

Hostess Honors Group Of Guests At Turner Home

A "neighborhood coffee" was the compliment given by Mrs. Fred Turner, 1705 W. Missouri, Wednesday morning for her houseguests.

Visitors in the Turner home include Mr. Turner's sister, Mrs. R. V. Kimmel of Lubbock and daughter, Sarah, Mrs. Hines H. Baker and daughter, Louise, of Houston, and Miss Fredda Fae Turner's guest, Miss Elsie Jackson of Lynchburg, Virginia.

Neighbors of the Turners and a few others formed the group of guests who called during the coffee.

Mrs. Geo. Todd Is Hostess For Dessert-Bridge

Mrs. Geo. Todd, 507 W. Storey, was hostess to the Tuesday Bridge Club with a dessert-bridge Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Roses decorated the house.

Two tables were laid for the bridge games which followed the dessert service.

Mrs. C. E. Prichard and Mrs. C. L. Bradshaw were playing guests and Mrs. Jane Painter of Denver, Colorado, was a tea guest.

In the afternoon's play, Mrs. O. R. Champion held high score, Mrs. Prichard second high, and Mrs. R. L. Blunden cut.

Club members present were: Mmes. Champion, Blunden, R. S. Dewey, J. Harvey Herd, Tom Parker, and the hostess.

Mrs. Blunden will entertain the club at its next meeting.

TOWN PUTS CURFEW ON YOUTH

EDDYSTONE, Pa. (UP)—This little southeastern Pennsylvania borough has approved an ordinance providing a 9 o'clock curfew for all children under 16. The fire whistle blows at 8:45 each night and children found on the street after that are "taken care of" by the police.

Bride-Elect Honored At Shower Given By Trio

Miss Geneva Risinger Is Complimented At Mrs. Hickman's Home

In courtesy to Miss Geneva Risinger, bride-elect of W. E. Cox, a trio of hostesses, Mrs. John Porter, Mrs. Ralph Hickman, and Miss Jean Burson, entertained with a shower at the home of Mrs. Hickman west of the Country Club, Tuesday evening from 7 o'clock until 8.

A color scheme of pink and white was used throughout the rooms.

Pink asters decorated the room where gifts were displayed, with Miss Maria Spencer presiding.

The refreshment table was covered with a lace cloth. At one end stood the punch bowl surrounded by greenery and pink rose buds. At the other was a doll dressed as a bride and carrying a bridal spray made of real rosebuds and baby's breath. Pale pink candles burned in crystal holders on either side of the little bride and the pathway before her down the table was strewn with tiny pink rosebuds and petals.

Arrangements of roses and zinnias lent a festive air to the party room where two tables were laid for the bride games.

High score prize went to Mrs. Richard Newsome and bingo award to Mrs. Bartley. Miss Cox was presented with a guest-gift from the hostesses.

A dessert course was served at the close of the games to: The honoree, Mmes. J. W. Bradberry, Clyde Martin, Sol Bunnell, Newsome, Bartley, Word, and Leach.

Afternoon Party Is Courtesy For Miss Audrey Cox

Mrs. Roy Leach and Mrs. Charles Word were cohostesses for an afternoon bridge, Tuesday at 2:30 o'clock, at the Leach home, 306 W. Ohio. The party was in compliment to Miss Audrey Cox of Glen Rose, who is the house guest of Mrs. Jerald Bartley.

Invitations were issued to: The honoree, Mrs. Ralph Guyger, Miss Willie Mae Ferguson, Mmes. Karon Frye, Vara Bartine, Louis Wallace, R. L. Clarke, Geo. Ross, Miss Edna Mae Elkin, Miss Louise Cunningham, Mmes. W. E. Dougherty, John W. Skinner, R. L. Denham, V. C. Maley, Bill Stevens, Hilda Blair Ray.

Mrs. W. L. Miller Is Honor Guest At Party Series

Mrs. W. L. Miller of Houston, who is the houseguest of Mrs. Paul A. Schosser, 1714 W. Holloway, is being complimented with a series of informal courtesies during her visit. She and Mr. Miller, who is also here, formerly lived in Midland.

Mrs. Miller has been entertained by Mrs. W. L. Haseltine, by Mrs. Lamar Lunt at luncheon Tuesday, by Mrs. James H. Chapple at bridge Tuesday, and will be a dinner guest of Mrs. W. B. Stowe, Wednesday night.

Other in-honor affairs are planned for her later.

FEMININE FANCIES

By Kathleen Eiland

Recently we were accused of being a hero-worshipper. We didn't deny it because, in cold truth, we probably are. But isn't nearly everyone?

What does it matter if one does get disappointed sometime? We'd much rather be disappointed once in a while, than never to believe that some particular person was considerably above the average in nobility, brilliance, and goodheartedness. Life would be a pretty dull thing if we couldn't look up to someone with love and admiration.

Yes, we're all for hero-worshiping—so long as one does the worshipping with the sensible realization that heroes can still be heroes even with feet of clay (which they most all have).

Grapes are back in season. Which means good news for us. Grapes come about as near to being one hundred per cent delicious, when they really are good, as anything we know. Our vote goes to the white ones—either the huge meaty ones of the smaller seedless ones—as being super-eating. But the big purple ones are not to be sniffed at. And older folk still get nostalgic over the remembered tasty tang of the little wild black mustangs.

No wonder when the Israelites spied out to reconnoiter the land before they brought back huge clusters of grapes as evidence of the fruitfulness and desirability of the new land.

Speaking of fruits, the summer season seems to call for cold fruit plates at luncheon for supper on the hotter days. These may be assembled of any number of fruits, from three on up and give the necessary nutriment without the unpleasantly loggy aftermath which follows eating of too-heavy foods in summer heat.

CALIFORNIA CITIES SHOW PLANNING RULES OF 1573

SACRAMENTO, Cal. (UP)—Several California cities even today bear the stamp of city planning regulations laid down by the king of Spain in a royal edict of 1573, the state planning board revealed.

The ancient decree set forth standard regulations to be followed in establishing towns in the New World. Business was ordered to front a central plaza, streets were oriented with relation to prevailing winds, and objectionable features such as slaughter houses were restricted to a single isolated district.

Los Angeles, Santa Cruz, San Jose and Sonoma are among those communities showing the influence of the early Spanish layout.

MIND Your MANNERS

T. M. Roe, U. S. Pat. Off.

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against authoritative answers below:

- Should a man guest, stopping by to see friends on a warm evening, ask if he can take off his coat?
- Should a woman houseguest wear shorts around her hostess' home if she isn't sure whether or not the hostess would approve?
- Should a woman houseguest dress for the afternoon when her hostess does, or go about in slacks after her hostess has changed into something else?
- What would you do if— You borrow a wrap to take on a vacation and it is not quite clear when you return— (a) Have it cleaned before returning it? (b) Return it without having it cleaned, but offer to pay the person you borrowed it from the price of having it cleaned?

Former Flying Cadets Form 'Wash-Out' Club

FORT WORTH, (AP)—Eight former flying cadets who "washed out" at Hicks Field in recent months have banded together to work out problems of employment and social activities while they adjust themselves to civilian life here.

They have organized the Clipped-Wing Club, to be composed of all flying cadets who wash out but decide to remain in Fort Worth.

Many still are interested in aviation either as pilots or in a non-flying capacity, although they are through with flying so far as the Army is concerned.

PRUNING OF SHRUBS SHOULD START NOW

COLLEGE STATION, (AP)—Summer pruning of shrubs should be started at once for best results, Sadie Hatfield, extension service specialist in landscape gardening, said.

Dead or diseased limbs should be cut off, she recommended. Limbs in the way of other plants, pathways or windows should be cut back, but heavy pruning should be avoided.

any specific holding in clubs, but is simply a request for the partner to bid first his aces, then his kings, then his queens, and so on. If he has no aces, he should bid two no trump.

In today's hand, North, with two aces, responds with two no trump. South bids three clubs, not three hearts, to give North a chance to show kings cheaply. North's three spade response shows the king, and also denies holding the king of hearts or king of diamonds.

South decides to give North another chance. He bids four clubs. At worst, South will have to shift to his real suit at five. But the diamond response, showing the queen, leads South to believe he can discard his losing club on North's diamond queen, gaining entry through the spade king, and then win a finesse against either the spade queen or the heart king. So South bids the slam.

It is a close bid, but can just be made. South takes the ace of clubs, cashes the ace and king of diamonds and leads low to the spade king to cash the diamond queen and discard the club loser. The trump finesse is lost, but dummy has a trump re-entry to lead for the winning spade finesse.

The answers to the two questions are "The Seven Seas" are the North Atlantic, South Atlantic, North Pacific, South Pacific, Arctic, Antarctic and Indian. If Jack can build a canoe alone in 4 days and Joe in 5 days, the two working together can complete the canoe in 2 2/9 days. Jimmy Rhoads, the silent newsboy captured both show tickets by answering the questions.

How about this one for another ticket—Who is the richest man in the world today and who is the richest man that ever lived? Give their names, nationality and the amount of their wealth. One guess only.

The swimming pool on Mustang mornings has been very much alive with swirling, twirling and gurgling boys. Many are attempting to pass the Red Cross advance swimming tests. Only those boys who pass this series of tests may use the motor and row boats on the Concho during summer camp next week. The ace boat event will be riding, standing up and on the aqua-plane or surf-board while being towed by a fast motor-boat. Those boys who stay on the board for a mile without falling off may be given additional rides. Three row boats have been reserved. The best aqua-plane rider will be dubbed "The Water Cowboy" and presented with some water-chaps. That big pecan tree still hangs far out over the deep Concho, with the long rope and diving platform, made to order for those boys who like aerial diving.
