Turko-Russian Relations Take Friendly Turn

Italians Claim Advance Into Ioannina Sector Of Northern Greece

ATHENS, Greece, Nov. 1 (AP). Tank-supported Italian infantry attacks in northwestern Greece have been "repulsed everywhere," the Greek general staff asserted today, and the small Greek navy has moved along shore to bombard the invading Fascists.

On the Balkan war front, Stefani, the official Italian news agency, reported a 35-mile Fascist advance into the Ioannina sector of northwestern Greece, along with the capture of 79 Greek villages.

Turkey will not enter the Balkan war now, President Ismet Inonu announced today, at the same time countering any threat of Rome-Berlin Axis plans by proclaiming that Turko-Russian relations "now have taken a friendly turn."

The nation's relations with Soviet Russia, he said, had "gone through a critical period" but now are much improved.

With her reported "2,000,000 bayonets," Turkey has openly defied any Axis attempt to use Turkey as a passageway to the Near East, but has maintained a hands-off policy under pressure from Russia.

The new "friendly turn" in Soviet-Turkish relations might indicate that Russia has guaranteed support to Turkey in the event of an Axis attack on Turkey—in return for Turkey keeping out of the Greek-Italian war.

Stefani's report of a 35-mile Italian thrust—which would indicate that the city of Ioannina (Janina) now is under Fascist siege or that Mussolini's invaders are not advancing on the 100-mile front between the Albanian frontier—confronted with official Greek reports.

The Greek high command declared that tank-supported Italian troops in northwestern Greece had been "repulsed everywhere" in the 5-day-old Balkan conflict, while on the east end of the 100-mile front the Fascist invaders started a major drive toward Salonika.

Belgrade dispatches said the Italians were hammering at Greek positions in Pisosidera Pass, at the

Storms Cause Four Deaths In Eastern Texas

Dozen Persons Injured In Harris County, Barge Sinks, Roads Flooded

By The Associated Press Texas counted four dead today after high winds, twisters and thunderstorms had left a trail of destruction, with the southeastern portion of the state hardest hit.

A dozen persons were injured in Harris County, five seriously. Alcide Danos of Cedar Bayou was killed when blown from an oil derrick near Pelly.

Joe Macuzza, Houston, was electrocuted when he grasped a live wire for support as he slipped on a wet floor.

Armando Duran, 10-year-old Victoria boy, drowned in a flooded storm sewer.

Ralph R. Blankenship was killed by lightning near Texarkana. Unroofed houses, crushed oil derricks and damage to ships in the Houston ship channel marked a 55-mile wind and driving rain in Harris County.

Barge Sinks At Sabine a barge loaded with 500 sacks of cement was sunk by the storm which swept that section of the Texas coast.

South Texas had streams out of banks and highways inundated. Houses were damaged in the Morris ranch community near Fredericksburg.

Seriously injured in the Houston area were Lupe Trevino, Richard Debona and P. M. Traveek of Houston; Mrs. Chris Franz of Katy, and Earl Roberts, Katy negro.

Soaking, badly-needed rains fell in many parts of the state yesterday.

Along with Harris County, hardest hit were the Port Arthur-Beaumont and Liberty areas.

A 60-mile wind swept into Liberty county, damaging small houses, outbuildings, fences, trees and other property to the extent of several thousand dollars.

Liberty reported heavy damage at the fair and rodeo grounds where carnival and fair tents, small buildings and decorations were strewn over a wide area.

Perseverance Wins

Rejected for the army on his first enlistment try because of a dependent child, Willie R. Cope, Sandpala, Okla., persuaded the husband of his former wife to adopt it. Second try: four bad teeth. He had them pulled. Third try, success. He's shown at the recruit reception center, Dodd Field, San Antonio.

Mrs. Hal Peck Urges All Citizens To Vote

Mrs. Hal C. Peck, democratic committeewoman for the twenty-ninth senatorial district, today urged all West Texans to vote in Tuesday's election.

"Texas is due for a redistricting of the state, and senators now are at work on a bill," she said.

"West Texas has had a great increase in population and we are thus entitled to greater representation in Austin, both in the senate and the house. Our population will be decided by the number of votes cast in the Nov. 5 election—and not by the 1940 federal census.

Therefore, we must vote or throw away our opportunity of gaining further representation. Please vote and see that your friends and neighbors vote."

Newest Apco Pool Well Flows 50 An Hour After Acid

Pecos Ordovician Test Responds To Treatment Of Ellenburger Zones

By Frank Gardner

Ordovician development in Northern Pecos County continued today to hold interest as Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 W. T. Shearer et al. one-quarter mile northwest of the Apco Ellenburger pool, responded to re-acidizing with 3,000 gallons by flowing 50 barrels per hour through tubing.

The acid job was administered at 10 p. m. yesterday. Injection pressure of 1,300 pounds broke to 400, indicating that formation was taking the acid. The well was shut down overnight. This morning it started flowing through 2-inch tubing after one run of the swab. Flow of 50 barrels per hour was maintained until the well was shut in, shortly before noon today. It was showing only six per cent spent acid the last hour, and gas-oil ratio figured 500-1.

No. 1 Shearer, in section 99, block 10, H. & G. N. survey, topped the Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, at 4,696 feet and is bottomed in that formation at 4,731 feet. It was given one acid treatment of 1,000 gallons at 4,719 feet, then was re-treated with 1,000 and 3,000 gallons after coring more pay to present depth.

Taubert Well Shows Pressure After having been shut in for about a day, Taubert, McKee & Siemoneit No. 1 Mrs. Virginia W. Crockett had built up 900 pounds pressure on casing and 1,450 pounds on tubing. Failure of the pressures to equalize is believed due to circulating mud still in the hole. Storage tanks now are being erected. C. J. Siemoneit of Fort Worth, co-discoverer of the Northern Pecos Ordovician field, said here today the well will be flowed Monday to clean out balance of mud and that potential gauge will probably be taken Tuesday. Production is from sand in the Simpson, middle Ordovician, found at 5,270-70 and 5,320-45 feet. Total depth is 5,357 feet in lime and sand. On short flow period yesterday the well made an estimated 100 barrels of 43-gravity crude hourly through 2-inch line off casing and open 2-inch tubing. It is located in section 4 1-2, block 3, H. & T. C. survey, one and one-half miles east of Imperial and about ten miles north by northeast of the Apco pool.

Culbertson & Irwin, Inc. of Midland No. 1 Mary Heiner, near Ordovician wildcat nine miles west and slightly south of the Apco pool, this morning was drilling at 204 feet. Duggan Outpost Three miles east of the Duggan pool in Southeastern Cochran County, Atlantic Refining Company and able to "pinpoint" their targets, it said, the British fliers roared over Naples in three waves and, at times, swooped to within 2,000 feet of the city's rooftops to let go their bombs.

Axis Bombers Strike At London And Other Points In England And Scotland In a Series Of Daylight Raids Today

Railroad Station, Refineries and Oil Tanks Of Great Industrial Center Are Struck By Heavy Bombs In Big Attack In Southern Part of Italy

By The Associated Press. LONDON, Nov. 1.—British bombers attacked the great industrial center of Naples last night in their first raid on the southern mainlands of Italy, and hit the railroad station, oil tanks and refineries, the air ministry reported today.

The first attackers said they concentrated on the oil refinery and groups of storage tanks at Poggio Reale, on Naples' southern outskirts; the second on the railroad station and junction; the third on anti-aircraft batteries and searchlights, silencing one battery.

Heavy bombs were dropped and many explosions were followed by fires during the three-quarters of an hour attack, it added. Opposition from the ground defenses was described as "slight and ineffective."

Axis bombing planes struck at London, Merseyside and other points in England and Scotland by daylight today.

London, after a comparatively quiet night, underwent two alarms before noon, but both were brief and British fighters in each case were reported to have turned back the attacking planes.

In a later raid several bombs were dropped on the capital's outskirts. German Guns Bark

Meanwhile German long-range guns on the French coast shelled British shipping in the Dover Strait and got a hot reply from Britain's big batteries.

The Nazi bombardment lasted about two hours, but most of their shells burst wide of the targets and the British vessels continued on their courses, observers said.

Britain's guns slammed back hard at the Germans who laid a smoke screen on part of the French coast.

"The Italian high command said 'slight damage' was caused in the Naples suburbs of Bagnoli and Poggioreale. The former is the site of some of Italy's largest steel plants and the latter of airplane factories, testing fields and laboratories. The Rome communique reported on person killed, and five wounded.

The air ministry said "no operations were carried out over western and central Germany because of bad weather."

Roosevelt And Willkie Open Finish Drive For Votes Which Tell Story Tuesday, Ending Historic Campaign

By The Associated Press. Hectic and historic, the 1940 presidential campaign reached its intensive, "all out" final stage today with both President Roosevelt and Wendell L. Willkie opening their finish drives for the votes which will tell the story on Nov. 5.

In Washington, President Roosevelt donned his "old campaigner" hat for a tri-state sweep into New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio. The timetable called for a major speech at Brooklyn tonight (8 p. m. C.S.T.) and another at Cleveland tomorrow night (8 p. m. C.S.T.).

Willkie, concentrating his finish "push" this week in two states that add up to 63 electoral votes, marked one section of New Jersey for his attention today and had a major address down for Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. Aides announced that from "somewhere in New Jersey" he planned to reply tonight by radio (7:30 p. m. C.S.T.) to Mr. Roosevelt's Boston speech of Wednesday charging Republicans in the Congress with obstructing both national defense program and efforts to benefit the farmer.

Strenuous Campaign For Willkie, the final drive betokened the approaching end of a strenuous campaign which already has taken him into 29 states and over 18,000 miles.

The United States, he told a Camden, N. J., audience last night, "is sick and tired of the type of government that treats our constitution like a scrap of paper" and regard the supreme court as an "obstruction."

He attacked his Democratic opponent on the third term question, asserting "our unwritten law against granting a third term to any president is not even mentioned by the third term candidate. He doesn't even attempt to justify his violation of it." He used the expression "one man government" to describe the administration.

Willkie asserted in a statement today that President Roosevelt's foreign policies "are leading us straight to a war for which we are totally unready" and added that his domestic policies "are leading to complete collapse."

The statement took up primarily Mr. Roosevelt's disclosure at Boston Wednesday of what the Republican candidate termed "certain orders which the British government has placed with our manufacturers."

"And the tragic fact," he said, "is that, owing to the policy of neglect and delay over the past seven years, they must remain on order for many, many months to come."

Charges Neglect The Republican candidate argued that the president "by inference and innuendo" tried to take credit for the plane orders to manufacturers who, he declared, had been neglected and "even abused" by the new deal.

(In Boston Mr. Roosevelt disclosed he had asked the defense priorities board to give "most sympathetic consideration" to British requests to order 12,000 more planes for American manufacturers.)

"I was surprised by the use, in such a superficial manner," he said, "of an effort so vital to Britain and our own safety. I cannot understand the propriety of speaking in a political speech as if from the White House, of making campaign material of the duties of the President of the United States."

Mr. Roosevelt was at his White House (See CANDIDATES, page 6)

WHOZIT?

They call him "Captain" Whozit around the fire department, and you can bet that whenever the gong rings to signify a "hot time in the old town," he'll be there holding up his end among all the "smoke-eaters" of our fair city.

He was born in Milan County, but isn't so well acquainted around there because his family moved before he had spent a year in that part of Texas. They went to Jones County where he lived until he was 17. In 1928 he moved from Hamlin to Midland.

He went to high school here and played the drums in the band. After finishing school he started to work in a filling station. After two and a half years, he moved to his present location, close in on West Wall and has been there about five years.

In 1937 he joined his present partner. He thinks it's a mighty fine day if he can just go hunting or fishing, especially fishing.

He is an enthusiastic booster of the Midland Bulldogs, and sees every football game he can.

He is a member of the chamber of commerce, and attends the First Baptist Church.

Mr. Whozit will be smiling at you from the Get-Acquainted page of The Reporter-Telegram, together with his partner and their associates.

"Joe" Whozit has been in Midland since 1927 when he first left the big city to seek his fortune in the high plains. He doesn't claim a fortune, but isn't sorry he left Dallas to make his residence here.

He was born in Dallas and made that his home until he moved west. He finished his school work there and worked for a street-car company in that city a number of years.

When he first came to Midland he worked for a motor company as mechanic. Until he joined the present partner in their filling station, he was employed by several motor companies and garages here.

Some years ago when the citizens of Midland got up an amateur baseball team, it was "Joe" who spark-plugged the team from the catcher's box. He still is enthusiastic about the sport. Next to baseball he would choose fishing, then hunting for his recreation.

He is a member of the chamber of commerce, and the K. P. lodge, and recently became a Mason.

He is a member of the First Baptist Church. You will see Mr. Whozit, his partner and their associates later on the Get-Acquainted page of The Reporter-Telegram.

Yesterday's Mr. Whozits were Barney Grafa and George Friday.

Germany's Oil Requirements Are Described

FORT WORTH, Nov. 1 (AP)—Germany's present requirements of crude oil and gasoline, despite drastic reduction in private automobile traffic, amounts to more than 80,000,000 barrels annually, or twice as much as the Nazis are able to produce, M. W. Fodor, foreign correspondent, today told the twenty-first annual convention of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

In an analysis of the requirements of Germany concerning oil and gasoline, Fodor said that during his stay in Holland and Belgium during the Nazi invasion he was able to establish contacts which brought useful information concerning the Germans' oil stocks.

Since January, he said, the supply of Rumanian oil has increased while the Russian supply has decreased.

May Increase Supply He calculated the present German supply, on an annual basis, at 36,000,000 barrels, and pointed out that should the country's claim of a considerable increase in synthetic production materialize and Rumania's supply reaches 21,000,000 barrels, then Germany can increase her present resources to 51,000,000 barrels.

Distinguished service awards were presented by the association to one member of both the independent and major groups. For the independents, Jake L. Hamon of Dallas was honored, while E. R. Brown, also of Dallas and chairman of the board of the Magnolia Petroleum Company, was selected from among the majors.

All officers of the association were re-elected.

Be Worthy Of Your Heritage--Vote!

Now we come close to the day when we shall choose our President for the next four years. Every citizen may go peacefully to the polling place, vote his or her convictions, and have that vote counted on an equality with that of any other citizen.

We are accustomed to this. So accustomed are we, in fact, that some may be tempted to ignore the precious privilege. Let them think a moment of the heritage they cast away:

It was 151 years ago that Americans first gathered under the same Constitution they have today to choose the first President under our present system of government. Today it is one of the oldest continuous governments on earth. Within its years France, for instance, has run the gamut from absolutism down into violent Communistic revolution, through republicanism, and into a yet amorphous totalitarianism.

In that first election, only a comparatively few men were able to vote. Extension of the suffrage to all men, then to women, has come as the result of long agitation and struggle. We have broadened our democracy decade by decade since that early first election of 1789.

That struggling new nation, shakily recovering from seven long years of devastating war, striking out boldly toward new institutions of freedom, has today become a vast nation of 130,000,000 people, occupying the most fruitful part of a whole continent, whose power and influence are great in the world.

But all that power and strength are built on the same foundation on which they wrought who voted for the electors who chose Washington in 1789--the ballot.

The sweat and the blood of the forefathers won that precious right. The blood and sweat of eight generations preserved it. It is not to be lightly cast aside.

Go to the polls Tuesday and vote. To see the vote this fall sweep triumphantly above the 50,000,000 mark for a new all-time record will be a thundering testimony to all the world that democracy is still vital and strong and unafraid.

Then, our choice made, let us go forward a united people, toward our democratic goal, our destiny as a free people!

The New Racial 'Who's Who'

Isn't it funny, of course. Nothing like this can be really funny in a Europe deluged in blood, tears and bitterness.

But in ordinary times it would be funny. The Spanish newspaper Arriba, celebrating the visit of Himmler, head of the German secret police, rejoiced in the fact that the Spaniards are not really a Latin people, as the world has long supposed. They are really, Arriba discovers, the descendants of the Visigoths, an ancient Teuton people, and as such almost fit to receive and associate on equal terms with the Aryan Himmler.

Mussolini's sudden discovery that the Italians were really Aryans, thus making them also fit to associate with the Aryans who overrun their land in increasing numbers, is all of a piece with this. And of course the Japanese are now honorary Aryans.

NEW YORK JUNGLE

THE CLOCK in the hall had emitted a solitary tinkle when Sidney trapped, hiding a package in a tree. He explains to Plowman that he has been innocently involved trying to save his dog, trying to keep Langdon from discovering it. Then after the murder, he had to get rid of the dog. In an attempt to smuggle the dog out of the house, he gave it too much chloroform, killed it. It was he, whom Braitwood trailed down the passage into the Jungle. Plowman questions him about $500 Langdon had at the time of the murder.

PLOWMAN MAKES AN ARREST Chapter XXII
FOR A moment Barkes was silent. Then he faced Plowman furiously. "You can't railroad me, Plowman," he shouted. "Mr. Langdon knew I had that money. He gave it to me. I cashed the check for him at the bank. The teller telephoned him to make sure it was all right. You can ask him."
"Mr. Langdon had told me to take the midnight train to the city, was to see his doctor and bring a special prescription. It was to be ready for me. I wondered about taking that much money, just for medicine. Mr. Langdon said it was a remedy for jungle fever, that it was very costly. He told me not to tell anyone that I was going on the errand."
"Why didn't you tell us this before?" Plowman shot back.
"I was afraid to. I didn't think you'd believe me. All that money for medicine. I intended to return the money to Mrs. Langdon."
"All right, all right. Come along, Barkes. He motioned to a trooper to take the chauffeur away."
"We'll check your story with the bank teller, and look up the doctor. You needn't worry, if you're telling the truth," Braitwood tried to ease the chauffeur's terror. He knew that Pat would corroborate Barkes' story of the medicine, knew that she had burned Adam's supply of drugs, and that he would attempt to get Mrs. There was little more to say, as the trooper led Barkes away.

"ANY new evidence?" He turned back to Captain Plowman.
"Plenty," the officer replied. "We found the money, hidden in the garage. Found a gun, too, but it hasn't been cleaned. Then this friend, whom Barkes claims to have talked to in town, this fellow Brabant, has a record. He has a green sedan, too."
"Brabant may have been just a casual acquaintance," Sidney argued.
"There are hundreds of green sedans. Barkes didn't recognize the driver. He didn't offer Brabant an alibi if he knew he wasn't in the village."
Plowman ignored his arguments. "The way I see it, Mr. Braitwood, is that Barkes cashed the check all right, brought the money here, gave it to Langdon, then stole it again and hid it in the Jungle. He knew as soon as Langdon went upstairs he'd miss it and call police. He was after Mrs. Langdon's pearls, too."
"Naturally," Sidney agreed.
"Suppose he had a confederate in the Jungle. Say the valet. The bad blood between the two may have faked the confederate puts out the light so that Barkes could escape through the chimney, while the entire company think they have been locked in from the outside, so that the thief could loot upstairs."
"I don't agree, but it could be true," Sidney commented.
"You all saw Barkes drive off and he had a witness who had seen him in the village. He admits he came back. He says, before he drove to the village. It couldn't have been after."
"Suppose he did get back before you came downstairs for coffee instead of after. It needs no stretch of the imagination to figure that he was in the Jungle with the plan to go up through the flue into Langdon's room for the pearls when you all came in, so he hid. He could get up through the flue without anyone hearing him. But when you surprised him by coming down for coffee so soon, he was in a jam."
"You are making' out a case, Plowman, but I still don't agree." "Wait until I have finished."
Plowman half smiled. "Barkes short-circuited the lights in the smaller room while Togi turned them off in the large room. Togi locked the door. When Togi was on the ladder he saw Barkes hiding and they signaled each other. In the darkness Barkes was to make the flue."
"Then came the lightning. Langdon saw Barkes sneaking toward the passage. He aimed, but Barkes shot first. In the thunder that followed, no one heard him. He was frightened by what he had done and gave up going after the pearls, especially as he knew you men were on the way upstairs. He went out on the drawing room window. That accounts for there being no wet prints on the parlor carpet. He was leaving, not entering."
"Well reasoned, if you can prove it," Sidney admitted.
"Maybe I can and maybe now I can't, Mr. Braitwood," Plowman said, in a tone that left Sidney in doubt.

Registered Bulls Will Be Sold In Big Auction Here

An auction sale of 44 registered Hereford bulls, ranging in age from 10 to 14 months, has been announced at 2 p. m. Saturday, November 9, by M. F. King and E. H. Barron of Midland. The sale will be at the auction barn of the Texas Cattle Sales, Inc., here with M. G. (Mac) McConal auctioneer.

King has consigned 38 bulls and Barron six. The animals are from the widely known herd of the late B. N. Aycock who, with John Schabauer, established the first herd of registered Herefords in Midland County. They improved and bred up the herd to its present high standard.

Herd sires affecting breeding of these bulls are Beau Blanchard, Prince Domino, Beau having been owned by Aycock when it won the grand championship of the Southwestern Exposition in 1917 and 1919. King is a son-in-law of the herd's founder and Barron is a nephew. Both were among the first purchasers of breeding stock from the herd after the death of Aycock in 1937.

The 44 bulls represent the entire bull calf crop of that age from the two herds. No "tops" have been disposed of and each animal will be sold separately to the highest bidder without reserve.

The bulls will be at the auction barn Monday and may be seen any time during the week of the sale.

Old, Blind Mule Delays Fast Train

TEMPLE, Nov. 1 (AP)—An old, blind mule went for a stroll down a high railroad trestle.

Along came a fast train, whistle screaming.

The mule balked. The train stopped.

Out piled the engineer and fireman and pleaded with the mule to get out of the way.

The mule was adamant.

Two hours later the mule stood there. So did the train.

In desperation they shot the mule. Then the fast train sped on—two hours late.

Taylor's Team In Poor Condition For 3-AA Game Today At 3 p.m. With Abilene Eagles

Severely handicapped by injuries that places the team in its poorest condition since the season started, Coach Bud Taylor's Bulldogs go up against the Abilene Eagles on the latter's gridiron at 3 p. m. today in a game calculated to decide the fate of both.

The Bulldogs, who held the leadership of District 3-AA until beaten last week by Big Spring, will answer the kick-off no better than an even chance.

Game "Toss Up"
Taylor, analyzing the club's chances yesterday before the team departed by bus for Abilene, said the contest was a "toss up." Injuries to three of the regulars will be a clear advantage for the Eagles, who outweigh Midland 25 pounds in the line and five pounds in the back-field, Taylor said.

A morning skull session at the Hilton Hotel, where the team stayed overnight, was scheduled today, but the Bulldogs had nothing else to do during the day but await the whistle.

One Eleven Doomed
Midland, with two district victories and one defeat probably will be eliminated should it lose. Abilene, in a three-way tie with Sweetwater and Odessa and showing a district record of one win and one loss, also is hanging by a thread.

It will be the second time the teams have faced each other, Midland defeating Coach Dewey Mayhew's eleven last year by an overwhelming score.

The district leader, Big Spring, engages Plainview this week in a non-conference tilt. Sweetwater plays at Lamesa, and Odessa at San Angelo.

Wendell Williams, back, Bill Hall, right end, and Wilford Lester, right end, will not start the game. Lester and Hall may see some action, but it is doubtful that Williams, who had a recurrence of an ankle injury last week, gets into the game, Taylor said.

In Williams' place will be either Peyton Anderson or Ivan Hall. E. G. Foster is to play in Bill Hall's place, and Lomer Green for Lester. Lester has a pulled leg muscle, and Hall a sprained ankle.

Drill Lightly Yesterday
The coaching staff put the Bulldogs through a light drill at 3 p. m. yesterday, particularly stressing Abilene plays in which Fullback Sellers, stellar ball carrier, and Passers Howell and Dalton would figure. Offensive plays for the Eagles also were practiced, but besides that kicking and passing constituted activities.

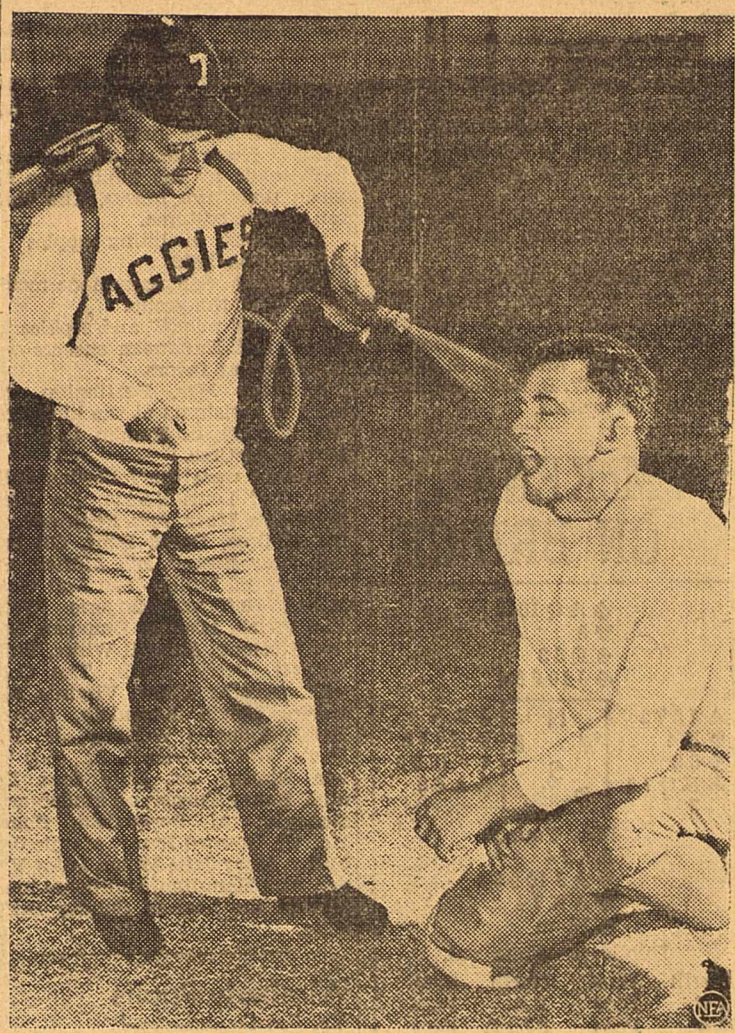

With a record of five victories and two losses this season, the Bulldogs have accumulated a scoring advantage over opponents of 78 to 43 points. Their game with Big Spring was the only one in which they did not score.

Novely For Johnson
Julius Johnson, assistant line coach, will experience a novelty today when he gets the first glimpse of the Bulldogs under game conditions. Ordinarily dispatched to scout opponents, Johnson may not be on the sidelines long as he probably will leave today to scout the contest at Lamesa tonight. Taylor will scout the San Angelo battle.

Earl Clarke, assistant back field coach, is unassigned.

The Bulldogs meet Lamesa here next week, and Odessa here No-

Texas Aggies And S. M. U. Face Tough Opponents Saturday

By Felix R. McKnight
DALLAS, Nov. 1 (AP)—Two stunning football teams, only a week removed from a face-to-face challenge that could be the nation's game of the day, have immediate business coming up tomorrow which may wreck everything.

Impressive, undefeated Texas A. & M. and Southern Methodist, billed for an encore to their famed 1939 battle on Nov. 9 at Dallas, risk their necks and the glamor of their meeting against dangerous Arkansas and Texas, respectively.

Pressed by Baylor last weekend, the Aggies, winners of 16 straight games, worked into tonight throughout the week reading for the invasion of Arkansas at College Station. No sane football team ever takes Arkansas lightly.

The Methodists had time to breathe the last two weeks during an idle period, and they needed it with 12 injuries on the roster. Now, Coach Matty Bell has his bunch taped up and ready, with the exception of Halfback Bill Thomas, out for the season.

Rated the country's best defensive team against rushing, the Aggies, who have permitted only 127 yards by ground in five games, also rate as one of the sector's top offensive units. A total of 1420 yards have been ground out by the Red machine—and almost half of them came from Marion Pugh's wizardry. The unsung quarterback has accounted for 669 yards by running and passing.

Strangely, the Arkansas passing game, its deadliest weapon for many years is the worst in the conference, statistically speaking. Their percentage of completions is only .330, but the joker lies in the fact that they have done well with the ones they have completed—583 yards, to be exact.

Rice doesn't plan a tea party against Texas A&M in a night game at Houston. It's serious business, but the Owls won't let anyone sneak up on their blind side the way they are going.

Masonic Home Team Panthers Still Win
By The Associated Press
Masonic Home's Mighty Mites and Jeff Davis' Panthers kept their goal lines uncrossed last night as they won their way to the Texas schoolboy football race.

Members of the select circle of 15 teams without defeat or tie, the Masons won over Fort Worth Tech 27-0 in the Fort Worth district and Jeff Davis downed Lamar, 13-0 in the Houston district.

Both are strong favorites to win their sector titles. Davis is undefeated leader. Mason's Home is tied for the lead with Arlington Heights, which plays Riverside (Fort Worth) tonight.

Two other games scheduled last night were postponed.

Tyler's tilt with Jacksonville, originally set for tonight, was moved to last night to tomorrow night due to inclement weather.

The Jeff Davis-San Antonio Tech game in San Antonio district, scheduled for last night, will be played tomorrow night.

Thirty seven contests will be played today and tonight over the state, with five more tomorrow.

Tennessee And Boston May Go To Sugar Bowl
ATLANTA, Nov. 1 (AP)—You can print on your husband the names of Tennessee and Boston College as probable New Year's Day opponents in New Orleans' Sugar Bowl football classic.

And Clemson or South Carolina is rated an odds-on choice for the Orange Bowl game at Miami, Fla., with speculation that undefeated Georgetown might be invited as an opponent.

With the bids only a month away, there are few teams of bowl caliber ready, willing and able to fill the exacting bill.

Sugar Bowl officials are traditionally reluctant to speculate on probable choices. But sports writer Fred Digby, of the New Orleans Item, long has been associated with the Sugar Bowl group, and is regarded as something of an unofficial spokesman, and his word is Tennessee vs Boston College.

Digby contends that Texas A. & M. and last year's Sugar Bowl winner, is Rose Bowl-bound.

Football Writer Picks Mustangs Over Longhorns

By Herb Barker
NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Another chapter in the weekly football guessing contest (and may it be happier than last week's):

Northwestern-Minnesota: As close to a stand-off as can be imagined. Both unbeaten, both untied, both potent. Blanketed by a deep fog, Minnesota.

Army-Notre Dame: Think of a number. Notre Dame.

Texas A&M-Arkansas: The Razorbacks are coming along fast. Spot for an upset but stringing along with the Aggies.

UCLA-Stanford: UCLA has lost five ball games, yet nobody who has scored more than one touchdown on the Bruins. There's a strong urge to take a chance on them until you glance at Stanford's record.

Guesses Clemson
Tulane-Clemson: This is where everybody discovers just how good Clemson may be. Timidly Clemson.

Duke-Georgia Tech: Possible fireworks but taking Duke.

Cornell-Columbia: Cornell's due for a let-down. No possible selection, however, but Cornell.

Fordham-North Carolina: No surprise either way. Out of the hat, Fordham.

Penn-Navy: With Reagan a doubtful quality, this corner's nod goes to Navy.

Ohio State-Indiana: The Buckeyes have the greater man-power and that might prove decisive. Ohio State.

Tennessee-Louisiana State: Can't look beyond Tennessee.

Kentucky-Alabama: Taking Alabama, but not too happily.

Georgia-Auburn: The loss of Rufus Deal will hurt Auburn and excellent progress. Still, Auburn.

Vanderbilt-Mississippi: Hapes, Hovious and Mississippi.

SMU Over Texas

Texas-Southern Methodist: Jack Crain apparently is not fully recovered, influencing this ballot for S. M. U.

Texas Christian-Baylor: Baylor.

California-Oregon State: Let the coin decide. . . Oregon State.

Boston College-Manhattan: Adds up to Boston College no matter how you figure it.

Duquesne-Marquette: Taking Duquesne.

Harvard-Princeton: Doubt that Harvard can stop Dave Allerdice's passes. Princeton.

Holy Cross-Colgate: Colgate rates the nod.

Penn State-South Carolina: The Gamecocks were terrors against Duquesne and Clemson but Penn State is our choice.

Syracuse-Georgetown: Definitely a risk for the Hoyas' long undefeated string but the selection still must be Georgetown.

Yale-Brown: Close enough. Brown.

Iowa-Purdue: Ditto this one. Purdue.

Wisconsin-Illinois: And still another. Wisconsin.

Michigan State-Kansas State: Taking Michigan State.

Oklahoma-Nebraska: Might be close but Nebraska gets this vote.

Missouri-New York University: Looks safe for Missouri.

Villanova-Kansas: Looks like Villanova.

Tulsa-Texas Tech: A threat to the Titans' unbeaten record but we'll still take Detroit.

West Virginia-Washington and Lee: Quick, Watson, the coin. West Virginia.

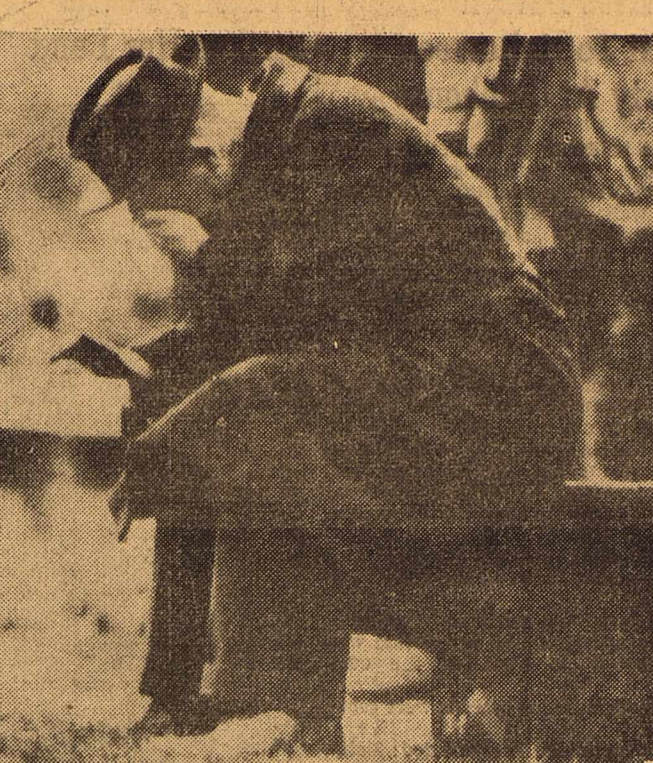

North Carolina State-Furman: Taking State.

George Washington-Wake Forest: Out of the fish-bowl. Wake Forest.

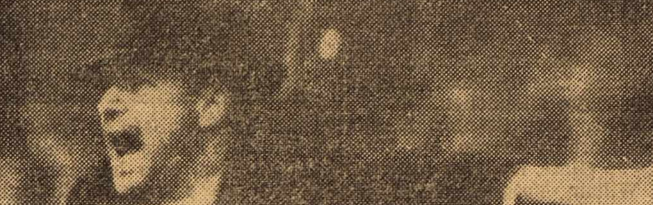

Also: Temple over Bucknell; Dartmouth over Swanee; William and Mary over Virginia Military; Virginia over Virginia Tech; Washington State over Idaho; Oregon over Montana; Colorado over Utah; Brigham Young over Utah State; Lafayette over Washington and Jefferson; Santa Clara over San Francisco.

Odds Favor Overlin In Tonight's Battle
NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—It took Ken Overlin, an ex-sailor from Virginia, 13 years of battling all over the world to ascend to the middle-weight throne recognized by New York and he hasn't any intention of exiting in his first title defense.

Coach Groans, Cavorts At Marquette Game

Coach Pete Cawthon of the Texas Tech Red Raiders had an emotional field day at Milwaukee as his team nosed out Marquette by a 20-13 score. At the top, Cawthon shudders as Marquette smears one of his pet plays, but below it is a different story. Waving like a symphony director, he shouted with glee as the Red Raiders took to the air and raced toward the Marquette goal line.

Courtney, Sterling To Play Second Game
COURTNEY, Nov. 1 (Special)—The Eagles and Sterling City are scheduled to meet today on the latter's gridiron in their second six-man football game this season. Courtney won the first engagement.

RED RAIDERS MEET MIAMI UNIVERSITY TONIGHT
LUBBOCK, No. 1 (AP)—Texas Tech's undefeated Red Raiders and the once defeated University of Miami will clash in an inter-sectional game here tonight.

Officials anticipate a good crowd of ten thousand people.

Coach Groans, Cavorts At Marquette Game
The Midland Bullpups instituted a ground attack at the opening of the game yesterday to score a touchdown and then repelled an attempt for conversion in the final minute of play to gain a 7-to-0 victory over the Junior High Red Devils.

Capturing their second game of the season, the Bullpups counted as Halfback Billy Jo Stickney went around right end for 30 yards after a drive from mid-field, aided by Earl Robert Wheeler, fullback, and Charles Kelly, quarterback. The extra point was made by Wheeler from placement.

Miss Three Opportunities
The Bulldogs held the upper hand afterward, failing three times when a touchdown opportunity arose.

Seemingly a 7 to 0 victory, the team of Coach L. M. Preels received a surprising jolt in the waning moments when, from mid-field, a husky Red Devil back went through left tackle and continued to the goal-line. The Red Devil went off tackle again on the conversion attempt, but Wheeler brought him down short of the goal.

Midland was close to a second touchdown in the fourth quarter when Stickney raced for about 40 yards placing the ball on the 3-yard line. Two line plays failed, and the Bullpups lost the ball when Kelly fumbled on an off-tackle smash.

Passes Incomplete
Midland lost opportunities to score also in the first and third periods as passes to Halfback Bill Richards went awry. Richards dropped one, and the other was mis-directed.

Kelley tossed a considerable number of aerials, attaining a good percentage of completions. A Big Spring passing offensive failed. Jack Noyes, center, and Pete Lee, tackle, stood out on defense for Midland.

At San Angelo Tomorrow
The Bullpups, losers to San Angelo junior high 7 to 0 two weeks ago, play that eleven there at 2:30 p. m. Saturday. They play at Sweetwater Thursday, and back home with Odessa Nov. 15 or 16. Midland's season is closed Nov. 22 in Midland with another engagement with Big Spring.

Sports Roundup

By Eddie Brietz
NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Doc Sutherland left Pitt in 1938, but he still rates. He got 60 votes in a contest to determine the sports figure who did most to publicize Pittsburgh in 1939. Pro football men say Clyde (Bulldog) Turner of the Chicago Bears will be Mel Hein's successor as all-league center.

Today's Guess Star
Jere Haynes, Dallas Times-Herald: "On the theory that the further I get away from the unpredictable Southwest Conference, the better my chances are to nail a winner, I'll take a flyer on UCLA to thump Stanford this week — and then retire to my bomb shelter."

Chitter Chatter
If he's feeling good, Ken Overlin should be much too cute for Steve Belloise tonight. Horse racing may be back in Texas in a big way next year. "Sweet" Lalamme, North Carolina's passing artist, practices from two to four hours a day all through the season — throwing pigskins at a bull's eye.

Congratulations to Fradette Fitzsimmons who has been voted "veteran of the year" in a contest conducted by the "Sporting News."

One-Minute Interview
Bob Zupke, Illinois Coach: "Elmer Layden and I have a lot of problems in common. . . Elmer has trouble deciding which 36 men he'll take on his trips. . . I have trouble finding 36 for a traveling squad."

Plaque Commemorates Texas Oil Discovery

FORT WORTH, Nov. 1 (AP)—A plaque commemorating the discovery of oil in Texas will be placed on a stainless steel derrick at Corsicana Nov. 7, a tribute from the Texas Mid Continent Oil and Gas Association.

The association, in annual convention here, witnessed presentation of the plaque to J. L. Collings of Corsicana, vice president of the East Central district, who in turn presented it to Joe E. Butler, president of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce.

Butler announced a dedicatory ceremony would be held. President E. L. Smith of Dallas, laid before the association a definite program to serve in part to guide activities the organization in the coming year.

It included greater support of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission, work for greater economy in the state and county school districts, reenactment of the state oil conservation laws which expire next September, support of a state constitutional amendment to prohibit further diversion of gasoline taxes to purposes other than building roads, adjustment of the state's trucking laws and aid for a fight for retention of the depletion clause in the federal income tax laws, as appertaining to the oil industry.

Roosevelt's Secretary Apologizes To Policeman

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—A message of apology went today to a New York metro policeman from Stephen Early, White House secretary, for whatever part Early may have had in the altercation which the policeman said resulted in his injury.

The incident, which Early called "regrettable" in a formal statement, occurred in New York's Pennsylvania station Monday night, when a party of White House officials and newspapermen were attempting to board the Presidential special train for Washington.

"I do not believe that I did anything wrong in this incident," Early said in making the apology. "I did not attack or kick any officer."

The policeman, James Sloan, 42, said the next day that he had suffered abdominal injury from a kick by a member of the presidential party. The same day Early told his press conference that in a jostling set-to he "gave the knee" to one of a group of officers who shoved him after refusing to examine his credentials, so he could board the train.

Gayda Charges FDR With Taking Offensive

ROME, Nov. 1 (AP)—Virginia Gayda, authoritative Fascist editor, accused President Roosevelt today of initiating an offensive against the Axis and held him and his supporters responsible for creation of an "ideological political conflict which is skidding toward belligerency between the United States and the Axis."

The editor of Il Giornale D'Italia, who often reflects official Fascist opinion, said he was answering a recent speech of United States Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

Willkie Charges FDR Is Greater Spender

ABOARD WILLKIE TRAIN IN NEW JERSEY Nov. 1 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie expressed belief today that President Roosevelt had expended more government funds than any other ruler in the world in the same length of time.

From a platform in front of the court house at New Brunswick, N. J., the Republican presidential nominee declared his opponent had not lived up to a 1932 platform pledge to cut federal expenses.

Congress May Increase Airplane Production

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today there may be a new production program for American military planes as soon as Congress gets back.

He told a press convention that such a program was probable and, replying to a question, said it was based on the objective of pushing United States plane production capacity to 50,000 a year.
