Motor Boat Saves Crew Near New England As Caribbean Boat Sinks

By The Associated Press

High winds in the Caribbean and on the New England coast early Friday had two ships in trouble and had caused some damage inland.

The 3,000-ton S. S. Essex reported she was hard aground near Southern Lighthouse on Block Island, R. I.

A motor boat from the Block Island Coast Guard station took off the Essex' crew. The sea was smooth except for a light swell.

Coastguards expressed the opinion the steamer was so hard aground she was "likely to stay there."

From the Caribbean, where a hurricane was reported northwest of Curacao, came the distress call of the S. S. Ethel Skakel, which reported she was sinking. A Coast Guard cutter from Puerto Rico was on a 400-mile run to the ship's last reported position 200 miles south of Haiti.

Winds reaching a velocity of 98 mph swept across Buffalo, N. Y., Thursday, blowing down trees and causing other property damage. The Coast Guard reported all small Lake Erie boats had made port before the storm struck. Rochester, N. Y., reported a 60-mile wind and some damage to automobiles and small boats.

NEW YORK (AP)—The Puerto Rican News Bureau reported Friday it had received a dispatch from San Juan that a U. S. navy plane had sighted persons believed to be two survivors of the freighter Ethel Skakel on a raft about 175 miles southeast of San Juan.

This was the first information that the disabled ship had sunk, although she sent out a distress call Thursday night that she was foundering in a storm of near-hurricane force.

The news bureau said a destroyer 30 miles distant was ordered to the scene and that ten navy planes and four other destroyers were searching for other survivors.

The ship carried a crew of 28.

Armies Fight In Shreveport Area

By The Associated Press

The trappings of war were added to besieged Shreveport Friday as fierce fighting between the Second and the Third armies converged on this northwestern Louisiana city of 100,000, situated in the center of the gigantic war games' final round.

Civilians joined in the Second Army's defense of Shreveport in mock seriousness, donning red arm bands and placing red Vs for victory on automobile windshields. Machine guns and artillery were set up at approaches to the city and steel-helmeted infantrymen tramped the streets in full battle kit.

Meanwhile, to the south, Lieut. General Ben Lear's outnumbered defending forces fought a rear guard action, delaying the slow, steady advance of Lieut.-General Walter Kruger's huge Third Army.

Behind The Headlines

By DeWitt MacKenzie

The most important news from the Russo-German war front is the Moscow claim that the Bolsheviks have thrown back a heavy Nazi attack on the strategic Crimean peninsula, inflicting severe losses on the enemy.

This assault by the Nazis represents an attempt to gain control of the Black Sea for an attack on the lower Caucasus in conjunction with the German drive through the Ukraine toward the northern gateway to the Caucasus.

The loss of the Crimea, on which lies the chief Soviet naval base of Sevastopol, would represent a major disaster for the Reds.

Beyond this, while literally millions of tired, grimy soldiers continue the bloody thousand-mile battle at close grips, the Russian traitor hasn't produced a report from either side which on the face of it, would greatly alter the position during the past twenty-four hours.

Maybe there has been an invisible change. Perhaps a hard-pressed line somewhere has grown brittle and will snap before long, letting all hell roll through the gap. War is like that.

We do know that the Germans have unleashed more power against the besieged city of Leningrad, but the soldiers and civilians who side by side are defending this ancient and proud metropolis still hold their ground. Likewise in the Ukraine the Nazis continue to fling themselves against hard-bitten Marshal Budyenny's army in their effort to smash through into the Caucasus.

LUBBOCK (AP)—Lubbock observed its 300th day without a traffic fatality Friday.

And if the day passes without a fatal accident, members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce plan for a concerted campaign to make it 365 or more.

The deathless day count started last November after two persons were killed on a downtown street within 24 hours.

Oil Coordinator Says Only 5100 Cars Available

Ickes Reports Conflict With Pelley's Remark 20,000 Could Be Used

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Secretary Ickes, the petroleum coordinator, said Friday a "factual inventory" had found a net surplus of only 5,192 rail tank cars available to haul petroleum to the Atlantic seaboard.

This finding sharply disagreed with a contention by J. J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads that 20,000 idle tank cars were available for operation in the oil emergency.

The survey Ickes quoted was made by the East Coast Transportation committee of the oil industry.

The Senate committee which investigated the oil situation in the East reported there was no shortage, that unnecessary alarm had been created, and suggested that restrictions on gasoline sales be lifted.

French Colony Protests Japan Troop Arrests

VICHY, Unoccupied France (AP)—French Indo-China authorities have protested vigorously to Japan charging violation of French sovereignty as a result of sudden, widespread arrests by Japanese troops in the French colony, it was announced officially Friday.

The strongly worded protest declared the action of the Japanese command was "an indisputable violation of French sovereignty despite the solemn guarantee by the Japanese government in all accords signed up until now between it and the French government."

Full French sovereignty in the Asiatic colony was insisted on in a protocol signed between France and Japan only two months ago giving Japanese troops the right to occupy bases in Southern French Indo-China.

French Communist Leaders Die Under Prison Guillotine

PARIS (AP)—The first three men sentenced to death by the powerful tribunal of state were executed Friday on the guillotine in the courtyard of Sainte Prison.

Authoritative sources said the court, a French tribunal created to show the Germans the French themselves could handle the opposition problem and to forestall the spread of German reprisals, was expected to hand down a new list of condemnations soon.

All three put to death today were Communists: Adolphe Guyot, Communist leader of the Seine (Paris) department, Jacques Woog and former Deputy Jean Cathelais.

The name of Gabriel Peri, another former Communist deputy, was mentioned as probably among those whose cases now have been decided at further sittings of the tribunal.

A fourth man who was given the death sentence six days ago, Franco Foscardi, has not been found. He was tried in absentia.

Magnolia Stakes Three Locations In Abell Field

Soviet Reports Parachutists Also Are Destroyed In Area While Nazis Intensify Pressure On Leningrad

By Frank Gardner Oil Editor

Spurt in operations for the Abell Ordovician field, Northern Pecos County, was seen Friday with the staking by Magnolia Petroleum Company of three new locations.

The firm will drill No. 3-A State-Clint Myrick of Midland 3574 feet from the south and 330 from the west line of scarpface 13,974. C. Myrick survey. Its No. 4 State-Silverman, a short southwest outcrop, has been staked 330 feet from the southeast line of lease and 1344 feet southwest of No. 3 State-Silverman, new producer now in process of completion. Lease comprises the northwest 240 acres of section 10, block 3, H. & T. C. survey.

The third new Magnolia deep test is its No. 2 Bowman Heirs, 330 feet from the northeast and 1,666.3 from the northwest line of the southwest half of the north quarter of section 5, block 3, H. & T. C. survey. It lies 1,336.3 feet southeast of No. 1 Bowman, a producer from the Simpson middle Ordovician.

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1 Cronk, Abell well bottomed at 5,147 feet in shale and lime, is flowing through 2-inch tubing in pits after gun-perforating 5 1/2-inch casing with 60 shots from 5,114-29 feet. It failed to flow until mud had been displaced with water and water with circulating oil.

North Basin Area. A closely watched wildcat in Eastern Yonkum County, Honolulu Oil Corporation No. 1-13 L. H. Wright, section 13, block D, J. H. Gibson survey, is drilling at 4,540 feet in lime and anhydrite.

Ray A. Albaugh, Lamesa, and Richmond Drilling Company, Midland, No. 1 J. J. Handley, wildcat in Northwestern Dawson County, had drilled to 4,135 feet in anhydrite and broken lime. Top of brown lime has not been announced.

It is rumored Trinity Drilling Company No. 1 Dan Auld, Western Lynn County wildcat, will be deepened to the Clear Fork, lower Permian, from present depth of 5,202 feet in San Andres lime, where it has been shut down for orders. The well showed slight porosity in samples from 5,030 to 5,130 feet and streaks of oil staining with slight porosity, from 5,130 to 5,202 feet. Original contract depth was 5,200 feet.

Elwood In Pennsylvanian? Believed now to be in the Cisco, upper Pennsylvanian, Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 T. L. Ellwood estate, South Central Mitchell County wildcat, is drilling past 5,864 feet in shale, lime and sand. First sand was noted at 5,780 feet, probably at the transitional phase between the Wolfcamp, basal Permian, and the Cisco. Core from 5,810-22 feet returned five feet, top one and one-half feet of which was gray sand and the balance black shale.

The deepest test now drilling in West Texas, Plymouth Oil Company No. 1 D. L. Alford et al, in Eastern Upton County, has passed 9,450 feet in black shale and lime. It is seeking the Ordovician pay found over 10 miles southeast in the Big Lake field, Reagan County.

Seven-inch pipe was due to be cemented at 5,925 feet with 900 sacks in Continental Oil Company No. 1 E. B. Jones et al, Simpson sand prospect in Southwestern Crane County. Operators will test Simpson pays logged from 5,730-50 and from 5,905-27 feet. A core from 5,996 to 6,004 feet, total depth, returned 18 inches of dry, brown lime.

New Ordovician location for the Sand Hills field of Western Crane is Humble No. 2-B-X J. B. Tubbs et al, 1,980 feet from the south and 3,300 from the east line of section 19, block 32, public school land. It is nearly one mile southeast of the nearest Ordovician oiler.

Leaders Reject Outright Repeal Neutrality Law

By Wm. B. Ardery

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration lieutenants in Congress were reported Friday to have rejected a proposal for outright repeal of the Neutrality Act and to be ready to work instead for legislation making vital revisions.

The repeal proposal was introduced Thursday by Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.), a consistent administration supporter. McKellar, who told the Senate that the Neutrality Law established a policy which "no great nation like ours can indulge in," said Friday he had acted entirely on his own responsibility. He added he did not know whether the administration would approve complete repeal of the Neutrality Law.

One well-advised leader told reporters that McKellar's measure was not acceptable to the administration. He said the legislation recommended by President Roosevelt next week probably would follow the lines indicated Wednesday by Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate foreign relations committee.

Would Retain Provision Connally suggested the Neutrality Law be amended to permit the arming of American ships and to allow them to enter presently forbidden belligerent ports and combat zones.

The Texas Senator declared some provisions of the Neutrality Law—such as that granting the government control over munitions exports—should be retained.

Officials Run Into Difficulty On Rules Of Credit Purchasing

By Irving Perlmeter

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bridge lamp is furniture but a clothes hamper is not. This isn't double talk; it is just some of the 24-hour a day advice that's pouring out of the federal reserve board in interpreting the instalment credit regulations which began the first of this month.

While doubting that confusion over the restrictions were any more than could be expected, one sleepy-eyed official said there were still a lot of questions to be answered after he and his staff worked nights for four weeks.

The rules set minimum down payments up to one-third of an article's cost and fixed a maximum time of 18 months for paying the balance on 24 different types of merchandise.

Cost Determines Classification Furniture seems to be one of the favorite question marks. The board started out by excluding floor coverings as draperies from the definition of "furniture."

Since then the experts have ruled on separate occasions, that lamps, mirrors, unpainted furniture, stools, kitchen and breakfast room sets, porch tables, chairs, swings, and kitchen cabinets are "furniture."

But chinaware, cooking utensils, ordinary electric fans, wall clocks, and non-electric carpet sweepers are not furniture.

Then, there's the problem of one of these new-fangled gadgets that is part radio and part bed or other furniture. The required down payment on radios is 20 per cent, but only 10 per cent on furniture. The board solved this one saying whichever part of the gadget cost most determined the classification. Thus a $100 bed with a built-in $15 radio is still a bed.

Try This One, Just For Size

The putting of shoes on other feet is always a good way to get a line on the last. Ambassador von Thermann, Germany's gift to Argentina, is quite plaintive in his reply to the Argentine Congress' demand that he get out.

That's true enough. The ambassadors of all countries in the war are naturally trying to present their side of the story. Though technically wrong, that is accepted within limits.

But the limits are important. To see why Argentina is sore about von Thermann, let's put the shoe on the other foot and see how Hitler would like the fit of it.

Suppose that in Nazi Germany there were thousands of Argentines. Suppose that they had been drilled for years to believe that even if they became German citizens, that it was just a gag; secretly they were to maintain first loyalty to Argentina. Suppose Argentina got in a war. Suppose the Argentine ambassador to Germany then proceeded to organize all Argentine-Germans into phony Argentine cultural groups whose real object was to overturn the German government and set up a new one, Argentine style. Suppose those groups drilled and armed themselves. Suppose the home government of the Argentine put pressure on all Argentine-Germans such as to command their loyalty even if they wanted to become good Germans. Suppose Argentina spent millions of marks in Germany through swollen consular staffs to bribe the German press and carry on constant agitation to overturn the German government and set up one controlled from the Argentine. Suppose great communities of those Argentines in Germany insisted on having their own schools and speaking Spanish only.

When you conceive such a complete change of shoes as this, it immediately becomes apparent why Nazi Germany can't get along with a single country in the whole world. It is because it assumes that rules which apply to others do not apply to Nazi Germany; that in some strange way which the world stubbornly will not understand, the Germans are above the rules that other peoples observe.

To such position in the world as their peaceful accomplishments may gain for them, they are entitled. To a position of dominance gained simply by terror and force and brass, they shall not climb. Slowly, but with overwhelming potential power behind it, the whole world is making that decision.

Oslo Dances

From the occupied countries of Europe little word comes directly. To know what goes on there, one must study carefully what the Germans themselves reveal, then read between the lines.

Here comes Fritt Folk, the newspaper organ of Quisling in Oslo: "Those people in an Oslo suburb who, on the evening of a British air raid, organized a dance in honor of the enemy can be assured that their names are known and that they will be reminded of it at a favorable opportunity."

As gallant a gesture, answered by as nasty and skulking a threat as we've read lately. Does anybody seriously believe that the decent people of the world are ever going to consent to be ruled by creatures of the Quisling cast? In apparently believing that they would, Hitler revealed the blind spot in the eye of the "Great Realist."

Man Alone

Our modern world has made the individual free, yet cut him off from his fellows to an amazing degree. We have gone too far in our independence, one of another.

In a New England town, a man is reported to have lain in his automobile, ill and without food, for six days before anyone noticed his plight and brought him aid.

Yes, we are independent, and proud of our independence. We of the cities are proud of our ability to go our way, mixing in nobody else's business, nobody mixing in ours. Yet if they had had that attitude in Samaria 2000 years ago, the man who fell among thieves might be lying there yet.

Marshall Field III, who inherited one of the nation's greatest fortunes, says he doesn't care what becomes of it. The line forms on the right.

Children Learn Better In Winter

BERKELEY, Cal. (UP)—A seasonal variation in the mental growth of children has been established at the Institute of Child Welfare at the University of California.

Children, according to Dr. Harold E. Jones, director of the institute, became more mentally alert during the fall and winter months of the year than during the spring and summer months.

Similar findings have been made previously at the University of Iowa but the findings of the California institute carried the research one step farther.

The Iowa investigations were carried on with nursery school children and the deduction was made that the children gained in intelligence during the fall and winter months more quickly than during the spring and summer merely because they attended school.

The California institute, however, conducted its research on pre-school children and it was found that the same variation in intellectual development occurs in children who have not yet been to school as in those who are in school.

Defense Board Will Authorize Export Permits

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The economic defense board headed by Vice-President Wallace further centralized control of economic warfare and kindred defense measures Friday by taking over the issuance of all export licenses in the $4,000,000,000-a-year foreign trade of the United States.

In line with President Roosevelt's order of Sept. 15 to "intensify the policy of preventing shipments to Axis-dominated countries," the economic defense board began absorption of the State Department's division of controls, which heretofore has collaborated with the export control administration in regulating exports and issuance of export licenses.

Increases Black List. Wallace's super-defense board already has taken over the previously independent and Army-directed export control administration with the objective of integrating its functions into the broader work of the board.

At the same time the economic defense organization issued a supplementary "black list" containing the names of 300 persons and firms in the other American republics to whom no more shipments of American goods will be permitted.

The 300 "black listed" firms have been added to the original "proclaimed list of certain blocked nationals" which contained more than 1,800 individuals and firms in Latin American countries. The names of 65 firms on the original list were deleted yesterday because "satisfactory corrective action" had been taken.

Army Turns Tables On Former Editors

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — The tables were reversed last night for two daring young men of the 124th (Blue) cavalry.

Last Saturday the pair, Pvt. Ed McClanahan and Pvt. Jay Rose, former Houston newspapermen now editors of the 124th Cavalry News, dashed through the Red Army lines to edit their "Blue" paper in Shreveport.

Wednesday they came here again on the same mission. But the Reds were more alert this time. They caught up with McClanahan and Rose right in front of General Lear's headquarters on (word censored) street.

At Red Army prisoner control headquarters the army editors protested their innocent intentions, and the Reds finally turned them loose Thursday night.

FEMININE FANCIES

By Kathleen Eiland

The beauty of the morning glories in Fort Worth inspired a reporter there recently to write an article. From that standpoint, Midland is worth a feature also. Have you noticed how luxuriant the morning glories are this fall? They spill over walls and fences and even run up radio aerials, flaunting their blue cups to catch every drop of the tangy morning air. They are lovely. Drive through most any residence district in town and see if you don't agree.

We know of one man who has watered and trained and cared for two morning glory vines which are now rewarding him with a heart-lifting array of lovely blossoms every morning.

A Midland hostess told us sometime ago that she used a certain piece of blue morning glories for a morning party. We applaud the idea.

The cannae earlier in the summer were gorgeous, such bold spikes of color, forming perfect hedges of brilliance in yard after yard over town.

As for us, we do believe that after many trials, one lone zinnia bush in our flower bed is going to burst into bloom. We hope the quality of that flower will compensate for the lack of quantity in our would-be garden.

Glamour, spelled in capitals, is a creamy-white lightweight woolen evening coat, full length. The lapels are crusted with gold braid in flower design and the center of each flower is a ruby-colored stone.

Any girl, even though she is by nature as unassuming as a petunia, would blossom out into a tiger lily or something just as confident, secure in the fascination of a coat like this.

Add touches that "make" a dress: A bright-colored feather bird poised on a black frock, lighting its somberness into something special.

UNIVERSITY TO UNDERTAKE HIGH ALTITUDE RESEARCH

CINCINNATI, O. (UP)—The University of Cincinnati soon will become one of the few medical research centers in the country studying problems of high altitude flying.

The university has applied for a permit to erect a $23,000 addition to the Kettering Laboratory of the College of Medicine, where the effects of high-altitude sickness and other similar problems of respiration will be studied.

Dr. Willard F. Machle, associate director of the laboratory, says that new equipment will include a low-pressure tank, pumps and related devices.

Heaven Is A Place, The Great Reality Where Life Begins

3 And I heard a great voice out of the throne saying, behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he shall dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God:
4 and he shall wipe away every tear from their eyes; and death shall be no more; neither shall there be mourning, nor crying, nor pain, any more: the first things are passed away.
5 And he said, Behold, I make all things new. And he saith, Write: for these words are faithful and true.—Rev. 21.

By R. A. Weaver.

The fearful times in which we live challenge us to keep alive the fire of hope within each breast—the expectation and assurance that "beyond the smiling and the weeping" there is a brighter land. Not only do we need the steady and stabilizing influence of hope to sustain and keep us in the midst of doubt, struggles and toils of a present evil world; but also to make straight the path of coming generations who may become lost in the darkness of a war-torn world. "Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid" is a fitting motto for a time like the present. Something beyond the ken of this earth; something transcending the thought of earthly glory; something more blessed than our fondest dreams; this is what heaven offers.

A Place And Condition.
Heaven is not merely a state of consciousness. It has its reality in time and space, and when "the mists have rolled in splendor from the beauty of the hills" its reality will become the Great Reality to all those who have kept their faces pointed toward the New Jerusalem. An understandable picture of this geographical aspect of Heaven was plainly given by the Lord when he said unto His disciples: "In my Father's realm there are many places of abode." This truth is easily grasped by the peasant mind with mutual assent as one looks in rapture and profound musings into the starry heavens on a clear night. There beyond the far reaches of many thousands of light years, one contemplates what vast and mysterious secrets are held by the constellations of the Great Dipper, or within the maze of the milky way. Surely all these bright and shining worlds were not born of hapless chance and thrown in confusion across the darkling void for no purpose or design. All that exists has its proper place and proper sphere, and in the economy of creation utility and usefulness ever maintain to substantiate the handiwork of the Great Architect.

The Future Life Scientific.
Why should the question of immortality present a problem to the soul of man? I have seen the grub in the ground spend many days in the darkness of the tomb, and from there emerge to throw off the restricting shell, and fly with the wings of the morning toward the rising sun—free from the dank prison—free from the bands of time and space to ascend into the sky. I have seen the worm of the dust spin itself a silken shroud to await that hour of transition, when a higher life and a higher expression of its own divine task appeared; and I have seen it emerge in beauty and clothed with the color of the rainbow flitting across the green fields sustained by the wings of golden gauze. I have seen the tiny seed suffer dissolution within the womb of the earth and spring to life to become a haven for the birds of the air, and to cast its shadow in a dry and thirsty land—a rest for the wayfarer and a friend of man. And as I read the message of immortality from all these, the words of William Jennings Bryan came to mind: "If the Father deigns to give to the rose bush whose withered blossom float upon the autumn air the sweet assurance of another spring-time, will He deny the words of hope to the sons of men when the frosts of winter come? If He deigns to touch with divine power the cold and pulseless heart of the buried acorn, and causes it to burst

Conscientious Objectors At Peace Project Look On Themselves As Creative Pioneers

By Annie Mae Brown
NEA Service Correspondent.

MARION, N. C.—In the quiet little town of Sugar Cove, tucked away in a tiny valley 12 miles from here, 52 young "conscientious objectors" to military service have found that peace that holds fast to their ideals. Surrounded by soldiers holding maneuvers in nearby mountains in preparation for a possible war, they believe they are helping build for a peaceful future that must eventually follow.

They are boys who filled in Series 1 of the draft questionnaire. They take up Civilian Public Service Camp No. 18.

These boys are being allowed by the government to work on a government project in World War II instead of going to camps to bear arms, against their religious convictions.

Tall, dignified, white-haired Dr. Raymond Binford, life-long Quaker and president of Guilford College for the past sixteen years, who aimed a leave of absence to be rector of the camp for a year, said, "They like to be called creative pioneers."

They are usually called C. O.'s. Their community is made up of Binford and Mrs. Binford, a plump, white-haired little woman, who will teach French and German when their educational hours permit; Miss Edith Kelsey, a nurse who lived seven years in Jerusalem with her missionary parents and was trained at the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston; Miss Bertha Otis, dietitian, who studied at Penn State College; Frank Reynolds, the project superintendent for the camp; and Mrs. Reynolds.

Their quarters were formerly CCC camp, which the Government loaned to the American Friends Service Committee for a C. P. camp. Their work is the building up of a parkway through the mountains, concurring with the provisions of the Government that the work accomplished must be important.

Their demeanor is one of quiet contentment that they may pay $35 a month to labor as most of them have never worked before, that they are lucky enough to have $2.50 for spending money each month, and that they do not have to bear arms.

BOYS OF MANY TYPES AND FAITHS

Of the 52 already at the camp, which has a capacity of 150, the majority are college men or college graduates. There are school teachers, college athletes, bank clerks, advertising men, engineers, chemists, men from every line of work.

Theirs is not a single religion. Many faiths were represented when the 52 arrived, including Quaker, Episcopal, Evangelical and Reformed, Methodist, Church of Christ, Baptist, Jewish, Presbyterian Lutheran, in Accord with the Scriptures, Catholic, Beth Tabernacle, Church of God, Jehovah's Witness, Hollinellen, Pilgrim, Holiness, and United Brethren.

There is no "type" of boy or man.

The day's work is never done for the 52 "conscientious objectors" who make up Civilian Public Service Camp No. 18, at Sugar Grove, N. C. Above, some of them take time off for dinner after a day's hard labor building a mountain parkway. But the meal is but a respite, for when it's over they'll pick up their books and study in their chosen fields.

In the former CCC camp, below, at Sugar Grove, N. C., loaned to the American Friends Service Committee, young pacifists of draft age serve the nation in non-military ways, working from dawn till long after dusk. Then even cook their own meals. Above, Chick Doak, left, State College athlete, and Joe Torso, Pittsburgh newspaper man, peel potatoes.

One Hundred Thirty Geologists Register For Fall Field Trip

Members of the West Texas Geological Society, joined by out-of-town geologists, Friday were en route to Alpine for the first leg of the West Texas group's Fall field trip into the Big Bend region.

Vaughn C. Maley, chairman of the field trip committee, reported 130 had registered for the trek. One hundred of these are Midland geologists and the balance are from Houston, Austin, El Paso, Lubbock, Fort Worth, Dallas, Socorro, N. M. and Carlsbad, N. M.

The trip proper starts Saturday at Marathon and the night will be spent at the CCC camp in the Chisos Mountains. The geologists will return home Sunday night after a trip to the Study Butte quicksilver mine, Terlingua, and Alpine.

Large Crowd Expected For Opening Grid Tilt

A crowd of three or four thousand persons was predicted for the opening football game of the season in Midland Friday night as a brisk demand for reserved seat tickets was noted.

Four hundred and thirty-nine had been sold at noon Friday.

Issue May Affect Talmadge Future

ATLANTA, Ga. (UP)—The question of who should teach the youth of Georgia, plus the question of what they should be taught, promises to develop during the next few months into an issue involving the political future of the red-galvanized governor, Gene Talmadge.

Since Talmadge took office last January, the administration-controlled board of regents has ousted two educators on grounds they favored "social equality" of the races and more recently the state board of education banned from public school libraries various textbooks on evolution, sociology and the problem of adolescence.

Talmadge is chairman of the education board. Already under attack from political opponents on the education issue, Talmadge has met the criticism with wisecracks and has remained silent on whether he will run for governor next year or have a try at the nomination for the senate. Should he attempt the latter he will face in the primary Sen. Richard Russell.

Chilean Experiment Indicates Spaniards Make Good Citizens

SANTIAGO, Chile (UP)—The first major experiment in collective immigration in modern Chilean history has proved extremely gratifying authorities here declare. On Sept. 2, 1939, 2,200 Spanish refugees landed at Valparaiso from French liner Winnipeg. They had been released from French concentration camps at the end of the Spanish civil war.

Many Chileans professed themselves skeptical about the outcome of the experiment. They feared that the Spaniards either would displace Chilean workers or become a dead-weight on national economy. Some saw danger in this influx of refugees, many of whom were avowed radicals. This situation was complicated further by the fact that on the day before the Winnipeg's arrival in Valparaiso German armies had invaded Poland, setting the spark to a conflagration which would inevitably cause economic repercussions all over the world.

Those fears proved unfounded. The Spanish exiles adapted themselves to a new life in a strange country and have become useful members of Chilean society.

Markets

Wool

BOSTON. (AP. USDA).—Trading following inquiries was very spotty and mostly slow on the Boston wool market at the week's end. Transactions were light. Sales scattered with dealers finding business confined to narrow channels for most grades so far as volume of sales is concerned. Prices were being maintained generally at a very firm basis. Orders continued to be placed in Australia for fine wools for import at unchanged prices.

BOSTON (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin will say Saturday: "Although price levels have been fully maintained in the wool market this week, the velocity of sales has diminished very considerably, due to the fact that manufacturers have been marking time, with diminished civilian demand for fabrics and pending the awards by the government against the bids taken September 15th."

"Purchases in the West have fallen off noticeably, except possibly in Texas, where 43 1/2 to 45 1/2 cents has been paid for good to choice 12-months clips. Fall Texas, of which a million pounds were purchased last week at 40 cents have been slow."

"Purchases of the new Australian clip for this county to Sept. 15 are officially reported at 114,893 bales."

"Mohair prices are firmer here in line with the higher prices paid in Texas last week, which, however, have not been repeated this week."

Committee Says Tank Cars Should Be Used

DALLAS (AP)—The movement of tank cars should be expedited in every possible way, the petroleum committee of the Southwest Shippers advisory board decided Thursday.

The committee's report, presented by Chairman W. M. Maddox, said "the tank car supply, which has been very widely advertised, is still tight and it is very important that every tank car be given the most expeditious handling."

Youth Spreads $200 Of Sunshine Before Officers Stop Gifts

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (UP)—Any way it was fun while it lasted.

A 9-year-old boy walked into a filling station while the attendants were busy and "borrowed" all the money in the cash register—$400. Then he strolled out.

Five blocks away he met another boy, age 9, and handed him a $20 bill. The second boy appreciated it so much he told his father who notified police.

The officers immediately started on the trail of the young Santa Claus, who continued his little game.

"Want some money?" he asked everyone he met, shoving a green-back at them.

He got no refusals.

Two hours later the police caught up with the sunshine spreader — thanks to his trail of money.

He had disposed of $204.65 and was looking for a likely person to accept the remaining $195.35.

Police turned him over to juvenile authorities for a lecture.

Experts Develop New Equipment For Flying

DAYTON, O. (UP)—Extensive research work in 1940 by laboratory experts at Wright Field has resulted in numerous advancements in the development of aeronautical equipment to bolster the air wing of the intensified national defense program.

Experts have directed a special effort toward development of synthetic or substitute materials to replace those that might be procured only with difficulty during wartime.

This project, along with many others, has transformed the air corps field into one of the nation's foremost defense laboratories. A report on the first 11 months of 1940 showed that:

Synthetic fabrics of certain types have been tested and approved as substitutes for parachute silk and for use in corded tires. Certain cotton materials have been developed as substitutes for linen webbing used in parachute harness.

Adirondacks Deers Use Dynamite Food

ALBANY, N. Y. (UP)—Dynamite-eating deer are common in the Adirondacks, the state conservation department reports.

The sound of blasting and the jangling of heavy construction machinery, in fact, attract the animals instead of frightening them. Bucks and does seem to know they will find the explosive in road-building jobs.

Ranger Clinton West of North Creek explains deer relish dynamite because of the saltpeter it contains.

The department also reports the animals seek out the dust from blasted rocks as if it were a salt lick.

UNAWAY MILK TRUCK PUTS THE MAYONNAISE

NEW STYLE IN CADDIES

HARTFORD, Conn. — Just as the Hartford golf club was beginning to become alarmed because defense jobs had created a caddy shortage, a pair of young women showed up and announced they were available as bag-toters.

Florence D. Abbott and Mary A. Hallihan, waitresses with plenty of spare time during the day, were hired on the spot and proved satisfactory. Now the club is looking for more like them.

SUPER-SALESMANSHIP.

TAMPA, Fla. — A kind but practical Tampa woman took three motherless kittens to the humane society, planning to give them away.

But society officials performed a job of super-salesmanship and when the woman returned home she had

The three kittens she started out with, plus a mother cat that had lost her kittens, plus two other orphan kittens.

HITCH.

EUREKA, Mont. — The siren was going full blast but not a peep came from the motor when the fire engine finally reached Mrs. William Porter's blazing home.

En route, the engine stalled. A passing truckman towed it to the fire in time to save the family wash, dripping on a backyard line.

TRAFFIC BOUNCER.

LOS ANGELES. — Ed Townsend has a system all his own of dealing with speeders.

There is no traffic signal at a busy intersection near Townsend's service station. To protect his own two youngsters and those of his neighbors he appointed himself crossing watchman for two hours each day.

He rules with a rubber mallet—with which he whams the fenders of drivers who refuse right of way for the children.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By William E. McKenney
America's Card Authority.

In tournament bridge the element of luck is eliminated so far as the cards are concerned, because everyone plays the same hands, but as in every other sport, there is always the luck of the play. You may, for instance, get a difficult hand against weak opponents who do not defend it well. Or you may be just downright lucky.

Here is a case that happened at the summer session of the national tournament at Asbury Park. Immediately after bidding one no trump, a player dropped the king of hearts. The rules state that if you expose an honor card, your partner is barred from the bidding in that hand.

This player and his partner were

♠ K 8 7 5	♥ J 6
♦ A K 10 8	♣ K J 10
♠ Q 9 2	♥ 10 6 3
♦ A 10 7 2	♥ 9 8 5 4
♠ 7 4	♥ 6 5 2
♣ 9 7 4 3	♥ 8 6 2

sing strong no trumps—so you can imagine how his partner felt, with his big hand, and barred from the bidding. But one no trump was the contract, and believe it or not, the declarer got the only opening lead that would allow him to make six no trump.

Not realizing that any other opening would have made six no trump impossible, he naturally thought he had a bad score. When the scores came out, he found he had top score on the board, because every other player his way of the table had got into a slam contract (a few in fact had bid seven) and not one had made it. They were the only North-South pair with plus score on the board.

Normally, West opened the fourth-best of his only four-card suit, hearts, this particular West player did not like to lead up to it. Furthermore, as North had been barred from the auction, he had no idea whether the North-South cards held game or not.

He decided on trying to find a fit in his partner's hand, so led a small card away from his only other top card, the queen of spades, his lead handed declarer 12 tricks.

Drug Store Liquor Flow Is Diminished

AUSTIN, (Special)—The flood of liquor through drug stores in dry areas has been reduced to its barest trickle by September as a result of the Liquor Control Board's enforcement of House Bill 373, the drug store liquor law.

Records of the board show: 449,288 liquor prescriptions filled in August, 1940, as compared with 392 in August this year, a reduction of 99 per cent.

43,147 gallons of liquor sold on prescription in August, 1940, as compared with 445 in August this year, so a reduction of 99 per cent.

How to Handle--

Constable Herbert H. Scott of London fondles incendiary bomb as he explains to Los Angeles police how London bobbies operate during an air raid and handle this and other types of explosives.

Stevenson Departs To Visit Panhandle

AUSTIN, (AP)—Lights glimmered in the mansion before daylight Friday as Governor Coke R. Stevenson who likes to drive about the country set out for the Texas Panhandle.

He chose to drive because "I can go one way and come back another." To a suggestion that he take a train the governor said: "I would miss 20 filling stations." He likes to stop at filling stations and chat with the boys.

The governor scheduled Pampa and Borger visits Saturday. At Pampa he was to be honored at a luncheon attended by 500 guests. At Borger he with Dave Warren, president of the Texas Press Association and Publisher of the Borger Herald, will be honored at a barbecue.

At Amarillo he scheduled an address before a labor group Sunday and planned to attend opening festivities of the Tri-State Fair Monday.

NIGHT INSECTS ALLERGIC TO ORANGE, RED LIGHTS

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (UP)—Night flying insects, including the mosquito, are color conscious, industrial research workers have found.
 If you use an orange-yellow light bulb on your unscreened porch at night, you won't be bothered by insects as much as you will be if the light is bluish, the investigators discovered.
 They concluded insects were most attracted by bright blue light, such as emitted by mercury lamps, and preferred red lights least of all. The investigators carried out their experiment by stringing up colored bulbs to which insect traps were attached.

SERIAL STORY BRIDE FROM THE SKY

BY HELEN WELSHIMER

THE STORY: Judy Allen has hailed out. Floating through the sky in the wedding dress she was wearing when impulsive aviator Sandy Ammerman kidnaped her an hour before she was to marry handsome, stable attorney Philip Rogers, magazine career girl Judy is making her escape from Sandy, whom she once thought she loved. Rumors romantically linking Sandy with heiress Peg Gordon decided Judy on marrying Phil, convinced her that Sandy was just an infatuation. Now, floating earthward, she is in real danger, because as Sandy climbs his plane to give her parachute—one he has invented—plenty of room, she sees below her, at a strange airport, another plane, ready to take off in her path.

Yet there was an air of unreality about the scene.
 A dozen hands had released her from the parachute as it touched earth. Amazed voices began an artillery of questions.
 "Oh boy, what a story! 'Bride Falls From Sky!' a newspaperman crowed.
 "Talk about luscious art!" Now a photographer spoke, focusing his camera on Judy's face.
 THERE was a newsreel truck present, too, and the operator was just winding up the crank. Looking around more carefully, Judy realized that a dozen news cameramen had been on hand to make her arrival everlasting.
 Judy found her voice. It sounded strangled, though she fought for a casual tone. "Who told you I was taking off from Capricorn?"
 "Nobody told us. We've all been waiting around for a couple of movie stars coming in from Hollywood."
 "It's a bridal couple. Maybe she jumped, too," somebody else said as his flashlight exploded.
 "You're ace, sister." Another voice cleared itself of the motley tones. "Come on, give us your name and town and why you made your flying leap."
 Judy ignored the questions. Her wide brows were drawn into a sudden, startled line. She would be in the tabloids and the movies now instead of the rotogravure section where Judy Allen belonged. Phil would wipe the grounds up with Sandy. Or maybe it would be the other way.
 It would be best to get Sandy behind four strong walls as quickly as possible. Not the kind of walls that made a home, either. The wide field, the darkness pierced with tall balls of guiding lamps, the murmur of the water in the distance, the people who kept appearing from everywhere—all this made Judy feel that she had dropped down to a strange, weird place.
 Her bronze curls blew around her shoulders, her eyes smoldered with purple fire, her white dress was thin and it was fragile.
 "Is there a phone near?" she asked, all the haughtier because her stockinged foot stood partly in a mud puddle. "And I want to swear out a warrant for someone's arrest."

 Everybody laughed at that except a heavy-set man who had elbowed his way through the crowd. "Can't give you the second request, sister," he stated bluntly. "But you can't get away with a phony landing."
 "Phony landing!" She stamped the foot that still wore a slipper.
 "That's the idea. It's your own arrest that's taking place. We're taking you to Headquarters now, this minute."

IN REAL TROUBLE CHAPTER XVIII

JUDY pulled on the parachute with all her strength as she came down, the rising sound of the motors following her. No, she decided, she couldn't bear to the south enough to save herself.
 Sandy had done this to her... Sandy whom she hated.
 A great silver light picked her up then, and she realized she was being placed in the center of a searchlight to call the attention of the oncoming pilot to her fate.
 She watched the strange plane start down the runway, turn, come to a sudden halt that rolled it over on its side, crashing a little dizzily as it took this unexpected and undeserved punishment. Two men, bewildered and bruised, climbed from the injured airplane.
 And she, Judy Allen, associate editor of Under Twenty, was floating down to earth like a white moth or an angel.

She wasn't afraid suddenly. She didn't mind descending from the purple sky in her wedding dress, clinging to a parachute. When she touched the ground, she became aware that one white satin slipper was gone. Lost in the flight. Or maybe left in Sandy's plane. She was glad that the train on her wedding dress concealed her unslipped foot. The earth was cold, though.
 She must look funny—a bride who took to hurtling earthward. She started to laugh and could not stop.
 Why, there were hundreds of people at the airport to watch her.

She didn't mind descending from the purple sky in her wedding dress, clinging to a parachute. When she touched the ground, she became aware that one white satin slipper was gone. Lost in the flight. Or maybe left in Sandy's plane. She was glad that the train on her wedding dress concealed her unslipped foot. The earth was cold, though.
 She must look funny—a bride who took to hurtling earthward. She started to laugh and could not stop.
 Why, there were hundreds of people at the airport to watch her.

Bears Coach To Resurrect Shift

BERKELEY, Cal. (UP)—Coach Stub Allison has reached far back into football's past for a new attack with which he hopes his University of California gridiron warriors will befuddle 10 opponents this season.
 Allison's new offensive movement is a complicated shift he used to use back in his days at South Dakota in 1923 and 1924.
 The California mentor is hoping it attains the same success as the equally hoary-berled "T" formation rival coach Clark Saughnessy resurrected at Stanford last year. Saughnessy's Stanforders went on to win 10 straight games with the "T."
 California last year used the same modification of the old Michigan punt formation it has been using for a decade. The result was not satisfactory. The team won four and lost six.

Sinkwich Will Spark Georgian Team Again

ATHENS, Ga. (UP)—Flying Frankie Sinkwich, the sophomore sensation of last fall, is back to spark the University of Georgia backfield, and that is reason enough to expect a strong offense when Coach Wally starts this year's tough schedule.
 Flying Frankie ran most of Georgia's opponents dizzy last year with his devastating plunging and broken field running and both he and the men who do the blocking will have more experience this fall.
 The team should have color to spare and plenty of ability. Still there is no talk of an undefeated season or a Rose Bowl or a Sugar Bowl for the Bulldogs.

SOPRANO DEDICATES SONG TO PAN AMERICAN UNION

MEXICO CITY (UP)—Every great movement has a song. And Lillian Evanti, lyric soprano, has given one to Pan Americanism. It has been dedicated to the Pan American Union, and titled "Pan-Americana." The words, by Alice Anderson, Washington poet, are in English and Spanish.
 Miss Evanti, who has an international reputation as a singer, recently completed a Latin American concert tour. She sang in Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Venezuela, Rio de Janeiro, and Buenos Aires.

Nervousness Is Cause Of Migraine Headaches

CHICAGO (UP)—The "sick headache," one of mankind's commonest ills, stems from the hard-driving, perfectionist personality and can best be relieved by relaxation, according to a study of the ailment by Dr. Harold G. Wolff, a neurologist.
 Writing in the Archives of Neurology, Dr. Ward said a recent investigation of patients suffering from migraine or sick headache showed that treatment through all any form of relaxation reduced attacks from one every two weeks to as few as three or four a year.
 The reason why games, short holidays, literature, music or love-making relieve sick headaches, Dr. Ward said, is that migraine literally is an outgrowth of personality—the nervous, ambitious and energetic type.

Old Iron Mines In Connecticut Opened

SALISBURY, Conn. (UP)—The Salisbury iron mines, which have supplied the nation's armed forces with materials for munitions and armaments during every war since 1732, have been reopened after an 18-years' lapse.
 The Ore Hill pit, where operations ceased in 1923 because of competition of Western mines, first was worked in 1732, breaking an iron monopoly Massachusetts held up to that time.

Sing Sing Executes 475 In Fifty Years

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. (UP)—Fifty years ago four somber-faced men walked the "last mile" in Sing Sing prison, marking the first executions at New York's famed penal institution.
 Since that day, 471 condemned persons have been put to death in the downstate prison's electric chair. There were five women among the 471.
 James Slocum was the first to "walk the last mile." When the switch was thrown and Slocum pronounced dead by the prison physician, a white flash hit his

Clark To Place Aerial Game On Testing Block

Austin And Midland Will Start Contest Below Top Strength

By Tanner Laine
The Midland Bulldogs' "aerial circus" gets its big test at 8 p. m. Friday night on Lackey Field against invading Austin high of El Paso in the first game of the season here.

Both elevens are plagued with injuries. Midland will be without the services of Charlie Kelly, ace passer. Keith Graham, his ankle ailing, will start at Kelly's halfback slot.

Austin high's fine end, Fred Wendt, 155-pound letterman, is in an El Paso hospital with a bruised kidney suffered in a scrimmage. Halbert Bloodworth, 150-pound veteran end, has a knee injury. He did not make the trip to Big Spring last week. The player came here but is not expected to play.

The key injury to the El Pasoans is that of Lavender Humphrey, three-year letterman and quarterback. He has a bruised hip and Coach W. J. Milner said he would not count on his services.

The Panthers, 28 members, hit town Thursday afternoon and took an hour's drill on Lackey Field.

Preceding the El Paso workout, Coaches Earle Clark and Wood Dow put the Bulldogs through a final practice.

Both mentors changed starting lineups on the eve of the tilt. The Austin high eleven with weights will be: Bill Coss 140, Shirley White 150, ends; Orville Hall 225, Arthur Briden 165, tackles; Bob Lawrence 185, Arthur Briden 165, guards; John Davis 140, center; Bill Briden 165, quarterback; Owen Harmon 130, Dick Redmond 130, halfbacks; and Bob Dennard 150, fullback.

Clark will start: Buddy Davidson 155, Wilford Lester 160, ends; Marshall Whitmore 155, Pete Lee 170, guards; Ben Sevier 168, Gene Estes 155, tackles; Jack Noyes 145, center; Ivan Hall 140, quarterback; E. G. Foster 150, Keith Graham 155, halfbacks; and Robert Wheeler 165, fullback.

Austin's attack is from single-wing and short punt formations. Midland will work from single and double wing and flanker-back. With Humphrey out the Panther offense is weakened by 20 per cent and receivers Wendt and Bloodworth may not see service.

Midland may start its air barrage early. However the Panthers have drilled long and hard on pass defense. If passes fall, Midland will switch to a ground game featuring Ivan Hall and Robert Wheeler.

Briden will be the Austin high spearhead. He is one of the best punters in West Texas and is a fast runner.

Colorado Will Test Power Of Longhorn Team

By Harold V. Ratliff
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Orange Wave that many say will look mighty good in the Rose Bowl at the turn of the New Year rolls for the first time Saturday.

Still riding the crest of one of the most sensational finishing spurts in Southwest Conference history, the University of Texas Longhorns play the University of Colorado a top intersectional game of the day.

While Colorado is not ranked among the country's major powers, the Buffaloes do sport a veteran-sprinkled team of strong possibilities—one that should either confirm reports of Texas' brilliance or burst the bubble before it starts to float.

Last season Texas crushed Colorado 39-7 in its opening game.

Rice does not start the drive this week, playing Sam Houston State Oct. 4 to blast off the lid.

Conference Predictions
Here's how they look in the opening tests:
Texas vs Colorado at Boulder—Texas by a comfortable margin.
Texas Christian vs Tulsa at Fort Worth—TCU in a wild scoring battle.

Starting Center

Jack Noyes, 145 pounds of hustle and light, is Midland high's starting center. He came up from junior high to fit in the Bulldog line and selects the team's signals.

Scrappy Guard

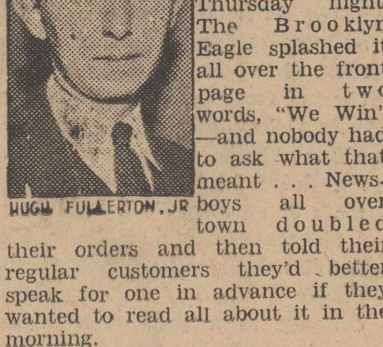

Marshall Whitmore, 155-pound guard, earned a starting post in the Midland line for Friday night's fracas. He is one of the team's hardest working forwards and throws a wicked block. Whitmore is playing his first year of high school football.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton Jr.
NEW YORK (The Special News Service)—Over in Brooklyn they're insisting that it wasn't a hurricane at all that struck Texas—only a concerted sigh of relief from Dodger fans throughout the country when they realized the Bums were safely "in."

... it wasn't anything compared with the storm that hit Flatbush and its environs Thursday night. The Brooklyn Eagle splashed it all over the front page in two words, "We Win!"—and nobody had to ask what that meant.

Newsboys all over town doubted their orders and then told their regular customers they'd better speak for one in advance if they wanted to read all about it in the morning.

HUGH FULLERTON, JR. boys all over town doubted their orders and then told their regular customers they'd better speak for one in advance if they wanted to read all about it in the morning.

Take A Chance Dept.
Football special for Friday is Hapes and Hovious to hit Hoyas hard—or Ole Miss can't miss. This dept. also likes Temple over Kansas, Denver to beat Iowa State, but not by much, and Washington State over UCLA.

More Saturday if Friday night's results aren't too disheartening.

Today's Guest Star

Bob Stedler, Buffalo Evening News: "In the little red book of baseball, there is a section devoted to knotty problems. The Cleveland Indians should be included."

Cleaning The Cliff
Manager Julian Black figures that about $7,000 of Joe Louis' income will go to pay for three weeks' training at Greenwood Lake although the gate for his camp exhibition covers part of it.

Mick Walker is closing the doors for his Poughkeepsie, N. Y., restaurant but plans to open one in his home town, Elizabeth, N. J., before he starts his winter refereeing chores.

When Bernie Bierman went to see his son, Billy, play for St. Paul Academy the other night he almost missed the big play—Bill's run with an intercepted pass—because the kids kept him so busy giving out autographs. Hank Leiby is back home in Tucson, Ariz., with orders to rest for six months.

Notre Dame has banned portable radios and movie cameras at its home games this season.

Bill (Bobo) Spencer, Missouri's crack place-kicker, warmed up the other day by booting 35 in a row, then back after a breather to kick 36 straight.

Last Laugh
An entry in a pet show at West-hampton, N. Y., the other day was a champion Great Dane, owned by Harkness Edwards and entered by Edwards' eight-year-old son.

When the kid came home proudly displaying the red second-place ribbon, Edwards asked what does had topped the big fellow that had been cleaning upon the show circuit. "Dog?" replied the kid. "We were beaten by a pig."

Allen Predicts Death Of Big Time Football

LIBERTY, Mo. (AP)—Dr. F. G. (Phog) Allen, head basketball coach at the University of Kansas, predicts inter-collegiate football will cease to exist as a big business after the defense emergency passes.

"The economic structure of the nation will be such that no money will be available to pay the athletes as is being done today," he told the William Jewell College football team at a kickoff dinner Thursday night.

The fight to Louis.

"I think it will be a matter of stamina and endurance, a question of who can take it the longest. I think that man will be Nova. I figure Nova will knock Louis out in around 10 rounds."

Series Teams Won't Take Time Out For Travel

NEW YORK (AP)—Clinging to the National League pennant, the Brooklyn Dodgers will allow the world series to be reced off without any time out for travel.

The schedule as announced by Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis:
Oct. 1 and 2 at Yankee Stadium.
Oct. 3, 4 and 5 at Ebbets Field.
Oct. 6 and 8 at Yankee Stadium.

The one-day intermission after the sixth game is to allow time for distribution of tickets for the seventh contest, if the series goes the limit.

All games will start at 2:30 p. m. (Central Standard Time.)

Writer Picks Nova To Get Off Floor And Defeat Champ

By Gayle Talbot
NEW YORK (AP)—Looking back on Joe Louis' fights and recalling the ferocity with which he has torn into the big fellows he could hit easily, practically ruining them with a rain of punches, it takes a lot of will power to pick Lou Nova to win the heavyweight championship from the big negro.

There is the additional hazard that most "professionals" of the fight game—the men who undoubtedly know the business best—are stringing along with the Bomber. Perhaps a score of managers, trainers and promoters encountered Thursday at Nova's camp virtually were unanimous in believing that the champion would belt Nova out inside 10 rounds when they meet Monday night at the Polo Grounds.

But the writer happens to have a hunch for a long time that Nova was the one fighter with the physical equipment and the heart required to whip Louis, and there is no sense in backing down now. Maybe cause the kids kept him so busy giving out autographs. Hank Leiby is back home in Tucson, Ariz., with orders to rest for six months.

Notre Dame has banned portable radios and movie cameras at its home games this season.

Bill (Bobo) Spencer, Missouri's crack place-kicker, warmed up the other day by booting 35 in a row, then back after a breather to kick 36 straight.

Humble To Air Two Grid Tilts

Two of the season's opening football games played by Southwest Conference teams will be broadcast by the Humble Oil & Refining Company Saturday afternoon to inaugurate the company's seventh consecutive year of this service to its customers and employees.

The Texas-Colorado game will be broadcast by the Humble company from the playing field in Boulder, Col., at 3:20 p. m. The broadcast will be carried by KPRC, Houston; WOAI, San Antonio; WFAA-WBAP, Dallas, Fort Worth; and KNOW, Austin.

An hour earlier, at 2:20 p. m., another group of stations will broadcast the game between Baylor University and Hardin-Simmons College. This broadcast can be heard over WACO, Waco; KRLL, Midland; KTEM, Temple; KPRZ, Fort Worth; KGGK, San Antonio; KBST, Big Spring; KRBO, Abilene, and KXYZ, Houston.

Red Raiders Are Fastest Players

LUBBOCK (AP)—Texas Tech's footballers swish while the ponderous boys on the other side swoosh.

Out here they claim it's the fastest team in the nation. The backfield averages 11.4 seconds for 100 yards in full equipment on soft, grassed turf.

And the line isn't the least bit slow. For instance, Avon Sewall, 239-pound tackle who is 6 feet 3 inches tall, raced the century in 13 flat carrying all the regular grid-iron paraphernalia.

The average weight of the Red Raiders is 180 pounds—a comfortable size for speed and power combined.

Brooklyn Club Wins National League Flag

MacPhail Throws Big Champagne Party For Victorious Brooklyn

By Judson Bailey
Associated Press Sports Writer.
The Brooklyn Dodgers, long the clown princes of baseball, are the new kings of the National League. Long live the kings!

The kids from Kings County, New York (the same as the borough of Brooklyn to everybody except the district attorney) came through in royal glory at Boston with a 6-0 conquest of the Braves Thursday and clinched their first pennant in 21 years.

The St. Louis Cardinals cooperated by losing a 3-1 decision at Pittsburgh to bring the most strenuous championship struggle in recent years to a sudden stop.

As a result of the victory and defeat, the Redbirds were left 2 1/2 games behind the Dodgers with each club having two games left to play.

The standings:

W. L. Pct.	GTP
Brooklyn	96 55 .636 2
St. Louis	96 55 .636 2

Somehow the session at Boston, perfectly played on the part of the Dodgers, seemed like an anti-climax. The bums had to battle for every inch in their furious, often frantic, foray against the western clubs of the league and even against the lowly Phillies.

Butcher Beats Cards
In Boston Thursday they knew they were in and were just marking time. But they certainly can keep time. They never missed a beat. Whitlow Wyatt, their friendly, baldish pitching ace, produced a masterful five-hit performance to achieve his seventh shutout and 22nd victory of the season. His teammates loosed a vigorous offensive which young Pete Reiser climaxed with a two-run seventh-inning homer. The game had been nailed down, however, when Brooklyn bagged one run in each of the first three innings.

Max Butcher, a big West Virginia mountaineer who once was with the Dodgers, took care of crimping the Cardinals. He held the Red Birds to five hits, their only run was forced in with a walk. The Pirates plastered Ernie White with defeat through Rookie Bill Cox' triple for a run in the third and Elbie Fletcher's homer with one on in the sixth.

Both clubs have open dates Friday, Saturday and Sunday the Cards clash again with the Chicago Cubs and the Dodgers finish against the Phils.

In the other games Thursday the Cincinnati Reds stormed to a 6-0 decision over the Cubs and the New York Giants squeezed to a 3-2 victory over the Phillies.

All clubs in the American League were idle.

MacPhail Throws Big Champagne Party For Victorious Brooklyn

During the four hours it took their special train to make the trip home from Boston Thursday night they steamed up the greatest celebration any baseball team ever has had for the clinching of a championship.

President Larry MacPhail, who had remained here to pass out world series tickets, set up the party with a telephone call to Boston stocking the train with champagne.

The wheels hardly had started rolling before the corks started popping—and by the time the effervescent entourage pulled into Grand Central station a little before midnight the Dodgers were hilarious and the train was a wreck.

The Dodgers let down their hair and howled—and it was something to behold.

Tear Down Blinds
Somebody thought it would be a grand idea to rip the shirt off Coach Charley Dressen and before his chummy companions were finished they had him almost in the nude. Then they started on each other and more shirts were ripped to pieces within a few minutes than a laundry could do in 10 years.

All the blinds in the dining car were torn down, too, but that came later.

Peewee Reese and Pistol Pete Reiser prowled up and down the aisles squirting everybody with champagne, until the kids were tipped off that that was something to drink. Then they turned to with creamed spinach.

This went on for hours and for miles and miles—but you get the general idea.

Sterling City To Contest Courtney

COURTNEY (Special)—Courtney six-man gridders were scheduled in the opening conference game at Sterling City Friday afternoon.

Citizens and a pep-squad unit planned to follow the team.

Courtney won an early season game from Klondike.

Bridler To Lead Austin Panthers

Bill Bridler, 155-pound quarterback of the Austin Panthers, was selected captain for the Midland game by Coach W. J. Milner.

Coach Earle Clark named Wilford Lester, 155-pound lettered end, and Jack Noyes, 145-pound center, as Midland's co-captains.
