

O'Daniel Asks Liquor Ban At Army Camps

Declares Supplies Are Demoralizing; Asks 10-Mile Area

AUSTIN, May 22.—Declaring "booze conditions" near army training centers in Texas "demoralizing," Governor W. Lee O'Daniel today asked the Legislature to bar intoxicating beverages for 10 miles about such areas.

The bill he submitted along with his special message would carry such prohibition also with reference to places where ships, airplanes, tanks or other military supplies were produced under government contract.

Sale, barter and transport of intoxicating beverages would be banned under penalty of two to five years' imprisonment.

The attorney general would be empowered to enforce violations of the law and suit could be maintained in Travis County (Austin).

Prohibited areas would be "within 10 miles" of any part of land or buildings occupied or controlled by the governor and used as a "fort, arsenal, training camp, quarters or place" where soldiers, sailors, marines, or aviators of the army, navy or national guard are quartered or trained.

Eleemosynary Bill Advances. Sacramento wine or liquors for medicine would be exempted.

The Senate committee bill appropriating for eleemosynary institutions was sent to the printer.

It provided for a total of $15,596,000, about $3,000,000 more than appropriations for the current biennium and a compromise between the House and Senate bills.

The House passed bill authorizing Brownwood to issue revenue bonds to double its water filtration plant and provide an adequate supply of water for Camp Bowler.

Lubbock Surgeon To Drill West Of Yoakum Ownby

Dr. Sam G. Dunn, chief surgeon at the West Texas hospital in Lubbock, has staked location for a wildcat test in Southeastern Yoakum County 467 feet out of the southeast corner of section 486, block D, J. H. Gibson survey.

It is his No. 1 R. L. Moore and will start with rotary immediately. The test is one mile west and one location north of George P. Livemore, Inc. No. 1 Ernest Ownby, discovery producer three miles northeast of the Waples Flatter area, completed one month ago for flow of 129.72 barrels of oil in six hours through a 5/8-inch choke on 2-inch tubing, bottomed at 5,348 feet in lime.

In the Slaughter pool of Southeastern Hockley County The Texas Company No. 15 B. Slaughter block set potential of 1,333.08 barrels of 32-gravity oil per day, with gas-oil ratio of 623-1, after acidizing with 7,000 gallons in lime from 4-920 to bottom at 5,010 feet.

A north outpost to the Slaughter, Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2 Maple Wilson, is drilling below 5,445 feet in gray lime. It is being carried to deeper zones after showing both oil and gas in the regular pay horizon of the pool.

Rixse Showing Oil, Gas. Plugging back to 5,000 from total depth of 5,043 feet apparently shut off bottom-hole salt water in Geo. T. Abell et al No. 1 E. J. It now is showing oil and gas while swabbing, and observers believe the well will kick off and flow without shooting. It entered the pay sand at 4,985, highest of any well in the area.

Magnolia No. 1 J. F. McKee is coming out with core from 4,984-85 feet. After showing 3,142,080 feet of dry sweet gas and 80 feet of disillate-tu mud on 25-minute drill-stem test from 4,957 1/2-75 feet, it was cored ahead to 4,980, recovering

British Fliers Intensify Raids In Libyan Areas

WITH BRITISH "DESERT FORCES IN NORTH AFRICA, May 22.—(AP)—The Royal Air Force has unleashed its most intensive effort of the desert war so far against German concentrations and transport columns in Libya.

In the past thirty hours, the British say, eight German planes have been destroyed—five on the ground and three in the air—and an ammunition dump and a gasoline dump have been exploded.

As flight after flight of British bombers showered missiles through the day and night, RAF fighter planes skimmed over the roads and desert trails sending thousands of incendiary bullets into Axis vehicles.

German aviation in the desert is described by the British as remaining strangely inactive. Among steps to counter the British air offensive, however, the Nazis are said to have stationed tanks at regular intervals along the roads and trails to shoot at low-flying, strafing British planes.

German Seize Capital

Troops Capture Crete City And War Intensifies

British Defeat Attempt By Sea And Warn French Hitler Alliance Is War

By The Associated Press

Dropping out of the skies by thousands, Adolf Hitler's aerial invaders seized the old capital of Crete today and gained another foothold in the Suda Bay region—site of a big British naval base—but British warships smashed attempts to land seaborne troops on the island.

With the 3-day-old battle mounting in violence, Prime Minister Winston Churchill acknowledged that Nazi parachute troops had invested the town of Candia, in Central Crete, the old-time capital.

British Middle East headquarters in Cairo coincidentally reported that the German "sky army" had gained a temporary foothold in the Malemi sector, 15 miles south of Canea, the Crete capital, seat of King George II's Greek government.

The fighting is continuing with intensity, Churchill said. "The Germans are using large numbers of paratroopers and these are being increased daily."

The Prime Minister said that, "although the situation is in hand, the Germans have gained some local successes at heavy cost."

He announced that the Germans began "very much larger attempts" at naval landings today and that a convoy of 30 German ships en route to Crete was sighted this morning "and presumably was attacked, although my information stops at that point."

Simultaneously, the British delivered a stiff warning to the French government at Vichy that if France pursues her "declared policy of collaboration" with Germany, British forces will strike "the enemy, without any discretion between occupied and unoccupied territory."

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, advising Parliament on the possibility of open hostilities between the Allies of less than a year ago, declared the Vichy government had "embarked on a course which must place the resources and territories of France increasingly at the disposal of Germany."

Swiftly on the heels of the warning, qualified sources in London said Eden's statement meant an "undeclared state of war" against France.

In the heightening 3-day-old battle of Crete, the British said two German transports and a number of Greek boats headed for the British-defended island were sunk by British warships.

The British radio said the Germans might now be drawing on a second air-borne division—making 14,000 Nazi air troops involved in the momentous struggle—and admitted the possibility also that the Germans might be attempting to land tanks from boats.

Iraq Planes Attack British. In Berlin, a Nazi spokesman challenged reports of big German losses in the conflict, declaring: "We will tell the whole story soon, and the world then may judge what actually was accomplished in the region of the Mediterranean."

The Berlin radio broadcast a Baghdad report that Iraq planes—now said to be heavily reinforced by the German Luftwaffe—had executed surprise attacks on a British airfield at Amman, the capital of British-mandated Transjordan, which adjoins both Syria and Iraq.

"It was the first Iraq air attack against a British stronghold outside Iraq," the German broadcast said.

Meanwhile, officially unconfirmed reports said Gen. Charles De Gaulle's British-aided "Free French" troops were advancing into Syria and Palestine.

If true, this would mean that the Allies had seized the initiative on land, striking into the French-ruled colony next door to Iraq before the expected arrival of German troops. Nazi military supplies—and possibly troops—were reported rolling by train through Turkey en route to the developing Middle East war theater.

Britain Dickers For 100 Vessels

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—Great Britain, it was learned authoritatively today, is negotiating with Latin American nations for the purchase of some of the 100-odd refugee foreign merchantmen now idle in hemisphere ports.

The negotiations, it was learned, parallel existing discussions between Sir Arthur Salter, chief of the British shipping mission, and the U. S. Maritime Commission, whereby Britain hopes to obtain some merchant tonnage when the United States formally requisitions the 84 foreign ships now under official surveillance here.

The success of British efforts, it was said, would hinge largely on the deliberations of the Inter-American Financial and Economic committee, representing all 21 American republics, which convened today to consider the whole ship seizure question.

If You Imbibe Too Freely, Order New Chauffeur Service

Chauffeur service for those who imbibe too freely was announced today by cab operators here after a conference with Police Chief L. P. McCasland.

They have arranged service for persons unable to drive their own cars safely.

"Why take a chance?" the cab men asked. "Call your favorite cab company and ask for chauffeur service."

Two drivers will be dispatched on the call. One will drive the customer's car to his home and put it in the garage while the other drives the "fare" home.

McCasland explained the service is designed for those who at times imbibe too freely. Just call a cab and ask for "CHAUFFEUR SERVICE."

This service may prevent a serious accident and serious injury to car owners or their friends.

District Home Demonstration Agent Will Speak On National Defense At Midland Dairy Day Program Friday

AUSTIN, May 22.—(AP)—Attorney General Gerald C. Mann today asked the Texas supreme court to grant rehearing in the famous rate case of the state against the Lone Star Gas Company.

He petitioned the court to set aside its action of April 30 ordering a new trial in the eight-year-old litigation and to affirm the judgment of the Austin court of civil appeals.

The court of civil appeals had sustained an order of the state railroad commission reducing the rate of the company from 40 to 32 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. It reversed a judgment of an Austin district court, based on a jury verdict in favor of the company.

Grounds have been prepared, judges obtained, a program outlined, and $165 in premiums are available for the second annual Midland County Dairy Day tomorrow.

Miss Ruth Thompson, district home demonstration agent, will make an address at 11:30 a. m. on "Dairying and National Defense."

The program gets underway at 9 a. m. with judging of dairy products. Judging of the 15 classes of dairy stock, registered and non registered, together will take place in the afternoon.

Eudaly To Be Judge. The public will participate in a novel event of judging stock. Prizes will be awarded for the scores nearest those of the judges.

E. R. Eudaly, extension service dairyman, will be official judge.

Midland firms and individuals will award special prizes and are sponsors of various classes of the show.

The company will operate a pipeline from the Soma or Noelke shallow pool in northwestern Crockett County, which lies across the Pecos River from the Yates field.

Admiral States Allies Losing Atlantic Battle

SHANGHAI, May 22.—(AP)—Rear Admiral William Glassford, commander of the United States Yangtze naval patrol, declared tonight that the battle of the Atlantic "at this moment is being lost by the Allies."

"We are not only facing inevitable defeat of England and collapse of the British empire but also defeat of the United States unless something is done," he added.

The New York mayor said the hundreds of thousands of citizens expected to register for emergency tasks must be prepared to submit to "strict and rigid discipline."

Shipyards of the nation were jammed with a gigantic building program as the nation observed Maritime Day—the 122nd anniversary of the Savannah's departure on the first successful trans-Atlantic voyage by steam.

A ceremonial observance was aboard the Maritime Commission's training ship, American Seaman, but due to emergency conditions the Washington navy yard will not be open to the public. Similar exercises, the commission said, will take place at the principal ports on the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific coasts and on the Great Lakes.

Roosevelt Declares More And Faster U. S. Vessels Will Destroy Menace Over World

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—President Roosevelt predicted today that "more and faster ships will be built" in this country and that "they will carry through the open waters of the seven seas implements which will help destroy one menace to free peoples everywhere."

In a letter to rear admiral Emory S. Land, chairman of the Maritime Commission, the president said: "I am glad of an opportunity to send a maritime message to the American people. Today as never before in our history, our merchant marine is vital to our national welfare. I do not mean vital merely in the conventional sense that it makes an important contribution but in the stronger sense that it is a crucially decisive factor in our continued existence as a free people."

The president's letter was read at ceremonies at the Washington navy yard in connection with ceremonies observing Maritime Day.

New Job For The Short Waves

The defense program means new jobs and new responsibilities for all of us. They crop up in the most unexpected places.

For instance, short-wave radio. Naturally, that service has been expanded to compete with European broadcasts to South and Central America. But there is another and newer angle to that.

With occupation of a dozen new and faraway bases in the hemisphere defense plan, thousands of American boys are billeted in their garrisons, far from home, and often in remote places where entertainment is scarce. It's up to the short-wave radio to keep them entertained and to strengthen their ties with home. Short-wave stations, for instance, report an increasing wave of letters from soldiers in the Canal Zone, at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, at St. Thomas, V. I., thanking them for the programs that are almost the only direct link with the folks back home. To a young coast guardsman in Greenland or a young marine in Guiana, a radio program might mean a lot. We hope that all other short-wave stations are making their plans with this new and increasing audience in view.

And Nobody Knows

Ever since long before the present war began in Europe, many estimates have been tossed about relating to German airplane production. Five thousand a month. Ten thousand a month.

Now comes Col. John H. Jouett, president of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce, saying: "We are very near the British and German production rates, which are estimated at about 1500 a month each."

Who is right in this matter we don't pretend to know. But there is no reason to doubt that Jouett is right in saying that American production of military planes passed 1200 a month in March. That means that American production is very close to the point where it is bound to be a real factor, no matter what is the truth about the uncertain British and German figures.

Appropriations Group To Decide What WPA Gets

By Peter Edson
The Reporter-Telegram
Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON, May 22 — WPA will lay its head on the block of the House Appropriations sub-committee within the next few days when hearings begin to see how much this controversial federal agency gets for the fiscal year of 1942.

Proponents of economy say that WPA's appropriations are too big and must be hacked. They point to the fact that employment is going up and the demand for relief should be going down. They charge that too much WPA spending is for non-defense activities that could be done away with. They would like to get the bon-doggling and baloney out of the way — the sewing projects, the art projects, the music projects, the recreation, library, museum, writing, and historical records work — in fact, all the white collar projects — taken off the books.

Some of the more extreme economists would go so far as to wipe out the whole WPA in the belief that even all the useful things which WPA is doing could be done better and done cheaper by private industry.

All these are admittedly serious charges. WPA has a case to present in justification of its program. The question, therefore, is whether Congress will cut the head off WPA's appropriation, whether it will just remove a few of the viscera, or whether old WPA Appropriation Bill will lift its head off the block and walk away with even more money in its pocket than it has today.

For the current fiscal year, ending June 30, WPA got a total of $1,350,650,000, sufficient to provide an average of about 1,700,000 jobs a month. Right now, the WPA rolls are running about 1,520,000 of which 460,000 are on defense projects like airports, roads to camps, sewers, waterworks or utilities for camps and new defense industry towns. That leaves 1,060,000 WPA workers employed on non-defense projects.

For the next fiscal year beginning July 1, a preliminary Budget Bureau figure of $975,000,000 has been suggested. In terms of jobs, Howard O. Hunter, acting WPA commissioner, has estimated that this appropriation would mean an average of 1,200,000 employes a month, or a 30 per cent cut from this year's average. As the peak employment last February was 1,892,606, if the cut is made to 1,200,000 by July, it will mean that WPA will have lopped off nearly 700,000 jobs in less than five months, which is pretty healthy cutting.

All these cuts that have been made so far have been in the area which have defense contracts. WPA's own economists claiming that 69 per cent of defense contracts have been let in areas representing only 20 per cent of the country, it is easy to understand why nearly 750,000 workers now on WPA rolls for non-defense projects are in areas which have few defense contracts. These are, roughly, the Rocky Mountain area, the plains and the south. Seem To Like Their Jobs

The charge that WPA is competing with private industry for labor is a tough one to substantiate. WPA labor gets paid from $60 to $90 a month. Why anyone should prefer that type of employment when there are better jobs going begging is hard to figure. Also, workers on WPA must take jobs when they're offered in private industry.

British Intercept French Oil Tanker

LONDON, May 22—(AP)—British naval patrols have intercepted in the Atlantic the French tanker Scheherazade, bound for Casablanca, North Africa, with a cargo of oil from a United States port, it was learned from officials in London today. British authorities granted the Scheherazade a navicert "some time ago" to carry the cargo, it was stated, but "actions of the last day or so by the Vichy government, particularly in Syria, had a very sharpening effect, not only in London but in Washington."

A gift of her father-in-law, the late James Romer, Mrs. Nettie C. Romer of Midland, possesses one of the original copies of The Daily Citizen, Vicksburg, Miss. Edition of July 2, 1863. Another copy in Texas is the property of H. B. Carroll, instructor in history at the University of Texas.

The newspaper is rare in that it was printed on wall-paper, being known as the famous "wall-paper edition," and because it was edited and prepared by a Confederate ownership and published by "Yank-ees."

The owners of the newspaper were forced to abandon the newspaper when Gen. U. S. Grant besieged Vicksburg. The incoming Yankees found the type still set up in the deserted shop of the Citizen when they took the city July 4. They struck off another edition with a note inserted at the bottom of the last column.

By July 2, 1863, Gen. Grant almost had succeeded in starving out defenders of the city.

Joked About Boast
The editorial columns of that day's Citizen joked about the boast of the Yankees to dine in Vicksburg July 4. "Ulysses (General Grant) must get into the city before he dines in it," the editor taunted. "The way to cook a rabbit is first to catch the rabbit!"

So when the Union soldiers captured Vicksburg they struck off an edition with the added note:

"Two days bring about great changes. The banner of the Union floats over Vicksburg. General Grant has caught the rabbit, he has dined in Vicksburg, and the Citizen lives to see it. For the last time it appears on 'wall paper.' No more will it eulogize the luxury of mule meat and fricaseed kitten-urge Southern warriors to such diet nevermore. This is the last wall paper edition, and is, excepting this note, from the types as we found them. It will be valuable hereafter as a curiosity."

Mrs. Romer also has a copy of the New York Herald of April 15, 1865, an extra, telling of the assassination of President Abraham Lincoln.

During a short business meeting, it was announced that the club will have an important called meeting at 10 o'clock on the morning of June 4 at the home of Mrs. Lamar Lunt to vote on an amendment to the constitution.

City Council Passes On Initial Reading Gas Firm Ordinance

The Midland City Council passed on first reading an ordinance to extend the franchise of West Texas Gas Company five years and to provide an occupational tax of two percent of gross receipts for use of city properties.

The ordinance must be read and approved a second time by the council.

The ordinance is to amend a previous one granting a franchise to the company. Under the previous ordinance the franchise would end Aug. 3, 1947. It will be extended to Aug. 3, 1952.

The occupational gross receipts tax will be paid in quarterly payments. It excludes tax on gas sold to various governmental, city, and county agencies and schools.

The council will ask co-operation of citizens to curb drainage of dirty waters down curbs, especially in the business section. Drainage from wash racks at service stations and garages were cited as examples.

It also conferred with Chief L. P. McCasland regarding law enforcement in the city.

Councilmen discussed but took no action on establishment of a city pound.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

FRIDAY KNITTING CLUB DISCONTINUED TILL FALL

Friday Knitting Club of Bundles for Britain will be discontinued until fall, it has been announced. Members are urged to continue their knitting, however, and yarn may be obtained from Mrs. C. G. Cooper.

AMBER COMPLEMENTS BASIC SPRING COLORS

Complementing beautifully the popular basic spring colors—soft grays, the new beiges, as well as navy and black—is costume jewelry of translucent amber. By skillful cutting and polishing, amber is no longer the uninteresting dull yellow our grandmothers wore, but a clear, glowing stone of lovely golden tones from pale sunlight to rich mahogany. Contrasting shades have been intricately worked together to create pieces of singular beauty, becoming to both blondes and brunettes. A matched necklace and bracelet or brooch and earrings would make valued heirloom sets at prices a little over the cost of imitative costume jewelry.

TIP ON RUG CUSHIONS

Rug cushions may spread a little with use. To assure a well fitted cushion, but one a little smaller than the rug it is to go under—about an inch or an inch and a half smaller.

Two New Members Enter The Banner Sewing Club

Two new members, Mrs. C. V. Shelton and Mrs. W. C. Raven, were present at the meeting of the Banner Sewing Club with Mrs. Paul Cole, 106 W. Louisiana, Wednesday afternoon.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store. (adv.)

SERIAL STORY

THREE TO MAKE READY

BY W. H. PEARS

YESTERDAY: Tony is rushed to the hospital. He has a slight concussion. He has all right in a few days. As Paula sits beside his bed, Tony tells her he loves her. Chris meets her at the hospital door, asks about Tony. Paula is surprised that Chris has found out about the incident but Chris refuses to explain. He begs Paula to help him and she promises.

FOUND—A BLUE SCARF

CHAPTER X

IT was still drizzling next morning. Paula dressed hurriedly, trying to shut out the melancholy burble of the rain in the spouting. Several of the girls were having late breakfast and talking excitedly of the stench bombing. Eagerly they turned to Paula for information, but she refused to be helpful.

"The less said about it the better," she murmured.
 Paula gulped her coffee and left. Protected by a transparent green rain cape, she walked to the hospital.
 Tony was sitting up in bed. Except for pain shadows under his eyes, he looked fit. He greeted Paula a bit shyly.

"I was hoping you'd come, Paulie. I tried to talk them into letting me out today, but no go. I feel swell."
 "I'm glad you're okay, Tony," she smiled.

"I guess I was a little out of my head last night. If I said anything I shouldn't . . ."
 Paula said, and changed the subject abruptly. "The weather's nasty."

Tony said, "Chris was here early. He seemed to want to talk about last night, yet he acted as if he were afraid to. Do you think he might be protecting someone?"
 Paula started. "Who, Tony?"
 He shrugged. "The League crowd, maybe. Chris met some of the boys from the house in the hall. They almost got into a scrap. I tried to cool them down. If they go after the League now they'll play right into Big Barney's hands."

You know, Paulie, I've been lying here thinking and I've got Jenks doped out. Ever wonder why that shot of Kilo was light-struck? If Big Barney hasn't an interest in the scandal sheet Jenks works for, I'll eat it!"
 "You think Bill was sent here to make trouble?"
 "He's just another hunch. At any rate, we don't want him to get hold of this story."

Tony, tossing restlessly as he spoke, had disarranged his pillows. Paula moved to plump them back into shape. Tony protested, but she rolled him over and lifted the pillows. Beneath them was something that made her gasp—a bright blue scarf.

"Paulie, I didn't want you to see that," Tony said.
 In one corner of the scarf were the initials C. E. W. "It belongs to Chris," Paula whispered. "Where did you get it, Tony?"
 "I'd rather not say. It might not be his."
 "Chris's middle name is Edward," Paula said flatly. "Tony, please tell me the truth."
 "One of the fellows found it in the shrubbery beside the house."
 "That means . . ."
 Tony shrugged. "Chris might have lost it days ago."
 "He—he had it on the other afternoon," Paula was turning the scarf in numb fingers. Then she began to pluck at the silk. "Look here, Tony! These tiny strands of scarlet wool."
 "What about them?"
 "Tony," Paula said, her hazel eyes glowing, "suppose Chris loaned this to . . . someone?"
 "Could be," Tony admitted. "But why—?"
 Paula tried to catch him off guard. "Did you see a girl last night when you ran out?"
 "Why?" Tony countered.
 "Okay, Tony, be a gentleman. But I know one person who wears a scarlet brushed wool sweater. I'm going to see her!"

KILO SHERWOOD roomed at a private home in Cardman Center. She was in bed when Paula arrived, and came downstairs attired in an expensive black negligee.
 "Nice of you to return my call so soon," she said coolly. "I suppose you've come to tell me it's bad for Chris to be out on rainy nights?"
 Paula bit her lip. "You'd like me to think he was with you all evening?"
 "I can't see how it even concerns you."
 "But I don't think Chris was. I think, the night being damp and chilly, you borrowed his scarf."
 Paula had the satisfaction of seeing Kilo stiffen. "You can't prove that."
 "Perhaps not," Paula admitted, "but we both know it's true." She bent forward, meeting Kilo's insolent gaze with her steady hazel eyes. "Let's talk girl to girl, Kilo."
 "You talk, I'll listen," Kilo said.
 "We're both terribly fond of Chris," Paula said. "I'm pretty sure you don't want to see him in trouble. Some of the boys from Tony's house know about the scarf. If Dr. Van Horn finds out . . ."
 "Van Horn won't do anything," Kilo was contemptuous. "He's too much afraid of losing his job to stir up any trouble."
 "I think you're wrong about the Doctor. But even if he doesn't do anything, Tony's friends will. They might give Chris a beating or even run him out of school."

 Kilo's face lost color. "You're only trying to frighten me. They wouldn't dare harm Chris."
 "They wouldn't dare harm a girl," Paula said quietly. "Tell the truth, Kilo."
 Kilo arose abruptly. "It won't work," she said. "I just don't frighten that easily. Come again when you can stay longer."

BACK at the Gamma Tau house Paula found a letter from her father. He had been called to New Orleans on important business and wouldn't be able to come to Cardman for Commencement, but he enclosed a check to compensate for his absence.
 The following morning when Paula went to the hospital the receptionist told her that Tony had been discharged.
 "A few minutes ago, Miss Jeffers. I think he has an appointment with Dean Larson."
 Paula flung herself out the door. Half way across the campus she found Tony.
 "I'm kind of wobbly yet," he grinned.
 "Tony, where are you going?" Her startled eyes saw the strip of blue silk that protruded from his pocket.
 "Why, to tell Dean Larson about the bombing. He sent word to the hospital that he wanted to see me."
 "But the scarf, Tony?" Paula asked. "You're not going to show that to Dean Larson?"
 "Tony said kindly, "Look, Paulie, I've talked everything over with Dr. Lund. Confidentially, of course. We figured it was best to give Larson the facts."
 "And put all the blame on Chris?" Paula flared. "Tony, I tell you he didn't hit you. It was . . . well, it wasn't Chris."
 "Something's got to be done," Tony said gravely. "Larson and Van Horn are trying to get to the bottom of this trouble. We owe it to them to give them all the information we've got."
 "And you call yourself Chris's friend?" A furious resentment boiled within Paula. Tears of disappointment burned her eyes. She had looked up to Tony, admired him, and now . . .
 "Don't be sore," Tony begged. "I'm only doing what I think is best. Chris is bitter over the suspicion that's fallen on him. We've either got to clear him or . . ."
 "Oh!" Paula choked, then she calmed herself with an effort. "Tony, if you turn that scarf over to Dean Larson, I'll never speak to you again."
 Tony said slowly, "I've got to do it, Paulie . . ."

Don't Forget That Gardening Means "Manual" Labor

By Alicia Hart
NEA Service Staff Writer
No matter how much she likes to transplant seedlings, divide clumps of perennials and tidy up flowerbed borders, the smart woman doesn't let her enthusiasm for spring gardening soil the looks of her hands.

She knows that while other gardening addicts may understand and be sympathetic toward chipped nails, jagged cuticle, stains and callouses, non-gardening enthusiasts won't. She has no intention of showing up at June weddings, summer dances and weekend parties with hands that aren't fit to be seen.

SHE REGULARLY WEARS GLOVES

Long ago she got rid of the notion that thin rubber gloves are any handicap at all in planting seedlings or even in sowing fine seeds. She wears them almost every second she is in the garden.

If she takes them off to handle particularly tiny seeds or to more and extra-precious plant, she digs her fingernails into a cake of soap. Soap keeps dirt from getting under the nails and makes washing afterward a simple job.

The beauty-minded gardener has heavy cotton gloves as well as rubber ones. She wears the former when pruning bushes, shearing the hedge or pushing the lawn mower, and thus wards off callouses and blisters.

PRE-EXERCISING SAVES SORENESS

One garden lover I know—remembering how stiff and sore her knees, back and arms were all through last spring's gardening season—went in for a little exercise before starting this year's digging and planting.

She chose five exercises—one each for arms, knees, back, ankles and neck—and did every routine five times a day for two weeks before spading a square inch of earth. She reports that the current battle with spades, hoes, bulbs and seedlings has not given her stiff knees or a pain in the neck, literally or otherwise.

FEMININE FANCIES

By Kathleen Eiland

It's strange what a lift to the spirits white can give when used in one's costume. An ordinary black dress becomes something satisfying when it is touched up with a frilly white collar and cuffs.

Feet that were burning from summer pavements become suddenly cool and comfortable-looking when shod in white.

An old skirt or suit, grown depressingly aged, takes a new lease on life and attractiveness when worn with a fresh white blouse—even if the blouse be of ordinary cotton wash materials.

Clothes that denote winter become suddenly springlike when matched with white gloves, bag, and shoes.

Yes, for all its easy-soling qualities, white has a certain something that no other color has. (We won't quarrel with the purists if they insist that white is not a color. For all practical purposes, we regard it as such.)

Now is the time of year when excited boys and girls are opening packages which extend congratulations to graduates. When fluffy lingerie, boxes of stationery, and cosmetic ensembles, not to mention sundry new belts, shirts, and leather goods beloved of boys clutter up the extra chests and bureau tops in homes of 1941 Seniors.

When the selection of the proper style for that new dress or the hue of the tie to be worn on the great occasions overshadows even the rumblings of world war for the moment.

Which is as it should be. Youth is entitled to a graduation week that is gay and blithe, choiceful of all the parties and of all the fun and all the pretty clothes and all the attractive gifts that the heart of a Senior can desire.

Those of us who have been battling the world as adults for years wish for the Seniors all the happiness that can be crowded into these days. And yet, we have no desire to re-live them ourselves. Like the graduates, we look always ahead.

Old-Fashioned Charm For Modern June Bride

One of the prettiest wedding gowns of the season is this charmingly old-fashioned model of cotton lace. Long sleeved with a fitted bodice, bouffant skirt and shirred neckline, it is sure to flatter any June bride. A short or a hip-length veil in cotton gauze or tulle or net, held in place by fresh flowers, would be smart with it.

Twenty Midland Women To Sell Citizens Poppies

The Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion has announced plans for observance of national poppy day in Midland Saturday.

Mrs. Nettie C. Romer, chairman of the drive, said 20 young women would sell poppies on the streets, in public buildings, and elsewhere. She stated: "The poppy is a symbol. It is a badge of honor and represents our respects to the American boys who gave their lives on foreign battle fields to preserve democracy. Further it has come to mean a symbol for the preservation and care of the soldiers who returned. When Midland citizens buy and wear a poppy Saturday it will mean they have not forgotten the sacrifice of those soldiers."

Receipts from the sale of poppies will be used in Midland County for child welfare, care of widows, orphans, and other needy persons, Mrs. Romer pointed out.

want us giving any tip of what was going on to the next employe to enter the bank.

"At one time, he told Black and me to get off a table where we had three and one-half feet of coarse sand carrying odor of gas and stain of oil. Core from 4,980-84 returned six feet, one and one-half inches of formation, part of which was from the previous core. It was broken shale and sand showing slight staining and strong odor of gas, indicating probability of another gas horizon.

Magnolia No. 2 Crockett corrected depth of 5,279 to 5,284 feet by steel line measurement and was cored from 5,284-94 feet, recovering 10 feet of dry sandy lime and shaly sand. Seven-foot recovery was obtained of core from 5,294 to 5,303 feet, the total depth. The zone from 5,294-97 was dry green sand but oil sand was entered at 5,297, continuing to total depth. Operators have displaced drilling mud with water and are waiting for the well to kick off.

It was reported that Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Conry-Davis Unit, wildcat four miles east of the original Abell area, is drilling at 5,350 feet in Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, dolomite.

Magnolia No. 1 D. P. Gerety, northwest outpost to the Abell pool, is coming out with core from 5,286-90 feet. Steel line had corrected 5,284 to equal 5,286 feet.

Lekisch Charges War To Versailles Treaty

The present European war is a direct outgrowth of the Versailles Treaty of 1918, declared Dr. Kurt Lekisch at the luncheon meeting of the Midland Geological Society today.

Fifty-nine geologists heard the Midland surgeon and physician discuss the organization and growth of the Nazi party in Germany. He expressed a belief there was no rift between Hitler and Rudolf Hess when the latter fled to Scotland but that Hess left of his own volition in an attempt to bring about peace with Britain.

The luncheon was held in the Crawford Hotel.

Eight Femmes And A Flyer

There's something about a flying man—and so these University of Texas co-eds lost no time in forming a welcome committee after they learned that Austin was the destination of the first cross-country flight scheduled for flying cadets from Randolph Field. Railroads Report Business Upswing

CHICAGO—(UP)—The nation's railroads are spending millions for expansions and improvements in the face of booming freight traffic, a United Press survey discloses. The sharp business upswing has caused all major roads to recall furloughed employes. Additional employment programs are preparing for continued heavy traffic burdens.

Officials agreed that the railroads today are in a position to handle any amount of traffic necessary to aid the nation's defense program without disrupting traffic. There is no possibility of equipment or power shortage; road property is in excellent shape and if a shortage of any kind should be encountered, executives said, it would be a shortage of labor in the skilled trades. Machinists, electricians, welders and boilermakers are in demand, officials said.

Plant Five Million Trees For Yuletides

MISSOULA, Mont.—(UP)—The woods that annually supply more than a million Christmas trees for the holidays of the nation's city dwellers are being stocked for Yuletides in years to come.

G. M. DeJarnette, chief of the division of planting for the U. S. Forest Service, said forest men would plant 5,500,000 seedling trees on the mountains of Western Montana and Northern Idaho this year. The young trees, ranging in age from 2 to 5 years, are to be planted in the service's annual spring reforestation program.

There were 5,965,000 seedlings set out in 1940.

Morning Glories Drape Drab Walls with Beauty

Drab fences, uninteresting wall spaces, unsightly rock piles, trellises and barren tree trunks may quickly be converted at a minimum of expense into focal points of beauty with rampant-growing, colorful morning glories.

Morning glories like to dominate the situation when they find it to their satisfaction. Endowed with the blessing of radiating cheer, by blooming their best when many plants are yet asleep or going to sleep, they make of themselves indispensable subjects to brighten otherwise drab and unsightly objects. Most of the species and varieties are endowed with a great profusion of heart-shaped foliage.

The Imperial or Japanese forms rank highest in range of brilliant colorings. Blues, purples, pinks, rose, scarlet shades in selfs, and interesting combinations and markings of these, make for a riot of color. Resourceful gardeners make use of these beauties for quick effect while slow-growing permanent vines are making their initial growth.

Among the self colors, the improved Heavenly Blue is superior in every respect to the old giant blue morning glory. The color is a deep, intense blue, shading lighter toward the center. The flowers are giants in size, come early, and bloom in great profusion over a long season, and best of all they remain open, until evening on cloudy days. Its delicate beauty belies the fact that it flowers best when treated rough. It thrives in poor soil that is retentive of heat; the leaner and poorer the soil, the greater the profusion of flowers. Rich soil causes an abundance of foliage growth at the expense of flowers.

The big thrill in the Morning Glory family in recent years is the captivating Scarlett O'Hara, a rich wine red shading to rosy-crimson. Scarlett, however, grows on a rather slender, sparsely foliaged vine, making a delicate tracery against a solid background. She cannot be counted on to produce much of a screen. If one is partial to the color, and a plant for screening effect is preferred, the heavily-foliaged variety Cornell will please. The flowers of Cornell are a carmine red, edged white—very large and showy.

Difficulties in germinating the seed of the morning glories are traced in most instances to two points: failure to notch the thick-coated seed, so the moisture can readily reach the germ and start it into action; and in attempting to rush the season by sowing the seed (even though properly notched at the end opposite the germ) while the soil is still cold and the nights chilly. Morning glories revel in warm, poor soil, without too much water. The favorable conditions under which most plants thrive, causes the morning glory to grow mostly to stems and foliage at the expense of bloom.

been sitting and getting good looks at him. He made us sit in a chair with our backs turned.

"When each employe would come in the bandit would ask if he knew the combination of the safe. When my turn came to enter the bank I was two feet of the door when it flashed over me what was happening. I could have escaped, I believe, but I was afraid the bandit would get rough with the others.

Cobb Opened Safe. "I knew the combination, which had been changed only a few days ago, but I wouldn't tell the bandit. "When Mr. Cobb came in, however, he admitted he could open the safe, and it took him about a minute to do so.

"The bandit made us pile the currency out on the floor where it would be scooped up easily, then he forced us into the vault and turned the lock on us.

"He then jimmied the front door's lock and escaped by the window he had entered.

"He had asked the negro janitor earlier in the morning, 'what's the best way out of here to New Mexico?'"

Officials theorized the bandit would use one of two roads, that to Lubbock or that to Morton.

Officials of the bank, capitalized at $7,500 and having a surplus of $24,000, said all the money was in currency.

No check had been completed to show denominations of all the currency.

Officers On Guard. Midland officers were on the lookout today for the Levelland bank robber.

Sheriff Ed Darnell said he conferred with an Odessa officer, who reported the bandit fled in a pickup automobile.

Police Chief L. P. McCasland obtained a detailed description of the robber from a Lubbock police broadcast.

LOQUACIOUS YOUTH TALKS HIMSELF INTO TROUBLE

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah—(UP)—A Salt Lake City youth who had just celebrated his 20th birthday thought so, and expressed it: "Now I have to lie only one year about my age to renew my liquor permit."

But the admission fell on hostile ears. A Utah liquor commission representative overheard.

Today the loquacious youth no longer has his liquor permit and is under a suspended jail sentence.

Louis And Baer File Advance Claims For Title Bout Knockout

WASHINGTON, May 22—(AP)—The training grind ended, Champion Joe Louis and challenger Buddy Baer loaded today but each summoned up enough energy to make advance claims to a knockout victory in tomorrow night's 15-round heavyweight championship bout.

"Baer will be as tough as anyone I've fought, but I expect to knock him out in less than 10 rounds," Louis said.

From Buddy, training at nearby Olney, Md., came this comment: "I'm in better condition than ever before. I think I can get to Louis with my right, and if I do I'll be the next champion."

In the popular mind, Louis ruled about a 6-1 choice to defend his crown successfully for the 17th time. There was little wangling in evidence, however, but the betting market may pick up with the arrival of New York fans. Promoter Mike Jacobs looked for an invasion from Manhattan, numbering about 6,000.

DRAFTEE LEARNS QUICKLY ABOUT NEW GAME—POKER

SAN ROSE, Cal.—(UP)—A draftee offered to sell his automobile for $250.

Texas Gives Nation Record To Shoot At

DALLAS, May 22—(Special)—Texas leaders in the United Service Organizations campaign gave the rest of the country a record to shoot at today.

Actual solicitation of funds in the nation-wide movement to provide welfare and recreational facilities for soldiers and sailors has not begun, but a statement of the objectives of the campaign issued by E. B. Germany, state chairman, brought a check in today's mail from John G. Kenedy, Jr., pioneer South Texas rancher, subscribing "one dollar for every man, woman, and child in Kenedy County."

Ignoring the small quota assigned to the ranching county which bears the name of his family, Kenedy sent in his check for $701, "hoping that this amount meets with your approval."

U. S. O. officials promptly assured him it did.

ARMY REFUSES VOLUNTEER WITH BULLET IN BRAIN

PENN YAN, N. Y.—(UP)—George Franklin Hopkins of Bluff Point, who attracted nationwide notice in the medical field in 1936 as the boy with the bullet "floating" in his brain, won't get a chance to serve Uncle Sam for a while. Army examiners deferred Hopkins for limited service only when he volunteered as a selective service trainee.

Hopkins long since has recovered from the accident which put a .22 caliber bullet in his brain in 1936. It was removed by a brain specialist at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

St. Louis Cardinals Turn Back Brooklyn's Dodgers With 13 Hits

By Judson Bailey Associated Press Sports Writer The St. Louis Cardinals, carving with as much delicacy as so many carpenters, have completed a serious operation for the removal of excess wind from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

A few stitches remain to be taken, but there is no chance that the patient will recover in St. Louis, because even a victory in today's final game of the western trip wouldn't save Brooklyn from returning to the banks of the Gowanus Canal in second place in the National League.

The Cardinals clubbed the Dodgers into their fifth straight defeat 9 to 2 with a vicious 13-hit assault. The chief slasher was a young outfielder named Herman Coaker Triplett, who once failed to meet the dubious standards of the Chicago Cubs and passed to the Cardinals through the American Association.

Feller Hurts Victory.

Coaker treated the Cardinals to a home run, a single with the bases loaded, and an extraneous double and single. Meanwhile Harry Gumbert whom the Redbirds acquired last week from the New York Giants, sent nine Brooklyn hits satisfactorily scattered to go the route and attain his second victory in a St. Louis uniform.

While the Cardinals were emphasizing their intention of controlling the senior circuit, Bob Feller pitched the Cleveland Indians back to victory and security in the American League.

He tangled with Southpaw Ken Chase of the Washington Senators in a sensational pitching duel that went scoreless for ten innings before the Indians exploded four runs in the 11th to win 4-0.

The five-game winning streak of the second place Chicago White Sox was snapped by the Philadelphia Athletics, whose 7-6 victory was their fourth in a row.

The New York Yankees knocked the Detroit Tigers out of third place with a ten-inning 5-4 victory achieved on a two-run rally that tied the score in the ninth and Red Rolfe's triple scoring the winning run in the tenth.

The St. Louis Browns banged out four home runs in the first five innings but were beaten 8-6 by the Boston Red Sox, who bunched their hits for five runs in the seventh and eighth innings.

The New York Giants solved the pitching magic of Bucky Walters and cuffed the Cincinnati Reds 6-3 in ten innings.

The Pittsburgh Pirates spotted the Boston Braves a four-run lead in the first inning and then battled back to an 8-4 decision. The Cubs pounced on the Phillies 7-3 with a grand-slam homer by Bill Nicholson in the fifth and a combination four-hit pitching job by Paul Erickson and Jake Mooty.

Demaret Sets Out To Regain Lost Time In Goodall Round-Robin

NEW YORK, May 22—(AP)—Jimmy Demaret, the man who found out you can't be the local hero and a winning professional golfer at the same time, starts out today to make up a lot of lost ground. The means to that end is the Goodall round-robin, a 126-hole merry-go-round that goes on for four days and brings the winner $1,000.

Last winter Demaret was the sensation of the pros' coast-to-coast tour. He played in nine tournaments and won six. His last and most important victory was the Augusta Masters, and when Jimmy got back home to Houston the citizens of that Texas metropolis virtually gave him the city.

This was pleasant but distracting. Trims Off 20-Pounds

But then came the summer of his rude awakening. He trekked north for the Goodall tourney and finished next to last. He went on to Cleveland for the National Open and picked up in disgust over his own poor performance. He put on unneeded weight, and with each pound added seemingly lost a corresponding degree of "touch."

This spring has found a new Demaret (or perhaps the old one back hard at work on his new job at the Wee Burn Club in Noroton Conn. he has trimmed off almost 20 pounds, and has been playing progressively keener golf.

Indians Collect Cluster Of Hits And Defeat Cats

By The Associated Press Look out lads, the Indians are coming.

The Braves from Oklahoma City ambushed the Cats at Fort Worth last night with an 18-hit attack that gave them an 11-3 victory and second place in the Texas Baseball League. Of course, the Indians, with a percentage of .581, are still several kilometers behind the 706 rolled up by the thundering Herd of Houston, but the season is young and they may catch up yet.

The Shreveport Sports dropped from second place to third place when they lost 7-0 to the invading Beaumont Exporters.

The Houston Buffs, playing at San Antonio, won four out of five from the Missions with a 5-2 decision.

The seventh-place Tulsa Oilers were edged out 4-3 by the Dallas Rebels on the latter's home field: Until the sixth the Oilers were coasting along with a three-run lead, but then Paul Easterling slammed a home run with a man on base. The Rebs scored the tying run in the seventh and pushed across the winning run in the ninth.

The swingers will tee off at Southern Hills Monday in the annual effort to qualify for the National Open Tournament, which will be held this year at Fort Worth.

 I predicted at the Master Individual that, while there were only four women among the 36 invited players, the women would give the men a surprise. Women have been doing specially well in tournament bridge this year.
 The women did take some of the honors in the Individual. Although none finished among the leaders, Mrs. J. E. Folline, of Richmond, Va., placed eighth. She scored a top in the fourth session, and Miss Florence Stratford of Cleveland was top in the fifth session.
 Other top score winners were Morrie Ellis, the defending champion, in the first session, and Lee Hazen, the eventual victor, who was top in the second and third sessions.
 This is one of the hands that helped Mrs. Folline win her top score.
 Dummy won the opening lead and led the queen of clubs, won by North's king. Two more diamond rounds were led. Mrs. Folline ruffing the second. Then a rump lead was won by the king. The ten of clubs was led and over-aken so that West could lead a second trump. Thus the defenders won only a diamond, a club, and a spade, as East's two heart losers were later discarded on West's clubs.
 At several tables East got into three no trumps and was defeated one trick after a diamond opening.

Auto Agencies Study Mann's Ruling On Tax

AUSTIN, May 22—(AP)—Auto sales agencies today studied a ruling of Attorney General Gerald C. Mann that the recently enacted 1 per cent sales tax on autos was not collectable where two cars of equal value were exchanged without cash consideration.

The attorney general yesterday also ruled the amount of freight from factory to dealer could not be deducted in computing the tax, retail price computation could not take in carrying charges and insurance premiums and that the tax was not applicable when the sale was made prior to May 1, even if the car was not registered until after that date.

Amarillo Companies Pay $10,000 Penalty

AUSTIN, May 22—(AP)—State coffers were $10,000 richer today by reason of penalty payments by 12

Amarillo lumber companies in settlement of a state anti-trust suit. In the agreed judgment, a district court yesterday also granted the state a permanent injunction against the companies, preventing them from entering into price agreements.

WOMEN OF BRITAIN FIND RATIONS MELT BULGES

LONDON—(UP)—Women who for years have been trying to find a diet which would reduce those unwanted bulges have discovered that rationing is the ideal thing.

Many women are regaining slim lines they thought had gone forever. They are not only getting slimmer, but also fitter, as is generally agreed by medical men, factory welfare officers and dietitians.

Beer-Liquor Places Won't Close June 28

AUSTIN, May 22—(AP)—Retail beer and liquor establishments will not have to close their doors June 28 for the U. S. Senatorial election, in the opinion of Attorney General Gerald C. Mann.

The attorney general so ruled, yesterday in response to a query by county Attorney Tom Seay of Am- rillo.

EXPERT SAYS CHILDREN OBTAIN LAZINESS

COLLEGE STATION, May 22—(AP)—Children aren't born lazy—they learn to be.

This tip to parents comes from Oscar Hale, extension service specialist in family relations, who explains that young children are energetic and eager to find out new things about the world around them.

Children may learn to be lazy if adults give them too much supervision, she states. Some adults watch children so closely they have no opportunity to experience new and simple undertakings in their own way.

Just 14 years to the month after Charles Lindbergh made his historic non-stop flight to Paris in the Spirit of St. Louis, the U. S. Army's B-19 super bomber is getting its first tests. Pictograph shows how the monoplane of 1927 compares with the giant four-motored bomber of 1941. B-19 could make flight Lindbergh made, and come back again without stopping.

Germany Tells Nations To Close Paris Offices

BERLIN, May 22—(AP)—All nations have been asked to close both their embassies and legations in Paris, the Germans announced today, describing the request as a measure not directed at any particular country but designed to bring the embassies and legations together at Vichy.

Wilhelmstrasse sources said 34 foreign missions were involved in the closure request, including those of the United States and several Latin American nations.

Mexico Will Teach Children Relations

MEXICO CITY, May 22—(AP)—The Ministry of Public Education has ordered special instruction given Mexico's 2,000,000 school children on President Avila Camacho's reasons for aligning the nation with the United States and the other Americans in defense of democracy. An elaborate pamphlet containing material for such instruction was distributed yesterday to directors and inspectors of the nation's 25,000 schools.

Flashes Of Life

INDIANAPOLIS—As firemen arrived at a burning apartment Mrs. Elizabeth Steele, 39, emerged from a smoke-filled stairway clad only in pajamas and a bathrobe, but triumphantly carrying a new summer hat.

Firemen said she wanted to return to rescue a new pair of shoes, but they restrained her.

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa.—An Ellwood City youth, called in the draft, eyed his wardrobe with a calculating gleam and then acted.

Before leaving for the induction station he spent considerable time painting several signs which he fastened to all his clothes. The signs— for benefit of two younger brothers— read:

"Keep away from these clothes. I am only going away for a year."

KANSAS CITY—Several months ago a slight, gray-haired woman who said she needed the money sold Guy M. Babst a pair of antique ear rings for $20.

Each was set with a clear red stone and a small diamond. The woman said they were heirlooms. She didn't know their value.

Babst, an antique dealer, put them in a display case and forgot about them. Another dealer saw the set, identified the stones as rubies and said it was worth $3,000. A third said the pieces were not worth that

Group Works On Gatesville Case

AUSTIN, May 22—(AP)—An opinion that the training system at the Gatesville state reformatory for boys necessitated whippings for inmates and bred antagonism between boys and overseers was studied today by a legislative committee.

The House of Representatives committee on eleemosynary institutions last night continued its investigation of the reformatory and heard C. A. Maberry of Bay City, former institution employe, testify the system could be greatly improved if what he termed more modern methods were employed.

Fear Of Punishment.

Maberry, who said he worked at a similar institution at Kearney, Neb., before being employed at Gatesville, asserted a system of dividing inmates into groups and hiring men better qualified to handle boys would, in his opinion, reduce the corporal punishment administered.

"Under the present system," he said, "a boy may come out of the school with a fear of punishment but is little better equipped mentally than when he went in."

Babst says he won't sell them until he finds the woman so she can share any profit.

Cool Desserts Should Also Have Enough Nutrients

By Mrs. Gaynor Maddox
 NEA Service Staff Writer
 Something delicate, cool, and of course, nutritious, is what desserts should be on these warm May days.

Fresh Strawberry Icebox Cake (Serves 8-10)

Two envelopes plain unflavored gelatine, 1/2 cup cold water, 2 cups strawberries, sliced fine before measuring, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup hot water, 4 teaspoons lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 4 egg whites, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 cup cream, whipped.

Mix berries and 1 cup sugar together and let stand five to ten minutes, stirring several times, to draw out juice. Soften gelatine in cold water and dissolve in hot water. Add dissolved gelatine, lemon juice and salt to berries and stir well. Cool, and when mixture begins to thicken, fold in stiffly beaten egg whites to which remaining one-half cup sugar has been added, and whipped cream. Line sides of glass baking dish or large mold with halved lady fingers. Pour in half the filling, cover with layer of halved lady fingers. Pour in remaining filling and top with lady fingers. Chill in refrigerator or cold place until set. When firm, unmold onto platter and garnish with whipped cream and fresh strawberries.

Pieces of stale cake may be used in place of lady fingers if desired.

Coffee Brittle Ice Cream (Serves 6 to 8)

Two cups milk, 1/3 cup light corn syrup, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1/3 cup sugar, 1/8 teaspoon salt, 2 egg yolks, 1 cup heavy cream, whipped, 2 egg whites, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2/3 cup crushed coffee brittle.

Scald 3/4 cups milk with corn syrup in top of double boiler over boiling water. Blend cornstarch with remaining 1/4 cup milk, mix in sugar and salt. Add quickly, all at once, to scalded milk and stir until slightly thickened. Cover and cook 5 to 7 minutes longer. Beat egg yolks, add hot milk mixture. Return to double boiler and cook 2 minutes longer. Chill in cream and stiffly beaten egg whites. Add vanilla. Pour into freezing tray of automatic refrigerator. When partially frozen, turn mixture into chilled bowl; beat with rotary beater until fluffy, then mix in finely crushed coffee brittle. Return to refrigerator and finish freezing.

Professor Says Artistic Works Are Too Polished

CHICAGO — (UP)—Dr. John U. Nef, a professor of economic history at the University of Chicago, believes that today's artistic works are "smooth and polished" and "that's just the trouble with them."

In a lecture sponsored by the Charles R. Walgreen Foundation for Study of American Institutions, Nef criticized modern art for its lack of Christianity and moral philosophy.

Art is suffering from the same kind of weaknesses which have been causing the disintegration of religious faith and of ethics. Art has been of both Christianity and moral philosophy. Moral philosophy and religion both have need of art, and with them civilized existence as it has been built up through the centuries," he said.

Laughs In The Legislature

By The Associated Press
 AUSTIN, May 22—(AP)—Rain interrupted a session of the Senate when Senator William E. Stone of Galveston, explaining a bill said to the president:

"I'd like for the West Texas senators to hear this. They're over at the window watching it rain for the first time in 30 years."

"Senator Winfield (who is from Fort Stockton) told me he didn't care," remarked Senator Weaver Moore of Houston. "He's seen it rain, but he'd like for his grown daughter to see it."

Before the Senate was the question of printing the Journal a newspaper column praising Mrs. Coke Stevenson and Bob Barker, secretary of the Senate.

"Is there objection?" asked the Lieutenant Governor. Then he added: "The chair hears none except Bob's, and he doesn't count."

Winfield had the secretary read a message from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce congratulating the legislature on passing a law dealing with the Big Bend National Park and making an appropriation to the project.

"Let's include that in the Journal," suggested Senator A. M. Aikin, Jr., of Paris, chairman of the Senate finance committee and close guardian of state appropriations. "I want it available to show those West Texans when we have to pass a state income tax to pay for that park."

Senator Ben Ramsey of San Augustine tried to tack on an amendment providing $2,000 for a county in his district to a bill under consideration.

"I think" commented Weinert "he got that figure out of the ceiling fan."

Takes Out Cocktail Shake, But Tank's Still Got Big Kick

CHICAGO—(UP)—No longer will the army tank take seven soldiers, mix well, stir, and shake like a cocktail. The new W-3 tank, recently designed, will change the recipe.

The men will sit on cushions much like the modern bar stool and wear latex-cushioned crash helmets to further prevent face injuries and body bumps. The 18-foot tanks will be lined with 100 pounds of air-cell latex sponge. The gun turrets, hatches, recoil guards and ammunition clips will be covered with padding.

The comfort, however, is created only for those inside. Outside, observers will face 25 tons of steel with 75 mm. cannon and machine guns mounted.
