Winners Will Get Prizes At Tonight's Midland Rodeo Performance

Record Crowd Attends Sunday Show, Witnesses Wedding on Horseback; Memorial Service Will Be Tonight

With a memorial service and the awarding of prizes to winners as added features, Midland Rodeo officials prepared to handle a record crowd tonight at the final performance of the sixth annual show.

Tonight's big show will get underway at 8 o'clock and all features which have attracted large crowds will be unrepeated once more, plus extra attractions. This afternoon's performance was enjoyed by a crowd approximately as large as the record Sunday crowds.

Attendance at last night's show set a new record for Sundays with an estimated 4,500 persons in the grandstand. The afternoon show attracted about 4,000 persons.

About 150 Colorado City residents, including their high school band, attended this afternoon's show. Attendance at the show tonight will be increased by approximately 300 Big Spring residents who reported this morning they would be here. Two hundred tickets sent to Big Spring late last week had been sold this morning and a call was made for 100 more by officials in charge of the Big Spring motorcade. The group expects to arrive here about 6 o'clock.

Prizes to Girl Sponsors. Prizes to eight of the girl sponsors were awarded at the show this afternoon. The prizes, valued at more than $1,000, were contributed by business firms. The field of 31 sponsors entered was split by officials to be the largest ever recorded at any rodeo.

Last night's crowd was swelled by the horseback wedding feature which was credited with attracting several hundred persons. So closely packed were the spectators that the bride and groom that not more than half dozen of the rodeo officials knew it.

Throughout the afternoon and night shows Sunday the customers whooped it up as contestants in the various riding and roping events "shot the works" for records and cash. Rodeo officials unanimously agreed that the stock night proved the toughest of all time to handle. Very few rides were registered as one after another of the cowboys turned to earth.

320 Children Are Saved When Big Liner Torpedoed

LONDON, Sept. 2 (AP)—Three hundred and twenty children rescued from Britain's first torpedoed refugee liner were brought home today to boast to their parents that it took them only three and a half minutes to jump out of bed and get to their lifeboat stations.

Their lack of panic and their thorough training for such an emergency brought all of them through safely, the ministry of information announced, when the ship taking them to Canada was hit last Friday night.

The vessel remained afloat, it was announced, but the children were removed in life boats and transferred to rescue vessels.

News Withheld. The ministry, which withheld the news until last night, did not name the liner nor did it say where the torpedoing occurred.

(German spokesmen said it was "noteworthy" the British named neither the ship nor the place of the reported torpedoing, and added that "Germany x x x isn't in the business of sinking child refugee ships.") They said no U-boat commander reported an attack on any such ship. They suggested the liner might have run into a mine.

The ministry said the only casualty was the ship's purser, who slipped as he was entering a lifeboat and was drowned.

One Rider Didn't "Stay Put"

Champion Roper and Prize

Miss Margaret Owens of Big Lake, Miss 1939 at the rodeo held here last year, is shown above leading from the arena the dun horse presented her by Clarence Scharbauer of Midland after she had won first place in the cowgirl calf roping contest. Miss Owens turned in a time of 20.8 seconds, comparable with the times turned in by many of the male contestants.

Crowds Cheer as British Fighters Roar Up to Meet Assault and Knife Into Raiders, Routing Them Twice

By The Associated Press
Hitler's aerial legions smashed through English coastal defenses to storm London late today after twice being routed in fierce counterattacks by RAF pursuit planes and anti-aircraft fire.

It was the British capital's second air-raid alarm of the day.

Crowds in the streets of London cheered as RAF fighters roared up to meet the assault and knifed into the raiders dodging behind banks of clouds in the summer skies.

At least 15 Nazi bombers were reported to have penetrated the capital's outer ring of defenses.

After an hour and 28 minutes, the German bombers sped away and the "all clear" siren gave London's dense-packed millions at least a temporary respite.

The air ministry reported that 25 Nazi planes had been shot down in air fights since last midnight.

Earlier, British RAF pounded both axis foes with renewed intensity, bombing German long-range gun bases from Cape Gris Nez to Boulogne in Nazi-occupied France, touching off a 47-minute air raid alarm in Berlin and once more attacking northern Italy's industrial region.

Along with these far-ranging forays, the RAF's home defense fighters broke up a wave of 50 German daylight raiders thrusting at the London area at breakfast time. In southeast Europe, riotous anti-German and anti-Italian demonstrations throughout Rumania exploded a serious new crisis—arising from the axis-forced siding of northern Transylvania from Rumania to meet Hungarian demands.

Must Check Agitation. Semi-official German sources in Bucharest asserted that Nazi troops would march into Rumania and occupy the entire kingdom if the nation-wide agitation is not immediately checked.

In the battle against Britain, Nazi warplanes dived across the channel in waves directed at the London area, but the British claimed an increasingly air-tight defense.

The British capital underwent a 46-minute alarms as anti-aircraft guns along the Thames Estuary threw up a blazing curtain to enmesh the raiders and RAF pursuit planes attacked the Nazi formation in dogfights 20,000 feet above the Thames. Six, possibly seven, German bombers were reported shot down, one in flames.

Britons took heart, too, from a message by Prime Minister Winston Churchill declaring that "command of the air is being gradually and painfully x x x wrested from the Nazi criminals."

Berlin reported German Luftwaffe fliers were roaring across the channel in large numbers, heavily bombing southeast England—apparently in the "hell corridor" region from Dover to London.

Claims Differ. Nazis asserted the British lost at least 62 planes yesterday, with only nine German planes missing. The British listed 25 Germans shot down, with 15 RAF planes lost.

Italy, which just a year ago today proclaimed her neutrality, saw RAF raiders attack the provinces of Lombardy and Piedmont, but Mussolini's high command reported no casualties and little damage.

First Guardsmen Will Report for Service Sept. 16

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—National Guard mobilization was under way today, with the first contingent of 60,000 citizen-soldiers ordered by President Roosevelt to report to the colors Sept. 16 for a year's active duty with the regular army.

The presidential order, issued yesterday, meant the first peace-time tour of service for the guard in the nation's behalf since the days of 1916 when Guard units were used along the Mexican border while General John J. Pershing led a punitive expedition of regulars across the Rio Grande in search of Pancho Villa.

The 60,000 men ordered out represent more than one-fourth of the total guard strength the war department ultimately plans to have mobilized. The guard's present strength is given as 242,000, but the discharges and the elimination of the physically unfit are expected to reduce the number to 220,000, or less.

Units From 26 States. Units in 27 states were affected by Mr. Roosevelt's order. They contain men from New York, New Jersey, North Carolina, Tennessee, South Carolina, Georgia, Oklahoma, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Washington, Idaho, Oregon, Montana, Wyoming, New Hampshire, Delaware, Illinois, Missouri, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Maine, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Virginia and Arkansas and California.

The high command has said full mobilization of the guard was essential for training of the conscript army contemplated under the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military service legislation passed by the Senate and pending in the House.

Guardsmen below the rank of captain who have dependents to support will be given 20 days to resign. Those under 18 will be discharged.

When they report, the guard units will become a part of the army of the United States and will come under complete control of the regular army staff.

Spirit of Frontiersman Needed to Preserve Freedom of Individual, President Roosevelt Tells Nation

NEWFOUND GAP, Tennessee—North Carolina Boundary, Sept. 2 (AP)—President Roosevelt told an audience on the mile-high crest of the Great Smoky Mountains today that "the greatest attack that has ever been launched against freedom of the individual is nearer the Americas than ever before."

To meet that attack, he said, "we must prepare before hand—for preparing later may and probably would be too late."

In an address in which he dedicated the Great Smoky Mountains National Park "to the free people of America," the chief executive called for "absolute national unity" in the interests of total defense.

Looking across hazy ridges of mountains and a region little changed since pioneers days, Mr. Roosevelt observed that the spirit of the frontiersman was needed in this hour.

"We are all Americans," "We need a conviction, felt deep in us all," he added, "that there are no divisions among us. We are all members of the same. We are all Americans."

"We are free today. If we join together now—men, women and children—and face the common menace as a united people, we shall be free tomorrow."

Mr. Roosevelt warned that the American people must be prepared to make sacrifices to achieve a strong defense. But he said they need have no fear of losing social improvements that have come to them in later years.

Retain Better Living. "We need not swap the gain of better living for the gain of better defense," he asserted. "I propose to retain the one and gain the other."

To advocate or legislate a greater and speedier preparedness, the chief executive assured his listeners, was not a change from the American way of life.

"It is," he said, "a positive protection to the American way of life."

Food Prices Cause Riots. BELGRADE, Sept. 2 (AP).—Hundreds of persons demonstrated in Belgrade, Zagreb and other Yugoslav cities today following increases in food prices. Several were injured in a clash with police. Price rises were said to have resulted from a shortage of food caused by heavy shipments to Germany and Italy.

Airmen Busy in Other Sectors. CAIRO, Egypt, Sept. 2 (AP).—Day-long British air raids on the port of Assab, Eritrea, were reported by a Royal Air Force communique. Port buildings and warehouses were hit in "a series" of attacks, it said, on the Italian port near the narrow Strait of Bab el Mandeb.

FDR Dedicates Tennessee Dam To 'Total Defense'

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 2 (AP)— Amid the thundering applause of thousands of southerners, President Roosevelt dedicated mammoth Chickamauga dam today to the "total defense" of America.

"Today we are facing a time of peril unmatched in the history of the nations of all the world," the president said.

Mr. Roosevelt spoke to a crowd estimated by those in charge of the celebration at 50,000. He sat in an open car beneath a scorching sun, and his words were carried to the nation by radio.

The chief executive arrived in Chattanooga in mid-morning from his home at Hyde Park, N.Y., and with Mrs. Roosevelt, Governor Prentice Cooper of Tennessee and Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.), motored the eight miles to the dam. The route took him over flag decked streets, with nearly every telephone pole bearing a political placard urging: "Carry on with Franklin D. Roosevelt."

"People Uniting." Removing his straw hat, the president began speaking. He dedicated the dam and the TVA lake system to: "The benefit of all the people, the faith they have stimulated, the hope they have inspired, the hearts that they encourage—the total defense of the United States of America."

"The TVA, Mr. Roosevelt asserted, supplies a demonstration of what 'a democracy at work can do,' of a people uniting 'in a war against waste and insecurity.'

"New defense industries are more safe from attack in this region because the mountains that they are located on our more exposed borders," he asserted.

"Use Natural Resources" "It is, therefore, good for our safety to develop further and to use the natural resources and the manpower of this region."

He asserted "that the building up of army and navy equipment and the training of men to use it ought not to result in a waste of our national resources, and at the same time ought not to break down the gains of labor or the maintenance of 'living wages.'"

KNOX TO SEE NAVY DRILLS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—Secretary Knox plans to leave tomorrow by plane for Hawaii to join the U. S. Navy in maneuvers at sea.

Nazis Threaten to Occupy Rumania If Nation-Wide Agitation Not Checked

BUCHAREST, Sept. 2 (AP).—Semi-official German sources, angered by continuing anti-axis demonstrations, declared today that German troops would occupy all of Rumania if the nation-wide agitation is not checked.

The Rumanian government struggled to quell angry demonstrations against last week's axis-dictated arbitration which gave northern Transylvania to Hungary.

It was announced officially that 281 "alarmists" were sentenced to concentration camps.

Two members of the pro-Nazi iron guard, one of them a former cabinet member, were under "house arrest" and at least one other former minister was in jail.

King Carol's palace, public buildings and the German and Italian legations remained under heavy guard as the cry of "death to traitors" echoed throughout the kingdom.

Demonstrations at Brasov, where Nazi flags were torn down over a violent protest of German officials, particularly have aroused Nazi ire.

Further arrests of prominent persons regarded as responsible for yesterday's outbursts were reported and many others were under detention at their homes to prevent them from organizing new demonstrations.

High Meeting Called. Transylvania leaders, nevertheless, issued a call for a mass meeting next Sunday at Brasov and said hundreds of thousands would assemble there to voice a united protest.

Armored cars and troops patrolled Rumania's principal cities. Scenes of wild disorder reached a new pitch this morning when a mob broke into the German consulate at Brasov, ripped down pictures of Adolf Hitler and trampled the Nazi flag.

At Cluj, ancient capital of Transylvania and site of the most violent disturbances, the Italian consul was dragged from his residence and beaten.

(Reports from Budapest said the Hungarian government was holding 80,000 troops ready to march into Cluj, particularly have aroused Nazi ire. (See RUMANIA, page 5)

Share the Burden With the Guard

Soon now members of the national guard and reserve corps are going to begin leaving civilian life for a year's tour of duty on active service.

The uniform is going to be seen in places where it has seldom been seen in the past. Thousands of families and business offices and factories will see the vacant chair, the cleared desk, the bench or machine on which a new hand is being "broken in."

In the past, national guard and reserve corps service did not mean those things. These peacetime soldiers gave up their regular vacation time to learning how to defend their country. Their absences in training were brief.

But now being called up for training means real disruption in personal and working lives. It is no longer enough that American soldiers can be given brief courses in fundamentals and called ready. War as Europe presents it to our eyes today means skill and teamwork comparable to that of a well-oiled football team. This takes time. These young men are giving it.

All honor to them! These national guardsmen and reserves are the men who saw the need when the rest did not see it. They are the ones who gave evenings, and weekends, and vacations to their country when the rest were indifferent. They have had unpleasant service to perform in cases of domestic disorder or natural catastrophe. They have been sneered at as "tin soldiers," and sniffed at by the complacent.

They stuck to their organizations in the lean years when nobody cared. Now the nation calls them first. Now they look better than the sneerers and sniffers.

The duty on which they will soon embark is not theirs alone. Those who do not go also have a duty. It is to co-operate and help in every possible way to minimize the sacrifices they make.

So far as possible their jobs should be kept ready for their return, so that in addition to a year of their lives, they need not also face the prospect of "beginning over" when their training is over. Consideration and help for their families and obligations are in order.

These young men are about to shoulder, voluntarily, their obligations as citizens to bear arms in defense of their country.

This does not shift the obligations of others to their shoulders. It creates additional obligations for those who do not march.

Bucking Horses Injure Two Cowboys at Rodeo

Harold Dixon, Carlsbad, N. M., cowboy, competing in the Midland rodeo, was taken to a hospital yesterday for treatment of injuries suffered when the bareback bronc he was riding tossed him to the ground.

After an examination, Dixon was dismissed. His injuries were not serious.

Another cowboy, Jimmie Coleman, also of Carlsbad, was injured slightly when thrown from a horse but was able to continue in the show.

Wallace Says Cotton Crop Can't Be Reduced Further

CHICAGO, Sept. 2 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace, who resigned as secretary of agriculture to become the democratic vice president nominee today, said today he thought the south had almost reached the minimum for its cotton acreage.

"I think the south's cotton acreage had to be reduced," he said in an address prepared for a "non-political" appearance at the American negro exposition. "But we can't cut much further. If we do, we stop eating and begin starvation."

PRAIRIE MOONLIGHT WORKS MAGIC

CAST OF CHARACTERS

CARRIE LANE — an eastern girl who came into the frontier west to find a home.

MARK DEUEL — a homesteader who keeps his business to himself.

ASHTON OAKS — a land agent, with town lots to sell.

YESTERDAY: Mark and Carrie go to a dance with the Taylors. They have a perfect evening until Oaks, drunk, tries to dance with Carrie, shouts that he spent the afternoon with her at Rock Creek, Deuel, infuriated, slugs the agent and Oaks is hurled from the hall. Supper call breaks the tension, but Carrie is filled with fear for the future.

CHAPTER VII

CARRIE was to move into her new soddy home on Monday. Late Sunday, after dinner with Mark, she had driven back to Rock Creek with the Taylors so as to get an early start on the soddy next morning.

After breakfast, Ed Taylor hooked up his team, threw his plow in the wagon and pulled up in front of his soddy for his wife and Carrie. They were ready with a big lunch basket, Mrs. Taylor remarking that this day called for some sort of celebration in honor of their new neighbor.

Carrie would never forget that morning, the utter quietness of the prairie, its tremendous sweep, the grasshoppers stirring up before the wagon, the sun beating down so that it seemed to touch fire to the early morning breeze.

Big Ed was concerned about his small patch of corn, withering in the shimmering heat. He stopped the wagon once, got down and examined the browning tassels.

"Got to have rain soon," he observed, "if it's going to make it." He looked up at the wagon, winked at Carrie. "No corn, no mush this winter."

Carrie laughed but suddenly she was struck by the picture behind that thought. Winter and desolation and wilderness, and if there were no crops, if she couldn't reach town, no food. She shivered in the sunshine. "This is no place for a woman—alone," the words came back to her.

But, as usual, Carrie hid her thoughts. She took up the conversation where the Taylors left off.

"No mush at Taylor's," said Carrie. "Then we'll have cake!"

It was still early when they pulled up on the knoll across Rock Creek which Carrie had selected for her soddy. But already Mark was there to meet them, sitting cross-legged on the grass while his horse grazed nearby.

"Bout time you're getting here," Mark rose, greeted them. "Where you been all morning?"

Carrie was overjoyed. "Why, we've eaten an enormous breakfast, and we rode into town to shop already—didn't you see us?" She stopped breathless, climbing down from the wagon as Mark stepped up to assist her.

"Well, I don't see why you couldn't have let me in on some of that breakfast," he grinned. "I'm about starved. I must have missed you in town this morning."

Ed Taylor unhitched his team, unloaded the plow as Mark stepped up to assist her. "Now, Carrie," he said, "just tell me where you want your sitting room and I'll start right in plowing for it." He slapped the reins on his bays and set the plow on a shallow furrow along the knoll.

"That's good night, the wagon rumbled off and Mark went back to the soddy.

"Well, it's about time I get moving, too," he said to Carrie and Mrs. Taylor. "I'll be cooler riding back to town now." He thanked Mrs. Taylor for staying this first night with Carrie and Mrs. Taylor suddenly decided it was time for her to "get moving, too." She disappeared into the cool, dark soddy, explaining the bed still had to be unpacked and made up.

Mark was alone with Carrie, standing by Mark's horse in the fading moonlight. The prairie was ominously quiet, save for the funny little chirp-chirp of crickets in the grass.

"Mark," said Carrie, "I can't tell you how much it meant to have you out here today."

"Well, it meant something to me, too," Mark managed to stutter, feeling himself tense and glowing.

"I wish I might do as much for you," Carrie went on. She was close, so close Mark could almost see the color of her eyes in the moonlight. The tip of her firm little chin reached almost to his shoulder and she looked up at him now, saying words without saying anything.

Mark could hold himself no longer. "Carrie—Carrie," he cried, his voice suddenly husky, "I love you. I love you."

It was out, just like that. Neither knew what quite happened next except that Mark Deuel felt her warm little body snuggling close in his arms, felt her arms creep around his neck, till she's all over."

"Draft Industry" Amendment Is Ready for House

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—Predicting it would receive House approval, Rep. Smith (D-Conn.) announced today he had prepared a "draft industry" amendment for the pending conscription bill to substitute for the much-debated Russell-Overton provision which the Senate included when it passed the Burke-Wadsworth legislation.

The substitute, he said, closely followed the language of the existing national defense act which is operative only in wartime or when war is imminent.

Its main difference from the Senate-approved provision, he explained, was that it would leave title to the "drafted" industries in the hands of the owners, instead of having the government acquire the properties by condemnation proceedings.

Smith said the amendment he had prepared would enable the government to act just as swiftly against factory owners with whom terms could not be reached on vital defense orders. The government, however, would merely take over temporary operation of the plants and pay the owners rent.

Joseph W. Martin, Jr., chairman of the Republican national committee, proposed today that the Senate committee on campaign expenditures investigate whether the cost of President Roosevelt's "political sally into the Tennessee Valley" was being paid "out of public money."

Asserting in a prepared statement that Mr. Roosevelt "at long last has abandoned his pretense of aloof statesmanship and has decided that it has become necessary for him openly to participate" in the presidential campaign, Martin said that the "political nature" of Mr. Roosevelt's utterances today raised the question of "who is paying for this political excursion."

Mr. Roosevelt dedicated Chickamauga Dam in the TVA system today.

"Is the cost of the special train and his staff of aides being charged to the United States treasury," Martin asked, "or as it should be to the Democratic national committee."

Wendell Wilkie has given assurance that his campaign will be conducted strictly within the spirit of the restrictions placed upon expenditures by the Hatch act. This we propose to do and we expect the Democratic national committee to do likewise. But if the sizable expenses of a campaign train are charged to the United States treasury, then the Democrats have found a way not only to evade the Hatch act but also to force every taxpayer to contribute to their campaign expenses."

WACO, Sept. 2 (AP)—Waco officers today filed away what they called "a perfectly satisfactory alibi."

They were questioning a man concerning recent Coryell county cattle thefts.

MINTON SALS WAGNER ACT IS HERE TO STAY

MT. CARMEL, Ill., Sept. 2 (AP)—Senator Sherman Minton, (D-Ind.) said today that the "Wagner Act is here to stay."

"Collective bargaining is no longer a theory; it is a practical, just method that workers insist upon as their right," he declared in a prepared address at the 16th annual celebration of the Southern Indiana Labor Day Association.

Predict Big Increase in Airplane Production Soon

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—"Tremendous activity" in industries engaged in preparedness is reported by the national defense commission which forecasts a 50 per cent increase in airplane production by the end of 1940.

President Roosevelt told reporters last week that airplane deliveries would reach an annual rate of 10,000 before the end of August.

On that basis, the 50 per cent increase would mean the defense commission is expecting aircraft deliveries to approximate 1,250 monthly by the end of the year.

14-Month Old Child Is Victim of Attack Slayer

PLATTSBURG, Mo., Sept. 2 (AP)—A 14-month old girl, her bruised body found under a railroad trestle, was described today by Dr. A. D. Templeman, county coroner, as "undoubtedly" the victim of an attack slayer.

The blond, blue-eyed baby Bertha Lorene Aitken, disappeared yesterday morning. After an all-day search her body was found in 15-inches of water under the trestle, half a mile from her home.

Dr. Templeman said his examination showed she had not drowned. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Aitken. The father is a WPA worker.

The tentacles of totalitarianism were stubby on the eve of World War II, but could be seen ready to reach east and west. A war of nerves had prepared the nations of Europe for the war of steel that began Sept. 1, 1939. Now: Europe, September 1, 1940

Sept. 1, 1940, finds the black shadow of totalitarianism far flung across Europe. Twelve months of war have seen the subjection of 11 nations to the military or political conquest of three aggressor nations. Great Britain alone is left free and fighting to buck the dictator-dominated continent mapped above.

WHEN you look into the faces of the men who are America it is a heartening sight—your faith in democracy, in humanity, in man and in God wells upward in spite of today's events among other people. From American faces there radiates a degree of self-respect, self-confidence and self-reliance possessed by no other men on earth and generated by 164 years of liberty such as no other men have ever enjoyed. No other people have ever been so free, or free for so long a time.

COWBOYS WIND UP SEASON TODAY

Naranjo Homers In 12th to Cop Battle Sunday

Curtain falls on the 1940 Midland baseball season—one that finds the Cowboys mired in seventh place this afternoon when the boys meet the Odessa Drillers in a couple of games.

The first game was scheduled for 1:30, the other to follow immediately afterwards.

In the first game of the series, played yesterday afternoon, the Cowboys captured a 4-3 decision when Rube Naranjo hit a long home run over the left field fence in the twelfth inning.

Throughout the game the Cowboys could get men on base but in only two frames could they push them around. One run in the third and two in the fifth deadlocked the score at three-all and it remained that way until the 12th when, with one out, Rube leaned on a fast ball and sent it out of the lot.

The game presented just about everything wanted in the way of baseball—ranging from ragged to brilliant field, plus some lusty hitting. The prize play of the day came in the tenth inning when second baseman Barney Barnhill of the Cowboys leaped high in the air and backhanded speared a certain double off the bat of Bill Garbe.

The victory was another for Rankin Johnson, who allowed the visitors to get hits in only six innings, the last coming in the 11th.

After the visitors had picked up two runs in the second on two hit and a walk, the Cowboys bot one in the third on consecutive singles by Rudes, Johnson, Barnhill and Greer. The Drillers went two ahead again by making one in the sixth on four hits. The score was tied up in the last half of the frame on four consecutive singles by Johnson, Barnhill, Greer and Jennings. From then on neither side could score, although the Cowboys had men on base in every inning except one. However, the punch was never available until Naranjo got his four-ply blow.

The box score:

Today's Results to Determine First Place Winner in WTNM

By The Associated Press
Texas' two smaller baseball loops arrived at the last day of their regular season play with the first place winners in both dependent on the outcome of Labor Day double-headers.

The closeness of the battle for the top spot in the West Texas-New Mexico league perhaps set some sort of a record. At the end of 138 games, Amarillo and Pampa are deadlocked for first with Lubbock only a game behind.

Today Amarillo plays at Borger, Lubbock at Lamesa and Clovis at Pampa. A three-way tie for first place is possible.

In the East Texas League, the final day finds the veteran Jake Atz' Henderson Oilers one game back of the pace-setting Tyler Trojans. That is not so unusual as the West Texas-New Mexico situation, however, due to the fact the East Texas circuit started all over after reorganizing near mid-season and the teams have played only about 85 games apiece.

For practical purposes, it doesn't matter a great deal which club finishes ahead since the championships will be determined through post-season play-offs among the first four. Who will meet them in the play-offs due to start Wednesday can't be determined, however, until the order of finish is known.

The smaller baseball organizations in the state most certainly didn't get their idea for a photo finish from the Texas League. With a week to go, the bigger circuit, Houston enjoys a 17-game margin over its nearest rival.

Start of Fall Training Grind Opened by Grid Teams of State

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff
Texas Gridiron might massed today for a four-months siege.

Twenty thousand youngsters moved to the battle fronts of the nation's mightiest schoolboy sports organization.

It's the start of the twenty-first football campaign of the Texas Interscholastic League.

The largest number of schools in the history of the league will participate: 104 in Class AA, 286 in Class A, 255 in Class B and 129 in six-man football.

Last year 746 schools competed in football. This season there will be 774.

In two weeks first games will be played and the turn into October will find the championship drive under way.

Fewer than half of the district champions in Class AA are rated chances of repeating. Among those relegated to the sidelines—in pre-season predictions—are Lubbock's iron men, central figures in last fall's unforgettable gridiron drama.

Reds Apparently Have Pennant Sewed Up; Yankees Gain Again

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
Big league baseball enters the home stretch today with the two races in an almost unprecedented situation—the National League apparently decided and the American League in confusion.

The world champion New York Yankees pumped up their latest winning streak to seven straight yesterday by trouncing the Washington Senators, 3-2 and 3-0. They have won 13 of their last 14 games and 20 of their last 23.

The result of this surge has been to reduce the margin between them and the league-leading Cleveland Indians to 4 1/2 games and to only one between them and the desperate Detroit Tigers, in second place.

Whether the champions got going too late will be decided on their last western swing this month. After today they have only five more games at home while both Cleveland and Detroit have the bulk of their remaining contests at home.

Cleveland conquered the Chicago White Sox 7-4 for the 15th time in 19 games. The Tigers, however, stumbled over the St. Louis Browns.

John Niggeling allowed the Detroit sluggers only four hits and Harold Clift contributed a two-run homer toward the 8-2 victory.

The Boston Red Sox were rained out at Philadelphia.

In the National League the champion Cincinnati Reds swept a double header from the Chicago Cubs, 6-5 and 2-1 apparently to insure retention of their pennant. The club probably will announce acceptance of world series reservations if it comes through the holiday fireworks unscathed, for it has won 8 of its last 10 games and is 7 1/2 out in front of the second place Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Dodgers sewed up second place by extending their winning string to four straight in a double-header against the New York Giants, winning by 4-1 and 7-3.

The Pittsburgh Pirates padded their current winning streak to four by shutting out the St. Louis Cardinals 10-0 in the first game of a doubleheader. The second game resulted in a 6-5 tie because of the Pittsburgh curfew and was played under protest by Manager Frank Frisch after umpire George Magerkurth reversed a decision. Yes, Frisch was chased again.

Indians Can Cinch Playoff Berth by Winning One Game

By The Associated Press
Rogers Hornsby's Oklahoma City Indians can clinch a place in the Texas League play-off by beating the Tulsa Oilers in one game of their double bill at Tulsa today.

They retained their 7 1/2 game margin over the fifth place Dallas Rebels with a 10-1 drubbing of the Oilers yesterday. The drove Dizzy Dean from the mound in his last Texas League appearance. He has been recalled by the Chicago Cubs.

The San Antonio Missions climbed into a tie with the Beaumont Exporters for second place by downing the pace-setting Houston Buffs, 2 to 0, while the shippers were dropping two to the lowly Shreveport Sports, 5 to 2 and 5 to 1.

Lefty Bob Uhl, who will join the Detroit Tigers Wednesday, pitched Dallas to a 6 to 3 victory over the Fort Worth Cats, leaving the Pelicans 19 games behind the seventh place club.

Nelson, Snead to Meet in Finals of PGA Championship

HERSHEY, Pa., Sept. 2 (AP)—Sam Snead and Byron Nelson meet today in the 36 hole final for the Championship of the Professional Golfers Association, a title neither has yet held though both of have been runners-up.

Snead of Shawnee on Delaware, Pa., reached the last round yesterday by defeating Harold (Jug) McSpaden, Winchester, Mass., 5 up and 4 to play.

Nelson won from Ralph Guldahl, one up, in a bitter battle that was not conclusive until the last putt was holed on the 18th green.

These two rounds were the first to be played in sunshine and on a comparatively dry course since the tournament started last Monday. It was necessary to hold up both matches at the end of 18 holes Saturday when the rains came a deluge.

Snead went in to his second 18 holes three up on McSpaden, made it four up at the turn and ended things five holes later.

Nelson, of Toledo, Ohio, had one hole advantage over Guldahl when their last round started, stretched this to three holes at one point, then slid back to only one up as they came to the final tee where a half put Guldahl ahead of the play Both had last round 71's.

Predict Defense Program Will Cut Jobless in Half

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—Administration economists made a Labor Day prediction today that the national defense program, with conscription included, would cut unemployment in half by next July 1, reducing the number of jobless from 9,000,000 to 4,500,000.

They said they expected a gradual, sustained pickup in industrial employment to provide jobs for more than 3,000,000 men in the next ten months. Mobilization of the National Guard and the inauguration of conscription — assuming favorable congressional action on the latter — would account for another 1,000,000 reduction in unemployment by late spring, they estimated.

Leaders Want to Adjourn Congress This Month

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—Congressional leaders today appeared aiming at a stepped-up legislative tempo for the next few weeks with the unannounced hope of getting Congress to adjourn and go home sometime this month.

Some confirmation of this came from Senator Herring (D-Ia) who said leaders were pressing for action on important national defense and tax legislation "so that all of us can go home for a while."

"The public now realizes that the best thing Congress could do would be to adjourn," Senator Herring said. "There is no reason why we should not be able to quit by September 20."

Democratic leader Barkley (Ky) of the Senate was cautious about forecasting adjournment but told reporters "all important legislation should be cleared from the calendar before very long."

Senator Harrison (D-Miss), who must pilot the controversial excess profits tax bill through the Senate, said Congress should be able to adjourn by October 1.

At Least Four Persons Drown in New Jersey

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 2 (AP)—A death toll of at least four persons and property damage mounting into millions were left today in the wake of torrential rains which spread flood waters over much of a five-county area of southwestern New Jersey.

Striking yesterday, the downpour quickly sent swirling waters over highways and railroads, driving thousands from their homes and blocking Labor Day travel. A property loss of approximately $4,000,000 was indicated by surveys.

Observers said the storm was whipped up by a combination of weather factors arising from the hurricane that skirted the Atlantic seaboard.

CHICAGO BELIEVES IT HAS WORLD'S CHAMPION THIEF

CHICAGO, Sept. 2 (AP)—Police have a new contender for the title of champion thief.

Someone broke into the lobby of the Cordova apartments on the south side at night. Without waking any of the 39 families in the building, the thief quietly pushed tables, chairs, ash stands and other furniture out of the way and then departed with a 12x12 rug.

DAVID FRANKLIN HOUSTON DIES AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

NEW YORK, Sept. 2 (AP)—David Franklin Houston, 74, life insurance company executive, former educator and a member of Woodrow Wilson's cabinet through the world war president's eight years in office, died today after a brief illness.

Since the first of the year he had been board chairman of the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York, assuming this post after 13 years as president. He also was a director of the American Telephone and Telegraph company.

BOSTON BEES MADE IT SIX IN ROW WITH WIN TODAY

BOSTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—The Boston Bees made it six in a row today by winning the first game of a double header from the Brooklyn Dodgers, 7 to 6 in 11 innings.

Only 19 Boys Report to Coach For First Day of Grid Drills

Nineteen boys, the smallest field in several years, greeted high school football Coach "Bud" Taylor this morning when the first drill of the fall was held. Twenty-two boys were issued equipment yesterday but three had dropped out when time for the first drill was reached.

Elevated on the boys that reported today are lettermen, giving Taylor the nucleus of a club but leaving him sadly lacking in replacements.

Failure of seven boys to pass scholastic requirements during the final semester of the last term of school hurt considerably since Taylor was figuring on two or three of the boys being on the first string.

Heading the list of returning lettermen are Bob Eidson, a veteran of four years of experience, Wendell Williams, Jim White, Mike Buffington, Maurice Bratton, all of them more or less regular players during the 1939 season. Other lettermen are Bill Hall, Selman Coker, Ivan Hall, E. G. Foster and Herb Reinders.

Taylor will have a club that will be heavier than the Midland team of 1939 that finished second in the flag chase but lack of experience and substitutes is likely to prove a handicap that it will take a lot of luck to overcome.

For the past few seasons between 30 and 40 boys have reported for the first practice sessions but for some reason unknown to the coach, the squad sets a record this year for the small number. The coach said it was probably a few other boys would report when school opens, out of four days before the first game is scheduled.

The first game of the season will be played here with Ysleta on the night of Sept. 13, giving the coach only 13 days in which to whip the team into shape.

Labor

Industrial conflict would be stupid and dangerous," was ready to do its full part.

He attacked the Burke-Wadsworth conscription bill, however, declaring that President Roosevelt should tell Congress what military manpower is needed and recommend a "definite program to fulfill those needs" before further action on conscription.

Labor To Defend Nation
John E. Lewis, leader of the rival CIO, said in a statement that his organization stood "second to none in its determination to defend this nation and its Democratic way of life."

He charged, however, that the enemies of labor seek in the guise of promoting national defense to resume their attacks on labor's rights. They would destroy our civil liberties, they would erode the right of collective bargaining. They would increase the hours of labor. They want to conscript into the army millions of workers.

Willkie, in his Labor Day pronouncement, promised, if elected, to halt what he termed the trend toward bringing labor unions under federal control. He also appealed for national cooperation in "overcoming our present economic stagnation and wiping out unemployment."

The wage-hour administration made the annual holiday the occasion for a review of its operations in the last year, and reported that the labor standards law had brought increased wages to 1,000,000 workers and shorter hours to 2,000,000.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION WILL BE HELD SEPTEMBER 10

AUSTIN, Sept. 2 (AP)—Clarence Butcher, secretary of the state democratic executive committee, today emphasized that the state democratic convention at Mineral Wells will be September 10, not September 3.

Confusion arose because, as a result of conflict in the law, the committee originally set the date for September 3. Later, following a ruling by Attorney General Gerald Mann, the date was changed to September 10.

Chief business of the convention will be to declare the nominees of the party primaries, draft a platform and elect a new committee.

SIGHTSEES AS WELL AS FISHES

Word received by friends from Santa Fe, N. M., from the Reverend John E. Pickering who is on a holiday trip with E. G. Bedford told of catching trout at Lake El Vado and of sightseeing to points of interest in New Mexico. They have visited the village of Chimayo where the famous Indian blankets are woven, the 300-year-old mission at Santa Clara, and the ancient city of the Puyas Cliff Dwellers, which Mr. Pickering declared he enjoyed most. He will be home to preach at Sunday's services and both sermons, he said, are to be about these mountains.

Lewis Denounces Rumor Labor Delaying Defense

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—CIO leader John L. Lewis in a Labor Day speech denounced the circulation of what he called a "vicious falsehood" accusing American labor — as French workers were accused before the fall of France — of delaying national defense preparations.

At the same time he renewed his outspoken opposition to peacetime conscription, demanding a greater voice for labor in defense councils and called for use of idle men and machinery to raise the national income by $25,000,000 annually.

Lewis blamed "men in high places in the nation" as circulators of the "vicious falsehood" about labor. They do not want labor, he said, to participate in the defense program because they know labor will oppose their efforts to prevent the idea of national defense to the services of private greed.

Texas Is Ready to Put Into Action Machinery for Military Conscription

AUSTIN, Sept. 2 (AP)—Except for a few minor details Texas is ready to set in motion the machinery for military conscription, Adjutant General J. Watt Page said today.

The personnel of more than 300 selective service boards of three members each has been nominated and will be submitted for presidential appointment when congress acts finally on conscription. The names of nominees will not be made public until the president acts.

The selective service boards, one for each 35,000 population area groups of local citizens to whom draftees will report after registration which will be done through normal election machinery in each county.

Organization Work Completed

Supplementing the selective boards are appeal and medical boards for administering other phases of conscription machinery which has been tentatively set up in Texas for many months. The complex organization was mapped by the state staff of the national guard which would be placed on active army duty when conscription becomes effective.

General Page said he had received no new information as to when the 36th division and 56th cavalry brigade, Texas National Guard, might be ordered to active service. When and if the call comes the guard will not train at Camp Palacios, its normal training site. The gulf coast camp site has been turned over for use by the war department which will train anti-aircraft units there.

Willkie Statement Stirs Up Controversy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie's use of purported quotations from the hitherto secret war resources board report had a controversy simmering today.

Stephen T. Early, presidential secretary, took the Republican nominee to task last night for releasing the excerpts, on the ground they were part of a confidential government document.

Speaking to reporters on the special train taking President Roosevelt south, Early said:

"I merely will say to you that the stettinius (war resources board) report is a confidential government document. Willkie is still a private citizen and has released excerpts from a confidential government report."

Willkie, at Rushville, Ind., replied promptly:

"The president just the other day said the stettinius report was as obsolete and as historical as a report on the Civil War. Surely the government is not keeping Civil War reports confidential."

"Again I urge that the report be made public, as I am sure it will show a much more effective method of preparing our defense than is being pursued by the administration."

Willkie quoted the excerpts Saturday to support his opposition to the "draft industry" amendment which the Senate added to the Burke-Wadsworth conscription bill. The war resources board, headed by Edward R. Stettinius, submitted its report to Mr. Roosevelt several months ago but it never was made public.

Mexico Now Has Two Congresses Claiming Power

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 2 (AP)—Mexico was confronted by one of the strangest situations in her political history today as two rival congresses disputed the right to represent the people and prepared to announce election of their candidates for president.

In the turbulent national elections last July the government contends the administration candidate, Gen. Manuel Avila Camacho, defeated his independent candidate, Gen. Juan Andres Almazan.

Supporters of Almazan, now vacationing in the United States, contend he was "overwhelmingly" elected and insist he will take office as the next chief executive on Dec. 1.

Protected By Troops

Protected by a large concentration of troops, the congressional running mates of Avila Camacho took over the legislative chambers yesterday and heard President Lazaro Cardenas deliver his annual message.

Almazan's forces met secretly in a private hall and organized what they called "Mexico's only legal legislature." Jose Castro Estrada was chosen president of the chamber.

Some political observers expressed fear the unparalleled controversy might end in bloodshed, but President Cardenas, in his speech yesterday, indicated confidence the situation was in hand.
