Auto Crash Causes Death Frank Wright Britons Carry Out Widespread Raids On French Coast Fire Burns Ten Persons To Death

Takes Lives Of New Haven Quilt Firm Employees

Blaze Spreads Swiftly Trapping Room Workers; Three Jump To Safety

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 5 (AP).—Fire sweeping with unexpected swiftness through a room filled with cotton bales burned to death 10 employees of the New Haven Quilt and Pad Company today.

Three youths were injured, none critically, jumping from a window.

The victims were burned beyond recognition, but company officials compiled a death list and tentative identification from those known to be missing. Several had been working for the firm only a few months.

The fire, on the third floor of the three-story brick building, was confined to a single department producing fluffed cotton for filling comfortables which the company was making under contract for the army.

The foreman, Isadore Donner, said 23 or 25 persons were working in the department and 77 in the entire building. No one realized, he said, that anyone had remained in the room.

It would have been possible for all to get out immediately after the blaze started, he said. He believed some of the victims had returned to the room for their coats and that others, not realizing how fast the fire would spread through the cotton bales, tried to put it out or retreated to a rear wall while employees from other departments fought the blaze with hand extinguishers.

Firemen said the victims probably became unconscious from smoke before the fire reached them. An extinguisher was found near one of the bodies.

One of those who escaped, Eli Rabinowitz, said he thought he was trapped.

"I was trying to put out the fire and when it got so bad I went for the front door," he said. Some of the other (his fellow employees) were screaming in the back. The fire had covered the whole room, and as I got to the door the whole door was covered. I didn't know how I could get out. Henry Tagliatela (another employee) was at the door with a hose, and he soaked me."

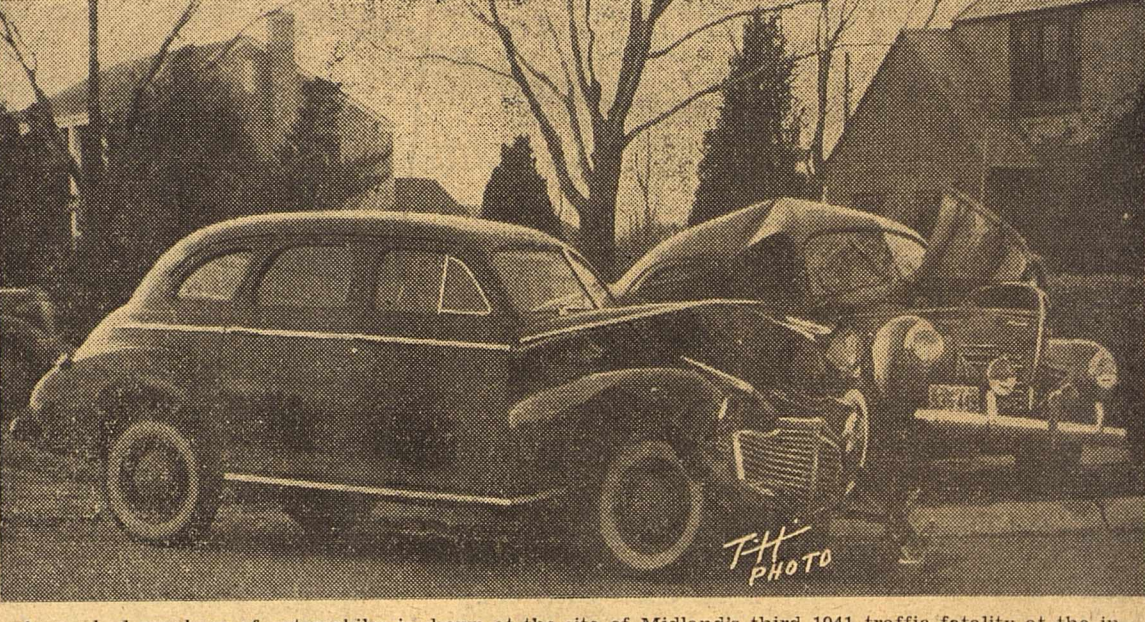

Donner said the fire started around a garnet, a machine for fluffing cotton, probably from a friction spark or static electricity.

Ten of the dead were tentatively identified as:
William DellaSelva, 33.
Philip Becker, 48.
David Chernowitz, 47.
Sallie Rosenbaum, (a man) 30.
Dominic Crobrano, 20.
Paul Fioranino, 38.
Flora Monello, 21.
Elsa Miller, 18.
Nathan Swickin, 42.
Salvatore Milano, 22.
All the dead were of New Haven.

Yoakum Wildcat Fills 3,750 Feet With Oil To Open Area

By Frank Gardner Oil Editor
George P. Livermore, Inc. No. 1 Ernest Ombly today appeared excited to have opened a new producing spot in Southeastern Yoakum County or extended the Waples-Platter area three miles north by northeast as it filled 3,750 feet with oil in 16 hours in drilling to 5,251 feet in lime.

Operators now are testing the well for possible water but may deepen before acidizing. No. 1 Ombly, after logging shows of gas at intervals from 5,153 to 5,218 feet, where it gauged 580,000 cubic feet after blowing for 24 hours, encountered a rainbow show of oil from 5,223-25 feet. First free oil appeared from 5,227-30 feet, where three gallons were bailed out following the run.

Increases were logged as drilling progressed. At 5,236 feet there was 200 feet of oil in the hole and at 5,243 500 feet of oil. Main increase apparently came in between 5,243 and 5,251 feet, the total depth.

The strike is located 680 feet out of the northeast corner of section 502, block D, J. H. Gibson survey on acreage farmed out by Shell Oil Company, Inc., discoverer of the Waples-Platter area farther south.

Seeking one-half mile north extension of the Slaughter field in Southwestern Hookley, Magnolia Petroleum Company will drill No. 1 Maple Wilson 440 feet out of the southwest corner of labor 8, league 41, Maverick County school land. The firm announced location of the test today.

In Southern Andrews County, Atlantic-Sun No. 2-B O. B. Holt Estate is drilling below 2,010 feet in red rock and salt. Fuhrman Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Lockhart & Brown was acidized with 1,000 gallons and is swabbing through 2-inch tubing set on bottom at plugged-back depth of 4,558 feet. Original total depth was 5,600.

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1-A (formerly No. 1-122) M Bar, opening a new area in Northern Ector County, flowed 34.23 barrels of 35.5-gravity oil, plus 7.4 per cent water, on 24-hour gauge through 34/64-inch choke on 2-inch tubing. Gas-oil ratio is 3,755-1. The well topped pay at 4,210 feet and bottomed at 4,312 feet in lime. It was acidized in two stages with 1,000 and 1,500 gallons, respectively. Location is 680 feet out of the south-east corner of section 6, block 44, township 1, north, T&P, survey. Operators have classed the well as a "West Andrews pool" producer, although it is separated from the original West Andrews pool, farther north, by a gas well and dry holes.

Delaware Test Cements Pipe. Rosser & Pendleton, Inc. et al. No. 1 Bird S. Hays, showing for the first oil well in the Quito gas area of Western Ward County, is standing after cementing 7-inch casing at 4,912 feet with 300 sacks. Total depth is 5,184 feet in Delaware sand topped at 5,083. The well showed rise of 800 feet of fluid, top half of which was cut with gas and oil, on drillstem test from 4,995 to 5,184 feet lasting one hour and 45 minutes.

Strong Squadron Launches One Of Biggest Attacks

Minister Reports Hits On Industrial City And Six German-Held Ports

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—The Royal Air Force carried out a wide sweeping daylight raid over the French coast today, British sources said, after their biggest night aerial offensive in two weeks.

"The ministry of information later termed the raid "a successful sweep over northern France." "Full reports are not yet available," it said.

Observers on the coast of Kent saw a strong force of bombers protected by heavy formations of fighting planes, soar high over the Straits of Dover in the direction of Calais. Other fighting planes patrolled the English coast.

A similar widespread daylight attack was made on Nazi-occupied territory last Sunday.

Some time after the British planes moved to the French coast, a thick column of black smoke was seen rising near the harbor of Calais.

Last night's attack the German industrial town of Dusseldorf in the Rhineland, the Nazi-held French ports of Cherbourg, Brest, Bordeaux, Dunkerque, Dieppe and Ostend were hit by the British, the air ministry said.

Four British planes failed to return from the night raid.

The old French naval base at Brest, believed now to be one of the ports used by Nazi submarines, was raided from 8 to 10 p. m., the air ministry news service said, and the British pilots reported a big fire which seemed to be burning off.

One pilot said there were explosives which nearly blinded them, adding that there seemed "to be three separate flames going off at the same moment."

Direct hits on targets were also claimed at Ostend, but at Dieppe and Dunkerque clouds made it difficult to observe the full results of the bombing, it said, although several bursts were seen in the dock area.

British Sources List Merchant Ships First In Needed Materials

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—British sources said today merchant ships, bombing planes, tanks and infantry rifles—in that order—headed the list of war material England hopes to get from the United States under the "lease-lending" bill now being drafted in the House.

The decline to estimate the cost of that equipment or to give more definite making ready to liquidate their estimated $900,000,000 of American "direct" investments.

Mrs. Howard Ford, Driver Of Other Car, Suffers Minor Injuries; Wright's Brother Was Killed In Traffic Accident Near Harlingen Last Year

Frank Dennis Wright, 17-year-old Midland high school senior, was injured fatally in an automobile collision at 5:15 p. m. Tuesday—the second traffic death in his family within ten months and Midland's third fatality of 1941.

Wright died in a Midland hospital at 7:30 p. m. last night of hemorrhage from a skull fracture.

Physicians said the youth never regained consciousness.

Mrs. Howard Ford of Midland, driver of the other car was injured, not seriously. She received facial cuts, bruises and lacerations of the body.

Condition Satisfactory. Her condition was reported today by hospital attaches as satisfactory and not dangerous.

Wright's brother Ell, was killed in a car accident near Harlingen last summer.

The cars driven by Wright and Mrs. Ford collided at the intersection of H and Indiana Streets.

Neither Car Carried Passengers. Funeral services for Wright will be held at 3 p. m. tomorrow afternoon at a San Angelo funeral home. Burial will be in San Angelo.

Wright was a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Wright, who moved here from San Angelo in 1938. Mr. Wright is a painting contractor.

Survivors besides the parents include two sisters, Mrs. Robert Cox of Midland, and Mrs. Spurgeon Bred of Washington, D. C.

Senate Group To Ask Information On British Fleet

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee decided today to ask the state department whether Great Britain had made "definite commitments" to the United States on the use of the British fleet in return for American aid to the British.

Acting on a request by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), Chairman of the committee, the department agreed to transmit to the committee an inquiry on the truth or lack of truth in published reports of such commitments.

This action came as President Alan Valentine of Rochester University, testifying in opposition to the pending "lease-lend" bill, urged Congress to retain control of the American defense program while extending financial assistance to Britain.

Takes Testimony On Welfare Head

AUSTIN, Feb. 5 (AP).—Continuing an investigation of old age assistance administration, the Senate today sought to determine the conditions surrounding the employment of J. S. Murchison, former mayor of Corsicana, as executive director of the public welfare department.

Dr. Thomas H. Taylor of Brownwood, a member of the welfare board, told the Senate sitting as a committee of the whole that Murchison was appointed by the board a few hours after Adam R. Johnson resigned and that no one other than Murchison was considered for the position.

Questioned by Senator Joe Hill of Henderson, Dr. Taylor said that he did not know Murchison before his appointment although he had heard of him.

"Was he experienced in welfare work?" Hill queried.

"As mayor of Corsicana," Dr. Taylor replied.

"Why did you consider only one out of six million persons in Texas?" Hill wanted to know.

Dr. Taylor declared it was the consensus of the board that Murchison thought of welfare problems in a practical way and with a view to eliminating unnecessary red tape procedure.

Safety Members May Lead Drive For Fewer Deaths

The Midland Safety Council, meeting last night after the city's third 1941 traffic fatality, discussed a string campaign of public safety and voted to ask closer harmony with the city council for safety.

W. P. Z. German was elected president of the council.

Mrs. W. Y. Penn reported to the council a study of safety council work in Dallas. She and Mrs. Lamar Lunt were appointed to study safety suggestions with German.

Berte Haigh and Mrs. R. C. Conkling will propose plans for establishment of a junior safety council in the schools.

Mrs. Lem Peters said Midland clubs desiring safety information could obtain it from the council.

Mrs. R. B. Cowden, representing the council, is to seek adoption of bicycle safety rules among schools of the city.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

BUT HE OPENS MINDS AND HEARTS OF ALL: He hath done all things well: he maketh both the deaf to hear and the dumb to speak.—Mark 7:37.

The Boom Begins To Be Audible

It was slow to start. The billions were appropriated. Even appropriated billions cannot be spent as you would spend a dime for a hamburger. But the spending which began last year is now having its effect.

Let's run through some of the overtones which can be heard in the hum that means an industry beginning to travel at high speed:

INCOME payments to individuals last year totaled $74,300,000,000, which is more than any year since 1930, and about 6 per cent above 1939, according to Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones.

THE NUMBER of unemployed has been drastically reduced. The National Industrial Conference Board believes it is now about 6,961,000, though the Alexander Hamilton Institute puts it roughly a million higher. Both agree that the number of unemployed is being pared down.

GOVERNMENT and privately-owned building has accelerated to such an extent that government housing authorities now believe 700,000 dwelling units will be built during this year, as against 545,000 last year. Every new defense plant required new housing for its workers; army camps have stimulated demand for houses, raised rents, brought about repairs.

FAMILY income is rising. The Northwestern National Life Insurance Company says that the household of the average urban worker saw its monthly income soar nearly $7 in the last six months of 1940, while household expenses remained at 1936 levels. The favorable margin between average earnings and living costs is the largest in the eight-year history of the index. There has been a tremendous increase in buying power in recent months.

OFFICIAL figures are now in for foreign trade for 1940—a total of $4,022,000,000, the largest since 1929 in both volume and value.

ONLY the stock market remains indifferent, with prices slumping and the volume of sales so small that President Martin recently told the SEC that the Stock Exchange is actually operating at a loss.

There is no reason why all these tendencies will not increase in tempo throughout the coming year. The pressing need for defense materials of all kinds, plus unlimited access to the federal purse, assure that, barring some unforeseeable event.

Once more let it be repeated: this indicates no permanent solution of our economic problems. But it is a breathing spell during which wise men are being offered an opportunity to plan a future so designed as to take up the slack when this artificially-induced boom is deflated. More such men, both in and out of active business, are seriously addressing themselves to the problem every day. In that lies the best hope of an orderly solution.

Speed, Speed, Speed!

Faster, faster is the tempo, and the destroyer Edison is launched a bare 10 months and 12 days after the laying of her keel.

This kind of construction was done in nine months during the war, but the destroyers of that time were only two-thirds the size of the Edison, and far less complicated.

Twenty-five more of the Edison class are on the way, and the record made on that ship will probably be bettered.

There is no reason to fear that America has lost the know-how. Our ships will be good ships. Our planes will be good planes. Our men are good men. Time is the only thing the supply of which cannot be increased. But the use of it can be improved. And in the navy shipyards they seem to be doing just that.

Up From The Ruins

The name of Coventry has already become a synonym for the terrible destructiveness of air war. Coventry got air bombing at its worst.

And what is happening in Coventry, now that the worst has come and gone? There are men there planning its rebuilding. Some of them are saying that the destruction, horrible though it was, may yet have some good results. Many of the buildings destroyed, according to the Manchester Guardian, were "ill-designed, ill-placed, and overcrowded." So they are planning a new Coventry now, which shall be zoned and planned so that out of the old life a newer and more spacious kind of living can come, some time in the future.

Thus already men, with courage that never dies, work to wrest from misfortune itself the design of good to come.

Our Educated Army

A bubbly enthusiastic story from Moscow by Walter Duranty, who, in his most recent visit, seems to have been completely bowled over by the beauties of the Soviet State, tells how educated the new Russian army is. That's aside from the education it got in Finland. The Russian soldiers are not only good technicians, he exults; they are educated, they will know what the war's about if war comes.

Well, during the last half of 1940, the U. S. army received the following recruits: 2638 with college degrees; 372 with post-graduate records; 5514 with at least one year of college. There are 53,483 high school graduates and 57,450 with grammar school education—these from a total of 180,152 recruits.

So it would seem that even the United States army is not going to be precisely illiterate.

It's A Good Trick If It Works

Lambton Worm Curse Returns In Suicide Of Young Britisher

LONDON, Feb. 5 (AP)—A legendary story of a titled family's "curse" dating back to the twelfth century—the curse of the Lambton worm—was revived today by the shotgun death of the 20-year-old Lord Lambton.

The body of the young nobleman, the son and heir of the fifth Earl of Durham, was found yesterday slumped over a fountain on the front lawn of his country estate near Woolder, Northumberland.

A coroner gave a verdict that Lambton died of a "self-inflicted wound while of 'unsound mind.'"

One shell had been fired from a double-barreled shotgun which was found near the body. The youth was clothed as if for an early-morning hunt. He recently had been registered for military service.

The origin, circumstances and history of the ancient "curse" are vague, and accounts fail to show how frequently the family suffered tragedy from the twelfth century to modern times, but several members have met untimely deaths in recent years.

Slew Father-Next

The legend says that one of the earliest Lambtons slew a worm so huge that it could wind itself around a hill near the family castle. The price of his victory was a pledge that he should kill the next living creature he met. He saw his father next—and did not kill him. For this, the Lords Lambton for nine generations were "doomed" to suffer.

No Appeal Yet In Belo Corp. Case

DALLAS, Feb. 5 (AP)—Government attorneys gave no indication today whether they would appeal a decision by Federal Judge William H. Atwell that a firm compiled with the wage-hour law when its wages or salaries were equal to or in excess of the law's minimum, regardless of methods of pay.

The holding was in favor of the A. H. Belo Corporation, publishers of the Dallas Morning News and operators of radio stations WFAA and KGKO.

Llewellyn Duke, regional attorney for the wage and hour division, who assisted G. B. Searls, wage and hour attorney from Washington, in presentation of the government's contentions, said his department at present would make no comment as to the possibility of appeal.

Judge Atwell held yesterday that the Belo Corporation had paid all its employees in excess of the requirements of the wage and hour act.

Texas Oil Men Make Plans For Argument On Permanent Laws

By The Associated Press

AUSTIN, Feb. 5 (AP)—As crude production over the nation and state approximated demand forecasts, Texas oil men today marshaled arguments for and against making the state's oil proration laws permanent.

A public hearing on a bill proposing permanent adoption of oil conservation statutes instead of biennial re-adoption, together with a proposal to renew Texas participation in the Interstate Oil Compact for two years, was called for tonight before a House of Representatives committee.

Also due for legislative consideration were bills to establish a new oil conservation commission, taking regulation powers from the Railroad Commission and to permit use of sweet natural gas for carbon black manufacturing.

Expect Texas Increase

Texas' crude yield was expected to rise possibly 7,000 barrels daily under the new February-March allowable production schedules but still to remain below the federal demand estimate of 1,312,000 barrels for this month.

Commission engineers estimate actual current production at 1,274,900 barrels a day although the statewide allowable will increase gradually on completion of wells, now totaling more than 95,000 over the state.

Rep. Lester Clark of Breckenridge, chairman of the House oil committee, said he expected no strong opposition to the bill proposing permanent adoption of proration laws.

"There may be some disagreement," he declared, "but I believe the proposal will receive the committee's approval since it seeks to take the statutes out of politics. The laws have been thoroughly tested and should become permanent."

Japan Modifies Tones; Relations Remain Strained

By DeWitt MacKenzie, Associated Press Staff Writer.

Japanese Foreign Minister Matsuoka's declaration that his nation "does not care to risk war (with America) for the sake of its aspirations" is unexpected but there would seem to be no reason why we shouldn't accept it at face value.

I think we can put it down as an effort to make an uncommonly fractious bull tread lightly in the china shop. Certainly it represents a decided moderation of the tone adopted by Tokyo only four months ago after Japan signed the triple alliance with Germany and Italy.

At that time Premier Prince Koye, in an interview emphasized Nippon's stiffened attitude toward the United States. He said that should America "consider the triple alliance hostile to herself and challenge the Axis nations, the Axis would be ready to accept such a challenge and fight to a finish."

That was strong mustard, but four days later the Prince got his answer. Washington advised Americans in the Far East to consider the advisability of returning to the U.S.A. because of disturbed conditions in the Orient.

Japan Backs Up.

Did this mean the United States might be thinking of war? Japan wondered. Anyway, Prince Koye's trial balloon, to see how much Uncle Sam would stand from the three musketeers, was quickly deflated. But relations have remained strained.

Japan's program aims at domination of "Greater East Asia" — A sphere assigned her by the triple alliance. Under Koye's policy this means control not only of Japan, Manchoukia and at least the Japanese-occupied sections of China, but claim of domination has been extended southward to cover French Indo-China and the Dutch East Indies.

That's a tall order, but there can be no small doubt that Japan intends to carry it out by all means short of committing national hari-kari. Still, the indications are that, as Matsuoka said yesterday, she doesn't want war with us.

Escape Clause Understood.

It is generally understood that Japan was astute enough to insert an escape clause in the triple alliance so she wouldn't have to go to war for the Axis merely because the latter was in conflict with America. What Nippon would do if we were at war and the Axis looked like a winner is another question. However, Japanese press comment would indicate that Tokyo isn't at all convinced the Berlin-Rome partnership is winning even against Britain.

There are numerous reasons why Japan doesn't want to tangle with us. One is her very bad economic position. Only a few days ago diplomatic sources in Washington said that the dual strain of war and dislocated trade may become so intense on Japan's economic structure that she may have to postpone indefinitely the attempt to realize her dreams of a new order in the Far East.

Nippon's Best Customer.

Then there is the extent of Japan's dependence on the United States. We are Nippon's best customer, taking some twenty percent of her world exports. We sell her a third of her total imports.

We are her major source of war materials, and any wholesale embargo on essentials likely would

In short, I believe Japan at this juncture intends to avoid any move which might cause war with America. As for the rest Nippon will go as far as she can. Apart from everything else, I think we may assume that she fully intends to take control of French Indo-China, partly for the great rice crop, but mainly to establish a base to counter Britain's Singapore and the Philippines.

RANDOLPH FIELD CADETS SET FLYING TIME RECORD

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 5 (AP)—An all-time record for flying time was set at Randolph Field in January, when training planes used by the 850 flying cadets at the field flew 27,807 hours. The former record was 21,000 hours, set last summer.

During the 31-days period the planes covered an estimated 3,915,000 miles, or for the sake of comparison, a distance equal to 156 trips around the world at the equator, or three round-the-globe flights daily.

Smart Woman Doesn't Wait Until Style Is Commonplace

By Alicia Hart
NEA Service Staff Writer

That smartly dressed, suavely turned out woman you admire and wish you resembled more closely never waits until a fashion has become a rage before adopting it.

She, you may be sure, didn't wait to try a pompadour until every other woman on the block was wearing one. And she won't wait to substitute bangs for a pompadour until bangs are everywhere on everybody.

Neither First Nor Last

She never lets herself be the first to try a new hairdo or a new makeup stunt, but she certainly never lets herself be the last woman in her crowd to try something new.

Among other things which she does not allow herself to do are: Throw away a dress just because one person intimates that it isn't becoming.

Buy something for no other reason than that it is pretty. (She shops with a plan and a purpose. The prettiest dress in the world won't find its way into her wardrobe unless it suits her and her daily routine, is at least compatible with clothes and accessories she already owns.)

Affect a makeup that does nothing for her own face and personality. (She wouldn't think of going without rouge unless she's really more attractive with pale cheeks than with reddened ones.)

Forget to put a couple of cleansing pads and a tiny bottle of nail polish in her bag when she is going to be away from home all day. (She does not put fresh makeup on over stale or tolerate chipped nail lacquer for more than ten minutes.)

Buy shoes when she isn't one hundred per cent certain that they will be comfortable.

Wear white blouse or white gloves a second day without laundering.

First Step To Good Wardrobe Is A PLAN

By Alicia Hart
NEA Service Staff Writer

You have resolved to achieve perfection in your grooming and in your wardrobe this spring.

You have decided that this year you simply won't start out with a good plan and then discover all sorts of excuses for not sticking to it. 1941's Easter isn't going to find you with a hat you couldn't afford and no suit to wear with it. Or, just as unfortunately, with a smart suit and hat, but a figure so bulging in the wrong places that neither hat nor suit do much for you.

DETERMINE TO STICK TO YOUR PLAN

First of all, you're going to make sure that your plan is a workable one—consistent with your budget and with your way of living.

You'll begin by deciding how much money you can spend on a spring wardrobe, then you'll budget that amount carefully and thoughtfully to allow for the items you know you must have. If there are any dollars left over, you can make a list of extra things you want but can get along without. Under no condition will you confuse the two lists or, worse yet, allow for what you think you would like to have before you have allowed for what you must have.

You'll resolve to stick to one color scheme. Remember what happened the year you started out with a brown suit and, a few weeks later, bought a black coat? You had accessory problems and then some that year, didn't you?

NEW ACCESSORIES BRIGHTEN OLD CLOTHES

Remembering this, you'll take inventory of last spring's clothes which are to be worn again this year. A navy suit in perfect condition calls for new navy accessories or perhaps red ones.

Unless you can afford two colors in your wardrobe, this means that your new coat cannot be brown or any other shade with which navy accessories can't be worn.

While all this remembering and planning is going on, you'll make notes. "Being well dressed" is a business. And who ever heard of plans for a successful business being carried around in somebody's head? Get a small notebook and use it.

Sixty per cent of the party will be residents of El Paso and the others will come from other southwestern communities. Bloodworth today was a business visitor in Midland.

Arkansas Must Lose Two Games To Give Any Others Chance

By The Associated Press

The Arkansas Razorbacks must lose two games for any other team to have an equal chance of beating them out for the Southwest Conference basketball race.

The way the giants of the Ozarks are going it would be classed as something of an upset if they lost even one.

So, as the Baylor Bears get ready to invade the home of the Razorbacks this week-end, most of the critics will be picking Arkansas to keep its unbeaten record intact.

However, Baylor is due to be tougher to handle than had been expected. Last night the Bruins handed Southern Methodist University its second defeat, 55-45. Now Baylor, SMU and Rice each has lost two games.

Game Was Close

SMU had defeated Texas and Rice and had been considered the chief threat to Arkansas prior to last night.

It was a nip-and-tuck game until midway of the last period when Baylor forged ahead and never was seriously threatened the rest of the way.

Dwight Parks and Frank Bryski of Baylor led the scoring with 14 and 12 points respectively.

In addition to the Baylor-Arkansas series at Fayetteville Friday and Saturday nights, Texas plays Texas Christian at Austin Saturday night.

Rumors Mention Shaw Most For Notre Dame Job

By Tom Siler

CHICAGO, Feb. 5 (AP)—Notre Dame's faculty athletic board will meet Friday to consider the dozens of applications pouring in daily for the post of athletic director and head football coach.

The vacancy was created Monday when Elmer Layden resigned to become commissioner of the National Professional Football League. Rumored possibilities as his successor are a dime a dozen, but it is much too early to say who has the inside track for the job.

The Rev. Hugh O'Donnell, CSC, president, said yesterday that the choice probably would be announced before March 1. One other thing that appears certain is that the ultimate selection will be an alumnus of Notre Dame.

This, however, does little to narrow the field of possible choices, inasmuch as there are scores of former Notre Dame graders who have achieved outstanding success as coaches.

Buck Shaw In Field

The name of Lawrence (Buck) Shaw of Santa Clara probably is most often mentioned in discussion, but whether he is available is a question. Shaw's contract runs through 1945. Santa Clara, which has won 34 games, lost five and tied four during his tenure.

Jimmy Crowley of Fordham, who played in the famous "four horsemen" backfield with Layden, also is getting a big play in speculative circles, but he, too, has a long-term contract which has four years to run. His salary is about $12,000.

Rural Schools To Have Basketball Tournament Here

The tourney is a warmup for the county basketball tournament here Feb. 14-15.

Midland service clubs may award trophies to winners, Koonce said.

Haigh Urges Entries Bowl Early This Week

He said the lanes would be crowded when visitors come here for week-end contests.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK, Feb. 5 (AP)—Jack Doyle, now in Florida, will have his Kentucky Derby prices ready March 15. St. Mary's of Texas, which plays Long Island U. here Sept. 19, is in the market for a game on the way back home the week-end of Sept. 27.

Christy Walsh, who was the New York World's Fair sports director, is enjoying himself on a dude ranch as Wick-enburg, Ark.

Seventy-five coaches applied for the Marquette job, which went to Tom Stidham. Strangely enough, Oklahoma U. was not swamped with applications when Tom departed.

Hot Stove League

The Reds have nixed Larry MacPhail's plan to patronize Brooklyn, instead of Manhattan hotels next summer. Phils and Cards have agreed. Also, the Reds have talked to the Giants about Harry Daning, but there's nothing doing yet. . . . The gossip is Lefty Gomez signed a $10,000 contract with the proviso that the Yanks will hoist the ante, if and when. . . . Hugh Casey is the only Dodger hurler who hasn't promised to win 200 games—his guaranteeing only 19, but even with that the victories so far "in the bag" total 119, which should be enough to win the rag in almost any league. . . . Frank Shaughnessy, International League president, made a special trip from Montreal for the Newark A. C. dinner and wasn't even introduced.

Who Said It

Here's a howdy-do for you Abe Simon, who is to be a title contender against Joe Louis next month, was out-pointed by a gent named Big Jim Thompson, while Joey Archibald, scheduled to fight Harry Jeffra for the featherweight crown, couldn't last four heats against a gent named Larry Bolvin. . . . Maybe some of you have heard of the Messrs. Thompson and Bolvin, but they're news to us.

Champs On Hand For Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 5 (AP)—It promises to be unanimous when the nation's top golfers tee off here Friday in the Texas Open Tournament.

The winners of all 23 championships in the United States and Canada last year as well as those who took the five tournaments this season will be on hand.

This field includes Byron Nelson and Ben Hogan, a couple of Texans, who were champion and runner-up respectively here in 1939.

Qualifying rounds were started yesterday but only for golfers from San Antonio and nearby towns with Loraine Young of this city setting the pace among 15 amateurs posting scores. Young registered a 74, three over par.

Warm Up Today

Creek professionals are due to start tuning up with a vim today over the Willow Springs course, tomorrow they will compete in the pro-amateur event, best ball, over 18 holes.

In addition to the champions of all the tournaments of last year and this, the Ryder Cup Team is due to be on hand intact except for the possible exception of Paul Runyan.

The tournament continues through Sunday.

Greenskeepers Protest Members Ruled As Pros

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 5 (AP)—The Greenskeeping Superintendents' Association protested today — and strenuously — against classification of its members as professionals by the United States Golf Association.

Delegates from 30 states and Canada, attending the 15th National Conference of the turf technicians, voted unanimously today to file an objection with golfdom's ruling body over the regulation which puts the greenskeepers among the professionals.

Stanton-Courtney Game Will Start Martin Playoffs

STANTON, Feb. 5 (Special)—The Stanton High School cagemen will meet Courtney's high flying Eagles here Friday night in the first game of the senior boys' eliminations of the Martin County championship playoffs.

Both the "A" and "B" teams will compete in the race for top honors. The Stanton "B" team has a good record. Among the victims are Big Spring Steers, Garden City, Coahoma and Lenora.

Hard 'A' Squad Record

Hard luck punctured the season for the "A" squad of Bisons, trimming their wins down to six. They played close, however, through many games with such competition as Big Spring Steers, Kermit's Yellowjackets, Midland Bulldogs, and Forsan Buffaloes.

Stanton Teams Win Three Court Games

STANTON, Feb. 5 (AP) — The Stanton high school basketballers trampled Lenora in a "B" string game here Monday night. Stanton took the "reserves" battle by a wide margin of 28 to 6.

The "A" squad of Bisons stepped up into the win column by trumping the Valley View team 38 to 9 in the last encounter of the night show. Mashburn, center on the Stanton squad, took high scoring honors with 12 points.

Rickey Believes Landis' Ruling Will Hurt Game

NEW YORK, Feb. 5 (AP) — Branch Rickey of the St. Louis Cardinals, who probably knows better than anybody else the animosity of Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis to chain store baseball, says the latest effort to restrict farm operations will have exactly the reverse effect.

Other National League magnates haven't made up their minds as definitely as the Redbirds' business manager, but they joined in a unanimous stand yesterday against a new rule that minor league players purchased while subject to the baseball draft can not be returned to the minors for a year unless waived out of both big leagues.

Ford Frick, league president, said, "There is a lot of merit in Landis' intention to see that every player trial before he is returned to minors, and in theory this rule is good. But we felt that in its practical application it invokes hardships on both clubs and players which the commissioner may not have fully considered. Its reaction would be felt especially in the minors."

Drafts Committee

A committee of Rickey, Warren Giles of the Cincinnati Reds and Leo Bondy of the New York Giants was appointed to draft a resolution pointing out to Landis what the National League considers objectionable in the rule.

"There are many grounds on which to object to the ruling," said Rickey. "But insofar as it is aimed at the farm systems, it will do more harm to the clubs operating independently than to clubs like the Cardinals which have extensive minor league connections.

"It will be possible for a club operating several farms to keep a considerable reserve of talent at all times and to bring to its major league roster only players considered ready immediately for big league competition.

Clark Seeks Contest With Kermit Quintet; Bullpups Will Play

Coach Earle Clark today sought a Friday night basketball game with Kermit here.

The mentor said he would get in touch with Coach "Cotton" Kimbrell of Kermit to arrange the tilt.

Otherwise the Midland Bulldogs are idle for the remainder of the week.

Friday night the Bullpups will go to Courtney for a set-to with the Junior Eagles.

Midland high last night topped Big Spring to maintain a .500 per cent ranking in District 3-AA. The Midland quintet has two wins over Big Spring and one over Colorado City and Sweetwater. They have dropped four games to San Angelo (two), Colorado City, and Sweetwater.

Congressional Areas Show Large Variation In Number Of People

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—The nation's most populous congressional district contains more than 13 times as many people as the smallest one, a census bureau analysis showed today.

Although districts theoretically are supposed to be equal in population, Rep. Leonard W. Schuetz of the seventh Illinois represents 914,053 persons in Chicago and Cook County, while Rep. Samuel Dickstein's twelfth district, in New York City, contains only 70,307.

Not counting the District of Columbia, which is without representation, the country's average population for each of the 435 House seats was 301,164. Congress is due to reappoint its seats soon and ask the states to adjust their districts accordingly.

But the states don't have to change their district, other than as required to send the proper number of representatives.

Layden To Be Pro Football Czar

Wife And Son Of Rabbi Suicides

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5 (AP)—The wife and son of Rabbi Louis Wolsey, influential figure in Philadelphia's Jewish community, were found dead early today in a gas-filled garage at their suburban Elkins Park home.

Cornet W. J. Rushong of Montgomery County said "it is a clear case of suicide."

The coroner said Rabbi Wolsey, returning from New York soon after midnight, found the bodies of Mrs. Florence Wolsey, 48, and the son, Jonathan, 23, side by side on the front seat of the family automobile.

A piece of garden hose was connected to the exhaust pipe and extended into the tonneau of the car through a small window, Rushong added.

Rabbi Wolsey told police that his wife had been receiving treatment for a nervous ailment.

"Other than that," the coroner said, "he could give no explanation of the tragedy nor could he explain in any way his son's part in the affair."

We, the Women

By Ruth Millett
Always thinking about what someone else is thinking of more women than anything else.
It doesn't matter how smart or how nice or how pretty a woman is, if she has that handicap she's just a shadow of a person.
She is afraid to express an opinion emphatically, for fear it may not be the opinion of her listener.
She is afraid to disagree, to stick up for her own opinions, whether the topic under discussion is a national problem or whether or not Mrs. Jones' new hat is too crazy to be becoming.
She is scared to death to make the first gesture toward friendliness—for fear it will be misunderstood.
—She is so afraid that she will be conspicuous that she hides behind drab clothes, a voice so low you can hardly hear it, and a constant smile—so that no one can possibly take offense.

She wouldn't dream of letting herself go and expressing her own ideas when she buys new draperies or a new rug for the house. She keeps her house as neatly like the houses of her friends as she can, without appearing to copy them in detail.
Her conversation is never 'spicy' because she is afraid to say anything but 'good' about people. So even though she may see the com-cal funny side of human nature—she gives the impression of seeing nothing.

AFRAID OF HER HONEST OPINION
If she has read a book and thoroughly enjoyed it, she agrees with the person who pans it, instead of saying that she liked it—and why.
Her hobbies aren't necessarily an outgrowth of her own interest. She knits when "the girls" start knitting, and stops when they stop.
But maybe it's all right—for she is always described as a "nice woman."

And no one will ever bother to try to make you believe she is anything else.

This is the third of a series of 12 articles on the new bidding rules in the 1941 Cuberton System, which will be officially published March 1.

By Wu. E. McKenney
 America's Card Authority.

While the queen-jack-x-x is still the minimum "regular" four-card biddable suit in the Cuberton System, the 1941 rules permit an opening bid in even a four-card major suit as weak as queen x-x-x, king x-x-x or ace-x-x-x, on the following conditions: Either the hand must contain another biddable suit as well; or the hand must have more than the usual minimum number of honor-tricks required for an opening bid.

Such weak units are therefore called "conditional biddable suits." South bid one spade on today's hand so that, in case of a two-club or two-diamond response from North, he could then bid his heart suit and give North a choice between the two suits, all at the level of two. If South had opened with one heart, North would probably have played the hand at one no trump and would have been defeated.

Against the two-spade contract East took three club tricks and led the fourth club. If South had trumped this, he would have gone down. He wisely threw on the low diamond which he would have had to lose anyway.

Now a diamond lead put South in. He led a spade to dummy's queen and tried the heart finesse. This lost, of course, but South trumped a diamond return, drew trumps, and cashed his hearts to make his contract.

Arkansas Will Have First Repressuring

EL DORADO, Ark., Feb. 5 (AP)—First repressuring program ever undertaken in an Arkansas oil field will be started in the Jones sand of nearby Shuler Field Feb. 15.

The program, authorized last night by the Arkansas Oil and Gas Commission, calls for the injection of gas into the producing formation and the operation of the field as a unit. No change was made in the current 13,500 barrel daily allowable from the formation.

Testimony was presented by operators to the commission to show that repressuring would increase ultimate recovery from the Jones sand by from eight to 12 million barrels.

SERIAL STORY CONSCRIPT'S WIFE

BY BETTY WALLACE

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Bill is in town, having, hunting Martha. He's drunk at the bill like at the home house. He has discovered Martha was in New York with Paul. In desperation, Martha goes to Suzanne. The girl has seen Bill, tried to repair the damage but angry words have done. But there is no stopping Bill. Suzanne knows he has been drinking, suggests they search the town for him.

But I have a feeling he didn't go. I don't want to stay here. Stay with me tonight. In the morning, we can phone the camp. If he's not there, we'll start looking again." She saw the expression on Martha's face, and shook her gently. "Please, Martha! There's nothing else we can do tonight."

BILL QUILTS THE ARMY
CHAPTER XXVIII
THE bartender in Pete's Bar and Grill looked up with what was for him stark bewilderment. An expensive gray car squealed to a stop at the curb outside. In the red and blue glare of the huge neon sign, the two girls who crossed the sidewalk looked ghastly. Their lips were bluish, their faces pale, neither of them wore a hat. And they sprinted into the cafe as if the police were behind them. The bartender put down the glass he'd been polishing and reached up to turn off the bubbling radio.

"What can I do for you, ladies?" The redhead one—she was pretty even though she looked as if she'd been through a steam wringer—asked quickly. "Was a soldier in here tonight? A tall soldier with dark curly hair? He—He might have been very tight..."

The bartender shook his head. "No, ma'am. Not that I know of. We had a couple of sailors."

"Thanks," said the blond girl, curtsy. "Come on, Martha. Bill hasn't been anywhere we used to go together, and if he hasn't been in any of the places around here, the only thing that's left is to search the joints on South Street."

The bartender wiped a small space in front of him with sudden vigor. "Look, ladies, if I was you, I wouldn't do mousing around on South Street after no soldiers this time of night."

BUT the two girls paid no attention. They ran back out to their car and started off with a grinding of gears. Had the bartender but known it, it had been like this in a succession of cafes and bars-and-grills all over town.

At 4:30, Martha and Suzanne came out of the last smoky joint on South Street. And still they hadn't found him. Suzanne said, "You've been everywhere. Bill must have taken a room somewhere and gone to sleep!"

"Maybe he went back to camp," Martha said. "Suppose he—He went back to tight?"

"Best thing he could have done."

Stocks Rally Two Points As Market Turns Upward
NEW YORK, Feb. 5 (AP)—A turn toward higher prices today interrupted the decline which had carried the stock market near last summer's lows.

Leading Steels, Motors, Aircrafts, Coppers, Rains and miscellaneous industrials rallied fractions to more than 2 points in more active dealings. The turnover approximated 500,000 shares.

The reversal appeared to grow mainly out of short-coverings and buying by traders on the assumption the decline had gone on enough to warrant at least a technical comeback. Brokers noted selling had diminished in volume the last few days, paving the way for the turn to the upside.

Willkie Declares Hate For German Aggression
LONDON, Feb. 5 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie left a message in England for the German people declaring "we German-Americans reject and hate the aggression and lust for power of the present German government."

The Willkie message, released by the British ministry of information, said his convictions were "shared to the full by the overwhelming majority of my fellow countrymen of German descent."

Willkie had already started back to the United States from London when the ministry of information released his statement.
