Magnolia Markey Arrested Second Oiler In Pecos Deep Pool

Extension Test Tops Simpson Pay Sand At 5,391 Feet, Heads Oil

Second producer and onehalf mile north by northwest extension for the Abell pool, Northern Pecos County, was assured today as Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Markey Heirs filled with oil and made a small head.

The well went into the sand pay zone of the Simpson, middle Ordovician, at 5,391 feet. Slight showing of gas was noted at 5,396 feet, and after three or four feet of hole had been made below that point, operators tried to pull tools but found them stuck. They are now varring on the tools. Apparently, the hole is bridged above tools. No. 1 Markey filled with oil in approximately 24 hours after topping the sand zone. No. 1 Markey is located in section 4 1/2, block 3, H. & T. C. survery. It topped the Simpson at 4,800 feet, dature of minus 2,400 which was 46. datum of minus 2,409, which was 46 feet low to Stanolind (formerly Taubert et al) No. 1 Crockett, discovery producer which was completed in November for natural flow of 933 barrels in 11 hours and 23 minutes.

Simpson Topped By State-Baldwin Latest well in the Abell pool to reach the Simpson is Magnolia No. 1 State-Baldwin. The top of that formation has been tentatively picked at 4,825 feet, datum, of minus 2,433. On correlation of Simpson tops, No. 1 State-Baldwin is 43 feet low to the old Magnolia and Tex-Mex No. 1-A McKee, failure three-eighths of a mile to the southwest. the pool opener, which lies a mile and three-quarters to the southwest. Taxing Soldiers' Cigarets

A nice legal problem has arisen with regard to the operation of post exchanges in the numerous military

Has a state a right to tax cigarets and other similar supplies sold through such agencies? It depends whether a post exchange is an instrumentality of the federal government conducted as a necessary part of army operation. A post exchange is usually a voluntary, unincorporated setup, virtually a non-profit co-operative, supervised by, but not actually run by, army authorities. If it is a federal institution tied in as an indispensable part of army operation, states probably cannot tax supplies sold through them. But if running a store is a mere convenience to soldiers, and its stocks are not the property of the United person who ever loved a dog. States, states may assert (and some of them have) their

Inspires Tension, Benefitting Axis

By DeWitt MacKenzie Associated Press Staff Writer

The acute tension in the Far East is inspired by a fear that Japan is about to strike southward from China with the purpose of reducing Britain's great naval base of Sing-apore, taking over the rich Dutch East Indies with their oil and other supplies, and perhaps even attacking Australia.

This operation would synchronize with, and in effect be a part of, the fast developing Axis offensive against Britain in Europe. The strategy of Generalissimo Hitler the idea of making a quick killing.

Now it would be easy to construct a fearsome Frankenstein out of this situation, and indeed the position is grave one. Still, it seems to me that our monster would be in par

That is to say, it strikes me that some of this tension is deliberately inspired by Japan as an aid to her Italian and German partners in the triple alliance.

And how would that help? Well, just to illustrate, it is believed that uneasy Australia may be assembling her warships in home waters for eventualities, instead of continuing to use them for patrols to deal with German naval vessels and raiders. Would Tie Up Ships

In short one purpose of creating the jitters is to make everybody rush to his defensive post, thereby preventing him from giving aid elsewhere. Jitters also detract from However, it must be emphasized

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

Opening-V K. This is the 11th of a series of 12 articles on the new bidding rules in the 1941 Culbertson Sys-

By Wm. E. McKenney America's Card Authority.

One change in the 1941 Culberton System is a minor one and will nardly be noticed by many players, but it brings the Culbertson System in line with recent bidding

The bidding situation shown in oday's hand is quite a frequent one. Under previous Culbertson ules, East was forced to make some id when North redoubled, unless East happened to have a very strong hand and wanted to play at the conract of one heart redoubled. The riginal reason for this rule was that years ago "psychic" redoubles were somewhat in vogue, and the only defense against them was to et the opponents be stuck with their redoubled contract every now and then, and suffer a heavy set. Psychic reduobles, however, like most psychic bids, have gone out of use and no defense against them is necessary nowadays.

If East had bid two diamonds over North's redouble, East-West would have gone down at least three tricks, or 88 points, wherever they happened to play the hand. East's pass gave West an oppor-tunity to bid two clubs, at which contract he went down only two. Nothing could prevent West's getting four club tricks and two spades. Deducting his 100 honors, West lost only 400 points net, which was all right, because North-South could have made game at no trump. If West had bid one spade he might have held the hand to a one-trick set, losing only 200 points.

Citizens Request Few Automobile Licenses

Demands for 1941 automobile license plates have been slow, the tax assessor-collector's office reported today.

Deputies said requests for special plate numbers were being filled, but irged citizens desiring them to apply soon. April 1 is the deadline for licens.

ing automobiles. Plates obtained now can be placed on vehicles Fees for special plates will benefit a museum fund.

CHAPTER VI

AS Kent turned to her in the sudden stopping of the car, something familiar rolled over the seat and into April's lap.

"Why, Nip," she choked, "whatever are you doing here?"

What Nip was doing right then protest because he'd been aroused from a nap in the rumble seat.

Kent began to laugh. It was the first time April had heard the sound from him and it did something to her. "Well, Nip, you old scoundrel-up to the same tricks all over again, aren't you?" he

"I'm sorry," April said. "He climbed in without me knowing. I'll turn back and park him."

"Park him, nothing. Nip's been with us where we're going today." He reached over to find Nip's head and patted it. And then his hand, somehow, tangled in April's fingers and before she could speak, he had lifted them to his lips.
