Right-wing party wins in Israel

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) -Menahem Begin's right-wing Likud bloc won the Israeli general election Wednesday and invited the defeated Labor party to join it in a broad coali-tion aimed at uniting the divided Jewish state.

Begin, the likely candidate to become Israel's new prime minister, made the overture to the Labor party with a quote from Abraham Lincoln about "binding the nation's wounds."

There was no indication whether Labor, which suffered its first defeat in Israel's 29- year history, would accept the invitation.

Sosef Sarid, a top Labor official, said he thought such a coalition

"Such a wagon would quickly sink in the mud, with so many people pulling at the reins," he said. But other senior Laborites, including party chief Shimon Peres, were noncommital.

The right-wing victory left a giant question mark hanging over Israel's future, both in foreign policy and on the embattled domestic front. Saudi and Kuwait government radios said the Likud victory would set back President Carter's peacemaking efforts. Syrian radio said it "will push the Middle East close to a new war."

The latest forecast, based on 1,900 of the total 3,879 ballot boxes, showed Likud with 41 seats in the 120-member parliament against 33 for Labor, 14 for the New Democratic Movement for Change and 12 for the National Religious party. Official results, handcounted and laboriously rechecked, are not expected for two weeks, but experts did not expect final totals to vary by more than one seat.

Begin, 63, who commanded the Irgun Zva'i Leumi terrorists during the struggle to establish Israel, told jubilant campaign workers he expected to form a new government "with all Zionist parties" and pledged to open peace talks with the Arabs. In putting together a new coalition cabinet - which could take weeks he is expected to turn first to the National Religious party. Other religious and nationalist parties could add eight more seats.

Department of Energy receives OK

By TOM RAUM

WASHINGTON (AP) - Legislation creating a Department of Energy, the centerpiece of President Carter's energy program, won approval of a House committee today while the Senate moved toward expected passage of its own bill to form the new Cabinet agency.

The House Post Office and Civil Service Committee endorsed the legislation 23 to 0 after amending it to bring more employes of the proposed department under the same civil service rules that apply to other federal workers.

The legislation now is ready for floor votes in both houses, although the House Rules Committee must first decide on ground rules for the House

No major opposition has surfaced to the legislation in the Senate, which opens debate on its version of the measure today, and backers are predicting easy passage.

The House panel amended the bill to eliminate a provision that would have exempted many high-salaried department employes from civil service regulations and created a separate pool of federal hearing officers for the agency. Other agencies must draw hearing officers from a Civil Service Commission pool. Rep. Patricia Schroeder, DColo, author of the amendments, said the new Cabinet agency "should not be given any more privileges than other agencies. This is one of the biggest reorganizations ever and we want to make sure it gets off to a proper

Meanwhile, another House panel is considering a proposal that would allow money from Carter's standby gasoline tax to be used for mass transit instead of being returned to Americans as rebates.

The proposal was made Tuesday by Transportation Secretary Brock Adams, who said it may make the controversial tax more palatable to

While taking credit for the idea, Adams told the House Ways and Means Committee that the administration is seriously considering the modification of Carter's energy program.

The committeee, chaired by Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., continues its hearings today on the tax part of the energy plan with testimony from a number of industry groups, including the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Under Carter's plan, taxes of up to 5 cents a gallon would be imposed in annual increments beginning in 1979 if gasoline consumption continues its rapid rise. The tax could eventually total 50 cents a gallon.

Nations agree to war ban

By BARRY SCHWEID

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) -Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A Gromyko joined officials from 31 other nations today in signing a convention banning environmental

The convention, a joint U.S.Soviet initiative at the ongoing 30-nation disarmament conference in Geneva, bans "military or other hostile use of environmental modification techniques having widespread, longlasting or severe effects.'

The techniques, still on the drawing board, include artificial catastrophies such as tidal waves, hurricanes and earthquakes.

The brief signing ceremony, held in the Palace of Nations council chamber, preceded the opening of three days of talks between the American and Soviet leaders expected to center on the nuclear arms deadlock and efforts toward Arab-Israeli peace, including a possible reconvening of a Geneva conference on the Middle East.

The Vance-Gromyko talks follow a decisive victory by Israel's conservative Likud party over the longruling Labor party in national elections on Tuesday and speculation on how this would affect prospects for Middle East peace. The Likud party advocates outright annexation of Arab land captured in the 1973 Arab-Israeli war, specifically the West Bank of the Jordan River and the Gaza Strip.

On his arrival, Vance adopted a wait-and-see attitude toward the Likud victory saying peace prospects would depend on "what kind of coalition is put together" following

But a top State Department official said the Carter administration intends to keep pushing for a resumption of the Geneva conference by the end of the year. He said vance would appeal to Gromyko to be "constructive" on the outstanding problem - Palestinian representation. The official described the Likud victory as a "not an irrelevant factor in the peacemaking process.'

Although the environmental war treaty was backed by 96 nations in a vote in the United Nations General Assembly last December, only 33 countries were represented.

Barefoot thinking again about taking on Tower

By LINDA SCHAFFRINA

Although he was defeated in the 1972 U.S. senatorial race, Barefoot Sanders is considering a rematch against Sen. John Tower in 1978. And he has "some optimism" about his chances of winning. Sanders was in Midland today to "drop in on folks" and discuss the possibilities of entering the 1978 senatorial race. He said he will decide within the next two or three months whether or not to run. One of the issues in the 1978 campaign may be the nation's energy Sanders said he favors higher ceilings on interstate oil and gas prices immediately, as well as simplification of regulations. Certainty of "where we're headed" and what policy is going to be also is essential, he said.

Ultimately, he would like to see a free market in oil and gas without regulation, but he said he believes that should not be done immediately.

In addition to providing incentive for oil and natural gas, finding and producing more oil and natural gas, Sanders said, he wants to "look after all those folks who are consuming Sanders said he disagrees with President Jimmy Carter's proposal to extend regulation of natural gas to intrastate sales. If such regulation is to come, it should be at the state level, he said.

Otherwise, Sanders believes Carter "has performed a great public ser-vice by focusing the attention of the nation on the problem" of assuring adequate energy supplies.
Sanders said he expects a "crowded field" in the Democratic primary race to choose a senatorial candidate. He said he expects Joe Christie, state insurance commissioner, and Rep. Bob Krueger to run and believes others will enter the race also.

The main issue in the primary race will be who can best represent the party, he said.

In the race against Tower, Sanders said, he has "some optimism" that he could win the election because of the relative closeness of the 1972 election.

In that election, Tower received 54 per cent of the vote, but former President Richard Nixon received 67 per cent of the vote in Texas, he said. The Democratic Party in Texas was divided to some extent also, Sanders said. He expects the Democratic Party to be more unified this time. Sanders said he is inclined to think the division of the Republican Party in the 1976 presidential election will make Tower more vulnerable in 1978 than in 1972, but "that's difficult for me to measure.

A hard-fought primary campaign in the Republican Party should help the Democratic nominee, he said.

MIA's parents don't sit, wait

A Midland couple wants to know if their son is alive - and they don't believe the government is making enough effort to find out.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Danielson's only son, Capt. Mark Danielson, was an Air Force electronic warfare officer when was shot down over South Vietnam June 18, 1972. A little less than a year later, Danielson said, the U.S. Air Force issued a "presumed finding of death" because no evidence had been found to indicate he was alive. But, he said, three of the 15 men on the plane were rescued after the crash and there may have been others. The Danielsons are active in the League of Families, a group of families and friends of persons missing in action in Vietnam.

Danielson said there are 87 documented cases of people who are known to have been prisoners -because they appeared in news pictures or were used for propaganda purposes — who were not returned. While Vietnam said they will give us information, the only time they give us information is when they get something," Mrs. Danielson said. Now the Vietnamese want to join the United Nations and want money to rebuild the country, she said, and the United States should insist on an accounting first.

Although Congress has not approved direct foreign aid to Vietnam, that country is receiving money from international organizations such as the World Bank and the World Monetary Fund, Mrs. Danielson said. Since the U.S. contributes heavily to both organizations, U.S. tax money already is going to Vietnam, she said.

The League of Families is urging citizens to write their congressmen asking them to withhold all money for the Vietnamese "until we actually get an accounting," Mrs. Danielson said.

The League has sent representatives to Hanoi but they have not been allowed outside the city to search for indications that people may be alive or to search for bodies, Danielson said.

The U.S. recently sent a delegation led by Leonard Woodcock of the United Auto Workers union to Vietnam, but "it doesn't sound like they did much," he said.

"People need to know," Danielson said of the League's efforts. "There are 1,300 people who don't know where their families are."

Personally, the Danielsons have

MC adopts 4-day week to conserve electricity

By LINDA SCHAFFRINA

In a move designed to save almost 350,000 kilowatt hours of electricity. Midland College trustees Tuesday voted to put the college on a four-day week for the summer.

Summer classes already were scheduled for a four-day week, and the change approved Tuesday applies to office staff and administration. Grounds and maintenance depart-ments will continue to work a five-day

The electricity savings come from not having to use air conditioning on the fifth day of the week. College President Dr. Al G. Langford said the new work week will result in about a 15 per cent electricity savings.

Also at Tuesday's board meeting. the trustees agreed to meet in special session at 4 p.m. May 25 to receive the administration-prepared budget for Langford said all the bids are within the budgeted amount for seats. The trustees agreed to visit facilities using the different bidders' seats before making a decision in June.

The trustees agreed to allow Langford and board president Murray Fasken to make arrangements to meet with representatives of the City of Midland and the Midland Independent School District, which share a tax office with the college, to discuss the proposal.

If Fasken is unavailable to meet, board vice president Jack Huff will meet with the representatives.

Study says anticancer an ordinary Quartz watch drugs may be harmful

By WARREN E. LEARY

DENVER (AP) - Patients treated with a widely used family of anticancer drugs run a higher risk of later developing a second form of cancer apparently caused by the treatment, says a major new study.

National Cancer Institute scientists said Tuesday that women treated for cancer of the ovary with alkylating agent drugs have a significant risk of eventually getting acute nonlymphocytic leukemia, a treatable blood

Doctors attending the annual meeting of the American Society of Clinical Oncology said the findings are important because alkylating agents are used to treat a wide variety of malignancies, including breast cancer.

Researchers cautioned against undue alarm about the findings. Alkylating agents are responsible for the long term survival of many patients who wouldn't be alive to be concerned about secondary cancers if it were not for the drugs, they said.

Commenting on the study, Dr. Vincent T. DeVita, director of NCI's cancer treatment division, said risks of later cancer should be "considered minimal" compared with risks of the first cancers the drugs were used against.

'To some degree, this is a measure of improved treatment," he said in an interview. "Ten years ago we didn't have to worry about second cancers because all the patients died.' However, DeVita said, doctors should consider using other treatments for early, less severe cancers if further study bears out an increased risk of later cancer with alkylating agents.

For advanced cancer, risk of treatment would not exceed risk from the disease and the most effective therapy should be used, he added.

Other doctors at the meeting commented privately that there still is debate over what is an "early" or "less severe" cancer and that these distinctions may be hard to make in choosing the therapy.

The new study was compiled by Drs. Ronald R. Reimer, Robert Hoover, Joseph F. Fraumeni Jr., and Robert C. Young from data on ovarian cancer patients supplied by 51 cancer centers around the country.

Looking at a group of 5,455 ovarian cancer patients, 4,324 of whom had alkylating agent chemotherapy, the scientists identified 13 patients with acute nonlymphocytic leukemia. All 13 had alkylating treatment, in-cluding nine who also had radiation

Compared to the rate of this acute leukemia in the general population, the ovarian cancer patients had a 21fold increased risk of leukemia. Looking only at patients who had alkylating chemotherapy and whose cases were followed for more than two years, relative risk increased to 171 times, the study said.

Saccharin hearings commence

WASHINGTON (AP) Administration is opening hearings on its controversial decision to ban saccharin from diet foods and soft drinks.

FDA Commissioner Donald Kennedy, who took office in the midst of the public outcry following the ban's announcement, will preside at the two days of hearings that open today. The FDA said 49 persons had asked to testify. Most witnesses representing the soft drink industry, consumer groups, drug companies, diabetics and dieters, are expected to oppose the agency's ban of the last artificial sweetener on the market.

The FDA announced in March it will ban saccharin as an artificial sweetener in foods and drinks this July, but will allow it to be sold as an over-the-counter drug.

Kennedy has tried to explain why the FDA feels Canadian studies showing high doses of saccharin cause cancer in rats are important. Those tests, in which rats were fed the saccharin equivalent of 800 cans of diet soft drinks a day for two generations, were the basis of the FDA's ban.

Kennedy said last month that many of the 16,000 letter writers who have contacted the FDA "have worried that the Canadian rat study involved unrealistically high doses of saccharin. Others expressed the impression that almost any substance fed in such high doses would cause

House okays Craddick bill

Austin Bureau AUSTIN — The House Tuesday gave final approval to a bill by Rep. Tom Craddick to add a chapter to the Texas Water Code providing for irrigation districts.

House bill 1408, a 144-page bill, will provide for the creation and operation of irrigation districts, as has been done for water supply or drainage

Now the bill goes to the Senate for consideration.

Seminar held

Police, sheriff's deputies, firemen and hospital workers, attended an emergency preparedness seminar in the council chambers at City Hall today.

Two films on large-scale disasters were to be shown and a discussion of the films with applications to Midland were to be held, Col. Wilson Banks, city director of aviation, said.

music and to find a worldwide niche for Western Swing. 'My idea is to separate the Western, if the music is Western Swing, from Country 'n' Western," he

"'Country' music is a distinctive type of music that had its origin in the Middle and Deep South," Rigby said, 'and culturally that is still its

Western Swing is something else, he said

It is "not a sub-type of country music, but (is) . . . separate from any other.

Rigby even put his "obsession" into the written word. "This beautiful type of music was the creation of one man. Bob Wills. and at one time was enjoyed by millions in the Southwest and West, until its decline, and almost demise, in a span of time from the 1950s to the 1970s," Rigby expounded in an essay in behalf of his craze for Western Swing.

Writing was not enough. Rigby decided to climb aboard his soapbox and speak.

"I stayed silent for a long time, said Rigby, who has been a U.S. postman for more than 20 years. Here's what Rigby, the un-silent postman, is saying nowadays: "Western Swing is not country. It's always had second billing when it should have been alone, separate."

Wills's Western Swing included such numbers as "Faded Love,"
"Maiden's Prayer," "Silver Bells," "Deep in the Heart of Texas," "Gone Indian," "Done Gone," "Osage Stomp," "Wills Breakdown," "Cherokee Maiden," "Red Hot Gal of Mine," "Take Me Back to Tulsa" and, of course, "San Antonio Rose."

Rigby's affinity for Wills and his music may be rooted in his childhood

"I guess you'd have to grow up with it" to really appreciate the music, he

He remembers Western Swing from the war years.

"The first song I heard on the shores of Manila (The Philippines) was 'San Antonio Rose,'" Rigby said. That was in 1945.

With the passage of years, even Rigby's interest in Western Swing declined and faded. But something renewed his interest. That was the decline of Wills himself. He was

"I got like everybody else until he had his stroke and paralysis," Rigby said. "Suddenly I realized . . . that Bob was almost gone.

After his death in Fort Worth two years ago this month, the nation and particularly the Southwest was reintroduced to Bob Wills. For millions, it was probably their first "meeting" with Wills.

That meeting came in the song "Bob Wills is Still the King" popularized by Willie Nelson and Waylon Jennings, who, like Wills, were considered "outlaws" by traditional Nashville music-makers. Rigby never did heard Wills and his Playboys in person. But he did see the master in his wheelchair in 1971 at the first Bob Wills Day at Turkey in Northwest Texas.

He returned this year. The memory and sounds of Bob Wills were there, along with several thousands of Western Swing fans and a few of Wills's old-time Playboys.

Among the bandsmen was steel guitarist Leon McAuliffe, the "Take it away, Leon" in many of Wills's recordings.

Wills is gone, Western Swing is fading, but Rigby's obsession with the jazzy music is full-blown. He's hoping for a rebirth of Western

"You'd like to reach back, but we can't," said Rigby. "But we can have our memories from that time.

FAA to bear 90 per cent of Webb conversion cost

BIG SPRING - The Federal Aviation Administration will bear 90 per cent of the cost of a master plan for a municipal airport at the soon-tobe-abolished Webb Air Force Base

The City of Big Spring would pay 10 per cent toward the study.

The city is to gain control of base property after Webb AFB shuts down later this year.

The Department of the Air Force has decided to kill off Webb and Craig AFB at Selma, Ala., in an economy move during these years of peacetime.

Webb and Craig are two of the Air Force's seven undergraduate pilot training bases.

Discussion of the master plan came Tuesday, when the city's Webb AFB steering committee met with three FAA officials - Bill Howard, district chief of airports; Lloyd Billiter, logistics specialists, and Ed Phillips, airway sector manager.

Clyde McMahon Sr., chairman of the aviation committee here, said that the city will "have to identify the boundaries of property that will produce revenue to operate the air-

Chance for thunderstorms in forecast

A slight chance for thunderstorms still looms over the Midland area with the National Weather Service predicting a 20 per cent chance for moisture today, 30 per cent tonight and 20 per cent for Thursday.

Permian Basin area towns reported fair, warm weather with breezy winds early today. No precipitation was reported in the area.

A tornado slashed through the South Plains town of Plainview about 7:10 p.m. Tuesday, but authorities said there were no injuries and no severe damage was reported.

Elsewhere on the South Plains. golfball sized hail and heavy winds were reported in Lubbock along with numerous reports of funnel clouds.

The forecast for the Permian Basin area calls for partly cloudy skies through Thursday with a chance for mainly afternoon and evening thunderstorms. The high today will be near 90 with the low tonight in the mid-60s. The high Thursday will be in the upper 80s. Winds will be southerly at 15 to 20 mph today, diminishing to 10 to 15 mph tonight. # awaits trial

One Big Spring man awaits trial and another man faces extradition from Italy on charges of aggravated kidnaping in the 1974 extortion attempt of the wife of a Midland banker.

A woman also charged in the incident, Theresa Metcalf Turner, pleaded guilty last week in district court and was sentenced to five years probation and was fined $1,500. James Timothy Young remains in Italy, pending extradition. Young's commanding officer will have to cooperate in the extradition, assistant District Attorney Mark Withrow said, adding that it is difficult to extradite persons from overseas. Another man, Ruel L. Metcalf, has been out on a $50,000 bond posted on Dec. 16, 1976, Withrow said. Metcalf's trial probably will be scheduled toward the end of the year, Withrow said. The man was married to Mrs. Turner at the time of the incident.

Metcalf and Mrs. Turner were arrested Dec. 10, 1976, after Young told his commanding officer in Rome about the kidnaping. He was stationed at Webb Air Force Base in Big Spring at the time of the kidnaping incident.

Police accounts of the incident report that Mrs. Robert L. Pendleton, wife of Commercial Bank and Trust Co. president, was held hostage for an hour Nov. 30 1974, in their home, after two men entered the house and tied her to a chair in a bedroom closet.

Pendleton then was contacted and told his wife would be harmed if he did not pay them $400,000.

Pendleton contacted law enforcement officers and went to his home, where he and officers found Mrs. Pendleton unharmed but still tied to the chair in the closet.

Sirhan says he's ready to talk

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Convicted assassin Sirhan Sirhan, who has maintained silence for eight years, now says he wants to talk about the killing of Sen. Robert Kennedy.

Sirhan, serving a life sentence at Soledad Prison, sent word through his attorney Tuesday that he would like to meet with Los Angeles County Supervisors Baxter Ward and Kenneth Hahn.

The invitation was relayed by attorney Godfrey Isaac as the supervisors opened public hearings in their investigation of unsolved aspects of the Sirhan case.

Isaac, reporting that he had visited with Sirhan on April 29, said Sirhan declined to see anyone except Ward

"He says he would be willing to meet with these two supervisors to discuss the matter with them openly," Isaac said. "I will be happy on behalf of Sirhan to arrange it.'

Isaac said Sirhan was familiar with the two, apparently from news reports. Hahn and Ward are the board's most outspoken members. Ward is a former TV newscaster.

Both supervisors appeared startled at the invitation, but agreed to talk with Sirhan.

At a previous meeting, Hahn urged special counsel Thomas Kranz to seek an interview with the assassin for the sake of history. He said no investigation of the Kennedy killing would be complete without Sirhan's own story.

Isaac said he could arrange the meeting at Soledad Prison "almost -

UTPB may lose $95,000

AUSTIN-The University of Texas of the Permian Basin is one of two area state schools that will lose funds under a proposed set of reductions in the House version of the State appropriations bill. UTPB stands to lose $95,000 for electrical and other repair work to the campus buildings. However, a special $195,000 appropriation for slowing enrollment growth will not be included in the House version of the bill. Angelo State University in San Angelo will lose $83,875 for a career guidance and counseling center if the House version of the bill is passed. Sul Ross State University in Alpine, will not be affected by the proposed spending cuts. The appropriations proposed for Sul Ross include $6.7 million to renovate six buildings on the Alpine campus. The renovations fall under "special item" funds in the bill, an area where many universities will suffer spending cuts.

Accident victim in fair condition

A 70-year-old Midland man was listed in fair condition today at Midland Memorial Hospital after the car he was driving went out of control, crashed through a fence and struck a tree Tuesday morning, according to police reports.

Midland police said Earl William Chapman of 2013 Community Lane was traveling north on N Street about 11:30 a.m. Tuesday when, after crossing Neely Avenue, his car jumped a curb, ran through a wooden. fence, then struck a tree after traveling through a yard at 2600 North Chapman reportedly suffered multiple bruises and facial. lacerations in the mishap.

The Danielsons believe their son might be alive since other survivors were picked up. The crew members for the mission were drawn from several units and "most of the people in the crew didn't really know each other," Danielson said. Also, the plane was lost at night in a fortified area on the Ho Chi Minh trail. The three who were rescued were found the next day by tracing signals from their "beepers." The plane blew up after at least some of the people had bailed out, he said. Since three got out and were recovered, "there's a possibility that some of the other 12 got out," Danielson said. When he was shot down, Capt. Danielson had completed more than 100 combat missions and had orders to go to Germany. His wife and two children now live in Colorado. The Danielsons said most people do not realize all of the missing did not come home when the Vietnamese released prisoners of war - and, they said, news of the efforts to get information on the missing is not widely disseminated. The League believes President Jimmy Carter has "sold out" on his promise to insist on a full accounting of the missing, and that he may work toward normalizing relations with Vietnam even without the full accounting, the Danielsons said. On the state level, a bill to allow appointment of guardians to protect the rights of the missing has passed the Texas House, Danielson said. Such a bill would give persons trying to locate the missing legal status and protect the civil rights of the missing men.

To declare the missing dead without evidence of death is wrong, they believe. "It's awfully hard for a mother to accept," Mrs. Danielson said, the fact that the government declares a son dead and "forgets him" when there is no evidence to support the declaration.

Danielson is a retired Air Force lieutenant colonel, as are many of the other parents of the missing. They have two daughters, one who lives in Arlington, Va., and one who lives in Fort Collins, Colo.

Fund reaches $1,350,000

Midland Community Theatre's building fund for its new Theatre Centre currently under construction on West Wadley Avenue now stands at approximately $1,350,000

The building fund goal is $1,750,000. At a Tuesday report meeting of workers involved in soliciting contributions and pledges from the general membership of MCT, it was announced that approximately $30,000 has been pledged in recent days by MCT members. The figure represents contributions from approximately 20 per cent of the current season membership.

The every-member canvass will continue for the next several weeks under the leadership of Fred Wright Jr., chairman of the general division of the fund campaign.

MADRID - Spanish police carrying submachine guns provided extra security for Vice President Mondale as he met with Spain's leaders only hours after a bomb explosion demolished the ground floor of the U.S. Cultural Center here.

Despite the terrorist action, the Vice President was smiling and apparently unruffled as he shuttled from the Palace Hotel to appointments with Premier Adolfo Suarez and King Juan The blast at the cultural center, which slightly injured two guards, (SWAPO), which is based was a topic of nervous conversation in southern Angola, among Mondale's aides, but the Vice

Mondale cool despite bombing

The stated purpose of Mondale's one-day visit was to express U.S. support for Spain's moves toward democracy since the death 18 months ago of Francisco Franco, the military dictator who ruled for four decades.

"Both of our countries now share a common love and support of democracy and human liberty. Mondale said just after his arrival from Lisbon. "I wish to say on behalf of my President, on behalf of the people of my country, that we are thrilled and excited by the developments toward a democratic society here in your country.

Later, seated beside Suarez in a room hung with tapestries designed by the Spanish master, Goya, Mondale praised the Premier in tones loud enough to be overheard by the reporters who were permitted to attend the first few minutes of the "You and President Carter got along very, very well," Mondale said to Suarez, who visited Washington earlier this year, "He (Carter) spoke of how impressed he was with you and of how your visit improved our relationship."

Mondale's trip and a visit last week by Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance, are expected to bolster the political standing of Suarez who is leading a coalition of center parties in the upcoming June 15 parliamentary elections — Spain's first free balloting in four decades.

U.S. officials said privately that they think a Suarez victory would be good for U.S.-Spanish relations, but Mondale has denied that his visit is intended as a signal to the Spanish

Following his private talks with Suarez, Mondale paid a call on King Juan Carlos, Franco's handpicked heir who has led the movement sharply away from the dictator's

Natural gas outlook

The Wall Street Journal, in its Review & Outlook column appearing in a recent edition, makes some interesting comments and observations concerning President Carter's energy program.

The article states that the conventional wisdom about the program seems to be that the gasoline tax won't get by, but that the other elements of the plan will sooner or later be enacted.

"Our own estimate, though," the article continues, "is that the package will collapse a piece at a time. This estimate is not merely wishful thinking, although it certainly expresses our hopes."

And we would hope that The Journal's hopes will prevail.

The article also discusses some of the scare tactics used by Mr. Carter in attempting to get his package adopted.

"Take natural gas, for example," it continues. "Mr. Carter apparently thinks the United States is running out of the stuff. If that were true, we might be as scared as he seems to be. But in the course of the debates on his plan, the President will discover that while we are now consuming 20 trillion cubic feet of natural gas every year and that - if prices were decontrolled - we have roughly 20,000 trillion cubic feet of natural gas at hand, with some estimates that there may be 50,000 trillion cubic feet of it. That is enough to last between 1,000 and 2,500 years at current consumption."

The Journal said further that Mr. Carter has been told that the nation has only 216 trillion cubic feet of of proven reserves, 10 years' supply.

"That number was developed by the U.S. Geological Survey in 1974 relating resources available at 1974 technology and 1974 prices of 52 cents per thousand cubic feet," the article said. "USGS does not and never has projected what resources would be available at higher prices."

This is information of which Congress very definitely should be aware when considering Mr. Carter's program. Price decontrol is the key to the whole

Carter's pollster catches flak

By JACK ANDERSON and LES WHITTEN

WASHINGTON - The adviser who did the most to help Jimmy Carter develop his presidential style, insiders agree, is his personal pollster. Long-haired, 26-year-old Patrick Caddell calls at the White House a couple times a month and counsels Carter on

It was Caddell, for instance, who suggested that the president build an image as a man of the people by using fireside chats town such symbolic gestures as cutting back on government limousines. One White House cynic summed up Caddell's advice to Carter in these words: 'When in doubt, smile!'

While Caddell has been helping Carter scale the political peaks, the pollster has chiseled out a piece of the rock for himself. He sells his services to fatcat clients for around $1 million a year. His association with the president hasn't hurt business. "Carter sees tough conflict-of-interest laws applying to everyone but Caddell, grumped one administration official. Five days after Carter won the New Hampshire primary, the Saudi Arabian government signed on with Caddell. Carter conceded that Caddell had advised him on Middle East policy but said he didn't see anything improper about Caddell's Saudi con-

Caddell told us he had merely provided the Saudis with some research. "It was pretty innocuous stuff," he said. He would never accept a political assignment from a foreign government nor help another government influence U.S. policy, he said. In any case, the Saudis no longer subscribe to his service. Westinghouse also retained Caddell last year to help the company cope with the anti-nuclear referendum in California. Caddell estimated that a national, pro-nuclear campaign would cost about $10 million. "Just as the anti-nuclear ... forces have sold fear," he advised Westinghouse, "the industry needs to find a lever with equal emotional intensity - massive unemployment, no growth, poorer living standards, runaway costs and foreign dominance."

"People buy objective research from us," Caddell told our associate Howie Kurtz. "We haven't been marketing our White House relationship or saying, 'Hire us because we work for Jimmy Carter.

Yet Caddell's corporate clients are aware of his Carter connection, which has become a factor in his growing prosperity. For example, two giant oil companies, Arco and Exxon, quietly subscribed to his service last year. The great banking house, Citicorp, signed on after the election. One of his latest clients is Belk's department store chain.

Such corporate giants as Sears Roebuck, Aetna Life and Casualty, Federated Department Stores, First Bank System of Minneapolis and United Banks of Colorado also subscribed to Caddell's $20,000-a-year quarterly public opinion poll.

The president's pollster stressed that he goes to "extraordinary lengths" to avoid any improprieties. He does not misuse his White House association to influence policies affecting his clients, he said. "We're just stating the conclusions of our research," he added. "We're not in an advocacy role in anything involving the government."

Not only corporate but political clients are turning up at Caddell's door. He has set up a separate firm to do his political polling, mostly for liberal Democrats. He has done at least three polls for the Democratic National Committee, which also subscribes to his $20,000-a-year quarterly poll.

At the same time, he has urged the president in a lengthy memo to make the Democratic National Committee 'a political arm of the Carter White House." Caddell suggested that Carter use the committee to pinpoint 'and hopefully co-opt the people who might help staff opposing political campaigns." This was a reference to the possibility that California's Gov. Jerry Brown or Massachusetts' Sen. Edward Kennedy might challenge Carter for the Democratic nomination

"Where do you draw the line?" Caddell asked at the end of an anguished interview. "If I know the president and I sell cars, does that mean I can't sell cars to people who do business with the government? I don't sell my services to influence the govern-

Footnote: A White House spokesman said there's no way to determine whether Caddell's business has increased because he is close to Carter or because he's a good pollster. "There's no requirement that you can't get new clients just because you happened to work for someone who wins a presidential election," added the spokesman.

WHO'S NEWS-The household records of Korean influence peddler Tongsun Park show he used to entertain Washington bigwigs several times a day. More often than not, he hosted small parties at breakfast, lunch and dinner. His culinary companions ranged from former Vice President Spiro Agnew to House Speaker Thomas "Tip" O'Neill. When he fled the country to escape a Justice Dept. investigation, only two of his prominent friends continued to keep in touch with him: Spiro Agnew and ex-Rep. Cornelius Gallagher, D.-N.J.

That's true whether one is talking about the running of a small enterprise, rural commune or mobilizing the country to achieve the goal China has set for itself of becoming a modern, industrialized power by the end of this century.

Although China is continuing to pay lip-service to the idea of worker participation in management and the need for managers to take part in labor, this has become a secondary consideration.

The thrust now is on what China calls the introduction of "rational rules and regulations" and reimposition of a "system of personal responsibility."

It may seem rather basic, but what the Chinese are talking about in terms of rational rules and regulations includes such things as making sure workers are actually on the job as required, improving quality inspection, carrying out regular maintenance of equipment and guaranteeing the use of sound counting practices.

"Personal responsibility" means just what it implies: each worker or manager has a job for which he is responsible and he will now be held accountable for that responsibility.

A final element in the drive to tighten and improve management is going to be greater central control over all activities. The leadership does not want to stifle local initiative by trying to control everything from Peking, but it does want to make sure central directives are implemented and more reliable information for planning purposes is forthcoming.

Just how far China is preparing to go in this effort to introduce modern management methods is reflected in the fact that Peking has openly stated a willingness to learn from the management techniques used elsewhere, including those in capitalist countries like the United

That doesn't mean China is planning to dispatch a dozen or so young Chinese to enroll in the Harvard Business School.

It does mean that much closer study is to be made of the management techniques and philosophy taught at such schools.

China makes no bones about the fact that tighter and more effective management methods have one basic aim: to improve production and worker productivity.

That is seen as the key to achieving China's long-range industrialization and modernization goals.

INSIDE REPORT:

Andrew Young said winning internal power struggle

By ROWLAND EVANS And ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON - South Africa's reluctant approval of Andrew Young's visit shows that the turbulent Ambassador to the United Nations, far from being an ignored em-barrassment for President Carter, is winning the internal power struggle over foreign policy.

The Carter administration made clear to Pretoria that it would be most unhappy if Young were barred. The South African government does not want to endanger talks in Geneva between Vice President Walter Mondale and Prime Minister John Vorster. So, although many South African officials believe Young was being intentionally provocative by snubbing the Vorster government in arranging his trip, they had to separate their view of Andy Young from their view of Ambassador

Total White House support given Young on the South African visit reflects a power reality not fully appreciated here: Young has won his battle with the State Department professionals over African policy. U.S. relations with leftist black African states are warming, in contrast to a chill toward white-ruled South Africa. Although the professionals question whether this policy will either bring peace to southern Africa or further U.S. ininterests, they accept it as the policy they have to pursue. This new attitude is reflected in the jockeying over Young's South African visit. Young had discussed the proposed trip with South African diamond magnate Harry Oppenheimer, who was visiting the United States. Oppenheimer indicated Young's plans to the South African government. But the next word heard in Pretoria came a week later in a public announcement that Young would be meeting black leaders in Johannesburg. That was news to the South African govern-

Novak

Whether Young's failure to follow diplomatic protocol stemmed from inexperience or was a deliberate provocation is debated within both the U.S. and South African governments. But the view that Young acted deliberately is strengthened by his little noticed comment last month that "I hate anything to do" with the South African government.

Addressing retired Foreign Service officers in Washington April 22, Young talked about "trying to maintain... humanitarian concerns" in dealing "with a country that we couldn't possibly agree with." Then he added: "It is no joke that I feel that way about South Africa; that I hate anything to do with that govern-ment." But "maintaining some kind of relationship and influence" with South Africa "is in our interests and in the interests of the majority of the people in that country (South Africa)."

In short, this is the U.S. policy shaped by Young: keep barely civil relations with Pretoria in order to serve as protector of South Africa's black majority. Whether that posture moves the proud Afrikaaners to a racial settlement is privately doubted by old hands at the State Department.

NEW CONGRESSIONAL POWERS The surprise death of a higher investment credit for business is testimony to the unheralded rise of two new powers in Congress: Reps. Robert Giaimo of Connecticut and Abner Mikva of Illinois.

The business tax credit, overwhelmingly approved by the Senate, was dropped in a Senate-House conference partly because of opposition from House Budget Committee chairman Giaimo. It failed the new test of orthodoxy by not being contained in the "congressional budget" drafted by Giaimo's com-

Even more influential was Mikva's threat to lead liberals against the investment credit in a death battle on the floor. Mikva, tough and brainy, is chairman of the liberal Democratic Study Group (DSG) and may now be the single most important member of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee. A footnote: Sen. Russell Long of Louisiana, who had pushed the investment credit as chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, surrendered to the House with uncharacteristic docility. One possible reason: his first priority was preserving a provision of the bill, sponsored by Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas, granting an extra tax advantage for oil drilling expenses.

ANTI-PANAMA TREATY The propaganda war over the Panama Canal will open in the Senate soon when foes of a new treaty unveil a poll showing rising public opposition to giving the waterway to the Panamanian Republic. A national survey by Opinion Research Corp. of Princeton, N.J., commissioned by the Institute of American Relations, shows 78 per cent favoring continued U.S. ownership and control of the canal and 8 per cent favoring turning it over to Panama. Comparable results by Opinion Research were 75 per cent (U.S.) and 12 per cent (Panama) in 1976 and 66 per cent (U.S.) and 12 per cent (Panama) in 1975.

With the end of the grace period given President Carter to seek a compromise solution, an anti-treaty resolution signed by 38 Senators four more than necessary to defeat ratification - is being prepared.

Dinah Strapps testified McManus told her he "had to do something" after an unsuccessful attempt to have his trial moved from Houston.

McManus, 34, a former Lamar University football player and coach, is charged with conspiring to murder Paul Cantrell, a Baytown electrical contractor, and his wife Mary. Paula Cantrell Derese, 27, a daughter of the slain couple, was originally charged with capital murder but later pleaded guilty to two lesser charges of murder and agreed to be a state witness. She was on the stand three days last week.

Debbie Foster, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Foster Jr. has been named the district winner of the Optimists International Oratorical Contest.

Miss Foster advanced to district competition in Wichita Falls by first winning the local Optimist Club contest, then winning the zone competition, held in Lamesa. Contestants may advance no further than the district contest. Texas is divided into two districts. More than 1200 students had entered the contest statewide. Winning the district competition is roughly equivalent to winning a state contest. Miss Foster, a student at Goddard Jr. High School, received a trophy and a $500 scholarship as winner of the contest. Contestants in this year's contest were asked to speak on the topic "Together We Will." Contestants were allowed to interpret this topic any way they wished. Foster spoke on the subject of trust. Bob Davenport, also a student at Goddard Jr. High School, competed in the district competition for poys. Davenport was also the winner of the AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) -Sunset legislation and a bill requiring new apartments to have individual electric meters go before the Texas House today.

An afternoon House session was scheduled so committees could work during the morning, with the calendar listing a sunset bill as a priority

''Sunset-the graveyard for useless government agencies-is badly needed in Texas," Speaker Bill Clayton

The bill would provide a schedule for legislative review every 10 years of the need for each state agency. In Tuesday's action the Senate finally passed and sent to Gov. Dolph Briscoe, two major bills. One allows judges to use "shock probation" as a means of convincing nonviolent first offenders that crime doesn't pay. After letting a convict spend several weeks getting a taste of prison life, a judge could recall him and put him on probation.

The other bill merges the Texas Water Quality Board, the Texas Water Development Board and the Texas Water Rights Commission into a single super-agency on water.

The House tentatively approved, 99-43, a bill allowing public schools to charge fees for driver education, band instrument and uniform upkeep and security deposits. But they could not charge for workbooks, field trips, lab supplies and the like.

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) - Rightwing leader Menahem Begin filed a claim today to become Israel's next prime minister as mounting returns from Tuesday's general election indicated a smashing defeat for the Labor party that has headed the government for all of Israel's 29 years as a nation.

Saudi and Kuwait government radios said the victory by Begin's hard-line Likud Bloc was a setback for President Carter's peacemaking efforts. Syrian radio said it "will push the Middle East close to a new war.'

With nearly half the votes in, the state television network predicted the Likud would win 41 of the 120 seats in the Knesset, Israel's parliament, to 33

Begin, 63, who commanded the Irgun Zva'i Leumi terrorists during the struggle to establish Israel, told jubilant campaign workers he expected to form a new government "with all Zionist parties" and pledged to open peace talks with the Arabs.

In putting together a new coalition cabinet - which could take weeks he is expected to turn first to the National Religious party. Other religious and nationalist parties could add eight more seats, giving the new government a total of 61 seats, or a majority of two.

In Washington, the State Department had no comment, but officials privately expressed concern the Likud victory might block progress toward an Arab-Israeli peace settlement because of the rightist party's pledge to give up none of the West Bank of the Jordan river or the Gaza Strip territory captured during the 1967 Arab-Israeli War.

"We're just going to have to wait and see," said Secretary of State Cyrus Vance in Geneva. "It's not wise to speculate until it gets a little clearer." He added that he would have to see "what kind of coalition is put together."

Senior Likud sources said they expected the new government to extend Israeli law over the West Bank, tantamount to annexation. That would include rule over the Arab population in the territory and could even mean a fifth Arab-Israeli war.

of seats in the Knesset.

Peres said Labor, which held a 51-39 seat edge over the Likud in the old Knesset, has "undergone a severe crisis, but I am certain it has the strength for renewed recovery." He blamed the loss on the DMC, a new party of rebel Laborites, the 38 per cent inflation rate and uncertainty among Israelis about President Carter's Middle East policy.

One of the U.S. arms proposals called for ratification of the 1974 Vladivostok understanding to limit each superpower to 2,400 long-range bombers and intercontinental missiles. The other called for substantial reductions in that ceiling.

The Soviets rejected the first Carter proposal because it did not include the new U.S. cruise missile in the weapons subject to limitation. They turned down the second because it would slash their land-based missiles while having little effect on existing U.S. forces.

The previous strategic arms limitation talks (SALT) to incorporate the Vladivostok agreement into a treaty deadlocked over the American refusal to put the cruise missile under restrictions and the Soviet refusal to do the same for their new Backfire bomber. The Carter administration's first proposal called for negotiations on this issue to continue without delaying the signing of the treaty.

President Carter said last month he was encouraged by private messages from Brezhnev and there may still be 'enough flexibility' to reach an

Carter Administration devising sweeping water policy reforms

By GAYLORD SHAW The Los Angeles Times

WASHINGTON - The Carter Administration is drafting a sweeping set of water policy reforms intended to force American homeowners, farmers and cities to stop wasting water or face loss of many forms of federal aid.

The process of preparing a comprehensive national water policy began last month amid the furor over President Carter's move to halt funding for 18 major federal water projects. While still in its early stages, interviews with ranking Administration officials Tuesday made clear that the plan will be keyed to conservation the same approach taken by Carter in his energy program. And, like Carter's energy plan, the water reforms promise to generate major controversy.

Interior Secretary Cecil D. Andrus launched the move toward preparation of legislative proposals with a private letter to Carter on April 13, telling the President that the current drought in the West coupled with the controversy over his dams "hit list" provided "an ideal catalyst to bring about water reform.

"We ought not to lose the opportuni-ty," Andrus wrote. "... Water conservation reforms are long overdue." Carter promptly agreed and ordered an Administration study of water reforms, Andrus and other officials said in interviews Tuesday as the President was touring California's drought region and after the Omaha (Neb.) World-Herald had disclosed the existence of Andrus' letter to Carter and an accompanying 10-page position paper.

"The fostering of a new water conservation ethic should be an integral part of federal water policy," Andrus wrote Carter, "and the current drought may provide the backdrop against which these reforms will be

Andrus's position paper, which he said "provides a basis from which specific proposals may be drawn," listed a range of ways "the federal government should use its influence and its programs to bring about needed changes." These included:

-A requirement that housing meet water efficiency standards before it could qualify for federally financed or insured mortgages. This presumably could apply to missions of single family homes as well as apartment and condominium projects.

-Establishment of "water efficiency requirements for irrigation uses...as a condition to obtaining federal agricultural assistance," as well as incentives to "encourage reuse of water for irrigation."

-Renegotiation of water service contracts between the government and irrigators or cities "so that water charges reflect both the cost of operation, maintenance and replacement...and are structured to promote efficient use.'

-A requirement that cities using federal water install meters and take other steps to improve distribution efficiency before they could obtain federal aid for water supply and waste treatment facilities.

In the position paper, Andrus also also urged that Carter propose immediate and sizeable increase in the share of water project development costs borne by project beneficiaries, such as irrigation district or com-

At present, for example, those benefitting from federal irrigation projects pay a 19 per cent share of the costs, Anrus told Carter. He suggested this be increased to 25 per cent immediately and 30 per cent within three years. And for municipal and industrial water supplies, where local sources now pay a 64 per cent share, he recommended an increase to 100

In a strong indictment of present water development practices, Andrus wrote the President: ... The nation continues to consume more water than is needed to meet its real requirements. The process of developing new projects and the water doctrines have combined to create a 'use or lose' syndrome, which, when coupled with generous federal financing, has led to a water development system which does not adequately consider the conservation of this precious resource.

"Federal financing and an archaic water law system which rewards early development, no matter what the use, has been a disincentive to water conservation. As a result, the per capita water consumption in many areas of the arid and semiarid West exceeds the national average. "I do not believe we can afford to continue such habits and am convinced that the federal government will have to take the lead in fostering water conservation.

The bill would provide a schedule for legislative review every 10 years of the need for each state agency. In Tuesday's action, the Senate finally passed and sent to Gov. Dolph Briscoe, two major bills.

One allows judges to use "shock probation" as a means of convincing nonviolent first offenders that crime doesn't pay. After letting a convict spend several weeks getting a taste of prison life, a judge could recall him and put him on probation.

The other bill merges the Texas Water Quality Board, the Texas Water Development Board and the Texas Water Rights Commission into a single super-agency on water.

The House tentatively approved, 99-43, a bill allowing public schools to charge fees for driver education, band instrument and uniform upkeep and security deposits. But they could not charge for workbooks, field trips, lab supplies and the like. Rep. Tom Massey, D-San Angelo, said loss of such fees had cost school districts $22 million since Atty. Gen. John Hill knocked them out in 1975 because the legislature

HOUSTON (AP) - The state was expected to rest its case today in the McManus, accused in the last July slaying of a Baytown couple. A waitress testified Tuesday she helped McManus fake a disappearance on the eve of his earlier scheduled trial.

Dinah Strapps testified McManus told her he "had to do something" his trial moved from Houston.

McManus, 34, a former Lamar University football player and coach, is charged with conspiring to murder Paul Cantrell, a Baytown electrical contractor, and his wife Mary. Paula Cantrell Derese, 27, a daughter of the slain couple, was originally charged with capital murder but later pleaded guilty to two lesser charges of murder and agreed to be a state witness. She was on the stand three days last week.

The state contends the Cantrells were killed in a scheme to collect estate and insurance money.

McManus had been scheduled to go on trial April 25 but disappeared the day before the trial was to begin. His bloodsmeared automobile was found abandoned in northeast Harris County. He was arrested April 30 in Jacksonville Beach, Fla., and his trial did not begin until May 8.

Miss Strapps testified Tuesday she and McManus used a hypodermic syringe to withdraw blood from McManus and then sprayed the blood on the seat of the car, wiping it around with a shirt. Miss Strapps cried during cross-examination and was removed from the stand prior to the playing of a taped recording of a telephone conversation with the defendant. The tape revealed Miss Strapps pleading with McManus to take her with him on his flight to avoid pro-She said FBI agents and police were with her as she taped the April 29 telephone call from McManus, who had left the area six days earlier.

After helping him flee from prosecution, Miss Strapp testified, she read news accounts about McManus being seen with a woman on the day of his escape.

"I knew that woman was me," she She said she went to authorities and Debbi Foster, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Foster Jr. has been named the district winner of the Optimists International Oratorical Contest.

Miss Foster advanced to district competition in Wichita Falls by first winning the local Optimist Club contest, then winning the zone competition, held in Lamesa. Contestants may advance no further than the district contest. Texas is divided into two districts.

More than 1200 students had entered the contest statewide. Winning the district competition is roughly equivalent to winning a state contest. Miss Foster, a student at Goddard Jr. High School, received a trophy and a $500 scholarship as winner of the contest. Contestants in this year's contest were asked to speak on the topic "Together We Will." Contestants were allowed to interpret this topic any way they wished. Foster spoke on the subject of trust. Bob Davenport, also a student at Goddard Jr. High School, competed in the district competition for poys.

Davenport was also the winner of the

DR. NEIL SOLOMON

Dear Dr. Solomon: The other day, I was checking on a few first-aid items I keep on hand in the kitchen in case there is an emergency. I would like to know what I should have within reach for eye accidents if, say, something like a bleach got in someone's eyes. What's best?—Iris V.

Dear Iris: Water, and plenty of it. Burns caused by acids, alkalis or other chemicals can cause very serious eye damage. What you want to do is immediately flood the eye with water, and to keep doing so gently and continuously for at least 15 minutes.

The easiest way is to lean over and hold one's head under a faucet or pour water into the eyes from a clean container—keeping the eyes as wide open as possible during the flooding. If there is a shower right at hand and that is the fastest way of getting lots of wash out the eyes, use that. Don't even stop to take off clothing. One caution: be careful not to wash a chemical from one eye into the other if only one eye After the flooding, get to a hospital emergency room or an eye doctor as quickly as you can. It is always a good idea, incidentally, to protect your eyes when you are using a chemical that might injure then. Use ordinary eyeglasses, sunglasses, goggles—anything that shields the eyes from a splash or a speck of undissolved chemical. You are certainly right in taking these precautions—people often do not realize how many eye injuries are caused by strong chemicals—or even just detergents used around the house these days. I find that one very good safety device is the plastic eye protector technicians wear in laboratories. It is a good item to keep in the kitchen. It doesn't cost much, and you wear it just the way you would

To L.C., Longmart, Calif.: Your problem of ab-dominal pain is a very common symptom of the irritable colon syndrome. The fact that the pain goes from the lower left part of the abdomen to the middle is not uncommon. In most instances the pain is relieved by the passage of feces or gas. Therefore, it is believed to be due to distention or spasms of the colon. You definitely should follow your doctor's advice regarding diet, exercise and medicine.

(If you have a medical problem, see your doctor. If you have a medical question, write to Neil Solomon, M.D. 1726 Reisterstown Road, Baltimore, Md. 21208.

Dr. Solomon cannot give personal replies but will answer as many questions as possible in his column.)

Cancer victim fund established

A fund has been established at a Midland bank to help defray medical expenses for a 12-year-old Odeasa girl whose left arm was amputated recently because of bone cancer, according to Joe Dominey, vice president of The Midland National Bank.

"We have established an account for the Elizabeth Gamboa Fund, so that concerned Midlanders can provide financial help to a very brave young lady, Dominey said.

Miss Gamboa, a sixth grader at Gonzales Elementary School, first complained of pain in her arm about four weeks ago. When swelling occurred, she was taken to M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston. There doctors confirmed Miss Gamboa had bone cancer.

Her arm had to be amputated to prevent the spread of the disease. "Gifts for the medical expenses for Elizabeth can be made directed to me, made payable to Elizabeth Gamboa Fund, or can be given to Jim Long, assistant cashier in our lobby," Dominey said.

Ideal executive image to change

NEW YORK (AP) - Qualifications for chief executive officers in the future will be quite different from those of today, finds International Management.

The reason, says J. Russell Boner, editor-in-chief of the magazine, is that the next few years are ex pected to bring accelerating change to the business scene, "creating problems for which firms have had neither precedence nor experience."

The ideal candidate, the publication says, should: understand the inner workings of legislative and administrative units of government at all levels have demonstrated ability to deal with militant environmental and consumer groups; possess ex-tensive international experience; have proven ability to generate profits and protect shareholder investment through strong centralized financing controls; be responsive to worker demands for job security, and be willing to share management decisions and authority with employes.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Worldwide shortages of oil could begin to cripple the industrialized world by 1981 unless there are urgent moves toward conservation, an international study group says.

In a study of global energy prospects up to the beginning of the next century, the panel said con-servation efforts and a move by Middle East oil producers to increase production could stave off the shor-

But the group said worldwide shortages could strike by 1981, will most likely strike between 1985 and 1995 and are a virtual certainty around the turn of the century.

The study was prepared by the Workshop on Alternative Energy Strategies — 35 representatives of governments, universities and energy-related industries in 15 industrialized nations.

Iran's oil production drops by 16 per cent

The Los Angeles Times

TEHRAN, Iran - Oil production in-Iran dropped by 16 per cent last month in what is seen here as the first market reaction to the oil price split within the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC).

Production in April declined by 864,000 barrels per day to a daily average of 5.41 million barrels, the national Iranian oil company has announced. The decline in oil exports was slightly larger on a percentage

Iran and 10 other OPEC producers raised prices by 10 per cent as of Jan. 1. Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates split with the other mem-bers and put up their prices by only 5

Market reaction to the price differential has been slow in coming. The oil companies had filled their storage tanks in the last quarter of 1976 in anticipation of the price rise, then bad weather in the Persian Gulf decreased offloadings from Saudi

Another factor was that both Iran and Kuwait laid down special conditions on outside buyers in the lastminute rush in the final quarter of 1976. Buyers who were not members of former concessionary companies, in Kuwait's case, or of the western oil consortium which handles 75 per cent of Iran's exports, were pledged to take an equal amount of oil in the first quarter of 1977 as in the previous

The pledge expired the end of March, and April was the first month in which the market forces were in full operation.

After Saudi Arabia, Iran is the second largest OPEC producer. A severe case of jitters hit in January, when production went down to just over 5 million barrels a day.

The government here threatened to blacklist companies failing to meet their obligations and the new budget was delayed because of uncertainties over oil revenues.

In February and March, however, production climbed back to more than 6 million barrels a day. The severe winter in the United States and Europe increased demand for heavy crude, which makes up 40 per cent of Iran's production.

With the summer season approaching, when the demand is for lighter crudes for gasoline, Iran's position appears to be weaker. This has been confirmed indirectly by Iran's chief oil negotiator, Jamshid Amouzegar, who has indicated that Iran was ready to forego a scheduled 5 per cent increase in prices due to come into effect July 1 if the Saudis agree to go up to a 10 per cent hike

Puckett Partners, Fort Worth, No. 1-28 Ida M., Pecos County wildcat and 1%-mile north and slightly west outpost to the Puckett, East (Strawn) gas field, flowed gas at the rate of 1.4 million cubic feet per day on a 12-64inch choke.

After the interval had been washed with 200 gallons of mud acid, it swabbed 65 barrels of load oil, then kicked off and flowed two hours on a 14-64-inch choke, making 60 per cent oil, 40 per cent water, no fluid or gas gauge reported.

Wilson, a professor at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the panel studied only the non-Communist world and offered a variety of possible "scenarios" for the future, rather than a definite prediction or policy recommendations.

Its conclusions generally parallel those of President Carter, emen to the

ENERGY

urging of a warlike urgency to deal with the problem

The panel said its findings indicate world oil production capacity will level off and become unable to fill potential demand unless strong action is taken quickly to reduce that

Even then, the report says, there will be a growing gap that can be satisfied only by switching from oil and natural gas to more plentiful energy sources such as coal and nuclear power.

Failure to begin the transition quickly will lead industrial nations into the trap of sudden, large energy shortages that would curtail production of goods and services and cause increased inflation and unemployment, Wilson told a news conference here Monday. The turn of the century energy shortage will still occur even if coal production more than doubles, oil demand growth is cut, nuclear power capability increases 25 times and oil prices increase by 50 per cent, the report said.

"This is not a doomsday report. It's a time bomb," Wilson said: "We've tried to pin down ways in which it will explode if the free world doesn't act soon enough.'

The same themes were sounded by Carter's top energy adviser, James R. Schlesinger, in a speech Monday at the Woman's National Democratic

Without strong conservation measures and switches to other fuels. he said, the United States "will skitter up to the end of a cliff, like lemmings, and go over," plunging into an economic catastrophe.

You've heard of a Mexican Standoff, of course.

Now there just may be a West Texas Draw in the National Junior College Athletic Association's Women's Tennis Tournament being held at the Midland College courts. Midland College's Chaparrals hold a narrow 22-20 lead over Odessa College going into today's action.

Indian River, Fla. is in third place with 16 points followed by Palm Beach, Fla. with 13 and Tyler, Tex, is next with 12.

have some great matches indeed with MC and OC battling it out to the finish. Odessa College was the pre-tourney favorite, but MC is seeking its third straight national crown and may still pull it off.

Today's quarterfinal round will

In singles action Tuesday OC's Sandy Collins, gifted athlete from Australia and the No. 1 seed in the tourney, polished off two opponents

Odessa has the No. 1 and No. 2 seeds in singles in Miss Collins and Miss Galloway and the top two seeds in doubles too, but Gulley was optimistic going into today's action. "We like the score close like it is.

After all, that's what makes a tournament fun and competitive," he said. "Of course, if we had an eight point lead, I wouldn't mind that a bit

Gulley also takes credit for the great weather that has been going on for the past two days. "I brought it from El Paso," he chuckled.

The finals are set for Thursday morning and afternoon with MC battling hard for that third straight NJCC championship to go with the other two first place trophies already Miss Yapsam and Indian River's Ferguson, hooked up in a well-played match Tuesday with Yapsam win-ning, 6-4, 2-6, 6-1 while Miss Beggs won over OC's Phillips, 6-1, 6-7 and 6-2 in a good match.

Midland Cubs post 9-7 win over Arkansas

BY TED BATTLES

What started out as one of those 18-17 slugfests quickly developed into a pitchers' battle, at least as far as Midland's Jeff Albert was concerned, as the Cubs came from behind to beat Arkansas 9-7 in the opener of a fivegame Texas League series at Cubs Stadium Tuesday night.

Karl Pagel supplied the big punch with a two-run homer in the fifth to put Midland ahead for good 6-5 and give the Cubs their eighth win in the last 11 games.

Albert, a 6-2 righthander from Oceanside, N.Y., went the route for the third time in the last four starts to boost his record to 2-3.

That Albert would go the route was a long odds bet in the first two when the C.W. Post College product was tagged for five runs

AND BEFORE it was over, Jeff was wondering if he would last the distance when the Travelers staged a desperdtion rally in the ninth to score

"Sure, I was tired," Albert said. "But I wasn't so tired I wanted to come out.

Acquired by the Chicago organization in the Rick Monday trade with the Dodgers last winter. Albert gave up 15 hits, but seven of them came in the first two innings. "There were some bleeders, infield hits and a couple were blown in by the wind, but the thing I think that saved Even so, it was a long night. He threw 133 pitches and normally in a nine-inning game throws 115. Pagel's 10th homer was an awesome wallop to right field on a night when fly balls were supposed to ride the 30 mph wind blowing from right to left field over the left field

"IT WAS a hard slider down the middle," Pagel said, "And I got good wood on it, but I was still surprised it

downs Rockets went out with that wind. I figured all the homers would go to left."

The blow, with Joe Hernandez, who had singled, on first, came off smokethrowing Victor Cruz and gave Midland a 6-5 lead. A walk to Tony Pepper, a stolen base and Duane Gustavson's single to left made it 7-5.

Hernandez supplied what turned out to be the deciding blow in the eighth when he doubled home Steve Davis and Keith Drumright, who had singled.

Arkansas jumped in front 2-0 in the first when Manny Castillo got a bad hop single and scored on a double by John Yeglinski, a long-time Cub tormentor . Yeglinski then scored on Leon Lee's single.

Midland got the runs back in the home first on a walk, a run-scoring single by Pagel and an error that let in a second run.

ARKANSAS MADE it 5-2 in the second on singles by Jim Lentine, Mike Ramsey and Nelson Garcia, a run scoring single by Castillo a wild pitch and Yeglinski's sacrifice fly.

An error, Davis' triple to center and Albert's rap to the pitcher gave Midland two in the second.

Houston, which came from 17 points down to win Sunday's fifth game in Philadelphia, almost pulled off another miraculous comeback Tuesday after falling behind 104-97 with 5:27 to play

The Rockets came back from that point to take the lead twice and apparently had tied the game at 111 on John Lucas' driving layup with five seconds left in

But Lucas was called for charging against Sixers guard Doug Collins by official Jake O'Donnell and the basket was nullified. Houston's bench erupted and a capacity crowd of 15.676 threw coins on the floor but it did no good. Philadelphia kept its two-point lead and then, with three seconds left, Steve Mix hit a free throw for the "I've never seen a call like that before in my life."

Lucas fumed. "If it hadn't gone in I would have been content but the ball went in and I never touched anybody." Collins had a different opinion, saying, "I didn't see the instant replay. But he hit me right in the chest - that's all I have to go by."

McGinnis sympathized with the Rockets but added 'There's no doubt it was an excellent call. He (Lucas) had made that shot all through the game where he would fake one way and shoot the other. This time Doug was ready.

Houston led virtually the entire game until the final 20 seconds of the third quarter when consecutive shots by Darryl Dawkins and Mike Dunleavy gave Philadelphia a 91-87 lead, their biggest of the game to that point.

Bobby Hillin qualifies car for Indy 500

By TERRY WILLIAMSON

Midland businessman Bobby Hillin. realizing a life long dream, has qualified a car for the 1977 Indianapolis 500, the Super Bowl of the racing world.

Hillin's Wildcat, No. 18 on the Indy hit parade, qualified over the weekend for the 13th position on the starting grid with a time of 188.972 m.p.h. by driver George Snider, a California native who has raced in 12

Snider powered the burnt orange and white racer to the 13th position with Donny Ray Everett, a former Midlander, serving as the crew chief.

Hillin, chief owner of Longhorn Racing, Inc., is entering a car in the Indy 500 for the first time. He has had cars in the United States Auto Club's sprint and dirt championships for the past two years while earning national

THE FAMOUS Indy 500 is set to run

Sunday, May 29th. There is one more weekend of qualifying, but Hillin's 13th position is set. The Longhorn team is also trying to qualify a second car, a solid burnt orange racer carrying the number of 72. The Eagle racer is driven by Bubby Jones, who has never driven an Indy car.

Jones will also serve as the Longhorn's sprint and dirt driver this year. Jones is in the process of getting his rookie license for the Indy race. and will try to qualify the Eagle racer this weekend.

The top 15 cars have already qualified with No. 18 already earning a position, but 33 will be in the final field. Over 70 cars are still looking for an Indy berth.

HILLIN AND Pat Bentley, a public relations expert from Dallas, have been in Indianapolis for the past two weeks trying to secure major sponsors. Hillin reports that one major sponsor has been secured, a firm that owns a chain of shopping centers.

Two Midland men, who have asked to remain anonymous, are helping to sponsor Hillin's Wildcat entry.

Hillin, a graduate of The University of Texas, hopes the burnt orange and white can pull its magic on the most famous racing day in America.

Atlanta star has surgery

ATLANTA (AP) — Centerfielder Rowland Office was scheduled for exploratory surgery on his shoulder today, a spokesman for the Atlanta Braves said.

Office, who injured his shoulder Sunday, could be back in action in 10 days if the surgery shows no extensive damage. But he could be out much longer if the damage is severe, said the spokesman.

Rolla Vollstedt tries to prepare his damaged car

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - Rolla Vollstedt's 30 years of experience in building and repairing race cars will be put to its sternest test in the next few days when he tries to fix damage inflicted by the unforgiving walls at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Vollstedt came to the speedway this year more confident of success in this year's Indy 500 than at any time in his But now, he is trying to straighten out the dents his two entries suffered in crashes by Janet Guthrie and Dick Simon exactly one week apart. Simon drove the new car which Vollstedt built for this year's race into the wall at the first turn Tuesday. The accident happened just seven minuets before practice was to end. "The car was handling superbly." said Simon, who suffered only bruises after sliding 460 feet and continuing along the wall for another 1,180 feet before stopping 570 feet farther down the track. "All of a sudden, something went," he said. "I knew I was going to hit the wall. I tried to turn the wheel to the left, but the car only wanted to go to the right.' The car had extensive damage on the right side from front to rear.

"We've got a backup car," Simon said. "It's the one I qualified in last year, but there hasn't been much work done on it since then.

"I don't think Rolla can repair my car, so he's going to have to work on the backup and then decide whether I

Ms. Guthrie has been unable to get her car to run effectively since hitting the wall last Tuesday. Oddly, both crashes came after the driver had hit the peak speed of the car.

"Today, we lost the fuel nump—just solved," Ms. Guthrie said. "I've been talking to myself these days because we haven't been able to find exactly what is robbing us of our speed

UTEP declared WAC champions

finish in the 3,000 meter steeplechase. In a statement sent to UTEP Coach Ted Banks and Brigham Young Coach Clarence Robison, Jack Balko, president of Specialty Instruments Corp. of Grand Prairie, Tex., said UTÉP's James Munyala finished "clearly ahead" of BYU's Henry Marsh by one-hundredth of a second.

UTEP was the unofficial winner of the meet that ended here May 6, 170-169 over BYU. But meet officials called the 3,000 meter race a dead heat and sent the finishing photograph to Balko for a ruling.

Trinity, Amarillo nab wins

Euless Trinity downed the Abilene Cooper Cougars, 3-1, Tuesday and Amarillo High surprised Lubbock Monterey's Plainsmen, 8-5, in Class AAAA state baseball playoffs games in bi-district action.

Ricky Martinez threw a four-hitter at Cooper and in picking up the win, is now 11-2 on the year on the mound for the Trojans, District 6-4A champions. Jim Cook was the loser for the Cougars who must now win two straight in order to advance into the regional round.

Trinity pounded out nine hits off Cook and scored single runs in the second, sixth and seventh innings after Cooper had taken a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first.

Amarillo evened the series with Monterey after the Plainsmen had won the opener last Friday by the same 8-5 score. The loss ended a 20-game vinning streak by Monterey. Gary Holub led Monterey with three hits in three trips to the plate, including a three-run homer. Derek Hatfield suffered his first loss of the year after chalking up 13 straight wins.

A five-run outburst in the fifth inning, turned the trick for the Golden Sandies.

WHA playoffs resuming tonight

WINNIPEG (AP) - When will the big guns start scoring in the World Hockey Association final playoff series between the Winnipeg Jets and Quebec Nordiques? In the first two games of the best-of-seven series, which resumes tonight with the teams tied 1-1, the top lines of both clubs have been held scoreless. But Marc Tardif of Quebec, for one, looks on the brighter side. "At least we haven't allowed their big line to score when we've been on the ice, said Tardif, a member of Quebec's Cloutier. He was referring to Winnipeg's top line of Ulf Nilsson, Anders Hedberg and Bobby Hull, which normally skates against Tardif's unit.

big line of Chris Bordeleau and Real

"Actually we haven't played too much together in the last part of the season." said Tardif while predicting the drought likely would end soon. Tardif said if his team can play up to the form shown in its 6-1 victory in the second game Sunday night, it would win both games tonight and Friday at Winnipeg.

Overstreet overlooked

AUSTIN-Tracking around Memorial Stadium for notes and quotes from the state and Southwest Conference track and field meets.

Big Sandy football star David Overstreet won the Class A 330 intermediate hurdles with a 38.1 seconds and placed second in the long jump, and he still came away from the meet bitter.

Overstreet has been overlooked by the Texas High School Coaches Association in its selection of players for this summer's all-star football game, and the major oversight has left the Oklahoma bound halfback fuming.

"I was really disappointed when I was not picked to play in the all-star game," said Overstreet, who is Texas' third leading rusher in state history. "I don't know why I wasn't chosen, but I hope I can get back at the entire state of Texas by helping Oklahoma beat Texas this year in the Cotton Bowl."

The 198-pound all-state running back chose Oklahoma after signing a SWC letter of intent with Baylor because, he says, "I felt I would get better exposure at Oklahoma playing for a potential national champion. want to go on and play pro ball after

OVERSTREET LED Big Sandy to three consecutive Class B state titles, but the Wildcats moved up to Class A last season and finished 4-4-2.

"I played six games last fall while I was hurt. I had a bad back, pulled hamstring and sore ankles, but I still feel I deserved to be chosen to the allstar team on my past record, and I hope to prove it after I get to Oklahoma

THERE ARE players every year that are deserving to make the allstar team that don't get an invite, but this is one time the THSCA deserves a slap in the face with a wet noodle. Overstreet is a high school legend, and his name will not go unnoticed this summer in Dallas when the allstar game is held. Somebody is going to have to answer a lot of questions, and my guess would be that they better have some pretty good answers.

Many writers on hand for the state meet thought San Antonio Jay's Mark Anderson would set a conference AAAA record in the mile run Saturday, but his 4:11.3 missed the mark by three-tenths of a second.

Anderson explained by saying, felt sloppy the whole race. Maybe it was because this was the first close race I've had all year.' BAYTOWN LEE'S Mike Bonem pushed Anderson to the limit with his 1:11.6, and Midland High's Robert Wilson was in the lead during the third lap.

"I don't think I have been behind in the third lap all year," Anderson noted. "I think I started to move out too fast as a result. I won, but I would have liked to set the record. That's what I was shooting for because I have had a 4:10 this year. That Midland kid (Wilson) taking the lead in the third lap may have been my downfall."

Wilson finished third with a 4:15.1. his best time ever. Wilson seemed to lose a little toward the end of the third lap or he might have challenged stronger than he did.

The big talk of the meet, however, came Friday night when West Columbia's Carl Williams set two state records by winning the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

WILLIAMS, A junior, posted a blazing 9.2 in the 100 and a 20.9 in the 220. His 20.9 erased the state record set by Johnny Jones of Lampasas only a year ago and avenged a defeat in the 100 he suffered to Jones as a sophomore last year. Williams had a 9.5 last year in his matchup with Jones while Jones recorded a 9.4.

"Everybody keeps asking me how it feels to break Jones record, Williams said. "Well, it's my record now, and I'm going to break both of them next year again.

The SWC pulled a coup by holding the SWC meet the same weekend of the state meet. The announced crowd was 15,000, but 20,000 would be more like it. The amazing thing was that UT let out school the week before, and they didn't get any help from students.

JONES LED the Texas Longhorns to their sixth consecutive SWC team title by winning the 220 and 100 races. He also anchored two winning relay teams, placed fourth in the long jump and his 220 time of 20.14 was a new SWC record. The 20.14 time in the 220 put to shame Williams' winning mark n the high school division.

In two years, Jones and Williams could be matched in an SWC meet if Williams chooses a conference school to attend.

First year head track coach David Thompson of Stanton deserves a special trophy. Stanton finished second in the Class A team race by winning the mile relay. It was the best finish in history for Stanton.

I told Thompson last week that all the Buffs needed now was to get in the football playoffs. He replied, "We will soon. That's what we are here for."

RANKIN GOLF coach Dwayne furner again led his Red Devils to the Class A state golf championship. Turner now has five straight championships. No team in any sport can match that record in the history of the

One writer said that if Rankin wins its sixth title next year, they should be barred from the meet. When the writer was told that Rankin didn't win the regional title this year, he replied, 'So what, they probably don't start playing until they get down here. They probably eat golf balls for

On the tennis scene, Abilene Cooper's David Zimmerman was routed surprisingly easy by Highland Park's Reed Freeman, 6-3, 6-2, in the AAAA singles finals. Zimmerman and Freeman were co-ranked No. 1 by the Texas Tennis Association.

"David beat me the last time we played, but I just tried to make him run around the court a lot and get tired and then I waited for his mistakes. It worked."

SWC baseball tourney opens on Thursday

AUSTIN - The Southwest Conference opens the long-awaited post-season baseball tournament Thursday at Disch-Falk Field on the University of Texas campus.

On the line will be an NCAA regional tournament berth as four teams - Texas A&M, Texas, Baylor and Arkansas square off.

The tourney opens Thursday with Texas A&M, already crowned SWC champions, taking on Arkansas. The Aggies racked up an 18-4 SWC mark while the Razorbacks finished in fourth place with a Texas, the runnerup, with a 17-7 league record, tangles with dangerous Baylor which wound up with a 15-9 mark, finishing in a rush. It is a double elimination affair with the Aggies already assured a spot in the College World Series in Omaha, Nebr., no matter how they do in the tourney. The other team will then advance into the regional round as an at-large entry.

Texas A&M broke a string of 12 consecutive titles either won or shared by the Longhorns and was the first time since 1966 the Aggies have reached the playoff spot.

Final league statistics show that A&M's championship record was accomplished with the help of both good hitting and excellent pitching. The Aggies led the SWC as a team with a .306 batting average, topped by the league's fifth-highest hitter, Robert Bonner with a .359 average.

At the same time, pitchers Mark Ross, Mark Thurmond and David Pieczynski controlled enemy hitters almost at will. Thurmond's 6-0 mark and a 0.64 earned run average were both tops among hurlers that worked at least 40 innings. Ross followed with a 6-1 and 2.87. Pieczynski, a spot starter for Coach Tom Chandler's outfit, posted a 4-0 won-loss

The Longhorns lacked the hitting punch in 1977, but more than made up for it with adequate pitching. As a team, Texas only hit .272, for for fifth in the league and it only placed two hitters — among the SWCs SWC's top twenty in outfielders Jerry Jones and Wendell Hibbitt with .337 and .313, respectively.

Hurlers Kem Wright and Don Kainer along with Tony Brizzolare picked up the slack, posting a 13-6 SWC record between them.

Though its team batting average wasn't the best in the SWC, Baylor was far and away the most productive league entry as the Bears ended their season as the team leader in every offensive standpoint except three.

Steve Macko, the leading hitter in the league with a 404 average, paced the Bear attack.

Arkansas, although not impressive stats-wise, still was good enough to have the 10th best hitter in Tim Lollar at 329.

Bobby Hillin qualifies car for Indy 500

By TERRY WILLIAMSON

Midland businessman Bobby Hillin, realizing a life long dream, has qualified a car for the 1977 In-dianapolis 500, the Super Bowl of the racing world. Hillin's Wildcat, No. 18 on the Indy hit parade, qualified over the weekend for the 13th position on the starting grid with a time of 188.972 m.p.h. by driver George Snider, a

California native who has raced in 12

Snider powered the burnt orange and white racer to the 13th position with Donny Ray Everett, a former Midlander, serving as the crew chief.

Hillin, chief owner of Longhorn Racing, Inc., is entering a car in the Indy 500 for the first time. He has had cars in the United States Auto Club's sprint and dirt championships for the past two years while earning national THE FAMOUS Indy 500 is set to run

Sunday, May 29th. There is one more weekend of qualifying, but Hillin's 13th position is set The Longhorn team is also trying to qualify a second car, a solid burnt orange racer carrying the number of 72. The Eagle racer is driven by Bubby Jones, who has never driven an Indy car.

Jones will also serve as the Longhorn's sprint and dirt driver this year. Jones is in the process of getting his rookie license for the Indy race, and will try to qualify the Eagle racer this weekend.

The top 15 cars have already qualified with No. 18 already earning a position, but 33 will be in the final field. Over 70 cars are still looking for an Indy berth.

HILLIN AND Pat Bentley, a public relations expert from Dallas, have been in Indianapolis for the past two weeks trying to secure major sponsors. Hillin reports that one major sponson has been secured, a firm that owns a chain of shopping centers.

Two Midland men, who have asked to remain anonymous, are helping to sponsor Hillin's Wildcat entry.

Hillin, a graduate of The University of Texas, hopes the burnt orange and white can pull its magic on the most famous racing day in America.

Atlanta star has surgery

ATLANTA (AP) - Centerfielder Rowland Office was scheduled for exploratory surgery on his shoulder today, a spokesman for the Atlanta Braves said.

Office, who injured his shoulder Sunday, could be back in action in 10 days if the surgery shows no ex-tensive damage. But he could be out much longer if the damage is severe, said the spokesman.

Rolla Vollstedt tries to prepare his damaged car

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - Rolla Vollstedt's 30 years of experience in building and repairing race cars will be put to its sternest test in the next few days when he tries to fix damage inflicted by the unforgiving walls at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Vollstedt came to the speedway this year more confident of success in this year's Indy 500 than at any time in his

But now, he is trying to straighten out the dents his two entries suffered in crashes by Janet Guthrie and Dick Simon exactly one week apart.
Simon drove the new car which Vollstedt built for this year's race into the wall at the first turn Tuesday. The accident happened just seven minuets before practice was to end. "The car was handling superbly." said Simon, who suffered only bruises

after sliding 460 feet and continuing along the wall for another 1,180 feet before stopping 570 feet farther down the track. . "All of a sudden, something went," he said. "I knew I was going to hit the wali. I tried to turn the wheel to the left, but the car only wanted to go to the right. The car had extensive damage on the right side from front to rear.

"We've got a backup car," Simon said. "It's the one I qualified in last year, but there hasn't been much work done on it since then.

MAJOR LEAGUE BOX SCORES

Ms. Guthrie has been unable to get her car to run effectively since hitting the wall last Tuesday. Oddly, both crashes came after the driver had hit the peak speed of the car.

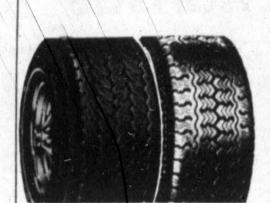

"Today, we lost the fuel pump—just when I thought we had our problems solved," Ms. Guthrie said. "I've been talking to myself these days because we haven't been able to find exactly what is robbing us of our speed

UTEP declared WAC champions

PROVO, Utah (AP) — Texas-El Paso has officially won the Western Athletic Conference track and field title a week and half after the out-come was left clouded by a photo finish in the 3,000 meter steeplechase.

In a statement sent to UTEP Coach Ted Banks and Brigham Young Coach Clarence Robison, Jack Balko, president of Specialty Instruments Corp. of Grand Prairie, Tex., said UTEP's James Munyala finished "clearly ahead" of BYU's Henry Marsh by one-hundredth of a second.

UTEP was the unofficial winner of the meet that ended here May 6, 170-169 over BYU. But meet officials called the 3,000 meter face a dead heat and sent the finishing photograph to Balko for a ruling.

Trinity, Amarillo nab wins

Euless Trinity downed the Abilene Cooper Cougars, 3-1, Tuesday and Amarillo High surprised Lubbock Monterey's Plainsmen, 8-5, in Class AAAA state baseball playoffs games in bi-district action.

Ricky Martinez threw a four-hitter at Cooper and in picking up the win, is now 11-2 on the year on the mound for the Trojans, District 6-4A champions. Jim Cook was the loser for the Cougars who must now win two straight in order to advance into the regional round.

Trinity pounded out nine hits off Cook and scored single runs in the second, sixth and seventh innings after Cooper had taken a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first.

Amarillo evened the series with Monterey after the Plainsmen had won the opener last Friday by the same 8-5 score. The loss ended a 20-game vinning streak by Monterey. Gary Holub led Monterey with three hits in three trips to the plate, including a three-run homer. Derek Hatfield suffered his first loss of the year after chalking up 13 straight wins.

A five-run outburst in the fifth inning, turned the trick for the Golden Sandies.

WHA playoffs resuming tonight

WINNIPEG (AP) - When will the big guns start scoring in the World Hockey Association final playoff series between the Winnipeg Jets and Quebec Nordiques?

In the first two games of the best-ofseven series, which resumes tonight with the teams tied 1-1, the top lines of both clubs have been held scoreless.

But Marc Tardif of Quebec, for one, looks on the brighter side. "At least we haven't allowed their big line to score when we've been on the ice, said Tardif, a member of Quebec's big line of Chris Bordeleau and Real Cloutier. He was referring to Winnipeg's top line of Ulf Nilsson, Anders Hedberg and Bobby Hull, which normally skates against Tardif's unit. 'Actually we haven't played too much together in the last part of the season." said Tardif while predicting the drought likely would end soon. Tardif said if his team can play up to the form shown in its 6-1 victory in the second game Sunday night, it would win both games tonight and

SWC baseball tourney opens on Thursday

> AUSTIN — The Southwest Conference opens the long-awaited post-season baseball tournament Thursday at Disch-Falk Field on the University of Texas campus.

On the line will be an NCAA regional tournament berth as four teams — Texas A&M, Texas, Baylor and Arkansas square off.

The tourney opens Thursday with Texas A&M. already crowned SWC champions, taking on Arkansas. The Aggies racked up an 18-4 SWC mark while the Razorbacks finished in fourth place with a 14-10 reading. Texas, the runnerup, with a 17-7 league record, tangles with dangerous Baylor which wound up with a 15-9 mark, finishing in a rush. It is a double elimination affair with the Aggies already assured a spot in the College World Series in Omaha, Nebr., no matter how they do in the tourney. The other team will then advance into the regional round as an at-large entry.

Final league statistics show that A&M's championship record was accomplished with the help of both good hitting and excellent pitching. The Aggies led the SWC as a team with a .306 batting average, topped by the league's fifth-highest hitter, Robert Bonner with a .359 average.

At the same time, pitchers Mark Ross, Mark Thurmond and David Pieczynski controlled enemy hitters almost at will. Thurmond's 6-0 mark and a 0.64 earned run average were both tops among hurlers that worked at least 40 innings. Ross followed with a 6-1 and 2.87. Pieczynski, a spot starter for Coach Tom Chandler's outfit, posted a 4-0 won-loss

The Longhorns lacked the hitting punch in 1977, but more than made up for it with adequate pitching. As a team, Texas only hit .272, for for fifth in the league and it only placed two hitters - among the SWCs SWC's top twenty in outfielders Jerry Jones and Wendell Hibbitt with .337 and .313, respectively.

Hurlers Kem Wright and Don Kainer along with Tony Brizzolare picked up the slack, posting a 13-6 SWC record between them.

Though its team batting average wasn't the best in the SWC, Baylor was far and away the most productive league entry as the Bears ended their season as the team leader in every offensive standpoint except three.

Steve Macko, the leading hitter in the league with a 404 average, paced the Bear attack.

Arkansas, although not impressive stats-wise, still was good enough to have the 10th best hitter in Tim Lollar at .329.

Overstreet overlooked

AUSTIN-Tracking around Memorial Stadium for notes and quotes from the state and Southwest Conference track and field meets.

Big Sandy football star David Overstreet won the Class A 330 intermediate hurdles with a 38.1 seconds and placed second in the long jump, and he still came away from the meet bitter.

Overstreet has been overlooked by the Texas High School Coaches Association in its selection of players for this summer's all-star football game, and the major oversight has left the Oklahoma bound halfback

"I was really disappointed when I was not picked to play in the all-star said Overstreet, who is Texas' third leading rusher in state history. "I don't know why I wasn't chosen, but I hope I can get back at the entire state of Texas by helping Oklahoma beat Texas this year in the Cotton Bowl."

The 198-pound all-state running back chose Oklahoma after signing a SWC letter of intent with Baylor because, he says, "I felt I would get better exposure at Oklahoma playing for a potential national champion. want to go on and play pro ball after

OVERSTREET LED Big Sandy to three consecutive Class B state titles, but the Wildcats moved up to Class A last season and finished 4-4-2.

"I played six games last fall while I was hurt. I had a bad back, pulled hamstring and sore ankles, but I still feel I deserved to be chosen to the allstar team on my past record, and I hope to prove it after I get to Oklahoma

THERE ARE players every year that are deserving to make the allstar team that don't get an invite, but this is one time the THSCA deserves a slap in the face with a wet noodle. Overstreet is a high school legend and his name will not go unnoticed this summer in Dallas when the allstar game is held. Somebody is going to have to answer a lot of questions, and my guess would be that they better have some pretty good answers.

Many writers on hand for the state meet thought San Antonio Jay's Mark Anderson would set a conference AAAA record in the mile run Saturday, but his 4:11.3 missed the mark by three-tenths of a second.

Anderson explained by saying, felt sloppy the whole race. Maybe it was because this was the first close race I've had all year."

BAYTOWN LEE'S Mike Bonem pushed Anderson to the limit with his 1:11.6, and Midland High's Robert Wilson was in the lead during the third lap.

"I don't think I have been behind in the third lap all year." Anderson noted. "I think I started to move out too fast as a result. I won, but I would have liked to set the record. That's what I was shooting for because I have had a 4:10 this year. That Midland kid (Wilson) taking the lead in the third lap may have been my downfall."

Wilson finished third with a 4:15.1. his best time ever. Wilson seemed to lose a little toward the end of the third lap or he might have challenged stronger than he did.

The big talk of the meet, however, came Friday night when West Columbia's Carl Williams set two state records by winning the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

WILLIAMS, A junior, posted a blazing 9.2 in the 100 and a 20.9 in the 220. His 20.9 erased the state record set by Johnny Jones of Lampasas only a year ago and avenged a defeat in the 100 he suffered to Jones as a sophomore last year. Williams had a 9.5 last year in his matchup with Jones while Jones recorded a 9.4

'Everybody keeps asking me how it feels to break Jones record, Williams said. "Well, it's my record now, and I'm going to break both of them next year again.

The SWC pulled a coup by holding the SWC meet the same weekend of the state meet. The announced crowd was 15,000, but 20,000 would be more like it. The amazing thing was that UT let out school the week before, and they didn't get any help from students.

JONES LED the Texas Longhorns to their sixth consecutive SWC team title by winning the 220 and 100 races. He also anchored two winning relay teams, placed fourth in the long jump and his 220 time of 20.14 was a new SWC record. The 20.14 time in the 220 put to shame Williams' winning mark in the high school division. In two years, Jones and Williams could be matched in an SWC meet if Williams chooses a conference school

First year head track coach David Thompson of Stanton deserves a special trophy. Stanton finished second in the Class A team race by winning the mile relay. It was the best finish in history for Stanton.

I told Thompson last week that all the Buffs needed now was to get in the football playoffs. He replied, "We will soon. That's what we are here for." RANKIN GOLF coach Dwayne Turner again led his Red Devils to the Class A state golf championship. Turner now has five straight championships. No team in any sport can match that record in the history of the

One writer said that if Rankin wins its sixth title next year, they should be barred from the meet. When the writer was told that Rankin didn't win the regional title this year, he replied, 'So what, they probably don't start playing until they get down here. They probably eat golf balls for

On the tennis scene, Abilene Cooper's David Zimmerman was routed surprisingly easy by Highland Park's Reed Freeman, 6-3, 6-2, in the AAAA singles finals. Zimmerman and Freeman were co-ranked No. 1 by the Texas Tennis Association.

"David beat me the last time we played, but I just tried to make him run around the court a lot and get tired and then I waited for his mistakes. It worked."

Chicago blasts Padres, 23-6 with 7 homers

By The Associated Press

"Blowin' in the Wind" is more than song title at Chicago's Wrigley

The Chicago Cubs took full advantage of a 23 mile-per-hour wind blowing towards centerfield Tuesday and blasted a team record-tying seven home runs while blowing the San Diego Padres out of the park, 23-

"I'll take them any way I can get them," said Larry Bilttner, who slammed two homers-his first since

"I still say I'm not a home run hitter," said Gene Clines, who homered for the second straight day after going four years without one. "I hit it good, but I did get it up in the wind and I think that was a factor.'

Homers by Biittner, Steve On-tiveros and Clines sparked Chicago's eight-run third inning. Then in the fifth, Bilttner, Bobby Murcer and Jerry Morales hit successive homers- one short of the major league record set by the Milwaukee Braves in 1961 and equalled by the Cleveland Indians in 1963 and the Minnesota Twins in 1964. Dave Rosello added to the homer barrage in the eighth.

"I always play the elements," Bittner joked. "No, I've never had two in one game. I seldom get one in one game.

San Diego got into the act, as Bobby Valentine homered in the Padres' four-run seventh inning. But the Cubs had tallied eight runs in the sixth, padding their lead to 22-2.

In other National League games Tuesday, Los Angeles defeated Philadelphia 6-4, Atlanta stopped Montreal 9-6, Pittsburgh blanked Cincinnati 3-0, the New York Mets downed San Francisco 8-1 and Houston clipped St. Louis 5-2.

Winner Bill Bonham, 5-2, hurled the first six innings for Chicago, Reliever Ramon Hernandez was tagged for four San Diego runs.

The Cubs, who have won 12 of their last 13 games, pounded 24 hits off seven Padres pitchers, including starter and loser Tom Griffin, 3-2. It was the second straight game Padres Manager John McNamara had to use ix relievers.

"'Our pitching hasn't been good all year," McNamara lamented. The wind didn't help, either.

Expos 9, Braves 8 Pinch-hitter Biff Pocoroba belted a grand slam homer with two out in the ninth, lifting Atlanta over Montreal. It was Pocoroba's second homer of the season and the first grand slam of his Dodgers 6, Phillies 4 A two-run homer by Steve Garvey with two out in the seventh snapped a 4-4 tie and boosted Los Angeles over Philadelphia. Unbeaten Don Sutton posted his sixth victory as the Dodgers broke the Phillies' five-game winning streak.

Ron Cey slammed his 13th home run of the season, a two-out, two-run blast in the first inning, while the Phillies scored on Jay Johnston's first homer of the year in the first. Philadelphia tied the score in the second with a pair of unearned runs. Both teams scored again, setting up Garvey's blast.

Pirates 3, Reds 0 John Candelaria scattered six hits and Willie Stargell slammed a tworun homer as Pittsburgh blanked Cincinnati.

"I haven't given up a home run all year," Candelaria said in explaining his 5-0 record, his best start in the major leagues. "I'm a little smarter, a little wiser.

It was the National League East Division-leading Pirates' 19th victory in their last 22 games.

Mets 8, Giants 1

Jerry Koosman, 3-4, hurled a fourhitter and blasted his first home run in nearly nine years, leading the Mets over the Giants. Bud Harrelson slapped a three-run double for New York as the Mets won for only the third time in their last 14 games.

Koosman struck out seven and walked only two. Ed Kranepool hit a two-run homer.

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) - Topseeded Zan Guerry of Houston, Tex., rallied to defeat Dick Dell of Bethesda, Md., 6-1, 6-4 in the opening round of the $18,500 Piermont Oaks Open tennis meet Guerry led 4-0 in the second set before Dell, younger brother of former U.S. Davis Cup team captain Don Dell, staged his comeback.

Wynegar paces Twins to win over Indians

By The Associated Press

Butch Wynegar has a day off today, but he would rather be at work.

"The way we're going, I know everybody wants to play every night," said Wynegar, a catcher for the Minnesota Twins. Wynegar drove in four runs, leading the Twins to their fifth straight victory Tuesday night, a 10-4 triumph over the Cleveland Indians.

The surprising Twins have won nine of their last 10 games and opened a 21/2-game lead over second-place Chicago in the American League West. Since April 16, Minnesota is

"I really wish we didn't have a day off at this stage," said Wynegar, whose club had a travel day today before opening a four-game series in California Thursday. "You need those days off later in the season, in July and August, when it's really hot."

Right now, it's the Twins who are "The attitude on this club is like nothing I've ever seen before," said veteran outfielder Larry Hisle, who came to the majors with Philadelphia 10 years ago. "With so many guys hitting, we just wonder which one is going to be the hero."

Tuesday's heroes were Wynegar and relief pitcher Tom Burgmeier. Wynegar cleared the bases with a fifth-inning single that snapped a 4-4 tie, while Burgmeier took over for Minnesota starter Jeff Holly in the fourth and went on to pick up his fifth victory of the season.

Elsewhere in the American League, the New York Yankees beat the Oakland A's 5-2 in 15 innings, the Texas Rangers defeated the Detroit Tigers 3-1, the Toronto Blue Jays trimmed the Milwaukee Brewers 3-1. the California Angels beat the Boston Red Sox 6-2 and the Seattle Mariners walloped the Baltimore Orioles 10-2.

The Twins rapped 14 hits off three Cleveland pitchers, but the big one was Wynegar's single. It came off Rick Waits- who had just replaced starter Pat Dobson-on a 3-2 pitch with all three baserunners moving on the pitch.

Burgmeier, 5-1, blanked Cleveland on four hits over the final 52-3 innings.

Dobson, who was charged with seven earned runs, now is 0-4 as Cleveland lost its fifth in a row and sank deeper into the AL East cellar.

"I've got my own problems, I can't analyze the Twins," said Cleveland Manager Frank Robinson, when asked to explain Minnesota's success.

Twins Manager Gene Mauch has analyzed the Twins' winning ways, and points to the players' mental outlook.

"The difference on this ball club," Mauch said, "is that they come to the park as a professional bunch of guys wanting to play a game. They're not just playing for a paycheck."

Yankees 5, A's 2

Chris Chambliss' two-run single with one out in the 15th inning snapped a 2-2 tie that had lasted since the ninth, when Manny Sanguillen and Dick Allen cracked consecutive homers for the A's.

Rookie Dell Alston, making his first major league appearance, opened the 15th with a pinch-hit double. Willie Randolph walked, Mickey Rivers sacrificed and Thurman Munson was intentionally walked, filling the bases. Chambliss foiled the strategy by lining his game-winning hit to right.

Rangers 3, Tigers 1 Texas' Doyle Alexander scattered seven hits in raising his record to 5-1. while Detroit's 20-year-old rookie, Dave Rozema, was tagged with his first major league loss. Claudell Washington doubled home one run in the third inning, stole third base and scored what proved to be the gamewinner when catcher Milt May through the ball into left field.

Blue Jays 3, Brewers 1 Toronto got two runs on a basesloaded single by Ron Fairly in the third inning, then made it 3-0 in the seventh when Bob McClure committed a balk with runners on first and third.

Jesse Jefferson pitched seven strong innings for his first victory of the season after three losses. Angels 6, Red Sox 2

Bobby Bonds hit a two-run single, Jerry Remy rapped his first home run of the season and Terry Humphrey collected three singles, pacing California's attack. Remy's homer was the 24th for the Angels at home this year, matching the club's total for the entire 1976 season.

Mariners 10, Orioles 2 Bill Stein and Carlos Lopez hit firstinning homers as Seattle took a 3-0 lead, then Skip Jutze smacked a grand slam homer off Baltimore reliever Dyar Miller in the third inning when the Mariners erupted for five runs to break open the game.

McRae tops

AL hitters

NEW YORK (AP) -Hal McRae, the Kansas City Royals' designated hitter who won the 1976 American League designated hitter crown with a .329 batting average, has come back to quickly take the lead again this season.

In 115 at bats, McRae is batting .330. He has 38 hits, 19 runs scored, eight doubles and 15 runsbatted-in.

The 30-year-old McRae has been the DH leader since June 8, 1976.

Market advances broadly

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market continued the rally of the past three sessions with a broad advance today. The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 3.31 at 939.79, after an aggregate advance of nearly 11 points in the last three trading days. Advances outnumbered declines by better than a 2-1 margin among New York Stock Exchange-listed Analysts said some buying was encouraged by President Carter's comment

Tuesday afternoon that he still hoped to end the so-called double taxation of dividends. Wall Streeters have long argued that the present law, under which company earnings passed on as dividends are taxed to both the corporation and the shareholder, is unfair. McDonald's Corp., the most active NYSE issue, rose ½ to 42%. A block of 175,500 shares traded at 41½. The NYSE's composite index of all its listed common stocks rose .22 to 54.71. On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was up .42 at 114.78.

Volume on the Big Board increased to 11.97 million shares by noontime against 9.36 million at the same point on Tuesday

General Electric, which said it had developed a new process for making semiconductors, rose 1/2 to

DR. NEIL SOLOMON

Dear Dr. Solomon: The other day, I was checking on a few first-aid items I keep on hand in the kitchen in case there is an emergency. I would like to know what I should have within reach for eye accidentsif, say, something like a bleach got in someone's eyes. What's best?—Iris V.

Dear Iris: Water, and plenty of it. Burns caused by acids, alkalis or other chemicals can cause very serious eye damage. What you want to do is immediately flood the eye with water, and to keep doing so gently and continuously for at least 15 minutes.

The easiest way is to lean over and hold one's head under a faucet or pour water into the eyes from a clean container—keeping the eyes as wide open as possible during the flooding. If there is a shower right at hand and that is the fastest way of getting lots of wash out the eyes, use that. Don't even stop to take off clothing. One caution: he careful not to wash take off clothing. One caution: be careful not to wash a chemical from one eye into the other if only one eye a chemical from one eye into the other if only one eye has been affected.

After the flooding, get to a hospital emergency room or an eye doctor as quickly as you can.

It is always a good idea, incidentally, to protect your eyes when you are using a chemical that might injure then. Use ordinary eyeglasses, sunglasses, goggles—anything that shields the eyes from a splash or a speck of undissolved chemical. You are certainly right in taking these precautions—people often do not realize how many eye injuries are caused by strong chemicals—or even just detergents used around the house these days.

I find that one very good safety device is the plastic eye protector technicians wear in laboratories. It is a good item to keep in the kitchen. It doesn't cost

To L.C., Longmart, Calif.: Your problem of abdominal pain is a very common symptom of the irritable colon syndrome. The fact that the pain goes from the lower left part of the abdomen to the middle from the lower left part of the abdomen to the middle is not uncommon. In most instances the pain is relieved by the passage of feces or gas. Therefore, it is believed to be due to distention or spasms of the colon. You definitely should follow your doctor's advice regarding diet, exercise and medicine.

(If you have a medical problem, see your doctor. If you have a medical question, write to Neil Solomon, M.D., 1726 Reisterstown Road, Baltimore, Md. 21208.

Cancer victim fund established

A fund has been established at a Midland bank to help defray medical expenses for a 12-year-old Odeasa girl whose left arm was amputated recently because of bone cancer, according to Joe Dominey, vice president of The Midland National Bank.

"We have established an account for the Elizabeth Gamboa Fund, so that concerned Midlanders can provide financial help to a very brave young lady."

Miss Gamboa, a sixth grader at Gonzales Elementary School, first complained of pain in her arm about four weeks ago. When swelling occurred, she was taken to M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston. There doctors confirmed Miss Gamboa had bone cancer.

Her arm had to be amputated to prevent the spread of the disease.

'Gifts for the medical expenses for Elizabeth can be made directed to me, made payable to Elizabeth Gamboa Fund, or can be given to Jim Long, assistant cashier in our lobby." Dominey said.

NEW YORK (AP) - Qualifications for chief executive officers in the future will be quite different from those of today, finds International Management

The reason, says J. Russell Boner, editor-in-chief of the magazine, is that the next few years are expected to bring accelerating change to the business scene, "creating problems for which firms have had neither precedence nor experience."

The ideal candidate, the publication says, should: understand the inner workings of legislative and administrative units of government at all levels; have demonstrated ability to deal with militant environmental and consumer groups; possess extensive; international experience; have proven ability to generate profits and protect shareholder investment through strong centralized financing controls; be responsive to worker demands for job security, and be willing to share management decisions and authority with employes.

Argonaut finals well

Argonaut Energy Corp. of Amarillo has completed as a Canyon oil discovery in Northeast Garza County its No. 1 Swenson, one mile east of the Swenson-Garza, Northeast (Canyon) field, but separated by a failure.

The well had a daily pumping potential of 33 barrels of 37.9-gravity oil, plus 138 barrels of water, producing through perforations at 6,281-6,287 feet. The pay had been acidized with 1,500 gallons.

Operator set 41/2-inch casing at 6,500 feet. Top of pay was picked at 6,258 feet, and top of the Canyon at 6,255 feet, under ground elevation of 2,309.4

A reentry operation, it originally was drilled by Weiner, Sohio and Glasgow as No. 1 Swenson, and plugged and abandoned in May 1950 at

ENERGY

urging of a warlike urgency to deal

The panel said its findings indicate world oil production capacity will level off and become unable to fill potential demand unless strong action is taken quickly to reduce that demand.

Even then, the report says, there will be a growing gap that can be satisfied only by switching from oil and natural gas to more plentiful energy sources such as coal and nuclear power.

Failure to begin the transition quickly will lead industrial nations into the trap of sudden, large energy shortages that would curtail production of goods and services and cause increased inflation and unemployment, Wilson told a news conference here Monday. The turn of the century energy shortage will still occur even if coal production more than doubles, oil demand growth is cut, nuclear power capability increases 25 times and oil prices increase by 50 per cent, the report said.

"This is not a doomsday report. It's a time bomb," Wilson said. "We've tried to pin down ways in which it will explode if the free world doesn't act soon enough.

The same themes were sounded by Carter's top energy adviser, James R. Schlesinger, in a speech Monday at the Woman's National Demorratic

Without strong conservation measures and switches to other fuels. he said, the United States "will skitter up to the end of a cliff, like lemmings, and go over," plunging into an economic catastrophe

The consequences, Schlesinger said, could include industrialized nations bidding up oil prices against each other while developing nations are left behind, unable to purchase

Earnings increase

John J. Redfern III, treasurer of Flag-Redfern Oil Co., announced an increase in earnings for the threemonths ended March 31.

The total was $1,893,601 compared. to $1,048,456 for the same period in 1976. Redfern said earnings per share were $2, including 62 cents per share representing the final payment on the sale of Flag-Redfern's Canadian properties. This compares to $1.06 per share in the same period of last year. Oil and gas sales for the quarter were $3,247,000, an increase of 62 per cent over the first quarter of 1976. The board of directors has scheduled the annual stockholders meeting at 10 a. m. June 14 in the company's Midland headquarters

Confirmer assured

A second Devonian oil producer and location west and slightly south extension to that pay in the BMH field of Pecos County has been assured with the flowing to tanks of 91 barrels of oil in 16 hours, at C&K Petroleum Co., Midland, No. 1-A Jasper CSL.

The flow was through a 12-64-inch choke and perforations at 8,436-8,470 feet, following 1,750 gallons of acid on the pay interval. Gas flowed at the rate of 180,000 cubic feet per day. Operator was taking potential test.

Drilled to 8,572 feet, it spots 1,065 feet from north and 5,967 feet from east lines of section 1, block 104, Jasper CSI, survey, seven miles southwest of Bakersfield.

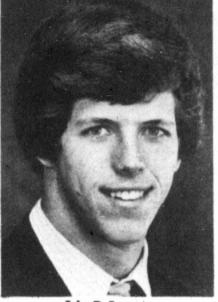

The discovery, C&K No. 1 Jasper CSL, finaled in May 1976 for 57 barrels of 47.9-gravity oil per day, through perforations at 9,370-8,388 feet.

CARROLL L. WILSON, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, uses charts to make his point that the worldwide oil crisis is alarmingly close. Wilson, project director for an international investigative

Producer potentials

Clayton W. Williams Jr., Midland, completed No. 4 Thomson Estate, a fourth well and 4-mile north extension in a northwest segment in the Rhoda Walker (5000 Canyon) pool of Ward County.

The 24-hour flowing potential was for 156 barrels of 46.7-gravity oil and 360 barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio measuring 3,942-1. Completion was through a 16-64-inch choke and perforations at 6,066-6,258 feet. The pay had been acidized with 1,500 gallons and fractured with 40,000 gallons and 40,000 pounds of sand.

There's more to chicken than frying

By WILLIAM RICE The Washington Post

In these days of mass-produced chickens there's not much written about what to do with leftovers. Those who can't consume a bird in a single sitting usually opt for cut-up parts. Furthermore, many think of chicken only in its fried form

The middle-class status symbol, the chicken in every pot, has disappeared under a mountain of bouillon cubes and granules. The sheer pleasure not to mention the economic good sense - of cooking a whole chicken in broth with vegetables has been left to ethnic grandmothers and curious researchers of French bourgeoise

In part, no doubt, the obliteration of things past has been caused by the change in the character of the chicken. Long cooking of chickens wasn't done just to obtain a rich broth. It had to be done. The old hens were too tough to be palatable other-

Nowadays smart cooks who care for the texture of their chicken meat will let odd parts such as backs and wings do the initial flavoring, and pop the whole chicken in for only an hour

In either case making chicken broth is reasonably uncomplex. Vegetables - up to a pound of carrots and of onions - should be washed, peeled (though the carrots need only be lightly scraped) and cut up in chunks or slices. One or two bay leaves, a few sprigs of parsley, a generous teaspoon of thyme and half a dozen lightly crushed peppercorns go into a pot with the washed chicken. (They may be tied in a cheesecloth bag).

It is essential to truss (tie up) the chicken if it is being cooked with a stuffing. Otherwise, tie it or not, as you please. Add a rib or two of celery or some celery leaves if you have celery at hand, but goeasy.

Cover the chicken with water, or nearly cover if it refuses to submerge, and slowly bring the liquid to a boil. Remove scum with a skimmer, add a glass of cold water and repeat skimming as liquid returns to a boil. When tired of this game, cover the pot loosely and adjust heat until a steady light simmer (only a few bubbles popping on the surface) is reached. Ignore the chicken for 2 to 2 1-2 hours unless part of it is out of the water. In that case, turn the bird after an hour or so. At the end of cooking time, remove the chicken.

The broth may be reduced by boiling until it is properly rich. Salt may be added for flavor, but not until the reduction is completed. The vegetables are considered to have yielded their flavor and nutrients, but there is no reason why people or pets cannot eat them. The broth itself is a prime candidate for a soup base.

News to add cartoons?

By LEE MARGULIES The Los Angeles Times

GE!

HOLLYWOOD — Newspapers run comic strips so why shouldn't TV news programs? That question will be posed to the brass at ABC, CBS and NBC in the near future by Jackson Leighter, a producer who has Leighter says that instead of doing only occasional half-hour or 60-minute animated specials for television, he wants to do a daily Andy Capp cartoon that would be a feature in an evening news program, just as the strip is in newspapers around the world. The segments would run 60 seconds on Sundays and 30 seconds on other days and would be designed solely as entertainment, he said.

"It will be exactly the same format as Andy Capp is now, with no reference to topical things at all, Leighter said, "other than the fact that male chauvinism is topical today," Capp is a classic chauvinist.

The format has been approved by Reg Smythe, the strip's creator, and is now being developed for presentation to the networks by animator Jean De-Joux, the producer said. Leighter said Smythe has been drawing Andy Capp for about 16 years but withheld the TV rights until his proposal, which appealed to him because each segment would last newspaper installments.

Leighter isn't so naive as to think his idea won't be greeted initially with shock and perhaps outrage. For one of the networks to put on a cartoon at a time when they have been pushing - so far unsuccessfully because of affiliate opposition - to expand their halfhour newscasts in an effort to become more than just a headline service would indeed be an unusual move, acquired the TV rights to the popular Andy Capp to say the least. But, believing there is a place for humor in the news and that the networks already recognize this, he thinks one or the other eventually will give Andy Capp a shot.

> "Network news people try to have a light, humorous story at the end of the program every night," Leighter observed. "They struggle pretty hard to get it. This would guarantee that light moment at the end.

> Perhaps. But he was asked whether he expects network officials to argue that buying his proposal would constitute yet another controversial step in the direction of show business at the expense of information in news programming.

"Yes, I'm anticipating that," Leighter answered. "I think a stronger argument may be that it will bring their news programs up in popularity - and that's the essential thing. Besides, I don't think the audience is as put off by the competitive entertainment aspects as the network executives themselves.

He conceded that he thinks ABC and NBC will be more receptive to putting Andy Capp in the news than CBS. "I can't imagine Walter Cronkite costaring with Andy Capp," he explained.

Leighter, who also will be developing half-hour or full-hour "Andy Capp" special for prime-time, said he isn't wed to the concept of running the 30-second cartoons in news programming and will listen to offers to place them somewhere else in the schedule. But he says a news slot is what he'll be asking for and he thinks someone will take him up on it.

"If you have something that sends the audience away happy and is basically good entertainment, I don't see any reason why networks won't succumb to it," he said. He paused a moment and chuckled. "I guess succumb isn't the right word for it.

Fallow land included in wheat farmer payments

By BILL CURRY The Washington Post

WASHINGTON - From 1971 to 1973, American wheat farmers received $1.8 billion in federal payments for not planting crops. But $800 million of that covered land the farmers would not have planted anyway, according to the General Accounting Office.

The ineffective payments occurred, GAO said, because the Department of Agriculture allowed the farmers to in-clude fallowed land, a common technique used for preserving fertility, in their so-called set-aside acreage. "Our conclusion (IS) that some farmers were being paid for doing something — fallowing cropland

Transplant may help in diabetes

By HARRY NELSON The Los Angeles Times

LOS ANGELES -Researchers at the University of California at Los Angeles medical school believe it may be possible to salvage insulin-producing organs from aborted fetuses and transplant them into patients with diabetes.

While the researchers say the first human case is three, to five years into the future, recent experiments with animals suggest the idea has possibilities.

An improved method of freezing organs is one recent development that makes such transplants feasible. Another is a trick learned in the animal experiments that enables the tiny fetal pancreas to maximize its insulin production in animal experiments.

The UCLA researchers. headed by Dr. Josiah docrinologist, have succeeded in reversing diabetes in fully grown rats by supplying them with insulin from a transplanted rat fetus pancreas.

Although the pancreas of a rat fetus is only about 1-16th of an inch long, it is the largest organ to function successfully after being frozen and then thawed, according to Brown. The freezing technique was developed at Oak Ridge National

Laboratories. The problem with freezing organs is that the ice crystals that form inside cells cause lethal

The GAO report comes at a time of new surpluses following tight worldwide food supplies; the United States expects to have 1.1 billion bushels of wheat left over in storage when wheat harvesting for this year begins. Thus, the GAO recommended that new farm legislation being enacted this year not allow fallow land to qualify for any future set-aside payments, if Congress approves such programs.

There is also increasing opinion that the nation can no longer politically or morally afford to pay farmers not to grow crops, for the whims of weather can abruptly plunge whole nations into famine. Agriculture

Secretary Bob Bergland believes, for this part, that the government should financially help farmers store excess food stocks for use in times of shor-
