Lindbergh's Resignation Receives Acceptance

Secretary Wonders If Air Officer Returned Decoration Of Hitler

By The Associated Press WASHINGTON, April 29.—The War Department announced today that Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's resignation as a reserve air corps officer had been accepted.

The famous flier had written President Roosevelt he was tendering his resignation because the President's comments on him at a press conference last Friday left "no honorable alternative."

While it has been the War Department's policy not to accept resignations from reserve officers during the emergency period, Secretary Stimson possessed discretionary power to act favorably or unfavorably on it.

In the conference the president compared the flier and other persons who predicted defeat of Britain by Germany to the copperheads of the Civil War. The term was applied to Northerners who believed the Union Army incapable of victory.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, commented that Lindbergh's resignation "leads me to wonder if he is returning his decoration to Mr. Hitler."

Early referred to an honorary award for service to aviation given Lindbergh on a visit to Germany several years ago.

The White House official also was sharp-spoken in saying that Lindbergh had released a letter to President Roosevelt for publication before it was received at the White House. Twice, he said, Lindbergh has followed that procedure.

Lindbergh gave out the letter yesterday in New York, notifying the president of implications which he said the chief executive had made concerning his loyalty, character and motives.

Churchill Vetoes New War Cabinet

LONDON, April 29.—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill turned down flatly today a suggestion that he form a streamlined supreme war cabinet and he announced that full dress war debate would be held in the House of Commons next week.

The House greeted with loud cheers Churchill's announcement that it would be offered the following motion for debate:

"That this House approves the policy of the government in sending help to Greece and declares its confidence that our operations in the Middle East and all other theaters of war will be pursued by the government with the utmost vigor."

AUSTIN, Tex., April 29.—(AP)—Thomas B. Love of Dallas informed Governor W. Lee O'Daniel today that he could not accept appointment as a member of the state Liquor Control Board.

The announcement was announced and confirmation by the senate requested yesterday by the governor.

Love told the governor he was profoundly grateful for the honor and the call to public service but deeply regretted he was not able to give the time and attention which the position, because of its importance, required.

Nation's Soft Coal Workers Will Go Back To Jobs Thursday After Long Wage Fight

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(AP)—The United Mine Workers Union announced today that soft coal production would be resumed Thursday morning in the nation's bituminous fields shut down since April 1 in a dispute over a new wage contract.

The announcement was made by a spokesman for Union President John L. Lewis after he had discussed with his district presidents in the Appalachian coal area the decision of Southern producers last night to accept President Roosevelt's proposal to reopen the mines.

The union said it had received the notice from L. Ebersole Gaines, chairman of the Southern producers' group, that the latter was willing to negotiate a new two-year agreement with the miners' union to be made retroactive to the date of resumption of coal production.

The Southern operators unexpectedly agreed to a $1-a-day wage boost pending the final contract settlement.

Union officials said the reopening of the mines was scheduled for Thursday instead of Wednesday because Thursday is the beginning of a payroll period in the mines.

The end of the month-old deadlock was buoyant news to worried defense officials, for it promised speedy replenishment of the dwindling fuel supplies which threatened to cause major curtailment of arms production in vital defense plants.

Abell Flush Producer Tanks 342 In 5 Hours; Another Tops Pay Sand

By Frank Gardner Oil Editor

The Abell Ordovician pool of Northern Peecos County continued today to rate top interest as a new flush producer was gauged at natural flow of 342 barrels in five hours and another test topped the Simpson pay sand.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 V. W. Crockett, which yesterday flowed 180 barrels, part circulating in 30 minutes through casing with drillpipe in the hole, ran 2-inch tubing after flow was killed with mud. Operators then displaced mud with water and water with oil. The well started flowing through casing into pits, recovering most of the circulating oil. It was turned into tanks at 10 p.m. last night and flowed 100 barrels in two hours, recovering the remainder of circulating oil. The well then flowed through 1-inch choke on tubing a total of 342 barrels of fresh high-gravity oil in five hours ending at 5 a.m. today. Casing pressure was 400 pounds and tubing pressure 200. It made 70 barrels the first hour, 72 the second, 66 the third, 64 the fourth and 70 the fifth. No. 1 Crockett is located in section 4 1/2, block 3, H.&G. survey, one-half mile due north of the pool opener, and topped pay sand of the Simpson, middle Ordovician, at 5,298-99 feet. Total depth is 5,335 feet.

Magnolia No. 1-B Markey Heirs, diagonal northwest offset to the discovery, cored from 5,350-64 and from 5,364-80 feet. All of cores were shale and lime except the last two feet, which were only sand. Operators have called top of the pay sand at 5,378 feet and are reaming core hole preparatory to setting oil-string of casing.

George T. Abell et al No. 1 E. J. Rixse, one mile northeast of the discovery, is drilling in lime at 4,565 feet. Sinclair-Prairie Oil Company No. 1 Rosa R. Daley, north offset to Magnolia No. 1 Crockett, is drilling at 4,716 feet in basal Permian lime.

Police Department Will Install Light For Cruiser Signal

The police department announced today it would be fully equipped to tomorrow with signal lights for patrolmen and installation of a telephone at police headquarters in the city hall.

Signal lights will be installed on top of the Petroleum Building.

Chief L. F. McCasland urged parents of children riding bicycles to caution them in observing traffic regulations. "Bicycle riders must observe traffic lights the same as automobiles," he declared.

The chief pointed out that motorists and "cyclists" making a right turn on a red light must come to a complete stop regardless of the condition of traffic and wait on pedestrians before executing the turn.

Children must not ride fenders and running boards of automobile, McCasland said.

The department is keeping a vigilant watch in traffic violations. A Midland man was arrested, placed in jail yesterday and fined for speeding today in city court.

Officers said he struck a gasoline pump at a filling station and was speeding.

House Demands Investigation Of Institutions

AUSTIN, April 29.—(AP)—By an overwhelming vote, the Texas House today ordered an investigation of the state's eleemosynary institutions, directing a five-man committee to give special attention to asserted mistreatment of inmates.

A resolution by Rep. John E. Lyle of Corpus Christi, authorizing the committee to study conditions at the 21 institutions scattered about the state, was approved 123 to 13.

The committee would be headed by Rep. M. A. Bundy of Wichita Falls, chairman of the standing committee on Eleemosynary institutions. It was authorized to spend a maximum of $2,500.

Climaxing grueling days of labor and feverish debate, the Senate late yesterday passed finally an omnibus tax bill estimated to yield approximately $23,000,000 annually.

Two Possible Courses. Recently the House of Representatives approved a similar measure expected to provide about $25,500,000.

Since both legislative branches had passed a bill, two courses remained by which it could become law.

The House could accept the Senate measure, which was in the form of an amendment to the House bill; or it could refuse to accept the Senate bill and request a conference committee, which would be granted.

The conference committee would work out a compromise, which, if approved by both houses and signed by the governor, would be law.

The bill allotted an additional $11,500,000 yearly to the old age assistance fund, $6,000,000 more each year to the deficit-ridden general fund, $3,100,000 annually for teacher retirement, $400,000 for aid to needy blind, and $1,500,000 for dependent children. New money was also earmarked for other state funds.

Make Plans For W. T. C. Of C. Meet

Directors of the Midland Chamber of Commerce last night endorsed plans of its convention committee for the city's participation in the annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Mineral Wells, May 15-16.

Midland is seeking the 1942 convention of the organization and plans an aggressive campaign to bring it here.

The convention committee report was submitted by H. B. Fox and John P. Butler, co-chairmen. The committee worked out its plans yesterday.

To further Midland's bid for the 1942 West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention, an effort will be made to send a delegation of between 50 and 100 Midland citizens to the Mineral Wells convention. An advance delegation will leave on May 14. Others will follow next day. Convention registration badges will be received here this week and will be placed on sale immediately. The registration fee is $1.

Will Have Sponsor. Because of the distance involved, it is unlikely that the Midland high school band will be asked to make the trip. However, a musical unit to furnish entertainment in hotel lobbies and elsewhere will be taken to the session. A Midland sponsor also will be presented in the Queen's Review on May 15.

One thousand "Midland Next" badges have been ordered to be used at Mineral Wells. Convention banners will be placed in Mineral Wells hotel lobbies.

Members of the conventions committee will direct the fight to bring the 1942 convention to this city. Waco is asking for the next year's meeting also.

The conventions committee is composed of Butler and Fox, Blundy Bridwell, J. B. Crain, Dan Hudson, Wilburn Page, Tom Wingo, W. A. Yeager, Ralph Geisler, Roy McKee, W. W. Phillips, Clint Dunagan, and Charles A. McCintic.

French Coast Guns Blast Across Water

Throws Heaviest Attack At Peppared Section But British Strike Back And Royal Air Force Hurries To Trouble And Bombs Emplacements

By The Associated Press DOVER, April 29.—For nearly six hours today German guns on the French coast shelled the Dover area—the heaviest such cross-channel action of the war and the sort to be expected with any invasion attempt.

(Berlin reported a speedboat attack on that section of the English coast, apparently timed to coincide with the shelling.)

British guns replied, making it a mammoth duel across some 20 miles of water, and the RAF dived out to blast at the Nazi emplacements.

The British Press Association reported at 3:59 p.m. (9:59 a.m. EST) that the shelling had stopped and added that damage to that southeastern corner of England—long known as "hell's corner"—was negligible, confined to cottages.

After the Germans had fired single shells for three hours they stepped up the barrage, using four guns and six gun salves at intervals of about three minutes, then narrowed the time to one minute.

Calais Batteries At Work. Flashes and columns of smoke spiraling upward across the sunlit channel showed the Germans' Calais batteries were delivering the attack. Calais is about 21 miles across the channel from Dover.

The shelling continued without let-up after it had been in progress for nearly four hours. The last previous heaviest daylight bombardment of Dover was last fall.

The German shelling had been in progress nearly two hours at 10 a.m. (4 a.m. EST).

The bombardment developed into the most sustained cross-channel shelling so far this year.

All entrances into Dover were marked by yellow notice boards bearing the warning: "Shelling in progress—take cover."

Most of the German shells were of a high explosive type which burst in mid-air with terrific flashes, scattering heavy metal splinters on a wide area with each burst.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

THE MIGHTIEST TRANSFORMING POWER IS THAT OF FAITH: But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name.—John 1:12.

Closing The North Door

The naval and military defense plan is now complete on which Canada and the United States have worked for six months or more. That is the official announcement of the joint defense board.

It is good news—heartening news. From the uttermost end of the Alaskan archipelagos to Greenland there is a back door, or a series of back doors to North America. The interests of Canada and the United States in locking and double-barring those doors is mutual. Together they have settled now on plans to it.

To undertake jointly, to agree mutually, on how to do it was the first step. That has been taken. Now let no material thing stand in the way of translating those agreements into physical establishments which will cause any power or any combination of powers to hesitate a long time before attempting to violate the Western Hemisphere.

Bill Of Duties

Vice President Wallace has suggested that somebody ought to write a Bill of Duties for the United States to balance the Bill of Rights. It's a good idea. We are quite right in deciding that even the defense drive must be carried on without sacrificing hard-won rights. But citizenship in a democracy, and especially citizenship in this free republic, also implies duties. The more we accept as a matter of duty, the less likely it is that any great cry will arise for infringement or curtailment of rights.

Sometimes there is conflict between the two. A few—a very few, it should be said—have argued that the draft was an infringement of their rights. But the overwhelming majority sensed and felt immediately that here was a matter of duty.

Keep the rights, yes, by all means! But they can be kept only by holding equally firmly to the duties.

Another Exiled King

Young King Peter of Yugoslavia joins the procession of kings who have been forced to flee their own lands since the Nazi military machine was unleashed a year and a half ago.

Strange symbolism, the young Peter has chosen Jerusalem as his place of refuge, Jerusalem, that ancient city to which came another once who proclaimed himself a King.

Brief indeed was the kingship of young Peter of Yugoslavia. A few short weeks, and it was over. Yet for even those brief weeks, Peter sought to preserve the independence of his country. And many a king has ruled longer and left behind him a record less admirable; Boris of Bulgaria and Carol of Rumania come quickly to mind. So young a king as Peter has many years before him. He may yet see much that is hidden behind the smoke of battle.

It Costs To Serve

William McChesney Martin, president of the New York Stock Exchange, took a salary cut of $3979 a month when he went into the army. That's the difference between his Wall Street salary and the $21 a month he will draw as a recruit.

It is quite a sacrifice. It is spectacular in terms of money, and thus it draws attention.

But it is not greater sacrifice, perhaps it is not as great as the sacrifice which many other men are making who never drew down in a year the salary which Martin drew every month. Sacrifice is not measured in terms of money, and many others are giving up quite as much in terms of their dependents, their careers, and their lives as Martin.

All credit to Martin, of course, for accepting willingly what has come to him. But it would be ungracious to stress Martin's sacrifice unduly, when it is no greater than that of almost every other man who joins the colors. All honor to every one of them!

Ye Of Little Faith

As always, it is the simple, humble people who come to bat when freedom is threatened. We wish every person we have heard recently muttering in his long gray beard that democracy is about through could read the letters that come pouring in to the White House and the Treasury at Washington, with dollar bills and small checks pinned to them. A 13-year-old New Jersey girl sends a dollar, saying, "Please use this for army pay roll." A letter laboriously typed on ruled paper reads, "I do not pay income tax. I'm too old for war duty. But I owe this to my government that has given me independence and liberty."

So they come streaming in, touching evidence that many who have the smallest material stake in freedom shrink deepest of its spiritual values. They make one feel ashamed to be downhearted.

If we ever can persuade all nations to disarm, they'll owe us another debt.

Evening dresses don't go very far because they lack backing.

Commission May Work On Vessels

WASHINGTON, April 29—(AP)—The maritime commission was reported early today ready to prepare the 30 recently seized Axis ships for service in the event of a formal government order to take them.

At least two-thirds of the German and Italian vessels were sabotaged by their crews before coast guardsmen took them into protective custody a month ago. Since that time maritime engineers have surveyed the ships carefully and agreed just what needs to be done to restore them to operating condition.

The administration has yet to make an official disclosure of its plans for the ultimate disposition of the seized merchantmen, but there were some grounds for the belief that a decision might be forthcoming soon.

Farm Clients May Figure Earnings

With the recent determination of 1941 parity payment rates, Midland county farmers can now estimate the amount they can earn through full participation in the 1941 AAA farm program, according to M. W. Whitmire, chairman of the county AAA committee.

Parity payments, based on the normal yields on allotted acreages, will be made at the rate of 1.38 cents per pound on cotton, 10 cents per bushel on wheat, and 32.4 cents per barrel on rice, the AAA official said. Farmers who participate in the 1941 AAA program and plant within their farm acreage allotments of these crops are eligible to receive payments at these rates, he declared.

In addition to parity payments, cooperating farmers will receive conservation payments based on the normal yield of the farm acreage allotments. As previously announced, conservation rates for 1941 are 1.37 cents per pound on cotton, 8 cents per bushel on wheat, 8.91 cents per barrel on rice, 11.25 cents per 100 pounds on peanuts, $1.30 per acre on commercial vegetables, and an average of .79¢ per acre on general soil-depleting crops for Midland county. All payments are subject to deductions if acreage allotments are overplanted.

Condemn Retail Levy Principle

WASHINGTON, April 29—(AP)—Two members of the house ways and means committee today condemned the principle of a retail sales tax as a means of raising part of the $2,000,000,000 in new revenue sought for defense.

The sales tax suggestion was put forward on behalf of the New York State Chamber of Commerce yesterday by William J. Schiefelin, Jr., chairman of the chamber's committee on taxation. He told the house group that the state chamber was not "urging" such a levy but thought it should be considered. Reps. Robertson (D-Va.) and Disney (D-Okl.) had only criticism for that method of federal taxation, and Robertson predicted that the committee would follow, in general, the treasury's recommendations calling for sharply higher income tax.

Seymour Citizens Call Off World's Anxiety, Proclaim Fishing Day

Schools, banks and business houses will close. Even gasoline purchases must be made Wednesday night.

"Too long continued and consistent concentration on this (international) crisis," the official proclamation asserted, "is sure to prove detrimental to the mental and physical health of the people of this great nation."

"The people of Seymour have the responsibility to prove to the world that enjoyment of life and the pursuit of happiness (and fish) still have a place in the American way."

On Mother's Day You'll Feel As Young As Daughter, If You Modernize Your Coiffure

By Alicia Hart
NEA Service Staff Writer

Beauty and fashion experts know that when a woman is perfectly groomed, with hair and clothes that are style-right for the moment, she's sure to feel and therefore look years younger than she is. When she's wearing what is "in fashion," she feels right and gay and young and self-confident.

Put any woman in a hat which is definitely outmoded or let her continue to wear her hair in a way that looks 1931 instead of 1941 and she'll feel the opposite of gay and young and self-confident.

This business of keeping up with current hair styles is more important to the morale than a great many of our older women seem to realize. If you are still wearing your hair straight down all the way around, try having it lifted upward at least at the front. Wear it that way for two weeks; whether you like it or not, and see whether it makes a difference in the way you feel about yourself.

Right Moment To Try Modernization

As an example of the "in fashion" theory, consider earrings. Five years ago half the people you knew considered earrings to be "very aging, my dear." Now these same people will say that "earrings are such fun to wear, and they make a face seem younger, don't you think?"

Unless you are the sophisticated, leader-of-fashion type, taking up a new fashion immediately it appears probably will make you feel pretty silly and thus undermine your self-confidence. But waiting too long to try it is at least equally bad management of your personal appearance.

Right now, a short time before Mother's Day, is the perfect moment for the mature woman to decide to try a little modernization. She might consult her hairdresser about what to do with the knot of hair she's been wearing on the back of her head for thirty years. Flattened out, moving upward to the crown of the head and posed behind some variation of the pompadour, that same knot can be made to look 1941 instead of early 1912.

The semi-single with straight-hanging side sections which made mother feel young and daring in 1925 gives her anything but a lift these days. There's a definite vogue for shorter hair this spring, but not single lines and straight-hanging sides.

There are, of course, more ways than one to accomplish modernization of a coiffure. There even are "mail order" coiffures on the market. The potential customer sends a photograph of herself to a New York expert. He designs a coiffure for her, sends a sketch of it to her local beauty shop, and the hairdresser there carries out the plan.

Pretty and practical is the softly upswept evening coiffure, upper right, finished with an attractive cluster of tiny roses and a sprig or two of mimosa. For the same woman, a famous hairdresser designed the sleeker, more sophisticated coiffure, lower right. For the sweet-faced, motherly looking woman at upper left, the expert designed and sketched the chic hair-do at lower left. Its upward, "in fashion" lines are sure to make the wearer feel and therefore look younger. These are excellent examples of smart, up-to-date coiffures that, while chic, enhance the dignity and poise which is so much a part of the older woman's charm.

Sketched coiffures by M. Lewis, New York.

Dodgers Batter On To Seventh Successive Win

By Judson Bailey
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Reds last year were world champions, and they may be again, but it must be said at this early date that other teams have improved while the Reds have remained stationary.

The champs came East yesterday and bumped into the Brooklyn Dodgers, one of the National League's improved clubs. Their clash was a battle of titans, but the Dodgers emerged with their seventh successive victory, 3-2 and took first place in the senior circuit, while the Reds were left languishing in fourth place.

The Reds had good pitching—a six-hit job by their veteran ace, Paul Derringer. They had their customary flawless fielding—including one of the most spectacular catches of the young season when Ival (Poison Ivy) Goodman almost stood against the rightfield fence, 300 feet from the plate, and jumped high to spear a liner in the sixth-inning. They had as good an offense as the Dodgers—six hits, including a home run by Buck McCormick.

Cardinals Also Threat

But the Dodgers had that "zing" that challengers sometimes get and champions eventually lose.

You can bet that the fighting is going to be a lot fiercer this year. The St. Louis Cardinals are in the middle of it, also. They were idle yesterday, along with the rest of the league but today were to open their eastern swing against the third-place New York Giants.

The American League action has switched to the West. While the eastern teams were traveling yesterday, the Cleveland Indians reinforced their grip on first place by drubbing the Detroit Tigers, 7-2. The Chicago White Sox moved into third place with a 2-1 edge over the St. Louis Browns.

Clement Will Play With Chicago Pros

DALLAS, April 29—(AP)—Johnny Clement, Southern Methodist University senior and tailback for the past three years, said today he had signed a one-year contract to play professional football with the Chicago Cardinals.

Clements, who resides in San Angelo, will report August 15 after attending summer school at S. M. U. He has reached the age of 21 since registration of selective service trainees and is not in the draft.

Sports Roundup

By Eddie Brietz
NEW YORK, April 29—(AP)—More than half of the guys on Shorty Luster's Oklahoma U. grid squad are looking for their draft numbers to go up. . . Did you know that the only time Whirlaway whipped Our Boots in four tries last year was the only race in which "the Boots" wasn't ridden by either Carroll Beirman or Eddie Arcaro? . . . New York boxing commission is listing men who are consistent losers and will revoke their licenses. Yep, a heap of small fry managers are mighty indignant and are getting ready to Eddie Brietz go on relief. . . First serious football casualty is Steve Judwick, Notre Dame's high scorer last year, who broke an arm in scrimmage the other day.

Columbia is looking for someone to fill the role of Forest Evashevski in the forthcoming movie, "Tom Harmon of Michigan." Well, Ed Trevor of Broadway hit, "Lady in the Dark," is a dead ringer for Evashevski—in the face, anyway. . . Each of the 15 rooms in Joe Louis' ranch house boasts a junk box. But that's nothing. A fractured skull suffered by Ivan (Goober) Crawford, Tulsa centerfielder, when struck on the head by a pitched ball cast a pall over the 2-1 victory which the Cats wrested from the Oilers in a Texas League baseball contest at Fort Worth last night.

Fellow players declared Crawford "froze" at the plate as Ben Parrish, Fort Worth moundsman, released a pitch in the fifth inning. The ball struck Crawford over the right ear. Physicians at the Fort Worth hospital where Crawford was taken in an ambulance said an X-ray examination disclosed a skull fracture.

In the only other league game the Dallas Rebels kicked away a 9-2 lead in the ninth frame of their fray with the Oklahoma City Indians to lose 11-9 in an extra-inning contest played under the incandescents.

Would Give Treasury Dormant Banks' Funds

Neyland Quits Vols For Army, Wiser For Work At Tennessee

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 29—(AP)—Uncle Sam's fighting forces won't be pushed around much if the army does as well as did Tennessee's Volunteers under Major Robert R. Neyland.

In establishing the Vols as one of the nation's great football teams, the major employed a lot of lessons he learned as a West Point cadet and then as a young officer in the engineering corps.

He found a place on the gridiron for such stuff as split-second precision, complicated maneuvers and a modicum of pagantry—stuff he picked up on the drills grounds and in engineering work.

It all paid off for the Vols—sending them to three post-season bowls in successive years—and for the major himself—enabling him to become one of the nation's highest paid coaches.

Now the major is to return to the service—his first love—and he'll be taking with him a lot of tricks he picked up in 20 years of coaching when he reported at Norfolk, Va. next month. He was ordered to army duties yesterday.

Race May Show Blue Pair Flaw

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 29—(AP)—Topping off the list of circumstances that makes this the "diffident Derby," a report went the rounds today that the Derby trial mile this afternoon may uncover an injury to the $40,000 Blue Pair out of Saturday's run for the roses.

Starting from apparently well founded sources, this rumor said the colt that Tom Bragg, the California and New York investment broker, bought from C. C. Van Meter for $40,000 less than two weeks ago had turned up with a splint ailment and a sore back and that his performance in the annual mile "preview" would decide his chances of getting to the post Saturday.

At any rate this possibility and the showing of any of a colt named Sporting, purchased recently by Dan Withers of Chicago, are the only factors which save today's trial stake from being just a $2-500 workout.

Tulsa Outfielder Freezes At Plate, Is Seriously Hurt

Coaches Plan Attack Against Rule Changes

NEW YORK (UP)—The basketball brains of the nation—more than 200 college mentors who compose the National Association of Basketball Coaches—are mapping a campaign designed to force the National Basketball Rules Committee of the United States and Canada to rescind recent recommendations for universal use of a fan-shaped backboard and molded rubber ball.

The Coaches' Association, following its annual conclave, sought several changes in the game's standardization as the particular goal. The coaches specifically asked for a 6 by 4 foot board, a stitched leather ball of set specifications, a standard floor and definite lighting.

But for the second successive year, the rules committee, meeting at Kansas City late in March, rebuffed the coaches' recommendations and substituted amendments of their own which led to the current controversy.

Washburn Begins New Chapter For College

TOPEKA, Kas. (UP)—When the citizens of Topeka voted to make Washburn College a municipal university, they began a new chapter in the history of a school that was founded 75 years ago at the close of the Civil War.

Washburn is not only one of the oldest schools in Kansas but it is the last of Congregational origin. During all its 76 years it has existed through the generosity of philanthropists and alumni, and now the city of Topeka is taking Washburn under its wing just when the school has reached the end of its movements.

Washburn, first known as Lincoln College, now bears the name of one of its earlier benefactors, Ichabod Washburn, whose timely donation made it possible for the college to survive the lean years following the Civil War.

Baseball Player Is 'Very Serious'

FORT WORTH, April 29—(AP)—The condition of Ivan "Goober" Crawford, Tulsa baseball player who was hit behind the right ear by a pitched ball in the game with Fort Worth Monday night, was reported as "very serious" from the hospital here at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Centerfielder Crawford suffered a fracture of the skull when hit by a fast ball. No operation was performed during the night but attendants said there might be one today.

Ben Parrish, a rookie right hander threw the ball that hit the veteran left handed batter. It was the first pitch of the fourth inning.

There was no ill feeling or words between any of the players before or after the accident. Parrish had been wild enough previously to hit another batsman and walk three. With the encouragement of both Tulsa and Fort Worth players the youngster continued to pitch and finished the game steadily, winning 2-1.

Venezuelan Congress Names Angarita Head

CARACAS, Venezuela, April 29—(AP)—General Isaias Medina Angarita, consistent advocate of Pan American collaboration, yesterday was elected by the Venezuelan congress as president of the republic, succeeding General Eleazar Lopez Contreras.

General Medina will take office for a five-year term at an inauguration to be arranged by congress, probably May 5.

In his campaign, General Medina promised to continue democratic reforms initiated by Lopez Contreras, and said his foreign policy would emphasize cooperation with other American republics, with the object of contributing to "the independence and liberty of America."

Manufacturers Head Lauds U. S. Industry

PHILADELPHIA, April 29—(AP)—American industry has performed a modern miracle of defense, declares president Walter Fuller of the National Association of Manufacturers.

"Through the voluntary co-operation of free men, we have made more progress in 10 months than Hitler did in two and a half years with his much-vaunted dictated economy."

Addressing 500 industrialists from this heart of the "arsenal" region last night, the head of Curtis Publishing Company pointed out that industry had absorbed $13,000,000,000 in defense orders in less than a year and placed 99 per cent of them in production.

Battalion Boxer Takes Scalp Of Indian Pugilist

ODESSA, April 29 (Special)—Soldier fighters of the Provisional Searchlight Battalion at Midland broke even in two bouts on the Bundles for Britain card here last night.

Ed Beauchesne, lightweight of the 197th C. A., lost a decision to Basel Crocker of Odessa. Crocker's long reach baffled the scrappy Beauchesne and the Odessa tall boy won going away. Crocker downed Beauchesne in the second and third rounds.

Pvt. Thomas Nedeau, also of the 197th, won a decision over Chief Kent, Indian fighter, from the Army Air Corps basic flying school at San Angelo. Nedeau, called in to fight at the last minute, carried the battle to the Indian, Golden Gloves champion of Oklahoma in 1938, Nedeau .and Kent weighed 150 pounds.

Odessa and San Angelo fighters split seven matches.

Bergere May Become Speedway's Iron Man

INDIANAPOLIS, April 29—(AP)—Cliff Bergere, tall, drapper Hollywood stunt man, has yet to win the Indianapolis automobile 500 mile race but this year he can become the "iron man" of the famous Hoosier arena of speed.

Bergere, whose famous-colored clothes make him look more like a fashion plate than race driver, needs to drive only 186 miles of the 30th race to cover more miles on the Indianapolis track than any other man.

And if he only starts he will gain at least a tie for having driven in the most races.

Gray-haired, 44-year-old Bergere now has driven 5,064 miles at Indianapolis, a figure surpassed only by Louis Meyer of Huntington Park, Calif., who has 5,249 miles to his credit. Meyer has retired from competition.

Confessed Amateur Conquers Bad Smoke Problem In Missouri City

By NEA Service
ST. LOUIS, April 29.—The man who licked smoke in St. Louis is softspoken James L. Ford, Jr., a banker and confessed rank amateur in smoke-prevention science.

When called to the chairmanship of the St. Louis Committee on Smoke Elimination, he knew smoke chiefly as a nuisance that had darkened his life, as well as the lives of fellow St. Louisians. He didn't know he had been given a job thought to be "impossible."

That was a year ago—on "Black Tuesday," so called because on that day the pall of smoke overhanging St. Louis was so dense automobiles burned their lights at noon.

Today the "black plague" is lifted and skies are clear in St. Louis, thanks to the efforts of Mr. Ford and his committee.

They put into operation the St. Louis anti-smoke plan, now being adopted by other cities throughout the nation. Its thesis is this: That you can't control the smoke pouring from countless chimneys; that, therefore, you must control its source.

It achieved the result by a simple ordinance—the principal provisions of which can be boiled down to two features:

1. Those who handle fire must burn smokeless fuel, fuel defined as having a volatile content of less than 23 per cent on a dry basis.
2. All other fuels must be burned in stokers, smokelessly.

But what a "baby" this ordinance proved to be!

The fight's over now. St. Louis is pleased with its smoke ordinance. Mr. Ford is back in his banking office—but he can't get away from smoke elimination.

Scores of city officials, newspapermen and citizens' committees from other cities have visited St. Louis to ask, "How did you eliminate smoke?"

The picture of a man lighting his cigarette, at left, was made at high noon, one year ago, on a street in St. Louis, Mo. Smoke, not a freak of nature, caused the blackout, so pronounced that motor vehicles were forced to turn on their headlights, above. Shocked citizens gave the day a special name, "Black Tuesday," grimly declared, "The smoke must go!" Drafted to deliver the knockout to the 100-year-old menace was James L. Ford, Jr., a banker. How well he did his job is illustrated by the photograph at right: A man lighting his cigarette one year later, at the same spot as the man at left, and at high noon.

The organizations plan to provide means to care for the welfare, educational and spiritual needs of the armed forces, through service clubs in 300 defense centers throughout the United States and at overseas bases.

Under the plan, the government will build and equip the clubs near army camps, naval stations and industrial plants, while the U.S.O. will provide funds for operation of the clubs and their programs.

Others are being trained in factory management and time-and-motion studies to create supply of production technicians.

The city is expected to co-operate by assisting in cleaning up alleys and vacant lots. Individual property owners were urged to assume

How Tax Dollars Will Cover Budget

If Congress amends tax laws to increase income and excise taxes paid by individuals and corporations, the government's receipts on 1941 income will be around $12,225,000,000. Meanwhile the U. S. will spend 17 billions or more, as is being budgeted for fiscal 1942. Pictograph shows how the two will balance, with photos showing proposed budget expenditures and heavy lines dividing tax receipts.

U. S. Air Force With 2000 Planes Doesn't Think Goal Of 50,000 Is Pipe Dream --- Congress Opens Way

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(AP)—Figures on U. S. production of military airplanes—now 1200 a month—may become restricted information some time soon, and so, before the ban goes on, you may be interested in knowing that the aviation program is coming along, and the dizzy figure of 50,000 planes isn't as impossible to conceive as everyone thought it was when first catapulted into the blue a year or so ago.

Building an air force of that size means development along three parallel lines—production of planes, construction of air fields, training of pilots. The pilots and the fields must be ready first, or what good are the planes?

Starting off with 2000 planes and about that many pilots, the army has expanded its program steadily, setting new objectives before the old ones could be reached. First it was to get 5500 planes and 7000 pilots by June, 1941. That goal was just set when demands were made for 25,000 new planes with 12,000 new pilots. That is the current objective, but even before it can be achieved, the program has been stepped up again.

Need 50,000 Pilots

The fifth supplemental defense bill, just passed by Congress, carried appropriations for an additional 3600 bombers—first step towards the 50,000 plane goal—and a training program looking to the ultimate goal of 30,000 new pilots a year, which would be sufficient to handle a 50,000 plane force in combat, allowing for reserves and replacements.

So stupendous has been this expansion job that army air corps has recently established a new statistical division to keep track of its projects.

Airport construction and improvement, for instance, is a major problem. Fifty new military airports have been put into service this year, bringing to about 200 the number of air corps depots, bases and stations.

Won't Lower Standards

The frequently heard talk that both army and navy will have to lower present standards which require two years of college or its equivalent and the passing of a stiff general examination before an applicant can be considered for air corps training, is not now given serious consideration.

As long as the 4000 men a month can be found with these mental qualifications, the bars will not be let down and so far there has been no difficulty in finding volunteers to meet these requirements.

DIRECTED OPENING—♥7.
EAST-WEST PAR: Make the contract. 29

This is the 10th of a series of 16 articles on World Bridge Olympic hands, giving the committee's par.

By Wm. E. McKenney, America's Card Authority

The declarer should infer from the bidding that South holds both minor aces, and his opening lead of the seven of hearts probably marks it as a singleton. Therefore, the declarer should plan to avoid the heart loser by an "elimination throw-in".

He wins the opening lead and takes two rounds of trumps. Now a club is led toward the king, and it is immaterial whether South wins the first or second club. If he goes up with the ace and returns a club, dummy wins, declarer leads a trump back to his own hand and leads a diamond.

Again South has the choice of winning the first diamond trick or allowing it to hold and then winning the next two diamonds. But now he finds that East and West are void on diamonds and clubs and he has nothing else to lead. This allows the declarer to ruff in dummy and discard his losing heart.

You will notice that the committee directed the heart opening. This was done to give declarer a chance to make this play. We realized that if South opened a diamond, he could defeat the contract by taking the first club trick, cashing his diamond tricks and exiting with a club.

Little Factory Holds Answers To National Magnesium Production

WASHINGTON, April 29 (UP)—A little factory in the Northwest today holds the answer to a question defense officials here are asking anxiously—can the United States produce sufficient magnesium to meet the expanding needs of the defense program?

In a small experimental plant at Pullman, Wash., Bureau of Mines experts are working to perfect a new process through which magnesium can be produced from an ore found throughout the West.

Present production of magnesium, for which the OPM recently invoked mandatory priorities, involves the electrolysis of magnesium chloride, derived from saline wells or sea water. If the new process, a complicated electrothermic reduction of the ore, is successful, extensive new sources of supply of the vital metal can be tapped.

MUSTANG BOYS' CLUB COLUMN

At last, the correct answer to that much-discussed moving picture question has been turned in: What three screen pictures of all time have grossed the greatest amount of money at the box office? The answer: "The Birth of a Nation," "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" and "Gone With the Wind." Jimmy Rhoads, that silent news-boy of Wall Street, brought home the bacon and collected a crisp $1 bill, Good work, Jimmy. Watch for another dollar question soon.

At the present time one of the Mustang boys is making more money than any other boy in Midland under 21. Who is he? Answer: tomorrow.

Big Mustang meeting tomorrow night. Moving pictures of last year's pet parade will be shown plus moving pictures of other Mustang activities last spring and summer. Tommy Wilson, Fred Wemple and Barney Greathouse financed these pictures. Also at this pow-wow will be staged another of those screwy, mysterious and shivering detective derbies.

Effort is being made to get one of the news reel companies to take pictures of the pet parade this year. If this can be done, our amazing and goofy street procession will be seen all over the United States. Our fingers are crossed. Anyway, we hope for a big time at 11 a. m. next Saturday. "Relax with the Mustangs."

Safety Slogan for today: "Kite string wet or kite string wire, may cause your body to expire."

British Built Road German Blitz Used

TULSA, Okla. (UP)—The high-flying highway into Greece through the Ruppel Pass from Bulgaria, used by Germany's blitzkrieg army was built by British engineers during the first World War.

One of the army engineers who helped build the twisting, narrow road back in 1917 will never forget what a job it was. He is William Dickinson, now a Tulsa school instructor. He was a "sapper," an explosive expert, for the British Royal Engineers in the World War.

The mountainous terrain view with lowlands to make the job a nightmare, he recalled.

Trans-Pacific Shortages Imperil Island Economy

MANILA, April 29 (UP)—Philippine economy faces possible disaster from the increasing shortage of trans-Pacific freighters and skyrocketing freight rates, adding to the burden already imposed by lost foreign markets because of wars and institution of U. S. quotas on Philippine exports.

Private and governmental capital is available to purchase vessels for Philippine registry which would be used exclusively for Philippine-American trade, but authorities are finding it increasingly difficult to obtain bottoms at any price in view of the American and British demands for shipping.

LONG HISTORY IN FLEET ADMIRAL TITLE

VICHY, April 29 (UP)—The proud title of Admiral of the Fleet, today borne by Admiral Francois Darlan and nine other living members of the French navy, has a long and varied history in the course of which it was once held by a woman, Anne of Austria, and once by the Count de Vermandois, a child of 2 years.

The title corresponds to that of marshal in the land forces and like it is only awarded to chiefs of the fleet who have commanded victoriously in face of the enemy.

Modern Woman Better Shopper Than Grandma

TAMPA, Fla. (UP)—The modern American miss is a better shopper than her grandmother ever was, according to Mrs. Helene Doderidge, administrative assistant to the consumer counsel of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Mrs. Doderidge told the home economics division of the Florida Vocational Association here that adaptation of home economics studies to everyday application had provided American young women today with more knowledge about daily shopping, selecting materials and getting the most out of the budget, "than women ever had before."

Treasury's Experts Study New Taxes But In Old Democratic Way Congress Writes It--Result, Another Legal Egg

By Peter Edson
Midland Reporter-Telegram
Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 29—The text for today's reading will be a line from Sidney Hillman:

"The ways of democracy are perhaps the most troublesome, but they are best in the long run."

Mr. Hillman uttered the line in approval of or apology for the good old American way of settling strikes by arguing them out after they've happened. Today's subject has nothing to do with labor disturbances, but with that other equally disturbing subject of, yes, taxes. Specifically, the increased taxes you will pay on this year's income when you make out your return next March and, before that, the increased nuisance taxes and luxury taxes you will pay to help finance the defense effort.

WORKS LIKE THIS

What is the "way of democracy" with regard to this new tax bill? It goes something like this:

Ever since the last tax bill was written the tax research division of the treasury has been making studies of how this legislation could be improved, where more revenue might be obtained in new taxes, where existing taxes were unjust and how other countries have been levying taxes to get money for prosecution of their wars. Day in and day out, this division of tax research knows more about taxes than anyone else in the country.

While all this studying has been going on, Congress has been appropriating money right and left—a billion here, a few hundred millions there, seven billion there. It is all for the good of the country and much of it is for defense. Finally, somebody gets around to adding this up. It is discovered that national defense expenditures will run $32 billion, plus $7 billion aid to Britain. Not all this is to be spent at once. Figuring down to what the government will spend in the fiscal year from July 1, 1941, to June 30, 1942, the treasury comes up with a figure of $19 billion, $12 billion of which will be for defense and $7 billion to run the rest of the government.

Tax Man Taxed

Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., ponders reply at House Ways and Means Committee hearing on new tax bill.

Treasury's next step is to decide how much of this shall be raised by taxation, one-third by borrowing, one-third by borrowing, one-third by borrowing. Two-thirds of $19 billion is $12.6 billion. Treasury knows that existing tax legislation will yield $9.1 billion. Subtracting, it finds that $3.5 billion net must be raised from new taxes.

The job of writing the new tax bill is turned over to the House Ways and Means Committee of which Robert L. Doughton, Laurel Springs, N. C., farmer by profession, has been chairman since 1933.

SUB-COMMITTEE DOES IT

When the hearings are over, the drafting job begins. Twenty men obviously can't write anything so that is turned over to a sub-committee. Hard-working Capt. Jere Cooper, of Dyersburg, Tenn., has that job. He will give it day and night attention and, aided and abetted by the legislative drafting service of the House, the committee's own tax experts and the treasury boys, a bill finally will be born, reported out to the House, and argued about, changed a little, and finally passed.

It goes to the Senate where Chairman Pat Harrison's Finance Committee will go to work on it. There will be more public hearings. Eventually, everyone will have had his say, the Senate committee will report out its modified bill, the Senate will argue, the Senate will pass.

Back to the House then for conference. The Harrison and Doughton debating societies will horse trade around till they can get something satisfactory to both teams. Repassage, then, and over to the White House for the President to sign. Another legal egg will have been laid.

Shafer Services Are Conducted At Church

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 p. m. today at the First Baptist church for Mrs. Olive Celia Gault Shafer, 41, who died yesterday following a long illness at the home, 1104 South Weatherford St.

The Rev. H. D. Bruce, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated. He was assisted by the Rev. W. C. Hinds, pastor of the First Methodist Church. Interment was in Fairview Cemetery.

Survivors include: her father, J. R. Gault; a brother, Alton Gault; and a daughter, Mrs. W. E. Nance; all of Midland.

Monster Tank Launched

Here is the first of the great new fleet of monster M-3 medium (28 ton) tanks to be delivered by Chrysler Corporation to the United States Army as part of its contribution to the National Defense Program. Before the year ends hundreds more like this one will be coming off the assembly lines to strengthen America's mechanized forces. This tank, the most powerful weapon of its type in the world—literally a rolling fortress—was turned over to Major General Charles

M. Wesson, U. S. Army Chief of Ordnance, at ceremonies in the new Chrysler Tank Arsenal. Prior to delivery, its unusual maneuverability, tremendous striking force and devastating fire power were demonstrated. Finished way ahead of schedule, this tank is one of two pilot models which the Corporation built even before its $20,000,000 tank plant was completed. When full operation is reached, more than 10,000 workers will be employed here.

Battalion Works In Day Practice

The Provisional Searchlight Battalion was in the field today and planned to work with the lights and full equipment tonight.

Soldiers and officers went to searchlight locations at 1 p. m. and were to hold a complete practice excepting use of the lights this afternoon.

Major W. H. Papenfoth said the men would be fed at locations tonight and ready for work with the searchlights soon after dark. The afternoon's work was termed a "tracking practice" and embodied full equipment with only the use of the searchlight beams excluded.

The soldiers engaged in garrison and infantry drills this morning. The battalion will speed up maneuvers, officers said. Bad weather has prevented maximum results.

Trumpet Soloist Is Feature Of T. C. U. Chorus Program Here

A trumpet soloist, Jimmy Moudy of Washington, will be featured on the program of the TCU Mixed Chorus which will present a concert at the First Christian Church here, at 7:30 p. m. Thursday.

Directed by W. J. Marsh, the chorus is ranked high among musical organizations of the Southwest. The concert here will be open to the public, with no admission charges. A freewill offering will be taken to assist in defraying expenses of the group which is now on tour.

Grandfalls Students Will Visit Midland

Grand Falls' Latin-American students annually trek to some West Texas city to "see the sights."

This year the delegation of some 50 boys and girls will visit Midland. A letter to the Chamber of Commerce here advised the visit would be made soon.

The students want to see a museum, a florist's shop, a bank, a radio station, and ride an elevator. The Midland Chamber of Commerce will arrange a full day program for the students including a trip to the Provisional Searchlight Battalion camp.

A picnic will be arranged at Cloverdale Park.

Debt Will Increase To $90,000,000,000

WASHINGTON, April 29—(AP)—Jesse Jones forecast today that the national debt would mount to at least $90,000,000,000, and declared "we have not yet made any sacrifices."

"But they are in store for us, plenty of them," the secretary of commerce added in an address prepared for the annual convention of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

"A few months ago we were worrying about whether we could afford to increase government borrowing authority above $45,000,000,000," Jones recalled. "It seems probable now that it will grow to at least double that amount, even allowing for paying as much of this extraordinary cost as our economy can stand from current taxes."

"But, whatever amount we have to borrow, we must commence to pay back the day the emergency is over."

Hearing On Threatened GMC Strike Is Thursday
