

President Asks Billion for Defense

SAYS "DANGERS" FACING COUNTRY

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP).—President Roosevelt today asked congress for $1,182,000,000 (billion) in cash and contract authorization for military implements to "meet any lightning offensive against our American interests."

In a message delivered personally to the house and senate in joint session, the president asserted earnestly "dangers" confront the United States on account of Europe's war and the speed with which modern armies may conquer time and space.

Neutral Nations Take Precautions To Protect Selves

By Associated Press.

From Geneva to the tip of the Balkans today wary governments took precautions against the incursion of war.

American diplomats, under state department orders, urged Americans to leave Italy, and Switzerland as well as all western and southern Europe.

Switzerland strengthened her Winkreid line and issued rifles and ammunition to thousands of women, boys and old men—the volunteer "home guard."

Greece bulwarked her Albanian frontier with new men. The Yugoslav government reviewed general mobilization plans. Italians poured out of Turkey, an ally of Britain and France.

The president requested immediate appropriation of $546,000,000 for the army; $250,000,000 for the navy and marine corps; $100,000,000 placed at his disposal "to provide for emergencies affecting the national security and defense."

He also asked the legislators to authorize the government to enter into contracts totaling $286,000,000 to be paid for by appropriations later. Of this, the army, navy and marine corps would receive $186,000,000; the president $100,000,000.

The president said he would "like to see this nation geared to an ability to turn out at least 50,000 planes annually."

"Furthermore, I believe this nation should plan at this time a program that would provide us with 50,000 military and naval planes. "These are ominous days," the president declared at the outset, "whose swift and shocking developments force every neutral nation to look to its defenses in the light of a new force: brutal force of modern offensive war has been loosed in all its horror."

Explaining purposes of the new defense fund, the president said it would be used for:

- 1. To produce essential equipment of all kind for a large and thoroughly rounded army.
2. To replace and modernize all old army and navy equipment with the latest types.
3. Increase production facilities for everything needed for the army and navy for national defense.
4. Speed up to a 24-hour basis all existing army and navy contracts and all new contracts to be awarded.

Mussolini Urged by Roosevelt to Work For Europe's Peace

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP).—The White House said today that President Roosevelt had sent Premier Mussolini of Italy another communication in an effort to prevent the spread of the European war.

Stephen Early, press secretary, told reporters "this communication is one of a series and not within itself a new and separate appeal."

Gregory and McCandless Stake New Wildcat East of Soma Shallow Well

BY FRANK GARDNER.

On lease recently purchased from the Shannon estate, J. N. Gregory of Midland and Bryce McCandless of San Angelo are building road to a wildcat location three and three-quarter miles east and one-half mile north of Soma Oil and Gas Syndicate No. 1 Noelke Livestock Company, 778-barrel natural shallow discovery in western Crockett county.

Gregory-McCandless No. 1 Shannon has been staked 1,787 feet from the south, 3,107 from the east line of league 3, Archer county school land. The well will be drilled with cable tools, but drilling contract has not yet been let, one of the operators said here at noon today. The test lies in tract 8 1/2 and 20-acre spacing will be employed.

Opening a new pool approximately six miles southeast of the Soma strike, Moore Exploration Company of Midland and Olson Drilling Co., of Tulsa No. 1 Noelke this morning was drilling ahead below 2,233 feet in line with rockbit on 2-inch tubing. At depth of 2,233 feet, broken pay lime from 2,154 to bottom was washed with 500 gallons of acid in two stages, then a 2,200-gallon acid injection under pressure was given the well. Maximum pressure during the one-hour period acid was in the well was 1,900 pounds, and it broke to a minimum of 1,600 pounds.

Oil load and spent acid then were circulated out, and swabbing through tubing was started. The first hour the well swabbed 25 barrels of fluid, and the next hour and a half it recovered 33 1/4 barrels. Production then settled to seven barrels of clean oil hourly, on swab, with fluid level constant at 400 feet from bottom and 25 pounds pressure on casing.

Hal C. Peck of Midland, partner in the Westlea Oil Company, announced here today that the firm has sold to Argo Oil Corporation its 160-acre Texas Company-State "A" lease in the Halfway pool of western Lea county, New Mexico, with two producing wells, Nos. 1-A and 2-A Texaco-State. Lease is the east half of the southwest quarter and west half of the southeast quarter of section 16-20s-32e. Terms of the deal were withheld, but it is understood they comprised a sizeable cash payment and a smaller payment to be made out of oil. Partners in the Westlea Oil Company are, in addition to Peck, J. H. "Jake" Croft, also of Midland, Ted Weiner and Frank Farley, both of Fort Worth.

Johnston Pool. Indian Territory Illuminating Oil

Company No. 1-E J. L. Johnson, in the Johnson pool west of Odessa in Ector county, flowed 175.16 barrels net oil, plus five per cent water, on 24-hour Commission gauge. Gas-oil ratio is 1,650-1, and oil is 28-gravity. Pay topped at 4,023 feet, was shot with 420 quarts. The well is bottomed at 4,178 feet, plugged back from 4,202.

North of the Johnson pool, Sinclair-Prairie Oil Company No. 1-64 Johnson, a semi-wildcat, topped anhydrite favorably at 1,770 feet, datum of plus 1,260, and is drilling ahead below 2,075 feet in that formation.

Locations for three tests in the Seminole pool of central Gaines have been staked by V. B. Likins of Midland, it was reported today. His No. 1-B J. L. Tippett is 1,980 feet from the north, 660 from the west line of section 266, block G, W.T.R.R. survey. No. 2-B Tippett is 1,980 from the north and west lines of the same section, and No. 3-B Tippett is 660 from the north, 1,980 from the west line of 266. Operations on the first test will be started with rotary immediately. All three are scheduled to go to 5,300 feet.

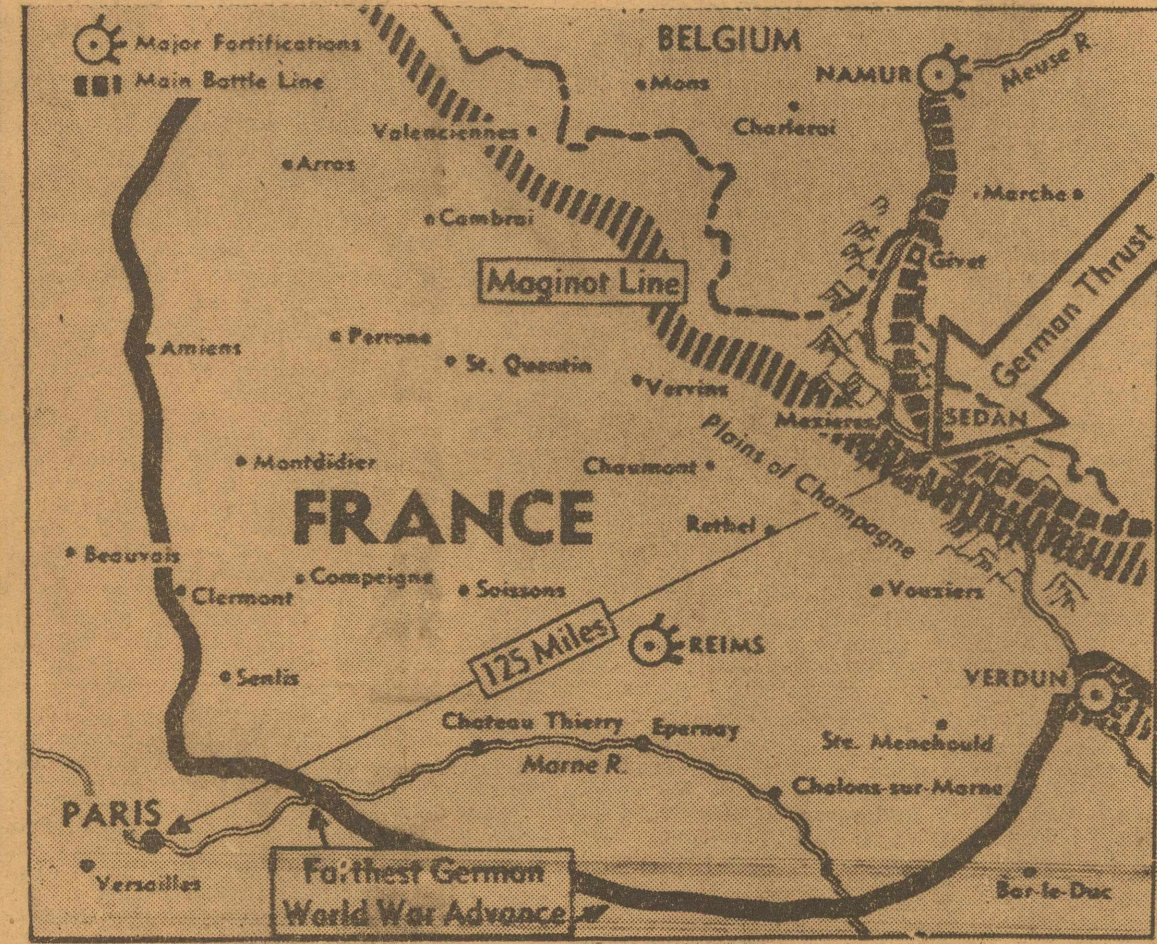

Northwest Dawson's sole active wildcat, Ray A. Albaugh No. 2 John Robinson, is drilling past 4,712 feet in lime.

Shipley Well Gained. In the Shipley pool of southeastern Ward, Acme Oil & Royalty Co. No. 1 Sloan, on Shell farmout, pumped 220 barrels net oil per day, plus 10 per cent water, for completion at 3,037 feet. It was treated with 1,000 gallons of acid in lime from 2,935 to bottom at 3,037 feet. Oil tests 33-gravity.

An Ordovician test in the same area, Gulf Oil Corporation No. 5 Wristen Brothers, is coring at 7,084 feet.

Today's War Map

The German thrust at the Maginot Line outpost of Sedan has brought the Hitler troops to within 125 miles of Paris with the cry of "on to Paris!" on their lips. A similar drive on the city of Paris in 1914 brought out the famous "taxi-cab army" which held off the German troops until the regular army could reinforce the hurriedly mobilized Parisians.

Midland Group to Take Part Today in WTCC Convention

Miss West Texas will be selected by popular vote at tonight's performance.

Also taking part on the Thursday and Friday night revues will be a Midland dancing team composed of Misses Marjorie Barron, Ann Vanaman and Jean Schotlander, students of the Gertrude Lowe School of Dance here. Plans Complete for Midland's Motorcade to WTCC Convention

All Aboard for Big Spring and the 22nd Annual Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Backing up Midland's invitation for the 1941 convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, large convention held each year in West Texas, a lengthy motorcade of 100 or more cars will leave Midland Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock for Big Spring where the three-day convention of the WTCC will be in session. Arrival in Big Spring is scheduled at 11:30 o'clock, following which the caravan, with sirens screaming and horns honking, will proceed through the downtown section. At two o'clock tomorrow afternoon the Midland delegation will participate, with the Midland high school band, in the glitzy street parade which will highlight convention activities of the afternoon. The Midland group will be led by Franklin Manning, city motorcycle officer.

Cars that will join in the motorcade will be decorated with placards reading, "Howdy - Midland Wants You in '41." The motorcade will start forming on West Missouri street in front of Mackey Motor Company Friday morning at 9:45 o'clock, operators of cars being requested to be on hand as early as possible so that placards and other decorations may be placed on the cars before the scheduled hour of departure. Band members will ride to Big Spring in the motorcade. Others not having cars may secure rides by being on hand not later than ten o'clock in the morning. Hat bands and other materials will be given all persons making the trip.

A check-up early this morning disclosed that several more cars are needed if the goal of 100 cars is reached. H. F. Fox, chairman of the motorcade, urging all citizens of Midland who can possibly make the trip to join in the motorcade. Midland can and will receive wide publicity by having a large motorcade and a large delegation in attendance at the Big Spring convention, he said.

One hundred advance convention registrations at one dollar each had been disposed of locally yesterday afternoon, with indications being that Midland will register at least 150 delegates during the convention. The one dollar registration fee will entitle the purchaser to attend all convention events today, Friday and Saturday. It was pointed out, however, that it is not absolutely necessary for those wishing to join in the motorcade to register for the convention. All persons are requested and urged to join in the procession regardless of whether or not they register for the session. Those not wishing to pay the $1.00 fee may secure placards for both sides of their cars for the nominal sum of 25c.

Persons who have already paid their registration fees and who have not yet secured their convention badges, were urged to register to call by the chamber of commerce office in Hotel Scharbauer before five o'clock this afternoon to get their badges.

The motorcade is open to everyone and all citizens of Midland are requested to join in the procession, furthering Midland's chances of being designated as the 1941 convention city and securing valuable publicity for Midland. The time of departure is 10:30 Friday morning.

Scouts to Leave for Big Spring Tomorrow

Boy Scouts of Midland will leave for the Annual Round-up from the scout hall tomorrow morning. Scouts are urged to bring all equipment to the scout hall tonight when they come for the regular meeting. The meeting tonight starts at 7:30 and will close by 9:30. A full evening of preparation is slated for most of the meeting tonight. All scouts are requested to attend the meeting and be there for the opening. Bedrolls and other equipment should be brought to the scout hall tonight so they will be ready to load early in the morning. The truck will load all equipment at 6:45 a.m. and will be ready to leave for Big Spring at 7 o'clock prompt. The truck must leave on time as the first event of the Round-up starts at 9 o'clock at the round-up grounds in the Big Spring city park.

He declared "when all can seem lost the world will see what France is capable of."

PARIS, May 16 (AP).—Lawrence A. Jump, Nantucket, Mass., attached to the French army, was reported missing today after German artillery had bombed the ambulance he was driving.

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP).—Representative Cannon, Missouri, told the house today that world and domestic conditions were so unsettled that congress must abandon any plan to slash relief appropriations and provide money to help the same number of unemployed persons this year.

PARIS, May 16 (AP).—The French general in immediate command of the Sedan sector advised headquarters tonight his forces were "complete master of the situation" and would regain full control of their front within one week.

Nazis Push Forward in Sedan Area

"Fight Accepted by Enemy," the Germans Say in Communique

By Associated Press

Mechanized German troops, ranging far ahead of support units in the seventh day of the Nazi flanking drive through Belgium and France, struck at the rear of the French army defending a 50-mile Meuse river front between Sedan and Namur today.

A French war office spokesman said a great battle was in progress and the situation "very confusing."

The Nazi high command announced a fierce battle was raging in the Antwerp fortified zone and along Dyle (southern Belgium defense) line southward to Namur.

"The enemy has accepted the fight," a German communique said.

The French high command, in a cryptic communique said the bloody three-day-old battle of the Meuse had flared into mechanized open warfare in a gigantic battle of movement. Details were withheld "for the sake of higher interests"—meaning military secrecy.

The advantage apparently swung again to the Germans Wednesday night in the massive battle of the Meuse, involving an estimated 600,000 men and uncounted planes and tanks, on the plain of Sedan, where the war of 1870 ended.

The reinforced German army, spurred by the acclaim of Adolf Hitler for its quick conquest of the Netherlands, pounded holes in Allied positions above Sedan, which is 10 miles within France, after crossing the Meuse river at three places on the 60-mile main front between Namur, Belgium, and Sedan.

Charging Nazi tanks cleared a path for attacking infantry through Allied positions on the river's west bank. The French said the situation was serious but not critical, that the "war of movement has begun." The Allies admitted withdrawals to new positions.

Earlier the French counter-attacked below Sedan, smashing one side of a 10-mile German salient on the left bank of the Meuse south of the town, and throwing half the Nazi crossing force back.

At Gembloux, above Namur and above Louvain, German tank attacks were also reported thrown back. East of that line the Germans overran large sections of Belgium.

The Germans appeared confident they had broken the northwest extension of the Maginot line in the Sedan sector.

The Nazi battle descended on Sedan after the Germans, drawing considerable Allied forces north into Belgium by their invasion of last Friday, swept through the Belgian Ardennes mountains from Luxembourg in a surprise thrust and continued down the Meuse into France.

On the northwest flank of this main battle line, the British expeditionary force, with heavy field guns, held positions around Louvain, attempting to check the Germans who are advancing on Brussels and the Belgian west coast ports after piercing the Albert Canal defenses at Maastricht and to the west.

On the southeast flank of the main Meuse battle, the French said German assaults on the Maginot line, in the Moselle valley sector, had waned, and that the Maginot forts were holding fast.

DR. SMITH TO SPEAK AT FINAL GRADUATION

Dr. Angie Smith Is Guest Speaker at Rotary Luncheon

Address of Dr. W. Angie Smith, pastor of the First Methodist church of Dallas, was the high spot of today's Rotary club program. Dr. Smith, accompanied by Mrs. Smith, is here for the day and will address the graduates of Midland high school this evening.

Introduced by Superintendent W. W. Lackey of the city schools, who paid tribute to Dr. Smith's record as a minister, his eloquence as a speaker and to his ready wit, the visiting speaker recalled his former residence here and told interesting anecdotes about his experience with "old timers."

He took for the text of his brief talk the contrast of today and yesterday. He referred to it as a new day, a new land, "a land in which our fathers would be perfect strangers." Forefathers, if they were to return to the earth today, he said, would be confused in how to run the church and the state.

"We do not react as before and do not respond to problems as we did yesterday," he said. Life is faster, distance is covered faster and youths know more about life.

He told of the grandfathers who, if they missed a stagecoach, were perfectly willing to wait six weeks for the next one, but if "one of our sons were to miss one section of a revolving door, he would be furious."

He referred to the serious problems of life and urged that no one lose confidence or faith because of present world tragedies. Out of every dark age has come a renaissance, a reformation, a spiritual revival.

International peace cannot stand the wear of warfare, he said, urging that citizens contribute more to the restoration and future preservation of peace.

The speaker stressed the need of social security, not as a political term, and said he was fearful of another period of post-war prosperity and of a depression. Revolutions are not brought about by hunger and suffering but by disappointments, he said. He prayed that business men will solve the problem of social security with integrity.

The problem of human rights was stressed. He said the religious element should give help to those unable to see the rights of others and create, through a spiritual awakening, such ability to observe others' rights.

If the church is weak, democracy is weak, he said. He urged every right-thinking man to support the (See DR. SMITH, page 8)

Diplomas, Medals To Be Awarded on Last of Programs

Using as his subject, "Preparing for Future Happiness," Dr. W. Angie Smith, pastor of the First Methodist church of Dallas and former Midland pastor, will deliver the literary address to the 1940 graduating class of Midland high school this evening.

The program will begin promptly at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium, with expectation of a capacity crowd for the final graduation program.

Diplomas will be given the graduates and also there will be awarded medals of distinction to students of the entire school system.

Invocation will be given by the Rev. H. D. Bruce, pastor of the First Baptist church. Elnor Hedrick will give the "salutatory." The high school will present "Pilgrims' Choruses" and "Taps." Choral readings will include "Ode to His Blindness," and "Ruth 1:16-17." Mrs. Roy Parks will sing "The Star," with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Holt-Jewell.

A part song, "Ave Maria," will be sung by the girls' choral club of the high school, and the boys' glee club will sing "Winter Song." Frank Wade Arrington will give as the valedictory, "Give a Man a Horse He Can Ride."

Lullaby from "Jocelyn" will be sung by Misses Foy Proctor, De Lo Douglas and F. C. Cummings, sopranos; Mrs. J. M. Hawkins and Miss Geraldine Dabney, second sopranos; Miss Merle Smith, Miss Lotta Williams, Miss Elma Graves, Mrs. Johnny Sherrod and Mrs. W. L. Crothers, altos. Violin solo will be played by Mrs. Lloyd Haseltine, with Miss Jesse Scott Price and Mrs. Holt-Jewell at the pianos.

Dr. Smith, one of the nation's best known inspirational speakers, will give the literary address. Serving as pastor of the First Methodist church of Midland from 1922 to 1924, he has been pastor of Methodist churches in Shreveport, La., Washington, D.C., and Dallas, and has served as president of Centenary College at Shreveport.

Following the address will be the presentation of diplomas by L. C. Link, president of the Midland school board, and the awarding of medals of distinction and the benediction by the Rev. W. C. Hinds, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Joe Veazy, Former Midland Ranchman, Dies at Ft. Davis

News of the death of J. L. (Joe) Veazy, about 70, at his Fort Davis home, was received by relatives here today, his death having occurred suddenly this morning. It was believed to have been caused by heart attack.

Mr. Veazy, brother of Mrs. John M. King of Midland, formerly operated a ranch southeast of Midland, the place now occupied by S. O. Golladay. He lived in Midland from approximately forty years ago until about fifteen years ago when he moved to Fort Davis and established an apple orchard and a small ranch. He was manager of the Bird Ranch, one of the largest apple producing places of that section.

He was active in Masonic circles and frequently visited friends and relatives at Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. King left this morning upon receipt of the news but no communication had been received this afternoon as to funeral arrangements.

TO FORT WORTH.

Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Hinds will leave this afternoon for Fort Worth where Friday he will attend a meeting of the board of trustees of Texas Wesleyan College of which he is a member. The couple plan to return Saturday.

CHAPTER I.

LARRY COLLINS smiled down at the baldish man across the desk. "All right, Steve. So I'm nuts. But that doesn't change things. I'm quitting your newspaper tonight. "Okay, Larry. I can't stop you." Steve Clark's voice softened. "But you're a swell reporter, and I like you. If I didn't, I wouldn't waste five minutes trying to keep you from making a fool of yourself. "You need a vacation! So do I! So does everyone. But you don't see Steve Clark quitting the job with the grand jury blowing the top off the city hall. And conventions, campaigns, and elections coming up." Steve's temper was getting away from him. "All right, Collins, take a vacation! But when you're broke and looking for a job, don't come back to Steve Clark. I made you, and by the eternal, I can make another cub reporter into just as good a man." "Just a minute, Steve. Let's part friends." Collins sat down on the corner of the desk, rolled a cigaret, lighted it and inhaled deeply before he continued. "That vacation talk is office gossip. I spread it around as an excuse.

I'm not quitting now because I want to, Steve—and you have to believe that—I've got a job to do, and it won't wait. I have to quit, Steve." "You mean you're leaving me to work for someone else?" Of all the ungrateful pups!" Clark exploded. "Get out. Get your pay and get out!" Collins did not move. He had faced Steve Clark's rage for 10 years and he waited now, smoking calmly, for the other man's anger to subside. After a time he continued: "You didn't ask much about me when you gave me my first job

10 years ago, Steve. I've never told you, but if you know now, perhaps you'll understand why I'm quitting. "I was a green kid, and, like you say, you made me a reporter. My life, as far as you were concerned, dated from the time I walked into your office. You knew I'd been to school, that I could write. But you didn't know I was an orphan, and you didn't know I had a brother. "You see, Steve, I was born in Texas. Mother died then. My dad raised Hugh and me. Dad was a (See DANGER AHEAD, page 2)

I agree with the Greenville Herald that preparedness is good insurance, however. Said the Herald:

ALL of Steve Clark's anger and resentment were gone as his arm went around Larry's shoulder. "I'm sorry, son, I didn't know. When did you find out?"

"I've known it all the time, Hugh was in the Highway patrol. Shortly before his death, he was taken from his old district, secretly assigned to hunt down a bunch of narcotic smugglers, operating in the west. He evidently found them and they discovered who he was about the same time."

"But Hugh didn't commit suicide. Hugh was murdered!" "Colonel Harris, chief of the highway patrol, asked Hugh's widow and myself to keep quiet, and Hugh was reported killed in a skirmish with smugglers on the border. The officers figured if they let the accident go practically uninvestigated, these drug smugglers would start up operations again."

"And that's what they've done, and you want to go down and cover it," Clark broke in. "That's right," Larry agreed. "I had a letter from the chief yesterday. He said that reports indicate that the same gang is at work

AMERICAN DEFENSE PRECAUTIONS ARE LIKE $1000 INSURANCE POLICY ON CONCERN WORTH MILLIONS

BY THOMAS M. JOHNSON
NEA Service Military Writer

THE war is on our threshold. It put its foot in the door at Greenland; from the Dutch Indies, East and West, it may walk in on us. Air power, which made those things even possible, may make them real. That is the picture we are facing today.

This is no scare story. It is an effort to help every American do what he wants to do—be a hard-boiled Yankee realist about one of the most serious situations his country has ever faced.

Such an effort forces itself upon one of those whose job it has been to analyze this war and our relationship to it. My analysis comes after consultation with officers and civilians informed about our national defense. It has also been conditioned by personal experience of the last war and hope never to see this country in another.

In this same hope, the American people have thought, as aggressive person dropped sparks about them, that they were getting ample fire insurance. What they were getting was a thousand-dollar policy to cover a million-dollar concern.

U. S. NEEDS STRONG ARMY, NAVY, AIR FORCE

THIS concern needs for protection a strong army, navy, and air force. The last two are relatively stronger than the first. But the air power of aggressor nations has rendered almost obsolete not all, but quite a few, of our planes, and handicapped many of our

"I understand, Larry. I can arrange it. You'll be on assignment. And when you come back, your job will be waiting for you. Good luck, boy!"

SPRING in the southwest. Nothing like it, thought Larry Collins as he drove along the broad highway. Cattle grazing in green pastures. Calves bawling. Here and there the broad green waves of wheat. It was good to be home.

Four days of steady driving had changed his city pallor to a healthy red. In a few more days even Steve Clark would never recognize him. Larry's thoughts drifted on, to the task ahead. Just where he would begin tracking his brother's murderer, or how, he did not know. Possibly Colonel Harris would have some suggestions. If necessary Larry was confident he could pose as an eastern gangster, hiding out, and possibly work his way into the confidence of the gang. Years of work on the police beat had given him a pretty fair idea of what a real gangster is like. He could decide that later.

He sped through a town, through a forest of oil wells, caught a glimpse of a cotton field off to his left. Oil, cotton, wheat, cattle. No wonder this state was great. A barricade across the highway loomed before him. Larry slammed on his brakes, slid to a screeching stop. A blue-coated patrol officer stepped from the side of the road, gun in hand.

"Step out, with your hands up," "Anything I can do to help?"

warships. Even when these handicaps are overcome, the oceans that have been our sure protection, are that no longer. And even the best planes and warships alone cannot surely protect this hemisphere or our part of it. The army is less than half ready.

Now, we are not going to be attacked today. We shall have more warning than Norway or Holland, or Belgium. But to prepare against tomorrow which no one can predict and which the highest authorities in Washington believe is very ominous, we have now our last chance.

In the air we should do everything to aid the allies that will not delay our own arming. Expert opinion believes the aims can be reconciled. We should press work on medium bombers where the Germans have outstripped us; on aerial cannon; on more and heavier anti-aircraft guns.

NEED MORE MONEY NOW

To protect us at sea, Congress should pass immediately the 11 per cent budget increase already approved by the Senate Committee, plus whatever additional is needed, especially to strengthen existing ships against air attack.

The marines and the army should have trained and ready landing forces to secure outlying points against seizure as bases for bombing the Panama Canal or our coasts.

We should strengthen the Philippines or, better, evacuate them before they involve us in defense that, on excellent authority would cost "astronomical figures" in lives and money.

On land, we should increase the regular army immediately from 227,000 not only to the 280,000 authorized by law, but to 330,000 or more; the National Guard from 235,000 to 320,000, perhaps even the legal maximum 420,000.

That combined force, with reserves, could be expanded quickly to a million men. AND THAT WOULD BE A SMALL ARMY. NOT A LARGE ONE. It would take all of a million men—probably more—to defend this country and its outposts, against a modern attack.

Even our present force of half that number, lacks equipment. The shortage of ammunition is most critical. We lack also enough of various arms; trucks, automobiles; uniforms, blankets, shoes, even medical supplies. For all this the War Department needs $528,000,000, and if Congress gave that sum tomorrow, it could not catch up for a year and more without a stupendous effort.

CAPITAL, LABOR SHOULD HELP

FOR such an effort capital and labor may yet be called upon. Manufacturers who have objected to taking defense "educational order" must cease these objections in the national interest, and their own.

For the same reason there must be an end of those labor troubles such as delayed France's war preparations, especially in aircraft. Short working hours may turn out to have lost the war for France. We can lose our peace if our arming is too much delayed by failure to adjust the Wages-Hours act to crisis conditions, especially when we have a shortage of skilled workmen.

For we are nearing a crisis. Let us not mistake that. If we do mistake it, if we try to keep out of war with aggressor nations by being slow and weak and flabby, then crisis will become war.

I have said we needed more "fire insurance." Better make it real "life insurance." I have also said that this is no scare story, but realism. I repeat that.

Walking Habit Declared Dead

PITTSBURGH (U.P.)—Unless the American people begin using their feet a little more, the citizens of this country in a few generations will just "shuffle along."

That is the prediction of two Pittsburgh men—Burnett M. Roscoe, insurance adjuster of accident compensation cases for the Pittsburgh Board of Public Education and George Clarkson, secretary-manager of the Western Pennsylvania Safety Council.

Roscoe not only predicted a shuffling gait in the future but warned that if people keep off their feet at the present rate for a few more generations, their ankles will become so weak they will have to walk on "all fours."

"More and more people are forgetting how to use their feet," Roscoe complained. "The majority of people ride to work and sit around at the office all day. They ride home at night. Then ride to the theater or a party, ride home and go to bed."

"This habit is getting worse. They are even developing autos so you don't have to work your foot on the clutch and brake."

Roscoe and Clarkson pointed out that the disuse of the feet is costing American taxpayers a lot of money. Weakening of the limbs has resulted in more accidents, they pointed out, and has added greatly to the accident compensation bills.

"In my opinion," Roscoe added, "conditions are going to get worse in this country. The habit is going to get so bad that human beings will just shuffle along."

Girls Will Try Ocean Venture

VANCOUVER, B. C. (U.P.)—Her crew consisting of Betty Annette Lowman, 25-year-old Anacortes, Wash., canoeist, and Jack Shark, Yukon mining camp cook and globe-trotter, a North Vancouver singing teacher "with salt water in her veins," has made preparations to start on a small-boat voyage that will circle half a continent before September.

Youthful Mavis Wilcox, operates a singing studio in Vancouver but she likes the sea more. So far the next four or five months she intends to leave her pupils in capable hands and sail from Louisburg, N. S., down the Atlantic coast, through the Panama Canal, and up the Pacific coast to Vancouver.

Miss Wilcox intends to leave for the east and begin the adventurous voyage in a 42-foot auxiliary schooner Thunderbird soon. There's little doubt about Miss Wilcox's enthusiasm for the Thunderbird.

"She's about 2 years old. Her lines are racy—like those of the world-famous racing schooner, Bluenose. And she is sturdy."

Miss Lowman was invited to make the voyage after she spoke in Vancouver recently. She has had her share of sea adventure. In 1937 she paddled a canoe from Anacortes to Ketchikan, Alaska, and was wrecked and rescued en route. Last year she sailed aboard a halibut boat out of Ketchikan.

Miss Lowman holds the distinction of being the only woman member of the deep sea fishermen's union of Seattle. She has been at home on fishing vessels since the age of 4. The Anacortes girl has departed by automobile for Detroit, where Miss Wilcox will join her before proceeding to Nova Scotia.

King Mtesa of Uganda, Africa, is reported to have had the largest harem in the world. Seven thousand wives were in his seraglio.

Famous pilots will demonstrate their flying skills in a free show that is expected to attract an even greater crowd than the 300,000 last year.

Latest type commercial transport and military planes will be on display, and the Birmingham Aero Club has invited leading fliers, aviation notables, manufacturers, and Hollywood celebrities to attend and Hollywood celebrities to attend. The carnival is unique in that there is no admission, no donations, no tax money used, and free parking and free souvenir programs. "Miss American Aviation of 1940" will be selected at an aviation ball, to be held June 1. She will be chosen from pretty girls sent here by airlines, manufacturers, and state aviation commissions.

Special tribute will be paid the growth of aviation and to the 1939 safety record when nearly 2,100,000 passengers were flown 840,000,000 passenger miles without a fatality.

Confederate soldiers of the Civil War were called "butternuts" because their uniforms were dyed with bark from butternut trees.

Americans Warned To Depart Europe

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP).—A blanket warning to Americans in Western and Southern European countries to leave for the United States was issued last night by the State Department.

The Americans were urged to proceed to the Bordeaux region in Southwest France or to Spain or Portugal.

Hitherto they have been concentrating at Genoa, Italy, but State Department officials abroad have been reported to be diverting them from Genoa in fear of Italy's entrance into the war.

The State Department announced it would "consider the making of arrangements for their evacuation by American vessels from those areas" (Bordeaux, Spain or Portugal).

HINSDALE, Mass. (UP).—When a guest minister failed to appear at First Congregational Church, the men parishioners held a hasty conference—but the women acted.

Miss Marion Swift, daughter of the regular pastor, took the pulpit to open the services. Then she called on Mrs. V. Marlin Smith, who went to the pulpit and preached on "The Bible as a Book."

Those attending described the impromptu sermon as "enlightening and instructive."

Mrs. B. J. Walters of Wink returned to her home Wednesday from a Midland hospital where she had been under treatment for injuries. Holt Priddy, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Priddy of Stanton, was to be discharged from the hospital today. Mildred Grubb, injured in a car wreck near here some time ago, returned to her home at Wink today.

Cleveland Art Goes on Exhibit

CLEVELAND, O. (UP).—Cleveland artists, attracting the attention of the important art centers of the world, have opened their 22d annual May Show at the Cleveland Museum of Art.

According to the museum's figures the May Show of 1940 with 428 artists represented by 1,133 works of art, stands as a record breaker.

"The show is unique, for there is no city in America which holds a composite exhibit featuring the work of painters, etchers, sculptors, potters, photographers, arts craftsmen and practitioners of a dozen other sorts," William M. Milliken, director of the museum, said in explaining the show.

"Our idea is to give a chance each year in composite form to what is known as the creative side of art," he said.

Milliken pointed out that outside of New York City there is no city where art plays such a vital part.

"The articles on display have a vitality which is largely explained by the joining together of three elements—the artist, the museum, which gives him the chance, and public enthusiasm—all have worked together with real understanding and mutual benefit to one another," Milliken said.

The shows are significant from an economic as well as from an artistic point of view. During the 21 years of the exhibition, 4,020 objects have been sold and $192,899 has gone into the pockets of Cleveland artists.

Offers Artist Market.

"But the spiritual implications are even greater than the monetary ones," the director said. "The sales have given the Cleveland artists a goal; they have given them the vital and unescapable backing necessary for any continued effort. Art is, after all, a commodity such as any other, and the good workman is truly 'worthy of hire.'"

This year the crafts—sculpture, pottery, and enamels—ran away with the show, as far as the sales have been determined. Milliken explained this trend by pointing to the program of the museum which for years has put forth effort toward encouraging the craftsmen to develop their art until today the greatest volume of sales have come from the crafts.

Stone Razors Of 4300 B. C. Found in Iran

TEHERAN, Iran. (UP).—The earliest known traces of Iranian civilization have been unearthed in excavations at Tepe Sialek, near Keshan.

Archaeologists estimate that some of the stone razors, arrows, knives date back to 4300 B.C., while other objects probably were left there about 2800 B.C. Gold pieces were found in many spots.

The Sialek area was believed to have been inhabited by two peoples—one of which arrived about 4200 B.C. and the other about 1800 B.C. Archaeologists, who have not found any other traces of civilization at Sialek, concluded that the region must have been abandoned, but they do not know why.

Two cemeteries which were unearthed appeared to have belonged to a race of people who lived here about 1500 B.C.

Archaeologists noted a similarity in the style of carvings and paintings found on objects on the Sialek plateau and on objects delivered recently in Lorestan and Damghan.

FURNITURE FINISHES. Ordinarily two or three waxings a year are sufficient to keep furniture surfaces elastic and protected. Surfaces that are subjected to a great deal of wear may require several more. Have the wood clean—it may be washed with lukewarm water and a bland soap and dried with a soft cloth, but work quickly—before applying the wax. Several thin coats, each rubbed down to a hard glossy finish, are much more effective than one thick coat of wax.

FEMININE FANCIES

By Kathleen Eiland

What with the engagement announcement parties becoming daily more popular, clever ways of making announcement take on added interest.

One novel way was employed recently here where the bridegroom-elect is a radio man. Figures of an announcer and of a radio with the important message issuing from it disclosed the betrothal.

The classic way and still one of the most popular ways seems to be to use the ribbon-tied scroll which, when unrolled, is found to bear the names of the couple and the wedding date.

Deviations from this or from the use of cards seem to be mainly connected with the business or profession of the bridegroom.

But however the news is told, an announcement party is still something a little more thrilling to the average woman than the usual run of parties.

It is an abiding wonder to us—what lively, graceful objects we can create in our mind and what unlovely things these turn out to be when our fumbling fingers have to translate them into reality.

Take the subject of shelves, for example—just plain old shelves such as are used in the bedroom closet to pile things upon. Deciding that we need more shelves and distrusting our ability to hit anything other than our thumbs when hammering, we decide against the wood-block method of holding up the shelves.

We hie forth and purchase very business-like bracket supports, visioning a shelf smoothly and neatly created. But is it? Of course not! The screws which go with the brackets are refractory things. They screw into the wall far enough to make a smooth surface.

We reluctantly grant a few concessions in our vision of The Perfect Shelf. The brackets are finally made steady, which is the chief thing.

But then arises the question of the shelves themselves—boards must be properly cut—we don't even attempt that while there is a lumber yard. But when we bring them home we discover that our system of painting them leaves much to be desired. There are knotholes in the wood—another imperfection—and no matter how smoothly we brush on the enamel (or think we do), it doesn't look smooth when it dries.

So at last, with a batting average of just about 25 per cent of our one-sided perfection in construction, the shelf goes up. All we can say of it is that it HOLDS THINGS UP. After all, that was our chief desire.

But next time we make THE PERFECT SHELF—or the perfect draperies or chair cushions—we'll make them in a place where they'll be glamorously perfect without use of paintbrush, hammer, saw or our inept fingers—that is, safely tucked away in the description of some "quaint little cottage" in a fiction story! HOW to EAT to BEAT the HEAT

BY ALICE H. SMITH Nutritionist, Cleveland Health Council

DOES your income keep up with your stomach? That's a question most people have to answer these days. You must eat whether you make $15 a week, or $500.

But can you eat adequately, on a small income? Well, that depends very much on you. You can if you want to. You can't expect hors d'oeuvres, but if you shop right you can get a balanced diet.

True, your food bill may take more of your Alice H. Smith budget than any other item; but it's worth it. Food is a form of insurance. It pays the highest dividends in health and well being.

A very limited list of foods could supply you with a minimum diet standard accepted by health authorities. This list would be:

One quart of whole milk, or equivalent. One pint tomatoes. Twelve slices whole wheat bread.

Two cups cooked whole grain cereals, plus either more cereal and/or fats and sweets to furnish approximately 600 to 800 calories, depending on the activity of the person.

Not a very appetizing diet, of course, day in and day out, but it does teach us a few things. For instance, that the less money you have to spend for food the more important milk and whole grain cereals become. The backbone of low-cost diets might be considered milk—in all its forms—whole grain cereals and tomatoes, or citrus fruits.

But you want your diet cheap and attractive, too? To do that you can reduce the total amount of cereal, but you should so plan as to have at least one-half of the cereal whole grain. Next, add the less expensive varieties of green and leafy vegetables, potatoes and fruits.

Important also, especially if the amount of milk is reduced, is the addition of eggs, meat, fish, or poultry. Meat is the most costly item but, fortunately, you can eat well without meat every day. Meat substitutes such as eggs, dried vegetables, nuts and cheese may very well be used. The organs and inexpensive cuts should be selected for low-cost dietaries.

FRESH ASPARAGUS.

While fresh asparagus is plentiful and reasonably priced, the housekeeper may have it on her menus in such varied ways that it need not become monotonous. It can be used as a vegetable with melted butter, or Hollandaise sauce, or creamed; as an appetizer with anchovies and hard-boiled eggs on toast rounds; or with boiled ham and seasonings; as a main luncheon dish in casserole, or combined with chicken and eggs in a loaf, or French friend with grated cheese and thick white sauce.

Meat substitutes such as eggs, dried vegetables, nuts and cheese may very well be used. The organs and inexpensive cuts should be selected for low-cost dietaries.

REJUVENATE WITH PAINT.

If you are considering enameling or painting furniture this spring, it is important that the piece be absolutely clean and dry before adding the new coat. Dampness or dirt under paint will prevent adherence of the fresh coating. Any old wax or furniture polish can be removed with turpentine. Wipe dry, rub off with fine sandpaper, then dust with a clean cloth. The furniture is then ready for the paint.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 PINTS A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Kidneys remove excess acids and poisonous waste from your blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

COWBOYS COME FROM BEHIND TO NOSE OUT HUBBERS BY 4 AND 3

Clubs Will Meet Again Tonight At City Park

In what was probably the best game of the year played at City Park, the Midland Cowboys came from behind with a three-run rally to nose out the Lubbock Hubbers, 4-3, last night in the first of a three-game series.

Pitcher "Red" Hay and left fielder Rube Naranjo of the Cowboys were the two that largely accounted for the victory. After giving up six hits in the first three innings, Hay was practically invincible in the last six frames, allowing only three safeties, two in the fifth and one in the seventh.

The Rubie got exactly half the Midland hits by rapping out three singles and a double and drove in one run and scored the winning one in the big eighth. He drove in the first run in the sixth.

Managers Sammy Hale and Charley Engle this morning both indicated they would start right hand hurlers on the mound in tonight's game. Hale will probably start big Hal Smith, who won a 24-1 victory over Pampa Sunday. Starting Hubber pitcher will likely be Finnocchario, rated one of the best on the Hubber staff.

For eight innings, Hay was using a lot of curve balls and a change of pace that was none too effective in the strong wind blowing against his pitches. In the ninth, he forgot all curves and other tricky deliveries, relying solely on high fast ball pitching. Effectiveness of the move was shown by the fact he struck out the three Lubbock batters to face him.

Jim Burris and Manager Sammy Hale also had a big part in the winning eighth inning, Jim driving in the first run with a triple and Hale scoring Naranjo with the winning run on a long fly ball to right field.

"Lefty" Sandretto started on the mound for the Hubbers and was invincible for five innings, giving up only two hits. Both were made by Naranjo. However, the Cowboys got to him for one run in the sixth, then three more in the eighth before he could be jerked for Ralfh, who retired the only three men he faced.

For the first three innings, it looked like Red would lose his fourth game in a row. He walked one man, hit another and gave up six hits.

Mahan opened the first inning by getting hit and landing on first on the first ball thrown. Drake followed up with a single, then when he tried to go down to second, evidently expecting Mahan to try for third, Jim Rowden followed him almost down to second and tagged him out without having turned loose with the pitch from Hay. Sparr grounded out but Hajduk came through with a double to easily score Mahan.

Lynn Everson, Midland outfielder last year, received a nice hand from Midland fans as he came up to open the second for the Hubbers and responded by working Red for a walk. Engle singled to send Everson to second and he moved up to third when Richards forced Engle at second. Sandretto then hit a slow one down to Hale at third and Everson was out on his quick throw to Rowden at the plate. Mahan then singled to score Richards but Sandretto was out trying to reach third, Naranjo to Rowden to Hale.

The final Hubber run came in the third. Drake got his third single but was out trying to stretch it into a double. Drake to Benites, Sparr reached first when Hale overran his grounder and moved up to third on a single by Niedziela. The double steal sign was flashed by Manager Engle. Rowden made a good throw to second that was taken by Benites, but when he tried to hurry his throw back to the plate in an effort to catch Sparr, he dropped the ball. Sparr scoring and Niedziela reaching second. He moved up to third on a passed ball but Everson grounded out to end the rally.

Red retired the Hubbers in order in the fourth but they got two more singles in the fifth. After that, Red was complete master of the situation, allowing only one more hit, a single by Sparr in the seventh.

The Cowboys finally managed to score in the sixth. Rowden started it off with a single, was forced at second by Hay. Burris singled to send Red to second and he scored on a line single by Naranjo, Burris going to third. When Naranjo tried to steal second, Burris was trapped off third and called out when he came in to Richards at home. To many fans it appeared that Richards dropped the ball but umpire Capps stood by his first decision in calling Burris out.

Sandretto showed signs of tiring in the seventh when he handed out his only walk of the night, to Jordan. "Doc" Wilson, making his initial appearance in Midland uniform reached first safely on Engle's error but both runners died on base when Benites fouled out and Rowden struck out.

Going into the last of the eighth, Red took over the batting that his mates had failed at. He hit a long single into left and raced home when Burris followed up with a triple deep into right. With three hits already to his credit, Naranjo came up again and rapped the first pitch deep into center for a double, then took third as Everson momentarily juggled the ball in taking it off the wall. That was all for Sandretto and Ralfh came in. On the second pitch Manager Hale hit a long one to Sparr in right and Naranjo easily scored. That was the ball game as Red showed no bad effects of his sprint around the bases, throwing only 11 times in striking out Richards, Ralfh and Mahan.

Tulane Blends Red Hot Music With Classics

NEW ORLEANS, La. (UP). — Shakespeare and "red hot" music have been combined by Tulane University's English department to tempt students into more serious consideration of English classics.

Garland F. Taylor, the instructor, says, "After all, it's the normal, rational way to learn." The department got off to a good start by utilizing a collection of phonograph records varying from old English ballads and excerpts from Hamlet, to Bob Crosby's orchestra swinging modern musical themes to Shakespearean lyrics.

"This is what is generally called 'red hot,'" Taylor says smilingly, "but it has real educational value in that it shows that Shakespeare's lyrics can be set to that type of music."

"One very effective recording," Taylor points out, "is Robert Frost's 'Death of the Hired Man.' The tone of voice, the accent, the mood and atmosphere that are created, all together offer far more than the student could grasp from his own reading."

The library also contains bits of Chaucer and such Elizabethan songs as "Under the Greenwood Tree" and "Blow Thou Winty Wind."

Canterbury's Trick Winds, Distance, Optical Illusion Should Set Up Real Golfing Test in National Open

BY JERRY BRONDFIELD
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

CLEVELAND.—Hot shots who compete in the National Open, June 6-8, probably will discover the Canterbury Golf Course presents a mixture of circumstances that should make the tournament one of the most interesting in years.

The winner not only will have to beat the field but a combination of high winds, extreme yardage and holes which are best described by Waldo Crowder, the home pro, as "optical illusions."

Situated on the heights southeast of Cleveland, Canterbury has long been noted for the merry manner in which prevalent winds from two directions—north and south—play over the course.

Good golfers have played and whipped courses before but the winds of Canterbury are trickier than others.

The course, which actually measures 6981 yards, very likely will be lengthened to 7000 by setting a couple of tees back.

OPTICAL ILLUSIONS HAVE QUEER EFFECT

CROWDER, who has participated in five National Opens, says there is something about Canterbury which is almost insidious.

"Some of our members claim we have holes that are optical illusions when you sight them from the tees," he points out. "They have a queer psychological and mental effect on you."

"I've toured the course well below par," says Crowder, "but this is the only layout that I've been really whipped since I've been playing golf. By that I mean really giving par a big beating."

Unless the U. S. G. A. interferes—and it isn't likely it will—the pins of Canterbury will not be placed in awkward positions on the green.

"We're going to place them as near to center as possible," says Crowder. "We think the course with its natural hazards is tricky enough."

"Nor do we intend to let the rough grow unusually high."

Here's New Means Of Working Way Through College

Chemist Gives Vari-Colored Eyes to Bees

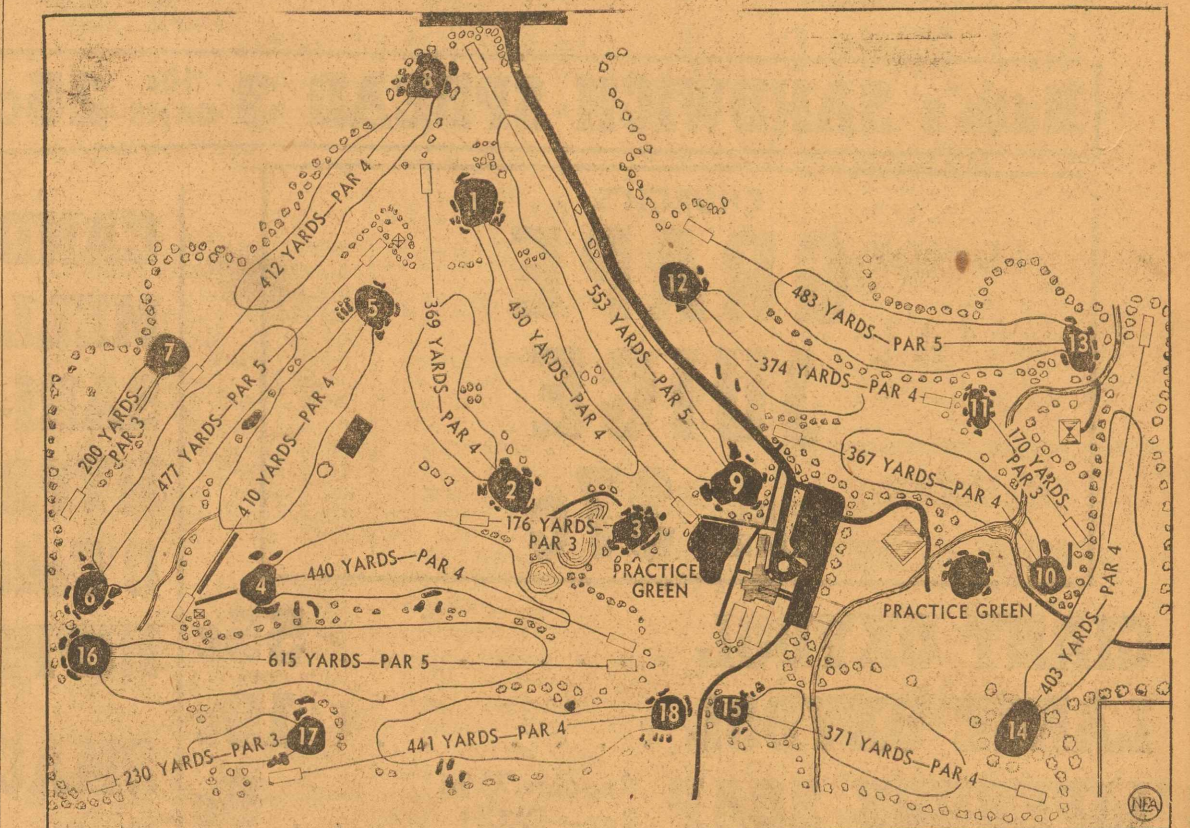

ALFRED N. Y. (UP) — Bees with multi-colored eyes have been developed by Dr. Lloyd R. Watson, Alfred University chemistry professor, known internationally for his work in breeding the tiny insects.

Black is the normal color of a bee's eyes, but Dr. Watson has developed drones and workers with many variations, including plum, dark and light chocolate, flesh-pink cherry, yellow-green, yellow and cream.

He plans to experiment with queen bees this year in an effort to develop a white-eyed variety. Dr. Watson formerly developed a downy bee, a vicious been and a gentle bee. He kept one hive of the latter in his dining room allowing the bees to fly in and out of the house through a small hole in a window pane.

In his work, Dr. Watson found that a hive of 15,000 bees will consume from 30 to 50 pounds of honey during a winter to preserve life and to heat the hive. The tiny sects, he found, never permit the hive temperature to vary more than one degree from 57.

In normal times, theaters in London operating on Sundays are required to pay 10 per cent of their day's earnings to charity.

Architect's map of the Canterbury Golf Club's course, Cleveland.

PLENTY OF DOG-LEGS TO OBSCURE VISION

"TOUGHEST" hole? Let's see, now. There's that 615-yard No. 16, a par 5, that's almost always played into the wind. And then there's a tough 3 par of 230 yards on the 17th. It's a one-shot hole. If you don't make the green with your wood you're in trouble."

There are dog-legs on Nos. 1, 2, 4, 10, 12, 13 and 14. No 10 also has a water hazard which guards the green on two sides.

The 15th has a plateau green, requiring a delicate approach.

The 18th has a fairway which dips, making it hard to see the green on the first two shots.

Canterbury is fairly easy trapped. Hazards are more to the shallow than deep, but are strategically located.

There's no question of the course being a true championship test.

Speculating on the likely winning card, Waldo Crowder believes a score of 283 or 283 can be posted if the weather is exceedingly good.

Bad weather might send it close to 290 and normal Canterbury weather is around 285.

British "Victory Farmers Are Just Public School Boys

BY DAN CAMPBELL
 United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON (U.P.)—Britain has "recruited" school boys in the "dig for victory" campaign to forestall the food queues of 1917.

At swank Eton and Harrow the boys will drop their cricket bats to pick up hoes and doff the "old school tie" to don overalls to aid the farmer harvest the new wartime acre now under the plow.

The boys will come from all classes, from the so-called "public" or private schools, from secondary and elementary institutions. Under the influence of the war they will be "mixed in," the boy who may some day affix a title to his name toiling beside the munitions worker's son.

This new farm front will supplement the Women's Land Army. The boys will range in age from 14 to 17. Many already are taking "farm lessons" along with their algebra, history and grammar.

The plan was devised by the ministry of agriculture. Figures is-ted recently revealed that the campaign to place under cultivation 2,000,000 additional acres had fallen short of the mark. This was attributed in part to a shortage of labor.

Minister of Agriculture Dorman-Smith was sharply criticized by Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express for being 18 days late and 102,828 acres short of the goal. The Express suggested that he resign.

Other newspapers praised the campaign, however, as a "marvelous achievement," and the ministry of agriculture announced the "boy recruit" plan to prepare for the autumn harvest, which is expected to free important food ship tonnage for other war purposes.

The boys will be used for the lighter farm tasks, for haymaking and harvesting, potato digging, flax pulling, poultry feeding and hedge clipping. They probably will be billeted in huts or cottages and ride bicycles to and from the farms to which they are assigned.

Boys were used for farm work in Britain in the World War. They were assigned to billets and fed by the army, which supplied army cooks to prepare breakfast and supper and a noonday lunch which the boys carry with them.

The program here started in 1927. The first prominent graduate was Ed Salisbury, who went to the University of California the following year and rowed stroke on the Olympic championship crew.

In 1932, another graduate, Eugene Berkenkamp, stroked California's second Olympic champion boat.

Sacramento rowing came to a peak this year when the Panther varsity defeated the Oregon State College varsity both here and at Corvallis, the University of California at Los Angeles varsity on the Los Angeles course, the University of Washington lightweight at Seattle, and some lesser races on the Sacramento river. Only two major races were lost, both to the powerful University of California freshmen, rated the strongest Bear yearling crew in history.

Founder of crew here was Dr. W. L. Burdick, a Yale graduate serving as dean of men. Dr. Burdick was not a crew man but a rowing enthusiast who recognized the excellent racing course provided by the Sacramento river.

Belgians Are Warned Brussels Is Likely To Be Bombed Soon

BERLIN, May 16. (AP)—The German high command said Wednesday it could no longer regard Brussels as an undefended city because of alleged troop movements there.

The high command said that if Belgian authorities want to protect Brussels from the horror of war, all military transports and fortification works must be stopped immediately.

If not, it added that the Nazi air force would attack military objectives in the Belgian capital.

Adolf Hitler Wednesday night congratulated his Nazi soldiers who conquered Holland, while another German army hammered a menacing dent into France's own defenses at Sedan, on French soil.

"The future will demonstrate the military importance" of the five-day campaign which overwhelmed The Netherlands, the Fuehrer's order of the day declared.

He did not mention England, but German newspapers, which are well-nigh official here, did not hesitate to imply that an air storm might break over Britain soon.

They published maps showing that Germany, through the collapse of Holland, already had air bases 100 to 200 miles from important British objectives—including London.

Authorized sources declared an offensive against England would be launched "whenever we are ready when it is most uncomfortable for England."

Although the German armies encountered stiffening Allied resistance in the air as well as on the ground, the Germans asserted they still held easy control of the air and were inflicting losses on the enemy at a ratio of six or seven to one.

Observers recognized that every mile of the Belgian coast taken by the Nazis put the German air force that much nearer to England. With the new close range, they said, German bombers could be sent across the North Sea fully protected by pursuit planes against defending British air fighters.

Farm Hand Convicted Of Slaying Relative

COMANCHE, Tex., May 16 (AP)—Henry Haynes, farm hand, was found guilty of murder of his grandmother Mrs. Martha McGuire, by a district court jury last night and his punishment fixed at 75 years in prison.

The verdict was reached after the jury had been out five hours.

Haynes also is under indictment in the slaying of his uncle, J. B. Haynes.

The aged woman and her son were slain and their farm home near Comanche set afire last fall.

A week after the charred bodies were found in the ruins, young Haynes made a statement admitting the double attack on his relatives.

He said then that he struck his uncle and grandmother after they had made disparaging remarks about his mother.

IS ADMITTED.

Miss Louise Everett of Stanton was admitted to a Midland hospital Wednesday.

Greeks Rush Troops To Albania Frontier

ATHENS, May 16 (AP)—Greece rushed troop reinforcements to her frontiers with Italian-occupied Albania shortly after midnight this morning.

It was understood that precautionary measures had been ordered along the frontier regions.

(Here the telephone line between Athens and Budapest, Hungarian capital, by which the foregoing dispatch was relayed, went dead.)

(Later the line was restored and the following dispatch received):

Colonel Papademas, undersecretary of war, arrived in the frontier region of Yanina, to take personal charge of preparedness operations.

Announcement that the British and French fleet had taken to the sea from Alexandria for maneuvers caused uneasiness among Greeks.

It was reported—but not confirmed—that British pressure was being brought to bear on Greece to permit establishment of naval bases for the British fleet on Greek Islands.
