

EASIER TONE TO STEERS

A FEW LIGHT BEEVES STEADY BUT GENERAL TRADE A DIMME LOWER.

CHOICE BEEVES AT $9.05

Proportion of Steers Heavy—Butchers' Stock Fully Steady—Veal Calves Steady—Stockers and Feeders Active.

Railroad service in the west is fast becoming normal again after the tie-up incident to the severe snowstorm of late last week.

After the famine run of Monday buyers had a full assortment of steers from which to fill orders and were inclined to bear down a little on the prices.

The movement in steers continued slow the greater part of the session and aside from a few of the light and handy weight offerings that just suited certain requirements that sold about steady.

The top price of the day was secured on a drove of choice heavy Nebraska-fed "white face" beefs that brought $9.65, the highest figure paid here this year for fat steers.

COWS, BULLS AND MIXED. There was an unusually light quota of the cattle run here today in female butchers' stock and headlots was a sustaining factor in this division of the trade.

There was a ready outlet for such fat firm prices. The supply was moderate.

FAIR RUN OF HOGS

MARKET MOSTLY 10@15c HIGHER THAN SATURDAY'S AVERAGE.

EXTREME CLOSE WAS WEAK

Tops at $9.00. With Bulk of Sales in a Spread of $8.85@8.95—Quality Fairly Good.

A fair Tuesday run of hogs put in appearance here today, estimates calling for 5,800 head. The five markets combined had 47,300 head.

The market opened with a good demand in evidence and prices 10@15c higher than Saturday. Owing to the meager volume of hog business here yesterday comparisons were based on the Saturday level of trading.

Prices for hogs averaging 140 lbs. and up ranged from $8.50@8.75, with the bulk selling at $8.85@8.95.

Little change was effected in prices during the trading in stockers and feeders today. Cattle receipts at this point contributed a fair proportion of fresh stock to this division.

A fair showing of fresh stock was offered feeding cow and heifer buyers here today. All she stuff continues to be in good demand and salesmen assumed an active condition during their holdings at prices well in line with yesterday.

HOG CONTEST IS ON

PORK PRODUCTION CONTEST IN NORTH DAKOTA IS UNIQUE.

MANY ENTRIES ARE RECEIVED

Cash Prizes Are Offered by Commission Firms and Stockyards Concerns of St. Paul—State Will Benefit.

Fargo, N. D., March 18.—Entries for the North Dakota Pork Production contest, the first ever held in America, closed last week, says the Courier-News.

More than 200 boys and girls of the state have enrolled their names as contestants and Secretary Thomas Cooper expects to see the state make vast gains as a result of their efforts.

The pork production contest is unique. Never before has it been attempted in any state. The prizes, which will go to the winners aggregate nearly $500. This includes $149 in cash prizes and three of the finest Berkshire hogs on the market.

The entries in the contest come from every section of the state. They are limited to boys and girls under 18 years of age who are required to select a sow and to feed a litter of pigs until they reach maturity next fall.

The prize will go to those contestants whose pigs represent the greatest quality of pork. The contest is being conducted by the Better Farming association through the donations of commission houses and the St. Paul Union Stock Yards Co. of South St. Paul, Minn., has added prizes of two fine Berkshire hogs and the Frost Publishing Co. has offered a prize of one hog.

POOR OUTLOOK FOR PIGS. Big Shortage of Brood Sows in Fillmore County, Nebraska.

The outlook for spring pigs is decidedly unpromising in my part of the country, remarked Joe Coates, one of the wealthy stockmen and farmers of Fillmore county, Nebraska, while at the yards today.

YEARLINGS SOLD WELL. G. W. Smith Cashed Two Loads of 1065-Pound Steers at $8.60.

Among the well-pleased customers of the local market today was G. W. Smith, of Highland, Kan., who came in with two loads of good yearling steers that sold high.

VOIGHT WAS WELL PLEASED. Davenport, Neb., Feeder Got $8.10 for Steers—One Head at $9.00.

Henry Voight, farmer and feeder of Davenport, Neb., made his record sale of cattle here today when he disposed of 19 steers, averaging 1150 lbs., at $8.40, and one bullock, weighing 1560 lbs., at $9.00.

NEW EXPLOSIVE IS TESTED

Smokeless, Odorless and Has a Greater Penetrative Force Than Dynamite or Cordite.

London.—Military experts who have been experimenting with the new explosive "powerite," the discovery of a young inventor of Sydney, N. S. W., predict that it will revolutionize the use of small arms and artillery in warfare.

Cheapness, greater driving force, increased penetration, no smoke, no smell, no recoil and no danger in transportation, are among the virtues claimed for "powerite," the composition of which is, of course, a secret. Cartridges containing 30 grains of the new explosive were fired in competition with cordite cartridges, fitted with the usual service charge of 35 grains. The "powerite" projectiles penetrated eight inches into the target, as against five inches for the cordite. Fired into sand boxes, "powerite" forced its way 18 inches, and cordite only ten. After testing its force on a sunken ship in Thayer bay, the officer in charge reported that three pounds of "powerite" was equal to ten pounds of dynamite.

The Sydney invention looks like cotton and burns with a harmless puff of flame when a match is applied. Revolver shots may be fired into it at short range without danger of explosion, and it is further claimed that it is unaffected by heat, cold, moisture or sea. Exclusive use of "powerite" by the British government has been offered by the inventor, and will probably be accepted.

BIG SUM FOR REMBRANDT

John N. Willys Buys "The Praying Pilgrim" for $250,000 in Chicago.

Chicago.—Rembrandt's painting, "The Praying Pilgrim," regarded as one of the most valuable examples of his art, has been sold by a Chicago art dealer, to John N. Willys of Toledo, O., for $250,000. The picture has been taken to Toledo by Mr. Reinhardt and will be delivered to Mr. Willys, who will lend it for six months to the Toledo Museum of Art.

The picture was obtained by the Chicago dealer from the private gallery of Maurice Kahn in Paris, where it hung for many years. There were four Rembrandts in the Kahn collection, and upon the death of their owner two years ago collectors from all over the world visited Paris to bid for the famous paintings. America was successful in obtaining three.

"The Praying Pilgrim" was painted in 1661 and is two and a half feet wide and three feet high. It depicts a pilgrim kneeling bareheaded with clasped hands and upraised features, lighted by a deep spiritual vision. The hat of the pilgrim lies on a rude table at his side and his staff is dimly discernible in the background. A deep golden brown color predominates.

UNCLE SAM OPPOSES TIPS

Will Not Pay Bill of $80.45 Spent by Officer on Visit to Germany.

New York.—Capt. Matthew E. Hanna, U. S. A., who recently resigned from the army to enter business in this city, has discovered that the government does not believe in tips. Captain Hanna, as a member of the general staff, witnessed the German army maneuvers as guest of the emperor in 1911, and on his visit spent $50.45 in tips to waiters and hotel servants.

It was said that the total bill of $319 which he turned in was only half of what it cost him to maintain his part of the dignity of the United States representative during his visit, and in this he had included the tipping item.

After considerable correspondence the treasury department has finally ruled that Captain Hanna must stand the tipping expense himself.

WELLESLEY GIRLS IN THREAT

Demand Abolition of Chaperons and Right to Entertain Young Men Visitors as at Home.

Boston.—News that an equal rights strike is impending among the students of Wellesley college, in which all the girls—"freshmen," "sophoms," juniors and seniors—are threatening to take part, caused a stir in college circles recently.

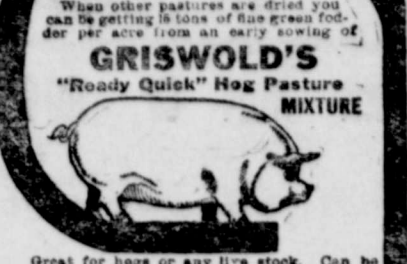

Already many girls are in revolt, demanding that the faculty grant them the right to entertain young men visitors as other girls do. Leaders of the movement declare the rebellion will surely break forth unless their plan is listened to.

"We want the right to entertain our men friends when and where we please, and we don't want any chaperons, either," is the way the girls express their grievance.

Connecticut Man Gives His Footwear Vacations to Make It Last Life Time.

New London, Conn.—Twenty years ago Alderman Charles E. Perkins had a pair of square-toed shoes made. He treated the soles to a special preparation of tar. Then he wore the shoes steadily for six years. After a few years' vacation they were brought out and saw daily use for three years. Then Perkins had them topped and put them away. Now he's wearing them again.

Green Fodder When It's Needed

When other pastures are dried you can be getting 15 tons of fine green fodder per acre from an early sowing of "GRISWOLD'S 'Roady Quick' Hog Pasture Mixture"

Great for pigs or any live stock. Can be planted early for summer use, or in summer for fall pasture. Contains 15 grains and forage plants seeds, practically all of which grow again if fed down. Grows quickly—produces big tonnage.

JOHN J. QUAPP, Brady, Neb., says: "Hog Pasture Mixture gave good results. The dry weather was quite a setback to all forage plants. Your Hog Mixture kept green all summer and gave me quite a crop out of corn."

Hogs Prefer It To Corn
D. W. JENKINSON, Monroe, Neb., says: "Your 'Roady Quick' Hog Pasture Mixture proved to be all right—just the thing in the right place. No farmer can make a mistake by sowing it when the pasture was sick, the crops would stay in the pasture instead of coming for corn."

DENIED MORGAN HIS CIGAR.

Physicians Ordered the Financier to Give Up Smoking.

Rome, March 18.—The autocratic doctors who are attending J. Pierpont Morgan, the ailing money king, have ordered him to give up smoking, his favorite pleasure, and Mr. Morgan is very sad. For years his chief luxury has been long, black cigars, especially made for him at a cost of $1 apiece. They are even better than those made for the king of England or the czar of Russia. Each cigar is made of tobacco especially grown, cured and rolled into cigars by the most expert workmen. These cigars are carefully aged, and when mellow, they find their way into the Morgan humidor. They are the most famous cigars in the world.

Mr. Morgan grumbled and protested when told he must quit smoking, but the doctors were adamant. They told him his nerves demanded a respite from the effects of tobacco smoke but in his throaty rumbling voice, the famous financier declared that his nerves had stood the strain many years and should be used to it by this time. The upshot of the whole matter, however, was that Mr. Morgan today went without his cigars, and he seemed at a loss to fill in the gap.

It is understood that the intimate details of Mr. Morgan's personal affairs will be attended to by Herbert L. Satterlee who is at Morgan's side and J. Pierpont Morgan, jr., who is running the affairs of J. P. Morgan & Co. in New York.

Dr. Dixon, the New York physician who is with the Morgan party said the breakdown of Mr. Morgan's health dated back to the 1907 panic and that it was aggravated by his appearance on the witness stand before the Pujo committee last winter.

"That was a terrible strain upon Mr. Morgan's nerves," Dr. Dixon said. Mr. Morgan appears to be quite weak at times, although this is more or less overcome by his natural vigor,

HINTS ON GROWING FLOWERS.

Some Early Spring Suggestions That Should Be Followed.

Every woman loves flowers and most women like to grow them. Here are some March hints that will help give a bountiful harvest of fragrance and color later in the season:

Along the middle of the month (depending on the weather) you may uncover your hardy plants and bulb beds. Do it gradually. The uncovering of rose bushes may well be deferred until the first of April.

As soon as frost is out of the ground, sow sweet peas five inches deep.

Be sure to plant some gladioli this spring; you will never regret it. They thrive in any good garden soil, and will return a wealth of blossoms for little attention. Plant the bulbs about five inches deep in an open, sunny location.

Poppies should go into the ground as soon as the frost is out of it. Sow the seeds lightly in the spot where you wish the flowers to be, as poppies are ill-adapted to transplanting.

After having divided the old dahlias roots, start some of them this month. They will flower during the warm months, although the flowers will not be so large as those which come from the later-planted roots.

The lawn will need attention early. Give it a thorough cleaning up and scatter seed as needed in bare spots and where there is weak growth.

Give the iris and peonies a covering of old, well-rotted manure as soon as the winter protection is removed.

Sow some seeds of flowering plants in flats indoors, for transplanting outdoors later on. They need little attention. Do not use too much water or you will have spindling plants.

Asters can be planted in such flats; and many others, such as marigolds, zinnias and other old-time favorites. If started indoors in March, will be ready for planting out in May and June.

SILAGE A GREAT FEED.

Properly Balanced It Produces Big Gain on Cattle.

The South Carolina experiment station has recently published a bulletin dealing with the subject of feeding beef cattle in South Carolina. This bulletin, No. 169, by Archibald Smith, gives the result of a test to ascertain the value of different kinds of forage fed with cottonseed meal. In giving a brief review of this bulletin, many details of the experiment must be omitted, but the main findings are here mentioned and are of much value to cattle feeders not only in the south, but in practically all parts of the country. The bulletin is another proof of the great economic use of silage, which, when properly balanced, always shows a most profitable gain. In this particular test, silage, stover and cottonseed hulls were compared. The silage gave by far the best return, not only in economic production of beef profit in feeding, but also in the quality of the beef and the shape in which it reached market. The silage fed group of steers produced beef from 12 to 20 per cent cheaper than the other groups. They lost less in shipping to market, which is a test that has been disputed in the past, as some feeders have claimed that silage fed beef lost severely in the shipping process. In this test they lost the least. The silage fed group produced gains that would warrant an earning on the silage of $6.86 per ton. This earning was made on a very poor market, as the steers only sold for $5.50 per hundred. Had they sold on a better market, this price could easily have been increased 20 to 30 per cent. With silage costing but $2 per ton, which is a fair price for its production, good land can be made to earn from $60 to $70 per acre. If the land owners of the southern states would heed the teachings of this bulletin their profits would be increased millions of dollars. The worn farms of the southeastern section of this country can better be brought back to profitable and rich lands through the feeding and growing of cattle and the economic use of the silo and the cotton by-products in the form of seed and hulls.

INTERESTING WOMAN DIES.

Norway, Kan., March 18.—The recent death at Jamestown of Mrs. Mary White, 87 years old, removes one of the most interesting characters of north central Kansas. In 1868, she, together with other members of her family, was captured by the Indians, and had a most thrilling experience. During the terrible ordeal, her husband was killed and her daughter Sarah, who at the time was 16 years old, was carried by a band of Cheyennes across Buffalo creek and on into Colorado, where she remained for six months, or until rescued by Gen. Custer. The daughter is living and is Mrs. E. O. Brooks of Cloud county.

Didn't those newspaper reports of the blizzard in the west last week seem strange without "the terrible heavy loss of live stock" feature?

Nebraska's importance as a live stock state as far as the St. Joseph market is concerned, was clearly demonstrated yesterday in receipt figures.

Living is always high in Washington and it is particularly high these days, which makes the plight of the ticked-off office-seekers more pathetic than ever.

The country's gold output for the year 1912, according to the geological survey's report, was $3,000,000 less than for 1911. If the high cost of living is due to the low cost of gold, owing to the increased supply during recent years, this is a step in the right direction.

SECRETARY HOUSTON. Kansas farmer: The naming of David A. Houston as Secretary of Agriculture by President Wilson came as a complete surprise to the country. Apparently Mr. Houston's name had never been mentioned as even a possibility, and President Wilson had such unanimous and overwhelming endorsement, especially in the west, as the foremost agricultural scientist of the nation that his selection was conceded even by the political organs of Washington, D. C.

There would seem to be but one explanation as to why President Wilson made choice of a man who is practically unknown in the field of agriculture for the most important office in his cabinet, and that is that it grew out of political expediency if not necessity.

What the nation has lost Kansas gained in the privilege of retaining the biggest and broadest man in American agriculture as the president of its Agricultural College.

PREFERS THE HOG. A man who formerly published a country newspaper, but who has recently abandoned the "scissors and paste" for "seed and shovel" and gone to farming, contributes the following classic to those of his former co-workers who can't buy a farm, couldn't farm it if they had one, and are therefore still "in the yoke": "There is some real pleasure in lugging feed for pigs and chickens, because when I feed a pig or chicken he seems to appreciate my efforts. I have spent thirty of the best years of my life 'lugging' feed for politicians, and they not only do not appreciate my efforts but kicked because I did not do more. The straw that broke the camel's back was the one where, during the last campaign, I boosted and boomed the party candidate for sheriff in a Missouri county. He didn't even take my paper so I sent it to him anyhow, and when the election was over he had the postmaster mark it 'refused.' Give me a genuine hog for appreciation in preference to a politician."

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION. The movement for vocational education in this country is now in full swing. Six states already have more or less complete systems of vocational training, and a number of others are considering legislation to introduce

Daddy's Bedtime Story— Mice Found In the Box

JACK and Evelyn had been telling daddy that Dinah was grumbling about mice. "That means that she will again let Tabby sleep on her kitchen rug all night instead of making her go out and stay in the stable," said daddy. "Well, mice do have their troubles. No sooner do they find a nice, warm home, with plenty to eat, than somebody sets the cat on them. I'm glad I'm not a mouse. It's bad enough to be a poor old daddy with two little folks who simply must have a story every night. "Now, there were Skip and Scamp. They were born in an old trunk in an attic, and their mother said it was an elegant home for mice. Mrs. Mouse had lived in a good many different places. She always moved when a family got a cat. "The house with the attic belonged to an old bachelor who hated cats, so Mrs. Mouse thought that she might be able to stay there for awhile. "The cook in the old bachelor's house was fat and lazy. She never bothered setting traps. So Mrs. Mouse allowed Skip and Scamp to run around wherever they liked. "One night as they were roaming about the house they saw a box on the sideboard. The old bachelor had been out to dinner that evening and Skip said to Scamp, "Very likely it's something good to eat." "So they worked away at the lid of the box, which was only tied shut, until they had the string with which it was fastened cut almost in two. "It must be something particularly nice or they wouldn't tie it up so carefully," Scamp said to Skip. "Of course it is. But they needn't have tried to cheat us out of our share of the treat," Skip replied. "Just then the string gave way, and with a snap and a bang the lid flew open. Up out of the box jumped an awful looking little creature in a red coat and peaked green cloth cap. "Wow!" squeaked Skip and Scamp as they jumped down and dashed home. "Mother, mother!" they cried. "There's a new kind of cat in the dining room. We'll have to move at once!" "And they did move, too. Mrs. Mouse never waited to take a look at the new kind of cat herself or she would have seen it was only a funny kind of Jack-in-the-box, which the old bachelor had drawn as his share from the grab bag at the church fair."

into the public schools work that will fit boys and girls more directly for earning a living. In order to aid in the movement the National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education has issued a brief, explicit statement of what it considers the main principles that should underlie the proposed legislation, and the United States Bureau of Education, while not giving official endorsement to the program as a whole, is sending copies of the pamphlets to those who apply for it.

What are the essentials of a state system of practical education? The society's circular endeavors to answer this question. In a few short, technical paragraphs it sums up certain of the fundamental policies of vocational education as this society sees it. It urges state aid to the local committee. It recognizes four fields of vocational training as the kind the state ought to furnish its boys and girls. Industrial education for workers in the trades and industries and in the household; agricultural education for the farmers; commercial education for clerks, salesmen, etc.; and "household arts education" for non-wage-earning occupations connected with the home. In other words, the state ought to make it possible for children to receive in the public schools instruction that will fit them directly for productive employment in any of these useful occupations, instead of sending them out with little or no training for the real work they are going to do.

Experience has already been sufficient to indicate in what kind of schools this vocational training can be given. The circular cites a number of types of schools, some based on European models, others on American practices, among them the following: The all-day vocational schools, where the pupils can spend at least one year in all-day attendance; the part-time schools, where boys and girls regularly employed may come for a few hours each week; the evening schools in industry or agriculture, for persons over 15 years of age who work during the day; and similar evening schools or classes in household arts.

It is significant that the six states that have already set up systems of vocational education—Massachusetts, New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, Wisconsin, and Indiana—have long had excellent schools. The newer education which they are introducing is not intended to replace the old, but to supplement it; to give training for a specific employment in addition to the regular schooling, so that the boys and girls may be more efficient and willing workers, as well as better educated individuals.

SHIPPING MAPLE TREES.

Some Twenty-Foot Trees Go From Here to Kansas City.

A veritable forest of hard maple trees are being removed from the hills near Kenmore and hauled to the Belt railway freight station in South St. Joseph and loaded on flat cars for shipment to Kansas City, where they are being used to decorate the lawn of a millionaire department store man. The trees are cut up by the roots with dirt clinging to them. The trunks are then strapped with bushes and they are picked up with a crane and loaded onto wagons with specially prepared frames. Some of the trees are eight inches in diameter and many of them are twenty feet tall. All are hard maples. A big force of men has been at work on the task for several days. The trees are loaded five to the flat car.

TO CLEAN WHITE FURS.

To clean white furs, heat cornmeal in pan as hot as hands can bear it, then put furs in pan of meal and wash same as with water, keeping the meal hot. After a few minutes' hard rubbing, shake furs vigorously to get the meal out and they will be white as snow.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

Before using tea, spread it on a sheet of paper and place in warm (not hot) oven for 10 to 15 minutes. Tea will go much further and flavor be much improved. Saves one-fourth pound on every pound of tea.

CREAM PEPPERMINTS.

Stir together two cups of granulated sugar, a very little cream of tartar and half a cup water until sugar is dissolved. Boil until mixture strings from spoon. Remove from fire, add one teaspoon essence of peppermint and stir until candy looks white. Drop from spoon on waxed paper.

THE TABLE.

Salmon Timbales—Drain one tall can salmon. Remove all particles of skin and bone. Mash fine with fork. Add three beaten eggs without separating. Season with salt and pepper, one teaspoon lemon juice, and two spoon parsley chopped fine. Butter six individual molds, fill them and place in baking pan filled half full of boiling water; bake 15 minutes. When ready to serve remove from molds, put on platter and cover with half pint cream sauce to which has been added the yolk of one egg just before serving.

IMITATION DEVIL'S FOOD.

One-fourth cup shortening (any kind), one cup sugar, two cups flour, three level teaspoons baking powder, three heaping teaspoons cocoa, a little salt, yolk of one egg (use white for frosting; you need not use egg). Put all ingredients together (except egg) and rub like pie crust, adding egg after wetting mixture with water in which you can hold your hand (not boiling). Make rather thin batter and bake in four pans. Flavor to taste. Use filling and leave out egg.

FARMER'S CONDITION WORSE EACH YEAR

Letter From Iowa Man Presents Interesting Facts for Other Sufferers.

A Short Course of United Doctors' New Treatment Has Put Him in Health Again.

To the Public: I am a farmer living on Rural Route 1, Neola, Iowa, and I wish to make these few public statements in the hope that they may guide some one else who is suffering as I have suffered, to the right doctors and a cure.

Six years ago I commenced to run down in health, having very serious trouble with my stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys. I got so nervous I could not sleep and was unable to do any of my work for a long time. I consulted the best doctors I knew and took their treatment with the result that by the middle of the summer I was able to drag around and manage the work I was compelled to hire others to do. But the same condition came back year after year only growing worse with each season, until this spring when I had to give up entirely.

With the various treatments through all these years I had decided that I would never be well again, especially for the reason that I had lost 40 pounds in the past two months, but as a last resort to gain my health I went to the United Doctors, on the second floor of 729 Felix street, St. Joseph.

I had heard they never accepted a case they could not cure, but when I began their treatment I really did not expect to be benefited any more than I had been in years past. But now, after just three months of their care and attention, I feel better than I have in years. I eat everything I want and digest it perfectly, have regained my strength and practically all of my lost weight and I sleep like a baby every night.

I feel that I am absolutely cured but the doctors have advised me to continue their treatment for at least another month to be sure that my cure will be permanent and lasting. I cannot speak in too high praise of the work done for me by the United Doctors. GEORGE GARDNER, Neola, Iowa.

The above letter is a fair sample of those that are received by the United Doctors. Hundreds of testimonials from cured patients in all sections of the country are on file in their St. Joseph office on the second floor of 729 Felix street. Their new system of treatment has attained a reputation throughout the world for cases that would not even be helped by ordinary doctors. Consultation and examination are always free at the United Doctors' office and freeable cases are not accepted for treatment. You are sure of results if the United Doctors treat you.

We Extend You a Cordial Invitation to Come See Our Splendid Assemblage of Authentic Easter Styles in Women's Fashionable Apparel and Millinery

Easter comes next Sunday, March 23. Make a special trip to St. Joseph to see the Style Show here this week. You will be so pleased with the hundreds of charming Spring styles we are showing in Tailored Suits, Gowns, Wraps, Skirts, Waists, also Millinery and Accessories that you will feel well repaid.

Your Especial Attention Is Directed to Our Tailored Suits at $25.00

We have featured Suits at this price for years, and this season we are showing fully 35 superb styles at this popular price, each of them, judged by ordinary standards of excellence, worth several dollars more.

They may be had in all the rich new textures, any favored new shade, every effective new cut. Refined plain tailored effects, dashing trimmed styles; an assortment so broad that it cannot fail to please all. Women who buy but one suit a season want it good enough for the most particular occasions, but serviceable and practical for general service as well. Our $25 Suits are filling a long-felt want in this direction. Other suits, and nice ones, too, at $10.98, $12.50, $15, and up to $20, $30, $35, $37.50, $40 and as high as $75.

Spring Coats at all prices up from $5.99. Handsome Lingerie Waists up from 98c. Stylish Tailored Skirts up from $2.98.

Becomingness in the Easter Hat

There never was a season when true becomingness in shape and trimming was such a distinguishing feature of the styles in Hats, and along with it there is just a touch of youthfulness sufficient to lend piquancy and charm and grace to the wearer—but no more.

Completeness is the keynote of our showings. You will find Fashion's every whim revealed here—you'll find not one Hat but a dozen to your liking, and no one, not even the most fastidious, but can be pleased.

Our own workrooms have turned out many hats. Besides we have a large number of clever creations from New York, and many beautiful reproductions of Parisian styles.

Prices are moderate, too, and the hats so much above what you can procure at home that we suggest a trip to St. Joseph in search of the Easter Hat.

FARM AND BUSINESS TO MEET

County Bureau of Agriculture Will Give a Dinner to 700.

Sedalia, Mo., March 18.—St. Patrick's Day, March 17, will be the first anniversary of the organization of the Pettis county bureau of agriculture, the first organization of the kind in America to employ wholly at local expense a salaried expert county farm advisor.

In celebration of the day the officers, in co-operation with the Sedalia Boosters' club, have planned an anniversary dinner which will be held at noon in this city. All members of the bureau and of the Home-Makers' conference, the women's auxiliary, will be invited and given free tickets. Plates will be laid for 700. Besides the members, representatives of all other similar bureaus in the state, the press, and faculty of Missouri University and agricultural college will be invited.

The purpose of the dinner is to have the farmers and business men of the county get together in more harmonious relations and to afford an opportunity for old-fashioned sociability before the spring work begins.

NO THEATER PASSES.

St. Louis Playhouses Discontinue Courtships.

St. Louis, March 18.—Dead is the deadhead. His official requiem was announced for Saturday. Thereafter he will cease to exist in the representative theaters of St. Louis—the Century, Olympic, Shubert and Garrick.

The elimination of all passes is the first sweeping new policy adopted by Klaw & Erlanger and the Shuberts since their recent agreement to do business in harmony.

St. Louis is the first city so affected, though the policy will be carried out in all of the important cities where these corporations operate playhouses. In St. Louis the big syndicates control their houses by direct lease. There are no minor interests to conflict, so the pass system has less chance than the turkey on the day before Thanksgiving.

A second issue was promised for later and the writers who walked out demanding more money and shorter hours say it will be published at intervals until the strike ends. They named it the Jewish Press.

NAME IS LOST FOR 51 YEARS

Minister's Search for Identity is Rewarded Through Publication of Small Item.

Springdale, Ark.—Rev. David L. Leonard, erstwhile Rev. David Johnson, "Little Davy" to the few who remember the frightened, bedraggled youngster they sheltered when, one day in 1861 federal artillery capized a houseboat at Ozard Landing, on the Arkansas, has come into his own. For the first time in fifty-one years he greeted relatives and learned what he never knew before—his name.

With telegrams in his hand from the families of three brothers and sisters in the south urging him to meet them, the minister sat at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. C. Johnson in Springdale, told his part of the disconnected story, matched data with some of the pioneers and ended by legally renouncing the name David Johnson.

David's parents moved from his birthplace, Knox county, Tenn., two years before the war, to Coop Ridge, near Fort Smith, Ark. When mother and father died, neighbors placed David and four brothers and sisters aboard a houseboat in charge of a slave, and started them for their old home in Tennessee.

Following the capsizing of the boat David disappeared. The other children were taken aboard of a passenger boat at the landing and on to their found by a farmer a few miles from Ozark, sobbing on the river bank. He was 3 years old and his name, he said, was "Davy." Some months later, James Johnson and his family of Greenville, Tex., came through Ozark and adopted the homeless boy.

The Johnsons journeyed to Kansas City, lived there four years, and then went east in the wagon to Tennessee. At Jasper, Marion county, Tenn., David grew up and in 1891 was ordained a Primitive Baptist minister. From the moment he learned to read and write he devoted his spare time in the search of relatives and a name. The Johnsons told him all they knew of his history, but he found names and dates at Ozark forgotten when he sought to learn of his stay there. Two months ago he received a letter from the family of Thomas Leonard of Kroppel, Tex., saying they had recognized in his story, told in an Arkansas paper, the connection with their own family history.

The letter directed him to Mrs. Johnson and when he came to Springdale the identification was made complete. Mr. Leonard now lives at Elkmont, Ala., is married and has eleven grown children.

JEERS STRENGTHEN SUICIDE

Paris Crowd's Howls of Derision Drive Man to Make Third Attempt on Own Life a Success.

Paris.—Divesting himself of his coat, a young carter named Pierre Chabot climbed on the parapet of a bridge over the canal at St. Denis, just outside Paris. He was about to leap into the water but passersby intervened. Struggling desperately, the man freed himself. He was pulled back a second time, and then when he brutally repulsed a woman who threw her arms round his neck and implored him not to commit suicide, the crowd released him.

When he finally stood on the ledge above the water he hesitated and the attitude of the spectators suddenly changed. They reproached him with cowardice.

"Go on, take a header," they shouted. The man would have turned back but rather than face more jeering he let himself fall into the water and he drowned.

SCARED CHILD COUGHS UP PIN

Physicians Were About to Seek It With X-Ray Apparatus in Hospital.

Philadelphia.—Scared by an X-ray apparatus which the physicians of the Germantown hospital were about to use on her, Ida Caruso, 2½ years old, of the rear of 24 Armat street, Germantown, was seized with a fit of coughing and was soon relieved of a two-inch pin which she swallowed last June.

The child was suffering from the pin, and her father, Dominick, carried her to the hospital. The doctors could find nothing wrong and determined to take an X-ray photograph.

When she saw the pin, which had a black head, and is of the variety used for fastening veils, the child's mother remembered that the little one had swallowed it last June.

NEW PAPER IN NEW YORK

Gotham Writers on Strike Get It Out—Say It Has Circulation of 100,000.

New York.—A newspaper made its appearance on the streets of this city, and, according to its publishers, enjoyed a first issue circulation of 100,000 copies. It was written and edited by the Jewish newspaper men who are on strike and is four pages, seven columns to a page. Most of its information was about its makers' strike against the Jewish dailies. The strikers themselves became newboys in the streets.

A second issue was promised for later and the writers who walked out demanding more money and shorter hours say it will be published at intervals until the strike ends. They named it the Jewish Press.

TRANSFER OF ELK

Deadwood, S. D., March 18.—Twenty-five elk from the Yellowstone National park went through this part of the Black Hills en route to the Wyoming border line, where they were turned loose in the Sundance National forest.

The elk were transferred over the Burlington to Sisseton, where they were placed on sleds and taken to the line. In transit two were killed, as the animals became frightened and jammed. The elk attracted much attention en route to their new grounds.

New Millinery Modes

Formal Presentation This Week

This exhibit will include exact copies of imported models, from the great Paris milliners, and many exclusive American adaptations from the leading New York designers—the entire exhibit being enriched with a large collection of original hats from our own workrooms.

Each season, of course, brings its changes in style, but rarely has there been so pronounced a change as will be noted in the modes for this season.

There are some spreading hats, to be sure, but the exhibit might well be called an Opening of Tiny Millinery. Simplicity rules. Small Hats that come well down over the head and that are trimmed with paradise, with ostrich, with ribbon bows or other ornaments. Mostly tall and so set as to give the effect of extreme smartness.

Such modes mean extreme simplicity in the dressing of the hair. Such hats when properly posed on the head give the effect of youthfulness to a wonderful degree. There is also much to be studied in the new use of colors as well as in the new shapes.

Are you coming?

Every department is brimming over with whatever is newest, most appropriate and most necessary for Eastertide.

Whatever your requirement, whether it be a new spring suit, dress, coat, waist, or the varied selection of materials for making these garments, in silks, woolsens or the myriad cotton or washable fabrics—whether it be gloves, hosiery, corsets, veiling, neckwear, handkerchiefs, ribbons or other accessories—the whole store eagerly awaits your most exacting demands with the choicest merchandise, the newest styles, the broadest selection and biggest values displayed throughout our many departments.

Easter Neckwear

All that's latest and prettiest in Ruffings, Guimpes, Lace Dress Sets, Stocks, Jabots, Coat Sets, Bows, etc., in shadow and Chantilly Laces, Crepe de Chine and Bulgarian effects.

The new neckwear has been selected with special reference to the prevailing modes in dresses and suits and fits into its required niche in the most effective manner.

The display for Easter week is most lavish, and includes many original and exclusive ideas, 25c to $7.50.

White Flaxon Special

Regular 25c Quality at 19c

A special purchase of 50 pieces of this popular White Dress Fabric enables us to offer you this remarkable value for this week. It is a fine sheer quality and has the permanent linen-thread finish, which is the distinguishing characteristic of "Flaxon" and makes it the ideal fabric for dainty White Dresses, Waists, etc. Full 36 inches wide; regular 25c quality, special this week, per yard, 19c. White Goods Section, Main Floor, Annex.

$12.50 French Lacet Arabian

Curtains, $5.75

One of the greatest values we have ever offered in strictly high-grade imported Lace Curtains. It is rare indeed that we are able to offer such value in merchandise of this character. The quantity is, of course, limited, and we would gladly have purchased many times this quantity if we could have gotten them at the price. They are 2 1-2 yards long and 45 inches wide, all perfect goods and actual $12.50 value, for this week, while they last, per pair, $5.75

65c Linoleum, 44c

A small lot of extra good Linoleum, 2 yards wide, just three good styles left, a real bargain, per square yard, 44c

The 1913 Parasol

Your Spring or Easter outfit will not be complete this season without one or more of the new 1913 parasols. Fashion having decreed the small hat, a parasol will be necessary to protect both you and the colors of your hat from the sun. For several seasons past the large hat has in itself been a sufficient protection but not so this season.

Parasol makers have met the demand so beautifully that, aside from economic considerations, the parasol is likely to become a fad on its own account, as everyone will want one of these stunning little 1913 sunshades.

The colors are emerald, Nellerose, king's blue, Bulgarian effects, novelty stripes, shirred edges, fancy borders, white and black.

The long hardwood carved handles correspond in color with the cover of the parasol. Price range, $1.00 to $15.00

QUICK-WITTED BOB

There Were Two Robert Stewards, but This One Was First to Arrive.

By GEORGE ELMER COBB.

Robert Stewart, young, athletic, bronzed, and in outing costume, walked up the steps of the Empire Hotel with boldness and defiance. It took lasting nerve to assume a happy, independent air, in his situation. His condition was desperate.

"Just one dollar in my pocket," he soliloquized, "and this is a two dollar a day house. Well, I spent my last change sending a telegram to my brother in Chicago. If he is home he will wire a remittance promptly. I'll risk it," and the young man entered the lobby, registered in a free flowing hand and the bell boy took him up in the elevator.

It was not a very elaborate apartment, that into which Robert was shown, but it was good enough till the funds came, he told himself philosophically. Scarcely, however, had he turned on the gas and prepared for a refreshing wash, when there was a timid yet imperative tap on the door.

"Come in," sang out Robert, and, fat and consequential, yet with a marked servility in his manner, the proprietor of the hotel whom Robert had noted in the lobby entered. "Oh, Mr. Stewart, sir," almost gasped the pompous boniface, "a dreadful mistake has been made."

"He has found out that I've got only a dollar," mused Robert darkly. "New bellhop, sir," proceeded the landlord, "Clerk just noticed your name. This way, if you please, sir—If you please," and graciously and solicitously the speaker waved Robert to the elevator, bowed and scraped all the way down three flights, and ushered him into a magnificent apartment on the parlor floor.

"See here," blurted out the mystified Robert, "this expense—" "Ordered, paid for, Mr. Stewart, I assure you," interrupted the landlord. "Expected you, sir. A guest, Mr. Stewart, an honored guest. The best in the house is at your command, sir. Indeed, the whole city. Judge Slattery says so. I shall telephone him and he will be here at once to welcome you, sir. Ah, by the way," continued the voluble speaker, pointing to a suit case lying on the bed, "that arrived this morning. It was only strapped, and we took the liberty of airing your apparel. Ring for what you wish, sir. Delighted to fill all commands—indeed, sir."

"Well," exploded Bob as he was familiarly known to a host of friends back at his home in the east, and he flopped into an easy chair and stared at his visitor obsequiously bowed himself out of the room. It took quick-witted Bob only a brief thinking spell to understand that Robert Stewart was a common name.

"Two Robert Stewards, eh?" he ruminated, "and I've arrived first. Wonder where the other Bob is at the other end of the line? Why not?" What Bob asked himself was, if he dared to carry out the assumption thrust upon him. He had just gone through an experience where from danger were daily concomitants of a rude frontier life. He had been out with a surveying crew, staking off the great Tanipah Valley. The government had encouraged an irrigation project, and land in the valley had gone up on a boom.

ROMAN BONES FOUND

Graveyard of Twentieth Legion Exhumed at Chester, Eng.

Bronze Coins of the Emperors Antonius, Plur, and Commodus Are Found With the Remains.

London.—The extension of the infirmary at Chester has led to the discovery of the graveyard used by the twentieth legion of the Romans during their occupation of that city. The Chester infirmary occupies a site which is locally referred to as the "plague field." The site seems to have acquired its unsavory name from the fact that casual discoveries of human remains had led to the supposition that they were the victims of the great plague.

The recent unearthing of remains in larger numbers on the site of the extension of the infirmary led to an investigation by Prof. Robert Newstead, who now reports that the evidence proves conclusively that the infirmary floor was not used as a burying ground during the outbreak of the plague, and that all the burials which have been so far unearthed belong to the Roman period.

Four distinct types of graves have been uncovered. One is a tomb formed of local sandstone, evidently representing a burial of some importance, as the walls of the tomb are covered in plaster, and the dome of the structure originally stood out in marked contrast to the surrounding surface of the land, forming a distinct tumulus. Some of the graves were formed by placing Roman roofing tiles bearing the stamp of the twentieth legion upon the floor and also at the sides, the legionary stamps always facing inward.

Another type of burial was formed by placing rough hewn sandstone so that a V-shaped trough was formed for the reception of the body. A fourth type of grave consists of a simple trench, dug in the solid clay at a depth of not more than two feet from the original land surface. The Roman origin of the graves is borne out by the fact that bronze coins of the Emperors Antonius, Plus and Commodus have been found in them. Such coins were placed usually in the mouth of the deceased, and are generally referred to as "Charon's passage fare," to expedite the passage of the soul across the Styx, as it was believed that the person who had not received the usual rites of burial and in whose mouth no fee for the ferryman of the Stygian lake had been placed, would wander hopelessly on its banks, while a decent interment and a small coin would obviate any disagreeable inquiries that Charon might also be inclined to make.

STORE PLAN DRAWS THREAT

Housewives Arranging to Start a Produce Establishment in Order to Force a Lowering of Prices.

Kansas City, Mo. — Anonymous threats directed at the proprietors of a music store where the Housewives' league of Kansas City has maintained headquarters have caused worry to the officers of the league that resulted in a decision to suspend operations until a new location is secured. The Housewives' league is trying to raise a fund of $2,000, with which to open a co-operative produce store. That so pronounced an attack on the league would be made was not anticipated by the directors.

AS A SYMBOL OF AUTHORITY

Wedding Ring Really Has a Significance Apart From That to Which Sentiment is Attached.

For ages the wedding ring has been a token of binding authority. The gold symbolizes the purity of affection; the circle the endless love; the price—paid for it takes the place of the ancient purchase money. If the ring is lost it is a warning that the husband's love will soon pass away; if broken, that he will die soon. Tradition has been responsible for many stories concerning the wedding ring; one of these is that the first ring was made by Tubal Cain for Prometheus. This ring was of iron and adamant, the iron signifying steadfastness and the adamant perfect concord. The early Romans commonly used a plain iron ring, while the poorer English, even in the nineteenth century, used the ring for the church keys.

FARMER WAS WISE.

Charles J. O'Connor, Chicago lawyer, tells the following: "A farmer took out a policy of fire insurance on his barn. After a loss and due proofs the company came to settle or adjust the loss, but took advantage of its option under the contract to build a new barn. "Subsequently a life insurance company sought to have him insure his life in favor of his wife. 'O, no,' he says, 'you don't catch me a second time. If I'd die you would come around here and offer to get a new husband for her.'"

CO-ED FLOORS HOLD-UP MAN

University of Nebraska Young Woman Lands on Bandit's Jaw and Sends for Police.

Lincoln, Neb.—When a University of Nebraska young woman was returning to her home from a visit to a classmate, she was stopped by a hold-up man and a demand made for her money and jewels. She did not scream or run, but landed squarely on the bandit's jaw, knocking him down. She then ran to a house a block away and called the police.

HYPNOTIZED; NOW A THIEF

Young Woman Makes Strange Confession to Police of Seattle After Arrest.

Seattle, Wash.—Asserting that she was under the hypnotic influence of a man when she committed a crime of which she is accused here, Miss Emma Williams, alias Pearl Turner, 18 years old, confessed that she had committed twelve robberies in Vancouver, B. C., and seven in Seattle. The woman, according to the police, who told of her confession, said that the man would suggest to her that she obtain employment as a domestic and then influenced her to steal from her employers.

Something About the Organizer —of the— Bankers Fire Insurance Company of St. Joseph, Missouri

City of Albuquerque

Albuquerque, New Mexico, Feb. 13, 1913.

Hon. Charles A. Pfeiffer,

Mayor of St. Joseph, St. Joseph, Mo.

My Dear Mr. Mayor:

Through the newspapers I am informed that Mr. J. H. O'Rielly, of Albuquerque, is at present in St. Joseph for the purpose of organizing a fire insurance company, and with the intention to become a permanent resident of your city.

It occurred to me that perhaps it would not be inappropriate to write to you and tell you that Mr. O'Rielly has been for more than fifteen years a resident of Albuquerque; that during all those years he has been one of our most prominent, progressive and aggressive citizens. Mr. O'Rielly is a man who, to my certain knowledge, has never hesitated to work indefatigably when called upon, and without being called upon, for the upbuilding of Albuquerque. Many times such work was accomplished at great personal sacrifice.

As mayor of the city of Albuquerque, and as a private citizen, identified with various enterprises, I unhesitatingly place the stamp of approval on Mr. O'Rielly. During his residence here he was for a number of years connected in an executive capacity with old line insurance companies, resigning his work in that direction to organize the Occidental Life and Fire, both of which companies have been remarkably successful with Mr. O'Rielly at the helm.

Mr. O'Rielly is a man who can plan things. He is a man who has the brains and the ability to successfully accomplish and execute anything that he undertakes. I hope you will meet him and know him as we Albuquerque people know and love him.

Yours very truly,

D. K. B. SELLERS,

Mayor.

State of New Mexico

William C. McDonald, Governor.

Santa Fe, March 13, 1912.

To Whom It May Concern:

This will introduce to you Mr. J. H. O'Rielly, who is vice president of the Occidental Life Insurance Company of New Mexico and who was the founder of the same. He organized and developed this Company and is the chief factor in the organization of the Occidental Fire Insurance Company.

I have known Mr. O'Rielly for a good many years and recommend him and his proposition to your consideration, knowing him to be a safe, reliable and capable business man. He now has a small quantity of stock of the Occidental Fire Insurance Company which he wishes to place. Any statement that he may make concerning this proposition can be safely relied upon as being perfectly true and correct.

Any courtesy that you may extend to Mr. O'Rielly or assistance that you may see fit to grant him will be appreciated.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM C. McDONALD,

Governor.

Southwestern Men of Affairs

(Reproduced from the El Paso Times, Nov. 12, 1912.)

Mr. J. H. O'Rielly

The subject of the above photograph has lived in the southwest for over fifteen years, during which time he has become one of the most popular insurance men in these regions, having been engaged in all of its various branches. Of late years his work has been along organization lines; he first proved his ability in this respect by organizing the Occidental Life Insurance Company of Albuquerque, N. M., in 1906 and was its general manager until 1912, when he resigned and accepted a vice presidency, that he might be enabled to devote his entire time to the organization of his second success in the insurance world, the Occidental Fire Insurance Company. These companies are well established, the former is doing business in six states and the latter in seven. They loan all their money to the southwest, thereby contributing materially to the upbuilding of the individual and community interests. As evidence of his faith in the companies he has organized, he is among the heavy stockholders in both institutions. He is one of the largest concentrators of capital in the community, and enjoys the satisfaction of being cordially received by the thousands of people who have invested through him. He is an organizer, not a promoter, giving his time to making the greatest success of the institution he creates.

Commercial Club of Albuquerque

Albuquerque, N. M., Feb. 12, 1913.

The President Commercial Club,

St. Joseph, Mo.

My Dear Sir:

Our attention has just been called to a clipping from the St. Joseph Gazette of Sunday last, printed today by our local evening paper, concerning the proposed organization of a million dollar fire insurance company in your city by Col. J. H. O'Rielly of Albuquerque. We are interested in Mr. O'Rielly's success for his services to this community, during a residence of more than twenty years, have been most important. We congratulate you upon acquiring him even as a prospective citizen. His departure would be a serious loss to this community.

As state agent for several of the old line insurance companies Col. O'Rielly established himself as one of the most thorough students of insurance in the southwest, and for that matter in the country. He utilized his experience in the organization of the Occidental life and fire insurance companies here. These organizations were so carefully planned and so ably carried out that they have been successful to a marked degree. They constitute one of the chief business assets of Albuquerque and their future is assured.

Next to the creation of the insurance companies Col. O'Rielly's greatest service to Albuquerque has been in his active co-operation in the work of this club and in every line of civic improvement. His personality has made him especially useful to the Commercial Club and he has been actively and effectively connected with every forward movement in this city for twenty years. You will find him a leader and a worker who gets results, and I may speak for the entire membership of this club when we ask that you accord him a hearty welcome. He is worth it.

Yours very truly,

G. A. KASEMAN,

President.

State of New Mexico

Office of the Treasurer.

Santa Fe, March 13, 1912.

To Whom It May Concern:

This will serve to introduce J. H. O'Rielly, whom I have known intimately for upwards of twelve years.

Mr. O'Rielly's business and personal reputation is without blemish, and he is considered by the business and professional men of New Mexico and Arizona, men with whom he has had dealings, as able, conscientious, and upright in all things.

He has associated with him in the various enterprises in which he is interested many of the leaders of the business and professional life in both the states mentioned.

Any representations that Mr. O'Rielly makes may be depended upon implicitly and absolutely. He has made a success of all matters that he has been associated with and directed, and has made money for all his business associates.

Very truly yours,

(Signed)

O. N. MARRON,

State Treasurer.

It is my intention to make the Bankers Fire Insurance Company the masterpiece of my various organizations and to make money in a legitimate manner for all those who are interested with me in the company as stockholders. It is no more difficult to do this in an insurance company than it is in a well organized bank if you know how and I claim to possess a thorough knowledge of the insurance business in all its branches. It will be impossible for me, on account of the limited amount allowed for organization expense, to visit personally many whom I know would become identified with us by a personal interview, hence I must depend upon the full and detailed explanation of the company, of its plans and prospects that are shown clearly and explicitly in our prospectus which we shall be glad to mail to anyone who will send their name and address to my office, 505-506 Corby-Forsee Building, St. Joseph, Mo.

I never hesitate to put my name on anything I do.

One of These THERMOMETERS from us by Parcel Post provided you send us a shipment of hides or furs before April 1, 1913, and are not already entitled to one by virtue of having sent us a shipment since December 15, 1912, when the offer was first made.

This Special Offer

Will Extend Only to April 1, 1913—But One Thermometer Will Be Sent to a Party.

Realizing the necessity of a Thermometer in every home, especially on the farm, we have decided to give parties who send us a shipment prior to April 1, 1913, a temperature indicator.

Knowing that a thermometer is useless unless accurate, and not a desirable ornament in the home unless artistic in design and finish, we have purchased a Thermometer very much better than is ordinarily distributed free. This thermometer cannot be bought in a retail store for less than 50c. It would be too expensive an article for general distribution; therefore, we are confining the distribution entirely to parties who send us a shipment of hides or furs before April 1, 1913.

NEW NOTICE FOR IRRIGATORS

Effect Lands in Private Ownership Along North Platte.

Washington, March 18.—The secretary of the interior has just issued a public notice to the effect that all the lands in private ownership on the North Platte irrigation project, Nebraska and Wyoming, subject to provisions, public notices and orders shall be subject to all the charges, terms and conditions announced in said public notice and orders, provided that for all water right applications for such lands filed during the calendar year 1913, the first installment for the building, operation and maintenance charges shall be due on December 1, 1913, and subsequent installments shall become due on December 1 of each year thereafter.

Until further notice the amount of the portion of installments for operation and maintenance and the conditions under which payment therefore shall be made, shall be as heretofore announced.

The object of this notice is to effect a temporary suspension during the calendar year of 1913 of the provisions of prior public notices and orders insofar as they provide for the accumulation of charges for building, operation and maintenance against lands in private ownership.

A Texas Railroad Plans to Plant Trees Along Route.

San Antonio, Tex., March 18.—Primarily that homeseekers might be convinced Texas soil is prolific, the San Antonio, Uvalde & Gulf railway will soon begin a unique plan of beautification along the line of its right of way and on station grounds, A. R. Ponder, president and general manager of the property, has had the plan under consideration for some time and work thereon will be actively under way within a week or two.

The plan is to plant trees in abundance. Pecan trees, fig trees, date trees, palms and probably some other semi-tropical plants will be set out along the right of way, at stations, even at water tanks and on such available parcels of grounds where plant life will not alone add much to what nature has done, but to convince newcomers of the fertility of the soil and the possibility of reaping much money from other sources than the cotton or grain fields, the truck farm or the orchard.

Officials admit the work will not show to its best advantage for a few years to come, or until the trees have gotten a start and begin bearing their fruit or nuts.

President Wilson Keeps Track of Editorial Comment.

Washington, March 18.—Private Secretary Tumulty has begun the practice of reading each evening the editorial comment of practically every important newspaper in the country. Editorials touching on the Wilson administration are posted on yellow sheets of paper each day and are bound together making in all the most comprehensive "yellow journal" in the United States.

Whenever anything merits the attention of the president, Tumulty shows it to him. President Wilson himself is an ardent newspaper reader.

The compiling of the "yellow journal" is a part of Mr. Tumulty's evening work after he has left the office.
