

Army Center Work Starts Soon Glass Urges Repeal Of Neutrality Act

Virginia Senator Declares Freedom Of Seas Should Be Reestablished To Show Hitler 'We Are Not Afraid'

United States Forfeited Rights When Law Was Enacted, Congressman Says, And Nation Must Be Ready To Meet German Declaration Of War

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Glass (D-Va) called Tuesday for immediate repeal of the neutrality act, to reestablish freedom of the seas for American shipping and show Hitler that "we are not afraid" of him.

The act bars American merchant ships from combat zones fixed by the President and Glass, in his first interview since his recent election as President pro tempore of the Senate, said "we ought to wipe that thing off the statute books and throw it in the rottenest wastebasket in the country."

"It should never have been passed at all," the 83-year-old Virginian asserted. "It gave up the freedom of the seas, for which we had been fighting since the beginning of the nation."

"It was passed because a lot of people were afraid of Hitler. We should tell him now that we are not afraid."

Repeal of the act would clear the way for ships under the American flag to carry goods into British ports, while he did not couple the two ideas directly the veteran senator declared that the United States "should take any steps necessary to see that our war materials are delivered to Great Britain."

"I think we are in the war already," he said. "We have done a lot of things that might give Germany an excuse for declaring war against us. I think we should continue our present course and should do everything possible to get the goods across. Then we can leave it to Germany as to whether or not there will be a declaration of war."

"We can't just sit here and let Hitler say who is to sail the seas—who is to come and who is to go," he added.

The Great Yoo-Hoo Issue

Marshall States Law Kept Troops Out Of Iceland

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Geo. C. Marshall, chief of staff, was disclosed Tuesday to have told Congress that specially trained army units, instead of marines, should have occupied Iceland but were prevented from doing so because of difficulties presented by the one-year draft service rule.

Marshall made this statement in testimony given before the Senate military committee July 9 in support of legislation which would permit the retention in active service of selectees and National Guardsmen for longer than one year. The testimony was made public by the committee Tuesday.

If selectees or reservists had been sent to Iceland instead of marines, Marshall said, an unfortunate situation might have arisen because the reserve officers would have had to agree to be relieved of active duty and then be recalled to active duty by their consent.

"Had we pursued that course," General Marshall testified, "we might have found ourselves in the very unfortunate situation in which part of the reserve officers had volunteered and part had not. Such a situation would have advertised the country before it sailed, and we would have been risking the lives of everyone in it."

Unless the present one-year limit is removed, the top-ranking army officer said, "our present trained forces will largely melt away."

Going before the House military committee Tuesday, the chief of staff urged approval of legislation to permit the war department to

Behind The Headlines

By DeWitt MacKenzie

It's small straws that show the way the wind blows, and there seem to be a potential development of moment concealed in a little item from London Tuesday morning saying informed British political circles expect an important announcement shortly about a maximum war effort by India.

That vast eastern empire already has been turned without any fanfare into one of the world's foremost arsenals. There is therefore added interest in the prediction that India and our own "arsenal of Democracy" may exchange representative, presumably to help co-ordinate the supreme effort of these two great countries.

Intensification of the Indian efforts fits in perfectly with the present trend of the war, for unless Russia collapses in the immediate future, Hindustan in my view is likely to play a vital part in providing military supplies and perhaps even troops for the Bolsheviks. This will in part represent self-defense, of course, for if Hitler smashes the Muscovites he will be in position to attack India.

Foresees Turkestan Base The probability that India will act as a supply base for Russia has been heightened by the allied victory in Syria, which vastly strengthens the British position in the Near and Middle East and removes the grave threat of Nazi occupation of that French mandated territory. Naturally everything depends on whether the Reds are able to continue their fierce resistance and keep the Germans from overrunning Western Russia and securing access to the Caucasus.

As I have indicated before, it strikes me that a logical development of the immediate future may be the establishment of a British military base in Russian Turkestan to further the movement of military supplies to the Bolsheviks through this side door. These supplies would be sent from India through the Persian Gulf and thence through Iran (Persia) into Russian territory.

With this comparatively small beginning one can even foresee the opening up of a great new allied front in that region, if the Russo-German war continues.

Patterson Emphasizes Urgency Of Munitions

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson told a senate committee Tuesday that the last year had brought "great progress" in American defense production but "for total warfare of the kind raging in Europe today we can never have enough munitions."

Patterson submitted to the senate defense investigating committee a review of the army's expansion work during the fiscal year which ended June 30.

"I do not claim," he said, "that America as yet is adequately armed or prepared, or that we have become a thoroughly stocked and sufficiently productive arsenal for ourselves and for the other democratic nations as well. But we have gone a good distance."

Executives on the project said no job seekers would be permitted to enter the Military Reservation.

Meanwhile, engineers continued placing stakes where structures will be erected at the big training center, and everything was ready for the start of construction.

More housing is needed immediately for executives who will direct the work and persons with houses available, especially furnished houses and apartments, are requested to confer with the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

Roosevelt Asks For National Saving Time

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt asked Congress Tuesday for legislation to provide daylight saving time "upon such a regional or national basis, and for such part, or all, of the year, as he might deem necessary in the interest of our National Defense."

The Chief Executive made the recommendation in letters to Speaker Rayburn and Vice President Wallace, supporting it with figures to show that the effects of year-around daylight saving would result in a probable annual reduction of 736,289,000 kilowatt-hours in the use of electricity.

Mr. Roosevelt also sent letters to eight southern governors telling of a need for daylight time and declaring that the country "is faced with a serious power shortage that is impeding the National Defense program."

The shortage is particularly acute, he said, in the southeastern portion of the country.

The letters went to the governors of Alabama, Virginia, Tennessee, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi and Florida.

In his communication to the eight governors, Mr. Roosevelt expressed a hope that if it was legally possible, proclamations would be issued to put daylight saving time in effect in their states.

Liner With Axis Officials Sails On Strange Trip

NEW YORK (AP)—Departure of the pride of the American merchant marine was scheduled Tuesday night for a maiden trans-Atlantic voyage as strange as any in history.

Farewell parties were banned on the great drab-gray vessel that will sail for Lisbon with nearly 500 passengers straight into war-dangerous waters.

Aboard will be German and Italian consular officials and other agents of Axis governments and their families who are quitting the United States by order of the state department.

The ship is the 27,000-ton former liner America — largest merchant vessel ever built in this country—which has been converted into a navy transport and remained the West Point.

Sailing time was scheduled for 2 p. m. (CST), but the mass departure of Axis nationals will be delayed pending the arrival of 16 German consular representatives flying here from San Francisco.

The latter group, including Dr. Hans Borchers, consul general at New York, and Captain Fritz Wiedemann, who held the same post in San Francisco, planned originally to sail for Japan, but missed their boat while awaiting a British guarantee of safe conduct that came too late.

Release Ellis Prisoners
In a 15-minute dash to catch the West Point, they chartered three transport planes and took off shortly after 2 a. m. (CST), with the usual flying time of 18 1/2 hours, should allow them to reach New York by 8:30 p. m. (CST).

They said the state department had promised the liner would be held for them.

Another eleventh-hour development in the expulsion of the group which had been assured safe passage to Lisbon was the release last night of three Germans from Ellis Island.

The state department turned loose Dr. Kurt Rieth, former German ambassador to Austria, held on charges of violating the immigration laws, and Dr. Manfred Zapp and Guenther Tonn, German newspapermen accused of neglecting to register as foreign agents, so that all three could sail on the West Point.

Major General Tells Armored Unit Troops Must Become Tougher

FORT KNOX, Ky. (AP)—Major General Bruce Magruder, commander of the First Armored Division, told his 12,000 officers and soldiers Tuesday, on the first anniversary of the division's creation:

"You must train and live so that when we are called upon by this nation we have sworn to protect with our lives, we will be ready."

"We are already tough, but we must be tougher," he declared.

Saying that no one knew what the future held for the division, the general continued:

"Of only one thing can we be certain. We have worked hard; we must work harder. We are mastering techniques; we must attain perfection. We have learned teamwork; we must strive constantly for even greater unity of action."

"Vehicles of the armed force," he said, "have clawed the earth for 9,000,000 miles in tactical exercises" while the men learned this teamwork.

General Magruder, who started his army career as a "buck" private 37 years ago, spoke to his men from an armored scout car against a background of a 400 pound birthday cake mounted on tanks.

Surgeons Predict Girl's Recovery

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Wanda Lee Martin, 13, of Clovis, N. M., who was wounded by a charge from a pistol last December, has undergone a delicate operation but should recover rapidly, surgeons said.

She was wounded by a shot fired through the window at the home of a relative, where she was visiting. For a time she seemed to be getting better, but became ill again; a lung collapsed, and she was brought to Dallas last week by relatives.

X-rays showed the bullet had left a hole in the diaphragm and the stomach had forced its way upward from the abdominal cavity into the chest cavity, moving the heart and other organs out of place and children who donate anything.

In an operation of one hour and forty minutes Monday the stomach was pulled back into place; the diaphragm puncture closed, other organs put in place, and the bad lung given space in which to heal.

In Midst Of War—Peace

Men are meeting in Washington who may hold the internal peace of the Western Hemisphere in their hands. Millions of people in both North and South America are hoping that they will be able to work out a formula to halt war between Peru and Ecuador.

It is to the interest not only of the Peruvian and Ecuadorian peoples themselves, but to the peoples of all the Americas, that war be avoided. There is enough war in the world today without having the peoples of the Western Hemisphere at each other's throats. They are all sufficiently affected by the sweep of the Second World War, without warring among themselves.

The average North American will do well to take no contemptuous tone toward this border dispute which has caused ill-feeling between Ecuador and Peru for 100 years—it will not do to say, "A stupid row over a few miles of jungle!" and let it go at that.

To Peruvians and Ecuadorians, the fate of the vast interior territory of the Oriente is of utmost importance. It lies in the over-the-mountains hinterland of both; it is the outlet to the headwaters of the Amazon; it is potentially rich. Danzig was not so important to Germany as the Oriente to both of these countries.

The United States itself came to the verge of war with Great Britain over our own northwest boundary at a time when it must have seemed to any European a stupid dispute over an untrodden wilderness.

Yet because cooler heads prevailed than the ones which were shouting "Fifty-four Forty or Fight!" the border was amicably adjusted, and neither country has ever regretted it.

That is the Western Hemisphere way, and while it is true that the United States and many other American countries have not always adhered to it, that is the direction, that is the goal.

Only last April Colombia and Venezuela adjusted a border dispute as old as that which now shakes Ecuador and Peru, and did it amicably. Panama and Costa Rica settled in the same month the status of a 30,000-acre disputed tract. It can be done.

We hope that the United States and other American powers which have an interest in peace within the hemisphere will be able to devise formulas by which these two South American countries, both of which are on unusually friendly terms with the United States, will be able to adjust their dispute without shedding more blood in a world which is already saturated with the blood of unoffending men.

When The Nazis Were Late

The Nazis don't always move first, according to H. A. Peterson, Australian trade commissioner at Batavia, Java. According to Peterson, they moved second in the Netherlands East Indies, and landed in concentration camps.

A plot of local Germans, hundreds of them well-armed and equipped, had been formed. On word that Hitler had invaded the Low Countries, they were to seize Batavia and Surabaya. But word of the invasion came first to the Dutch authorities, by code cable from Holland. They moved first, swooped down on the plotting Germans, seized their stores of guns and ammunition, and elapped them all into concentration camps.

Hitler moved first in Poland, Norway, Denmark, Holland—the list is too long to recount—but it is pleasant to record that there is at least one place where they got the jump on him.

Premier Asserts Pact Is Alliance

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill declared Tuesday in the house of commons that the new British-Russian agreement for joint war action against Germany was an alliance and that the Russian and British peoples now were allies.

Implying that British relations with the French also were favorable, the prime minister said the armistice which gave British and Free French forces control of French-mandated Syria and Lebanon was signed Monday in a cordial spirit on both sides.

That, Churchill said, "is a proof of the deep comprehension of the French people of the true issues at stake in the world."

"We seek no British advantage in Syria. Our only object had been to beat the Germans and help win the war."

The British-Russian alliance does not mean, Churchill declared, that Britain is identifying herself with "the Communist creed" or that she is "fighting the battle of communism."

"What's the gasoline for my money?" Under the Humble sign are your answers—three continuously improved motor fuels, each serving best in its field.

In order to make continuous improvement* available to every Texas motorist, the Humble Company provides three gasolines at Humble Service Stations and Humble Dealers—one for every car, for every automobile budget—and all three, mind you, are SECOND TO NONE in performance in their respective price ranges.

First, there's THRIFTANE, a GOOD gasoline at thrifty price, recommended to drivers of automobiles with low compression motors.

Second, there's HUMBLE, a BETTER gasoline, designed to give expected performance from today's fine automobiles.

And third, there's ESSO EXTRA, the BEST of all the fine gasolines ever sold under the Humble sign. A few odd extra pennies gives you the extra performance which ESSO EXTRA delivers.

When you fill up today, and every time your car needs gasoline, look for the red, white and blue Humble sign—and fill up with Humble!

* It is basic Humble policy to make continuous improvements in all Humble products, from month to month, and, when necessary, even from day to day. ### FEMININE FANCIES

By Kathleen Eiland

Cute is the word for those polka-dot glass animals in impossible hues which are designed to grace lapels for the young and giddy-hearted. Most fancy-taking small gadgets we've seen, they are. And we like the clear glass ones with just a wee touch of color, too, like the endearing Airedale with touches of red.

We applaud the screens on business houses, which we note about town. Don't know whether Midland is growing sanitation-conscious or whether there are just more flies this year—but whatever the cause, we're glad to see the improvement. Only thing we wonder is how a drugstore staff, for instance, can endure the eternal slam-bang of the doors.

On second thought, even door-banging can't be worse than the noise in a newspaper shop. We credit other business firms with nerves as steady as ours.

The interest in photography, steadily growing during the last few years, has now reached the point where we note the equipment for home developing of pictures is advertised prominently by a downtown store.

More power to the amateurs, we say. We can think of few hobbies that are more wholesome and less harmful than picture making (unless, of course, one spends too much time over the chemicals and we dare say few people do).

Somehow we only manage a middling to fair batting average on pictures we take, however. Guess the artistic instinct must be among the many talents we lack.

League President Praises Infielder

DALLAS (AP)—President J. Alvin Gardner of the Texas League Tuesday paid tribute to Glen (Rip) Russell as "an example every young player should follow."

Gardner was speaking not only of ability but team spirit as shown by this husky young man in putting Tulsa into the battle for the league pennant and insuring himself a trip back to the majors.

Two years ago Russell, playing first base for the Chicago Cubs, broke his leg. Chicago kept him last season but he was spending too much time on the bench.

Chicago owns half of the Tulsa club, so Business Manager James T. Gallagher suggested that Russell go to the Oilers where he might whip back into shape and also regain his confidence.

Under baseball rules Russell could have demanded that he be sent to a Class AA instead of a Class A league. But in the spirit of cooperation — because Tulsa needed players — Russell agreed.

DiMaggio Faces Same Ed Smith In Attempt To Reach 55 Contests

By Tom Siler

CHICAGO (AP)—Two months ago today 26-year-old Joe DiMaggio stepped up to the plate in Yankee Stadium and smacked a clean single off Ed Smith, chubby Chicago White Sox southpaw. The Yankee slugger had no way of knowing then that he was projecting himself on the most sensational batting streak ever recorded in major league history. In those lean days Joe was delighted to collect anything resembling a baseball.

Batting champion of the league in 1939 and 1940, Joe had just returned from a sad trip below the 300 mark. Until he got that hit off Smith he had drawn "horse collars" in 11 games between April 22 and May 14.

Record Stood 44 Years
Of course, all baseball fans know what he's done since Mel Harder held his hitless May 14. Joe has done so well that Tuesday he went against this same Chubby Smith in an effort to extend his consecutive game hitting streak to 55 games.

Willie Keeler's old record of 44 lasted more than 40 years. Your guess is as good as anyone on how long Joe's incredible string will endure.

Joe was batting .304 when his streak began. In the subsequent two months the Yankee powerhouse has collected 86 hits in 215 times at bat, scored 92 runs, collected 153 total bases, knocked in 54 runs and blasted 15 home runs, 14 doubles, and four triples.

Golfers To Play Best-Ball Match

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demaret, the two Texans who won the Inverness four ball matches (and $2000) in June, found takers Tuesday for their offer to wage $200 on their ability to beat any two professionals in a best-ball match over 36 holes.

A group of Inverness members announced they were willing to back their home pro, Bryon Nelson, and any partner he might select, to the tune of $2000, and that they would donate one half of the gate receipts, if any, to the American Red Cross.

The group, said its spokesman, "has the money ready to put up any time convenient to Mr. Hogan and Mr. Demaret, the only stipulation being that the match be held on a neutral course."

Oakland Hills at Birmingham, Mich., was proposed.

Illinois Trustees Go Into Huddle To Straighten Out Mix-Up Between Zuppke And Wilson Started In 1938

By Tom Siler

CHICAGO (AP)—Bob Zuppke's future as a big-time football coach hung in the balance Tuesday.

The University of Illinois trustees met in Chicago to study and possibly clear up the school's muddled athletic affairs.

The school's athletic department has been in a state of unrest ever since the feud between Zuppke and Athletic Director Wendell S. Wilson came to light in 1938. Wilson obtained Zuppke's resignation three years ago, but the trustees refused to accept it.

Grange Sues Wilson
Harold (Red) Grange, most famous pupil during Zuppke's 28-year regime at Illinois, charged last week that Wilson had intended to become head coach himself in 1938 if Zuppke was let out. Grange also stated Wilson offered him a job as an assistant coach at his old school. Grange strongly advocated the retention of Zuppke.

Wilson denied Grange's charge Sunday and counter-charged that the former grid star was one of a group trying to oust him as athletic director.

Grange tossed more fuel on the fire Monday by suing Wilson for $50,000, charging the athletic director with issuing a "malicious, false, slanderous and defamatory" statement which "greatly injured" Grange's reputation.

Zivic Is Winner Over Challenger

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—After two years of tussling, the score between Fritz Zivic and Johnny BaFara stands at two to two.

Zivic, waterweight champion from Pittsburgh, beat out a unanimous decision over the Chicagoan Monday night in a 12-round, bout before 4,100 who paid a net of $5,345 at Philadelphia Gardens.

Zivic weighed 150 1/4 to Barbara's 152 3/4.

Big Foxbrough Hopes To Uphold Tradition Of Kin

NEW YORK (AP)—A big horse named Foxbrough will be running up at Suffolk Downs Wednesday in an effort to prove he's an exception to the rule that horses, like humans, seldom are able to follow in the footsteps of a celebrated brother or sister.

Foxbrough, owned by William Woodward, chairman of the Jockey Club, is a son of Sir Gallahad III-Marguerite. That means he's a brother of Gallant Fox, which won $328,165, and Fighting Fox, whose earnings came to $122,000. The latest of the Foxes is headed for the $100,000-mark, and will be there soon if he can win the $50,800 Massachusetts Handicap Wednesday.

Fighting Fox won that race two years ago and that's why it means so much to Foxbrough's record if he comes through.

Whirlaway Gets Ready For $55,000 Arlington

CHICAGO (AP)—Whirlaway, Warren Wright's king of the three-year-olds, prepared Tuesday for the $55,000 Arlington classic July 26 with a workout in a $5,000 special event.

Opposing the speedy Calumet Farm winner of the Kentucky Derby, Fekness and Belmont classic will be Cadmium, To a Tee, Daily Trouble and possibly Bushwacker.

WORN-OUT ALUMINUM IS ADMISSION AT RACE

SALEM, N. H. (AP)—Any worn-out aluminum pot or pan will admit the owner or carrier to the opening program of Rockingham Park's 18-day summer race meeting on next Monday, General Manager Lon Smith announced Tuesday.

He said that ancient utensils of metal, so vitally important to production for national defense, would be accepted in lieu of the customary 50-cent admission fee and turned over to a government agency.

Golf Tournament Officials Expect Quartet Of Stars

Top Texan golfers—Harry Tood of Dallas, Reynolds Smith and J. T. Hammett of Breckenridge, and Warren Cantrell of Abilene, are expected to shoot in the annual Midland Country Club invitation tournament, Aug. 1, 2 and 3.

Tood won the Midland event last year, defeating Cantrell in a hot final's match. Both stokers have assured Gaitner Nowell, Midland pro, they would be on hand this year.

Hammett, who is blistering Texas courses this summer, his finest season, and Smith, one of the state's best golfers, are almost certain entries.

Qualifying dates are July 28 through August 1. The barbecue and Calcutta pool is slated the night of Aug. 1 at the clubhouse.

Five hundred dollars in prizes will go to the championship and other flight winners. The first six flights will have 18-hole matches. The lower flights will list 9-hole matches.

Texas Company Takes Early Lead In Loop Beating Independents

The Texas Company jumped into an early lead in the city softball league with a thrilling 7-6 win over Independents Monday night. Southern Ice won from Sewell Motor of Odessa by forfeit.

Texas and Independents battled it out in a hair-raiser. Carrell singled in the last of the final inning to score Beatty from third with the winning counter.

The Texans had a 6-3 advantage going into the seventh and final frame. The Independents rallied and tied the score. Then Texas put on the "Frank Merriwell" finish. Beatty and Walker got on base, Hart popped out and McClure flew out. Carrell stepped up and smashed a single to score Beatty and untie the 6-6 stalemate.

The Sewell Motors ten arrived too late to play Southern Ice a regulation. The two clubs staged a practice set-to for several innings.

But the matter was settled amicably. The goat's owner, another woman, said she'd sell him and pay for the damage.

Balloon Billets-Doux
FORT SHERIDAN, Ill.—The marksmanship of ROTC cadets firing machine guns at rubber balloons in anti-aircraft drill left something to be desired.

"The Sheridan," the post newspaper, says this was the reason: Lonely cadets were attaching notes to the balloons asking "lovely ladies whereabouts" to write them.

Confining Vacation
CHICAGO—Edwin Peterson is spending his three week vacation in jail at his own request.

He came to court owing $64 in support payments to his divorced wife but explained he could pay nothing because he had spent his money treating tipplers.

"Now I want to be cured," he added. "Last time I was there, they fixed me up for a long time, but I need it again."

Judge Michael Feinberg sentenced him to three weeks on a contempt of court charge.

Active recruiting for the U. S. Navy and Naval Reserve has started here with the posting of literature advertising opening of a navy recruiting station in the Court House building at Big Spring.

Opening of the Navy recruiting station in Big Spring will result in saving in time and expense to men interested in enlistment, Chief Petty Officer Ray Lokey, said here. Formerly local men were required to go to Abilene to make application and take examinations for enlistment in the Navy. All men registered for Selective Service may, if qualified, enlist in the Navy or Naval Reserve before being called for Army duty.

The Naval Reserve has an unlimited number of vacancies for both unskilled men and those trained in trades and professions, including clerical workers. Age limits for unskilled men are from 17 to 36 years. Skilled men may be enlisted up to the age limit of 50 years and with beginning pay ranging from $60 to $99 per month, plus board, lodging, depending upon the individual's qualifications.

Oilers Cling To Second Place In Texas League

By The Associated Press

The Tulsa Oilers, fighting Shreveport's Sports to a draw in Monday night's doubleheader, clung to second place in Texas League standings by the slim margin of a half game.

In the spotlight as rain washed out other scheduled clashes at San Antonio, Houston, and Beaumont, the third place Sports blasted 11 hits, including a home run in the sixth by Guy Curtright, for a 7-2 win in the opener.

But the Oilers came back to take the second game 5-4 when a desperate seventh inning rally by the Sports fell short of knotting the score.

There was no rest for Texas League on the eve of their annual all-star clash, scheduled tomorrow. The rainouts stacked up doubleheaders at San Antonio and Houston.

SERIAL STORY

MURDER IN CONVOY

BY A. W. O'BRIEN

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Lieutenant Rollins, aboard troopship T 9, thinks pleasantly of the attractive nurse he met getting on the boat. Rollins is called to the office of Colonel Stephenson, officer in command of troops, and strict orders for conduct of sentries are issued to him. Later that night he sees a light on "A" deck. He moves cautiously to the spot, sees a shadowy form. Drawing his revolver, he barks an order: "Halt! Lift your hands—high!"

TRYING TO REMEMBER

CHAPTER III

LIEUTENANT ROLLINS heard a little gasp of surprise, but the shadow stopped with arms raised slowly.

"Please don't shoot," came a voice unmistakably feminine, "I promise not to move an inch."

A horrible sensation of having made a fool of himself swept over the officer. As he rose, rather shamefacedly from his awkward position on the stairs, he dreaded to see the girl's face—could it be THE nurse?

"Sorry to frighten you, Sister," he apologized, "but it's very late and . . ."

"That's all right," she replied curtly. "I realize fully that it is after hours, but I just couldn't sleep and thought a few breaths of fresh air would help. You may report me and . . ."

Rollins felt his face reddening. "Oh now, just a minute . . ."

He made a feeble attempt at showing his good-natured side. "I'm not trying to get any charming person such as yourself reported. I was merely trying to track down somebody flashing a light up here . . ."

"The nurse seemed to freeze. "Oh that," she gave a short forced laugh. "I guess it was I. I tried stealing a puff of a cigaret, but even that is evidently enough to bring you fellows dashing up fully armed."

Rollins was nettled but he swallowed his pride. Taking her by the arm he guided her to the nearest door, opened it and waved her inside. She paused under a dull red corridor light and looked at him in some surprise.

"Now what," she asked coldly? "Now have a cigaret?" Rollins smiled, pushing forward a package.

She hesitated a split second, then took one. He snapped his lighter, taking advantage of the raised flame to examine her features. Yes, she was definitely pretty in a cultured sort of way.

She coughed abruptly. "Good heavens," she exclaimed looking at the cigaret, "either the brand is awful or I'm catching cold. Good night."

Later, lying in his bunk and gratefully sipping the Scotch and water his snoring roommate had left for him, Rollins was letting his mind drift through the happier side of the uncomfortable meeting. Suddenly he sat bolt upright.

It hadn't clicked in his befuddled mind at the moment but subconsciously it had registered—in the flame of his lighter he had seen what an uncommonly large tip of cigaret she had wetted. And that cough—like a person puffing at her first cigaret!

He awoke unrefreshed to find the throbbing noise increasingly evident but the troopship still at the dock.

Steam was fully up and smoke rolled from the two funnels. There was the unmistakable atmosphere of last-minute preparations, and the captain's bridge was a hive of activity.

Thousands of soldiers were jamming the starboard side which faced the actual water leading down to the sea. At regular intervals freighters were steaming by. Evidently a huge mercantile convoy was leaving for some overseas destination.

A few minutes before noon the last of the merchantmen went by—an insignificant but sea-toughened trawler. Although painted over, the letters on the bow of the trawler were visible to the troops.

"Ahoy, Loch Lomond!" somebody roared, and the troops burst into the gay Scottish tune. A window opened on the trawler's bridge and a ruddy face appeared.

Lieutenant Gregory Rollins was puzzled as he stood at his station. Why the binoculars? Why the rapt interest that even a lifeboat alarm didn't disturb?

But, most puzzling of all, where had he met the girl before their encounter aboard ship. It had been somewhere interesting and on some important occasion. But where and when?

lips plainly moving in accompaniment to the troops' singing.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon, the troopships began to move, starting from the farthest inland dock. The bands of all units appeared on deck. There wasn't a man below. The air was crisp and clear and bright sunshine basked the dramatic scene.

Tees and Rollins clasped one another on the back enthusiastically. "We're off!" yelled the lieutenant. "I was beginning to think it would never happen to us."

Tees smiled. "Oh, I thought we'd sail all right, but who would have thought it would be like this . . ."

He made a sweeping gesture. "I expected to slip out in the darkness with everything very hush-hush. Instead, the bands are playing, the boys are yelling and singing their heads off. Just look over there!"

"It's the lifeboat drill they warned us about!" yelled Tees as he started on the double for his boat station. Rollins was right behind him, but something on "A" deck caught his eye. He slowed to a walk.

There was the nurse—the same one he had encountered last night on the deck. The lieutenant's eyebrows knitted into a frown as he saw her evidently making no effort to dash for her boat station. She was peering intently through a pair of powerful binoculars at the battle cruiser from which the light flashes were coming.

United States Announces Important Agreement With Mexico To Purchase 18-Months Surplus War Commodities

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The United States has agreed to purchase from Mexico all her surplus war commodities for the next 18 months under terms considered here to constitute the most important United States-Mexico understanding in recent years.

The agreement also provides that Mexico will limit the export of such commodities to the United States and nations of the Western Hemisphere and that the American government will expedite exports to Mexico as far as "compatible with the national defense program."

Documents were exchanged Monday night at the foreign ministry by representatives of both governments.

Floyd B. Ransom, United States businessman here, was appointed special representative of the federal loan agency to administer the agreement.

The agency contracted to purchase up to 125 per cent of the total of commodities exported during the past 18 months. The additional 25 per cent was to cover a possible increase in production during the term of agreement. Prices to be paid will be determined by average prices in United States markets one week prior to any exchange.

O'Daniel Throws No Light On Trip To U. S. Capital

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—While the dramatic U. S. senatorial election faded into history, Texans wondered Tuesday when Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, victor in the bitter contest, would quit the state capitol for the senate office building in Washington.

The governor, who will serve out the remaining year and five months of the late Senator Morris Sheppard's term, added nothing to Monday's laconic "I have no plans to announce at present."

Speculation bubbled on whether he would soon resign or simply present himself to the senate and take the oath. Lieutenant-Governor Coke Stevenson, veteran Junction legislator, will succeed to the governorship.

Has 1311-Vote Margin

Mrs. W. Lee O'Daniel intimated the governor's family might soon leave for Washington, saying it appeared 19-year-old daughter Molly, engaged to be married, would "have to hurry to have her wedding in the mansion." She added Molly did not plan an Austin marriage.

The official election board canvass showed O'Daniel won by a 1,311-vote margin over the New Deal congressman Lyndon B. Johnson, receiving 175,690 to Johnson's 174,279, Attorney General Gerald C. Mann's 140,807, Congressman Martin Dies' 80,653 and 4,550 cast for the others.

The bare plurality was the smallest total the governor, a former flour salesman, ever received since his advent into politics three years ago. He won two gubernatorial campaigns by majorities over strong fields.

Columnist Didn't Appear

Chances of a possible investigation of the election apparently went glimmering when one state senate committee recessed subject to call of the chair and another failed to discuss it.

The general investigating committee headed by Senator R. A. Weisert of Seguin, came out of an executive session with a formal 40-word statement saying it had met to hear testimony from a Washington columnist, that the columnist didn't appear and that it had recessed.

Commissioners called the precinct and county-wide election at the same time to save costs of individual elections, officials said.

Only 247 signatures to a petition were necessary to obtain the election.

weed out officers who "are slowing down in the army."

Marshall estimated that only about one per cent of the officers would be affected.

Hearing Wednesday

Critics acclaimed Tuesday a decision of congressional leaders to put aside an army request for authority to send selectees outside the Western Hemisphere, and forecast tough opposition to a proposal to keep the men in service more than a year.

Senators Wheeler (D-Mont) and Nye (R-ND) both asserted there was a 50-50 chance of defeating legislation to extend the service period of selectees and National Guardsmen beyond the 12 months now prescribed by law.

The Senate military committee arranged to start hearings on the bill Wednesday, a conclusion to press for its passage with full administration support apparently having been made by legislative leaders in a conference with President Roosevelt Monday.

However, Majority Leader Barkley of Kentucky and Senator Hill of Alabama, majority whip, made it plain that no effort would be undertaken at this time to enact legislation lifting the present ban against sending draftees outside the Western Hemisphere or American possessions.

troops had recaptured the town of Rogachev, on the west bank of the Dnepr River, 130 miles southeast of Minsk, which has been the scene of the bitterest fighting of the 24-day-old struggle.

In contrast to the Russian claim, DNB, the official German news agency, asserted that Soviet attempts to maintain a defense front in the Dvina and Dnepr River sectors had been smashed by Nazi attacks.

DNB also reported that the German push toward Leningrad, known as St. Petersburg when it was the capital of Czarist Russia, was proceeding despite Soviet efforts to bolster their line by rushing in hastily assembled reinforcements.

Russians Mine Waters

Premier Joseph Stalin's high command in a laconic communique rivaling those issued by Adolf Hitler's field headquarters, said merely that violent fighting raged throughout the night on the Central and Northern fronts.

Dispatches from Rome said an Italian military expeditionary force was enroute to the Soviet front with 14 long trainloads of infantry, artillery and tanks moving to support Hitler's invasion armies daily since last Friday.

Moscow and Berlin varied sharply on fighting in the south. The Russians said Red troops stopped a German-Rumanian advance with artillery fire and tanks, then charged the invaders' gun positions and turned their own artillery upon them.

Authoritative quarters in Moscow declared emphatically there was no truth in diplomatic reports from Ankara that the Soviet government was preparing to flee to a provisional capital in the east. Meanwhile, Japanese reports said Russia had mined the main water zones facing the sea of Japan and Kamchatka to guard the shipping lanes to her Pacific war supply port of Vladivostok.

Appoints Spears Recreation Head

Sam P. Spears of Albany was appointed full-time recreational supervisor for Midland and has begun duties.

He was sent to Midland from the district WPA offices in San Angelo. He will direct the community service recreational program here.

Spears is married and will live here.

He began a survey of facilities here Monday and will add new phases to the program.

Malcolm Bridges, Big Spring, formerly was recreational supervisor here.

Investigating group, headed by Senator Clem Pain of Livingston, did not consider the election in an executive session, merely pursuing an inquiry started before the legislature adjourned.

No election contest appeared on the horizon.
