Pecos Ordovician Discovery Well Gauged At Large Flow

Deep Find Makes Average Of 81.54 Barrels An Hour

Simpson Sand Strike Fills Storage In 11 Hours, 23 Minutes By Frank Gardner

Proving itself a discovery well of major importance, Taubert, McKee & Siemoneit of Fort Worth No. 1 V. W. Crockett, Simpson flush producer in Northern Pecos County, flowed 928.74 barrels of 43-gravity sweet oil in 11 hours and 23 minutes ending at 1:54 a. m. yester-

It was shut in at that time because all storage on the lease had been filled. Gas volume gauged 1,-540,000 cubic feet daily, giving the strike a gas-oil ratio of 787-1. The entire test was through 1/2-inch choke on 2-inch tubing. Average trap pressure was 70 pounds.

The gauge was witnessed by a Texas Railroad Commission engineer and by representatives of companies owning leases on acreage surrounding the well. Casing pressure was 1,060 pounds at the start of the test and stabilized at 920 pounds at the end of the second hour, maintaining that figure throughout. Tubing pressure of 940 pounds at the start had declined to 400 pounds at the end. Rock pressure of No. 1 Crockett is 1,100 pounds on casing and 1.050 pounds on tubing. Rate of 1,956.96 Daily

A brief summary of pertinent statistics shows the pool opener to have flowed an average of 81.54 barrels an hour or at a rate of 1,956.96 barrels per day. The first hour it made 97.98 barrels and the last 23 minutes 30.36 barrels. It is producing from sand member of the Simpson, Middle Ordovician, topped at 4,755 feet, 2,363 feet subsea. Pay sands were logged from 5,270-80 and from 5,320-45 feet. Total depth is 5,357 feet in Simpson shale, lime and

No. 1 Crockett opens the first Simpson and the second Ordovician area in the county, the other being the Apco pool ten miles farther south which produces from the Ellenburger, Lower Ordovician.

It is located 660 feet out of the southwest corner of the 325.4-acre Crockett tract in section 4 1/2, block 3, H. & T. C. survey, one and onehalf miles east of Imperial. The new area probably will be designated the "Abell pool" as a tribute to girl, who shyly entered the George T. Abell of Midland, who pioneered deep exploration in the

. Drilling Program Imminent

Oil men see in the Taubert, Mc-Kee & Siemoneit oiler a discovery of far-reaching significance. Numerous short-term leases, some on mineral-classified land, surround the find, and at least 20 wells will have to be drilled within the next year to perpetuate holdings. Lease and royalty trading had been deferred until an actual gauge was made of the well, but with its capability now established spirited buying is anticipated. A number of deals have been under consderation, pending outcome of the test, and announcement of a MIDLAND COUNTY VOTES group of new locations is expected TO BE CANVASSED TUESDAY

Excerpts From Story On Unknown Soldier

By Kirke Simpson.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11, 1921 (AP).—Under the wide and starry skies of his own home-land America's unknown dead from France sleeps tonight, a soldier home from the wars.

Alone, he lies in the narrow cell of stone that guards his body; but his soul has entered into the spirit that is America. Wherever liberty is held close in men's hearts, the honor and the glory and the pledge of high endeavor poured out over this nameless one of fame, will be told and sung by Americans for all time.

Out there in the broad avenue was a simple soldier, dead for honor of the flag. He was nameless. No man knew what part in the great life of the nation he had filled when last he passed over his home soil. But in France he had died as Americans always have been ready to die, for the flag and what it means. President Was Moved.

Mr. Harding showed strong emotion as his lips formed the last words of the address. He paused, then with raised hand and head bowed, went on in the measured, rolling period of the Lord's prayer. The response that came back to him from the thousands he faced, from other thousands out over the slopes beyond, perhaps from still other thousands away near the Pacific, or close packed in the heart of the nation's greatest city, arose like a chant.

A rocking blast of gunfire rang from the woods. The glittering circle of bayonets stiffened to a salute to the dead. Again the guns shouted their message of honor and farewell.

High and clear and true in the echoes of the guns, a bugle lifted the old, old notes of taps, the lullaby for the living soldier, in death his requiem.

The guns roared out again in the national salute. He was home, the unknown, to sleep forever among

The Hatch act provides that no party may spend more than $3,-000,000 on a presidential campaign It also limits the sum the indipaign fund to $5,000, and prohibits the solicitation of federal or federally paid state employes for campaign contributions.

But the act contains a set of loopholes big enough to drive a platoon of tanks through, and evidence is mounting that full advantage was taken of all of them. Net result apparently has been that as far as holding down campaign expenditures is concerned, the Hatch act might almost as well not have been written.

Many Organizations FIRST of all, there is the $3,000,-000, over-all limit. What the act says is that no "political organization" may spend more than that sum. It apparently does not cover the sums that separate organizations could spend.

Senator Hatch recently pointed out that in passing on this point a court should take in account the debate on the floor of the Senweapons ate, in which it appeared to be the wish of the Senate that the $3,000,-000 limit should apply to the total spent for any one candidate. However, most of the Willkie committee officials who testified recently before the Senate campaign fund investigating. committee reported that their lawyers had advised them that each separate committee could spend up to $3,000,000.

"Inside" Pan Americanism

We of the United States usually think of Pan Americanism in terms of our relations with the remainder of the Americas. But there is more to it than that.

For instance: Argentina and Brazil have recently perfected some intimate and effective trade agreements; Argentina and Chile are discussing similar measures. President Vargas of Brazil is planning joint action by all countries affected to develop the Amazon basin. Mexico has had trade and cultural missions in many lands to the south. had trade and cultural missions in many lands to the south. Some Home Demonstration Achievements In Midland County Scenes such as these were viewed on the Achievement Day tour Thursday which climaxed the year's work for home demonstration and 4-H girls clubs of the county. The upper picture shows Mr. and Mrs. Johnie Graham and their small son in the garden of their whole farm demonstration. Tomatoes, beans, pepper, okra, carrots, peas, and other good things to eat are now being produced by the garden with various kinds of greens, turnips, and other vegetables to bear a little later. At lower right are shown some of the 430 quarts of food Mrs. Graham has on hand for family use this winter. At lower left Virginia Countiss is picfured with the flock of baby beef turkeys which is her 4-H Club project for the year.

Oklahoma Hits Twice To Beat Jayhawkers

A pair of punt-drunk Big Six football teams sloshed up and down a muddy field three and a half quarters today before Oklahoma struck twice to defeat Kansas, 13 to 0. For more than three-fourths of the way kicking the soggy ball was the best attacking weapon. Then in the final period Oklahoma forgot it was raining—even if the soaked 4,-000 spectators couldn't—and began Shovel-Pass Score.

A shovel pass behind the line of scrimmage from Huel Hamm to Or-Mathews, netted the first touchdown, and the same combination worked the slippery oval to scoring territory a few minutes later with Johnny Martin plunging from four yards out. Mathews, one of the Big Six's fastest men in or out of a football uniform, swung around his own left end after catching the pass on the Kansas 41 and hiked for the west sidelines. A tremendous block by Marvin Whited opened up a passage way and the youngster splashed to the counting sta-

Minnesota Back Speeds 80 Yards, Beats Michigan

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 9 (AP)—Michigan's citadel of football rashed in the mud and rain of Memorial Stadium today—leveled by mighty Minnesota on one sudden, stormy 80-yard charge by a great Gopher back, Bruce Smith.

Minnesota, racing on toward the Western Conference title and a shot at natioal honors, won the battle 7 to 6 before 63,894 rain-soaked and nerve wracked spectators. And to win, the Gophers had to come from behind—doing just that on Smith's brilliant 80-yard touchdown sprint in the second period after Michigan had taken a six point lead on a touchdown pass by Tom Harmon earlier in the quarter. Run Came Suddenly Smith's great game-breaking run a remarkable performance on a turf soaked by a rain which fell throughout the duel, came with breathtaking suddenness late in the second period.

The Gophers, seconds after halt ing a Michigan touchdown bid, had possession on their own 20. On the first play Smith flashed off left tackle, swung toward the sidelines and was away for the touchdown which gave Minnesota its sixth straight win of the season and its seventh win over Michigan n ths famed "little brown jug" series. Construction Of Driveway Should Precede Freezing

A rutted-up lawn seriously detracts from the appearance of the house even if it does go under the name of "driveway.

Winter is likely to be a poor time in which to begin driveway construction, so if repairing is to be done, or a new driveway is to be built, the time to start is immediately, since freezing weather will hamper the work.

Nine feet is a desirable driveway width, although long driveways usually look better if made 12 feet wide. In locating the drivlsway, consider carefully the drainage angle, for if water collects under the surface, the road will eventually break up and will be subject to damage from freezing and thaw-ing. Water on the surface of a road dangerous and annoying. Tile Drains Help.

In heavy soil, it is thought advisable to lay tile drains along the edges of the driveway, emptying into the street gutter or other low point where no damage will result. Care should be taken to prevent water in the street gutters from flowing into the driveway. may be done by keeping the driveway several inches above the streetpayement for several feet back from the curb before descending. breaks in grade should be avoided, otherwise the machine may bump or scrape when driven at reasonable speed Driveways should be planned to permit easy access in and out. Home owners should avoid, for safety's sake, driveways which make it necessary to back out "blind" because of existing planting or other obstructions. In such cases, and if space permits, a turn or "Y" should be worked out.

Brickbats Inexpensive. Three pavement surfaces are suggested. The least expensive would probably be eight inches of brick-bats or rubble rolled or tamped decoratively as any other part of firmly, toppled with one or one and firmly, toppled with one or one and the house and, from the view of the house and the house good grade of local bank gravel, importance thoroughly compacted to a crown This type is suitable on relatively flat grades. Calcium chloride or light oil binder may be

For a permanent pavement of rather rough driving surface, pene-tration macadam is suggested. This consists of six inches of compacted bluestone or broken washed gravel base penetrated with four-tenths of a gallon per square yard of prime coat of asphalt and a seal coat of six-tenths of a gallon per square yard of cut-back asphalt Chips or screening should be applied with each coat at the rate of 25 pounds per square yard or threefourths-inch thickness.

Three Draft Spots Can Be Eliminated

Chilling drafts can be prevented in new homes and they can be corrected in older homes. Here are

Circulation In Home Should Be Carefully Studied In Planning

Circulation, or passageway from ne place to another in the home should be carefully studied in mod-ern small-home planning, and the iving habits of the family have a direct bearing upon this phase of planning.

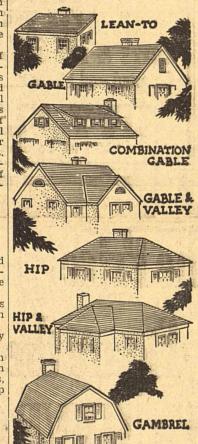

In many small houses entrance to the house is made through the living room. The only passageway from the kitchen to the front door s through the living room, so that instead of being a place of relaxa-tion the living room, or at least one part of it, becomes a general artery of traffic for the whole house. The area devoted to through traffic may e minimized and the room made more livable by concentrating the doors at one end of the room. Definite Separation.

Where the site and proper orien-tation permit the placing of the iving room in the rear and the citchen and entryway at the front of the house, it is frequently possiole to make a more definite separation of the working quarters of the house from the living areas.

In the planning of bedrooms special consideration should be given to privacy. Bedrooms should open directly on a common hall, obviating the necessity of passing through any other rooms. In other words, it should be possible to go from the kitchen direct to the bedroom by means of a hall, and access to the bathroom and bedrooms should be through a hall.

Complete Home For Small Family Is This 5-Room Cottage

Here is a complete home for a family of modest size. Containing two bedrooms, a goodsized living room, separate dining room, kitchen, and garage, this home offers no startling architectural innovations but should provide a pleasant place in which to live.

The exterior of this home is informal and unpretentious. The walkway to the garage and the front-entrance stoop are wisely protected by an extension of the roof, a convenience made doubly desirable by the fact that the front door opens directly into the living

Perhaps the most interest-ing feature of this house lies in the financing. This prop-erty, valued at $3,600, was financed with a mortgage of $3,200 insured by the Federal Housing Administration. Monthly payments on a 25year mortgage of this amount, exclusive of taxes and hazard insurance, amount to approximately $19.

OHN P. HOWE CO. 203 S. Main

Home Owners Can Make Many Of Small Repairs

The seasoned home owner knows it is a luxury to call a plumber when a kitchen faucet leaks, to call a carpenter when a bureau drawer sticks, to call a plasterer when a little hole in the wall needs mending, or to call and electrician when the doorbell fails.

Proper repair of property is essential to the maintenance of value. But many of thees smaller repairs mate total to $749,591, an increase can be easily—and economically—of more than $80,000 over 1939.

Ability Usually Limited.

The range of ability of the home man, and the results of an amateur are likely to be unsuccessful and egendary figure having a mechanical sense as well as energy and inerest, is seldom encountered. Thereore, the home owner who lacks any or all of these qualities should not ack confidence

City ordinances and fire-insurance regulations should be borne in mind by the amateur repairman, and those jobs which must be inspected by proper authorities after completion should usually be left to the experienced craftsman.

Good Plumbing System Essential To Family

An adequately and properly designed plumbing system in the house contributes materially to the comfort and good health of the Only workmen who are familiar with the basic principles which create a sanitary, effective, and economical plumbing system should be used in installing a system. To Center Fixtures.

In the small single-story house, where economy is an important consideration, it is necessary to concentrate the plumbing fixtures. In houses of more than one story, t is necessary to concentrate the fixtures occurring on each floor and ocate them so that those fixtures located on the upper floors are as nearly over the fixtures on the first floor as is practicable.

ATTIC REMODELING WOULD BENEFIT MANY

If all the dingy unfinished attics in America were remodeled this fall, it has been estimated that millions of square feet of extra living space would be added to thousands

Not only would all of these extra rooms become available, but hundreds of carpenters, electricians olumbers, and other building trades workers would be given employ-

The Eleventh Hour

At the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month of 1918, the guns fell silent along the Western Front. The World War was over.

Loving and reverent memory of the millions who had fallen before that eleventh hour has caused the world ever since to mark the day.

There is something suggestive about that eleventh hour. It is as though an unseen, unheard warning was being given that time is not unlimited, that Western Civilization had not squandered quite all its resources, that one last hour remained to prove that it could profit by experience and save its soul.

It had indeed been the eleventh hour. France was literally "bled white," and could not have carried on much longer. Germany was just going over the brink of revolution. Only staunch Britain and her empire, and the unexhausted American might were still standing firm when that hour struck.

The chance offered by that last hour was badly muffed. Statesmanship fumbled when the fighting men passed the ball of world affairs to them. For 22 years the statesmen carried the ball, but failed to gain. And now, again, Western Civilization sees the clock upon the walls of time ominously pointing at eleven.

It is as though time had not moved, that all the intervening years were a feverish dream. For again, as in 1918, the ball is back in the hands of the fighting men, passed to them by the statesmen who tried to carry it, but could not gain. And again it is eleven o'clock.

It is right and proper to remember the men who died in the World War, to remember them with tenderness and plove. They did their job. They won that respite at the eleventh hour which should have permitted a rebuilding. They taught the lesson; it is not their fault that we refused

So it is fitting to turn for a moment to yesterday's dead, even though a new generation now marches in the ranks that knew their undaunted tread, and to turn once again to those deathless words of Lincoln, the most solemn memorial ever pronounced over the graves of soldiers:

not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, and for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

INTERPRETING THE WAR

By DeWitt MacKenzie Associated Press Staff Writer

(This daily feature, conducted by DeWitt MacKenzie, is being written by Fred Vanderschmidt while Mac-Kenzie is takng a brief vacation)

By the irony of coincidence, Neville Chamberlain died on a day when Germany, which he tried to appease, and Soviet Russia, which he disliked and miscalculated, chose to make it known that they are continuing to collaborate to the det riment of Britain besieged.

Today Soviet Premier Molotoff is traveling to Berlin. There he will see Adolf Hitler and, while it is possible that the two men will meet and talk with a certain wariness, nothing very good for Britain can be expected to come out of their conference.

rangement, secret or otherwise, whereby Russia will use her influence to sway Turkey away from the British alliance and into the Axis camp. In return, Hitler may allot to the U. S. S. R. her sphere of interest in the so-called new order setup, on paper, by the "one for all and all for one" alliance of Germany, Italy and Japan. May Embrace Iran

This "sphere" might embrace Iran, which is squarely on the Soviet southwestern frontier and which is a country with very great oil wealth. This oil wealth has been under Great Britain's thumb.

Of course it is by no means certain that Russia will want to go that far; the Germans, indeed, are careful to say that nothing sensational must be looked for.

Many Englishmen believed right along that Chamberlain's mistake in trying to appease Hitler was equall ed by his inability to understand or estimate Russia.

He distrusted the Soviet Union but, unlike his predecessor, Stanley Baldwin, he did not seem to fear the Russians; actually, he derided

At Lady Astor's Table
I heard him say, at Lady Astor's luncheon table, that he thought the Red Army would be no good for a long time because all its higher offi-cers had been shot. That statement, somewhat incredible now, was made in the spring of 1938, on the oc-casion of Chamberlain's first and last attempt to "appease" the American Press.

It is true that when he scuttled appeassment a year later, Chamberlain did see the wisdom of having Russia on his side. But he bungled the attempt to reach a military alli-ance with Russia, alienated the Kremlin even more completely than before by dispatching an unknown negotiator to Moscow, and confirmed in the Russian mind the belief that he was trying to push the Soviet Union into a lonely war with Germany, by quibbling over such matters as a definition of "indirect aggression Sirens In White Hall

Brewster Residents Want To Keep Likely Park Country Tough

By Olen W. Clements

PERSIMMON GAP, Tex., Nov. 11 (AP)—Brewster, the biggest, roughest county in Texas, is hankering for visitors-he-men who can throw a diamond hitch and bounce into the hot tamale and frijole country of the Rio Grande on the hurricane deck of a bronc.

There's room for all comers-6,-000 square miles of it. Right now every man in the county has a square mile to himself. It's a lonely country, filled with the melancholy stillness of the desert rocks, mountains, canyons, sheep and bawling whitefaced Herefords. Its people take things easy and drawl "howdy" to every stranger on the trail.

Want To Be Rugged Folks in these parts want to keep Brewster County just that way, big, friendly, rough and rugged — not tough in the sense of the old-time thumbbuster pistol, brass knuckles and bare fists—just rugged and un-tamed, as it was before the Comanches and Apaches were liquidated

They want to slice off 788,000 acres down where the county makes that big bend in the Rio Grande and make it into the nation's 27th national park-Big Bend National

But they don't want a high-hat park with hotels and paved high-ways. They want a trail park, retaining the Texas frontier aspect and atmosphere, with food served from chuck wagons" wild horses and wide open spaces, where men can whoop and holler.

The Big Bend park would begin here at Persimmon Gap and extend southward through a lot of oh-andah country of high peaks, desert and ranch land.

One of the interesting hands in this event is shown today and demonstrates the importance of

The opening lead was won with the king of spades by declarer, who then cashed four club tricks. West discarded the five of diamonds and East the three of hearts and deuce of diamonds.

Declarer's problem now was which suit to tackle. Not wanting to guess wrong, she cashed her ace of spades and led the tenspot, as she knew from the lead of the deuce of spades that West could have only two more spades.

West cashed the two spades North discarding a diamond and South a heart. West unkindly led small heart, and when dummy played the eight East played the ten, forcing the ace. But a return of the nine of hearts and a finesse against the jack left the opponents unable to prevent declarer from winning an extra heart or dia-

There's Nothing Official Yet But Coach Norton's Aggie Agates Are Rose Bowl Or Bust For New Year's

By Felix R. McKnight

DALLAS, Nov. 11 (AP)—Officially | Champion Is Groggy there's only silence from the Texas Aggie football campin' ground.

Unofficially-but from the usual vell informed, reliable, authoritative, unimpeachable, and trusted voices about as soft as an air raid alarm that it's the Rose Bowl or bust. The robot machine that is the Little

Aggie football team doesn't dare speak of such things as the California excursion. But you can tell every time Jarrin' John Kimbrough knocks off five yards that a statistician cuts that much off the mileage chart from College Station to Norton Ignores Bowl

"No bowl talk around here," mutters Coach Homer Norton. "We have a quaint policy of playing the games as they appear on the schedule."
Such is true, and it has worked well. Eighteen straight have been ground under the Aggies' heels—the latest a very capable Southern Methodist team. In the words of Madison Bell,

("Us," in this case, being Southern Methodist.)

Furthermore, Coach Bell and 27. 000 fans who watched it, agree solidly on another little matter. John Kimbrough is a fullback of great proportions.

No Kimbrough Argument

But to clear John's good name and relieve him of liability, there is definitely not an iota of truth to the circulated rumor that he had the slightest thing to do with the collapse of the temporary bleachers during the SMU game. He did not hit the stands on that blast over right tackle.

But he did something else that shook the permanent concrete staunplayable two of the most rugged individuals on the Methodist club-Blocking Back Will Mullenweg and Tailback Johnny Clement. Mullen-weg compares favorably with a panzer tank. Clement confessed after the game he was "somewhere else for the next two periods." No More Sugar Bowl

It has become rather generally know that the Aggies do not plan a return trip to the Sugar Bowl. If it isn't the Rose Bowl, the game they grieved over missing last year, it will be Dallas' Cotton Bowl for

Little was still reeling under the impact of two great sub-par rounds by Demaret yesterday, however, and starts out the second half of their 72-hole challenge match today with scant hope of overcoming the eighthole lead the Houston pro compiled. Through wind and occasional

Jimmy shot away to a seven-up lead by virtue of four birdies on the front nine and that clinched his margin. He picked up one more hole in the dong-dong tilt thereafter.

Cash Income For Farmers May Top Ten-Year Period

CHICAGO, Nov. 11 (AP).-The rising price trend of important domestic agricultural commodities since late summer when the na-tional defense program began to cather momentum was cited today as an indication that the 1940 farm cash income for the first time since 1929 might top nine billion dollars. Last year's farm cash income was 8 1/2 billion dollars, while in the depths of the depression it was less than five billion. Strengthened by America's defense plans but without support of normal foreign demands, prices of major domestic farm commodities have regained on the average more than one-half the market demoralizing los sthat followed German successes in western Europe early last sum-
