Fifty Are Hurt In Mishap Near Dunkirk, Ohio

Accident Occurs When Passenger Runs Into Loose Cylinder Head

By The Associated Press KENTON, O. — A passenger train, thundering through the night between 60-70 miles an hour, was derailed by a cylinder head blown off a freight train and piled up into a mass of twisted steel near Dunkirk. Twelve were listed Monday as dead. About 50 were injured.

Engineer R. S. Schuler of Fort Wayne, one of the 48 persons to survive the wreck of the Pennsylvania railroad's "Pennsylvania," said "something went wrong" just after he passed the freight train on his Chicago-New York run. He recalled faintly seeing a man with a flashlight.

In Chicago, H. E. Newcomet, vice president of the railroad, said the cylinder from the freight train blew out and onto the adjoining track and before there was time to flag it, the Pennsylvania, moving at high speed on the east bound track, struck the damaging cylinder head, derailed and turning over.

Passengers were tossed helter-skelter out of the seats and berths and into the near-freezing temperatures. Wreckage was strewn along the railroad in the little community 10 miles north of here.

A control tower at the intersection of the Pennsylvania and New York Central lines was wrecked by the train, but two occupants leaped to safety. Tangled pulleys and coaches blocked both lines.

Speeding along at better than 60 miles an hour, the train's locomotive suddenly began swaying back and forth as it approached the crossing, said Roy Schwartzkopf, tower operator. Five of the eight cars upset. Only one remained on the rails.

Victims In Third Coach The "Pennsylvania" was the newest train on this division of the Pennsylvania, making its first run Sept. 28.

Most of the victims apparently were passengers in the third coach back of the locomotive. It literally was split and flung apart.

Several bodies were tossed from the coach along the right-of-way, said Guy Davis of Chicago, who was riding in a club car farther back.

John Swartzkopf of Chicago, a passenger, said that he and other persons in a club car remarked that they thought the train was "running irregularly" after it left Lima, O., 25 miles west of Dunkirk.

He described it as feeling "like something hard was on the track." Kenton's two hospitals were so overloaded with injured that all doctors and nurses in the city reported for duty in treating the injured.

Take Injured To Depot A relief train, made up at Crestline, O., was sent to the accident to take passengers to meet another train in Pittsburgh.

The crash occurred on the western edge of Dunkirk. The control tower was splintered but miraculously Schwartzkopf and Buckley Harris, his assistant, crawled out unhurt.

Schwartzkopf said the locomotive veered from the rails just before it passed the tower. The first car of the train jolted on past the locomotive. The second car rammed into the engine and was smashed badly.

Injured and dead alike were taken into Dunkirk's little wooden depot. Ambulances summoned from all neighboring communities hurried the injured to hospitals, and then returned for the dead who were laid side by side on the floor of the depot.

Engineer Schuler escaped with a broken leg, but his fireman, J. L. Gephart of Fort Wayne, was killed.

German Offensives Encircle Leningrad As Step Against Finns Pulling Out Of War

By The Associated Press Leningrad, which Adolf Hitler boasted he could storm and capture whenever he wanted to, was being encircled Monday by two wide-swinging encirclement offensives of the Germans—a bit of grand strategy dictated apparently by the chance that Finland might step out of the war before Hitler is ready.

The Hitler command announced capture of the important traffic junction of Tikhvin, about 100 miles southeast of Leningrad, by a force moving across the Leningrad-Moscow communications zone.

The other arm of the offensive, from the northeast over Karelian approaches won by the Finns, was disclosed in advices reaching London. The Germans were not talking much about this phase of the campaign, but it came as a sequel to a suggestion from the United States that Finland make a separate peace with Russia.

A DNB dispatch reaching London Monday said the Finnish government's reply was expected within a few days.

The capture of Tikhvin, on the night of Nov. 8, the Germans said, was the result of a surprise attack and gave the attackers "numerous prisoners and large booty."

The captives were part of 20,000 reported taken on the northern front since Oct. 16, raising the total for the war so far to 3,632,000, according to the Nazi statistics.

More than 1,000 miles south of Leningrad, German troops and their Rumanian comrades volleyed and thundered against the Russian defenses of Sevastopol, big Red fleet bases at the tip of the Crimean Peninsula—the setting which produced the storied charge of the light brigade in the second Crimean war.

The Germans said they were blasting an ever-widening breach between the Russians defending Sevastopol and those clinging to the narrow approaches to Kerch, to the northeast, sought by the Germans as a jump-off point for a thrust into the Caucasus.

The Moscow front appeared to be static but a London source said there was "heavy fighting and stubborn resistance" by the Russians in both the Leningrad and Moscow sectors. This source added that the Germans had failed thus far to pierce the outer defenses of Sevastopol.

That port city was reported under aerial and land bombardment on a 24-hour schedule. Kerch likewise was being pounded from the air.

The regular mid-day communique of the Russians, typically cryptic, said that fighting continued through the night all along the front but no specific mention was made of the Crimea where fierce combat had been acknowledged.

The Moscow radio, saying German reserves were moving up again before the Soviet capital, forecast a renewal of the Central Front drive soon and added: "Our troops are ready."

Behind The Headlines

By DeWitt MacKenzie

Herr Hitler's challenge to Britain to go ahead and try a land invasion of Western Europe is a safe form of defiance.

He knows perfectly well that an English attempt at this juncture, while he is still strong and fully prepared along the coast, would be courting disaster. At best, an attack in either direction—by the British against the continent or by the Nazis against England—would represent one of the most difficult military-naval operations of all time.

There's small likelihood Britain will be able to stage a successful land invasion of Western Europe unless and until the Nazi chief is bordering on collapse—or so it seems to me.

If Hitler with all his power hasn't been able to achieve invasion in England's weakness, what chance has Britain to do it while the Fuehrer still has superior strength?

Napoleon Didn't Try It

Is there a friendly breeze that will wait a British armada of transports lightly over the treacherous cross-currents of the channel, and yet keep the Germans from sailing to England? Or can John Bull pull out of his hat some magic invasion formula which is denied to the most powerful fighting machine in history?

The British will try invasion in due course, and so will Hitler, if there is any sort of fighting chance for success. However, you're safe in betting that if and when John Bull gets an army ashore, it will be after Hitler's forces have been weakened to the point of dissolution.

Napoleon was too smart to try it. Hitler has been too smart to try it thus far.

Churchill Declares Britain Will Follow United States Into Fight Against Japanese Immediately

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House rules committee cleared the way Monday for final House action Thursday on sweeping revision of the Neutrality Act to permit the government to arm American merchant ships and send them into combat zones and belligerent ports with one democratic committee member declaring that the nation was "being led to the slaughterhouse."

The committee agreed unanimously, members said, to limit debate to eight hours.

Rep. Cox (D-Ga.) of the committee asserted while he believed the United States was already in the war, "the country is in no mental attitude to go to war and we are being led to the slaughterhouse."

He demanded that the administration act to prevent defense strikes and said "Congress should put its foot down" on measures like the neutrality amendments "until the President does something about labor."

"We have an opportunity to test out the administration as to whether it is ever going to do anything about the gangsters who are sabotaging defense," Cox continued.

See Opportunity For Japanese And U. S. Adjustment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two members of the Senate foreign relations committee—Thomas (D-Utah) and Capper (R-Kan)—voiced the opinion Monday differences between this country and Japan could be adjusted in the forthcoming conversations between State Department officials and Saburo Kurosu, the special Japanese envoy.

The talks are scheduled to begin next week and Kurosu already has been reported pessimistic about their chances for success. The special envoy is en route here by Pacific Clipper, bringing with him Tokyo's formula for removal of the existing sources of friction between the two nations. This formula, the Japanese press has been hinting, may be something in the nature of an ultimatum.

Neither Thomas—who is regarded as a Senate authority on Japanese-American relations—nor Capper had any idea that this government would give diplomatic ground to Kurosu. They agreed in separate interviews, however, that Japan was in no position to undertake war against the United States over differences that could be settled amicably.

On the other hand, Senator Norris (Ind-Neb) declared that it should not matter to this country what Kurosu had to say about Pacific problems.

"Japan has an agreement with Germany, and Germany is urging Japan against us," Norris told reporters. "I have thought for a long time that our first real trouble may come in the Pacific—that we might have to fight first against Japan. We certainly can not let Japan tell us what to do."

Casts Doubt On U. S. Chances Of Preserving Peace

By The Associated Press LONDON — Declaring bluntly "we do not know whether the efforts of the United States to preserve peace in the Pacific will be successful," Prime Minister Churchill declared Monday.

"If the United States should become involved in war with Japan, the (British) declaration would follow within the hour."

The war, Churchill warned, "may soon spread to the remaining fourth of the globe."

The Prime Minister stated that the British air force now "is at least equal in size and number, not to speak of quality, to German air power."

He pointed this out in citing the improvement in Britain's position in the war in the last year.

"Now," he said, "a large part of the United States Navy, as Col. Knox has told us, is constantly in action against the common foe, and Russia is aiding in the fight against Germany."

Churchill issued the warning in an address at the Lord Mayor's luncheon in an annual ceremony marking the induction of a new Lord Mayor of the city of London.

Loudly cheered when he arose to speak, Churchill declared London was carrying on the traditional festivals even though "this year our ancient Guild Hall lies in ruins."

Churchill asserted that "it would be rather dangerous" for Japan "to provoke gratuitously a struggle with the United States" in view, among other things of the importance of steel in modern war and the difference in the two nations' steel production.

Turning to the war in Europe, Churchill declared that "all the usual signs and symptoms already are manifest" that a "peace offensive" may come from Berlin, but he asserted "however long and hard the toll may be, Britain will never enter into any negotiations with Hitler or any party in Germany which represents the Nazi regime."

Churchill said he was taking the luncheon as "the occasion to say—as it is my duty to say—that should the United States become involved in war with Japan, the British declaration would follow within the hour."

The Prime Minister said that "the United States' time-honored interests in the Far East are well known," and added that "they are doing their utmost to find a way of preserving the peace in the Pacific."

Of the lease-lend bill Churchill declared: "Never let us again hear the taunt that money is the ruling thought and power in the hearts and thoughts of American Democracy. The lease-lend bill must be regarded without question as the most unsordid act in the whole of recorded history."

British Air Raiders Pound German Industrial City With Fire Bombs And High Explosives In Big Attack

LONDON (AP)—Britain's great air offensive against Germany and German-occupied territories, begun Friday night with the mightiest attack of the war, continued virtually without let-up over the weekend and was concentrated Sunday night on the big northwestern industrial city and port of Hamburg.

The city was plastered with high explosives and fire bombs by big RAF bombers, the air ministry said.

The raid was the 44th that British planes have made on the important port and second-largest city of Germany since the war began and informed sources called it "successful."

Hamburg was attacked for two hours, the air ministry said, and "everything went according to plan." Rivers and waterways marked the route, and docks and the industrial quarters of the city could be clearly seen, a bulletin said.

"The crews were able to observe bursts of high explosive bombs and watched large fires take a good hold among the docks and in the town," said the announcement. "Clouds of smoke were seen above the flames. The enemy kept up constant patrols of night fighters. The crew of one bomber alone saw more than six fighters, but there were few interceptions and no checks in the attack."

German planes apparently flying singly were reported over Eastern England in the morning and over Northeastern England in the afternoon.

Navy Threatens To Operate Jobs

By The Associated Press A decision of AFL craftsmen to call 3,500 men off $35,000,000 of naval projects in the San Diego, Calif., area Monday ran squarely into a Navy threat that it would take over the jobs if necessary.

The dispute started as a strike in support of wage increase demands by workers employed at a Federal Works Agency demountable housing project, the naval training station, the marine corps rifle range and Camp Elliott, auxiliary marine base.

The Navy proposed to let the contractors import labor to complete the jobs and the general strike call followed.

This involves construction of barracks, hangars and other facilities at the naval station, main marine corps base, the navy's rear airfield, destroyer base, radio station and destroyer graving dock.

Farmers Sign Pledge Sheets In Campaign To Increase Products

Signing of pledge sheets by Midland County farmers and producers got underway Monday in the Food-for-Freedom campaign.

Pledges signed at the AAA offices in the courthouse, are included in the 1942 farm plan sheet which will be used in mapping out the AAA program on individual farms. M. W. Whitmire, chairman of the Midland County USDA defense board, said County quotas for Midland in the Food-for-Freedom campaign include: 9,200,000 pounds of milk; 287,000 dozen eggs; 10 per cent increase in hogs for market; 18 per cent increase in number of beef cattle marketed.

"Farmers should remember that the signing of the production pledge is not the most important phase of the Food-for-Freedom campaign," Whitmire said. "It is the follow through, delivering the goods that will make the difference."

Midland vs. Lamesa

The "one-man" team from the South Plains—the Lamesa high Tornadoes—come blowing into Midland Nov. 11 to engage the down but not counted out Bulldogs in a 3-AA conference holiday classic. Gus White, Jr., 165-pound speedster, is the mainspring of the Lamesa grid machinery. He is among the conference's leading scorers. He is 95 per cent of the Tornado offensive. White is elusive and a great climax runner. He has run wild most of this season and is one of the most feared open field dashers in the state. Midland has plans to stop White, who has led his team to a .500 per cent rating in eight games this season. The Tornadoes beat Tahoka, 32-0; licked San Antonio Edison, 20-0; nudged Odessa, 14-13; blasted Big Spring, 20-7; lost by only 14-27 to mighty Sweetwater; and dropped decisions, 0-12 and 0-6 respectively to San Angelo and Abilene. They lost to Plainview 0-12 in the early season. When White was right, the Tornadoes won; when he wasn't they lost. So Midland has a date with a galloping gazelle Armistice Day and many Permian Basin football fans will be looking on.

Another Armistice Day Finds Democracy's Torch Glowing

The torch of liberty, freedom and true democracy burns on—twenty three years after the valiants of the first World War flung it into the hands of all the people who would live on . . . for safe keeping. We must not break that trust. The most turbulent storm shall not put out the light. Our way—the democratic way of living—must go on. Let us not forget, Americans, that we are the torch-bearers whose hands can still keep Liberty shining brightly, however dark this present night might be.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By William E. McKenney
America's Card Authority
 Personally, I have never favored artificial slam conventions. Although they are used entirely too often and they are used entirely too often and under the wrong circumstances.

The "V. V." slam convention is a combination of the four-five no trump and the Blackwood. A free bid of four no trump calls for varied responses, depending upon the agreed playing suit of the partnership.

When the agreed playing suit is clubs, response as follows, using the four-five no trump convention:

- Without an ace, five clubs.
- With one ace only, bid five-odd of the suit of the ace (but if the ace is clubs, you must bid six clubs).
- With two aces, bid five no trump.
- With three aces, bid six no trump.

When the agreed playing suit is diamonds, hearts or spades, response as in the Blackwood convention—no ace, five clubs; one ace, five diamonds; two aces, five hearts; three aces, five spades; four aces, five no trump.

Now in the "V. V." system, if your response showed one ace and the four no trump bidder then bids five no trump, he wants definite information regarding your ace, and this is the way you give it to him.

If the agreed suit is diamonds, a bid of six clubs shows a minor suit ace, while a bid of six diamonds shows a major suit ace.

If the agreed suit is hearts, a response of six clubs after five no trump shows the ace of clubs; six diamonds shows the ace of diamonds; six hearts shows either the ace of hearts or the ace of spades.

If the agreed suit is spades, the response to five no trump is six-odd of the suit of which you hold the ace.

If you want to stop at five no trump when one or more aces have been shown, bid as follows: If the agreed suit is clubs and six clubs was not bid, bid five no trump. This does not call for a further response from your partner. If the agreed suit is diamonds, hearts or spades, bid any suit that does not make sense—in other words, bid a suit that has not been bid previously by any partnership.

MUSTANG BOYS' CLUB COLUMN

It's not too often that a big bunch of friendly boys has a chance to show their patriotism. We Mustangs have that chance Tuesday morning when the Armistic Day parade starts moving through the streets of our fair little city of Midland. Lets drop everything, no matter that it is, and grab this chance. Be Johnny on the spot at 9 a. m. Bring yourself and boy who belongs to no club, and if you have it, also an old broom. Not a Mustang on the side-lines—we hope.

This asks partner to bid five no trump, as the original bidder cannot bid five no trump when the suit is diamonds, hearts or spades because he would be asking for additional information.

Besides there's a lot of fun with it too. We want you to help us hang Hitler during this parade and then put him in a strange coffin. Watch us take the "hit" out of "Hitler."

Then, right after the parade, some friends are treating us to about all the fresh doughnuts and hot chocolate we can surround. You can't miss the "Battle of Doughnuts." You can't lose this battle if you are in the parade and have a good stomach.

Remember—the place is at the Mustang Club. The time is Tuesday morning at nine.

AND THEN A SCREAM— BUT IT WAS ONLY A CAT

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—The telephone operator saw the light flash and asked:

"Number please." There was no reply for almost a half hour and then she heard a scream.

A quick call to police headquarters and two radio cars sped to the scene, a butcher shop. They aroused butcher Leo Leonardo, who lived next door, and then with their hands on their guns four policemen broke in Sunday night.

The receiver was off the telephone hook, but the room was empty—except for a cat.

"Now I remember," Leonardo said, "I locked in the cat and forgot to give her her liver."

INDIAN LEADER JOINS AXIS FOR INVASION

DELHI, India (AP) — Subhas Chandra Bose, famous Indian political leader and head of the left wing of Mohandas Gandhi's all-India congress party, "has gone over to the enemy" and is now believed to be in Rome or Berlin, the government announced Monday.

A statement made at a session of the council of state said that Bose signed a pact with the Axis designed to lead to an invasion of India congress party, "has gone over India.

It is no trick at all to make this attractive frock for home wear. Simply join the skirt (when darted through the top to give that slim torso effect) to the full cut bodice, attach the flattering collar, set in the sleeves, add pockets, side sashes and buttons and your frock is ready. You'll wear it with pleasure always for it is designed to fit comfortably. The long skirt line will add inches to your height and the smoothness at the waistline is definitely slenderizing.

SERIAL STORY

FOR THE LOVE OF PETE!

BY BURTON BENJAMIN

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Team captain George Landers, State coach Dinty Dugan and Anne Humphreys were at star footballer Pete Laird's strange behavior. For the second time in a few days he stands up Anne, his college sweetheart, and seems to be infatuated with Hollywood star Stephanie Stevens. Pete drops out of sight for 24 hours, and George, accurately guessing that he is with Stephanie, finally declares to Anne the love he has had for her during the years he has been Pete's best friend. Both feel Pete has let them—and the team—down. Pete, his head turned by Stephanie's attentions and compliments, does not realize she has attached herself to him purely for his publicity value.

DUGAN HOLDS HIS TEMPER

CHAPTER VII

PETE LAIRD'S flight to the west jolted the serenity of University Town at noon Wednesday. Metropolitan papers hit the streets and shrieked the flamboyant story of his exodus.

Pithily brief was the yarn. Just a picture: Scene—Chicago railroad station, Pete and Stephanie in close embrace front and center. Pose—admirable, her feet off the ground, both arms clasped around his neck. Details—terse but pointed.

BROTHER, DOES STATE HAVE A FOOTBALL TEAM!

Lack-a-day and ho-hum! What is this nonsense called football practice? Teams like State don't waste their time with such details. Proof? Here's Pete Laird, State's All-American must-order, interrupting a hectic week with a brief Chicago sojourn. He arrived Tuesday night. Sharing the dinch is Stephanie Stevens, Hollywood wow.

Accidents Over Week-End Take Lives Of Seven

By The Associated Press
Seven persons died of accidents in Texas over the week-end; three as the result of escaping gas, one of drowning and three in traffic accidents.

Mrs. Hobart Brace, wife of the foreman of the Hedgecock Ranch (near Amarillo) and her two children, Dorothy, 5, and Buddie, 2, died of gas fumes from a heater left burning during a cold wave.

Mrs. Charles Marsalis, 43, of Houston was killed and six persons were injured, five seriously, in a head-on collision between Houston and Beaumont.

Ernest L. Jacobs, 40, grocer of Highlands, was drowned in Oyster Bayou after he fell from a boat.

Mrs. Corinne Boss, 43, of Dallas, died of injuries she suffered in falling from a fast-moving automobile.

Mrs. F. U. Rommer, 28, of McKinney, was killed in a head-on collision four miles north of Vickery, near Dallas. Five others were seriously injured.

Britain Destroys Two Axis Convoys

LONDON (AP)—A staggering blow to the Axis' efforts to keep an open Mediterranean supply line to North Africa was claimed by the British Monday as they rejoiced over the admiralty's announcement that two Axis convoys of 10 ships and one Italian guardian destroyer were destroyed.

King George himself rewarded the commander of that action, under-estimating what the admiralty, usually matter-of-fact and slow to speak, called a "brilliant and determined action" by four British warships which rushed in to attack in the face of more and heavier Italian ships, finished the job and reached port without so much as a scratch.

The king, it was announced, has made Capt. W. G. Agnew a commander of the order of the bath for the feat of the two destroyers and two cruisers he commanded in the action.

Make Building Ready For Midland Soldiers

The J. J. Willis building, 213 Main St., was being made ready Monday for a recreation center to serve soldiers of the Provisional Searchlight Battalion opening Tuesday.

Recreation leaders issued a request to citizens for ping-pong tables, chairs, settees, a piano, card tables, and games to equip the center.

A dance is planned this week-end. The building may not be ready for an Armistice Day dance.

Sam Spears, WPA recreation director, and Mrs. D. E. Carter, chairman of the Midland recreational council, are in charge of preparing the center.

will pack 'em in the stands from now on!"

THERE was a knock. "Come in," snapped Dugan.

"Hello, Coach." It was Pete Laird, suitcase in hand, looking not at all apologetic.

Dugan nodded to Lester and the assistant exited without a word. "Sit down, Laird," said Dugan.

"I'll stand." They glared at each other before Pete spoke again. "Before you go into a song and dance, Coach, I didn't come here to cry on your shoulder. I'm not sorry about what I did. I'd do it again if I had a chance. That's my private business, and I don't care to argue about it."

Dugan gripped the arms of his chair. He wanted to get up and kick this insolent kid out of his office, but something warned him to sit there and stay cool.

"Go ahead," he said, sitting back and folding his hands under his chin. "Go ahead and say your piece."

"Your business is running a football team," Pete continued. "That's all you're interested in. You can give that rah-rah State baloney to the sophomores. I've been around too long for that. If you leave me alone, I'll play better football for you than I ever did. I'll be helping myself and helping you. But if you try to make this a Boy Scout troop, you'll be cutting your own throat. Suit yourself."

Dugan sat quietly for a full minute. Was this Pete Laird, modest kid who used to come out of a game and ask nervously, "Was that all right, Mr. Dugan?" Dugan didn't blink an eyelash.

"O. K. Pete," he said, standing up, "let's shake on it."

"That evening George Landers bolted into the ever-crowded Delt House hallway, walked up to Anne Humphreys and crushed her in his arms. They were alone—the room full of people was out of their world. "You're mine now, darling," Landers said huskily.

THIRTY-SEVEN squad boys moved to a hinterland country club Friday to get away from University Town's pre-game bustle. Alumni poured into the town for the Northwestern game. A capacity crowd was predicted. Press reservations carried an imposing corner on the sports writing fraternity. And the magnet that drew them was the magic name of Laird.

Pete roomed alone at the club that night, the first time in three years he had been separated from Landers.

Game time Saturday brought the same tightening of the crowd, the giddiness and quickening of the pulse Pete had experienced as a sophomore.

Dugan scorned long locker room tirades. "Open up early," he directed. "Get these guys in a hole. Reverses and spinners, George," he nodded to Landers. "All right—on your feet—go to work!"

A cacophony of sound roared in their ears as they jogged out. "State! State!" chanted the crowd. Opening day at home, and the crowd was for them.

Northwestern, brawny and capable, came storming out on the field. Obviously the opposing eleven was hopped up for this game.

Landers won the toss and elected to receive. The crowd was tense as they lined up.

Pete Laird moved his legs, keeping loose. Whistle—kickoff—and the ball spun out of bounds. Northwestern was taking no chances of a runback. Their scouts had warned them about that California game. State's ball on their own 35.

First play and Landers called a tricky one. The ball came back to Mike Tullio, fullback. Pete cut behind him, Tullio shovel-passed the ball and Pete set sail around end Joey Anderson had pulled from his guard position to block. Dan Hallows, the wing back, and Landers were also clearing up ahead. Past the line of scrimmage Pete tore, cutting back sharply toward mid-field.

One of the Wildcats lunged at him, but Laird shook him off. Another crouched ahead, waiting for him to feint. But he plowed on, bowled over him and kept moving. He was on the 30 now, one more white jersey to get by.

He faked the Northwestern safety man out of position, cut sharply to the left and turned on the steam. He was away and over. Forty-five seconds had elapsed and State had scored. The crowd screamed his name as he touched the ball down and trotted back to meet his teammates.

Close observers might have noticed that no State player rushed up to him and slapped him on the back.

And if the fans could have listened in on the State huddle when the men lined up before the extra point, they would have heard Pete Laird sneer: "Lucky thing for Northwestern I'm not in shape," and then look up at his teammates and laugh loudly. Too loudly.

Tornadoes Have Edge In Weight Over Clark Club

Midland's Bulldogs will be outweighed by the Lamesa Tornadoes in the Armistice Day football game between the two schools here at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday on Lackey Field.

Hundreds of South Plains fans are expected to follow the Tornadoes here for the game and to join the Armistice celebration.

Crippled by the loss of players by injuries and scholastic ineligibility, the Bulldogs will be underdogs as in every game this season. Lamesa has a 500 percentage rating and Gus White, Jr.

The Bulldogs will be scrapping for the homefolks in the first day of game this season. They engaged in a practice game Friday and several backs sparkled, including Ivan Hall and Docie Foster. The linesmen opened gaping holes for them.

Lufkin Eleven And Sweetwater Meet Tough Holiday Foes

By The Associated Press

Two of the state's unbeaten powerhouses march against major barriers toward district championships in a brisk round of schoolboy football games on the Armistice Day schedule.

Mighty Lufkin, the piney woods juggernaut, plays at Nacogdoches and the winner will become top-heavy favorites for the District 12 title although Henderson still is undefeated in conference play.

Sweetwater's Mustangs, undefeated and untied, face Odessa at Sweetwater in a game regarded as the pay-off battle of District 3.

Odessa, beaten but once and that by Lamesa, which gave Sweetwater a hectic night, could move into a tie for the leadership by batting down the Mustangs.

There also are big doings in the Panhandle where Pampa plays at Plainview and Borger at Amarillo.

Three teams stand in the way of the Amarillo Golden Sandies in the rush to the District 1 flag and Pampa, already defeated by Lubbock and Plainview, which has not been beaten, are two of them.

Other games scheduled Tuesday include:

District 3—Big Spring at San Angelo, Abilene at Colorado City, Lamesa at Midland.

Football Teams With Unblemished Records, Gophers, Duke, Duquesne And Aggies Will Meet Worthy Foes

By Harold Claassen

NEW YORK (AP)—Football fans, still groggy from last Saturday's extended list of surprises, are sticking pins into this week-end's program in hopes of finding where the lightning will strike next.

The Saturday gridiron upheaval left only four major untied and unbeaten elevens—Minnesota, Duke, Duquesne and Texas A&M—and each has a worthy foe ahead.

Minnesota, the club voted No. 2 behind the erstwhile unblemished University of Texas last week in the Associated Press poll, goes against a rejuvenated Iowa machine in a Big Ten tussle. The Hawkeyes, with Nile Kinnick in command, handed the Gophers their last defeat in 1939.

Duquesne hurries home from the West Coast and a 9 to 0 verdict over St. Mary's for an engagement with once-tied Mississippi State.

Texas A&M, a 21 to 10 last-period victor over Southern Methodist, opposes Rice, a club that was good enough to deflate Tulane a few Saturdays ago.

Duke, the tough part of its schedule behind it, has North Carolina and possible over-confidence to fear. The Dukes trimmed Davidson, 54 to 0, while North Carolina whipped the same club 20 to 0 earlier in the year.

Other points of interest this week-end are: Notre Dame's engagement with Northwestern, Missouri's clash with Oklahoma for the Big Six title, Texas' battle against Texas Christian, Stanford vs. Washington State, Michigan vs. Columbia, Yale vs. Princeton, Army vs. Penn., and Tennessee at Boston College.

The program by sections:

FAR WEST

Stanford, safely past Southern California by 13 to 0, meets Washington State, which clipped Idaho, 26 to 0, for the second year in a row. The Trojans are idle, awaiting Notre Dame a week later, but California entertains Oregon State, 19 to 0 winner over UCLA. Santa Clara is at Oregon Tuesday in an Armistice Day battle, and the Broncos see action again next Sunday against St. Mary's.

SOUTHWEST

Texas, with a clean slate until its 7 to 7 deadlock with Baylor, hopes to right itself against Texas Christian, 35 to 0 victor over Centenary. Texas A&M continues blithely on its way with Rice, 21 to 12 master of Arkansas, as the foe. The Razorbacks mix with Southern Methodist and Baylor hopes to keep its

Arizona University Holds Part Of Title

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—A month of play remains in the Border Conference gridiron season but the title situation was all but cut and dried Monday with the Wildcats of Arizona University safely in as co-champions.

The Wildcats, beaten only by Notre Dame this season, clinched at least half of the crown over the weekend by bowling over Arizona State of Flagstaff 41 to 0.

Also, Bob Boothe and P. D. Grommon of Midland are in first place in doubles at the Amarillo bowling sweepstakes, another event. Charles Edwards and Boothe are in second place.

Grommon, Boothe and Edwards with Davis of Amarillo and Kenney of Albuquerque, N. M., make up the Fulton team.

Norton Finds Good Insurance In Moser And Passing Ability

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—For two seasons Derrace Moser pitched a football around but all he got out of it was the exercise.

Out there with the Texas Aggies was Marion Pugh, one of the most accomplished passers in South-west Conference history.

Moser did everything in a game except throw a pass. But the practicing went on as Homer Norton, headman of Aggie football fortunes, wrote his insurance for a rainy day.

That rainy day came this season. The Cadets started out on what seemed the hopeless task of duplicating the feat of those great 1939 and 1940 Aggie teams.

"It all depends on Moser's passing," said Norton as he bid goodbye to Pugh.

The insurance now is paying dividends each Saturday as the Aggies ride with Moser and his pass magic at the top of the Southwest Conference ladder.

To date he has pitched 115 passes and completed 53 for 771 yards, making A&M one of the top teams of the nation.

Saturday he averaged 48.8 yards in punting, gained 76 yards through the line and threw 11 passes for 201 yards. He scored one touchdown and pitched strikes for two others as A&M beat Southern Methodist 21-10.

Washington Pros Have Chance To Avenge Beating

CHICAGO (AP)—If the Washington Redskins still hold a grudge against the Chicago Bears for last year's 73 to 0 whacking in the National Football League's title game, this is the week they have a chance to get even.

Because next Sunday's schedule has provided just such an opportunity, calling for, in an innocently-phrased line in the schedule, "Washington at Chicago Bears."

The clash is of major importance because of the possible bearing it has on the championship in each division and there also is the revenge angle.

Washington's short stay in first place was ended Sunday by the Brooklyn Dodgers, who won 13 to 7. The Redskins were replaced by the New York Giants, who had held the No. 1 post until shoved out a week ago by the Redskins. The Giants won Sunday's scrap with the Detroit Lions, 20 to 13.

Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, the two low teams of the eastern division, played a 7 to 7 tie. The Bears dropped into the western division's second place last week by the Green Bay Packers, beat the Cleveland Rams, 31 to 13, and gained a half game on the Packers, who beat the Kenosha Cardinals in an exhibition, 65 to 2.

THERMO-CHARGED 'RPM'

is the greatest lubrication development the motor world has seen so far!

STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF TEXAS has never made a statement like this before about any product—

We do so now because Thermo-Charged RPM Motor Oil does things for your engine no other oil can do. The addition of a newly developed compounding (Patents Pending) gives "RPM" amazing qualities.

For example, this Thermo-Charging increases tremendously "RPM's" power to spread over and lubricate hot metal surfaces. Other oils actually will run uphill to escape scorching areas which Thermo-Charged "RPM" refuses to leave!

Super-Heated Points Protected as Never Before

This means Thermo-Charged "RPM" is absolutely outstanding in its ability to stay put at the hot points in your engine where lubrication and cooling are needed particularly. The result is the most complete protection so far.

In addition, this new oil will not deposit harmful quantities of carbon, gum and varnish which can clog engines and take the fine edge off performance.

And we will go even farther. Thermo-Charged "RPM" does a better job of cleaning out deposits left by other oils.

Longer Engine Life—Definitely Finer Performance

Because Thermo-Charged "RPM" keeps engines so clean, it materially reduces wear. Diesel engines which are far harder on lubricating oil than any automobile engine have proved this in millions of miles of operation. Thermo-Charged oil has more than doubled the service life of their piston rings and cylinder walls.

Thermo-Charged "RPM" actually brings you nine important advantages. No other oil at any price can equal its value.
