Debunking Defunct Funk Bunk

To do to the world what Germany is trying to do to it requires many kinds of men. It requires street brawlers like Rudolf Hess to over-awe physical opposition and beat helpless minority people into a bloody pulp. It requires wily intriguers like Von Papien to beguile diplomats. It requires traitors to their countries, like Quisling. It requires masters of manipulation of the massmind, like Goebbels. It also requires at least one oily but respectable voice to assure everyone that all this is being done for their own good and for the good of all the world. Such a voice is that of Dr. Walther Funk, the shrewd "economic brain" of the Reich. His mission is to appeal to business men throughout the world in an effort to assure them that all Germany wants is prosperity for all, and that dealing with the economic colossus she is trying to set up will be pleasant and profitable for the rest of the world.

So the plausible Dr. Funk is out with another of his frequent efforts to reassure an alarmed world. As usual, there is just enough truth in what he says to make it persuasive. And as usual the basis and the conclusions are as false as a shot-glass in a clip-joint. Excessive nationalism, extreme autarchy, border trade barriers, says Dr. Funk, were part of the cause of economic collapse before the war. Right. No use trying to reconstruct the world on principles that led to collapse, he insinuates. Right. The real aim of German policy, purrs Dr. Funk, is long-range co-operation of equal partners to eliminate depressions and make everybody in the world happy, happy. What "co-operation"? What "equal partners"? The kind of "co-operation" that France and Italy and Bulgaria and Hungary and Rumania, are now giving Germany at gun point? The kind of "equal partners" that Mussolini and Hirohito and Quisling and Darlan and Franco and Michael and Boris and Pu Yi and Wang are to Hitler?

No, thank you. It may be, and it probably is necessary to remake the international economic mold of the world. But it is not going to be done at gun point, against the world's will, and exclusively according to the design of Adolf Hitler, or even that of Dr. Funk. The eminently respectable Dr. Funk probably never clubbed a Jew in his life, probably never shot down a single man or woman standing in defense of their homes. But the economic blueprint extended in his immaculately-gloved hand is hard to read, somehow, smudged and smeared—Great Heavens, man, look out there! That's blood!

Ersatz May Be Better
The United States is looking ersatz right in the face. Ersatz is a German word meaning substitute. It became known in English-speaking countries when, before the war, they were discussing Germany's building of a war machine with unorthodox materials. People used to like to chuckle over German ersatz, believing that German tanks and planes were put together with string and chewing gum. Now the world has learned, to the cost of much of it, that many of the German ersatz materials are all right. We will probably learn a good deal about that ourselves in coming months. We, too, will find that substitution of an accustomed material for an unaccustomed one doesn't necessarily mean inferiority. It may, but not necessarily. So let's not holler before we're hurt. If a familiar article comes up in an unfamiliar material, let's not assume that it's no good. It might even be better.

They Still Marry
In spite of everything, people still marry. During the past 12 months there must have been quite a few people in Cook County (Chicago) who didn't believe that everything was headed for the demdition bow-wows for 46,914 couples stepped up to the marriage license desk, an increase of 27.5 per cent over the year before. Meanwhile divorce also increased, but only 5.6 per cent to a total of 9737, about one-fifth as fast. Since it has been jestingly argued that a man must be an optimist to marry at all, it must follow that those who marry at a time like this disagree profoundly with the prophets of doom who keep croaking that all is lost and nothing remains but to take to the lifeboats.

Strikingly symbolic of rearming America is this picture of welders at work on mount for a new 155-mm. gun in the Pettibone-Mulliken plant in Chicago. First mount comes off assembly line this month with production increasing steadily thereafter.

CRANIUM CRACKERS
Home Problems.
There are always a lot of little problems coming up around the home, besides the budget, that take a bit of pencil and paper to work out. Get yours out and see if you can solve this trio.
1. Mrs. Emerson has a square space in her living room containing 36 square feet. She wishes to fill it with three tables, and finds a set having one large table that is just twice the size of the other two. What are the dimensions of the square space and of each of the three tables that will fill it?
2. Robert goes to bed at 11 p. m. and gets up at 7:30 a. m. How many hours sleep did he have and how many times did the minute hand pass the hour hand on his clock?
3. Little Leonard can carry six pounds, bigger Bobby can carry 12, and tall Tom can carry 20. If Bobby can walk with his load twice as fast as Leonard and Tom can walk three times as fast as Leonard, how many trips will each boy make and how many total pounds will each carry to move a 180-pound pile of dirt from one space to another?

TO YOU WHO SWEAR BY OIL-PLATING . . .

Still less engine wear—still more oil economy — from this proved New oil that still brings OIL-PLATING

Single 5-quart fill defies Death Valley for 13,398 miles...Certified

IMPARTIAL
Latest available products of 5 leading competitors bought retail by Referee.
Identical new cars broken-in alike, after engines had been taken apart for Referee to check uniformity.

The celebrated Conoco Germ Processed oil patent first made it possible for Conoco to bring your engine OIL-PLATING—lasting lubricant with magnet-like attraction for inner engine surfaces. Thus OIL-PLATING can't all quickly drain down—fray up—"rub out" fast. And this same Germ Processed oil patent still assures an OIL-PLATED engine, after you change to the sensational new oil by Conoco . . .
Its name is CONOCO Nth MOTOR OIL —Brings new Economy aid, besides OIL-PLATING
This popular-priced new Conoco Nth oil that OIL-PLATES, can protect itself against today's worst cause of rapid consumption. How? . . . Just consider one truth about latest oil refining methods. Ridding oil of bad things may sacrifice some of Nature's best life-givers! The same happens, you know, in processing some foods. But today that loss is often made up by vitamin synthetics . . . man-made. And today the vigor otherwise sacrificed in any proper refining is more than made up by patented Conoco Thiathene inhibitor . . . man-made . . . in Conoco Nth oil.
Lasted 74% to 161% longer than 5 other big-name oils in fierce fair test
Across the Death Valley desert Conoco Nth wrote E-C-O-N-O-M-Y. Locked in the engines of 6 new everyday cars—all alike—were 6 prominent oils, including Conoco Nth. One 5-quart fill per car. Never another drop. No mercy. 57 miles an hour under impartial observation—under sun that'd singe you—till each fill gave out and the engine was junk.
Conoco Nth outlasted the next-best oil by 5,683 miles; outlasted the worst by 8,268 miles; outlasted the average of all 5 others by 7,057 miles. All certified. But you don't put your car through torture-tests. For authorities warn you to change oil at regular intervals. No quarreling with that! Now, however, as you change to Conoco Nth . . . the greater new oil that OIL-PLATES . . . set your speedometer-trip at 000. Keep track—and certify Conoco Nth economy for yourself. Continental Oil Co.—Pioneers in Bettering America's oil with Synthetics

CERTIFIED I hereby certify that the Death Valley Test and related work were thoroughly and fairly conducted. Engine Destruction occurred in each case at the mileage stated.

Gulf To Expand Lines Capacity In Middle West

By Edward Curtis
TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The first step toward increasing pipeline capacity into the Eastern industrial area from Mid-Continent oil fields came this week. Gulf Oil Corp. let a contract to increase capacity of its line from Jenks, Okla., to Dublin, Ind. The line supplies crude for refinerless as far East as Pittsburgh. The increased capacity in the 10-inch line will be gained through laying 13 loops, three of them in Oklahoma, four in Missouri and six in Illinois and Indiana. Lack of transportation to the East also was felt in Louisiana. The July production allowable was reduced 16,103 barrels daily from June to 303,397 barrels daily. Reports 619 Completions
"Oil stocks are piling up on our Gulf Coast and I am sure the same situation exists in Texas," commented John J. Metzger, Jr., chief engineer for the Louisiana department of minerals. "There just isn't any way of moving it."
Some revolutionary field practices were being suggested. An Eastern operator was said to be considering drilling horizontal wells into outcrops on the sides of hills, while in California it was suggested that a tunnel be driven under the sea and drilling operations carried on in large submarine chambers. In the field, the Oil and Gas Journal reported 619 completions for the week, compared with 661 the previous week and 593 a year ago. One company is starting a 35-well drilling program on a 700-acre block of semi-proven leases in the new Mission River pool, Refugio County, Southwest Texas.

Car Accident Fatal For Employee Of Gulf
CRANE (Special) — Elmer Earl Watson, Gulf Petroleum Company employe, was killed Sunday by a hit and run driver near San Diego, Cal., according to a message received at the Gulf office.
Funeral services are pending the arrival of the body at Longview. Among the survivors are the widow, mother, sister, and a brother, Roy Watson.

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Olney Wilson wanted a game of golf. The man he approached at the No. 1 tee was agreeable and introduced himself as Bill Wilson. Before they could get their game under way, a third man sauntered up. The two Wilsons were only too glad to make it a threesome. Golfer No. 3 said he was Paul Wilson.

Keep Them Smiling!

This picture is a good definition of the word "morale." That's the way Army officers want their men to look when they're off duty. Picture was made at Camp Hunter Liggett, Calif., as movie stars gave a "test show" before boys in uniform.

The text 'LOCAL BOY MAKES GOOD' is prominently displayed at the top of this section.

It happens regularly in the telephone company. Some boy who grew up in your neighborhood moves into a superintendent's or other executive's chair somewhere in the Bell System.
His big asset is his experience—his "know how"—often gained right in your home town.
Because Bell department heads and operating chiefs among them have that "know how," they tackle today's telephone emergency, or tomorrow's telephone growth, with a direct knowledge of your town and your problems. They play a big part in our effort to give you good neighborhood service at rates that almost everyone can afford—and good nation-wide service as you need it.

Rules To Remember— And Forget—When Visiting Friends

By Alicia Hart
NEA Service Staff Writer

There have been so many printed complaints against the summer weekend guest who forgets her bathing suit or who wants to borrow a sweater or even a little cold cream that many hostesses are finding the guest-hostess relationship pretty strained in spots.

There may be a lot of rules about not asking for things that haven't been put in plain view in guest or bath room. But it's ten times more annoying to any hostess to have a guest who won't wear a borrowed sweater when she is obviously cold than it is to have one who just up and asks for any-warm clothes or an extra blanket.

It's easier on the hostess to have a guest state her preferences about food than to say, "I like everything" and then not eat much of anything on the table. Saying "I don't play bridge" is easier on everybody, especially the hostess, than playing so badly that half the other guests are annoyed.

WEEK-END NUISANCES

Any guest can tell her hostess that she would rather sleep than get up and go to church, or vice versa. No hostess minds having a guest sleep later than all others in the household, provided there is more than one servant or the guest doesn't mind making her own bed or offering to fix her own breakfast. Late sleepers in on-maid or maidless houses have been known to be a nuisance. But not nearly so much of a nuisance as the guest who insists on rising early only because she thinks she should and then is grumpy about it.

The guest who has taken too literally the ducky little rules about the importance of wandering off and getting out of the hostess' way can be more worry than the guest who doesn't move out of the living room for five minutes. If she makes it obvious that she is going for a walk just to get out of the way, the hostess finds herself in a peculiar spot.

Maybe this is the time for guests and hostesses to resolve to be natural and forget most of the ready-made rules. Summer weekends might be more fun all the way around if guests just assumed that they were invited because they are liked and enjoyed and not because they observe dozens of rules.

Criticizes Estimates At Corpus Air Station

WASHINGTON. (AP.) — Criticism of the Navy in underestimating original cost figures on the Corpus Christi, Tex., Naval Air Training station cropped out during hearings on the second deficiency appropriations bill introduced Wednesday in the House.

One of the items in the measure provided for a Naval hospital at Key West, Fla., at an estimated cost of $800,000. Testifying before a House appropriations subcommittee in behalf of the item was Commander L. B. Combs, who said that estimates were calculated in the light of experience gained at Corpus Christi.

Georgia Youth Plows Up Mammoth Meteor

WASHINGTON. (UP.) — Government scientists have placed the fifth largest meteorite in the country in their collection with a grateful sigh for Sam Jenkins, a Georgia plowboy.

The 1,760-pound meteorite, believed to be a fragment of the core of some exploded planet, is being closely studied by experts of the National Museum and the U. S. geological survey to verify their preliminary judgment that it is more than 15,000,000 years old.

Jenkins, plowing his cotton field near Sardis, Ga., felt his plowpoint catch on what he thought was a rock. Knowing that rocks were a rarity in the region, Jenkins dug

To Enjoy Travel, Plan Your Packing To Last Detail

By Alicia Hart
NEA Service Staff Writer

The efficiency with which you pack your bags can contribute a great deal to the joy of any trip. There's little doubt that the "I'd much rather stay at home" attitude is due, in some small part, at least, to haphazard planning and packing.

Even though you've heard hundreds of words of advice on the subject of taking too many clothes and too much luggage, remember that it's far smarter to take three bags with each one not quite full than two that are almost too full to close. The minute you get to the point in your packing where you have to worry about whether you'll have space for the extra sweater or a warm bathrobe, decide then and there to take another piece of luggage.

About the handiest item the efficient packer can have is a large, thick roll of white tissue paper. Put tissue paper between each fold of each dress, don't put too many dresses in one bag and your clothes won't be wrinkled when you arrive. Plenty of tissue paper and adequate space are the answers to the packing problems.

If you don't have little bags for your shoes, use more tissue paper. If you don't have a waterproof bag or case for perfume, lotions and other bottles, hear again tissue paper is handy. Use enough to prevent breakage and to protect your clothes in case of a leak.

MORE ANSWERS TO POCKING PROBLEMS

If you do not have a fitted case, put all of your cosmetics and toilet articles in a cardboard box. This saves frantic searches through stockings, underwear and evening shoes for hairbrush or cold cream or the toothpaste.

At any dime store you can find small rubber envelopes for carrying a washcloth and a full-size cake of soap. Or, if the budget allows, look for terry cloth squares, saturated with powdered soap. These take up little space in a bag and solve once and for all the problem of carrying soap and a washcloth or else having to put up with miniature cakes of soap and using the end of a towel for a washcloth.

RAILWAY LABOR UNION DEMANDS WOULD COST 900 Million Dollars A YEAR

THE labor unions have made their demands upon the railways of the United States — and through the railways upon the PUBLIC. These demands are vastly larger in proportion than any they have ever made. The economical and efficient operation of the railways is vital to the nation's defense effort. Therefore, the Western Railways present to the public the following facts:

The labor unions representing engineers, firemen, conductors, brakemen and switchmen are demanding a 30 per cent increase in wages, amounting to 190 million dollars a year — although their present rates of pay are the highest in history.

Other unions representing a greater number of railway employees are demanding wage increases ranging as high as 95 per cent — averaging 47 per cent — and amounting to 580 million dollars a year — although their present rates of pay also are the highest in history.

Thus the wage increases being demanded by the labor unions amount to 770 million dollars a year, an average increase in excess of 41 per cent.

In addition, certain of these labor unions have demanded advances in their pay not included in the above figures, and more rules for the creation of unnecessary jobs.

The situation, then, is this: The total cost of complying with all the demands made would be approximately 900 million dollars a year!

The average weekly earnings of railway employees are now 15 per cent higher than in the peak year 1929, while the cost of living is 12 per cent less.

The demands of the railway labor unions are being made when the entire nation has just been asked to make a supreme effort for National Defense.

The railways cannot meet these demands without a great increase in the cost of transportation. They exceed by more than 700 million dollars the income that the railways had left after paying their annual expenses, taxes and charges in 1940.

The railways have a vitally important job before them. They need all their resources to continue adequately to serve you and contribute effectively toward the National Defense Program.

MUSTANG BOYS' CLUB COLUMN

Last week's lone question seems to have the natives guessing. No one can explain "The Death Trap of the Ages." Just a hint may be helpful. The remarkable trap has made it possible to understand some of the amazing mysteries of life in the dim past. Also this wonder is located in our own United States. What's the answer? Two show tickets to the boy first bringing home one and one for himself and his buddy.

The Mustangs had a softball game with The Texas Company Monday, the Oilers winning. Friday evening those Mustang Maulers will play an Odessa boys team in Odessa. Mustang players desiring to go are requested to be at the Mustang Club rooms Friday at 4:45. Transportation will be furnished. The Mustang Juniors tied the Latin-Americans in a lively softball game Tuesday.

Robert Wheeler is doing some good work with the Mustang acrobats on the acting bars, trapeze and rings, and some elementary tumbling on the side. These "boys of the flying trapeze" are showing considerable interest and rolling up lots of points.

The water dogs last week started passing their official Red Cross swimmer session Friday morning. Special water sports July 4.

A surprise meeting soon. You "won't" know when until you get there. Nothing will be announced about it. Nothing much. Just something different.

When he made the Tuesday, President emphasized that the Soviet had not yet made any request for help. He intimated, however, that since the United States also opposes Nazi aggression, this coun-

Today's Guest Star Art Rosenbaum, San Francisco Chronicle: "It was a good idea when San Jose State wrapped up its football players and carted them by plane to all games last season. . . . It was so good San Jose won't have much left next season, because the Spartans have lost almost every veteran on the squad—to the army air corps."

Field Artillery Sunday visitors at Fort Sill, Okla., are warned to keep away from the side streets in the camp areas. . . . There's a ball game going on in practically every inch of open space and innocent bystanders would have trouble dodging all the flying pills. . . . Tough luck about Hank Leiber. His busted thumb was just getting better enough for him to grip a bat right when he got beamed. . . . That course in business administration Dick Wakefield was taking at Michigan must be a humdinger. . . . Frank Frisch, who didn't study stuff like that in college, didn't collect a nickel for signing a big-league contract and Lou Gehrig got only $1-000.
