Conscription Is Urged by House Committee

Attempted Raid on Britain by 200 Planes Is Said Beaten Off

Mass Attack On Island Is Frustrated

Naval Base Heavily Bombed in Night; Casualties Heavy

By The Associated Press.

Cannon-blasting RAF fighters intercepted a wave of 200 Nazi raiders flying at great height over the southeast coast of England late today—apparently in the Dover "hell's corner" region—and drove them back.

The German planes were apparently heading for a mass attack on London or some industrial objective beyond it.

German dive-bombing Stukas smashed at Britain's great naval base of Portsmouth and reportedly left it "a sea of flames" today after a night of double-barreled terror for 12,000 civilians in the fiercest air raids of the war over London and Berlin.

Untold numbers were killed, and great fires set by incendiary bombs blazed in both capitals.

In a single London district, more than 60 fire bombs fell amid tightly-jammed rows of houses as a marathon of Nazi raiders pounded the metropolis for seven hours and 10 minutes—the fifth straight night attack on London and the longest sustained attack of the war.

British RAF bombers struck back with a 3-hour attack on Berlin before dawn, raining high explosives and incendiary bombs within two miles of Reichsführer Adolf Hitler's chancellery in the Wilhelmstrasse and taking a toll of 10 known dead and 20 wounded.

Roof fires were reported in many sections of the German capital, and sidewalks were littered with broken glass. Craters 10 feet wide and five feet deep yawned in street pavement, blasted out by 100 pound bombs.

Nazi airmen displayed a new "silence" technique in raids practically spread-eagling the British Isles, cutting their motors to avoid attracting searchlight beams and gliding down to the attack.

In one London section, four members of a family who had taken refuge in an underground shelter were killed when a bomb direct hit and blew it out of the ground.

The semi-official British Press Association, taking note of the wholesale use of fire bombs, called the raid "the most venomous attack of the war against Britain" and accused Hitler of sending his "fire raiders to scatter their incendiaries indiscriminately against towns, villages and open heaths."

Censorship kept secret the number of British casualties, and the official statement was only that there were "some deaths."

The Italian high command, meanwhile, reported that fascist planes bombed the Suez Canal, "endangering vital life-line to her Far East colonies in time of peace—for the first time in the war."

Overcast Skies and Showers Hold Down The Heat in State

By The Associated Press

Overcast skies and scattered showers spread over more than half the nation today, blotting out the sun and holding temperatures close to or even a little below normal.

The cloudy, rainy conditions were expected to vanish by Sunday since generally clear weather, extending from the Pacific coast through Montana on the north and Texas and Oklahoma on the south, was moving eastward.

Lowest temperature of morning was 36 at Bangor, Maine. Another cool area embraced northern Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. Some of the maximum readings in that sector yesterday were 57 at Duluth, 66 at Minneapolis, 69 at Green Bay and 62 at Marquette. A rather heavy fog shrouded Lake Superior and the Maine coast today.

Rain was falling this morning in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Indiana, Northern Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Eastern Tennessee and parts of Georgia. Heaviest rainfall in the last twenty-four hours included 1.56 inches at Florence, Ala., 1.90 inches at Shreveport, La., and 1.30 inches at Lake Charles, La.

Texas continued to suffer from intense heat. Maximum temperatures there yesterday included 98 at Fort Worth and 101 at San Antonio.

90-Day Order On Production Issued Today

Nine Shutdown Days Each Month Slated By The Commission

By The Associated Press

AUSTIN, Tex., Aug. 29.—The Texas Railroad Commission today issued a 90-day oil order, effective Sept. 1, which set the average daily allowable production at 1,296,528 barrels.

While full details of the order were not immediately available, commission engineers explained the total Texas yield, including assigned but unproduced allowables, would approximate 1,266,065 barrels daily as compared with the U. S. Bureau of Mines forecast of market demand for September of 1,320,300 barrels.

The order, signed by all three commissioners, decreed nine statewide shut down days each for the months of September, October and November.

As explained, the order exempted a large number of fields from the shutdowns. These fields, together with marginal wells whose flow cannot be halted without physical damage, totaled about 145,120 barrels daily production.

Ten engineers said relatively few fields received drastic allowable slashes.

The new total average daily allowable, not including underproduction, showed an increase of approximately 55,994 barrels over allowables of last week. The new basic allowable figure, from which various deductions were made, was 1,647,725 barrels daily.

Statewide shutdown days were ordered for Sept. 1, 2, 8, 14, 15, 21, 22, 29, and 30; October 5, 6, 12, 13, 19, 20, 26, 27 and 31; and November 2, 3, 9, 10, 16, 17, 24, 28 and 30.

The giant East Texas field also was subjected to nine closing days and given a basic daily allowable of 523,000 barrels which the shutdowns will reduce to an average over 30 days of approximately 375,000 barrels.

The new basic allowables by districts, as compared with those of June 1, at the start of the 90-day order which expires Saturday, and Aug. 23, the latest figure available, were as follows:

East Texas field, 690,000, 522,712 and 523,000; West Central Texas, 51,125, 54,873 and 57,544; West Texas, 216,447, 233,508 and 252,966; North Texas, 111,503, 124,552 and 127,297; and the Panhandle district, 64,145, 65,537 and 65,538.

Fields exempted from shutdown days included:

District 7-C—Big Lake, Grayson and World.

District 8—Church Fields, Estes, Goldsmith, Gulf-McElroy, Henricks, Howard-Glasscock, Iatan-East Howard, Keystone (Colby Sand), Key-Long (Lime), Lehn, McClintic, Penwell, Sharon Ridge, Snyder, Taylor Link, Waddell, Ella Waddell, North and South Ward, Seminole, Sand Hills (Permian), Sand Hills (Ordovician).

Excess Profits Bill Is Passed By The House

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP).—Excess profits tax legislation, carrying special provisions designed to speed up expansion of industrial defense facilities, was passed swiftly by the house today and sent to the senate.

House leaders agreed to restrict sharply both debate and amendment offers to assure speedy action on the measure which has been urged as vital for faster progress in the defense program.

Designed both to prevent "war millionaires" and to grant tax concessions to defense industries, the bill has three major sections: It would levy an excess profits tax of from 20 to 50 percent on corporations; It would permit defense industries to deduct from their taxable income over a 5-year period the entire cost of facilities installed to handle army and navy contracts;

It would suspend existing limitations on the profits to be made on government orders for aircraft and warships.

Balkan Fuss Settlement Is Projected

Concluding Pacts May Be Reached in Vienna Discussion

By EDWIN SHANKE

VIENNA, Aug. 29. (AP).—Hungarian and Rumania delegations, brought to this capital of old Austria by axis "peacemakers," communicated the suggestions of Rome and Berlin for a Transylvania settlement to their governments today after separate two-hour talks with German and Italian foreign ministers.

German spokesmen said "from various signs it can be presumed that perhaps tomorrow, concluding results will be reached."

The Hungarian Premier Count Pal Teleky and Foreign Minister Count Istvan Csanok, and the Rumanian, Foreign Minister Mihail Maniulescu and his aides, had not yet come together in a four-power roundtable to discuss any proposed new frontier. They held separate talks with Joachim von Ribbentrop and Count Galeazzo Ciano, the German and Italian foreign ministers.

The preliminary discussions were held at the Imperial hotel, headquarters of Ribbentrop and Ciano. Old Belvedere palace was in readiness for more formal conferences if it is decided to bring representatives of all four nations together around a single table.

A German spokesman said the talks would be conducted "in a spirit of comradely cooperation." He declined to discuss the possibility that arbitration might be necessary.

"No hard and fast program has been laid down," said the spokesman, "but the following objectives were summarized:

1. Quiet.

2. Peace.

3. Order.

4. Contentment.

5. Lasting stability.

Such a solution is uppermost in the minds of Germans and Italians because, one spokesman said, "these discussions cannot be separated from the fact that war is being waged" and Germany wants peace at her back so she may draw upon Balkan raw materials without interference.

The Nazi press stressed that the talks would be "of a purely technical nature" and not for the future fashioning of the southeast, but also of Europe and the world. Here great English intrigue of the post-war period is being liquidated.

17,000 Engines for Planes Ordered by The Army and Navy

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP).—An agreement was reached between the navy and United Aircraft Corporation today for the manufacture of 17,000 airplane engines for both the army and navy at a cost of $160,000,000.

Announcing the agreement at a press conference, Secretary Knox said it had the full approval of the war department and would cover the entire requirements of both army and navy from United Aircraft for the 1941 and 1942 fiscal years.

A formal contract covering the agreement, Knox said, will be negotiated as soon as funds for the engines are provided in the $5,008,000,000 defense appropriation bill pending in congress.

Meanwhile, Knox said, United will proceed immediately with a $2,500,000 expansion of its plants at Hartford, Conn.

Rear Admiral John H. Towers chief of the navy's bureau of aeronautics, added that the navy would purchase and retain title to $7,000,000 worth of machine tools to equip the expanded plant.

Wallace Acceptance Speech Due Tonight

DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 29. (AP).—Henry A. Wallace will make his debut as the No. 1 democratic national election campaigner here tonight when he formally accepts the party's vice-presidential nomination.

Wallace was designated weeks ago to carry the brunt of the speech-making after President Roosevelt said the international situation would keep him close to Washington. Party officials said they were preparing for a crowd of 10,000 for the notification. The 30-minute acceptance address is scheduled to begin at 8:30 p.m.

Burke-Wadsworth Act Provisions

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP).—Here are the principal provisions of the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military training bill as approved by the senate:

1. All males, with minor exceptions, from 21 through 30 years of age would be required to register.

2. Those registered would become liable for service with the nation's armed forces for 12 months in peace-time, or longer if congress found the national interest imperiled. Aliens who have not filed naturalization papers would escape liability.

3. The president would be authorized to select in an "impartial manner" from this group men for service. Individuals whose work was deemed essential to the nation and those with dependents could be granted a deferment. Deferment would be mandatory for certain state and federal officials and ministers. Divinity students would be exempted and conscientious objectors assigned to non-combatant or special work.

4. Those conscripted would be given the same pay and allowances as members of the army, navy and marine corps. Base pay in the army would be increased from $21 to $30 a month.

5. Service would be limited to the Western Hemisphere, and not more than 900,000 trainees could be in service at any one time.

6. Trainees who completed active service would become members of the reserves for 10 years and subject to retraining at intervals.

7. Selection of trainees would be based on quotas for each state, with credit being given for men already in the armed forces.

8. All men from 19 through 34 would be given opportunity to enlist voluntarily for the same training and service as those conscripted.

9. Employers would be required, where possible, to reemploy men who left jobs because of being conscripted.

10. Provision would be made to prevent evictions and foreclosures for non-payment of debts of men conscripted.

11. The president would be authorized to establish local boards and appeal boards to classify men registered and pass on applications for deferment and similar matters.

El Paso Man Is Chief Speaker for Presbyterians

Discussing "Life Investment" or "Applying," Dr. W. B. Gray of El Paso climaxed a series of four talks which featured the program for the rally of district two Presbyterian young people's leagues and the 21 Paso Presbytery held here late Wednesday at the First Presbyterian church.

Other out-of-town speakers were Averill Burke of Odessa who talked on "Life Enrichment" or "Growing," Louis Rochester of Odessa, who discussed "Life Enrichment" or "Volunteering," and Wallace Black of El Paso, who spoke on "Life's Program" or "Planning."

Rev. W. J. Coleman, host-pastor, offered the opening prayer at the evening program and Lane Barnett of Odessa led the song service.

Lynn Stephens and Merle Scott of Midland sang "Take Up Thy Cross" as a special number, accompanied by Foy Dublin.

"Personal Vanbelism" was the theme of the rally which drew a registered attendance of 81. Twenty-two were present from Midland; 22 from Odessa; 11 from Coahoma; 11 from Big Spring; and 13 from Colorado City; and two from El Paso.

Attendance banner went to Colorado City, on the basis of number of people attending and miles traveled.

A recreation period directed by Mr. and Mrs. Lane Barnett, and a picnic supper served by women of the church preceded the evening program.

Automobile Accident Proves Fatal to One

CORSICANA, Tex., Aug. 29.—(AP) Miss Ola Meadows, 35, of Malakoff, died in a hospital here today of injuries she suffered in an automobile accident yesterday.

The father, Dr. W. M. Meadows, 58, was seriously hurt when the car turned over near here. Oscar Phillips, Jr., 16, of Malakoff escaped injury.

Patman Says Group In U. S. Is Urging Appeasement Ideas

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP).—Representative Patman (D-Tex) told the Dies committee today he believed there was "a deliberate attempt" on the part of certain "big business" groups in this country to force adoption of an appeasement program toward Hitler.

The Texan, urging the committee to investigate what he said was "an unholy alliance" between certain parts of "big business" and the distribution of nazi propaganda in this country was told by Chairman Dies (D-Tex) that committee agents already were doing so but had "found nothing so far."

Patman testified at a hearing accorded him to enable him to submit evidence which he said would substantiate his allegations that Carl Byoir, New York publicity man and army reserve officer, had been employed as a nazi propagandist.

Byoir denied the charges and a subcommittee of the Dies committee headed by Rep. Dempsey (D-N.M.) recently exonerated Byoir, but Patman demanded an opportunity to present his case. The justice department also exonerated Byoir after an FBI investigation.

Draft Would Cover Ages Of 21 to 44

Legislation May Be Brought to a Vote Sometime Next Week

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP).—The house military committee approved today a Burke-Wadsworth conscription bill calling for drafting of men from 21 to 44 years of age, inclusive—a much wider age range than that provided in the bill which the senate passed last night.

The house committee acted quickly after senate passage on a 58 to 31 vote so that its version of the legislation might be brought to the floor Tuesday for possible final house passage late next week.

Chairman May (D-Ky) said the house committee vote was 20 to 4. Other committee members said four of the members actually were absent from the session but three voted by proxy. May declined to say how individuals balloted.

At one point, May said, there was some discussion of a proposal to make the registration and conscription age brackets conform to those of the senate's 21 through 30 years but the matter never came to a vote.

Another point of difference in the two bills is that while the senate provided a limit of 900,000 on the number of conscripts who might be serving at any one time, the house committee wrote in a 1,000,000 limit. Members said that figure was necessary to provide also for conscripts for the navy.

After three weeks of stormy debate, the senate gave its approval to conscription last night at the close of a tense, 9-hour session.

The bill was substantially unchanged in its essentials from the version recommended by the senate military committee. One major addition would give the government the power to "conscript" industry for defense, if necessary.

House debate is tentatively scheduled to start Tuesday. Proponents of conscription were optimistic the bill would be passed, and opponents privately conceded that chances of defeating it were slim.

If the measure should be approved in substantially the same form by the house, a registration day probably would be set by the president about 15 days after the legislation became law. By October 15, the army would expect to induct its first quota of conscripts, approximately 75,000 young men. If army plans materialized, 400,000 would be in training by January 1 and 400,000 more by April 1.

The version of the Burke-Wadsworth bill now in the house committee differs 21 to 44 years from the senate-approved measure. It would make all men between 21 and 45 subject to registration and possible service.

The end came in the senate after conscription forces had beaten off attempts to postpone or nullify the draft provisions.

Conscriptionists themselves joined in adding some extraneous amendments, notably the joint amendment by Senators Russell (D-Ga) and Overton (D-La) giving the government power to take over industrial plants for the manufacture of defense materials.

Pipeline Blast in Oklahoma Is Fatal To Five Workmen

BUFFALO, Okla., Aug. 29 (AP).—Five men were injured fatally and ten others burned in a thunderous explosion at a nearby Phillips Petroleum Co. pipeline project last night just ten minutes after the men accepted temporary jobs.

Company officials worked on a theory that a blow torch being used in repairing a leak touched off the blast.

Ten horses also perished. The animals as they died in the flames made "the most terrifying sound I ever heard," said Clyde Storer, 45, one of the four men who suffered critical burns in fleeing the scene. The dead: (all Oklahoma) Donald King, 22, Buffalo; Warren Hendrix, 29, Cedarvale; Pat Cummings, 29, Laverne; Vernon Harding, 21, Laverne; Selman Cummings, 19, Laverne.

King and Hendrix were trapped in a raging fire which broke out after the blast. The other four died later in a hospital.

Realism in Maneuvers

The maneuvers held this summer by Army and National Guard units have been put on with a realism seldom attempted before. Many of the boys came home with recollections of real hardships and some realization of the meaning of real campaigning.

In upper New York state, however, a further dash of realism was added by a low-flying "Black" plane which dropped propaganda leaflets among the "Blue" soldiers. "Many of our airplanes are already poised to demolish your supplies and communications, and after that—no more hot coffee," read one such propaganda appeal. "Put down your arms and come under the leadership of the Blacks."

There is nothing fantastic about this. Today's soldier must be trained to resist propaganda as well as tanks and dive-bombers. And there is no better way to train him than to show him in advance how it works. We count on the mental alertness, the resourcefulness, the intelligence of the American soldier as much as on his ability to squeeze a trigger.

Independent Mr. Quezon

The Philippines, to which the United States fell heir during the war with Spain, have long agitated for their promised freedom.

It has been promised them in 1946, and the present years are considered a tapering-off process which will make the final separation less painful to the islands themselves.

President Manuel Quezon of the Philippine Commonwealth has long been an advocate of independence. Today he seems to be actively practicing for it. At the opening of a new bridge (the "Quezon Bridge," by the way), Mr. Quezon is reported to have said, "An American business man had the nerve to criticize me, so I told the president of the Rotary Club to tell him to get out of the country if he did not like what I had done."

Mr. Quezon, by this exceedingly independent display of independence, is making it easier for the United States to cut the island ties without regret when the time comes.

Paradise Goes A-Begging

Remember the people who were always wanting to just give up, go away to island Tahiti, and "get away from it all"?

They, too, can lay aside their dreams for the period of the emergency. For in Tahiti, lazy dreamland of the South Pacific, all is not well. So reports H. E. Pippin, Matson Steamship Line executive, just back from a South Seas excursion.

Tahiti, it seems, was French. Somehow, we never thought of that. Island paradises and national sovereignty didn't seem to go together. But France fell. Tahiti, whose principal export is copra, lost her market. French money is regarded as worthless. American dollars are the object of a scramble.

So into even this Eden has come the serpent. Our new battleships will have modern soda fountains, opening the way for new naval rankings of soda-jerk, first, second, and third classes.

CARRIE ADMITS HER FEAR

Cast of Characters
CARRIE LANE—An eastern girl who came into the frontier west to find a home.
MARK DEUEL—A homesteader who keeps his business to himself.
ASHTON OAKS—a land agent, with town lots to sell.

YESTERDAY: Carrie begs Mark not to fight Oaks. But back in town, the agent looks up Mark, tries to start a fight. Deuel ignores him. There is a shot.

CHAPTER IV

CARRIE was standing there, white-faced, tense, clinging to Mrs. Taylor's arm, when Mark elbowed his way through the excited crowd and into the darkened street. Mark stopped, lifted his hat to her and to Mrs. Taylor, greeted Ed Taylor. "Anything serious?" Taylor asked. "We just got in town when we heard the rumpus."

"Nothing much," Mark answered, and knew instantly that his explanation didn't satisfy Carrie Lane.

"Ed Deuel," she broke in, "it was trouble with Mr. Oaks, wasn't it?" For a moment Mark thought he read accusation in her eyes.

"Miss Lane, I'm sorry," he said "but it was."

Mark found it difficult to answer her while she looked so pale, frightened, and the homesteaders pressed around them, hanging on every word. Mark reddened, searching for an excuse to change the subject.

Ed Taylor suggested they walk back to the hotel and Mark readily agreed. On the way Mark told them what had happened.

IT was Newt Gale who had seen trouble coming—or thought he had, Mark explained. Newt was with Mark when Ashton Oaks started his quarrel. He had heard Mark tell the agent he was drunk and walk away. And Newt had seen Oaks reach for his inside coat pocket as Mark neared the door.

"That was too much for Newt, I guess," Mark laughed. "He just couldn't wait. He grabbed Oaks' arm, and sure enough, the agent did draw a gun. It went off. The bullet shattered the glass over the bar and first thing Newt knew, everybody was piled up on the floor."

Carrie was breathless. "Didn't he mean to shoot you?"

"No, don't think he did," Mark was still trying to pass off the matter lightly. "He was just drunk and pretty sore and Newt was over-cautious. I don't think Oaks ever intended to have it turn out the way it did." He laughed again. "You ought to see what he looked like after dusting off the floor."

Ed Taylor laughed, too, and Mrs. Taylor put in with the observation that people shouldn't reach for guns they didn't intend to shoot. But Mark, looking suddenly at Carrie, noticed she wasn't laughing. Her fingers clenched and unclenched on her handkerchief and Mark was sure she was ready to cry.

AFTERWARD, at the hotel, he learned how near to crying she really was—this courageous little girl who had dared come to Sioux Springs to settle on a prairie homestead along with the stoutest of them.

It was late when the Taylors left Mark and Carrie alone. They were getting up early, Taylor explained, to get a good start with supplies to the claim on Rock Creek. Mark was glad Carrie did not go upstairs with them.

A dim kerosene lamp shed feeble rays through the window of Sioux Springs Hotel. Carrie and Mark stood outside in the shadows. It was oppressively hot. The street was practically deserted. Mark leaned a bit awkwardly against the building, fumbling with his hat, now and then stopping to wipe his forehead and trying to appear cool and unconcerned. But he wasn't.

"Mark," Carrie began, but caught herself quickly and went on, "Mr. Deuel, is it always like this out here?"

"Why, yes," Mark searched for an answer, then added: "That is, you mean the hot summers and all?"

"I mean," Carrie said, "is everything always so—so rough and—well ruthless? Tonight, I mean—you might have been killed!"

Mark grinned, a quiet, disarming grin, but it was lost on Carrie. "Oh, I don't think it was as serious as all that, Miss Lane. You stay around this country long enough and you'll see all kinds of fellows like Oaks. Can't all be like Taylor and Newt Gale and Ma Parmley, you know?"

"Or Mark Deuel," she smiled, then went on, sober again. "I know, I know. Everything is so big and so—so lonesome out here and there are so many new people. You're so far away from anyone you know, and you can't be sure of the people you meet."

"Now just how am I to take that?" Mark feigned offense, tried to make a joke of Carrie's words. But his effort failed utterly.

It was her first admission of the thing Mark knew the moment he had seen her that day at Ma Parmley's. And she had called him Mark! Suddenly, he wanted to take her in his arms, to kiss the tears out of her wide, blue eyes, to press his lips on hers.

MORE
But he couldn't. Something inside Mark Deuel told him that he would not have kissed Carrie Lane then had she asked him.

Instead, he made a rather clumsy job of comforting this girl who suddenly seemed to have changed the whole outlook of his life.

"Carrie," he started to reply, but choked on the name and began all over again. "Miss Lane—this thing's going to work out all right now. There's a lot of women come out here and stick it out and make good and like it. Now take Ma Parmley, for instance. Wasn't even a town here when she came!"

"Oh," she told me all about that," Carrie smiled and seemed almost to have unburdened herself. "Said she 'et' on the grass, slept in the wagon—when the wagon wasn't being used."

They laughed and Mark noted Carrie's chin tilted at a bit more determined angle again.

"I guess—I guess that affair at the saloon frightened me, that's all," Carrie went on. "That, and the trip to the claim today. It was so quiet, so far out and lonesome there today. The closest neighbor's a mile away. I almost wanted to give it up when I first saw it."

"Well, you aren't going to give it up now," Mark declared. "Not if the Taylors and Ma Parmley and the rest of us have anything to say about it."

He wanted to say he couldn't give up Carrie now, not if Mark Deuel had anything to say about it, but somehow the words stuck in his throat. A moment ago he had wanted to take her in his arms. But some fear held him back. Never had Mark experienced anything like this.

"I guess it's getting pretty late, isn't it?" Carrie looked through the window into the dingy hotel lobby, now almost empty. "If I'm going out with the Taylors in the morning I'd better get some sleep, too," Mark, grinning, agreed, and they said good night. He watched her disappear into the hotel and then swung off down the street.

NEWT GALE hailed him as he passed the saloon where he'd found Carrie, white-faced, waiting outside, two hours earlier.

"Mark, Newt said, 'I don't know as this amounts to anything. But this agent, Oaks, is inside again and pretty mean. He's bragging he's going to get you next time. Think I'd play safe, Mark. Just don't get careless with him, that's all. I can't be around every time he reaches for that coat pocket, Mark.'"

Newt laughed at his own joke and said good night, but Mark Deuel knew Newt Gale wasn't joking.

Governors of Three French Provinces Are Removed Today

VICHY, France, Aug. 29 (AP)—The Pétain-Laval government struck back today at what it termed British-inspired rebellions in France's colonial empire by relieving three governors-general of their posts and reinforcing the French administration in Indo-China.

The powers of Vice-Admiral Jean Decoux, Pétain-appointed governor-general of Indo-China, were increased with respect to control of the colony's five component provinces.

The government moved swiftly in connection with African and Pacific colonies, dismissing the governors of the Chad region in Equatorial Africa, the Cameroons mandate on the African west coast and New Caledonia in the southern Pacific.

The government announced yesterday that rebellions had developed and it charged the disorders to British guarantees of economic protection to French possessions taking the British side of the war. The civil governor of New Caledonia was replaced by a military governor.

So far as Indo-China is concerned the move was precautionary, at most. There has been no hint of disaffection there.

John Adams was a living ex-president of the United States for a quarter of a century.

Are You Superstitious ABOUT CURES?

By RUTH FARRAR
NEA Special Correspondent.

NEXT to the lust for fighting, hunting, and mating, folk medicine is probably our oldest inheritance from primitive ancestors.

Thousands of people in the United States continue to put faith in ancient folk cures, according to Dr. B. A. Cartwright of the University of Oklahoma, who has spent more than 30 years collecting 12,000 American superstitions.

Wear amber beads to prevent gout.

Eat watercress to prevent baldness.
Pierce the ear lobes to prevent weak eyes.

Carry penny rolls to prevent convulsions and epilepsy.
Nutmegs or castor beans worn as a necklace or carried in the pocket will prevent indigestion and colic.
Soot or cobwebs applied to a surface wound will prevent excessive bleeding.

The best of an infinite number of remedies for hiccough is to take

Grape leaf prevents sunstrokes.
Nine cups of water, count nine backwards, and turn around nine times.
A favorite remedy with the male population for a cold is to hang one's hat on bed post, go to bed and drink moonshine whisky until two hats are seen.

To cure rheumatism: Carry an Irish potato, a buckeye, a horse chestnut, or cedar knots in your pocket; wear a copper wire around your neck; wear red underwear—and it must be red; wear a brass ring on your finger; wear a black-snake hide next to your skin; or sleep with a dog—when the dog catches rheumatism, yours will be gone.

Wear lead around your neck to prevent nosebleed.

To keep off the cramps while swimming, wear a string of rattlesnake rattles around your ankle.

To prevent nightmares, hang a bundle of yarrow over your bed.

If you feel a chill coming, act as if you were going to jump in bed, but jump under the bed instead. The chill will go by.

If you have a punctured wound from a nail, grease the nail and carry it in your hip pocket to escape locking.

A rattlesnake skin belt will cure lumbago and snake oil, skunk fat, and fishing worm oil are excellent ointments for arthritis.

Farmers Urged to Take Active Part In Defense Work

By FRANKLIN MULLIN

Farmers, just like all other citizens of the country, must be in a position to shoulder their part of the national defense load, according to Hugh L. Huff, county supervisor for the Farm Security Administration. And those farmers, he added, who have security of tenure, who can produce an ample supply of food and yet protect the soil and conserve the moisture will be better able to help in times of emergency.

Huff believes it is time for landlords to be thinking about the tenants who will farm their places next year. He cited a number of reasons why a tenant, if he has been satisfactory, should be told at the time he may continue on the farm another year or even longer.

"If the landlord and the tenant make a contract now for next year it will profit both parties," Huff said. "They can plan for cover crops, improvements in the buildings and perhaps acquire needed machinery and livestock."

Huff reports definite progress in landlord-tenant relations in Midland county. He said a check of the 62 tenant families in this county on the FSA program shows that 15 of them have leases of from two to five years and that 7 families have written leases with renewal clauses.

"The Farm Security Administration," Mr. Huff said, "has been working for improved landlord-tenant relations. We have tried to cooperate with landlords in finding good tenants and we have been working with tenants to secure long-time leases in order that the farms of this country can be operated at a profit and conserved rather than mined."

Huff cited a well-known fact that tenants who move each year usually are compelled to mine the soil in order to make the most out of it and leave it poorer than before. He said a short term lease cannot justify the landlord or tenant to build up the soil or make improvements to the farmstead.

The supervisor said the FSA has flexible farm lease forms for landlords and tenants and that he would be glad to explain them to all interested parties.

"We hear a great deal about national defense," Huff said, "but as far as agriculture is concerned, a necessary contribution toward national defense is to restore opportunity to low-income and disadvantaged farm families and to protect the soil of the landlords of this nation."

Livestock Owners Reaping Harvest Of Rising Prices

By FRANKLIN MULLIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Livestock producers who have animals fattened or being fed for slaughter are beneficiaries of what market experts today called the most encouraging development in the commodity price situation since winter. Sharply higher hog and cattle prices, which livestock men here attributed largely to good consumer demand coincident with industrial activity and the national defense program, have increased the value of farmers' hogs about 40 per cent and his best cattle more than 20 per cent since late in June.

Cattle and calves ranked second and hogs third in importance as income producers in 1939, accounting for almost one-fourth of farmers' cash returns from marketings, including government payments. Livestock men said beef cattle is one of the few farm products selling above so-called "parity" which is considered the basis of fair exchange value between prices farmers pay and receive.

It has been about a year or more since farmers could talk about near $7 hogs and $13 steers. In fact, the general average of killing steers is the highest in almost three years.

A current average hog price of around $6.70 per hundredweight in Chicago compared with less than $5 in June and close to $5 a year ago. Average was above $12 in 1937.

An average price of more than $12 per hundredweight for choice and prime steers compared with less than $9 a year ago. Choice steers brought $13.25 here yesterday, highest since May, 1919. Prices rose more than $2 with the outbreak of the war.

Following her appearance in several little theatre offerings, Anne signed a long-term contract after one of the shortest interviews of its kind in movie records—just 47 seconds.

The interview consisted of but three questions and answers. No, she never had acted on the stage professionally. No, she never had been in pictures. Yes, she would like to be in pictures. That was all there was to it. The studio executive handed her a contract and she signed it. Not even a screen test was necessary.

The shapely red-head first won recognition with her dancing and oratory at a San Antonio high school. Then she attended Stephens College at Columbia, Mo., where her childhood ambition for a law career switched to the stage.

Coming to California, Anne obtained employment as a swim-suit model and spent her evenings in little theatre and dramatic school productions in Hollywood and Pasadena.

She plays the piano and the violin and her musical tastes tend definitely toward the classical. And, for diversion, she likes horse back riding, tennis, bowling and swimming.

A pair of Italian Mosaic ear-bobs, an heirloom in her family for several generations, and a 125-year-old Bible are her two most treasured possessions.

By TED GILL

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 29 (AP)—Curvaceous Anne Gwynne, 22-year-old Texas red-head, may yet prove to be one of movieland's latest choices for some mythical Cinderella girl contest.

Cast in minor film parts for the past year, this 117-pound former swim-suit model, through the tutelage of Director Henry Koster, has been elevated to a loftier role in her latest and most important picture. It's "Spring Parade," now in production at Universal Studios, featuring Deanna Durbin.

Anne, who was named Marguerite Gwynne Trice when she was born in Waco, Tex., on December 10, 1918, is cast in her new picture as Jenny, the bakery shop girl. She is Deanna's close friend and confidante and flirts with every man who comes within range of her big hazel eyes. It's a good role and one which may hoist her another big rung up the Hollywood ladder of success.

FEMININE FANCIES

By Kathleen Eiland

This is indeed a changing world (and we have no reference to maps in the geography when we say that). Last year we became aware of nylon as a practical form of cloth, shall we say? made from air, water, and coal.

Yesterday we were confronted with some of the prettiest shower curtains we have ever beheld and were told they were nylon made from cotton. How come? we inquired, or words to that effect.

Our ignorance was enlightened by learning that there are two grades of rayon and that the more expensive grade (according to the salesman) is the nylon made of cotton.

Of course, we have no technical knowledge of materials but, whatever it is made of, the new nylon is beautiful in white or colors, with designs in delicate tones of silver, white, or black, or even in colored prints.

The new material is also said not to stick or crack, can be pressed with a warm iron (though who wants to press shower curtains?) and has other desirable qualities.

Patriotic note: In considering purchases, Texans might likewise consider that the state raises much cotton and the more of the new nylon used the more cotton sold, and so forth and so forth.

One of the novel new necklaces we like is made of real pine cones cut in half, so that one side is flat, and strung with flat leaves of green composition on a plastic link chain.

For those who want their woody necklace to be a bit more sophisticated and a bit less realistic, the pine cones are strung with leaves of red or of blue.

INTERPRETING THE WAR

By DeWitt MacKenzie Associated Press Staff Writer

Bombs raining on England and Germany almost drown out other operations but there are two matters of great importance to the battle of Britain which at the moment fall within the field of words rather than bullets—(1) The anxious efforts of the Hitler-Mussolini brotherhood to prevent a Balkan war, and (2) the growing Franco-British animosity.

The German and Italian foreign ministers, Von Ribbentrop and Count Ciano, met in Vienna today with representatives of Rumania and Hungary to try to compose the volcanic quarrel resulting from the Hungarian claim to Rumanian Transylvania. A Balkan war might easily grow out of this fight, and that might represent a catastrophe for the axis powers.

There are two vital reasons why Hitler and Mussolini must maintain peace in the peninsula. One is that they must have the vast supplies of war materials and foodstuffs which they get from the Balkans. The other is even more important—that of keeping Russia in hand.

The ways of the spine of Moscow, Josef Stalin, are all but inscrutable—but not quite. The axis partners have given indications that they suspect him of intending to increase his influence through the Balkan situation.

The tenseness of the situation in the Balkans, and the great potentialities of damage to the axis cause, undoubtedly have had considerable to do with Hitler's delay in

In Battle Tonight

By ARNOLD DERLITZKIE.
CHICAGO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Two of the nation's greatest collections of football stars will be looking for a break tonight—a break in the deadlock existing between the collegians and the professional champions after six meetings.

The 1940 crop of college all stars and Green Bay, the professional champions, clash in the seventh annual charity game at Soldier Field, with a record crowd of 85,000 expected.

Since 1934 the collegians and the pros each have won two games, lost two and tied two. Last year the New York Giants defeated the all stars 9 to 0.

Showers were forecast, but in the event of dry footing observers predicted a wide open game replete with running and passing.

Outstanding for Green Bay is its stellar passing combination of Arnie Herber to Don Hutson or Cecil Isbell. The all stars offer such passing experts as Nile Kinnick of Iowa, Kenny Washington of UCLA and Ken Heineman of Texas Mines.

Field Is Cut to 16

BY TOM REEDY
HERSHEY, Pa., Aug. 29 (AP)—The boys with the power and the class were in control of the 1940 professional golf championship tournament today as the field narrowed to 16 contestants.

Eighteen-hole matches yesterday cut down three-fourths of the 64 qualifiers. The survivors except Little Paul Runyan, represent the longest hitters in golf. Runyan has learned to use his short clubs so well he manages to get around with the blasters. The only top-notchers who failed to get by yesterday were Craig Wood and Jimmy Demaret, who hasn't been so successful since his big winners on the last winter tour. Also knocked out were Jimmy Thompson and Harry Cooper, but this is not a rarity for either.

For the first time, Ralph Guldahl, twice open champion, had the opportunity to play a 36-hole match in the P. G. A. Always before, he lost in one of the shorter distance competition yesterday against two competitors was just about the best golfer of the day.

Walter Hagen, five-time P. G. A. titlist, and Gene Sarazen, who won it three times, kicked the old adage of youth-being-served out the window. Both hustled around in just about par against opponents who were unable to match their skill and experience.

To this point, none has played better than the defending champion, Henry Picard, who takes on Sarazen today. Picard has been eight under par for the 50 holes he played this week. Dick Metz, the medalist at 140, went up against former open champion Byron Nelson. Hagen, confronted by Harold (Jug) McSpadden, has been only one over par in his matches.

Anti-Trust Charges
Filed Against Eight

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP)—A federal grand jury investigating alleged anti-trust law violations in various war industries today indicted five corporations and eight individuals on charges of conspiring to control the production and sale of bentonite.

The substance is a natural clay used in heavy materials vital to national defense, such as castings of artillery guns, airplane motor blocks, and tank and tractor treads. The indictment, the third returned by the jury in as many days, alleged that the defendants controlled more than 90 per cent of the total bentonite production in this country.

Freight Reductions Protests Denied

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission denied today a plea by the trucking industry for suspension of railroad tariffs reducing thousands of rates on less-than-carload shipments within the south, between the north and the south, and from the midwest to the south.

While refusing to suspend the tariffs, the ICC ordered an investigation into their "lawfulness." The reduced rates are to go into effect September 1.

The American Trucking Association, Inc., and affiliated organizations, which led the opposition to the reductions, described them as a "thinly disguised attempt to destroy the motor carrier industry."

The railroads replied that it was an attempt to make rail rates on merchandise traffic "conform to modern trends of transportation."

Patrick's Wildness Gives the Borger Gassers Sweep of Series

BORGER, Aug. 29 (Special).—The Borger Gassers scored eight runs in the second inning here last night to take the third and final game of the series and the final of the year from the Midland Cowboys, 13-3.

The Cowboys left today for Pampa where they will play for the next three nights, returning home for one game Sunday and two Monday to wind up the season with the Odessa Drillers.

Bill Patrick went the route for the Cowboys last night, giving up only eight hits but allowing 11 walks and hitting one man to make the victory easy for the home club.

The eight runs tallied in the second came on four hits, four walks and an error by right fielder Jennings.

Rightfielder Short walked in the third inning and Manager Nell followed up with a home run. Bolton and Congour singled in the ninth but could not push a run around as Hausman forced Kanagy to ground out to end the game.

Hale Only Cowboy To Capture Place On All-Star Team

Selection of the 1940 all-star team of the West Texas-New Mexico League produced the largest field of candidates in the history of the circuit. There was a wide divergence of opinion at almost every position.

As a result, there were no unanimous choices, although several of the players, who landed on the mythical nine did so with wide and clear cut margins of ballots.

Jodie Beeler of Lamesa was picked as the all-star hot corner guard with no room for dispute. The same holds true of Steve Niedziela of Lubbock at the second sacker.

Grover Seitz of Pampa, the center fielder, Ed Schweda of Lubbock, in right field and Rex Dilbeck of Pampa the team's southpaw pitcher.

None of them, however, could poll the vote of every writer. There was none within one vote of unanimous selection.

One of the stiffest fights of the campaign was waged around the naming of a righthanded pitcher. There was no less than eight hurlers nominated for the job and it took comparatively few votes to gain a margin.

The race simmered down to Lloyd Patterson of Lamesa and Russell Crider of Amarillo, with the former getting the call by slimmest of margins. Both had the same number of first-choice votes, but the second-choice ballot of one scribe gave what edge there was to Patterson and installed him as the righthanded chucker.

Bob Gilchrist of Borger had almost as close a call in winning out as the team shortstop. He and Don Wolin of Odessa ran abreast during most of the battle of ballots, and it was one first-choice vote that swung the balance in Gilchrist's favor.

There are two holdovers on the 1940 team, Gordon Nell of Borger in left field, and Seitz, the center gardener, having been given all-star recognition last year.

Following past custom, the team was selected by a vote of the league writers, the ballots being collected and tabulated by the National Association press bureau. Honorable mention is given players who were mentioned in the voting but did not tally sufficient ballots to gain places on the team.

HONORABLE MENTION: Sanders, Altenburg, Denorio, Duarte, Crider, Fullenwider and Dorman of Amarillo; Drake, Hajduk, Gastino and Schlereth of Lubbock; Wagner, Adkins, Smith, Stone, Shirley, Rogers and Taylor of Clovis; Sealing, Wolin, Garbe and Ramsdell of Odessa; Decker, Scopetone, Short, Potocar, Hausman and Crues of Borger; Barnhill, Naranjo, Johnson, Lucas and Greer of Midland; Spangler, Gwynne, Hood, Brown, Pride, Tate and Carr of Lamesa; Jordan, Malvica, Summers, Hall-bourgh and Vajnoy of Pampa.

Seven Teams Remain In Semi-Pro Tourney

WICHITA, Kas., Aug. 29 (AP).—It's "do" or "die" for the 1939 champion and runnerup in the National Semi-Pro tournament tonight.

Duncan, Okla., last year's titlist, puts its crown on the block in a fourth round clash with Natron, Pa., while Mt. Pleasant, Tex., which finished No. 2 a year ago, meets Chicago. The four teams have lost one game each. The losers will drop out of the tournament.

Mr. Pleasant pared the field to seven teams last night by eliminating Worcester, Mass., 6-5, after Enid, Okla., handed Sanford, N. C., its first defeat 11-0. Houston is the only other team still in the running.

Twenty-four state commissioners were re-appointed today by Ray H. Dumont president of the National Semi-Pro Congress. They included A. H. Kirksey, Waco, Texas.

Approximately 3,500,000 drivers, alone, are employed by all the trucking companies of the United States.

Oiler-Rebel Series Opening Tonight to Decide Fourth Place

By The Associated Press The showdown in the battle for fourth place and a spot in the Texas League play-off comes tonight when the stumbling Dallas Rebels tackle Rogers Hornsby's streaking Oklahoma City Indians.

The Redskins move into Dallas for three games and unless the Rebels can take them all, they will just about write "to be" to their chances of joining Houston, San Antonio and Beaumont in the play-off.

Oklahoma City leads Dallas by six and one-half games. Dallas snapped a nine-game losing streak by beating Dizzy Dean and the Tulsa Oilers 9-5 last night. Dean had just been recalled by the Chicago Cubs.

Oklahoma City beat Fort Worth 7-6; Howard Krist won his twenty-second pitching victory of the season with a 2-1 decision for Houston over Shreveport and Les Mueller pitched San Antonio to a 2-1 win over Beaumont.

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 29 (AP).—Ernie Lain, the pudgy halfback whose brilliant work in the Rice Institute backfield made him a football headliner for three seasons, failed to make the grade with the Washington Redskins of the National Professional Football League.

Rain Keeps American League Top Clubs From Play; White Sox Win

BY SID FEDER Associated Press Sports Writer The only thing missing when Jimmy (do it with minors) Dykes opened his new bowling and soda emporium in Philadelphia the other night was for the international society of magicians to present him with an engraved card as an honorary member.

If ever a fellow rated it for reaching into hats and pulling out surprises, to the confusion of most of the American League's first division, Jimmy is the lad. He's been doing it for years, too, with his Chicago White Sox. He's winding up his sixth full season as Sox boss, and he stands a good chance to finish in the first division for the fourth time. He's only a game away as a result of his 3-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox yesterday in the only American League game to get by the rain.

Jimmy has been doing his tricks year after year with a collection of baseballers which at best, is nothing to go into ecstasies over. Five of his seven regular pitchers and five of those seeing most action in other spots are over 30. Jimmy, himself, is a mere 43 and still on the active playing list. This year, the Sox took two straight from Detroit when the Tigers were fighting to keep Cleveland out of first place, and knocked off Boston five out of six just when the Red Sox were in third place and trying to climb. He's even-up with the Bostonians as a result of yesterday's win, which was turned in by the five-hit elbowing of Bill Dietrich, who wasn't even good enough to stay with the Athletics, and an eight-inning run-making double by Larry Rosenthal.

In the National League, the pennant race became a seven-team affair yesterday. The Phillies, who never had a chance, dropped both ends of a doubleheader to excellent elbowing of Pittsburgh pitchers Truett Sewell and Joe Bowman, and were eliminated mathematically from the flag chase. Sewell tossed a three-hitter in the opener for a 5-0 win, and Bowman came back with a six-hitter for a 5-2 decision.

The New York Giants climbed back into a tie for third place by touncing the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-2, largely on homers by Jojo Moore and Tony Cucinello. Dick Erickson's steady twirling gave the Boston Bees an 8-3 edge over the Chicago Cubs, dropping the Cubs in to sixth place. The loop's two pacesetters, Cincinnati and Brooklyn, were rained out.

LYNN, Mass. (UP) — Jeremiah O'Byrne, 35, was injured critically when he stumbled and fell into a dog's earthenware dish. Twenty-five stitches were required to close the scalp wounds he suffered in the accident.

Fire Truck Runs 30 Years. OLIVET, Mich. (UP)—The first motorized fire truck is still in service despite 30-odd years of service. The truck was built by the Olds motor works at Lansing and used in the capitol city for 15 years before being sold to Olivet.
