NEW ROAD — Here's the proposed new road between Muleshoe and Portales which is to be opened soon. Dotted line shows new route to be followed in both states. New Mexico has already started pushing a 16-mile strip east of Portales leading to the Texas line.

New Road to Link Muleshoe, Portales

A new direct road between Muleshoe and Portales, N. M. is in the making, it was announced this week after Roosevelt county (N.M.) commissioners moved to open a straight east-west road out of Portales to the Texas line.

Except for a portion of Texas FM 1760, the new route will not be paved at this time, although commissioners of both Roosevelt and Bailey counties see the likelihood of an early paving of the route.

The new road is an outgrowth of several weeks of planning by commissioners of the two counties who sought a direct route between the two towns to shorten Portales routes to Muleshoe, Lubbock, Plainview and to north and south points out of Muleshoe over SH 214. It also will eliminate the necessity of going via Clovis thus cutting some 15 to 20 miles off the distance between the two towns.

Roosevelt county commissioners met with the Bailey county board here Tuesday and revealed plans for the New Mexico portion of the route which is to start at a point 1 1/2 miles northeast of Portales. The Roosevelt commissioners returned home Wednesday and announced plans to open a 16-mile right-of-way almost due east of Portales to the Texas state line.

Judge Glen Williams said here Friday that Roosevelt county already has a section-line road extending four and a half miles east of Portales. The board voted to extend the road to the Bailey county line. A three-man reviewing committee had recommended that the road be opened, but warned that much of the route is through deep sand hills and will have to be paved before it can become an all-weather route eastward to the Texas line.

'Floater' Finds Jail Too Risky

There's a sadder but wiser man in Lubbock today who probably won't be dropping into city jails in West Texas in the future to ask for a night's lodging. It was that kind of a request that put him in the Lubbock jail — and not just for a night. He faces hot check charges in Lubbock county.

Police Chief Carl Neely said the man wandered into city hall here Wednesday night and asked if he could sleep in the jail here. He was accompanied by a woman.

Schools Warn: 'Shots' a Must!

Muleshoe School superintendent Saturday issued the annual warning to next autumn's beginning pupils. All children before entering the first grade must have a signed statement from their physician certifying they have been immunized against smallpox, diphtheria, polio, whooping cough and tetanus. Forms for this immunization record are available at the principals' offices or at physicians' offices.

The school chief also announced that pre-registration will be held at Mary DeShazo and Richland Hills schools next Friday starting at 8:30 a.m. This year's first-graders will be excused from school that day so teachers may assist in enrolling next autumn's starters. Dillman said.

Six Presented Awards by FFA

Six Bailey county men received honorary chapter farmer degrees and nine FFA members were presented National Foundation Awards to highlight the annual Future Farmers awards dinner here this week. Principal speech was given by Dr. Wavland Bennett, head of the agricultural economics department at Texas Tech. Men honored were Buford Eyles, Joe Harbin, Lester Howard, Buddy Black and Lewis Scoggin.

Youths receiving Foundation awards were: Bill Herbie, public speaking; Clifford Gray, farm mechanics; Jerry Bruns, farm electrification; Jerry Lee, soil and water management; Ronnie Hawberry, dairy farming; Marshal Wimberley, livestock farming; Denzell Nowell, crops farming; Glenn Head, Star green band; and Kearney Scoggin, Star chapter farmer. The dinner had Dean Ethridge, president of the Muleshoe FFA chapter, as master of ceremonies.

EMPLOYER HONORED — Muleshoe's Distributive Education department held its first annual dinner at the senior high cafeteria Thursday night and picked Lyndal Murray, manager of C. R. Anthony Co. here, as the person who had "contributed most to the DE Program" during its first year in Muleshoe. Here he's presented an award by Wayne Holcomb, DE director for the schools. ## Ray's 'Ritin'

By RAY MARTIN

New Mexico has the square-mile section system which comes in mighty handy when road-building takes place. It's simple: Every square-mile section has a 3-foot strip all around it dedicated for a highway when and if officials decide to open a road. Thus a 60 foot strip already is dedicated for road purposes.

Like the Portales-Muleshoe route that is being proposed-constructed, as a matter of fact, Roosevelt county commissioners decided they needed a road straight east from Portales to the Texas line, a distance of 16 miles.

Bingo! They took the strip and graders already are at work on the project right now, blading out a road through the sandhills east of Portales. As a matter of fact, the commissioners decided Wednesday to open the road. The road graders already are at work. It's done that quickly.

This paper carried a P1 editorial the other day, urging simplifying the clumsy and obsolete road-building routine in Texas. There are entirely too many time consuming, trivial steps that must be taken before a road can even be started in Texas, much less actually built.

While it's too late to adopt a new state constitution for the section-line system replacing the obsolete "labor" system, nevertheless much of the routine could be eliminated by whacking off a few laws—not passing new ones.

The method by which New Mexico figured out a good constitution back in 1912 is interesting. I think Oklahoma had had a brilliant man who was a whiz on constitutional law. He had, almost solely, written the Oklahoma constitution which provided for the section system of land descriptions. The constitution provided that no landowner actually owns a square mile of land; he owns a square mile, less 30 feet all the way around his 640 acres. As long as no road is needed in that area, the land owner can use the extra 30-foot strip for any purpose he desires. But should a road be needed, the strip could be opened.

74 Housewives Join '63 Cancer Crusade

The American Cancer Society launched its 1963 Crusade in Muleshoe and Bailey county this week.

More than 74 house-to-house volunteers will join forces with some 2,000,000 similar volunteers through the nation in the annual April Cancer Crusade.

Mrs. Pat Bobo, residential chairman for Muleshoe, said the drive has two objectives — "to save lives now and to save lives in the future."

"Heeding the advice in the literature left by a volunteer calling on you, can help save your life. A generous contribution would help save other lives now as well as in the future."

She said that she was particularly gratified at the willingness of area division and block workers to take their jobs and being so nice about accepting. The volunteers may canvass particularly on Tuesday night, but will have until April 30 for completion, she added.

Vic Benedict, chairman of the business and industry drive in Muleshoe, announced these workers are helping in the drive: Myron Pool, Joe Lane, Allen Burrows, Horace Edwards, Robert Alford, Clarence Jones, Frank Ellis, J. V. Feeler, Robert Hooten, Roger Pool, John Miller and Wayne Wash.

Mrs. Charles Alsop, Crusade Chairman, has announced Mrs. Joe Harbin as area chairman for the Y. L. and Lazbuddie area; Mrs. Van Rogers for Circleback; Mrs. Jack Lane, Three Way and

First 10 Homes Under Construction

Housing Project Starts

Ten new homes which are to get under way this week, will launch a new housing development for Morrison addition northeast of Muleshoe. It was announced Saturday by D. L. Morrison, former Muleshoe man now living in Lubbock. The new addition will be called "Horizon West," with first homes to be built on Gum street south of the Catholic church.

Morrison said the homes will be all brick veneer and will contain from 1,006 square feet to 1,300 square feet, exclusive of garages. Average cost will be "around $10.25 per square foot," he said. This means the prices will start at $10,500.

Two of the homes already staked out will be two-bedroom houses and the other eight will be three bedrooms. Some also will contain family rooms, and all will have built in kitchens, he said.

Cicero Smith Lumber Co., Lubbock, will build the houses, and Morrison's two sons, Billy Joe Morrison and D. L. Morrison Jr., Muleshoe, will serve as agents and will supervise construction of the new homes.

Morrison said Saturday that the 10 to be built immediately will be only the start of a housing project for the section northeast of Muleshoe. He said he owns 400 lots in that area. The Catholic church and the buildings for the Muleshoe Country club are located on land formerly owned by Morrison.

The houses will be located on 60 and 90 foot lots, and all 10 are to be completed within 90 days after foundations are poured. "We plan to build the houses as soon as possible, and to make a truly fine addition in that section." He pointed out that the hilltop locations of the plots "makes them ideal locations for good homes."

He said the houses will be built on the "project basis" with specialty crews doing the various jobs. "As soon as foundation is completed for one house, the cement crews will move on to the next house, thus setting up an assembly-line system which will make for the greatest efficiency and for speed in building the houses," Morrison explained. This assembly-line system also will cut the construction cost for the

Radar Nabs 15 Speeders

Speeding on U. S. 84 in the Muleshoe area cost 15 drivers $20.50 each for the privilege.

A check of Justice of the Peace Joe Vaughn's records showed that many persons were arrested for exceeding the legal speed limits one night recently in the Muleshoe area. A radar set-up trapped the fast-moving motorists.

Except for the speeding charges, it has been a rather quiet week in Muleshoe, Judge Vaughn's blotter showed.

One person was arrested for failure to have an operator's license, one for drunkenness and one for "jumping" a stop sign. Two others were arrested and charged with "contest of speed," — road racing.

Libraries Are Not Made, They Grow

By MRS. A.S. STOVALL
"Libraries are not made, they grow." — Augustine Birrell 1850-1933.

At this, the close of National Library Week, we should pause and take stock of our library facilities here in Muleshoe. Does it have enough books, enough space, enough staff and enough services to meet our community's needs? We are sure that an emphatic negative answer would be given to each one of these questions if a survey were made of our library. The next question that would arise would be "What can be done to improve these conditions?"

Muleshoe is celebrating its fiftieth birthday this summer — what more appropriate birthday gift could be given Muleshoe and Bailey County than improved library facilities? One small group of individuals cannot bring these improvements about. It will take the concerted effort of each and every individual working together each person willing to round pavements, ring doorbells and solicit aid in any way possible. It can be done, other communities such as Littlefield, Dumas, Lamesa, and scores of others have "pulled themselves up by their bootstraps," so to speak, and Bailey County can do the same if enough public interest can be stimulated.

The Muleshoe Study Club and the ESA Sorority have started the financial ball rolling by giving benefits and the establishment of two memorial funds — Mrs. Tom Junke and Dr. L. T. Green, Jr.

The suggestion has been made that the residents of Bailey County visit the library, located in the Courthouse, and see for themselves how inadequate the quarters, how outdated and meager the reference books, and how far short of the recommended minimum number of 10 books per reader, the library really is. If they would but do this we feel sure a county wide movement would develop and Muleshoe and Bailey County would take their rightful place in providing adequate library facilities for each boy and girl, man and woman, residing in Bailey County and the Muleshoe trade area. There could be no greater cultural advancement for our area than an up to date library so let's all put our "shoulder to the wheel" and push.

The American Cancer Society has listed seven danger signals that might mean cancer: (1) Unusual bleeding or discharge; (2) A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere; (3) A sore that does not heal; (4) Change in bowel or bladder habits; (5) Hoarseness or cough; (6) Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing; and (7) Change in a wart or mole. If a signal lasts more than two weeks, go to your doctor.

Officers Elected For Epsilon Sigma

Mrs. Ernest D. Martin was elected incoming president of the local chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the group in the home of Mrs. Vic Benedict.

Other officers are Mrs. Elvon DeVaney, vice president; Mrs. Benedict, secretary and Mrs. Joe Pat Wagon, treasurer. Mrs. Fred Johnson was re-elected the chapter educational director.

Reports were heard from the committees in regard to publicity, poster distribution, ticket sales and refreshments for the May 4 library benefit dance sponsored by the sorority.

A called meeting was to be held Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Ray Santos to discuss final plans for the dance. Mrs. Kenneth Precure, president said.

The new officers will be installed in the near future, she said.

About 46 million Americans now living will eventually have cancer, according to the American Cancer Society. At present rates, it will strike one in four persons. A health checkup every year is your best protection against cancer.

FISHERMEN RETURN

Last Sunday afternoon saw the return of some weary fishermen who had spent the weekend at Devil's Lake near Del Rio.

Leaving on Friday in the Skimmer was Morgan Locker, his two sons, Don and Freddie and a friend, Bill Goodwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Goodwin. Following were Herb Griffiths and son, Prentice, flying the Super Cub. Enroute, they flew for awhile above the cloud deck, then Locker found a small hole in the clouds through it beneath the clouds. Griffiths, flying approximately a thousand feet higher in the Cub, had to circle sharply to lower altitude in order to come through the hole and still come through the edge of the clouds. Son, Prentice decided at that point that he would change planes when they landed at San Angelo. That he did, and Griffiths's passenger from then on was Freddie Locker.

Arriving at the lake, Griffiths and Freddie followed the Skimmer out and circled while they watched the plane make the landing on water, then flew back to Del Rio airport and landed and waited for Locker to land and pick them up, then fly back and land on the lake.

To land on the waters of Devil's Lake they must settle the plane into a canyon and fly downward to the lake. Air currents within the canyon can be interesting to fly in with plenty of activity and flying skill keeping wings level for the water landing.

The group spent Saturday fishing and swimming. The boys set trot lines for the night and had quite an experience with a water snake while checking the lines the next morning. Freddie spotted the green snake chasing their rubber raft and when the boys stopped paddling to look, the snake disappeared under the raft. . . . "he boys headed for shore to relate their experience to their Dads. They caught a nice string of fish, however."

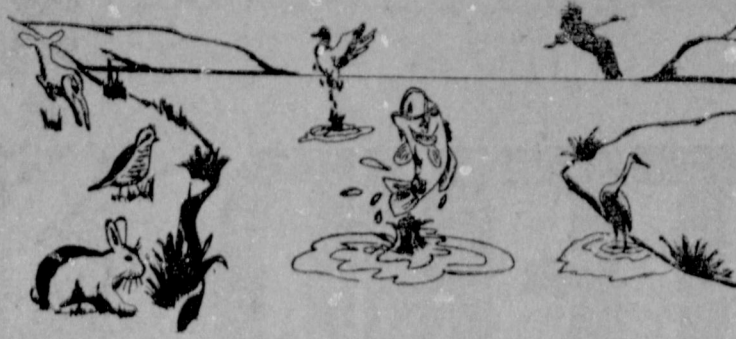

On a flying tour of the country, they saw the world's largest spring located in the vicinity which once was equipped with a water wheel to supply water for General Pershing's Cavalry horses during the days of Poncho Villa and the young days of Texas. At Del Rio airport they saw planes being loaded with 1,000 boxes each containing sterile flies and the planes take off to distribute their cargo in the mass screw worm eradication program underway there. The boxes contained approximately 1,000 flies and were released through a chute with trigger action to open the boxes and they swooped down and released them.

SOLOS GLIDER
Jim Hayes soloed in the 2-22 Schweitzer glider after three instructional flights, one of which he reached an altitude of 10,300 feet after releasing from the tow plane at 2,000 feet. He kept the craft aloft 1 hour and 20 minutes on that flight.

He has three solo flights to his credit and is working for his glider instructor's rating. He is receiving instructions under Morgan Locker and the tow plane was flown by Lyndol Kinsler, home on leave from the Army.

PHOTO FLIGHT
A flight was made Sunday morning in the Cherokee with two aboard on an aerial photography mission. Phil Zadel and Robert McConey.

Refuge Manager, Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge

Tom, I saw one of those slick, slimy, cold snakes in the yard this morning. Will you go out and see if you can find it and kill it? Now Sally, snakes are not slick and slimy, nor are they cold. The key, Massey-Ferguson employees from the Denver, Colo. branch made pictures of the Massey-Ferguson lot located on the Plainview highway from an approximate 800 foot altitude. They used a Keystone zoom lense camera and a Polaroid. Jim Hayes flew the craft. It was Zadel's first flight in a small plane and although he said his stomach turned each time they went into a steep bank to allow pictures to be shot down wing, he got some good pictures with his Polaroid.

TO SAN ANTONIO
Dr. Ray Santos and Morgan Locker flew to San Antonio over the weekend on a business trip. Santos, a student pilot, received instructions on the flight and used an avigator, a relatively new device for estimating time of arrival over check points. He hit each point within 30 seconds to one minute of estimated time.

THE AVIGATOR
Muleshoe pilots are finding the avigator as helpful on cross-country flights as did the inventor of the 3 by 6 magic computer, Robert DuPont. The avigator works on a clock-like basis, equipped with 3 wheels . . . a winder wheel, when wound runs 8 hours; a wheel to set ground speed and another to set estimated time of arrival. An indicator down the center of the distance-time chart shows a combination of distance traveled and minutes consumed, eliminating the computer work in the cockpit. DuPont, service director for Greiner Electronic, Ltd., Langglen, Switzerland, flew some 80,000 miles annually ranging from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Canadian border to the Mexican border soon learned that you don't "just drive in the sky." If you do, it is a question of where you may come down again. Although Omni and ADF solves navigational problems as far as direction is concerned, DuPont kept asking himself his exact position on the beam, so after much study and work, devised the avigator which he dedicated to his wife, Brigitte, "who always worried for my safe return."

CHECK RIDES
Don Bryant was checked out for flying a Comanche belonging to Guy Nichols. Lyndol Kinsler made check flights in the Cherokee and Super Cub. Willie Washington is taking dual in the J-3 Cub. All these check rides and instruction was given by Jim Hayes.

AMBULANCE COMANCHE
Ambulance flights are now available in the Comanche. Hayes has fixed the craft to make this service available by making the backs of the seats removable, giving ample room for a full-length stretcher and leaving the seat directly behind the pilots seat for a doctor, nurse, or passenger, to accompany the patient.

Henry Collins, a native of Alabama, was here this week making flights in the glider. Collins, a student at Texas Tech trained here last summer.

GOD'S WORD OUR GUIDE

Jesus Himself set the pattern for us in Matthew 4:4 when he uttered these words; Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

The philosophy of man sometimes is good, as well as his theories but God has given His infallible word that we might not err, especially in these days of world tension and the minds of men are taxed and it seems that we earth dwellers are at a loss sometimes when we face some of the problems of life. But let us rest assured that God's word contains all the answers to life's problems.

In Ps. 119:89 the bible says "Forever O Lord thy word is settled in heaven." Is. 40:8 Says "The grass withereth, and the flower fadeth, but the word of our God abideth forever."

James 1:21 Says "wherefore laying apart all filthiness and superfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the engrafted word, which is able to save your souls."

God's word is something that will never change so hold on to the teaching of this book and you will make it through.

FRANKLY

By REV. J. FRANK PEERY

A TIME TO REMEMBER
Twenty years ago this week behind an infamous wall dated April 23, 1943, Warsaw, Poland saw a day and time never to be forgotten. The world must never forget. The Warsaw Jewish population, placed behind the ghetto wall 60,000 strong, made the heroic move to resist the Nazi SS troops who had put them there. Early in 1942 some 500,000 Jews lived in Warsaw. By April, 1943, 325,000 had been exterminated; some few had escaped; others were in slave labor centers; 60,000 remained as prisoner-slaves behind the red brick wall.

On the sunny warm afternoon of August 2, 1962, I walked among the rubble of the ghetto. Reconstruction was under way. I imagine that today there are no traces left of the wall or the razed tenements. I have in my memories a piece of shattered stone that will ever remind me of the event history — one of "man's gravest inhumanities to man."

The ghetto was destroyed house by house, block by block, man by man. On May 15, 1943, 60,000 Jews were dead.

Dr. Joseph Szczepkowski, a protestant minister, who had been living and preaching in Warsaw for thirty-nine years, said to me, "I stood on the top of a bombed out building ten blocks away and saw Jewish mothers toss their babies over the wall hoping by chance somebody would take the baby and give it a chance for life if any life remained. Some few were saved."

At Zamenhofa and Anielewicz streets in a square that is still under construction is a beautiful 48-foot tall monument cut from granite in honor and memory of the people of the ghetto. Behind the monument are still signs of war, death and destruction. Across the street, there now stand new eight-floor apartment houses.

Poland is now a communist state, but few Poles seem to be communists. They are a proud people, a freedom-loving people (the man on the street). Copernicus, Pulaski, Chopin, Crue, Paderewski — all Poles. April 23, 1943 — a time to remember, and a time to forgive.

JENNY SLIPPER POINTS—

THE JOY of being in the newspaper business — there's none like it! Jenny Slipper can appreciate from home that getting out the paper is not always a picnic.

If we print jokes (like sometimes this column does), people say we're silly; if we don't they say we're too serious. If we stick close to the office, we ought to be around hunting material. If we go out and try to hustle news, we ought to be on the job in the office. If we don't print contributions, we don't appreciate genius, and if we do print them, the paper is filled with junk. (Incidentally, Jenny Slipper Points is a "contribution?")

If we edit the other fellow's write-up, we're too critical and if we don't, we're asleep. If we clip things from other papers, we're too lazy to write them ourselves — if we don't, we're "stuck on our own stuff."

Not just as likely as not, someone will say we swiped this from some other paper.

We did! (Thanks, Jim Servatius of The Plainview Herald.)

THE POINT of this reasoning goes on to this preliminary announcement . . . that the Muleshoe Journal will celebrate its 41st and MULESHOE'S 50th ANNIVERSARY with a big whoop extra-special anniversary edition this summer. (You'll be hearing more about it — the details — soon.)

To the women: (who are lots of times more sentimental about keeping old pictures, clippings, papers, etc.) we ask that you start opening up old trunks, scrapbooks, and photo albums which might be of interest in connection with the growth of Muleshoe and surrounding counties' history. (And this includes the pioneer's- and those "after-pioneers'" personal stories.) Of course, we realize you women should consult your husband at least nine remembers dates and figures better than I do.

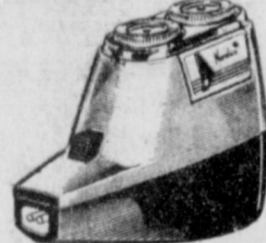

Businesses, industries, clubs, organizations, churches, ranchers, farmers — all are asked to start hunting up their histories too.

So — along with spring housekeeping, dust off those old records and bring them by The Journal, please (May 15 would be nice deadline). The paper will use as many as they can (but remember, some of those old fading photos are not reproducible) and we hope with everyone's help to have an anniversary edition you'll want to save along with all your other mementos, as well as to send to interested relatives, friends and even to businesses and industries to whom we might show-off our development, in event they are considering a new office somewhere — like Bailey

COOK OF THE WEEK

If you delight in discovering new tastes to surprise and please, then you too will broaden your cooking tastes with this week's Italian recipes which we pass on to readers.

CHRIS FREYER lived in Rome, Italy, (and Paris, France) with her parents for seven years, graduating from high school in Rome — and her superb a'la Italian — "extra" touch reflects her comment on Italian foods: "out of this world, though very fattening". (We know, we've eaten hers, and admiringly agree!)

A native of New York, a graduate of Bradford Junior college, Chris and her husband Karl and their two daughters Tina, six, and Jennifer, four, are members of St. Phillip's Episcopal church here. Bridge and music are their hobbies. Interestingly, they met in New York City, married in Florida, celebrated their first anniversary in France, and have lived in Florida, Alabama, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Ohio and Illinois, before moving to Muleshoe in March, 1962, when they purchased the Ben Franklin store from the Bill Whittles. We're proud to have "these ex-Yankees" in our town.

1 jigger cream
1 c. cracker meal
2 cans tomato sauce
1 shaker grated Parmesan cheese
½ lb. American or mozzarella cheese

Season veal slices (may substitute ½ inch slices of tenderized round steak, beaten) and roll in flour, then in a combination of beaten egg and cream. Dredge in cracker meal. Fry in deep fat until brown and drain. Place in casserole and cover with heated tomato sauce and grated cheese. Top with strips of solid cheese. Sprinkle with parsley and pimento and bake in 450 degree oven for 10 minutes.

LASAGNE

1 large can tomatoes
2 cans tomato paste
1 green pepper, chopped fine

2 medium onions, chopped
1 garlic clove, finely chopped
Salt and pepper to taste
2 Tbsp. Spice Islands spaghetti sauce seasoner
2 Tbsp. garlic salt
2 tsp. McCormick's Season All
¼ c. olive oil

Brown onions, green pepper, bacon and chopped garlic in oil Add paste, raw beef, cover and simmer for 3 to 4 hours. Spoon grease off top of sauce periodically and simmer uncovered for last hour, so that sauce won't be too juicy.

IN CASSEROLE, layer noodles spaghetti sauce, white sauce and cheeses, (8 inch noodles will do two layers), finish with cheeses. Bake one hour at 350 degrees in two quart casserole.
