

IT'S SPELLING BEE TIME! Best Spellers to Meet Here Friday

Eighteen Bailey County boys and girls were going through last-minute drills today in preparation for tomorrow's spelling bee to name the county's best speller. The spelling bee, which will be open to the public, will be held at the senior high school auditorium, starting at 2 p.m. The event is sponsored locally by The Muleshoe Journal and the entire spell-down will be broadcast live by KMUL, Muleshoe.

The county's best speller will go to Lubbock to compete in the district elimination spelling bee, sponsored by The Avalanche-Journal. The district bee is scheduled to take place at Lubbock Saturday, April 6, when winners from 23 area counties will spell it out. This means that the winner in Friday's contest here will have two additional weeks in which to "bone up" on "Words of the Champions," the official national spelling bee book. This book also will be used for the spell-down here. Most of the six schools which are competing in the event here have already named their top three spellers through a series of in-school contests. Schools which are to compete in the bee in Muleshoe are Muleshoe Junior High, Richland Hills, DeShazo and Hilltop elementary schools, and the Bula and Three Way schools.

Fred Johnson will pronounce the words, and judges will be Bobby Airhart, Harmon Elliott and Herbert Griffiths. Spelling will be oral. Ray Martin, Journal editor, will direct the local contest.

Name of the winner and the alternate will be sent to Lubbock as soon as the contest is over to qualify the Bailey County entrant in the Avalanche-Journal spelling bee.

The Journal still has several spellers for sale at 15 cents each. All rules have been announced. They include such provisions as these: A contestant may request that a word be re-pronounced, defined or used in a sentence. The pronouncer shall grant the request until the officials agree that the word has been made reasonably clear to the contestant.

Judges may disqualify any contestant who ignores a request to start spelling. Having started to spell a word, a contestant who ignores a request to start spelling. Having started to spell a word, a contestant shall not have opportunity to change letters once pronounced. A speller, having begun to spell a word, may retrace provided letters and their sequence are not changed in the retracing. If no definition of a homonym is given, the correct spelling of either word shall be accepted as correct.

The entire event will be open to the public, and pupils who may have been eliminated in preliminary rounds also are expected to attend. One teacher said Thursday she plans to bring an entire spelling class to watch the proceedings. "I have some very good spellers and we had difficulty picking the winners. We are going after the national spelling bee championship, and if we don't win this year we will be in there trying for the 1954 national prize."

Several old-timers who learned their spelling in the Blueback Speller have indicated they will attend tomorrow's spell-down. The entire spelling bee program is designed to create new interests in spelling, and newspapers are backing the program one hundred per cent.

The Journal will present three cash prizes. First place winner will receive $15 from The Journal; second best will get $7.50 and the third winner $2.50.

FINAL PRACTICES — DeShazo elementary school in Muleshoe had worked its spelling elimination series down to these four pupils this week in preparation for Friday's county-wide bee. Three will represent the school. While Faye Chapman gives out the words, Sheridan Porter, Elizabeth Seales, Paul Wallace and Lowry Lewis try their hands at spelling the difficult words. All are 6th graders except Elizabeth. (Journal Photo & Engraving)

Ray's 'Ritin'

By RAY MARTIN
As you know by now The Muleshoe Journal is going semi-weekly the last of this month, with the first Sunday issue to appear March 31.

Of course it will be on a trial basis, but this department predicts that it will continue as a semi-weekly. Once such publications are started, they prove popular with readers and advertisers alike and thus are continued until the town grows to a sufficient size to justify a daily. Of course some papers jump up too fast and a good semi-weekly becomes a lousy daily. I can think of one such paper in Texas. It was a good weekly and later it became a good semi-weekly. Then somebody looked at the population figures and decided the town was big enough 'by then to support a daily. So, bam! Out came the daily. That's been two years ago and it's been in the red practically all the time since. That town wasn't ready for a daily; it still isn't.

Of course a newspaper is a service institution. It has two functions: To give the readers the news and to present the merchant's advertising in the most attractive and efficient manner to be of service to both the store and the customers. Without advertising, the paper cannot function.

And here is a statement that I have heard many times which always runs up my blood pressure: "It's a big paper this week, but it's all advertising." That is an out-and-out misstatement. The more advertising, the more news. The percentage of advertising and news remains practically the same, big paper or little. Thus a 16 page paper has far more NEWS than an eight-page paper. Postage on a newspaper is based on the percent of advertising, plus the weight. The percentage in most papers runs to 75 percent advertising to 25 percent news. The Journal has been far more generous with its news; our percentage of advertising is less than the level of most papers. Therefore we offer more news.

The New York newspaper strike has proved one thing: The effectiveness of newspaper advertising. Since that strike has been in progress, sales in NY stores have dropped millions of dollars; if ever the stores had any doubts about the effectiveness of newspaper advertising, the absence of newspaper advertising has dispelled those doubts.

Incidentally, we looked up this matter of "semi-weekly," since sometimes twice-a-week publications are referred to as "bi-weeklies." In Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary we discovered a discrepancy: Under the definition of "semi-weekly" it says: "Coming, made or done once every half week. That which comes or happens once every half week, esp. a periodical published every half week." Then under bi-weekly is this definition: "Occurring or appearing every two weeks, fortnightly; also semi-weekly."

Which, to say the least, is a bit confusing. Anyway, we're going to call The Journal a semi-weekly after it starts appearing twice each week.

Another birthday came up this past week. There was no fanfare, and yours truly tried to slip through the day as quietly as possible. After the half-century mark has been passed, birthdays are not the gala events that they were at 6 or 8 or even at 21.

Two main changes have been noted: It now feels better with a hat on out of doors than it did when I was 21 and wouldn't have been caught dead in one of the things. Winter times, a hat keeps off the chill breezes that

Mass Polio Immunization Day 'Ready' For Type III

Several thousand Bailey county folk are expected to trek to Muleshoe junior high school next Sunday for the final polio immunization program, starting at 12 noon, Muleshoe physicians said Thursday.

Type III polio immunization will be given on sugar cubes free to those who cannot afford to pay or for 25 cents to those who can pay.

Doctors, nurses and pharmacists are donating their time again as in the Type I and Type II immunization projects last fall.

Type III mass immunization day was originally set for December 9 last year, but was postponed pending action by the national health organization. Canada had turned thumbs-down on the program after a few isolated cases of unfavorable reaction to Type III had been reported.

Now the program has been "cleared" by physicians, and Dr. Luther Terry, surgeon general of the United States, has put his stamp of approval on this final phase of the polio program. He has announced that the program is safe for all persons under 30.

He has said that such persons "can take the final vaccine with a minimum risk."

Here the Type III immunization cubes will be given to everyone who wants to take them. 3 years old already have indicated that they intend to be on hand for the Type III project.

The previous immunizations were highly successful, more than 5,200 persons ate the vaccine-saturated sugar cubes during the two previous immunization programs.

The program here is being sponsored by the Bailey County Medical society. A similar program recently was completed in Pomeroy County, sponsored by the Pomeroy County Home Demonstration Council. Other societies in this area either have given type III vaccine or are planning to do so, it was pointed out.

County's '63 Cotton Allotment Increased to 101,195 Acres

Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., of Lubbock, has announced the transfer of 91,684 acres of cotton allotment from other areas in the state for planting by farmers in the 23-county PCG area.

On an average year, the acreage increase should add approximately 91,000 bales to High Plains production, and some $125,000 to its gross income.

Bailey county received a 6,340 acre boost over its original 94,855 allotment. This brings the 1963 allotment to 101,195 acres. Last year's total was 108,258 acres. Thus the new program whacks 7,063 acres from the 1962 allotment.

Lamb county got a 4,316 acre boost under the new program, but this still is 19,058 acres below the 1962 mark. Pomeroy county got a 7,597-acre increase which

ONLY 567 LISTED County Sign-up in Feed Grain Program Lags, Deadline Near

With only 567 signed up as the final week got under way, Bailey county farmers probably will not take part extensively in the 1963 feed grain program, it was indicated Wednesday.

ASCS officers here said 1,212 farmers are eligible to participate in the program this year. This means fewer than half of the farmers here will take part, unless a large number sign up between now and the 5 p.m. Friday deadline.

C. H. Bates, extension farm out that all commercial growers should consider the income possibilities of the alternative choices.

Budget forms are available from the offices of county agents for use in figuring estimated returns under the program for both compliance and non-compliance. Bates suggests contacting the local county agent for assistance in using the forms.

In general the 1963 program is similar to the one in effect last year. The grower agrees to reduce his feed grain acreage, corn, grain sorghum or barley, by at the diversion as shown by his sign-up papers and add the acres taken out of grain production to conservation use. This acreage, explains Bates, is in addition to the farm's base acreage in conservation use.

The Journal's Semi-Weekly Making Ready

The Muleshoe Journal is completing preparations for going semi-weekly the last of this month when a Thursday and Sunday issue will come off the press each week instead of the present once-a-week issue.

First issue of the new doubled publication will be dated for March 28 — Thursday — and the first Sunday issue will be dated for Sunday, March 31. The first Sunday issue, incidentally, is expected to be a big one since it will precede Muleshoe's Dollar Day event for April.

Deadlines for the new publication, if necessary, will be set up, and both advertisers and news contributors are asked to help The Journal to observe these deadlines.

Here are the new schedules: News copy, including society, for the Thursday issue will be Tuesday noon for society and at 5 p.m. Tuesday for major news and advertising.

Deadline for the Sunday issue (See JOURNAL'S, page 7)

Grand Jury Called For 'Routine' Cases

First grand jury of the new year and the first to be called by District Judge Pat Boone, Jr., for Bailey County, has been summoned for tomorrow (Friday) it was announced this week.

District Attorney Jack Young said mostly "routine" cases are slated to come before the grand jury, so far as he knows at the present time. He said most of the cases will be for persons previously arrested who have not been indicted as yet and thus cannot be brought to trial.

Under Texas laws, before a district court can convict an alleged offender, he must be indicted by the grand jury.

Judge Boone also has slated a brief criminal court of term to start here next Monday, and if time permits, that court session will be followed by civil cases.

Summoned for grand jury duty tomorrow were:

Flatt Due For Trial

An abbreviated schedule will face jurist and jurors next Monday when District Judge Pat Boone Jr. holds his second term of criminal court in Muleshoe. Only two defendants are due to go on trial although one of those defendants faces four charges as a result of indictments returned against him last November.

A former Muleshoe automobile dealer was indicted last year on four counts by a November grand jury. Facing charges is E.A. Flatt who has been free on bond of $2,000 in each of the four indictments.

He is charged with making false certificate as to an acknowledgment; of fraudulent disposition of mortgaged property; of false statement in writing, and with giving a worthless check.

District Attorney Jack Young has not announced which one of these four cases will be tried at next Monday's session.

The 1962 indictments say he assigned an automobile bearing Duane Darling's signature which the indictment says Darling did not sign. Flatt was acting as a notary public at the time with S-F Sales.

Another indictment charged he sold a 1958 station wagon September 13 to Dee Brown which was mortgaged at the time to the First National Bank.

In another charge it is claimed Flatt gave a worthless check for $360 to C&H Chevrolet Company, and in a fourth indictment, he is charged with making a false statement in writing, claiming automobile license plates had been lost. The state claimed at the time the indictment was filed that the plates had not been lost.

The other case due for trial is that of Willie Walker, charged with forgery. He was tried on the same charge earlier this year in the first term of criminal court held here by Judge Boone, but a district court jury was unable to agree on a verdict.

Summoned for possible jury (See COURT, page 7)

APPLICANTS SOUGHT C-C Manager's Job still Open

If you know how to manage a Chamber of Commerce, there may be a job open for you right here in Muleshoe.

That was the word Thursday of Bobby Alford, president of the Chamber of Commerce. The chamber has been without the services of a manager since Carroll Pouncey vacated the post March 1 to become head of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce's conventions division.

"We've gone over several applications so far," Alford said, "but none meet our needs, we feel. So, the job is still open."

He said the organization would be glad to consider any application, whether the job-seeker "has had experience in Chamber work or not."

He said formal application blanks are available at his office at the Muleshoe State Bank, or the organization will be glad to send an application blank by mail to any person who is interested.

"We want to line up the best possible manager for our organization," he explained, "and for this reason we are eager to interview every person who thinks he could do a good job for us."

The Chamber has a big program lined up for this year, among them the combination Fourth of July Celebration and the city's 50th anniversary. This would be one of the first major projects to be carried on by the new manager.

At its January annual meeting, the chamber outlined an ambitious program for 1963, but a good manager will be needed to help carry out the plans.

Meantime, the chamber headquarters are open each day with Sandy Warner, new secretary of the organization, as the only present employee.

Muleshoe Couple Wed 64 Years Ago

Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Haney, long-time residents of Muleshoe, celebrated their 64th wedding anniversary Sunday, March 17.

The couple were married "back in the mountains north of Little Rock, Ark." Haney said, "near where I spent my childhood fishing in White River."

"We stayed there until 1902, then moved 25 miles south of Oklahoma City and lived there until the latter part of 1925. We arrived in Muleshoe on the first day of January, 1926, when it was still a very small town. We have made our home here since that time and have enjoyed being a part of this growing town and the fine class of people who live here," he said.

Haney farmed during the first year after moving here, then for three years he operated a grocery store. Selling the store, he purchased a tourist court and managed it until after World War II, when he sold it and retired.

They are parents of three daughters, one deceased since last year; and Mrs. Finley Pierson and Mrs. David Anderson, both of Muleshoe.

They were active members of the Methodist Church for many years and still attend service when they can. Friends and relatives called at their home during the afternoon helping them to celebrate the occasion.

Fly-Up Ceremony Held Recently For Local Brownies of Troop 162

Brownies of Troop 162 held Fly-up ceremonies recently. The event took place at the Girl Scout Little House with approximately 70 parents and guests present.

Rose Stovall registered the guests as they entered. Doris Williams entered carrying the flag and was followed by the troop, forming a horseshoe around the table. Lee Ann Yerby then led the troop, parents and guests in the Pledge of Allegiance and America.

On a table covered with a white linen cloth, a centerpiece of 3 tall, yellow candles was placed, flanked on each side by 5 green candles. The ten green candles represented the ten Girl Scout Laws and ten girls lit and gave the law the candle represented. The three remaining candles were lit by three girls, giving the Promise, the Motto, and the Slogan, that each of these candles represented.

The girls, one by one, gave their name and the name of the parent they had chosen to pin their wings on. The parents came forward and pinned the wings on their daughter. Mrs. Charles Mayhugh then pinned each girl with the Girl Scout pin and welcomed them into Girl Scouts. Two girls, recently joining the troop did not receive wings because they had not had time to complete their tenderfoot rank.

Marcelle Airhart and Debra Fischgrabe asked their mothers, Mrs. Bobby Airhart and Mrs. Dale Fischgrabe to come forward and the girls presented them with a gift from the troop in appreciation for being their first leaders. The girls then sang "Taps", concluding the service.

Those receiving wings and pins were: Marcelle Airhart, Delores

Cowan, Deborah Dalton, Debra Fischgrabe, Karen Mayhugh, Melanie Moore, Sherry Moore, Dori Williams, Cynthia Wrinkle, Lettie Vinson, Lee Ann Yerby, Alice Coker, Delinda Henry, and Linda Langer. Janice Head and Rose Stovall, newcomers to the troop received their Girl Scout Pins.

Refreshments were then served to all present from a lovely decorated table provided by Mrs. Wilcy Moore. Mrs. Bobby Airhart, Mrs. Roy Wrinkle, Mrs. Chester Yerby and Mrs. Earl Henry.

Sister Scouts from Troop 70 assisted in seating guests, serving cleaning and washing dishes. Scouts assisting were Karen Paul Lana Gibson and Jeri Hardy.

Mrs. Martin Hosts Study Club Social

Mrs. S. L. Benefield and Mrs. Glenn Dunn presented the program at the Muleshoe Study Club when it met last week in the home of Mrs. Ramon Martin. Mrs. Louis Henderson was co-hostess and assisted in the entertaining.

Muleshoe Golfers Sound Alarm As Fire Starts in Houston Hotel

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story appeared in the Houston Chronicle.)

By MARIE FAUPLAISE

An early morning fire in the Rice Hotel — apparently started in the 10th floor room of two brothers from Muleshoe in town for a golf tournament — sent about 200 guests to the lobby in sleeping costumes ranging from chiffon to smoke-damaged shorts. No one was injured.

Among those in their shorts were Muleshoe department store executive Irvin St. Clair, 38 and his brother, Bill 33 year-old farmer, who teed off this morning on the Annual Champion Cup Match.

Normally Irvin has a four handicap and Bill a two handicap. This was increased substantially by the blaze in which they lost about $800 cash and every stitch of their clothing except their slightly charred undergarments, and about $1300 worth of golfing equipment they had left at Champions' Club House.

Irvin, who awoke to find the room swirling in smoke and his brother missing, is sporting a bruised right foot from crawling down the corridors kicking in the ventilating slats of other guests rooms and telling them to head for the elevators.

Irvin, his nerves unshaken and his breezy spirit undaunted, kept his head if not his possessions in the blaze which inflicted smoke and fire damage to the 10th, 11th, and 12th floors, sent several guests into hysteria as they crawled to safety behind guiding firemen and left one elderly man to be found huddled in a shower stall of his room while he called for help.

Moved to the 13th floor by the management, Irvin was collecting clothes at 8:30 a.m. — about five hours after the fire. Brother Bill was sleeping next door — so soundly that a photographer took his picture without so much as causing an eye to open. (The paper pictured Bill sleeping just this soundly while Irvin stood at the head of the bed looking down upon him.)

"I don't know what happened — but I know that the time spent being a fireman sure came in handy," Irvin said.

"I woke up and the room was dark and thick with smoke. I immediately dropped to the carpet and started crawling around shouting 'Bill, 'Bill' — he's my kid brother, my only brother." "I could breathe down there on the floor. I decided Bill was gone. By that time I had to get out or suffocate.

"I kicked out the door and started down the corridors — kicking out the slats of doors as I went. I hollered and hollered, I could not really see anything until a fireman with a lamp on his head found me.

"He took me to the elevator and there in the lobby was Bill. In his shorts, too. He swore I wasn't in the room when he left. The first set of clothing contributed by fellow-golfers was several sizes too big for Irvin, but Eddie Burke of the Jackie Burke Slacks Co. said he was going to get him some snuggler items.

"But, so what?" said Irvin. "After all, I'm a city dude from Muleshoe. All this isn't about to stop me — or Bill, from playing. We came to town to play golf and we're going to do just that.

"All I need is a golf cart to get around the course (he's limping from that bruised foot) and I'm in business.

"I'll get some clothes that fit — I'm afraid this outfit might fall off if I swung a club.

"It might sound strange to you — but folks in Muleshoe would figure that's what I'd do."

Cause of the fire has not been determined, but E. A. Billingsley, Rice night manager, said it was "probably from a cigarette."

Acting District Chief C. R. Lawry said he was told about 2500 guests were in the hotel, but many in the west wings and lower floors were unaware of the fire and were completely out of danger.

"When the alarm was turned in we were told the fire was not serious and were asked to send only one pumper to avoid throwing guests into panic," Chief Lawry said. "It turned into a two-alarm and we had to send lots of equipment. Smoke was the problem — firemen had to wear masks."

is the result of 14 years of trial-and-error development, the end product of some 30 experimental models built by our engineer. This is the one machine, the only machine, that meets every requirement for dependable, economical sprigging: (1) opens a narrow furrow, (2) inserts the sprigs in standing position, (3) squeezes the moist soil around the sprig without letting any dry dirt into the furrow, (4) eliminates the long skips which competitive machines consistently leave, (5) plants over rocks, roots, and stumps without damage to machinery.

(1) has capacity above any other; digs, cleans, and loads sprigs, (2) separates all sprigs from soil, leaving no clods; (3) cuts sprigs to proper length; (4) elevates sprigs into an ordinary cotton trailer; (5) puts all soil back where it came from; (6) is mechanically trouble-free, easily transported.

JENNY SLIPPER POINTS—GIRL SCOUTS P-TA

Various national and district parent-groups are getting penetrating studies by their clubs and organizations' local units in Muleshoe.

This just isn't happening in just one instance, it is happening all over the country.

As The Journal goes to press Thursday morning the local Girl Scouts will be meeting to discuss their withdrawal from the Caprock district of Girl Scouts. Their funds are sorely needed locally and district has raised the dues to council this year. There are the advantages of district leadership and training, but then if money can't be raised to pay these district dues, another look is due. This is the opinion of one local Girl Scout Executive.

On the editorial page of this week's Journal, Jenny Slipper would like to point to the story about "that ticklish P-TA ballot". Same principle, we think.

Several other clubs and organizations have the same problems popping up; most have had the question to answer before. The principle is, as someone pointed out, that we rob Peter to pay Paul, and "Peter could be our local group and Paul our national group, and WE pay for it. Or, they take 1 pint of blood from your right arm, spill and splash around, then give you back ½ pint to put in your left arm."

COOK OF THE WEEK

Mary Nell Chapman is this issue's Cook of the Week. We've heard so many people ask for her recipe of Date Fluffs we wanted to try it too.

This gracious South Texas native of Elgin, says cooking is her hobby, and what, may ask, could make her husband, Benny Chapman, daughter Martha and son Bill happier? (We also hear it is wonderful to be her neighbor from her several "in the block" friends! Don't we wish we could all have that kind of good-cook "lovely" neighbors?)

Mary Nell lists Sunday School teaching of 3 and 4 year-olds at the First Methodist Church, De Shazo P-TA, and Girl Scouts as her activities. But right now, let's find out these three favorite spring-time recipes:

DATE FLUFFS

3 egg whites, beaten stiffly
1 c. sugar - 1 Tbs. at a time
1 tsp. vinegar
1 tsp. vanilla
1 c. dates, finely chopped
1 c. pecans, finely chopped
Fold above in egg whites. Drop by spoon on greased and floured pan. Bake at 250 degrees for 45 minutes to 1 hour.

FRESH FRUIT PARFAIT

2 c. marshmallows
Juice of 1 lemon
1 c. fresh strawberries, crushed
1 c. heavy cream, whipped
Melt marshmallows in double broiler, add lemon juice. Cool slightly then add fruit. Fold in whipped cream. Freeze in tray for two hours.

PINEAPPLE ICE BOX CAKE

Melt 12 marshmallows in ½ c. water and ½ c. sugar. Let cool. Dissolve 1 pkg. lemon jello in 1 cup hot water. Add 1 c. pineapple juice. Let partially congeal.

Mix above together and add 1 carton of whipped cream, 1 No. 2 can of crushed pineapple, drained, and 1 c. pecans.

Line large flat cake pan with vanilla wafers. Pour half amount on wafers. Then add another layer wafers, then the rest of mixture. Top with wafers. (Wafers may be left whole or made into crumbs) Refrigerate for 24 hours.

Seven Accidents Reported During February; Damage Totals $7,025

The Highway Patrol investigated seven rural accidents in Bailey County during the month of February, according to Sergeant D. S. Lawson, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for two persons injured and an estimated property damage of $7,025.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for Bailey County for the two months of 1953 showed a total of 11 crashes resulting in three persons injured and an estimated property damage of $10,350.00.

The Patrol Supervisor reported that a new hazard has been added to the traffic picture. You may not realize it but the current hiking fad has added an element of danger to driving. The Sergeant added that everyone who decides to make one of these fifty mile hikes, or a twenty-five mile hike should be aware of the traffic dangers that are involved and also that all Texas drivers should be alerted to the fact that these pedestrians may cause a certain amount of danger. Hiking today is a great deal different than it was twenty years ago. With Spring just around the corner more pedestrians will be seen on our streets and highways and it is important that all drivers recognize this hazard and be prepared to take evasive action if necessary.

"Our records reveal that approximately ten percent of all rural fatal motor vehicle accidents involved pedestrians during the last few years and this figure was somewhat higher in our cities, which points out the necessity for safe walking as well as safe driving," the Sergeant stated.

Fifteen deaths in the 29-county district were reported during the month of February, the report shows, and 110 persons were injured. Total property loss for the district amounted to $139,109.

Clay County, with five deaths, led the list with Lamb County recording three deaths, Stonewall County had two deaths, and Lynn, Palo Pinto, Parker, Wichita and Wise County each reported one death.

News of People In Armed Services

MURNAU, Germany (AHTNC) — Army Specialist Four John R. Gross, son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Gross, Route 2, Muleshoe, recently completed a four-week wheeled-vehicle maintenance course at the U. S. Army many.

Specialist Gross, a mechanic in the 541st Signal Company in Pirmasens, entered the Army in June 1949 and arrived overseas in November 1950.

The 22-year-old soldier is a 1958 graduate of Muleshoe High School. He attended South Plains College.

PRESCHOOLERS PROGRAM
NEW YORK (AP) — A grant of $155,000 for an experiment in enriching the educational experience of preschool children living in deprived areas has been made to the Baltimore City Board of Education by The Ford Foundation.

The experiment is based on studies showing these children can learn basic skills in first and second grades, but begin to run into trouble in third and fourth grades where curriculum and texts demand conceptual knowledge. Most children gain familiarity with such through conversation with parents reading by adults, trips, visits and other cultural experiences.

This program will attempt to supply such background to children from poorer urban areas.

HONORARY POLICEMAN
COLUMBUS, Ohio (PA) — A quiet-mannered employe in the State Highway Department's bureau of bridges has been named an honorary member of the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Patrolmen decided to honor 64-year-old Joseph V. Goldberg after learning it was he who drew the original sketches for their badges and insignia 29 years ago.

Now the patrol is considering a special flag. They think Goldberg is just the man to design it.

acres over the 40,964 allotted to the High Plains in 1962. The increase comes as a result of the state having been re-zoned for 1963 by the State ASC committee, with only two zones as compared to the previous five. The zoning was changed in order to provide for a more equitable distribution of released acreage and a consequent maximum utilization of the state's allotted acres. The High Plains area is a part of the area designated as "Zone 2".

The deadline for individual farmers to make application for sharing in this acreage "bonus" expired on March 4, and final distribution of the acreage assigned each county is to be made by county ASC committees by March 25. A producer's "share" of the county's total is figured by the county committees, using various systems designed by the committees to reflect existing conditions in that county.

Addition of these extra acres to the original allotments brings the total available for planting in the 23 counties to 2,202,553 acres, or an overall reduction of 194,293 acres from the 2,396,846 can paralyze a partially exposed dome. Summertime, a hat keeps off the sun's rays which seem to concentrate on that same partially exposed region.

Another change one notes beyond 50: His experience in any given field is no longer considered worthwhile. He's simply old-foggy, and any view which he may have as based on his years of experience are simply the fuddy-duddy thinking of a man whose ideas are obsolete.

Of course this is the age of youth. Only youth are considered capable of doing any worthwhile job, all the way from running the government down to sweeping floors in the local pool hall. It's a young man's world nowadays. If the idea is old and quaint and won't work any more, let's throw it out and accept new ideas. Saturday Evening Post is an example; average age of editorial department employees of that ancient publication is 28, I read in the Post a few months ago. And here's a statement, made by this old-foggy thinker: The Post was never poorer than today.

Minor Crime Up Slightly

Minor crime was on the increase during the weekend, records of Justice of the Peace Joe Vaughn indicated this week.

As is usually the case, most of the cases involved traffic violations.

His records show two rather unusual charges on the docket—two persons were charged with "failure to control speed" of their cars. One was arrested for drunkenness, and one person was arrested for parking on the roadway.

Five persons were hauled into Judge Vaughn's court on charges of speeding, and one person was cited for having no operator's license. One vagrancy case was filed, and one person was charged with trespassing.

The vagrancy charge was filed by city officers, the trespassing case and the drunkenness charge by county officials, Judge Vaughn's records showed. Other cases were filed by the Highway Patrol.

If you are lining a square or rectangular baking pan with paper or foil, mitre the corners total for 1962. This amounts to about 8.1 percent less acreage, while the reduction in original allotment figured over 10 percent.

In explaining the move toward twice-a-week publication, L. B. Hall, publisher, explained that the move had been under consideration for some time. The semi-weekly program is to be started on a trial basis, "to determine whether such a plan is feasible," Hall explained.

Hall said "we believe we can be of much greater service to our readers in the news field especially since events can be printed while they are still fresh news, and future announcements also can be aided by our new double media."

Three Lawsuits Heard in Court

Three civil cases went to trial here late last week before District Judge Pat Boone, Jr., one of them involving damages of $100,000 sought.

One of the cases ended in a verdict for the defendant, one in a hung jury and the other a $3,000 judgement for the plaintiff.

Paul Reed, who had been sued for $100,000 by Jerry Ivan Allison, was the winner in a case which was deliberated until after midnight last Friday.

Allison, who was injured when he jumped off a truck and was struck by Allison's automobile, had claimed Reed was at fault. The jury decided, however, that Allison jumped into the path of Reed's car.

In another case, F. M. Chancey vs. Merlin O. Wilson, et al, the jurors failed to reach a verdict and a mistrial was ordered. The case involved an alleged breach of contract.

In an almost unprecedented Saturday court term, Adrain Crawford was awarded a $3,000 judgement against J. B. McPherson, et al. The case was settled before actually reaching the jury. Crawford claimed in the suit that McPherson had damaged some of Crawford's cotton while spraying poison on weeds.

Feed grain producers having questions regarding any phase of the 1963 program are advised to contact their county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service staff for detailed information.

And, reminds Bates, the final date for making a decision on whether or not to participate is March 22.

Check-ups Vital To People, Cars, Service Says

An annual inspection is routinely made for all motor vehicles. It's too bad the human body doesn't get the same consideration.

Most adults go along year after year, never seeing a doctor until they become sick or have an accident.

If regular inspections are important for a car, consider how absolutely vital they are for the human machine.

You may have some early disease and not even know it. Unless this condition is found and treated, chances are it will become more serious and more difficult to control.

A regular check-up by a doctor is a good opportunity to get sound, medical advice on your needs based on his professional evaluation of your state-of-health. You may need medical advice about the food you eat, the exercise you should take, and other habits which can help or hinder you in your search for good health.

Even if you are already under treatment, perhaps it has been too long since your last visit to the doctor. Your condition may have changed for the better or worse.

Perhaps your regimen needs to be changed or your medicines—if you are taking any—need to be readjusted in dosage or kind. Not all medicines are to be taken indefinitely.

Also, new diagnostic aids and medicines are now available which the doctor may want to prescribe.

Perhaps you had an illness and overcame it. It is possible the condition could recur.

Perhaps one of the biggest advantages of a complete physical examination at regular intervals is the knowledge that you are in fit physical shape. If you have an illness, it is consoling to know that everything possible is being done to keep it under control.

There is no set schedule of how often you should have a check-up, but it should be regular. Let your doctor set the schedule for you. At the end of the examination he can suggest the time for the next check-up.

(A weekly feature from Public Health Education Division, Texas State Department of Health.)

REMEMBERED IN BOSTON

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — One day in about 19th, Des Moines attorney Harold Newcomb stepped into the famous Goodspeed Book Store on Boston's Beacon Hill and asked for a genealogical memoir of the Newcomb family.

The store didn't have the book then, but told Newcomb that if he would leave his name and address he would be advised if and when a copy turned up.

More than 20 years later, Newcomb received a letter recently from the store, informing him that the book was available if he still wanted it. He did, and he got it.

SOFT BUT NOT BOUNCY

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Engineers are looking for a soft-touch way to land a space vehicle on the moon.

Engineers at the Bendix aerospace division here say the shock absorber used must cushion the impact but cannot contribute to rebound that will make the space vehicle bounce.

They now are testing an aluminum honeycomb that will crush under the impact of the space vehicle's landing.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Lewis celebrated their wedding anniversary March 16.

The Music classes of Mrs. M. A. Barton presented the program for the P-TA at their meeting last week.

The first graders gave "Action" songs. The second grade accompanied themselves with rhythm band instruments. Three students, Nathan Barton, Jeanne McGehee and Cassie Precure, accompanied on the Bell Lyre (Glocken Spiel).

Larry Davis and Trevor Ford gave two guitar numbers.

The third grade presented songs of famous composers and folk music. Starla Diane Kirby acted out one of the songs, Jacqueline Morgan, Jimmie Noland and Mark Ramage acted out songs also as the class sang.

The fourth grade presented several two-part songs, hymns, folk songs, a negro spiritual and a comedy song.

A trio of Ann Blackstone, Evelyn Darling, and Delayne Steinbock were featured in "Prayer for Battle."

After the business meeting of the P-TA room count was taken, and Mrs. Warren's room won the prize for having the most parents present.

Mr. and Mrs. Juel Treider and Mrs. Laura Treider were in Amarillo during the weekend visiting the Chaney's, formerly from this area.

Nancy Hicks, Canyon, Area I president, presided over the group of approximately 3000 FHAs. The theme of the meeting was "Freedom's Blessings of Liberty." Mrs. Ima Dora Haile, Plainview, Area I supervisor of the division of home and family life education, was director of the meeting.

The group was welcomed by several prominent Lubbock citizens such as: Mayor Jack Strong, Dr. Nat Williams, superintendent of Lubbock schools; J. T. Talkington, president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce; Roy Davis, general manager of Plains Co-op Oil Mills; and Dr. Willa Vaughn Tinsley, dean of the Tech School of Home Economics. The key speaker of the convention was Dr. Walter Kerr, Tyler, executive director of International Youth Crusades.

In the latter part of the morning, the group was entertained by talent acts which were presented by various FHA Chapters. Highlighting the afternoon session was a program presented by

Walker, Hargis Speeches Booked In Amarillo

Two of America's most outspoken anti-communist leaders have joined forces on a coast-to-coast speaking tour, and Amarillo will be the only city in Texas included in the five-week junket, extending from February 27 through April 3, to be called "Operation: Midnight Ride."

Walker, Dallas, against whom a Federal grand jury in Mississippi recently refused an indictment in the Oxford, Miss. incident, and evangelist Billy James Hargis, Tulsa, director of the Christian Crusade anti-communist organization, will speak in the City Auditorium in Amarillo Thursday, March 28, at 7:30 p.m.

General Walker will speak on the workings of communism on the international scene, while Mr. Hargis will deal with "Communism Internally." Admission will be a $1 contribution at the door.

The two speakers declared, in a joint statement, "Inspired by the midnight ride of Paul Revere in 1775, we are taking this means to warn the American people of the dangers from within and from without, in time for the Nation to shake itself from its lethargy. The liberal brainwashing we have

Latin II Club Formed Here

By WISTER R. HARRISON
A Muleshoe High School Latin Club was formed by Mrs. Horace Blackburn, club sponsor. This is a different club than the other club, a Latin I Club, which was recently formed. The Latin II Club has been named, "Quo Vadis," meaning "whether goest thou."

The club has a program once every two weeks during class period usually pertaining to Latin ideas or projects.

Latin language was started only last year, in the 1961-62 school year. Mrs. Horace Blackburn, our teacher, has been very patient and also helpful in the starting of the teaching of Latin language.

SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER

Our Sage Says Solutions on Cuba Are Plentiful; They Won't Work

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm looks at a problem this week, but then throws up his hands.

Dear editor:
"Somebody has to do it, and there's always plenty of men hunting the job, but being President of the United States is one job I wouldn't be interested in. Too many problems with no answers. I don't mean to say that running this Johnson grass farm doesn't involve a lot of problems and some of them may not have any answers, but I don't have to contend with a lot of people furnishing answers that won't work. And even in the worst year, there are always times when I can wake up some mornings without anything really bothering me."

Editor — Being relatively new residents of Muleshoe and this immediate area, my husband and I recently decided to drive to Clovis for dinner and to look around town. We drove out to radio and television station KICA and Mr. J. H. Marshall, Sr., personally conducted us on a tour of the station. He showed us a number of ways the KICA has been working and remodeling to provide listeners and viewers better quality service.

We really did appreciate his spending the time with us, so I decided to thank him by conveying his invitation for all Muleshoe and area residents to visit KICA. Everyone was friendly and we were permitted to watch actual programming on the spot. Mr. Marshall welcomes visitors anytime they are in Clovis. Mrs. Hugh Osborn

This doesn't happen in the White House.

For example, right now everybody wants the United States, and therefore the President, to do something about Cuba.

One man out of many I was listening to on television said the way to handle Cuba is simple, just cut off the flow of oil to the island, that'll bring Castro to his knees. Now I'll admit you can't run machinery or a country very long without oil, I've tried it with my tractor and it's the quickest way I know to bring it to its knees, and also to the repair shop.

So when somebody asked, "Wouldn't stopping a Russian ship bearing oil to Cuba be an act of war?" this man said, "Well, naturally, I'm not in favor of war, what I mean is I'm in favor of stopping the flow of oil to Cuba provided it wouldn't be considered an act of war."

Yeah, and I'm in favor of skipping the payments of my television set provided it wouldn't be considered a default. I'm in favor of abolishing all taxes provided it wouldn't abolish the country.

One of the easiest jobs on earth is to tell somebody else what he ought to do, then move on to something else, and if you look back over your shoulder and discover he's done it and the results are disastrous, you can always turn around and ridicule him for not having more sense than to do a fool thing like that.

This just doesn't happen under one certain President, it happens under all Presidents. But I guess they must have known this when they applied for the job.

THAT TICKLISH P-TA BALLOU

How Do You Feel About Federal Aid to Schools? P-TAs to Vote

Muleshoe Parent - Teacher organizations are faced with the problem of whether they favor or oppose the questions on the "Official Local Unity" ballot which has been called "a complicated restatement of the legislative program of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers which endorses federal aid to education."

The controversial issue, which has stirred up a storm of protest in some Texas P-TA units while other P-TA organizations are still considering the ballot and its issues, must be voted on by both Richland Hills and DeShazo elementary school P-TAs at their April meetings.

The Journal lists below reaction — both favorable and unfavorable — from various P-TA organizations throughout the state and from local P-TA and school officials.

Aimed at getting this area's opinion on the proposed program, the "grassroots" ballot is not "distributed" by National but by Texas Congress of P-TAs for the vote of each unit.

The Amarillo Globe-News has pointed out that the local unity ballot propositions "support of the United Nations and several of its subsidiary organizations, including UNESCO, UNICEF, WHO, FAO, and others. Questions on the P-TA 'legislation program' involved means of distributing federal aid grants to states and schools."

Mrs. W. J. Danforth, president of the Texas Congress of P-TA, said in letters to presidents of local units very clearly: "The ballot is not 'slanted toward Federal Aid,' rather it is plainly FOR federal aid so you can just as forthrightly say YES or NO as your membership declares."

As Neal Dillman, superintendent of Muleshoe Schools said "It merely contains the synopsis of the legislative bills being considered by the U. S. Congress and House of Representatives, which SHOULD be of interest to parents and teachers. It is important to the community as well, for the community will not be any better than the children they train in their schools. Our children are our most important resource."

Muleshoe school district represents the largest single business in Bailey county. Its total 1962-63 budget is $781,387; income from State is $400,398 and local revenue $359,489. It hires more people (around 145 this year with a total payroll of $552,176) than does any other governmental sub-division or private enterprise.

If you don't think this applies to ALL of the Muleshoe area, ask yourself if the monthly school payroll of $45,868 taken OUT of this area would affect you, your business, your family, and this community. There is also this matter of pride of the local school system to be considered in community prestige and progress.

A large number of Texas Panhandle groups have already declared the victor. Thus we must be diligent in prayer, in study, in worship, in meditation and in fellowship.

Prayer: Create in me clear thoughts, O God, that my deeds shall be the performing of Thy Holy will. Amen.

J. Frank Peery, pastor
First Methodist Church

The Internal Revenue reorganization of 1952 abolished all political appointments in Internal Revenue Service except for the position of Commissioner.

lined to go along with national P-TA proposals and several have withdrawn their affiliation from state and national bodies. Recently P-TA units of three Amarillo schools voted against participation. One Tyler P-TA defeated approval of further expansion of federal aid to education by 44-0 vote and criticized the complicated language and double negatives. In Austin, Rep. John Allen, Longview, demanded a legislative investigation of the ballot.

Some have challenged the right of P-TA to be concerned with such legislation, calling it "unduly propagandized," "ramrodded by vested interests," "high-handed method" of underhandedly getting P-TAs to sponsor "ambiguous or stacked surveys."

The Hereford Brand says "the questionnaires, without doubt, are vague at best — and some of the foremost Panhandle lawyers say they do not know what they would be advocating in case they answered either affirmative or negative. The most volatile question centers around federal control of our public schools, especially through federal aid, which comprises one of the chief platforms of the Kennedy administration; two others... concern endorsement of the United Nations and a federal child welfare program."

Mrs. Danforth answered with "Who has more reasons to be concerned about legislation affecting children and youth than the parents who rear them and the teachers who teach them." A P-TA bulletin also says "As a P-TA member you are concerned not only for your own children but for all children."

Local officials pointed out that this is the first year that national OP-TA has asked each state P-TA to get opinions from local P-TA units. The Texas State congress' elected officers have voted AGAINST federal aid to education) Will either change or confirm the Texas Board of Managers' stand (taken) since 1952 on the national legislative program (which has been for Texas) IN OPPOSITION to further extension of federal aid to education."

As several have said "It is better to vote no than not to vote at all, in case of doubt of the wording, intention, implication, or outcome of these ballots." Meantime, it is good that the ballot has created interest in P-TA, its purposes, its present effectiveness in "education of adults to aid their children," as well as a close look at the national group's principals and our local groups' opinion of such. It is even better that the public is being aroused to study and speak out about national legislation now pending in Washington. The entire program could be summarized like this:

This issue has brought national legislation right down close to home for us in the P-TA and all of Muleshoe, as well as all others.

The values of the public, which more often give more acclaim for planting grass on school grounds than in the reading programs of the schools, show a need for further education. Thus it boils down to the education, not only of the pupils, but to the adults too. Or, as one writer put it, "Let's all do our homework."

Today's Meditation
"VICTIMS OR VICTORS"
Never flag in zeal, be aglow with the spirit, Serve the Lord... Romans 12:11 (Read Romans 12)

Paul very seldom opened his mouth that he didn't speak words of wisdom. We who are Christian because we have received the mercies of God are called upon to dedicate our lives to Him. To live for Him is our spiritual worship. We cannot let this world force its standards upon us. Rather we are to be in the process of becoming new creations through the power of the Holy Spirit. This process includes the renewing of our minds, for thoughts are the prelude to actions. As the Holy Spirit is allowed to purify our minds, we discover that God's will becomes clearer to us because we are more sensitive to it.

We must overcome evil with good — not be overcome by evil. In the battle with sin, the Christian is not to be the victim but

MIGHTY THANKFUL

Little did pilot Leon Wilson and passenger Doyle Turner realize what was to be their experience of the day when they took off Friday in a Cessna, co-owned by Wilson as a member of the Clover Flying Club — else they would have done as did "Rock" an ole-time cartoon character who quite often felt the premonition of "ill-fate" brewing and would jump in bed and surround himself with pillows as protection.

Wilson and Turner took off from Muleshoe Flying Service with Tyler as their destination. Wilson said their contact with weather stations showed the flight to be safe enough, but down-country they found the story, in reality, quite different which made them wonder, if, per chance they had been connected with Outer Mongolia weather station, as weather reports are one of the most dependable things available to pilots.

None-the-less, which station they got did not lessen their plight nor their experience. To add to their distress, one that played a major role, the radio was out in the plane which eliminated radio contact with Omni stations and required their flight by visual navigation.

When they realized this, there was nothing visible by navigation, nothing but the fog-shrouded ground. Flying onward, thinking they would surely run out of this weather condition shortly — they tried another method — lowering altitude in an attempt to swing beneath the fog element. This was done in a gradual method. Wilson, in his imaginative thinking, with flying time figuring in heavily from the time weather became the chief factor, to the point of decision, arrived at the conclusion that they should be near Bridgeport Airport. With gas tanks rocking "empty" he lowered the craft to an altitude of 50 feet — No airport in sight — Bridgeport!!! He then, just skimming the tops of power lines, picked out a nice level wheat field and set the Cessna down, unharmed! Good Manuevering!

Two relieved men were picked up soon by a passing motorist, a somewhat off course, but pretty good, considering circumstances. Riding into town in a pickup, found the weather not a lot more fit for ground vehicles than aircrafts as they passed through dense patches of fog on the ground that cut visibility to zero.

From Gainsville, the pair arranged for passage to Denton where they obtained the use of a car and continued their journey to Tyler.

They returned to the wheat field Sunday — found clear weather — moved the craft out of its emergency landing spot and after refueling at the nearest station, flew back to Muleshoe — landing here with normal flight procedure, glad to be back after their most terrifying experience.

Know sumpin'! WE'RE MIGHTY GLAD TO HAVE'EM!!!!

NEW STUDENT

Marianna Bryant, wife of pilot Don Bryant is the Flying Service's latest woman student.

Marianna, also a student of the Private Pilot's Ground School Course, now underway at the airport — seems to be a wizard at answering mechanical questions and tho, she is quite a conversationalist on the ground, her instructor in the Cherokee, Morgan Locker, says Marianna is extremely silent while airborne.

She listens and absorbs every small detail of the actual flying phase. After her second lesson, Locker, under these conditions, she is functioning at top speed.

WRITTEN TESTS

Some ten of the thirteen students to take the course on instruments at Muleshoe Flying Service recently will be given their FAA exams at the airport office this week by Robert Wisener, FAA Examiner, now stationed at Lubbock. Those who are not taking the test at the present will take the test at a later date. Those taking the final exams at the conclusion of the course have made grade ranging from 87 to the upper nineties. High grade on the FAA exams will be awarded a trophy by Muleshoe Flying Service.

TO PAULS VALLEY

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sheets and children, Farwell, left Friday in the Cherokee on a flight to Pauls Valley, Okla.

They encountered the same type foggy weather as did Wilson and Turner on their flight and with ceiling lowering to 1000 feet, Sheets landed the plane at Fredrick and continued their journey by auto.

They came back to Fredrick Sunday and flew the plane back to Muleshoe that afternoon.

COMANCHE CHARTERED

The Comanche was chartered Sunday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Avery who were flown to Truth or Consequences, N.M. by Morgan Locker.

Avery's father had suffered a heart attack earlier that day and they remained there at his bedside.

Leaving on the flight at 2:15 their route carried them just to the north edge of White Sands proving ground to Corona, down the river to Socorro, and on to Truth or Consequences.

Avery, a farmer, said he had driven through that country many times, but had not realized how much of the land had been broken out at one time and turned back to range land. Flying at a lower altitude, the evidence was plain of someone's attempts to farm the area. Outlines of once plowed field was still visible, although nature was again taking over in the way of native grass and other vegetation.

The flight to their destination took 2 hours 5 minutes aloft. Returning, Locker climbed to an altitude of 15,500 feet and with a terrific tail wind, arrived back in Muleshoe in one hour and 15 minutes — a distance of 320 miles.

On his flight home, Locker flew through snow showers and plenty of dust in the upper atmosphere.

The flight was Mrs. Avery's second and she made the trip fine, even though wind that has been plentiful around these parts lately, made the air somewhat rough. She commented once, "Seems I should have brought my spurs."

TO GEORGIA

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Yeates and children made a flight recently to Cartersville, Ga. where they visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Dover, and with her brothers and sisters.

On the return flight, they landed on a private airstrip on the 6666 ranch near Guthrie where they were guests of Yeates' brother, B. F. Yeates. They also went to Dickens to see another brother, H. I. Yeates, while in the vicinity.

IT'S FOR THE BIRDS

By MELVIN R. EVANS
Refuge Manager, Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge

"Chemical Pesticides Are Poison, Handle With Care" is a statement which every American should recognize and obey. But, do you?

The above phrase is the theme of the 1963 National Wildlife Week which is being observed March 17-23.

Chemical poisons, when properly utilized, are of terrific value, but if they are improperly used they can do more harm than good. They affect everyone in our great country and the world. We, each and every one of us, must do the following if we are to carry out a successful pesticide program:

1. Urge and support research to find specific and short-life pesticides.

2. Encourage development of natural methods for controlling pests.

3. Urge strict enforcement of present registration, labeling and application laws.

4. Request the outlawing of "broad-spectrum" chemical poisons, which kill all forms of life.

5. Demand public hearings on publicly-financed pest control programs.

Few of these area's landowners would encourage the removal of quail from their property. But, these same individuals will apply pesticides in excess of required volumes, which will destroy the covey of quail they are protecting.

Did you fail to follow the application directions closely when you sprayed your flower bed, or your garden, or your cotton, or your feedcrop, or whatever it was you sprayed the last time you used a toxic spray? Were you the one who said "Well, if one gallon will do it, one and a half gallons will do it better?"

If you did either of the above you undoubtedly killed some very valuable form of wildlife.

The beasts that are present on this good old world were placed here or have been developed because they serve some valuable purpose. The hawk and coyote, by removing rodents from pastures and farmlands, have put more money in the pocket of the farmer or stockman than they will ever take out.

These animals are still among the most condemned animals in this area. Have you ever taken a long hard look at the good that such small animals as Field Sparrows do? Try it some time, you might be surprised how valuable all of our wildlife species really are.

HOLTS VISIT HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holt and Ground School for Private ratings are Evelyn Riley and Ed Nichols. The course is being taught at the airport office twice each week.

PURCHASES PLANE

Bob Kimbrough and Dan Sanders recently purchased an Ercope from Ed Edmiston. They have had the plane checked and licensed.

FLUCTUATING POPULATION

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Population at the Robert Neuman home is an uncertain thing. On a recent date 1-year-old Linda Neuman said the count appeared to be 7 adult white rats, 24 young white rats, 5 guinea pigs, 1 parakeet, 1 dog, 5 people and 1 guinea pig on loan from a neighbor. She says in a year 100 new pets have been born and become tramping stock.

If you want a truck that does its work without yelling for attention all the time, buy a "new reliable" Chevrolet.

You have to take care of it; it's a machine. But this isn't a full-time activity. The clear idea is that the truck works for you, not vice versa.

The way to build such a truck is to put more quality into it. For example, Chevrolet doesn't build one type of suspension system for all sizes of trucks. Chevrolet designs suspension systems to fit your need. The light-duty type is strong on comfort. Another kind for heavier trucks stiffens up as you increase your load and vice versa. Make sense? Conventional pickups have double-wall construction in cabs, doors, lower side panels. Roofs are insulated. Body floors are select wood, not metal. Tailgate chains are wrapped in rubber. If you'd like to examine or drive a new '63 Chevrolet truck, just call us. We'll be right over.

Victor Borge, "the Clown Prince of Denmark", invades stately Lincoln Center in New York to star in one of his rare TV specials, Thursday night at 9. His cohorts in comedy will be special guest Marcel Marceau, the French pantomimist, and pianist Leonid Hambro. A musical feature of the show will be the premiere of Borge's "Concerto for Orchestra, One Piano, Two Pianists and Two Conductors", the tongue-in-check title giving only a small indication of Borge's ability to spoof long-hair music. Thursday night's "Mr. Ed" episode at 6:30 is a tall story in which the fabulous talking horse becomes so embarrassed he leaves home; to join the zoo. After this week "Mr. Ed" moves to a new day and time, Sundays at 5:30.

"Perry Mason" strives to win this week's case, Thursday at 7 p.m., before it even goes to court when a beautiful client tries to involve him as a suspect in her husband's murder.

Comedian Howard Morris, former second banana on the Sid Caesar television series, stars on "Twilight Zone" at 8 p.m. Thursday in a drama about an unprepossessing office clerk who acquires a modern version of Aladdin's Lamp. Then at 10:30 Gloria DeHaven makes a guest appearance on "The Lloyd Bridges Show" as a night club singer who has amassed a fortune while her boy friend was in prison for a crime he didn't commit.

A godless Comanchero, left to die on a torture rack by members of his own band, is rescued by a pair of nuns on "Rawhide" Friday night at 8:30. And the hunter becomes the hunted, when Kookie, tracing down a missing $50,000 finds a deadly killer instead, on "77 Sunset Strip" at 8:30.

The weekend's color movie fare includes turbulent action during the land grab days of the west, and one of the all-time great love stories by Ernest Hemmingway, "The Late Show", Friday night at 1:30 will star Randolph Scott as "Tall Man Riding". Saturday night's "Million Dollar Movie" at 10 is the action story of a man in guerrilla warfare whose love for a young Spanish girl is as tumultuous as the Civil War in which he's fighting. Gary Cooper and Ingrid Bergman star in "For Whom the Bell Tolls".

Courtroom drama comes to the old west when a professor of law completes his defense of a man accused of killing a fellow wagon train passenger. Ward Bond stars as "Major Adams: Trailmaster", Saturday at 4.

Later at 6:30, the moral of "The Gallant Man" is shattered when Captain Benedict admits he can no longer stomach ordering men to face death daily and retreats to the protection of a desk job.

FISH MEAL TO MAINE PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Bringing fish meal from South Africa to Maine might seem like carrying coals to Newcastle.

But it isn't so, says a spokesman for Samuel Lipman & Sons of Augusta, which recently imported 500 tons through the Port of Portland.

The Lipman firm uses the meal in manufacture of poultry feed. The quality needed wasn't available in Maine, a spokesman reported.

The meal was unloaded from the British freighter Claksforth at a pier just across the harbor from a plant that manufactures fish meal.

Your STUDEBAKER will give you better service with AMALIE 100% Pure Pennsylvania Motor Oil

Why? Today's high compression engines running at high or low speeds, running in grueling stop and go traffic require the superior oiliness, the heat resistance found only in AMALIE Pennsylvania Oil.

AMALIE is the oilier oil refined from the world's finest crude by special low-heat process. AMALIE stands up under engine heat long after conventional oils break down, thin out, drain off. Cuts wear, insures long miles of smooth engine performance...
