RUSHVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Eight passengers and the driver of a Cincinnati-to-Indianapolis Greyhound bus were injured fatally Saturday night as the vehicle plunged over a 25-foot embankment and caught fire after a collision with an automobile, four miles east of here on Indiana Road 44.

Ten other persons were hurt, some seriously. Andrew Hansen, 26, of Cincinnati, the driver, escaped from the flaming wreck, only to die of his injuries in a hospital at Greensburg, Dr. Francis Green, Rush County Coroner, listed these known dead besides Hansen:

John Pavey, 20, Sabina, O.
Mrs. Tabula Avery, 22, Cincinnati.
Mrs. Avery's two children, Jacqueline Delores, 3, and Phyllis Ann, 18-months-old.

Bodies of two men and two women were still unidentified but officers found some charred luggage with a sticker on it bearing the name of Buck McKinney, South Bend, Ind., and inasmuch as he was not listed among the injured they surmise he was one of the dead.

A sister said Mrs. Mae Brookfield, 70, Norwood, O., probably was one of the dead. She said Mrs. Brookfield was en route to Indianapolis on the bus to visit friends.

The accident occurred as Andy Hansen, Cincinnati, driver of the bus swerved the heavy vehicle to avoid striking a car driven by Paul T. Connell, 39, Glenwood, Ind.

Dr. Frank Green, Rush County coroner, ordered Connell held on charges of intoxication and operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor.

Large Production From Ellenburger Shown By West Crane Deep Well

By Frank Gardner
Oil Editor
Gulf Oil Corporation and others No. 2-B J. B. Tubb, north offset to the farthest north producer in the South Sand Hills Ellenburger pool of Western Crane County, Saturday assured large production when it flowed pipe line oil at an estimated rate of 50 barrels an hour on drillstem test.

Test was from 5,640-65 feet, total depth, with tool open 40 minutes. Gas volume measured 572,000 cubic feet at its peak. At the end of 35 minutes the well started flowing black drilling mud and two minutes later commenced flowing oil at the estimated 50-barrel hourly rate. At last report operators were reaming core-hole to 5,640 feet preparatory to setting casing at that point. No. 2-B Tubb topped the detrital zone at 5,592 feet and the Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, at 5,644 feet. The top 13 feet of a core from 5,630-50 feet appeared to be Simpson, middle Ordovician.

Gulf and associates have abandoned their No. 6-A J. B. Tubb, south offset to a 9,457-foot Ellenburger producer in the main Sand Hills pool. No. 6-A Tubb tested sulphur water at total depth of 5,887 feet in the Ellenburger.

A southeast outpost to the main Sand Hills pool, Humble Oil & Refining Company No. BX-2 Tubb has drilled to 5,403 feet in Permian lime.

Abell Extension Looms
A three-eighths mile southeast extension of the Abell Ordovician field in Northern Pecos County was indicated Saturday when Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2 Berman heirs cored soft, brown, pay sand from 5,243-53 feet, total depth. Operators are running 7-inch casing which will be cemented at top of pay. The prospective extender is located 1,666 feet from the northwest and 330 from the northeast, line of the southwest half of the north quarter of section 5, block 3, H. & T. C. survey. The oil sand is of Simpson age.

Another new producer for Magnolia was in store as its No. 3 Markey heirs cored oil sand from 5,425-30 feet, total depth. Seven-inch pipe is being run to top of the pay. The well is in the main part of the field.

In the southwest extension area of the Apco-Warner Ellenburger pool of Northern Pecos, Superior Oil Corporation and Bryce McCandless No. 1 Virginia Crockett has been completed for daily potential flow of 1,086 barrels of 42.5-gravity oil through 3/4-inch choke on tubing. It topped pay at 4,675 feet and is bottomed at 4,770 feet, plugged back from total depth of 4,851 feet to shut off sulphur water. The well was acidized with 2,000 gallons and has a gas-oil ratio of 826-1.

Gulf and L. H. Wentz No. 2 L. H. Millar et al, closely watched Ellenburger test south of Girvin in Northeastern Pecos, reportedly has reached a depth of 4,248 feet.

Tops Brown Lime
Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation and American Drilling Corporation No. 1 W. L. Ellwood estate, Northeastern Hockley County wildcat 15 miles northeast of the Slaughter field, is drilling past 3,936 feet in anhydrite, shale and streaks of lime. It topped brown lime at 3,630 feet according to some sample analysts, which would place it regionally high.

Litins & Hall of Midland No. 1 Dr. E. H. Jones, scheduled 7,200-foot deep Permian test in North-western Gaines County, is drilling below 5,000 feet in hard lime.

Three miles west of the south end of the Wasson field in Northwestern Gaines, Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Ruth M. Hudson is drilling plus from 7 5/8-inch casing cemented at 2,995 feet. Present depth is 3,000 feet in anhydrite. Preparations are being made to

Leaders In House Postpone Debate On Control Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—House consideration of price control legislation, tentatively scheduled for next week, was postponed Saturday in order to give administration leaders a chance to seek revision of the bill approved by the banking committee two weeks ago.

Well-informed Congressional circles said speaker Rayburn and Democratic leader McCormack would appeal to the banking committee to make these revisions in its bill:

1. Insert a provision which would permit a system of licensing business. This was asked by the administration originally on the grounds it was necessary to make the legislation effective, but was cut out by the banking committee.

2. Eliminate a prohibition against a "ceiling" on farm prices below the 1919-29 average. Government experts said retention of this provision might permit food costs to rise 20 per cent.

3. Insert a provision which would give the administration power to buy, sell or use any commodities it found necessary in order to maintain price equilibrium. This was in the administration's original bill, but was removed by the banking committee.

Premier Of Canada Reports Arrival Of Troops In Hongkong

OTTAWA, (AP)—The arrival of a Canadian force in Hongkong was announced Saturday night by Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King, five days after Winston Churchill solemnly warned Japan if she went to war with the United States a British declaration of war "will follow within the hour."

"Defense against aggression, actual or threatened, in any part of the world today is a part of the defense of every country which still enjoys freedom," King said in announcing the arrival of the Canadians after a safe and uneventful voyage.

Kurusu Sees 'Fighting Chance' For Peace

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON (AP)—Asserting he had a "fighting chance" of success, Saburo Kurusu, special Japanese envoy arrived here Saturday for conferences intended to settle Japanese-American difficulties in the Orient and the Pacific.

Obviously worn by his long and hurried journey from Tokyo, he alighted from a plane at the Washington national airport, was greeted by Kichisaburo Nomura, the Japanese ambassador, and told reporters:

"I realize the difficulty of my task, but so long as there exists such sympathy on the part of the people of the United States for Japan, I still have a fighting chance to make a success of my mission."

"If you were a betting man, Mr. Ambassador," a reporter said, "what would you say were the odds against you?"
"You'll have to be the bookmaker," Kurusu laughingly replied.

He had come to America, he said to "assist—not to instruct" Ambassador Nomura, in the trying negotiations that lie ahead.

American officials as well as Kurusu were hardly inclined to minimize the difficulty of the emissary's mission. Japan is committed to economic, and if necessary, military domination of the Orient. The United States has told her in plain effect that her expansion can go no farther without risking a war with this country.

The unyielding attitude of the Tokyo government is generally considered here to have been expressed in a Tokyo newspaper controlled by the foreign office just before Kurusu's departure. It listed seven demands which Japan was making upon the United States and said this country must accept them or "face the alternatives."

Kurusu is to see Secretary of State Hull on Monday. It was indicated he would spend Sunday conferring with Nomura.

Official Serves Notice Workers In Illinois May Be Called Out While Captive Mines Agreement Expires

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON.—A spreading work stoppage throughout the soft coal industry to reinforce the United Mine Workers' demand for a union shop in the captive pits appeared imminent Saturday as a midnight strike deadline passed with the operators and the union still deadlocked.

With the dispute still unbroken, President Roosevelt conferred with Secretary of War Stimson and Army officers, apparently mapping a course of governmental action. The President has voiced determination that the captive mines, supplying fuel for vital defense forces, must operate.

A few hours in advance of the deadline which John L. Lewis set—and stuck to—for expiration of the truce in the captive mine strike, a lieutenant served notice on the Illinois operators that "it may become necessary momentarily" to call out all the miners in that state.

The Illinois operators signed a contract lining up with the Appalachian agreement only Oct. 27. Lewis, as president of the CIO United Mine Workers Union previously had warned the commercial operators under the eight-state Appalachian agreement with major producers that work might be stopped in the held-out mines if the captive mines held out against the union shop provision embodied in the Appalachian contract.

Thus the notification to the Illinois operators, served by Ray Edmundson, state miners' head, was viewed as the last step to solidify the miners' ranks for the gigantic blow-or bluff—of a complete coal mining shutdown.

Members of the group asked that their names be withheld but disclosed that the proposed legislation would:

Compel a 30-day cooling off period, during which the Labor Department's conciliation service would function, between a strike call and the effective date.

Forbid a strike unless it was approved by the majority vote of affected workers by secret ballot under government supervision.

Forbid sympathy, jurisdictional and boycott strikes.

Bill Needs FDR Backing
Freeze existing open and closed shop arrangements between employer and workers.

Provide for protection of workers against violence.

The attitude of the administration toward anti-strike legislation remained obscure, but was expected to be clarified after the outcome of the current captive coal mines controversy.

Many of these urging legislation were agreed that none was likely unless President Roosevelt gave it his support. Expressing this opinion, Senator Byrd (D-Va) said:

"I don't believe any legislation will be passed unless the President gets behind it. I hope he does something soon."

Reds Destroy 20 Transports Attempting To Make Landing

By The Associated Press.
Destruction of 20 troop-laden German transports attempting a sneaked landing along the frozen wastes of the Murmansk coast was announced Sunday by the Russians.

The report of this smashing success on the far Northern Front was accompanied by a Moscow radio announcement of another victory in the Donets Basin.

In its account of the Arctic victory, the Moscow radio said Russian troops made a forced seven-mile march across frozen tundra of the Murmansk region to foil the Nazis.

The Russians said Red Army forces reached the coast a jump ahead of the Germans, who launched the abortive landing from the Rybach peninsula, which juts out into the Barents sea from the Finnish-Russian border.

Before the Germans had a chance to land the Russians said they were destroyed by the point-blank fire of the Red forces.

Coupled with these reported successes at both ends of the front, the Russians declared that Adolf Hitler's invasion armies, huddling in trenches before Leningrad and Moscow, now have lost their lightning-war tempo for the first time since the Fuehrer sent them rambling into France and the low countries 18 months ago.

A bulletin from Hitler's east headquarters said Axis troops had scored new gains in both sectors. No details were given, however, and apparently little progress had been made in the direct assault on Kerch.

The high command said Thursday that German shock troops had begun to storm the town.

Nazi military dispatches admitted that Soviet Gen. Gregory K. Zhukov's Central Front armies were punter-attacking before Moscow, but asserted they had been repulsed.

Coupled with this acknowledgment that the German offensive against Moscow had been virtually thrown back on the defensive, the Nazis indicated a similar situation prevailed in the four-months-old siege of Leningrad.

Nazis Thinly Clothed
Instead of head-long attacks which for many weeks blasted the Russians into retreat, the Germans now spoke only of their siege guns continually pounding the one-time capital of the Czars while their troops apparently dug in for a long and dreary winter in the trenches.

Front-line dispatches to Red Star, the Soviet army newspaper, said that German troops captured in the Leningrad sector were thinly clothed amid temperatures below zero and that the Nazis were suffering intensely from the cold. The Russians declared that German losses in the Leningrad campaign totaled at least 260,000 killed and wounded.

On the Southern (Ukraine) front, Soviet Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's Red armies were reported to have broken up a powerful tank-led German drive across the Donets River valley, aimed at Rostov-On-Don, the northern gateway to the Caucasus, and the Novorossiysk, 35 miles northeast of Rostov.

Use Oil Reserves
A well-informed source in London described Hitler's intensified drive east across the Crimea toward the Caucasus as a desperate effort to seize oil greatly needed to keep his war machine in high gear.

The source quoted reliable information that the Germans had been dipping heavily into their oil reserves since a month before the Russian campaign started, June 22, and that at the present rate the reserves would be exhausted by the winter of 1942.

Military advices reaching London emphasized that the German armies had been thrown onto the defensive for the first time since they crossed the Soviet frontier and that counter-attacking Russians were springing on them the same break-through tactics which won the Germans such spectacular victories in Poland and France.

These advices said the Nazi invaders were "having a tough time of it" shifting troops from one place in the line to another to meet Red Army thrusts.

"There is a real disorganization behind the German lines," it was said, "and the weather makes transportation difficult over roads that are cut up and often useless."

Strikes And Green Apples

The right to strike is a little like the right to eat green apples.

Properly used, the right to eat green apples is a fine thing. Made into pies, at the right season, eaten in moderation, green apples are swell. Improperly used, the right to eat green apples results in grief and regret.

Eaten to excess, at the wrong season, and improperly prepared, green apples may bring to the eater unmeasured woe, despite the unquestioned right to eat them.

Because greedy little boys get the stomach-ache, nobody proposes that a law be passed to prevent the eating of green apples. So nobody proposes (very seriously, at least) that an iron-clad law be passed to prohibit all strikes.

But only when the boy grows older does he learn how and when to eat green apples. Labor organization, still comparatively young in this country, still has something to learn about how and when to strike.

There are signs that excessive indulgence in green-apple strike fruit is going to bring organized labor a stomach-ache unless restraint appears. Organized labor must learn how and when to indulge in this dynamite-crammed fruit, and there is no time like now to learn.

A man has right to play his radio in his room at night. But woe betide him if he plays it all night in a thundering volume that keeps awake not only his own household but the whole neighborhood. A man has a right to drive a car. But he has no right to drive it in a manner that endangers everybody else on the road.

There are no absolute rights in a civilized society. Every right is conditioned by the rights of others. The best chance of retaining individual rights is to use them in such a way as to give due consideration to the rights of others. Otherwise the others rise up and do something about it.

There is no greater menace to the right to strike than the misuse of that right in an arbitrary, unreasoning, hasty, or selfish manner, just as the greatest danger to private enterprise has always been the man who used it without a decent regard for the rights of others, the worker, the investor, the public in general.

What is the best way to preserve a right? Deserve it.

Turkey By The Ton

Thanksgiving tables aren't quite as long as they used to be in grandmother's day, though thank Heaven they are still bountifully laden. The modern housewife is apt to shudder a bit at the thought of how grandma cooked and served a Thanksgiving feast for 10 or 15 people and thought nothing of it.

But even that is a small operation compared with the one Uncle Sam is undertaking in preparing Thanksgiving dinner for 1,500,000 of his nephews who are in the Army today. Seven hundred and fifty tons of turkeys make up just the main item of this meal, which shows that when it comes to doing things in a big way, the United States hasn't entirely lost the knack after all.

The Forbidden Story

The German stage, the German schoolroom, will not see this winter one of their old favorites. It is Friedrich von Schiller's "Wilhelm Tell."

The great work of the Weimar dramatist is under Nazi ban, and no wonder. For it is a story of freedom and the love of freedom—how William Tell, legendary Swiss patriot, refused to salute the cap of the Austrian tyrant, Gessler, ruling over the Swiss, and was condemned to shoot an apple from his own son's head. Tell did it, without scratching the boy, but he kept another arrow for Gessler and helped to free his country from alien oppression.

You can see why the Nazis don't want any such story told to their people at this time, even when written by a 100 per cent German master. It points unpleasant parallels—which even the German people, enclosed in a cultural gas-chamber for a generation, might see all too clearly.

The Coward's Way

Lord Halifax, British ambassador to the United States, now has joined as a charter member an organization of which Wendell Willkie, last Republican nominee for president, is a founder. Both men met the same treatment. Both weathered the same kind of incident. Both were subjected to the same form of rowdy attack.

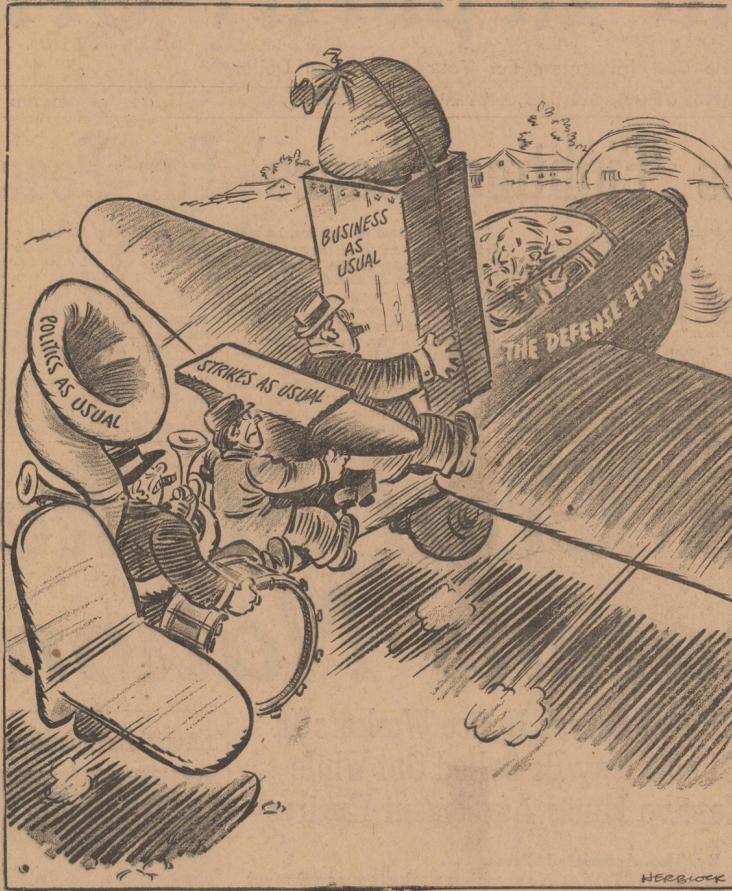

They were struck by eggs of ancient lineage. They were the victims of an old form of hoodlumism that has sprung up again in this country in the past few months. It is this: when you can't answer a man's arguments, or do not like the man himself, or hate his party or his country, throw something at him. It is what a baboon does when a man enters his native jungle.

The act is unAmerican. It is uncivilized. It is cowardly. The rotten eggs that were thrown at Halifax were not half as rotten as the spirit that animated the throwers.

There's even a bright side to the new income tax—to be thankful you won't be taxed on what you think you're worth!

The worst November wind we have seen was telling about his golf score.

MINUTE SAVING STRESSED BY NEBRASKA GOVERNOR

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP) — Dwight P. Griswold is the full name of Nebraska's governor, but the state executive never uses the middle initial in signing correspondence and official documents.

It saves time, he explains.

Griswold is a great believer in saving a few minutes here and there by eliminating unnecessary details. Just by eliminating the middle name from his signature, he figures he saves about five minutes a day — enough time for a brief conference with another visitor.

MACHINE MAY HANDLE POTATO PICKING CHORES

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (UP)—One of the farmer's most back-breaking tasks, "picking" potatoes, soon may be handled entirely by machine, if recent experiments on two big potato ranches in this area continue to prove successful.

Developed independently by two ranchers of the Klamath basin, the mechanized diggers have eliminated from 60 to 70 per cent of the labor required to hand-sack the same amount of potatoes which they handle in a day. They may reduce harvest costs by an equal amount, the owners said.

HOBBS, N. M.—Sanders Brothers No. 1 Harry Leonard, opening a new lime area two and three-quarter miles north of the Grayburg pool in Eddy County, Southeast New Mexico, has been completed for a daily flow of 77 barrels of 38.2 gravity oil.

The discovery well was gauged through open 2-inch tubing set at 2,900 feet. Gas accompanying oil measured 49,326 cubic feet per day. No. 1 Leonard, already the forerunner of other wildcatting activity in the area, logged best pay in line from 2,953 to 2,965 feet and hit bottomed at 2,982 feet in lime. It was shot with 120 quarts of nitro from 2,940 to 2,980 feet.

The Sanders Brothers pool opener lies 1,980 feet from the south and 660 from the west line of section 34-16S-30E.

Grayburg Producers

In the Grayburg pool, Etz Oil Company No. 7 State, in section 16-17S-30E, flowed 25 barrels of oil in 24 hours through a one-quarter inch choke on 2-inch tubing set at 2,100 feet. Gas volume gauged 4,000,000 cubic feet per day. The well topped pay at 2,065 feet, drilled to a total depth of 2,109 feet and was shot with 130 quarts from 2,070 to 2,100 feet.

Also in the Grayburg pool, Premier Petroleum Corporation No. 1-F McEntyre, section 17-17S-30E, responded to a 50-quart shot from 2,060 to 2,080 feet by flowing 22 barrels of oil per day through a one-half inch choke on 2-inch tubing swung at 2,031 feet. First pay was logged at 2,060 feet and hole is bottomed at 2,094 feet.

A new location for the once active Loco Hills pool of Eddy has been staked by Dixon & Yates as the No. 5-A Saunders. It is 1,650 feet from the south and east lines of section 12-18S-29E.

Paton Brothers No. 2 Magruder, in the shallow Red Lakes pool of Eddy, pumped 40 barrels of oil per day upon completion at 500 feet in shale. It was acidized with 1,000 gallons in pay line entered at 464 feet. The well is 1,550 feet from the south, 990 from the east line of section 35-17S-27E.

Maljamar Completions Paton Brothers are drilling below 185 feet in their No. 3 Magruder, 2,310 feet from the south and west lines of the same section.

Maljamar Oil & Gas Corporation No. 7-A Mitchell, in the Maljamar field of Western Lea County, flowed 80 barrels a day through one and one-half inch choke on 2-inch tubing set at 3,992 feet with packer at 3,372 feet. Located in section 20-17S-32E, it was shot with 130 quarts from 3,980 to 4,043 feet, three feet off bottom. First pay was noted at 3,670 feet.

Another new completion for the Maljamar field is Drilling & Exploration Company, Inc. No. 1-A-24 Johns, which tested natural flow of 215 barrels per day through 6 1/8-inch choke on 2-inch tubing set at 4,295 feet, five feet up from total depth. Main pay zone was encountered at 3,900 feet. The well is in section 24-17S-32E.

At the south end of Lea's Vacuum pool, The Texas Company has located No. 4-AC State 660 feet out of the southeast corner of section 2-18S-34E.

Lea Wildcat Abandoned Western Gas Company No. 1 Combest, wildcat in the Henry or Lynn area of Lea, topped anhydrite at 1,160 feet and drilled ahead past 1,162 feet in anhydrite and red rock. Location is 1,980 feet from the north and 660 from the east line of section 35-23S-30E.

Wingfield, Lea wildcat 660 feet from the north and 1,980 from the west line of section 4-19S-35E, south of the Corbin area, has been abandoned a failure at 4,613 feet, plugged back from 4,634 feet in a futile attempt to exclude salt water. It had swabbed three barrels of salt water hourly through 2 1/2-inch tubing set at 4,613 feet with packer at 4,595 feet. The test for a while indicated it might open a new producing spot when it logged showings of oil and gas from 4,348 to 4,350 feet, 4,435 to 4,437 feet and from 4,500 to 4,504 feet.

The same firm's No. 1 Welch, wildcat 660 feet from the north and 1,980 from the west line of section 31-19S-34E, is drilling past 3,035 feet in salt.

Coventry Builds As Citizens Remember Fierce Nazi Attacks

LONDON (UP)—A year ago Nov. 14 German bombers swept over Coventry in wave after wave. The raids began at dusk and continued throughout the night.

Bombs rained down on this shrine of English history at the rate of one a minute. The city was totally unprepared and almost undefended. But a year later it is a different and Coventry men now say: "Let 'em come again."

Plans are complete for a new city. It will be bigger and up-to-the-minute. Of greater current importance, however, are the precautions taken to assure a different reception for the Nazis if they should come again. Thousands of fighter planes will converge upon the city and walls of anti-aircraft fire will bracket the sky zones.

Protective Setup Complete The National Emergency Council of Coventry began protective measures the morning after the raids. A single code word will activate a complex machinery designed to make the city virtually fire-proof.

Last November the flaming torches ignited scores of workmen's homes, lighting the targets for the heavy bombers following close behind. Now every district has its own unit of fire-watchers and wardens, 36,000 in all. Dams of water are available, with an emergency system of sewers and drains to prevent pollution. Gas and water ring mains link the city with Birmingham and Wolverhampton, if its own resources should fail.

Germans Claim 'Great New Success' In Torpedoeing Of Ark Royal And Battleship Malaya By Submarines

By The Associated Press

BERLIN — The German high command credited two of its submarines Saturday with a "great new success" in which not only was the British aircraft carrier Ark Royal sunk, but the 31,000-ton British battleship Malaya was declared severely damaged and "further British units hit by torpedoes."

The announcement disclosed for the first time that Nazi U-boats were operating in the Mediterranean. Friday's Berlin comment, when the British admiralty announced loss of the Ark Royal, was simply that the vessel was attacked in an Italian operations zone.

(The Italian high command, which in its communiqués frequently repeats German announcements on Mediterranean area operations, has been silent on the Ark Royal.)

(Italian newspapers for the most part published under big page one headlines Berlin's announcement that German submarines sank the Ark Royal. On Friday they had given similar prominence to London's announcement of the loss.)

Other Units Struck

The Malaya, which the British put back into action after having her repaired in New York, was damaged "so severely she had to be towed into the harbor of Gibraltar," a special high command communique stated.

"The German navy has scored a great new success," the announcement said. "Submarines attacked a formation of British battleships in the Western Mediterranean."

"In the course of the attack, two submarines under command of Lieutenant Commanders Hans Reschke and Friedrich Guggenberger sank the Ark Royal and damaged the battleship Malaya so severely she had to be towed into the harbor of Gibraltar."

"Further units were hit by torpedoes."

Mann Speaks At Austin Meeting

AUSTIN (AP)—Representatives of Texas transportation agencies concluding a two-day discussion meeting here Saturday, the first of its kind, voted to make the conference permanent.

On motion of J. D. Neal of the University of Houston the conference agreed to meet annually or at least biennially and then chose W. C. Trout, president of the Lufkin Foundry and Machine Shops, as permanent chairman and Dr. John H. Frederick, University of Texas professor, as permanent secretary. The university was host to the conference.

Final addresses included one by Attorney General Gerald C. Mann who asserted Texas could build an independent economy from its own resources if siphoning of resources to other regions stopped.

Mann said Texas had made a big gain toward independent development by abolition of differential freight rates last September.

Further work was needed, he declared, to eliminate discriminatory inter-regional rate structures.

*Unbeaten Eleven Turns Back Rice Gridsters 19-6

By William T. Rives
HOUSTON, (AP) — Texas A. and M.'s master craftsmen cranked up their magnificent passing machine Saturday and assured themselves of no less than a tie for the Southwest Conference championship as they rolled over Rice Institute 19-6.

The Aggies thus kept their season's record while the University of Texas team was being buried beyond hope of resurrection by Texas Christian 14-7.

The TCU Horned Frogs remained the only team with a chance to share the title with the Cadets.

Heading towards a Bowl bid, the marauding Aggies rushed over three touchdowns in the first half before the Owls realized their defensive powers.

The victory was the Aggies twenty-eighth of their last twenty-nine contests, one of the grandest records in collegiate football's history.

Moser Is Potent

The clash was twelve minutes old when A&M first tallied. Whitlock Zander, Rice fullback, fumbled on the Owl 42 and Bill Sibley, Aggie center, pounced on the ball.

Rice was penalized for defensive holding and Derane Moser shot a 14-yard pass to end Jim Sterling which put the ball on the 14.

On the next play, Moser found no receiver and sped to the four. Then he drove to the one-foot line and Dennis Andricks, fullback, plowed over. Jake Webster kicked goal.

The second period had just opened when Leo Daniels, great little sophomore back, sprinted 51 yards with a Rice punt, dancing like a Fakir on hot coals as he shot down the sideline avoiding Rice tacklers. Rice Drives 59 Yards.

After he stopped on the Owl 24, Daniels fired a pass on the next play to Rogg's for the second touchdown.

Less than a minute remained in the first half when Webster shot a 45-yard pass to Sterling on the six. Daniels then chucked to Rogers again for the last score.

Rice drove 59 yards in the final quarter to tally. Passes from Dick Dwelle to Zander and Bill Blackburn, sophomore back and center, lofted the Owls to the Aggie 31. Little Barton Ellis churned 11 yards to the 20; Dwelle picked up three and Bob Brumley, Rice's ace who had been out of action the last couple of weeks, plowed over after three line smashes.

Aerial Assault Wins For Tulsa Eleven In Battle Against Bears

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Baylor's Bears battered themselves into exhaustion against Tulsa's defenses for three periods Saturday, then crumpled before swift aerial assaults that netted the Golden Hurricane two touchdowns and a 20-13 victory.

Trailing 13-7 as the game went into the final period, the Hurricane struck fiercely with Little N. A. Keithley hurling bullet passes that swalloped into the yardage to the Baylor goal in huge chunks. Keithley pitched one touchdown pass to big Colvin Purdin and scored the other himself on a one-yard line smash.

Jack Wilson, Baylor's great quarterback, and Jack Russell, its powerful end, were held out of the game by injuries but the wounded Bear fought savagely and a crowd of 14,000 was kept on its feet constantly as the thrilling contest surged back and forth.

Kitt Kittrell, the sophomore sensation who took Wilson's place to command the attack which halted the victory march of Texas, led the Bears on several rampages deep into Tulsa territory but the Hurricane defense was too stout in danger zones.

Tigers Defeat Sooners 28-0

By Charles Chamberlain
COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Sophomore Maurice Wade, his flaming red hair bobbing up and down on the green turf like a red ball dangling from a Christmas tree, scored three touchdowns Saturday as mighty Missouri crushed Oklahoma 28 to 0.

The Big Six football title and a possible Bowl bid hung on the outcome, and Missouri, ignited by its TNT trio of backs, waltzed away with the honors before a record crowd of 29,000 homecoming rooters.

Wade was just a cog in the Tiger's powerful machine which was rated the nation's top running team last week and which proved its greatness by rambling 303 yards to the Sooner's 53. Bounding Bob Steuber, a member of the yardage-crazy trio, had an average 5.5 yards in 20 times with the ball. Harry Ice, the other unit, made 3.1 with 11 runs and Springy Wade was credited with 6 in 19 carries.

JAYHAWKERS BEAT K-STATE 20 TO 6

Mustangs Defeat Arkansas Eleven By 14 To 7 Score

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Razorbacks failed to win a Southwest conference game for the first time in ten years as the Southern Methodist Mustangs topped them before 9,000 homecoming fans in Razorback stadium Saturday, 14 to 7.

The Mustangs, who got their first conference victory of the year in their third try, held a two to one advantage in a thrill-packed, aerial-touchdown battle, scoring in the first period on a 49-yard toss and in the fourth quarter on a 37-yard heave. The Razorbacks got their score on a short throw of five yards just after the final stanza opened.

SMU's Preston Johnston punted the Mustangs into position for their first score, getting slightly the better of Arkansas' Meredith Jones. With the ball resting on the Porkers' 49 after seven minutes of play, back Cliff Hagerman found back Lendon Davis in the open and Davis took the ball 15 yards short of the goal line, then raced over.

The Porkers took advantage of a fumble after an exchange of punts, a few minutes later, with guard John Sutton gathering in the ball that Hagerman dropped on Arkansas' 45. A 25-yard gain on a lateral, Forte to back Louis Ramsay, went for naught when the Mustangs held and took over on their own 30, but after a 40-yard punt by Johnston, D. P. Jones hit his mark for a 40-yard aerial to Adams and then combined with back Babe Clalone for a first down on the SMU 18 as the period closed.

Clark And Hall Gridsters Win Battle 26 To 7

Coach Earle Clark's and Ivan Hall's first string won over Coach Lwood Dow's and Robert Wheeler's seconds, 26-7, Friday in an intrasquad game for the Midland high Bulldogs.

Hall went 80 yards for a touchdown in the first play of the scrimmage. He charged through a gaping hole in the line and outran the secondary. A pass for extra point failed.

Charlie Kelly tossed a pass to Wilford Lester, and the powerful end ran for the second touchdown of the regulars. Docie Foster converted.

Kelly bruised over for another score plays later. Clark had carried the pigskin up to scoring distance. Clark's place-kick for point was blocked.

Dow Passes to Parkis
Lester scored again on a pass over the goal-line from 20 yards out. He place-kicked extra point.

Wheeler and Dow used line plunges and broken-field gallops for the second's score. Dow threaded to the 7 on a wild gallop. Then Dow hit Hershel Parkis over the goal-line with a faked running pass and ran over the extra point.

The scrimmage game was costly. Lefty Lester's first string guard was injured and Ivan Hall got a hard lick on the knee when tackled. Both had to leave the game.

Clark-Hall's team was: Hall, Clark, Whitmire, Kelly, Foster, Noyes, Arnett, Lester, Lee, Estes, Leftwich, Bird, and Sevier.

Dow-Wheeler's eleven — Tisdale, Dow, Wheeler, Stuckney, Harris, Graham, Wallace, Roy, Hobbs Watson and Parkis.

Odessa Junior Eleven Wins 13-0 Over Pups

By Tanner Laine
The Midland Bullpups threatened several times and were driving at the finish, but dropped a 13-0 decision to Odessa's junior Bronchos here Friday afternoon.

With Bobby Norris plowing the line and teaming up with Wilbur Yeager on offensive maneuvers the Pups made five first downs to Odessa's four.

The Odessans scored an initial tally in the third quarter. A short Midland punt went out on the 25-yard line. Whitlock ran it back to the 17-yard line. On the first play from there, Gambell swept right end for a touchdown. Fry ran the extra point.

They made another touchdown in the fourth period. Gambell intercepted a Midland pass on the 38 and went galloping over for a score. Fry could not ram the line for the point.

McGallan, Broncho fullback, ran 61 yards to the Midland 5 in the first quarter but the play was called back and Odessa penalized for offside.

Odessa Won First Game
Midland pushed into Odessa territory several times on passes and Norris' power plunges. In the second quarter the Pups advanced to the Odessa 7. Norris drove 5 yards at a shot for five straight jabs. From the 10 Yeager's pass to Friday was just shy of a first down and the ball went to Odessa. On another occasion the Pups went to the Odessa 15. They were charging down the field, yard after yard, at the gun.

Nix And Bagley Star As Frogs Rise To Heights

By Ray Neumann
AUSTIN, (AP.)—Texas Christian played David to Texas' Goliath Saturday, smashing into 14-to-7 defeat a team which two weeks ago rated No. 1 in the nation and seemed irresistibly headed for a major bowl game.

Thus curtains fell on the saga of the "Invincible Orange Wave" which, once hailed the greatest University of Texas team in history, made ashes of its Southwest Conference championship hopes and bowl game dreams.

Sparked by quarterback Emory Nix, whose good right arm was deadly on passes, and Dean Bagley, 154-pound tailback who chased 55 yards through the entire Texas team for the first Frog marker, the Christians ripped to shreds the vaunted Longhorn defenses and stifled their scoring power.

Roach Boots Point
Both clubs played a raging defensive game. Ball carriers frequently were snowed under for losses. The Texas resistance crumpled, however, in the dying moments of the tilt when, with only eight seconds left, TCU scored the winning marker.

The Christian drive started with a 33-yard dash off tackle to the Longhorn 33. Then Frank Medanich, who frequently ripped through for sizable gains, got five and Nix added four. After a loss and several incomplete passes, Nix hurled one for 19 yards to Van Nix, standing just over the goal line.

Phil Roach booted the extra point and ruined the record of a Steer team which had won six tilts by overwhelming scores before being tied, 7-7, by Baylor last week.

Texas' lone marker came late in the first period when, after a TCU punt to the Steer 36, the Longhorns executed a brilliant play which wound up with Jack Crain lateraling to Pete Layden who turned down a side-line and outran the Frog secondary over the goal. Crain place-kicked the extra point.

Polo Team Will Contest Roswell

Midland's polo team was scheduled against the New Mexico Military Institute four at Roswell at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

Players John Dublin, Jr. and Clarence Schauer, Jr., left for Roswell Saturday morning.

Jay Floyd, captain, planned to leave early Sunday. Ernie Barron, of Lamest, will be the other Midland player.

Mounts for the players were transported by truck Saturday afternoon.

Midland has won three out of four contests this year against Lamesa and Big Spring. The Institute barely won from Lamesa in a recent game.

Dublin, hard riding defensive player of the Midland four, formerly played at NMMI.

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—Washington State's Cougars chalked up one of the season's biggest upsets Saturday by defeating Stanford's Indians, 14 to 13, before an amazed crowd of 45,000 fans.

SPORTSLANE

—With Tanner Laine

The young professor of District 3-AA with apologies to Whitney Martin:

Prof: What 'cha know Joe (Coleman)?

Joe: I know something, you pedagogue. I know like Dana Bible said, "It can be done". But mercy sakes, prof, will the fire hold out. Those two Mc's of mine, McCracken and McKelvy, are sweet gridsters. And that gun in the Sweetwater game was sweet music.

—SL—
Young prof: Mister Priddy, and Mister Clark, is that a crying towel you have there?

Priddy: My Sweetwater Mustangs were playing them one at a time and beating them, too, until Odessa. It was one of those things. Flanagan and the boys were a great fourth-quarter eleven.

Clark: Coffee, without "Sugar" Evans, please. We wish we had another crack at the Bronchos.

—SL—
Prof: Earle Clark, are your pass-minded Bulldogs cooking up anything for Odessa? It's Turkey Day, you know, when you engage them.

Earle: We hope the Bronchos get intent on scouting Ysleta or Amarillo or somebody, and leave us to our preparations for them. Midland usually has something for Odessa. Victory is a passing fancy with us, but we want one, come next Thursday.

—SL—
Prof: Thank you, Earle, and now, Coach Gregg and Coach Neill, put up your clipplings about Gus White and talk to me.

Gregg: Gus beat Odessa on a foggy night, and he is set for Colorado City next.

Neill: Midland gave us a busy afternoon. Why, professor, they actually stopped White cold on several plunges.

—SL—
Professor: Rocky, my man Rumlend, Blondie Cross tells me you have a scrapping team.

Rumlend: Woe is us. We are waiting to see if Howard Green picks us against the Eagles. From there we will build our battle plans. We are putting about Big Spring and one point. How do you stop that Shields and Troutman of Abilene?

—SL—
Prof: If you don't know now, Rocky, you never will, so Vernon Hilliard, stop biting your nails and join in the moaning.

Hilliard: But professor, those great, big Bobcats may claw our eyes out. I am new in this tough circuit.

Prof: But so are Earle Clark, Rumlend, Dibrell, and Gregg, Neill, and some others.

Hilliard: You are not wolfing. My scout notes contain volumes.

—SL—
Young prof: Speaking of Wolves (not the howling Monday morning quarterback kind), but Colorado City kind, how are the boys, John Dibrell?

Dibrell: We are not on the bottom of the league. Our Midland tilt will settle that. I am writing Santa Claus a letter asking for more Alens. He is a fancy stepper and our offensive.

—SL—
Prof: Patrick Murphy, you old son-of-a-gun, how's the Steers?

Pat: I have been reading J. Frank Dobie's books for these long weeks on how to stop galloping Mustangs. We have Sweetwater Nov. 20 (despite our heroic committee room fight to change the date). Those guys may be mad at somebody. Why does it have to be us?

—SL—
ROUNDING UP THE STRAYS: We are in Sportslane got a telegram from Grantland Rice asking our predictions for the Thanksgiving Day games, adding a person can't be wrong every week and the law of averages is coming our way right soon. The fly in the ointment is the darned Jaycees faked the telegram. We are still going to show it (the telegram) around Spur, the old home town. A guy has a right to recognition with home folks.

Midland Nimrods Scatter Over Many Areas Of State For Season Opening With Heavy License Demand Made

Midland nimrods scattered to various sectors of the state Sunday to open deer and turkey hunting season.

Individually and in parties the hunters chose the Mason and Brady country, Kerrville, Davis mountains, and other places to hunt.

Agencies reported brisk demands for licenses Saturday and ammunition was selling fast. More than 250 hunting licenses were sold at one business.

J. R. Norris, Dee Ha, Archie Estes, Jimmy Walker, and Bobby Norris left Friday to go to a ranch near Lamesa to hunt Sunday.

Elliott Cowden chose the Davis Mountains.

W. E. Nance, B. T. Graham, and Earnest Livingstone, were in a party leaving Saturday morning to go to Brady and Mason for hunting.

Ted and Ralph Lowe also were expected to be opening the season.

Tot Watlington and John Pliska headed a party which left Saturday.

Season Through Dec. 31
R. A. Doran and Jack Doran expected to be in San Saba.

H. B. Dunagan and a party prepared to get away early Sunday.

Paul Nelson planned to get his deer in the Brady country.

Clyde Stapleton combined a vacation trip with the hunting season at Kerrville.

The season on white-tailed deer will last through December 31.

Hunters hoped for colder weather over the state.

Blacktail or mule deer can be hunted east of the Pecos River through December 31 the same as the regulation on white-tail. Mule deer west of the Pecos River can be hunted only through Nov. 30.

Deer, Turkey More Plentiful
In every county except one, the bag limit on white-tailed deer is the same — two bucks per season. The exception is Brown County, which by special law passed this year, now has an open season, but a bag limit restricted to one buck per season.

The bag limit on blacktail or mule deer is two per season east of the Pecos; one west of it.

The wild turkey open season is the same as that for deer and bear. Generally the bag limit is three gobblers per season, but in 21 Central and West Texas Counties (ranging all the way from Gillespie, Kerr and other hill country counties over to Pecos County) the turkey bag is two gobblers a season.

Reports indicate that deer and turkey are more plentiful than in years because of excellent food and cover conditions, and a growing tendency on the part of citizens to protect the game.

The car went out of control and into a ditch as the four men were en route to Austin to see the Texas-TCU football game.

Director Says U. S. Has Confidence Of Southern Countries

By Brack Curry
Associated Press Staff
"In 1933 the hated Colossus of the North."
"In 1941 the friend of 120,000,000 Latin Americans."
Credit for this transformation in United States-Latin American relations lies with the United States Good Neighbor policy, inaugurated in 1933, says a Texas international authority recently returned from a tour of the South American continent.
At a moment when our security and perhaps existence as a free nation may be at stake, the United States holds the friendship and confidence of Latin America, says Dr. S. D. Myres, Jr., who recently returned from South America.
He was one of a group of 12 American scholars and editors chosen by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.
Originated Lectures
This group visited all the principal

South American cities and capitals and discussed Western Hemisphere relations with leading editors, educators, business leaders and government officials.
Dr. Myres originated the annual series of lectures and round-table conferences held at Texas colleges and universities with noted international experts exchanging viewpoints with students. He is the director of the institute of public affairs at Southern Methodist University.
America's relations with Latin America are of vital concern to Texas and the Southwest, Dr. Myres believes, because of this state's geographical nearness to Central and South America and the parallel economies of the two regions. Both Texas and Latin America are essentially raw producers, dependent in part upon the export of similar and competitive products for the maintenance of their prosperity.
Texas' oil competes with oil from Venezuela and Mexico in world markets; Texas cotton finds Brazilian cotton a sturdy competitor; Argentine corn and wheat vie with similar Texas products for foreign markets.

Thomason said he selected the Midland young man because of an outstanding record in scholarship and upon recommendations of persons in the district. His appointment is effective in 1942.

Texas May Get Fiber Industry

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas possibly may get a new industry, born of war-time conditions that have adversely affected normal world trade. It is the conversion of yucca or bear grass into fiber for rope, twine, packing, floor covering and other products.
Plains of the Far Western part of the Lone Star State and similar areas in New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada, and California would furnish the raw material. A new method of processing the plant, estimated to cost but a third that used in World War period factories, is claimed by an Arizona inventor.
The high cost of production formerly used caused the old factories to close down after the World War. The present emergency, precipitating a shortage of ships and consequent reduced importations, coupled with the more efficient new method may bring forth a revival of the business domestically.
Interested in developing the new industry are representatives Ewing Thomason of El Paso, and John Murdock of Arizona, Democrats. The inventor of the new manufacturing process is a constituent of Murdock's, R. S. Chapman of Phoenix.

Miss Carolyn Oates, student in McMurry College, Abilene, will arrive Tuesday to spend Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Oates.

Lower Speed Saving Would Cut Revenue Total $10,000,000

WASHINGTON (UP)—Federal Works Administrator John M. Carmody urges motorists to reduce their driving speed to conserve gasoline and other national defense materials—but the "savings" would cost state and federal governments $10,000,000 annually in taxes.
Carmody recently said that the PWA's Public Roads Administration estimated motorists would save 185,000,000 gallons, or $35,000,000 worth, of gasoline a year if they would reduce their top speed to 45 miles an hour. Such action, he said, also would conserve tires, oil and prevent "wastage of human material resources of the nation through accidents."
According to Public Roads Administration figures, although the "slow down" would save gasoline and materially aid national defense, it also would deprive state and federal governments of $10,000,000 in annual revenue received from gasoline tax—money now used mainly for road construction.
Carmody said the need for a conservation drive was emphasized by the 17 per cent increase in traffic during the first four months of this year and a corresponding

Miss Ila Lee Becomes Bride Of Monahans Man In Single Ring Service Read At Secor Home

Reverend H. D. Bruce Officiates At Wedding; Reception Follows

Bankings of chrysanthemums and trellised greenery formed an altar background for the candle-light ceremony in which Miss Ila Lee of Midland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lee of Mercury, Texas, and Lawrence Baldwin of Monahans were married Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dana M. Secor, 1901 W. College.

The Rev. H. D. Bruce, Baptist minister, read the single ring service at 8 o'clock in the presence of a group of friends of the couple.

Sallie Jean and Mazie Secor sang "I Love You Truly" as the pre-nuptial duet and Miss Jesse Scott Price played the "Bridal March" from Wagner's "Lohengrin" and "Liebestraum" softly during the recital of vows.

The bride wore an aqua blue crepe dress with unpressed pleats introducing front fullness in the skirt and with tucking below the yoke-effect on the bodice. A full-length coat of self-material completed the costume with which two-tone brown accessories and a corsage of pink roses were worn.

An informal reception followed the wedding.

A two-tiered white cake, appropriately decorated, was cut by the bride.

Miss Bette Stewart presided at the guest book and Miss Louise Latham, cohostess with Mrs. Secor, assisted in serving the guests. Members of the houseparty wore chrysanthemum corsages.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin left for Monahans where they will make their home.

The bride has made her home in Midland for the greater part of ten years and was employed as office assistant to Dr. W. G. Whitehouse at the time of her marriage.

Mr. Baldwin is advertising agent for the coca-cola company at Monahans.

Patriotic Theme Marks Afternoon Party For Club

A patriotic and V-for-victory theme was featured in appointments when Mrs. M. H. Crawford, 901 North D Street, was hostess to the Lucky Thirteen Club with three tables of 42, Friday afternoon.

Red, white, and blue table covers, and score pads and tallies in the tri-color furthered the color scheme, as did the floral arrangements of red and white chrysanthemums in blue vases.

At the refreshment hour, star-shaped sandwiches and flags as favors emphasized the patriotic motif. Red dishes and white table covers gave additional color.

Guests were: Meses. Felix Stonehocker, Stacy Allen, J. Alfred Tom, and J. C. Pogue.

Members present were: Meses. S. P. Hall, J. C. Hudman, Delbert Downing, C. H. Shepard, B. M. Hays, H. S. Collins, Ellis Conner, L. F. Jolin, and the hostess.

In the afternoon's games, high score was held by Mrs. Shepard and second high by Mrs. Downing.

Afternoon Tea Is Climax of Social Calendar for Week

Cheer Your Team With Flowers!

Whether you plan to cheer the Navy's blue and gold or the Army's gray and gold when the two service teams meet in their annual battle on the football field, you can be sure your "date" is properly decorated for the occasion. Smart beaux in the service will bring, or have wired to their girls special corsages for the occasion. Typical are those pictured above. The pro-West Point lass, left, wears a novel muff corsage of golden pom-poms, with a big Army "A". On her matching hood she has pinned a big golden chrysanthemum. Even if the fair fan at right wasn't arm-in-arm with a sailor you'd know by her corsage that she's going to sing "Anchors Aweigh" on the kick-off at Philadelphia. It's two huge dahlias, fastened with an anchor that matches the one on her hat.

Approximately 18 Attend Golf Luncheon

Mrs. C. R. Inman was winner and Mrs. L. F. Shiplet runner-up in the long distance driving contest sponsored by the Women's Golf Association at the Country Club Friday noon.

A Saturday night entertainment is being planned.

Potted chrysanthemums centered the tables.

In the afternoon's bridge games, high score for guest went to Mrs. Armstrong. High for club went to Mrs. John Cornwall and second high to Mrs. Harris Eastman.

Members present were: Meses. Overton Black, Harvey Conger, Cornwall, Eastman, R. W. Hamilton, H. A. Hemphill, R. W. Patterson, Johnson Phillips, W. A. Yeager, and the hostess.

Sewing and conversation occupied the group and a refreshment plate was served.

Miss Spencer To Discuss Pictures

The Midland Camera Club will name a committee to nominate new officers, and members will hear Miss Maria Spencer discuss "Chats About Pictures" at 8 p. m. Tuesday night on the Hotel Scharbauer mezzanine.

Election of officers will be Dec. 16. Miss Spencer will read written comments of Dr. E. P. Wrightman, well known pictorialist. Pictures will be analyzed for pictorial qualities, composition, photographic problems, and appeal.

Eugene Griffith is president of the club, and John Ross secretary-treasurer. A vice-presidency is vacant. C. W. Sandford and H. S. Forgeron are directors.

Red Cross Campaign Funds Reach $1600 In Annual Roll Call

With $1,600 on hand Saturday and several districts unreported, Chairman W. P. Z. German estimated the Midland County Red Cross Chapter would obtain $2,000 in its annual drive for memberships.

Andrews County, and a residential and business district had not reported. The amount expected from them was believed enough to bring the figure to $2,000.

The chapter collected $1,700 last year.

German said, "All of the success of Midland's drive for memberships in the American Red Cross must be attributed to the campaign workers. U. A. Hyde, publicity chairman, did a fine job."

Although Midland's quota was set at $2,600, that figure was too high, officials said.

A campaign for memberships in the junior Red Cross in the schools is expected to result in 100 per cent affiliation, Mrs. E. R. Osburn, chairman, reported. North ward, south ward, and junior high schools went over their quotas.

"A Yank In The R.A.F."

Pleasure bent on leave from his hazardous duty in the clouds with the R. A. F., Tyrone Power goes gay with beautiful Betty Grable in "A Yank in the R. A. F.," the thrilling new 20th Century-Fox hit now playing at the Yucca Theatre. Excitement is the keynote of the film, which features some actual combat pictures taken by the R. A. F. in action, and the realistic staging of the battle of Dunkirk.

Houston Oil Office To Aid In Obtaining Sufficient Supplies

HOUSTON — Facilities to assist each oil operator and supplier to obtain materials necessary to assure an adequate supply of petroleum and petroleum products have been established in the third district office, Office of Petroleum Coordinator for National Defense, in the Esperson Building in Houston, according to Grady H. Vaughan, district director of Production.

"In applying for assistance, the more information that is furnished when applications and requests are sent to this office, the better we are able to make our recommendations," Vaughn said.

Under the priorities control system established over defense materials, the oil industry is affected principally by Priorities Forms PD-1, PD-73 and PD-83-a, and Priorities Orders P-22 and M-21 and M-21-b.

PD-1 is the application form used in applying for priorities ratings in specific cases. PD-73 is a report form used where steel is purchased, and PD-83-a is a report form on which allocations of steel are based. The other symbols refer to specific orders governing uses and supplying of defense materials.

Most current needs for new or additional equipment can be satisfied through use of the PD-1 form, Vaughn said, citing as examples cases where a producer might need casing, new tanks and separators, or a pump to maintain production of a well that has ceased to flow. The form also is used where a refinery might need a new compressor or other equipment, or a pipe line might need a new pumping unit.

Operators who order steel direct from steel mills must complete the PD-73 form and attach it to their purchase order. This form is not used, however, when purchases are made from a supplier who is not a producer of steel. The PD-83-a report form is used by supply houses that do not fabricate the material.

For repair, maintenance and operating supplies, Preference Rating Order P-22 covers the oil industry, excepting retail outlets. The order grants priority assistance to repair, maintain and operate equipment and facilities in present condition, and is not intended to be used for the purchase of capital equipment or new equipment that cannot be defined as maintenance.

Lighthouse Subject For Christmas Seal

NEW YORK (Special)—The lighthouse is the subject of the thirty-fifth annual Christmas seal of the National Tuberculosis Association, which will be placed on sale throughout the country Nov. 24. The campaign will continue until Christmas.

Against the blue winter sky, which forms the background of the design, the double-barred cross, in red, the emblem of the national association, is spot-lighted by the lighthouse beacon. In the foreground is shown the snow-covered keeper's house, an upturned boat and an evergreen tree.

Four colors were used in printing the seal—yellow, black, red and blue.

GREASEWOOD CLUB NAMES NEW OFFICERS

Mrs. J. C. Franklin has been elected president of the Greasewood Home Demonstration Club.

Other officers chosen include: Vice president, Mrs. T. O. Midkiff; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Frank Midkiff; alternate secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Warren Skaggs; reporter, Mrs. D. W. McDonald; assistant reporter, Mrs. Arthur Judkins; parliamentarian, Mrs. W. M. Long; council delegate, Mrs. O. C. Collins; alternate council delegate, Mrs. T. O. Midkiff.

Welders Unions Not To Sit In On Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Five independent welders' unions notified Sidney Himmman, associate OPM director Saturday night that they would not be represented at the OPM conference Sunday on their dispute with the AFL which led to the recent West Coast welders strike.

"The welders of this country hereby notify you that they will find other ways and means of establishing their rights," the notice said, adding that it appeared the OPM was "either unable or unwilling to control the present situation."

Stanton Young Man Tells Of Thorough Schooling Of RCAF

STANTON.—The thoroughness of schooling for fliers of the Royal Canadian Air Force is explained in detail in an interesting letter from H. L. McKaskle Jr., who is with the RCAF, to his parents Mr. and Mrs. H. L. McKaskle of Stanton.

Lewis McKaskle who has been in the RCAF five months now is with Squadron 1, Flight D at Victoria-ville, Quebec.

He is expecting a leave for Christmas and plans a visit to Stanton at that time.

"You may be sure that I'll be the happiest boy in the world when I step off that bus," he wrote in the letter to his parents.

"Time passes so fast that it doesn't seem like I've been here five months. Anyhow I haven't gotten homesick yet because we are kept so busy on books and training we hardly have time for anything else. And I'm doing good in all subjects so far. But you may be sure that is no snap.

Burn Midnight Oil
"The boys that are fresh out of college are using some midnight oil also. Ordinarily an average person doesn't have any idea of all the different courses and stages of training a student has to go through before he makes a first-class flier. There are many things to learn before he makes a first-class flier. There are many things to learn other than simply how to fly an airplane. The instructors say 'knowing how to do a thing is not good enough but that we have to know how to do it well,' and be capable of learning it in the shortest possible time.

"Well, I'm already beginning to finish some subjects. Took hygiene exam the other day. Won't know our grades until the end of the school, except those that fail.

"Hygiene included various things such as the use of oxygen in the high flying and the physical and mental effects of the high altitudes in dives, blackouts, bends and things like that and the means used to lessen these disadvantages. Of course, we studied the general care of health and its importance. I did fair on the exam. I'm sure I'll get somewhere in the nineties. Have administration exam Tuesday. Also have armament exam in about a week. Its mostly the study of poison gasses and means to combat it with the use of gas mask and other ways for different types.

"Mathematics and navigation and wireless courses will run until about Christmas or maybe a little longer. The tests all have a time limit and you have to work fast and at the same time be accurate.

Wireless Is Interesting
"Wireless really is the most interesting subject."

McKaskle was one of fifty men of the training center sent to Danville, to represent the RCAF in a series of Armistice Day ceremonies and the air force detachment marched at the head of the parade. He pointed to England as a "great example of will-power," asserting "the combined extreme efforts of the British Empire and other free countries have now the offensive that is beating Hitler."

Daughter Receives Governor's Salary

AUSTIN (AP)—Senator H. L. Winfield of Fort Stockton collected $166.66 as pay for five days he was acting governor some time ago, but the money quickly went glimmering out of his possession.

He gave it to his attractive daughter, Miss Mary Winfield.

The acting governor of Texas, who substitutes for the governor when the latter is out of the state or otherwise is unable to serve, draws the same pay as the governor.

The rate is $33.33 a day, the governor's salary being $12,000 a year. When the governor leaves the state, he does not lose his salary for the period. It runs right along. The acting governor is paid out of a special appropriation for the purpose.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By William E. McKenney
America's Card Authority

Today's article deals with the method employed by The Four Aces to show controls and aces for slam bidding.

A necessary part of any method of slam bidding is a means of staying out of unmakeable slams. That is easily done by the control-showing methods of The Four Aces.

In today's hand South naturally sees a chance to make a slam after North's jump raise to three spades.

♠ Q 10 8 7
♥ A K J 10
♦ 9 7
♣ K Q 10

W N E Dealer

♠ 6 2					♠ 5 4
♥ 9 6 5 2					♥ 8 7 4 3
♦ A K 8 3					♦ 6 5 4 2
♣ 7 6 3					♣ 5 4 2

Duplicate—None vul.

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♣	Pass	4 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening—♦ K. 15

You will note that if North's hearts and diamonds were exchanged, South could easily make a small slam, losing only one trick in hearts.

South makes his slam try by bidding four clubs, upon which North shows control of hearts by bidding four hearts. Now South must fear the loss of two diamond tricks, and therefore must content himself with a return to spades at the simple game level.

North realizes that his heart has failed to encourage South and can easily read the diamond weakness. He therefore passes four spades and South makes an overtrick.

If North had the diamond ace or king, he would then go past four spades, since then his hand would fill the hole in the South hand.

Praises Midland Area For Cotton Production

C. L. Cossley, Athens, Texas, who has been picking cotton all his life, believes this section is one of the best cotton areas in the state.

He was one of scores of cotton pickers who came to Midland County to gather what was predicted as a bumper crop. Although overated, Cossley said, the crop should yield between 7,000 and 8,000 bales in the county.

He has been employed by F. T. Drummond on the J. A. Andrews farm about six miles southeast of here.

Leaders Fail To Supply Recovery

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market Saturday emerged from another disappointing week with leaders unable to show much in the way of recovery power.

At the start of the brief session the list exhibited scant inclination to extend Friday's brisk rally. While scattered favorites managed to tack on fractions, many issues soon slipped behind minus signs and closing trends were well mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at 39.7 but on the week was off 8 of a point. It was the third successive weekly decline. Volume of 333,910 shares was the best for any Saturday since early August and compared with 288,780 a week ago.

TRICK BOSTON TERRIER DIES OF POISONING

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Gin-Drinking Mr. Bang Bang, the Boston terrier who enlightened American Legion conventions from Paris to Broadway, is dead, a victim of poisoning.

Mr. Bang Bang was a gay dog with a large repertoire of tricks. He had his own glass in a taproom of a hotel where for years he was the only canine resident. His owner, Edward Shannon, has offered a $50 reward for detection of the poisoner.

"The frock of the future" is an apt title for this clever junior model with its long, button-closing dart fitted top which brings the waistline down to a new low! There is figure flattering in the way this contrasting top section emphasizes the slim torso—and the younger girls know it! They also appreciate the youthful effect of this full gathered skirt and the tailored turn-down collar with the matching cuffs. Make this frock in plain and patterned wools—later in plain and checked gingham or chambray.

SERIAL STORY

FOR THE LOVE OF PETE!

BY BURTON BENJAMIN

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: When State's star footballer Pete Laird loses his head at a crucial point in the game with Minnesota, and is thrown out of the play for fighting with a player on the other team, undefeated State takes a trouncing and Pete slips from his perch as national gridiron hero of the year. Coach Dixie Dugan isn't the only one disappointed in him. His head turned by attentions from film star Stephanie Stevens, who is slyly using him for his publicity value, Pete estranges his college sweetheart, Anne Humphreys, and his best friend and team captain, George Landers, whom he injures in a fight they have over Anne. Crowning blow comes when a note from Stephanie after the Minnesota game tells him she's just been using him as a chump, has no further need for him now that his fame is tarnished. Pete, despondent, decides to go to the hospital to see Landers.

NICE BLOCKING, BOY

CHAPTER XII

GEORGE LANDERS looked up from his hospital bed and saw Pete Laird in the doorway. "Get out of here!" he growled.

"Not until you hear what I have to say," Pete moved toward the bed. "Even a criminal gets that break."

"Make it quick," Landers didn't even look at him.

"I've got an idea," said Laird, "an idea how we can beat Notre Dame Saturday."

"Yeah," sneered Landers. "Send Stephanie to South Bend!"

"Forget her," said Pete evenly. "I have. By request."

"Twenty minutes later Laird got up from the bedside. "Well, George," he said anxiously, "what say? Will you back me up?"

"All the way, son," Landers grinned and Laird felt a thrill. One barrier was down.

Dixie Dugan sprang a bombshell Monday. After running over movies of the Minnesota debacle he stepped before the squad. "There'll be a change in the lineup Saturday," he announced. "Sheridan will start at tailback."

Several squad members looked at Laird and snickered. "And," continued Dugan, "Pete Laird will be at quarterback."

Pete Laird learned to be a fall guy that week. His body and shoulders pained him, and his head was filled with new assignments and plays. Pat Lester spent hours with him every afternoon and at night Pete would drag himself to the hospital for a session with George Landers.

Saturday came—brisk and clear. Despite a week's cramming, Laird felt leery. As he dressed in the locker room Dugan came over and rested his hand on Laird's shoulder.

"Pete," he said, "you've done a marvelous job. I know your head's full of plays, but I want you to help Billy Sheridan all you can out there today. Keep on feeding him advice. He can use it."

They trotted out on the field. It felt strange yelling signals as they ran through plays. "One—two—three—hike," "one—two—three—hike."

State received the kickoff, Sheridan spearing it on the 10-yard line and moving up the sideline behind Pete. Anderson and Wonssock sent two would-be tacklers sprawling. A big Irish lineman bore down on them at the 30 and Pete, changing low, hit him with a vicious shoulder block right above the knees. He felt a jar, his face banged into the turf, but when he looked up, Sheridan had moved 15 yards more for a nice runback.

"Nice going, Bill," he whispered in the huddle. "Next time cut back toward the middle. Those guys were sucked way over."

He snapped out a play, almost forgot himself and moved in the tailback slot, but remembered in time and crouched behind the tackle. Single wing, right. He bawled out a few numbers, the ball was snapped, and he charged into the lanky end, riding him out with his shoulders. Sheridan plunged by for six yards.

Then he called a spinner and Tullio plowed for a first down. "All right, gang," he called, "the old pepper now!"

The others picked it up. "Now you're talking, son," grinned Wonssock. "Up and at 'em!"

Laird smiled happily. Another barrier was falling.

Late in the third quarter, the Irish began to move. State's line was tiring and Notre Dame backs ripped off long gains into State territory.

Pete's body ached, his lungs screamed for air, his lips were out and a trickle of blood flowed from his nose. He had been feeling the brunt of the Irish attack from his line-backing position.

The Irish wouldn't be stopped. With sheer, indomitable power they moved to the one-yard line and pushed it across. Heroic Joey Anderson, a pillar of strength for State all day, blocked the attempted conversion.

Into the fourth quarter they battled, and with the minutes waning Pete knew it was time to strike if they were to win.

He called a wide sweep, the end dove and missed. Joey Anderson pulled out from his guard position and cut down the line-backer and Sheridan followed Laird into the secondary.

Only two men could reach them and Pete saw them cutting across the field to position themselves. "They're too close together," he thought. "Maybe I can knock 'em both."

Pete charged low into the first defender and sent him sprawling backward toward his teammate. The second Irish back saw what was coming and tried desperately to get out of the way without losing position. But he couldn't do it. He tripped heavily over Pete's head and neck and Sheridan raced by into the clear.

The crowd was insane. No one noticed two Notre Dame men rise gloomily to their feet, nor did anyone see a State man lying unconscious on the ground. While the cry was "Sheridan!" "Sheridan!" Pete Laird went off the field on a stretcher.

Joey Anderson, cool as an iceberg, stepped into the huddle. "This kick's for George," he said—and then, looking up, "and for Pete, too." He split the uprights—State led 7 to 6. The gun barked two minutes later.

PETE opened his eyes slowly and stared at the white ceiling of the hospital. Anna Humphreys stood beside him. A large curtain obscured the rest of the room.

"Pete," it was Anna whispering. "Pete, darling..."

"It's you, Anna." He rubbed his eyes in surprise. "What are you— I mean why?"

"How are you feeling, darling?" "Not bad." He managed a faint smile. "Little dizzy, that's all. Who won?"

"We did!" She rung his hand. "Thanks to you."

"Not me." He shook his head. "Sheridan was the guy. Great kid!"

"Pete..." she rested her head on his chest. "Darling, you're you again. You're real and—I'm proud of you."

"But, Anna," he was bewildered. "I don't understand. What about you—and George?"

"What about him?" Landers belted it as he pushed his head through the curtain. "How can I compete with a guy who blocks like that?"

Pete stared at George, then at Anna. A big grin spread across his face. "What a bump I must have got," he said, taking her in his arms.

Landers pulled back the curtain and picked up his magazine. "Glamor in the Rough" was the story's title. He laughed softly to himself and turned the page.

All-School Play Scheduled Dec. 19

Castings for the all-school play, "Life Begins at Sixteen" sponsored by Miss Pauline McMurrey, public speech director, began Thursday. The play consists of 15 characters to be portrayed by freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Miss McMurrey announced Thursday there will be other try-outs for students. Miss McMurrey urged students to participate in try-outs for a play Dec. 9.

Some of the materials the girls are using are: Cotton print, cotton shantung, cotton broadcloth, cotton suiting, and cotton pique.

It Still Pays To Be Courteous

Would you run into a person in the hall and deliberately knock him down? That is what students sometimes do without meaning to. The first essential of being courteous is knowing what to do and the second essential is being considerate enough to do it.

Sir Walter Raleigh became a knight because he placed his coat over a muddy spot for Queen Elizabeth to walk on. It takes less than that to win friends nowadays. Try it sometimes; it's not so bad at all.
