

House Approves $1,500,000 For Park Property

Opponents Of Measure Charge Extravagance; Sessions Approach End

By The Associated Press AUSTIN, May 5.—Amid opposition cries of unwarranted extravagance, the House by a six-vote margin today authorized a $1,500,000 appropriation to purchase property for the Big Bend National Park project.

The allotment was an amendment to the departmental appropriation bill under consideration in the lower chamber and boosted proposed departmental expenditures for the new biennium to approximately $29,861,000, an increase of more than $8,000,000 above current biennial authorizations.

The House adopted the Big Bend amendment, 65 to 59, after a motion to kill it failed by a wider margin. The amendment was authored by Rep. Woodrow Bean of Sierra Blanca, who asserted the money would return to Texas manifold through increased tourist traffic, resultant larger gasoline tax collections and other revenues.

He estimated establishment of the park would bring to Texas $12,000,000 to $30,000,000 annually in new tourist income.

As the House apparently settled down for lengthy discussion of the big money bill the Senate began debate on a measure permitting the use of sweet natural gas in carbon black manufacture.

With the session rapidly nearing an as yet unmet adjournment date, members of the legislature today mapped strategy to lift bills in which they were interested out of clogged calendars and try for quick approval.

Nearing final passage were the appropriation bills—departmental, higher education, rural school aid and eleemosynary institutions—allocating tax money to keep the state government operating another two years, beginning Sept. 1.

Only the judiciary appropriations bill, financing state courts, has been fully approved and filed in the secretary of state's office.

New Rains Add To Threat Of Floods

By The Associated Press

Further flood damage threatened some sections of Texas today after new rains added to the flow of already overflowing streams.

Heavy Sunday night rains at Vernon, Nocona, Wichita Falls and Altus, Okla., may cause a rise in the Red River and its tributaries. Passengers were transferred yesterday by motor between Vernon and Oklahoma after Fort Worth and Denver Railroad trains were halted by a damaged bridge on Paradise Creek in Wilbarger County.

A wooden highway bridge buckled under Red River waters at Charlie, Texas. An approach to a railroad bridge at Burk Burnett was washed away.

Battalion Uses Good Weather Conditions And Gets Good Results

The Provisional Searchlight Battalion used the first break in the weather in several days for its best defense practice last night.

Officers said the practice was completely satisfactory. All 31 searchlights and three target planes were used.

The batteries worked several hours. Men went to positions yesterday afternoon and were at work by 7:30 p.m. The last battery came into camp at 2 a.m.

The searchlights scored pickups on all eighteen courses. The planes flew at altitudes of 11,500, 12,500 and 13,500 feet above sea level. As alert batteries picked them up.

Major William H. Papenfoth, commanding officer, said maneuvers would be intensified if favorable weather continued.

Lieut. Colonel Arthur L. Smith, and Lieut. Col. Horton Chandler, executive officer of 197th C.A. are here to observe training. They arrived yesterday.

The battalion expects battery commanders of the 204th and 69th C.A. here tomorrow. They are Henry H. Brazeale and William H. Baynes, respectively.

"Our morale has jumped 100 per cent with the break up of the rainy weather," the major said. The men are anxious to get back to work and displayed unusual willingness in last night's practice."

Leighen E. Tasker, of 197th C.A. Battery has been promoted from staff sergeant to second lieutenant. Lieut. Edward L. Whelan returned to camp here. He flew north to be married last month.

East Extension To Sand Hills Gauges Big Natural Flow

By Frank Gardner Oil Editor

Large natural flow from the Tubbs horizon of the deep Permian lime was registered by Gulf Oil Corporation No. 21 W. N. Waddell et al, one-half mile east extension to the northeast sector of the Sand Hills pool in Western Crane County.

On a 30-minute gauge through 2-inch tubing the well tanked 35.88 barrels of 34-gravity oil, with gas volume rated at 1,200,000 cubic feet per day. Gauge was taken after hole had been washed with water and the well had flowed for several hours to clean out. Tubing is set at 4,374 feet off bottom. This morning, operators were preparing to acidize the well to increase natural output.

Gulf No. 1-F University, Eastern Crane wildcat offering prospects of West Texas' first production below the 10,000-foot mark, this morning was swabbing fluid 6,200 feet from the surface. It recovered 86 barrels of fluid the past 24 hours.

Fluid is described as two per cent oil and the other 98 per cent wash water. The well is bottomed at 10,658 1/2 feet in Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, dolomite which it topped at approximately 10,629 feet.

Teague Re-Perforated

Second gun-perforation job in Magnolia Petroleum Co. No. 1 N. B. Teague was with 70 shots in 5 1/2-inch casing from 6,675 to 6,710 feet, top of cement plug. The well is reported swabbing only salt water, 5,900 feet from the top, with no oil or gas present. It went originally to total depth of 7,701 feet.

Mascho Oil Company's two active tests in Northwestern Andrews County today were reported drilling ahead. No. 1 M. M. Fisher had reached 1,133 feet in anhydrite and No. 1 University 1,905 in red beds. Also in Northwestern Andrews, Magnolia No. 1-20-38 B. B. Ralph still is rigging up rotary.

In Southeastern Cochran County, Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation No. 1 F. L. Woodley, nearly one mile northwest of Slaughter pool production, is drilling below 4,858 feet in lime. A north outpost to the

O'Daniel Names For State Posts

AUSTIN, May 5—(AP)—Governor W. Lee O'Daniel today announced appointments of O. P. Lockhart of Austin as life insurance commissioner and Tom M. Lasator of Falfurrias as a member of the livestock sanitary commission.

Unusual interest attached to the appointment because the Senate recently had rejected other appointments by the governor to those offices.

Reuben Williams of Austin had been rejected for the life insurance commission and J. Everetts Haley of Houston for the livestock sanitary commission.

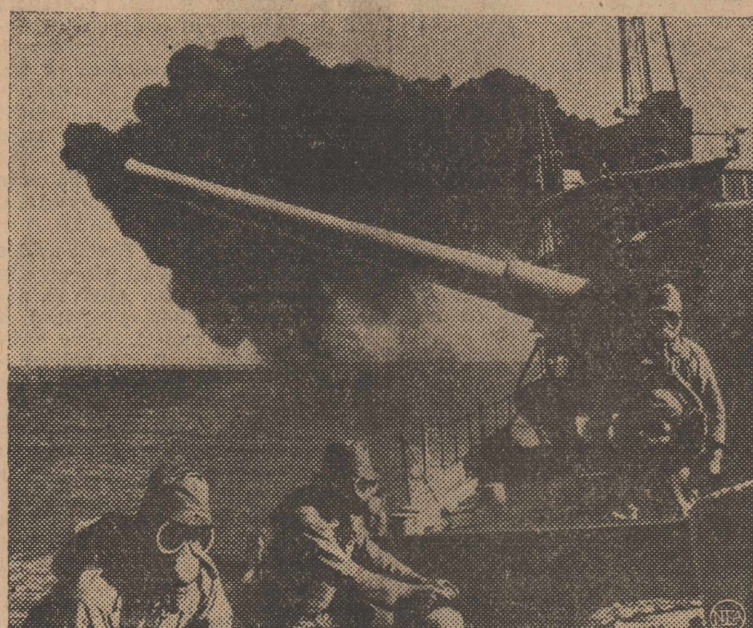

Williams, formerly one of the governor's secretaries, subsequently was appointed to the state highway commission and was confirmed by the Senate. Haley is manager of the J. M. West ranch properties.

Negotiators Fail To Reach Agreement In Motors Firm Threat

By The Associated Press The threat of a strike in 61 General Motors plants employing 160,000 workers became more menacing today after a week end of fruitless conferences between officials of the corporation, representatives of the CIO United Automobile Workers and members of the defense mediation board.

The principals were called back into session here today in an effort to work out an agreement on a new contract. The union, which has agreed to defer any strike until the mediation board has had a chance to settle the dispute, wants a wage increase of ten cents an hour. The company has offered two cents.

Wounded Correspondent Tells Of Yugoslavs' Refusal To Give Up

(Editor's Note: The following dispatch was written by Robert St. John, Associated Press Balkan war correspondent, as he lay propped up in a Cairo Hospital bed awaiting X-ray reports on a machine-gun bullet still imbedded in his leg. St. John, one of the American newspapermen removed from Greece by the British navy, was wounded while on a week's trek from the Yugoslav coast through Greece.)

By Robert St. John CAIRO, Egypt, May 5—(AP)—Thousands of fully armed and fully equipped Yugoslavs are in wild mountain areas of Serbia and Bosnia still carrying on Guerrilla warfare against Germany and Italy.

I saw great numbers of these grim-faced patriots take their rifles and go off into the hills vowing never to give up harassing the vicious invaders until national liberty is re-established.

I know they still are carrying on this strange, informal warfare. Only today a high-ranking Yugoslav refugee told me that he had just received by a devious way a confirmation report telling how these troops were causing the German-Italian occupation forces extreme difficulties.

"For 10 days I tried as the war went on to send from Yugoslavia the story of the determination of these people to resist the armies closing in on them.

I wrote dispatch after dispatch telling of the need for planes and tanks to support the large but inadequately-equipped Yugoslav army. But the attack was so sudden, the confusion so great, the disorganization so complete that there never was an opportunity for communication with the outside world.

British Garrisons Strike Hard Counter Blows In Two Theaters

Speakers To Vie At 8 In Midland Area Preliminary

"My Home Town" speakers of the Midland area will vie at 8 p. m. tonight in the auditorium of the First Presbyterian Church in preliminary contests of Districts 6, 7, 8 and 9. The winner will enter the final contest at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Mineral Wells, May 15-16.

Margaret Ann West will speak for Midland. She won that right today over Tad Crane and Geneva Thompson. Judges were Mrs. Fred Wilcox, Paul McHargue, and James N. Allison.

W. W. Lackey, superintendent of Midland schools, is director of tonight's contest. A $10 prize will be awarded the winner.

Twelve To Compete

Tonight's contest lists entries from 12 West Texas towns. Ruby Lee Harrell will speak for Big Spring; Orrison Lee Wiley, Balmorhea; Paul Wilson, San Angelo; Mary Curl, Del Rio; Lois Murphy, Odessa; Eva Jean Ferguson, Alpine; Betty Hurt, Lamesa, and Marylee Killmer, Pecos.

Three judges from Odessa, Big Spring, and Midland were named. Judging will be based 50 per cent on subject matter and 50 per cent on delivery.

Contestants are high school students and must prepare their own speeches. Talks are limited to five minutes.

Preliminary district contests are being held this year in Canyon, Lubbock, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Abilene, Stephenville, and here.

Midland of District 6 is consolidated with District 7 (El Paso), 8 (Alpine), and 9 (San Angelo) for the preliminaries.

Hitler Declares Nazidom Stronger

BERLIN, May 5—(AP)—Germany and her Allies form a mightier combination than any other possible coalition in the world today, Adolf Hitler declared Sunday, and "neither force nor time will make us yield, let alone break us."

What Germany has won, he cried, cannot be wrested from her "by any power in the world."

"If already the German soldier possesses the best weapons in the world, he will receive still better ones this year and next," the Fuehrer shouted to a cheering Reichstag.

Behind The Headlines

By DeWitt MacKenzie. Associated Press Staff Writer.

The most impressive point about Herr Hitler's Reichstag speech seemed to be to be the absence of any real challenge to the United States. One might have expected that, with the laurels of his Balkan victories still fresh, he would have taken this important occasion to express the bitterness which Nazidom feels because of our aid to Britain and to threaten us. But while he struck fiercely at the British, he tread lightly on our front yard.

The reason for this restraint, as I see it, is that the Nazi chieftain is racing against time, and employing every ounce of his vast power, in an effort to achieve victory before Britain can gain the strength to stand him off. He doesn't want to drag America into the European conflict at this juncture and thus add to his troubles.

The Fuehrer hadn't yet heard President Roosevelt's declaration that the American people "are ever ready to fight again" for democracy. The German leader didn't need that reminder, however, for the American aid has been enough indication for him.

Hitler Wants U. S. Out. While Hitler undoubtedly would be overjoyed to get us involved in war with Japan, thus distracting our attention from the western theater, the last thing he could wish at this critical moment would be the entrance of the United States into the European conflict. The presence of a belligerent American naval fleet in the battle zone would be a terrific blow for the Axis.

This additional naval aid would be calculated to smash the submarine menace, as it helped to do in the World War. It likely would render the Nazi invasion of England impossible. It would vastly strengthen the Allies' hand in the Battle of the Mediterranean which is pushing them so hard at the moment. No, Herr Hitler has no desire to unleash the fighting force of the United States against himself.

The intensity of the war may be expected to increase rapidly from now on. One of Hitler's chief concerns is to capitalize on Britain's weakness in the Near East before American aid can intervene. The Nazis must have experienced a real shock from the reported arrival of 26 American merchantmen at Suez loaded with war materials for the Allies.

Enemies In Iraq And Tobruk Receive Jolt; Hitler Shouts Power

By The Associated Press Two British garrisons—one at the Libyan desert fortress of Tobruk, the other in the 4-day-old Iraq theater—were reported today to have struck heavy counter-blows and temporarily, at least, staved off the threat of being wiped out.

British Middle East headquarters said the Tobruk garrison, under Axis assault for more than three weeks, had attacked encircling German and Italian troops and smashed preparations for renewed attacks.

Heavy casualties were inflicted on the Axis forces, British headquarters said.

The British command also reported that Iraq artillery which had been shelling the British base at Habbaniyah, 60 miles west of Baghdad, had been "rendered comparatively inactive by our aircraft" and that most of Iraq's air force, "already has been destroyed."

Previously, the Swiss radio had quoted a Baghdad communique as saying that Iraq troops were closing in on the Habbaniyah garrison and that buildings at the airport were aflame from artillery fire.

The London radio, in a peace bid to Iraq's pro-German Premier Rashid Ali Al Gailani, said that if Iraq troops were withdrawn and fighting stopped, "relations of full cordiality" would be restored between the two countries.

Reliable reports in London were that Britain was ready to accept prospective Turkish mediation of the conflict.

The Iraq government was reported to have cut the pipeline flow of oil to the Mediterranean, but the British declared that ample reserves of fuel had been built up to prevent a shortage from crippling operations of the British Mediterranean fleet.

A British communique said that fresh fighting had broken out in the Salm sector, on the Egyptian-Libyan frontier, and that heavy losses had been inflicted on Axis troops and vehicles.

Adolf Hitler's Luftwaffe, striking within a few hours after the Fuehrer told his Reichstag that no coalition of powers could defeat Germany, heavily bombed the city of Belfast, Northern Ireland, and attacked Liverpool for the fourth night in a row.

In his Reichstag speech, Hitler declared that no power on earth could wrest away Germany's gains and that "neither force nor time will make us yield, let alone break us up."

The well-posted Berlin Dienst Aus Deutschland, commenting on Hitler's speech, declared that because of possibility of American intervention in the war no speculation could be made on the duration of the conflict.

Dienst hinted that the war might extend into 1942, and said: "Such intervention is appraised by Germans as an influence which could prolong the war but under no circumstances alter the ultimate result."

Clean-Up Drive Starts In City Backed by merchants and business men, and pledge cooperation by more than 1800 citizens, the most extensive clean-up campaign in the city's history was underway in Midland today.

City trucks were ready to answer calls from citizens to haul off trash. Workers reminded that trash must be placed in containers in the alleys. Citizens should telephone No. 565 and a truck will be dispatched to pick up trash.

Fair weather was expected to speed cleaning up of individual premises. The campaign will last one week.

You may notice that the traffic signals downtown have been changed. Why? Well if you start on a green light and drive about twenty miles per hour you can go all the way through the business district without stopping. If you turn right or left the light on the next corner will be green.

If the light is RED do not turn unless you stop. Remember that turning right on the RED light is a privilege, and, if the officer doesn't let you turn that is his privilege.

No Time For Hand-Wringers

The United States has every right to glory in its strength, and to face with a serene pride and confidence whatever the future may bring. No Delilah has yet shorn the locks of the American Samson; none is likely to do so. Yet he is having an occasional hair plucked out of his head from time to time by certain people who go about wringing their hands and lamenting that "we haven't got this, or we haven't got that," or "we can't do this and we can't do that."

The American people and the United States government are not old and decrepit. We are strong, vital, at the very height of our powers. Why this hand-wringing?

"This country, since last June, has produced more goods and services than it, or any other nation, ever did in a like number of months."

That statement is from Leon Henderson, government economist and price controller, and he ought to know. It is not the kind of a record that justifies pessimism or hand-wringing. More goods and services than we produced in 1929! More goods and services than any other nation ever produced! Should such a nation tremble and crouch, and fear the future?

There was a generation of Americans, a few years back, who may have made a nuisance of themselves by swarming over Europe and bragging that whatever they saw was pint-sized compared with what they had at home. Socially, this manner may have left something to be desired, but behind it was a rugged confidence and a restless vitality. That generation did not fear the future—it rushed out to meet it and to mold it the way it wanted it to be.

Bragging is a bad thing. We are in no mood to brag today. But we need a little of that spirit. There is no time now to waste on wringers of hands, no time for those who would cower in a corner and hope to save what they can of the past for the future.

Strong, indomitable, determined, the American people must look the future in the face today and, feeling strength in every rippling muscle and hope in every surging thought, go forward to whatever destiny a new world holds for them.

A Mother Reassured

When Congresswoman Frances P. Bolton of Cleveland went to inspect Camp Forrest at Tullahoma, Tenn., the other day, she had more than the interest of a member of Congress. She had also a mother's interest, for two of her sons are training there.

Mrs. Bolton was naturally interested in the health and welfare of the boys. She found not only "the finest imaginable morale," but that of 20,000 men training at Camp Forrest, not a single man has died from any cause. That is, of course, an amazing record, for among 20,000 apparently healthy men, a few may die at any time even when not engaged in a hazardous occupation. Such a camp record, if it is in the least typical, speaks well for the conduct of the training phase of the defense effort.

Swiss Thorn In Nazi Side

No better proof of the real spirit behind Nazism could be found than recent attacks on Switzerland in the Nazi press. Switzerland, tiny country in Europe's heart, treasures its independence and its democracy. It has been most scrupulous in maintaining all the forms of traditional neutrality.

What reward? German officials and newspapers now launch attacks on Switzerland, charging "aloofness from the New Order in Europe" "without reason or provocation." "We do not understand what Switzerland wants, and why it wants to isolate itself." Behind these impatient comments runs the menacing "one day our patience will come to an end."

If Switzerland wants to isolate itself from any "new order" in Europe, you might think that is Switzerland's right, whether Nazi minds understand the wish or not. To the Nazi mind there is no such right.

The plain truth is that as long as a free country remains in Europe's midst, flaunting its example of a free democratic life, it must make Nazi big shots fidgety. It is significant that of all the nations now lined up under the "new order," not one has joined by anything even approaching a free decision.

The only licking the new defense stamps will take will be the one necessary to put them in the stamp booklets.

We still don't think that Congress argues over a bill as long as some husbands.

Previews Of Progress Opens Tonight At Midland High School Auditorium

E. L. Foss, director of the Previews of Progress, is shown here conducting his "phantom" orchestra. It is a demonstration of the new eye during which music is broadcast over a beam of light. This free stage exhibit will be shown tonight and tomorrow at the Midland High School auditorium at 8 p. m.

The General Motors Previews of Progress, exposition of science and research, has arrived in Midland and began transforming the stage of the high school auditorium into a modern research laboratory. Tonight and tomorrow night at 8 p. m. it will be presented, free, under the auspices of the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Not an automobile show, the exhibit tells the story of research and American industry. The audience will see an amazing demonstration of modern power. Rings fly into the air with no apparent power and seemingly defy the law of gravity. Lights will glow with no electric connections. Black light will be used to bring out nature's hidden beauties.

Probably the most mystifying and entertaining of many exhibits is so called "cold" stove. On it the commentator fries an egg and at the same time freezes ice cream. The explanation is very simple. Into a coil of wire is poured a large amount of electricity which builds up a field of magnetism around the coil. Since you cannot magnetize a newspaper it remains cold but the iron frying pan becomes very hot. Because the stove itself is cold ice cream is frozen in the very center of it while the egg is frying. And we are even told that if, in the future, we are very tired in the morning we can sit on the stove and fry the egg in our laps.

Japan Increases Purchase Of Oil In United States

By Lloyd Lehrbas.
WASHINGTON, May 5—(AP.)—Japan's feverish hunt for vitally needed oil—for its army and navy as well as for industry—was reflected today in commerce department statistics showing considerably increased purchases in the United States.

During March the United States exported 1,533,000 barrels of petroleum products to Japan, compared with 1,279,000 barrels in February and 1,491,000 barrels in January.

The Japanese need for oil for further army and navy activity and reduction of stocks because of war in China and penetration to Indo-China was believed by experts to have forced intensification of efforts to import a lot of oil in a hurry.

Many Tankers In Use.
Officials say 20 Japanese government-owned tankers are now in constant service and Japanese shippers are experimenting with shipments in wooden barrels instead of metal containers.

In an analysis of Japan's oil resources E. DeGoyler of Dallas has reported to the National Petroleum Association that Japan's position in the event if decided to fight other nations as well as China "would seem hopeless."

DeGoyler estimated Japan's production at only 2,500,000 barrels annually. The Russian half of the island of Sakhalin produces 2,000,000 barrels yearly, but its ports are ice-bound seven months of the year and the Soviet would need its own oil if the United States cut off the 1,000,000 barrels a year normally shipped to Vladivostok.

LUBBOCK, May 5—(Special)—More than 600 Rotarians of District 127 of Rotary International, and their Rotary Anns, are expected in Lubbock Sunday, for an annual conference of the district at which several former district governors will participate, in addition to representatives of Rotary International, Homer D. Grant, chairman of the conference committee said today.

The district extends from Dalhart to the Texas and Pacific Railroad and from Fort Worth west to the New Mexico state line, with 55 clubs having a membership of more than 2,300.

Frank S. Roberts of Breckenridge is district governor and will preside over the program. Dr. Allan D. Albert of Paris, Illinois, president of R. I. in 1915-16 and C. Reeve Vanneman of Albany, N. Y. will represent Rotary International on the program.

Past district governors on the program include: Fred Wemple, Midland; Ray H. Nichols, Vernon; O. B. Sellers, Fort Worth; Hiram Arrant, Abilene; Linton H. Estes, Wichita Falls; James L. Willson, Floydada; J. Edd McLaughlin, Ralls.

WIDOW OF SHERMAN LUMBERMAN IS DEAD
DALLAS, May 5—(AP.)—Mrs. B. L. Fielder, 81, widow of a former mayor and lumberman of Sherman, A. A. Fielder, died here yesterday at the home of a son, David B. Fielder.

Midland Speaker

Margaret Ann West, high school student, will represent Midland tonight in a four-district "Home Town Speaking" contest at the First Presbyterian Church. She won over Midland contestants this morning. Miss West is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. West, Midland.

Friends Think Trinity Job Prospects Improve

WASHINGTON, May 5—(AP.)—Friends here of the long-sought canalization of the Trinity River in Texas inland to Dallas and Fort Worth believe prospects for the project have improved.

They understand that the Army district and division engineers report recommended improvements estimated to cost approximately $115,000,000 to make the river navigable.

The report now is pending before the War Department Rivers and Harbors Board of Review, which may hold public hearings on the proposal in June or July.

Mary Brian Marries Magazine Illustrator

HOLLYWOOD, May 5—(AP.)—Screen Actress Mary Brian yesterday became the wife of Jon Whitcomb, New York magazine illustrator.

They were married in a church ceremony before only a few close friends and relatives. Miss Brian, a native of Corsicana, Tex., was educated in Oklahoma City and Dallas. Whitcomb's home is in Darien, Conn. It was the first marriage for both.

The newlyweds left by airliner for New York City, where they will sail on a two weeks honeymoon cruise in the Caribbean.

Escape Injury While Attending State Meet

R. D. Scruggs, Midland automobile dealer, and Supt. W. W. Lackey escaped injury in a freak accident in Austin while attending the Texas Interscholastic League Meet.

High school students threw laundry sacks of water out of the hotel window of a 9th floor room and the sacks struck and crushed the top of the automobile in which the Midland men were riding.

Police arrested the students. Damage to Scruggs automobile was approximately $150.

Your ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR IS NOW PAYING YOU INCREASED DIVIDENDS....

● All winter long, your electric refrigerator has been plugging along, doing the minimum amount of work necessary to keep your food fresh and wholesome in cold weather. But now warm weather is here and your electric refrigerator is buckling down to a real job, keeping perishable food safe from spoilage, and paying you daily dividends in food savings.

The pennies you spend for electric refrigeration save food that is worth dollars. No matter how hot the weather, you can depend upon your electric refrigerator to provide constant, food-saving cold. And, if your electric refrigerator adds a little to your monthly electric service bill, that is just a sign that it is paying you far more in food savings.

Q. V. V. Club Presents Annual Dance At Hotel Scharbauer; The Patriotic Theme Is Featured In Decorations

Jack Free's Orchestra Plays For Formal Affair Which Is Highpoint Of Weekend Activities For High School Students

Weekend social activities for Midland's high school set were climaxed by the annual dance of the Q. V. V. Club Saturday night.

The Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer, scene of the affair, was decorated in red, white, and blue to emphasize a patriotic motif. Flags were draped at the mirrored east end of the ballroom and also at the opposite end. Red, white, and blue balloons were suspended from the lighting fixtures and were used over the room.

Jack Free and his orchestra at the Ahlens played for dancing from 8 o'clock until one.

Formal gowns worn by the girls, tuxedos worn by some of their escorts, and the uniforms of about twenty soldiers of the Provisional Searchlight Battalion who were among the guests, added to the colorful and festive atmosphere of the evening.

Jo Ann Proctor and Charlie Temple, a soldier, each sang selections accompanied by the orchestra.

Gloria Coryell, president of Q. V. V., led the grand march with James Mims, followed by the other club officers, Verre Byrd and her escort, Jack Noyes, and Emily Jane Lamar and her escort, Art Lawrence.

Members of the hostess organization are: Gloria Coryell, Elma Jean Noble, Hilda Vogel, Maxine Stewart, Verre Byrd, Emily Jane Lamar,

Three-Fold Gift

ONE of the smartest of the new gadgets for spring and summer's rainy days is this ingeniously designed purse with a waterproofed compartment in the bottom to hold an umbrella and a pair of rubbers. It comes in Roman-striped faille and in solid colors, both dark and light, and it would make an ideal Mother's Day present.

"Blue Hawaiian" Theme Employed At Crane Banquet

CRANE, May 5—(Special)—Junior and senior banquet dreams came true in a Blue Hawaiian setting Friday evening at the high school library. W. H. Lovelace was toastmaster.

The theme was climaxed with a Waikiki beach scene at the end of the library, a volcano looming in the background.

Crescent and star candle sticks held the many-colored candles used with floral centerpieces. Hawaiian girl cutouts announced the program and menus, and nut cups had palm leaf bases which served as place cards. Festooning added color to the banquet hall. Miss Lois Anderson was chairman of the arrangements, assisted by A. V. Patterson who is the other junior sponsor.

On the program were: The Rev. H. M. Hilliard, who gave the invocation; Bill Wallis, "Welcome", vocal solo; "Blue Hawaii", Billie Marie Morton; Guy Eddie Bosworth; Tommy Turner, "Message from Hawaii"; Dorothy Lee Boone, "Hawaiian Hospitality"; "Alaloa Aoe", Terry Hosman and Marion Brunette.

Girls serving wore leis and wristlets, and green aprons. They were: Sue Alexander, Pola Jean Murrell, Ann Boyd, Mildred Goble, Leta Mae Brandon, Joyce Stone, Dorothy Coker, Cleo Henderson, Jackie Miller, Pat McAlpin, Jo Veda Henderson and Darlene Earp.

Places were laid for: Bernice Hayter, Rosa Faye Brown, Annie Laura Currie, Lorea McCorkle, Lois Ryan, Freda Jean Peek, Martha Gunn, Joanna Blair, Valerie Shaw, Aileen Murtishaw, Dorothy McGehee, Mary Beth Wilson, Faye Griffin, Dorothy Cantrell, Lila Lee Earp, May Hood, Betty Lou Six, Isabell Simon, Doris Coker, Clara McElveen, Effie Lucille Fortenberry, Marjorie Brandon, Margaret Aron, Druclille Howze, Della Nell Melton, Lavois Rogers, Tommye Lou Hamblett, Joyce Allman, Irene Raybon, Wanda Jean Budge, Clara Belle Pearce, Bobbye Byrl Trice, Juanita Wallis, Melva Webb, May Belle Bonner, Ruth Pickering, Amell Earp, Misses B. Before making your first play to this hand, you must do some analyzing. If declarer can pick up the king of diamonds, he has nine cold tricks even without a heart trick, but in all probability the diamond king is wrong. First, he must hold off one round of spades.

His next worry is whether or not North holds the ace of hearts, so before leading a diamond, he must lead a small heart to the queen. When the queen of hearts holds, he returns to his hand with a club and takes the diamond finesse.

South wins and may make the smart play of shifting to a heart. If he does, all West has to do is to play low and North will have the heart suit blocked with his ace-ten.

Seek Vast Acreage For Army Maneuvers

BATON ROUGE, La., May 5—(AP)—Work began today on a task that makes the Louisiana purchase of 1803 look like a simple real estate deal—the procurement of half the state's area for war maneuvers this spring.

A force of state employees and university students started addressing and mailing 100,000 letters to landowners to make 15,000,000 acres available for the gigantic war games.

The maneuvers, reaching their peak in September, will bring 500,000 soldiers to the state and a daily expenditure of approximately $1,000,000.

To Give Examination For Driver's Permit

AUSTIN, May 5—(Special)—New applicants for a driver's license in Texas must take an examination prescribed by the new driver's license law, it was pointed out today by Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., state police director.

Examinations will be required by persons renewing present licenses unless an examination is deemed unnecessary by the Department of Public Safety. Persons having bad accident records, or who have been charged with a number of traffic law violations, or who have physical defects which might impair their safe operation of a vehicle, are liable to re-examination.

MUSTANG BOYS' CLUB COLUMN

The Mustang boys are good troopers and in spite of another wet Saturday, with two postponements on account of weather, the Mustang pet parade will roll through Midland at 11 a. m. Saturday, crazier and funnier than ever.

New entries are planned. Pets and boys alike are growing daily more enthusiastic. They all agree they must and will put on a bigger and better show for their friends, the public.

About 80 boys enjoyed the program for the Saturday club meeting. Twelve screw contests, entirely hay-wire and full of action, offered new kinds of fun. Howard Proctor, who is taking a position in San Angelo, was given an enthusiastic good-bye by the boys, showing that his work with them was highly appreciated. We all wish him great success in his work and hope he will keep in touch with us. His successor will be announced at an early meeting.

New members have been coming in at a rapid rate. In the last few weeks the following 29 boys have been added to the club: Bill Davis, Thomas Davis, Bill Bedford, Lloyd White, John Tedford, Frank Goode, Billy Barnett, Francis Tedford, Delbert Friday, Alford Snider, Ivan McLemore, Jesse Hunter, Roland Davis, R. E. Roach, Nolan McLemore, Bobby Stephens, Arnold Adams, J. L. Mann, Goodman King, Johnnie Whitmore, Corbie D. Friday, Bert Rice, Glen Spraws, Buddy Davidson, Sonny Gogins, Jerry Hudson, Jimmie Rhoads, Billy Joe Truelove, Billy Ward. We salute and greet these new members.

We, the Women

By Ruth Millett

Mrs. Jones has a lovely home, a well-trained servant, and when you are invited to the Joneses' for dinner you know everything will be just as it should be. But you don't look forward to the evening one bit. You probably can think of half a dozen Mrs. Joneses among your own friends—women who have achieved the right background for hospitality, but never manage to make their invitations eagerly accepted.

No book or article on "How to Give a Successful Party" would help the Joneses. They know the correct thing to do, and the correct thing to say. The reason why an evening with the Joneses is dull is because all you meet when you visit them are other guests. You don't meet the "real Joneses"—because their house isn't a really lived-in home that expresses the personalities, the interests, the talents of its members.

WARMTH OF REAL HOSPITALITY

It's just another house, and the Joneses don't fit into it any more comfortably than they would any house of its size.

You leave the Joneses' not knowing its members any better than when you met them outside their home.

But it is entirely different when you visit the Browns. From the dinner (which includes at least one dish for which Mrs. Brown has a reputation) to the talk or recreation afterwards which brings out the interests of the Browns—more varied than you would imagine—you are learning things about the Browns.

You find out that Mrs. Brown is a good cook and that she enjoys it. You learn that she has a beautiful garden, and learn something about her from the type of garden it is. You find out that she is found of really good music, and that she has an intelligent interest in what is going on in the world.

You find out that Mr. Brown, so quiet and retiring, is an excellent shot, and you have fun trying your marksmanship down in the basement where he has rigged up a target. His enthusiasm is strong enough to make you wonder why you don't take it up as a hobby.

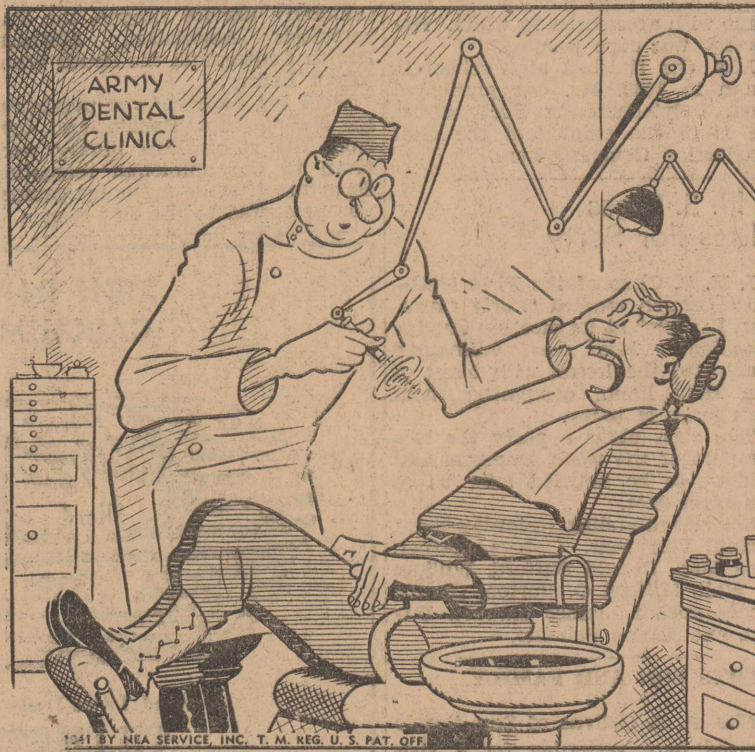

LIEUTENANT WHALEN BRINGS BRIDE TO TEXAS

Lieut. Edward L. Whalen and his bride, the former Miss Catherine Goodreau, arrived in Midland last night, where he is stationed with the Provisional Searchlight Battalion. The couple was married April 22 at Portland, Me., and came to Texas via boat to New Orleans and thence overland. For the present, the two are making their home at the Crawford Hotel.

You're really interested in his collections of guns and books on guns.

SCREEN FOR COLOR

You can brighten up a dull corner of any room in the house by using a colorful screen. Perhaps you have a frame that has been relegated to the attic. A bit of paint and a dramatic covering will make it good as new. Cut the cloth to conform with the frame measurements, allowing two or three inches on all sides for tuck-in and finishing off the raw edges. Fasten the material to the frame with upholstery tacks. Consider each section of the screen as an entity. Printed crash, quilted in a double diamond pattern all over the surface, would strike a fresh and cheerful note for spring. Use a quilting attachment on your sewing machine for this. For the living room, hocking in a neutral tone would be effective applied with cool-looking stylized green leaves and trailing stems from top to bottom of each section in asymmetric fashion. This is much easier and quicker to do than it sounds. Use the zigzagger attachment for appliqueing. A dainty choice for the boudoir would be ribbon-run, flounced pastel voile. Use the hemstitcher to give a precise plect finish to top and bottom edges of each flounce.

SERIAL STORY

LOVE POWER

BY OREN ARNOLD

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Carolyn landed safely, after plunging through the storm. Somehow, she shakes off the parachute harness. She sees a road, stumbles toward it. A motorist stops. When she asks if he has heard an explosion, he thinks she is delirious.

BOB LANDS SAFELY

CHAPTER XIX

IN the village of Blair, Ariz., Carolyn and her rescuer found one light burning. It was in a large house that seemed to be a combined residence and store. An efficient-looking woman in night robe answered immediately when Carolyn ran to the door and knocked.

"Hello! I—Have you a telephone? May I please call for help? If I can just telephone Boulder Dam, I might—"

"Come in, honey!" The woman interrupted Carolyn's frantic talk, appraised her quickly. "Look here, honey, is your name Tyler, and did you drop outen a airplane?"

"Yes! Oh!"

"Well, I'm that glad it's you! They've been already phoning about you. They's men out already on a search. Now ain't this just dandy!"

"Come in, child. You look bedraggled. Ain't you cold? They've already phoned about you from Boulder. I expect it's been on the radio, too."

"Law, I expect they're a-tearing around every whichaway, for one as young and sweet as you! Now you just phone 'em back right now as quick as you can, and I'll get you something warm and dry!"

The good woman, not one to be overly excited, was plainly excited. Carolyn grabbed her.

"What about Bob? Dr. Hale? Tell me! He must be safe or nobody would know where I—is he? Who called?"

"Honey, set down a minute! He's safe. Him and the man flying him both is safe. It was a Mr. Hale that called me. He said—"

That was all Carolyn needed. She called Boulder Dam—specifically, Boulder City, Nev., the town near the great dam. The operator there couldn't get Bob for her at the moment but did get the local airport, and the field official told her that Bob and the plane had come in safely.

Bob was about crazy, the official admitted, worrying about her, and he would get word to Bob at once and call off the search. He talked some more, but Carolyn didn't hear it. If the kindly woman here hadn't come quickly, Carolyn would have slipped right down to the floor.

It was the first time in her life Carolyn Tyler had ever fainted, but even a young and healthy girl can stand only so much.

It took Bob Hale a week to quit begging Carolyn's forgiveness. Almost pitifully he apologized, over and over, berating himself and humbling himself before her. He had honestly felt that her life depended on that parachute jump. She understood that.

But when he had gone to tell the pilot, preparing to jump out himself, the pilot had taken command. The storm danger was indeed real but the pilot had steadfastly refused to abandon ship.

His refusal had, in turn, made Bob decide to stay. Bob had tried to weigh the dangers both ways and in the end the presence of the X-999 had decided him.

The pilot, Bob knew, could not be made to realize the extreme potency of that substance in the box. A forced chance landing, bumpy and rough, might set off the greatest explosion in the history of man. But even so, Bob elected to stick with the pilot and their freight. He felt directly responsible for the X-999. Bailing out now would be cowardly running away, and at least Carolyn had a fighting chance.

When it all ended happily he was like a boy released from some hideous dream and it took him days to calm down again. For her part, Carolyn was back to normalcy after a long sleep, a bath, fresh clothing and a hearty meal.

"Nothing boring about being your secretary, at any rate," she told Bob, laconically. He was still serious.

"I have raised your pay, Carolyn! As I told you, the Schoenfeld Laboratory is abundantly endowed, and, of course, with the X-999 we have absolutely unlimited means at our command, so—"

"I'm still just a steno being overpaid already, and that's that!" she declared flatly. "Please get right down to your work, Bob. The serious work, I mean."

THERE was much to be done. That first day, while she slept, he had bought a station wagon, and would have carried the boxed X-999 to his mountain retreat alone, but she insisted on joining him.

Together they drove the priceless stuff through the canyons to Blair, thence branched onto the rougher trail that led to the abandoned Copper King mine in Tonto Mountain. There they were met by Bob's workmen, who already had erected temporary tents and shacks, reconditioned the narrow gauge ore track into the mine shaft, and brought in provisions.

When the X-999 had at last been deposited nearly three-quarters of a mile inside the mountain itself, Bob showed visible relief.

"Now, for the first time, I can breathe easily," said he. "Now it is safe, and no one's life need be in constant danger. Thank heaven for that!"

She liked that streak in him. That reverence, that feeling of humility and selflessness, despite the fact of his brilliance as a scientist and his fame. It was another reason for loving him.

Loving him? She contemplated that again. Of course she loved him, more profoundly than ever. And with the rush of physical excitement subsiding, she would give full thought to that problem of making him love her.

MEANTIME, Carolyn knew, Leana Sormi was a lurking, insidious danger. She "knew" it largely through intuition, but it was definite even so.

Leana's eyes had revealed it. Leana's way of looking at Bob. The little things Leana had let slip back home. The peculiar circumstance of that first explosion, the hint contained in the telegram to Leana, and the fact that a train was robbed! They all added up too much to be mere coincidence.

"I've been terrifically lucky," Carolyn whispered to herself, in apprehension again. "She's not likely to miss any bets next time!"

Leana would be brought here to the mountain retreat in a few days, Carolyn knew, because there was a great work facing her and Bob—harnessing X-999, adapting its unprecedented power to engines, inviting other distinguished scientists here for consultation, re-making the whole world of engineering!

But Carolyn knew that somewhere in this rash Leana Sormi would strike again. And soon!

"Run away? Chuck this crazy job forever and go back to the city and its safety?"

"I could never do that," Carolyn told herself. "I would leave Bob helpless, alone!"

Answers To Cranium Crackers

Questions On Page Two.

1. Yes. A senator must have been a citizen nine years, must be at least 30.

2. No. A representative needs to be 25 years old, but must have been a citizen seven years.

3. Martin Van Buren, born Dec. 5, 1782, was first president born in U. S. All preceding him, and one following (Harrison) were born in America while colonies were under British rule, before independence was declared in 1776.

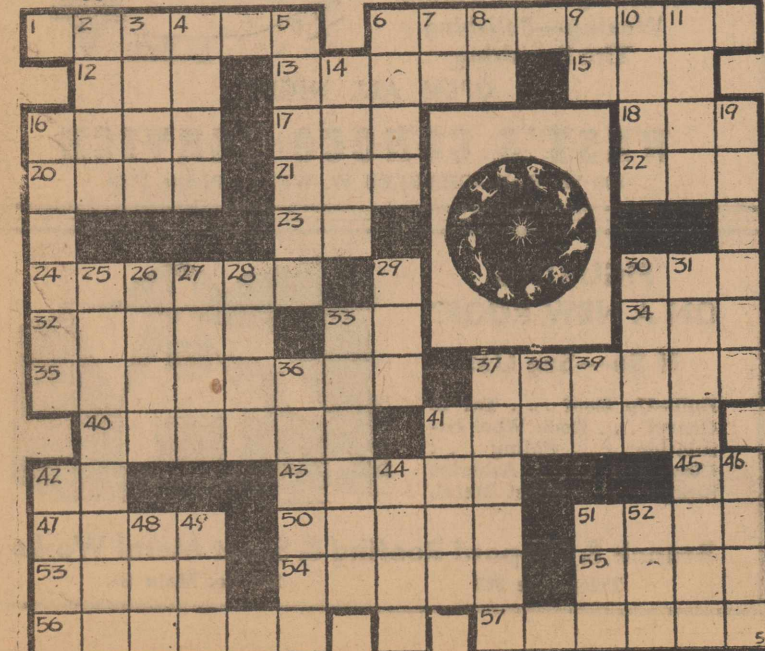

4. A naturalized citizen could become a member of the House of Representatives at 30. He must be 18 to get his first papers, then wait five years to become naturalized, and be seven years a citizen before election.

5. No. The Constitution does not specifically say the vice-president must be a natural-born citizen, but his qualification for office are considered to be the same as those of the president, whom he might succeed in office.

Bold Irishman, Out Of Derby With Injury, Hopes To Beat Whirlaway In $75,000 Preakness At Pimlico

NEW YORK, May 5—(AP.)—Whether Whirlaway, the vagabond king of the turf, returns to rags and rogue-like ways or takes a strange hold on the three-year-old crown will be determined Saturday when the Kentucky Derby winner hooks up with Bold Irishman in the $75,000 Preakness at Pimlico.

It's going to be a mighty long time before Whirlaway's record-smashing performance in the derby is forgotten by the 100,000 who saw the little chestnut burn up Churchill Downs home-stretch Saturday with 2:01 2/5 clocking, beating Twenty Grand's mark by 2/5 of a second. But in Bold Irishman from Mrs. H. C. Phipps' Wheatley Stable, he'll meet a horse that also can turn on the heat in the final drive.

Whirlaway, kept out of the Derby by a slight injury, is the only high-ranking two-year-old of 1940 that figures to bar Whirlaway's path to the mythical 'triple-crown', which also includes the Belmont Stakes. The chestnut from Warren Wright's Cabinet Farm in the blue grass country whipped all but the Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons-trained Irishman and King Cole in the derby. But King Cole, regarded only as a sprinter, has been beaten badly by Market Wise, who could do no more than three-eight lengths back—in the derby.

Best Track Season For Midland Closes; Team Tells Of Meet

Midland High's most successful track season was history today.

The athletes, Cletas Hines, Ken Williams, Windell Williams, Ivan Hall, and J. M. White, spoke in an assembly program this morning, reporting on the state meet.

The Midland team and coach did not alibi on the outcome. Members and Coach L. M. Freels urged more interest in track. The team this year won regional and district championships.

Hines ran fifth in the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes at the state meet. He was one of eight finalists. He ran second in a 9.9 seconds heat of the century in the preliminaries, and won a 220-yard dash heat.

The Midland high sprint relay team, one of seven in the finals, ran fifth. They were clocked in their fastest time of the season in 44.2. Midland won its heat of the relay in preliminaries.

Flashes Of Life

CAMP EDWARDS, Mass.—A new arrival at this camp was reluctant to tell officers what his occupation was in civil life. A Chaplain was assigned to the task.

"Well, sir," said the trainee "if you must know, I spent most of my time accepting bets on the speed of animals."

"A good cavalry possibility," muttered an officer.

NORTH EAST, Pa.—Ralph S. Sly of East Aurora, N. Y., was fined for passing a stop sign, but he didn't mind—figuring he was lucky to be alive.

In overlooking the sign he drove into a truck containing 11,000 pounds of dynamite. The explosive was scattered over the road, but didn't explode and no one was hurt.

SPOKANE, Idaho.—Baldy, I. G. Parson's black heifer, nearly passed on to greener pastures.

She skidded down a cliff to a patch of green grass. She ate all there was, then spent two days facing southeast because the shelf was so narrow she couldn't turn.

Parsons used a block and tackle to hoist her back home.

It took an hour to get headed for the barn. She just stood there, facing southeast, and moored.

Baseball Club Prexy Asks To Be Relieved

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., May 5—(AP.)—H. Louis Hahn, 59-year-old president of the Albuquerque baseball club, today asked directors to relieve him of his duties because of ill health.

The Albuquerque Cardinals are members of the Arizona-Texas League.

Congratulations to: Mr. and Mrs. Sam Giesey on the birth of a son, Sam Charles, Jr., 7 pounds, 13 ounces, April 30 in Ryan's Hospital.

Shreveport Climbs Into Second Place, Threatens Houston

By The Associated Press.

The Houston Buffs are still sailing at the top of the Texas League campaign, like they have from the start, but should they go into a slump the Shreveport Sports would like to take over.

The Sports jumped from third to second in the standings the last week and equalled Houston's scoring for the period. Each won four games and lost one.

Shreveport missed a chance yesterday to gain another game by splitting a doubleheader with the Fort Worth Cats. The Panthers took the first, 5-3, Bill Skelly homered with a man aboard in the fifth proving the deciding blow. The Sports took the second, 3-2, behind the two-hit pitching of Walter Navie, recently returned by the Chicago White Sox.

Houston Loses Second. Errors caused the Buffs to throw away a double victory. After taking the opener from Oklahoma City, 4-1, Houston bobbled on an attempted double-play and allowed the Indians to score two runs for a 3-2 win in the final game.

Another double feature was divided at San Antonio, the Missions dropping the first game to the Tulsa Oilers, 4-1, but taking the nightcap 5-1, behind Ewald Fyfe's tight pitching. Paul Carpenter's homer started a 3-run spurge in the fourth that sewed up the Tulsa victory.

Rain caused postponement of the Dallas at Beaumont games.

Henderson Wins Tourney Flight

Walter Henderson, Midland golfer, won the first flight championship of the Odessa annual invitation tourney yesterday.

Fred Hogan, Midland, won the first flight consolation and Jimmy Brooks third flight competition.

Championship 36-hole finals today, matches Harry Todd of Dallas, tourney favorite, against J. T. Hammett of Cisco.

A Monahan player will contest Jimmy Russell of Odessa in the championship flight consolation today.

Odessa's tourney drew 110 contestants in eight flights.

Midland Gridders To Play In Shrine Game

Windell Williams, Midland high all-around athlete, and Maurice Bratton, smooth-working Bulldog end, have been invited to play in the annual Shrine charity all-star football game at Wichita Falls Sept. 1.

The annual game features outstanding players from Texas high schools. East Texas plays West Texas.

Many Stars Pair Off For Southern Tourney

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 5—(AP.)—A star-studded field of golfers paired off today for qualifying rounds in the 30th tournament of the Women's Southern Golf Association at the Memphis country Club.

With national and regional experts well-sprinkled in the entry list, a wide-open battle was predicted for the crown Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite of Fort Worth is defending.

Oil News . . .

Hockey County portion of the pool, Magnolia No. 2 Maple Wilson, has passed 4,540 feet in lime.

Humble, Stanolind and Standard No. 1 A. F. Byrd, scheduled 9,000-foot test in Southeastern Hale County, is drilling below 4,090 feet in lime.

Newest Abell Well. After drilling plug from 7-inch pipe cemented at 5,377, three feet of bottom, Magnolia No. 1-B Mark-ey Heirs, one-quarter mile northwest of the discovery well in the Abell pool of Pecos County, was cored from 5,380-87 1/2, recovering green shale and sand showing a little oil. Next core, from 5,387 1/2-95 feet, was green sand showing oil. Last core was from 5,395 to 5,402 feet, total depth, and showed gray sand carrying a faint odor of oil from 5,395-98 feet and the rest black. Operators have run 2-inch tubing to 5,400 feet and are swabbing.

George T. Abell et al No. 1 E. J. Rixse, one mile northeast of the Abell discovery, is drilling below 4,987 feet in Simpson lime. It topped the Simpson, middle Ordovician, between 4,850 and 4,860 feet, calls on the market varying. Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Conry-Davis Unit, four-miles east outpost to Simpson sand production, is drilling below 4,610 feet in Permian lime. Siemontet Drilling Company No. 1 W. T. Walsh et al is drilling lime at 3,985 feet; Eastland Oil Company No. 1 Simmes lime at 2,205 feet, and Sinclair-Prairie Oil Company No. 1 E. E. Grove lime at 4,450 feet. Sinclair-Prairie No. 1 Rosa R. Daley, north offset to the sixth producer in the pool, is drilling Simpson shale at 5,165 feet.

Crockett Well Blows Gas. Continental Oil Company et al No. 8 J. S. Todd Unit, one-quarter mile south and east of the Todd Deep pool in Crockett County, blew 2,123,000 cubic feet of gas daily, with no oil, after opened through tubing for one-half hour preparatory to taking potential gauge. It had been acidized with 2,000 gallons and was flowing from 25 to 30 barrels of oil hourly until shut in prior to the test. Operators will kill gas and drill ahead from present depth of 5,875 feet. The well topped Simmsa crinoidal lime, producing horizon of the pool, at 5,833 feet.

Amerada Petroleum Corporation is moving in spudder to No. 1-A Todd Estate, new test for the pool. The same firm's No. 1-R A. University, scheduled to test the Ordovician in Southeastern Reagan County, is drilling black shale past 4,981 feet.

Magnolia No. 20 State-Walton, Winkler County wildcat between the Kermit and Keystone pools, flowed 1,900,000 feet of gas and recovered 80 feet of gas-cut mud when 20-minute drillstem test was taken from 3,030-70 feet. It is drilling ahead below 3,087 feet in lime.

Ector Wildcat Shooting. A tamped shot with 210 quarts of nitro spaced from 4,240 to 4,310 feet is slated to go off today in Forest Development Corporation No. 1-C W. P. Edwards, one and one-quarter miles southeast of the Douro area in Southern Ector County. Hole is bottomed at 4,320 feet, plugged back with gravel and cement from total depth of 4,502 feet. The well showed neither oil nor water in the lower horizon but had about 300 feet of oil in the hole from upper pays in the Grayburg lime.

Coffey Defeats Riegel In Texas Golf Tournament

BEAUMONT, May 5—(AP.)—Golf's habit of mocking form arose in the finals of the Texas Golf Association tournament, and Billy Bob Coffey of San Antonio coasted through the rain to his second consecutive championship.

Bobby Riegel, Houston insurance salesman, was expected to dethrone Coffey yesterday when they teed off in the 36-hole deciding match over the Beaumont Country Club course, but instead he took a shellacking 8 and 6.

While a champion ordinarily is given the edge, Riegel was the gallery choice because narrow fairways, such has those stripping the course here, are relatively easy for him to negotiate.

But yesterday the tables were turned. Through a rain which drenched them on 13 holes, Coffey was the man who stuck most to the middle and Riegel carelessly watched his own shots migrate into woods and traps.

Coffey played like the champion he is against one of the state's toughest competitors, going through the rain-harried first round in 78, seven over par but a fine score under the circumstances. He came back in the afternoon under better conditions with a one-under-par card.

Nazi Fliers Damage North Ireland City

LONDON, May 5—(AP.)—Northern Ireland officially acknowledged today that "much damage to commercial, industrial, residential property" was inflicted on Belfast last night in a German air raid.

Nazi bombers pounded also at Liverpool—for the fourth successive night—in apparent continuation of the German effort to wreck British ports at which United States aid might be received.

"The air attack on Belfast last night was heavy and sustained," said the second communique of the day from the northern Ireland ministry of national security and Northern Ireland RAF headquarters.

Indians To Pitch Feller In Quest Of Eleventh Win

By The Associated Press.

Bobby Feller is due to go back to work for the Cleveland Indians today, which is enough to make the American League leaders a good bet to run their winning streak to 11 straight against the Washington Senators.

Since that surprising kayo the Chicago White Sox hung on his chin opening day, Master Robert has won four starts.

A pitcher who sets the opposition down with seven hits usually is deserving of more than a mere agate line in the box score. It can hardly be a coincidence, therefore, that in running their victories through 10 straight—the latest a 12-4 rout of the Senators yesterday—the Tribe's grade-A hurling staff has yielded only a fraction more than seven safeties per contest.

The Philadelphia Athletics set the day's high in their 17-11 victory over the White Sox.

The New York Yankees, still in second place, fell three and a half games off Cleveland's pace when big Buck Newsom set them on their collective ear, 10-1, with a five hit pitching job.

Grove Wins First. In St. Louis, Lefty Grove hung up his first victory of the year as the Boston Red Sox, mainly on one big inning, thumped the Browns, 11-4.

A rookie pitcher, Tom Hughes, was the day's standout performer in the National League. The 21-year-old Philly hurler set down the world champion Cincinnati Reds, 3-0, with three singles, only two Reds getting as far as third.

The front-running St. Louis Cardinals ran their string to nine in a row. Held to six hits by the Braves, the Cards bunched five of them in the eighth against Manuel Salvo for all their runs and a 3-1 victory.

An error that paved the way for four unearned runs, three of them on Elbie Fletcher's homer, helped the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 5-4 triumph over the Brooklyn Dodgers, and cost Luke (Hot Potato) Hamlin his first defeat.

Another sort of streak was broken when the New York Giants, who hadn't won in seven starts, belted six (count 'em, 6) Chicago Cub pitchers for 13 hits and a 9-4 score.

Freshman Cardinal Pitchers Present Boss With Problem

BOSTON, May 5—(AP.)—Four freshmen Cardinal pitchers have pulled a fast one on manager Billy Southworth to become the sensation of the young baseball season.

His problem is similar to the old women who lived in the shoe. Within 10 days, Southworth must ship two of his 27-man squad to the minors to get within the limit—but he has so many winning pitchers he doesn't know what to do.

In hopes of paring the pitching staff, he started early flinging his rookies down the big league batting gauntlet.

First up, John Grodzicki, who had a so-so 1940 record at Rochester, was credited with two victories in relief roles against Pittsburgh and New York.

Next, Sam Nahem replied with two triumphs—over the Pirates and the Giants.

Grodzicki's and Nahem's performances met with some eye-brow tilting but they were expected to be the best of the recruits. The other two—Howard Krist and Henry Gornicki—were question marks.

Preston Krist, a 22-game winner at Houston last season, set Philadelphia down with five hits last Friday in his debut as a starter.

But Gornicki—saved the final test—next day outshone the best of the quartet. He beat the Phillies 6 to 0, allowing but a single safety.
