2 Lenorah men die in light plane crash

STANTON — Two Lenorah men were killed Monday night when the airplane they were flying crashed 15 miles northwest of Stanton.

Charles Ray Blake, 39, piloted the single-engine Piper Beechcraft plane owned by Chris Dietrich of Big Spring. The only passenger was Terry Lee Welch, 19. Both men were farmers in the Lenorah community.

Investigating the crash were Department of Public Safety Patrolman Wade Turner of Stanton, Martin County Deputy Sheriff Tim Hudson and DPS Patrolman Greg Anderson of Midland.

DPS spokesmen said the two men had been flying about two hours prior to the 7:20 p.m. crash, according to the pilot's log. They said Blake was a licensed pilot and had apparently been on a pleasure trip when the plane took off from Big Spring's Howard County Airport.

Eyewitnesses at the scene told the DPS the aircraft was flying about 1,000 feet high when it made a right turn over a farmhouse. High winds caught the plane, the engine stalled and it came down nose first in a plowed field, they said.

The craft skidded some distance after it hit the ground and landed on its fuselage (stomach). Both occupants were thrown from the plane, one about 45 feet and the other about 100 feet, the DPS reported.

Parts of the aircraft were scattered over a large area, the DPS said. The plane was totally demolished, but no fire occurred at the scene.

Stanton Justice of the Peace M. L. Gibson pronounced both Blake and Welch dead at the scene. Welch was taken to Gilbreath Funeral Home in Stanton, while Blake was taken to Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home in Big Spring.

A Federal Aviation Administration crew from Fort Worth was to continue investigation of the accident today, the DPS said.

3 leading Democrats predicting success today

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jimmy Carter, Henry Jackson and Morris Udall each forecast success today in Pennsylvania's presidential primary, a race that could determine whether there's room for the brokers at the Democratic National Convention.

If Carter, the former Georgia governor, wins decisively it could make him tougher to stop in the remaining primaries.

Victory by Jackson or Udall, however, would increase the possibility that Minnesota Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, an easy winner in Pennsylvania four years ago, will become a candidate after June 8, when all the primaries are over.

President Ford was alone on the Republican ballot, unchallenged in Pennsylvania by Ronald Reagan. The no worse than second in both the popularity and delegate battles.

Besides the three top contenders, the Democratic ballot also listed Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, Indiana Sen. Birch Bayh, antiabortion candidate Ellen McCormack, former Oklahoma Sen. Fred Harris and Pennsylvania Gov. Milton J. Shapp.

Shapp, Bayh and Harris quit the presidential race after failing to make any impact in the early primaries.

Jackson, backed by most of the state's labor officials and many party leaders, bristled at suggestions that he is a fading candidate simply heading a stop-Carter movement for Humphrey's eventual entry.

"I don't get involved in such suppositions and iffy questions," Jackson told reporters. "Humphrey is not a candidate (and) I'm going to do very well."

Carter planned to take his campaign to Connecticut today. Udall headed for Maryland and Jackson rested at his Washington, D.C., home.

All rented hotel ballrooms in Philadelphia and prepared to wait for returns there.

In other political developments:

Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. of California plunges into the presidential battle for the first time Wednesday in Maryland. He said "it's hard to predict" how he'll do in the May 18 primary there but that he wants to give the voters "a broader choice" on a Democratic nominee.

Senate Democratic leaders called on Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller to apologize or produce evidence to support his reported allegations that Communists had infiltrated Jackson's staff.

The Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of an Indiana law which kept Udall's name off the ballot for the state's May 4 primary.

103 GOP delegates will be uncommitted, though all are expected to be in Ford's pocket.

Statewide, Pennsylvanians nominated candidates for the U.S. Senate seat now held by retiring Republican Minority Leader Hugh Scott. Two congressmen are among the contestants to succeed Scott, Democrat William Green of Philadelphia and Republican H. John Heinz 3d of Pittsburgh.

There were 2,801,649 Democrats and 2,221,639 Republicans eligible to vote. At stake were party nominations for state treasurer, state auditor general, 25 seats in Congress, half of the seats in the 50-member state Senate and all 203 state representative seats.

The 9,638 polling places in 67 counties remain open 13 hours, closing at 8 p.m.

It's the presidential sweepstakes that offers the glamor, and in Pennsylvania it was a two-part primary — 1. The nonbinding popularity contest, and 2. The election of convention delegates.

Carter, claiming his polls indicated he was the choice of a majority of the people, said he would win the popularity voting provided the turnout was good.

Jackson, the U.S. senator from Washington State, said he would get a majority of the 134 convention delegates to be elected, plus a proportionate share of the 44 others to be selected later by the party's state committee.

Udall, who represents Arizona in Congress, predicted he would finish

President Ford begins last swing through Texas before primary

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford begins his longest speaking tour of the campaign today, aiming at Texas voters who will choose between him and Ronald Reagan on Saturday in a primary that Ford terms an uphill battle.

Ford was making an afternoon flight to Barksdale Air Force Base in La., and nearby Shreveport to conduct a public forum and address the annual military ball on the Louisiana National Guard.

The Louisiana stops, which precede an overnight stay in Longview, Tex., were on the agenda because Shreveport's television stations claim sizeable audiences in the Piney Woods country of East Texas.

In a filmed interview Monday with KMOL-TV of San Antonio, Ford again said he is the underdog in the May 1 primary, with 96 delegates at stake. But he added, "I think we have an opportunity to close the gap and make it a very, very tight race."

Reagan has been critical of Ford's national security policy, and Ford armed himself with fresh political ammunition on his second campaign trip to the state: Late Monday, Ford asked Congress for an extra $322.4 million to buy Minuteman III missiles and new, more powerful nuclear warheads for the intercontinental weapons.

Reagan has contended that Ford has allowed the United States to lapse into second place in military power. But the President told the San Antonio station, "I don't think there are any reliable sources that say the United States is No. 2."

On Reagan's statements that the Soviets have about twice as many men under arms as the United States, Ford said "only about half of those are what we would call active duty military forces."

Ford added that "if Mr. Reagan is saying that the United States should have four million men, not 2.1 million, then I think you have to assume that he is expecting to reinstitute the draft...."

American named cardinal by Pope Paul VI

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI has named Archbishop William Wakefield Baum of Washington, D.C., and 20 other prelates to be cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church, the Vatican announced today.

The Pope will elevate Archbishop Baum and 18 of the cardinals designate to the Sacred College at a consistory on May 24, the Vatican said.

The other two cardinals were named "in pectore," in his breast, and their identities will be kept secret until the Pope decides to reveal them. This has been the procedure followed for some prelates living in Communist countries whose elevation might make them subject to reprisals.

Archbishop Baum, the only American on the list, was born in Dallas on Nov. 21, 1926, and was ordained a priest in 1951. Before taking over the Washington archdiocese, he was bishop of Springfield-Cape Girardeau, in Missouri.

Pope Paul named him archbishop of Washington following the retirement of Patrick Cardinal O'Boyle.

The consistory will be the fifth in Pope Paul's 13-year reign and will enlarge the College of Cardinals, the Church body that elects the Pope, from 117 members to 136.

This will be nine members less than the record membership of 145 reached in Pope Paul's fourth consistory three years ago.

The new appointments gave cardinals for the first time to the Dominican Republic, Senegal, Uganda and Nigeria.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A cousin of the late Howard Hughes has asked for an additional four to five weeks to complete a worldwide search for the eccentric billionaire's will.

Documents filed in Los Angeles Superior Court Monday by Richard C. Gano Jr. included a letter signed by Hughes March 3, 1938. The letter asked a Texas bank to place two envelopes — one reportedly containing the will, the other instructions — in safekeeping.

But Gano said that bank has since merged with another. So far, he said, only a safety deposit box key has been found, and what it opens, nobody knows.

The Los Angeles Times said it had learned from sources close to Hughes' business empire that many copies of the key had been made and are being widely circulated to banks in several states. The key was found, the report said, in an office here formerly used by Hughes that was locked until his death April 5.

Gano, 60, of Anaheim, Calif., is one of 12 first cousins of Hughes. He has been appointed administrator of Hughes' California properties. The entire Hughes estate is estimated to be worth more than $2 billion.

Gano said he understood it was Hughes' intention to leave the bulk of his estate to medical research.

Annette Gano Lummis of Houston, the elderly aunt of Hughes and Gano, earlier had been appointed temporary administrator of all the Hughes' holdings. She relinquished her claim to his personally held California property in a disclaimer filed Monday in conjunction with Gano's papers.

Los Angeles County Public Administrator Bruce Altman has filed a motion to remove Gano as special administrator. A hearing on the matter was scheduled for today before Superior Court Judge Neil Lake.

Gano said Altman's interference had hampered efforts to locate the will which Hughes' associates insist he left — somewhere.

Bank officials informed him it would take four to five weeks to canvass records in several states where Hughes could have left the will, Gano said.

"I am further informed," Gano continued, "that an exhaustive worldwide search of buildings, record storage areas, file rooms, vaults, aircraft hangars and other possible locations of evidence which would assist in the discovery of the whereabouts of such last will is continuing."

In the 1938 letter, Hughes instructed the First National Bank of Houston not to open the envelopes. But he asked the bank to "set aside for me a safety deposit box large enough to contain these envelopes and send the bill each year for the rental to me in care of Noah Dietrich."

Dietrich spent more than 30 years with Hughes and said after his death he believed there was a will written about 1955 and deposited in a Bank of America branch in Hollywood. Gano said in his petition that he had had difficulty searching for a will there after Altman entered the case.

Gano said, "It is my belief that the decedent had prepared such a last will, and that such last will is presently in existence, although remaining yet undiscovered."

More severe weather possible for Basin

With a little luck, Midland and surrounding communities may be in line for more April showers.

They may, however, also be in line for thundershowers, possibly severe, according to the National Weather Service at Midland Regional Air Terminal.

Probability today was 30 per cent, with a 50 per cent chance tonight and 20 per cent Wednesday. The NWS reported a trace of precipitation Monday night, as did spokesmen in Rankin and McCamey. An estimated 3 inch fell at Crane.

Preceding the scant moisture were strong winds, the highest clocked at 54 mph. Forecasters anticipated wind speeds of 20 to 30 mph today and Wednesday and 15 to 25 mph tonight.

The predicted high temperatures for both days is in the middle 80s, with the low mark tonight expected to slide back into the upper 50s. Monday's maximum temperature was 84 degrees, followed by an overnight low of 60.

Throughout most of the West Texas area this morning, temperatures were generally cloudy and slight winds were reported. A spokesman at Big Lake said wind speed was about 15 mph near 8:30 a.m.

An employee in the Ector County Sheriff's office commented about the weather, "It looks threatening, but that's all."

Severe thundershowers with one-inch hail battered the San Angelo area early today after tornadoes were sighted in less populated sections of West Texas before midnight Monday. Thunderstorm warnings were issued twice after midnight for Tom Green and Irion counties. The Associated Press reported, "Other early morning storms brought rainfall to eastern counties of the Panhandle and to West Texas between Midland and San Angelo."

Before dawn, winds up to 45 miles per hour buffeted the Abilene area along with thundershowers that were moving toward the east. The thundershowers were expected to continue drifting eastward during the day.

Temperatures at 5 a.m. varied from 48 degrees at Tyler and 49 at Texarkana in East Texas to 74 at Corpus Christi on the southern coast.

Ford begins last swing

Secretary John Carlson said Monday that "at this point I know of no plans" for Ford and former Texas Gov. John B. Connally to meet during Ford's visit to the state.

Few in the Ford entourage would be surprised at a meeting, although Connally has indicated he has no plans to endorse Ford or Reagan. Ford acknowledged that a Connally endorsement would have a "very significant impact," and some Texans with ties to Connally suspect the ambitious former governor might give Ford an 11th hour boost.

Ford will make appearances Wednesday in Tyler, Fort Worth and Houston. On Thursday, he will go to Conroe, Waco and Dallas. He will visit Lubbock and Abilene on Friday before returning to Washington.

New officers to be elected

New officers will be elected tonight to head the Midland College board of trustees, meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the campus administration building.

The monthly meeting also will include swearing in Murray Fasken as a continuing trustee, appointment of a board of equalization, consideration of budget amendments, selection of an auditor and discussion of student housing.

Also on tonight's agenda are the computer-assisted instruction program, employment of new personnel and the tax office error and correction list.

Busing updating order considered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court is considering whether a school system must revise its court-approved desegregation plan to keep up with racial changes in population.

The court was scheduled to hear arguments today in a case from the Pasadena, Calif., school district where extensive cross-town busing has been used to comply with a 1970 desegregation order. That order said no school could have a majority of students from a racial minority.

But within a year after the court-approved plan went into effect, many white families had moved from the area, leaving a black majority in some schools.

A U.S. District Court later ruled that the school district must now come up with a new desegregation plan.

In upholding that decision, an appeals court said, "It was reasonable for the district court to conclude that full and effective elimination of racial discrimination had not been achieved during the three years following the initial year in which the Pasadena plan was in effect. If desegregation was 'accomplished' after the implementation of the Pasadena plan, such was a transitory and temporary achievement, enduring for a period of the utmost brevity."

The Pasadena school board appealed to the Supreme Court, saying that the original desegregation order did not require a racial balance "to be effective in perpetuity."

The school board's brief said it "is in no way responsible" for the 37 per cent decline in white population in the district within four years after the original decision.

It argued that the white exodus makes invalid "a rigid formula of specified racial balance to be accomplished by extensive busing."

Lawyers for the parents and students who filed the original case contended that the school board has resisted the order. The Justice Department filed a brief supporting the original plaintiffs.

In decisions Monday, the court:

- Upheld an Indiana law which has kept Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., off the ballot in the state's May 4 primary. The law requires 500 supporting signatures from each of the state's congressional districts.
- Agreed to hear arguments next fall on the constitutionality of "agency shop" agreements for public employees. Under such agreements, members of a bargaining unit are required to financially support although not to join the union which represents them.
- Agreed to hear a challenge to an East Cleveland, Ohio, ordinance providing that only one set of grandchildren, together with other family members, may live in a single family home.
- Took under advisement an appeal by two private schools from a lower court decision that such schools may not refuse to admit children because of their race. The court heard arguments for 90 minutes and is expected to rule by early summer.

AAPG field publication completed

The American Association of Petroleum Geologists' (AAPG) latest publication describing North American oil and gas fields, is devoted to a description of 17 pools, ranging from the Prudhoe Bay field on Alaska's North Slope, to the Gulf of Mexico. It is entitled "Memoir 24, North American Oil & Gas Fields."

Descriptions in general are of some special attribute of the fields, such as size, trapping mechanism, and predominance of gas accumulation. Reservoirs range from the Devonian to Pleistocene.

The fields were selected on the basis of their relative importance and the lack of adequate description available to AAPG members.

Also included in the volume is a bibliography of North American oil and gas fields on which information has been published by AAPG during the years 1918-1974.

It is available from the publishers at Tulsa, Okla., at $18 to AAPG and Society of Economic Paleontologists and Mineralogists members and at $22 to nonmembers.

Under the new agreement, Amoco and CSG Exploration, a subsidiary of Cities Service Gas Co., plan to drill as many as 26 wells during 1976-77 at an estimated cost of $26 million. The drilling program will cover about 178,000 net acres under lease to Amoco in the Moxa Arch sector in Lincoln; and Uinta and Sweetwater counties.

ENERGY OIL & GAS

Purchase contract announced

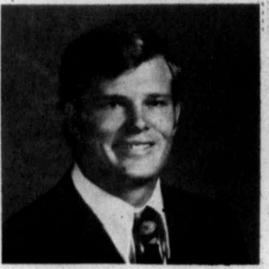

AMARILLO — T. B. Pickens Jr., president of Mesa Petroleum Co. has announced that the Kansas Corporation Commission has approved a new supplemental gas purchase contract between Mesa and The Kansas Power and Light Co.

Effective May 1, the new contract provides for KPL to pay Mesa $1.52 per thousand cubic feet for 22 per cent of the gas sold to KPL from the Hugoton field in Kansas.

The price received by Mesa for gas sales to KPL prior to the new contract approximates 25 cents per thousand cubic feet.

The new contract provides for an annual 2 cents per thousand cubic feet price escalation plus price redeterminations for each two years for the 22 per cent gas volume. The price of the remaining 78 per cent will remain unchanged.

In the new contract, Mesa has agreed to forego construction of its previously proposed cryogenic nitrogen rejection plant in the Hugoton field. The new contract also gives KPL a preferential right to purchase from Mesa all gas (estimated at some 400 billion cubic feet) remaining after termination of the existing contract in 1989 at then competitive prices.

Shell Oil's earnings up

HOUSTON (AP) — Shell Oil Co. has reported a 94 per cent increase in net earnings for the first quarter of 1976 compared with the same period a year ago.

Shell President Harry Bridges advised discretion however, in making such a comparison and cautioned shareholders not to anticipate such earnings necessarily over the rest of the year.

The new earnings of $202.3 million or $2.93 per share compared with $104.4 million or $1.55 per share a year ago.

Bridges said the first quarter of 1975 was a period of accelerated cost increases which were so rapid that recovery through regulated prices was significantly impeded.

BRIDGE

Even great experts make foolish bids

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

If you sometimes fear that you'll never stop making foolish mistakes at the bridge table, don't let it get you down. You can lose 900 points just like a world champion if you step into the auction with a mediocre hand when both opponents are bidding and your partner is silent.

West dealer Neither side vulnerable NORTH ♠ K642 ♥ Q6 ♦ 10 ♣ 1098743 WEST ♠ Q EAST ♠ A109875 ♥ A K 95 ♣ J108 ♦ 8652 ♠ A J7 ♣ K Q J 6 SOUTH ♠ J3 ♥ 7432 ♦ K Q 943 ♠ A2 West North East South 1 ♥ Pass 1 ♦ 2 ♣ Dbl. All Pass Opening lead — ♣ K

When today's hand was played some years ago in a world championship match between the United States and Argentina, one of the North Americans bid two diamonds on the South hand, got doubled and went to the cleaners. West led the king of hearts and switched to the queen of spades, covered by the king and ace. East returned his singleton to the ace. When South tried to cash the jack of spades, West ruffed and cashed the king of clubs, allowing East to discard a heart. West continued with the ace of hearts and a third heart, and East over-ruffed the dummy.

LEADS SPADES East now led the ten of spades, and South discarded his last heart. When East continued spades, South managed to win his second trick by ruffing with the queen. Down to four trumps, South led the nine of diamonds to the ace. Back came a spade, and West overruffed South's low trump. West led another heart, and East ruffed with the seven to limit South to one more trick, the king of trumps. Down five, for a loss of 900 points.

DAILY QUESTION Partner opens with 1 NT (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes. You hold: S J3; H 7432; D K Q 943; C A2. What do you say? ANSWER: Bid two clubs, the Stayman Convention, asking partner to bid a major suit of four or more cards. If partner bids two hearts, you will raise to four. If he bids anything else, you will bid 3 NT.

Surplus of nonfat dry milk producing problems

By DON RENDALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — A huge surplus of nonfat dry milk in Europe's Common Market is expected to increase this year despite efforts to channel more of the commodity into livestock feed, the Agriculture Department said Monday. The controversial plan has brought stern protests from U.S. farm and trade officials.

The plan involves a requirement that European feed manufacturer cannot import soybean meal or other vegetable protein commodities unless he promises to use some nonfat dry milk in his product.

In effect, this means that European feed manufacturers will need less soybeans from the United States. Farmbelt members of Congress have protested this policy and U.S. trade negotiators have been consulting with Common Market officials in hopes of working out a compromise.

Meanwhile, the department's Foreign Agricultural Service said, there is a surplus of about 1.2 million metric tons of nonfat dry milk in the Common Market. Regardless of steps taken to reduce the surplus, it could rise to about 1.4 million tons by the end of 1978, Lloyd Fleck, a commodity analyst in the agency, said in his magazine, "Foreign Agriculture." A metric ton is 2,205 pounds. Nonfat dry milk, or powdered skim milk, is a byproduct of butter manufacture. A record surplus of 1.4 million tons as seen by Fleck would be nearly 3.1 billion pounds.

"This is enough to provide some three billion people with a gallon of skim milk piece," Fleck said. Further, the stockpile would be enough to satisfy the Common Market's nonfat dry milk exports "for the next six years and perhaps even longer" because dairy surpluses are cropping up in some other areas, including New Zealand, the United States and Canada, he said.

The U.S. surplus of nonfat dry milk is around 400 million pounds, only about one-eighth of the European stockpile. But world supplies generally have an effect on American dairy producers and the U.S. surplus simply adds to the problem.

Farmers in the European community have a combined milking cow herd of about 27.5 million head which produce an average of about 7,800 pounds of milk each per year for a total milk output of about 215 billion pounds. The U.S. herd, by comparison, was fewer than 11.2 million cows last year which averaged 10,354 pounds of milk, a total of around 115.5 billion.

Many federal laws, regulations help protect rights of consumers

By LOUISE COOK Associated Press Writer

Complaining consumers are finding that the law is often on their side these days in the battle of the market place.

Many of the things taken for granted today are the result of legislation passed within the last 10 years. Until 1968, for example, lenders did not have to disclose the annual interest charge on revolving credit accounts.

Among key federal consumer laws cited by the Consumer Federation of America are the Drug Control Bill of 1962, the Truth in Packaging Act of 1966, the Truth in Lending Law of 1968, the 1972 legislation establishing the Consumer Product Safety Commission and the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act of 1975.

OTHER LAWS and regulations involving consumer rights cover such subjects as price fixing, discrimination in credit granting and responsibility for products that don't work.

State and local legislators, meanwhile, also have strengthened consumer rights. Several states now require unit pricing in supermarkets. Antitrust laws have been improved in other areas. There are stricter licensing provisions for repairmen. Consumer education programs have been set up in the public schools.

Here is a look at some key federal laws and rules and what they do: —Drug Control Bill: It requires that drugs be proved effective and given approval by the government before marketing. It also requires drug manufacturers to register with the government and provide information about contents on product labels.

—TRUTH IN PACKAGING: The law requires that household products generally sold in supermarkets and drugstores be clearly and accurately labeled regarding contents, net quantity, the name of the manufacturer and the number of servings, where applicable.

—Truth in Lending: This law requires lenders to disclose annual as well as monthly interest charges on revolving accounts. It makes sure that buyers know that the small-sounding 1 1/2 per cent monthly charge is really 18 per cent a year.

—Consumer Product Safety Commission: It was established under a law passed Oct. 27, 1972. The panel began operations on May 14, 1973 to protect the public against "unreasonable risks of injury associated with consumer products;" to help individuals evaluate the comparative safety of different items; and to develop uniform safety standards for a wide variety of goods.

THE COMMISSION has recalled more than 20 million allegedly unsafe items, but it reports that many of them — 83 per cent on the average through the first year and a half of operation — were never returned by the purchasers, even when a refund or replacement was offered.

The commission also has come in for criticism from some consumer groups, including the Consumer Federation of America, which charged that the panel is not concentrating on the real issues. These groups attacked the commission for working to establish mandatory standards for such things as architectural glass and swimming pool slides, rather than basic necessities. "You have to wonder who decides what (about priorities) over there," said Midge Shubow of the federation.

—CREDIT: Several laws, starting with the Fair Credit Reporting Act of 1971, give consumers the right to review their credit file, require credit granters to tell rejected applicants why they were turned down, make it illegal for creditors to discriminate on the basis of race, religion, color, national origin, sex, marital status or age and provide procedures for settling billing disputes.

Those procedures require companies to resolve any complaint within 90 days of receiving a written notice of the grievance. The creditor can't close your account or threaten you with retaliation during this period. In addition, if you charge something and it turns out to be defective, you don't have to pay the credit card company, providing you first try to work out the dispute with the store. Previously, the credit grantor had no responsibility for quality of the product involved.

—MAGNUSON-MOSS WARRANTY Act: The 1975 law requires that any warranty provided by a manufacturer or retailer be written in simple language. A Federal Trade Commission rule, effective Jan. 1, 1977, requires a warranty to include a clear description of products and parts covered — and not covered.

The warranty also must state what the warrantor will do in the event of a defect, with a list of which services will be paid for and provided and which will not. If a manufacturer will pay for the cost of replacement parts, for example, but will charge extra for labor, he must say so clearly.

The warranty must also include a step-by-step explanation of what you should do to get repairs or replacements, how long the warranty is good for and information about what to do in case of a dispute.

THE LAW ENCOURAGES informal and independent ways to settle disputes fairly, quickly and cheaply. The law does not provide specifics, but an FTC rule, taking effect July 4, sets minimum standards for things such as record-keeping and audits. The law allows warrantors to require that these informal dispute-settling mechanisms be used as a first step in resolving consumer complaints and, in certain cases, exempts warrantors from class action suits if they use these processes.

—MAIL ORDERS: A Federal Trade Commission rule that took effect Feb. 2 requires mail order firms to fill orders within 30 days or give consumers their money back.

—Real Estate Settlement and Procedures Act: The law requires that mortgage lenders disclose, in advance of a sale, the settlement costs for both buyer and seller. The lender must use a uniform settlement statement, prepared by the Housing and Urban Development Department, and must give buyers a booklet prepared by HUD explaining settlement costs. The law gives consumers more information about things such as charges made by lenders to cover administrative loan costs and fees that must be paid to the person or company handling details of the final transaction.

—MOVING: The Interstate Commerce Commission recently adopted new rules requiring truckers of household goods to assume responsibility for loss or damage to all items they accept for shipment. Previously, movers often refused to accept responsibility for unusually fragile or valuable items. The new rules also include limitations on liability. The company is not responsible for perishable articles, for example, the mover does not know such items are being shipped.

—AGENCY FOR CONSUMER Advocacy: The Consumer Federation of America lists the creation of an independent consumer agency within the federal government as a key goal. But the legislation is still pending after years of debate. It passed both houses of Congress last year and went before a conference committee. President Ford, however, says he will veto the bill, contending that it would simply create an additional bureaucracy. He has proposed instead, expanding consumer efforts within existing departments, a plan that the Consumer Federation of America attacks.

DIs defend boot camp 'stress'

The Washington Post SAN DIEGO — Drill instructors at the Marine boot camp here have some doubts about making Marines out of today's teenagers without sometimes using the "extra stress" recently prohibited by headquarters. But six DIs with a combined total of 63 years in the Marine Corps said they will carry out the new "low stress" policy in shaping up recruits, "because the commandant ordered it."

The DIs were picked at random and interviewed in a roundtable discussion here at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot.

Commandant Louis H. Wilson's new training policy calls for shorter days for recruits, more supervision of DIs by commissioned officers and scrapping that old corps standby, the "motivation platoon" — where problem recruits were supposed to get extra motivation through extra stress.

Recruits have complained that the stress amounted to both mental and physical abuse — sometimes including terrorizing the recruits sent to "Moto." Marine Pvt. Lynn E. McClure, 20, of Lufkin, Tex., was fatally beaten here last Dec. 6 in a training drill on his first day in the Moto platoon, which was abolished here last Monday.

Hey Rebs! Take a look at your calendar cuz there's only 5 weeks left in this school year. (4 weeks if you're a Senior) As the year is drawing to an end, the mighty Rebs continue to show their pride and power. Diane Robinson led the race by taking first place at the Lubbock Regional Golf Tournament. The girls have already taken the 5-4A championship. Now it's the top as they attempt to show the pride of Robert E. Lee to the rest of the state.

The Rebel Baseballers are ready to do it again this year. Coach Johnson and his Batmen have tied for first place after crunching The Cooper Cougars 2-0. The tie won't last for long cuz there's room for only one at the top and we all know that's the only place for a Rebel. Let's take 5-4A men, and then it's all the way to state!

The annual Rebelette Banquet was held April 13. Announcements were made of several important people who deserve special recognition. Elaine Roberts was named as High Point Senior while Sharon Erck took her place as High Point Junior.

The honor squad for the 1976-77 year will consist of: Jean Ashland, Judi Ottmann, Alison Ware, Sharla Feagan, Kaye Freeman, Sharon Erck, Ronni Schultz, Mica Castor, Sue Beth Edwards, Sharon Josefy, Barbara Weatherspoon, Brenda Cary, Leigh Crenshaw, Judy George, Vicky Thurman, Janet Adamson, Linda Jeary, Lischen Kreuz, Kathy Booth, Stephanie Adams.

Leading next year's Rebelettes will be Captain Margaret Loftis and working by her side will be her lieutenants Janis Sanders, Jan Phiffer, Dani Wright and Brenda Ewan. Congratulations to these girls. From the 75-76 officers: We wish you all the luck and success in the world!

Attention all Junior and Senior boys. Mark May 8 on your calendar because that's the night that the Junior Class will honor their superiors with an evening of "Tropical Paradise" for the Jr.-Sr. Prom. This is one of the biggest events of the year so you need to get a date and then rent a tux. Don't miss it!

May 7 is another very important date. The annual Junior Council breakfast will take place. Elections will be held to determine the new Junior Council officers. Your New Chatter writers will be announced also. Mr. Collins extends an invitation to all Junior Council members.

Congratulations to Linda Odom for being appointed as the Area-Chairman for the Explorers in Washington D.C. She will represent 10,000 area explorers. Good Luck!

That's about it for this week.
