Gov. Stevenson Will Attend Midland Rodeo

Chief Executive Will Be Here For First Performance

Other Notables Are Invited To Attend Midland's Big Show Governor Coke Stevenson, Texas' popular new chief executive, will attend the opening performance of the seventh annual Midland Rodeo, August 30.

By telegraph, he accepted the invitation Friday of Clarence Scharbauer, president of the Midland Fair, Inc. Invitations also have been sent to Governor John Miles of New Mexico, Congressman R. E. Thomason, and Major General G. C. Brant, commander of the Army Air Corps Gulf Coast Training Center, which controls Midland's Advanced Twin-Engine and Bombardier School.

Rodeo officials are anxious to entertain these outstanding men and each is being urged to attend. Governor Miles frequently has expressed interest in the rodeo. General Brant told friends recently he would try to arrange his plans so he could be here with his staff and ride in the big rodeo parade.

"Am very anxious to get to your big rodeo—the best show in Texas," Congressman Thomason wrote to friends. "My committee is in session every day on National Defense matters but we may take a short recess.

"I am hopeful of being with you—at least, will do my best. Want to see my friends in West Texas—also look over your great air school. You are going to have one of the finest of its kind in the United States."

Thomason is senior member of the house military affairs committee. Governor Stevenson telegraphed Mr. Scharbauer:

"Plan to be in Midland Aug. 30 for rodeo. Appreciate your kind invitation. Plans immediately were made for the governor, a ranchman and lawyer, to ride in the big rodeo parade. The governor's box at the rodeo grounds will be decorated for his visit and a microphone will be installed so he may address the crowd.

Stevenson is popular with Midland citizens. He addressed the Chamber of Commerce annual banquet here in January 1939. He is being urged by Midland friends to bring his family to the show.

First Production For Lubbock Area Assured By Test

By Frank Gardner Oil Editor. L. C. Harrison No. 1 Naim estate definitely assured Lubbock County its first oil pool when it swabbed 54 barrels of 31.5-gravity crude on three-hour gauge in tank, Thursday night.

The oil recovered was new. It earlier had been reported the well was swabbing 15 to 20 barrels an hour but this figure represented oil load used in conjunction with a 2,000-gallon acid treatment. The three-hour gauge was taken after all the lead had been recovered. Operators were unable to swab fluid below 1,000 feet from bottom and shut the well in at 8 p.m. Thursday.

It was reopened at 7 a.m. Friday but failed to flow. Swab was run and fluid level was found to be at 1,250 feet. At last reports the discovery had been shut in pending decision to reacidize at present depth of 4,916 feet or to deepen in search of additional pay. No. 1 Naim logged broken pay in the Clear Fork, lower Permian, lime from 4,899 to 4,916 feet.

The Harrison strike is located 660 feet out of the southeast corner of section 25, block A, J. H. Gibson survey, three and one-quarter miles northeast of Lubbock and 35 miles east by northeast of the nearest production, that in the Slaughter pool of Southwestern Hockley County.

Boren Offset Staked. Anderson-Pritchard Oil Corporation Friday announced location of No. 2 B. F. Boren as a one-quarter mile south extension test in the Apo-Warner Ellenburger pool of Northern Pecos County. It is 659 feet from the south and 690 from the east line of section 4, block 605, Louisa Merchant, original grantee.

No. 2 Boren is a south offset to the same firm's No. 1 Boren, large producers. Merchants have large stocks of cowboy clothes on display and cleaning establishments said they were expecting a big rush of shirts, hats, and other clothing.

Petition Lower Speed Limit For Highway 80

Midland county officials disclosed Friday a petition signed by Midland and Ector county officials had been sent to the Texas Highway Commission asking the speed limit on Highway 80 between the two cities be lowered from 60 to 45 miles per hour.

County Judge E. H. Barron, County Attorney Merritt F. Hines, and Sheriff Ed Darnell signed the petition for this county. The Ector county judge, sheriff and other officials also signed.

The speed limit on Texas highways recently was hiked to 60 miles per hour. "The accident toll between Midland and Odessa has become alarming. It is time to do something. We are asking the commission to lower the speed limit in the interest of common safety," County Attorney Hines said.

Midland County's traffic toll Friday was 71 accidents and 8 fatalities since Jan. 1—the highest figure here in recent years. A speed limit of 15 miles per hour is required through the Military Reservation, location of the U. S. Army Air Corps Advanced Training Center, under construction.

Traffic between the two cities has increased with construction at the Military Reservation. The city is expected to take on a colorful appearance Wednesday as citizens attire themselves in loud colored shirts, big hats, boots, neckerchiefs, vests, chaps and other cowboy regalia.

Don Boots And Regalia Before Next Wednesday

Beginning Wednesday and continuing through Labor Day, cowboy clothes by both men and women will be the order of the day in Midland. The purpose of the annual custom, sponsored by the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce, is to publicize the seventh annual Midland Rodeo, Aug. 30, 31 and Sept. 1, and to make citizens and visitors more rodeo minded.

A capable enforcement committee has been appointed by Jaycee officials and persons not wearing cowboy attire will be "picked up" and placed in "jail" pending trial. Jaycee officials stated the penalty for not wearing the regalia will be harsh, and suggested that all citizens heed the warning and obtain some kind of cowboy "togs" before Wednesday.

Germany Hurls Challenge At Democracies

Scoffs At Britain And U. S. On Disarmament And Calls Meeting Flop By The Associated Press. Germany thus challenged Britain and the United States Friday: "If the so-called democracies want Germany disarmed, let them come and get our arms."

Authorized quarters in Berlin, scoffing at the dramatic sea meeting between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill at "a 100 per cent flop," made this comment: "It would be undignified ever to discuss the Roosevelt-Churchill eight points.

"We know but one offensive and that is military. We have but one aim and that is the annihilation of the enemy. We have but one task and that is victory. If the so-called democracies want Germany disarmed, let them come and get our arms."

The Nazi defiance was an evident reference to that part of the Roosevelt-Churchill accord which envisioned the disarmament of aggressor nations "after the destruction of the Nazi tyranny."

To the suggestion of one American newspaper that Roosevelt should be President of the world and Churchill his Prime Minister, the sources growled: "We can only congratulate."

Mexico's reaction, swiftly voiced by her foreign minister, was one of complete approval. In Argentina, Buenos Aires newspapers applauded the declaration enthusiastically.

Washington Analysts Believe Two Nations Plan Decisive Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—The feeling pervaded the capital Friday that parallel Anglo-American action of a decisive nature was in the offing to implement the policies agreed upon in the historical sea conference between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

Informed diplomatic sources here, like some in London, shared the opinion that much more than the joint declaration of peace aims after destruction of "the Nazi tyranny" could be expected from the momentous meeting, that the first manifestation could be looked for soon, and that there would be no mistaking it when it came.

This was based on the belief that there were numerous important decisions behind the generalized language of the joint statement issued Thursday. Only in the statement's preamble was mention made of unspecified measures being taken by Britain and the United States.

The decisions, it was recognized, would remain in the category of military secrets. Despite the rule of secrecy, some official sources thought that the President might give the nation further details of his conversations with Churchill—perhaps in a fireside chat.

Permian Basin Association Will Be Revitalized Quickly

Directors of the Permian Basin Association, at a meeting in Hotel Scharbauer Thursday night, decided to refinance the organization and revitalize it immediately. Due to the serious financial condition of the organization which serves the vast oil area of the Permian Basin, all employees except a woman office secretary have been released.

Wilburn Page, executive secretary, and Ed Erwin, assistant secretary, have left Midland, moving to Wichita Falls. The serious condition of the organization first was revealed several days ago when Paul Teas of Lubbock, president, called a meeting in Big Spring of the executive committee to consider the problem.

This group recommended that directors be informed of the affairs as the association owes approximately $2,000. Teas, called to California on business, was unable to attend Thursday night's meeting and Hamilton McRae, a former president of PBA, was elected chairman of the meeting.

Financial affairs of the association and a program for its future were discussed in detail by a number of directors and oil operators. They decided to prorate the debt among the member cities and at the same time seek sufficient funds for three months operation until a farsighted program can be worked out.

Practically every person at the meeting agreed there is a definite need for the association and that it can serve a very useful purpose to oil operators, landowners, royalty owners and business men of the area. They agreed it should continue and that its program should be made more specific.

McRae, Teas, D. H. Griffith, and Bill Collins were appointed a central committee to work out a program plan to obtain sufficient funds to cover the indebtedness and carry on the work for three months. When the plan is completed, directors in each county will obtain their shares of the total amount needed.

Meanwhile, the association's office will remain in operation on a curtailed basis in Hotel Scharbauer. Directors will start immediately working out a specific program for the revitalized organization.

Great Nazi Offensive Strikes At Leningrad

Germany clamped down with death-threat restrictions over occupied France Friday, challenged Britain and the United States to "come and get our arms" in any disarmament plan, and launched a fourth great offensive in the 55-day-old war with Russia. Adolf Hitler's fourth big offensive against the U. S. S. R. struck furiously at Leningrad from three directions.

Dispatches from Helsinki said that the drive was smashing through powerful Soviet defenses on the Karelian Isthmus, north of Leningrad, and that the Red Army was in retreat. On the southern end of the 1,200-mile battlefield, other Soviet armies were apparently falling back beyond the Dnieper River, the next great defense line in the Ukraine, authoritative London quarters conceded.

Soviet officials acknowledged that Marshal Semeon Budyenny's army of the southwest had abandoned the Bug River town of Pervomaisk, 115 miles northwest of Nikolaev, and Bevo, 100 miles northeast of Nikolaev. There was no indication, however, that Nazi columns storming into the rich grain, iron and industrial province had yet captured either Odessa, Russia's big Black Sea port, or the manufacturing city of Nikolaev, 65 miles east.

A Red Army bulletin, silent on the bloody struggle in the Ukraine, mentioned only that fierce all-night fighting raged in the sectors of Kakkisalmi, 75 miles north of Leningrad; Etaraya Russa, about 140 miles south of Leningrad, and in Estonia, southwest of the old-time capital of the Czars.

Italian military dispatches said Fascist troops entering the fight on the southern front had made their first contact with the Russians, encountering fierce resistance. The Germans claimed that all crossings of the Dnieper River for several hundred miles south of Kiev were already in Nazi hands, but there was no detailed report of any crossing.

British observers estimated that the area reported over-run by German, Hungarian, Rumanian and Italian troops contained about 50 per cent of the Ukraine's heavy industry. Adolf Hitler's high command reiterated Thursday's claims of big gains in the Ukraine and declared briefly that "on other parts of the east front, fighting continued to be successful."

In the war in the air, the British reported that more than 300 RAF bombers blasted overnight at Hannover, Brunswick, Magdeburg, Rotterdam and Boulogne. The Germans said an attempt was also made to attack Berlin, but claimed that Nazi defenses repulsed the raiders.

As the RAF pounded Germany's great cities on an ever-increasing scale, British Food Minister Lord Woolton announced that Britain's "shadow larder," including 5,000,000 cans of various foods, was now ready.

He's Just Plain Coke To Junction Folks

AUSTIN (AP)—He may be governor to most Texans, someone high and mighty, but to folks in the old home town he is just plain Coke, one of the local boys who made good.

That's he conclusion any outsider must reach if he sees Texas' brand new governor, Coke R. Stevenson, in Junction, beautiful little town nestling in the hills where the south and north branches of the Llano River meet.

Looking him over for the first time since he was elevated to the highest office in the state government, booted, high-hatted Junction Wednesday beamed with pride, slapped him on the back and said "well done."

Behind The Headlines

President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill have told the world what is to be looked for when the Axis has been beaten, that is, they have spoken in terms of an Allied victory.

Assuredly no one could expect them to take any other attitude. You don't go around saying your side is likely to lose, and anyway there is no doubt that both these leaders do believe the Allies are on the road to triumph.

However, this impels us to ask whether fate actually has put the brand of defeat on Hitler's brow already or whether in fact he still has a chance to win.

It's necessary for us to check often to make sure that we don't get a lop-sided view of the war. This is particularly true at the moment because the sturdy Russian resistance to the Nazi invasion, and the great slackening off in the German aerial assaults on the British Isles, have lulled many opponents of the Axis into a feeling of a security which doesn't in fact exist.

Even in England this attitude has become so pronounced as to cause the government anxiety. Hitler Races Winter. So far as this column is concerned it has recorded many times that the Allies had good reason to hope that they would win. I see no reason to alter that view now, especially since the Allied position would seem to me to have improved steadily.

Still, he would be a very slack war analyst who didn't state clearly that while the Allies do indeed have a chance to win, they also have a chance to lose. Nobody has this war in a sack yet, or if he has, the mouth of the bag hasn't been closed.

Much depends on what happens during the next few weeks of the Russo-German conflict. As you know, Herr Hitler is doing a head-long race with the Russian winter. If he doesn't win before the icy blasts begin to sweep the steppes, the chances will be against his defeating the Bolsheviks decisively at all.

More than five million feet of lumber for the Advanced Twin-Engine and Bombardier Training Center was purchased by the U. S. Army Quartermaster's Corps at the sale in Dallas, Captain R. J. Harrison, supervising engineer, announced on his return.

Shipment of the lumber has started and it will be at the Military Reservation by the middle of September. Pouring concrete foundations for several buildings has started at the reservation and work is going ahead on schedule.

More Midland and West Texas workmen are wanted by the general contractors, Cage Brothers and F. M. Reeves and Sons. They have asked the Texas State Employment Service to be sure that every qualified Midland man who wants work is referred to them.

"We are hiring all the qualified men we can get," O. K. Johnson, project manager, said. Six cars of lumber arrived at the reservation Friday and was being unloaded.

Take-Off Crash Takes Lives Of 12 U. S. Fliers

Purvis Also Is Victim In Second Big Mishap In Britain This Week

By The Associated Press. LONDON—Twelve American fliers enlisted in the transatlantic bomber ferry service were killed in a take-off crash in which 22 persons in all died, including the Rt. Hon. Arthur Purvis, chairman of the British Supply Council in North America.

The crash, announced by the RAF ferry command Friday, followed an almost identical ferry service accident Sunday in which another 22 were killed, making the week's toll 44 lives, including those of 19 Americans.

Not a man escaped Thursday's accident. The plane, which was taking the Americans back to America in a group so that they could fly more new bombers back to Britain, burst into flames immediately on crashing.

Among the American victims was Capt. Joseph Creighton Mackey, 31, of Kansas City, who was the lone survivor of a crash in Newfoundland last February in which Sir Frederick Banting, co-discoverer of insulin, and two others were killed.

The dead included nine Canadians, among them Purvis, and one Englishman, Eleven of the Americans were pilots, and one was a radio operator. Seven of the Canadians were radio operators, one was a pilot.

Contest Develops On Wall Street Proposal. A contest over a proposal to open West Wall Street property to business was assured Friday with the circulation of a petition to keep restrictions on the land.

A petition for the removal of restrictions so land on Wall Street of May 6 may be used for business purposes has been filed with the city council. More than 35 persons have signed the petition now being circulated and persons backing it said it too will be filed with the council.

Two Years

The war (and it becomes more justifiable every day to speak of what goes on at Smolensk, at Tobruk, in northern France and at Chungking as one war) is now almost two years old. It has moved with such giant strides, changed direction and pace so often, that it is worth while to go back and relive the days which marked the end of "peace in our time."

Evening of Aug. 22, 1939: In Berlin a bombshell exploded, the announcement that Russia and Germany had concluded a 10-year non-aggression pact "guided by the desire to strengthen the cause of peace" between them. The countries agreed to "refrain from any act of force, any aggressive act, or any attacks against each other. . . ." The shock made the world reel, because it was then clear that Germany was at last free to make any aggression it wished, free of fear of attack by Russia. War had become almost inevitable.

On the same day, Britain warned Germany clearly that if Poland were attacked, Britain would stand by her agreement to aid Poland. Hitler replied that this British guarantee merely encouraged the Poles to resist his Danzig demands, and began to mobilize.

On Aug. 24-25 there were border clashes on the German-Polish frontier, and on the 25th President Roosevelt appealed both to Hitler and to President Moscicki of Poland to settle their Danzig dispute in peace.

Now events began to gallop, and in those last few days all Europe clawed and scrambled desperately to avoid the war that loomed so near. By the end of August all Europe was mobilized; London, Paris, Rome, Berlin, and Warsaw were blacked out on the night of Aug. 31-Sept. 1. At 5:45 in the morning of Sept. 1, without declaring war, Hitler sent his legions across the Polish border.

On Sept. 3, President Roosevelt in a radio address solemnly warned the nation that it could not be indifferent to the new war. "You must master at the outset," he said, "a simple but unalterable fact in modern foreign relations. When peace has been broken anywhere, peace of all countries everywhere is in danger."

Warning that no man could predict what would be the course of the war, he closed with the solemn promise, "As long as it remains within my power to prevent, there will be no blackout of peace in the United States."

Two years have passed. Peace has been blacked out in country after country; not in the United States. A peaceable people still clings to peace; but it has already seen in full measure the vindication of the President's pronouncement that "when peace has been broken anywhere, peace in all countries everywhere is in danger."

Those "Contact Men"

Manufacturing circles are carefully considering the "contact man."

Theoretically, he's unnecessary, and shouldn't exist. The government needs vast amounts of all kinds of defense work done. Thousands of small manufacturing plants have facilities to do it, much of it idle or about to be idle because of lack of materials. Surely the two ought to get together. But sometimes it isn't easy. Certain "contact men" are reported doing a lucrative business in Washington.

No single snap judgment can be pronounced on this set of "middlemen." In some cases they may be peddling fictitious "influence" and "contacts," and be sheer fakers. In others they may perform a genuine service in dovetailing defense needs with unused productive facilities, a service valuable both to the manufacturer and to the government.

In general, however, the relationships between the government and manufacturers ought to be direct, without any necessity for paying out commissions to middlemen. Working through such "commission men" could produce great abuses.

Commissioners Cancel Program For British Oil

AUSTIN (AP)—A majority of the Texas Railroad Commission Friday cancelled a ceremony for presentation of warrants representing oil donated to Britain but did not rescind an order permitting operators to produce one day's run of crude for the purpose Sunday.

Members Jerry Sadler and Olin Culberson of the commission, state oil regulatory agency, informed President Roosevelt, who with British government representatives had been invited to receive the voluntary gift from Texas operators, that the presentation ceremony, slated for a statewide propagation hearing Monday, had been called off because: "Efforts have been made by certain companies to stifle this program."

A number of producing companies have announced they would not donate oil because of technical difficulties.

Commissioners Of Upton Alter Precinct Lines

McCAMEY (Special) — Upton County's precinct lines were redrawn Monday at a meeting of the commissioners court. A portion of McCamey was placed in Precinct 3, and the larger portion of Rankin was placed in Precinct 1.

Before the change all of McCamey was in Precinct 4. The four commissioners are H. Wheeler, commissioner of Precinct 1; Bill Yates, commissioner of Precinct 2; J. O. Curry, commissioner of Precinct 3; and J. O. Cull, commissioner of Precinct 4. Ernest V. Van Zandt is county judge.

The new boundaries will take Frost Canyon out of Precinct 4 and place it in Precinct 3. All the city west of Highway 51 and all west of Johns Street will be in Precinct 3. It was estimated 150 voters have been taken out of Precinct 4 and placed in Precinct 3. Only 38 votes were polled in Precinct 3 last year in the race for commissioner.

The lines have placed the city of Rankin north of the railroad in Precinct 1. A small portion of this section was formerly in Precinct 2.

Producers Veto Oil-For-Britain

AUSTIN (AP)—Three producers said Friday they would not participate in Texas' oil-for-Britain-day Sunday, and some oil men predicted the state's donation of crude oil to England would be far below the 1,000,000 barrels originally anticipated.

The Stanolind Oil and Gas Company said it would not contribute, as did two large independent producers, Rowan and Nichols Oil Company, and Jack W. Frazier.

Frazier said operation difficulties prevented his company from joining and practically all other independent operators were in the same position.

Stanolind officials made no comment. The day was designated by the state's oil regulatory body for voluntary donation of one day's production to Britain.

Frazier said the proposal put the operators on the spot. "It has made us look like we are not sympathetic to Britain. That is not so. I would like to help, but I can't under this plan."

Texas Ranches Have Prospects Of Good Season

By Elderwood Sloan
Associated Press Staff Writer

An early start of goat shearing this week opened fall activity on Texas ranches and prospects for a profitable season generally are the brightest in years.

Grass in most areas probably is the best since before the passing of the open range. Livestock is in prime condition. Prices are firm. A bumper crop is assured.

Mohair, the Angora goat fleece which goes into fine clothing, upholstery and tapestries, will total around 8,000,000 pounds this fall. While no sales are reported, the 8,500,000-pound spring clip went for 55 cents a pound for grown and 75 cents for kid hair. The latter usually run about 10 per cent of the crop.

The steady sale of wool at 38 to 42 1/2 cents a pound is reported from San Angelo. Approximately 25,000,000 pounds remains on hand. Most recent sales have been in the Brownwood, Lometa and Fredericksburg, territories.

Trading Turns Dull

Many ranchmen are holding their lambs for prices better than the 9 1/2 to 10 cents a pound now being paid on the range. Most sales have been for September and October delivery.

Trading in calves and yearlings for all delivery has turned dull as ranchmen show no disposition to turn loose of them at range prices of 10 cents a pound for heifers and 12 cents for steers.

Dry weather of recent weeks is proving beneficial in parts of the sheep and goat region where grass was made sappy by more rain to date than fell during all last year.

Around Wichita Falls the grass is brown but is plentiful and stock water remains adequate. Other sections in West and Southwest part of the state would be helped by rain.

While prices for stocker calves and cattle are slightly stronger on the Fort Worth market, those for fat cattle have not shown a comparative rise.

Demand Will Continue

Stocker steer yearlings are bringing up to $12.50 a hundred at Fort Worth. Stocker heifer calves are up to $12. Choice light weight steers

Yates Brown Joins First National Staff

Yates Brown Friday joined the staff of the First National Bank, taking charge of new accounts and other relations.

Born in Cleburne, Texas, he is 45 years old. For 20 years he resided in Merkel where he engaged in the banking and mercantile business and was city secretary and tax assessor five years.

Brown is president of the Scharbauer Men's Club. He recently has served as clerk of the Ector County draft board and formerly was with the City of Odessa and in the insurance business there.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown have three children and are residing at 601 North Marienfeld. Mrs. Brown is the daughter of Mrs. B. A. Wall.

sold this week as stockers around the $10 level and stocker cows went back to the range at around $7.50. Livestock men say the demand is likely to continue because ranches are more lightly stocked than in many years.

While prices for fat stuff show no recent gains, the beef market is holding its own. Slaughter steers cashed at $8.50 to $10.75 at Fort Worth this week with choice fed yearling steers at $10.75 to $11.75.

Hogs are down slightly from recent highs. Most good butchers are selling above $10.50 with the best making 10.70 to $11.00. Sheep and lamb prices are being well maintained at Fort Worth. A few spring lambs went this week around $9 to $10. Feeder lambs are bringing $7.50 to $8.

American tourists spent about $110,000,000 in Canada last year, says the Department of Commerce.

FDR May Return To Washington Saturday

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass. (AP)—An indication that President Roosevelt might come ashore Saturday, ending the historic cruise during which he conferred with Prime Minister Churchill, was given Friday by a member of the White House staff.

William D. Hassett of the White House staff told a steadily increasing aggregation of reporters, photographers and radio men gathered here that an announcement would be made Friday night at 7:00 p. m. Central Standard Time, as to the President's plans.

It was indicated that any definite word as to the Chief Executive's point of debarkation would have to wait until then. The special train on which he traveled to New London, Conn., to board the yacht Pocomac, has been held in Boston.

FEMININE FANCIES

By Kathieen Eiland

Most unusual thing in chairs that we've gazed upon in many a moon comes in a chair and ottoman set, which in times of unexpected guests, leads a double life as two chairs.

The ottoman is the unusual partner in the combination. At first glance it is just an attractively-upholstered ottoman. But it has a comfortably padded top which lifts up to form the graceful back for an occasional chair.

Upholstered in cotton material with a white ground strewn with gay flowers and further embellished with a banding of the print colors, the two articles of furniture would be a joy in any bedroom or (in darker colors not so susceptible to West Texas sandstorms) in other informal rooms. Box pleating around the sides of the chairs adds to the beauty.

Oh yes, the chair proper (not the dual-life one) is the conventional barrel shape. And very comfortable. We know because we tried it out.

Hostess sets which made their appearance a few seasons ago continue to be shown in increasing numbers and varieties.

One we particularly like has four light wooden trays for individual service, is equipped with a novel bread-slicer, and has crystal dishes. And the conventional toaster, of course.

Another has a pottery service. Another must be designed for bridal couples for it has only one jam pot. Another has two delightful little pottery dishes.

Young mothers who maintain a schedule of warming bottles should fervently welcome one of the new chromium bottle warmers (complete with bottle, by the way). The bottle is placed in a handsome little affair shaped like the lower part of a double boiler and fitted with cord to plug into electric current. But that isn't all. With this comes a baby-sized saucerpan to be set upon the warmer so that foods, as well as milk, may be heated in the bag.

Very convenient, compact, and goodlooking.

Unto The Christian Every Experience Is Grist For The Mill

By R. A. Weaver.
4:12 Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial among you, which cometh upon you to prove you as though a strange thing happened unto you:

13 But inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings, rejoice; that at the revelation of his glory also ye may rejoice with exceeding joy.

14 If ye are reproached for the name of Christ, blessed are ye; because the Spirit of glory and the Spirit of God resteth upon you.—1 Peter 4.

If you want to get the least amount of good out of your religion, or out of your genius, or out of your talents look upon them as palliatives to pain and frustrations. When you refuse to take the hurdles of life, you miss life altogether. When you decline to buck the line you are swept away by the opposition. If you think religion affords you a way to be carried to the skies on flowery beds of ease, you will never make the grade.

We know from the study of the lives of the great that they became great through overcoming obstacles and being able to take it. This is characteristic of all great and good people. There is no exception to this rule, and one has to accept this condition before deciding to make a place for oneself in the world in order to succeed.

Socrates was one of the wisest of men, but Socrates would have spent his life earning six drachmas a day carving marble had it not been for a nagging wife. But Xantippe was the impetus that made of Socrates a great philosopher.

Had it not been for the Apostle Paul, Christianity would have been swept from the earth. Paul saved Christianity from oblivion. In order for him to be able to do this, he was made strong and valiant through suffering, persecution and tribulations. In his own words he recounted his struggles to fulfill his ministry: "Least I should be exalted above measure through the abundance of the revelations there was given to me a thorn in the flesh, the messenger of Satan to buffet me, lest I should be exalted above measure. For this thing I besought the Lord thrice, that it might depart from me. And He said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee; for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me. Therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake, for when I am weak, then am I strong."

The Christian whose life benefits the world and magnifies God is one who is willing to walk the blood-sprinkled way, and to accept the way of the Cross. While this way may be a straightened way, the pilgrim knows every step of the way leads home. In the vineyard of the Lord, every vine that beareth fruit is pruned. The Christian whom the Lord calls to perform the works of God is chastened, for whom the Lord loveth He chasteneth.

Without trials, temptations and testing no man knoweth whether he is able to stand in his integrity under the stress of emergencies. "The just shall live by faith," but unless one has opportunity of putting into test the faith that he maintains, he never knows whether he is able to live by faith. One can live by faith only when all other avenues are closed, and all other help has fled. When man comes to his extremity then God gives him the opportunity of living by faith in Him, and that is what is meant when it is said that the just shall live by faith.

SERIAL STORY

SECRET VOYAGE

BY JOSEPH L. CHADWICK

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: After telling Jeffery Hammond and Eric Forbes that another ship is looking for the Sonora, the telephone rings and the same mysterious voice asks for Jim Mallory. Jim is wired if he doesn't deal with him there will be trouble. The man offers to double any offer made by Hammond. Jim has another talk with Mary, again accuses her of working for someone else, and asks her why Hammond and Forbes don't want the Sonora's location known. She denies his accusation. That night, Jim takes Lois Hammond to Midland, kisses her and hears voices in the patio. One is Eric Forbes, and he is planning to get Hammond and send "the girl" to New York for fear she can't be trusted and "may talk to Mallory."

PRIVATE AND PERSONAL CHAPTER VI

JIM MALLORY snapped alert. He cupped his cigar in his hands to hide the glow, then turned in his chair to look across the patio. It was too dark to make out faces, but one of the two men was Eric Forbes.

The two men walked through the patio toward the rear of the house. Their voices died away, but Jim had caught this much: Eric Forbes was afraid Mary Larsen would tell him, Mallory, something.

Jim stepped on his cigar and took after the two, moving silently across the dark patio. He wanted a look at Forbes' companion. At the rear corner of the big house he paused. He saw Forbes going on around the house while the other man walked toward the drive where a car was parked without lights. He drove off without switching on the lights.

Jim frowned and turned back toward the patio. His movement was so abrupt he collided with someone. He heard a startled "Oh!" as he grasped a soft arm. He saw then that it was Mary Larsen. She was trembling and her face was a startling white oval in the darkness.

"So it was you—!" she said, as if she were breathless. "I heard from the rumpus room. You and that man—"

"What did you hear, beautiful?"

"I heard you mutter that the Sonora was worth a cool million."

"You what?" He stared, bewildered and startled. "You didn't hear me say that. That was Eric Forbes and a stranger."

He drew her by the arm into the dark rumpus room, afraid Forbes might take a notion to come back. He found the light-switch. Mary was pale in the sudden light.

He asked, "What were you doing in here in the dark?"

"Just—just thinking."

"What's that in your hand?"

She looked down. It was a cigarette case, a good one of silver. "I found it outside just now. I knocked it up, it saw it glint, and picked it up. It was quite warm, as if it had been on someone's person. Did you drop it just now?"

"No," Jim said. He remembered that Forbes' companion had lighted a cigarette behind the house, ducking his head down as he did it. "Let's see the thing."

Mary didn't obey. She was staring at the case, with wide and frightened eyes. He could see initials engraved on it. He stepped close, reaching for the case, but Mary held it behind her.

She said, "No!" shrilly, and trembled. He reached for her, meaning to take the thing. She struggled and broke away. He took another step toward her, then the suave voice of Eric Forbes halted him.

"Don't you understand when a lady says no, Mallory?"

Jim faced the man. Forbes' eyes weren't pleasant, and steel was in his voice as he said, "Perhaps you'd like to apologize."

"Sorry," he said. "I made a mistake." Mary just stood there holding the cigarette case behind her without speaking. Jim swung about and left.

THERE was water all about, but the Hammonds had a pool. Jim went down for an early-morning plunge, and found Mary there before him. She was sitting on the edge at the far end, and he dove in and swam to her. He grasped her ankles and gave her a little pull. "Come on in, the water's fine," he said. "I'll race you down and back."

Her eyes examined him in a remote impersonal way, and she put her feet against his chest and gave him a stout push. He went under, and when he came up she was getting up to go to the house. He climbed out and said, "Wait a minute. I want to talk."

She hesitated. He sank down onto the edge of the pool, and said, "Come on, Mary. I promise not to lay a hand within a mile of you."

She came and sat down near him, but not too near. He looked at her for a long moment, liking her smooth brown color, her copper-tinted hair, and the gold flecks in her eyes. He thought, "She has something Lois lacks." He didn't know what it was, because Lois was beautiful, too.

Aloud he said, "I'm sorry about last night. I guess I do seem like a bug, always manhandling you. But this Sonora business has me jittery. There are a lot of queer angles to it. I thought that cigarette case might give me some sort of lead."

"I think you know a great deal about that cigarette case."

"What do you mean?"

"I think you dropped it. Eric Forbes thinks so, too. I showed it to him. He says you must have dropped it."

"He does, eh? Listen, Mary, you recognized that thing. You were afraid to let me see it, yet you let Forbes see it. Forbes isn't your friend. He's going to have Hammond ship you back to New York, to get you out of the way. He thinks you can't be trusted."

"I—I don't believe that!"

"But she did believe it, and it frightened her. Jim said, 'Mary, where did Forbes say I got that cigarette case?'"

"Off the Sonora, when you went down to her," she replied, and her voice had a strange choked-up sound.

"How did he know it came from the Sonora?"

"He didn't know, but I did. It belonged to the Sonora's first mate, Bert Halloran, who was lost when the ship went down. I know because I gave it to Bert Halloran just before the Sonora sailed from New York the last time."

Jim Mallory said nothing. He understood the grief he saw in this girl's eyes. Bert Halloran had meant a lot to her. She had been in love with him.

"Tell me the truth for once, Jim," she said. "Did you drop that case last night? Did you find it on the Sonora?"

He would have answered, but Jeffery Hammond came up behind them. Hammond said, "I'd like to talk over the deal now, Mallory."

"Very well, sir," Jim said. He stood up. "I'll see you later, Mary."

He didn't see Lois come to the pool a moment later. Lois' dive was as smooth and perfect as her figure. She swam the pool's length, then climbed out and stood looking down at Mary Larsen. Her eyes were narrow and smoldering.

"I think, Miss Larsen," she said, "you forget you are merely an employe here, and that you are not paid to make a play for our guests."

She ignored Mary's alarmed eyes. "To be blunt, I want you to stop over-reaching yourself. I've decided that Mr. Mallory is my private and personal property. Do I make myself clear enough?"

Sen. Byrd Declares Accounting Of War Aid Should Be Made

WASHINGTON (AP)—An accounting of lease-lend expenditures to date was demanded Friday by Senator Byrd (D-Va) in anticipation of an administration request—expected by Congress next week—for approximately $7,000,000,000 additional to aid the countries fighting Nazi Germany.

In asking the lease-lend division headed by Harry Hopkins for a report on actual disbursements from the $7,000,000,000 previously made available, Byrd said he believed Congress ought to have that information before it considered increasing the amount.

"Congress is perfectly willing to provide any additional money that is needed," the Virginia Senator told reporters. "but it hardly seems possible that more than a billion dollars could have been spent thus far of the seven billion that we already have voted."

Reich Threatens French Citizens

VICHY, Unoccupied France (AP)—German authorities bluntly warned the entire population of occupied France Friday that it would be held responsible as a whole for outbreaks such as occurred in Paris this week, and they ordered the death penalty for persons who support "any manner whatsoever" Communist activity.

Acting swiftly after shooting and fighting in the streets of the German-occupied capital disclosed in its press Thursday, the general commanding the German armed forces in France, Heinrich Von Stuepnagel, issued the decree.

The Sunday crash occurred just a few minutes before British Minister of Supply Lord Beaverbrook took off in another craft to fly to the sea rendezvous between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

The fliers killed were ferry pilots who flew new planes to England from the United States and Canada. They met their deaths as they were being taken back to the United States in a group so that they could fly more new planes back to Europe.

BOSTON (AP)—The commercial bulletin will say Saturday:
"The wool market has been much less active this week both in Boston and the West. In view of the action of the war department in removing the preference for domestic wool in army contracts, there is an easier tone manifested in this market."

"Manufacturers, who have so much business ahead that they are frequently loath to take additional commitments are disturbed over a strike at Lawrence, which as yet has assumed only minor proportions but tends to slow up the market."

BOSTON (AP-U. S. Dept. Agr.)—Greasy combed domestic wools had a spotty demand in Boston Friday. Graded good French combing lengths, fine territory wools, had an occasional call at prices ranging $1.03 to $1.05, scoured basis, mostly on the low side of the range. Combing 3/8ths blood territory wools were sold in fair volume at around 90 cents, scoured basis.

Stocks
NEW YORK (AP)—Closing price of the feeble stock market rally, the first on average since July 28, quickly fizzled Friday under light selling showers.

Efforts to extend the recovery at the start never got very far and trends in most departments began to slip by mid-day. There were scattered losses of a point or so at the close but declines generally were in fractions.

Over 300 Planes Attack Germany
LONDON (AP)—"Especially large fires" were started in Hannover, Germany, Saturday night when more than 300 RAF bombers invaded the Reich for heavy assaults on Hannover, Brunswick and Magdeburg, the British reported Friday.

Other attacks were made on the docks of Rotterdam and Boulogne, a communique said. Loss of twelve planes was acknowledged.

Thursday, the communique declared, Blenheim bombers scored direct hits on an Axis supply ship off the Dutch Coast and left it in flames and sinking. One plane was lost in daylight operations.

Besides the attack on Bernau, subsidiary raids were made on docks at Rotterdam and Boulogne.

It was announced 12 craft were missing from the night's operations.

Says Some Soldiers May Be Turned Out
WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Thomas (D-Utah), floor manager in his chamber for the congressionally-approved service extension legislation, said Friday a substantial number of men might be released from the army before serving the 18 additional months provided under the measure.

Under the legislation, the President is authorized to order an additional 18 months for "any or all" of the selectees, reservists, national guardsmen and regular enlisted men. The President could order an extension of less than 18 months if he desires.

Thomas told reporters today it was unlikely that the Chief Executive would issue a blanket order continuing all of the three-year enlisted personnel for 18 months.

Howe Cinches Tie For Title And Mackeys Beat Wilson's

Motors Take 14-10 Victory To Remain In Race For Crown

Mackey Motors, winners of the first half, definitely is not out of the running for second half title league honors. Thursday night the Mackeys took Wilson Dry Goods, 14-10.

Cox, Brady, and Willis figured in the run-getting to spark Mackey. Cox got four, Brady three, and Willis three.

Walton scored three of Wilson's tallies. Stevens got two and Crump two.

Seriously the first frame the mighty Mackeys got going, added three in the third and burst out with five in the fourth and four in the fifth. One by Cox was tallied in the sixth.

The Airport gang drew blanks for two frames then clicked with two in the third and three in the fourth. Four came from a sixth inning spurt and one was added by Walton with a two-bagger sendoff in the seventh.

Exporters And Sports Divide

By The Associated Press.

A perfectly good Texas League game had vanished into thin air Friday.

To complete their inter-club schedule, Beaumont's Shippers and Shreveport's Sports would have had to play five games in the two-day series ending Thursday.

At it was, they played two doubleheaders.

And they don't play tripleheaders in the Texas League.

The Exporters and the Sports divided their pair of games Thursday night at Beaumont. Shreveport took the first, 5 to 1, and Beaumont the second, 1 to 0.

At Oklahoma City, the Tribe and Tulsa split with the Oilers winning the opener, 10 to 4 and the Indians the other, 3 to 2.

Fred Martin won his 21st game of the season—a one-hitter—as Houston shut out the San Antonio Missions, 8 to 0.

Earl Caldwell, veteran sink-ball artist, allowed the Dallas Rebels six scattered hits and marked up his 16th triumph of the season as the Fort Worth Cats won, 10 to 0.

Running True To Form, Filly Dies After Fall

DEL MAR, Calif. (AP)—A run true to form carried Betty Sweep to her death.

Second choice in the betting, the filly was pressing Battle Call for the lead Monday in Thursday's turf club, when she fell and died instantly of a broken neck. Her jockey, Billy Strange of Burk Burnett, Tex., suffered a torn shoulder ligament.

Capital Politicians Speculate Next Year Results Of Election

AUSTIN (AP)—It may be a sore subject to broach at this time, with the temperature what it is—but it is less than a year until another gigantic, stupendous, colossal election in Texas.

The gentlemen in office are not very keen to discuss the matter, for you never can tell what early agitation may scare up in the form of opposition, but the fact is, quiet chatter about who may run for this and that in next year's primaries already is beginning to be heard.

The biennial, multi-ringed spectacle known as the first Democratic primary will be held next July 25, a little more than 11 months distant. The second primary will be Aug. 22 and the general election Nov. 3.

For some candidates or prospective candidates the stakes are going to be higher than in the past. All records for the size of a vote in a non-presidential election year probably will be broken.

The spotlight will glare on the campaign in which W. Lee O'Daniel is an entrant.

Speculation on O'Daniel dwells on two possibilities, that he will run for re-election to the Senate and that he will run for a third term as governor.

Central Loses 7-4 To Women's Team In Pitcher's Duel

John P. Howe Cinched a Tie for the Championship of the City League's Second Half Season Thursday Night with a Hard-Fought 7-4 Win Over Stubborn Central Pharmacy.

Mickey Musgrove, whose slants have figured in Howe's success all season, conquered fiery Brittie Neill in a pitching duel.

The battle was close and the feminine tens went "all-out." The "blue girls" led with three runs in the sixth to break the deadlock of four-all. Musgrove, Moffett, and Choate provided the winning counters.

Central got the jump with two runs by Marcom and Davidson in the first. Howe came right back with two in the second by Musgrove and Choate. In the third, Davidson added one for the druggists and Smallwood tallied for Howe. Brunet Inez Choate, star of the game, provided another Howe run in the fourth to tie up the fracas.

Cardinals Buy Houston Hurler

HOUSTON (AP)—Howard Pollet is going to get his chance with the St. Louis Cardinals right away.

The sale was announced Thursday night and the brilliant young Buff left-hander will leave Friday for St. Louis. He is to join the Cards at Pittsburgh Saturday.

Houston will receive an unrevealed amount, reported to be in five figures, plus two players of Texas League caliber to be delivered in 1942.

Pollet owns the all-time Texas League record for earned runs. In 206 innings he allowed 25 runs for an average of 1.09 per game. Diz Dean set the old record of 1.56 in 1942.

Pollet has won 20 and lost three for the Buffs this season.

Ted Williams may be the first .400 major league hitter in years. The Boston Red Sox slugger is batting at a clip of .408.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Boston's cocky Ted Williams isn't at all surprised he's leading the major league hitters with a gaudy .408. In fact, he's a little disappointed his average isn't heavier.

But now that the Red Sox shrinking violet is on his way, he wants the baseball public to know there's no question about him winding up the American League season as the circuit's first player in 18 years to top the .400 mark.

"Sure I will," roared the fly chaser as he sprawled on a dressing room table after Thursday's Sox-Athletics doubleheader. "It's going to be a cinch. All it takes is luck, confidence and good hitting—and boy I've got all three."

Champion Ramblers Will Defend Softball Reputation At Detroit

By Jerry McLain NEA Special Correspondent

PHOENIX.—Out of the southwest will come the greatest feminine softball team the sagebrush country ever has produced, the PBSW Ramblers of Phoenix to defend the world girls' championship in the national tournament in Detroit, Sept. 10-14.

Already heading into the home stretch in their preparations for the title defense, the Ramblers six weeks prior to the tournament had won all but one of 37 games played this year. They bowled over not only the Arizona competition, but also strong teams on tour from California, Washington and Utah.

The Ramblers' only loss in three months had been a one-run defeat at the hands of the Allen Furniture Queens of Phoenix, and they proceeded to wallop them twice.

They'll return to the national tournament with virtually the same lineup that annexed the title last year after thrice getting them to the semi-finals.

Shining light of the 16-girl squad is dark-complexioned Amelia Peralta, who pitched herself to fame last year by limiting Cleveland to six hits as the Ramblers trounced the Ohiangs, 10-3, in the championship game.

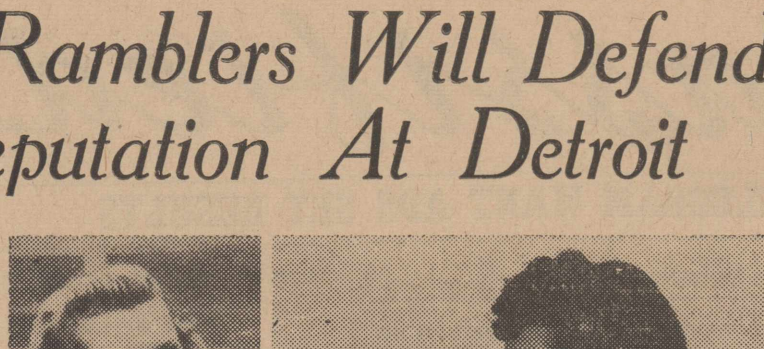

Miss Peralta will be ably abetted by Louise Curtis, who in 1937 won three games in a day in the tournament, and by Charlotte Armstrong, youngest member of the staff.

Four of the Ramblers are clouting the ball at better than .400, the leader being Marjorie Wood with .450. Dot Wilkinson, rated one of the best feminine softball catchers in the nation, boasts a .446 average.

The Ramblers' pitchers smack the ball too. Miss Peralta has a .410 average in 36 games. Miss Curtis is batting an even .400 over the same distance.

Batting averages, not looks, worry these sagebrush softball girls. Playing a 40 to 60-game schedule, they've never lost more than eight in any one season.

Automatically eligible to compete in the national tournament as defending champions without qualifying, the Ramblers will not participate in the Arizona champion-

Jones Righthand Aide Probably Will Coach Southern California

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The University of Southern California shortly will name a successor to the late head football coach, Howard Jones, and the feeling remains that Justin M. (Sam) Barry, for many years Jones' righthand aide, will get the position.

Dr. Rufus B. Von Klein Smid, president of the university, has returned from a business trip in the East and is expected to announce the appointment.

Willis O. Hunter, director of athletics, said soon after Jones' death from a heart attack July 24 that no appointment would be made until Dr. Von Klein Smid returned.

Barry, chief assistant of the Jones coaching staff, is presently at a coaching school at Monterey, Calif.

Youngsters Star In Golf Matches

NEW YORK (AP)—Youngsters had a great day on the links Thursday when the U. S. Golf Association held 36-hole eliminations in 27 districts for its 45th amateur golf championship.

There was 26-year-old Tommy Barnes, a former Atlanta caddy, whose six-under-par 136 on Atlanta's East Lake course was the lowest of any returned by the 600-odd competitors. There was 20-year-old Johnny Jacobs, who in his native Cedar Rapids (Ia.) was four under par with a 70 and 68 for 138.

At the Omaha Field Club, where the championship will be played August 25-30, there was 18-year-old Mario Gonzales of Sao Paulo, Brazil, who will be the only foreign starter in the field of 150 and who beat a lot of local hopefuls for the medal with a 36-hole total of 148.

Yankees Recapture Spotlight From Cards And Dodgers With Double Win 7 To 0 And 10 To 3, Over Senators

By Judson Bailey Associated Press Sports Writer.

The musical comedy currently occupying the stage of the National League theatre has taken the spotlight away from the New York Yankees and the rest of the American League during the past couple weeks.

Match play opens Saturday and finals are Sunday.

Harry Todd, Dallas, one of the state's best strikers, is expected to play at Hobbs.

While the Dodgers and Cardinals Thursday had an open date and people throughout the country were looking, the Yankees buckled down to duty again and walloped the Washington Senators in a doubleheader, 7-0 and 10-3, to add another full game to their lead.

Indians And Browns Tie.

Lefty Martinus pitched three-hit ball for the shutout and Atley Donald followed with a six-hitter. Charley Keller smacked his 29th homer and drove in five runs.

The Cleveland Indians, meanwhile, battled 10 innings to a 3-2 tie with the last-place St. Louis Browns. The game was delayed an hour and 20 minutes in the middle by rain and Bob Feller was called in to work after the storm, but even his presence couldn't bring victory.

The third-place Boston Red Sox divided a batting-practice doubleheader with the Philadelphia Athletics. The two teams totaled 62 hits, including six home runs, two triples and 10 doubles, off 11 pitchers.

Good Chisox Pitching.

Jimmie Foxx returned to action and won the first contest for Boston, 11-8, with a three-run homer in the eleventh inning. Foxx also homered in the second tilt and Bobby Doerr connected for two, but the A's won anyway, 10-8.

Midland Golfers To Hobbs Tourney

Midland golfers Jim Brooks, Walter Henderson, J. P. Gibbins, Roy Minear, Harry Dickson, Levi Shiplett, E. B. Dozier, R. R. Porterfield, Pat Riley, Fred Hogan, and others were scheduled to go to Hobbs, N. M., Friday for qualifying rounds of that city's invitation tournament.

The Chicago White Sox swept their doubleheader from the Detroit Tigers, 3-1 and 3-0, in a pair of fine pitching duels. Lefty Thornton Lee captured his 15th victory in the first game and pitched shutout ball after the first inning. Johnny Humphries held the Tigers to six hits in the nightcap while the Sox made eight.

Only two games were played in the National League.

The Chicago Cubs sent the Pittsburgh Pirates staggering to their fourth straight defeat, 6-2, and put the Buccaneers in jeopardy of losing third place.

Fiddler Bill McGee, the former Cardinal worthy who had made 15 appearances for the Giants this year without ever attaining a victory, finally broke into the win column as New York beat the Boston Braves, 4-3.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Crake and sons, Eric and Wilford, of Houston will arrive Friday to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Covington. They formerly lived here.

Parker And McNeill May Play Net Finals

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—Prospect of a final singles duel between top-seeded Don McNeill, Oklahoma City, and second-ranked Frankie Parker, Altadena, Calif., appeared likely Friday as the pair squared off against other opponents in the semi-final matches of the Newport Casino tennis tournament.

McNeill, who disposed of Garner Mulloy, Coral Gables, Fla., to reach the semi-final bracket, is down to oppose seventh-seeded Jack Kramer, Los Angeles. Parker is listed to duel with Ted Schroeder, Glendale, Calif.
