Waterworks System In Midland Could Serve City Twice As Large

Midland's $400,000 waterworks system, well balanced and adequate, with few additional facilities could serve a city twice its size.

The city water rate here is one of the lowest in West Texas and the lowest among 13 cities of the Permian Basin, according to rates checked by the State Health Department.

Rosedale, a $75,000 project, recently completed, added a new source and booster unit. Larger mains were installed from the new wells to the city network.

The Rosedale wells, connected with the city system only a few days ago, are the additional source and booster unit. Sixteen inch mains now bring water from Rosedale to the city. Ten inch mains carry Cloverdale water to the large mains starting at Rosedale.

As soon as new mains are thoroughly tested, 10-inch lines from Cloverdale to the city will be taken up and the pipe used in the city system. L. A. Rodenhiser, city engineer, said.

Midland has 1,000,000 gallons of water in storage at all times at Cloverdale, and 500,000 gallons on reserve at the city sub-station. Rosedale has 300,000 gallons on reserve and 400,000 gallons are kept in the two elevated water towers. Total gallons on storage is 2,200,000.

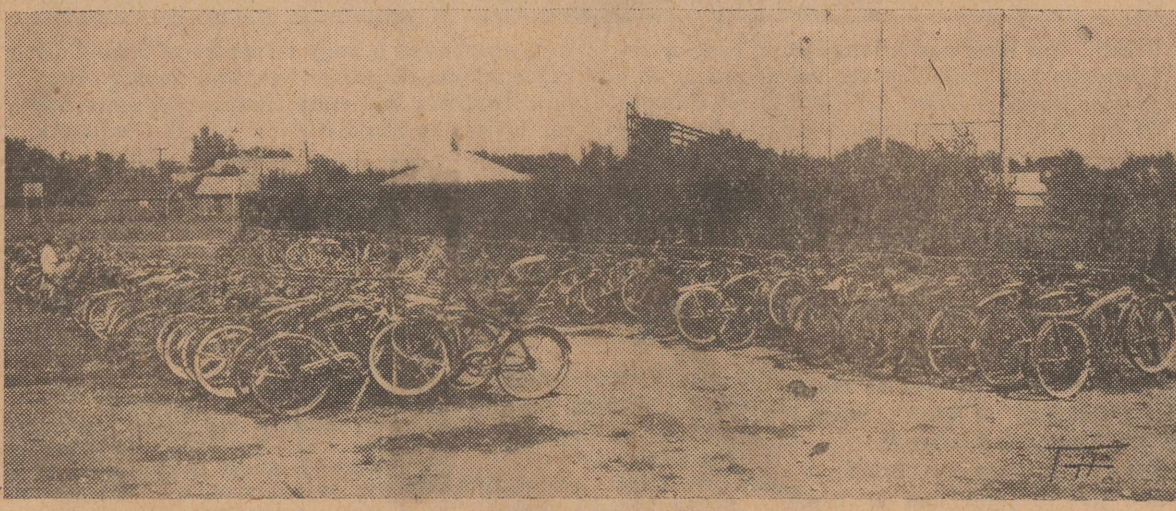

In case of emergency the city system could pump 6,500 gallons per minute for short periods, assuring adequate protection.

The Cloverdale source was built 12 years ago. Its seven wells produce a minimum of 1,300 gallons per minute and three booster pumps send the water into the city system. The smallest pump has a capacity of 630 gallons per minute; a medium pump is capable of 1,050 gallons per minute; and the largest pump has a capacity of 1,300 gallons per minute.

Rosedale has four wells and a pumping minimum of 1,200 gallons per minute. Two pumps at Rosedale are boosters or line pumps. One can pump 1,450 gallons per minute and another 3,500 gallons per minute in an emergency.

Reports Annihilation Of Units East Of Kiev

Russia Tells Of Successes On Central Front And Near Leningrad As Italians Institute Bread Rationing And Levies

By The Associated Press

The first anniversary of the German-Japanese-Italian tripartite pact was marked Saturday by a German announcement five Soviet armies had been annihilated east of Kiev in an "unparalleled" victory; Japanese claims to capture of Changsha, stubborn capital of the Chinese province of Hunan; and Italian decision to ration bread, raise taxes and weed out lukewarm Fascists.

The gigantic German claims overshadowed all others, official Nazis heralding this as the turning point of the entire continent-wide conflict which has been in progress for 14 weeks.

The Red Army told of successes on a more modest scale on the central front and before Leningrad, which a Russian spokesman said never would be taken no matter how many tens of thousands of Germans fell there.

Kiev Battle Is Ended
London saw increasing indications that British forces were moving to help defend the Caucasus in the south.

Official Berlin sources, however, contended British and American help for Russia already was too late because the Soviet Union had been all but knocked out, basing their assertions on this special communication from Adolf Hitler's field headquarters.

"The big battle near Kiev is finished. In a two-sided encirclement of a tremendous region we succeeded in uprooting the Dnieper defenses destroying five Soviet armies without permitting even small units to escape the encirclement."

"In the course of operations carried out with the closest collaboration of the army and air force, a total of 665,000 prisoners were taken, 884 tanks, 3,718 pieces of artillery, and unsurveyable quantities of other war material were captured or destroyed."

A Russian communique reported more than 4,000 enemy soldiers slain on the approaches to beleaguered Leningrad, with 66 planes and 34 tanks captured or destroyed, as well as local successes on the central front, scene of repeated Russian counter-attacks.

Washington
Authoritative military quarters in London said a German attack on the Crimean Peninsula was developing into the biggest assault possible in the confines of the Perekop Isthmus.

The British commander-in-chief for India, General Sir Archibald Wavell, arrived in Iran (Persia) Saturday on a mission of an admittedly urgent and secret nature. Having already conferred with the commander of the Middle East and with the British general staff, Wavell was expected to discuss defense plans thoroughly with the Russian military leaders in Iran.

The British moved to help Russia in another way by publishing a warning to Finland that she would be considered an enemy if she carried on an aggressive war on territory of the Soviet Union.

The Finns have won back virtually all the soil they lost to Russia by the peace of March, 1940. If they seek more, Britain will consider them Axis members, the foreign office warned.

Opponents Plan Battle Against Revision Heads
WASHINGTON (AP)—Opponents of the administration foreign policy were organizing Saturday for a fight against revision of the Neutrality Act, and Senator La Follette (Prog.) made it clear opposition legislators would resist any changes.

President Roosevelt is expected to confer with his congressional lieutenants Monday and to decide then what recommendations to make in a formal message to Congress later in the week.

"I am opposed to either repeal or modification of the Neutrality Act," La Follette told reporters. "Either proposal would be another step toward actual participation in the war. Therefore, either would be violative of the pledges President Roosevelt made in the 1940 campaign."

Saying that the administration had not yet given a clear-cut outline of what changes were wanted in the Neutrality Act, La Follette added that "apparently they are trying to decide whether to bury it completely or to leave a skeleton hanging up."

Rain Hurts Farms But Ranch Outlook Is Best In 10 Years

By Ledgerwood Sloan
Associated Press Staff
Excess moisture has reduced yields materially on many Texas farms out the ranch outlook at this harvest time is the best in decades.

Prices for all ranch and most farm products are strong. Grass and feed are the finest in years. The cotton farmer can expect more money per bale for what he gathers from his soggy acres than at any time since 1929.

Hardest hit are East and Southeast Texas where a tropical storm did millions of dollars damage to rice and bumped more rain on cotton fields. Reports from the western half of the state indicate fall crops fair to excellent.

But even in often-droughty West Texas continued rainfall is regarded as a mixed blessing. Fall shearing of sheep and goats is being delayed by intermittent moisture. Forty-cent wool has encouraged ranchmen to "shear everything but the family cat" and a 12,000,000-pound production is predicted. The mohair market is in a lull after spurring to a high of 60 cents for grown and 80 cents a pound for kid hair.

Mutton lambs are bringing 11 cents a pound and steer calves 13 cents in the San Angelo-Abbene ranch territory. Young ewes are selling for $9 in small bunches with most stockmen asking $10.

Although rains and insects continue to knife at the Central West Texas cotton crop prospects for a fair yield are good. The price is above 17 cents a pound with none going into loan. Cottonseed at $57 to $60 a ton is nearly twice the price of a year ago.

Shortages of cotton pickers, men to harvest bumper crops of feed-stuff and even cowboys are reported.

Construction Work At Sloan Field Is 58 Percent Complete

Construction work on the Advanced Twin Engine and Bombardier Training Center at Sloan Field was 58 per cent complete Saturday, O. K. Johnson, project manager for Cagle Brothers and F. M. Reeves & Sons, said.

The work program is six days ahead of schedule. Foundations have been poured for 180 of the 205 buildings and carpenters are working on 175 of the structures. White asbestos siding has been placed on 41 of the buildings and 87 have asbestos roofs.

Work is underway in all areas of the big training center which will be ready for the Army Air Corps about December 1.

More than 2,900 persons are working on the Military Reservation. Sufficient steel for the erection of one of the three large hangars has arrived and grading of the large apron and new runway is well advanced.

H. E. Williams, paving superintendent for the general contractor, arrived Saturday and is making plans for paving streets, apron and runways.

Street signs have been installed in the Military Reservation so truckers can expedite deliveries of materials to workmen.

Freight Kills Californian West Of Here

A man, identified as Leonard C. Craven, about 50, of Los Angeles, Calif., was killed when a west-bound freight train ran over him about 5 p. m. Saturday at a switch 10 miles west of Midland.

Craven's body was mangled and almost cut in half. Ray C. Bobbit, Dallas, riding on the train and an eye witness, told officers the man was walking and became trapped between east and west bound freight trains at the switch.

Justice of the Peace B. O. Girdley held an inquest. He said Saturday night "the man met accidental death under the wheels of a freight train." Girdley said Craven was identified by papers found on his body, including a Social Security card.

A nephew, H. Craven, Dallas, was notified. He told Girdley his uncle left Dallas for California a few days ago.

Craven's wife lives in Los Angeles. Deputy Sheriffs Charles Atkins and Fish Pollard investigated. The body is at Ellis Funeral Home.

Experts Believe Yank And Brooklyn Series Will Be Spectacular
By Judson Bailey
NEW YORK (AP)—The stage is being set this week end for what should be one of the wildest, most spectacular world series ever played in which Brooklyn's bristling Dodgers confidently expect to ambush the powerful New York Yankees.

Nevertheless, the American League champions were rated 2 to 1 favorites Saturday and most observers conceded they should be able to capture the world championship in five or six games.

The series will open Wednesday at 12:30 p. m. (Central Standard Time) in the big, concrete confines of Yankee Stadium, which is expected to be sold out the first time in series history. This would mean an attendance of about 70,000 or 4,000 more than saw the Yankees battle the New York Giants in the fourth game of the 1936 classic.

All reserved and box seats for the games at Yankee Stadium have been sold out for weeks, but 28,000 unserved and bleacher seats will be on sale on the day of each game.

S. Reynolds and Gus Bertner leases in the Peecos-Valley (high gravity) Field, Ward County.

CLEBURNE (AP)—Three persons were shot and wounded late Saturday, one critically, and Sheriff Oran Smith sent out a pickup order for a man wanted in connection with the case.

Mrs. Alice Potts, 67, was shot in the head at her home five and a half miles from here and the attending physician said she had little chance to recover.

A son and daughter of Mrs. Potts also were wounded. Mrs. Beulah Weaver, 43, was described as in a serious condition with a bullet wound in the forehead. But Potts, 55, was shot in the left cheek.

U. S. Launches Fourteen New Cargo Vessels

By The Associated Press
With 14 new cargo ships sliding down the ways, America put a vital span Saturday into the "bridge of ships," by which this government expects to contribute to the downfall of Adolf Hitler.

It was the largest mass launching since World War days, and was notable, too, because among the vessels which hit the salt tides were three of the new "liberty ships," designed for mass production. The launchings took place on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts and on the Gulf of Mexico as well.

President Roosevelt signaled the occasion with the unusual device of an electrically transcribed speech, heard at all the launching ceremonies, in which he called the event a "telling blow at the menace to our nation."

"He told the shipworkers of America they were doing 'a great job' and had 'caught the true spirit with which all this nation must be imbued if Hitler and other aggressors of his like are to be prevented from crushing us.'"

"With every new ship," he said, "they are striking a telling blow at the menace to our nation and the liberty of the free people of the world. They struck fourteen such blows today."

Governor And FDR To Talk

AMARILLO (AP)—Gov. Coke Stevenson announced Saturday night he is leaving Amarillo early Sunday morning for Washington on "urgent business."

He did not reveal the nature of his business but said he was leaving at the behest of Speaker Sam Rayburn and members of the Texas delegation in Congress. He said, however, that while he is in Washington he "expects to see the President."

The governor cancelled a date to open the Tri-State Fair here Monday morning in order to reach the Capital in time for conferences which have been scheduled for Tuesday. Congressman Gen. Worley of Shamrock, who returned this week for his first visit in his district since last December, will open the fair in Stevenson's place.

Behind Cruelty There Is Fear

Nearly always it is true that people are cruel because they are afraid. The strong, secure person, confident of his situation and ability to deal with it, is seldom cruel. It is the person within whom lurks a hidden weakness and a panicky fear who stoops to savage deeds of cruelty. He may not admit his fears; he probably thinks he is being strong and stern; but behind that mask a devil of fright is gibbering and squeaking.

Close to 300 people have been shot to death by the Nazis or their henchmen in countries occupied by their troops. In most cases the charges against them of conspiracy or violent acts are sheer window-dressing. In many of them, the people led out against a wall were innocent. No charge had been placed against them; no trial granted. They were picked by lot to die for the violent resistance of others to the German conquerors.

This is a cruel, an inhuman thing to do. To justify it by saying that soldiers doing their duty had been shot in the back is simply to invite the counter-question, "Who said it was their duty to be lording it over other people's homes and cities?"

The truth is that the German troops of occupation are jittery, as well they may be. The long-feared outbreaks of stealthy violence against them have come at last. Any commander charged with responsibility for those troops' safety must necessarily take the harshest measures to protect them. Those measures must be, and are, proportioned to the fear of what might be the situation of those troops if the attacks on them should spread and increase.

It is no good to moralize on the heartless inhumanity of shooting random helpless hostages. It is cruel and inhuman as all war is cruel and inhuman; it results from war, and it results specifically from the kind of war which presumed that a continent could be conquered and held under the Nazi heel. On him who made and acted on that supposition is the blood of these innocents, added to the blood of so many others.

Again, smothering natural human indignation, will it work? Probably not. Every innocent thus shot has friends and relatives, sons perhaps. Every such shooting is a stone dropped into the pool, and from it waves of hatred will spread outward in widening, ever-widening circles. The Nazis know that those waves may some day engulf them. Hence the inner terror that lurks beneath the mask of rigorouslyness.

End To War Games Approaches As Few Scattered Battles Continue, Soldiers Will Start Back Monday

By Jerry T. Baugh
WITH THE SECOND ARMY IN LOUISIANA (AP)—The end of the greatest war games ever staged by the American Army apparently was only hours off Saturday night with the Second and Third armies engaged in scattered battles along a 100-mile front running in a wide semi-circle 50 miles from Shreveport.

Competent military sources said, however, the finish to the two weeks of maneuvers might be delayed until late Sunday to give the two forces a chance to engage in at least one major encounter during the week.

Lieut.-Gen. Ben Lear's Red-banded Second Army found little trouble in holding Shreveport against the larger, but slower-moving Third Army of Lieut.-Gen. Walter Krueger. Apparently stalemated by the demolition of bridges through the swamp and marsh lands along the Sabine River valley, the Blue attackers had not penetrated the defense front seriously at any point. The only threat considered dangerous was tank columns of the Second armored division driving in from Texas, but even they were not yet across the difficult Sabine River.

At the sub-station east of the city limits, 500,000 gallons of water are in reserve and a pump there can put 700 gallons of water per minute in the system.

Plenty Of Water Available

Engineers say there is ample room for more wells at Rosedale. Water is found at depths of 40 to 125 feet around Midland, depending on formations.

The city of Midland will furnish water for the Advanced Twin-engine and Bombardier Training Center. Wells at the military reservation are being tested and the final 24-hour test on the first well was run last Sunday. An elevated tank and pumping facilities will be installed by the Army.

A. B. Cole is Midland's water superintendent. He has been in that position 10 years. Two caretakers are stationed at Cloverdale and one at the city sub-station. Rodenhiser is a certified water works system engineer.

Midland uses 1,700,000 gallons of water per day during summer months and about three-quarters of a million gallons in the winter. Facilities of the city system are adequate for emergencies including fires, Rodenhiser said. There are 1,818 meter connections in the city system and more are being added each day.

An Editorial

Slow down kids!
 You'll find that you have more time than you have necks. Thirty miles an hour is fast enough to drive the main drag and sometimes you're not perfectly safe at that speed. Your brakes may be in the best working condition, but they still have to be correctly used to get results because horns won't always do the job. If you would like to keep your jalopy keep your limousine in good shape, go in parking spaces straight and above all come out straight. Then you won't find near so many of those little red tags on the handle of your door. When you go out for a little ride, a driver's license is a mighty handy little thing to have around—just in case!

Heath Urges Students To Capitalize On Ability

Supt. George A. Heath's philosophy is that the school belongs to the students, that we can make it one of which we will be proud or one of which we will be ashamed. He points out that if we destroy or damage property in our school, the money that could have been used to purchase some luxury must be used to replace the ruined property, for of course a school has a set budget.
 With sincerity he said, "I do not want the students to forbid themselves the nice things, but rather wish them to accomplish to the very best of their ability."

Bulldogs Will Play San Angelo Oct. 3

The San Angelo Bobcats and the Midland Bulldogs play Oct. 3 in San Angelo.

The Bobcats have a well-balanced backfield. Jone, No. 74, left end, weighs around 165 pounds and is a good defense man. Fullback Chase, No. 87, weighs 164 pounds. He scored 21 points with 3 touchdowns and 3 extra points in their first game with San Antonio Tech. Rathbone, No. 95, playing left halfback, weighs 155 pounds and scored on a 78-yard dash around end. He is fast, shifty, a good punter and passes. Chase and Rathbone are two men to watch. Their main line will outweigh the Bulldogs about 5 or 6 pounds per man and the backfield about 10 pounds per man.
 The Midland lineup probably will be chosen from the following boys: Lester, Davidson and Watson, ends; tackles, Sevier, Estes, and Tison; guards, Lee, Whitmore, and Leftwich; center, Jacy Noyes; backfield, Hall, Kelly, Wheeler, Foster, Graham and Gillan.
 Assistant Coach Dow said, "our backfield is probably as good man for man as the Bobcat team."

Austin Turns Back Plucky Midland Eleven

Panthers Beat Bulldogs With Power 26-12 But Clark Charges Throw Fear Into Visitors With Passing Barrage

By Tanner Laine
But they didn't quit!
Crushing power with crisp blocking and alert pass defense by Austin High of El Paso conquered the game Midland Bulldogs, 26-12, here Friday night in the opening home tilt before 3,000 fans, including 500 El Pasoans here on the school's official trip of the year.

Midland gambled on its air game that accounted for 14 completions out of 34 tries for 129 yards. Clark's charges were never subdued and the lightweight forward wall battled all the way with a heavy Panther line. Sheer power won for the visitors.

Bill Bridler, 165-pound veteran back, sparked the Panthers. He scored three touchdowns and kicked one extra point. The stocky back took left handed Mario Castorena's 20-yard heave over the goal-line in the first quarter, sacked up a 40-yard pass from Castorena in the second period to set up the second touch which he made by running 5 yards, and ran one yard for this third in the third stanza. He placed-kicked extra point after the third touchdown.

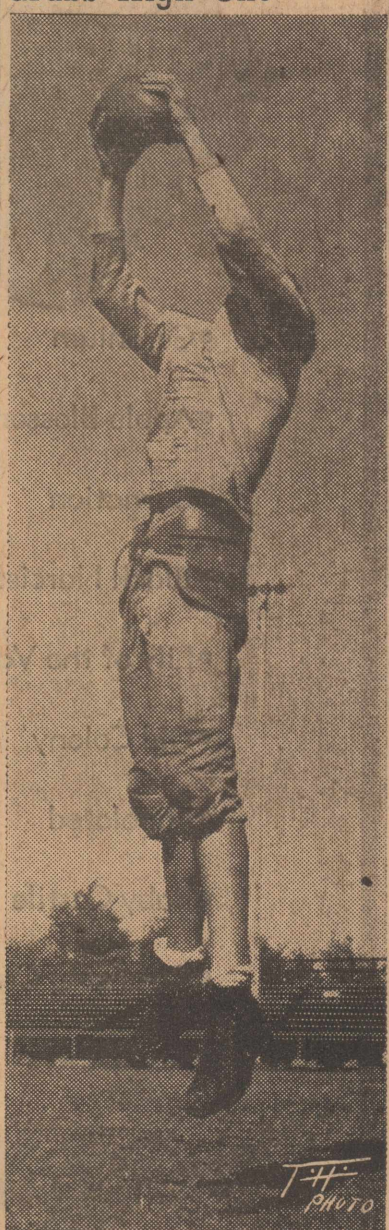

Owen Harmon, halfback, registered Austin's fourth touchdown in the last quarter. He intercepted a pass and rambled to the 17-yard line where E. G. Foster blocked him out of bounds. Then he teamed with Bridler to carry the ball to the one-yard marker and threaded the center of the Midland line for the score on the last down. Bob Denard, fullback, place-kicked the extra point.

Wheeler to Foster.
Speedy Ivan Hall, 140-pound Midland quarterback, raced 30 yards on a reverse to set up the Bulldogs' first touch in the second quarter. Robert Wheeler leaped over from the two-yard line. He missed the extra point kick. Hall showed blinding speed after he broke into the secondary on the reverse play and was run out of bounds on the two.

E. G. Foster, the blocking back, tabbed Midland's second score in the fourth. Wheeler was throwing passes to Hall, Foster and Watson to carry to the 13-yard line. There Wheeler pegged one to Foster on the 8-yard line and he ran over. Wheeler's pass to Foster for extra point was knocked down.

The Panthers scored on their initial drive. They drove to the 20 on Bridler's end sweeps. Castorena was sent in and on his first pass threw to Bridler over the goal-line. Midland was forced to punt and Wheeler's long boot carried to the 5-yard line and Bridler was stopped on the 11. On the next play he was downed on the one-foot line. A short

Grabs High One

It's Jimmy Watson, Midland High end, snatching a pass. The Bulldog terminal had a good percentage of catches in the Austin game Friday night. Coaches say he is the best pass catcher of the "aerial circus."

Texas U. Overwhelms Colorado Eleven 34-6

By London Kelly
BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—A big Texas team adhering to the old-fashioned football virtues of hard running, crisp blocking and bone-jolting tackling, overwhelmed Colorado 34 to 6 Saturday and passed the first mile-post in its drive toward national grid recognition.

Colorado, playing before a crowd of 15,500, held the orange shirted Texans to a 13-6 edge in the first half, but faded badly in the third period. The Southwest Conference eleven ran three touchdowns across in this stanza.

Down SPORTSLANE

With Tanner Laine

In tribute to a swell bunch of lightweight—a bunch of youngsters who never quit scrapping, Sportsplane pats on the back the Midland high Bulldogs. They gave everything they had against heavy and experienced Austin high. Overcoming a first half case of jitters, the Bulldogs, many of them playing their second game of high school football, pitched in during the last period and made a battle of it. Just keep in mind when you judge the Bulldogs that eight of the starting lineup Friday night were playing their second high school game and one was playing his first game of football. Bob Wheeler, remember the back that threw those passes and punted? Well, Bob, up from junior high, had to learn to punt and pass only four weeks ago. An average of 39 yards on his boots, one of them traveling 52 yards, is pretty fair going in any league. He is averaging about 50 per cent on his passes. The Bulldog line had one veteran in it and no player weighs over 170 pounds. They will be outwheeled every game this season; they will be second to every opponent in experience; but if the Bulldogs are ever second in fight, you have got to show me.

Texas Aggies Crush Sam Houston Team With 54 To 0 Score

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—The Texas Aggie grid machine crushed the Sam Houston State Teachers, 54 to 0, here Saturday before 10,000 fans who sat for two hours and 50 minutes to watch a game into which Coach Homer Norton sent 37 Aggie players.

Sam Houston held the Cadets most of the first quarter, but with three minutes left the second Aggie team went in with the ball on their 48 and scored. Leo Daniels, sophomore and star of the battle, passed to "Boots" Simmons for 22 yards and 11 more to Cullen Rogers in the end zone for the touchdown.

Derace Moser raced 69 yards from scrimmage for the second tally and number three came when Tom Picket crashed the line from the Bearkats' 23 and went all the way standing.

The final score came when Moser passed seven times in succession, all completions, the pay off pitch going to "Jitterbug" Henderson, who took it behind the goal with three men hanging onto him. In this march, Henderson caught five straight passes.

Lubbock Defeats San Angelo 22-0
SAN ANGELO. (Special)—Lubbock high's wild and woolly Westerners from the South Plains rounded up the San Angelo Bobcats, 22-0, here Saturday night in an inter-district football tilt.

In other high school circles, San Jacinto (Houston) beat Brackenridge (San Antonio), 13-7.

Happy landings to Glenn (Donkey) Roberts, oil scout, who left Midland to join the Army Air Corps. Donkey is a former Masonic Home and Texas Christian University basketball and football star. He is an all-around athlete and was one of the most sought after softball players in the Permian Basin the past summer.

Texas Tech claims the fastest team in the nation. The other day in practice the Raiders had "crack" practice, wearing complete playing equipment the backs and ends raced 100-yards on soft turf against time.

ROUNDING UP THE STRAYS
Eric Giles, who works with a seismograph crew out of Midland, played high school football with the always potent Gainesville Leopards. Here's the smart money odds on the Louis-Nova fight and the Brooklyn-New York Yankees World Series—Louis 3 to 10, Nova 12 to 5; Brooklyn 11 to 5, the Yanks 1 to 3. Halbert Bloodworth, injured Austin high end, got to play only a few downs in the game Friday but his father, Lloyd Bloodworth, executive secretary of the Associated Southwestern Chambers of Commerce, was here to see it. Keith Graham, starting halfback for Midland, was playing his first football game. He almost broke away with a long pass. This corner believes Ivan Hall is the fastest back in District 3-AA. Anyhow they are calling him "Slick" up at the Bulldog kennel instead of "Lizzard." Didja know—there are only 12 fifty yard line seats in the Kyle Field Stadium, home grounds of the Texas Aggies. Fact is, an aisle runs right through the 50 with exception of the first few rows and the box of Dr. T. O. Walton, president of the school. No wonder its hard to get a 50-yard seat at A&M. Some 33,000 seats and only 12 of them in the middle. Some like the Frogs, others choose the Longhorns, and the Mustangs have followers as do Rice and Baylor and Texas Aggies, so Midland fans have their favorites and back them in the drugstore confabs. Here are some of the followers. Taylor Cole for Texas. G. B. Hallman for Rice. Newbie Ellis, Jr. for A&M. Ola Dublin Haynes for TCU. and Jimmie Allison likes TCU but hollers for the Nebraska Cornhuskers of the Big Six. Add biggest backer of the Horned Frogs, H. B. Dickie) Dickenson. Fact is, an aisle runs right through the Austin high game; included was Rocky Rundell of San Angelo. Coach M. J. Milner of Austin high was one of the best blockers the Texas College of Mines ever had. His team showed the kind of tutoring they had been getting. The Bulldogs were per-

Wink And Crane Battle Features District Games

The Wink Wildcats, kingpins of District 7-A, unlimber conference guns Friday as the week-end feature of the league against invading Crane.

Another conference clash is the Fort Stockton-Monahans set-to at Monahans. The Green Wave lost prestige Friday by dropping a tilt to Alpine after a impressive tie with Colorado City.

Other games are inter-district battles. Pecos goes west for a scrap with El Paso high eleven. McCamey's Badgers engage Rankin Red Devils there.

All games are carded Friday night. Last week's roundup:

ALPINE 7

MONAHANS 6

(Special)—A fighting Alpine Buck team outplayed the Monahans Green Wave here Friday night, 7 to 6. Featuring a hard charging line and tricky backs the Bucks outclassed in all departments the Lobo squad in a non-conference game.

IRAAN 27

CRANE 14

IRAAN—Swivel-hipped Doyle Kennemer and his Iraan mates were more than a match on a local field Friday night for strike-pitching 115-pound H. Pettit and his Golden Crane teammates, as Coach Trickey Ward's charges surged back in the second half to win 27 to 14.

KERMIT 18

RALLS 6

KERMIT. (Special)—Kermit highlight.

District's Fastest?

Ivan Hall, one of three lettermen of the Midland High Bulldogs, is claimed by many as the fastest back in the district. He showed his speed in two long gallops in the Austin game, one for 30 yards. The little 140-pounder, shifty as well as fast, also is a track star.

Yellowjackets stung Ralls high, 18-6, here Friday night, led by Bob Neely and Charles McIver, passing and catching backfielders.

PECOS 33

McCAMEY 12

PECOS.—Although Fullback Robert Buford was absent from the lineup because of an injured leg, Pecos High rolled to a 33-12 triumph over the McCamey Badgers here Friday night.

Southern Methodist Turns On Class And Buries Eagles 54-0

DALLAS. (AP)—Putting on an exhibition of power and speed, a frisky band of Southern Methodist Mustangs reared and pitched almost at will in their home corral Saturday to trample a scrappy flock of North Texas State Teachers Eagles, 54 to 0, in their initial romp of the new grid season.

In living up to pre-season predictions of strong Southwest Conference contenders, the Ponies trotted out before a crowd of 12,000 several sophomore stars, including Abel Gonzales, Roy Bacus and Red Malley, who gave a good account of themselves.

The Mustangs lost little time in getting down to serious business. Rushing the Eagles, who elected to receive the initial kickoff, the Ponies recovered on their 4-yard line a backfield pass fumble on the third play of the game and seconds later Presto Johnston plunged over for a touchdown. Joe Pasqua failed at the try for extra point.

From there on the Ponies had things their own way.

Jaycees And Scouts Usher At Grid Game

School officials Saturday expressed appreciation to the Junior Chamber of Commerce and to Eoy Stout troop 52 for assistance in ushering and seating spectators at the football game Friday night.

Jaycees and the scouts will be asked to assist at home games throughout the season. Principal Frank Monroe said.

New Dodge Cars Feature Beauty And More Power

Dodge enters its twenty-eighth new-model season with a line of cars of eye-filling beauty, incorporating an impressive list of operating advantages and economy innovations.

Broadly stated, the new Dodge line's major characteristics are: A new, undeniably more beautiful, exterior—completely restyled interiors—a new 105 h. p. engine transmitting its greater power through the Dodge All-Fluid Drive in a manner combining even faster acceleration with new fuel economy—new features promoting riding comfort and safety—and the provisions, as standard equipment, of a variety of construction and operating details which in former seasons were regarded as extras.

The entire line offers eleven vehicles; four of these are grouped in a deluxe series, and seven in a custom series. The deluxe series includes: 3-passenger coupe, 6-passenger club coupe, 2-door sedan, 4-door sedan. The group of custom models provides: 6-passenger club coupe, convertible coupe, brougham, 4-door sedan, town sedan, 7-passenger sedan, 7-passenger limousine. Viewed from the front, the new Dodge has a new, square-effect radiator grille of massive design. The gracefully tapered engine hood is top-hinged, opened only through pull buttons located below the instrument panel.

The headlamps are of an improved sealed-beam type, with smaller parking lights set below the main headlamps. The fenders are completely new, with harmoniously flowing lines merging into the body contours. Speed lines are provided by brightly finished moldings accenting front and rear fenders.

The interiors of the heat and sound-insulated bodies of the new Dodge are showing an attractive method of upholstering and trimming in which the materials are attached with a tailored effect. Upholstering materials is either broadcloth or pile fabric, according to purchaser's choice.

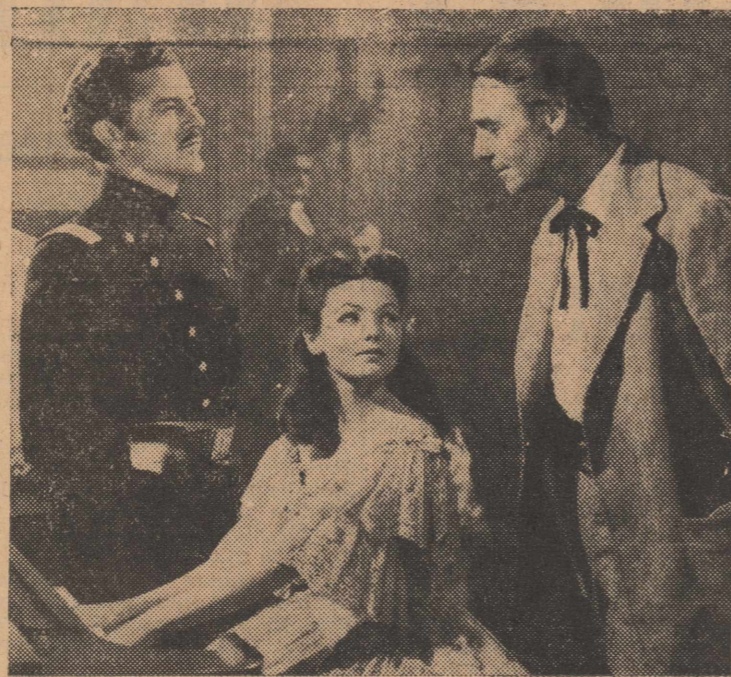

One point made by the Dodge people in connection with their new engine is that although it develops 105 h. p. as against the former 91 h. p., the greater output is achieved with notable gasoline economy. Extensive mileage tests are said to show that while the new engine furnishes 15 per cent more power, it gives its greater mileage on less gasoline and without calling for the use of other than "regular" brands of engine fuel.

Oklahoma Defeats Fighting Ags 19-0

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma unassisted a valiant Oklahoma Aggie football team with lightning charges Saturday, 19 to 0, after the Cowboys had picked themselves up from the dust to threaten their heavier foe with disaster for two quarters.

Calling on their vaunted speed, the Sooners struck with stunning abruptness in the first period, then with the same thunderbolt speed swept over with two more counters in the final period.

Louis Rules 5-12 Favorite To Beat Nova Monday Night

NEW YORK (AP)—Touching off a loaded sports week that has Pa Knickerbocker's children going around goggle-eyed, Joe Louis and Lou Nova tangle in the Polo Grounds at 9 p. m. (GST) Monday before what may turn out to be one of the top dozen fight crowds of all time.

Chortling over a combination of things that has brought the good days back to the business of bashing beaks, Promoter Mike Jacobs officially estimated Saturday he wouldn't be at all surprised if close to 60,000 customers chipped in to a gross gate within hog-calling distance of $600,000 to see what will be Louis' last fight for eight or nine months, possibly the last of his great career.

Senators Knock Out Gomez, Win Contest

NEW YORK (AP)—Lefty Gomez' chances of starting a world series game dropped suddenly Saturday as the Washington Senators routed him with four runs in the first inning and went on to beat the New York Yankees 4 to 3.

That Smart "Two-Piece" Look Is Deceptive

Jacket-Skirt Effect May Be One Or Three Pieces

The "two-piece look" is fashion-important this season. Some outfits really are in two pieces, some are cleverly designed to look like two. Typical of smart "real" two-piece New York creations seen recently at Belmont Park race track is that above. The frock is rough, tobacco-hued rabbit's hair and wool, the jacket brown and powder blue. Big plastic buttons are gray.

This dress is in one piece, but it achieves the desired "two-piece look." Three shades of grey are used. One in the stylish long-torso bodice, giving the effect of a jacket, two in the softly gathered skirt flounces. This wool frock was among the bright, colorful New York creations that vied for attention with the ponies at fashionable Belmont Park race track.

Race Track Style Parade Shows Fall Sports Idea

And here the two-piece effect (in three pieces!) combines with another very-1941-42 note, the wrap-around skirt, with fairly straight lines. It is of black wool. The separate jacket is Chinese yellow with Persian trim. The black crepe blouse is separate. John Fredericks designed the great flat-crowned felt with jersey snood.

Midland Is Clubwoman's Paradise, Offering Interests From Archery To Bridge, Sewing, And Service

Dozens Of Clubs Provide Guarantee Of 'Never A Dull Moment'

"The clubwoman's paradise"—that's what we'd call Midland if we were writing advertising instead of a newspaper feature article. Judging from the number and variety of clubs which abound here, the title wouldn't be misleading. A list of eighty-seven organizations fails to cover completely what might be termed the "club front."

The town is club-conscious and no woman need fail to be a club woman here if she desires to in that direction.

Whatever her interests, the newcomer to Midland (and there will be many this season) is almost certain to find a group pursuing those interests with enthusiasm.

If she belongs to a church she will probably find congenial workers in the denomination. Most of the organizations meet weekly.

Is she the studious type who would do without a new book? Then she should gravitate toward the study clubs of which there are seven. In addition there is the City-County Federation which includes both clubs and individual members. The study clubs are the Fine Arts, Woman's Wednesday Club, Junior Woman's Wednesday Club, Modern Study Club, Twentieth Century Study Club, Delphian Chapter, and Home Arts Club. Some, like the Woman's Wednesday Club organized in 1903, have been taking part in the life of the city for years; others have been in existence only a few years.

For Career Women. Young business girls will like Beta Sigma Phi Sorority with its combination of study and social interests. More mature business women will look to the Business and Professional Women's Club with its trend to community service.

If Mrs. New Citizen (or Mrs. Old-timer, for that matter) is entirely happy when she "sews a fine seam," she will find kindred souls among the group of sewing clubs—the Friday Needle Club, the Needle and Thimble Club, Needlecraft Club, Lorraine Sewing Club, So-Sun Club, and Knitting Club of Bundles for Britain, or As You Like It Club.

Legion is the word for the bridge clubs, some meeting at night, some in the afternoon, some for couples, dozens for women. Some are luncheon clubs, some dessert-bridge clubs, some just plain clubs. Suffice it to say they are in sufficient number to supply a group for most any woman who likes to concentrate on the intricacies of trumping, finessing, and other moves of the game. There were 32 on record in the society editor's books at the time this was written and by the time it goes to press another one or two may have sprung into existence. This number, of course, does not include four-somes.

Texas and Oklahomans who like 42 will find several clubs devoted to this game. Two are for couples, others for women.

Three dancing clubs provide recreation for their members and guests. Oldest of these is the Minuet Club. The Midland University Club was founded a few years ago by young college men. And the Midland Club was organized last year.

In addition, the Shell Club devotes some of its meetings to dances. Social Service Groups.

Any Midland woman who is inclined toward social or civic service will find her niche somewhere in the various organizations which function in the city.

Nurses or those interested in health work will welcome the opportunity afforded in the projects of the public health council on kindred groups and trained home economists will find their places in the county nutrition committee recently organized.

Mothers find an outlet for their desire to support the school and its efforts by working in one or more of the city's P.T.A.'s.

Home demonstration club work has enrolled some women residing in the city as well as those in rural communities.

The Red Cross sends out a constant appeal for workers and provides a workshop where cutting and sewing and knitting may be done or allows the workers to take the sewing to their own homes.

Bundles for Britain actively carries out a program of British aid, through benefit parties and donations and knitting.

Children's Service League carries on an extensive welfare service campaign.

The American Legion Auxiliary works in union with the Woods W. Lynch Post of the Legion.

Mothers and young matrons interested in girls' and boys' work serve as leaders and committee-women for Girl Scouts and as den mothers for the Cub Scouts among the boys.

The safety council attracts the services of a group of women as well as men who realize the problem traffic presents in Midland.

Others serve on the recreation committee, looking to proper amusement for citizens and the soldiers soon to be here.

For the politically-minded, there's the League of Women Voters.

For Hobbyists. But it is in the realm of special interests that the city really proves to be a happy hunting ground for the hobbyist. Anyone who has ambitions to be a modern William Tell will surely be drawn to the Archery Club which has a range in the southwest part of town.

For those who like to foregather with others of like mind and discuss the problems of lenses and timing, there's the Camera Club.

John D. Matthews To El Paso Position

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Matthews, who are leaving Midland for El Paso early in October, will be honored with an old-fashioned pounding in the recreational hall of the First Baptist Church, Sunday evening after the worship service.

Mr. Matthews, who has been music and educational director in the church here since February, has resigned to accept a similar position with the First Baptist Church in El Paso.

now has its own clubhouse where its members may repair to do their painting or hold social functions.

Musicians, both men and women, will find a congenial group in the Civic Music Club, which recently opened its new year's work.

The Civic Theatre provides outlet for the histrionic capacities of those who are lured by the smell of greasepaint and the glitter of footlights.

Milady who likes to dig in the flower beds and watch two blossoms grow where none was before will enjoy the monthly sessions of the Garden Club which is, we are told, to have a flower show late in October.

Men and women who enjoy lectures and cultural stimulants, welcome the opening of the Town Hall Club's season.

The wives of physicians have their part in the Medical Auxiliary which is organized over an area of several counties. Meetings are held monthly.

Firemen's wives are banded into the Firemen's Club.

University women have their branch of the Association of American University Women.

Lieut. Wm. Brewer Chapter is the focus of the activities of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Feminine golfers have the Women's Golf Association sponsoring weekly luncheons and meetings.

Young Marrieds Organize. Young married couples ingeniously took the first two letters of their group designation and called themselves the Yomaco Club. So popular was the title that a similar group in a nearby city asked permission to use the name, plus their city's name as a distinguishing mark.

Another young married group "went Spanish" in its title of Veinte Cinco. It meets weekly.

Delta Kappa Gamma, teachers' fraternity, attracts a number of Midland faculty members.

The Order of the Eastern Star and the Rebekahs carry on a regular program of work and projects.

Even the single girls grouped themselves into the Jolly Dozen to meet in fun-sessions. And school students, following the example of their elders, have created clubs of their own.

Surveying the club scene, it would seem that there's most every kind of club in Midland but a writer's club—and since there are several people in the city interested in writing, perhaps that will be the next organization. Here's hoping!

DEFENSE BOOM LEADS TO FAMILIES' EVICTION

MINEVILLE, N. Y. (UP)—Prosperity has created a paradox in this little Adirondack mining village. Sixty-one families have been evicted from their homes because of a defense boom in the steel industry.

The families were forced to move from houses built by the Republic Steel Corporation for families of its miners. None of the residents, some of whom lived in the company houses 30 years, worked at the mines, and expanding payrolls created a housing shortage for the miners.

Large Group Discusses School Lunch Project

Every PTA and every school in the city and county of Midland were represented in a meeting at the high school Thursday evening when the school lunch project was discussed.

Representatives were also present from Martin County schools, including ex-officio superintendent, Judge B. F. White.

A. A. Phillips, district commodity supervisor from the San Angelo office, explained the school lunch project as related to the use of surplus commodities. He pointed out that the surplus commodities are not sufficient for a full meal, so that other foods must be supplied by the sponsors of the project.

The lunch project is carried out through cooperation of the WPA and SMC which furnish the surplus commodities, the local school board which underwrites the project, and supplies a place, and the co-sponsor which is some organization such as a PTA or club, which supplies the extra equipment, the volunteer workers, and the other food supplies required.

Children eligible to participate in the benefits of the lunch through surplus commodities are those who show physical under-nourishment or are financially unable to pay. Children may pay in part or nothing according to their financial ability.

There is no segregation of the children according to ability or inability to pay.

Mrs. Priscilla D. Lyon, district 19 supervisor school lunch project, explained the operation of the lunch room. One paid WPA worker may be employed for each 35 children taking the lunch, she reported, and a district project supervisor could be assigned on the basis of the number of schools participating in the hot lunch project or the distribution of fruit.

Ten schools in the two counties of Martin and Midland are prepared to have a hot lunch and all other schools, including the city schools, can qualify for the partial-lunch, that is distribution of fruit and fruit juices, it was announced.

Prairie Lee School plans to open a hot lunch project immediately and Warfield school plans to serve the partial lunch.

The Army Influence

ERIK designed this all-black American military hat-and-bag ensemble for town-trotting chic. Drum major hat and the matching bag are trimmed with heavy cord and tassels.

Gen. Brant Praises Men Of Air Corps

RANDOLPH FIELD.—Major General Gerald C. Brant, now en route to command the Army's Newfoundland Base, praised the work of the Gulf Coast Air Corps Training Center which he commanded until ordered to this North Atlantic post by the War Department.

To all GCACTC officers, enlisted men, and civilian personnel at the various primary, basic, and advanced schools in the Southwest, General Brant said:

"Upon relinquishing command of the Gulf Coast Air Corps Training Center, I feel that I would be remiss in my duty if I did not express to all members of the command my sincere appreciation of the fine work which you have accomplished during the past year.

"The burden of building new schools and furnishing personnel for them as well as the unprecedented expansion of the existing schools has fallen heavily upon this training center."

City Records Refute Virginia Dare Belief

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (UP)—The oldest American city has produced records designed to show that Virginia Dare, of the famous Lost Colony of Roanoke, was not the first white child born in America.

Mrs. Katherine Lawson, historian for the St. Augustine Historical Society and Institute of Science, says that her research proved that a Spaniard by the name of Martin de Arzules was born in St. Augustine more than 20 years before the Dare child was born in 1587. Authority for the claims was derived primarily from the Woodbury Lowery collection of Florida manuscripts in the Library of Congress.

Elevates Tanham To Firm Officer

James Tanham, assistant to W. S. S. Rodgers, president of The Texas Corporation and The Texas Company, has been elected a vice president of both companies, Rodgers announced Saturday.

Torrey H. Webb, vice president and general manager of The Texas Company (California), was elected a vice president of The Texas Corporation.

Tanham, born in Brooklyn, New York, and educated in New York City, entered business as an office boy with a wholesale optical company and entered the service of The Texas Company in May, 1919, as a stenographer. He was made assistant to the president in 1933.

Webb, a native Californian, was graduated from the School of Mines, Columbia University in 1917 and became an engineer for the California Petroleum Corporation in 1926. In 1928 when the California Petroleum Corporation became the Texas Company (California), Webb was made assistant to the vice president of The Texas Company. In 1938 he became vice president and general manager and retains that position, but in addition, now becomes vice president of The Texas Corporation.

Farmers May Lose AAA Soil Benefits

Unless farmers of Midland County take steps at once to earn their maximum soil-building assistance, they will lose the opportunity to use money for improvement of the soil on their farms this year, W. M. Whitmire chairman of the county AAA committee announced.

Since the 1941 program ends Nov. 30th practices must be completed then if payment is to be received under the year's program.

Last year, farmers of Midland County failed to earn $6,360 of the soil-building assistance allowed under the AAA farm program, Whitmire said, while farmers of Texas fell short of earning the maximum by two and one-half million dollars.

Mother Studies Law, Practices With Son

DETROIT (UP)—Means & Means, attorneys at law.

That's been the dream of a mother and her son that is becoming a reality.

In the recent list of 159 persons who passed the Michigan bar examinations were the names of Annette T. Means, mother, and Cyril C. Means Jr., son.

Mrs. Means is 40, young-appearing, likes "cocktails, bridge and dancing." But these things "failed to fill her life." So she studied law with her son to "fit himself for further service to the world after rearing a family."

They both were graduated in the June law class at Wayne University. Cyril, the son, had the highest scholastic rating in the class and admits having tutored his mother.

DRUG STORE OF BANK FAME AT FORT PECK DAM CLOSED

FORT PECK, Mont. (UP)—The Fort Peck drug store, which was famed for the volume of its "banking" business during the town's boom, is closed.

During the peak of the Fort Peck dam operations, 10,000 men were employed and the store, because there was no bank here, cashed checks totaling more than $2,000,000 yearly. On day—Aug. 7, 1936—the store cashed $27,268 worth of checks. Additionally, the store issued its own money orders amounting to some $246,000 the same year, and also sold bus tickets and performed other services not otherwise available.

Missouri Counts Cotton Bales

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UP)—Missouri's 1941 cotton crop was estimated at 378,000 bales by the federal-state cooperative marketing service. The indicated yield per acre on Sept. 1 was 450 pounds.

Good Grooming Is Impossible Without Great Cleanliness

By Alicia Hart
NEA Service Staff Writer

The minute you begin to take your beauty seriously, you'll be more careful. And the very first object of your care may be those little things that banish any question about whether you ever give that suggestion of "un-showeredness."

So much has been said about body odors lately, that some people believe American women have become over-conscious of them. I don't doubt that those who tend to be self-conscious anyway may have. But others still neglect this really important beauty point: next to the daily bath, there's nothing so fundamental to civilized living as a deodorant. Thereby I say again, and I say it particularly to women who worry about this matter, get yourself a good anti-perspiration routine, practice, and forget.

A good anti-perspirant will not hurt anyone, and most women feel more comfortable nowadays when they use this grooming-aid at intervals, once a week at least. Then there's the deodorant. Outstanding manufacturers make these more tempting, now by adding a slight fragrance. A new one of this type smells good and clean (it's made largely of alcohol) and just barely sweet.

Of course, every meticulous woman changes her lingerie daily. It's so easy to rinse out those few wisps of clothes at night, especially now when you're paying more attention to rinsing out your stockings the moment you take them off.

Hang up your clothes, too, so that the garments will fall into their natural lines and keep that well-groomed look. Hats, shoes, and dresses should be aired before being put away. This goes especially for fall and winter, because clothes get musty just as quickly in closed warm rooms as in the heat of summer.

THEN YOU'LL NEVER WORRY

Remember your shoes should have their own shoe-trees put into them as soon as you shed them, so they can retake their shape while still warm from your feet. If you have it, drop a drop of cologne into your shoes, too, once in a while. If you do these things, the most accusing advertisement ever contrived will, at worst, amuse you.

OPERATION ENDS BLINDNESS THAT DATES FROM BIRTH

BRISTOL, Eng. (UP)—William Henry Massey was born blind 33 years ago, and when he met his bride he had never seen her and did not dare hope that he ever would.

He met Miss R. M. Weeks, a Bristol schoolteacher, four years ago. His home is at Oakfield Road, Bristol. He went into the hospital soon after their meeting for an unusual eye-operation. A cornea from someone else's eye was grafted to one of his own.

He did not know what the result would be, but when the bandages were taken off he found that he could see dimly.

Coming Events

MONDAY.

Midland League of Women Voters will have a luncheon at 12 o'clock in the Blue Room of Hotel Scharbauer, Monday, Miss Florence Kirlin will be guest speaker.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By William E. McKenney
America's Card Authority.
One of the funniest incidents at the national tournament at Asbury Park occurred at a table where an old gentleman had pulled up his chair to kibitz. Generally, kibitzing is not permitted at the national championships except in the arenas, but probably the tournament director did not want to be rude to the old fellow, or possibly he had not yet seen the kibitzer. Only one thing is certain—this kibitzer had never played in a tournament, as you will see from the jam he got into. He was sitting behind the North player. South opened the bidding with one spade, and North had a problem. With the ace and one spade, he cannot bid three spades, as that would indicate he had normal support. Two spades would be sign-off, and his hand is too strong for that. His hearts and diamonds are good, but five clubs to the eight—he hesitated.

One no trump would be a sign-off. While pondering whether to bid two clubs or two no trump, the old gentleman arose, thoroughly disgusted, and said, "You call these fellows experts! For five minutes he has been trying to figure out what to do, and all he has is a simple two no trump response, I'm going home."

A sequel to the story is that the declarer did not bid two no trump—he bid two clubs and the final contract was three no trump. But the club bid made it difficult for the opponent to open that suit, and as a result, three no trump was made. The opponents complained about the kibitzer's remark, but when they looked for Dad, he had gone home, convinced that the proper response was two no trump.

Declarer won the opening lead with dummy's king of diamond. Then he cashed the ace of spades and led another. East won and led the other diamond.

It is obvious, with all hands in sight, that if East had ever started

HIT-AND-RUN REVERSED

COLUMBUS, O. (UP)—It may be necessary for Ohio to make its 1943 automobile license plates from plastics if a shortage of steel threatens because of the defense program.

the clubs, the defenders could have cashed four clubs and declarer would still have had to lose a spade. But North's two-club bid effectively discouraged East from opening the suit at either opportunity.

MUSTANG BOYS' CLUB COLUMN

Answers to the last questions are as follows:

1. Of the animals, the rat is the worst enemy of man.
2. The only animal that really has to learn how to swim is the human being.
3. The famous boy who never grew up (fable) was Peter Pan.
4. The word SWIMS when turned upside down spells the same thing—SWIMS.
5. There are 13 fullmoons in a year.

Now for a few crazy questions about women.

1. What group of beautiful women never find it necessary to take a bath?
 2. What group of women have hypnotic voices?
 3. What alarming group of women live on an island all by themselves and feared neither man nor beast?
 4. What well known class of women can hold their breath for an amazing length of time?
 5. What astounding woman committed suicide by forcing a small but deadly snake to bite her?
- The first boy whose mother can answer these questions will be given three show tickets—one for his mother, one for his girl and one for himself. Your mother will be allowed to cheat a little and may seek information from friend or book.

We do not know just what day in October the Mustang Club will start the fall program. It is taking more time than expected to get everything ready for some fresh new fun. Some repair work is being done and some special features are planned for older boys. Basketball jerseys of different colors are being ordered in preparation for a boys basketball league. This will give high school boys some useful and interesting practice, before the official high school basketball season opens.

Anyone who is going places will want this youthful style — it's a dress for day and evening events when you want to look your most scrumptious. A swirling skirt is topped with a soft feminine bodice and the raised skirt line is emphasized with a detail of lacing right at the waistline. The neckline is low enough to need the ornamentation you like to wear — clips or a multi-strand necklace of pearls or colored beads.

LACE IN JAIL

CHAPTER XIX

THE police matron came into the block of cells a few moments after Judy had been placed there. She pulled the 10-watt bulb in Judy's cell, dimly lighting the drab iron cot with its brown blanket, the tin wash basin, the barred window pane that was too far from the cement floor.

The matron was a middle-aged woman, thin and small, and gray curls bobbed around her face and her mild blue eyes.

Now she smiled at Judy. "My, my, child, what a pretty dress," she enthused. "Most of our brides wear gingham or some kind of suits. Honest to goodness, you're the first one to be all dressed up like a paper angel. Did you get the worth out of the dress, dearie?"

"I never even was married," Judy's voice was gayer than it had been.

"Well, now that's a pity. A fine dress like that and the lace all tearin'."

The woman moved her head from side to side in sympathy. Judy examined the lace, too. It was hopelessly raveled. Even in its rundown state it still held its pride.

"My grandmother wore this dress," Judy said. "And my grandmother lived in the same red brick house for 51 years. She never thought her dress would be Exhibit A in the case of the People vs. her granddaughter. Or that it would take a jump out of an airplane."

"Child, you jumped?"

The woman's eyes widened, and she sat down on the rough brown blanket.

"Bailed out," Judy slid off her wedding veil. It was ruined beyond all mending. "Maybe you could trim a blouse with this." She tossed the shimmering lace to the small police matron.

Why she wanted to tell the policewoman her story she didn't know. Maybe because she wanted to straighten out its twisted threads in her own mind and a recital, well rounded, would make the parachute melodrama clear.

For the first time she realized that the whole thing was fantastic—the sort of thing that simply didn't happen to well-balanced, intelligent people. It seemed natural to Judy to present the facts in a light that shed quiet glory on Phil. Sandy had done the unforgivable, the unbelievable, heedlessly and hopelessly muddling two lives besides his own. As she spoke her voice sharpened with anger.

At the close of her story the woman stood up and placed a gentle hand on Judy's shoulder. "I know you're furious with him, dear, but just think of that poor young man up there by himself all night long. Honey," she nodded, "you can say what you please, but he must love you a lot more than most women ever get loved to do what he did. And I'm for him. Maybe I'm just romantic, but I'm sure for him."

Judy glanced out of the small upper window. The stars were out now, shining brightly in her corner of the sky. Then she whirled on the police matron.

"You think he's coward enough not to come down?"

"No, no, honey, but he'll work better if he isn't arrested. And I thought you hated him!"

"Oh, I do. I love Phil. He's—he's wonderful. If I wanted to marry him before, I want to marry him three times more now."

Even while she spoke she wondered why she had called Philip wonderful. It was such an ordinary word. Any girl could describe any man with it and mean it.

"Well, darling, here's a nice, neat, brown calico that will carry through till morning when the court sends for your stuff. There's a pitcher of cold water and a wash cloth and towel. If you want anything else just ring. You've got the whole women's quarters to yourself tonight." She smiled again, opened and locked the door, and her overrun heels hobbled away.

A little wind came from somewhere and ran along the window. Judy's throat hurt. Her eyes were misty. She wanted to be at home, hearing friendly, laughing voices, knowing that marriage was a roof, a shelter, feet on smooth, thick-carpeted floor.

She had been a fool, but she had landed safely. From now on she was safe. No more rainbow ladders across white clouds, no more bridges made from stars, no more wings.

The cot was hard and uncomfortable. Because she could not sleep she remembered, looking at the dark blue window. Were all windows made from memories? Were nights supposed to be a place, a stopping place, for something that once had been lovely, something drab with time's passage?

When memories were done, those in which Phil and Sandy both moved, she caught her thoughts and pushed them together firmly behind a mental door.

IF Sandy really cared for her, why didn't he offer himself in her place? For a moment she had thought that he had cared. How did he know that she made a successful jump?

She began to think. There was to be a cross-country flight next week. Sandy had registered for it and paid the $1000 entrance fee. She wondered how he had got it. Maybe from Peg's father.

And yet... Sandy twice in the past winter had let her steer for a moment, his hand above hers. The earth had fallen away above the silver sea and she had aimed at a white, light trek that led to the moon.

Well, here she was. "Honey-moon suite," she murmured.

It was later, much later, that she awakened. For a frightened moment she wondered where she was. Her back ached from the mattress on the iron cot. She was cold, too, for the prickly blanket had slipped to the floor. She felt the white silk slip, the gossamer underthings that she was wearing.

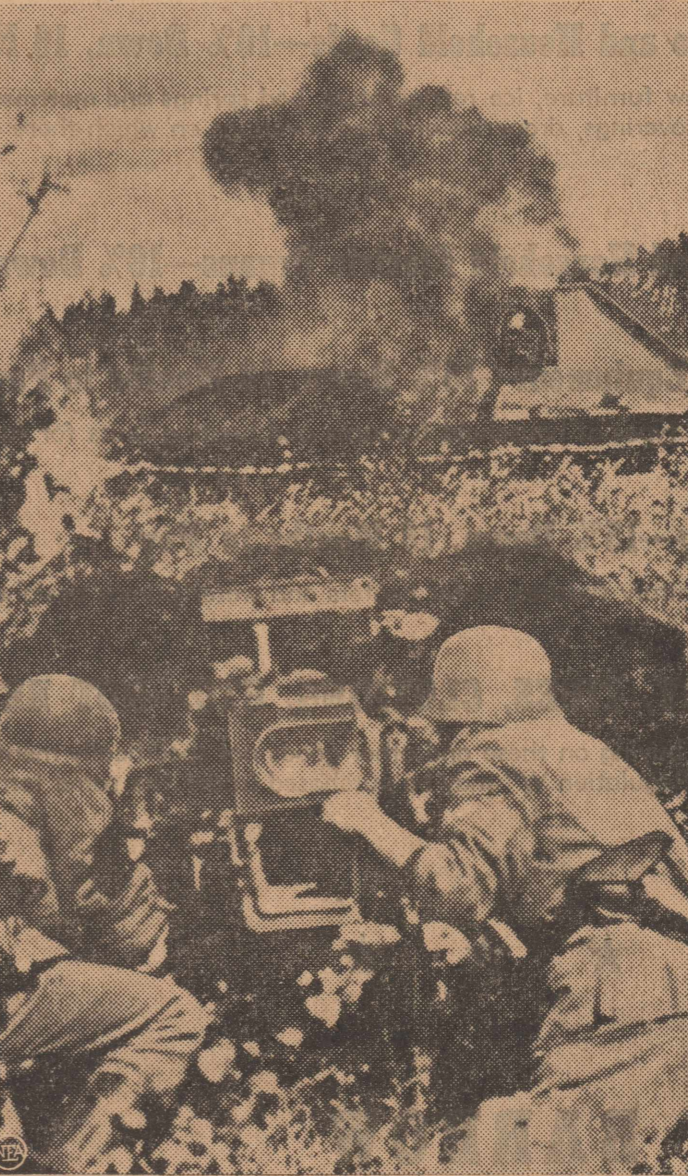

The police matron stumbled sleepily along the corridor. "Miss Allen, a young man says he has to see you. A fine young man, Faith, if I was younger and hadn't buried my third, I'd make up a dress with lace and catch his eye myself."

"But how did he know that I'm here?" Dear Phil, grand Phil. She should have known he would come.

"May I really see him?" she asked, reaching for the billowing brown calico.

MOTHER FORGETS PLACE WHERE PRAM WAS PARKED

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Mrs. Loretta Lenkul's parking troubles were a thousand times more agonizing than usual because it was not her car but her baby carriage with 5-month-old Dennis inside.

She parked the pram outside a store. She shopped. She came out and shopped in another store. Then she shopped elsewhere. She came back to store No. 1—at least she thought it was — and Dennis was not there.

The police rushed a squad car, she leaped inside, and they fine-combed the entire district. Finally they spotted Dennis right where he had first been parked.

HERE ARE THE FACTS ABOUT THE NEW FEDERAL REGULATIONS GOVERNING TIME PAYMENT BUYING

You Can Still Buy On Favorable Terms

.... ANYTHING which has commonly been sold on time payments

To insure the economic welfare of our nation under the National Defense Plan, the government has established regulations for time payment buying. These regulations are entirely reasonable and apply only to articles containing metals and materials essential to the national defense. Many commodities, such as wearing apparel, are not affected at all. The effect on ordinary purchases is so slight that most buyers will hardly notice any change in the credit system at all. To clear up any confusion with regard to credit changes, the institutions of Midland whose names appear below present here a brief summary of the new regulations of minimum down payment and maximum length of time as they apply to common articles of merchandise.

Furniture and Household Goods—10% Down, 18 Months to Pay

Includes new furniture, ice refrigerators, bed springs and mattresses, but excludes floor coverings, wall coverings, draperies and bed coverings on which there are no federal credit restrictions.

Pianos and Household Electric Organs—10% Down, 18 Months to Pay

Heating Equipment—15% Down, 18 Months to Pay

Includes all types of household furnaces and heating units for furnaces.

Plumbing—15% Down, 18 Months to Pay

Includes sanitary fixtures, water heaters and water pumps designed for household use.

JEWELRY, TIRES, CLOTHING, ETC.—NOT RESTRICTED

Installment buying on these and other goods not specifically mentioned above or in the "Supplement to Regulation W" may be purchased under the same terms as before September 1st.

Home Appliances—20% Down, 18 Months to Pay

Includes mechanical refrigerators, washing machines, ironers, vacuum cleaners, gas and electric stoves and ranges, heating stoves and space heaters, electric dishwashers, room-unit air conditioners, sewing machines, radios, phonographs and combinations.

Automobiles—33 $\frac{1}{3}$ % Down or Your Old Car Accepted by Dealers as Part or All of Down Payment, 18 Months to Pay

Includes new or used passenger cars, taxi cabs, motorcycles and any 2 or 3-wheel motor vehicles. Financing is available through regular channels of all finance companies.

CONSUMER CREDIT

Government regulations on consumer credit have not materially changed the policies of financing institutions. Automobiles, for example, can still be purchased on more favorable terms than several years ago. The only restriction on private loans under $1,000 is that they must be repaid within 18 months.

Musical Instruments—20% Down, 18 Months to Pay

Includes saxophones, trumpets and similar instruments composed principally of metal.
