Slow Rains Benefit Territorial Ranges

General slow rains soaking Midland County and West Texas continued to fall today as reports were made of falls from three-fourths inch to approximately two inches near here. Rainfall in Midland at 1 p. m. measured 1.03 inches.

Rain fell from Midland as far east as Dallas, the Texas & Pacific railway company reported. Moisture was general over the area, dispatches said. Two inches were reported 12 miles west of Odessa.

Benefits Ranges
The range country was the major beneficiary. "Farmers who have planted small grains were greatly benefited," County Agent V. G. Young said. Late cotton, not yet harvested, will be spotted and damaged to some extent, Young added.

With most points recording an all-day fall, 2.5 inches was reported at Spofford, and Rocksprings had two. Rain also extended south to the Rio Grande.

Reports Last Night
Sterling City, slow rain all day. McCamey, good rain. Fort Stockton, good rain. Garden City, 4 inch. Ozona, 1 inch, still raining. San Angelo, .75. Robert Lee, .52 inch. Brownwood, rain all day. Sonora, half inch, still raining. Lamesa, rains.

Successful in a "get-out-the-vote" drive, revealed a record vote in the recent general election, the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce will continue urging citizens to vote in an approaching road bond election.

The Jaycees will co-operate 100 per cent in the Red Cross roll call drive here, members indicated at their luncheon.

Bill Collins, secretary, reported on a brief prepared for presentation to the CVA in Washington next week on the proposed airline of the Continental Airlines, Inc.

Facts in the brief show steady growth and increased business in Midland, enough to merit the line, Collins pointed out.

The junior chamber voted thanks to Midland citizens, radio station KRJH, and newspapers, for co-operation in the "vote campaign."

The group voted to meet weekly at noon on Fridays replacing an old plan of twice monthly meetings.

PATIENT DISMISSED
J. E. Turner returned to his home today from a Midland hospital where he had been treated for a broken leg.

Midland Cartoon Personalities In Today's Reporter-Telegram

"Midland's Get Acquainted Page" is the title of the cartoon presentation on pages 4 and 5 of today's Reporter-Telegram. Anyone suffering from brown-tits is warned not to look there unless he is willing to convert frowns into smiles and expressions of interest.

The Get Acquainted page presents the pen and ink cartoons of 284 personalities connected with 44 business and professional concerns. All are in poses easily recognized, and it is up to the reader to determine who he is, and to what place of business he belongs.

The cartoon was prepared by the Reporter-Telegram by the Postlethwaite Company of Kansas City. The cartoons were drawn from photographs made by Louie Erhardt, here several weeks on the project.

A contest feature is included, and it will be a worthwhile pastime. Several cash prizes are offered to persons submitting the nearest and most attractive and correct list of identifications. Cash prizes of $25 are offered. In addition, 20 passes to the Yucca will be awarded.

It will be fun identifying individuals. If you like the sketches, and know someone away from Midland who would be interested in seeing them, extra copies of The Reporter-Telegram will be available at the customary price.

Details of a feature contest for your amusement and profit will be found on the special Get Acquainted pages. Turn to them now.

Midland Citizenry To Arise Early For Legion's Breakfast

Midland residents will be aroused at sunrise and invited to attend flag raising ceremonies and a breakfast sponsored by the American Legion at 6 a. m. Monday, Armistice Day.

The mass meeting of the weekend Armistice celebration is Sunday at 11 a. m. when Legionnaires, ex-service men, and other veterans attend special services at the First Christian Church. Theme of the meeting, in charge of James H. Goodman, is "The Need for a Spiritual Defense of the Nation."

Guests will be Gold Star mother, and mothers and fathers of World War veterans.

At Scout Hall.
As the only celebration planned in the city for Armistice Day, the flag raising ceremony and breakfast will be held at the Scout Hall.

The church program includes special music by the choir. Advancement and retirement of the colors will be observed, Goodman said. Members of the legion will sit in a body, the meeting to begin at 10:55 a. m. The Rev. J. E. Pickering will give the message.

Elementary and junior high schools today were holding Armistice Day programs.

J. L. Friberg is in charge of the Monday morning program at the Scout Hall.

Congress Indicates Early Adjournment

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—Prospects for enactment of a half dozen pending major legislative proposals slumped today as congressional election fever showed an inclination to wind up this session by a sine die adjournment within the next 10 days.

Even should a formal request materialize by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau for additional taxes and an expansion of the federal borrowing authority, it appeared unlikely it would swerve Democratic leaders from a determination to put off further work until January.

Supporters of Wagner Act amendments, the Logan-Walter bill to facilitate court appeals from decisions of government agencies, the anti-laboring measure and the Ramspeck Civil Service bill would lose the ground they gained in winning House passage and would have to start over again.

Patent Dismissed
J. E. Turner returned to his home today from a Midland hospital where he had been treated for a broken leg.

Large Expansion For Land Forces
WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The War Department reported today that preparations were near completion for expanding the nation's land forces to a million men in the next four months.

An outline of basic training plans for men to be obtained through the selective service program said the first 400,000 recruits would be sandwiched into regular army and national guards units and efforts made to turn them quickly into "efficient, energetic, self-reliant and physically hardened soldiers."

To Mobilize March 15
The pioneer 400,000 of the conscription program are to be mobilized by March 15. Subsequent trainees will be put through three months of individual drill at replacement centers before being transferred to units in which most will serve the remainder of their one year's active duty.

By mid-March, when it is expected that 21 strategically located replacement centers will be ready, at least a million men will be in the army's olive drab uniform.

A record influx of enlistments yesterday swelled regular army ranks past the original goal of 375,000 professional soldiers.

IS DISCHARGED
Mrs. Wyatt Webb was discharged today from a Midland hospital.

Narrows Bridge At Tacoma Gives Way To Weather

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 8 (AP)—The elements won in the battle for the $6,400,000 narrows bridge, and the floor of the world's third longest suspension span lay in Puget Sound today. But man and his science will try again.

Agitated and twisted by a wind of gale proportions, the colossal structure, which only four months ago was dedicated as a monument to engineering science, crumbled, then collapsed, with a mighty roar, yesterday into the white-crested waves of the Sound.

There was no loss of human life. Two men—an engineer and a newspaperman—who were on the bridge when it began to twist violently, narrowly escaped, even as sections of the floor began hurling into the waters 200 feet below.

Tubby Into Sound.
Tubby, a Cocker Spaniel riding in the car with Leonard Coatsworth, Tacoma newspaperman, was not so fortunate. Coatsworth had to abandon his car to save his life. And the terrified Tubby nipped the knuckles of Prof. F. G. Farquharson, the engineer, who attempted to release the dog. As Farquharson and Coatsworth made their separate and precarious ways to safety, the car and the Cocker Spaniel fell into the Sound.

A. F. Andrew, chief engineer of the Washington toll bridge authority, who announced that plans for rebuilding the bridge would be undertaken immediately, attributed the tragedy to "substitutions of plate girders eight feet in depth for a mass design which had previously been planned." He explained:

"The solid metal expanses acted like a sail, catching the wind and swinging the bridge. We had planned to bore holes to allow the wind to pass through, but had not had time."

Pecos Simpson Discovery Starts Gauge, Flows 36 Barrels Of Oil First 18 Minutes Through Choke

Northern Pecos County's new Ordovician flush producer, Taubert, McKee & Siemoneit No. 1 Mrs. V. W. Crockett, was testing into tanks today but mounting pressures both on casing and tubing indicated that choking of the flow was retarding yield.

The well was opened at 10:37 a. m. today through 1 1/2-inch choke on 2-inch tubing. It then had 1,100 pounds casing pressure and 1,050 pounds on tubing. The first 18 minutes it tanked 36 barrels of oil, following which choke became plugged with sand and shale.

Choke was cleared and testing resumed at 11:40 a. m. when the well was turned into tanks through 1/4-inch choke on tubing. At the start it had 1,010 pounds casing pressure and 900 tubing pressure. Thirty minutes later casing pressure had risen to 1,045 and tubing to 925. At 12:40 p. m. the well had made 25 barrels of oil through 1/4-inch choke—in a period of one hour—and testing continued. Pressures as of 12:40 were 1,140 pounds on casing and 925 on tubing.

Will Call 'Abell' Area.
No. 1 Crockett is producing from the Simpson, middle Ordovician, topped at 4,755 feet. It found sand pay in that member from 5,270-80 feet and from 5,320-45 feet. Total depth is 5,357 feet in Simpson shale, lime and sand.

The well is the first flush Simpson oiler in West Texas and opens a new territory which probably will be designated the "Abell area." Deep exploration in that portion of the county was pioneered by George T. Abell, well-known Midland geologist and producer, who jointly with Magnolia Petroleum Company, three years ago, drilled a dry hole on McKee land a mile and a quarter north of the new discovery. The McKee test topped the Simpson high and headed oil and gas from sands similar to those found in No. 1 Crockett, but failed to produce commercially because of circulating mud having drowned out the pay.

On earlier open flow tests into pits, No. 1 Crockett was conservatively estimated capable of producing 100 to 200 barrels of 43-gravity oil hourly, with 5,000,000 to 10,000,000 cubic feet of gas. It is located 600 feet out of the southwest corner of the Crockett tract in section 4 1/2, block 3, H. & T. C. survey and is the forerunner of a drilling campaign for the Abell area. Short-term leases, some of which are on mineral classified land, will call for drilling of approximately 20 wells within the next year.

M Bar Tops Reported.
Anhydrite markers were reported today by Phillips Petroleum Company on two interesting wildcats being drilled by the firm in the M. B. area of Southern Andrews County.

Phillips No. 2 M Bar Ranch, 4-800 feet southeast of No. 1 M Bar, discovery 1,805,000 cubic foot gas, topped anhydrite at 1,580 feet, datum of base of gas. It is located 1,653 feet from the surface, a correlation shows the marker to be 192 feet lower than first anhydrite in No. 1 M Bar, found at 1,393 feet, datum of plus 1,845. The No. 2 M Bar now is standing, bottomed at 1,604 feet in anhydrite, after cementing 10-inch casing at 1,599 feet.

Phillips No. 1 University-Andrews logged top of anhydrite of the gasser, Phillips No. 1 University-Andrews logged top of anhydrite.

GERMANY BLAMES U. S. ON SHIP GUARANTEE
BERLIN, Nov. 8 (AP)—Authorized German sources asserted today that the United States had herself to blame in part for Germany's inability to guarantee safe conduct of an American vessel to remove several hundred Americans still in the besieged British Isles.

They pointed out that American authorities chose to disregard German advice in the case of the U. S. Army transport American Legion which passed through the German-proclaimed danger zone around Britain whereas Germany had suggested another route.

Electoral Voting Is Assailed And Upheld In Airing

Massachusetts Senator Calls System Relic Of Past As Page Dissents

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The electoral college today found itself alternately assailed as a "relic" and upheld as a wise precaution of the founding fathers.

It is the electoral college which will do the official electing of President Roosevelt by a 44-10-32 vote over Wendell L. Wilkie. The actual election of a chief executive is not, strictly speaking, by direct vote of the people.

According to the constitution, subsequent laws, precedents and custom, presidential electors chosen by the people will cast their votes for a president as a unit in each state December 16, and their ballots will be counted by Congress here in January.

Element of Risk.
Presumably each elector will vote according to the majority as expressed in the popular vote which elected him—but he would be perfectly within his rights if he voted for another candidate. As a matter of fact one elector did bolt and vote for a defeated rival candidate after the presidential election in 1796.

Senator Lodge (R-Mass.), criticizing the electoral college as a "relic of the past," announced he would introduce in Congress a constitutional amendment "to require presidential elections to be settled by the vote of the people."

He said that the college "serves no useful purpose" and made it possible for a candidate with a majority of the popular vote to be defeated.

Dissent On Proposal.
His proposal brought an immediate dissent from William Tyler Page, capitol employee for 50 years and clerk of the House from 1919 to 1931.

"That," Page said, "would be like jumping out of the frying pan into the fire. It would give the preponderance of power to the most populous states."

"Suppose that, in the election just held, there was a close popular vote and the result depended on 2,000,000 votes. Now, the south would lose its preponderance of about 2,000,000 votes to, we'll say, Mr. Roosevelt, and that would offset the small lot of small majorities in states like New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and so on."

"It's conceivable that a small state like Wyoming might decide an election. We'd have a case of the tail wagging the dog."

Bomb Blamed In Deaths Of Surgeon's Children

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 8 (AP)—A bomb which police theorized was placed near the steering wheel of the family automobile was blamed today for the deaths of a young son and daughter of the Scranton director of public health.

District Attorney Michael J. Eagen said small fragments of what appeared to be metal were taken from the bodies of William Rehborn, 19-year-old University of Scranton student, and his sister, Lois, 18. Both were killed last night in an explosion which shattered the car as they were about to enter it in front of their home.

The blast broke windows in many homes in the fashionable "Hill Section" of Scranton.

Bidding For Andrews Oil And Gas Leases Dull As Sale Begins

AUSTIN, Nov. 8 (AP)—Dull bidding met initial offerings of University of Texas lands in Andrews county offered for oil and gas lease at an auction here today.

The one premium bid was that of Tidewater Associated Oil Company which offered $4,200 cash bonus. Bidding was on the bonus 13, southwest quarter.

The University Board of Lease rejected bids on some tracts when purchasers offered less than $1,000 bonus. Biddings was on the bonus factor only since rental and royalty was fixed at $1 per acre and one-eighth respectively.

One higher bid rejected was that of Magnolia Petroleum Company's $2,000 offer on tract 12, block 10, section 23, southwest quarter.

Walters Auctioneer.
The veteran auctioneer, Col. E. Walters of Skedee, Okla., exhorted competing companies to buy up many tracts on the theory production from one would more than offset loss on others.

Officials expressed belief bidding would become spirited when Crane and Crockett County tracts, relatively close to proven areas, were offered.

Successful bidders on Andrews County tracts included: Skelly Oil Company $2,700 on tract 16, block 10, section 3, southwest quarter; $2,900 for tract 17, block 10, section 11, northwest quarter, and $1,000 for tract 25, block 13, section 25, southeast quarter.

Magnolia Petroleum Company $1,700 for tract 13, block 10, section 15, southwest quarter; $900 for tract 20, block 10, section 1, northeast quarter.

Cities Service Oil Company, $1,000 each for tract 9, block, section 20, southwest quarter and tract 14, block 10, section 16, northeast quarter.

Get-Acquainted Day

It is fitting that today, with the publication of cartoons of many employes of Midland places of business, we salute business personels of our city.

These individuals at our stores, offices, and businesses play a big part in the functioning of each place. No employer appreciates anything more than a personnel of loyal, conscientious and efficient workers who make his interests their interests. No employe can have a greater asset than to develop "a following" in the community. To merit a following that employe serves the customer to the customer's interests and injects a real degree of personal service in his work.

How important is the personnel of any place of business? It's so important that the place of business couldn't function without each employe playing his or her part as a cog in the wheel, making for successful operation of the concern.

Midland's store personels are far above the average in the courtesy which they extend customers and in the personal service which they give.

So, to the employes of each place of business on this "Get-Acquainted" day, it may be well to repeat the words: "I will strive each day to do my work just a bit better than I did it yesterday. By this procedure, I am doing just one thing—building my own future."

Another Recruit

Co-operation with the government in the building of national defense is mounting day by day. We have told of how a large electric company has promised to undertake all normal risks in defense production, and in abnormal risks asks only to be guaranteed against loss.

Now a camera company steps up with a new approach to the question. It offers to refund voluntarily to the government "any profit it might make in excess of 10 per cent of cost." The 10 per cent is, of course, already subject to income and excess profit taxes. Evidence of the literal sincerity of the offer is in the fact that it made a substantial refund to the government as the result of a similar pledge in 1917.

Patriotism is not confined to the men who carry a gun. It is found in every walk of life. We know men who were killed by overwork in civilian war activities in 1918 just as surely as any man was killed by enemy bullets. It would be so again if war came, and increasing assurances of full co-operation in the defense drive make it clearer every day.

Building For Peace

Our eyes are on our rapidly growing armaments, as they should be and must be, the world being what it is. The shipyards ring, the barracks rise, the tanks rumble off the assembly line.

But in the meantime America is also building for peace. Stewart McDonald, Federal Housing administrator, estimates that by the end of 1940, America will have built as many single-family homes during the year as the 1920-29 average, or about 427,000.

Four hundred thousand homes is a lot of homes, and proof that Uncle Sam has two strong arms—a right arm with which he can provide the sinews of war, and a left with which he can build new homes for his peaceful people. It is the "guns or butter" story all over again, and one more proof that the United States can have both.

How To Land a Transport Safely Without Wheels

When a UAL transport plane, carrying eight passengers and three crew members prepared to land at Fresno, Calif., the landing gear jammed. The plane returned to Oakland when efforts to free the jam were futile. It landed safely on its "belly." No one was injured. Top, the plane just as its "belly" touched the airport field; Center, the plane starts its 400-foot skid and then comes to a halt with its tail in air and twin propellers bent (bottom). In the bottom picture note ambulances at the scene "just in case."

SERIAL STORY

GOAL TO GO

BY W. H. PEARS

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Landis is furious when the scrub team plows through the varsity, using Buck's plays. He orders Bill from the field. Bill reports the incident to Buck, discovers Buck has an offer to sell movie cameras to football coaches. His work will take him away. Bill pleads with him to wait, rest. Meanwhile, he remembers Dot.

Chapter V.

ON Saturday the West squad journeyed to Clayton and absorbed a 34 to 6 beating. On Sunday the Clarion carried a scorching column by Pat Hurley. "With a wealth of excellent material at his disposal, Coach Landis continues merrily to squander it on defeat..."

On his way to class Monday morning, Bill met Drowsy Peters, who said slyly, "The wolves are starting to howl, Bill." And the power of the press is at work, as they say in journalism class. Everybody's betting Landis won't finish the season."

"So what?" Bill demanded irritably. "What can I do about it?" "Oh, nothing," Drowsy winked and jerked his thumb at Dot Skelton, whose slim legs were just disappearing under a corner. "I just thought you might like to think over my idea about Dot..."

DOT was in the cafeteria at noon. She smiled meltingly at Bill and he surprised her by smiling back. But he couldn't bring himself to go over to her table. He knew what Buck would say about making up to a girl because she had influence.

All afternoon and during the early part of the evening Bill fought with his scruples. He finally made up his mind. He wouldn't just play up to Dot; he'd really like her. After all, she was cute and pretty. A fellow didn't have to go with just one girl, did he? He'd never told Helen they were going steady...

Dot came in to Peskin's that evening with three girls. Bill girded himself for the attack. He felt like a bee as he said with a smile, "Hello, Dot."

"Why, hello, Bill." She raised lovely green eyes to him. "Do you know, Bill, that you've smiled at me twice today?" "I guess all the fellows smile at you, Dot."

"All except one," she said with an air of pique. "A girl always likes a fellow that's a little... well, aloof."

Dot's three companions watched this display of technique in silent admiration. When Bill returned with the orders, Dot continued: "I was just telling the girls I think they're mean not to walk home with me. With that awful sack bandit at large it isn't safe for a girl to be on the street alone. Do you think so, Bill?"

"No," Bill said with a gulp. For a horrible moment he was left poised on the brink of the question. Then, setting his jaw, he plunged over. "I'm finishing at 10, Dot. If you're really afraid, I—I guess I could go with you."

"Oh, Bill!" Dot uttered the words as if she were accepting a proposal of marriage. "That would be just grand."

THE top of Dot's head just came to Bill's shoulder as they walked, and when she turned to talk to him her hair brushed his face with fragrance. "You've changed, Bill," she told him.

"Maybe I've always liked you," Bill said, trying to believe his own words. "But your father's a big shot and I'm—"

"Bill! How silly!" "Well, a fellow has to consider those things, Dot. If Buck had a good job somewhere, like coaching, I'd feel different. But just because he can't get around without canes, they won't give him a chance."

"You mean if things were different for your father you'd like to see more of me?" "Bill hesitated, then said faintly, "Yes."

"Dot was an opportunist. "Like taking me to the dance Saturday night?" "Bill's heart missed a beat. "I'm not such a hot dancer."

"I'll teach you, Bill. Is it a cue?" "But I've already..." "Dot interrupted shrewdly. "I've always said Buck Mentor would make a swell coach. If I tried, I could sell father on the idea. The rest of the board just does what he tells them and he's pretty crazy about his little daughter..."

"What about Landis?" Bill asked. "Dot pointed her thumb earthward. "He's a pain in the neck. Father and old Peskin are beginning to realize they made a mistake."

"Even if they fire him," Bill objected, "maybe they won't let a girl tell them who to hire."

Dot tossed her head. "Well, I'm not saying they will. But if I were you, Bill, I wouldn't be too sure."

"Oh, I didn't mean that," Bill said quickly. "I guess you can do it, all right."

The big white Skelton mansion loomed up ahead. Dot said her hand into Bill's. "I could do a lot for someone I liked, Bill."

Bill's throat was dry, but he managed to pry the words loose: "Dot, I'd like to have you... I mean, will you go with me to... to the dance Saturday night?" "Why, Bill, honey! You're the sweetest boy in the world to invite me. I think I'll give you a kiss."

Bill retreated a step, but too late. Satin-soft lips pressed hard against his mouth. "You're a nice boy," Dot murmured. "I'm going to see you often, aren't I?"

Bill watched her slim figure vanish up the winding driveway, then he turned slowly homeward. His lips tingled from Dot's kiss; guiltily he brushed his hand across them as if to wipe the feeling away.

DEEP in thought, he didn't see Helen until he was almost on his own porch. She was standing in the shadows of the big maple and called his name softly. "What are you doing up so late?" Bill asked, keeping his eyes on the ground. He was ashamed to look at her.

Helen's voice trembled with excitement. "I walked up to the store, but I must have missed you." "I came a different way," Bill mumbled. "Bill, I've got the grandest surprise. Guess what?" "You don't sound very interested," Helen laughed. She stepped closer to him, her eyes sparkling in the

The Golden Text is: "Unto these will I cry, O Lord my rock... Save thy people, and bless thine inheritance: feed them also, and lift them up for ever" (Psalms 28:19).
"But—" She turned away from Bill a moment, and he knew she was crying. He blinked his eyes and almost wished he could cry, too. He felt like it.

She turned, dabbing at her eyes, and smiled. "I'm sorry to be such a baby, Bill. It was just that I'd counted on it so, and the new dress seemed to make things perfect. But I understand how it is if Mr. Peskin makes you work."
Bill said with desperate honesty, "It... it's not Mr. Peskin, Helen. I—well, I'm taking another girl."
"Oh..." Helen pressed taut knuckles against her mouth. "Another girl..."
"Dot nodded miserably. "Dot Skelton?"
"Bill, you couldn't..." Suddenly Helen's crumpled little figure straightened in defiance. "I hope you have a... wonderful time, Bill," she choked. With a sob, she whirled and fled into the house.

Bill stood for a moment in the shadows, his big shoulders sagging. Then he dropped his face into his hands.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8 (AP)—Wyndham Mortimer, international organizer for the CIO United Automobile Workers' Union, announced today the membership of 3,500 had voted "overwhelmingly" in favor of a strike at Vultee Aircraft, Inc. At issue is a union demand for an increase of the minimum wage from 50 cents to 75 cent an hour.

Mortimer said a union meeting Sunday would decide the date of the walkout. The plant employs approximately 5,300 men and has U. S. and foreign military as well as commercial contracts.

By Wm. E. McKenney
America's Card Authority.
HAVING by this time acquired a slight French accent, I arrived in Ottawa and found the Parliament Building and beautiful Memorial Chamber especially impressive. I dropped into the office of the Ottawa Citizen, one of the Canadian papers carrying my column.

Although I was anxious to talk about my wonderful trip through Canada, I found I had to listen to two or three bridge arguments. One of the boys gave me today's hand, which had been mailed in to the paper, and asked if I thought it was a good one. I want you to look it over and see if you won't acknowledge that it is one of prettiest hands you have seen in quite a while.

The opening hand lead was won by West with the queen. He returned a heart and East refused to go up with the ace, allowing South to win the trick with the nine. Declarer cashed the ace of diamonds.

Now he could see that if the diamond suit did not break, he might not make his contract. That is what I call really looking ahead in the play, but that is what all of the Canadians are doing right now, and with their chins up, too.

Declarer played a small diamond from dummy, which West won with the ten-spot. West returned a heart, East cashed two heart tricks, but now declarer had a diamond with which he could get into dummy to cash three diamond tricks, thus making his contract of three no trump.

Armistice Presents Timely Question Of Christian Attitudes

By R. A. Weaver

27 But I say unto you that hear, Love your enemies, do good to them that hate you.

28 Bless them that curse you, pray for them that despitefully use you.

29 To him that smiteth thee on one cheek offer also the other; and from him that taketh away thy cloak withhold not thy coat also.—Luke 6.

Armistice Day Thoughts.

The foregoing scripture texts were chosen as the basis for a lesson on Armistice Day. This is the choice of the Committee on the International Uniform Lesson, Armistice Day, brings vivid memories of other days, and other wars. The present and the future hold major problems of critical moment for America, and as we live in peace today, the fear of a spreading conflagration, worldwide and revolutionary in character, is upon all people. As America is supposed to be a Christian nation, the question in the minds of many people is, what should be the attitude of the church toward preparedness and national defense, the selective draft and the temper of our foreign policy?

The Cost Of Survival.

Those things which are most dear to the hearts of Americans—and those things should be the traditions and principles upon which this nation is founded—if they survive must be protected with all that we possess, including moral support, material possessions, and life itself.

If those traditions and principles are not WORTH all this, the nation is not worthy of survival. The recognition of the fact that they ARE worth all this is what makes this nation great among the nations of the world. And if and when the attitudes and reactions of Americans are such that these values are prostituted for lesser and more feeble national ideals—then will this nation succumb to the control and slavery of foreign Un-American ways and paths of life that are NOT American, NOT Christian, and NOT Democratic. None of the ideal and political principles of a Democracy can be preserved and maintained in the face of totalitarian aggression by an attitude of appeasement or extreme pacifism. None of the rights, liberties and benefits belonging to an individual can be either. This is a universal truism, and one that has no protagonists. The Christian Attitude.

Whether a citizen of a Democracy is Christian, agnostic or atheist, the patriotic obligation impends in equal effect to all. The Christian whose sense of patriotism is so weak that he refuses to take up arms in defense of his country, his home and his children need not expect a call to fulfill the destiny of the Kingdom of Heaven. There are no slackers in the Army of the Lord—no conscientious objectors in the battle of the Cross. Christians are the defenders of the faith. They seek no aggressive conquests. They avoid conflict, but to defend the good, preserve the Truth and protect the right to peaceful living is the prerogative of both saint and sinner, and without a willingness to do this very thing destroys the force of conviction, integrity and honor—the very marks of a Christian.

The Church Militant.

As we look back over the long dreary way—drenched with the blood of the Saints who gave their lives to the Cause of Christ—the conviction is that the cost of high ideals, great principles and noble aspirations has bathed the fields of many battles with the life blood of

LAREDO AND NUEVO LAREDO BRIDGE BIDS RECEIVED

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 8 (AP)—Plans for construction of a new international railway bridge between Laredo, Texas, and Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, were disclosed today when the government announced that contract bids for the work are now being received.

The new structure will replace an old trestle bridge on the Mexican National Railway's main line. Work is to begin shortly after bids are opened Nov. 19, railroad administration officials said.

The most valiant and courageous soldiers of the Cross. They bled and died that all men everywhere might have liberty—liberty to think independently of regimented news service—the freedom of worship—the right of free press—the sanctity of the home, and the exercise of a free suffrage. These things are vital to a Christian existence. Take these away and you take away the church, the Bible and the Prophet out of the land. To take an attitude of non-resistance toward the aggressor who seeks to impose a new order that would eliminate these God-given rights is to cast all that is dear—all that is worth while—it is to cast your pearls before swine, and be trampled under foot by swine.

And that is no more than one deservy who would refuse to defend the things that are above all calculations of value as they appertain to life.

War Monger Or Appeaser.

In extreme heat of fanatical hysteria, sometimes the good man whose idea of war is such that he would choose slavery in preference to war resists the policy of a firm and bold stand against the nations who seek to rule the world. But among nations, as among men, the timid, and the fearful always find themselves kicked and shoved about, and of late years absorbed into the maw of brutal and savage bondage.

The time is at hand when America must make a stand—and that means all Americans, home and free, Jew and Gentile, saint and sinner. That stand will determine whether this country will preserve the right to worship Christ, or Buddha, Moses or Confucius. If this right, and all the other rights—Life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness are not worth a unity of purpose, even to the extreme action, our nation and our race is not worthy of existence.

The Prince Of Peace.

The Majesty and the Glory of the Christ stands out above all grandeur, as He went about doing good, and bringing peace and accord into a world torn with strife. He left to you and to me a great heritage. It is the Way of the Christ. That way insures the right to live in peace with all men, and to be merciful, to sustain life rather than to destroy it. His way was the democratic way. The American way is like unto His way. Today that way and these ways are suffering violence. "The Kingdom of Heaven suffereth violence." Shall this nation surrender to the way of the world? Shall we who would bring back the Neros, the Napoleons, the Atlases, and the Alexanders to supplant the Cross with the sword? No, America will not make the mistake of appeasement by which the other Democracies went down. The people of America are now willing to take the torch that was tossed to them from Flanders Field, where poppies grow among the crosses row on row. We shall defend that torch against those who would trample it under foot.

Suggestions To Contest Entrants

It will be a lot of fun for you to plan unusual entries in the Get Acquainted contest, details of which appear in today's Reporter-Telegram. And there are a number of individual ways you can plan your entry and give it originality.

You can paste up all cartoons, together with the firm names and personal names on large pieces of cardboard and have them bound together with a colored cord. Some-one may paste each individual cartoon together with firm and personal names in a cleverly designed book and crayon each of the cartoons. Another may plan a large design of unique shape and paste the firm names on it and then the individual faces of the individuals at each concern, together with their names.

Many Good Ideas.

Another is to make an outline of the various streets of the city and in some different manner tie up the individuals with the location of their place of business. You can devise many other ways of having fun and expressing originality in this contest.

Regardless of what type of entry you submit in the Get Acquainted contest, remember that: first, you must have the firm names spelled correctly; secondly, you must have the personal names spelled correctly as they appear printed in the Get Acquainted page; third, the right personal names must be associated with the correct firm.

Fun—cash prizes—and theatre tickets will be given to honorable mentions through the courtesy of J. Howard Hodge, manager of the theatres. All answers must be in The Reporter-Telegram office by 5 p. m., Friday, November 15.

We, the Women

By Ruth Millitt

IN the marriage market a woman of 35 isn't looked on as the latest model. She can't hope for as good a deal as the girl of 25.

Now those are harsh, and brutal words. But they are the truth. And it is too bad that unmarried women won't admit their truth to themselves.

If a woman would admit them, she would not go on year after year half-way believing that some day she would find a man she thought good enough for her.

Let's take Sally Smith. She's almost thirty-six. A man her age, with her intelligence and social acceptability isn't going to be interested in Sally. He's going to fall for a girl not much more than twenty-five, if that old.

The younger girl is almost sure to be more attractive from a man's point of view.

But Sally won't look at the matter from a man's point of view. She kids herself that she is really smarter looking than she was ten years ago and that she is far more intelligent. And by looking at a mirror in a rather dim light, she can even convince herself that she doesn't look more than a year or two older than she did ten years ago, what with her more flattering hair-do, etc., etc.

What Sally must admit to herself—if she is ever to marry—is that a woman's value (in the eyes of a marrying man) depreciates with the years.

So Sally, in all likelihood, won't be able to get the man of her dreams—if she ever meets him. He'll take someone younger.

FACING TRUTH CLEARS THE WAY

WHAT she could get probably, if she would take him, is a widower with a child or two; a man her own age who isn't quite as attractive as she knows she is; a man with less education and fewer social graces than she, who would value those qualities in a wife; or an old man to whom she would seem young.

The day she admits this truth Sally is on her way either to getting a husband at last or deciding that she would rather not marry under the circumstances. If the latter, she can concentrate on getting somewhere in her profession, and building the best life possible for herself, by herself.

BINGO PARTY TONIGHT

NEWS IN GENERAL

A bicycle rack is being built for the use of us boys and girls. In order to raise money, each boy and girl who intends to use the rack has been asked to pay a quarter. Next year there will be no charge.

The girl scouts sold candy in the junior high school hall from 12 noon to 1 p. m. Thursday. The scouts were Odessa Mae Reed, Eileen Eiland, Marjorie Ward, Sallie Jean Seccor, Beth Osborn, and June Bettison.

The PTA of junior high school is starting a clothes' drive this week. Members will visit homes of need pupils to find out what clothing is needed. Then they will make a survey of that brought in by the children and distribute it.

WHO'S WHO IN JUNIOR HIGH

There is one person in Midland junior high who deserves the respect of every pupil and teacher, the janitor, Mr. Philipp.

The Midland Bullpups beat Big Spring Oct. 31, 7-6. San Angelo beat the Bullpups last Saturday, 6-0. Coaches Freels and Hargrave and Mr. Gilbreth accompanied the team to Big Spring and to San Angelo.

The Midland junior high faculty had its regular meeting on October 30. Mr. Gilbreth gave a talk on "The Teacher and Public Opinion."

Our funny old friend, the black crow, has visited us daily the past few weeks. He makes the rounds of all the classes and, if the windows are open, comes in. In assembly last week he took his place beside Mr. Gilbreth on the platform and amused everyone by investigating our new Recordio. Delma Rae Bizzell purchased the crow from the former owner.

The John M. Cowden Parent-Teachers' Association held a meeting last week. Membership cards and year books were distributed. A musical program under the direction of Miss Price featured a demonstration of the newly-purchased Recordio. The glee club and the choral club sang.

The choral club is working on several special songs for the Thanksgiving program.

The junior pep squad is progressing. It is learning to do the counter march, to halt, and several other tricks.

 To "Honorable Mentions"

For the most correct, neatest and attractive list of firm names and the personal names that represent those respective firms in the order in which they appear.

Helpful Suggestions

Whether you know those cartooned by daily contact or not doesn't matter. The rules are simple enough that anyone can enter the contest. Each cartoon has a clue in it that identifies it such as a car, a refrigerator, radio, slogan, building, telephone number of street address. Start with number one. Decide what kind of a business it is, its location, then try to find its firm name from those printed on the two outside edges. Next try to find the correct group of personal names that goes with that particular firm name. You will make your selection first by the number of faces it has in it. If the cartoon has two faces, choose the groupings that have only two personal names. Verify your choice by phone or personal call. Proceed in this manner and by a process of elimination and checking you can be almost a hundred per cent right. Don't forget, however, that neatness and attractiveness will also be taken into consideration in judging the entries.

Midland-Lamesa Game Changed To Afternoon

Midland's Bulldogs were scheduled to start a battle against Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes at 3 p. m. today in Lamesa. A telephone conference between school officials this morning switched game-time. Previously the tilt was booked for 8 p. m.

A traveling squad of 25 players left by bus at 9 a. m. for the plains city. Fans were to follow this afternoon.

The Bulldogs took a last workout last night in the cold drizzle under lights at Lackey Field. Handling of the wet ball and a change of offensive for the ensuing mud battle was stressed.

Names Line-Up

"The team that gets the breaks will win today, and we don't want any ties," Taylor commented. "We will try all the tricks to get a score, mud or no mud."

The Chamber of Commerce here this morning reported 51 reserve tickets sold in Midland for the game. General admission duets can be purchased at the field in Lamesa.

Showdown Games In School Races

Showdown games in North and Central Texas start off an impressive week-end schedule in schoolboy football.

Greenview and Highland Park (Dallas) open the thrilling round this afternoon at Dallas in a game that will decide the leadership of District 6.

Tonight the spotlight points to District 2 where Graham and Quannah clash in an elimination game and to District 10 where Waxahachie battles Temple to remove one of three teams tied for the top.

Graham and Quannah are deadlocked with Wichita Falls for the district lead. Wichita Falls plays Electra.

Waxahachie, Temple and Corsicana are tied for the leadership of District 10. Corsicana does not have a game this week.

Three games were played last night but none was important in the title race. Poly (Fort Worth) defeated Fort Worth North Side 13-6 in District 7 and Sam Houston (Houston) walloped Milby (Houston) 26-0 in District 13.

San Antonio Tech won over Burbank (San Antonio) 7-0 in a non-conference tilt.

Aggies Gamble Fine Two-Year Record On Game With Mustangs

By Felix R. McKnight
DALLAS, Nov. 8 (AP)—Undeclared, untied and uninjured in 17 consecutive games, a Texas Aggie football team tomorrow gambles a magnificent two-year record against sixty uncertain minutes.

It sounds like a long-odds risk, but today they were no better than even money against a Southern Methodist team that has gathered momentum with each Saturday and comes up to this "battle of the Southwest" unbeaten itself.

Timid souls ventured a one-point margin in Southern Methodist's favor, but even that edge began disappearing with the menace of rain. Fumbles in the wet going could erase odds and make it anybody's ball game, as the Aggies learned in squeezing out a 6-2 decision in last year's rain-soaked Methodist game.

Neither Has Injuries
Not a major casualty appeared on either roster. Southern Methodist, of course, had planned to be without all its great end, Roland Goss who has had his ankle in a cast for three weeks. But otherwise, they will all sound at the post.

Rain or no rain, Southern Methodist planned an aerial party for the Aggies. Last year Johnny Clement stood in a downpour and threw wobbling passes with incredible accuracy to toss his mates to within an inch of victory. He was on the Cadet goal line, still passing, when the game ended.

Johnny Clement is back for more. So is Preston Johnston, the marvelous punter whose muddled boot kept the Aggies in bay in '39.

Two fine passers, Marion Pugh and Marland Jeffrey, are the Aggies' best long gain bets. Kimbrough and Thomson get the call on bruising, short line gains.

By Field Goal
It's the Aggies in this book, possibly by a field goal.

Battered Baylor, its key men ailing, goes to Austin to meet Texas team desperately striving to halt a losing streak.

Rice Institute must have everything clicking to beat Arkansas at Fayetteville.

Pitcher Gyle Gillespie is on the mound again and Texas Christian is rolling. Detroit, a rugged team, shouldn't be able to halt them in their intersectional game at Detroit.

Health Board Will Start Drive, Nov. 25

Planned yesterday at a meeting of the executive committee, an extensive drive for sale of Christmas seals in Midland will be launched by the Midland County public health board Nov. 25.

Sixty-five per cent of funds collected in Midland County will be used in home projects for tuberculosis prevention work, the committee reported.

Two cottages to house and segregate tuberculosis patients will be constructed in Midland. The project will start immediately and is an example of the type of work to be done with funds here, the committee said.

Starting a new plan this year the campaign will include personal contact sales, Mrs. F. R. Schenck, publicity director said.

A canvass will be made downtown. Letters containing packets of seals will be mailed citizens.

A goal of $1000 has been set for this county.

Army Cavalry Cheers Over No 'Count Mare

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—She's chiefly described as a "no count" mare, and the best information you can get is that she's of uncertain age and parentage, but big old Enterprise is giving the U. S. Army cavalry something to cheer about at the 55th annual National Horse show.

For the last six years, the U. S. Army's individual riders have been playing second fiddle to the foreign military in the matter of jumping horses in international competition.

Then, along came Enterprise. Young Captain David Wagstaff, Jr., of Ft. Myer, Va., rode her out on the tanbark at Madison Square Garden last night, and piloted the old mare over the 11 difficult jumps to win the Bowman Challenge cup for the U. S. Army.

NAMES CITRUS WEEK

AUSTIN, Nov. 8 (AP)—Because of the importance of the industry to Texas, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel today proclaimed citrus week, January 17-25, and urged citizens to create a great home market for the

Center Injured

H. Rehders, sturdy 160-pound Bulldog pivot man, injured in the Abilene fray last week-end, may not be able to go today against Lamesa.

Jay Francis Sparks Tulsa U. Freshmen

Broken finger and all, Jay Francis, former Midland High gridiron ace, is making the Tulsa University freshman team a competent performer.

Sparking the club to a recent win over Oklahoma A&M's first year griders, Francis, an all-stater from West Texas, "glittered," according to Tulsa newspapers, with fancy dashes and a quick kick of 83 yards.

Set Up Score
He set up a Tulsa touchdown with his 22-yard return of an Aggie punt, and in the fourth quarter unclosed his powerful boot.

The 170-pound back was among the best in district 3-AA for several seasons.

According to a letter from Fred McConnell, Tulsa business man to J. M. McMillen of Midland, Tulsa expects "big things of Francis on the varsity next year."

Sports Roundup

By Eddie Brietz
NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Alva Bradley is hurrying here from Cleveland, and the boys are wondering whether he'll talk to Babe Ruth. Harvard coaches won't say so out loud, but they think they have a chance to upset Penn tomorrow.

Where does Tennessee get all that high class football talent? Well, Coach Bob Neyland says he could put two better than fair teams on the field composed entirely of Knoxville boys.

Today's Guest Star
C. L. (Boss) Parsons, Denver Post. "I am going into the tough South-west Conference for the week's most likely upset—Arkansas to topple a favored Rice eleven. It's homecoming at Fayetteville, and the Razorbacks have their bristles up for this one."

Feed Box Special
Southern Methodist to knock off the Texas Aggies tomorrow. . . Paste this in your hat: Horace Stoneham says Mel Ott will stay at the Polo grounds as long as he can stand on two feet—also that the Giants aren't about to sell Harry Danning or their Jersey City farm.

Names Is Names
Attention, autograph hounds: Dewey plays for College of the Pacific, Winchell for Purdue, Gable for Iowa, Cagney for Wisconsin. . . .

Texas Over Bruins
Texas-Baylor: Anything can happen in this conference. Still Texas. Arkansas-Rice: Another one of the same ilk. Arkansas.

Southern California
Southern California - California: Plenty close but Southern California should be thoroughly rested and gets the nod here.

Oregon-UCLA
After losing six straight by a touchdown or less, UCLA, finally should win one.

Oregon State-Washington State
Close enough. Oregon State: close enough. Oregon State: no risk for unbeaten Georgetown.

Pitt-Carnegie
After three weeks rest, Pitt should take this one.

Rutgers-LaFayette
LaFayette's undefeated record endangered. Still LaFayette.

Nod To Nittany
Syracuse-Penn State: The Nittany Lions' great forward wall should

Occupy Heights
HONGKONG, Nov. 8 (AP)—Chinese claimed today their forces had occupied several heights overlooking Yanchow, near the Kwangtung seacoast, and said recapture of the city was imminent.

Barker Selects Texas To Defeat Baylor's Bears

By Herb Barker
NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Taking another crack at the football guessing game with no money refunded cheerfully or otherwise.

Minnesota-Michigan: Might decide the Western Conference title, particularly if Minnesota wins. No unbeaten team in the land has waded through quite such a schedule as the Gophers. They must hold Tommy Harmon within reasonable bounds to get by undefeated Michigan. By the toss of a coin, Minnesota.

Southern Methodist-Texas A&M
The Mustangs are plenty tough and might break Texas A&M's long string but this corner prefers to string along with the Aggies.

Stanford-Washington
Stanford's unbeaten, and Washington would be too, except for its opening game with powerful Minnesota. But well tag along with Stanford.

Cornell Is Pick
Cornell-Yale: Should be batting practice for the Big Red. Cornell.

Fordham-Purdue
The Boiler-makers are unlucky and Mike Byelene may not be in shape for much service, influencing this vote for Fordham.

Columbia-Wisconsin
Can't tell what Wisconsin is going to do. In a deep fog, Wisconsin.

Navy-Notre Dame
Taking Notre Dame on the theory the Irish can't be as bad as they looked last week.

Alabama-Tulane
It's as risky now to pick against Tulane as it was to pick the Green Wave earlier in the season. This looks like a real tussle. Out of the hat, Alabama.

Penn-Harvard
Penn must be the choice.

Princeton-Dartmouth
Taking Princeton despite the Tigers' lack of a running attack.

Army By Nose
Army-Browns: The Cadets hardly can be counted on to hit the same peak they did for Notre Dame. A doubtful vote for Army.

Holy Cross-Mississippi
Doesn't seem to be much hope for Holy Cross here. Mississippi.

Manhattan-Marquette
Taking Manhattan.

Northwestern-Illinois
Looks safe for Northwestern.

Nebraska-Iowa
Nebraska is really tough and gets this vote.

Detroit-Texas Christian
Each lost to Tulsa by a touchdown which is no help to this guesser. By the coin, Detroit.

Indiana-Michigan State
An extremely shaky vote for Michigan State.

Auburn-Kentucky
And one of the same kind for Auburn.

Florida-Georgia
The Bulldogs are moving along, Georgia.

Kentucky-Georgia Tech
Tech seems to have collapsed. Kentucky.

Mississippians
Louisiana State - Mississippi State: Struggling along with the Mississippians.

Furman-Virginia Tech
Two surprise teams collide. In a complete dither, Furman.

Richmond-North Carolina
North Carolina, handily.

Duke-Davidson
Shouldn't be any worries for Duke.

South Carolina-Kansas State
No base for comparison but a flier on Al Grygo and South Carolina.

Virginia-Washington and Lee
Virginia mislaid its scoring punch somewhere. But just to be stubborn, Virginia.

Kansas-Oklahoma
Should be easy for Oklahoma.

Colorado-Missouri
Taking Missouri.

Former Midland Star

Former Midland Bulldog grid performer, big 229-pound Woodrow Adams is one of the main cogs in the revitalized TCU line, which has come to life in recent encounters. Adams, an all-district linesman here as a sophomore, stepped into a right tackle slot with the Horned Frogs. Adams graduated here in 1937. He is 6 feet 2 inches tall. TCU faces the Detroit Titans at Detroit tomorrow.

Courtney, with a 500 standing for the season, seeks to tip the percentage column figures to the credit side today in a six-man grid engagement with Water Valley.

Courtney blasted Water Valley 19 to 14 earlier in the season at Water Valley.

The Courtneys have won four, and lost four, this season.

Order New Uniforms Junior Band Members

Uniforms, similar to Midland High's senior band, have been ordered for the junior and beginner's band.

A concert appearance is expected to introduce the new gold and purple suits to citizens.

Uniforms are: Gold pants trimmed in purple; double-breasted purple jackets, gold trimmed; gold caps with black visors.

Minor League Fight Is Expected On Fund

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—The principal fight likely to be waged in the convention of minor leagues at Atlanta Ga., next month will be over the reserve fund that the National Association has accumulated over the husbandry of Judge William G. Bramham.

Baseball men say that the fund now amounts to about $300,000 and at least two amendments seeking to slice it will be offered on the floor.

One of these will propose that the tax on sales of players which is levied for the benefit of Bramham's central office be cut from two percent to one per cent. The other will come out openly for reducing the present pool by distributing part of it back to the clubs that are members of the Association.

WANTED-CLUB OWNER
CHICAGO, Nov. 8 (AP)—Philip K. Wrigley, confessed he started to let the baseball business too late, wants someone to take his job as president of the Chicago Cubs.

The club owner disclosed yesterday he had offered the presidency to Charles (Boots) Weber and that the latter had declined it.

be decisive, Penn State.
Temple-Villanova: The coin says Villanova.

New York University-Franklin & Marshall: NYU might break its losing streak here but it's doubtful. F. and M.

Also: Boston College over Boston University; Iowa State over Drake; Vanderbilt over Sewanee; Tennessee over Southwestern (Tennessee); William & Mary over Randolph Macon; Washington University over Virginia Military; Utah over Wyoming; Denver over Brigham Young; Colorado State over Utah State; George Washington over Bucknell; Williams over Wesleyan.

Sweetwater Juniors Get Revenge From Bullpups Winning 12-0 Tilt In Mud As Fumbles Hurt Midland

Sweetwater's junior Mustangs got revenge from Midland's Bullpups, yesterday, beating Coach Freely's eleven 12 to 0 in a mud battle on Sweetwater's gridiron.

Earlier this season the Bullpups defeated Sweetwater, 6 to 0.

Fumbles yesterday marred the planned offensive of the Bullpups, who had plotted an aerial attack. Sweetwater scored in the third and fourth quarters on end sweeps.

Started From Kick
In the third stanza Sweetwater kicked out of bounds on the Midland 1-yard stripe. From there the Bullpups, booted back and Sweetwater returned to the 8. Three line stabs failed, but the Mustangs swept left end for a tally.

Again in the fourth Sweetwater tried the same spot and reeled off a 35-yard gallop for a second score.

Noyes In Form
Jack Noyes played a good defensive game for Midland, turning back Sweetwater drives with vicious tackles. Stickney, at halfback, racked up several yardage centers, Junior Bird, a converted tackle from end, was a forward wall stand-out.

Midland did not threaten the Mustangs goal line.

The War Today

By DeWitt MacKenzie.

With the Italians redoubling their efforts on a big scale to try to smash their way through the fiercely resisting Greek, the fiery Balkans are keyed to a pitch where it would not take much more to cause a general upheaval. Flaming Balkan peninsula is the last thing the Axis partners want, as they methodically prepare the way for their big offensive against the British in the eastern Mediterranean area. So we see Herr Hitler sitting on the lid, with a great mechanical army cranking in Rumania like a tom-cat before a mouse-hole, ready to knock-off the first head that raises itself. serves Double Purpose. The Fuehrer thus serves a double purpose. He prevents a general conflagration from upsetting his program, and he prevents help reaching the Greeks from neighbors and making the Fascist path even more thorny than the invaders have been finding it.

The Axis operations in the Balkans have been developing after the fashion of Aunt Agatha's crazy-quilt—one carefully selected piece being added at a time. Hitler's scheme seems to be to take the Balkan states over one by one, without any more fuss and feathers than is necessary, until he has consolidated that whole strategic area into a base from which to try to force the Dardanelles and drive at Britain's eastern flank. Nearness Conditional. Whether he will inaugurate this big offensive soon must depend on circumstances, including Mussolini's progress in Greece. The Axis will be daring if it tackles the Dardanelles before spring, since the fall and winter weather in that part of the world is pretty terrible. Terrain, which under the best of circumstances is difficult for maneuvers, becomes a sea of greasy, clinging mud. Hungary, lying at the head of the Balkans, is well within the Nazi camp. The hob-nails of German troops are tramping down the rolling fields of Rumania. Bulgaria is non-belligerent under the leadership of King Boris (who is son-in-law of the King of Italy), but it would occasion no surprise to see her grant Germany the privilege of using her territory as a base for an army—right up against the Turkish and Greek borders.

Yugoslavia Is Key. There remains Yugoslavia, key state of the peninsula (if we regard Turkey as outside that zone). The Yugoslavs are in a most unhappy position, for they not only lie against both Germany and Italy but are virtually surrounded by Axis controlled territory. When I was in Yugoslavia two years ago I found that the people as a whole were pro-Italian and decidedly cold toward the Nazis. Their inclination would be to link up with Italy, but they are in the uncomfortable position of being economically dependent on Germany, which takes more than fifty percent of the Yugoslav products. For this reason Belgrade's policy long has been to make no alliances with great powers and to be enemies with no great powers. Despite their vulnerable position the Yugoslavs have announced they will defend themselves if attacked. Most certainly that will be the wish of inclination of one of the bravest nations under the sun. However, one is bound to wonder how far Yugoslavia would be able to defend herself against the might of the two great Axis powers.

Texas Natural Gas In September Hike

AUSTIN, Nov. 8 (AP)—Texas natural gas production averaged 4,309,717,000 cubic feet daily during September, an increase of 143,493 over August and 778,272,000 greater than September last year, the Railroad Commission reported today.

Engineers said natural gasoline plants took 2,414,445,000 cubic feet daily during the month, 54,089,000 more than August but slightly less than September 1939.

Production of carbon black increased with 1,291,177 pounds yield daily, a gain over August of 14,917 but a decrease of 10,151 from a year ago.

Pipe line deliveries increased 51,466,000 cubic feet daily over August, totaling 1,291,218,000 in the customary seasonal increase.

BILL FOR MEXICAN PILOTS BEING PREPARED

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 8 (AP)—A bill which would require that all pilots on Mexican airlines be of native birth is now being prepared for submission to Congress, the Ministry of Communications said today.

Pointing out that various airlines employing all-Mexican crews have operated here efficiently for several years, the ministry said the projected legislation would not affect pilots on American lines in Mexico.

Hovious And Hapes Give Mississippi Star Backfield Pair Sending Team On Good Start

By Harry Grayson

NEA Service Sports Editor

MICHIGAN has Tom Harmon, Pennsylvania its Frank Reagan, and Minnesota goes along with the sprinter, George Franck, Texas A. & M. boasts Jarrin John Kimbrough Northwestern of Bill deCorrevont, and Mississippi State of Harvey Johnson. Tennessee offers Bob Fox and Texas has Jack Crain.

But down south they doubt that any other school has two of a kind such as John Alexander Hovious, Jr., and Merle Allison Hapes, Mississippi's speedy Touchdown Twins.

Versatile In Play Junie Hovious and Merle Hapes run, pass and kick and catch passes.

They brought woe for Union. They wrecked Louisiana State, smashed Southwestern, battered Georgia and dealt Duquesne its first defeat in a dozen starts.

Following the Arkansas engagement, Ole Miss still has to meet Vanderbilt, Holy Cross, Tennessee Teachers, Mississippi State and Miami, but followers of the Rebels already are talking of an undefeated season.

Have Another Year THEY consider Lil' Butch Hovious and Hapes the slickest backfield duo since Tennessee's famous Hack and Mack—Buddy Hackman and Gene McEver—of several years ago.

And what makes things no more pleasant for opponents of the Johnny Rebs is that Hovious and Hapes are only juniors, and will be back for another whirl in 1941.

Hovious, a 155-pound Vicksburg kid, had trouble going to college. His trouble was that he was too small. Ivory hunters of all the high-pressure clubs in Dixie passed him up, but Harry Mehre accepted him against his better judgment.

The result is that he today has, in the opinion of many who have seen the strawberry-haired boy, the best left halfback running from the Notre Dame shift in the United States.

Hapes is a hard-running 175-pound fullback from Garden Grove, Calif. Two brothers attended Mississippi ahead of him.

Bright Stars Spark HAPES, a destructive runner, scored two touchdowns against Union, two against Southwestern, one against Georgia, and one against Duquesne.

The flying Hovious registered two against L. S. U. and one each against Georgia and Duquesne. He had a 66-yard scrimmage dash for a tally against Duquesne called back for a penalty. He made good six of seven extra points.

Hovious and Hapes each threw three scoring passes. Hapes passed to Hovious for a 55-yard gain against L. S. U. The pass traveled 51 yards, and the run was for 17.

Coach Bernie Moore of L. S. U. says Hapes is the best back he had seen in many a year.

And Hovious generally is considered the cleverest, smartest and most indomitable halfback southern football has seen since the one great year of Dixie Howell.

Junie Hovious and Merle Hapes spark a resourceful and unrelenting team.

Little wonder Mississippi is excited.

Stock Market Suffers Hangover After Spurt

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—The stock market suffered from a slight profit taking hangover today after yesterday's biggest rallying spree in more than a year.

The list had difficulty in negotiating moderate advances at the start and selling soon cropped up in volume. Blocks of 1,000 to 5,800 shares changed hands shortly after the opening as prices churned confusingly. The ticker tape, for a while, was as much as 3 minutes late. A definite downward trend then developed and, at the worst, declined ranged from fractions to 2 points or so. Dealings slowed and closing quotations were above the bottom in most cases.

Curtiss-Wright declared an initial dividend of 50 cents and the issue edged forward. The majority of the rails were narrow.

Blow To Shipping. Hitler's high command reported another blow to British shipping amid a widening sea-raid campaign that has already caused official uneasiness in England.

German warships operating in the Atlantic "have completely destroyed a British convoy on the north Atlantic route," the Nazi high command said, sinking 86,000 tons in a single surprise attack.

The German claim may have referred to an attack on two British vessels on Nov. 5, the 16,698-ton Rangitiki and the 4,952-ton freighter Cornish City, which radioed that they were being shelled by a German ship of the same class at the 10,000-ton pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee.

The German high command acknowledged that RAF warplanes attacked "some towns" in the Rhine province during the night, damaging houses and killing and wounding an undisclosed number.

Belatedly, the British disclosed that the historic tower of London, where Sir Walter Raleigh anguished in prison and several of Henry VIII's wives were beheaded, has been hit by bombs in recent raids.

The Royal Air Force subjected the great Krupp armament works at Essen to an "exceedingly heavy" bombardment during the night, the British reported, and also hammered at Nazi "invasion ports," air-dromes and oil targets.
