British Fight To Break Axis Plans

Roosevelt Shows Foreign Diplomats American War Planes

408 Fighting Ships Land At New Airport

Roosevelt Says Roar of Planes Shows American Defense Determination

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP).—The United States paraded thundering hundreds of warplanes before foreign diplomats today in a demonstration which President Roosevelt explained was "just a gratifying flexing of the kind of fighting muscle democracy can and does produce."

The unheralded and impressive display of America's increasing air power came, coincidence or otherwise, close on the heels of the German-Italian-Japanese pact—interpreted by many as aimed at the United States.

The representatives of these and other powers had been invited to attend ceremonies in connection with a cornerstone laying at the new Washington airport—told only that Roosevelt would make an address and that some transport planes would land.

But they had no more than settled in their seats when from all directions of the compass came roaring flights of army and navy warplanes—sleek, trim pursuit ships and huge bombers, circling and wheeling till the air seemed filled. Altogether, officials said there were 240 army planes and 168 navy and marine craft.

A "surprise party" Raising his hand to them, the president smilingly observed that he had staged a "surprise party" for the several thousand who had come to the ceremonies.

Then, in serious vein, he said the roar of the planes was "symbolic of our determination to build up a defense on sea, on land and in the air capable of overcoming any attack."

"They represent in a small way," he added, "the power we ultimately must have—and soon will have."

He went on to say that "we all hope their missions will always be in the ways of peace."

"We shall strive with all of our energies and skills to see to it that they are never called upon for missions of war. But the more of them we have the less likely we are to have to use them—the less likely are we to be attacked from abroad."

To many in official Washington, the demonstration and the president's

To Hold Revival

Dr. C. E. Hereford

Dr. C. E. Hereford will arrive Monday to preach in the revival which opens this morning at the First Baptist Church. He is a native of West Virginia, came to Texas for his theological education and has remained here.

For several years Dr. Hereford was pastor of the North Fort Worth Church in Fort Worth, going from there to the Columbus Avenue Church of Waco. About five years ago he went to the First Church of Lubbock.

Dr. Hereford is one of the outstanding Baptist ministers of Texas, being called upon to fill engagements of denominational and evangelistic nature all over the state.

Convict Rancher At Rankin for Slaying Mother

RANKIN, Sept. 28 (AP).—A district court jury here tonight found Russell Bell, 41, World War veteran, guilty in his trial on a charge of killing his mother, Mrs. Mary Bell, 71, March 12, 1937, and fixed his punishment at 50 years in the penitentiary. He will be sentenced Tuesday.

The jury deliberated an hour and twenty minutes.

Bell will be tried next week for the murder of a brother, Wiley Bell, killed at the same time the mother was slain on a lonely ranch 12 miles from here, Alan Fraser, district attorney said tonight.

Bell directed the examination of prospective jurors and his defense generally from a cot in the courtroom.

The ranchman sought a continuance on the grounds his physical condition was such he could not stand trial, but the motion was refused.

Suit Against Major Oil Companies Is Asked by Jackson

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP).—A suit to halt alleged "price fixing" and other "existing abuses" by the nation's major oil companies was ordered today by Attorney General Robert H. Jackson.

Announcing that the anti-trust action would be filed here next week, the attorney general said that it would be restricted in accordance with recommendations of the national defense commission.

"The defense commission," he said in a letter to Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) "advised me that it would wholeheartedly approve any appropriate legal action brought to eliminate such restraints on competition where they are proven to exist."

Gillette had urged that the suits be filed.

Jackson said the defense commission had questioned the advisability of seeking to force the companies to divest themselves of their transportation facilities.

"Accordingly," he said, "this action does not seek at this time to compel the oil companies to get rid of their pipe lines, barges, or other facilities for the transportation of oil."

CHALLENGED WINS BIG HANDICAP SECOND TIME
HARVE DE GRACE, Md., Sept. 28 (AP).—W. L. Brann's Challenged won the 29th running of the $15,000-added Harve De Grace handicap today.

Welles Believes Problems Still Can Be Settled

By The Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, Sept. 28.—The State Department's under-secretary suggests today the Far Eastern problems still can be settled around a conference table—but he declared this nation is preparing "for all eventualities," and hinted at an impending extension of Pan-American defense policies.

The under-secretary, 47-year-old Sumner Welles, appeared before Cleveland's Foreign Policy Association. At one point he was asked:

"How far have we gone in the development of Pan-American policies to pave the way for equal responsibility by all Pan-American countries in the defense of all America?"

Welles, speaking calmly and solemnly, replied:

"I think there is no republic in this hemisphere not willing, prepared and disposed and may say eager—to share in a common responsibility. There may be an announcement shortly that will clarify what I mean."

Foreign Policy Explained.
The question was propounded by Dr. Brooks Enemy, the under-secretary's Cleveland host and head of the foreign affairs study group which Welles addressed. Welles gave the association the most detailed analysis of foreign policy that has come from an authorized government spokesman in many months.

Speaking by the Far East, Welles declared "there is no problem presented which could not be peacefully solved through negotiation" if there existed a sincere desire on the part of all concerned to find an equitable and a fair solution which would give just recognition to the rights and to real needs of all concerned.

Boylor Has Trouble But Defeats Teachers

WACO, Texas, Sept. 28 (AP).—The Baylor Bears stood off a dazzling North Texas passing barrage here tonight to pull out with a narrow 27 to 20 win in their opening game of the grid season.

Hitler Wrings Hands as Ribbentrop Reads Pact Declaration

A. M. East, City Engineer, Resigns Effective Oct. 1

A. M. East, city engineer, resigned Saturday effective October 1. He said he was not ready to announce his future plans.

East was employed as city engineer Oct. 15, 1937 and came here from Sweetwater.

During the three years he has paved 137 blocks of streets, constructed paved runways at the municipal airport and installed a lighting system and made other improvements at the airport.

Improvements to the water and sewer systems while he served the city amounted to about $100,000.

During the three year period, improvements made under his supervision cost more than $575,000.

Averitt To Join Combat Section Royal Air Force

Bill Averitt will leave Wednesday for Winnipeg, Canada to join the combat division of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

From Winnipeg, Averitt will be transferred to Trinidad, an advanced training base.

The son of Mr. W. T. Averitt of Rule, he has been employed as bookkeeper at the First National Bank for two and a half years.

Averitt received all his primary flying instructions in Southern California several years ago. He held a private pilot's license which he permitted to lapse when he moved here. He recently took a refreshing course in Odessa.

Michigan Crushes California 41 to 0

BERKELEY, Calif., Sept. 28 (AP).—Michigan, sparked by its all-American halfback Tom Harmon, touched off its 1940 football season today with a 41 to 0 inter-sectional victory over a hapless University of California team.

Violent Earthquake Shakes Santiago

SANTIAGO, Chile, Sept. 28 (AP).—A violent earthquake was felt in Santiago tonight. The National Telegraph said damage was suffered from Ovalle to Concepcion, about 750 miles, and that the temblor was felt violently at Ovalle, Valparaiso and Los Andes. Residents of Santiago fled to the streets.

Air Attacks Stop

LONDON, Sept. 29 (Sunday) (AP).—German air attacks on the British capital dwindled away at dawn today after what observers said was "one of the quietest nights" of 22 successive dusk-to-dawn raids.

Protest Shipment to Japan

GALVESTON, Sept. 28 (AP).—In protest against shipping of war materials to Japan, the CIO National Maritime Union placed pickets today at entrances to the dock of the Panamanian freighter Panamanian at Texas City, and K. K. Owen, agent for the N. M. U. here, said 14 members of the tanker's crew left the ship in protest. The Panamanian was loading gasoline for Japan.

Carter Announces Intention to Deepen Gaines County Mystery Well To 9,000

By Frank Gardner
Amon G. Carter, Fort Worth publisher and oil operator, yesterday announced that he will deepen his No. 4-D A. L. Wasson, on the Gaines County side of the Wasson field, to 9,000 feet.

No. 4-D Wasson has been drilled "tight" since 7-inch casing was cemented at 5,190 feet, through the regular Wasson pay. However, unconfirmed reports current this week credited it with swabbing an estimated 40 to 60 barrels of light green oil per day after acidizing with 2,000 gallons. The well was swabbed through 2 1/2-inch tubing set with packer. Exact total depth was not divulged, but it is believed to be around 6,580 feet. Source of the oil is probably lower Permian. The test is located 2,200 feet from the south and east lines of section 50, block AX, public school land.

Magnolia Petroleum Company and Atlantic Refining Company No. 11-219 Haverly & Jenny, in the Seminole pool of central Gaines, rated natural daily potential of 789.44 barrels from pay between 5-153 and 5-261 feet, total depth. Oil tested 53.3-gravity at 73 degrees, and gas-oil ratio was 741-1.

Taylor-Link Extended
Allan Hargrave of Midland No. 1 Skelly-University proved a half-mile west extension of the Taylor-Link pool in Pecos County when it flowed 250 barrels of oil in 24 hours through 2-inch tubing after acidizing with 1,250 gallons at its total depth of 1,718 feet in lime. It made 41 barrels the first hour and five the last. Tubing is set on bottom with packer at 1,882 feet. The well now is installing pumping equipment. While bottomed at 1,830 feet it had been acidized with 750 gallons but showed production of only eight barrels a day following treatment. In deepening it encountered sulphur water from 1,665-85 feet, but porous and oil-saturated lime was found from 1,705-10 feet.

With top of Simpson, middle Ordovician, expected soon, Taylor, McKee & Semonet No. 1 Mrs. V. W. Crockett, northern Pecos deep well, is drilling at 4,572 feet in Permian lime. It is a mile and a quarter south of Tex-Mex Petroleum Corporation and Magnolia No. 1-A J. H. McKee, abandoned well which lapped Simpson high at 4,775 feet and headed oil and gas from sand body of that member.

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 W. T. Shearer et ux, seeking Elenburger, lower Ordovician, production a quarter-mile northwest of the Apco deep pool of northern Pecos, had drilled to 2,475 feet in lime and anhydrite.

Landreth Production Corporation No. 1-C McDonald, shallow test in the Girvin area of Pecos, is drilling past 900 feet in anhydrite.

Nashville Defeats Houston 2 to 1

HOUSTON, Sept. 28 (AP).—Two transplanted Texans—Arnold Moser from Houston and Tommy Tatum from Fort Worth—poured it on the Texas League champions tonight as they supplied the stickwork needed to score a 2 to 1 victory for Nashville over Houston in a ten-inning struggle. The win gave the Vols a 2-1 edge in the Dixie series.

County Clerk Asks Volunteers To Aid Draft Registration

County Clerk Susie G. Noble, has issued a call for volunteer workers to assist in the registration of conscription age men in Midland County. As the number of men to be registered is close to the 1000 mark, and the time involved with each registrant will be between 20 and 30 minutes, about 50 workers will be needed.

J. Homer Epley, lieutenant in the last war, was the first man to offer his services. Cordell Taylor, Hilary Bedford, O. C. Collins, Alma Ligon, and Bertie Mitchell were others to volunteer.

Volunteer workers may be either male or female, but male workers must be under 21 or over 35 years of age.

Any non-resident registrant presenting himself will be registered. There will be no "absentee" registration—each person must register wherever he is on October 16.

General instructions to all persons within the age limits (21 to 35 inclusive) are "Register where you vote." A registration place will be provided in every precinct in the county. These places, together with the necessary equipment, will be furnished without expense to the government. They will be open from 7 a. m. until 9 p. m.

Anyone desiring to work at these places is urged to communicate with the County Clerk in the court house.

Snake Fancier Knows How To Stop Burglars

KINSTON, N. C., Sept. 28 (AP).—Ed Webster, a snake fancier, has a new kind of burglar-proofing. He says a lot of his clothes were stolen during sojourns in boarding houses in Alabama, Indiana, North Carolina, Pennsylvania and South Carolina. But now he just puts some snakes in his closet and hangs up a sign, "Beware of Snakes."

Russia's Share in Spoils Under Germany-Italy-Japan Alliance Mystery; Others Have Agreed

All Discussions of Future Plans Come From Berlin, Tokyo and Rome; Moscow Silent; Japan Will Try To Bring Russia Into the Framework of New Pact

By The Associated Press.
The share assigned to Soviet Russia in axis plans for reshaping the world remained a mystery Saturday night as Britain fought on doggedly to keep Germany, Italy and Japan from realizing their ambitions.

Also unclear was how Russia and Japan, the latter the axis' new junior partner, can avoid friction in the Orient—where the German-Italian-Japanese pact recognizes Japanese leadership.

All discussions of future plans came from Berlin, Tokyo and Rome. Moscow was silent. The members of the newly-enlarged axis, informed Nazis said in Berlin, have agreed just what share of their spoils they expect to give Russia. But they did not specify.

Axis-Japanese Pact May Mean Nazi Weakening

By Kirke L. Simpson
Associated Press Staff Writer.
A close-up of Adolf Hitler's mind as he witnessed signing of the axis-Japanese "new order" pact would clarify much that remains in doubt as to its real significance.

The signing was carried out with full pomp and circumstance, to which Hitler lent his own august presence, and the pact was hailed as a further Nazi triumph. Events alone can prove whether it was not instead a confession of defeat. Hitler's first substantial set-back.

That particular Nazi diplomatic white rabbit came out of the hat of German Foreign Minister von Ribbentrop at a time when there were many other intimations that Hitler's high command had informed him that the war with Britain was going to be a long one, not the short affair he expected. He still may order invasion of England, even a winter invasion, but his master strategists are digging in on a wide front for a long fight.

The pact ignores Britain. It is based on the assumption that British sea power has already been eliminated as a factor in both Europe and Asia. Its authors know that is not the fact.

Britain's navy, stronger than a year ago, imposes its ponderous veto power still both on Nazi invasion of England and on the European-Asian "new order" dream.

The pact may not be the capstone of Ribbentrop's effort to offset by diplomatic moves—fraught with military possibilities—the Nazi failure to crush England as quickly as she destroyed France. Spain and what's left of France in Europe remain to be fitted into the von Ribbentrop "new order" picture puzzle. Both nations have military possibilities, under Nazi domination, of far more immediate concern to Britain than Japan's if-when-and-as-alignment as a potential active foe.

Von Ribbentrop began his process of diplomatic preparation for a long instead of a short war weeks ago in the Balkans while the Nazi press still shouted invasion. The Nazi iron hand was not even gloved when it bore down on Rumania, Hungary and other Balkans to enforce territorial readjustments distasteful to all parties—but Germany.

An American resident in Germany, home for a visit, told this writer that although Nazi secret police vigilance made and open public reaction almost impossible, he was satisfied a large majority of Germans were apathetic about the war and disliked their regimented lives. The informant has lived two decades or more in Germany with connections that make his views noteworthy. He held that there were two possibilities that could arouse Germans from apathy, a serious military defeat or a near-famine winter.

More Signs of Trouble Confront French Indo-China

HANOI, French Indo-China, Sept. 28 (AP).—New signs of trouble with Thailand (Siam) confronted French Indo-China tonight.

A lone Thailand plane machine-gunned a native constabulary post 45 miles within the territory of this French colony this morning, French authorities reported.

They attributed the attack to Thailand's pressure for the return of former territory but said no casualties resulted and no steps were being taken in retribution.

The French government at Vichy has rejected Thailand's repeated territorial demands and Thailand, which now has a "good will" mission in Tokyo, has cancelled her non-aggression pact with Indo-China.

British Bomb Parts of Germany, Killing Civilians

BERLIN, Sept. 29 (Sunday) (AP).—British air raiders, attacking wide areas of Germany including Berlin's suburbs, early today dropped bombs which killed and injured a "substantial number" of civilians, a communique announced.

British bombers were active in northern and western Germany and the Ruhr industrial area, but their bombs struck residential areas without attaining military objectives, it was said.

Newspaper Week--for the Public

Sometimes folks forget what a close relationship exists between them and their daily newspaper. Because their newspaper is always on the doorstep or on the corner newsstand exactly when they expect it, they take it pretty much for granted. They forget how important it is to them—how lost they would be without it.

That's why newspaper publishers got together and decided to sponsor a National Newspaper Week from Oct. 1 to 8. They wanted to remind their subscribers that not only is the daily newspaper a vital part of everyone's life, but that the readers are a vital part of the newspaper—that without the friendly attitude of the public and its tolerance in hearing all sides of every question, there could be no free American press.

The idea of a week devoted to American newspapers really belongs to H. R. Helsby, editor of the Olean (N. Y.) Times Herald. Helsby got his inspiration more than a year ago. On Aug. 5, 1939, he told his readers about it in an editorial. He wrote:

After all, the American newspaper is one of the bulwarks of American democracy—one of the safeguards of Americanism as we know it.

And it is not only a safeguard, it is a safeguard which belongs to the people themselves.

Helsby talked things over with his readers at that time—told them what an indispensable part they played in the operation of an untrammelled press:

A newspaper, to be successful, must appeal to the rank-and-file of people. It must provide information, entertainment and inspiration. It is entirely dependent upon the good will of the public; and nothing its owners or its staff can do can perpetuate it if that good will is forfeited.

This unassailable fact is an irrefutable answer to those who so continually charge that a newspaper is "controlled" by this or that interest.

A newspaper is controlled, primarily, by its subscribers who like it well enough to buy it. If they don't like it well enough to buy it, there simply isn't any newspaper.

Never before has the newspaper played such a dominant role in American life as during times like these, as it catalogs and interprets national and international events. Seldom has the public leaned so heavily on the daily press. National Newspaper Week will have served its purpose if it helps to deepen that friendship between press and public. We are glad we have this opportunity to get to know you better—and for you, to get to know us a little more intimately.

Let's All Be There

Midland's Chamber of Commerce will hold an open meeting at 8 o'clock Monday evening at Hotel Scharbauer. It is the duty of every citizen to be there or to have a representative present.

Announcement of the meeting is a call to every resident to begin his obligation to take an active interest in community affairs.

"Program of Action" for Boy Scouts Outlined by Chief Scout Executive

Prompt and enthusiastic acceptance of the new "program of action" developed by the Boy Scouts of America for strengthening and invigorating Democracy" and announced recently by Dr. James E. West, Chief Scout Executive, is reported by Scout Officials of the Buffalo Trail Council which has jurisdiction for the Scout Movement in Kent, Stonewall, Scurry, Fisher, Nolan, Mitchell, Howard, Martin, Midland, Andrews, Ector, Winkler, Loving, Ward and Reeves Counties, with an accompanying pledge of complete and immediate cooperation. Hailed as "efficient," "practical" and "stirring," the plan involves growth by every Troop, Cub Pack and Senior Scouting Unit in preparation for service opportunities. New groups are being organized to enable more boys to become Scouts, increasing the number of those trained for service. Surveys through the years have shown that three out of every four boys of Scout age want to become Scouts.

Scouts have been particularly effective in emergencies because they are able to assemble speedily. All Troops, it is expected, will develop mobilization plans, including those that can be used when ordinary lines of communication are disrupted. Such mobilizations show how many trained hands could be had for emergency service in comparatively little time.

Troops are already filling in gaps in Patrols making room for more boys. Commissioners are planning mobilization rules that would make it possible to mobilize 1900 Scouts and Cubs in their own towns in only a few minutes. This should not, however, be considered as a military mobilization, since Scouts will only mobilize for service to a community when and where it is needed. Dr. West feels it is the responsibility of everyone in Scouting, especially in times of a national emergency, to be prepared to meet every opportunity for service. This, he pointed out, is expected not only because of the pledge each Scout and leader takes to "do his duty to his country" but because of the special training which Scouting gives boys in Patrols and Troops and through the development of leadership qualities in older boys and Scout leaders.

Washington Hears German "Super Bombs" Are Really Devastating Land-Mines

By NEA Service.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The German "super-bombs" devastating London are in reality huge land-mines, capable of destruction unequalled by any other type bomb, according to private advices received in Washington. These same capital sources hear that the land-mines are loosed upon England by parachute from high-flying Nazi planes.

Approximately 150 of the land-mines, each weighing more than a ton, were released on various parts of the British Isles on several recent nights, it is understood.

These advices describe how a fair-sized village can be almost wiped out by two or three of the land-mines, dropped from high-altitude bombers.

Wafting slowly down by parachute onto a main street of a town, one of these super-explosives is said to be capable of crushing every house within 400 square yards of the spot on which the mine lands.

With the mine prevented from sinking into the earth by the gentle drop of the parachute, the full force of its blast is felt by buildings blocks away. Walls crumble. Homes when not flattened out are gutted of windows and doors.

A recent NEA Service-Acme Newspictures photo, depicting complete destruction of several large buildings in London by one bomb, is believed to show the work of one of the land-mines.

YESTERDAY: Vera isn't worried when a gossip columnist reports her going with Ross Clark Jr. She thinks young Clark has political ambitions, needs money. Sue Mary goes shopping, sees headlines telling of a strike at Smithson. Rioting, Picket lines. When she calls Joe, he suggests she may have had a pipeline through the YP group.

NICK KNOWS TOO MUCH

Chapter XVIII

IT wasn't until that bitter moment that she did remember the full significance of Nick's remark.

Joe was no fool. She knew now that he realized where she had heard rumblings of strike threats. She knew how disturbed, how troubled and puzzled he must be. But now that trouble had arisen at the plant—just as Nick had foretold—she was more insistent than ever in her desire to learn what force was behind it all.

She wondered if she could find the courage to go out with Nick since her eyes had been opened; now that she had broken away from the childish dream; now that she knew her true love for Joe. And yet she felt she had to find the strength.

Women the world over are facing real, concrete, terrifying problems, she told herself. Certainly there is enough real Americanism in me, enough of my ancestors to help me do my part now. Even if it turns out to be a witch hunt, even if the YP isn't un-American, but just a harmless bunch of boys and girls like myself, with time and energy and nothing to do—still, I will have convinced myself.

IT was harder than she had anticipated to be with Nick. He was charming, eager to please, amusing, and in a lover's mood.

"You're sweet. You're lovely. You're not like other girls. Not like any girl I ever knew," he said. "Tonight we won't think of work. We'll think of us."

"You care for me, don't you?" he asked, seriously. "There isn't anyone else, is there? That fellow—that one you used to go with—'he's out of your life, isn't he?" "Oh, Nick, why must you be so serious?" She pushed him away. "We haven't time to be silly—and emotional."

"We have so much—so much in common," she insisted. "I mean the work and the election. Tell me about that. I haven't had a chance to really talk to you in days." If only she could learn something about his real plans, it would make this date seem more bearable.

"Work—plans—?" He drew her closer again, kissed her. "Let the others talk about work and plans—?" She was frightened. More than she had ever been before. This was a new Nick. Intense and demanding.

"It's only because I thought you wanted me to understand things; wanted me to stop being blind and stupid—"

"You aren't blind—or stupid," he murmured. "A little, perhaps, when you won't see how much I care for you. But not about other things."

She persisted and finally he talked. With his arms around her, holding her tightly, he told her what the election would mean.

"We have to get Fritz King elected. He's our man. He's schooled in the party pattern, and he'll be our opening wedge in creating a new system in this state."

"Old Miller is a fool. He'll run as governor again and he'll put up a stiff battle, but we can lick him. Plenty comes out in an election campaign. Maybe we'll show that he's wasting the state's money; playing a little private business of his own. Why, then, would he be all set?"

"I thought, though, that he was respected—and capable. At least the papers say so." Sue Mary led him on.

"The papers—the capitalistic-controlled presses. Not a free press. Read our paper. He's backed by big money. He hasn't the interests of the people at heart." "Speaking of the people," Sue Mary said casually, "there was a riot at the Smithson factory, wasn't there?"

NICK laughed. "A strike? Yes. But it hasn't really started—yet. I bet the wage-mongers are plenty worried. If Smithson stops production for a couple of months the plans factory might just as well stop trying to keep up to schedule. The Gull plant depends on them for parts, and a strike would really show the big boys that the workers are the ones that make the wheels go 'round. Millions for this defense and what about relief? What about wages?"

"But defense is pretty important right now, Nick, isn't it? I mean, shouldn't we forget other problems, and be soldiers out of uniform?" "Who have you been talking to?" Nick took her face between his hands and looked at her. There was no laughter in his eyes now. They were narrow and searching.

Sue Mary tried to smile. "Why, Nick, I can read. You taught me to read the newspapers, don't you remember?"

"You've changed," he told her suddenly. He pushed her away and continued to look at her. "I thought you could see the truth; not be taken in by this stuff you read in the daily papers."

"No," he said slowly, still staring at her through narrowed eyes. "Someone has been talking to you. It's that Joe. He works at Smithson, doesn't he? You see him, don't you?"

She swallowed against the lump in her throat. "Of course, I know him and sometimes I have dates with him. So what, Nick? He's not you. I'm with you almost every day. And I'm with Vera and Natalie. You're my friends—"

Nick fumbled for a cigaret and lit it. "You're not like Vera or Natalie." He looked up suddenly. "Maybe you're working too hard at the office. How are things going there?"

IT was like a game, Sue Mary thought, each trying to maneuver the other into an admission. "The office—?" Oh, we're still busy. But Vera can tell you that."

"She's making good there, isn't she?"

"Yes," Sue Mary said. "Everyone likes her. Even the president's son."

Nick blew out a cloud of smoke and studied the red glow of the cigaret. "What does he do?"

"Oh—not much. He's more the playboy," she said lightly. "Of course, Vera says he has political ambitions, but I wouldn't know. He thinks Vera's all right. She knows him pretty well." She watched him for a reaction.

"Yes. She said she'd gone out with him a few times. In fact they were to go to the Bird Cage tonight."

"The Bird Cage," Sue Mary said wonderingly. "That's the big gambling place, isn't it?"

"Yes," Nick said, drawing her close again. "Like to go? We could, you know. We couldn't play for the stakes that Clark plays for, but we could go and see how the other half plays. Let's go."

history in war and peace is the history of brave men and women and often of brave children, too. In addition to this incredible effort we have designed and developed a form of government that has been a model and inspiration to other nations.

It is not strange that the speed and size of this achievement has left many gaps and brought problems faster than we can solve them.

It is not strange that a second world war coming on top of all our own difficulties should leave us feeling that we are suddenly faced with more dangers than we should be called on to handle.

But it would be strange if a nation, always at the forefront in any enterprise of daring and noted for its resourcefulness, should not meet these dangers and conquer them.

THE first step, as we form for our tremendous task, is to remember our past; not only our great names but also the uncounted numbers of plain people, native and foreign-born, who cleared this new world, who cleared the woods and won the West and manned our armies and our ships and made our industries supreme. Then we can go ahead, looking on our country with

Midland Civic Theater Seeks More Members; Schedules Big Plays

The Midland Civic Theatre has started its drive for patron members. Under the leadership of Mrs. E. A. Culbertson, committeemen are soliciting the aid of citizens in making this another successful year for the theater group.

Mrs. Wilmer B. Stowe, director, has announced the first play, "Our Town," by Thornton Wilder, will be produced Wednesday, October 23 at the Yucca Theater.

Part of the cast has been selected and rehearsals are under way. Mrs. Stowe said. She went on to add that this particular play presents an unusual problem in directing and acting as there is no scenery. The action of the play must bring to mind the setting.

Mrs. Stowe said she would be able to announce the full cast within a few days. However, as yet there are a few parts not decided upon.

Civic Theater officials said their tentative plans include production of three other full length dramas during the current season. The next one after "Our Town" will be Claire Booth's much-discussed "The Women." Following will be "The Bishop Misbehaves" by Frederick Jackson, and Lynn Riggs' "Green Grow the Lilacs."

WALKING LEGISLATOR SEEKS INFANTRY JOB

AUSTIN, Sept. 28 (AP).—State Rep. Odus A. Weldon of Mabank, the walk-in member of the 46th Legislature, stopped by the capitol the other day on one of his walking tours.

He imparted the information he was on his way to San Antonio to join the army.

"I guess the infantry can use me," he said. Weldon, who did not run for reelection, did all his past campaigning afoot, and when he has the urge to go anywhere in the state, he simply strikes out.

How To Salute the Flag

Since the assembly program theme this winter is patriotism, the question of how to salute the flag was brought up. Those in uniform should salute by placing the right hand above the right eye. Men who are not in uniform, but are wearing a hat, should place it over their hearts. If a man does not have on a hat, he should place his right hand just above the heart. Women should place their right hands over their hearts. Also when the national anthem is played civilians should stand at attention and those in uniform should salute.

We Are Proud of Our School Spirit

The spirit of Midland High School is the greatest thing about this school. Why? Because it gives personality and adds culture. It also adds friendship, fellowship, and encouragement especially to new students. To be in the real school spirit you should get behind all organizations of the school. Speak good words when tempted to say something discouraging or discourteous. Believe that we have the best school, best band, best pep squad. Believe that we have the best of everything. Be proud members of the student body—all for one, and one for all. You should be so proud that a stranger can feel the difference immediately—so proud that it will not tolerate low ideals or standards—so proud that you can absorb and assimilate new students and their ideas. Refuse to be discouraged or defeated; let it be a tradition that the school stands for good sportsmanship, fair play, and high standards.

Annual Staff Elected To Aid Miles, Sidwell, and Wemple

Members of the annual staff were elected by the senior class last Tuesday to assist Editor Sue Miles, Associate Editor Roger Sidwell, and Business Manager Edith Wemple who were selected last spring to head the staff. Miss Ruby Catching, Latin teacher, will sponsor the production of the annual and Mr. J. Webb Miller will again act as sponsor of the business committee. James Mims, who has already established a reputation as an artist was chosen one of the art editors. Others are Mary Helen Walker and Louise Motyl.

Montez Downey and Kathryn Collins will have the job of rounding up all the classes as class editors. One of the most interesting parts of the annual is the snapshots. This division will be handled by Mary Sue Cowden, Louise Cox, and Kenneth Williams.

One of our few real blondes and a member of the Sub-deb Club is Melba Schlosser who will be Society Editor. Foster Hedrick, a member of the high school band, will be band editor.

The organization of the annual, or in short putting together will be in charge of Lize Jane Lawrence and Jack Hurt. Marjorie Hall and Carolyn Oates, members of last year's typing team and Beth Prothro will have charge of typing. Aiding the Business Manager Edith Wemple in corraling the finances will be Betty Burnett, Virginia Droppelman, Jane Hill, Marth-anne Theis, Helen Armstrong, Gerry Graham, and Marion Flett, Jr.

Two members of the Bulldog football squad will have charge of the sports section of the '41 Catoico. They are Gordon Bigham and Joe Conkling. Another task on the staff is the job of our well informed literary editors, Gene Ann Cowden and Colleen Doss, who will take the stories and remove all literary defects and arrange the stories and writings.

Catherine Blair is the calendar editor and Hilda Vogel is the division page editor. To aid all these seniors on the staff will be two junior representatives, Edna Ann Tolbert and Clarence Scharbauer Jr., who will not have any set job but who are to assist the staff in whatever way possible.

Fashions

The subject of clothes is one that never loses its fascination and high school girls delight in having something novel or different.

The most popular material for skirts, jackets, and blouses this season is corduroy in gay colors or the more subdued wintry shades. Speaking of corduroys have you seen that cute green swing skirt of Marjorie Hall's? Mary Sue looks sporty in both her red and brown skirts with bags and catlets to match. Bonnie Jean Guthry has selected an adorable white wine skirt. So you see, girls, it's corduroy this year.

Among the more dressy clothes Louise Cox has a stunning one piece royal blue corduroy dress. Mary Sue is wearing a pink wool shirt-waist dress with long full sleeves.

Knee-length wool socks are new this season. Jane Hill has a pair of white and a pair of red ones and Edith Wemple chose tan and red. The patriotic colors have a high standing with the school girls this season. Compacts, hair ribbons, and dresses are favorites.

Amber, darker shades, and also gold are popular in costume jewelry. Helen Armstrong has a unique bracelet with pencils, notebooks, and pen points predominating. Newest among the new is a locket to be pinned on the dress or coat with space for several pictures, one of which is worn by Mary Ruth Dozier.

Doris Lynn Pemberton is a girl who believes in preparedness. She has selected a striking white satin evening dress with a very full skirt, fitted bodice, and matching bolero. It's going to be a great season for all girls who like to wear smart clothes.

New Teachers and Abilene Educators Visit Assembly

The Assembly of Midland High School was held Thursday morning to have Mr. H. S. Fatharee and his party of guests from Abilene as visitors.

Fatharee, assistant superintendent of the Abilene Schools conducted the "Youth Panel" sponsored by the Senior High P.T.A. Wednesday night. The assembly program started with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" and with the salute to the flag, "Love of Country," "Chambered Nautilus," and Milton's "Ode on His Blindness" were among the choral readings given by the assembly. "Kentucky Babe" and "Pilgrim's Chorus," and "Now the Day is Over" were sung by the student body.

Fatharee was introduced by Superintendent W. W. Lackey and the visitor made a short speech. Other guests for the program were introduced and included: Mrs. H. S. Fatharee, Mrs. Holt and Mrs. Clark, all of Abilene; Mrs. L. G. Byerley, district president of the P.T.A.; Mrs. Hargraves, Miss Berringer, and Mr. Johnson, Miss Jessie Scott Price, and Principal A. L. Gilbrech, teachers from the Junior High School; Miss Robinson, Miss Marie Harwell, and Miss Ruth Bryan of the North Elementary School.

A short pep rally was held and the band played several selections.

Supt. Lackey and Mr. Sandefer were friends of long standing.

Supt. W. W. Lackey recently received as a gift from the author, a book just off the press, "Jefferson Davis Sandefer, Christian Educator," by Inez Woodworth Sandefer, daughter-in-law of the late Dr. Sandefer.

P. T. A. Sponsors Panel With Students

Assistant Superintendent H. S. Fatharee held a panel discussion in the auditorium Tuesday night with 12 Midland High students as the first P.T.A. program of the year. The subject of discussion was "The Problems Confronting Parents and Children." Question included in the discussion were allowances, getting the family car, everyday problems of parents and their children. The students taking part in the panel were: Gene Ann Cowden, Sue Miles, Margaret Ann West, Helen Armstrong, Colleen Doss, Frances Ellen Link, Geneva Thomson, Kenneth Williams, Roger Sidwell, Jack Hurt, Foster Hedrick and Pat Corbett.

Here and There in The Music Department

The 45 members of the Choral club of Midland High School are working on the song "Fairy Moonlight" under the direction of Mrs. De Lo Douglas.

The glee club has not yet been organized. Mrs. Douglas said that the quartets and girls trio were practicing but that she had not chosen the voices yet.

Mrs. Douglas says that the fourth year students are changing textbooks from "Essentials in Music History" by Tappan and Goteschius to "Outlines of Music History" by Hamilton. The first year music students are having a notebook for the first time. The material is the same as has been taught in the past, only it is being dictated to them.

Teachers Tour West On Vacation Trip

Mrs. De Lo Douglas, Miss Jo Hestand, Mrs. Hestand of Slaton, Miss Hestand's mother, and Mrs. S. H. Montgomery from Whitebright, toured the western states this summer while on their vacation.

Leaving Midland, they went to Santa Fe and Taos, New Mexico, first, and from there went through Cimarron Canyon on up into Colorado. They visited Canyon City where they saw the Royal Gorge then went to Colorado Springs. From Colorado Springs the group went to Denver and from Denver to Cheyenne, Wyoming, where they witnessed a rodeo called "The Western Frontier."

The next place of interest was the Snowy Mountain Range where they could touch snow one minute and in a very few minutes they were on the Red desert. They traveled from here to the Jackson Hole Country where they went through the Teton National Park, the southern entrance to the Yellowstone National Park. They spent two days in Yellowstone Park and left through the west entrance, traveling through Idaho on to Salt Lake City, Utah. Here they visited a last year's senior of Midland High School, Wallace Jackson, who was working in a mission.

The party traveled from Salt Lake City down to southern Utah where they visited Bryce Canyon and Zinn National Park and continued to Arizona to see the Grand Canyon, the Painted Desert and the Petrified Forest.

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! Advice to Whom It May Concern

Dear Editor: For the past few months I have been wanting to take flying lessons. What would be the greatest risk in flying today?

Mary Sue Cowden

Dear Mary Sue: In your case I would say the auto ride to the airport.

Dear Editor: I went with a friend of mine to the doctor the other day, and he said nothing but an operation would save her life. The trouble is that she has only $100 and the operation would cost $500. I wonder if you could make some suggestion to help her.

Breckenridge Editor Praises "Catoico"

J. W. Miller, business sponsor of the "Catoico" received a letter from the editor-in-chief of the 1941 "Buckaroo" of Breckenridge, asking for information concerning the annual of Midland High School. The Editor-in-chief, Peggy Sweeney, says that Marjorie Ann Monaghan, a former student of Midland, has her Midland annual in Breckenridge and that all the students admire it.

Mrs. Bishop Writes Complimentary Letter

Superintendent W. W. Lackey received a letter from Mrs. Selma L. Bishop, former member of the Midland High School faculty, complimenting him on his new book, "Fruits and Flowers."

"It is a lovely thing," wrote Mrs. Bishop, "I can hardly say how unique and impressive it is to me."

Medical Science Finds New Light On Sleeping Sickness By Studying Case of Oak Park Sleeping Beauty

CHICAGO, Sept. 28 (AP) — In death, Patricia Maguire, the "sleeping beauty" of Oak Park, Ill., gave to medical science new light on the nature of sleeping sickness.

As a result of their study of the brain of Miss Maguire, who lay ill for five years before she died following complications of an abdominal tumor and pneumonia, two physicians concluded that chronic epidemic Encephalitis (sleeping sickness) is a persisting inflammatory disease instead of being an acute original infection.

From this came hope for future victims for the report of the two doctors indicated that a method of treating chronic Encephalitis may eventually be found because inflammatory conditions may lend themselves to treatment.

The doctors also reported that damage to the posterior or rear part of the Hypothalamus region of the brain is the lesion or injury responsible for the production of Pathologic sleep in human beings as well as in experimental animal.

Chronic epidemic Encephalitis is an inflammation of the brain associated with drowsiness and somnolence.

The particular type with which Miss Maguire was afflicted was diagnosed as being of the von Economo type, named after Constantin Von Economo, an Austrian neurologist. There have been epidemics of the disease, in Paris, Ill., in 1933 and in Indiana in 1934.

Miss Maguire's case attracted national attention. In February of 1932, the young woman, then 26, after several days of progressive drowsiness, sank into five years of almost unbroken sleep. Her diet, given through a tube, resulted in such a rapid gain of weight, that it had to be reduced.

AUSTIN HIGH GETS BREAKS AND DEFEATS MIDLAND'S BULLDOGS, 12-7

Williams Dives Over Line for Midland Score

By Jess Rodgers
EL PASO, Sept. 28. — A blocked punt and a fumble, both inside the 20-yard line, gave Austin's Panthers two breaks and two touchdowns before a crowd of 4,000 fans at East-side Stadium last night at Midland's Bulldogs went down in defeat 12 to 7.

It was the third time in three years the Bulldogs have been humbled, but the slashing, free-wheeling running of Jim White and his accurate passing, plus the drives of Wendell Williams combined in a thriller which left the outcome of the game in doubt until the final gun.

Austin, driving to the three yard line in the first period, was thrown back but after an exchange of punts in the same period, halfback Manny Ferguson blocked White's punt and recovered on Midland's 12 yard line, going over in five plays for the tally, but missing the extra point.

Midland scored in the second quarter as C. H. Rehders intercepted a pass on Midland 35 yardline, dashing back to the 34. Two passes, Williams to Lester and Williams to Bratton, put the ball on the three, from there Williams went over in two drives, Williams passing to White for the point. Early in the third quarter White fumbled and Stogner recovered on the Midland 19. After two line plays, halfback Clifton Campbell passed to Fullback Bridler 18 yards for the tally, again missing the point as Buffington blocked the kick.

Two pass interceptions threw Midland back in the scoreless final period. Austin outgained Midland 160 yards to 86 and chucked up 12 first downs to six. Midland was superior in the air, with 34 yards gained passing to Austins 17.

The lineup:
Midland Pos. El Paso
Lester LE Fitzgerald
Coke LT Crowell
Hall LG Navarette
Rehders C Brasher
Eldson RG Hall
Buffington RT Ferguson
Bratton RE Ferguson
Bigman LH Ferguson
White RH Campbell

Women's Golf Tourney To Start Wednesday
Qualifying date for the annual city women's golf tournament has been set for Wednesday, October 2, and match play will get under way on Thursday. Finals are slated for Friday according to Mrs. W. P. Thurmond, president of the Ladies Golf Association.

Entrance fees are one dollar and attractive prizes will be offered in all flights. A large field is expected. Mrs. Gayther Nowell, defending champion, will be in the city to defend her title.

All ladies who play golf and live in Midland are eligible to compete.

Texas Christians Sparkle To Beat Centenary 41-6

By Felix R. McKnight
FORT WORTH, Sept. 28 (AP)—Underrated Texas Christian blew in today with a great gang of opportunities to run bewildered Centenary out of the stadium midst a cascade of spectacular touchdowns which mounted to a final 41-6 score.

Fourteen points in front after the first four minutes of play, the Christians they relegated to the depths in pre-season dozing, stacked up brilliant sprints of 80, 63, 30, 26, 17 and six yards for scores—and tossed in another 67-yarder that was nullified by a penalty.

Breaks virtually flew into Texas Christian's arms, but they were there to accept them in blinding fashion. Deep in the fourth period, with the ragknut defending for Texas Christian, Centenary finally got a break of its own and cashed in with a passing spree from Bob Bailey to M. C. Boim that brought the score.

The Sparks family, cousins Connie and Nolan, started operations for Texas Christian before the jittery Centenary team found its bearings. On the third play of the game, Connie, the all-conference fullback of 1938 who drifted to obscurity last season, snapped a 50-yard kick that put the Gents back on their 20.

Jim (Cotton) Barnes tried to kick out of trouble but Sparks slashed in from end, beat down the ball with flailing arms, picked up the ball on the 17 and scurried for a touchdown. Phil Roach tackled on the point.

It wasn't three minutes later that cousin Nonan cashed in with six points. Guard Bobby Sherrod came up with fullback Wilkins' fumble on the Centenary 15 and Wed Dean Bagley, the sophomore scooter, undisturbed by a 15-yard holding penalty, dropped back and sailed a flat pass Noyal Sparks turned into 26 yards and a touchdown. Roach booted again.

From there on in everything happened. The Christians finally rolling up 256 yards on rushing and passing to Centenary's 122—all of it gained by passing.

The starting lineup:
Centenary Pos Texas Christian
Teel LE C. Sparks
Hearne LT Palmer
L. Crawford LG Crawford
Allums Campbell C Alexander
McCrory RT Sherrod
Murphy RB Adams
Lawless RE Roach
Johnson QB Bagley

Many Old-Time Powers Beaten In Grid Games

By Herb Barker
NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP)—They opened the 1940 football season today but a few of the game's old-time powers were left, flat-footed, at the post.

Tulane, unbeaten during the regular season last year; North Carolina, perennially a power in the Southern Conference; Washington, touted as possible winner of the Pacific Coast title, and Pitt, an eastern leader until de-emphasis set in, all were beaten.

These were not upsets. Tulane, Washington and Pitt all bowed in major intercollegiate games while North Carolina's nemesis turned out to be Peabody Walker's Wake Forest Deacons and Wake Forest, it was known, was loaded for bear.

Tulane, barely beaten by the Texas Aggies in the Sugar Bowl last New Year's Day, was crushed by Frank Leahy's powerful Boston College Eagles, 27-7, before 42,000. The Eagles fully lived up to their advance notices and handled the Green Wave with ease and dispatch.

Washington, coming east with high hopes, found Bernie Bierman's alert Minnesota Gophers more than they could handle and went down fighting, 19-14, with 46,000 in the stands. George Franck, running 98 yards for touchdown, sparked the Gophers who never trailed.

Pitt, lacking the powerful squad that used to go to the football wars, was utterly routed by Ohio State, 30-7, as a crowd of 53,000 looked on. Jim Langhurst, veteran back, and Charley Haag, tackle, were the stars for Ohio State. It was Pitt's first opening game since 1902.

Wake Forest, a possible rival for Duke in the Southern Conference race, won from North Carolina by only two touchdowns, 12-0, but dominated play from start to finish. It was Wake Forest's first triumph over the Tarheels since 1927.

Meanwhile, Duke, using no more effort than was absolutely necessary, rolled over Virginia Military, 49-0, in an initial conference victory. Two other Southern Conference representatives, Washington & Lee and William & Mary, were beaten. W. & L. bowed to Vanderbilt of the Southeastern Conference, 19-0, while William & Mary, after a plucky effort, finally succumbed to Navy's fourth quarter surge, 19-7. Maryland's 7-6 defeat by Hampden-Sydney was a surprise.

In the Southwest, Texas, Longhorns routed Colorado, Rocky Mountain 67-7. Seven champions, 39-7, the Texas Aggies, last year's national ranking team, crushed Texas Arts & Industries, 26-0, with big John Kimbrough leading the charge as usual.

Missouri, 1939 Big Six champion, outscored St. Louis in a wild fray, 42-6. Tennessee, upset until its Rose Bowl test with Southern California last season, opened up against Mercer and rolled up a 49-0 count. Terrific Tommy Harmon led Michigan, a 41 to 0 victory over California before 35,000 fans at Berkeley, Calif.

The Wolverines' victory wasn't unexpected but the size of the score was and Harmon's individual feats were the most remarkable of the day.

Tommy ran back the opening kickoff 94 yards for a touchdown and followed with runs of 72 and 86 yards and kicked all three points to give Michigan a 21-0 lead at half time. In the second half he scored his team's fifth touchdown and converted then passed to Nelson for the sixth.

Another surprise for Pacific Coast fans was the tie between Southern California and Washington State in the season's first conference game. The Trojans, despite heavy losses from last season, were the favorites in the conference race.

Stanford and Santa Clara chalked up a pair of impressive victories in a doubleheader at San Francisco. Stanford whipped the favored University of San Francisco Dons 27-0 after Santa Clara had whipped Utah 34-13.

Stanton and Seminole Battle to Scoreless Tie

STANTON, Sept. 28 (Special)—In the first conference game of the season for either club Stanton and Seminole battled to a scoreless tie here Friday.

A punting duel in the first half wound up with neither team gaining any advantage. Seminole relied mostly on trick plays and resorted several times to spectacular laterals.

Stanton was ahead on first downs, making 7 to the visitor's 5. The Bulldogs penetrated the Seminole 20-yard line once for a short lived threat that failed to materialize.

Texas Longhorns Swamp Colorado; Crain Is Injured

By William E. Keys
AUSTIN, Sept. 28 (AP)—Minus the good office of galloping Jack Crain for most of the game, the University of Texas Longhorns today swamped the University of Colorado Buffaloes, 39-7.

Crain suffered a hip injury in the second quarter and was removed from the game. The injury was not believed serious.

When the barrage was over the name of only one regular appeared in the Texas touchdown column while Spec Sanders, Crain's understudy, was credited with two tallies and three other backs shared one each.

The Texans surprised with an effective aerial offense, abetting a slick running game, which steadily wore down the resistance of the big seven visitors who, sparked by brilliant Leo Stastica, delivered only once in the pinches.

The Rocky Mountain boys showed their wares to good advantage in the first half but a searing Texas wrecked havoc with their resistance as the game wore on.

The Texas line, plentifully supplied with subs for the first time in years, held the visitors to a net gain of 146 yards from scrimmage while Texas completely stymied the Buff's passing game.

Tigers Let Down And Indians Grab Victory Saturday

CLEVELAND, Sept. 28 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians assured themselves of at least a tie for second money in the American League by beating the champion Detroit Tigers 2 to 1 today. Both Tribe runs were scored off Buck Newsom.

Detroit.....010 000 001—1 7 2
Cleveland.....000 002 00x—2 6 1
Gorsica, Newsom, Rowe and Tebbetts; Harder and Pytak.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 28 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers let down today and lost to the Cleveland Indians 2 to 1 without a quiver in the same big stadium where they fought so furiously to clinch the American League pennant.

A crowd of 18,346 persons, several of them Detroit fans, cheered and jeered the performance that was meaningless to the Tigers, although it served to insure at least a tie for second place for the Indians.

Rookie John Gorsica, a possible starting pitcher for the Tigers in the world series with Cincinnati, worked the first four innings on the mound and allowed only one hit and no runs.

Then big Bo-Bo Newsom, 20-game winner this season, went to the hill and gave Cleveland both of its runs. Schooboy Rowe exercised his salary arm for the two final frames.

Texas Aggies Display Power In 26 to 0 Win

Reds Win 6 to 5.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 28 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds evened their final series of the year with the Pittsburgh Pirates today by knocking out a 6 to 5 victory, their 99th of the year. Lew Riggs and Billy Myers hit homers for the National League champions.

Odessa Bronchos Score at Will To Down Ranger 59-0

ODESSA, Sept. 28 (Special)—Scoring at will, the Odessa Bronchos blasted the Ranger Bulldogs 59-0. The game was featured by the running of Billy Hogan, Odessa quarterback.

Hogan unreeled runs of 78-yards through the middle, 40-yard dash off tackle, a slash through guard for nine and a one yard plunge for a total of four touchdowns. He also place-kicked two extra points for a total of 26 for the evening.

Sadly out-classed, the Ranger Bulldogs gained only 40 yards on the ground compared to the Hosses 465 and completed 2 passes for a total of 28 yards while Joe Coleman's gridders connected with two for a total of 63 yards.

The Bronchos scored 20 points in the first quarter, 13 in the second, 20 in the third and 6 in the final frame.

ABILENE CHRISTIANS BEAT EAST TEXAS TEACHERS 14-7
ABILENE, Sept. 28 (AP)—Abilene Christian capitalized on enemy errors here tonight to defeat the East Texas State Lions, 14-7, the Wildcats' second straight over a Lone Star conference entry.

Thurman (Tugboat) Jones, the Wildcats' all-Texas conference fullback, punched over both scores for the winners and added the extra points.

Ralph Cops Low Earned Run Title During Season

Big Pat Ralph, who joined the club a little late and had time to win 20 games for the Lubbock Hubbers, led the pitchers of the West Texas-New Mexico League during the regular campaign. He won 20 games, lost four for an average of .833, and the lowest earned run average among the regular pitchers with 3.24. He pitched 230 innings, faced 894 batters, gave up 109 runs, 217 hits, 83 earned runs, walked 88 and struck out 142 batsmen.

Ralph was followed closely by Lefty Dilbeck of Pampa, who won 23 games, tying Willard Ramsdall of Big Spring and Odessa for number of games won, and lost seven. His earned run average of 3.477 practically tied Ralph's.

Other 20-game winners of the league were Loyd Patterson of Lamesa with 22 victories, 10 defeats; Gus Hallbour of Pampa with 21 wins, 11 losses; Bob Cruss of Borger with 20 wins and 5 losses and Milbert Vannoy of Pampa with 20 wins and 7 losses.

Gene Slack of Lubbock turned in 19 victories to 11 losses, and was second in the strike-out department. Young Russ Crider of Amarillo had the highest strike-out record with 266 in 292 innings while also winning 19 and losing 11.

Ramsdall was away out in front in innings pitched, hurling 351 frames. Patterson toiled 256 innings to be the next hardest workman in the league.

Three Midland pitchers wound up the season with more wins than losses, paced by Lefty Lucas. Lucas had 19 wins, 10 losses; Rankin Johnson had 15-14; Red Lynn had 11-10. Morris Eagles wound up with a 5-11 record; Bill Patrick, 0-7; Lefty Kanagy 2-8.

(Continued from page 1) remarks appeared calculated to lend emphasis to the statement of foreign policy made earlier in the day by Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state, in an address at Cleveland. Compares Defense Needs

The president stood bareheaded in the open sunlight to deliver his address at the $13,000,000 airport, constructed by filling in Potomac river marshlands with soil dredged from the river bottom.

After his references to the air armada overhead, he launched into a comparison of defense needs in the early days of the republic and today when the airplane has become an increasingly important weapon.

President Washington, he said, had "a citizenry ready to spring to arms because nearly every citizen had arms and knew how to use them."

"Today, fifty thousand young Americans are licensed flyers and the number is growing by almost two thousand a month," he continued. "They are not all military pilots—but they are as ready to become military pilots as were the farmers of Washington's day to become riflemen of the line."

"That is why this airport, soon to be one of the world's greatest facilities, surely its most convenient and probably its most beautiful, should be brought with all possible emphasis to the attention of our people during this awakening of America to the needs of national defense."

"This airport and many others which we hope will follow will draw free men freely to use a peace time implement of commerce which, we hope, will never be converted to war time service."

GRAND RIVER DAM

DISNEY, Okla., Sept. 28 (AP)—The Grand River dam authority announced today its $22,750,000 hydroelectric power plant "is now ready to fulfill its promise of low cost electricity for the public."

The announcement followed a brief ceremony during which authority Chairman Ray McNaughton flipped the handle of a small switch and sent 13,280 volts surging into four giant transformers.

Germany, Italy and Japan Have Agreed To Area Each To Control Under New Three-Power Pact

BERLIN, Sept. 28 (AP)—Germany, Italy and Japan have agreed amongst themselves as to just what area in the proposed new world order is to be under the "leadership" of Soviet Russia, as well as what areas are to be under their own respective controls, informed Nazi sources disclosed tonight.

The extent and nature of this assignment to the Soviet was not mentioned by the informant, the authoritative commentary service Dienst Aus Deutschland, but it was said that the step had been taken "so that there can be no question of encroachment in foreign spaces by these powers."

Dienst injected some confusion over the three treaty signers' "absolute agreement," however, with a statement that the borders had not been "fixed" locally according to geographic details but only "according to principle."

"There exists no need," it declared, "for an exact fixing of borders in every detail."

Despite American and British attempts to represent the pact as nothing new, the service said, the American press accepted it as "the most sensational political event since the beginning of the war," thereby recognizing its significance.

Not Specific While spokesmen declined to be specific as to where the Russian and Japanese spheres are to meet, it is obviously expected in the foreign office that Japan will clear up any lingering misunderstanding with the Soviet over disputed borders. It was indicated, too, that the Soviet shipment of arms to China is being overlooked.

There still was no published press or official reaction from Moscow, but DNE, the official German news agency, asserted by inference that it was favorable.

These "spaces"—in Europe, Africa, East Africa—are to be marked out under the terms of the broad new military-political-economic alliance with which Germany, Italy and Japan yesterday confronted the world.

Whether Russia had been informed of all this in advance was not stated officially.

German government quarters declared, however, that the relation of each state to its "space" would be one of "monopolistic rule" but rather one of "leadership."

The position of the United States under the new alliance—which plainly implies that Japan, Germany and Italy will band together in war against America if that country should become involved with either of them—stirred conjecture during the day.

If the United States continues to supply arms and munitions to Britain, authorized persons said, it might or might not cause a conflict, the issue depending largely on whether such aid would be likely to decisively affect the war.

CAR DIDN'T TURN TURTLE BUT TURTLE TURNED IT

ELKIN, N. C., Sept. 28 (AP)—R. M. Baker's car didn't turn turtle, but a turtle turned it.

He and a friend went to the hospital when the car crashed into a telephone pole after skidding on a terrapin that was crossing the road.

Standing Oil & Gas Company No. 8-A Slaughter Estate, in the Slaughter pool of southwestern Hockley County, was completed at 5,060 feet for initial production of 303.60 barrels of 33-gravity oil, based upon six-hour flow. It was acidized with 7,000 gallons and had gas-oil ratio of 527-1 after the treatment. Pay was logged from 5,000-60 feet, total depth.

Forest Development Corporation No. 1 A. C. Whisenant, northwest outpost to the Waples Platter area in southeastern Yoakum County, yesterday was drilling at 1,300 feet in red beds.

Humble No. 32 J. S. Means, one-half mile west of the Means pool in northern Andrews County, is drilling below 3,874 feet in anhydrite.

Todd Well Swabs Water

Water, with color of oil present, was being swabbed yesterday from Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1 J. S. Todd Estate, extension test one-half mile west of the Todd Strawn pool in north central Crockett County. Hole is bottomed at 5,881 feet, cemented back from 6,074 in an effort to shut off water, and 2-inch tubing is set at 5,875 feet. First nine hours of swabbing lowered fluid to 4,500 feet from top. The well topped the Strawn, lower Pennsylvanian, at 5,828 feet and showed small natural production while bottomed at 5,880 feet. Salt water was found by deepening.

Moore Exploration Company of Midland and Olson Oil Company of Tulsa No. 1 Mrs. Clara Couch, western Crockett, wildcat over eight miles south of the Soma (Noelke) pool, is drilling below 1,385 feet in anhydrite and red beds.

New Ordovician test at the south end of the Sandhills pool in western Crane County has been staked by Gulf Oil Corporation at No. 2-A J. B. Tubb et al. It is 660 feet from the north, 4,060 from the west line of section 20, block B-27, public school land. The well is a south offset to American Liberty Oil Company No. 10 Tubb, Ellenburger producer recently completed for potential of 2,878 barrels, and a west offset to Gulf No. 1-A Tubb, 5,130-barrel discovery of the south area.

Goldsmith Trio Completed Gulf has completed three more producers on its C. A. Goldsmith et al lease in the Goldsmith pool of northwestern Ector County.

No. 309 Goldsmith was acidized with 4,000 gallons in pay lime from 4,174 to 4,244 feet, total depth, and rated daily potential of 1,100 barrels of 37.1-gravity oil, with gas in the ratio of 1,031-1.

Gulf No. 311 Goldsmith also was acidized with 4,000 gallons and flowed at the rate of 1,012 barrels per day from pay at 4,162 to 4,232 feet. Oil is 37.4-gravity and gas-oil ratio 496-1.

The No. 313 Goldsmith gauged full 24-hour flow of 21 barrels of 36.8-gravity oil, with ratio of 710-1, after a shot of 87 1/2 quarts. It topped pay at 4,174 feet and is bottomed at 4,219.

Local Man Completes Winkler Well Ralph Lowe of Midland No. 2 Campbell, in the Colby sand area of the Keystone field in Winkler County, flowed 429 barrels of 35-gravity oil on 24-hour Railroad Commission gauge upon completion at 3,302 feet. It was shot with 500 quarts in pay sand entered at 3,130 feet. Gas-oil ratio is 1,800-1.

Flares and Incendiary Bombs Hurlled By German Air Raiders At London As Unrelenting Nazi Assault Continues

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Sept. 29 (Sunday)—Flares and incendiary bombs hurled by pace-setting German air raiders guided other Nazi planes to their targets in London early today in the fourth week of unrelenting assault aimed at knocking out Britain.

Three small fires burned as bright beacons below the flashes of exploding anti-aircraft shells in the skies over the capital. Firemen extinguished the flames after 15 minutes but the raids went on.

British bombers counter-attacked furiously at German bases across the channel along the French coast. Observers on Dover's cliffs saw hundreds of bursting explosions in almost an unbroken line along the French side.

The British raids continued into the morning hours, as London stoutly took its 22nd consecutive night assault from the Nazis.

Some of the invaders flew to within a few hundred feet of the ground. Other bombers at the same time were attacking along the southeast coast.

Late tonight, the air ministry said Britain had lost seven planes and shot down six German craft during the day.

Blow For Blow Germany's efer-returning warplanes, starting their fourth week of the siege of London, forced this capital's populace underground twice today but British reports indicated that the invaders were answered blow for blow. The first daylight alarm shrilled

CAA Enrolls 15,290 More Air Students

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—Carrying on its pilot training program which already has given "wings" to 25,000 young men and women, the Civil Aeronautics Administration has enrolled 15,290 student in new courses.

Those courses at colleges and airports throughout the nation will include 72 hours of ground instruction and from 35 to 45 hours in the air—sufficient to qualify students for private pilots' licenses.

Almost 1,000 instructors, the CAA said, took training courses during the summer months, and more than 5,000 former pilots took "refresher courses" in preparation for renewal of certificates.

The CAA declared experienced fliers were "vitaly needed" because the army and navy and national guard "are calling up reserve officers," leaving "holes" in civilian flying organizations.

Safety Lane To Be Conducted Here Tuesday, Wednesday

A "safety lane" will be conducted in Midland starting Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock in the 100 block of S. Colorado St. The lane will be run under the supervision of Sgt. Tom Gassaway, and six State Highway policemen.

The lane will be open Tuesday and Wednesday and will test brakes, lights, windshield wiper, front wheel alignment, muffler and horn. Any car that stands all these tests will be awarded a blue windshield sticker to show that it is safe.

SERVICE TUESDAY. Preaching services will be held Tuesday night, October 1, at Gospel Hall, 500 S. Loraine. The Rev. Jim Barrington, Primitive, Baptist minister, will preach.

Mrs. Alma Thomas Entertains at Tea Saturday Honoring New Teachers

Crystal Ballroom Is Scene of Affair Whose Appointments Stress Autumn Colors

To present six new teachers of the Midland school system, Mrs. Alma Thomas, principal of North Elementary School, entertained with a tea in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer, Saturday afternoon from 1 o'clock until 5. Honorees for the affair were: Miss Ruth Bryan, Miss Marie Harwell, Miss Lela Robbins, Miss Ruby Catching, Miss Pauline Jordan, and Miss Marjorie Beringer.

An autumn theme was followed in appointments for the tea, with tall floor baskets of fall flowers in prevailing tones of yellow and orange placed at vantage points about the ballroom.

Guests were received by Mrs. Thomas and the honoree-group. Presiding at the silver services at either end of the tea table were Mrs. Louis Thomas and Miss Geraldine Dabney for the first hour and Miss Tommie French and Miss Vera Sadler for the second hour. The table was laid with a cloth of cutwork embroidery and centered with a large cluster of brilliant autumn flowers. Napkins carried out the fall theme in a design of autumn leaves.

Others in the houseparty included: Mrs. Holt Jowell, Miss Frances Gillett, Mrs. Frank Miller, Miss Jesse Scott Price, Miss Ruth Anderson, Miss Flomaree Roberson, Miss Mary Wilson and Miss Myrtle Lowe.

Musical selections were presented during the afternoon by Miss Price, Miss Gillett, Mrs. Jowell, and Mrs. Miller. Invitations were issued to: Misses Ruth Carden, Merle Smith, Jacobina Burch, Helene Miley, Mrs. Laura Niebahr, Misses Gladys Pinson, No-rene Kirby, Jo Hestand, Ella Lund, Theresa Klapproth, Sudie Pearl Muirhead, Iva Butler, Ruby Catching, Mrs. De Lo Douglas, Miss Jeanne Logan, Mmes. Stars' Luxury Outfits Can Be "Reduced" for Miss Smallbudget

Designed for a movie nightclub scene, Mary Martin's $2000 costume of pale gold lame and white ermine can be copied, without losing its luxury look, or sacrificing its smart lines, in budget-priced velveteen and crepe. The heart-shaped decolletage is repeated in the lines of the bodice sections; the skirt is loosely box-pleated. Gold kid, with swirl buckles, belts the circular-skirted fur wrap seen at left.

By Lucile Neville
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD—When Edith Head showed me an evening costume that she had designed for Mary Martin to wear in "Love Thy Neighbor," I said, "Sweet! And just how many people can afford ermine and gold lame? What's the use of showing these expensive movie things, except to make women wish they were screen stars?"

"Umm— is that so?" retorted Paramount's designer. "Gimme a pencil— now, instead of ermine for the coat and muff, we'll just use white velveteen. It's nicer than velvet. Cut it in strips, edge-stitched together, to simulate the fur..." When she had finished the sketches, she said, "Well, I declare! I believe I like these better than the fancy ones, don't you?"

High Budget
To Low Budget

SHE had reduced the outfit from high to low-budget without sacrificing a line; changed it from a spectacular screen costume to a charming gown and wrap that non-movie glamor girls would love and could wear innumerable times.

The $185 lame gown, whose heart-shaped decolletage was repeated in the line of the bodice sections, had been duplicated in heavy white crepe. About seven yards would be needed, Miss Head estimated, because the skirt is three straight lengths in big, flat, unpressed box pleats. To accent the neckline and three V-shaped bodice lines, she suggested piping them in narrow gold kidskin bands, or better, bands of gold embroidery.

The ermine coat and muff cost $1,600. Translated into velveteen you need five yards for the three-quarter coat with circular skirt, a yard more for the muff. "Trimming will cost as little as you like," Miss Head said. "You can buy the kidskin banding by the yard. I gave Miss Martin gold gloves but they can be eliminated. And the belt can be inexpensive, though I'd keep it wide, to make the waistline slim. Wouldn't the velveteen and crepe in lipstick red make a grand holiday outfit?"

Stars Often Get
Costumes Copied

"WE'RE accustomed to doing this sort of 'reduction' thing all the time for stars who want favorite screen costumes copied after they've finished a picture. Having been designed for the screen, the clothes often are too spectacular or dramatic for personal wardrobes. So we must take away the picture influence, make the clothes more normal. "But there isn't a dress designed that can't be reduced to inexpensive materials if it's basically well-cut. Of course, if it depends on

Program of Stories Presented at Story Hour Saturday

Stories told by Mrs. W. Bryant at the Story Hour in the children's library Saturday morning at 10 o'clock included: "The Goldenrod and Aster" by Cook; "The Stolen Corn" by University Publishing Company; "The Twelve Young Gideons" by Agnes Sligh Turnbull; "The Ant and The Dove" from Aesop's Fables; "Five Little Peppers" by Margaret Sidney (continued) and "Hans Brinker" by Mary Mapes Dodge (continued).

Children present were: Allen Olson, Doris Bailey, Billie Sue Bailey, Janice Jones, Betty Anne Duffey, David Lunt, Melba Jean Clarke, Richard Clarke, Bennie Joe Wolford, James Wallace, Waldo Leggett, Rosalynn Leggett, Peggy Riley, Ruth Hall, Betty Louise Hubbard, Mary Jane Miller, Billie LaJean Pigg, Valda Dee Pigg, Irene Harwell, Fay Manville, Dolores Jane Patterson, Charles Sheppard, Billy Jensen, John D. Episcopalians Will Be Hosts to Fifth Monday Meeting

The Episcopal Auxiliary will be host to the other church societies of the town at the traditional Fifth Monday meeting, Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Trinity Church.

Mrs. Robert M. Turpin will review Madame Chiang Kai Shek's new book, "This Is My China." The choice is considered particularly timely as much of the volume deals with that part of China adjacent to Indo-China which has been making headline news for the past few days.

Immediately after the program, a tea hour will be held at the home of Mrs. John M. Shipley, 1501 W. Illinois, across the street from the church.

Mrs. Geo. Kidd is general chairman of the program. All members of all the church missionary societies and auxiliaries are invited to attend.

Colonial Card Club Opens Year With Afternoon Party

Appropriate to the first fall party of the group were the autumn flowers which formed house decorations when Mrs. Barney Grafa opened the season's activities of the Colonial Card Club Thursday with an afternoon bridge at her home, 604 N. Marienfeld.

The autumn theme was repeated in the tallies for the two tables of bridge played and in wrappings for the prizes.

High score award went to Mrs. Rea Sindorf, out prize to Mrs. W. I. Pratt, and travel prize to Mrs. R. J. Kelly.

During the business session, Mrs. Kelly was elected president and Mrs. S. M. Vaughan reporter for the year.

Mrs. Radford Hope was a tea guest.

A party plate was served to the guest and the following members: Mmes. Terry Elkin, Jas. G. Harper, O. F. Hedrick, Kelly, Pratt, Sindorf, Vaughan, and the hostess.

Music, Tennis, Social Activities Engage Students

By Billy Noble.
AUSTIN, Sept. 28.—Marching with the 200-piece University of Texas Longhorn band at today's grid classic were Jack Walton and Bill Kimbrough, both Midland High graduates.

Walton graduated from Midland High School in 1938 and was a representative student during his high school career, known both for his scholastic record and his extracurricular activities which included five years with the Midland band.

He plans to enter medical school in Galveston next year.

Bill Kimbrough, a freshman, is a clarinetist in the band. Kimbrough had a five-year record in high school band work and has attended national contests every year. A new student, he has pledged Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Frank Wade Arrington, valedictorian of his graduating class last spring, is enrolled this year in the University of Texas.

He represented the Midland schools for several seasons in tennis. Arrington rated among the upper third in the freshman psychological exams, and hopes to be a member of the tennis team next spring.

"I may not make the first team this time, but I'm coming out just the same," he said.

He is a letterman in basketball as well as in tennis.

A candlelight dinner was given last Thursday night by the staff and old residents of the Scottish Rite Dormitory for new residents. Among those in the dormitory for the first time are Freddie Fae Turner and Nell Ruth Bedford, both Midland girls.

Joe Youngbloods Are Hosts to Pioneer Club

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Youngblood were hosts to the Pioneer Club with a dinner-bridge in the private dining room of Hotel Scharbauer, Friday evening.

Gladiolas and huge chrysanthemums emphasized the autumn note in table decorations.

After dinner, three tables of bridge were played. Prize for high score went to Mrs. John B. Thomas for women and to Charlie Goldsmith for men. Cut prize was won by Mrs. M. C. Ulmer.

Mrs. Geo. Glass was the only guest.

Members present were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cowden, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Goldsmith, Dr. and Mrs. John B. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tolbert, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Ulmer, and the host and hostess.

 CURT WALTON of Great Neck, L. I., gave me today's hand, a good example of how much you can gain by paying attention to details.
 West opened the ten of clubs against the six-club contract. What was the significance of this opening? First, West would be unlikely to make such an opening if he had three trumps—he would hope that in some way his ten of clubs might be established. Neither would he lead the ten, holding the jack, ten and a small club as he might thus give up his only chance to win a club trick.
 With this in mind, declarer proceeded to play the hand by winning the first trick in dummy with the ace of clubs, cashing the ace of diamonds, and then leading the queen of hearts. West refused to cover.
 South next played a small heart and ruffed in dummy with the four of clubs, then cashed the ace and king of spades, discarding hearts. A spade was ruffed and

Belmont Class Has Annual Celebration At Cloverdale Park

Belmont Bible Class held its annual birthday celebration in the form of a picnic at Cloverdale Park, Friday evening.
 A brief history of the class was presented by the president, Mrs. Bertie Mitchell. She told how the class was organized on October 8, 1929, with ten charter members of whom four, Mrs. J. M. King, Mrs. C. E. Strawn, Mrs. Gladys Holster, and Mrs. Bertie Mitchell still attend. The class has ex-members living in nine different states and in various sections of Texas.
 Regular teachers of the class have included: Mrs. Florence Richardson, Mrs. T. D. Murphy, Mrs. J. M. King, Mrs. W. L. Pickett, Mrs. C. E. Nolan, and Mrs. W. L. Sutton.
 In addition to the study which has covered the Bible twice and is now starting on it for the third time, the class has given Bibles to children who did not have them, given groceries to needy families at Christmas, visited the sick and shut-ins and this year has made 19 dresses for the Red Cross.
 The class meets each Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the home of some member. It is inter-denominational.
 Mrs. Hoyt Burris offered the opening prayer at Friday's meeting.
 A picnic supper with hot coffee was served to about 35 women.

another low heart ruffed in dummy with the club king. Another spade was ruffed and the ace of hearts played. East ruffed this, but whatever return he made could be ruffed by declarer with the nine of clubs, both outstanding trumps picked up with the queen, and the last trick won with the jack of hearts.

Two Associate Members Admitted To Children's League

Sewing for the organization's welfare activities and voting on business matters occupied the meeting of the Children's Service League at the home of Mrs. John M. Hills, 904 W. Misouri, Friday afternoon.
 Two associate members have been received into the League. They are Mrs. R. L. Miller and Mrs. Curtis Gilmore. Associate memberships are designed for those who do not wish to take part in the actual work of the League but wish to make monthly contributions for its welfare projects.
 Mrs. Coffin of Dallas was the only guest.
 Members present were: Mmes. R. L. Blunden, Jack Brown, Fred Cassidy, J. W. Christian, Walter Collins, Ralph Fitting Jr., Cooper Hyde, L. S. Page, Tom Parker, W. T. Schneider, and the hostess.

Judith Elaine Cole Is Honored on Third Birthday

Judith Elaine Cole was honored on her third birthday anniversary Saturday with a party given by her mother, Mrs. Taylor Cole, at their home, 1306 S. Lorraine.
 Guests gathered at 3:30 o'clock and played outdoor games.
 They sang "Happy Birthday, Dear Judy."
 At the refreshment hour, the birthday cake was lighted by pink candles.
 Present were: The honoree, Carol Jean Manschreck, Myriene Manschreck, Bill David Grays, Donald Fuller, Patricia Maudley, Marshall Chase, and Joe Buser.

Escondida Club Meets for Bridge Friday Afternoon

One guest, Mrs. John Lee McCrary, was present when Mrs. J. L. Greene was hostess to the Escondida Club with an afternoon bridge at her home, 706 W. Louisiana, Friday at 2:30 o'clock.
 High score prize in the afternoon's play went to Mrs. Daniel H. Griffith and cut prize to Mrs. J. C. Cunningham.
 A party course was served to the guest and the following Escondida members: Mmes. Harry Adams, Cunningham, Griffith, Butler Hurley, E. S. Hitchcock, O. L. Wood, and the hostess.

Tech Club Plans For Steak Fry

Tech Club members plan a steak fry for the October 1 meeting to begin at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.
 The group will gather at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brown before leaving for Cloverdale where the picnic is to be held.
 A special business session to elect new officers will follow the steak fry. All ex-students and graduates of Texas Technological College are urged to attend the meeting.

"Safety Sally" Dolls Guard School Zones

EL PASO, Tex. (UP)—Citizens of El Paso have hit on a novel method of warning motorists in school zones to drive with caution.
 At the beginning of the school year this fall 175 miniature wooden girl dolls with red dresses were placed in conspicuous spots on streets near school grounds, warning motorists to drive slowly.

Not One Repair Bill in SEVEN YEARS!

Mrs. Goettsche told our correspondent: "My first refrigerator was noisy and I forced myself to put up with its constant clatter, until the machinery began to wear out. Then we had one repair bill after another until we were forced to buy a new refrigerator. We decided on a SERVEL ELECTROLUX. No more noise! No more repair bills! I have used my Servel for almost seven years now without incurring a single repair bill. I have perfect refrigeration at all times. Believe me when I say that I would not trade my SERVEL ELECTROLUX for any other refrigerator."

SWEET MYSTERY OF LIFE

THE GROWTH AND HEALTH OF OUR CHILDREN

Sally Ann Bread
DELICIOUS
WHOLESOME

It takes a lot of energy to grow and to be healthily active. Wise parents know this and provide energy-giving foods for themselves and their children. Bread is one of the staples of life, and is basically a food that provides fuel for bodies, young and old, to burn in the daily routine of living.

The matter of choosing bread is important . . . more important than many people think, for bread must not only have a pleasant taste, it must contain the correct proportion of vitamins and starches to offer the most healthful diet.

Sally Ann Bread is delicious, and besides being good to eat, it is properly formulated for your health.

Insist on Sally Ann Bread. There is no better bread to be bought anywhere. Always delicious, always fresh. Ask your grocer for healthful, wholesome, Sally Ann Bread.

Careful Selection of Neighborhood Guards Value of Investment

The importance of using the utmost care in the selection of a desirable neighborhood is stressed by FHA officials, who suggest a number of questions, the answers to which may determine fitness of the neighborhood. Some of the questions are:

Useful Questions

What type of neighbors live in the community?
In what type of homes?

Are there zoning laws or deed restrictions to protect the property against undesirable encroachments such as factories, stores, and filling stations?

These and other questions also determine the future safety of the investment, as no amount of wishful thinking will make a desirable neighborhood of a section which is subjected to too rapid deterioration.

Transportation facilities are held by the FHA to be almost as important to family comfort as modern plumbing, heating or lighting.

Hence, the following questions are asked to determine the answer to this problem:

Location Near Employment

How is the home located in relation to the section of the city where members of the family are employed?

In seeking the answers to these questions before making commitments, the Federal Housing Administration observes that the attractions of a "ready new home" sometimes tempt the inexperienced to purchase property without regard for such important considerations.

If there are young people in the family, the home should be situated not too far from schools, parks, and playgrounds. The schools should be of a desirable type conveniently located, while parks within easy reach of home mean healthful recreation for the children and peace of mind for the parents.

Utilities Essential

The question of adequate utilities should not be overlooked. Does the property have an adequate pure-water supply and adequate sewage-disposal facilities?

Are gas, electric, and telephone services available?

Are the advantages of proper fire and police protection afforded?

Modernization Key To Safety in Home

The danger of loss to both property and life can be greatly reduced through the proper modernization of property.

Alterations and repairs to residential and income-producing properties will reduce considerably the possibility of fire frequency. Financial institutions qualified under the Modernization Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration make credit available for such improvements.

Faulty wiring systems, faulty gas or other heating systems, and neglect of attics, nooks, and other recesses where spontaneous combustion may work its havoc are considered among the chief causes of fires.

Proper maintenance of existing structures through annual improvement helps combat the menace of fire, contributing vastly to savings in property value, and increasing peace of mind on the part of occupants of the property.

Plumbing Economy Possible If Plan Is Made of Fixtures

One method of achieving economy in small-home construction is in the plan arrangement of plumbing installations.

By concentration of plumbing lines, the installation can be made with a minimum amount of labor and materials. In a one-story house this can often be accomplished by an arrangement of fixtures to permit wastes, vents, and water-supply lines to be placed in a partition between the kitchen and the bathroom. This requires the use of a minimum amount of pipe and but one soil stack.

Some small homes now have utility rooms on the first floor, and, where this is the case, concentration of the plumbing lines can be obtained with resulting economies by proper grouping of rooms containing plumbing fixtures.

In two-story houses plumbing can be concentrated vertically by placing the second-story bathroom over the kitchen and basement plumbing under the kitchen.

In all cases, installation and operating economies will result by placing the hot-water storage tank and heater as near as possible to the plumbing fixtures which require hot water.

It is also suggested that plumbing fixtures, for economy, should be selected on the basis of utility as to size, quality, and design.

Life Consists Not in Abundance Of Material Riches

By R. A. Weaver Prov. 11:24. There is that scattereth and increaseth yet more. And there is that withholdeth more than he meet, but it tendeth only to want.

25 The liberal soul shall be made fat; And he that watereth shall be watered also himself.

26 He that withholdeth grain, the people shall curse him; But blessing shall be upon the head of him that selleth it.

27 He that diligently seeketh good seeketh favor; But he that searcheth after evil, it shall come unto him.

28 He that trusteth in his riches shall fall; But the righteous shall flourish as the green leaf.

The topic for discussion as selected for the International Sunday School Lesson is: "The Use and Abuse of Wealth." Much confusion has existed in the minds of Christians since the time of Christ concerning the attitude of the disciple to material wealth. This question is tackled with forthright courage and frankness by many cults and New Thought proponents, but the orthodox church has not yet taken a definite stand with the promulgation of Christ's program as it relates to fame, fortune and finance. The fact is, as Bible student, from the mediocre dispenser to the Doctor of Divinity knows that primitive Christianity consisted of a social order whose tenets relegated wealth to the limbo of paganistic idolatry. In other words, riches, fame and wealth are all taboo in the processes of life as taught by the Master Jesus. Christ Jesus offered a substitute for material possessions, which man-kind has attempted to monopolize since first the marauding bands of hunting tribes swooped down upon the peaceful pursuits of the agrarians, to possess their properties and make slaves of their peoples—marking the beginning of our present civilization. His substitution was a philosophy of life, and the living of a life under a most radical change—a change which has not yet been literally tried out by either church or disciple. As Christ's plan has never been fully tried out, no one is able to say whether it will work, and the present ecclesiastical system of the Christian religion is a mixture of pragmatism and innocuous allegiance to a written creed.

The Christian's Attitude Specifically, and plainly Christ laid down the fundamental tenets of His Church, and the outstanding planks of His platform were the psychic and spiritual avenues of life which he taught to be real and fundamental. His kingdom was a kingdom not of this world, and His subjects were to live by and abide by laws emanating from the Spiritual realms. His main admonition may be summed up in the words used by Him in answer to a man who sought His help in the settlement of an inheritance: "Take heed, and beware of covetousness for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth. . . therefore take no thought for your life, what we shall eat; neither for the body, what we shall put on. . . but rather seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you." This is a hard saying, and viewed in the cold light of present day problems seems contrary to all the known laws of logic. It is something we refuse to accept as literally true, and hence not practiced. Therefore the use and abuse of wealth is a subject that can only be treated by the Christian in the same manner in which Jesus treated it when he said: "If thou wilt be perfect, go and sell that which thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven; and come and follow me."

The Christian Values We know that even after nearly twenty centuries of Christian ideology the world is not yet ready to accept the plain and simple rules of faith and practice of Him who revealed the way of life. Especially in regard to the acquisition of those things which we maintain to be possessions that are conducive to the abundant life. Man still loves to mingle with the maddening crowd's ignoble strife, and the primitive instinct still clings to us even though we occasionally feel the upward urge of higher and holier un-

A Light Kitchen Means Lightened Housework

This gloomy kitchen not only was an unattractive place in which to work, but it was also poorly arranged and ill-equipped. The tiny sink and drainboard, the old-fashioned storage closet, the open pipework were all inadequate when measured by the efficiency of the modern kitchen. Complete modernizations, as shown in the bottom photograph, did not entail any great expense but did provide the housewife with an up-to-date kitchen embodying desirable new equipment and improved arrangement. A built-in table and bench replace the old-fashioned enameled kitchen table and provide a cheerful place for breakfast and informal dining. The glass door admits more light and is placed more conveniently. Other improvements include the concealment of unsightly pipes, addition of new built-in cabinets, new metal-trimmed sink and drainboards with drawers and storage space, relocation of stove, and installation of new electrical outlets to accommodate kitchen appliances. Work of this type may be financed under the Modernization Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration.

Proper Repairs May Add Years To House's Life

Repairs may add years to the life of a house. A mid-western university had heard this many times but it wasn't content with that. It wanted to know exactly how many years could be added.

Proper attention to roof drainage, foundations, and footings increases the life span of a house, the investigators had heard, but they wanted that translated into years, months, or days—as the case may be.

In general it found: Drainage of roof and surface water away from the building and keeping gutters and downspouts in good repair may add as much as 17.8 years to the life of a building.

Proper foundations may add 14 years. Proper painting, when the building is erected and as often as needed thereafter, may add 16.13 years.

Repair of residential property is taking a larger place in the building industry, as home owners come more and more to realize that repair is a safeguard in their investments. Considerable repair and modernization has been stimulated by the Federal Housing Administration, whose Modernization Credit Plan acts to ease the financial burden.

Venetian Blind Color Scheme Change Easy

The color scheme of venetian blinds may be changed to fit any new interior decoration plan the home owner may devise. Repainting or repapering a room, with new colors being used, no longer means the venetian blinds must be replaced or even repainted. Here is the secret:

New tapes of various colors are being manufactured which may be gummed to the old ones. A color change may be effected easily and quickly.

Installation of venetian blinds is one of the many modernization and repair projects which may be financed under the Modernization Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration.

Fit New Home to Furniture for Charm Arrangement of furniture has a great deal to do with the libability and charm of a home, qualified interior decorators say. Furniture is part of the decoration of a room. Therefore, the decoration itself must accent the structural lines of the object it decorates.

Forethought in planning wall space and placing windows and doors in a new house will make it possible to arrange the furniture in the most comfortable and satisfactory way. If left to chance, the furniture which the family intended to use may have to be discarded and new pieces bought. Otherwise, wall space that is two or three inches too short for the davenport, bed, chest, bookcase, or dresser will be wasted.

The architect can just as easily make the wall space fit the furniture and design rooms for the most logical grouping.

Adequate Interior Lighting Is Even More Vital In Winter Months

Beauty and Dignity Needed in Doorway Of Modern Home The doorway to the home occupies a focal point of attention and should carry the dignity that is demanded of it.

Beauty in doorways runs the gamut of design all the way from simplicity to antique hand-carved portals. Many of the fine old doors of other centuries are now available in reproduction. These add greatly to homes of definite architectural design and do not cost much more than a plain door which may not be in character with the home.

Doors are poor articles on which to economize, most builders believe. The lightweight doors, suitable for interiors, will warp and crack in some climates if used for exteriors. If this occurs, the combined expenditures will exceed what the original cost of a good door would have been.

Fit New Home to Furniture for Charm Arrangement of furniture has a great deal to do with the libability and charm of a home, qualified interior decorators say. Furniture is part of the decoration of a room. Therefore, the decoration itself must accent the structural lines of the object it decorates.

Forethought in planning wall space and placing windows and doors in a new house will make it possible to arrange the furniture in the most comfortable and satisfactory way. If left to chance, the furniture which the family intended to use may have to be discarded and new pieces bought. Otherwise, wall space that is two or three inches too short for the davenport, bed, chest, bookcase, or dresser will be wasted.

The architect can just as easily make the wall space fit the furniture and design rooms for the most logical grouping.

Americans Know More About European War Than Soldiers on Battlefields, Says Maurice Tixier on Return From France

Editors Note—Maurice P. Tixier of the Schlumberger Well Surveying Company recently returned from service with the French Army to join his wife and baby daughter in Stanton. Tixier told Midland Rotarians of his experiences in Europe and Africa during the last six months. The text of his address follows:

"You know more about the war than I do since a soldier is not given an opportunity to learn what is going on. I landed Sept. 20 in New York and I have not had time to read the American press. Your war correspondents, I am sure, have kept you well informed of what happened in Europe since the beginning of the fight.

"I left the states last April boarding the S. S. Champlain in New York. This ship is a big French liner. We left New York April 14. We made the trip without any escort, counting on our speed for safety. As you know a submarine cannot go over 8 miles an hour. A ship going at 20 to 25 miles an hour can make a reasonably safe crossing since a submarine must follow the ship before attacking. I landed safely at St. Nazaire April 21. I am sorry to say that this ship was torpedoed in June.

"After seeing my family in central France I reported to colonel. My mobilization center was in southeastern France. I am a reserve lieutenant in the tank corp. When I got my first commission in 1934, the French army had many kinds of tanks.

"The heavy tanks of 45 tons were armed with a 75 mm gun placed between the tracks and on the turret a 47 mm anti-tank gun. Machine guns also were carried. Two powerful motors, one for each track gave a maximum speed of 25-miles an hour. The steel armor is about three inches thick. The 15 ton medium type tank has a 2-inch steel armor, a 37 mm gun set up on the turret with a machine gun. Some of these tanks have a speed of 28-miles an hour and are equipped with radio. Others have a maximum speed of 15 miles an hour and no radio.

Old Tanks No Good
"There also were a large number of old tanks used in 1917. They are not good for anything. Unfortunately, we had to put them in use since the number of modern tanks was so small.

"The French army had two motorized divisions composed of a battalion of heavy tanks and two battalions of medium tanks—in all 150 tanks per division. A large number of battalions equipped with medium tanks were distributed among the infantry. I think France had about 1500 modern tanks.

"The Germans had at least 10 motorized divisions with 500 tanks in each. Beside this, all their infantry was supported by a large number of tanks. The tank corp formed in the last war had for a mission, at that time, the protection of the infantry. Very few officers in the French army were thinking of using tanks alone without infantry following immediately behind. To speak frankly, we did not know what tactics should be followed in using tanks in the battle.

"I took my uniform May 8, two days before the German attack. I learned of the invasion while listening to the radio that same morning. I can assure you that the news was quite a shock to most of the French people.

Saw No Parachutists
"Since a great number of parachutists were attacking airports, I was sent with a section of tanks to defend the airport of the town. I stayed there about a week but I did not see any parachutists.

"During the third week of May, I was ordered to reinforce the staff of a battalion which was in formation on the Loire river. I left South-eastern France with a captain, five other lieutenants and 150 men. After two days travel we reported to the commander of the new unit. He was a major and told us that he had not asked for anyone since he already had too many men. Consequently, we had to go back where we came from. This is an excellent example of the poor organization. We had in France, and this is the main cause of the French defeat.

"No Guns"
"At the end of May, I was incorporated in a tank battalion near Paris. When we got our tanks we could not find any guns. There was a shortage of 37 mm guns. Consequently, we were sent to North Africa to eventually fight the Italians, since it was obvious that nothing could have been done against the Germans with such poor equipment. In our unit we had the very old tanks built in 1917. We even used paper tanks in North Africa to scare off the Italians. It sounds like a joke, but it is the truth. We had nothing to fight with since most of our modern equipment was lost in Flanders, around Dunkirk.

"We crossed the Mediterranean with 20 other ships. We were escorted by a few destroyers in sail-men. De Gaulle is fighting to put France and England back to their standing before the war. Petain is trying to minimize the defeat and help the French people under German rule. De Gaulle is free and believes in a British victory. Petain is not free and believes in a German victory. This makes all the difference in the world.

"We could talk a long time about the causes of the French defeat. After 1919 the young generations have been brought up with the idea that no more wars would be fought. Therefore, no military spirit could be expected of such an education. For twenty years England and France have pursued their over-egotistic policy.

Explains French View

"Many times England played ball with Germany since the last war. When France tried to keep Germany on her knees, England was helping Germany to stand. This explains why the French have turned against England in great numbers. The Socialistic Blum government disorganized the country. The question is not to know if the changes made by the Blum government were right or wrong. What we can say is that it was not the time to turn everything upside down. Germany was rearming. When the war started, the heavy industries, almost all under government control, were not tuned up for the effort we asked of them. The so-called nationalization of plane factories proved to be a flop.

"Too much time and energy was wasted in endless discussion. Politics, demagogism and corruption made impossible the organization and the building of the French defenses. Stupidity and jealousy finished the picture. Above all the lack of cooperation among public services and the poor quality of the leaders in all fields can be charged to the system which consented to give responsible positions to very old men. In all public offices as well as in the army you had to stay in the groove for many years before getting a responsible position. If you had the luck to live long enough you could hope to get to the top. This is a poor way to make leaders. Most of the senior officers in the French army were very old and some of the Generals were feeble and decrepit.

Fifth Column
"Much has been said about the Fifth Column. I am not in position to say how much underground work was done in France by the German agents. In this field as in many other Germany did her best, but I think that we have tried to cover the incapacity and the short sightedness of our leaders by this magic word, the fifth column.

"The people of France have been deceived. In one month a great nation was defeated. This explains why the Vichy government pushed by public opinion has indicted the members of the previous cabinet. I do not think that much good can come from revenge and anger. Still it is very human when a catastrophe happens to put the blame on the captain of the ship.

"Can England win? I do not know. Let us hope that she will. I am not in a position to ascertain whether she needs the United States forces to defeat Hitler. One thing is sure. If England loses it will change the face of the world.

"We must be prepared in this country to face any situation. We have some very smart men and I feel confident that they are doing just what has to be done. We must

Griffith and Butler Will Captain Teams in Chamber of Commerce Membership Campaign, Oct. 9-10

Plans for the annual membership campaign of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, October 9 and 10, neared completion Saturday with the appointments of Daniel H. Griffith and John P. Butler as captains of the two teams which will compete in the drive for new members and for increasing the annual budget of the civic organization.

The campaign again this year will be a contest with two sides composed of volunteer workers competing on a point basis. Points will be given for new members, increasing dues, and collecting dues in advance. Points also will be awarded teams contacting all their prospects. The losing side will be hosts to the winners at a banquet at the conclusion of the drive.

Griffith, when advised of his appointment, said his side will certainly not feed Butler's crew. Butler said that although he is still somewhat weak as a result of a recent attack of mumps, he is confident he will be strong enough to lead his group to victory.

The two captains will meet soon to line up their workers. It is expected that 20 teams of two men each will participate in the drive. An effort will be made to increase the annual budget of the Chamber of Commerce to at least $10,000.

ROOSEVELT HAS FORECAST GENERAL ELECTION RESULT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—President Roosevelt told a press conference he had forecast outcome of the November election. In response to a question, the President said the prediction was in a sealed envelope in his desk.

set aside politics, to work together for the future of the nation. If every one is doing his job as he should I feel certain that the miseries which now over Europe will never come to America."

All Citizens Are Invited To Open Chamber of Commerce Meeting At Hotel Scharbauer Monday Evening

Major accomplishments of the Midland Chamber of Commerce during the first nine months of 1940 and proposed projects and activities for the organization during the coming months will be discussed in detail at the open meeting for all citizens of Midland and Midland County in the Crystal ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer at 8 o'clock Monday evening.

All citizens interested in the continued growth and general welfare of the community are urged to attend the meeting.

John W. House, Chamber of Commerce president, said yesterday the meeting will be of the conference type with everyone present given an opportunity of making suggestions and expressing views on any and all subjects. Success of the meeting, he said depends upon the discussion from the floor. He urged all persons, whether members of the Chamber of Commerce or not, who have suggestions as to what the Chamber of Commerce should do for the betterment of the community to attend the meeting and to express themselves freely along a line.

The Chamber of Commerce, said House, is supported by the citizens of Midland and is operated solely for their benefit. It is up to the citizens to take an active part in the organization if it is to function as should. The purpose of the open meeting is to give Midland citizens an opportunity to know what the organization is doing and to take an active part in formulating a program for the future.

The Monday night session will be a series of open conferences to be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Highway and airport developments will be two of the major subjects of discussion at the conference. It is hoped that a number of projects will be suggested.

Eskimos Unable To Understand Helium Tanks and Balloons

BARROW, Alaska, Sept. 28 (AP)—Balloons and helium tanks have the Eskimos gaping open-mouthed around the northernmost community on the North American continent. It's because the United States weather bureau, in its ever-widening attempt to plot storms before they blow and snows before they fall, has extended its observation here.

So John Jones, of Chanute, Kas., will be as surprised as the Eskimos to know that the balloons and helium tanks are helping the government tell him whether the time is ripe for a picnic or whether he'd better buy some anti-freeze for his car.

The Eskimos are currently watching construction of a huge tower from which radio-controlled six-foot balloons carrying weather registering devices will be released. The tower dominates the Barrow skyline—which otherwise is composed chiefly of the sheet-iron roofs of trading stores and the rough tops of native houses against a barren background of rolling tundra.

The balloons will be released over the top of the Arctic ice field, and the findings of the instruments will be transmitted southward from this weather-breeding area so United States citizens can get the jump on the elements.

POSTMASTER TRIES TO MAIL LETTER IN FIRE ALARM BOX

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 28 (AP)—J. C. Stopp, postmaster (of all things) at Willard, O., tried to mail a letter recently and brought pieces of fire-fighting equipment to a downtown intersection. Stopp, attending the National Postmasters' Convention, admitted he mistook a fire alarm box for a mail box.

MEXICO NEARS SETTLEMENT IN ONE OIL CONTROVERSY

1941 Studebakers Are Displayed By Broadway Garage

Studebaker automobiles for 1941 are highlighted by a new and usually distinctive slip-stream Land Cruiser which is expected to create a definite wave of enthusiasm with trade and public alike. The new Studebakers have arrived in Midland and are in display at the show rooms of Broadway Garage.

The new Land Cruiser body from the design board of Raymond Loewy, well-known for his Stratoliner, railroad and steamship styling. It is lower, roomier, sleeker than any previous Studebaker and press-previewers have called the car one of the most distinctive automobiles ever built. Its appearance in the Studebaker new model group indicates that the company is making a renewed effort to accelerate the sales of Commanders or Presidents to the same quick pace that has been set by the low-price Champ.

But Studebaker is not resting on its oars with the new Land Cruiser models in preparing a greater sales during the coming year. The entire line has been made roomier, more eye-striking, more responsive to the accelerator. The harmony between stylist and builder, the ingenuity of chassis engineers and the generous spending by body designers have resulted in the most comprehensive line of Studebakers ever produced.

Prices remain consistent with Studebaker's competitive spirit. F. Heil, Broadway Garage manager, said not only has Loewy designed keying every line and contour ultra modern function trend, but Studebaker's body engineers have spent generously in providing additional room, riding comfort and effective harmonizing of interior upholstery and hardware with exterior styling.
