Notice Is Posted on Omaha and Winnebago Reservations.

Winnebago, Neb., Oct. 1.—Notice has been posted of the sale of 1,190 acres of land on the Omaha and Winnebago Indian reservations, on November 25, at 2:45 p. m., at the Winnebago agency offices at Winnebago.

This sale is different from any that have been held in the past, and the land will be sold at auction to the highest bidder, the only requirements being that the regulations governing the sale should be complied with.

There are two classes of land to be sold. The lands sold for cash and the lands sold on deferred payments.

The cash sale lands comprise some 800 acres of good land and will be sold under the following terms: Each successful bidder must deposit with his bid 10 per cent of the amount bid as a security for the purchase money. The sale is signed by the Indian, he, the bidder, will be required to pay the balance of the amount bid.

The lands under the deferred payment are sold for a certain amount down and a liberal time on the balance which is divided into two equal payments. On this land the bidder is required to deposit his 10 per cent of the amount bid when the Indian signs, he is to pay the remainder of the stated amount that is to be paid down in three equal payments of time in which to meet the two remaining payments. Under the deferred payment there are some 390 acres to be sold and this plan offers to the man of limited means an opportunity to secure a good farm if he cannot meet the demand of the cash plan.

BEEF TO REMAIN HIGH.

Consumers Should Turn to Mutton, Which Is Cheap, Says Wilson.

Washington, Oct. 1.—"I see no hope of beef getting much cheaper," said Secretary Wilson, of the department of agriculture, yesterday, fresh from a vacation in the west. Secretary Wilson declared there was a much greater scarcity of cattle than he had realized. "The breeding grounds of stock cattle," he said, "heretofore sent to the cornfield to be finished by fattening on corn, cannot furnish much more of that class of cattle. Home-stealers have compelled the ranchmen to dispose of their cattle stock. There is a supply of meat that people should become accustomed to eating—mutton. Mutton on the hoof is less than half the price of beef."

GAMBLE FOR WIDOW

Three Fortune Hunters Play Cards to Win Heiress.

French Adventurers Agreed to Let Winner Wed Rich American Woman—Providing He Give Each of Them 1,000,000 Francs.

Paris.—Indignation and disgust have been aroused in the American colony here by the publication in Gil Blas of a story purporting to tell how three men prominent in Paris society, but of slender means, decided by a game of cards at a well-known club which of them should seek the hand in marriage of an American widow, the winner, if successful, to share the widow's private fortune with his accomplices. The story, which is headed "Conquest of a Woman," boldly names the woman to be "won," while carefully concealing the names of the three conspirators.

It says that at one of the most aristocratic clubs in Paris, adjoining the Place de la Concorde, three of the principal members, who are on intimate terms with each other, discovered just a month ago that all cherished the same ambition to make the acquaintance of the widow in question, and induce her to renounce in their favor her liberty and her husband's legacy. Being unwilling to rupture their friendship by becoming rivals, they agreed to join forces on the following terms:

A sum of money was to be put up by all three, the amount thus raised to be taken over by the one whom a game of chance should select to woo the lady. If he should be so fortunate as to secure the latter for his wife he would hand over 1,000,000 francs to each of his two friends.

According to the story, the man to do the wooing was chosen at a game of cards. Then details of the project were discussed until far into the night. The three fortune hunters managed to scrape together $3,000, which was considered sufficient for expenses, and the winner arranged to sail for America. He is described as "a former barrister, who at present occupies himself with business, he has no title, but bears a well-known name, has a seductive personality, employs his leisure time in writing poetry, and is an incomparable conversationalist with brilliant distinction of manner. The greatest disgust is expressed here among those who credit the story, and it is taken for granted that the unexpected publicity shed upon the design has effectually ended the scheme.

NEEDLE IN TOE 30 YEARS

Woman Treated for Supposed Corn Is Relieved of Lameness by a Chiropractor.

Newton, N. J.—A needle that had been in the foot of Mrs. Daniel S. Hornbeck, a school teacher of Milford, for 30 years, was removed by a chiropractor to whom she went to have a supposed corn treated. For the first time since she was a girl of ten Mrs. Hornbeck was able to walk without limping. She had forgotten all about the needle until the eye popped through the flesh of the big toe.

When she was a child she felt a sudden pain when she ran through the fields near Dingman's ferry. She had stepped on a needle, but as she saw no signs of the sharp-pointed implement she believed she merely had been pricked. At various times since then she felt the sharp pain in her right foot, but thought that it was a corn that was troubling her. What seemed to be the root of the corn grew on the joint of her big toe, and gave her much worry. She decided to have it removed the other day, and as an incision was made the end of the needle came into view. It had become imbedded in the bone, but a sharp pull removed it. Instant relief was felt by Mrs. Hornbeck, and when she started away from the chiropractor's the lameness she had felt for many years was gone.

PUNCH BOWL CENTURY OLD

Relic of Early New York to Be Placed in Metropolitan Museum for Safe-Keeping.

New York.—The Morton punch bowl, an historic piece of rare Lowestoft porcelain which was presented to the city of New York by Governor Jacob Morton in 1812, has just ended a 100-year sojourn in the governor's room of the city hall, and will now be consigned for safe-keeping to a glass case in the Metropolitan Museum of Art. The bowl is nearly six feet in circumference, making it the largest perfect piece of the ware in existence. Its ample interior carries a huge bird's eye view of New York city in 1803, together with the seals of the nation and state, the frigate Constitution under full sail, and a presentation of a shipyard. Its inscription reads: "Drink deep. You will preserve the city and encourage canals."

U. S. Man May Float Liberte. Washington.—Maj. Harley B. Ferguson, engineer corps, U. S. A., who superintended the removal of the Maine from Havana harbor, may, if the war department accepts an invitation from the French minister of marine, go to Toulon to supervise the floating of the wreck of the battleship Liberte.

OLD FAD IS AGAIN REVIVED

England and America Follow France in Digging Up Inexpensive and Entertaining Practice.

Boston.—A quarter of a century ago our mothers and our fathers had their pictures taken "en silhouette." It was a fad that caught the country and had a brief reign. Some persons acquired considerable skill with shears and screen and lamp and made the most outrageously amusing shadow caricatures of their friends. Many had albums in which they glued their pictures.

Everybody soon forgot these galleries of silhouettes. Now the fad has been revived and it is quite the proper thing to entertain one's friends with silhouette parties at which prizes are awarded for the cleverest outline pictures produced.

England, copying France, has taken up the silhouette fad with a vim, and America, not to be outdone, is making new collections in shadow pictures. The fad has much to recommend it as a diversion for the summer months. It is an inexpensive form of entertainment and it provides much amusement.

IN PLEA FOR GUADALOUPE

Henry Beranger, French Senator, Sees Great Future for Colony in the Antilles.

Paris.—Henry Beranger, the French senator representing Guadeloupe, the French island colony in the Lesser Antilles group in the Atlantic, has issued a public appeal in behalf of that island, which he has just visited.

Senator Beranger foresees a great industrial and agricultural future for Guadeloupe, but he declares that the island is now too heavily burdened with taxes. He points out that in the last ten years the population has increased from 150,000 to 220,000, and Guadeloupe has maintained her output of sugar, the coffee production has tripled and the production of fruit flavorings has steadily mounted.

What Guadeloupe needs, says Senator Beranger, is a chance to work by herself and for herself. She needs to be freed from excessive taxes levied by the mother country and the great variety of fiscal charges which stifle the efforts of planters and fishermen and which together constitute a burden which discourages the admirable enthusiasm of the islanders to develop into a successful and brilliant colony.

FISH HIRES SAFE CRACKERS

China and Silver Is Locked Up at Newport Villa and Combination Cannot Be Worked.

Boston.—Safe-breaking experts employed by a firm of manufacturers here have been summoned to Newport to open the family safe at the villa of Mr. and Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish. Before Mr. and Mrs. Fish left their estate at Garrison, N. Y., they sent on their most valuable china and silver, with orders that it be locked in the safe. This was done, but upon the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Fish the combination could not be worked.

Locksmiths were called, but acknowledged that they could not open the safe without the use of explosives. This drastic method Mrs. Fish would not permit, fearing the concussion might destroy the china and silver. It was then that Mr. Fish decided to call upon the expert safe breakers, who are now on their way to Newport.

DOG SAVES BOY, IS KILLED

Canine Drags Child From in Front of Auto, but Is Crushed to Death.

Cincinnati.—To save his master, five-year-old Clarence Whitney, the youngster's pet dog gave up his own life under the wheels of an automobile. The boy was crossing Madison road near the home of Senator Foraker, and did not see an automobile driven by Miss Margaret Payne, of Carlisle avenue, rapidly approaching. The dog seized his master by the trousers and tried to drag him out of the path of danger. The machine was so close that the animal was unable to get the child entirely out of the road. The lad was struck a glancing blow that knocked him down, but did not cause any serious injury. The dog was caught under the wheels and crushed to death.

BOLT TRACES TREE ON MAN

Lightning Kills Two in New York—Freak Lightning Draws Picture on Victim's Back.

New York.—Five deaths, two as a result of lightning, and numerous injuries were the tolls claimed here by the excessive heat. The two men killed by lightning had sought relief from the heat under a tree in the Bronx when a bolt demolished the tree and caused instant death to the men. The clothing was torn from the back of one of the victims and a picture of the tree under which he was killed traced on his back. Two other men and a six-month-old infant complete the list of dead.

TO RESTORE YOUTH

Philadelphia Scientist Declares He Can Perform Miracle.

Says His New Discovery Already Has Been Proven Successful in a Thousand Cases—Could Make Giants.

Philadelphia.—"Old age is a condition that can be cured. People can really be made younger," declared Dr. Frank R. Starkey of this city in discussing his discovery of a formula for an extract that has been proven in a thousand test cases to be a cure for chronic and acute diseases.

"I could make a race of giants, of dwarfs, or of goggle-eyed idiots by treating people in their adolescence and disturbing the proportion among their glands, through which organs the formula cures," he continued.

The "elixir of life," as discovered by Dr. Starkey, consists of a paste formed of extracts from the genital glands of roosters and sheep and the pituitary glands of the latter animal, mixed with chemically pure glycerin, allowed to macerate forty-eight hours and then filtered. This extract is injected into the blood of the patient, a marked departure from the methods of other physicians who have attempted like cures.

Dr. Starkey is one of the most reputable physicians in Philadelphia. He has been practicing since he was graduated from the Medico-Chirurgical college in 1897, with the exception of two years when he pursued postgraduate studies in London, Vienna and Berlin.

Eight years ago he started his experiments that have finally won success. Four years ago the supreme test was made, when Dr. Starkey enlisted the assistance of fifty volunteer subjects, twenty-five men and twenty-five women, ranging in ages from twenty to thirty-five years.

The formula has met the approval of the leading physicians of this city, and Dr. Starkey, who has taken it himself, says he feels twenty years younger. He looks it, too.

"There are certain vital organs or ductless glands in the human organization," said Dr. Starkey in explaining his method, "that are constantly manufacturing a physical agent with out which we could not live. They control the process known as metabolism, by which the living tissues are being continually renewed. They control vitality. They are in fact life itself.

"This extract is not a medicine. Every one has these organs, functioning and producing the same solution which I produce. It is when they become inharmonious—when they get out of balance—that metabolism, the process of tissue interchange, is disturbed and a lack of resistance to the invasion of disease follows."

MAN MARS DUAL NUPTIALS

Father of One Bridegroom-Elect Locks Him Up in Protest—Police Are Called.

Washington, Pa.—A double wedding, for which great preparations had been made, was marred and but one bride and bridegroom faced the clergyman as a result of the sudden determination of James Lennox not to allow his son to marry the girl of his choice.

The double ceremony was to have united the lives of Clyde H. Moss and Annie B. Bennett and Stephen Lennox and Laura V. M. Bennett. At the appointed hour the guests were waiting and the two sisters, society leaders of the town, stood ready to begin the march to the altar.

Moss appeared, but Lennox did not arrive, and finally, in desperation, a messenger was sent to the Lennox home. Father Lennox promptly informed the messenger that his son Stephen was safely locked up in his room upstairs and would not be married.

Police officers were hurried to the Lennox home, but the father of the prospective bridegroom remained firm and refused to give up his son. The wedding of Moss and Miss Annie Bennett went on according to program, while the bride who had been left waiting at the altar locked herself in her room and wept.

LIES IN HOT SALT SOLUTION

Dixie Doctors Try to Save Louisville (Ky.) Newspaper Man Suffering From Burns.

Louisville, Ky.—Charles T. Rogers, who for six years was night editor at Louisville, and who suffered severe burns in a fire in his rooming house, lies immersed in a bathtub filled with a saline solution kept at a temperature of 100 degrees Fahrenheit. This course was directed by the surgeon attending him at a hospital as a last chance to save his life. Gangrene has developed and the doctors hope in this way to check it.

Mr. Rogers not only suffered burns upon his limbs, face and body, but inhaled fumes as well. Family Warned by Mental Telepathy. Detroit, Mich.—Mental telepathy aided Mrs. Richard Meyer to foretell her father's death at St. Louis, Mo. He died shortly after telepathic communication had been flashed to all his children. Mrs. Meyer claims that for years the family has been warned of impending disaster by similar flashes.

MARE SWIMS OUT TO RESCUE

One Whimper From Owner and Fannie Heads for the Uprturned Boat—Brings Two Back to Shore.

New York.—When A. W. Appleton, the owner of Camp Warren on South Beach, S. I., took his gray mare Fanny down to the water for their usual morning bath, they had not been speaking about long before the man saw that some 150 feet off shore some one was clinging to an overturned row-boat and making feeble signals of distress. Mr. Appleton lost no time in climbing on the mare's neck and whispering to her what the trouble was.

She seemed to agree with him that something would have to be done immediately, and swam off toward the overturned boat. As they drew near, through the waves Mr. Appleton saw that the man was all but unconscious from exhaustion, and that they had come none too soon. In a few minutes he had lifted the half-limp figure to the mare's back and held him there, while Fanny, swimming as she never swam before, carried her double burden to shore.

Under the ministrations of the people in Camp Estelle the man was soon righted and able to introduce himself as George Richards, sales manager of a New York rubber company. He had been fishing, he said, and the choppy sea was too much for him. His boat was overturned, and he had been hanging on for 20 minutes before Mr. Appleton and Fanny reached him.

TWO BOYS KIDNAP A SERVANT

Youngsters Ride Into Town, Place Miss in a Saddle and Carry Her to Farm.

Muskogee, Okla.—Though housewives of America have discussed and worried about the servant problem, it has taken Will Edwards, a youth who lives with his aunt, Mrs. Lee Edwards, on a farm near here, to solve the question. Mrs. Edwards needed a girl servant and could not find one.

"That's easy. I'll get you one," her nephew told her. Young Edwards then enlisted the services of a friend, Charles Martin, and the two came in to Muskogee and their ponies. On the street they passed Minnie Simpson, 15 years old. The boys saw that she was good-looking and decided that she would make a first-class maid for Edward's aunt. Will took her on his saddle and to his aunt.

Mrs. Edwards was greatly pleased at the new girl, but Minnie's mother, who was planning to place her in a convent, asked the police to find the girl. They did, but she was pleased with her new home and refused to leave. The officers arrested Edwards and Martin on a charge of kidnaping the girl.

The boys are in the Muskogee jail, and laugh at the efforts of the officers to convict them on a charge of kidnaping, awaiting a preliminary hearing.

THEFT WEIGHED ON HER MIND

Converted at a Revival Meeting, She Asks Forgiveness of the Storekeeper.

Devil's Lake, N. D.—Remorse for having stolen an apple from the Quality department store of this city 20 years ago, when she was a schoolgirl, caused a St. Paul woman, who signed her name as "Mrs. F. C." of Dayton's Bluff, St. Paul, to send the local merchant a letter asking forgiveness. The owners of the store say they know who the woman is, but refuse to disclose her identity.

"More than 20 years ago," says the St. Paul woman, "I was a schoolgirl living in Dakota, and you were running the store at the trading point, now Devil's Lake. While on my way to school one day I saw that so one was looking and I took a big apple from a basket in front of your place of business. I was converted last Friday night in a revival meeting being held in one of the churches in this vicinity and I want to make my wrong right both with you and my maker."

FELINE IS RAISING RABBITS

Tabby Some Time Ago Stole a Pup and Reared It—Takes Care of Kittens Also.

Fargo, N. D.—Fred Haffner's house cat of abnormal maternal instincts again has created a sensation along Second avenue south. Three years ago the feline stole a puppy—no one knows where—and reared it with her kittens.

Several days ago dogs broke into a rabbit coop in the vicinity and killed the older ones, leaving eight tiny rabbits. These were placed in a box and carried into a shed where the house cat had kittens.

Tabby immediately adopted them as her own. Since then she has been working overtime rearing both families. She seems to care more for the rabbits than the kittens. The business also have taken to their foster mother.

Dog Brings News of Drowning. Pittsburgh, Pa.—Price, a big Newfoundland dog, dripping wet and carrying the cap and coat of its 12-year-old master, John Redick, turned up at the boy's home. The father followed the whining animal to the Allegheny river, where he learned that the boy had been drowned. The dog had been chained to a log and struggled frantically to save his master, but could not break loose until too late.
