Unions' 'want list' readied for Carter

WASHINGTON (AP) - In the early morning hours on the day after the elections, with the presidential race still undecided, Jimmy Carter was on the phone with George Meany telling the head of the 14-million-member AFL-CIO: "You people do good

Organized labor turned out its troops in what has been described as the biggest, most expensive, best organized and most sophisticated campaign in behalf of a presidential candidate.

Carter is likely to show his appreciation with several toplevel jobs and by advocating job-creating legislation supported by labor.

The unions also have a shopping list of long-sought special-interest measures dealing with bargaining rights for public employes, a stronger merchant marine, workmen's com-pensation standards, picketing rights for construction workers and repeal of "14B," the section of federal law that authorizes state right-to-work laws banning the union shop.

Nevertheless, while labor leaders are taking credit for helping to elect Carter - surveys show he had a 61-to38 margin among voters with union backgrounds - they say they do not regard it as any guarantee of Carter's support when it comes to their special

"If one special group thinks it's going to be treated to an advantage over another, I think they're wrong," said Jerry Wurf, president of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes.

Wurf and others regard jobs, health insurance, welfare and Medicaid reform as their priorities.

On the eve of Tuesday's election, Carter aides in Atlanta said he would probably give high priority to early action on job programs, including efforts to promote more employment in private industry through job subsidies and stimulation of housing construction.

Carter also said that before making major appointments he would talk to key leaders in business and labor. Meany expects to be among those consulted, just as he was when Carter picked Walter Mondale for vice president

At the top of Meany's list for labor secretary is John T. Dunlop, who held that Cabinet post earlier this year before quitting in a policy dispute with President Ford.

United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock, one of the first labor leaders to endorse Carter, is also thought to be in line for a top job in the new administration.

W. Howard McClennan, president of the AFL-CIO Public Employes Department, said Carter had assured him of support for a proposed national collective bargaining law for state and local government workers and liberalization of the Hatch Act, which currently bars federal employes from partisan political activities.

During the campaign, Carter said that, while he would not push for such legislation as repeal of "14B," he would sign it if it got through

"I don't see himself being forced into giving things to labor out of any sense of owing," said Richard Murphy, political director of the Service Employes Union. "He knows we represent working men and women and, I believe, he genuinely wants to Truitt Bailey, a livestock man from Cleburne, sees a harsh winter ahead for Texas because "the corn shucks are thicker the hair on the cattle is very heavy, and the acorns fell about three weeks early." 'My prediction is that it's definitely going to be one of the worst winters we've had in quite a long time." L.M. "Goob" Newton said outside his Sabine River bank home.

'One sure sign is that the gophers. if we're going to have a light winter, burrow very small holes. But I've noticed tremendous mounds of earth by their holes this fall. It proves they're going far into the ground to protect themselves."

Newton, 78, has a lot of confidence in animal weather predictions, as evidenced by the firewood piled high around his house.

He claims to have used the creatures around him to forecast Texas' unpredictable weather "with pretty good accuracy" for most of his life.

Newton also points to the "good old pineywoods rooters," wood hogs to you city folks, jaybirds, crows and wolves as living indicators of what he believes will surely come.

West Texas county agent Ollie Liner of Plainview said he has noticed there are more beans on the mimosa trees this fall than usual. But Liner, in his official capacity anyway, points out that more beans equals more winter is only a legend. Still ...

Schnabel steps down as Senate secretary

By LEE JONES

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - Senate Secretary Charles Schnabel, recently convicted of a misdemeanor charge of official misconduct, announced today he is quitting the $37,500-a-year job he has held for 20 years.

Schnabel and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby who wanted to replace him as chief administrator of the Senate, met jointly with reporters in Hobby's office to announce the decision.

"Charles Schnabel has served the Texas Senate well and faithfully for 24 years. He has now decided to seek other opportunities to serve, either in the private sector or elsewhere in state government. I wish him every success in whatever he undertakes. Hobby said in a statement read to reporters with Schnabel standing at Schnabel, 44, said he would serve until he gets another job or until the Senate convenes in January, whichever comes first. The Senate elects its chief officers, and Schnabel said he would not seek re-election.

"I'd like to get involved in some kind of work where my basic disposi-tion can be manifest," Schnabel said, adding that he prefers work that involves "doing for others."

The secretary of the Senate is in charge of virtually all phases of Senate administration, from payroll to personnel to overseeing the sergeant-at-arms.

Schnabel was convicted of official misconduct Sept. 16 after pleading guilty to assigning Senate secretaries to do typing chores for the Texas

Relays in 1975. Dist. Atty. Bob Smith then dropped five felony indictments against Schnabel, who was fined $2,000 and given a one-year probated sentence.

Road crash kills three

Three persons were killed late Sunday about 27.2 miles north of Midland on Texas 349 in a head-on collision of their car with a tractortrailer truck. The accident occurred about 6:30 p.m. in Martin County.

Antonio Rodriguez Savala, 35, of 1405 Lynn Ave. in Midland, driver of the car, and two unidentified passengers were pronounced dead at the scene about 8:15 p.m. by Justice of the Peace M. L. Gibson of Stanton.

The Savala car was attempting to pass another when the accident occurred, according to Department of Public Safety reports. The northbound truck was carrying caustic soda and caught fire after the collision, hampering investigation of the accident, DPS records said. Driver of the truck, identified as Willis Brooks, 50, of Odessa, was reported uninjured.

Earthquakes hit Iran, The Philippines, Greece and Japan and one was reported in China during the weekend and today. A volcano erupted in Indonesia. Casualties reported were 17 dead and 32 injuries in northeast Iran.

A duty officer at the National Earthquake Information Center in Golden, Colo., said he believed there was no connection among the weekend quakes.

The Iranian quake occurred Sunday morning (11:01 p.m. EST Saturday) and registered 6.2 on the Richter Vandik, 400 miles northeast of Tehran, where all of the 150 mudbrick houses collapsed.

The Hong Kong observatory reported a quake in southwest China early Sunday morning (1:07 p.m. EST) measuring 6.3 on the Richter scale. The observatory said the epicenter was about 970 miles westnorthwest of Hong Kong and about 205 miles northwest of Kumming. There was no confirmation from the Chinese and no report of casualties or running on a Vegetarian ticket. In last week's general election, Midland voters recorded the largest number ever of write-in votes, County Clerk Rosenelle Cherry said. In addition to the columns designated for announced write-in candidates for associate justice of the Texas Supreme Court, write-ins were recorded in every other race, Mrs. Cherry said.

Nelson also received one vote for 142nd District Judge and one vote for Associate Justice of the Texas

Supreme Court. In Precinct 13, one Midland man was entered in eight races. Frank Gilmer received three votes for court of criminal appeals two for associate justice, supreme court; and one each for the following: associate justice of court of civil appeals, district attorney, county attorney, commissioner (Precinct one), justice

Mickey's love interest, Minnie Mouse, had one fan who thought she should be Constable.

Apparently someone thought their family pet would be more appropriate as associate justice of the Texas Supreme Court, place two, so "Old Shep" received one write-in vote. In that same race, someone apparently believed "Anyone Else" could do a

Simon Legree was entered for county tax assessor-collector, as was another perennial candidate, Snoopy. Not all write-in votes were facetious, however. Ronald Reagan received 16 votes for president, followed by Roger L. MacBride with five votes, "Ford-Dole" with four, George Wallace and Lester Maddox with three each.

The following persons received one vote each for president: Jerry Brown, John Mielke, David Bergland, Jesse Colter, "Reagan and Dole" and "Carter-Mondale."

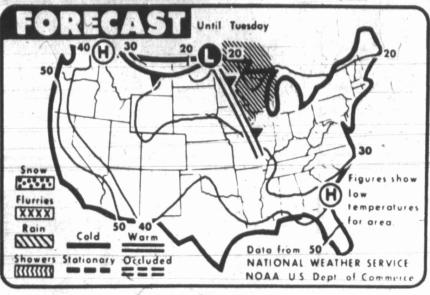

Write-ins were most conmon in the contested race of Associate Justice of the Texas Supreme Court, place two.

Votes in this race went to Barbara Culver, Elton Cox, Trey Lohmann, Perry Pickett, Dewey Lee, Howard Cleghorn, to name a few.

The announced opponents to Donald B. Yarbrough in this race received these totals: Tom Lorance, 1,801, and Sam Houston, 3,045.

County Clerk Rosenelle Cherry said she had received instructions to accept any designation which indicated the voter's preference as long as the name was registered in the correct column. If Tom Lorance's name was spelled Lorence or Loranz, then, it would be accepted if it were entered in the right column.

In the past, Mrs. Cherry said, the election code prescribed that the name must be spelled correctly.

COLD WEATHER is forecast in the East. Cool weather will continue over the Plains, and mild conditions are expected to hang on from the Rockies to the west coast. Rain is forecast for the upper Great Lakes.

Clerk reports assault in convenience store

A convenience mart clerk was blindfolded, bound and tossed into a storage room by an unidentified assailant early today while she worked in all night convenience mart. Police said the woman told them a young Negro man entered the 7-Eleven, 4404 W. Illinois Ave., shortly after 2:35 a.m. today and told her "you are going with me". After he tied her hands behind her back with two strands of cord and blindfolded her with a sock, he tossed her into the back room, saying, "Don't come out or we will kill you." Police said nothing was thought to be missing from the store.

PROPERTY RECOVERED

Police recovered $2,006 worth of goods late Sunday stolen from the residence of Randy Hicks, 510 George Ave., between 1:45 p.m. and 5:13 p.m.

A tip from an informant led to the recovery, said Lt. Earl Luckie. An arrest is pending, he added. Among the goods recovered were 75 albums, one turntable, two speakers, one color television, one gold watch, two pair of headphones and one green coat. Entry to the residence was made by prying open the front door, Luckie said.

WHISKEY STOLEN

At least one thief is a little less thirsty following the heist of four pints of whiskey from CJ's Liquor Store, 1301 N. Lamesa Road, sometime this weekend.

Police said the missing liquor would sell for about $10. The culprit gained entry to the business by breaking a front window with an unknown object. That will cost about $200 to replace,

Kissinger aides report deadlock

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) - Two of Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's assistants left for Washington today to report to their boss on the deadlocked Rhodesian conference.

But a leading black Democrat in the U.S. Congress, Rep. Charles C. Diggs Jr. of Michigan, called for Kissinger to put new pressure on the head of the white Rhodesian regime, Prime Minister Ian Smith.

Diggs flew home Sunday to report on the conference to President-elect Jimmy Carter's advisers. He told reporters that "most critical problems" could develop unless the Rhodesian negotiators cleared their first hurdle - agreement on a firm date for the transfer of power from the white minority to the black majority - by the end of this week.

Diggs blamed Smith for the conference stalemate and said: "We certainly foresee the necessity for some more dialogue between the United States and Mr. Smith, the kind of dialogue that got this whole project off the ground.

He added that the Carter people would support fully any moves Kissinger might make before the new administration takes office. But another Democratic visitor to the Geneva conference, Sen. Dick Clark of Iowa, said President Ford's administration had been "very negligent" toward white rule in southern Africa and pursued "unwise" policies for the area.

Richard scheduled more separate meetings with the leaders today.

WASHINGTON - James Ingraham got 20 whacks with a two-foot wooden paddle for misbehaving at school. He went to the hospital for treatment, testifying later that his backside "was black and purple and it was tight and

As a result, the Supreme Court has been asked to declare that paddling in public schools violates the Constitution's prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment.

In oral arguments recently in a widely watched test case, Ingraham's lawyer contended that students should be protected from beatings by school authorities, just as the law has protected inmates from beating by prison officials.

At least, he said, before corporal punishment is administered students should receive an opportunity to be heard by a neutral party.

the school house door," said attorney Bruce S. Rogow of Fort Lauderdale. Fla. "When they're in school, they're in custody of school officials.'

But the lawyer for Florida school authorities called paddlings "therapeutic in nature" — and not the kind of punishment—that had concerned the framers of the Constitution. The prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment, he said, was designed to protect people convicted Moreover, said Frank A. Howard Jr., of Miami, a court ruling requiring pre-paddle hearings would be unwise and impractical intrusions on local authority.

"It gets federal courts into the business of second guessing school authorities over whether two licks or swats are appropriate," he said.

In the case originating in Dade County, Fla., Ingraham and another junior high school student claimed school authorities. Ingraham said he had been hit so hard he required medical treatment and was unable to sit comfortably for three weeks.

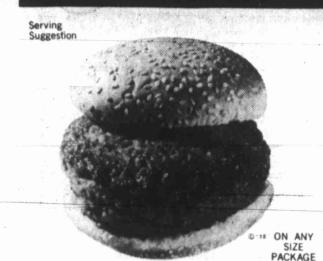

The students and their parents brought suit. But a Florida trial court ruled in favor of the school authorities. And later the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit found that the Constitution required no hearing before corporal punishment was administered in the schools. It prohibit such punishment on cruel and unusual grounds.

The Supreme Court agreed last spring to hear the case during the current term (Ingraham v. Wright, 75-6527).

Aiready, in 1975, the justices had declared that the Constitution required that students receive a hearing by a neutral party before they could be suspended from school.

Crime reduction

"Hands Up" — in the interest of all-out crime prevention — is the order sounded by members of the Twentieth Century Study Club in the Tall City.

And a very meaningful command it is.

The organization, in cooperation with the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, is sponsoring a "Hands Up" Crime Prevention Workshop Tuesday, beginning at 1:15 p.m., in the Midland Room of The Midland National Bank All interested persons are invited and urged to attend.

Goals of the workshop are to develop solutions and organize local action groups to launch specific crime reduction programs in the community.

This is a most worthwhile program, one which can and will produce far-reaching, longlasting results of a highly beneficial nature.

It is a program which merits the attention, interest and participation of all law-abiding residents of the community.

The sponsoring club is due a vote of thanks for its efforts in this regard.

Existing methods of crime prevention and of self protection will be presented at the workshop. which has the blessing of the Midland Police Department.

Suggestions in the existing Neighborhood Watch Program. Operation ID, and security lighting measures will be offered crime prevention for the Midland Police Department.

A special guest speaker will be Fred H. Stansbury of San Marcos, director of the Texas Crime Prevention Institute at Southwest Texas State University.

Buck Luttrell, crime prevention coordinator for the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission, also will be a program participant.

"Hands Up" is sponsored nationwide by the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

There is no doubt that public awareness along with citizen involvement are key factors in crime reduction.

The sponsoring organizations at local, state and national levels most certainly are on the right track in generating public interest. If enough persons in Midland and across the state and nation really become interested and active in crime reduction, there is little if any doubt that crime would be set back by a marked degree.

Police departments here and elsewhere do a great and most effective job, but they need the aid of individuals and groups in helping to prevent crime.

This is why the "Hands Up" program being sponsored by the Twentieth Century Study Club is so important. It is hoped that the workshop will be well-attended and that many of those present will volunteer for service in the local action groups. This is a real opportunity for community service. Why not go and see what by Sgt. Fred Johnson, director of "Hands Up" is all about!

The computer is acknowledged to be a useful and - most recently - essential tool.

But, unchecked, it could also be a dangerous weapon.

A commission established in Washington to recommend laws to regulate electronic transfers of funds has been warned of the potential for large-scale invasions of individual privacy when cash and checks have been replaced by the electronic payment system.

The computer memory bank upon which the system depends will make possible "unprecedented feats of surveillance" by government agencies and private firms.

It is said that the data banks would be able to locate individuals at any moment and track their movements, develop spending and saving profiles and "identify their money-based political, religious, civic and sexual af-

United States aid program makes profit By EDWARD NEILAN Copley News Service A shortage of apparel leather in the United States' trendy fashion market caused a Nashville, Tenn., firm to look to Asia for new supply sources. The search ended in Afghanistan, the rugged and landlocked nation that is Texas-sized but far down the list of developing nations in economic growth rate statistics. Genesco Inc., the Tennessee firm, went into a joint venture with several Afghanis to set up a leather tanning facility that is turning out leather that ends up in the fanciest boutiques of Fifth Avenue, Beverly Hills and Palm Providing part of the capital for the unique international venture was a $450,000 loan from the Overseas Private Investment Corp. (OPIC). The U.S. firm also took out OPIC insurance coverage on its equity investment.

OPIC is foreign aid with a difference. The extra dimension is that here is an American effort that not only has stimulated business development in 87 developing nations but has made a profit in the process.

Hold the phone! An American aid program making a profit? There must be some mistake! No mistake at all.

In its first six years of operation through midyear 1976, OPIC made a net profit of $216 million.

That's in addition to cooperating on projects that have created an estimated 200,000 jobs, stimulated economic development in sluggish economies and introduced the good old free enterprise systen in places where such methods were rare and ineffective.

Yaqub Leather Industries of Afghanistan, the case study of the Afghanistan OPIC participation, was one of several glowing examples related to me by OPIC President Marshal T. Mays during a recent interview in his office.

Mays is a low-key executive whose corporation's track record is the envy of a government bureaucracy where identity is often lost in the maze of acronym titles and duplicated responsibilities.

Is the reason for OPIC's success that it replaces the handout mentality of earlier foreign aid efforts with participation?

'That's a very big part of it," said Mays, who began his career as a lawyer in South Carolina and who served a term in the state Legislature. "We provide capital, insurance and make American managerial skills available. But the participation of local entrepreneurs and technicians pulling their own weight is what makes projects click."

OPIC's own identity crisis may stem from the fact that its "call letters" are so close to OPEC (Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries) that the two are sometimes confused in the public

Mays said OPIC favors projects that develop the supply of raw materials which the United States needs. In Asia, mining programs in Indonesia have been established, for

There have been over 80 financing or insurance projects in Indonesia on which OPIC has participated.

Other OPIC projects are playing an integral part in the growth of just about every developing nation in Mays said that in Asian nations, as elsewhere around the globe, OPIC shuns projects that would compete directly with established American industries or shift manufacturing operations out of the United States just to take advantage of cheap labor.

Approved projects must also demonstrate their worth in the development scheme of the individual country Through its activities in Asia and elsewhere, OPIC has proved itself to be that rare bird: a U.S. government owned corporation that is a genuine success story.

INSIDE REPORT:

Operatives failed to develop orderly role for Dole

And ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON - While President Ford appeared to pull even with Jimmy Carter on the closing weekend of the campaign, his senior aides even then were privately assigning the blame for possible defeat to Sen. Robert Dole

"I would say very frankly that Bob Dole has cost at least two percentage points, and that might just be the ballgame," a Ford insider told us three days before the election. Those points were lost, the Ford high command believes, by Dole turning off liberal-to-moderate Republicans and energizing partisan Democrats in Carter's behalf.

No doubt, Dole is one of those rare vice-presidential candidates who made a difference — in his case a negative difference. Yet, the Ford operatives seeking to transform Dole from hatchetman to scapegoat are obscuring the point. The principal blame lies with Ford campaign managers who selected Dole and then failed to develop an orderly role for

Dole, therefore, stands out as the one strategic blunder since Mr. Ford's nomination in a campaign that otherwise became effective and intelligent. The reason may be that Ford managers accepted the conventional wisdom that vicepresidential candidates are irrelevant to an election's outcome. Actually, preceding the Republican convention when the polls showed Mr. Ford 25 to 30 percentage points behind

Evans

Carter, some innovative thought was applied to the vice presidency. Deputy campaign manager Stu Spencer, seeking a running-mate who would bring along some votes, was responsible for speculation about Anne Armstrong, Ambassador to Great Britain.

Two factors crushed Spencer's efforts. First, polling data - of dubious value in this case - showed no running-mate would help and a woman would hurt. Second, the President's senior advisers wanted an orthodox Republican universally acceptable to the evenly divided national convention. . The report that the defeated Ronald Reagan dictated Dole's selection is sheer myth. Rather, Dole ended up as the survivor in a process of elimination as better known candidates were scratched off as unacceptable.

Once Dole was nominated, nobody in the Ford high command took seriously official propaganda that he would help carry the farm belt (with the possible exception of his native Kansas). "That's the last any of us will ever see of him," said a Ford insider, only half-facetiously, pointing to Doie on the rostrum at Kansas City the night of his acceptance speech.

the associate.

Since Dole's assignment was merely as a cheerleader for gatherings of the Republican faithful during the Rose Garden phase of Mr. Ford's campaign, the White House ignored Dole's continued hardnosed sarcastic style - effective with partisan audiences but inappropriate for a vice-presidential candidate. Nor was there concern that Dole, a witty and charming man in private, was at sword's point with reporters accompanying him.

These oversights would not have mattered had not Republicans acquiesced in the League of Women Voters' proposal for a vicepresidential debate. Dole, unreceptive to White House advice, rejected an offered practice question-andanswer session. But Ford strategists, regarding the debate as an irrelevancy, did not press the point. Dole's absurd disinterment of the Pearl Harbor controversy was made possible by inattention from the President's men. Today those men ruefully assess the impact of the vice-presidential debate as greater than the three presidential debates combined. Because Dole committed the blunder of playing hatchetman over national television, Democrats were provided a hate object in the tradition of Joe Mc-Carthy and Spiro T. Agnew. Until the debate, Sen. Walter Mondale had come over as a stodgy, doctrinaire liberal; Dole transmogrified him into excuse or pretext for hesitant liberals to support Carter. One major newspaper endorsed Carter only because of Dole, and many others cited Dole in their endorsement editorials. A prominent Rockefeller Republican told us he decided to vote for Carter after the vice-presidential debate, adding that many friends did the same. Carter responded to anti-Dole sentiment in the polls by bringing him into his final speeches: "Can you imagine a President Robert Dole?"

Bob Dole clearly does not fit into the McCarthy-Agnew succession and actually is a moderate conservative respected and liked in the Senate. The fact that he has instead projected an ogre's image in the campaign is partially his own fault. But the blame must be shared by President Ford and his political managers for their mindlessness in picking Dole, then ignoring him and finally permitting him to wander into disaster at Houston, Oct. 15.

20-year-old woman was in jail today, charged with murder after the bodies of two of her young daughters were found in trash containers. Authorities, meanwhile, searched for a third daughter and the woman's boyfriend.

The bodies of 19-month-old Laurie Jo Davies and her sister, Christine, 2 1/2, were found Friday, wrapped in plastic bags and stuffed in trash containers.

The hunt was for Tonya Davies, whose fourth birthday is Nov. 28. Police charged Margo Davies of Worthington with the murder of the younger child and held the woman without bond awaiting arraignment today. They sought Mrs. Davies' boyfriend, whom they identified as a 16-year-old who lives with his father in Columbus. He was not named.

Police Lt. Richard B. Tennant said Laurie Jo's body was found in a trash can at a city park along the Scioto River, Christine's in a waste can at another riverside park about a mile to Worthington is a suburb north of Columbus.

Chief Deputy Sheriff William Lavery, recently elected Delaware County sheriff, said the girls had been bound with strips of cloth and stuffed into the bags. Autopsies showed Laurie Jo either was strangled or suffocated and Christine apparently smothered, he said.

Mrs. Davies, who lives with her parents here, was reported missing Wednesday by her father, police said, and officers tracked her down through friends.

She told them two gunmen forced her to the side of the road Monday morning and abducted her children, police said, but the woman could not explain why she did not report the abduction.

In further questioning Thursday, officers said, her answers became "vague" and "incoherent" and she was charged Friday after the first body was found. She has refused to talk with officers since.

Mrs. Davies returned to Worthington about a year ago after separating from her husband, Bruce, a carnival worker, Tennant said, and had enrolled at Worthington High

No new arms shown

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government marked the 59th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution Sunday with one of its smaller military parades that included no new weapons.

It also received a message of congratulations from China that seemed a little warmer than usual. It took only six minutes for the armored personnel carriers, artillery pieces and missiles to roll through Red Square. For the second year in succession, no giant intercontinental ballistic missiles were shown, and no tanks or other tracked vehicles appeared. The hardware on parade was mostly defensive, including five types of antiaircraft missiles, a 100mm antitank gun and the Sagger antitank missile on an amphibious carriage.

The several thousand soldiers, sailors, seaborne commandos and cadets who marched past the reviewing stand dropped the traditional goosestep for a less militant step.

"The Soviet army and navy are reliably guarding the cause of revolution, socialism and peace, Defense Minister Dmitri F. Ustinov told the marchers. He accused "aggressive imperialist circles" abroad of "trying to contain the onward development of the world revolutionary process."

Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev headed the party and government officials in the reviewing box atop Lenin's tomb.

After the military parade, brigades of sportsmen and more than 100,000 workers from farms, factories and government offices marched for two hours

A somewhat friendlier tone was added to the message from Peking by the inclusion of this phrase: "The Chinese people have always cherished their revolutionary friendship with the Soviet people."

Except for this and the deletion of a proposal for negotiating the border dispute between the two nations, the message was almost exactly the same as last year's. It said differences of principle "should not prevent normal state relations" between the two countries on the basis of Peking's often-stated five principles of peaceful coexistence.

The message was the first official communication to the Soviets from the Chinese government since Mao Tse-tung died Sept. 9. Since then, Moscow has sharply reduced its anti-Peking rhetoric, and the Soviet press has published several articles about former good relations with China.

More women go to legislatures

By PEGGY SIMPSON

WASHINGTON (AP) - Women increased their ranks in state legislatures from 8 per cent to 9.1 per cent in last Tuesday's election, for a new total of 685

"It's progress - but not very fast progress," said Betsey Wright, director of the National Women's Education Fund, which has been compiling statistics on women at state and local levels since 1974.

"We've got to discover some way we can go from 9 per cent all the way up to 25 per cent in one election period," said Ms. Wright.

Only then, she said, will women have enough of a base to make significant inroads on statewide and

Ann Zill, director of the Women's Campaign Fund, said one breakthrough in 1976 was that for the first time women have begun to contribute money for women's campaigns. The campaign fund collected almost $63,700 for women candidates, and the National Women's Political Caucus raised another $30,000. "The sum of $100,000 for women candidates is indeed paltry," said Ms. Zill, compared to the total of $400 million which analysts estimate is spent for all California made the biggest increase in percentages: from 3 to 6, including the first woman elected to the state senate. Other sizable increases were Florida, from 12 to 18; Illinois, 14 to 21; Minnesota, 8 to 12, and Texas, 7 to 11.

Confusion, blacklist products of Arab boycott

By ROBERT A. ROSENBLATT The Los Angeles Times

WASHINGTON - Lloyd Prell wanted to organize his own boycott against the Speed Queen washers and dryers produced by McGraw-Edison

Prell had just read news reports that McGraw-Edison was joining in the economic boycott of Israel organized by the Arab nations.

"I sat down and said, 'who needs 'em,'" recalled Prell, co-owner of a Los Angeles firm running coinoperated washers and dryers in apartment buildings.

Before he could register any protest, McGraw-Edison chairman Edward J. Williams rushed out a statement telling the public, "we ship goods regularly to Israel and have no intention of discontinuing these rela-Prell was satisfied. "I just feel a boycott is morally wrong," he said. "I'm sure that the fact that I'm Jewish makes me more incensed and involved. But I wouldn't like it either if Speed Queen sold to Israel and boycotted the Arabs." "If they're not really boycotting, I don't have any objections.' McGraw-Edison wasn't the only firm quick to announce that it doesn't participate in the boycott against Israel. Campbells Soup, General Electric, John Deere Co., all hastened to explain they dealt with both Israel and the Arab nations. Confusion among customers and in corporate offices was produced by the Commerce Department's disclosure of boycott information forms filed by U.S. corporations. After the boycott became a controversial political issue, President Ford last month and ordered the department to open Instead of clarifying the issue, the new policy has embarassed many businesses and puzzled the public. An examination of the reports, discussions with government officials reversed a long standing procedure

these conclusions: -The identity of American firms participating in the boycott of Israel remains secret.

-American companies are hurt by the secondary aspects of the boycott. For example, a big group of U.S. companies is barred from providing the insurance on merchandise shipped to the Arab world. Among firms on this blacklist are Allstate Insurance, Connecticut General Life, Transamerica Insurance, and Occidental Life Insurance of California.

-A company can trade with both Israel and the Arab world, yet still satisfy boycott restrictions in a particular transaction.

Businesses must file a report with the Commerce Department whenever a customer asks them to join a boycott or other restrictive trade practice.

In the McGraw-Edison case, for example, a customer in Dubai who ordered 24 washing machines wanted a certification that none of the goods was manufactured in Israel, and that the goods wouldn't be shipped on an Israeli vessel or a ship stopping at a port in Israel.

Since the washers and all their components were produced in this country, McGraw-Edison could provide the assurances sought by the Dubai customer. At the same time, the company continued its business dealings with Israel.

John Deere tractors are used on kibbutzim, the collective farms in Israel. When the firm sends merchandise to Arab countries, it certifies that the farm machines were manufactured completely in the United States. These promises satisfy the Arab customers.

Contrary to popular belief, the boycott requests from the Arab world don't forbid a firm from trading with Israel. Therefore, it's easy for many companies to do business on both sides of the Arab-Israeli dispute.

Compliance with a boycott request may be "something far different from an affirmative act boycotting the state of Israel," the Commerce Department noted. A special press release was issued after news stories identified firms allegedly complying with the boycott.

Commerce Department reports simply show the requests received by American firms from prospective customers in the Arab world and indicate if the company will comply with the requests. The documents don't show if a company is refusing to do business with Israel, or has changed its use of suppliers, or otherwise altered business practices to gain approval in the Arab world. Thus, the names of firms joining the boycott against Israel remain secret.

"Relatively few companies have Israeli subsidiaries," Commerce Secretary Elliot Richardson said in recent congressional testimony. Therefore, it's easy to certify that none of the merchandise or component parts were manufactured in Israel. For most of the boycott requests, Richardson noted, an American firm is promising that it won't do something which "it never intended to do and never did in the past.

"In most cases of boycott requests, there is no economic impact on Israel," Richardson said: However, the boycott restrictions can hurt American firms. The Arab customers frequently ask for guarantees that the merchandise vessels or the planes of blacklisted airlines.

Suppose Company A has a lucrative contract with Saudi Arabia, which includes boycott restrictions. Company B, a transportation firm, appears on the Arab blacklist because its freighters stop at Israeli ports. Company A, observing the boycott request, won't use any ships of a blacklisted firm. Company B becomes the victim of a secondary

Ten years ago, Sears & Roebuck was placed on the blacklist. Since Allstate Insurance is a Sears subsidiary, it also is blacklisted.

The San Francisco branch of the Chartered Bank of London recently handled a letter of credit for merchandise to be shipped to Bahrain, a small state on the Persian Gulf. Letters of credit permit the transfer of funds between countries, and are commonly used in international

A special annex to the letter of credit said, "insurance must NOT be covered by a company blacklisted by the Israeli Boycott Committee." This annex then listed more than 65 American, British and Dutch insurance companies currently under blacklist.

Allstate and the other 64 firms were automatically barred from providing the insurance for the shipment. Price and quality of insurance coverage became irrelevant. The blacklist automatically excluded them from consideration.

The Chartered Bank of London said in its report filed with the Commerce Department that it would comply with the boycott requests

In a major antitrust suit filed early this year, the Justice Department charged Bechtel Corp. and four of its subsidiaries with conspiring to enforce a secondary boycott against firms blacklisted by Arab League countries. Bechtel, which has contracts worth several hundred million dollars with Arab countries, refused to consider hiring subcontractors on the blacklist, the Justice Department said in a civil suit filed in U.S. District Court in San Francisco. When Bechtel did hire subcontractors, the suit alleged, it required them to avoid any business with blacklisted firms or individuals.

Congressional opponents of the boycott will push hard next year for legislation that would bar American companies from joining in secondary boycotts against other U.S. firms.

"The real evil lies within, our borders," said a congressional staff member who played a key role in drafting an anti-boycott bill which passed the House this year, only to die in conference when Congress adjourned. "The name of the game becomes, 'who can do business with the Arabs?"

He said many American firms eager for contracts from Arab countries will follow the blacklist. The result is "discrimination against American firms," he said. "They are at a competitive disadvantage because they appear on a foreign na-tion's blacklist. Becuase they are blacklisted, suddenly other American companies won't have anything to do with them."

The Ford Administration opposed the anti-boycott legislation, which was promoted by congressional Democrats. The bill's backers hope President-elect Carter, who spoke out strongly against the boycott during the campaign, will endorse their efforts next year.

Famous duo pays tribute

NEW YORK (AP) - Two of the world's best-dressed women. Princess Grace of Monaco and Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis, sponsored an up-to $5,000-a-ticket tribute to the late Josephine Baker, who won fame wearing just a stem of bananas tied to her waist

The former Grace Keily did not attend the tribute in person Sunday, but her cochairwoman, Mrs. Onassis, greeted such performers as Muhammad Ali and Ingrid Bergman.

The benefit at the Metropolitan Opera House - which also had a few cheap seats at $15 - raised money for Variety Clubs International, a show business charity.

Josephine Baker came to Harlem from St. Louis in the mid-1920s and went on to international stardom in Paris. Vivian Reed, star of "Bubblin' Brown Sugar," which celebrates the Harlem of those days, sang a new song written in Miss Baker's honor by Marvin Hamlisch.

Abby's mail now running 300 to one in her favor

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR READERS: A reader wrote that her husband's 24-year-old brother, "a nice young man," was their houseguest. They had all planned to go out that evening, but the man and wife were leaving earlier, so the houseguest would have been left to shower and dress while a 13-year-old neighbor girl sat with the children.

The wife demanded that the brother-in-law shower and dress quickly and leave the house with them so he and the young sitter wouldn't be alone in the house. The brother-in-law was insulted and the husband thought his wife was crazy.

She asked my opinion, and I said she owed the young man an apology. I received 289 letters telling me I was wrong! Not one letter in my defense! I then asked my readers if there wasn't somebody out there who agreed with me. The response was heartwarming. but my mailman isn't speaking to me. Letters poured in by the thousands, and I'm pleased to report that my mail is running about 300 to one in my favor. Here's a sampling of the

The Pat Walker Method Works!

I'd been trying to lose weight for more than two years with no success. Since coming to Pat Walker's. I've lost 19 pounds and a total of 31 inches.

The most appealing thing about the Pat Walker program to me is that there is no strenuous exercise that leaves you exhausted. Yet, I've slimmed down in spots I thought were hopeless.

I simply couldn't live with the thought of doing strenuous exercises the rest of my life. It was so exciting as the weeks went by to see the big change happening to my body, the pounds and inches going down and down. The most marvelous thing is the treatments. I didn't want to miss a day. You feel so. great and alive!

Betty Blythe

Even though I had always been physically active, weight and inches kept overtaking me. Diets and exercises - I had tried them all, but the Pat Walker counseling and treatments did the job by melting away pounds and inches in a short period

I'm truly grateful for what the Pat Walker program has done for me. At age 58, I'm completely happy about the pounds I've lost and the inches smaller I am. The nice thing, I'm able to keep my weight and inches down now. I intend to make their program my way of life from now on. I have lost 33 pounds and 50 inches at Pat Walker's.

Medical care in Southern rural areas remains serious problem

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) —
Despite the economic boom in the South, adequate health care remains a serious problem for the area's rural poor, many of whom see doctors only rarely — if at all.

"There are a lot of people who don't have enough contact with the rest of the world even to know when they are seriously ill," said Dr. Raymond Wheeler. Charlotte, N.C.

Wheeler, a past-president of the Southern Regional Council, told the Southern Rural Health Conference that education for these persons is as important as health care — or, at least, must come first.

Nearly half the nation's poor live in 13, largely rural Southern states. And Dr. Ray Marshall of the University of Texas says the New South, the industrial South, has masked many of its problems in the health field behind industrial promotion.

"We hear a lot of talk about how prosperous the South, the so-called Sunbelt, has become," he said. "That conceals the fact that we have whole areas that seem to be completely left out of this progress."

Wheeler said "Economic development in the rural South is intimately related to the development of an effective health care delivery system."

The health conference reported: "The first order of business initiating these ...changes is the implementation of universal, comprehensive, national health in-Surance."

Such insurance, along with Medicaid and Medicare, must pay nurses and physician assistants who are the only medical contacts that many rural areas have, the conference reported. At present, Medicare will make payments only to doctors.

Laws of the various states specify who gets Medicaid payments, for the needy, but in most cases physicians must be present or must supervise the nurses or physician assistants — and, again, the payments go to the physicians.

Unless the laws are changed to

Unless the laws are changed to permit payments to nonphysicians, said Marshall, "It will be very difficult for many of these clinics ... to extend health care to these remote areas. You can't get a doctor in a town

Physicians have lobbied against direct payments to nonphysicians involved in health care programs and against national health insurance. But the conference went on record as saying national health insurance is the necessary first step toward improving health care in the rural South.

The conference cited a preliminary task force report on rural Southern health, which showed:

—The death rate in the rural South generally is 22 per cent higher than the national average.

—Infant deaths in the rural South are higher than in the rest of the nation but "for rural blacks the rate is 64 per cent higher than that of their white neighbors."

—In some areas of the South, doctors still have segregated waiting rooms for blacks and whites.

"Unfortunately, access to medical care in this nation depends on one's ability to pay for it and upon the availability of adequate health resources," said the report.

The problem is compounded by what the conference called "a disturbing decrease in black enrollment" in medical schools.

Last big-family generation now near middle age

By WARREN BERRY

NEW YORK — There's bad news for the Depression Babies. Today they're between 35 and 44, going into middle age, the years when they should be hitting the top, making their mark, maybe even relaxing a little as they finally get the feeling that they're Establishment.

Instead, the rules have been changed.

"We seem to have here the last of the large-family generation," says Fabien Linden, a demographic expert for the Conference Board, a leading business research group based in New York. Although people in this age group are widely considered to have arrived, Linden said that they actually have less income per family member than any other adult group.

He figures that the 35-to-44-year-old households have per person income of only $3,805, compared with $4,000 for households headed by young adults in the 25-to-34-year-old category. That's because young people on their way up are getting married later and having fewer children, a trend that Linden is confident will continue

To support their relatively large families, more and more wives in the older age group are going back to work, says Dr. Roger Gould, a UCLA psychiatrist. And Gould, an authority on the way personalities change at various ages, says that can be a wrench for many families. "So often we see a woman who now jumps out of the family and into a career. She starts a very exciting adventure. She's energized," he says. But for most middle-aged men, he adds, "I think the habit of supporting a family will be harder to break." They can't sit back and accept the fact that it's no longer necessary "for them to work like a dog," he explains

Coping with this change in life-style is very much on the mind of Dr. Mortimer R. Feinberg, director of the advanced management program at City University in New York. Through his consulting firm, BFS Psychological Associates, he says he sees many cases of increased conflict between middle-aged men and their suddenly liberated wives. "The new role is putting more pressure on the man," he says, pointing out that 20 years ago "if the father worked on weekends, that was good. He brought home the bread, put the kids through college, took the family to Florida. Now if he comes home tired, it's 'that daddy who doesn't care about us because these days we all work hard too.'"

As the middle aged man copes with changes within the family, he may have to face changes on the job too. Apparently there will be even greater competition in the next decade for the jobs that the middle aged have traditionally inherited. Linden finds that younger adults seem to be getting better qualified. Almost half of them have some college education, compared with only about a third of the people in

Even without any of these new pressures most of the experts agree that little has been done to alleviate the normal traumas of entering the middle-aged years. It's a time of tough decisions. Feinberg says that the man can either sit back and enjoy his family or fight his way to the top. It's almost impossible to do both. "The guy who's going to the top in any organization is rarely able to function in many fields," he warns, adding, "he puts all his against his ich."

One middle-aged executive explained his involvement with his family as if he were analyzing a stock market investment: "My downside risk in the family is very low and my upside potential on the job is very high." And there was the time Feinberg was riding down in an elevator with a young executive and the president noticed the younger man fumbling with his commuter timetable. "Listen, Mike," the boss said, "many careers have been ruined by a timetable."

Young Mike must have scrapped the timetable. Today he's president — and divorced.

Cowboys struggle past Giants, 9-3

Landry unhappy

By PAUL DOMOWITCH R-T Sports Writer

DALLAS-The infamous Legionaires' Disease struck again Sunday, in of all places, Texas Stadium.

The victims were 43 intrepid souls, who call themselves the Dallas Cowboys, and in view of their unspectacular performance against the hapless New York Giants here, it was clear that Coach Tom Landry had better call for mass immunization might quick. There still may be time to catch it before it spreads.

Landry's club, regarded as possibly the best in football, limped and staggered to a sickly 9-3 win over the Giants, perhaps the worst in football. And they wouldn't have even accomplished that minor miracle. were it not for the fact, that the Dallas defense came out of their coma long enough in the final two minutes of action, to stave off a New York scoring threat.

LANDRY AGREES. "We were in rare form -bad," he answered sarcastically in a post-game interview, with his own medicine for the sicknessa can of Dr. Pepper, dangling in his right hand.

'We were lucky to even win this game today the way we played," he added. "Our defensive team did rise up the occasion on that ONE final series, or we wouldn't have even been that fortunate.'

Prior to the contest, Landry was concerned about the possibility of his team being flat, and his worry turned out to be justified. But he is still mystified 'I just don't know what makes football players and human beings react and perform so well one day, and then fall flat on their face the next. Cowboy quarterback Roger Staubach, whose passing may have been the one bright light in the C'm Dallas performance, as he completed 13 of 25 passes for 161 yards, sought the past for the answer to his team's case of the

"THE SAME thing happened to us last year, when we played Green Bay," he said. "They came here with an 0-4 record, and bam, they beat us.

"We're gonna have to be a better football team than we were today, if we expect to get to the Super Bowl again, that's for sure.'

Staubach was quick to insist however, that the Giants are certainly not as bad as their record indicates. "I'm disappointed over the way we played, but if you do that, you're taking a lot away from the Giants. There aren't any BAD football teams in the league, and on any

And then the former Heisman Trophy winner looked on the bright side of things. "We have been getting better each week, and this is a setback. But it may help us. It might snap us awake, and make us an even better football team.

HOW LONG the Cowboys can stay concious is uncertain. Their opponent next week, the Buffalo Bills, are in the same sad shape as the Giants, struggling through a dismal campaign.

If Landry could re-arrange the National Football League schedule right now, he would probably prefer to play someone else next Monday night on national television. But he can't, and the only man to ever coach the Cowboys isn't going to let it

"I hope they've learned from this," he added. "Everyone of these games is critical now, no matter whether you're playing Buffalo or St. Louis. They all

Tom Landry, it was like taking a walk down death row toward the electric chair only to be stopped by a call from the governor.

"I feel like a man who has been repireved," said Landry, horrified at the thought of losing to the worst team the New York Giants have fielded in Dallas (8-1) kept its one game lead in the National Conference Eastern Division Sunday with a 9-3 victory over the Giants in a game that was a flashback to the days of leather helmets and flying wedges.

"It's a mark of a good team to win on an off day and we had one today," said Landry. The Giants are not a good team.

Their record is 0-9. New York did break a string of 10 consecutive scoreless quarters with Joe Danelo's 19-yard field goal in the first period. The Giants still haven't had a touchdown pass from Craig Morton since Oct. 10. The offensive highlights for Dallas were Efren Herrera's field goals of 22, 30 and 20 yards.

Herrera broke a 3-3 tie with two field goals in the fourth quarter after

New York drove to the Cowboy fiveDanny White hoodwinked the Giants yard line late in the game but with a fake punt and Charlie Waters intercepted a Morton pass.

"It was a 'don't get caught' type of play," said White of his fake punt and run in the fourth quarter that set up Herrera's go-ahead field goal. "It's something that kinda happens. I saw them coming in for the block, so I double checked their line and ran.

"I was thinking about running along all along although it wasn't a punt play. You kinda run for it and hope you get the first down.'

White's run was a blow to new Giant Coach John McVay, who coached the Cowboy backup quarterback when both were at Memphis in the now defunct World Football League.

"That was crucial," said McVay. "We felt he was going to punt because we've seen him on film several times. When he started to move, they thought he (White) was going through with his kicking motion, so they peeled back."

McVay, who unleashed fullback Larry Csonka for 27 carries and 89 yards, said, "We're knocking on the door. We played well enough to win against a good football team, but just didn't do it. We had our chances."

New York drove to the Cowboy five-defensive end Harvey Martin caused Morton to fumble while trying to pass to kill the threat.

"We knew they had to score a touchdown to win and I knew Craig wasn't going to use his backs for blocking," said Martin. "So, I just took off and ran. It was a hard game to get up for but I think we're back down on earth now. I think everybody was sky high after we beat Washington 20-7.

Dallas linebacker Thomas Henderson said, "The Giants didn't impress me that much. They hit like an 0-8 team. We just weren't up for them. We've got to quit taking teams like the Giants lightly. That's the kind of team that will beat you.'

Waters added "I stunk it up just as bad as anybody. It's a shame to have a game like this. We felt it (the letdown) coming all week. I've been here seven years and some of the other players have been here 10, but we all felt it...from the coaches on

"There wasn't anything we could do about it...it just happened." Csonka was asked if Dallas was on par with the team that beat him and

Miami at Super Bowl VI. "They may not be, but they're awful close," said Csonka. "I'm glad I don't have to play them when they are feeling good. New York tight end Bob Tucker claimed Cowboy free safety Cliff Harris was holding on the last Giant play of the game. "Harris was holding me and the official didn't call it," said Tucker. "I was open, but Cliff was holding. I can't understand why the man didn't call it. If he wants to be a spectator he ought to buy a ticket. 'I don't usually criticize an official, but I know they have a tough job out there. But something that was obvious, I just don't know why he didn't

Kashmere showing more power again

By The Associated Press

The final weekend of the 1976 Texas schoolboy football regular season will be marked by playoff tuneups for some Top Ten teams and battles for district championships for others.

Houston Kashmere, 41-0 victors over Houston Reagan Friday, probably will take the No. 1 ranking in Class 4A into its last regular game. Kashmere is closely pursued by second-ranked Longview and 1975 state champion Port Neches-Groves. Missing from the playoff ranks will be 1975 finalist Odessa Permian, which has lost its last two games after being in a tie for the top spot.

Beaumont Hebert, the No. 1 team in Class 3A all season, will have a district championship game against ninth-ranked Silsbee Friday night. Both teams are zone winners in Dist.

In Class 2A, where Rockdale will lose its season-long grip on the first ranking after lossing 16-14 to Elgin, the kingpin's post likely will go to McGregor or Bowie. Sixth-ranked Refugio lost 14-6 to Taft last Friday.

Second-ranked Plains fell 2014 to No. 6 Seagraves in the top Class A game of the weekend, while top-rated Aledo whipped Itasca 35-7. Unranked Brookshire Royal nipped No. 5 East

Ward, Wright produce great performances

A pair of Tall City athletes - Phillip Ward of Midland High and Robert E. Lee's Brad Wright, stole the headlines over the weekend in District 5-4A football action.

Ward, a 178-pound senior, rushed for 252 yards in sparking the Bulldogs past Abilene Cooper, 23-0, in Abilene's P.E. Shotwell Stadium while Wright, a 190-pound senior quarterback, unlimbered his arm and tossed five touchdowns in destroying a good Abilene Eagle team, 42-13, in Memorial Stadium.

Ward's performance gives him a total of 688 yards in six league games to put him on top in 5-4A rushing, passing Odessa's great Darrell Shepard who has 646 yards in six games. (Shepard rushed for 116 yards on only five carries against Big Spring and didn't play in the second half against the Steers).

While Ward was scoring on dashes of 56 and 85 yards, Wright was putting on his eye-popping performance before the home folks in Midland.

Wright passed for 211 yards in hitting 10 of 15 passes during the rout of the Warbirds. He passed 14 yards for one TD to tailback Clyde Gary and then fired TD strikes of an eight and 26 yards to tight end Eric Stewart along with a pair of TD throws to fullback John Marks on tosses of 10 and 19 yards.

Ward has now rushed for 849 yards on the season for Coach Jerry Hopkin's Pack while Wright has hit 29 of 59 passes for 416 yards and seven TDs after his performance against Abilene.

Tall City fans will see both in action against each other Friday night along with fullback Rusty Maroney of Midland High, who rushed for 104 yards against Cooper and has a grand total of 741 yards on the year.

Ward and Maroney should give the rugged Rebel defense another good test in the finale.

To get the big Rebel-Bulldog week underway, on Thursday, the Midland Bullpups tangle with the Robert E. Lee Stonewall Brigade at 3:30 p.m. in Memorial Stadium in a big junior varsity battle.

In the first meeting between the MHS and Lee JVs, the Bullpups took a narrow 7-6 victory. Since that time, MHS has run up a season record of 5-3-1 while Lee stands 4-4-1 on the year. but is coming off a great 21-14 victory over a good Abilene JV team. Both Lee and Midland wound up tying San Angelo's JVs by scores of 14-14 and 28-

District 5-4A football crown is going on the line Friday

By BOB DILLON

Robert E. Lee's Rebels face one more major hurdle in quest for a berth in the Class AAAA state playoffs this week as they take on cross-town Midland High's Bulldogs in Memorial Stadium in a big football showdown.

Lee is currently tied with Odessa High for first in the wild and woolly District 5-4A race with a 5-1 record followed by Odessa Permian's 4-2 reading.

A Rebel victory over MHS and a Permian win over OHS, would move the Tall City crew into the playoffs for the second time in three years, but a loss to Coach Jerry Hopkins Purple Pack and a Permian triumph over the Bronchos would bring about a three-way tie and a coin toss to see who plays John Reddell's Trinity Euless Trojans in bidistrict action.

Eeven though Lee knocked off Permian, 14-13, two weeks ago when Mojo was sailing along undefeated and No. 1 in the state, the Rebels need help from the Panthers to go into the playoff spot.

The way this year's torrid race has gone, anything could happen and probably will.

Lee and OHS both have 8-1 season records while Permian is 7-2 and on a two-game skid after losing to Lee and San Angelo Central.

Midland came up with a great 23-0 victory over Abilene Cooper and will be no push-over for Robert E. Lee. In fact, the Rebels haven't beaten the Bulldogs since 1972.

In 1973, Midland, under Reddell, rolled to a 46-27 victory and in 1974 when Coach Jim Acree's outfit won the 5-4A crown, Midland tied the Maroon Platoon, 7-7. Then last year, the two Tall City rivals battled to a 14-14 standoff.

Midland fans would like nothing better than a rematch between Acree and Reddell in the state playoffs. Trinity Euless beat Wichita Falls High. 16-3, last Friday to win the District 6-4A crown. In fact, the Trojans sport a perfect 9-0 record with one game left in the regular season with L.D. Bell. A loss to Bell would still not keep Trinity from playing the 5-4A

Last week, Lee stormed past Abilene High, 42-13 to stay in the thick of things while Midland came up with its big performance against Cooper. San Angelo whipped Permian for the third straight year, 23-6 and OHS took an easy 43-13 victory over the hapless Big Spring Steers.

Darrell Shepard, Odessa's Mr. Everything', played only one half and had 116 yards in five carries as Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer watched from the W.T. Barrett Stadium press box.

While the two games in Midland and Odessa have the only baring on the final outcome of the 5-4A race. San Angelo meets Big Spring in Big Spring and Cooper squares off with Abilene High in other finales.

Lee was awesome in ripping Abilene as the Rebels ground out 509 yards on the ground and through the airways.

Midland changed its defense and it paid off great dividends in blanking Cooper in Abilene.

Tailback Bill Woodard of San Angelo, who had been slowed down with injures the past three weeks, scored a TD senior against Permian and the 190-pound now has tallied 11 touchdowns on the season to lead the scoring parade.

Shepard has 60 points on the year followed by spit end Tony Jones of OHS with 40 points. Midland's Rusty Maroney and Phillip Ward are next with 48 points each and the top scorer for Lee on the season is fullback Brian Crowell with 44.

In the district scoring race, Shepard and Jones are tied with 44 points each. Both have seven TDs and a two-point conversion each while Abilene speedster. Herman Reece and Ward have 42 points in league games.

Reece had the longest TD run of the evening in 5-4A last week going 82 yards on a kickoff return against Lee.

While Permian's season is just about over following two losses in a row, Coach John Wilkins Panthers still have an outside shot at a tie for the crown they were favored to win and a crowd of more than 18,000 is expected in W.T. Barrett Stadium Friday

There could be as many as 12,000 in the Tall City for the Lee-MHS showdown battle.

Robert E. Lee cagers prep for scrimmage

While football season is still going full blast, Coach Paul Stueckler's Robert E. Lee Rebel basketball team is going through its paces in getting ready for the 1976-77 season.

"We have a scrimmage set with Odessa Ector at 3:30 p.m., Nov. 15, " said Stueckler who has been at Lee since the school opened some 15 years

Ector won the Class AAA state basketball crown last year and is reported to be strong again this year so the scrimmage should be a good test for the Rebels. Lee met Abilene High last year in the playoff for the District 5-4A crown and lost in overtime to the Eagles at Angelo State University.

Last season was the fourth straight that Stueckler's team was in the playoffs and the most memorable team was two years ago when the Rebs went all the way to the Class AAAA state semifinals in Austin, losing to Houston Kashmere in triple overtime. Kashmere only won 80 straight games in winning the state championship that year. (The 80 wins came over three seasons).

Stueckler has five returning lettermen back this year, but only two of those were starters last year.

Billy Ray Ennis, a 6-2, 185-pound senior, has two letters while the other returning letter winners include Roy Lee Smith, 6-1 senior; Roy Johnson, a 6-1 senior; Mike Denny, 6-5, 175-pound senior and Bobby Alexander, a 6-1, 184-pound senior.

Brad Wright, a 6-3, 190-pound senior, will also be on the roster after football season winds up for the Rebels.

The rest of the squad includes Eddie Runyan, 5-7 senior; David Pitts, 5-11 senior; Mike Wallace, 5-11 senior; Mike Oestmann, 6-5 senior; Mike Richard, 5-11 junior; Joe Garner, 6-0 junior; David Stueckler, 6-2 junior; Barry Rlake, 6-0 senior and Steve Dellenback a 6-5, 196-pounder senior.

The Rebels have been going through fundamental and conditioning drills and Stuecker is pretty pleased with the work being turned in.

"We won't have the big, strong center that we've had in the past, said Stuecker. Of course, he was referring to Junior Miller, 6-6 post man that was an all-state performer for the Rebels and broke the school rebound record his junior season with Stuecker feels that Odessa Permian and Abilene Cooper are the teams to beat in the District 5-4A race this year. He also feels that Midland High will be a contender.

Lee will play in three tournaments which include the Tall City, Austin and Borger Tourneys this year and the Rebels have two games with powerful Hobbs, N.M. again this season.

In the Austin tourney, Lee will join 15 other teams in the big two-day-day meet which is in the Capitol City, Dec.

Lee opens the season, Nov. 19 when it faces Lubbock Coronado which went to the regional finals against state champion El Paso Eastwood last year. That game will be in the Lee Gymnasium. Then the Rebs hit the road for a game in Del Rio the following night before coming back to the Tall City Tournament.

"We will have to rely on outside shooting this year and when we are hitting, we will be able to play with anybody, but when we don't, that will be a different story, " quipped Stueckler.

Lee may also see the addition of Dick Lynch, a 6-4 senior, who may come out after the football season has wound up, according to Stueckler.

Lee will most likely be doing more jump-shooting from the outside to make up for the lack of a big man at the post slot. Stueckler has instilled a winning tradition at Lee and has a new assistant coach who will take over the sophomore and junior varsity units in Greg Wright.

Wright played for Stueckler in 1968-69 and is doing a fine job, according to

Kratzert, Blackburn win Team golf title

LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. (AP) -Bill Kratzert, a raw rookie on the pro golf tour, stood in the middle of the fairway facing perhaps the most important shot of his young career.

He and partner Woody Blackburn were on the third hole of sudden death playoff against a couple of titled veterans, former Masters champion Gay Brewer and former PGA king Bobby Nichols. At stake was the title in the National Team Golf Championship, $40,000 and-for the rookies-an exemption from qualifying for next year.

Brewer had just put his approach four feet from the cup and appeared set for a sure birdie, probably the end of the playoff.

The crowd yelled because Kratzert, still wearing sunglasses despite the gathering darkness, had hit it inside Brewer. He'd put it about six inches from the cup with the five iron.

Nichols missed his putt from about 18 feet and Kratzert opted to putt next. He tapped in for birdie. And Brewer, his 44year-old nerves twitching in the growing pressure, needed to make it from four feet to stay alive. results And he missed.

Jimmy Carter plans 'modest' inauguration

WASHINGTON (AP) - The planners of Jimmy Carter's presidential inauguration say they will put on a more modest celebration than the $4 million extravaganza that installed Richard M. Nixon in 1973.

Washington attorney Bardyl R. Tirana says Carter will use nothing like the $900,000 imitation marble reviewing stands that held and sheltered Nixon and 22,000 others four

That was "too extravagant" for Carter, Tirana said. "The inauguration will be modest. It will not be extravagant, that much I know.' Tirana and South Carolinian Vicki

Rogers, both longtime Carter supporters, have been named by the president-elect as chairmen of the committees planning the festivities for the Jan. 20 inaugural. The $4 million total tab for the 1973 inauguration included the swearing-in ceremonies at the Capitol, several concerts, five inaugural balls, and a reception for ex-Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

No over-all budget for the 1977 ceremony has been established.

Much of the inaugural schedule is determined by custom and protocol and won't be changed by the Carters, Tirana said. The president-elect will primarily influence specific details, raided such as the type of hats the men will wear, if any. Later this week, Tirana will meet with Mrs. Rosalynn Carter, who will indicate some of the general ideas she and the president-elect would like included in the schedule. Detailed planning will begin from there, Tirana

Contractors authorized by Congress have begun work on the wooden platform in front of the east portico of the Capitol. Nearly all presidents since Thomas Jefferson have taken the oath of office near there. One variable the committee can do little about is the weather, which has dogfights near Hedley disrupted more than one inaugural in the past. William H. Taft moved his 200 persons, officials ceremony indoors to the Senate said. chamber in 1909 because of a snowstorm. In 1961, on the night before John F.

Kennedy's inauguration, about eight inches of snow fell and the military had to be called out to clear the thoroughfares with shovels. But no one has suffered from inaugural weather like William Henry Harrison in 1841. He stood in a cold to transport animals downpour to take the oath, then rode across state lines to back to the White House on a white charger in the first inaugural parade. A month later, Harrison was dead of pneumonia.

Big-city mayors wooing Carter for crucial aid

CHICAGO (AP) - Big-city mayors, hoping to influence President-elect Jimmy Carter, are preparing a program that would provide crucial aid to troubled cities, at the expense of healthier communities if necessary

"Carter has indicated he is going to help all the cities," said New York City Mayor Abraham D. Beame. 'Some cities may need more help than others '

Death didn't 'necessarily' mean hazing

NEW YORK (AP) - The mock military exercise that led to the stabbing death of a 20-year-old ROTC cadet was unauthorized and showed poor judgment - but it did not necessarily amount to hazing, a spokesman for St. John's University

"It was probably a result of too much zeal on the part of the students in attempting to perfect their military tactical skills," said Martin Healey, the university's director of public relations. However, police said the death

Friday night of Thomas Fitzgerald of Queens, a prospective member of a Reserve Officer Training Corps fraternity at St. John's, "was part of a hazing program."

Hazing - the act of intimidation or harassment designed to humiliate a pledge - is a crime in New York State.

that under Carter, the cities' share of federal funding will be increased. But they are saying that even if the share is the same, it should be aimed more specifically at the problems of unemployment and dwindling urban

The two-day meeting began Sunday. A session to draft a list of priorities for presentation to Carter and Congress was scheduled for today

Absent from the discussions was Chicago's own Mayor Richard J. Daley, who, like Carter, was on vacation. Daley's reputation as a Democratic party power suffered a setback in last week's election when Illinois' electoral votes went to President Ford and Daley's handpicked candidate for governor was defeated.

Beame, Los Angeles Mayor Thomas Bradley and Boston Mayor Kevin White all suggested that federal money be distributed according to a formula based on unemployment.

Beame said Carter already has approve suggested three proposals that would funnel federal aid to cities with employment problems. The proposals include benefits to firms for every person they hire from the jobless rolls, an increased commitment to onthe-job training programs and incentives to curb layoffs.

New York has laid off thousands of city workers and remains in deep budget trouble.

White said the federal Community Development program helps healthy cities more than hardship cases. "We lose and Phoenix gains," he said.

Boston will have a $150 million deficit by next spring on its $500 million budget. White said

Texas dogfights

(AP) - Eight dogfights reportedly planned for 16 bull terriers were thwarted during a weekend armed raid in a Texas Panhandle thicket, federal and local authorities said.

After the site was spotted from a plane, FBI agents and sheriff's deputies armed with shotguns and automatic weapons raided the Saturday and rounded up

Twelve of those arrested were charged with cruelty to animals. Three pleaded not guilty and the rest entered guilty pleas and paid fines ranging from $25 to $200

It is a federal violation participate in activities such as dogfights, FBI agents said. They said those arrested were from as far away as California, Mississippi and Canada. Donley County Sheriff

Frank Lindsey said a 25foot carpeted pit square had been built in the thicket along with a hospital clean-up area, concession stand and bleachers.

Eight fights were reportedly scheduled between 16 bull terriers, said Lindsey.

He said one of the organizers told him that the gathering would have ended within two hours if law enforcement officers had not raided them.

FBI agents said they received information late Friday that the dogfights were scheduled in the Hedley area.

Agents said 151 drivers licenses were taken from persons at the site before they were taken in a caravan to the county courthouse.

One-third

contract

MOLINE, Ill. (AP) Onethird of the workers affected by a new contract between the United Auto Workers and Deere & Co. have voted to accept a contract calling for higher wages and pension benefits. Rey Brune, spokesman for Deere. said the agreement reached Friday, was ratified Sunday by locals in Milan, East Moline, Moline and Ottumwa, Iowa, representing about 9,000 of the 27,000 Deere workers on strike since

Oct. 1 in six states. Workers at John Deere Davenport Works, John Deere Waterloo Tractor Works and John Deere Des Moines Works in Iowa are scheduled to vote on the agreement today, said Brune. The new pact provides an increase of 33 to 43 cents per hour for hourly workers and 27 to 36 cents per hour for incentive employes, and a 3 per cent increase in the second and third years, Brune said.

Discovery completes, wildcats scheduled in West Texas areas

A discovery has been completed in Reeves County and wildcat sites were staked in Dawson, Borden and Pecos. Also wildcat reentries are slated for Cottle County

Continental Oil Co. has completed its No. 5-A-35 TXL to open upper Cherry Canyon oil production in the Sabre (Delaware) field of Reeves County, two miles southwest of Orla.

It had a 24-hour pumping potential of 21 barrels of 35-gravity oil and 196 barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio measuring 4,038-1.

Completion was through perforations at 3,860-3,870 feet, after the pay section had been fractured with 4,000 gallons and 5,500 pounds.

Drilled to 4,472 feet, it had been plugged back to 4,240 feet. Operator set 41/2-inch casing at 4,472 and tested unsuccessfully through perforations at 4,264-4,267 feet.

Economists ask policy reversal

WASHINGTON (AP) - A private international conference of economists is urging the world's industrial nations to reverse the anti-inflationary "slow-growth" policies agreed upon by President Ford and six other heads of state at a summit conference in Puerto Rico last June.

The economists ended a three-day meeting at the private Brookings Institution Sunday. They said they think the Peurto Rico policy must be reversed because they feel the economic "pause" appears to be more than a temporary phenomenon.

'The slowdown is gaining so much momentum it is scaring everybody,' said one participant.

The economists called on the bigthree industrial nations — the United States, West Germany and Japan to become "engines of world economic recovery" by expanding their economic activity.

Philip H. Tresize of Brookin chaired the conference, said the outlook is "discouraging" for the less-developed countries, which are faced with a prospective oil-cartel price increase next month.

He singled out the big-three industrial powers as "locomotive" countries that can pull smaller ones along to a healthier economic climate. He said that to accomplish this the industrial giants have an obligation to stimulate their own economies at home.

The 17 economists, from the United States, Canada, Japan, Germany, Britain, France and Italy, argued that the big three possess enough idle resources of plant capacity and labor to permit "a strengthening of economic expansion without a significant risk of accelerating infla-

This cure for international economic ills was the prescription adopted in November 1975 at a summit meeting in Rambouillet, France, and abandoned in Puerto Rico for fear inflation might be the dominant economic problem.

President-elect Jimmy Carter, following discouraging reports in October on U.S. prices and unemployment, indicated last week that he is considering a tax-cut proposal to stimulate the U.S. economy next

This is basically the approach the economists recommended for West Germany and Japan, as well.

Meanwhile, Rep. Henry Reuss, D-Wis., said he thinks bargain-hunters should be buying up stocks right now because the Carter administration will be good for business.

He said the previous Democratic administrations of John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson were marked by high corporate profits. He predicted investors "will find they can make a profit out of President-elect Jimmy Carter."

Promotions announced

The Ortloff Corp .has announced three promotions in the Midland headquarters staff.

J. D. McFadden has been named treasurer of the corporation, Tom Wilkerson has been appointed controller and Joseph P. Rollins has been promoted to Computer Services Group leader.

McFadden will assume responsibilities as treasurer in addition to his duties as vice president-Administration. He will be responsible for liaison with Ortloff's subsidiaries and divisions on financial and administrative matters.

Wilkerson will be responsible for the corporate accounting function, including payrolls, job cost reporting, invoicing, accounts payable and forecasting, W. L. Barnes, executive vice president, said.

Rollins will supervise the data entry, computer operations. programming and system maintenance functions for Ortloff.

The company recently installed expanded and centralized computer facilities at the Midland headquarters for engineering, project control and administrative applications. McFadden was employed with Elcor Chemical Corp. in 1969 and joined the accounting staff of Ortloff, an Elcor company, in 1970. He was named vice president-Administration Wilkerson joined Ortloff in 1974 after serving as business manager at Sul Ross University at Alpine.

Rollins has been on Ortloff's Midland staff since June 1975 when he went to work as a computer programmer analyst.

His past experience includes computer-related project assignments with a construction firm in Houston and systems design for the Texas Water Development Board in says oil imports up 15.7 per cent operations was reported by the API the first 10 months of this year than in the comparable months of 1975, the president of the American Petroleum Institute announced today. Frank N. Ikard released the figures in connection with the API annual

States imported 15.7 per cent more crude oil and refined products during meeting being held here today and Ikard pointed out that while imports and domestic demand increased, domestic production of oil and natural gas continued to decline. "The figures show that our country is dependent on foreign sources for more than 40 per cent of the petroleum we use," Ikard said. "If present trends continue, the United States soon will have to buy more than half of its oil supplies from other countries, at whatever prices and on whatever terms those countries may decide to impose.

"That need not happen, if our country moves swiftly to adopt and put into effect realistic and comprehensive policies that will encourage energy conservation and the expansion of domestic energy

The institute's preliminary data show that this country purchased a daily average of 6.9 million barrels of foreign crude oil and products during the months of January through October this year. For October alone, the estimated daily import figure was 7.4 million barrels, an increase of 17.8 per cent over October 1975.

"On a quarterly basis," Ikard said, "imports climbed rapidly in each succeeding period. The daily average imported during the first quarter of this year was 6.6 million barrels: it was nearly 6.8 million barrels daily in the second quarter, and more than 7.1 million barrels a day in the third

U.S. demand for petroleum products averaged 16.8 million barrels a day during the first 10 months of this year, Ikard continued, an increase of 4.2 per cent over the same period a year earlier.

Meanwhile, U.S. production of crude oil and condensate averaged slighlty over 8.1 million barrels a day, a decrease of 2.7 per cent from a year earlier. Domestic production of natural gas liquids averaged nearly 1.6 million barrels a day, a drop of 2.4 per cent from the first 10 months of 1975.

A high level of U.S. refinery

Crude oil runs to stills averaged nearly 13.2 million barrels a day from January through October this year a gain of 6.5 per cent over last year.

Demand for gasoline has continued strong throughout the year so far, Ikard said, averaging 6.5 million barrels a day in the first quarter and more than 7.1 million barrels daily in both the second and third quarters. For the 10-month period, gasoline demand showed an increase of 3.7 per cent over 1975.

Kent well potentials

Highland, Brown, Brock & Equity of Midland No. 3 J. B. Morrison has been completed in the Lyn-Kay (6200) area of Kent County, 101/2 miles southwest of Spur.

The new well, 1/2 mile northeast of the pool discovery, finaled for a 24hour pumping potential of 130 barrels of oil, plus 43 barrels of water. through perforations from 6,207 to 6,223 feet after a 1,250-gallon acid treatment and a 130,000-gallon fracture treatment. Gas-oil ratio on potential test was 242-1

Wellsite is 2,248 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 67. block 1, H&GN survey.

Wildcat pumps oil

NRM Petroleum Corp. of Midland No. 1 Cotten, northeast offset to the depleted Wellman, Southwest (San Andres) oil field, reported a pumping gauge from the San Andres.

In 21 hours and 45 minutes, from pay behind perforations from 5,475 to 5,494 feet, the project pumped 164 barrels of oil and 29 barrels of water. The zone had been acidized with 2,000 gallons

Tests continue. No. 1 Cotton is 1,930 feet from south and 2,030 feet from east lines of section 61, block DD, J. H. Gibson survey and 31/2 miles southwest of Wellman.

big board

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market sustained another broad loss today, yielding to uncertainty over the chances of reversing the economy's slowdown.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was down 6.90 at 936.17 after a 17.37-point drop on Friday. Losers outdistanced gainers by close to a 3-1 margin among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Analysts said the market was still suffering from the string of adverse economic reports from Washington last week. And they observed that investors seemed uncomfortable trying to foresee the prospects for Presidentelect Carter to improve the economy, given their relative unfamiliarity with him.

Citicorp topped the active list, off % at 28%.

The NYSE's composite index of more than 1,500 common stocks dropped .49 to 53.45. At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was down .46 at 99.26.

Volume on the Big Board tapered off to 7.21 million shares over the first two hours against 8.99 million in the comparable period on Friday.

Gold mining stocks rose strongly as the London bullion price touched the $130-an-ounce level for the first time since last March.

Homestake picked up 11/4 to 37%; Dome Mines climbed 1% to 43%, and ASA was up 1

Bell cost analyst questioned

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - A Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. cost analyst conceded today that his firm had not considered savings in either advertising or the ratio of supervisors to employes in its application for a rate increase Larry Walther of St. Louis testified before the Public Utilities Commission in support of Bell's proposed $298.3 million rate increrase in Texas. Walther said he had studied the savings the company expects if permitted to charge 20 cents for more than three directory assistance calls per month.

Paul Gray of the Communications Workers of America asked Walther on cross examination if Bell had given any consideration to cutting costs in its $9.8 million advertising budget from last "No, sir," Walther replied.

Gray asked Walther if he had calculated how much the company would save if it decreased its number of supervisors. Gray said nearly one out of every four Bell employes is a supervisor and he called this the highest "in any industry in the country." Walther said he had not studied that. Gray also asked Walther how much the company had projected for wage increases next year. Walther said 10.1 per cent. "That's great," Gray said 'We'll know exactly what to ask for when we get to the bargaining table.

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures No. 2 were higher by as much as $4.15 a bale at mid-day.

Brokers said speculators bought futures contracts in sympathy with higher soybean contracts in sympathy with higher soybean prices.

The average price for strict low middling 1 1-16 inch spot cotton declined 4 points to 78.50 cents a pound Friday for the 10 leading markets, according to the New York Otton Ex-change. Midday prices were $3.50 to $4.15 a bale higher than the previous close. Dec 83.45, Mar 84.30, May 84.35.

Council will decide on roadway matters

Roads will receive much of the attention of the Midland City Council Tuesday as the group considers a 34item agenda.

Council will convene at 1:30 p.m. in council chamber at city hall.

The reconstruction of Golf Course Road, one of the major items approved by voters in a bond election last year, will be studied by council.

Council will discuss advertising for bids on the reconstruction project and also the installation of a storm sewer to run from Scharbauer Drive to Midkiff Road and south on Midkiff to the intersection of Midkiff and Andrews Highway. An alternate plan will extend the sewer work to the the intersection of Midkiff Road and Cuthbert Street, Assistant City Manager Fred Poe Another street-item to be studied by council is the possible re-timing of traffic signals within the city to provide for suitable clearance at intersections.

Poe said the last session of the legislature changed the state law to make it legal to enter an intersection on the yellow phase of a traffic signal. However, he said, there's a split second when two cars both could be legal entering an intersection from perpendicular roads.

He said council will consider timing the signals on a modified split-shift to avoid possible collisions at intersections.

The city council also will discuss aviation, particularly the Civil Aeronautics Board's official notice to the city that its request for CAB study into the possibility of expanded air service from Midland to the east beyond Dallas-Fort Worth had been denied.

Poe said the CAB's staff earlier had recommended denial of the city's request, but official notice of the full CAB's denial had been received just last week

Council will discuss an appeal to the federal courts regarding the CAB's denial decision.

In other action, council will con-- An ordinance providing for "no parking" on city streets recently established as containing continuous left-turn lanes, plus some streets surrounding the municipal service center compound; - A resolution urging the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation to construct a north loop road around Midland.

- A resolution authorizing the steps necessary for acquisition of property with second-year Community Development funds.

 Preliminary plans prepared by Parks and Recreation Planning Associates Inc. for the layout of an additional 18-hole golf course at Hogan Park and floor plans for a golf

- A request to open the parking lot east of city hall to the public after normal business hours:

- At 1:35 p.m., a public hearing on a request by Phyllis Huffman and A. V. Johnson Jr. for a zone change from multiple family to planned district in the 600 block of Kent Street;

- A zone change begun by the city Planning and Zoning Commission from multiple family to local retail in the Gardens Addition;

- A replat of a portion of the Gardens Addition;

- At 1:45 p.m., a request by Wayne Matthews for a zone change from single-family to local retail on 4.04 acres at 3100 W. Wall St., plus its preliminary plat;

- A request by St. Ann's Catholic Church to vacate and abandon North N Street between Texas and Illinois - Approval of a contract with the Texas Department of Community Affairs for comprehensive planning assistance for 1976-77:

- Approval of assignment of a lease at Midland Regional Air Terminal by Perma Sand Inc.;

- Accepting a grant offer in connection with the runway extension project at Air Terminal: - Awarding a contract for repair work on Ulmer Park's swimming pool; - An ordinance adding several units to the assessment paving program Authorizing the escrowing of funds for the estimated cost of pipeline lowering at Air Terminal in connection with the runway extension project; — The proposed West Texas Chamber of Commerce industrial tour to Ohio

Israel bans senators from nuclear plants

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) - The Israeli government has put its secret nuclear installations in the Negev Desert off limits to a party of U.S. senators checking safeguards against the manufacture of atomic weapons, a leading Israeli newspaper reports.

The newspaper Maariv reported the government turned down numerous requests from the 13 senators to visit the facilities built with French help in the 1950s near the town of Dimona, in southern Israel.

"We want to learn about the atomic development programs in this region and to study how supervision and control both here and in Egypt can ensure that atomic energy will be for peaceful uses only," Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., told reporters at Ben-Gurion Airport.

The senators arrived Sunday for a four-day visit in preparation for Senate action on agreements carrying out former President Nixon's offers of nuclear power reactors to Israel and Egypt. Before the reactors can be supplied, the Senate must approve the safeguards against diversion of the nuclear material to the production of Foreign press reports have said

Israel has made more than 10 atomic weapons with material from the Dimona installation. Last March, the editor of a Washington newsletter. said senior officials of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency told him at a briefing that Israel had 10 to 20 nuclear weapons "ready for use." The CIA refused to confirm or deny the report.

Sen. Howard Baker, R-Tenn., said the senators would not pressure the Israelis to sign the Nuclear Nonproliferation Treaty, which Egypt has
