MCCC files motion to intervene in suit

By LINDA SCHAFFRINA

The Midland Council of Concerned Citizens Friday afternoon filed a motion to intervene in the Midland motion to intervene in the Midland desegregation case.

The motion was submitted by Midland attorney James P. Boldrick and requests that the organization be allowed to enter the case as intervenors "in order to assert certain alains and to provide the received. claims and to provide the resources and technical assistance of the concerned citizens of Midland."

The council voted Thursday night to accept an offer from Boldrick and Midland attorney Jay H. "Timber" Floyd Jr. to file, at no charge, the motion in order to determine whether or not the group will be allowed to nter the case.

If the motion is accepted by U.S. District Judge D. W. Suttle of the U.S. District Court for the Western District

District Court for the Western District of Texas, Midland-Odessa Division, the group has agreed to act on retaining an attorney to take the case on a permanent basis.

The motion states that the council is a duly constituted body of citizens representing the parents of at least 14 Midland elementary schools and represents "a class of citizens directly affected by the suit in question."

"Representation of petitioner's (the group's) interests by the original parties hereto is inadequate," the motion says.

Currently listed as parties to the case are the Midland Independent School District as defendant and the U.S. Justice Department and a group of intervenors (who entered the case in 1971) led by Dr. Viola Coleman as

The document, filed with the district clerk, says that intervention by the council will not cause undue delay in the case or prejudice the rights of the original parties and that the petitioner "will develop such additional facts and evidence that are not expected to be presented by the original parties."

The motion to intervene was filed "at the earliest possible time," the submission to the court continues, because the petitioners have only become aware of the court order to immediately desegregate the city's elementary schools within the last two weeks and have acted to combine the "vast majority of the parents of elementary school children and other citizens concerned into a cohesive organization with a single voice."

In an accompanying brief, Boldrick said the group should be allowed to intervene under a rule that allows intervention when the applicant's interest is not adequately represented by existing parties and the material rights of that party are affected.

The brief concedes that in certain instances intervention may be allowed at the court's discretion but maintains that "such a denial of this intervention would be an abuse of the

School board asks for ideas

The Midland school board has invited community groups to present written desegregation plans or School trustees will meet to receive such plans at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday, following an executive session with school district attorneys for the purpose of discussing plans of its own and being briefed on discussions the attorneys have had with other parties in the case.

"The board of education is aware of the deep concern of all of the neigh-borhood school groups as to how a fair solution can be reached in the desegregation matter. We feel it is aportant that these groups and immittees be allowed to be heard concerning plans or suggestions they might offer," school board president Jee Dominey said.

The Tuesday meeting will be in the board room at the school administration offices, 702 North N St.

"We invite representative spokesmen of any school organization, or any alliance or council of organizations, to present written plans or suggestions to the board," Dominey said.

He said the board will invite the court's special master and consultant John Skogland to attend the meeting.

Dominey said he expects Skogland to accept the invitation becaase it is an official meeting and "as such, I think, falls under a different concept than meetings of groups that are not parties to the law suit."

He said he is aware of an invitation to the school board from the Midland Council of Concerned Citizens, an alliance of neighborhood groups, to attend a meeting of their group and listen to plant and concerned. listen to plans and suggestions. The meeting Tuesday will provide a more proper environment to hear these plans, Dominey said.

Natural gas to cost

By RICHARD T. COOPER

WASHINGTON - Littlenoticed provisions in the Federal Power Commission's new plan for sharply raising interstate natural gas prices to stimulate development of ad-ditional supplies may actually let companies charge higher prices for gas that has already been discovered, the FPC acknowledged Friday. When it announced the higher prices late last month, the FPC said they were justified and required because of increased costs of finding and producing the so-called "new" natural gas needed to supplement dwindling U.S. reserves.

But under questioning at a hearing of the oversight and investigations subcommittee of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce Friday, FPC Chairman Richard L. Dunham acknowledged that the July 27 pricing order allows companies to drill new wells in existing reservoirs and collect new gas prices on the resulting

Instead of encouraging risks involved in searching for new gas reservoirs, subcommittee investigators charged, the new FPC plan will offer companies the powerful incentive of higher profits to concentrate their drilling activities on existing fields.

Also, some subcommittee members said, the FPC may have substantially underestimated the impact on consumers of its higher prices. If companies are able to shift large amounts of natural gas from the old to the new category by drilling new wells in old fields, the impact of higher prices will be felt much faster than if the higher charges are confined strictly to newly discovered reservoirs.

The FPC estimated the firstyear cost to consumers of its higher prices at $1.5 billion, but Dunham said the commission had not considered the possibility of large-scale drilling in old fields when it made its estimate. Critics of the new price schedule have estimated it will cost consumers more than $2 billion in the first year. The FPC order, issued July 27, courts by a coalition of consumer groups, unions and

Under federal law, the FPC is responsible for regulating the price charged for natural gas sold in interstate commerce. There are no price controls on gas sold inside the state where it was produced — so-called intrastate gas. Until the new FPC schedule was announced, the ceiling on interstate gas was 50 cents per thousand cubic feet (mcf) while intrastate gas was selling at as much as three or four times that price. Partly as a result of this disparity, producers have concentrated on developing gas for intrastate markets and there have been shortages of interstate gas.

The new FPC formula permits producers to charge $1.42 per mcf for wells commenced since Dec. 31, 1974, with a one cent escalator every three months. Gas from wells commenced in 1973 and 1974 can be sold for $1.01 per mcf.

Odessa council member resigns Area to keep

ODESSA - Odessa city councilman Willie Hammond, 35, has resigned his post on the council, citing insufficient time to do the job properly.

In an undated letter to Mayor Dah Hemphill, Hammond said, "It is with great regret that I submit my resignation to you, especially to you.' Hammond and the mayor teamed up this past year in efforts to dismiss City Manager Ron Neighbors and to hold all council meetings in the fifth floor council chambers at city hall.

Hammond, who was reelected April 3 to a new two-year term on the council, told reporters this week the job was taking all his time. He said he didn't have enough time to run his business, Super Service Grocery and Market, located at 500 S. Dixie St.

School systems tell prices for free, reduced-price meals

Free and reduced price meal policies have been announced by the Midland, Greenwood and Glasscock County school districts.

Midland and Glasscock County have selected the higher of two schedules approved nationally and Greenwood, the lower schedule.

Criteria for eligibility in Midland and Glasscock County, income level listed by family size, for free meals and income level for reduced-price meals, are as follows:

One in family, $9 to $3,680 for free meals, $3,680 to $5,730 for reducedmeals, $3,680 to $5,730 for reduced-price meals; two in family, $0 to $4,830 for free meals, $4,830 to $7,530 for reduced-price meals; three in family, $0 to $5,980 for free meals, $5,980 to $9,320 for reduced-price meals; four in family, $0 to $7,130 for free meals, $7,130 to $11,110 for reduced-price meals; five in family. $0 to $8,190 for free meals, $8,190 to $12,770 for reduced-price meals, and six in family $0 to 969,240 for free meals, $9,240 to $14,410 for reduced-

Cooler days anticipated

Slightly cooler temperatures and a chance of thundershowers through Sunday are predicted by the National Weather Service at the Midland Regional Air Terminal.

Skies should be partly cloudy through Sunday with a chance of mainly late afternoon and nighttime thundershowers. The low tonight should be in the mid-60s. High today should be in the upper 80s and high Sunday should be in the mid-80s.

Winds today and tonight should be from the north to northeast from 10 to 15 mph. The probability of precipitation is 30 per cent today,

Most area cities reported hot and sunny weather Friday evening. Lamesa was clear and hot with a light wind. Stanton was sunny with no wind. Rankin had a siight breeze and clear skies. Big Lake also had a slight breeze and partly cloudy skies. Odessa also reported a slight breeze, with no clouds.

A cold front moved slowly into the Texas Panhandle Friday bringing some showers; the rest of the state was mostly under clear to partly cloudy skies

flight service to San Antonio

Midland-Odessa will not lose any air flights to San Antonio due to a recent Civil Aeronautics Board ruling, as stated in Friday's Metro edition of The Reporter-Telegram.

The CAB ruled Thursday against a petition by the City of Lubbock for expanded air service. The board also tentatively approved Lubbock's request that Continental Airlines be allowed to bypass Midland-Odessa on its routes from Lubbock to San Antonio, Austin and Houston.

According to Lubbock aviation director Marvin Coffee, Lubbock pasaengers headed for San Antonio and Houston currently have a twohour layover in Midland-Odessa and must take another Continental flight which originates in Denver. Lubbock is seeking nonstop service from the city southward, Coffee said.

Thus, Midland-Odessa probably won't lose any flights southward, but it may lose some Lubbock air passengers heading south.

Interveners in the matter have until Sept. 24 to show cause why the CAB's tentative order should not be made

He was, of course, right — from the yiewpoint of a layman, that is.

The tractors were in show-room condition. And the finely-tuned sound of their revving engines surely was orchestrated music to those to take pride in a peak-performance machine.

When the Friday afternoon show was over, Hopper announced the winners and runners-up. They stacked up like this:

David Long of Big Spring won first in the 12,000-pound turbo class. Steve Blagrave, a 16-year-old from Ackerly, came in second, and Kirk Thomas of Big Spring placed third.

Both Long and Blagrave, who made "full pulls," were pitted in a "pull-off" in which more weight was added to their sled load. And Long, on the 0-foot stretch, barreled down 234 feet before his tractor could no longer pull the weight. Blagrave's machine tore up more than 228 feet of packed dirted before it gave up.

Thomas's tractor traveled slightly more than 184 feet.

In the 9,000-pound super stock class, Keith Long of Big Spring won out over Stan Blagrave, Steve's older brother, in the pull-off. Both made full-pulls. But in the dueling, Long went almost 278 feet before his machine bogged down, and Stan Blagrave chewed through a bit more than 268 feet of Martin County dirt.

Ronnie Culp, the Lamesa farmer who likened tractor pulling to rodeoing, came in third. His machine plowed up a tish more than 221 feet of moistened earth.

Gary Culp, also of Lamesa, won, outright, the 5,000-pound open class. He speedily made a full-pull; he had no competition. The tractor pulling will take up again shortly after noon today just south of Stanton Junior High School.

More powerful tractors will be tugging at the weighted sled. And the pull's announcer, Hopper, said he hopes that there will be tractor pulls here in the years to come. The pull is sanctioned by the Lamesa-based Texas Tractor Pulling

In Europe, suffering the same severe drought as Britain, the first rain in nearly a month fell in Belgium and more was predicted for the weekend. But Belgium's Royal Meteorological Office said the .15 inch that fell Friday would only liven the greenery a bit without easing the drought that has made 1976 the driest year in Belgium in a century.

Lord Nugent, chairman of Britain's National Water Council, said, "We need at least 20 inches to bring us back to normal. That's an exceptionally heavy rainfall and we rarely get anything like that — even

In the first six months of this year, only 13.78 inches of rain fell in England and Wales. That's one-third of the average in the last five years.

But Friday's drizzles cheered Londoners who face increasingly tough water restrictions as reservoirs, rivers and underground supplies dry up.

Housewives in the west London suburb of Wembley ran into their yards with buckets and plastic containers to catch rainwater. Hardware stores have reported a boom on all kinds of containers in recent weeks as Londoners prepare for water cuts.

The drizzle fell one day after Asians

Unity is much talked about in union circles these days because of the expected candidacy of a third man — Edward J. Sadlowski, 37, who heads the union's largest district, in the Chicago area.

Face-to-face debate

The League of Women Voters of late has made a special project of seeking a series of debates bestween the Democratic and Republican presidential cainidates in late September and October.

And Thursday it was ruled that sponsorship of the debates by 'the League would not violate fede ral campaign financing laws.

At the same time, however, it was said that it might be ille gal or the League to solicit funds from corporations or labor unisons to underwrite the debates. This, nowever, is not expected to inerfere with the League's anfounced intention in this regard. Now, not since 1960 has there

At any rate there has been no meeting of minds since then between candidates and their ampaign strategists which would reate such a valuable opportunity for voters to see and bear candidates talk about the ssues.

In 1960 it took an act of Congress to waive the equal time provision of federal radio-tv regulations so the Kennedy-Nixon debates could be staged. Recently, the Federal Communications Commission ruled on its own that such a debate could be covered as a bona fide news event if it is sponsored by an independent organization like the League of Women Voters. The equal time rule thus is no

The Thursday ruling was made by the chief counsel of the Federal Election Commission.

As it now stands Jimmy Carter has accepted the idea of a debate. President Ford has called enthusiastically for debate.

Meanwhile, representatives of both President Ford and Gov. Carter have been meeting in an effort to establish ground rules for the 1976 campaign debates. The first session did not produce the results hoped for, but the representatives were to try again the following day.

It is hoped that the format and ground rules can and will be agreed upon soon.

The American voters certainly should be advised of the issues involved in the presidential election campaign and this is one means of achieving that goal. It is great that there are those ready and willing to sponsor the debates. It is hoped that no ob-

One last hope for Rhodesia considered

By ROWLAND EVANS And ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The State Department is considering quiet U.S. support for a desperate last-hope plan, backed by a few influential Rhodesian blacks and whites, to attempt quick black-majority rule in Rhodesia without mass killings in an escalating guerrilla war and without flight of white economic resources

The heart of the plan: a system of rich economic rewards to persuade the country's 270,000 whites to stay in desia after black-majority rule.

The hour is late and the odds are long. Any compromise is opposed by increasingly powerful black guerrilla leaders who refuse to guarantee anything for the whites and by militant whites dominating Prime Minister Ian Smith's government who respond by promising never to give an inch. Nevertheless, the plan is backed by ne key faction in the African National Congress (ANC), which represents most of the country's 7 million blacks, and by a small in-fluential group of whites who hope ultimately to convince Smith.

Unlikely though the plan's chances are, high U.S. officials take it seriously enough to consider backing it with money and prestige as the only alternative to bloody tragedy.

Behind the plan is the conviction hat black rule is inevitable, and will come in one of two ways: from Communist-supported guerrilla war destroying the white-controlled economic structure; or from blackwhite cooperation preserving the benefits of an extraordinarily rich economy - for the new black government and for whites who are persuaded to remain by econo rewards. The former avenue is the overwhelming probability today. If this trend continues, with black

Africa committed to a military solution in Rhodesia, the entire Western position in southern Africa Western position in southern Africa will be threatened. The defeat of the U.S. and Western Europe when power was seized by Soviet-backed black nationalists in Angola last spring did not approach the political potency of a Communist-backed victory in

To avoid that calamity, the plan now under scrutiny here sets up a Western consortium, headed by the U.S., to guarantee Rhodesian whites on two major points: first, no ex-propriation without fair compensation; second, the right of whites to remove proportionally more assets from the country the longer they

One new political factor giving the plan an almost desperate urgency is the rising power of black nationalist guerrilla leaders trained, equipped and supplied by Peking or Moscow-bloc Communists. The military men are submerging the political leadership of the two main nationalist factions: ZANU (the Zimbabwe African National Union) and ZAPU (Zimbabwe African People's Union).

The guerrilla leaders want total power and military rule. The black politicians claim a much-different objective: the right of blacks to vote and hence to take majority power. with the whites remaining as a vital force in the economy.

As black nationalist pressures shift more and more toward military solutions, political progress obviously gets much more difficult. Nevertheless, the alternative to political progress in Rhodesia is a long. mutually destructive war.

Unlike Africa's ex-colonies now under black rule, Rhodesia has not been administered by an outside country since 1923. No outside power can call the political turn there as Portugal called it for Angola, unilaterally ending its rule and granting independence.

To the contrary, Rhodesia's military probably can withstand guerrilla attacks for at least five years. No expert doubts that, barring a political compromise, Rhodesia will fight until the last bullet has been fired or the last white killed to preserve a society and economy built by a handful of white settlers.

It may be too much to hope that any sensible plan still has time to win political backing, given the racial passions in southern Africa today. But without it, the outcome is racial war which could send its sparks far beyond Rhodesia. That is why coolheaded officials in Washington are willing to study anything with even a slim chance of averting the catastrophe.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

WASHINGTON - It was a grisly end for John Roselli, the dapper, debonair mobster about town, who had been a familiar figure in the glittering nightspots of Hollywood, Las Vegas and Havana.

WHITTEN

His killers shot or stabbed him in the stomach. The autopsy indicates they may have shot him and then dug out the bullet with a knife. Then they brutally hacked off his legs. It is possible that he was still alive when they stuffed his body into a 55-gallon

They wrapped chains around the drum to weight it down and tossed it into Biscayne Bay. The autopsy suggests he may have died of asphyxiation inside the drum before it hit the water. The gases from the decomposing body floated the heavy container to the surface. It was discovered, with its nightmarish contents, 10 days after Roselli had disappeared from his sister's home in Plantation, Fla.

The police withheld the gruesome details of his death while they searched for his killers. We began our own investigation, meanwhile, after an appeal from his associates.

We first encountered Johnny Roselli more than five years ago. We were investigating his role in the Central Intelligence Agency's plot to assassinate Cuban Premier Fidel The CIA case officer, William Harvey, told us that Roselli had been the hero of the abortive adventure. Harvey broke his oath of secrecy because he thought it might help Roselli, who was in trouble with the law. The CIA agent had nothing but praise for Roselli's daring. In the strictest of confidence,

Roselli himself confirmed that he had

Grisly murder of John Roselli

So when he vanished last month his associates came to us for help. We were suspicious, of course, that his disappearance was linked to the Castro caper. But our investigation has now produced evidence to the contrary

We have learned, for example, that Roselli was not the amiable, retired old duffer he pretended to be. He began in the big time as a bookkeeper for Chicago's notorious Al Capone and became a specialist in white-collar crimes. It's a profession, apparently, that he never gave up.

Competent sources say that, between rounds on the Florida golf courses, Roselli was involved in stolen securities and financial swindles. His operations reportedly were resented by Santo Trafficante. who has been identified in Senate testimony as the Mafia chief in Florida.

Roselli came to Florida from Las Vegas, where he allegedly represented the Chicago mob. Our sources say that he handled millions in illegal gambling money, which he forwarded to the Chicago underworld. There are reports that Chicago crime lord Tony Accardo felt he had been short-changed by Roselli.

Still earlier. Roselli spent time in the slammer; first, for extortion and, later, for a card swindle. Those who know him say he had developed a taste for the good life. He dressed in the latest styles, dined at the best restaurants and dated beautiful women. The thought of going back to prison, friends say, horrified him.

To avoid prison, Roselli began to talk to the government as early as 1970. He gave information, according to our sources, which resulted in a grand jury confrontation for Tony Accardo. The surly mobster took the fifth. But Accardo grumbled to associates that he would pay back Roselli some day.

Roselli was also blamed for passing information to the government, which led to the conviction of Detroit mobster Anthony Zerilli. He is now serving a four-year sentence at Sandstone federal penitentiary for racketeering.

Perhaps the last straw was Roselli's testimony in the Castro case. He identified two mobsters, the late Sam Giancana and Santo Trafficante. as being involved in the assassination attempts. It's no secret in the underworld that Trafficante detests

Our sources believe that the Mafia bosses finally became fed up with Roselli. His execution would have required the approval of the top leaders, our sources say, because it was almost certain to bring the federal government into the case

Who were the vicious killers? The only clue is a smudge spot on the window of Roselli's car. One of his assailants probably had used a greasy hair pomade.

WASHINGTON WHIRL: Contrary to press speculation, Vice President Nelson Rockefeller does not want to be Secretary of State. If the Republicans win in November, he will not seek Henry Kissinger's job. Rockefeller told us categorically that he doesn't intend to serve in the next administration. - Sen. William Scott, R.-Va., has told us he's "ready to retire" at the end of his term in 1979. Not unless he is absolutely needed to stop a Democrat from capturing his Senate seat, he said, would he run again. Scott once called a press conference to deny that he was the "dumbest man in the Senate." He also denies a report that, during a discussion with a Soviet official in Moscow, he angrily accused the Soviet of being a Communist.

Catholic suspicions Another is the fact that there are sizable ethnic-Catholic populations in city neighborhoods where forced busing and pardon for draft-dodgers - which the Democratic convention gingerly embraced - are highly

Finally, there is the statement by Archbishop Joseph L. Bernardin, president of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops, commending the Republicans for adopting a platform calling for a constitutional remedy on abortion and opposing the Supreme Court ruling allowing teen-agers to have abortions without parental consent.

Now Sister Mongiardo is far from a cloistered nun. She wears civilian clothes, not a habit, and lives in an apartment in Washington, D.C., For many years, she worked in the South on community problems, and more joined the staff of the National Center for Urban Ethnic Affairs, Msgr. Geno Baroni,

"She has a big thing about bringing the South and the North together, Msgr. Baroni says. "She is really interested in Protestant-Catholic relations. Carter's people wanted her, and she accepted the job in the campaign:" Her vocational purposes seem to fit Jimmy Carter's political needs just fine. But that's the way of the world today. The lines between the secular and the religious are indistinct. The Trinitarians allow a social activist like Sister Mongiardo to roam the troubled world like a Jesuit After all, didn't President Nixon have a Jesuit intellectual on the premises, Father John McAlguhlin (now a former priest and married to one of Nixon's 1972 campaign press agents)? Will there one day be an American Cardinal Richelieu? Certainly not Father Robert Drinan, but another cleric, perhaps? Now Msgr. Baroni wants it made clear that his tax-exempt center, which gets some federal funds, is nonpartisan and nonpolitical, and if the Republicans want to recruit any of the clergy or laity at his place, they are free to do so. So far, no divines have been seen working or litering on the President Ford Committee premises.

Tut, tut, not since John F. Kennedy exploited Catholic pride and Protestant guilt have we had such a holy political year. Carter-Mondale's heavy-handed efforts to prove that some of their best friends are Catholics, despite the Democratic platform, must be endearing.

If Sister Mongiardo's Catholic schooling in Brooklyn exposed her to Thomistic thought, perhaps she has inclinations to move upward as all matter moves towards God. Thus, we understand why she headed for a Texas Tech University student killed during a fraternity ceremony says he does not want his son's friends to feel guilty.

Robert C. Click, father of Mark, 20, said Thursday his family is convinced there was no malice on the part of those involved in the Pi Kappa Alpha pledge ceremony Monday that ended in Mark's death.

Mark was struck by a train as he apparently was lying on the track a few miles west of Lubbock.

Click, a consulting chemical engineer, said, "we have no question in our minds about misconduct on anybody's part. We have no malice toward the boys involved — the boys Mark loved and who I think loved him. He loved these guys; they had a close relationship. He was very enthusiastic about his fraternity and his friends."

Cities fighting hikes

Cities across South Texas from Bay City to the Rio Grande Valley have vowed to take a close look at a rate increase request by Central Power and Light Co. before their city councils

Two separate groups, one around Corpus Christi and another in the Valley decided Thursday to hire special consultants to go over the figures submitted by the utility in its request.

The large utility has sked for a 21 per cent base rate increase that would raise monthly bills an average of 10 to 13 per cent in the company's service area extending south of a line from Bay City to Laredo.

Meanwhile, the rate went into effect Friday for 70,000 customers who live in unincorporated areas around Corpus Corpus Christi is leading the fight against the increase. Officials joined representatives from 14 other cities in the area Thursday for a meeting in Sinton to assess the rate increase request and scheduled another meeting for next Tuesday in Corpus Christi. Most of the cities represented at the meeting are in Region 11 of the Texas Municipal League.

City Managers Walter Hill of Sinton, Marvin Townsend of Corpus Christi, Walter Staudt of Beeville and John Lee of Victoria were elected to a commitee that will study ways to fight the rate increase proposal.

Hill said the committee's first group will be to invite represen-tatives of cities outside Region 11 served by CP&L to join efforts in their battle against the

At another meeting Thursday in Harlingen, representatives of 26 cities in the Valley area voted unanimously to oppose the rate increase and approved the hiring of a rate expert to assist them in their discussion

Can't tell yet whether my son will follow in his Dad's footsteps. Toys don't make an engineer.

But he's learning some of the basic principles of physics with which many professions deal. On the way home from Church, when he talks about his lesson, I recognize familiar signs . . . character is still in the mold. Deep conviction, bold dedication come later. But he's grasping those basic truths on which great living rises.

For a busy engineer who used to be hit-or-miss in his church attendance, fostering the growth of a soul is a fascinating experience . . . especially as I find my own faith deepening with every reverent day!

Can't tell about his following my footsteps. But I've discovered

Mother Teresa terms the poor 'great ones'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - To Mother Teresa, the poor are the great ones, the courageous, noble and kind. "Such dignity, such goodness," she says. In them she sees the Divine image. They suffer, yes, but that, too, she says, is like God.

"He made Himself the hungry one, the homeless, naked, unwanted one," she says. "We meet Him in disguise in the faces of the poor."

Mother Teresa, a small, fragile, slightly stooped nun of 67, whose work among the "poorest of the poor" in Calcutta, India, has grown into the worldwide Missionaries of Charity, seems to radiate that same selflessness which she finds in those who have nothing.

A grieving compassion lines her face, and when she smiles, it seems as if the light wells up from some shadowy, unforgotten place of tears.

She was repeatedly referred to as a "saint" at the recent International Eucharistic Congress here and crowds of people trailed her about, seeking to press her hand or simply to touch her white sari, the habit of her

Through her, that customary Eastern impulse to share or absorb the "karma" of some holy person by getting near them seemed to have been transported into the West.

"The poor do not want your pity," she says. "They want your love. But do we see them? Do we know them?

do we see them? Do we know them? Are we with them? When we come before God, He will judge us on what we have been to the poor, on what we have done to the poor.

At the Congress, a global gathering of Roman Catholics centered on faith in Christ's real presence in the bread and wine of the eucharist, or holy communion, Mother Teresa gave several talks and interviews.

"People have told us that we spoil the poor with our work," she said. "It is good to have at least one congregation that spoils the poor because everybody is always spoiling the

She told graphic stories of work with the desperately poor, of a family of eight which, on being given some rice, first shared it with hungry neighbors before eating; of a starving woman who died saying "thank you" simply for being picked up from the street and shown some concern.

Witnesses attacked

J. David Ross, city overseer for three Midland congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses, has received information concerning the continuing violent persecution of the religious organization in Malawi.

The attacks date from 1967, when the youth wing of the Malawi Congress Party subjected members of the group to many acts of violence, causing some 21,000 to flee to refugee camps in Zambia and Mozambique.

Expelled from those camps and forced to return to Malawi, they have continued to be the objects of rape. beatings, mutilation, and murder, and have lost their jobs, homes and places of worship.

Their subjection to these atrocities has been well-documented, said Ross. Government leaders of the U.S. and other countries have personally expressed to Dr. H. Kamuzu Banda, president of Malawi, their abhorence of such treatment.

Among others protesting the Malawian government treatment of Jehovah's Witnesses is Bruno Koker of the World Council of Churches.

Jehovah's Witnesses in Malawi are under duress of persecution because of their refusal to buy a Malawi Congress Party card. Their political neutrality, while adhering to Christian principles is well-known worldwide, said Ross.

Liquor buyers to be watchful

Americans are going to have to get used to reading the fine print on liquor

Government regulations involving the size of the containers and the stuff that's in them could cause some initial confusion for consumers who spend almost $30 billion a year on

The first thing to watch for, starting in October, is liquor in metric size bottles. It's part of a 2½-year program at the end of which all distilled spirits will be sold in six standard metric sizes.

Next, on Jan. 1, 1978 - a little more than a year away — you will start seeing ingredient lists on the labels of all domestic and imported alcoholic

For the moment, metric and nonmetric will coexist, with both sizes on the shelves. Labels used on metric bottles will have to include the nonmetric equivalent and knowing the difference in size could save consumers money. After Jan. 1, 1980, when the nonmetric sizes are eliminated, the labels will include metric measures only. Suppose the liquor store offers two brands of your favorite drink — one in fifths and one in the new 750 millileter size — at the same price. Which is the better buy? You'll have to know that the fifth is exactly two-tenths of an ounce bigger making it a better buy.

On the other hand, the liter is a better buy than the quart, assuming

If the two items are priced differently, you will have to do some division to determine which is actually cheaper. No one knows yet what pricing policies retailers will follow and the situation is further complicated by the fact that liquor prices are set by law in some states.

Individual liquor companies, meanwhile,have different schedules for introducing the metric measures ordered by the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms of the Treasury Department. The timetable depends on marketing policies and the speed with which the companies can convert bottling equipment. The the king of hearts. If declarer played a low heart on dummy's queen, he would have to win the second trump in his own hand. There would be no third trump finesse, so East would get a trick with the king of hearts.

South tried to unblock by dropping the ten of hearts under dummy's queen. When declarer next led dummy's nine of hearts, East covered with the king. South took the ace and jack, but East eventually made a trump trick with the right. RIGHT WAY

Memorize the right way to play such a suit so that you can zip right through it the next time you encounter this common holding. Begin the trumps by leading dummy's nine instead of the queen.

Since East cannot afford to cover the nine, dummy holds the trick. Now you can afford to lead dummy's queen. If East covers, you draw trumps with the ace, jack and ten. If East plays low, you stay in dummy and lead a third trump through East.

The Los Angeles Times

He was a youth then, just out of West Covina's Edgewood High, and his idiosyncrasies on and off the field combined with his precocious per-sonality, prompted the Angels to call him Moon Man.

Now 30, having been traded by the Angels and released by the White Sox, A's and Cardinals, the Moon Man has reached heights that no one, except himself maybe, thought possible.

Jay Johnstone is leading the National League in hitting. His average is .345. More renowned hitters — peo-ple named Morgan and Madlock, Rose and Oliver — will have to catch

And he says the people who once de-meaned his skills, and could not find a place for him on their rosters, helped motivate him.

"The satisfying part about waking up each morning as the league's leading hitter is that I'm proving to a lot of people they were wrong. They're the reason I've worked so hard to get where I am."

Johnstone said it would serve no purpose to name names. The names he mentioned favorably were somewhat surprising.

He credited Oakland owner Charles Finley for keeping him in baseball after the White Sox released him in the spring of '73.

HE CREDITED St. Bernard High baseball coach Benny Lefebvre, father of former Dodger star Jimmy Lefebvre, for making the change in his batting style that allowed him to become a line-drive hitter, who can take advantage of speed and slick artificial surfaces. He credited Philadelphia coach Billy De Mars for helping keep him in a groove at the plate and Philadelphia coach Bobby Wine, his 1973 manager in the Puerto Rican winter league, for talking the Phillies into signing him after he was released by the Car-

He isn't bitter about his treatment by the Angels, although he said: "I think I've had this potential all along and I could have been this type of hitter with the Angels but I'm also the type who needed some time to find himself, no matter what.

"What hurt me during that time wth the Angels was that they never seemed willing to say here, this is your position, we're going to give you the time to develop no matter how you do. The one year that I did play on a pretty regular basis (he appeared in 148 games in 1969), I hit .270.

there were nice people in that organization, there was no one to help a young hitter, no one to work with a hitter on fundamentals. I was just out of high school and I had to do it all by mistake of going home each winter and putting my bat and glove in a closet. There's no way you can do that and expect to hold a job. I've since learned that you can't lay off, that you've got to put in time every day. I should have gone to the winter leagues long before I did."

Johnstone's route to his current eminence is a strange one characterized by the tendency of his employers to disregard his latent talent and zero in on his sometimes flightly mistakes, his Moon Man

Fred Newman, a former Angels pitcher, gave Johnstone the name. They arrived back at their spring-training hotel past curfew one night, found they had both locked their keys in the room, were reluctant to go to the desk, and got in only through Johnstone's handiness at prying open a window by the light of the moon. Thus, Moon Man, a name that stuck because of some of Johnstone's other far-out habits, such as diligently shin-ing his baseball shoes just prior to the first pitch of every game, prior to their becoming so dirty it would be impossible to tell if they had ever

"I CAN'T believe that the Moon Man bit has hurt me," Johnstone said. 'Heck, Jimmy Piersall once told me that as long as it's not derogatory, get your name in the paper any way you can. That's never been my goal but I never minded all the talk about being a flake, about being this or that."

At Edgewood High Johnstone starred in football and basketball as well as baseball, his first love. He rejected a number of scholarship offers to ac-

He appeared in 124 games in 1971, batted .260 and hit 16 home runs. The next year he regressed. In 113 games he hit four homers and batted just 188. He was replaced in center by another ex-Angel, Rick Reichardt, and was accused by the White Sox of being out of shape.

"I went home determined to do something about it," Johnstone said. "I worked out every day and came in contact with Benny Lefebvre after I had run into Jimmy while making a personal appearance in Buena Park. Jimmy said that a number of players were working out with his dad in Redondo Beach each morning and I was welcome to join them.

IN THE summer since he changed his stroke and became conscious of conditioning. Johnstone has hit .347, .316, .295 and .329, not to mention the current .345.

He did not, however, get to put the new swing to work at once. The '73 season was delayed by the players strike and delayed additionally for Johnstone because he refused to accept a White Sox contract calling for a 20 per cent pay cut, a reduction he believes was based in part not only on his poor '72 season but on the fact that he was his club's labor leader, the player representative.

Stu Holcomb, a football man who was in charge of signing White Sox players for owner John Allyn, told Johnstone he could take the 20 per cent cut or be released.

"I refused to compromise," Johnstone said. "I asked for my release and was given it. I didn't know whether to laugh or cry. There I was, 27 years old, eight years in the game, out of a job. I went right to the Johnstone called a number of clubs, including the Angels, but received a kind word only from Finley, who told him, "If you can't get a job, call me back and I'll keep you in baseball."

"I've heard a lot of things about Charlie Finley," Johnstone said, "but you'll hear only good things from me. I called him and he kept his word. He signed me to a Tucson contract with a promise I would be the first hitter the A's would call up when the time came. This was in April and the A's, of course, were already set as they would be for most of that season and the next. This was when they were starting their string of champion-

When Johnstone returned, Finley told him the A's were well stocked with outfielders and with Johnstone's approval he would lend him to St. Louis for spring training. "If the Car-dinals can't use you," Finley said, "you can come back to me under last year's arrangement."

Johnstone said fine and went to camp in '74 with St. Louis. The Cardinals gave him an excellent opportunity, employing him at first base in place of the injured Joe Torre. "I had a big spring," Johnstone said. "I hit over .400. I had the club made. They told me I did. Then they came back two days later and said no, they had 14 pitchers who were without options and couldn't all be sent out, that they'd have to keep a couple more pitchers than they had counted on, meaning I'd have to go.'

At that point, according to Johnstone, he could have gone back to Finley and started the season at Tucson. Instead, Finley gave him permission to work out a deal with an organization in which his chances for regular employment in the majors would be greater than with Oakland.

"I talked to the Dodgers, to Houston, to Cincinnati," he said. "I had a chance to go to Japan and make a helluva lot of money. But I knew I could play in the majors and I wanted to prove it. I called the Phillies and because of Wine's influence they offered me a contract.

Rebels sweep 3 from Clovis

DENVER CITY - The magic number for the Midland Lee Rebels Friday was 2-1.

Those were the scores for the sophomore, junior varsity and varsity units as they swept three scrimmages from Odessa Permian and Clovis,

He hit tight end Eric Stewart in the hands, but the 185-pound senior dropped the ball and on the next pass hit dialed flanker Robert Ochsner's number, but the ball bounced off his hands into the waiting safety for Clovis who raced 47 yards for an apparent touchdown, but the Wildcats were whistled for a clipping penalty. wipping out the TD.

"Snyder was a good test because they have a good defensive team," Hopkins observed. "We still made a lot of yards and I think the statistics will bear that out. We have some to go offensively, but we're all right at this Snyder only got by the Midland 50-from 24 yards out two plays later to cap the drive. Jackson showed a lot of speed to beat the Snyder secondary. The scrimmage was short, but lively. A lot of hitting took place during plays and sometimes between

A's 'Sneak Thieves' don't know when to stop

By THOMAS BOSWELL The Washington Post

BALTIMORE — Some achievments in sports are incompreplace. It may take years to realize what manager Chuck Tanner and his desperate band of Oakland A's have done to baseball this season.

"What we are doing constitutes a whole new concept of baseball, nothing less," said a slightly carried away Tanner, speaking proudly, defiantly, and with perhaps just a little surprise that he surprise that he, a man with two stolen bases in eight major-league seasons, was the one who thought of

What the A's are doing is stealing more bases than any team in the history of baseball. And scoring from first on bunts, and from second on wild pitches. They're generally going berserk on the basepaths as no team

The sort of artistry, daring and mayhem that Ty Cobb brought to base-running as an individual, the A's have adopted as a team.

The A's theft statistics are most eloquent when contrasted with a few salient figures from the past. The most famous stealing teams of the last 60 years were the St. Louis Gas House Gang 1930s, the Jackie Robinson-led Brooklyn Dodgers of the late 1940s, the Chicago Sox of the late

IN THEIR best year, the Gas Housers stole 114 bases, the Brooklyn Bums 117, the Go-Go Chisox 113, the L.A. Dodgers 198 (104 by Wills) and the recent Cards 172 (118 by Brock).

After 124 games the A's have 270

After 124 games, the A's have 270 steals in 360 attempts, a phenomenal 75 per cent success rate that is a higher percentage than Cobb's. At that rate the A's would steal 353 bases this year breaking the record of 347 by John McGraw's 1911 New York

The A's 348th steal would be the symbolic culmination of a 20-year trend toward a rebirth of running. In 1956, the entire American League stole only 348 bases. Tanner and his A's maintain that their records are not simply the product of faster feet, better techniques and closer study of pitchers and catchers, but of a revolutionary new idea — total assault. Tanner is the first manager to say he never met a stolen base he didn't like.

Tanner speaks astringently about other managers, like Minnesota's scholarly Gene Mauch, who accuses scholarly Gene Mauch, who accuses the A's of "Little League play" for constantly stealing, regardless of the score. Tanner is stung by charges that it is dumb baseball—against the book — to constantly steal third base, even

"I never saw that book in my life," sn aps Tanner. "Where is it? Who wrote it? We've stolen third more than most teams have total steals. If the y're dumb enough to give third to us, we'll take hit. We've scored 16 runs as a direct result of stealing third with two outs. How dumb is that? We're 10th (in the AL) in hitting but second in runs scored. What could the reas on be?"

The proud A's, so recently three-time world champions, have adopted their feet-don't-fail-us-now policy out of a fi erce desperation in the wake of owner Charlie Finley's virtual giveavvays of stars Catfish Hunter, Reggie Jackson and Ken Holtzman. "There's still pride in this locker

Pinch runner Matt (The Scat) Alexander, a former Midland Cub, has already tipped the Oakland ground crew to get him a base from the record-setting game. "I'm going to have everybody sign it," he says, "everybody except the pitchers. Shoot, they didn't steal no bases."

The nonpitching A's who have no steals — Ken McMullen, Larry Haney and Jeff Newman — have formed a club. All vow not to be the only 1976 A without a theft. "Everytime I get on the back end of a double (steal)," grumps Haney, "they throw to my base."

we're in second place."

The A's want a division flag, but realize their weak starting pitching may prevent it. A stolen base record for the ages ... yes, they would love

EVEN 38-YEAR-OLD Billy Williams has managed to steal third.
"I'm going to let all these young cats get the first 347," he grins, "then I'm going to be the one to break the record."

The theft craze started in spring training when Tanner decreed, "This year everybody goes." The enthusiasm multiplied when new arrival Don Baylor stole 25 straight bases early on. "That set everybody off," says Billy (The Bandit) North, team leader with 59 steals in 80 attempts.

North dubbed Baylor "the sneak thief." But when Baylor swiped four bases in a game, his cover was blown.

When he stole second in Yankee Stadium, then scored when the overthrow rolled into short center, Baylor was proclaimed a fullfledged bandito.

The sneak thief title was passed on to Pilfering Phil Garner, who, thanks to the loss of six pounds and the confidence-building of Tanner, learned that "I could steal more than four bases in a season." But with his total now at 29 larcenies in 37 attempts, nearly half of them steals of third, Garner is getting special pickoff attention. "They've spotted me now," Garner said. "Now I have to refine my technique."

CAPTIAN BANDO is the current "sneak thief," with 13 in 16 attempts, matching the total of his rookie year. 'Now that old Sal is sneaky," says North, proud of the way the veterans are chipping in for the record chase.

For a team which lost only four games all last season and has already matched that in four preseason games this time around, the Houston Oilers are a pretty cool ballclub — but there's a pret-

"We've played a lot of people, looked at a lot of faces, tried out a lot of new plays and new players," Coach Bum Phillips said as he put the Oilers through their final preparations for Saturday night's National Football League exhibition against the unbeaten Miami Dolphins.

"In fact," he added, "this is the first exhibition game we're going into where we have a game plan."
And what might that be?

"Well," he replied, "to win would be nice. But that's not the purpose of exhibition games. Heck, we probably could have won all the games we've lost. There's no panic setting in around here."

FOR THE Dolphins, the Houston defense will surely have to be at a peak. And with Elvin Bethea and Curley Cup back in action, it's certain to be better than in recent weeks, like the last one, when the Jets shaded Houston 27-24. Miami has scored 98 points in its four preseason games, tops in the National Football League. Bob Griese had a hand — a right hand — in most of their

In Saturday night's other exhibitions it's Buffalo at Los Angeles, Pittsburgh at Dallas (national TV, ABC, 8 p.m., CDT), Philadelphia at Minnesota, Washington at the New York Jets, Baltimore at Atlanta, Chicago at Tampa Bay, Denver at St. Louis, Detroit at Kansas City, the New York Giants at Green Bay and Cincinnati at New Orleans.

On Sunday it's Oakland at San Francisco (national TV, CBS, 2:30 p.m., CDT) and San Diego at Seattle. and on Monday night, New England is at Cleveland.

ALONG WITH the Dolphins, Los Angeles and San Francisco are unbeaten. Both of them figure to have a hard time keeping it that way.

Buffalo was the only team to beat Los Angeles in last year's exhibitions. And despite a 1-3 record this year and a 12-game West Coast losing streak (the last time the Bills won out there was in 1966 at Oakland), they're suddenly hot, coming off a 37-0 walloping of Green Bay.

But the Rams are hot, too. They beat Oakland 23-14 last week with John Cappelletti running for one touchdown and catching one of James Harris' two scoring strikes.

And having lost, Oakland's Raiders will be even more up than usual for Sunday's Bay Area showdown. Oakland holds a 7-2 preseason edge over the 49ers, who edged San Diego 17-14 last weekend in Honolulu on Steve Mike-Mayer's last play 38-yard field goal. Jim Plunkett accounted for San Francisco's two touchdowns with passes of 68 yards to Willie McGee and seven to Bob Adams.

Soccer and football games played in the mud have left two 50-yard-long strips of bare dirt in left and right field. The entire chalk stripes and numbers left behind by the other two pro sports in town.

Even the normally virgin ground between the mound and home has been chewed up and gouged by a women's pro softball game used to hype the gate for an Orioles' game.

Unfortunately, the field is the least of the Orioles' problems. In fact, the Birds still play a decent (63-60) brand of baseball in spite of themselves. They simply have too many outstanding players names like outstanding players, names like Jackson, Grich, Garland, May, Palmer, Belanger and Singleton, to fall apart completely. At least, not

BEYOND THAT, the Orioles are hasbeens, journeymen pitchers and goodfield, no-hit spare parts. As Billy North of the Oakland A's said this week, "After they lead off with Singleton, Grich, Jackson and May, there is nothing left. The bottom of their lineup you don't even notice."

"I'm bigger than boxing," he said.
"I'm the Lord of the ring, not of the world, of the ring. They can take my title, take it off the books, it don't mean a thing."

ALI WAS his usual self during the luncheon at which he shared the head table with Ken Norton, who will fight him for his title on Sept. 28 in Yankee Stadium. Former champion Joe Frazier was also there.

In an unexpected move, prior to beginning his talk, Ali pledged to donate $100,000 of his $6 million title purse to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which is in financial straits after an adverse court ruling in Mississippi over a 1968 economic boycott. A judge ordered the NAACP to pay 12 businesses $1.2 million in damages.

Ali also called on Norton to donate $5,000 from his end of the purse to "this great organization, the NAACP." He urged all athletes and entertainers who "are blessed to be making a lot of money" to make a donation and for "all the little people to save their dimes and nickels to send to this group."

Judge rules in favor of Delaware

WILMINSTON, DEL. (AP) -Federal judge rejected an attempt Friday by the National Footbali League to stop the state of Delaware from starting a professional football lottery next week. U.S. District Court Judge Walter Stapleton turned down the NFL's request for a temporary restraining order to block the state from beginning the nation's first state-run professional football betting

In his order, Judge Stapleton said he did not agree with NFL attorneys that the league would suffer 'irreparable harm' from the lottery. Tickets are scheduled to go on sale

JUDGE STAPLETON'S opinion, only 1½ pages long, gave no further reasons for his decision.

Lawyers for the NFL had argued during a court hearing Wednesday before Judge Stapleton that the "forced association" with gambling would change the "public perception of the game from the scoreboard to the tote board."

But lawyers for Delaware said the game would merely be an extension of the office betting pools and cards played illegally by millions of persons for years.

Delaware expects to make about $2 million this year on the weekly game. Some of the other 13 states with lotteries were reportedly considering beginning the same type of lottery and were waiting to see what happenend in the Delaware case.

The lottery would have two parts. One, "Touchdown," would resemble football cards in which a person would bet on three, four or five games and would have to pick both the winning teams and point spreads.

The second game, "Football Bonus," would have two slates of seven games each. A bettor could wager on one or both sales. In New York, an NFL spokesman said: "We're obviously disappointed but we would hope during the interim before the hearing on the merits of our legal action that the people of the State of Delarware would be heard from either directly or through their elected representatives.

"Delaware is the only state which has considered legalized gambling on professional football without putting the issue before the voters or the legislators. After all the state's next interpretation might be that single game betting is legal through statesponsored or state-employed bookmakers.

California grid powers to dominate Pac-8 race

LOS ANGELES (AP) - "The Experts" say the University of Southern California and Cal should battle it out for the Pacific-8 Conference football title, but the other two California schools may have something to say about that estimate.

In fact, the experts said about the same thing one year ago because Southern Cal and Cal had potent offenses. But UCLA wound up winning the Pac-8 and the Rose Bowl.

UCLA's All-American quarterback John Sciarra has graduated, leaving West Coast headlines to the Trojans' Ricky Bell and the Bears' Joe Roth. They provide their respective teams with Heisman Trophy candidates, but UCLA and Stanford have the material to challenge for the Rose Bowl, too.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) -Winning pitcher Paul Sargis homered leading off the sixth inning to break a scoreless tie and pace Campbell, Calif., to a 3-0 win over Richmond, Va., Friday in the Little League World Series. The U.S. West Champions, 15-0,

Or better yet, opposing linemen better watch the way the Cincinnati Bengals reserve fullback hits them. Williams has a black belt in karate.

He has been competing in national karate tournaments since 1970, which was the summer before his junior year at Langston College in Oklahoma. In his very first try at competititve karate-despite not having full training-Williams took se-cond place and now has won five straight TaeKwon-Do tournaments over the past two offseasons.

"It keeps me in shape," said the three-year veteran who has played in the shadow of Boobie Clark since joining the Bengals in 1974.

'It builds stamina. There's more stamina involved in karate. In football, you run one time and stop. It gives you a little chance to rest. In karate, it's an all-out workout lasting two minutes or three."

His winnings do not come anything near what he makes lugging a football; the biggest purse he won was $200 while competing last winter in both Oklahoma and Texas.

He credits the TaeKwon-Do school of karate-which is Korean in origin and involves the use of both hand and leg blows-with preventing groin and hamstring injuries, common to pro football fullbacks. His instructor in Oklahoma has helped Williams progress through the lower and intermediate stages to where he is now a first-degree black

Veteran R-T staff tops grid coverage

The 1976 schoolboy football season officially opens next Friday when the Midland Bulldogs journey to Amarillo to face the Tascosa Rebels in Dick Bivins Stadium while the Robert E. Lee Rebels wait until Sept 10 for their opener in El Paso with the Austin Panthers.

The Midland Reporterlegram is featuring a 10-page est Texas Football Special today with the veteran sports staff of Ted Battles, Terry Williamson and Bob Dillon covering the schoolboy scene. There is a combined total of 40 years experience in the R-T sports staff. Battles, the sports editor, came to the Tall City in 1952 and has covered West years.

Williamson is entering his fifth year in Midland and covers the area beat while Dillon has total of 14 years covering. District 5-4A football teams.

Battles will also cover the home games of the Texas Tech Red Raiders in Lubbock.

Area teams to be covered this fall with team rosters, pictures and schedules include Rankin, Stanton, Reagan County, Lamesa, Andrews, Crane and

Bulldogs unveil new Wing-T attack

By BOB DILLON

Coach Jerry Hopkins unveils his new Wing-T attack next Friday when his Midland Bulldogs open the 1976 schoolboy football season on the Panhandle in Amarillo against the Tascosa Rebels in Dick Bivins

Hopkins comes to the Tall City after successful stays at Sonora and Seguin and brings the new offense after the Purple Pack ran out of the Wishbone for four years.

Midland has 17 returning lettermen back from last year's 6-3-1 team. The Pack rang up a District 5-44 record of Pack rang up a District 5-4A record of 4-2-1 record which was good enough for a third place finish behind Odessa Permian and Abilene Cooper.

BACK AGAIN to head the high-BACK AGAIN to head the highoctane attack for the Bulldogs are quarterback Kevin Widner, fullback
Rusty Maroney and halfback Phillip
Ward, a blue-chip candidate.
Ward had a great spring and is expected to give the Bulldogs that

The 178-pound speed merchant was the No. 2 scorer in 5-4A last year along with San Angelo's Bill Woodard with 54 points. Odessa's Darrell Shepard led the loop with 86 points.

JOINING WARD, Maroney and Widner in the Bulldog backfield will be Brently Jackson a 176-pound junior who can also fly.

Midland has other top backs in Alvin Price, a 162-pound junior, Walter Bryson, promising 165-pound sophomore along with Robert Mon-tgomery, an 188-pound sophomore fullback. Robert is the younger brother of former Bulldog and TCU prother of former Bulldog and TCU great — Ross Montgomery.

Doug Atnipp, a 175-pound junior, is the backup man for Widner with Tom Ready, a 150-pound senior, a step behind Atnipp. Atnipp missed most of the season last year on the Bullpup junior varsity when he suffered a broken leg in the opening game.

CHRIS GADDY, who played fullback two years ago on the JV, has been moved back to a fullback slot this fall and is running well and is also a defensive standout for the Pack.

If there wasn't already enough depth at the fullback position, there is also 190-pound senior Shane Fletcher that can also fill the bill.

Grady McGowan, a 175-pound senior, is back again in the Bulldog secondary and is another of the 17 experienced players back.

In the line, lettermen John

Newberry, Jay Foreman, Mike Smith, David Rooker, Kevin Pearce, Rickey Goode, John Northington, Larry Murphy and Kevin Minton

Newberry is a 183-pound senior center while Foreman is a 170-pound senior guard. Smith is also a senior and weighs 175 pounds and Rooker is a 190-pound senior tackle.

RICKY GOODE lettered as a ophomore last year and the 218-pound junior is being counted upon heavily by Hopkins and his staff.

Pearce is a 175-pound senior tackle and handles the field goal and extra point chores. Northington, a 157-pound senior end returns along with Muprhy, a 192-pound senior receiver and Minton, a 175-pound senior end and halfback.

Then in 1968 his Sonora outfit, running out of the Wing-T, shut out Poth, 9-0. Mart blanked Hopkin's Bronco team, 28-0, in 1969. In 1970 his Broncos turned around and whipped Pflugerville, 45-6 and in 1971, Sonora tied Barbers Hill 3-3 and shared a co-state title.

OTHER TOP prosepcts for this season include Brian Booker, an 185-pound junior tackle up from the JV along with Frank Driskill, a 200-pound junior tackle; Greg Coldewey, a 166-pound junior end and David Isby, 170-pound junior tight end.

Besides Tascosa, the Pack faces Lubbock Monterey and Ylseta Eastwood in non-district play before taking on Odessa Permian in the 5-4A opener, Oct. 1 and winding up the season against cross-city rival David Collins, 184, Jr.; Kevin Blonkvist, 150, Sr.; Mark Dinsmore, 192, Jr.; Charles Miller, 120, Sr.; Kevin Murphy, 193, Jr.

Wide open 5-4A grid race predicted for '76 season

Although Odessa Permian is rated the favorite to win the District 5-4A football crown again, most experts feel that the Panthers won't have an easy time of it. Last year, Coach John Wilkins'

Black Cats were picked four in the pre-season polls and won the championship. They even went all the way to the Class AAAA finals before bowing to Port Neches-Groves, 20-10

THIS YEAR, all pre-season polls point the finger to the Panthers with San Angelo, Abilene Cooper, Midland and Midland Lee to fight it out.

Then there's Odessa High with all-state quarterback Darrell Shepard back to guide the attack. Shepard is one of many premier backs in 5-4A

Midland Lee's Clyde Gary returns after winning the rushing title last year and Midland has a dandy in Phillip Ward too.

Bill Woodard, a 6-1, 188-pound senior is back for San Angelo Central and Abilene Cooper has a great prospect in 6-4, 200-pound Tim Orr. Permian has quarterback Curtis Pittman back in the harness along with speedster Lyndon Kauk, who had

This year's champion could lose as many as two games before battling its way into the state playoffs against the District 6-4A representaive.
Lee Coach Jim Acree is one who thinks the winner could lose as many as two games. "It will be wide open and anyone of five teams could win it this year, " said Acree.

Last year, Permian shut out seven of the 10 regular opponents on its schedule, but Angelo turned around and blanked the Panthers, 17-0, in W.T. Barrett Stadium yet. The Panthers have only lost two games in Barrett Stadium in the past eight Wilkins faces the task of rebuilding

Both Midland and Lee have plenty of size in the line and good, strong backs so the two Tall City outfits could really cause some waves.

The district has four new coaches ready to see what they can do during the 1976 campaign. They include DeWitt Jones at Abilene (DeWitt is a former Midland Lee and Midland assistant); Don Robbins, Big Spring; Jerry Hopkins, Midland and Dick Winder who returns to the helm of the Odessa Brocnhos after a two-year

Rebels to have high scoring offense

Coach Jim Acree enters his seventh season as head master of the Robert E. Lee Rebels and feels he has plenty of talent on hand.

The onty trouble with this is that just about everybody else in District 5-4A this fall, does too.

Acree and his staff have been working hard for the 1976 football opener which is a week later than the opener which is a week later than the other outfits in the league. The Rebels travel to El Paso, Sept. 10 for their lid-lifter against the Austin Panthers in McKee Stadium.

Back this year to lead the Rebels are 20 lettermen off a 6-3-1 finish in 1975. The Rebs wound up fifth in 5-4A last fall with a 3-3-1 reading.

THE MAROON PLATOON has one of the premier backs in West Texas and the Lage Star state Clyde Gary, an 188-pound senior. Gary was slowed down with injuries last year, but appears back to a top season in 1976. Gary was the leading rusher in 5-4A

last season with a total of 683 yards in 130 carries for an average of 5.1 yards per carry and he was the No. 3 scorer along with Abilene's Donnel Baldwin

The hard-running senior has some good company in the Lee backfield again this year in Brian Crowell, an 180-pound senior and the Rebels have two gifted quarterbacks in Brad Wright, a 6-3, 190-pound senior and David Hobbs, an 180-pound senior

IF LEE has any glaring weakness it has to be in the lack of interior linemen, but the Maroon and White has an abundance of ends this season.

Gone, of course, is 6-6 tight end Junior Miller who is now enrolled at the University of Nebraska, but Lee has several good tight ends in Dick Lynch, Eric Stewart, Doug Guthrie and John Lowery. Actually, Lowrey has played tight end, but may be switched to split receiver.

Jeff McCowan, a gifted 200-pound sophomore, could see a lot of duty at a fullback slot vacated when Bobby Humble, a tremendous 215-pounder, noved to Denver and will not be with the Rebels this fall.

HERB PEARCE, another 200pound sophomore, may start at a defensive end slot. Of the twenty returning lettermen back, only six are experienced backs with the rest linemen. Heading the returnees are David Dakil, 200-pound senior along with Brian Ramey, 220-pound senior tackle. Dakil anchors down the line

ODESSA - When you have an allstate quarterback returning, things look pretty rosey and that's picture Dick Winder gets at Odessa High.

Winder returns after being in private business two years and still remembers the 1973 finale with Odessa Permian.

ABILENE — Don't feel too sorry for new Abilene Coach Dewitt Jones, who still has plenty of speed in the Eagle backfield this fall.

BIG LAKE—The Reagan County
Owls may be the biggest mystery team of the year in area grid circles.

For one thing, everbody knows that the Owls will be good in 1976, but nobody really knows just how good they will have to be as they make their maiden voyage in District 9-A.

The Owls posted a 5-5 record in District 7-AA last year, and with five offensive and five defensive starters back for 1976, the Owls should be a team to reckon with in Class A.

There is no question that the Owls

There is no question that the Owls will be good, but the rub comes from Class A Wall, who won 9-A last year while posting an awesome 10-1 record.

Wall has practically the whole shooting match back, so the Owls will have their work cut out for them.

SO THE mystery is destined to continue until Oct. 29 when coach Wilburn George's Owls meet the Hawks in Big Lake in what could be the single most important game on the area front this year.

The two teams will just have to

The two teams will just have to settle it on the field, because no one will really know until then.

George has a lot of reasons to be optimistic for the coming season, but the main glitter in the eyes comes from Jennings Teel, a 195-pound quarterback that may be the best Teel has it all. He can pass with the best of them, and his size makes him a feared runner. Teel is the real key to the Owls this year, but Reagan County has much more to count on.

THE REAGAN County backfield has already proven its ability to put points on the scoreboard.

Don Thompson (175, Sr.) is a good runner and pass receiver for Teel, and Britt Poynor, a 145-pound fireplug, is a steady fullback. Both started last year.

The newcomer, so to speak, is Jim Moore (160, Sr.) at wingback. Moore, however, has had a lot of playing time although he was not a starter last year.

Another big plus comes at end where senior Dennis Kruse returns with his 195-pound blocking frame. Kruse, Moore and Thompson should be more than enough targets for Teel to sight in on during the course of the season. The newest member of the receiving corps is young Jimmy Hennington (150, Soph.), who will be at the other end slot.

The Owls, however, will be on the inexperienced side in the offensive front, but if they come through, there is enough power in the skill positions to make the Owls fly.

MIKE SCHWERTNER (225, Sr.)

MIKE SCHWERTNER (225, Sr.) returns at tackle, and is the only returning starter to the line. He is a good one, and should be a healthy place to start regrouping the front

James Young (150, Soph.) and Frank Moreno (180, Sr.) are fighting for the other tackle berth. Larry Heintzelman (172, Jr.) will be at center and has playing experience. Kendall Watkins (150, Jr.) and Bobby Duncan (176, Jr.) will fill the guard posts. If they come through, the Owls could be in very good shape.

The Owls also have a lot of experience in all phases of the defensive game. This should not be a weak spot for the Owls in 1976.

Teel and Kruse could be the best for the Owls in 1978.

Teel and Kruse could be the best linebacking duo in the area, and that's a good place to start. Both played well here last year, and could be the strongest point of the defensive team.

POYNOR WILL be back at the noseguard post, and although he is a tad on the small size at 145 pounds, his playing weight is more like 220.

Schwertner is back at tackle, and with Poynor, the middle should be strong. Duncan will be at the other tackle post and the Owls are counting on him to come through.

Moore, the other returning starter from 1975, will be back at halfback to give the Owls a solid look in all areas.

Thompson will join Moore at halfback, and has played some there.

Mario Hernandez (130, Jr.) will be the

The two important end slots will be filled by Heintzelman and Young while Gary Eggleston (140, Jr.) will be the new rover. These are key positions that the Owls must show steady improvement as the season goes along, but the talent seems to be

THE OWLS begin their new quest for Class A glory Friday night when they host long time district foe Ozona in a non-conference game.

Reagan County also faces previous district foe McCamey Sept. 10 at home, so the early schedule will look a lot like the old District 7-AA slugfest all over again.

all over again.

The Owls then embark on a two week road trip against 6-A contender Iraan and 7-AA hopeful Sonora.

Reagan County will open 9-A play for the first time Oct. 1 when they travel to Eldorado. Big Lake will then have an open date before facing Menard and Robert Lee, and that will be the warmup before tangling with Wall in the crucial battle Oct. 29. That could be the season right there.

PREDICTION: No matter how you look at it, the Reagan County Owls face a one game season on Oct. 29. The home field advantage might just be enough to spring the Owls into the playoffs. First in 9-A...or, er, maybe second?

Longhorn offense fails to impress Coach Royal

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Boston College's Eagles would beat the Texas Longhorns if Texas' Sept. 11 season-opener were played now, says Coach Darrell Royal.

"We do not have a good offensive football team," Royal said after Wednesday's scrimmage. His first-team offense scored only four touchdowns in eight tries against the second and third defensive teams.

"I really have some concern. Against those people it should be bang, bang, bang-right down the field," Royal said.

"The only thing that looked like danger at all was Earl (Campbell) running and throwing to Alfred (Jackson). I don't think we could beat Boston College today. Without any improvement between now and then we'll get beat.

"We're behind Boston College in practice, and I say that as sincerely as anything I've ever said. And that's not just a wolf story," he said.

Longhorns seek SWC title without quarterback?

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Longhorns will bid for national football honors this season with an all-star cast looking for a director.

Seeking to replace three-year starter Marty Akins, touted by Coach Darrell Royal as "probably the best Wishbone quarterback who ever played," are three players, two of whom have never played in a college

Listed No. 1 is Ted Constanzo, tought by some to be too slow and gawky to run the Wishbone. Constanzo, a sophomore, played sparingly last year in Texas' 10-2 season, running for 148 yards and completing 21 passes for 352 yards.

Mike Cordaro, a sophomore walk on who emerged from obscurity with a splendid passing performance in the spring training finale, is No. 2, and junior redshirt Randy McEachern will start with the third team.

Ten of 11 defensive starters return from the team that climbed to sixth in the final poll by blasting massive Colorado 38-21 in the Astro Bluebonnet Bowl.

The defense is led by three pro prospects—tackles Brad Shearer, 260, and Ernest Lee, 250, and halfback Raymond Clayborn, who was timed in the 100 in 9.46 seconds during spring

Also back are two 5-11 defensive ends, Tim Campbell and Steve Straty, who Royal calls "barracudas" because of the way they make up for their sub-200 pound weights with a slashing, agressive style of play.

A linebacking trio of Rick Fenlaw, Bill Hamilton and Lionell Johnson, who combined to make 400 tackles last year, will patrol the secondary. Texas was third in the nation in scoring last year, averaging 33 points a game, and Royal answers Wishbone critics by saying, "It's a good, solid way to move the football. That's about all offense is anyway. Everybody get in front of somebody and give the ball to an Earl Campbell."

At Texas, coaches jokingly refer to Campbell as "the franchise." The 231-pound junior fullback has run through stacked defenses for 2,046 yards in two years and could fulfill Roosevelt Leaks' prediction that Campbell would someday win the Heisman Trophy. Leaks preceded Campbell at Texas and is now with the Baltimore

Complimenting Campbell this year will be two speedsters named Johnny Jones, one of whom ran on the United States' gold medal 400-meter relay team at the Olympic Games in

Jones, the medal winner, has run 100 yards in 9.05 seconds, and the other Jones consistently ran 9.6s in high school but was troubled last year with pulled muscles.

A wide receiver Royal thinks is destined for the pros-Alfred Jackson—is Texas' long-range threat. He caught 32 passes for 596 yards last year, and Royal says he dropped only one he might have caught and "he caught several he shouldn't, have Kicker Russell Erxleben averaged 41.4 yards a punt last year and is accurate on field goals from as far out as 50 yards.

"I think our only offensive problem is at quarterback," says Royal, "and the quarterbacks can't help it if they're young and inexperienced."

Give them seasoning and it could be a Longhorn stampede.

Kush lives under pressure of high ranking

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — In 1975, Arizona State University's football program received its highest accolade ever when the undefeated Sun Devils nailed down the No. 2 ranking.

But all the attention has been a mixed blessing for Coach Frank Kush. who will have 15 starters back from last year's team, including nine on of-

THE SUN Devils wound up their weeklong preseason training stint at Camp Tontozona, near the mountain community of Payson, 80 miles northeast of here, last weekend. But Kush felt the camp wasn't as intense as it should have been.

"There's been just too many outsidepressures," said Kush. "We've received more attention from the media than ever before, and I think that's contributed to our problems."
HE HOPES that will change during the twice-daily workouts being held on the campus in preparation for the Sept. 9 season opener here against UCLA. Those workouts are closed to the public. "Potentially, we do have a fine football team," says Kush, who adds that his team is enthused about the possibility of capturing the mythical national title this season. Last year, it was Arizona State's veteran defense that kept the Devils in many games until the offense could get started. This season, it will have to be the reverse, said Kush. GONE FROM the defensive unit are and an outstanding linebacker, Larry Gordon. And Kush admits that those two vacancies are going to be tough to Both tackle spots also will have to be filled.

Nevertheless, he says the defense seems to be coming along well, although he says he won't really know just how well the defense is doing for a couple of more weeks, when the offense begins "to do some of the things it's capable of doing."

QUARTERBACK DENNIS Sproul, a 6-foot-3, 215-pound junior, started the last four games of the 1975 season, and apparently has the starting nod this year. However, he's been getting a lot of pressure from backup signal caller Fred Mortensen, a 6-2, 205-

Kush feels the club has premier receivers, so he considers the quarterback the key to the offense. Returning will be split end John Jef-ferson, who Kush lauds as the best pass catcher he's ever coached; tight ends Bruce Hardy and Kirk Carter, and wingback Larry Mucker.

"We've got to be able to get the ball to them because they have the ability to catch the ball anytime it's thrown in their direction," said Kush.

BUT THE Devils have always tried to have a balanced attack, and the running backs are relied on heavily. Kush's top ground gainer is Freddie Williams, who will be striving to sur-pass the 1,000- yard rushing mark for the third straight year. Last season, he carried the ball 248 times for a total of 1,316 yards and nine touchdowns.

great deal of progress if our offense e carried the ball 248 times for a total f 1,316 yards and nine touchdowns.

"Over-all, we feel we could make a great dear of progress if our offense can get down to the point where it's really polished and is doing some of the things well that we ended up doing last year," says Kush.

Madden never said sorry

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP) - On the morning George Blanda was placed on waivers, Oakland Raiders Coach John Madden said, "They might as well pack up his gear now and send it to the Hall of Fame."

At least that was the word that got around the team's training camp here. Tuesday, and when the oldest of pro football's old pros showed up for the afternoon practice, as Raiders owner Al Davis had requested, someone had cleaned out Blanda's locker.

"The trouble is that we've got some people thinking around here who aren't supposed to," Madden said in the aftermath of the incident that sent the 48-year-old Blanda away mad. He never had a chance to say he was sorry to the "the fiercest competitor I ever knew."

STANTON—Life in the District 5-A grid circles has not been an easy one for the Stanton Buffaloes since they joined the loop two years ago.

In fact, life has not been easy for any of the district members with the exception of Seagraves, who has a yearly engagement in the playoffs.

But the Buffs have new hope and enthusiasm for 1976 with five offensive and four defensive starters returning from a 5-5 season in 1875.

Bo Schembechler has Michigan ready to stroll

ANN ARBOR, Mich. backup defensive tailbacks Rob Lytle and Harlan Huckleby, under the knife didn't cut any of the coaching enthusiasm out of Bo Schembechler.

The open heart surgery the University of Michigan head football coach underwent May 13 hears't ended his every hasn't ended his career. And he doesn't expect it will have much effect on t, except to alter busy post-season recruiting work, for which he never cared much anyway.

Schembechler is gearing for another Big Ten season as if nothing happened. That should mean trouble for op-mean trouble for opponents.

"I don't think it'll have any effect at all," he said when asked if his surgery might change the coaching techniques that have produced a 66-9-3 record in his seven years with the Wolverines.

Michigan is the only team in the nation which has finished in the Top Ten every year since 1969, Schembechler's first at the school.

Assistant Coach Gary Moeller handled the Wolverines in spring

Wolverines in spring practice. Schembechler was discharged from the hospital June 2 and it wasn't much later that he wasn't much later that he was back to work.

"I felt that without surgery I'd have been all right," he said. "But since I've had it I feel so much better I didn't realize how bad I really felt. I feel 10 times better going into this season than the 1970 season after I was coming back from a heart attack."

Schembechler is a realist. While he sees strong challenges from Michigan State, Minmichigan State, Minnesota, Purdue and Illinois, he expects the conference race to—as usual—be a battle between Michigan and Ohio State, which has gone to the Rose Bowl four the Rose Bowl four consecutive years.

"Until proven otherwise, you have to go that route," he said.

Michigan, 8-2-2 /last season, was runnerup to the Buckeyes in the Big Ten and lost to No. 1-ranked Oklahoma, 14-6, in the Orange Rowl. in the Orange Bowl.

There weren't many seniors on last year's squad, probably the poorest team Schem-bechler has had at

"We expect to have a good team, but the basic problem at the end of spring practice is we didn't come up with a firststring middle guard," Schembechler said. "We have to have a great one in there, And

Also the Buffaloes will be under the new regime of new coach David Thompson, who came to Stanton from Alice where he was an assistant.

It is Thompson's first head coaching job, and he is ready to make things happen at Stanton.

THOMPSON FACES the numbers problem that has plagued Stanton for several years. Depth will certianly not be a strength even though there is good talent on the 23-man varsity

"We are concerned about the numbers, but the team's enthusiasm has been good and the team workouts have been spirited," Thompson says.

Race track opens soon

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) — The much-heralded New Jersey Meadowlands sports complex, the first of its kind in the state, will open Wednesday, Sept. 1 with the debut of America's newest racetrack, The Meadowlands.

The full mile racetrack shares the Meadowlands grounds with the 78,000-seat Giants Stadium, the new home of the National Football League's New York Giants. The stadium will not be used until the Giants' first home game on Oct. 10, but the track will open a 102-night stand this week.

The New Jersey Sports and Ex-

The New Jersey Sports and Exposition Authority, which will run the complex, has scheduled harness racing through December 31, in direct competition with New York's Roosevelt and Yonkers raceways. The Authority also plans to hold thoroughbred racing at the track next year after a resurfacing operation.

The Meadowlands Premier, a $50,000 Invitational Free-For-All Pace, will highlight the opening-night program. In all, there will be $640,000 in stakes purses available during the four-month meeting.

"We will have good overall team quickness and speed, but we do need a few more kids to work with."

Bimbo Allred (140, Sr.) leads the pack at wingback, but Oscar Perez (145, Jr.) and Steve Dennison (155, Sr.) give the Buffs scoring punch.

The key to the Buff offense, however, could lay in the hands of untested sophomore quarterback Todd Smith. Smith, a good looking 165-pounder, has running and passing potential, but he will have to show those talents quick.

Smith will have some targets to throw to since Terry Smith (156, Sr.) returns at split end and Doug Mc-Calister (180, Sr.) returns at tight end.

THE INTERIOR line will be blostered by returning starters tackle Tim Glyn (195, Sr.) and guard Miles

PEREZ AND Terry Smith are also strong secondary hopefuls.

Thompson and his Buffs will get their first test Friday when they open at home against Tahoka in an 8 p.m. contest. The first hurdle for a new coach with a new team is always the roughest, and the Buffs would like nothing better than to get off to a fast

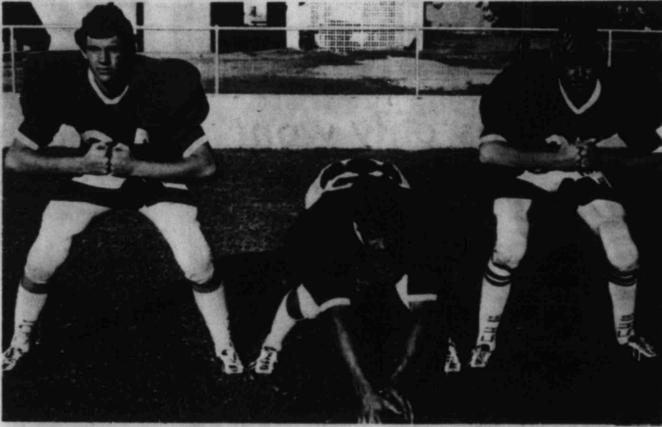

The Buffs will have six non-conference games before the District 5-A battle uncorks Oct. 22 when Stanton puts all the marbles on the line against league favorite

The Buffs then face Plains a week later, and the Cowboys figure to have a class team themselves. Should Stanton pull off stunning upsets on these two weekends, the Buffs could find themselves in the playoffs for the first time in Class A. first time in Class A.

Stanton will have an open date the week before they meet Seagraves, which could prove to be an advantage.

PREDICTION: The Stanton junior high school has some good material coming, and the signs point to a turn around in the Buff grid fortunes soon. But they might just have to suffer through another third place in District 5-A this season.

Tollison is a returning starter while Ireton and Swinson are newcomers to the starting role.

Andrews wants to turn Mustangs out of corral

By TERRY WILLIAMSON R-T Sports Writer

ANDREWS-After two consecutive 2-8 seasons in the AAA grid trenches, the Andrews Mustangs may have enough horses in the corral to make a serious run at the District 2-AAA title.

But headmaster Tommy Watkins is placing a lot of emphasis this year on the non-conference schedule. He sees games against the likes of Big Spring. Lamesa, Brownfield, Snyder and Levelland as the key, and all of those come before the 2-AAA run opens Oct. 15 in Seminole.

"What we need is some success," Watkins candidly stated. "Our seniors have not been with a winning program, and all they need is some wins under their belts. I think we can really be tough if we can have some early success.

THE JUNIORS and sophomores have both been on winning teams at Andrews, but the Mustang leaders need desperately to taste that victory

Andrews is getting a lot of recognition early in the pre-season ballots. Most pick Andrews to finish second behind Pecos in the 2-AAA race, and Watkins feels that the Mustangs have a real chance to win it all since they meet contenders Pecos and Monahans at home this year. Of course, the keys are early success and keeping the team healthy, a problem that is already working against Andrews.

Tim Culp (170, Sr.), who is scheduled to play both ways at end and safety, has a broken bone in his left foot, and is expected to be out at least another month. Quarterback Booger Brooks suffered a sprained ankle and missed some early workouts, but should be full speed by the opener. Jimmy Craddock, a defensive tackle (185, Sr.), has a knee sprain, but is also expected to return

THERE IS no question that Brooks will have to remain healthy for the Mustangs to gell this year. The 180-pound bronc busting junior quar-terback is a real running and passing threat for Watkins' Houston Veer offense. As goes Brooks, so go the Mustangs. And that could be it in a nutshell.

Watkins will also have Jesse Madrid (175, Sr.) returning at fullback and Joe Gilliland (185, Jr.) back at end. Tackle Charlie Russell (205, Sr.) is the last of the four returning offensive starters, and it will be from this group that the Mustangs must build around.

Culp, who started only on defense last year, was scheduled for a starting end role on offense, but Weldon Jones will probably hold down the end position until Culp recovers, and Gilliland will replace him at the free safety on defense.

Tailback Mike Reed (150, Sr.) and split receiver Eldon Jones (140, Jr.) have good potential talent. Mark Munsell (190, Jr.) will join Russell at the other tackle spot while other of-

(51) and Jesse Loffler (31) take to the field against Big Spring Friday night in Andrews.

Don Fulton (185, Jr.) and Kevin Clannahan (160, Sr.) along with center Mickey Seal (190, Jr.).

CULP AND linebacker Joe Barnes (180, Jr.) are the only two defensive returning starters. Since the Mustangs will carry only 29 varsity players, a good number will have to see action both ways.

Seal will double at the defensive end slot while Russell will hold down a tackle position both ways. Madrid will do double duty at linebacker while Weldon and Eldon will be the twins on the corners like a pair of bookends. Craddock will be a tackle while Jesse Loffler (150, Jr.) will be at the other end slot. Ricky Loyd (165, Jr.) will be the middle guard. Mike Mace (175, Sr.) completes the defensive lineup at the strong safety.

The Mustangs have given up a lot of points in the last two years, so the prove. Losing 240-pound all-stater Gerald Galloway to Texas A&M certianiy didn't help.

THE MUSTANGS open the season Friday against AAAA Big Spring, which has proved to be an unpleasant experience the past two years. But Andrews will have the home field.

Andrews will renew an old rivalry Sept. 10 when they travel to Lamesa. The first two games could give a key to how well the Mustangs will fare for the rest of the season.

Another advantage Andrews will have this year in the schedule, is an open date Oct. 8. That's the week before the District 2-AAA run starts.

PREDICTION: This could very well be the year that the Mustangs travel that title glory road, but they still have to prove it. Let's say third behind Pecos and Monahans, and hope for better.

CRANE—Crane head coach Joe Allen guided his Golden Cranes to the District 7-AA championship in 1975 in his first year at the Crane helm, and ently, someone up there didn't

It's not that the Cranes will be any It's not that the Cranes will be any weaker than a year ago, but the Texas University Interscholastic League did their best to see that Crane doesn't repeat as champions in 1976.

The UIL shook up the 7-AA posture when they kicked McCamey and Reagan County out of the loop to join the Class A's, but that was just the start.

Kermit, a competitive AAA school in 1975, was dropped right into the middle of the Crane domain, and most feel that the Yellow Jackets will reign CRANE, HOWEVER, isn't about to lay down and die. They could have a very good football team. The rub is that the league will have only four teams in it this year, so that means only three district games for each

Also, Sonora is expected to be double tough with a veteran team, and Ozona will be improved. Whatever the final outcome, a lot of head knocking is expected before the season is over. Crane will have six defensive and five offensive starters back from the championship squad. That team lost to Kermit by a narrow 10-7 margin last year, so the Cranes could very well challenge again for the loop

Dale Mitchell (175, Sr.) will step in at quarterback in Allen's split back offense, and should have a backfield behind him that can do the job.

HARD CHURNING Steve Holifield

carries a 193-pound frame as a senior.
Holifield is also one of the best defensive linebackers in the loop, and could be all-district both ways if things break right.

Audwin Gallion (145, Sr.) and Chris rightman (160, Sr.) carry punch at the halfback slots.

The Cranes will also have depth at the end positions to make the passing game go. Tom Hughes (160, Jr.) and Paladin Schmitto (180, Sr.) are the likely starters, but Tony Ash (150, Sr.) and Mark Scott (170, Sr.) have plenty

The offensive tackles could be very strong for the Cranes. Todd Woodard (180, Jr.) and Jim Smitherman (180, Jr.) seem to have all the tools.

LUPE TARIN (155, Sr.) and Mark Evans (180, Sr.) are top guard prospects, but Wendell Black (170, Jr.) will add depth and will get a lot of playing time.

Carl Jeffery (170, Sr.) fills out the offensive lineup at center, and the returning starter adds a lot of class to the Crane lineup.

Allen has disposed of his radar (stand-up) defense that gained a certian amount of fame last year. He will go with a split-six formation for 1976. "You have to use the defense and offense that fits your personell,"

Decision time comes for Skins receiver

WASHINGTON (AP)-Wide receiver Frank Grant will decide Sunday on action he will take against the Washington Redskins over what he called a bad faith contract

Grant said that he thought he had a one-year contract from head negotiator Tim Temerario.

Allen said of the switch.

Mitchell, Gallion and Brightman were defensive secondary starters last year, but since they have moved to the offense, Allen has a bundle of prospects making secondary bids.

John Daniel (145, Sr.), Roy Hodges (145, Jr.), Rick Cadena (140, Jr.), James Fort (145, Jr.) and Jimmy Hodges (155, Sr.) are in the secondary battle.

WOODARD AND Jeffery are the cream of the crop as far as defensive linemen go, but Tim Boothe (200, Sr.), Ray Weatherly (190, Jr.) and Carl Gonzales (185, Jr.) all have size and good potential.

The linebackers should be tough with Holifield and Schmitto returning with Holifield and Schmitto returning to the lineup, but if they need help, there is plenty to choose from with Evans, Black, Tarin, Scott and David Aaron (165, Jr.) all capable of Aaron (165, Jr.) all capable of playing.

Smitherman and Hughes will probably be at the defensive end posts, but Cody Griffin (150, Jr.) and Van Dickson (150, Jr.) own talent along with Ash, who can go both ways.

Crane, as usual, will jump into the grid fire in a hurry. The Golden Birds will face two AAA opponents to open the season. It can be viewed two ways. They will be super tested before district, or their team will be banged up by the end of the schedule.

CRANE OPENS on the road Friday when they travel to Fort Stockton, their first AAA opponent. Sept. 10, the Birds fly home for an engagement with always potent Monahans.

Crane also has Marfa, a District 6-A contender, on the non-conference slate as well as District 6-AA hopeful only soft spots on the list.

Crane's open date falls on Oct. 22, one week before the 7-AA race for roses begins. Crane will open the short district slate against Ozona on the road, and then will meet Sonora on the road the following week.

The real shootout comes Nov. 12 when they host Kermit on the last when they host Kermit on the last weekend of the season. It will be Crane's only appearance at home during the district schedule.

PREDICTION: The Sandhill Birds finally found success in 1975, and that is not a fact to over look. But some heavy stinging Yellow Jackets are starved for a championship. Kermit first, Crane second in 7-AA, but it still could go to the final week of the

Lamesa wants to forget 3-AAA hard times

By TERRY WILLIAMSON R-T Sports Writer

LAMESA—It is no secret that the Lamesa Golden Tornado football team has hit upon hard times for two seasons, but a new coaching staff always brings optimism.

Only three years ago, the Tors were the hottest thing going in West Texas. They put back-to-back district titles together in 3-AAA, and in 1973, the Tors advanced to the semifimals for their most successful season in history.

However, in 1974 and 1975, the talent cupboard went bare, and the Tors suffered through 4-6 and 3-6-1 seasons. That's when new headmaster David Bonds was called on for a new approach.

Bonds comes to Lamesa from Hamlin where he had excellent squads with winning records and

AT HAMLIN, Bonds had more team speed than is produced in a year by an army arsenal. He would just unplug his shotguns on Friday nights and watch the fireworks.

It won't be quite the same at Lamesa, but with seven offensive and seven defensive starters returning, he shouldn't have too much trouble finding some punch on both sides of

"We have a lot greater size at Lamesa than we did at Hamlin, but the overall speed is lacking here," Bonds said. "We will have adequate speed, though.

"If we stay healthy and learn what we have to learn in the short time we have to learn it, this could be a good ball club," Bonds asserts. "We have a lot of kids with playing experience along with good size and good quickness, but we still lack complete

Bonds has two veterans in the backfield to run his Straight-T with variations offense. The biggest help could come from proven quarterback Guy Price (170, Sr.), who can run and THE TORS also have fullback Anthony Manuel (175, Sr.) back to add pumch up the middle. Two newcomers, however, will have to take up the rest of the slack.

Halfback Josh Robinson, brother of Melvin who made Tor history in 1973 with over 1,300 yards rushing, is a promising 170-pound junior. Bonds will call on Corndus Jackson (170, Sr.) for the flanker post, and will be a major target for Price.

It's up front, however, where the Tors should should be vastly im-of the Tors.

Bonds will use two tight ends, and both started last year for the Tors. Clay Wright (180, Jr.) and Ray Pearson (195, Sr.) have all the makings for the rugged work required of the position.

Bonds' split-6 defense will also have players with experience. Tackle Boyd Beck and end Ray Pearson will be called on for defensive chores also, and both are solid athletes.

Other returning starters are linebacker Glen McCurley (205, Jr.), end Zeke Santos (170, Sr.), halfbacks Dennis Page (160, Sr.) and John Castillo (155, Sr.) and safety Mark Hansard (160, Sr.)

DENFENSIVE NEWCOMERS include linebacker Jeff Spencer (190, Sr.), tackle Lyle Harmon (220, Jr.) and cornerbacks Johnny Hernandez (150, Sr.) and Charlie Batchelor (160, Jr.). Batchelor and Hansard can also be called on for quarterbacking chores when Price needs rest.

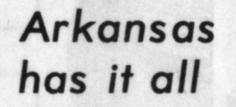

Overall, the Tors have weight muscle to throw around. But the Tors are also in a district that could be the strongest around from top to bottom. In a way, this could work for the Tors. Upsets are expected weekly, HOUSTON (AP) — Homer C. Rice, the new master motivational techniques that can be used in any motivator at Rice University, runs the Triple Pocket phase of life and he already has written earlier books about the triple option offense from which Darrell Royal got his idea for the wishbone at Texas.

> rally the sagging Owls. Rice says the TPC is the best possible blend of the advantages of the triple option but with the added threat of the pass.

> It all starts with the quarterback and Rice feels he's starting with a winner in Kramer. "I think Kramer is a high level young man," Rice said. "He fits the offense and if he can work on a few little things, he can be truly great." Rice has had a knack for developing outstanding quarterbacks, including Gregg Cook at Cincinnati and Bobby Warmack at Oklahoma and he says Kramer compares favorably with Warmack.

"Kramer has more ability than Warmack did," Rice said. "Warmack had a lot in here (pointing to his heart) but that's not saying Kramer doesn't."

The Owls will be shy of depth, a chronic problem at South Main campus, but seven offensive starters return and Rice sees a chance to move the football if Kramer, the Southwest Conference passing and total offense leader last season, remains healthy.

John Coleman, the leading rusher last season, and Ed Lofton, the top receiver, are among the chief losses. The returnees are lineman Danny Johnson, John Stanfield and Steve Moore, flanker Larry Edwards and running back James Sykes.

With Coleman gone, Rice says Sykes and Billy Neal will fill the bill as running backs.

"They're our two running backs and they'll do an adequate job but we need more speed there." Rice

McCAMEY-The McCamey Badgers compiled a 5-5 season mark in 1975, but many feel that one play against Crane, which eventually resulted in a loss, might have kept the Badgers out of the District 7-AA throne room for the second year in a

But all of that is forgotten as the 1976 grid opener quickly approaches. For there are new traditions and new goals to obtain as the Badgers make their maiden voyage in the District 6-

McCamey dropped a classification for 1976 after last year's UIL realignment, and now they toil on a different scale. But that doesn't necessarily make anything easier.

DISTRICT 6-A has long been known for its competitive balance, and with the likes of Iraan, Rankin and Marfa in the picture, McCamey will have no waltz to dance to. It's simply back to the Rock and Roll days of yesteryear.

To add to Coach Joe Neill's worries, the Badgers return only three of-fensive and two defensive starters for the new Class A run.

"I don't think anyone is leaning over backwards to pick us for the district championship," Coach Neill said. "Marfa, Rankin and Iraan will certianly have good teams, but we are looking forward to competing in this McCamey will have to start building for the Class A war with tackle Al Glenn (181, Sr.).

"I think Al could play for anyone," Neill says. "He has been a three-year starter for us, and I don't think there is a better one around."

DAVID MYRICK (181, Sr.) returns at halfback in Neill's new Houston Veer offense, and Jim Peck (151, Sr.) is back at center. After that, start flipping a coin.

Greg Pearson (151, Jr.) seems to have one of the guard slots nailed down, but the battle for the other guard is between Louis Martinez (128, Jr.) and Tommy Trowbridge (141, Soph.) Either Charles Anglin (152, Sr.) or Stan Hanks (212, Jr.) will be at the other tackle slot. The battle for tight end is between Randy Nichols (135. Sr.) and Don Trowbridge (148, Jr.) while the split ends will be Elias Alvarado (121, Sr.) or Jesse Licon

The battle for the flanker position is between Tommy Moss (137, Jr.) and Joe Ashmore (121, Soph.). The other halfback slot will probably be shared by Bobby Valdez (160, Soph.) and Billy Garza (137, Jr.) since both have however, is at quarterback where Bobby Acosta (156, Jr.) and John Anglada (157, Sr.) are locked in a both will probably see a lot of action. Raul Arana (151, Fresh.) could add running back strength.

Tackle Glenn and linebacker Myrick are the only returning starters on defense, and both will have to see action both ways as will most of the Badgers this fall.

Martinez and Tommy Trowbridge will both see action at nose guard in Neill's five-man front while Pearson, Hanks and Anglin will see tackle duty. Peck, Anglada, Nichols and Don Trowbridge will man the end slots. Valdez and Garza are battling for the other linebacker position while either Acosta or Arana will be the rover.

Acosta or Arana will be the rover.

The two defensive halfback positions will come from Moss, Licon, Joel Aguilar (116, Jr.) and Danny Woodson (121, Soph.).

Alvarado and Ashmore will both see action at the safety position, and that completes a defensive lineup that will have to prove themselves. In fact, the Badgers as a team will have a lot to Badgers as a team will have a lot to prove, but if injuries are kept to a minimum, they could gell.

IT DOESN'T take too much eye strain to see that the Badgers will not break any well tuned scales. Team size is a definite weakness in 1976. Not one player will crash the 200-pound barrier with the exception of Hanks, who weighs in at 212 pounds. Glenn and Myrick, both weighing 181 nds, are next in line.

For the first time in many moons, the Badgers will not be playing Crane, a town that lies only 20 miles to the north. That is one rivalry that will be missed by West Texas grid fans.

There are still plenty of teams to get excited about on the Badgers' schedule, however. McCamey opens at home Friday against Junction. Junction will be followed by three tough tests from Reagan County, Stanton and Ozona.

The Badgers will catch the District 6-A opener Oct. 1 when they travel to Van Horn to start their new classification on for size.

McCAMEY WILL meet Rankin the following weekend, and that should be than it ever has.

The Badgers will then catch an open date Oct. 15 before wading through Clint, Iraan, Wink and Marfa in order.

Overall, it will be a new trip for McCamey, and the Badgers are hoping it will produce a real high.

PREDICTION: McCamey always plays better than most people expect during the course of a season, but they still appear to have some obstacles to overcome. Fourth this year as they get their feet wet in 6-A.

Rankin's Red Devils don't like being No. 2

By TERRY WILLIAMSON R-T Sports Writer

RANKIN—After a three year reign at the top of the heap in District 6-A, the Rankin Red Devils were finding out how the other half lives in 1975.

It wasn't as bad as it sounds, however. The Devils finished second behind Iraan, but after you win three titles in a row, one just seems to expect more.

One thing is for sure. Rankin expected more, and the Devils don't like being second best in anything.

"I can tell you one thing," Coach Dwayne Turner boldly states, "We didn't like missing the playoffs last year, and we will try to change that this year."

Turner's Red Spirits, however, will have a rough road back to the 6-A throne room. The district is more solid than ever after the recent UIL realignment, and not many people are picking the Devils to win the district

THAT IN itself speaks well of the overall team balance in District 6-A since the Rankinites return seven offensive starters back to a team that narrowly missed winning that fourth consecutive title last year.

Rankin should be able to light the scoreboard often as they have in the past with that offensive machine back, but the rub comes on defense where the Devils have only four returning starters, not one of them a lineman.

The entire success of 1976 will hindge on the Devils' ability to develop in the defensive trenches.

"We think we will have a good offense," Turner states. "And we will be strong in the defensive secondary, but I would like a few more people up front with experience."

Lynn Parker (172, Jr.), last year's quarterback, is moving to an end spot. That in itself shows depth, and Randy Doege (146, Jr.) will be the man under, and could be the key to the Devils' offensive success.

DOEGE SHOULD have plenty of help in the backfield while he is gaining experience. Hilton Luckie (178, Sr.) will move into the fullback post vacated by the departed Donnie Cole. Luckie was a halfback last year.

Doug McAnaugh (136, Sr.) returns at wingback to give the Devils added punch, and the only newcomer is Clark Turner (143, Sr.), but he has had a lot of playing time under his Michael Dupriest (163, Jr.) will join Parker at end, and is a returning starter. That is enough material to make the Devils go.

And they should be able to move freely since three interior linemen return for another year of heavy duty.

Roy Kendrick (155, Sr.) is back at center along with tackle Gary Latham (207, Jr.) and Tom Wimberley (137, Sr.), a guard.

The only newcomers to the line will be guard Frank Self (134, Sr.) and tackle James Miller (150, Jr.).

TURNER'S DEFENSIVE backs will not take a second seat to anyone with three of the four returning starters. Turner, Wimberly and Mike Vick (155, Sr.) are all back to form a tough secondary. Add Randy Golson (136, Jr.), and the Devils should be tough to pass against.

The linebacking corps seems to be in good shape also since Luckie is back to beef up the middle. Bryan Traylor (140, Jr.) and Parker should add depth to a position that Rankin can rely on.

Inexperience is the key in Turner's four-man front wall, however, but there is some young talent. Miller will double from offense to aid the line while Curtis Wollman (140, Jr.), Bill Lindsey (170, Jr.) and Stewart Sparks (210, Sr.) try to take up vacated slack. It could turn out to be a good front wall, and if it does, Rankin could be super tough.

THE DEPARTURE of Cole could be the biggest void to fill. Cole rushed for over 1,000 yards for two consecutive years. His power will be missed.

Rankin will have the home field advantage when they uncork the 1976 season Friday against Eldorado. They will then hit the road for two weeks against Sanderson and Jal, N. M., before relaxing with an open date Sept. 24. Jal will probably be the toughest test for the Devils during the non-conference slate.

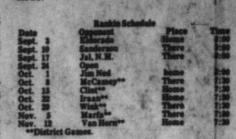

Rankin ends non-loop action at home Oct. 1 against Jim Ned, but a game on Oct. 8 will bring the first real fireworks.

Rankin faces long time foe Mc-Camey in the district opener on Oct. 8 in McCamey. The Upton County championship contest will have more meaning than ever before since the Badgers, long a AA school, have joined the Class A elites.

RANKIN WILL also face defending 6-A champ Iraan at home Oct. 22, but will catch major league contender Marfa on the road Nov. 5 in what could be a crucial game since only one week will remain in the season.

Winning has been a tradition at Rankin, and that one factor could be the best thing going for the Red Devils.

PREDICTION: Most prognosticators are going with either Iraan or Marfa to win 6-A in 1976, but how can anyone pick against a team that has to go up Pork Chop Hill every day on their way to practice. First in 8-A, and remember where you saw it
