Germans Renew Bombing Raids On British Capital

Five Alarms Sounded During Morning After Night Without Attack

LONDON, Oct. 7 (AP)—Numerous formations of German planes renewed mass tactics against London today, causing five "alert" signals to sound through the capital area, and reportedly losing 12 of their number in severe air fights and anti-aircraft fire.

Only brief intervals separated the quiet periods between the fourth and fifth alarms, as the Germans took advantage of brilliant weather to press almost continuous attacks. Raiding planes were seen over Central London during the fifth alarm and gunfire was heard.

The intensified raids followed upon London's first quiet night in a month.

Daylight raids, starting with attacks by single or small groups of planes, broadened into a series of thrusts with large numbers taking part.

The third daylight alarm was sounded in the London area as German planes, flying singly, by twos and threes, flew over the southeastern part of the city and also over the southwest coast.

Bursts of machine gun and anti-aircraft fire told of the brief battles during the second and third raids, and apparently the bombers were driven off.

But later they returned over a southwestern London district, and were met by ground fire and British fighters.

Some yellow-nosed Messerschmitts dived on the balloon barrage at Dover, and shot down two of the big sauses.

The Germans took advantage of brilliant sunshine which succeeded thick clouds and storms yesterday and last night, when air activity was greatly reduced.

As they returned to the siege British authorities let it be known that allowed Westminster Abbey, burial place of illustrious British dead and the scene of the coronations of her kings and queens, had been damaged by a recent bombing, and that Lambeth Palace, residence of the Archbishop of Canterbury, has been made uninhabitable.

British bombers attacked Nazi coastal objectives and shipping over an area stretching from Harlingen in the Netherlands to Berghem in France in a series of daylight raids which began soon after late yesterday and lasted until late afternoon, the air ministry news service reported today.

RAF On Offensive.

Despite unrelenting bad weather, British bombers raided the "invasion ports" of Ostend, Calais and Boulogne, attacked the Diepholz airport in western Germany and bombed shipping in the Nazi-held Dutch harbors of Harlingen, Stavoren, Enkhuizen, Dordrecht and Den Helder.

One pilot of an American-built Hudson of the coastal command was cited particularly for "great gallantry" in an attack on two armed merchant ships off the Dutch coast. Although his plane was hit and set afire, the communiqué said, the flier pressed home his attack and his plane "eventually turned over and plunged headlong into the sea."

"Weather conditions were consistently bad, with low clouds and heavy rain storms restricting visibility," said an air ministry bulletin.

"One early morning raider approaching Calais under cover of the clouds attacked a concentration of barges lying in one of the main basins. Two heavy caliber bombs aimed from a low level exploded among a group of the barges. Another hit a jetty and a fourth struck a large warehouse."

"Almost immediately after this attack the bomber itself was engaged by a formation of twelve Messerschmitt 109 fighters. In the running fight which ensued, the British rear gunner shot one of the Messerschmitts down in flames and held off the rest of the formation until the bomber had gained cover in a cloud.

Soundproofing

This young British girl is trying out one of the new gutta-percha earplugs, of which 50,000,000 are being distributed by the Ministry of Home Security. The plugs are designed, not only to deaden the nerve-racking bomb blasts, but to protect eardrums as well.

Observance Of Fire Prevention Week Is Started In Reverse

Midland County residents started observance of National Fire Prevention Week in reverse, Sunday, two alarms being turned in to the fire department.

Two railway section houses at Germania, 10 miles east, were completely destroyed by flames of undetermined origin early Sunday morning. Loss was estimated at $1,000. A water heater explosion was blamed for a blaze that partially destroyed an out-house at 207 E. Dakota street about three o'clock yesterday afternoon. Damage was light.

Mussolini Makes Inspection Tour Of Italian Army

Readiness Of Troops Examined As Plans Of Axis Remain Secret

By The Associated Press.
ROME, Oct. 7.—Premier Mussolini moved rapidly through northeastern Italy today inquiring into the readiness of his trained troops while his people and the world waited for some indication from him on what axis move his Brenner Pass army with Adolf Hitler might foreshadow.

On Thursday he is scheduled to review more Fascist units at Padua, up near the head of the Adriatic, and the word spread in some quarters that a speech might be expected from him then. Today he was at Verona, inspecting his armies of the Po.

The Italian high command, meantime, claimed another British submarine had fallen victim to the same flotilla of motor torpedo boats which was reported yesterday to have sunk a British undersea craft.

The communiqué also said a British submarine had come out of the sea and thrown shells into the city of Savona, in northwestern Italy near Genoa, killing a civilian and injuring six others.

Naval casualties during September were listed as 55 Italian officers and sailors, five African native sailors and two civilian workers killed. The missing totaled 116 and 60 were wounded.

Mussolini reviewed motorized divisions today around Verona.

Axis Action Due.

Decisions reached at Friday's Brenner Pass meeting of Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini "will be translated into facts x x x in a while," in the opinion of Giovanni Ansaldo, editor of Foreign Minister Ciano's newspaper Il Telegrafio.

Ansaldo told the nation's troops in a broadcast yesterday that this action would carry the axis "further along the road to victory."

Press spokesmen turned much of their attention to the United States over the week-end. Ansaldo said "other diplomatic steps" may be in preparation to block any possible United States intervention.

Such intervention, he added, "is more than ever uncertain, and that is due to the tri-partite pact signed in Berlin (by Germany, Italy and Japan)."

On the fighting front in Egypt, the high command said Matruh, next objective in the Italian eastern drive, was subjected to "violent and intense bombing with imposing results" on Saturday. The communiqué said one British plane "probably" was downed.

Hold Aged Man For Keeping Body Of Girl In His Home

KEY WEST, Fla., Oct. 7 (AP)—Officers arranged a hearing today for a 70-year old man, who, they charged, kept in his bedroom for seven years the body of a young woman whom he fell in love before she died.

"I did not want one so beautiful to go to dust," Deputy Sheriff Ray Elwood quoted the man as saying.

Booked as Karl Tanzler Van Cosel, he was placed in jail in default of $1,000 bond on a charge of removing the body from a vault without permission.

The officer said Van Cosel explained that he removed the body from a vault two years after the 19-year old woman died, took it to his isolated home and used wax to repair and preserve it.

Elwood said the body, clad in a silken robe with a veil over the face, lay in a single bed near a bed on which the elderly man slept. Gold bracelets were on the wrists and an artificial rose in her hair.

Deputies Elwood and Bernard Waite related this story.

Van Cosel was an x-ray expert at the hospital to which the young woman was taken nine years ago for treatment for tuberculosis. He became enamored of her, and after her death, persuaded her family to allow him to have the body removed from the grave to a vault built at his expense.

Daily, the aging man spent hours in the vault.

"Then one day," Deputy Elwood quoted him, "I opened the coffin and found that the body was decaying. I did not want one so beautiful to go to dust. I stole the body about two years after she died and have had it with me ever since."

A member of the woman's family became suspicious, and upon a visit to Van Cosel's home, had a glimpse of the body on the bed. A search warrant was obtained and Deputies Elwood and Waite entered the home yesterday.

Selective Service Officials Ask FDR To Name Director

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—Selective service officials privately expressed concern today over reports that President Roosevelt might delay appointment of a draft director until after the November elections.

Although the machinery is virtually ready for the registration of some 16,500,000 men on Oct. 16, officials said lack of a director with full power to make decisions was hampering them somewhat.

Lt. Col. Lewis B. Hershey, a member of the committee, has been assigned by the President to exercise the functions of the director, but he does not have even the title of acting director. Friends of Hershey had been advocating that he be placed in full charge.

Slayer Of Woman Is Sought In Alabama

NEW BROCTON, Ala., Oct. 7 (AP)—A step-by-step search of the Horse-Branch Creek section was being conducted today by Coffee County Sheriff J. D. Stewart in efforts to find clues that might lead to the slayer of Mrs. Euna Peacock, a farmwife.

The body of the 33-year-old farm matron, mother of three children, was found in a pond late Saturday, several hours after she had left home with her children on a broom-making expedition.

Stewart said an autopsy directed by state toxicologist H. W. Nixon of Auburn revealed she had died of drowning. But indications pointed to a savage attack before she was thrown into the water—her neck was broken, her face horribly beaten, and the Sheriff said she had been raped.

Sprains Leg As Horse Falls

Joe Haygood, Jr. was admitted to a local hospital Saturday where he was treated for a severe sprain in the right leg.

Haygood was riding a horse when the accident occurred, the horse slipping and falling on him. His leg was sprained and cut deeply.

Japan-Bound Cargo Again Delayed

Listing to port, the freighter Panamanian, loaded with gasoline and other cargo for Japan, was nosed aground by tugs in Bolivar Roads at Galveston after a break in the intake pipe flooded the engine and boiler rooms Oct. 4. The Galveston News said it was understood difficulties in obtaining government permission to sail had been cleared up before the mishap again delayed the sailing.

Axis Action In Balkans Looms As Possibility

Turkey Threatened By New Movements Of Mechanized Forces

By The Associated Press.

German and Italian troops were reported today to have marched into Rumania, and word spread in the Balkan kingdom's capital that the axis planned to construct a great naval base on the Black Sea.

With this first new move since Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini met last Friday at Brenner Pass, it appeared that Rome-Berlin strategy now contemplates a thrust into southeast Europe—possibly involving Turkey and the strategic Dardanelles.

Authorized Nazis in Berlin described the sending of German armoured forces into Rumania as "precautionary," supporting a German guarantee to safeguard Rumania's integrity.

"We haven't forgotten British designs on Baku and other oil points," Nazi quarters said.

While this would indicate that the troops were sent to protect Rumania's rich oil fields, which supply the fuel and lubrication for Adolf Hitler's war machine, it was recalled that Germany's pledge to Rumania on Aug. 30 also called for protection against any further encroachment on the Balkan kingdom's dwindling borders.

At that time, the agreement was said to have been aimed at halting Russia from any new land-grabbing moves in southeast Europe.

Dispatches from London said the British government was awaiting further details of "reports that German sent troops and anti-aircraft guns into Rumania—to shall we say—protect their interests there."

Britain last week sharply protested the sending of German armoured forces into Rumania, and against the reported beating and kidnaping of British subjects there, particularly oil men operating British-controlled oil fields in Rumania.

After a comparatively quiet night, with rough flying weather hampering RAF raiders, aerial activity exploded anew on both sides of the channel.

Perfect Bombing Weather.

While British bombers staged daylight attacks on the Nazi-held channel "invasion ports," shipping and German barge concentrations, RAF fighters reportedly engaged German attackers which dive-bombed and machine-gunned English coastal towns.

Brilliant sunshine, calm seas and a mist-veiled French coast offered an almost ideal setting for an invasion attempt, but high German sources put a damper on a "maybe" troop-landing hint by quoting a Nazi soldier-reporter who declared: "The German air force may soon be followed by hundreds of thousands of brave German soldiers who are in readiness and burning for action."

These sources emphasized that the soldier-reporter merely "reported what he saw" expressed his own private opinion.

However, in Rome, Foreign Minister Count Ciano's newspaper asserted that decisions reached by Hitler and Mussolini in Friday's secret meeting at Brenner Pass would soon "be translated into facts."

There was still no specific hint as to the nature of the Rome-Berlin axis directorate's decisions.

Forest I-H Moss Indicates Opening Of New Ector Area Or South Spread Of South Cowden Pool As Oil Shows

By Frank Gardner

Opening of a new Ector County area or proving of a mile and a half south extension to the South Cowden pool was indicated today by Forest Development Corporation No. 1-H Paul Moss as it filled with oil at a rate of 20 barrels per day, natural, while fishing for bailer.

Bailer has been recovered, and the well now is shut in for fill-up test. It is bottomed at 4,300 feet in lime and topped pay at 4,075 feet. Acidizing or shooting is probable.

Same firm's No. 1 Bradley et al. central Ector wildcat about six miles equidistant from the South Cowden, Harper and Penn pools, is remaining core-hole, bottomed at 4,392 feet in lime. Shows, if any, revealed by coring from 4,315 to present depth, have not been reported.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 R. B. "Bum" Cowden of Midland, quarter-mile north outpost to the North Goldsmith pool of extreme northwestern Ector, is drilling at 3,760 feet in anhydrite.

One-half mile west extension of the Means pool in northern Andrews County was assured today by Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 82 J. S. Means.

Bottomed at 4,530 feet in gray lime, the well has 2-inch tubing set.

7 Die, Another Is Injured In Three Texas Plane Crashes

By The Associated Press

Seven persons were killed and another ship in the collision was pilot-airplane accidents over the week end.

Claude Eure, 60 year old pilot, and four passengers in his plane fell to their deaths after an air collision late yesterday near Velasco. The ship in the collision was piloted by Eure's 21 year old son, Willard, who managed to land safely despite the loss of a propeller.

The fatally injured passengers were Dave S. Crowley, about 60, of Velasco; his son, J. P. Crowley, 21; T. J. Knowles, about 45, Freeport; and Hugh Jolly, 40, Freeport.

Scott Strauch, 29, N. Y. A. instructor at Roy Licks Dam near Burnet, and William Jordan 26, of Katelym, Mason county, were killed Sunday when Strauch's plane crashed in a field near Katelym.

Frank Graves, 18 year old private student at Beaumont, suffered a cracked pelvis Sunday in the third mishap. Graves pulled his ship out of a spin but was forced to land in a woods.

Chinese Hail Talk By Secretary Knox

CHUNGKING, China, Oct. 7 (AP)—Chinese newspapers gave banner headlines today to the speech of United States Navy Secretary Frank Knox, declaring the United States will be ready if the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo alliance forces a fight on her.

The influential, independent Ta Kung Pao said the statement was an indication the United States government realized the Far Eastern situation had reached the war stage.

The newspaper urged the United States to take the offensive before Japan is able to consolidate her position in Indo-China.

Accidental Gun Discharge Fatal To Courtney Man

STANTON, Oct. 7. (Special)—O. W. Flanagan, 48, was instantly killed this morning about 10 o'clock when a charge from a 12 gauge shotgun he was carrying struck him.

A coroner's verdict, given at noon today, declared the death was accidental. Evidence indicated the gun accidentally discharged as Flanagan was opening or closing a wire gate leading to his lot on his farm in the Courtney community, 10 miles north of here. He had left the house with the gun in an attempt to kill a hawk. The charge took him in the right side, around the waistline, and ranged upwards.

Flanagan's body was found by a hired hand, Sherman Hightower, about 30 minutes after Flanagan had left the house. Hightower told officers that he heard the shot but paid no attention to it, thinking Flanagan had shot at the hawk.

Deceased is survived by his widow and three daughters, Doraline, Mary Frances and Mattie Lou Flanagan.

Funeral arrangements were tentative.

Japanese Voice New Demands On Indo-China Today

CHUNGKING, China, Oct. 7 (AP)—Japan has made new and far-reaching demands on French Indo-China, including the outright cession of an important slice of Tongkin Province, in the northeast corner of the colony, a usually reliable source said today.

This source, reporting receipt of "authentic information," said the second Japanese demand was cession of a northwest strip of the colony's territory to Thailand (Siam).

A third demand was reported to be that Indo-China grant independence to a southern district, presumably Cambodia, where a puppet native government would be established.

Lessening the Economic Hangover

After more than a year of war, indications are that basic American economy has been only slightly disturbed. The stock market has not behaved hysterically. Food prices, rents, clothing and other commodity costs have not shot up to unhealthy boom peaks.

The billions of dollars of defense appropriations have not yet shown up in the economic picture. They are, of course, certain to have their effects. It is impossible to spend that much money without having something to show for it besides boats and guns and armies.

A recent survey of food prices generally throughout the United States reflected an increase of less than 5 per cent after the first year of war. Prices were about the same as they were a year ago, but were about 7 per cent higher than just before the beginning of World War II.

At the same time, wages have gone up. The Investors' Syndicate of Minneapolis has reported that wage earners are receiving about 15 per cent more than they were two months ago and salary workers about 7 per cent more.

Basic wage rates have not changed perceptibly, but workers are receiving more pay for overtime. Some of the increase may result from greater distribution of employment.

Not all of the payroll increase can be ascribed to defense. Most of the defense program, after all, has not even been put into operation. Many economists believe that much of the industrial gain can be chalked up to normal changes, unrelated to the war.

The sane and orderly manner in which business has so far met and balanced the inevitable effects of a major war are encouraging. It's a pretty large order to keep an economic system running smoothly in one country when the rest of the world has forgotten all the rules.

As long as American business can continue to do the things that must be done without losing its head and basking in bloody profits, this country has less to fear from a post-war depression. The job is to build—build as fast as possible—but on solid rock.

A Holiday For Justice

Hitler discovered early in his regime that the courts could be turned into an effective instrument of totalitarianism. World opinion cast an aura of sanctity around the courtroom. There was a general feeling that justice was an absolute and that anything that happened in a court of law necessarily had the blessing of the blind goddess with the scales in her hand.

Hitler took advantage of this popular feeling. A dictator could, if he wished, plunder, persecute and murder without any higher authority than his own decree. But even dictators must acknowledge the weight of world opinion.

In enlisting the formality of courtroom procedure, the Nazi leader started something.

The Reichstag fire trial was probably the first instance in which Der Fuehrer used his new weapon.

All the trappings were there—the judges, the lawyers, the uniformed attendants, the routine procedure. Only the public was locked out. The public and the goddess of justice. Yet, when it was all over and the victims had been beheaded or put safely out of the way, it didn't look quite so much like outright persecution and murder. Instead there were "convictions" and "executions" and "sentences," and that didn't sound nearly so bad.

So Hitler just kept on, and Russia got the idea. Several thousand people who didn't see eye to eye with Stalinist policy were "sentenced" to death. There were "trials" and that took the sting off the official massacre.

When France's share of the war was over, the Vichy government decided something had to be done to cleanse the soul of France. So the former leaders of what was once a great republic were brought to trial and charged with "war guilt."

Next in the chain of trials may be that of Mme. Magda Lupescu, the unpopular friend of former King Carol of Rumania. There is some talk among the Nazi Iron Guards of asking Spain and Portugal to extradite Mmes. Lupescu and Ernest Urdareanu, former Rumanian minister without portfolio.

To the dwindling democratic world, where justice still means something more than a dress rehearsal for murder, governmental trials in continental Europe no longer mean anything. Americans have long since ceased to be deluded.

Schools For Weathermen

In its defense preparations, the army is even doing something about the weather. Science hasn't yet reached the point where it can control the elements and decide that tomorrow we should have rain or fog or sunshine, but at least it has gone far in perfecting its methods of forecasting.

A good share of Germany's success in air warfare has been attributed to that country's long-time study of weather forecasting. For the weather—if you can accurately foretell it far enough in advance—can be a powerful ally.

Taking the German lesson to heart, the U. S. army has set up a number of schools for meteorologists.

They'll be taught long-range forecasting, and will be equipped to give accurate answers to the old question, "Are we going to have a nice day tomorrow?"

It was a double feature program of "My Wife's Relatives" and "They Won't Forget," which accounted for a large number of domestic rows in Chicago recently.

SERIAL STORY THIS COULD BE YOUR STORY

BY MARGUERITE GAHAGAN

YESTERDAY: Joe is still in a critical condition, may have to undergo an operation. Worried and weary after her visit to the hospital, Sue Mary reads of federal agents hunting down subversive elements. She hurries to the federal building, tells her story to the department chief. He tells her not to worry, to go through with plans to meet Nick.

SUE MARY WINS Chapter XXV. THE door to the law office was partly open. Sue Mary pushed it wide, stepped in to the dim quiet. She started back in surprise as Nick rose from a chair and came toward her. She had hoped to be there ahead of him. She wondered how he had come in, but she had no time to puzzle that out. He was beside her before she could speak. He took her in his arms, looked into her face.

"Why—Nick—your're here early." "Not too early. A man in love doesn't like to wait." He held her tighter and kissed her long while she tried to push him away. "No, Nick. No, please. You—you said you wanted to talk to me."

"We can always talk—" he said, kissing her again. "She wanted to run to run anywhere; get away from Nick, from his lips, his arms. She was terrified, but she had to stay. He took her hand and led her to the office."

"We shouldn't be here," she repeated, but he only smiled. It was then that Vera came out of old Ross Clark's office.

"So—she did come," she said, looking at Sue Mary in her usual calm, poised, assured manner. "Well, now we can call it a night."

Sue Mary sat down suddenly. Her legs refused to hold her up and again she felt panic taking control of her. She wasn't alone. Mr. Flanagan and his men should be here. But were they? She wondered if they were here—now. How much had they seen and heard?

"She felt enough confidence in Flanagan and his men to believe they controlled the situation. Yet being with Nick was nerve-wracking enough."

VERA was stuffing some papers into her bag. "Let's go, Sue. She knows—that is unless she's a complete half-wit."

Sue Mary felt feminine indignation rising within her. "Half-wit?" she repeated angrily. "You can't do anything about it now," Vera told her calmly. "I knew you saw too much the other night when I was here. The only way to keep you from talking—just in case you did understand what was going on—was to make you a partner. That's why you're here tonight."

"So you are in: in on whatever goes on here, and you hadn't better talk unless you want to blow yourself right out of a job and into plenty of trouble. You just do as we say and everything will be all right. Won't it, Nick?"

apartment. If it isn't safe for me to stay here, then it isn't safe for either of you." Vera's briskness wasn't so emphatic. "I said I'd be along in a minute. Start down. I'll meet you in the lobby."

Vera walked out and Nick waited a moment. Then he turned to Sue Mary and drew her to him. "Kiss me," he told her. "Nothing's going to happen to you. Stop trembling. You're in this, but you belong to me and we're going to come out ahead. Right on the top."

"No, Nick. Let me go." His lips were on hers again for an endless eternity. Vera's voice, furious and cold, broke them apart. "So—that's it. You had to talk to her. Natalie was right. You're in love with the little fool."

Her voice rose to a high key. "You've used me—just as you used her. Maybe she isn't the only fool. But you won't get away with it this time, Nick. Not as far as I'm concerned anyway. I'll talk—I'll talk—"

"That's right, lady, you're going to talk. And soon."

NICK whirled around at the sound of the strange voice. Sue Mary saw Flanagan in the doorway, smiling. Other men were crowding through, behind him. One, came out of Ross Clark's office. Several had guns.

"What the—" Nick muttered. Vera started for the door, but an agent stopped her, motioned her back into the center of the room, "Take the two of them along," Flanagan ordered. "And get those papers away from her. There won't be any airport site announcement tomorrow. I've settled that deal already after talking to young Clark."

"Now, maybe, good citizen Nicky can tell us about the labor trouble at Smithsonian—as well as a lot of other things we've been wondering about."

They were finally gone, Vera berating Nick and Nick trying desperately to hush her angry flow of words.

"Nice people," Flanagan said to Sue Mary. "I'm sorry you had to go through this, but it seemed the safest way. Get them here as though nothing was going to happen and then nab them."

"You've helped up plenty. Most people want to help these days, but too many of them let their imaginations run wild. But this—this was the real thing. You've done your part tonight."

She felt a glow of gratitude, but her eyes were on the clock. She wanted to get to the hospital. They might be operating on Joe even now.

"Sure, I know," Flanagan was saying. "You're worried about the boy friend. Well, get along. I'll put you in a cab. I have a hunch you're going to find everything all right. You deserve to have it that way."

SUE MARY didn't remember much about the ride. She walked down the corridor to Joe's room. Suppose it was empty! Suppose he had gone to the operating room never to return! She met the nurse at the door.

"Tell me—is he—?" "He's fine. They won't have to operate. It will be a tough struggle back but he's out of danger. And you can go in—just a second, though."

A second—it was a whole lifetime. The beginning of a new life, she thought, standing by Joe's bed, watching his regular breathing, touching his helpless hand. It was a new life and no matter what hap-

YOUR NERVES

This is one of a series of special articles revealing typical cases of nervous and mental disorders and their treatment through thought control as carried out by the author and his associates at the Boston Dispensary, famous charitable health clinic.

By Winfred Rhoades IF you should go to the dispensary unit of the New Jersey Medical Centre in Boston, Mass., some morning about 9 o'clock you would see only one of people seeking preliminary information from a young woman at the desk by the main entrance, new patients going one by one to have their needs inquired into by the admitting officers, others sitting on benches and waiting to be called, and still others, many of them in a long queue, making their way to the cashier's cage to pay their 50-cent fee and get their treatment ticket. If even a 50-cent fee is more than they can pay they will be received for less; and if they can't afford anything at all they will receive treatment without charge.

In that long queue you would find symptoms of many kinds seeking relief at the many clinics which the dispensary maintains. You would also find symptoms which can never be cured by drugs, and can be cured as the person who suffers from them learns to change his habits of thinking and of emotional reaction.

The pains are just as real, the sufferings are just as great, but the real root of the symptoms lies not in the body, but in the mind. These symptoms must be treated by psychotherapy, treatment of disease by psychological laws and principles. Drugs can never do

Here is an illustration. Before the first gathering for group psychotherapy, on April 11, 1930, Mrs. D. had had a remarkable experience.

For three months she had been ill, and for six weeks of that time had not felt able to do her bit of housework and had been spending most of her time in bed. The house was not cleaned. No supper was awaiting her husband when he came home at night.

Although she felt scarcely able to walk or even to stand, Mrs. D. made herself travel from her part of the city to the dispensary one morning. She was carefully equipped, and no sign of organic disorder could be discovered. Mrs. D.'s own words will tell what then happened.

"Dr. Pratt said there was nothing the matter with my back, so I got up and walked." She had been unable to walk without support since Christmas because of pain in the small of her back.

Local doctors had recommended a special corset or an operation, but without any artificial aids or any medicine Mrs. D. went marking that day after leaving the dispensary, did a washing after she reached home, and surprised her husband by having his supper on the table when he arrived after his day's work.

"I feared cancer, hardening of the arteries, and such things, and watched my color, and listened to neighbors' suggestions and diagnoses, but I had Dr. Pratt's word for it that there is nothing the matter," she said, and from that moment she entered again into life in a more vigorous fashion.

That was more than ten years ago. When seen last spring Mrs. D. presented a fine appearance of health and vigor. But thoughtful habits, bad habits of emotional reaction, painful conflicts in the mind and spirit, repressions and complexes, unadjustments and maladjustments to the conditions under which life must be lived—these are responsible for multitud-ious ills and sufferings. You must learn how to correct your bad mental and emotional habits. Many people have done so as they learned the art of controlling their thoughts and directing them into new and better channels.

GOV. JAMES VISITS ESTES

The War Today

By DeWitt MacKenzie Those who have been wondering why the remarkably efficient British Royal Air Force hasn't devoted more energy to reprisals against Berlin for the fierce bombing of London have a complete answer in England's disclosure of her strategy of industrial and military destruction in Germany.

The fact is that the killing of civilians has no military value whatever, unless public morale is shattered in the process. By the same token the damaging of such hallowed monuments as Westminster Abbey serves no military purposes. On the contrary, civilian bombing is costly in warplanes, in the gasoline which is so valuable as to be like liquid gold, and in the loss of pilots who cannot be replaced excepting with men who have had long training.

So the British have adopted the strategy of concentrating their attacks on purely military objectives, and especially on industrial targets, like the vast Krupp Munitions Works at Essen which were bombed again over the weekend.

This line of counter-attack is calculated to serve the double purpose of crippling the enemy's vital resources and through that of shattering the morale of the populace. It is based on the certainty, that no matter how great a war-machine a country may possess, that machine can be made to function if the nation's industries have been shattered.

This strategy is emphasized by the British air ministry in an accounting of its stewardship to its people. More than 700 bombing attacks against enemy objectives are covered in a lengthy pamphlet. Much attention is devoted to the vital industry, German oil plants, having been "continuously and heavily attacked." This is especially important because both gasoline and lubrication oil are involved. Machinery can't run without lubrication and Germany is said to be very short of oil for this.

One purpose of this disclosure undoubtedly is to explain to the long-suffering Britons why raids against Berlin aren't more frequent when London has to live under a rain of death. To an understanding people like the English, this explanation will be ample.

New City Directory To Be Finished Soon

The Hudspeth Directory Company, publishers of the Midland City Directory since 1928, is now making the house to house canvass for names. Lothard Holt, who supervised the 1937-38 edition, has charge of the work.

All persons over eighteen years— younger, when employed—should be listed, and all householders, rooming house keepers and hotels are solicited to supply information concerning eligibles residing with them in the same alphabetical list of names will be shown the listings of all business and professional firms and corporations that have address in the city.

A new feature of the City Directory will be a list of telephone subscribers in numerical order, and also the telephone number will be shown in the pink section instead of the bell designation that was used to designate places having telephones.

PERHAPS the biggest upset in the history of bridge occurred this year in the masters team-of-four for the world's championship. Three of the four seeded teams were knocked out in the quarter-final round. The von Zedwitz team remained until the finals but was defeated by a heretofore unknown foursome, Samuel Katz of Newark, N. J., Bertram Lebhar, Jr., of New Rochelle, N. Y., Alvin R. Roth and Oscar J. Brozman of Washington, D. C., who played splendid bridge to win this, their first major championship.

Today's hand was played by Katz and shows the importance of establishing the side suit before attempting to draw any trumps.

The second heart of course was ruffed by Katz, who immediately led a diamond towards the jack. When East played low, a diamond was continued. East won this with the ace and returned a diamond for West to ruff.

West led another heart, which Katz ruffed. The ace and King of spades were cashed, a small club led to the ace and the queen of trumps cashed, picking up the outstanding trumps.

North discarded the small club. With the king of clubs as entry, Katz cashed the balance of the diamonds and the contract was made.

We, the Women

BY RUTH MILLETT

NOT every woman can be beautiful. NOT every woman can be intelligent. NOT every woman can be clever. NOT every woman can have sex appeal.

But every woman CAN have a good disposition. And it will get her as far in life as any one of those other assets.

"MOLASSES CATCHES MORE FLIES . . ."

ANY woman will find it is easier to keep a man, a job, or friends if she is easy to get along with than if she is difficult.

Fortunately, it isn't hard to change from a sourpuss into a good-natured person.

The first thing is to learn to be glad for the small successes and good luck of others. The person who hates to see another person get ahead is bound to feel grouchy and resentful most of his life. He should know other people are going to get ahead, whether he likes it or not.

Even a fundamentally selfish person can break the habit of being miserable over another's success, if he will just reason it out this way: "Jane's good luck doesn't make my luck any worse—so why resent it? Why not be glad she got a break?"

The next thing the person who is working for a good disposition must learn is not to let little things upset him. The person who gets in a rage when he is given the wrong telephone number or has not been treated exactly as he thinks he should be treated would calm down immediately if he would remember the wise observation: "A man is as big as the things that annoy him."

FRIENDLY ATTITUDE CAN BE ACQUIRED

THE third important thing to learn is not to be upset when plans are changed and things go wrong, and someone else gets his way. Any one can manage this who has brains enough not to expect life to keep to a time table and run exactly on schedule to suit him.

LEAGUE-LEADING MIDLAND-ODESSA CLUBS FACING TOUGH ASSIGNMENTS THIS WEEK

The Midland high school Bulldogs and the Odessa Broncs, winners of conference openers last week, are both expected to have more trouble this week as they go out for their second league wins.

The Midland team will meet the Sweetwater Mustangs while the Broncs tangle with the Big Spring Steers. The two furthestmost western clubs are leading the league, simply because none of the other clubs has won a conference game yet.

The Bulldogs, although they outplayed the San Angelo Bobcats throughout the game, barely managed to stagger through with a 7-6 victory. The Broncs, however, had it quite a bit easier in handling Lamesa a 22-0 lacing. The Odessa boys continued to look like the class of the league in their win over a previous undefeated Golden Tornado eleven that had won three games in a row.

There will be three non-conference games played this week with Lamesa playing Plainview, Abilene meeting Brackenridge of San Antonio and San Angelo meeting Pascal of Fort Worth.

What appeared a week ago as a routine game for the Midland team now looms as one of the toughest of the season. The Sweetwater club, after being bounced by Cisco and Brownwood, came back with an impressive 19-0 win over Mineral Wells, a club that tied Big Spring early in the season. Since Midland and Big Spring each lost to Austin high of El Paso by one touchdown, it can easily be seen that the Bulldogs have a large hill to climb to keep their conference slate clean.

The 1939 champions, with only a scattering of veterans on this year's squad, rapidly are rounding into shape with several newcomers becoming real rough and tough Mustangs.

The Odessa team, showing a ground attack to go with the marvelous passing of little Billy Hogan, look better each time they appear on the field. Despite having to play away from home this week, they are heavy favorites over the Big Spring team. An underdog Big Spring team last year upset the Broncs when they were riding high and dry in the conference. Joe Coleman's charges will be out for revenge this year. If they can build up a big score there is no doubt they will do so. However, the Steers have also been pointing for the game and will not give up before it starts.

The San Angelo and Lamesa teams practically eliminated themselves from the pennant chase through their defeats last week. However, the husky Angelo crew may come back later and figure prominently in the race. It is generally agreed that the champion this year will not go through undefeated, which leaves alive hopes for the Concho crew. The Lamesa team did not appear to have what it takes to finish up on top.

The Abilene team appeared rough in dropping a 19-33 decision to the Brackenridge team. The Brecks are rated one of the strongest teams of the state and went into the second half of the game with the Eagles leading by 26 points. The Eagles showed what they could do then by crashing over three touchdowns before finally succumbing.

Redskins Remain Only Undefeated Team In National

By Tom Sider
CHICAGO, Oct. 7 (AP)—The undefeated Washington Redskins are performing in the best tradition of their Laundryman-owner, the efficient George Preston Marshall.

They've taken all of their opponents so far to the cleaners and stand no was the only unbeaten and undefeated team in the National League.

The Redskins rang up their third straight victory Sunday, in a resounding 40 to 10 triumph over the Pittsburgh Steelers before 25,213 spectators in Forbes Field.

The Redskins looked like real champions in grinding out 147 yards on the ground and 186 in the air. Washington connected for 12 of 21 passes, Sammy Baugh hitting his receiver for the fourth set of 12 times.

The Chicago Bears outlasted Cleveland, 21 to 14, before 18,998.

The Chicago Cardinals fell before the Detroit Lions, 43 to 14, Saturday night and Brooklyn moved through Philadelphia, 30 to 17, in a Friday night engagement.

REVIEW ARMY GAMES

MOSCOW, Oct. 7 (AP)—Defense Commissar Marshal Sementon Timoshenko reviewed Red Army maneuvers in the Leningrad military district today, the fourth set of war games he has overseen in two months. With him was General K. A. Meretskov, chief of the general staff.

Sports Roundup

By Eddie Brietz
CINCINNATI, Oct. 7 (AP)—Well, is Mr. Harmon of the Michigan Harmonics quite a guy or ain't he? Seems to us any fellow who wins two ball games in a row deserves some sort of rating. Paul Derringer says the six walks he issued Saturday were the most in any one game of his career.

Biggest football upset was Tennessee's victory over Duke. Odds out here still are that the Reds will win in seven games and how about Northwestern's smashing win over Syracuse? Looks like Lynn Waldorf has more than a lot of folks thought. Leo Durocher, after a two-day disappearance has returned to the series. He has been waiting all year to see the Reds run out of pitchers.

Poor Fish
Now take the case of pitcher Trout—A very sad one, not a doubt—they put him in and knocked him out. Probably needs some more Chincy-Kraut.

Traffic conditions in Detroit yesterday were a headache. Plenty of guys had to detour from their cabs and hoof two or three blocks to the ball park. Included was your correspondent who had one swell workout. Auburn 20, Tulane 14 and what do you know about that, for crying out loud? Is Tulane still in the league? Famous comedian of many years ago will recite the famous "Casey at the Bat" baseball poem on his mother's (Hedda Hopper) radio program today. Al Lang, who put Florida on the baseball map, hasn't missed a world series since 1903.

Ernie Lombardi is the first player in world series history to hit a two-bagger on the installment plan. When he reached first Saturday he paused briefly for station identification before pushing on to second.

Pro-Amateur Golf Tourney Starts At Country Club Today

Top golfers in the surrounding area teed off at one o'clock this afternoon to start the monthly Pro-Amateur Golf Tournament here.

Seventeen professionals will comprise the field and each pro will play in a foursome made up of three amateurs and one pro. Low ball in the foursome will determine the winner.

Amateurs play in this tournament, the last of 1940 season, by invitation only. The tournament is sponsored by the West Texas Pro-Amateur Golf Association.

BALL—IT IS FATAL
SPIRIT LAKE, Ia., Oct. 7 (AP)—Oscar Todd, Spirit Lake postal clerk, socked a drive on the second tee at a Country Club here. The ball smacked a chicken and killed it, but nobody could find the lethal sphere.

Garfield Harker, the club's pro, took the chicken home. His wife undressed it. She found the golf ball inside, he said.

Strongest Teams Over Nation Standing Out As They Swing Into Tough Schedules

By Hugh S. Fullerton Jr.
NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—It is becoming possible to pick out the leaders among major college teams on the basis of performances rather than predictions, now that we are into October.

Top ranking in the various sections, on present performances must be awarded to Cornell, Georgetown, Boston College and Pennsylvania in the East; Tennessee, Kentucky, Wake Forest and Clemson in the south; Michigan, Ohio State and several of their challengers in the middle west; Texas Christian and Texas Tech in the Southwest and Stanford and Santa Clara on the Pacific coast.

Right back of these—or perhaps even with them are plenty of other challengers.

Right now the setup, by sections, looks something like this, where it left off last year, walloped Colgate's good-looking outfit 34-0 last Saturday.

Last week's upsets have taken some of the edge off this week's program. Dartmouth, conquered by Little Franklin and Marshall, 23-21, defeated Columbia, 15-0 winner over Maine. New York University upset 9-6 by Lafayette, plays Spruce, 40-0 victim of Northwestern and Colgate meets Brown, an unimpressive winner. Princeton and Navy come together after a pair of close calls.

Inter-sectional games furnished most of the "meat" with Michigan's great team, which escaped a rebound from the California game by beating Michigan State 21-14, faces Harvard; Pitt, which came back to beat Missouri 19-13, tackles Southern Methodist, rated one of the Southwest Conference powers; Fordham, 20-7 winner over West Virginia, meets Tulane, which lost its second game to Auburn, 20-14.

Big Ten: The nine-team Western Conference maintained its excellent record when only Indiana lost to outside opposition and underdog Purdue sprang a big surprise by holding Ohio State to a 17-14 score in the first conference game. This week the Buckeyes encounter Northwestern, which looked very good against Syracuse while Purdue goes outside the loop to play Michigan State. Indiana, beaten by Texas 13-6, plays Nebraska, which lost to Minnesota 13-7.

Big Six—Iowa State leads the loop now on a 7-0 victory over Kansas while the other teams were turning in dismal performances against non-conference opposition. This week Iowa State plays Marquette; Kansas plays Drake, one of the Missouri Valley Conference leaders; Oklahoma, which barely pulled out a 29-27 decision over Oklahoma A&M, visits Texas at Austin and Kansas State nosed out 7-6 by Colorado, meets Missouri.

Notre Dame, which resumed its career as the mid-western "independent" leader by whipping the College of the Pacific 25-7, takes on newly Georgia Tech.

Southwest: Texas Christian, after assuming the conference lead with a 20-0 win over Arkansas, goes away to play North Carolina while the Razorbacks try again against Baylor, 14-7 winner over Denver. Texas Aggies, another title candidate, tamed up with at a 41-6 win over Tulsa, for a journey west to play UCLA, which lost its second 9-6 game to Santa Clara Friday. SMU and Rice turned in fairly easy victories over North Texas and Centenary, respectively. Texas Tech, 19-0 victor over Loyola of Los Angeles, encounters Montana next.

South: Tennessee's 14-0 triumph over Duke in what was billed as last Saturday's biggest game but which didn't quite come up to expectations put the Vols temporarily at the top of the Southeastern circuit and this week's Chattanooga game can't hurt them much.

Pacific Coast: Clark Shaughnessy's "dark horse" Stanford team now ranks as the team to beat in the Coast conference after its 13-0 triumph over Oregon. While Santa Clara may be good enough to do the trick this week, the conference standing won't be affected.

Rock Mountain Big Six: There's no standout now in this league unless it's Utah, which beat Brigham Young 12-6 in the first conference game. The Utahs tackle a strong Arizona team next.

Amarillo And Longview Remain Favorites In High Grid Races

By Harold V. Ratliff
Associated Press Staff Writer
Pieces in the jig-saw of Texas Interscholastic League football started falling into place today.

From Panhandle to Gulf they spelled the names of favorites for sectional championships—and for one clique of critics they went even further.

Amarillo, Sherman and Longview were projected into the limelight as the big three of the state, but it's a long trail to the championship play-off—a far cry from October to Thanksgiving Day in the merry mix-up that is Texas schoolboy football.

As the 104 class AA teams moved into the midst of the district title campaigns, these stood out:

District 1—Amarillo, with Lubbock a major menace.

District 2—A free-for-all between Childress, Olney, Wichita Falls and Vernon.

District 3—Odessa and Midland.

District 4—Austin (El Paso).

District 5—Sherman.

District 6—Greenview and Sulphur Springs.

District 7—Masonic Home (Fort Worth) and Arlington Heights (Fort Worth).

District 8—Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) and Dallas Tech.

District 9—Brackenridge and Brownwood.

District 10—Waco and Bryan.
District 11—Longview.
District 12—Lufkin.
District 13—Jeff Davis (Houston).
District 14—Port Arthur and South Park (Beaumont).
District 15—Brackenridge (San Antonio) and Austin.
District 16—Corpus Christi and Robstown in the upper bracket; McAllen, Brownsville and Harlingen in the lower bracket.

Twenty-one of these teams are among the undefeated and untied of the state. They are Amarillo, Lubbock, Childress, Austin (El Paso), Sherman, Masonic Home, Arlington Heights, Woodrow Wilson, Dallas Tech, Brownwood, Bryan, Longview, Lufkin, Jeff Davis, South Park, Brackenridge, Austin, Corpus Christi, McAllen, Brownsville and Harlingen.

Newark Needs Only One Win For Title

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 7 (AP)—The Newark Bears, intent on showing up their Kansas City cousins, will send George Washburn, ace of their pitching staff, to the mound tonight in an attempt to register their fourth victory over the Louisville Colonels and snare the little world series trophy.

Confronting the International League playoff winners, however, will be the ominous figure of Cecil (Tex) Hughson, Colonel hurrier who was credited with the American Association entry's only victory thus far in the four-day play-off of the best-of-seven series.

Newark gained its third victory over the Colonels 6 to 2.

Bobby Riggs Captures Pacific Coast Title

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 7 (AP)—Bobby Riggs provided the expected finish to the Pacific Coast tennis tournament by capturing the men's singles title, but the Virginia Wolfener, attractive San Franciscoan, produced the biggest upset when she routed top-seeded Helen Jacobs in the women's final.

Riggs downed Frank Kovacs of Oakland, 6-4 2-6, 6-2, 6-2 yesterday.

Miss Wolfender disposed of the veteran Miss Jacobs, former National and Wimbledon champion, 6-4, 6-2.

Newsom Hurls Three-Hitter For 8-0 Shutout Over Cincinnati

By Gayle Talbot
CINCINNATI, Oct. 7 (AP)—One of the most exciting world series in memory of man came back to this city today for a return engagement, with the Detroit Tigers leading the Cincinnati Reds three victories to two and needing only one more to make it blank.

The general expectation was that the cruel war of attrition would continue to the bitter end, that today was the Reds' turn to win, and that the 1940 baseball championship would finally be decided late tomorrow with everybody concerned bordering upon complete exhaustion.

Shutout 8 to 0 by a grieving but brilliant BoBo Newsom in yesterday's fifth game at Detroit, the Reds figured to square it at three-all today behind Bucky Walters, who tamed the Tigers with a three-hitter in the second game here last week.

Bucky's scheduled mound rival again was Schoolboy Rowe, who got rough treatment from the Reds the last time he faced them. They slammed him from the hill and went on to win without an anxious moment. Manager Del Baker, of course, hoped that "Schoolie" had recovered his stuff since then and would knock the Reds kicking today. But he knew it was only an outside chance.

Like everyone else around here, Baker, down in his heart, must have felt that the final decisive struggle would be fought on Crosley field tomorrow, his great Buck Newsom coming back with one day's rest to oppose Cincinnati's Paul Derringer, who defeated the Tigers, 5 to 2, in last Saturday's fourth game.

If it comes about, that will be something to see. And it's about time. Up to this point, the world series of 1940 has been a turkey, as the Broadway drama critics like to say. There hasn't been an exciting moment. The five games played have been won and lost almost at the outset. The crowds here and at Detroit simply sat out the latter stages of each.

Paradoxical as it may sound, last year's play-off between Cincinnati and the New York Yankees packed greater thrills, even though the Yankees won four straight. In that one there were a couple of close hard-fought games. In this one the

Leaders On Stock Market In Decline

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP).—Stock market leaders slipped in the final hour today after early attempt at a rally brought little response.
 While weakness was rare, and modest plus signs were to be seen here and there, declines were well distributed at the close.
 Today's turnover of around 400,000 shares was the smallest for a full session in about two weeks.
 There was nothing much in the spot news either from Europe or the Far East to depress sentiment, brokers said.
 Major steel issues were uninspired by an upswing in this week's officially estimated mill operations to within 2 of a point of the high mark established last November. The latest increase of 1.6 points put production at 94.2 per cent of capacity.
 Off fractions to a point or so at the worst were Bethlehem Steel, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Westinghouse, Consolidated Edison, Du Pont, Great Northern, American Smelting, Chrysler and U. S. Rubber.
 Assistant was Johns-Manville, Sperry, Eastman Kodak, Loft, J. C. Penny and American Telephone.
 Bonds were narrow and commodities a shade uneven.

War Department To Halt Speculation In Land For Plants

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—Estimating that land speculators had cost it nearly $500,000 in two months, the war department inaugurated a new purchasing policy today to enlist the weight of public opinion against profiteering on defense factory sites.

The $500,000 "take" which speculators have realized, an official said, was on the land for the only seven plants for which contracts thus far have been signed. The plants, valued at $111,000,000, will be privately built and operated, but government-financed and owned.

With more than $500,000,000 yet to spend on increasing production facilities for munitions and airplanes, the department has feared that continued operations of the speculators eventually would chisel a multi-million-dollar slice from the funds urgently needed for buildings, machinery and tools.

In the future, a spokesman said, the intended locations of new government-financed factories will be announced as soon as selected, with the hope that public announcement will forestall land scalpers.

The first such announcement was that 13,000 acres would be purchased in the vicinity of Union Center, Ind., for an ammunition loading plant.

In the past, efforts were made to keep plant locations secret. Invariably, news of the location leaked out. Congressmen, government officials and civic organizations, eager to report good business news for their communities, often disclosed locations prematurely.

Department agents usually found the speculators running before them, had taken options on likely plant sites and raised the price, an army official disclosed.

13 Billion Slated To Be Spent During the Year By Government

By Irving Perimeter

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—The treasury expects the current fiscal year to produce a peacetime spending record of $13,000,000,000, and a deficit of about $5,760,000,000.

The anticipated total expenditure would be the second highest in all American history, yielding only to the World War fiscal year 1919 when the outlay reached $18,522,895,000. The expected deficit would be exceeded only by the figures in the 1918 and 1919 fiscal years.

As Congress neared the end of the unprecedented appropriations for the government bookkeeping year which will end next June 30, officials contrasted the new outlook with the $9,424,191,570 spending budget that President Roosevelt submitted in January, before the huge defense program materialized.

The $13,000,000,000 spending estimate was predicted on actual cash disbursements on the more than $20,000,000,000 which this Congress either appropriated or authorized in the form of contract obligations. The $7,000,000,000 margin between the authorized total and the estimated $13,000,000,000 in actual disbursements presaged an unspent carryover to the next fiscal year which might set new records.

To hold down the deficit somewhat, the treasury will have this fiscal year the $700,000,000 which President Roosevelt has ordered governmental corporations, such as the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, to repay on the capital originally invested in them by the treasury.

That will leave the treasury to borrow nearly all of the estimated deficit of $5,760,000,000.

National Defense Road For Corps

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—Construction soon of a $1,490,000 national defense highway between the Gulf Coast naval air training school and Corpus Christi, Tex., a distance of 11 miles, was forecast by Roy Miller, once mayor of the city, after conferences with officials of the Public Roads Administration.

Miller said the PRA had designated the highway as a national defense project, and the division engineer for Texas had agreed to work out a program with state and Nueces County officials regarding participation in costs of the work.

Plans for the project, discussed in conferences Miller and Representative Kieberg (D-Tex.) have held with both roads and navy department officials, call for construction of a four-lane highway and causeway across the Bay. It is expected that only three lanes will be at first constructed, but that the right of way and grades will be planned for building the fourth lane later.

Naval officials expressed a desire that the highway be built to accommodate any future need of hauling freight by motor truck from Corpus Christi to the air school, in the event rail lines were out of service, Miller said.

Tentative plans of the federal road officials, he added, call for construction of highway between the main air school landing areas and outlying auxiliary air fields to be used in training naval pilots.

British Official Declares Nation Is Gaining In Strength

BOSTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—Sir Louis Beale, member of the British purchasing commission, declared today that Britain was far stronger in men and materials than a year ago, and expressed belief that "inexhaustible resources x x x supported by the machine industry of the United States, ensures us in the end an overwhelming mass of power."

He told the 12th Boston conference on distribution—a two-day session of many of the nation's outstanding economists and businessmen—that the British commission had placed approximately $2,000,000,000 in orders, including contracts taken over from the French, during the first year of the war.

"A great many of the manufacturers' deliveries are ahead of schedule," he added. He expressed belief that this country "may be the most important world supplier after the war x x x."

He spoke after Governor Lloyd C. Stark of Missouri denounced legislative trade barriers between states and called upon the conference "to carry on the battle against this menace to national prosperity during this crucial period in our history."

Official mourning for ten days, with flags at half staff on all public buildings, was proclaimed as the first official act of the new Governor John Steele, who banned a discussion of politics until after the funeral.

Congress Meets To Finish Business, Adjourn For Month

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—Congress met today hopeful of reaching some decision on whether to take a recess until after election.

Speaker Rayburn said he would offer a resolution for a recess until Nov. 18, and Senate leaders said that if the House so voted, they believed their chamber would quickly concur.

The temper of the House was uncertain, however, and some thought that a long recess might be defeated in favor of a series of three-day recesses under an agreement that no business be transacted on the days Congress reconvened to extend the recess another three days.

The latest threat to the elusive recess was a controversy which has developed over the informal ruling of Attorney General Jackson that decisions of the National Labor Relations Board were "binding and conclusive" on all government departments.

Critics charged that such a rule might mean that firms convicted of violating the Wagner Act would be denied defense contracts, to the detriment of the rearmament program.

Rep. Taber (R-NY) said he thought Congress should act to overturn Jackson's informal ruling.

The House was expected to give quick approval during the day to a compromise version of the Ramspeck Civil Service bill to send it to the President.

Willkie Describes Jersey City Mayor As "Puny Hitler"

By Theodore F. Koop

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 7 (AP)—Describing Mayor Frank Hague in Hague's own Jersey City as a "puny Hitler," Wendell L. Willkie appealed today for preservation of civil liberties as an important part of national defense.

The Republican nominee for president called Hague, Democratic National Vice Chairman and state leader, "the principal promoter of the mind-temper draft, if such it is," and said his city was the site of "the greatest bunch of corruption and racketeers that ever appeared in America."

Speaking under heavy police protection in Journal Square—whence Norman Thomas was "deported" when he tried to talk in 1938—Willkie told a throng estimated by supporters at 15,000:

"I call on you in the interest of the cause we represent to bring civil liberties to their full functioning in Jersey City. If we do that, and the people do that in every community, our precious rights will remain."

Urges Moral Defense

"All the military defense on earth," he said, "won't do us any good if we don't have civil defense—moral defense—the defense of militant American consciences—first of all. Defense begins at home—right here in Journal Square—with the civil liberties of every citizen of this community."

Willkie's Jersey tour, beginning this morning, will be continued by an auto caravan until night. He will speak from the Newark Stadium at 7:30 p. m. (EST) over a nationwide mutual hookup.

The presidential nominee spent a busy Sunday at his personal headquarters in New York, conferring, among others, with Republican Chairman Joseph W. Martin and William Green, President of The American Federation of Labor.

It was disclosed last night by Willkie's press secretary that the nominee had met John L. Lewis, CIO chief, a week ago Saturday night at the home of a mutual friend. The meeting took place just after Willkie's speech at Yonkers.

In dispatches published by some newspapers in the United States last Friday, Matsuoka was quoted as saying that, if the United States "in her contentment is going to blindly and stubbornly stick to the status quo in the Pacific then we will fight America."

Yakichiro Suma, foreign office spokesman, issued a written statement such an interview had not been given.

Italians Tell U. S. Writer To Depart

ROME, Oct. 7 (AP)—Herbert Matthews, Rome correspondent of the New York Times, has been asked to leave Italy, Stefani, official Italian News Agency, reported today.

The dispatch for which Matthews was expelled was that read Friday by President Roosevelt at his press conference. Matthews said he was asked to leave not so much for what he wrote as for the political use made of it.

President Roosevelt read without comment a Rome dispatch to the New York Times which said "the axis is out to defeat President Roosevelt because of the President's foreign policy and because of everything for which he stands in the eyes of the Italians and the Germans."
