Friends Harvest Cotton

The C. E. Roarks have lived in the West Camp community for 29 years.

But they got the thrill of their lifetime Tuesday when neighbors — 22 of them along with their hired hands — showed up to harvest Roark's cotton.

"Don't recall ever having seen anything like it," said Mrs. Roark, struggling to keep back the tears. "Maybe one or two farmers, but 22 — that's the most!"

Roark has been ill for several weeks, and for the past week has been a patient in a Clovis hospital. Tuesday, the neighbors put on one big cotton pulling party. They brought 15 machines and during the single afternoon, turned out 75 bales of cotton.

Beck Gin at West Camp did the rest; the gin side - tracked all other trailers and rushed Roark's cotton through first. They wound up the ginning task at midnight.

These were the men who helped: Roy and Dwight Sheriff, Bud Bennett and son, Casey Perry, Dean Huckell, Willie Flowers, G. E. Tims, Weldon Tims, Lewis Embry, Buster Harrington, Pershing Busby, Leldon Phillips, Virgil Nowell, Billie Field, Lloyd Stephens and Darrell, Buck Gregory, Lennie and J. E. Whitte, Guy Austin, Dalton Harris and Rink Sanders.

'65 Cotton Quotas Get Top-Heavy Okay In County

Bailey county cotton farmers, along with cotton farmers throughout the south, approved marketing quotas on the 1965 crop by an overwhelming majority in a referendum Tuesday. Voting was surprisingly light, however, in West Texas.

In Bailey county, a total of 220 persons cast ballots, 198 voting "yes" to 22 voting "no." A-S-C-S officials reported. This gave the referendum a 90 percent majority here. Over this entire South Plains area, the majority was 89.13 percent.

Cochran county approve the quotas 220 to 36 and Lamb county 545 to 46. Parmer's vote was 517 to 71 in favor of the program.

County Receives U. S. Check for $328 As Share Of Refuge's Grazing Fees

County commissioners Monday received a check from Melvin Evans, manager of the Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge, for $328.13, representing 25 percent of the income from goods and products sold on the refuge here. In this case, the money comes from grazing fees and is paid in lieu of taxes.

The law dealing with such payments, however, has been checked, and in the future the government will pay three-fourths of 1 percent of the land's current value, Evans explained.

Evans told the court the projected figure for the fiscal year 1965 will be $375, but for 1966 the figure will climb to $1389.

The manager explained that under the 1964 Civil Rights law, the funds cannot be paid if the Civil Rights Law is violated. He cited specifically this clause: "No person in the United States...

Texas Employment Report - Part I

Employment Tax Up, But Fewer Persons Presented Claims in 1964

Bailey County office of the Texas Employment Commission says taxes collected for fiscal 1964 under the compensation act were 6 percent higher, but the number of claimants was down by 12 percent.

Jesse Young, local office manager for TEC, says the annual report of the agency reveals these highlights.

Young pointed out that the report also shows another bright spot in the 1964 labor picture: Non-farm job placements were up 8 percent — from 480,913 to 518,021. On the other hand, Young says, farm placements decreased from 418,

Youths' Liquor Costly

Beer can be expensive, four Muleshoe area youths found out over the weekend.

They discovered that $1.80 worth of beer can cost a total of $82.00!

That's how much their beer at 45 cents a bottle cost them before they got out of Justice Joe Vaughn's court.

Arrested by highway patrolmen and hauled into court, they were fined $20.50 on charges of minor consumption. The boys were 16 and 17 years old.

Under Texas laws, youths under 21 may not drink, Judge Vaughn explained, unless their parents literally hand them a drink, in which case they are not violating the law dealing with "minor consumption."

It was a pretty busy weekend all the way around, for patrol— (See YOUTHS' Page 5)

Youth Injured In Crash Shows Improvement

Twenty-year-old Gary Harper, injured in an automobile crash near Lariat early Sunday, had regained consciousness and was reported as "making satisfactory progress" at West Plains Hospital here.

The youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Harper, was injured when his small automobile went out of control and rolled over several times on the four-lane portion of U. S. 24.

The hospital reported no bones were broken, and that injuries were confined mostly to his head.

The accident was investigated by units of the Highway Patrol from Hereford.

Officers searched the area for some time, seeking another youth who had been with Harper in Clovis. However it was learned later that the other youth was still in Clovis, thus was not a passenger in Harper's automobile.

The automobile, a Comet, was demolished.

Morton walloped Springlake, 42 - 29 to wind up in the 7th spot.

'Name Band' Coming Here

It's The Checkmates For Youth Dance

Every time a West Texas teen-ager turns on the radio at night it's to listen to KOMA Oklahoma City. And the chances are that many times he will be listening to the globe-circling band, Ray Ruff and The Checkmates.

Now Muleshoe area youth will hear the band in person. The popular band which has skyrocketed to fame because of its smooth "style" of youthful music, will play for the Muleshoe Youth Center dance Monday night, Dec. 21.

"We're just awfully lucky to get such a popular band to play for our youth dance, comments Tootie Middlebrooks, adult head of the youth organization here. "We had them before when they were unknown, but now you gotta put in a bid plenty early to get the Checkmates," he adds, "they are that popular!"

Admission will be $1.25 for members of the center and $1.75 for non-members. The affair will be open to all teenagers and to college students who will be cavorting to Ray's popular musicians from 8 o'clock until midnight at the American Legion building.

The band, which calls Amarillo its home base, gained its fame, oddly enough not in West Texas, but in the Dakotas where they are probably the most popular band of their kind today.

Impressive Ceremony Read In Chapel

Miss Frankie Carolyn McClellan became the bride of Clifford W. White in an impressive ceremony read at 4 p.m. Sunday in the First Christian Church Chapel, Lubbock.

Rev. Dudley Strain, pastor of the church, read the double ring service before an altar decorated with a basket of white flowers flanked by candelabras holding fourteen white tapers.

A large white candle in a white filigree work base was flanked by two lighted candles during the ceremony. As the couple knelt on the white satin-covered kneeling bench, the concluding prayer was offered, then they rose, removed the lighted candles from the altar and in unison, lighted the large center candle, in significance of the scripture "wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder." — St. Matthew 19 - 6.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat N. McClellan, Goldsmith, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. White, Muleshoe.

Escorted and presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of white tuckered wool accented with highlights of blue. Her brief veil of net illusion was caught to a shell crown of crystals and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of miniature white roses atop a white Bible. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom and an antique blue stone bracelet given her by her mother.

Miss Barbara Sue Owen, Odessa, was maid of honor. She was attired in a blue, two-piece wool suit designed with the over-blouse edged in petal points below the waist line. Her headpiece was a large velvet bow of white with hints of lace as trimming. She carried a bouquet of white feathered carnations.

Deborah Wagnon, Muleshoe, niece of the bridegroom was candlelighter. She wore a dress of Aqua silk with white accessories and a large velvet bow as a headpiece designed after that of the maid of honor.

Wayne Gilliland, Muleshoe, served as best man. Ushers were Gordon Smith, Tech student from Midland, and Lyndol Kinser, Muleshoe.

Traditional wedding selections were played by Mrs. Charles Grow, Muleshoe.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McClellan chose a melon-color three-piece suit of double knit with re-embroidered petals at the jacket border.

The bridegroom's mother wore an aqua sheath-style dress featuring a shoulder drape. They wore matching corsages of white carnations.

A reception followed the ceremony in Fellowship Hall of the church. Members of the reception party were Miss Sue Richmond, Brownwood; Miss Barbara Lewis, Odessa; and Miss Pat Brown, Lockney.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Wayne Gilliland, Muleshoe.

The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth with a border of cupids and hearts and centered with a floral arrangement of white flanked by candles.

Mrs. White is a graduate of Odessa High School and is presently attending Texas Tech. She was a member of Sakari and was Sweetheart of Tyrin Precision Drill Team at Tech.

White is a graduate of Muleshoe High School and attended Texas Tech where he was an executive officer in the Tyrin Precision Drill Team.

The couple are making their home in Muleshoe where he is associated with White's Cashway Grocery.

Today's Meditation

By FATHER CLIFTON CORCORAN

Catholic Church

Gregory, the former bishop of Rome, left us his good thoughts about Christ's birth as he wrote about Christmas commenting on Luke's Gospel. The nativity of our Lord compels us say something however brief. Why is it when our Lord was to be born — the world is enrolled is it not this — to show clearly that he, who now appears in the flesh, will one day enroll his elect in eternity. But to the reprobate the prophet says, Let them be blotted out with the just, let them not be written. Happily, too, Jesus is born in Bethlehem — Bethlehem — which signifies a house of bread — since it is Jesus who said of himself, I am the living bread which came down from heaven. The place, therefore, where the Lord is born is prophetically called, the House of Bread. There He was flesh, he who was to refresh the souls of the elect with spiritual reflection. He was not born in the house of his parents but away from home, to show that assuming his human flesh he was born, as it were in an alien country. Or Augustin bishop of Hippo — writings on John I and Christ's birth: The word was God. How can it be that the word of God was made, when God made all things by the word? If you say that the word he was made, then I will say that is itself the only Son of that he, by whom all things were made, was himself not made. For He, by whom all things were made could not make himself. Therefore believe the Evangelist. So let us pray — the Post Communion prayer as it appears in Roman Missal for the Christmas Day Liturgy: Grant we pray that we who are happy in celebrating in this mystery the birth of our Lord Jesus Christ, by a worthy life may attain to a companionship with Him.

Christmas Activities Being Planned By Lariat Church Group

"Christmas trees! Christmas Trees! Christmas odors on the breeze!"

These words of a Christmas carol quite fittingly describe the attitude and activities of the members of St. John Lutheran Church, Lariat, stated the church's pastor, the Rev. Herbert F. Peiman.

Sunday evening the youth of the church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ramm to repair and repaint used toys. "These toys will be used to bring Christmas cheer to children who otherwise might have a very bleak Christmas," stated Richard Haseloff, president of the youth league.

After a delicious ham supper served by the hosts the leaguers held their business meeting. They closed this meeting with a candle light service in which the leaguers read the Christmas story, sang their favorite carols, and heard a Christmas message by their pastor on "Christmas - only Christians". The pastor stated, national Rural Electric Cooperative Association and the Rural Electrification Administration. The program will feature presentations by officials of these organizations and other Washington personalities and possibly the Presidential staff.

The eventful day will end with a charter cruise down the Potomac which will include entertainment and refreshments.

Also included on the 11 day agenda will be visits to the following: George Washington's Mount Vernon home, Arlington National Cemetery, the U. S. House and Senate, the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the Smithsonian Institute, the U. S. Bureau of Printing and Engraving, the Lincoln Memorial and other places of interest.

"Christmas is 365 days of the year, or it is not Christmas at all". Christmas is the 26th, 27th, and 28th, or it is not Christmas on the 25th."

This coming Sunday the children will have their final rehearsal for the Christmas Eve service, Thursday, December 24. The ladies of the congregation will hold their Christmas party with exchange of gifts and donations to their favorite charity Sunday evening at 7:00 at the home of Walter and Gladys Kaltwasser.

Wednesday, December 23, the Walther Leaguers will decorate the church for the Christmas season, go Christmas caroling and hold their Christmas party at the home of Vicki Kaltwasser.

Thursday, December 24, at 6:00 p.m. the traditional Christmas Eve service will be held, in which the pupils of the Sunday school will tell the Christmas story in Scripture readings recitations and songs. This service will feature a lighted Christmas tree and treats for every child present at the service.

The Christmas worship service will be held Friday, December 25 at 10:00 a.m. The pastor will speak on "Paradise's Open Door", using as his text, Genesis 3, 22 - 24. The thoughts of this sermon may well be summed up in this stanza from a well known Lutheran Christmas chorale: "He opens us again the door Of paradise today. The angel guards the gate no more. To God our thanks we pay".

The members of St. John invite the people of the community to these Christmas services, to aid them in centering their Christmas celebration in the birth of the Christ child, stated pastor Peiman.

2,771,800 as of August of 1964. The average workweek of fact 41.5 in fiscal 1963 to 41.8 in 1964. Average Texas unemployment dropped from 180,800 in fiscal 1963 to 167,300 in fiscal 1964, ending the fiscal year at 4.0 percent of the civilian labor force.

Increasing mechanization in farming accounts for the decrease in farm employment. It has also moved the state's peak seasonal workers employment from October to June when hoeing, cultivation, and irrigation still require considerable hand labor.

"This is the second year that peak seasonal worker employment has occurred in June, where in previous years the peak was usually in October during the West Texas cotton harvest, when far more hand labor was used in the harvest," the report explains.

The report revealed that the balance of the Unemployment Compensation Trust Fund from which insurance benefits are paid increased by $1.39 million to $238 1/2 million during the fiscal year, with interest income average tax rate of all employers decreased from .94 percent to .92 percent. One or more benefits paid exceeded tax revenues.

The number of covered employers increased from 79,006 in fiscal 1963 to 79,550, while the average tax rate of all employers decreased from .94 percent to .92 percent. One or more benefit payments were made to 238,800 eligible workers whose average entitlement was $28.93 per week. A total of $39,792,313 was paid out in benefits compared to $68,420,304 in 1963.

Last year the Goodfellows boxed some 50 to 60 packages to bring Christmas cheer to around 300 persons. Moore says the need is not quite so great since last year's bad weather prevented many from working, causing undue hardship.

"Our organization has no organization actually," Moore says. "But, somehow the items and the money come in and we always get the job done. People have been very good to contribute in the past, and I know they will come across again this year."

He added that the refuge in this area has never had such restrictions.

Under the terms of the payment, the government money must be used for schools or for public roads. The fund given to the county Monday was distributed on this basis: Half to the county for us on public roads; one fourth to Muleshoe schools and one eighth each to Bula and Three Way Schools.

Representatives of Bula and Three Way Schools were present at the commissioners' meeting.

Evans explained that the new payments to counties may be determined in either of two ways: Twenty-five percent of the net revenues from acquired fee land or three-fourths of 1 percent of its current value as determined by the secretary of interior, whichever is greater. Improvements are not included in figuring value.

men, and as a result, county funds were swelled appreciably.

One defendant drew a $20.50 fine from Judge Vaughn for driving on the wrong side of the road, and two other defendants were fined the same amount each for traveling at an unsafe speed. It cost one Muleshoe man $20.50, for running a stop sign, and still another paid the same fine for having defective brakes on his car.

Four cotton farmers paid $16.50 each for operating cotton trailers that failed to hear the required $5 tag.

Still another cotton farmer was hauled into Judge Vaughn's court Monday for tying two cotton trailers together and towing them to the gin behind his pickup. It cost him $20.50 for improper parking and another driver was fined $16.50 for failure to have a driver's license.

All these cases were filed by the highway patrol. In addition, Judge Vaughn fined a drunk picked up by the sheriff's department. He paid the usual $20.50.

property damage of $46,500, a rather grim record, the Highway Patrol supervisor pointed out.

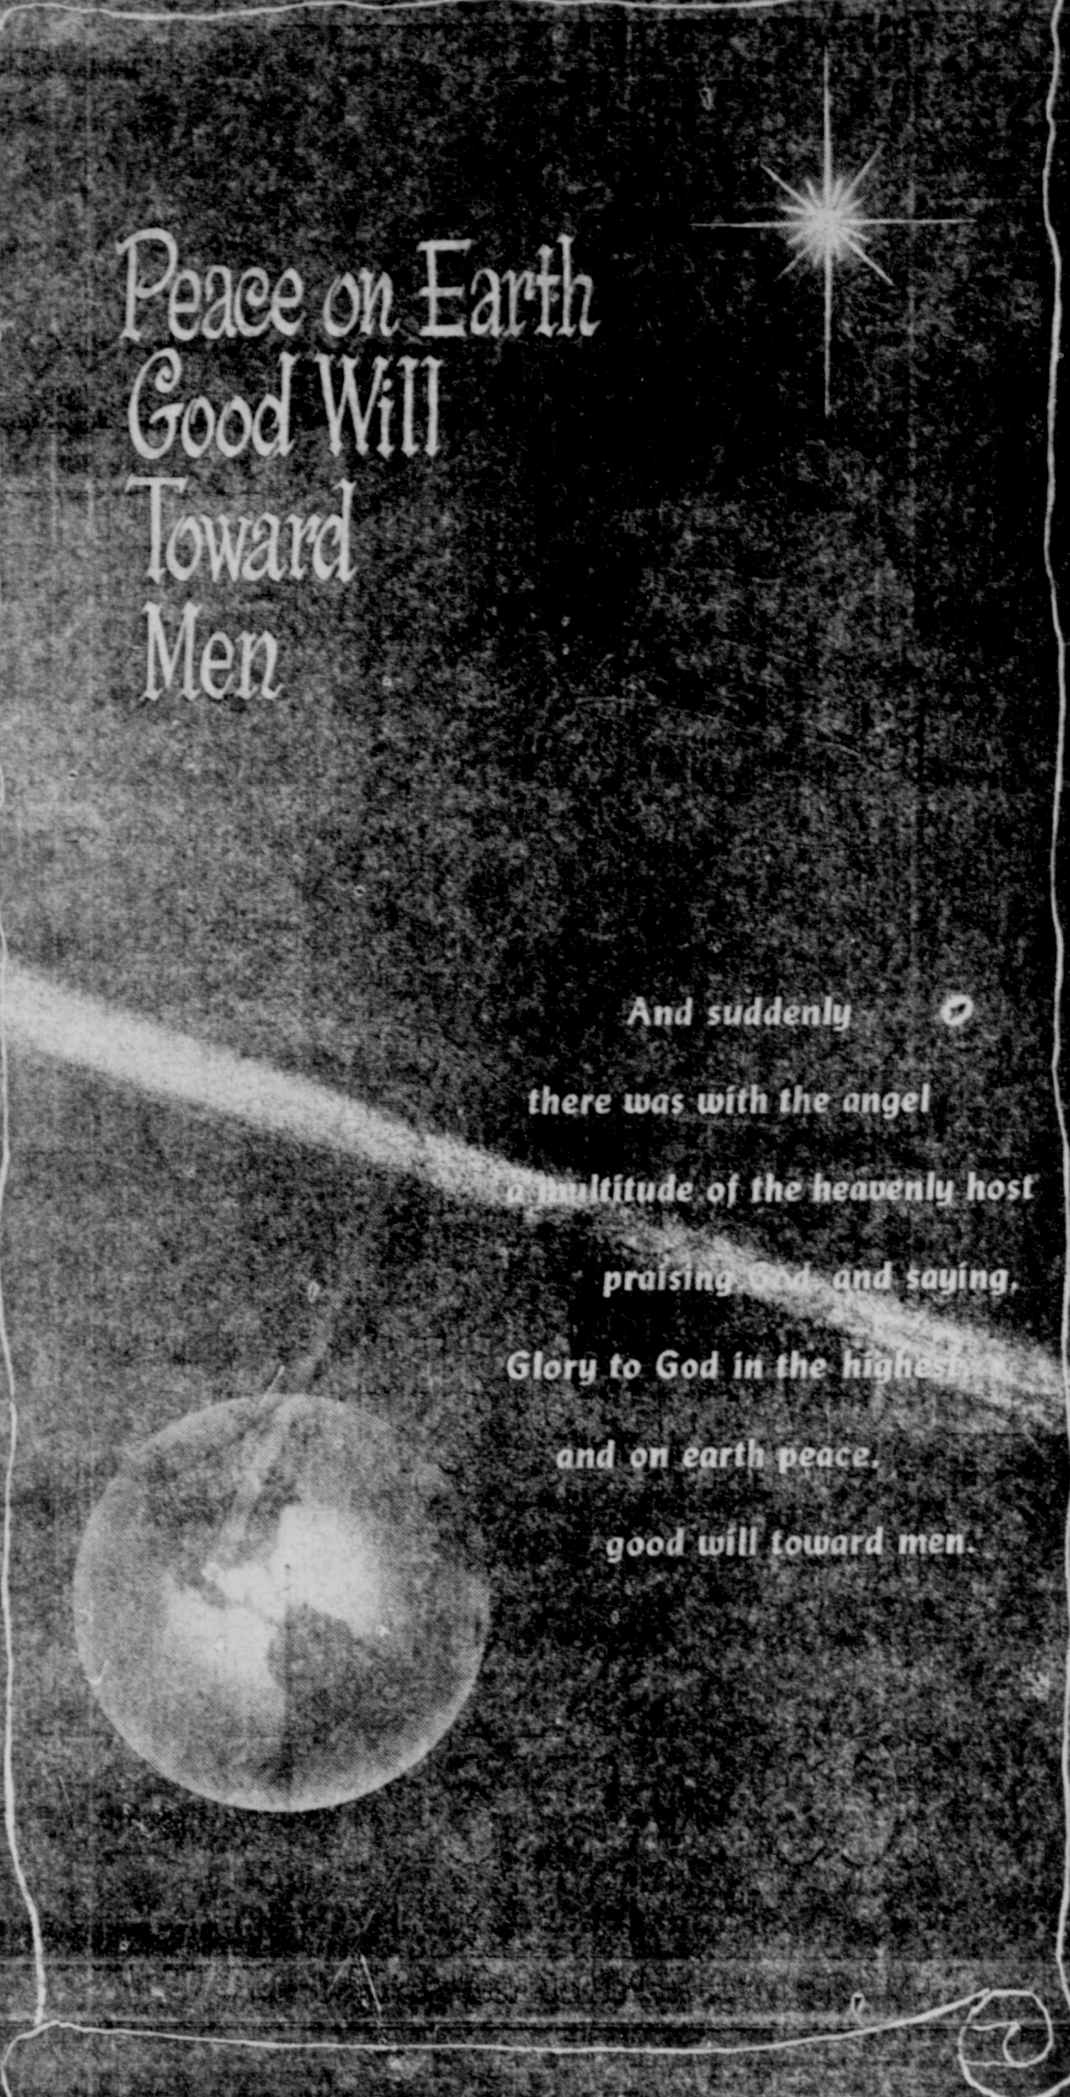

Cochran county, on the other hand, had only two accidents, injuring four persons and resulting in property damage of $13,900. No deaths occurred in that county last month.

Lamb county's November record shows 10 accidents, two deaths and four injured with property damage of $5,820. Hale county had 21 accidents, resulting one death and 11 injuries and property damage of $14,487.

Hockley county had eight accidents in November with 11 persons injured and property damage of $5,665.

Lawson pointed out that December is the most deadly month of the year, adding that "During each month of the past five years there was only one month higher than the month of December. Of the 12, 171 persons killed during the last five years, more than 10 per cent of them lost their lives during the month of December, and majority during the Christmas holidays. Since this will be a three-day weekend for many persons, the accident rate is expected to be high this year, he warned. Lawson appeals to motorists and pedestrians: "Please do not let this become a reality again such as was December in 1963, the most deadly month in the history of Texas."
