

Yugoslavs Fortify Vardar Valley Hundreds Of Soldiers Arrive In Midland

Hot Food Is Ready For Dusty Troops At Baseball Park

Work Of Erecting Tents Starts As Soon As Men Complete Luncheon "Is the grub ready?" That was the yell of almost 500 soldiers as they piled out of Army trucks at the Midland baseball park shortly after noon today for six weeks of maneuvers in the Midland area.

The column of more than 90 trucks rolled rapidly to the camp site, avoiding traffic congestion in the business district. Breakfast was served at 5:30 a. m., to the troops and they were ready for hot food after a dusty ride from San Angelo via Garden City.

Army field kitchens arrived in the city this morning and were quickly set up. When the trucks rolled in the food was ready. There was steaming hot ham, beef, potatoes, string beans and everything that goes for a complete meal.

Pitch Camp After eating, the work of pitching camp started. Canvas was hauled into the park and every man in uniform had a part to play in getting the camp in shape.

Major W. H. Papenfelt, in command of the battalion, was on the job in field uniform, directing all activities. He arrived here about an hour ahead of the motor column. Food and supplies had been purchased and there was no delay.

As trucks arrived at the ball park some one in each carrier sang out a "When do we eat?" or "Is the grub ready?" or "How about some chow?" to the mass attendants. Officers said a third battery in a week or ten days would join the two which arrived today. It also will come with trucks and full field equipment.

Six Bands For Parade Dust and dirt of the 530 mile trip will be cleaned from the army equipment and metal will be shining in time for the big Army Day parade here at 1:30 p. m. Monday. Six high school bands will be in the line of march with the anti-aircraft units from Camp Hulen.

Officers and enlisted men were loud in the praise of Midland hospitality and friendliness. They were anxious to cooperate with officials on all matters. "A" Batteries of the 211th and 197th Coast Artillery, anti-aircraft, plus a medical detachment and a special detail from the 69th Coast Artillery arrived today. The unit to follow is Battery "A" of the 203rd Coast Artillery.

Capt. G. W. Marquis, Jr., is in command of the unit. (See SOLDIERS, Page Six)

Military Police To Aid Officers Here In Handling Traffic

Military police of the anti-aircraft battalion which arrived today will assist Midland officers in handling traffic and policing the city during the big Army maneuvers here the next six weeks. The city council by resolution at a meeting early today gave Military Police authority to assist local officers in directing traffic and in handling crowds. Lieutenant Thomas L. Tempert said the Army unit will have an adequate staff of Military Police on duty at all times.

Yugoslavs Will Fight War In Hills True To Military Tradition Running Back Thousand Years

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, April 4—(AP)—If war engulfs Yugoslavia, it will be a mountain war with fierce guerrilla fighting the chief tactic of the defenders. Yugoslavia's peasant army of 1,200,000 men—outnumbered and out-gunned by Italy and Germany—believes one mountain is worth 10,000 soldiers. Thus this kingdom's real resistance would be in the hills, where the motorized and mechanized equipment of the Axis would be of restricted use. Rugged highlands criss-crossed by precipitous ranges make up four-fifths of Yugoslavia's 96,000 square-mile area, slightly less than that of the state of Oregon. Only one-fifth is level enough for Germany's famous blitzkrieg operations on wheels and the Yugoslav general staff has planned its strategy with that in mind. Long ago the Yugoslav generals, heirs to a fierce military tradition running back 1,000 years, laid plans in case of an attack by Italian and German armies. Yugoslavia's army would fight only a delaying battle in the northern sector. Earlier today the government announced that Belgrade, the Croat capital of Zagreb, and the Slovene capital of Ljubljana would not be defended. Belgrade is about 50 miles from Rumania, Zagreb about 50 miles from Hungary and Ljubljana about 20 miles from Italy and Germany. With Germany's mechanized divisions massed on the Yugoslav frontier in Rumania, Hungary and old Austria, the Yugoslav general staff expects those cities would be quickly captured.

FDR Allocates $500,000,000 For Aid To Britain

WASHINGTON, April 4—(AP)—President Roosevelt announced today he had allocated another $500,000,000 from the $7,000,000,000 lend-lease act for 212 new merchant ships and about 50 or 60 new shipways. He told a press conference he also had authorized expenditure of another $500,000,000 for existing military equipment to be turned over to nations resisting aggression. At the same time the President disclosed that if no fighting is taking place in the Red Sea the United States government might remove that area from listing as a combat zone and permit American vessels to carry cargoes there.

Previously Mr. Roosevelt had announced allocation of $1,080,000,000 of the $7,000,000,000 aid appropriation for nations resisting aggression. Mr. Roosevelt did not say whether the new merchant ships and new shipways would be solely for the aid program or whether they would be used in with domestic defense efforts. In addition the President said he was considering allocating another $1,500,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 for lend-lease aid.

Rejection Is Answer To Vessel Seizure Protests

WASHINGTON, April 4—(AP)—President Roosevelt pinned responsibility for widespread sabotage directly on the Italian naval attaché today, and Secretary Hull curtly rejected Axis protests against American seizure of 30 German and Italian ships. It seems to have been proven, Mr. Roosevelt told his press conference, that a great deal of sabotage of Italian merchantmen was demanded yesterday. Asked to comment on this demand, the President said the newspapers had all the facts. He then added that the sabotage was of course illegal and only one course was open. In rejecting the protests, Hull dismissed Germany's conception of treaty obligations in the seizures as "unthinkable" for "any civilized nation."

No Information The state department chief, in notes to the German and Italian embassies, also declined an Italian request for information as to what was to become of the ships and their crews—in all 875 men and 30 vessels. He merely told the embassy that appropriate authorities were considering this and that action would be determined in the light of the law and the pertinent facts. The ships were taken into custody under an anti-sabotage law and Germany had protested that this violated both international law and a German-American treaty.

The youth, who told Camp County Attorney Aubrey Robinson he was from a small community near Pittsburg, Texas, declared he had struck Moje several times on the head with a tire tool.

Councilmen Seek Best Qualified Man For Chief

Roettger, McHargue And Sealy Form Commission For Police Department Qualifications of men suggested for the position of police chief of Midland were investigated thoroughly today by the city council which hopes to announce its appointee for the office within a few days. The council convened at 6 a. m. today to begin its work and for two hours studied qualifications of various men. More than 30 men have applied for the position and the council also discussed men who have not sought the place. Councilmen met again at 10 a. m. and for another hour discussed the problem. Names Commission Councilmen Tom Sealy, Paul McHargue and D. H. Roettger were appointed members of a police commission to supervise activities of the new department. Mayor M. C. Ulmer said he wants the new chief to take complete charge April 15 and give Midland a police department. To permit further checking, the councilmen adjourned, subject to call on short notice. All agreed that Midland would be given an efficient and competent police department, but no indication of the probable personnel came from the officials. They adopted a resolution giving Military Police of the anti-aircraft battalion which arrived today authority to regulate traffic and work with local officers during its six weeks maneuvers in Midland and vicinity. The number of men to be placed on the new department was not determined, several councilmen asserting they want to discuss such matters first with the chief. However, several agreed that a department headquarters should be opened and a man kept on duty 24 hours a day to handle emergency calls.

Behind The Headlines

By DeWitt MacKenzie Associated Press Staff Writer. The way things stand today in the Balkans, if Herr Hitler attacks Yugoslavia it will mean that he finally feels compelled to embark on a major operation instead of the comparatively restricted offensive originally contemplated in an assault on little Greece. One of the biggest battles the Nazi chief has waged thus far has been to avoid just such a major engagement on the peninsula, since it would be bound to open up a new big war front against him. Now his hand has been forced. If and when he strikes at Yugoslavia, it will be with the full knowledge that it will be almost impossible to avoid a general Balkan conflagration. This might become the main land operation of the war, and any event would compel him to undertake a fresh military task at a moment when he needs all his resources for his blitzkrieg against the British Isles.

MacKenzie

A Fight To Death. Each day adds to the probability that the Yugoslavs will fight to the death to protect their independence. The biggest news since young King Peter took lead of the government that defied Hitler came yesterday in the announcement that Valdimir Macek, leader of the Croat Auto-nomists, had decided to bury the hatchet with the Serbs and become vice-premier of the government. The bitter strife between these two well-nigh irreconcilable groups with Yugoslavia was being exploited by the Axis in hopes that the country might be so far divided against itself as to fall. Now that chance has been vastly reduced. The press campaign in Germany against Yugoslavia is getting hot, and bears all the earmarks of previous propaganda which has been the forerunner of invasion. Still, the Fuehrer's intentions can't be gauged by this.

Balkan Troop Necessity. One would expect Hitler to be rushing more troops and equipment to the Balkans if he contemplates this major offensive. He is supposed to have had between 500,000 and 600,000 effectives in Rumania and Bulgaria for the drive against Greece. He needs more than that for the present situation. Should the Turks decide to come in with the Yugoslavs, the Germans would be up against a combined Allied force—Yugoslavs, Turks, Greeks and British—of some five and a quarter million, with large reserves to draw upon. Hitler must figure on that possibility. The German operations presumably would be conducted on the lines of two possibilities. One would be the throwing back of the Turks and the confining of the conflict to the peninsula. The other would be an all-out smash against the Dardanelles, with the idea of forcing them and driving through the Thrace Bregas area of Tripolitania during the night of April 2-3, the RAF communique said.

State Calls More Citizens To Take Up Arms For War

Cabinet Meets Saturday To Reach Decision On "War Or Peace" Policy. By The Associated Press. Yugoslavia's general staff rushed fortification of the Vardar River valley—key route to Greece—and called more men to the colors today as a cabinet session to consider the nation's "war or peace" declaration of foreign policy was postponed. No decision apparently had been reached, but the country was prepared for the worst under the fighting slogan "one mountain is worth 10,000 soldiers." The cabinet's verdict, it was said, would probably be made tomorrow. Military experts of the Balkan kingdom—which is roughly the size of Oregon and criss-crossed by lofty ranges—said only about one-fifth of the country was level enough to permit Germany's famed blitzkrieg operations on wheels. A Yugoslav communique said Belgrade, Zagreb and Ljubljana would be proclaimed "open and undefended cities" in the event of war. Troops To Key Points. Troops were rushed to key points opposite German concentrations in Austria, Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria. Air raid precautions were issued, blackout drills held, and civilians were forbidden to travel so as not to clog communications needed by the military. A German view was expressed in Berlin that the price of restoring normal relations would be complete repudiation of Yugoslavia of American and British influence. Possibly significant was the German press announcement that the Nazi occupation of Bulgaria was complete and rising denunciations of alleged Yugoslav atrocities against Germans. Italian diplomats apparently without success tried to heal the breach between Yugoslavia and Germany. Axis operations against the Yugoslavs undoubtedly would imperil the Italian troops now heavily engaged with the Greeks in Albania to the west.

RAF Hits Hard In North Africa

CAIRO, Egypt, April 4—(AP)—The RAF struck back fiercely at German and Italian forces moving up the Mediterranean Coast in Libya, Italian North Africa, the Middle East headquarters said today. The Axis' mechanized force, estimated at two divisions or about 20,000 men, had driven the British back 180 miles from the most advanced point of the British invasion of Libya, when the RAF struck. "Bomber aircraft of the RAF made a heavy attack on enemy motor transport convoys in the Mersa Brega area of Tripolitania during the night of April 2-3," the RAF communique said. The men were Roy Jackson Terry, Binnie Alvis Cogburn, Joe Chester McQueen, George Thomas Gates, and Lee Osborn Robey. They left Midland Tuesday. No questionnaires will be mailed this week. Nine physical examinations have been given. The board expects another April call soon.

British Fliers Raid Battleships At Brest, Oil Tanks And Docks

LONDON, April 4—(AP)—Strong British air force units last night bombed the French port of Brest, where the German battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau are sheltering, and also attacked oil tanks at Rotterdam and docks at Ostend, the air ministry reported today. The operation cost the British four planes, a communique said. Poor visibility made it difficult for pilots to ascertain the results of the raid on the Brest naval base, "but heavy bombs were seen to fall across the drydock and several fires were started in the port," the bulletin added. German warplanes, meanwhile, directed a four-hour assault on a town in the west of England, where a communique said a number of fires were started but extinguished before the raid ended. (The town apparently was Bristol, attacked many times previously.)

AUSTIN, April 4—(AP)—A move to reconsider recent action of the House of Representatives in side-tracking a $26,800,000 social security appropriation bill submitted by Gov. W. Rep. Earl Huddleston of Ogleby, who made the motion, said the proposition of bringing the bill up again were making gains, and he probably would renew the motion in the near future. In radio addresses, Governor O'Daniel has asked voters to deluge their representatives with letters urging reconsideration. A resolution requesting Congressman Martin Dies to give the regents of the University of Texas a transcript of a Dies committee investigation at the school was introduced by Rep. G. C. Morris of Greenville but not acted on finally due to expiration of the period for considering resolutions.

Roosevelt Declares Strike At Milwaukee Must Be Terminated

By The Associated Press. President Roosevelt termed the Allis-Chalmers strike at Milwaukee today as a very bad situation and said that something has got to be done about it. He replied in the affirmative when asked, at his press conference in Washington, whether there was any Communist activity in the strike, which has impeded vital defense orders. Meanwhile, attorneys for striking CIO unionists who have closed the Ford Motor Company's Rouge plant obtained subpoenas for Henry and Edsel Ford this morning in a move to combat a federal restraining order obtained by the company. The court order forbade members of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) and of the CIO from interfering with Ford employees entering or leaving the plant. The chief of the U. S. conciliation service demanded today that the nation's soft coal mines be reopened by Monday. The Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company plant at West Allis, Wis., remained closed by a strike, now in its eleventh week.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

SOME PARENTS BY THEIR EXAMPLE SEND THEIR SONS AWAY. BUT FOLLOW THIS GOOD EXAMPLE: Master I have brought unto thee my son.—Mark 9:17.

We Are Not At War, And May Not Be

It is not a time to assume, as some impulsively do assume, that the United States now is practically at war, what with the Lend-Lease Act and the seizure of European shipping in American ports.

We are not neutral in the sense that was understood toward the end of the last and the beginning of this century. At that time, an idea of neutrality began to be built up which meant a rigid impartiality to both sides in a war amounting to indifference.

But Attorney General Robert H. Jackson set before the Inter-American Bar Association at Havana the manner in which the concept of neutrality has changed.

This original concept of neutrality was not one of indifference or even of rigid impartiality. This legalistic idea grew up in the late 19th century, the idea that once a war was started, the world was somehow bound to pass no judgment on which side was right, but to treat both precisely the same.

The years from 1930 to 1940 were a fine demonstration of the folly of such a view of neutrality. Had the League of Nations been able to put effective pressure on Italy, or on Japan, much that has happened might not have happened.

At any rate, the world has found that it cannot afford to be indifferent when the world's peace is broken by any nation. We all feel the effects of that violation—in fact, Jackson scarcely exaggerated when he said that any aggressive war today is "a civil war against the international community."

Today, any major war affects every country in the world. It is idle and unrealistic for neutrals to pretend disinterest. And until the time comes when a potential aggressor is restrained by the thought that he will find the whole neutral world against him, either actively or passively, there will be small chance that aggressive wars will cease.

We do not approve military aggression. While neutral, we propose to help victims of aggression, and help them effectively. It is not war as we see it. It may, admittedly, lead to war. That is the risk we take, but unless some are willing to take it, there is no road to a world free of the constant overhanging fear of aggression.

America's Card Authority.

At the executive committee meeting of the American Contract Bridge League held during the Eastern championships, the committee decided to hold the Eastern States mixed team-of-four championship as a separate event some time during May or June, and to use the profits for the league's British American Ambulance Corps fund. On March 1 the league started a national campaign to conduct bridge games and tournaments throughout the country for the British Ambulance fund.

The team-of-four title is now held by Mr. and Mrs. George J. Kennedy, Mrs. Stuyvesant Walnwright and Walter Malowan. This year they will defend their title against the largest field ever to enter a bridge tournament.

Today's hands caused a large "swing" in a team match. The bidding at one table is shown. Four spades was of course a lay-down, declarer having to lose only two hearts and the ace of clubs.

At the other table, East-West similarly ventured to four hearts, but here the opponents doubled. North opened the ace of spades. After seeing dummy, North foolishly decided to try for a diamond ruff, so he led his singleton. South could do no better than take his ace and return a low diamond for North to ruff. North then led a club.

On getting in with the ace of clubs, declarer took two rounds of trumps, hailing out the opponents. Then he cashed in his queen of diamonds, ruffed a spade with dummy's last trump, and gathered two more diamonds on which to discard his last spade and club. Three trumps gave him his contract of four hearts doubled, and his team scored a plus of 1360 on the board.

SERIAL STORY

DOLLARS TO DOUGHNUTS

BY EDITH ELLINGTON

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Toby refuses to let Anthony mope in defeat. They plan a party, discover that Toby is much in love with a clerk in the comptroller's office. They go to a show, sit in the balcony, then to a dance hall. Bee is delighted with the sincerity and fun. She begs Anthony to dance.

LOVE ON DIMES

CHAPTER XXIII
THE orchestra was a famous "Big Name" band, and when you danced to their music, you understood exactly why. Beatrice had danced until she was breathless. She had danced with Anthony, of course. But she had danced with Terry, too, and with Sam McArdle, and with a dark-eyed lad who had come whooping to their table when he glimpsed Vera.

"Our production assistant, at Simon's," Vera explained. "She means goat and burden bearer," said the boy. "May I bring my girl over?" He brought her over. She was a stenographer and pretty. She danced with Anthony, and Beatrice danced with her boy-friend. But they went back where they belonged afterward, and Beatrice remembered the night she had taken Clarence away from Mimi Frothingham and felt a new and puzzling shame.

Toby devoured sandwiches and Terry kept going back to bring more drinks. Anthony held Beatrice's hand, under the table, every chance he got, and pried her with food.

Vera teased Sam McArdle. "So you work with figures. How strange. So do I. My own figure. Hey, hey, wait a minute, don't blush! I was only trying to be cute!"

Once Anthony clutched Beatrice and whispered, "There goes a Budge Fashion or I'm blind."

"With the wrong accessories," said Beatrice.

But that was bad, because it made him remember.

THERE was no terrace to which they could wander, but they managed to be satisfyingly alone in that crowded, noisy place just the same. Vera and Terry went back for more food, and Toby dragged

Sam McArdle off into a corner. "You really like this?" Anthony asked. "I keep thinking you ought to be in Twenty-One. Or El Morocco. Or the Rainbow Room. Not that they'd let me in."

"Of course they'd let you in! Don't be silly! You'd be an ornament."

"You're so beautiful, Bee. I like the way your nose turns up. And your mouth's so tender."

"Just made for kisses, I suppose," she jeered. "Go ahead, if you want to."

"I always want to."

"Especially on sidewalks, and in a crowd, and just anywhere like that, where it's so suitable!"

"Then you should stop looking so lovely! Oh, Bee, every time I look at you, you've grown more beautiful." He stooped and kissed her forehead, tenderly. "That's my mark. You belong to me."

"I feel it burning," she whispered. "Like a star on my forehead."

A girl passing by glanced at them quizzically. "Ain't love grand," she murmured to the man behind her.

Defiantly, Anthony kissed Beatrice again.

"I ought to die of shame," she thought. "But I love him so. I want to shout it from the rooftops. I love him. He's mine."

Where was the controlled, poised Beatrice now? Where was the self-assured, queenly girl who could sail into the most exclusive night club and make the head-waiter quail? Where was the girl who had wanted Clarence as she might want a new toy?

"Bee, will you mind waiting? It may be a year—it may be two years, or three..." Now Anthony was gloomy. "You'll get tired. You'll meet someone else. Oh, darling, I couldn't bear it if that happened! Look here, promise me you'll never look at another man."

"Build a fence around me," she teased. "Put blinders on me."

"Don't," he groaned. "I love you so, and when will we be able to get married? We'll be old and gray before Huntington's pays me enough!"

She smiled secretly. "Here come Toby and her Sam. Look cheerful!"

AT 1:30, Vera announced reluctantly that she had to leave. "Us professional beauties," she said, lifting her chin and looking down her nose, "must make such sacrifices for our art!"

Toby said, "I don't want to go home. Sam, it's been such a swell party! I hate for it to end."

"We'll have other parties," he said quietly. And somehow, Beatrice realized, it had all been settled. Right there.

Anthony held her coat as if it were the mink he'd never seen. A thought struck her, and she clapped her hand to her mouth. Why, she'd forgotten all about it! She'd left it there in the parlor locker and they must have cleaned that out weeks ago!

"What hit you?" Anthony asked. "Remember something?"

"Yes. I—I think I left something in the lounge." She scurried off and came right back. That coat bore a label. But perhaps someone had appropriated it. She hoped someone had.

TERRY insisted on singing in the subway. The other passengers didn't mind, so Terry warbled in a pretty fair tenor.

Anthony and Beatrice sat close together, without talking. Her eyes were heavy. She tried to keep her head from sliding down to his shoulder and finally gave it up. The subway was so broad-minded! And she was so tired!

Anthony's gentle shaking awakened her. "We're almost there, Bee. Wake up!"

She stirred sleepily, and struggled to open her eyes. Then suddenly she was blinking in the light, and across the aisle, something was vaguely familiar. A man, reading a tabloid. She frowned. She was still sleepy.

Anthony rose, and helped her to her feet. All at once, she looked again. The tabloid! Why, that was her own picture, staring her in the face!

"For heaven's sake!" cried Toby Masters, shrilly. "Look at that!"

Hall Can Go

Fast and shifty, Ivan (Lizard) Hall, lettered back, is a good bet to make the 1941 starting secondary for Midland High School. Hall has been outstanding in running, passing, and blocking in spring training.

Wood Goes Into Lead And Makes Big Effort To Win Masters Meet

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 4—(AP)—Old Mr. Runner-up of golf, Blond Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N. Y., took a putter today and set out to murder his historic wheeze about being ever a bridesmaid but never a bride.

Craig had to live with that one for eight years—ever since Denny Shute tied him in the 1933 British Open and then took the play off. He heard it in 1934, when Horton Smith beat him out in the Augusta Masters' by a stroke. And in 1935 when Gene Sarazen sank a double eagle to tie him—and won the play off.

But today was Wood's day in the 1941 Masters' tournament. Playing near faultless golf from tee to pin, the winged foot professional took a sensational 66 in yesterday's opening round of the $5,000 event, six under par and five strokes better than the form-players' favorites—Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson and Lawson Little. Going into the second round this afternoon, it was a margin which only equally sensational playing, or a complete blowup by Brother Wood, could overcome.

Wood made his 66 the hard way rounding the first nine of the Augusta National course in 32—four under par—against the gusty buffeting of a stiff northeaster. Then he played the back nine almost nonchalantly in 34.

Big Spring Golfers To Play Here Sunday

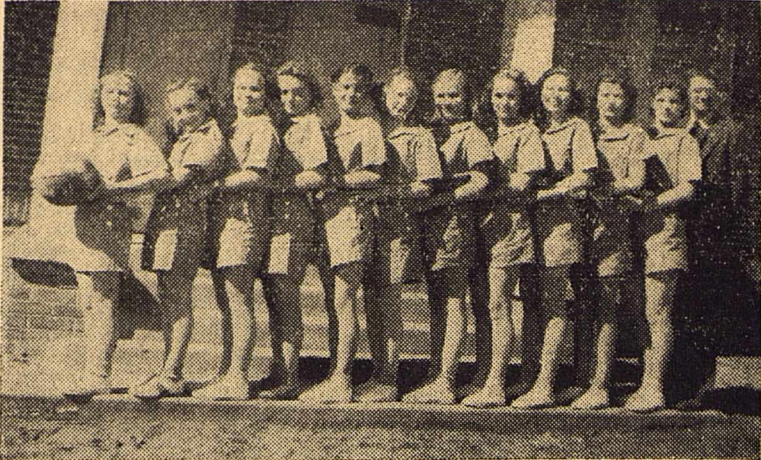

Charles Akey, Big Spring pro, will bring a team of 30 golfers here Sunday for matches with Midland golfers over the Country Club course. Match play will begin at 1 p. m. The matches are a return engagement with Big Spring, who beat Midland three weeks ago.

MIDLAND WOMEN TO MAKE TRIP EAST

Mrs. Clara Hood Regel and Mrs. N. A. Lancaster will leave tonight for Washington, D. C., and New York. The trip will include both business and pleasure as Mrs. Regel plans to interview individuals in the two cities. Various social activities will occupy much time of the Midland women.

The two plan to be away between three and four weeks. They will travel by train.

Valley View Girls Are Good Athletes

These eleven girls (above) from Valley View gave their school first place in basketball in Midland County; second in an invitational tournament at Midland; first in county volleyball; first in county playground ball; junior girls county tennis championship; and junior girls county doubles championship. Left to right they are: Louise Synatsch, Maxine Eckert, Wilma Smith, Dora Jeanne Redings, Larena Brooks, Dortha Dale, Joyce Beasley, Doris Smith, Yvonne Fain, Mary Lou Smith, and Imogene Johnson. Coach J. W. Campbell is shown.

Bulldog Players Practice Hard In First Scrimmage

Midland high's Bulldogs topped off a "rock-em socke-em" drill yesterday with scrimmage. The practice was the fourth session since Monday and the 1941 footballers haven't let up a minute.

After Coach Earle Clark's charges banged away at each other in a lengthy dummy scrimmage on passing and running offense, they went into a brisk "all out" scrimmage.

There is no "first" team yet. But Clark picked out 11 Bulldogs and told them to go against a picked defense. Bill Richards, Leonard Shepherd and Ivan Hall went. They completed passes and tore off long gains. Wilford Lester caught passes and turned in dead gallops.

Blat Into Offensive On the defense, "Docie" Foster and Wayne Ramsey blasted into the offensive eleven without relenting. Foster was shifted to the first bunch soon after the scrimmage started. Ramsey never quit and still was banging when the session was over.

Doing line duty for Hall, Shepherd, Richards, and Robert Wheeler were Buddy Davidson and Lester, ends; Jack Noyes, center; Pete Lee and Selman Cooke, tackles; and J. W. Leftwich and Marshall Whitmire, guards.

More Of Same Today Junior Bird, Gordon Watson, Calvin Campbell, Jimmie Watson, Stephens, Byerley, and others took part in the drill.

Hall displayed fine broken field running in the clinic. Richards appears to be the best pass tosser. Lester and Davidson can catch them, and Wheeler and Hall can block. Lee and Leftwich are rugged linemen. Foster, a letterman, looks good for a starting slot.

More formations and fundamental drills will be dished out today, Clark indicated. Julius Johnson is assisting. Twenty-six men were in uniform yesterday.

Soldiers . . .

command of the 211th and First Lieutenant Francis B. McSwiney commands the 197th. Captain C. A. Stuckey head the 203rd. Capt. H. J. Kaplan, a Texan, is in charge of the medical detachment.

The soldiers left Camp Hulen at Palacios, Texas, Wednesday, spent the first night in bivouac at Dodd Field, San Antonio, and camped in San Angelo last night.

Two bombers will arrive here Monday, April 7, for the maneuvers. Chamber of Commerce officials, highway patrolmen and city police met the Army column on the highway and escorted the troops to Midland.

Most of the motor equipment of the battalion has been in use only a short time and is the latest type manufactured for the Army.

Sports Roundup

By Eddie Brietz NEW YORK, April 4—(AP)—Mutual, which takes over Mike Jacob's fight broadcasts effective June 1, has 200 applications for the announcer's job. Here's a real loud yab for the incomparable Sam Taub . . . Washington is trying to get Frankie Crosetti from the Yanks, but Joe McCarthy isn't interested. Joe isn't quite so sold on Rizzuto and Priddy as a lot of folks would have you believe. So Crosetti will stay as insurance—if nothing else . . . Warren C. Giles, general manager of the Reds, says they fear the Cardinals more than the Dodgers—and there's a tip for you plungers.

Fight Tip Lou Nova ought to whip Max Baer again tonight. That is, if he isn't bull headed and fails to follow instructions . . . Nova is the most stubborn fighter in the game. He was lucky to beat Max the last time . . . If he'll stay in close and jab, he'll get a decision . . . Baer needs plenty of room to wind-up . . . Last time Nova disregarded orders and went in to slug . . . He won, but he was plenty lucky.

Sports Bulletin Board Max Baer and Lou Nova will guest star on Eddie Cantor's program next Wednesday night. Eddie is putting up a purse of $1,000, the winner of tonight's fight getting 75 percent and the loser the rest . . . Is that Kozar, the former golf trick shot artist, behind a hamburger stand in Corsicana, Tex? . . . When his boxing days are over, Lou Nova will operate a health clinic with the Yogi treatment featured, of course . . . In addition to broadcasting the Dodgers' games, Red Barber has signed to do a 15-minute daily hitch for a beer concern, starting Monday . . . Denny Myers opened spring football practice at Boston College with a crowded gallery—of old grads.

Today's Guest Star Nixon Denton, Cincinnati Times-Star—The rooster has a right to crow. He never lays an egg, you know.

Sports Cocktail One of the sharper racing minds of Broadway is touting "Attention" as the colt to bet on in the Kentucky derby . . . San Diego is trying to lure the Washington Redskins away from Spokane, Wash., for this year's training . . . Jack Doyle's Billiard Academy, which used to be headquarters at the cross roads of the world (Broadway and 42nd street), has moved to an uptown spot opposite Radio City . . . We pick Byron Nelson to win the Masters' tournament . . . Henry Armstrong will debut as a band leader here at a dinner for Dick Curley, old time fight manager, April 20.

Wait And See Harold (Spike) Claassen, the AP's demon sports editor at Kansas City, already has written his "lead" for the Louis-Musto fight Tuesday . . . "It must be something he ate."

Ho Hum Having learned to spell Anton Christofordis, boxing writers now must warm up on George Giambastiani, Pacific Coast heavyweight, who is headed East.
