handed President Carter a surprise victory today by approving a scaled-down version of his proposed tax on factories that use large amounts of oil or natural gas.

In its first vote on energy taxes, the Senate approved, 51 to 37, an amendment by Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, aimed at forcing industries and utilities to switch from oil or gas to coal or other boiler fuels.

The vote seemed to indicate Senate discontent with the way Carter's package of energy taxes had been rejected by the Senate Finance Committee.

Instead of the President's tax approach to energy conservation, the committee had approved a $40-billion, eight-year package of tax incentives to reward conservation and increase energy produc-

The Metzenbaum tax would apply only to the estimated 11 per cent of American factories whose boilers can be converted to coal, and to all new boilers installed in the future. The tax of $6 per barrel of oil is double that proposed by Carter, but it would apply to far fewer plants.

However, Metzenbaum cited estimates that his tax still would save the equivalent of 1.2 million barrels of oil per day compared with 1.5 million barrels for Carter's plan — at a far lower cost to the nation's economy

Some of the $5 billion that the Metzenbaum tax would bring in between 1979 and 1985 would be rebated to factories and power plants to help finance the cost of converting to coal

The House has approved an industrial tax that is broader than the one backed by Metzenbaum but not as tough as proposed by Carter. The Senate vote means it is almost certain that the final version of the energy bill will contain some such

Killer Satellite

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Soviet Union has staged its second apparently successful test of a new system that could threaten destruction of U.S. reconnaissance and other military satellites, the Pentagon disclosed today.

We have preliminary indications that the Soviets launched an anti-satellite interceptor on Wednesday against a target satellite," a Pentagon statement said. "Presumably, a successful intercept oc-

The announcement provided no elaboration, but defense officials said the hunter-killer satellite passed close enough to the target satellite to have permitted its destruction, if the Russians had wanted to knock out the target.

This was the first time that the Defense Department has volunteered information on a Soviet anti-satellite test, reflecting an apparent Carter administration intention to point up a Soviet development that is worrying U.S. leaders.

Defense Secretary Harold Brown told a news conference Oct. 4 that U.S. officials had determined that the Russians "have an operational capability that could be used against some satellites." Both the United States and the Soviet Union rely heavily on satellites in earth orbit to watch military developments in each other's territory and to keep track of missile tests and other indicators.

This is believed to contribute to mutual deterrence and to discourage adventurism or surprise military moves.

President Carter, early in his administration, appealed on March 9 for a mutual U.S. Soviet ban on satellite-destroying weapons, but the Russians have never publicly responded and have held three anti-satellite tests since then. One test in May was rated a failure, but subsequent tests in June and this week are considered successes.

The new intercept apparently was made in a relatively low orbit, which suggests that the Soviet weapon could be used against U.S. satellites carrying cameras and infra-red and other sensors.

Like the June test, this week's intercept was in an elliptical orbit, which scientists rate a more difficult feat than the circular orbit.

The target satellite, Cosmos 959, was launched from Plesetsk in central Russia on Oct. 21 and has traveled in an orbit with an apogee of 847 kilometers and a perigee, the closest point to earth, of 147

The hunter satellite was launched Wednesday from Tyuratam, another Soviet base in central Russia, into an orbit perigee of 125 kilometers.

The Soviets conducted anti-satellite experiments in the 1960s, but broke them off for about four years because of apparent technical problems. They resumed the tests early last year. Since then, there have been seven tests monitored by U.S. radar, three of them rated successful

Johnny Turner Jr. was playing in front of his 1028 E. 29th St. apartment about 6 20 p m Wednesday. His mother, Mrs. Florence Turner, said she called to him from their front door a few minutes later, but he was gone.

The only lead police say they have is the statement of a woman who said she saw a heavy-set black man dragging the boy by the arm in an alley behind a day nursery in the 2500-block of Elm Ave. The area resident said she was driving by the nursery, only a few blocks from the apartment complex, about 10:30 p.m., when she saw the man and the boy. Police since then have been centering their search on the eastside area radiating from the nursery. Officers spent the rest of the night and this morning looking through nearby railroad yards and boxcars and questioning workers.

Investigators say they also have gone through oil fields and canyon areas, and at noon, were starting to search portions of the City of Lubbock Cemetery near E. 34th Street. More than 200 apartments, both vacant and occupied, have been checked, as well as all parked cars and dumpsters in the vicinity.

Vaccine Awaits FDA Approval

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - A pneumonia vaccine may be available by the end of the year that would, for the first time, catch America's fifth biggest killer before the infection sets in, researchers say.

If the vaccine is approved by the federal Food and Drug Administration, it will be given nationally to three groups of people highly susceptible to pneumonia: the elderly, children with missing or defective spleens, and the estimated 50,000 persons - mostly blacks - who suffer from sickle cell anemia, the researchers said.

The results of a two-year study of 77 San Francisco Bay area black children with sickle cell anemia who had been immunized by an experimental vaccine were announced at a news conference Wednesday by a team of researchers from the University of California at San Francisco.

We have not seen adverse effects other than some local pain and fever." said Dr. Arthur Ammann, a UCSF director of pediatric immunology. "We feel it is a very safe vaccine.

Ammann suggested the vaccine eventually could join the arsenal of traditional immunizations, like polio, given all children.

Joining Ammann at the conference were Dr. William Mentzer and Dr. Joseph Addiego, both of UCSF. Results of their study were published today in The New England Journal of Medicine.

The vaccine is an "effective preventive treatment for one of the most important causes of death for children with sickle cell anemia," Mentzer said. "We believe that cause of death can virtually be eliminated by prior immunization." Despite antibiotics, pneumonia kills an estimated 25,000 Americans annually. For some persons, the infection spreads through the body too quickly for drugs

Heart disease is the most frequent cause of death in the United States, followed by cancer, accidents and cerebral vascular disorders.

The UCSF study found for the 77 children tested, the vaccine was 100 percent effective in guarding against the "pneumococcus" bacteria, which causes pneumonia and other diseases

Doctors said they also found the vaccine effective in 19 children whose spleens were missing or defective and were easy targets for the infection. A similar vaccine was found effective for older adults in a series of tests just completed by Dr. Robert Austrian at the University of Pennsylvania, Ammann The vaccine awaiting FDA sanction is a refinement of one introduced in the 1940s and was produced by Merck, Sharpe and Dohme, Ammann said. It acts against 14 different types of the pneumococcal organism which account for some 90-95 percent of the infections, he said. Ammann said he expected the FDA's approval by December and thereafter the vaccine would be available for the three groups of patients. Only a small group of patients could be tested, Ammann said, because in 1974 a limited amount of experimental vaccine was made available to UCSF, prepared by the Eli Lilly Co. under contract to the National Institute of Health.

In a group of 106 young sickle cell anemia patients not immunized, eight contracted pneumococcal infection, the study reported, and two died of it, despite early hospitalization and treatment.

Sickle cell anemia is a disease of the blood cells which strikes one in every 500 black babies, doctors said. An estimated 2 percent of those with sickle cell anemia die from pneumonia before they reach age 10.

The disease affects the spleen, an organ which traps bacteria, such as the pneumococcus.

The vaccine help patients develop their own antibodies against the pneumococcus and guards against the infection, doctors said. Ammann said testing of the vaccine for normal children is continuing. He predicted that within three to four years it might be available to all children between the ages of nine months and four years as a preventive measure

Texas Town Seeks Federal Aid For New Water, Sewage Plant

SANTA ROSA (AP) - A Santa Rosa offical says, "our mayor will end up in Jimmy Carter's peanut patch," if this impoverished Rio Grande Valley town fails to obtain federal funding for a new water and sewage plant.

Following the example set by Crystal City, Santa Rosa Mayor James Cameron wrote a letter to Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., requesting help in obtaining federal funds.

In the letter, Cameron called the senator's attention to the $310,000 federal grant given Crystal City after that South Texas town had its gas cut off for refusing to pay its bill, and to the $630,000 granted to nearby Harlingen for a new city auditorium.

The first three victims were strangled with nylon stockings and were sexually molested. Mrs. Thurmond reportedly was killed in the same manner, although

The killing spree began Sept 16 when the body of Ferne Jackson, 60, was discovered. Nine days later, Jean Dimenstein, a 71-year-old spinster, was strangled by a killer who removed the hinges from her door. FNS officials told their supervisors in the secretary's office the next day that the Puerto Rico total was off by at least 250,000 persons, a mathematical error Other counting errors existed

All the public will see officially from USDA is a new, unexplained figure, probably 16 4 million, on Nov. 15.

That was a 2 percent error of overinflation. It translated into 300,000 persons, or almost $7 57 million of taxpayers' money that USDA was saying it spent on the program when it hadn't

For June, the total was under-estimat ed by 2.5 percent

Six other preliminary calculations were off by six-tenths of 1 percent. That seems small, but it is a matter of 100,000 persons for a program in which every single household is seen and counted, as opposed to a crop report that might estimate in 10 days' time a corn harvest of six billion bushels, largely on the basis of sample field surveys.

The February report did note that a jump of 500,000 persons from January was due to huge emergency programs to get food stamps to families suffering heavy snowfalls in unstate Nev York and freezes in Florida

Grain Futures

CHICAGO (AP) - A strong commercial demand for corn futures set the pace for good-sized advances in sovbeans and grain Wednesday on the Chicago Board of Trade

Large purchases of corn deliveries by commercial firms and exporters, accompanied by reports of active freight charterings by the Soviets, renewed talk that the Russians might be buying more U.S.

Corn deliveries rose three cents a bushel as speculative buying and commercial support easily absorbed some hedge

Soybeans advanced nearly 10 cents, reflecting mostly a strong speculative demand in part triggered by the strength in the corn pit. Soybean oil, following the trend in beans, gained about 40 points and meal advanced an average of $2.50 a

Wheat contracts, which moved sharply higher when some substantial commission house buying surfaced in the pit, finished five cents ahead of previous levels. Oats were up about two cents.

Sharply increased amounts of soybeans and corn were inspected for export last week, according to government figures.

For one group to stalk illegal aliens and another group to stalk the stalkers, as has been threatened, can lead to nothing but trouble and might, indeed, result in bloodshed. At best, racial tensions would be heightened, which is about the only thing the Klan can be called expert at.

THE FEDERAL government, which never has understood the Mexican alien problem, does need to work in cooperation with the Mexican government to check the flood of people crossing the Rio Grande.

President Carter's proposal of amnesty for those who have lived in this country undetected as illegal aliens for a number of years betrays a total lack of insensitivity to the problem.

Despite the huge disparity in economic conditions north and south of the border. and despite a history of revolution in Mexico until well into this century, the U.S. and Mexican border existed until recent years as a model in international relations.

Getting it back to that kind of footing is a government-to-government responsibility with which neither the Ku Klux Klan nor

"WE HAVE ENCOUNTERED some problems," Bottoms admitted of his original $11,300 program, "where people through wishful think-complaints than a lot of communities have had." 'I think it's a very good program," Bottoms said. "We have some deficiencies, we've made some mistakes, we're learning. I must say that, despite Mrs. W's complaint, that's one of our halfway decent jobs." "All we're supposed to do is caulk and try to reduce utility bills, making more efficient use of fuel...We get sucked in to doing a little more than we're supposed to do...The $250 has severely lim-

ABC's Of Bonehead Diplomacy

WASHINGTON-There ought to be a saliva test, such as done at the racetrack, if Jimmy Carter's foreign policy of 1977 isn't awarded the Bonehead Medallion. Foreign policy, I know, is as wide as the world, and one should avoid extravagant statements. But the contest can be narrowed, now that Asia is relatively quiescent to the Carter policy that zeroes in on the defense of NATO against the sive strategy which in the main calls for anti-tank tactics, both ground and air. Since the chosen battlefield is West Europe, such war-weary allies as Belgium, West Germany and Holland are understandably peace-loving. No one dares say whether West Europe still cares more for liberty than life. THE FEARSOME choice is being forced by an artillery shell which Pentagon officers call ER (Enhanced Radiation), but which the disarmament bloc has entitled the neutron warhead, or as they much prefer, the nuclear tactical bomb. By any name the projectile, always aimed from a tube and with a range of merely 70 miles, is the only known weapon on earth than can unzip what soldiers call a "buttoned up" field tank at which the Pact excels.

Question: Should we deploy the ER in Europe. on friendly soil, and should we encourage Belgium, West Germany, Holland and Britain to manufacture the super-explosive?

It probably will thwart the Communist tank as sault, but meanwhile, it will incinerate innocent bystanders as well as enemy soldiers, in the defense of liberty

HAD PRESIDENT Carter buttoned up like a tank, exercising military secrecy, he would not have said in his recent UN speech that the U.S. would never use nuclear weapons (and he included the ER warhead) unless we or our allies were first attacked, nuclearly or conventionally. Soon after the President spoke, Defense Sec.

Brown at the Pentagon told reporters that he was going abroad to seek this consent at a NATO meeting, in Italy, where he is at this writing.

In questioning some European authorities, I learned that every NATO defense minister, and every sitting NATO government, secretly favors having the nuclear tank-stoppers in the line.

But most of the political "outs," and all of the 'Eurocommunists' are against the mounting of the nuclear warhead in their cannon. A consensus has not developed. Carter has deprived our side of a superior weapon.

And Carter's prohibition against the American preemptive attack should we ever catch the enemy at H-minus-one-hour? It decreases our margin of safety, of course, but it does more. When Brown was asked if the U.S. would respond to an attack on a friendly power, not necessarily a formal ally, he brusquely replied: "Well, allies do not mean the same as friends.

from the U.S. defense perimeter. The Communists, it will be remembered, promptly accepted the invitation to attack South Korea. Brown's reply, in effect, was that sort of invitation. It opened the way to Communist invasion of the few unallied friends we have, as in Africa.

Fat Farm Cuts Loom For Low-Cal Labels

HOW CAN YOU TRULY compare foods labeled "diet," "low-cal," "reduced calorie," 'sugarless," or "dietetic?"

If you are among the millions of American food shoppers trying to lose weight, finding foods which are genuinely low in calories can be tough. The diverse and many terms used to describe the foods to help you reduce often are befuddling, even misleading. To guide you to choosing foods which represent real savings in calories, the FDA has proposed new rules stipulating which foods can be called low in calories and how these should be labeled. Major provisions of the proposed regulations in-

* A FOOD COULD be labeled "low calorie" only if a serving supplied no more than 40 calories and no more than .4 calorie per gram. * A food could be labeled "reduced calorie" only if it contained at least one-third fewer calories than another food of the same type and at least 25 fewer calories per serving.

* All foods claiming to be reduced in calories would have to carry a statement comparing them to the same food as normally eaten.

For instance, "reduced calorie" peaches would have to carry a label stating, "Peaches packed in water contain 38 calories per one half cup serving, 62 per cent less than 'Brand X' peaches in heavy syrup.

The comparison could be made with a specific food by its brand name or common name, but the amount of calories in at least one of the foods would be required.

 FOODS NATURALLY low in calories (soups, juices, fruits, vegetables) could not carry the term "low calorie" immediately before the name of the food. As an illustration, cucumbers could not be labeled "low calorie cucumber" because this would suggest that the particular cucumber was lower in calories than other cucumbers. It could, however, be labeled "cucumber, a low calorie food.' · Foods claiming to be either low or reduced in label, providing such facts as fat, protein, carbohydrates per gram and calories per serving. LABELS ON SUCH foods also would be required to carry the statement, "Weight control by diet requires limiting total intake of calories." The purpose would be to emphasize to the consumer the significance of total diet in weight control or reduction. Use of a single low or reduced calorie food is not enough in itself to reduce or control weight.

It was back in 1962 that the FDA began preparing and issuing regulations governing foods used for special dietary reasons.

Earlier regulations covered the labeling of baby foods, hypo-allergenic foods, and vitamins and minerals as food supplements.

This latest set of proposed directives, probably to become effective by July 1, 1979, completes FDA's work in this area

INDUSTRY'S REACTION to the new rules is mixed. The executive director of the Atlantabased Calorie Control Council, Robert Gelardi, for example, says, "We're behind the thrust of the regulations, but as proposed we think they're more confusing than helpful.

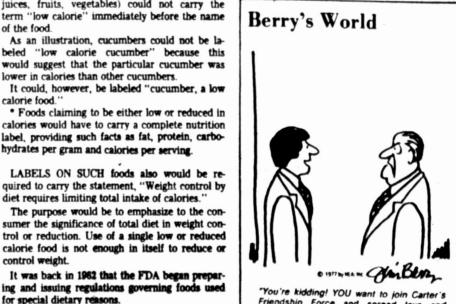

In drawing up the rules, Gelardi explains, FDA seems to have overlooked such types of low-calorie products as dressings, sauces, jellies and

To document, although a so-called diet jelly or jam contains three calories per tablespoon compared to about 17 calories per tablespoon for a regular preserve, under the proposed rules it could neither be labeled "reduced calorie" nor 'low calorie." because the item would not meet all the requirements of either category

WHEN CONFRONTED with the above problem an FDA official replied, "The aim of the proposed regulation is to enable foods which are really useful in reducing calories in the diet to be labeled as such, but we will grant exemptions if someone can make his case

FDA has allowed a month for comments and petitions for exceptions to be filed before the regulations become final.

But the agency declares it will consider a request for an extension of this comment period if there is a persuasive demand for it.

But Will It Play In Petersburg?

from sports, TV and wholly personal concerns, what are the American people talking about this fall? If Petersburg, Va., is at all typical, they're talking about a wide range of national issues. In some ways, Petersburg may be as typical as you can get.

James J. Kilpatrick:

It's a town of 36,000 situated in farming country 25 miles south of Richmond. Nearly all of its 8,-900 families are native-born Americans; threequarters of the residents were born in Virginia. In terms of income, education and employment, Petersburg is just about average for the The town is typical in this way also, that is sup-

Last week the audience wrote out 124 questions and sent them to an on-stage panel.

SIFTING THROUGH the questions, an observer is struck by their variety—and by the depth of information they reveal. Small-town America is not composed of ignorant hicks. Obviously, the people who live in the Petersburgs of this country are reading newspapers and news magazines; they are keeping up with the news on TV; they are keenly aware of current spoke of the President's "inadequate" energy program or his "absence of leadership." A woman asked, "Why can't he get along with Congress? After all, it's run by his own party.

One question dealt in plainly contemptuous terms with Brother Billy's earnings "on the carnival circuit. Four questions-two of them evidencing sym-

CONGRESS FARES no better than the White House in the eyes of small-town America.

"Is it apathy, or ignorance, or just what makes the general public elect, term after term, senators and representatives who, are insensitive to the public needs? And how can congressmen give themselves raise after raise and continue to talk of curbing inflation?"

Half a dozen questions dealt knowledgeably with the federal debt, which was then in the news, and with federal finances generally. At least in Petersburg, Va., people worry about deficit spending. They believe the deficits fuel inflation, and they want a balanced budget. But none of the questions indicated enthusiasm either for higher taxes or for reduced outlays.

East, all the questions in foreign affairs had to do with the Panama Canal. Here one perceived no doubts at all. Petersburg, Va., wants no part of a "giveaway." President Carter's vigorous support of the pending treaties evidently has cost him with his Southern constituents MEMBERS OF the audience had questions about the press-tough questions, suggesting significant hostility toward the media. A couple of questions dealt with proposals for the direct election of presidents. One question asked about ratification of the Equal Rights There were questions about the cruise missile, the B-1 bomber and the neutron bomb. Six persons asked about Bert Lance; none of them seemed to admire the former budget director. These are the very issues, of course, that occupy Washington correspondents all the time. Sometimes we wonder if our concerns are truly shared beyond the Potomac.

Jury Phase Expected In Trial

SEYMOUR - The Vaughan B. Nowlin theft-by-check trial was expected to go to the jury this afternoon, with the sevenman, five-woman panel to issue a decision that may affect the outcome of 12 similar charges against him

The prosecution and one defense attorney presented final arguments in the case this morning, and a second defense lawyer was to argue the case after a lunch

Paducah Dist. Atty. W. H. Heatly told jurors he thought the "presumption of intent to steal" had been proven beyond a reasonable doubt

He said testimony showed that Paducah farmer Prentiss Fields got a $43,000 check from Nowlin that was supposed to pay for 187 bales of cotton, that Fields presented the check for payment within 30 days and that the check was returned Heatly said Fields notified Nowlin of the nonpayment within 10 days and that Nowlin did not honor it

Arguments today came after the defense rested its case shortly after noon Wednesday, calling only one witness.

Nowlin's attorney, Richard Bird, got in what the defense hopes was a telling blow, however, in stipulated testimony read to the jury

He quoted from part of a civil suit filed by 31 Paducah area formers against Nowlin, claiming his company failed to redeem checks totaling about $375,000 given them in exchange for warehouse receipts representing about 1,800 bales of

"Contained in the (second amended) petition," said the Childress lawyer, "is a sworn allegation by plaintiffs that on dates said checks were presented to the banks, there were sufficient funds in the account on which they were drawn to ful-

The petition was filed April 14, 1976, Bird told the jury

Nowlin is being tried for allegedly issuing the reportedly worthless check to

Fields on March 5, 1976 Nowlin has been indicted on 12 other theft-by-check charges alleging he bought a total of 1.230 bales of cotton, valued at $198,415 92, from a number of Cottle and

King County farmers. Testimony Wednesday, elicited under questioning by Heatly, indicated that Nowlin could not cover the checks

Testimony brought out that Nowlin met with an attorney and spokesman for the farmers in Bird's office in Childress on March 18 and that Nowlin brought a cashier's check for $100,000 and produced a deed to a motel in Vernon.

The DA asked Douglas Yarborough. manager of Farmers Co-op Gin and a farmer, if "this was not enough to cover the outstanding checks that day Yarborough replied, "that is right. After resting his case, Bird asked Dist Judge R. J. Balch for an instructed verdict of not guilty

As Morales worked alone in the 18-by-40-foot enclosed, concrete room, an explosion, followed by a second blast, sent residents running toward the elevators.

Volunteer Mike Hollums, assisted by Bill Isbell, were the first on the scene at the smoke-filled room where Morales reportedly called for help in a muffled

Pupils closest to the elevator were evacuated to the north side of the school and many huddled in hallways as a precaution against further explosions.

School Board To Consider Opposing Act

Lubbock school trustees will meet in special session today to consider joining other school systems and municipalities, including the City of Lubbock, in fighting the Federal Unemployment Compensation Tax Act.

The school board convenes at 5:15 p.m. in the assembly room of the Lubbock Independent School District administration building, 1628 19th St. The federal act, set to go into effect Jan. 1, would require the district and other local governmental entities to pay money into a national unemployment compensation fund. The money is intended to be used for unemployment benefits for government employees who are laid off or otherwise terminated.

Supt. Ed Irons estimates that the law would cost the school system $148,000 next year. "Many, many cities across the country are challenging the law as unconstitutional," Irons said. Lubbock school trustees will decide today whether to join as a plaintiff in that lawsuit. The City of Lubbock already has allocated $5,000 to the National Institute of

Municipal Law Officers to fight the federal act in court. The proposal would cost the City of Lubbock about $100,000. Also today, the school board will consider a resolution to exempt the school system from a new state program requiring plan for employees of local rural fire dis-Currently, there are no official rural fire districts in Lubbock County, and the proposed exemption is considered merely a precaution against a future additionfiscal burden on the school system,

As long as you think your salvation is dependent on your good works, you will never come to love God fully for you know you can never do enough good deeds to be saved. # Tailor Claims Memory Lapse On Incident

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) - A tailor has testified that he recalls being beat up in the apartment of Black Panther Party leader Huey Newton, but that he has had a lapse of memory about the details.

Preston Callins, 55, told a preliminary hearing Wednesday he couldn't remem ber making a tape-recorded statement accusing Newton of pistol-whipping him and threatening to "blow my head off."

Under prosecution questioning, Callins said his blanking out of the episode was not related to what the state claims was an assassination attempt on the life of a key witness last weekend. The tailor has, however, been under police protection since Sunday when a group of gunmen attempted to storm an apartment next to that of the witness, prostitute Raphaelle Jeannette Gary. One gunman was slain when the woma who occupied the apartment grabbed a 38 revolver and fired through the door. Miss Gary, 32, testified Tuesday she saw Newton standing and laughing over the body of a 17-year-old woman prostitute on an Oakland street corner Aug. 6,

The hearing is being held to determine if there is sufficient evidence to try Newton, who returned from Cuban exile in July, on charges he killed the teenager, Kathleen Smith, and assaulted Calling.

Gains Tax Opposed By Firms

By JOHN CUNNIFF NEW YORK (AP) — Some of the nation's medium-size companies, already experiencing difficulties in raising capital, are distressed over the possibility that capital gains might be taxed as ordi-

If it happens, they say, their ability to grow and innovate and create jobs will be seriously curtailed. And they wish to remind you, these are three of their most valued contributions to economic society.

The Treasury Department already has coupled its recommendations for a reduction in the double taxation of dividends with one that in effect would raise the rate on capital gains, such as from long-term stock investments.

Says the Committee of Publicly Owned Companies: The very largest, mature, established companies clearly would benefit from lower taxes on dividends. But we are growing concerns; we don't pay big dividends; we need capital.

A consequence of the Treasury proposal, the committee suggests, might be to channel funds into established, dividendpaying companies that normally attract conservative investors, and deny funds to growing companies, which traditionally attract individual risk-takers.

In a position paper just released, the committee observes that capital is invested in small-and medium-size companies with few exceptions, only because of the prospect of capital gains" rather than dividend payouts.

The committee is made up of several hundred "second tier" and "third tier" companies, so-called to distinguish them from the very largest 50 or 100 corporations. Sometimes they are called "red chip" and "white chip."

Such companies long have felt they were all but totally ignored by institutional investors, many of whom have limited their analyses and investments to the dividend-paying top tier only. Smaller companies, they say, have been starved for capital, and instead have had to raise their debt levels.

Adding to the problem was the enactment of the Employees Retirement Income Securities Act of 1974, which called on pension fund managers to exercise prudence in their investment of retire-

In the absence of a clear definition, prudence was largely interpreted to mean a restriction on investments to the least risky, mature, dividend-paying corporations. Risk-taking came to be considered too risky.

Add to this the problem of inflation, which "further adds to the risk of waiting for growth to result in capital gains," the committee suggests, and the issue becomes one of survival for smaller, innovative companies.

established enterprises like General Electric, General Motors and ATT will be able to maintain their corporate programs following the enactment of the measures under consideration. "Also, some investors may receive additional after-tax current income from their investments in the stocks of companies of this sort as a result of the proposed reduction of the tax burden on dividend payments and on top-bracket tax-

"But," the statement asks, "what about the small, entrepreneurial, developing companies that do not pay dividends or pay only minuscule dividends; that have little prospect of paying dividends for many years? Who will invest in the equity of these companies if the ... proposals become law?"

The committee maintains that a major weakening of the capital gains incentive took place in 1969 when the maximum tax rate was increased to 35 percent from 25 percent, resoluting in these consequ-

-Only 921 new issues of common stock were marketed in the four years that ended June 30, 1977, compared with 1,792 new issues in 1969 alone.

The issue, the committee maintains, is not just how we tax income, but whether we really want to channel the nation's investment funds into large, conservative companies at the expense of smaller, growing concerns

And related to that are the other issues of whether we want to encourage small investors, risk-taking, competition from newer companies, economic growth and

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Ink Dipper (KYZ-3914) is the handle of the editor of The CB Times-Journal.)

Canada is experiencing a CB explosion. It's not as large as the one that hit the U.S. within the last 18 months, but still it's significant.

The country's Department of Communications (counterpart to the U.S. Federal Communications Commission) estimates that soon there will be 1.2 million Canadians licensed to operate CB transceivers. Right now there are just over 200,000 legal CB sets in Canada and an unknown quantity of people oper-

The latest FCC report shows that more than eight million persons or businesses hold U.S. licenses, and it's probably safe million more operate on the citizens band without a license

Keep in mind, though, that Canada's population is about one-tenth that of the U.S., so the per capita use of CBs in Canada might one day surpass the

What's causing the increasing popularity? A lot of the same things that have sparked the growth here. Canadians want to keep up with radar and speed traps, they like the instant convenience of CBing for obtaining highway information, and the CBs have proven themselves time and again during emergen-

But Canada also, for the most part, is a rural country. People in far-flung areas use their radios as a way to keep in touch with neighbors. The CB becomes a party line for Canadians in isolated areas who, even though they might have telephones, still enjoy the companionship of a dozen or more other CBers who ratchet-jaw into the night.

The growth in Canada has given the DOC some of the same growing pains encountered by the FCC. In some urban areas, the original 23 channels have become congested. And the flood of license applications has been almost overwhelming.

To cope with congestion, the DOC has allocated 17 new channels — the same new frequencies allotted for U.S. CBers — and set April 1 as the day the new channels can be opened. The lag, DOC officials explain, is because the DOC fiscal year runs from April 1 to March 31, and the channel expansion will coincide with the new year.

Just as in the U.S., the channel expansion in Canada has prompted CB retailers to offer price cuts on 23-channel units to clear their inventories for the 40-channel stock.

The glut of license applications has put a strain on the DOC, officials say, but they've been able so far to cope with it and not fall far behind like the FCC, which at times took up to 90 days to process an application.

An example of the DOC service is temporary licensing of American CBers traveling in Canada with their radio gear. Most applications from U.S. CBers for the temporary premits are answered by return mail. Canadians going into the U.S., though, sometimes have had to wait up to three months for the FCC to send them temporary permits.

Of course, DOC personnel are hoping that they can keep up with the increasing numbers of people applying for permanent licensing. They want to go through the Canadian boom in better shape than the FCC managed when CBing exploded in the U.S. agency's face.

The eruption, which began Sept. 12, occurred in four distinct phases. The last phase was the most active, generating a lava flow that stretched nearly five miles long toward the coast before stopping three-quarters of a mile from the town of Kalapana when the lava fountains abruptly ceased Oct. 1.

No-Fault Auto Insurance Not Witl

to require every state to implement no-fault auto in-surance meeting minimum federal standards. Six-teen states already have some sort of no-fault pro-gram. But no-fault is NOT without faults. Here, in the first of a two-part series on auto insurance, is a look at how it's working.)

By LOUISE COOK Associated Press Writer

No-fault auto insurance, once promoted as a means of cutting costs for consumers, has failed to stem the tide of soaring premiums, but authorities say it has succeeded in its main goal of getting benefits into the hands of accident victims more quickly.

'We consider it a smashing success," said William Sheppard, Pennsylvania insurance commissioner, when asked about his state's no-fault program which took effect July 19, 1975.

"It has accomplished everything we said it would accomplish," said Jack Davies, a Minnesota state senator who sponsored a no-fault plan that began Jan. 1, 1975.

"No-fault is working well," said Kentucky Insurance Commissioner Harold McGuffey. "It's doing the job it's supposed to do - paying more people more money and arranging quick settlements. We have had practically no complaints."

At the same time, however, the drive for no-fault at the state level has stalled. Several states which passed no-fault laws early in the 1970s have been forced to make major changes.

President Carter has endorsed the concept of a federal no-fault bill, but the measures have not gotten beyond the hearing stage and no action is expected before 1978.

Premiums, meanwhile, are going up. And up. They increased almost 50 per cent from August 1975 to August 1977.

ones? Why the delay in passing a federal law? And why are prices rising?

The concept behind no-fault is simple: each party in an accident is compensated, for medical expenses at least, by his. own insurance company. An individual's right to sue for further damages is limited. Expensive court cases and lengthy delays are eliminated.

Massachusetts became the first state in the nation to enact a no-fault law. The plan took effect Jan. 1, 1971. Since then, 15 other states have passed no-fault laws. They are: Colorado, Connecticut,

Florida, Georgia, Hawaii, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Nevada,

New Jersey, New York, North Dakota,

Pennsylvania and Utah. The most recent what it can and cannot do. A recent Gal-

> Some state officials concede privately that the money-saving claims were a come-on and not realistic. They say now that the advantages of no-fault are not monetary.

There are several reasons for the lack of cost saving. No-fault generally applies only to bodily injury. Property damage stays under the old system - the insurance company of the motorist at fault has to pay. And property damage, according to State Farm, accounts for 60 cents of fault "has reallocated funds, putting the funds in the hands of the injured rather than in the hands of the attorneys handling court cases. It hasn't really altered the cost to the insuring company. One problem with existing no-fault programs, say officials, is that it is still too easy to sue. The laws generally allow a person to go to court after medical expenses reach a certain threshold. In nine states, the threshold is $750 or less. In

New Jersey, it is only $200. "I would guess that with continued inflation we would have to look at ... the threshold," said a spokesman for the Insurance Department in North Dakota, where a victim with medical expenses exceeding $1,000 is allowed to sue. "With the increased cost of medical services ...

the $1,000 figure might not any more." he added.

State Insurance Commissioner Dick Rottman of Nevada, which has a $750 threshold, said: "It doesn't seem to be much of a problem for a person to sue, even if injured only slightly."

To correct the problem, authorities are considering raising the dollar threshold or eliminating it completely as New York and Florida have done recently and replacing it with a requirement that generally prohibits suits unless the accident results in death or serious injury.

(Michigan is the only other state without a dollar threshold; it is one of only three states — New Jersey and Pennsylvania are the others — which puts no ceiling on the amount of medical expenses that can be collected. Legislation under consideration in Pennsylvania would limit basic medical coverage to $100,000. with companies required to offer a maximum of $250,000 to customers who wanted the extra protection. The proposed federal legislation would allow states to put a limit of $250,000 on benefits for medical expenses and would permit indi-for the hiring and firing.

P. Takis Vellotis, the shipyard's new general manager, this week blamed the actions on the Navy's requests for changes in design for 688-class nuclear attack submarines. A large number of people have been hired by the company in an attempt to cope with the enormous number of drawing revisions and design changes made by the Navy," Veliotis said. Now that the initial steps in the program have largely been completed," he said, "we truly regret that these loyal people will have to be laid off." Electric Boat is Connecticut's second largest employer and Rhode Island's largest employer. The shipyard has 28,-000 employes, including 5,000 at the Quonset Point R I plant

The layoffs began Tuesday and Veliotis said they will continue for a few weeks. Francis Hagerty, a cost estimator for the shipyard, said salaried workers are getting an hour's notice and two weeks' pay. Veliotis came to Groton from General

Dynamics' Qunicy, Mass., shipyard, which he was credited with putting back on its feet financially. He said he planned to streamline the Groton operation and still increase productivity.

The streamlining apparently applies to management as well as workers. Eleven top officials will report to Veliotis, compared with 27 who reported to Veliotis' predecessor, Gorden E. MacDonald.

MacDonald, who was acting manager at EB until, returns to St. Louis and will assume full-time duties as General Dynamics' financial vice president.

Veliotis brought eight of the 11 top new officials with him from Quincy. MacDonald's operations director, Harold F. Foley, was told to "clear out your desk and be out in 30 minutes," according to sources quoted by the Hartford

It is not clear whether MacDonald expected to be replaced by Veliotis, but he apparently did not expect the layoffs. MacDonald met with Sen. Abraham Ribicoff. D-Conn., last week and assured him that no layoffs were in sight, according to a spokesman for the senator. Until the announcement, in fact, Electric Boat was in the market for new help.

EB's advertising agency said it was or-laid off will be brought back," Veliotis said in a news release. "We believe that we can streamline the organization and reduce our personnel, primarily in the overhead and support functions, while at the same time increasing direct manpower productivity,'

Veliotis said. A spokesman for Rep. Edward P. Beard, D-R.I., said Veliotis told the congressman that the layoffs are related "in a way" to the shipyard's financial trou-

Crosman Recalls Unsafe BB Guns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Crosman BB pistols may have a malfunction allowing them to fire while the safety is engaged, the Consumer Product Safety Commission reported.

The company is trying to locate the Model 454 carbon-dioxide-powered pistols and will modify the weapons to eliminate the danger at no charge to the consumer, the commission said.

Some 25,000 Model 454 pistols were distributed nationwide this year, but officials said not all of them are involved in the hazard. Those in question are 16-shot semi-automatic pistols of .177 caliber.

Shipyard officials have said Electric Boat is spending more money than it is making on Navy-ordered nuclear attack submarines because of inflation, design changes and production problems. The cost of the submarines has increased from $180 million to $300 million each

during the last seven years: Electric Boat wants the Navy to pay it $554 million for cost overruns Shipyard officials had said they were making money on Navy contracts for construction of five Trident ballistic missile submarines. But in a letter to Congress last week. Navy Secretary W. Graham Claytor said Trident construction has slipped months behind schedule. My first complaint is how messily this was handled," said Rep. Christopher J. Dodd D-Conn in a telephone interview from his Washington office.

Dodd said he felt the congressional delegation should have been notified before reports were circulated among workers that they might be laid off.

James Hunt, director of the State Rating Bureau in Massachusetts, said bodily injury rates dropped 45 percent from 1970 to 1976. Without no-fault, he said, they would have increased 63 percent.

The real proof of our success with no-fault is the steady reduction in bodily injury insurance rates," said Gow Michael S. Dukakis, who, as a legislator, was a major sponsor of the state's no fault law. "Unfortunately, the rate reductions for bodily injury have been counter balanced by rates for other coverages which have by rates for other coverages which have gone up about as fast as bodily injury rates have come down. Other officials said the rate increases would have been even worse without nofault. Dr. James C. Nicholas, staff director of an ad hoc Automobile Insurance Commission in Florida, said that the cost of commercial vehicle insurance which remained under the conventional system - has risen 130 percent since 1971. Auto insurance, under no-fault, has risen 100 percent in the same period.

State:Farm said a survey showed that the average increase in automobile insurance rates in the 16 no-fault states from Dec. 31, 1970 through the end of last year was 24.6 percent, compared to a nationwide average boost of 27.7 percent. Authorities also say that while no-fault

The Baltimore Sun said that the White House was actively seeking to replace Curtis in the party post.

The White House source, who asked not to be identified, said the dissatisfaction stemmed from what was seen as a lack of leadership and control over the party staff.

Asked whether it was felt at the White House that Curtis was "too nice a guy" for the job, the source said: "Some have put it that way."

But White House Press Secretary Jody Powell said Carter, who placed Curtis in the job, was pleased with his work and had no plans to remove him.

Curtis has been meeting with Carter approximately once a week. His most recent such session was Tuesday, when the two had breakfast at the White House.

Expert On Violins Skeptical Of Stradivarius Discoveries

greater than a million to one against find-ing a $250,000 Stradivari violin at a flea

"I would say probably not at all," said expert violin restorer William Moennis III, whose family has been in the musical instrument business since 1633. Yet almost every day, in scores of towns across America, someone believes that some old fiddle junked in the garage or attic, or dug out of the clutter of a second-hand store, is unexpected treasure.

What creates the dream of riches is a yellowed label inside the violin belly reading "Stradivarius" or "Cremona. Yet this is generally the sign of a fake, or acknowledgement it's only a copy of the real thing.

"In 99.9 per cent of the cases of violins never was any inwith Strad labels, there never was any intent to defraud the public," Moennig

"A 1910 Sears and Roebuck catalog offered an Antonio Stradivari label, a case, a bow and 60 pieces of music for $10. People who bought them knew they were getting just a trade instrument for their grandson, or child, or even for them-model that was being followed. It always caught everyone's imagination."

Moening said people who copied Stradivari were obscure makers who crafted what he called factory instruments main-

Stradivari, considered the world's greatest violin maker, labored in Cremona, Italy, producing his best instruments in the first three decades of the 18th century. Scholars estimate he hand —carved out of maple, spruce and poplar approximately 1,100 violins with sounds

About half still exist, but the most valuable instruments are the few specimins left with all their original parts.

"They are all fairly well documented," Moennig said in his downtown shop where he has a staff of 17 men and one woman. "About two-thirds of the known Strads are in the United States, most owned by collectors or by the more pres-tigious professional violinists in the major orchestras. They are worth anywhere between $50,000 and $250,000, depending on their condition."

Moennig sold one last spring to a collector, but declined to disclose the sion, he can spend as long as a year and many thousands of dollars to repair and restore it.

Hundreds of factory instruments are made today, and many makers copy Stra-divari. The cheapest student outfit costs

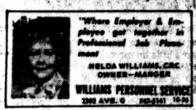

There are a few dozen expert violin makers in the United States, including Moennig and his semi-retired father Moennig said they can put any price tag on their product, with top-notch instruments bringing as much as $7,500.

Moennig, busy now doing repairs on vi-olins, violas and cellos for instrument owners all over America, last built a violin 15 years ago.

"It was used to win the Tchalkovsky competition in Russia," Moennig said.

Embargo Proposal Opposed

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) - The United States and its chief allies on the U.N. Security Council are disputing whether to back a resolution calling for an immediate arms embargo against South Africa, or one threatening a ban if the white South African government doesn't soften its racial policies by a certain date.

U.S. Ambassador Andrew Young is reported urging joint Western support of the demand by black African nations for an immediate embargo. But Britain and France, which with the United States, the Soviet Union and China have a veto in the council, are reported holding out for a warning resolution.

The black states submitted two proposed resolutions against South Africa after its government last week outlawed most important black organizations and arrested some 50 leading black opponents of its apartheid racial policy.

The other African resolution calls for a halt in new foreign investment in South

Council debate on the resolutions has been adjourned until Friday, while delegates negotiate and confer with their governments. American sources said they did not expect a vote before Monday.

President Carter is expected to announce U.S. support for an arms embargo resolution at his news conference this

The United States, Britain and France vetoed such a resolution in 1975. The three major Western powers all say they are enforcing an arms ban voluntarily. but South Africa is reported getting arms surreptitiously from dealers evading government license requirements as well as weapons more openly from Israel and a handful of other countries. Moose the U.S. retary of state for African affairs, told reporters in Washington the Carter administration also has been considering such economic sanctions as withdrawal of guarantees for American commercial loans and a cutoff of scientific assistance.

However, the administration is reported not ready to support a massive assault on the South African economy. Last year American firms sold $1.35 billion worth of goods to South Africa, and U.S. companies have an investment of about $1.5 billion in the country.

South African Prime Minister John Vorster said Wednesday that his government will not heed foreign calls for full political rights for the black majority including "one-man, one-vote now or in the future whatever the pressure ment economist, cautioned that the September trade figures "may be an aberration. In part, they could have been caused by an acceleration of exports in anticipation of the dock strike" which began Oct. 1 and is continuing.

Comiez said exports might decline in October, as loading of container goods is stalled by the strike on Atlantic and Gulf

For the year, the United States has bought $19.2 billion more in foreign goods than it has sold abroad. The deficit could reach a record $30 billion for the year, administration officials have said.

The record exports for September totalled $10.9 billion, surpassing the $10.4 billion recorded in December 1976, the previous high. Most of the increase was in machinery and transport equipment, such as autos, manufactured goods, chemicals and food and live animals.

While exports rose 14.2 per cent, imports increased by about 3.3 per cent, mainly because of more imports of petroleum products.

The Carter administration has said almost all of the trade imbalance this year is caused by U.S. imports of oil from the Middle East. On his current Middle East trip. Treasury Secretary W. Michael Blumenthal has been trying to persuade oil exporters to keep prices down, saying it is in their best interests.

Out of $12.6 billion in imports, petroleum accounted for $3.7 billion, an increase from $3.3 billion in August

A growing trade deficit can often take away jobs from American workers and have a slackening effect on the economy. But U.S. officials say other countries have been unable to afford American products as the U.S. economy has improved more rapidly than the economy of purchasing countries

Among exports, all categories increased in September, except aircraft, soybeans, grain sorghum and a few miscellaneous commodities.

Machinery and transport equipment rose by $506.3 million to $4.7 billion. with nearly half of the increase coming from motor vehicles and parts.

Chemical exports increased 17 per cent to $1.1 billion, and mineral fuels such as coal and petroleum rose 24 per cent to $399.4 million.

Food and live animals showed increases of 8 per cent to $1.2 billion

However, the improvement in exports followed a sharp decline, from $10.1 billion in July to $9 6 billion in August. In other economic news, Federal Reserve Chairman Arthur F. Burns, criticizing the Carter administration's econompolicies, has said the country needs less spending and more investment. While Burns was noting the business sector's uncertainty that the economy will continue to recover. Bethlehem Steel reported a record $477 million loss for its

City Women Enchanted On Scandinavian Tour

A-J Travel Editor

Scandinavia - It may be the most picturesque area of the world. From the fjords of Norway and the mountains of Sweden, to the quaint villages of Denmark, the countries that comprise Northern Europe enchant every world travel-

It was the scenery that really appealed to me," said Annette Godfrey, manager of the downtown Hemphill-Wells Travel Agency. "It's a part of the world I've wanted to see since I was a child. I enjoyed the marvelous stories by Hans Christian Andersen and remember the Viking sagas from my school days, so Scandinavia has always had a special appeal

Back in August, when Miss Godfrey asked her mother to select where she would prefer to go for a vacation, the hoice was immediate - Scandinavia. A review of travel brochures showed that a two-week package trip by Caravan Tours included the favorite areas for sightseeing.

Bergen, Norway, was the first stop. There the Lubbock women were treated to a funicular ride. It's a tram that takes visitors to the top of a mountain for a fabulous view of

"At night you can see the lights of several cities and where many of the fjords start," noted the Lubbock travel agent. The city of Bergen is made up of two parts; there's the newer section and the older section. The older part is very interesting. It's where you find tiny traditional shops; they're very narrow but sometimes three stories high."

Outside of Bergen and its white houses with red tile roofs is the beautiful country home of composer Edvard Grieg. The Lubbock travelers found the life story of Grieg (he died in 1907) an interesting part of their visit. The composer's home, surrounding estate and nearby lake is a favorite tour-

Highlighting the Scandinavia tour were friendly people, unequaled scenery, and ships that were built centuries ago. The people in Norway are very friendly and really make tourists feel welcome; they are very outgoing," stated the Lubbock woman. "Then when you cross over to Sweden, you find the people seem to prefer play to work, and the people in Denmark were kind of halfway between.

She recalled some of the towns she had visited and said, Borgund was my favorite, even though it rained most of the time I was there. It's a small ski town with flower markets and old churches. The little ski resort villages were so picturesque and the people so hospitable -kind of like little unny places along the way.

Ships from the days of the Vikings, to a replica of Thor Heverdahl's Kon Tiki interested the Lubbock women. They were surprised at the smallness of the Viking ships that set Traveling by ferry afforded an opportunity for the Lubbockites to see tranquil fjords bordered by sheer cliffs or snow-capped mountains or peaceful valleys. Resembling a small cruise ship, one ferry boat featured a lounge where travelers could nap, a restaurant, and a sun deck.

Although prices in the Scandinavian countries can be a bit high, the wise shopper can find some bargains in beautiful sweaters and porcelain. "Copenhagen porcelain is beautiful," noted the Hemphill-Wells travel agent, "you see it everywhere. But, it's like being in Hawaii and buying shells or coral - you have to know what is good and what isn't. Swedish crystal is everything it's said to be, and the pewter is gorgeous. I bought two sweaters, a piece of porcelain and a

English is spoken everywhere because many of the Scandinavians are required to study English beginning with the first grade of school. The difference in American and Scandinavian currency is easy to understand.

Speaking of currency, Annette Godfrey recommends a package tour as the most economical way to see Northern Europe, "Sometimes we would have lunch on our own. We would go into a store and get a carton of yogurt and a slice of cheese. Their dairy foods are delicious." She noted the breakfasts are usually a smorgasbord with pickled or smoked herring, all kinds of cheeses and wholesome, whole grain breads. "I even had some reindeer meat."

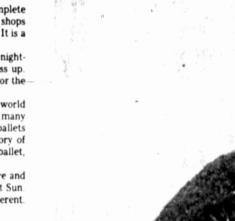

She believes a first visitor will find a tour guide invaluable. "It would be very easy to miss something extra special," explained the Lubbockite. "Our guide to the home of Hans Christian Andersen had been a Shakespearean actor and he added a lot to our understanding and appreciation of Ander-

Tivoli Gardens is an adult Disneyland," said the world traveler. "It's all outside with beautiful lights. The many restaurants, foods served, the little operas, and the ballets are really exciting. I saw the ballet of Andersen's story of The Little Mermaid. I've never watched a complete ballet, but this was really special."

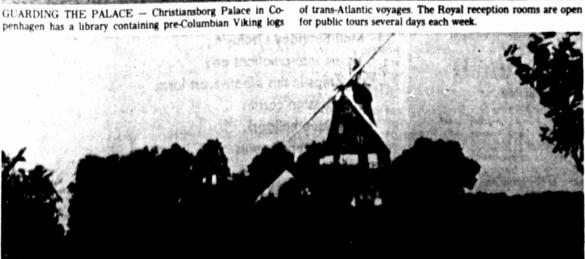

Annette Godfrey looked at the wall map in her office and said, "I want to go back when I can see the Midnight Sun. The scenery was breathtaking and every fjord was different. I want to see it all again, plus a lot more.

Spot Reducing Impossible

By LAWRENCE LAMB, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I would like to know if it is possible to lose a 'secetary's spread''? I have thought about quitting my job because of the sitting down all day, every day. I have gained four inches on my rear quarters and thighs in four years since I have had this job.

I would like to know if my hips and legs can be brought back to their original size or close to it?

If so, how do I go about this and if exercise is the answer, what kind is best? I have cut down on my eating.

DEAR READER - The act of sitting does not cause inches to be added to your seat or pounds of fat to accumulate over your buttocks or thighs. The problem is the same as for the person who develops a large waist. It is that old problem of consuming more calories than your body uses... The end result is fat, which simply is stored energy, and it has to be stored somewhere

"Somewhere" for you is your buttocks and thighs. In the next person it may be the waist. There are individual differences in where the fat deposits will locate. You probably were born with a tendency to deposit fat in

In one ethnic group in Africa the people have a characteristic of having very large buttocks — a large fat pad. It is a racial characteristic for that group as opposed to other ethnic groups in Africa. It is not that these people are necessarily fatter than another race, but their inherited characteristic is to store their fat over the

Because your job requires you to sit a lot vou probably use less calories than you used in the past. It is the inactivity combined with your intake of calories that leads to fat deposits.

You can't "spot reduce" the area. The way to get rid of it is to reverse the "calories in, calories used" ratio by changing your diet and increasing

I am sending you The Health Letter number 4-7. Weight Losing Diet, which you can use as a guide. Others who want this diet can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y., 10019. Exercise will help, and it is a good way to help protect your muscles while getting rid of fat. I think everyone on a reducing diet should have some type of exercise program as Exercising your hips and buttocks will not cause fat to melt away over these areas. It will simply be part of your total exercise program to use cal-

You can tighten the muscles in that area and firm them just as you can tighten and firm any muscle. That means contracting and relaxing the muscle groups. For the seat you can do bumps and grinds. You also can get some benefit from standing up and voluntarily tightening your seat muscles and then relaxing them. Hold then muscles inhe tensed position for a few seconds each time. Repeat the exercise about 10 times and have at least two sessions a day of this. By working these muscles they will become firmer, but the fat still will be there unless you regulate your calorie

Luxury Liner Surprises City

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) -News that Daytona Beach may be the site for permanently berthing the luxury liner France as a tourist attraction has caught city officials by surprise.

It has also left them wondering how the big, deep-draft ship can fit into their shallow tidal estuary which has only 12 feet of water at high tide, and no direct access to the ocean.

"I think it would be a fantastic thing for the area if it can be accomplished," said James Hall, chairman of the city's port authority - which doesn't have a port to administer.

Photo Company Accused Announcement Of Making False Claims

WASHINGTON (UPI) - A company which promised earnings of up to $52,000 a year for people who bought franchises to sell film and other photographic services has signed an agreement not to use false claims to lure customers, the Federal Trade Commission announced Wednesday. Cited in a consent order were Firestone Photographs, Inc., Firestone Photo Co., and the president of the firms, Daniel Firestone, all of Columbus, Ohio.

The agency said the company claimed 'a franchise will earn between $5,200 and $52,000 or more per year" and the investor will get back his money within one

"Few, if any, of the ... franchises have earned $5,200 a year or more," the FTC said, let alone $52,000. And few, if any, of the people who bought into the company recovered their initial investments in one year, it said.

The FTC's Cleveland office, which handled the case, told UPI the company was

Shaw agreed, as long as the plan does

Shaw said he would refine the Democrats' proposal to split the largest voting precincts in two, for submission to the U.S. Justice Department, which under the federal Voting Rights Act must approve any alterations in local election arrangements.

The county also will be submitting to the Justice Department another proposal soon - this one, to scrap the oft-disputed use of paper ballots here in favor of a mechanical voting system.

Making good on a summer promise, the Lubbock County Commissioners Court voted unanimously Wednesday to seek bids next month on the purchase of such chanical election system could be available for local party primaries and city and school district elections this spring.

The Democratic Party used the punchcard devices of Computer Election Systems (CES) in primary voting last year. Wednesday, Madison Sowder, chairman of the Lubbock County Democratic Executive Committee, told commissioners he generally favors the punch-card plan over of a system, Sowder asked the commissioners court to consider redrawing some polling precincts.

He said precincts with more than 2,000 voters can become "unmanageable," because too many people may show up at once, creating long lines and discouraging some citizens from voting at all.

Also. Sowder later told The Avalanche-Journal, the Texas Election Code specifies that no polling precinct should contain fewer than 100 voters or more than 2.000 voters.

At first. Shaw was reluctant because he ran into such a "bureaucratic hassle" last year in trying to consolidate Lubbock's smallest polling precincts. One of the precincts has just one registered voter, and another has a mere two.

Those small precincts, Shaw said, were created by a "goof-up by the legislature," when state lawmakers cut district lines here for state representatives.

Shaw said he has tried to consolidate the small precincts with larger boxes, but the effort was unsuccessful. He said state and federal authorities demanded to

However, he and Sowder agreed that the splitting of large polling precincts does not present such complications.

"I believe the U.S. Attorney General's office will approve our reducing the num-ber of voters in any one precinct by dividing that precinct in two," Shaw said.
"This won't change any of the candidates' boundaries or put any voter in a new district for electing a state repre-sentative or other official."

Shaw said he would look at dividing the polling precincts with more than 2,000 voters if additional voting places can be

Ruling Delayed On Interconnect

Avaianche-Journal Staff

The Electric Utilities Board voted Wednesday to recommend to the city council that a decision about whether to interconnect Lubbock Power and Light (LP&) with another company be deferred for a "reasonable length of time" or two years, whichever comes first.

After lengthy discussion and the killing of a motion to recommend an interconnect for emergency power, the board suggested the delay until:

The federal government formulates a national energy plan;

-The pros and cons of a single contingency interconnect line versus a multi-line arrangement are resolved; -The city's financial status is determined; and, -The possibility of other power options are explored.

Based on Federal Power Commission projections, LP&L's generating capacity should be adequate until 1984. Because no more than two years would be needed to negotiate an interconnect contract and build the line for emergency power or four years to build a new generating plant, the board decided a decision on which route to take will not have to be made until 1979 at the latest holiday with a split personality, it's Halloween

Though it was the Christians who designated the Oct. 31 date Allhallow's Eve. or 'eve of the holy ones' day.' in prelude to their Nov. 1 All Saints' Day, it was earlier pagan peoples who gave the annual holiday the sinister meaning and traditions it

It was the Celts who first chose the date as their New Year's Eve and who originally intended it as a celebration of everything wicked, evil and dead, according to "The World Book Encyclopedia. They believed that paying homage to Samhain, their lord of death, allowed the souls of the dead to return to their earthly homes during that one evening only Also during their celebration, the Celts would gather around a community bonfire and offer as sacrifice their animals, their crops, and sometimes themselves. And wearing costumes made from the heads and skins of other animals, they would also tell one another's fortunes for

Later, this Halloween fortune-telling would involve baking a coin, a ring, and a thimble in a cake. The person who found the coin, it was believed, would become rich. The one who found the ring would soon marry. And the luckless one who got the thimble would be destined to remain

The celebration remained much the same after the Romans conquered the Celts around 43 A.D. The Romans did, however, add a ceremony honoring their goddess of fruit and trees and thus the association with apples and the custom of bobbing for them

Yet even after the Christians tried to change the meaning of Halloween, the Irish still paraded about in costume, begging for food. The Scots still marched with their torches, in hopes of driving

Dragons and doll houses, churches and chuck wagons, boats and bi-planes those are the kinds of imaginative creations that can result when you bring together a gaggle of kids, a mountain of scrap wood and lots of glue. The last two elements - loads of wood and glue - are all that anybody needs to stage a "gluein." a creative activity for groups of young people anywhere: schools, camps. day-care centers, town picnic, scout gettogethers, church outings or dozens of other places where youngsters gather.

Not long ago, the parent-teacher council of an elementary school in New Canaan. Connecticut, discovered that a "glue-in" was the perfect way to keep children happy and creatively involved all day long. They also found that "glueins" can teach young people some important lessons about the value of recycling materials. The experience turned out to be so successful that the New Canaan parents are passing it along for everyone

As a first step, families and teachers collected quantities of scrap wood and shavings from neighborhood lumber yards. Local mer hants vere happy to donate wood scraps from crates and packaging boxes which they pay to have carted away

A local Girl Scout troop and several of the parents supervised the younger children and helped get the event organized and underway by sorting the wood into piles of different sizes. An area some 80 feet in diameter was circled off with rope barriers and the huge mountain of wood scraps and shavings dumped in the cen-

Around the pile, a row of folding tables was opened and set up. One was labelled the "glazing table" after some parents discovered that adding food coloring to the glue produced a glaze that could 'paint" a shiny color finish on the wood paints Paper cups with glue paint were placed all along the special table

Encouraged to "use your imagination. the young people gleefully proceeded to choose wood pieces and glue them together into dozens of original, often fantastic shapes as well as more conventional boats and houses, animals and toys. # 'Instant Wedding' Chapel Snares Traveling Couples

OUTPOST: JUNCTION, Calif. (NEA) — It was George Bernard Shaw who observed that the world is full of "snares, traps, gins and pitfalls" for preserving the institution of marriage. He might have been thinking of Outpost Junction. There is not much here save an "instant wedding" chapel to ambush traveling couples.

The chapel sits in a snaggle of dry trees, on the edge of the Mojace Desert, hard by Interstate Highway 15. On a good day, a dozen couples wil stop. In the last year, 1,000 people have taken the plunge. "I don't know why we did it," says a recent victim named Dan Mayo. "We just saw the sign and, bingo, we were hitched."

Outpost Junction used to be a Pony Express stop on the way West to Los Angeles. In those days men and women had to plan their unions: get papers, pass tests, and wait the proper interims. Now, like Big Macs, California marriages can be drive-in activities. "Always Open," the sign reads, "No Appointments Necessar-

There are other places in the Americas where people can be wed in double time. Yet even in Nevada and Mexico there is some legal work to be done, and in most cases a visit to both a courthouse and chapel is necessary. Not here. Outpost Junction requires no footwork, no license, not even enthusiasm; just $25 for various fees.

Well, actually, there may be other costs as well. Rings can be purchased at the chapel for $19.95. If the bride wants a garter, that's another $5 plus tax. Also there are plastic flowers and wedding photograpsh for sale. Finally, for one more fee, the nuptials will be recorded on a handy spool of cassette tape:

Whatever the costs, the "California Quickie" is clearly the nation's easiest way to wedlock. It may also be the least known. Although state law has authorized hurry-up marriages for 100 years, new residents or non residents take advantage. Much of the Junction's business, in fact, is from people on their way to a Nevada marriage mill.

The California law is contained in paragraph 4213 of the state civil code. It allows unlicensed marziage in circumstances where couples say they have been living together for a period of time. As a bonus, paragraph 13 also allows the unions to take place in all but total secrecy; records of the events are not open to the

Donna and Julian Grela are happy the law does continue. They run the chapel and perform the marraiges here at Outpost Junction. As a sidelight they also run a church of their own creation: The Friends Fellowship of America. The Grelas are mail order ministers. The credentials give them authority to operate their marriage shop.

All things considered, the Grelas' shop is rather nice. They have a church building for larger marriages ("$10 extra will be charged for more than 10 guests"), and a smaller chapel-office in their home. Yard flowers are kept up. There is a rooster about for local color. If needed, a plastic water fountain can be activated.

The small chapel is the most often used. It has a February 14 contemporary decor. Paper valentines are on the walls. The altar is a wooden arch with a Pisa tendency. There is also a bulletin board full of wedding snapshots; one shot faeatures a couple "with her kids, his kids, their kid," and a smiling relative holding a mock shotgun.

The weddings need not be in the chapel or church. The Grelas are nothing if not accommodating. For an extra charge they have performed ceremonies on top of nearby Mount Baldy, and on an Indian blanket in the Mojave. "We do it their way," says Donna Grela, and if this includes a hillbilly band playing Bluegrass,

Few questions are asked, of course, Though couples are required to be of age, the Grelas seldom get personal. If the girl spends hours deciding in the car, the Grelas wait with non-committal patience. Some people never smile, some people fight, some people get sexy; we never interfere, it's none of our affair.

Without doubt, these conditions are ripe for abuse. Kids on larks "get married." but not really. Other cheaters, using false identification, wed again and again merely for the sex and good times of it. Still, the Grelas do not pass judgment. The Junction offers courtesy and understanding to virgins and old mam-

The weddings take 10 minutes or less. Some couples cheer when it's over. When Dan Mayo's ceremony was completed recently, his first words were: "Where's the head?" Ah matrimony. Ah, the quickie trap!" Occasionally even the Grelas wonder about the things they've wrought, in which case they point to a small printed poster over the chapel

South did not have an easy bid to make. The psychiatrists asked teachers to remember that suicidal youths frequently are grieving over a loss: loss of human contact, loss of love, loss of face, or loss

"Material things cannot compensate for this feeling of loss," they said. "Only a relationship with another human being

DENVER (AP) - With 2-to-4 feet of mostly man-made snow on the ground, the Loveland Basin ski area 55 miles west of Denver opened for the season today.

We have snow and we have skiers that want to ski," a spokeswoman for Loveland said Wednesday. Loveland will operate one chair lift to the top of its runs and one half way up the mountain, she said.

Most of Colorado's 26 ski resorts are lanning to open next month in time for the Thanksgiving weekend, the traditional beginning of the Rocky Mountain ski

Panel Sues Makers Of Aluminum Wire

that could mean millions of dollars in repairs to homes across the country the government has accused 26 manufacturers of aluminum wire of being responsible for a potential fire hazard in home

The suit, filed Wednesday in U.S. District Court by the Consumer Product Safety Commission, is the latest turn in a 5 year dispute over whether up to 2 million houses built before 1972 were wired in a way that posed a severe hazard.

The commission asked the court to order the aluminum companies to begin an immediate campaign to alert the public to the hazards and order a house by house inspection.

The agency said it had reports of multiple fire deaths in several states.

The alleged problem involves the way in which aluminum wire was used in switches, outlets and other junction points during the 1960s and early 1970s when there was a boom in housebuilding and a shortage of traditional copper wire.

The aluminum supposedly can oxidize as current passes through it, causing hot

The second annual "West Texas Sagebrush Burnin" Pum'kin Bustin" will be held Sunday to benefit the Texas Boys

The benefit will begin at noon at the Red Raider Club at 6205 Ave. A and continue until 2 a m. A $3 donation will be requested of all guests.

Refreshments will be served, area country and western bands will provide entertainment and those who wish can take our their frustrations by smacking pumpkins with an old guitar.

The commission estimated that it could cost as much as $1,000 per home to rewire completely with copper wiring. If switches only were replaced the cost might be $100 or $200 per home.

The industry changed its standards in 1971. The problem has since been corrected. The commission also has proposed standards for the safety of aluminum wiring.

The question of the pre-1972 houses is unresolved.

Mark Walker, a consultant for the Aluminum Association, said, "It is the belief of the industry that these reports have been blown out of proportion by publici-

There were problems reported with pre-1972 residential branch circuit installations which centered on heating at terminal connections. These were investigated by Underwriters Laboratories and found to be, for the most part, the result of misapplication of products (the use of a wrong device) or poor workmanship.'

Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp., previously sued the CPSC claiming that the agency used false and inaccurate information and asked the court to order the agency to make sure its future comments were accurate

In the case last March, a federal court in Delaware placed a gag on the commission and as a result the agency was forbidden from announcing Wednesday's suit. Officials held a closed briefing for members of Congress, and one, Rep. Toby Moffett, D-Conn., announced what happened.

Consumers who believe they may have aluminum wiring put in during the period in question have been advised by the agency to consult an electrician or to watch for "hot spots" around switch plates or other connections

James Earl Ray Still Hopes For New Trial

WARTBURG, Tenn. (AP) - His sights set on still another day in court, James Earl Ray was to go on trial today on a charge of escape - four months after his daring breakout from a rural East Ten-

Ray's new attorney, Mark Lane, said he plans to argue that Ray cannot be convicted of escape because he never received a fair trial in the slaying of civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr.

Judge Lee Asbury has not said yet whether he will allow Lane to pursue the argument. On Tuesday, Asbury allowed Lane to withdraw a motion filed by Ray's former attorney to dismiss the escape charge on grounds Ray was illegally imprisoned at the time of the break.

Lane called the motion premature, saying Ray's innocent plea to the charge of escaping from Brushy Mountain Penitentiary is to present that argument as the defense's case before a jury.

Asbury has set aside two days for the trial. George Buxton III, one of two Wartburg lawyers also serving as Ray's attorneys, said he hopes the jury selection can be completed today

Security was tight around the Morgan County Vocational School, about 10 miles from the prison. The trial is being held in a classroom at the school while the county courthouse is being renovated.

Prison guards with shotguns pointed in the air stood at school's four corners and

The annual business meeting of the Texas Business Education Association is scheduled for noon Friday in K-Bob's Steak House at 4900 34th St.

Her topic will be "Reality is . . . an honest answer for a business graduate." Miss Kolesar received her BBA and master of business education degrees from North Texas State University.

She has received various awards for her work in business education and is the author of numerous business publications. The association is made up of business

Ray's attorney, Mark Lane, said an acquittal on the escape charge would set the stage for a new trial in Dr. King's death, which has been Ray's unfulfilled dream the past eight years.

"The heart of our approach is to win a new trial on the murder charge for Ray," Lane said. "I am convinced that if Ray is tried by a jury for the murder of Dr. King, he will be acquitted.'

Lane said he will attempt to introduce evidence that Ray was tortured, threatened and coerced by Memphis authorities, the FBI and Percy Foreman, one of Ray's former attorneys, into pleading guilty to King's murder.

In exchange for a 99-year sentence rather than the death penalty, Ray forwent a lenghty trial in 1969 and pleaded guilty to killing King on April 4, 1968. He failed in trying to withdraw the plea a week later and has denied killing King ever since. Ray and six other inmates used a crude pipe ladder to scale the prison's 10-foothigh rear wall last June 10 and flee into the mountainous woods surrounding the fortress. All seven were recaptured within the next four days, Ray in 541/2 hours after being hunted down by two bloodhounds and their handler.

The other six inmates pleaded guilty to the escape last month and each was given an additional year in prison. Ray, 49, could be sentenced to an additional five years if convicted.

Ray fired Jack Kershaw, his attorney since last January, earlier this week. Lane, Buxton and Kenneth Krushenski then became the newest in a long list of attorneys that have represented him. Lane said Ray dismissed Kershaw because Kershaw had tried to persuade Ray to plead guilty to the escape charge. He said Ray also believed Kershaw was marketing T-shirts with Ray's picture printed on them and had received between $15,-000 and $20,000 for an interview with Ray in Playboy magazine.

But the requirement angered the Associated General Contractors, a national trade association which represents about 8,000 general contractors across the coun-

Both sides agree that the case is likely to wind up in the Supreme Court. And that would mean it could take several months before a final judgment on the program's constitutionality.

Meanwhile, the government is likely to be blocked from awarding the construction money, a least in some parts of the Congress had intended the program as swift medicine for the economically depressed construction industry. The Commerce Department, which is in charge of passing out the money, was supposed to make sure all of the contracts were awarded and construction had started by the end of December.

'We're not in any way trying to get the program shut down," Ellis asserted. 'We're for it; we lobbied for it."

ceedings could delay the construction projects, which include such things as sewer systems and public buildings.

"Our contention is that this is an illegal requirement," Ellis said. "It's much more than affirmative action. This is essentially a racial quota, and it means that the nonminority segment of the construc-tion industry is precluded from competing for 10 percent of the work."

On the other side, Justice Department lawyers note that blacks and other racial minorities make up 17 percent of the U.S. population, yet minority-owned construction firms account for barely more than 1 percent of gross receipts in the industry.

The law "does not require a contractor to meet the 10 percent goal where it is in fact unattainable," government lawyers have said. "It merely requires that he burden on the general contractor to find minority-owned firms, help them financially, waive bonding requirements and take other steps which could leave the general contractor in legal and financial trouble if the minority-owned firm proves unable to complete the work.

Federal judges in Los Angeles and Butte, Mont., have granted the association's request for temporary orders blocking the government from carrying out the program until the constitutional issue is resolved.

The federal court in Pittsburgh denied the same request, and the association has appealed that ruling to the U.S. Circuit Court in Philadelphia.

Ellis said association members probably believe that blacks should get into the industry in much the same way the established firms got their start.

Although the association is focusing its attack on the federal law, a Massachusetts contracting firm has brought a similar suit challenging the affirmative action rules of the Massachusetts Bay Transit. Authority. That rule requires that 30 percent of the construction money must go to minority owned firms. to minority-owned firms.

Gas Producer Hits Coal Plan

ATLANTA (AP) - The federal government must realize that its goals for the use of coal are "overly ambitious." the new chairman of the American Gas Association said Wednesday

Harvey A Proctor told the closing session of the association's annual meeting that reasonable incentives must be provided by the government if the natural gas industry is to continue to meet the nation's energy needs.

"I am hopeful that such incentives may be forthcoming when the Carter administration perceives that its goals for the use of coal are overly ambitious" due to limitations of the Clean Air Act and the threat of labor troubles in the coal fields. Proctor said

Proctor, who also is chairman of the Southern California Gas Co. of Los Angeles, said the gas industry in the United States is optimistic because of the promise of such supplemental sources as coal gasification, liquified natural gas and Alaskan gas supplies.

Proctor said there never has been a creater need for cooperative effort between all segments of the gas industry.

system expansion, were approved, but plans for the interconnect were dropped when construction costs for the Holly Avenue addition spiraled

Interest in the interconnect proposal was revived by an FPC report recommending a tie-in and was boosted further by an LP&L blackout in August.

Board members Wednesday could not agree on any aspect of the linkup proposal, including whether there should be one, the part it would play in LP&L's future and the extent of service. Opinions ranged from wanting an inter-connect immediately to prevent higher construction costs later because of inflation, to wanting a delay because a linkup could hurt I P&I. Board Chairman George Meenaghan questioned whether the interconnect would "really be the beginning of the end

"I think each of us has to answer that on our own," he said. But board members never re-addressed the question

If an interconnect is built later, board members indicated, a lease/purchase agreement that also includes freed money from the current bond program and accumulated cash may be the best financial source

Finance Director Sterling Miller told board members that would be possible, although a bond sale would be the "most desirable" method.

The city also could issue certificates of obligation with no bond election, he said, but the "present council indicates no desire for the other alternatives if there is no vote of the people.

The board's hesitation in endorsing the nterconnect is a marked reversal of earlier sentiments

After the Aug. 16 blackout, board members came out strongly in favor of the tiein. And at the board's meeting last month, Meenaghan noted that the group already has recommended that the city begin interconnect negotiations with Southwestern Public Service Co. (SWPS), which probably is the only company with which LP&L could link.

Black Advances As Republican

By MARY ELLEN HASKETT

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UPI) - Aris Allen is a doctor with conservative political opinions. No news there. What's different is that he also is the nation's only black Republican state chairman.

Thirty years ago, after growing up in the South and moving North, Allen came to the conclusion that his chances in the Democratic Party were limited by his race and that the GOP offered him more opportunity.

On Sept. 18, Allen, 66, was unanimously elected chairman of the Republican party of Maryland. There have been black GOP state chairmen before, but in recent years only the Virgin Islands had black party chiefs.

Allen, whose chairmanship automatically gave him membership on the Republican National Committee, made his presence known quickly at the RNC's recent New Orleans meeting. His maiden speech was in opposition to the Carter administration's Panama Canal treaties. for which he received a round of hearty

But Allen recalls a different time. He left his hometown of San Antonio at 15 to move north because racial discrimination was stifling him.

When I got north, it was better, in a relative sense," Allen said.

There were times where I felt bitter. but I felt that exhibiting the bitterness would not help further my goals," he said. "You have to be strong enough and big enough not to be biased in your actions by such personal feelings as bitterness and prejudices."

Allen, a member of the Maryland House of Delegates from 1966 to 1974, has been a delegate to several national GOP conventions.

"It was pleasantly surprising when I was running for office - there was not a single time I can remember that race was an issue," he said. "This has pleased me. "People have accepted me for what I

But in Chicago of the 1930s, Allen had to struggle to find a job, especially during the depression. He was a janitor in an apartment house, a cafeteria busboy, then chauffeur to the cafeteria manager. In 1933, he got a job at a Walgreen's drugstore and began the climb to success. He started night school and took a civil service examination. The federal government hired him in Washington as an elevator operator, then as a member of the special federal police force. That helped him through high school and Howard University.

"I've had a hectic past," Allen said.

"I've been able to accomplish things, but I've done it the difficult way. I wouldn't want to go through it again. "But at the time I said, 'By inx, I'm going to do it and I'm willing to pay the

President Still Gets Baggage

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter no longer hops off airplanes hauling a garment bag, but he demonstrated during his recent Western swing that

When Carter's limousine pulled up at the Century Plaza Hotel in Los Angeles, where he was to spend the night, the President headed straight for the vehicle's trunk and removed not only a garment bag, but also a small black suitcase.

campaign habits die hard.

The White House naval aide made a serious attempt to unburden his boss, but Carter was adamant about serving as his own bellman.

During last year's campaign, Carter and his garment bag sometimes seemed inseperable, to the point where a Washington society columnist suggested that if the American people wanted a bellhop in the Oval Office, they would elect one.

Carter subsequently laid down the burdens of baggage for the larger ones of his new office. Now he customarily carries nothing larger than a thin briefcase, if

Departing for a recent weekend visit to Camp David, Md., however, Amy Carter put her father back in the baggage handling business. Emerging from the White House with a hatbox in hand, Amy intercepted her father near the ramp of a waiting helicopter and thrust the luggage

While the President stood on the lawn, looking bemused, Amy raced off toward some White House sedans parked 50 yards away. Her Secret Service bodyguards gave pursuit.

In a couple of minutes, Amy returned from one of the cars carrying her violin. Practice sessions obviously are a part of her Camp David routine.

During Carter's flight from Denver to Los Angeles last weekend, aides canvassed reporters aboard Air Force One for jokes or one-liners the President might consider using in addressing an evening fund-raising dinner for the Democratic National Committee.

One suggestion was adopted. Courtesy of a newsman, Carter was able to tell his audience about efforts to involve brother

Billy in the affairs of government.
"I had it all arranged," the President reported. "I was going to reorganize and put the CIA and the FBI together. But Billy said he wouldn't head up any agency that he couldn't spell ..

Carter's most recent reorganization plan would create a new Agency for International Communications to replace the U.S. Information Agency and also assume some cultural-educational exchange activities now handled by the State Department.

Some USIA employes have been grumbling that their prospective new agency would be CIA spelled backwards.

In his Los Angeles talk, Carter said he was hopeful the dinner would "raise enough money to have my brother Billy come out and speak next year." After the laughter subsided, the President added, "Billy brings me a lot of good publicity, as you well know.

Carter also poked fun at California Gov. Edmund G. (Jerry) Brown, Jr., seen by some at the White House as Carter's most formidable potential Democratic challenger in 1980.

The President said he had received "a personal handwritten letter" from Brown inviting him to the $1,000-a-plate

"I decided to come out here anyway," Carter concluded.

Sears Recalls Hand, Foot Whirlpools

CHICAGO (AP) - Some 2,100 hand and foot whirlpool baths sold by Sears, Roebuck and Co. since Sept. 15 have been recalled because of a potential electrical-shock hazard.

The company announced the recall this

It said the manufacturer, Dazey Products Co. of Industrial Airport in Kansas City, Kan., discovered during routine testing that a crack may develop in the plastic motor housing, allowing water to make contact with the motor.

The models, retailing for about $27 in the Sears catalog and retail outlets throughout the United States, were manufactured from Sept. 13 through Sept. 30 this year. The compact whirlpool baths are for elbows, hands and feet.

Owners were advised to check the date code on the plastic motor housing of the unit above the electrical cord exit. The affected units are indentified by these date codes: C97, D97, E97, C977, D977 or E977. The model number, located on a metal plate on the front of the motor housing, is 638.2262.

All other Sears compact and full-size whiripool baths, including model number 638.2262 with different date codes than those listed, are approved for sale and

Sears said owners of the affected models should discontinue use at once and contact their nearest Sears outlet for rement or refund.

City Growth Threatens Hike Trails

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Urban development threatens the 1,000-mile Appalachian Trail and makes hiking dengerous, Rep. David F. Emery, R-Maine,

"Urban development along the eastern seaboard has grown to the point where the Appaiachian Trail is threatened by encroaching development and to the point where there is justifiable concern for the hikers who use this trail and others like it throughout the East," Emery said this week

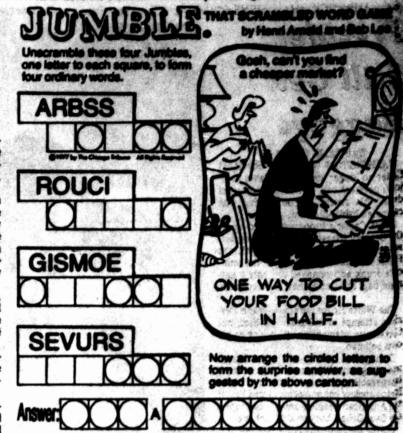

In a release from his Washington office, Emery said the condition of the trail makes it necessary to approve the Appalachian Trail Amendments to the National Trails Act.

The amendments would create a 35 member advisory council for each of the National Trails and make it easier to acquire land as right-of-ways for the trails.

The package would allow the U.S. Forest Service to acquire 125 acres of land for each mile of the Appalachian Trail and would require them to report on the acquisition plans to Congress within two

"This legislation is vital if the Forest Service is to be able to adequately protect the trail and acquire the necessary right-of-way through this fast-growing area of our country," Emery said.

The Appalachian Trail runs from Mount Katadin in Baxter State Park through 208 miles of Maine and down the East Coast to Georgia.

Italian Bridge Ace Raps U.S. Charges

By EDWARD MAGRI

ROME (AP) - Italian bridge champion Benito Bianchi charged today that the World Bridge Federation's threat to suspend Italy from international competition because of a cheating scandal in which he was involved is "another American trick" to bar the Italians from the world title they have won so many times.

'The Italians annoy the Americans, and for the past 15 years they have been building up a defamatory campaign against us," said the two-time world champion. "They have a voting majority in the world federation, but numbers make strength, not right.

The United States has accused Italian teams twice before of cheating in world championship play.

The world federation announced Wednesday in Manila that the Italian federation, whose teams have won 16 of the past 20 world championships, will be suspended on March 15 because it has not made a thorough investigation of charges that Bianchi and Pietro Forquet used cigarettes to cheat during the world champi-

That charge was dropped for lack of evidence, but Burgay was disciplined for wiretapping and talking with the press and the

Pianist Retains Humor At 90

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI) - "Gentlemen, I must warn you about something terrible," said Arthur Rubinstein, a fat cigar clutched in his right hand.

'I'm both blind and a little bit deaf, vou know. Little bit? Well, I exaggerate. I'm quite deaf."

The distinguished pianist is firm about his refusal to perform again in public. But he came to Tel Aviv to attend a concert for the 20th anniversary of the Israel Philharmonic Orchestra's concert

"Am I going to play?" he said, repeating a woman's question. "I can't play any more. I can't see you. I feel you are beautiful, but I can't see you, so what about the keyboard?"

Although he posed at the piano for photographers on his 90th birthday Jan. 28, Rubinstein last played in public at a London benefit performance in 1976.

Who is today Arthur Rubinstein?" he asked, chatting with reporters at a beachfront hotel. By now the cigar was lit, and he put it unerringly to his lips.

He is a fellow who is a candidate for a not-I-hope-too-soon death, you know, because at 90 you can't expect a new lifetime or something. But otherwise a man full of life, full of

There are too many Frenchmen there, that I must admit. But otherwise it's a very, very pleasant place to live in," and not too far from children and grandchildren who live in the United States.

As for today's pianists, he says, "Look here. I will tell you something - I do not accept a general appreciation of what are the young pianists ... we are still artists and not a mass of soldiers, you know, playing the piano."

Which of them will take his place as the Rubinstein wore a natty, safari-style white linen suit for the press conference and a white dinner jacket for the concert, where the crowd greeted his entrance with a cheering, standing ovation.

Firm To Use Cosmetics Computer

By LeROY POPE

NEW YORK (UPI) - A leading cosmetics manufacturer is betting $5 million that women will enjoy operating a computer to help beautify themselves. This could bring about a revolution in cosmetics marketing - and in the $3.3 billion-a-year point-of-purchase advertising and marketing industry.

Helena Rubinstein, Inc., has put 300 computerized cosmetics display stands costing $5,000 each in leading stores in the past two months and expects to have 1,000 installed by mid-1978.

The $5,000 figure includes the actual price of the computerized cosmetics selection and sales device plus development costs.

The point-of-purchase displays were developed by Advertising Displays Co. of Englewood Cliffs, N.J., headed by Harold Goldring, with the help of a cosmetics consulting team Robert Grayson and his wife Suzanne Helena Rubinstein will retain ownership of the compact counter

Los Angeles Honors Five-Star General

LOS ANGELES (AP) - General Omar N. Bradley, the nation's only living fivestar general, has been given the status of 'honorary citizen" of Los Angeles County just three weeks before his planned

lier, citizen and patriot and has devoted his life to this nation and to the army of the United States," said county Supervior Kenneth Hahn in presenting the scroll Tuesday to the 84-year-old general, a Los Angeles resident for the past 10

The California National Guard has organized "California's Official Farewell Salute" to Gen. Bradley and his wife, to be held Thursday at the Armed Forces Reserve Center in Los Alamitos. The famed World War II leader was to be presented with California's Medal of Valor, the state's highest-ranked decoration

At a time when the knowledgeable salesperson is a vanishing breed, the display units are expected to provide on the spot expertise to guide a customer through the confusion of cosmetics purchase - always a problem because of the profusion of products and difficulty of color selection.

She will need only feed into the little computer in the display information about her coloring and her skin condi-

It will print out on a display board recommendations as to what cosmetic products to buy and in what coordinated colors and shades.

Advertising Display's Goldring believes the Rubinstein computerized display will be a tremendous success and that this will lead to the use of point-of-purchase minicomputers to be operated by customers in numerous other retail opera-

He does not expect the minicomputer to replace the salesperson altogether, leaving only cashiers and security guards, but he says computerized display and merchandise selection programs can bring more or less instantaneous expertise into many areas where it is much needed.

Liquor and wine stores are a good example. Goldring said. The proprietor of a neighborhood specialty shop may be a reliable source of advice but the usual clerk knows little, especially in larger outlets. Printed booklets and brochures take too long to look things up in and are too full of the vintner's sales talk. On the otherhand, a minicomputer could tell a cus tomer in seconds what wines to buy or how to make an unfamiliar cocktail,

Paint stores, home decorating supply stores, photographic equipment dealers, hi-fi music and record dealers, stores that sell fancy spices and other cooking aids and even automobile dealers and automobile parts and accessories stores arefuture prospects for the minicompuer ap proach to point-of-purchase marketing.

The counter-top computer should make: shopping simpler for the customer — and through data retrieval give manufacturers a better idea of who their customers are, and what they want.

Birds Win Stay Of Execution

SAN PASQUAL, Calif. (AP) - Ten tiny Tahitian blue lories don't know it, but they've won a 30-day stay of execution.

The rare birds, valued by collectors at $5,000 each, were confiscated by U.S. Customs agents after they were smuggled into the United States. A day later, on Oct. 8, they were sent temporarily to the San Diego Wild Animal Park.

But federal regulations require that the birds be put to death or returned immediately to prevent spread of any possible disease. Bird experts have petitioned that they be allowed to stay, and the U.S. Department of Justice wants the birds as evidence in prosecuting two unidentified smuggling suspects.

Dr. James Dolan, curator of the park owned by the San Diego Zoo, said he was notified this week that the lories will be put in quarantine at a private station in Los Angeles. "We have no idea what will happen to the birds after the 30-day quarantine," Dolan said. "We can only hope they will be allowed to return to the park.'

Mrs. Abrahams said when her son, his British-born wife and their 10-week-old son were arrested in La Paz, the American consul there told them only "tough luck." The consul waited to seek consular access, she said, stating that "since Bruce would be in for twenty years, there was no great rush to see him. A few days more or less won't matter.

Handicapped Students Learning Job Skills

Avalanche-Journal Staff

Handicapped students are learning how to be hotel maids, garment workers and assistant chefs under a new vocational program offered by the Lubbock Independent School District.

And the youngsters, attending Lubbock's Ballenger School for the trainable mentally retarded, aren't waiting until graduation to apply their job skills.

They're making everything from shoebags to weekly lunches for Ballenger faculty and patrons, helping out more with family chores - and volunteering their work at a local nursing home and in other community service projects.

Of course, the final test will come when the students are ready to enter the job market. Even though the Vocational Education for the Handicapped (VEH) program is just a few months old, teachers are confident their pupils will do well in the employment world.

"As long as they are assigned to a position for which they've been trained, our students will be able to compete with other workers." said Pam Steen, who heads up the program's food service unit.

"In fact, I find that our kids are much more conscientious about doing a job right and following it through to the end than 'normal' students are." she said.

The new vocational training program. open to Ballenger students 14 and older. is divided into three units.

Mrs. Steen's component teaches students about the preparation, handling and serving of foods. After completion of the course, which involves experience in a model commercial kitchen now being installed at Ballenger, youngsters can be qualified as salad makers, dishwashers, assistant chefs and other food service em-

Currently, students are doing practice exercises at the school and taking field trips to various local food service establishments, Mrs. Steen said. When Ballenger's training kitchen begins operation in the next few weeks, the class hopes to offer weekly lunches at the school for teachers and visitors.

Shirley Castle is in charge of the program's general housekeeping unit. which provides training in laundry, ironing, vacuuming and floor care, and related clean-

She hopes to place her graduates in commercial and residential housekeeping jobs, as maids and custodians, for example, in private homes, hotels, motels

Mary Langford teaches the clothing services component, where students learn embroidery and other commercial sewing skills

Already, her youngsters are at work making aprons - for their classmates in the food service unit - and such products as appliance covers, coasters, shoebags, placemats and napkins.

Ballenger principal Tommy Herring said persons who want to order items from the clothing services class should call the school at 747-3381.

Each class meets for two hours a day, as part of the regular curriculum at Ballenger. By the time they are ready to graduate from Ballenger, most students will have completed all three courses of study and be trained for employment in several different areas, teachers said.

Prior to graduation, many students will be given experience in summer and afterschool jobs

Perhaps the most important aspect of the program is to give these kids some self-confidence, to develop their self-concept," Herring said.

This is especially important for handicapped students," added Mrs. Steen. 'They've met with failure so many times in their lives already that it's a big temptation for them to throw up their hands and say, 'I can't do it.'

That's why the teachers must give each student individual attention, and lead him through a series of tasks that he can manage, in developing job skills, Herring

"And the students get a big boost of self-confidence just by becoming contributing members of their family by helping out around the house," he said.

The 50 Ballenger students in the program have formed a chapter of Future Homemakers of America (FHA). Through the chapter, the students have organized a Halloween party for the school system's Early Childhood class, and are making plans to do decorating and other services for residents of Edwards' Rest Home

Herring said the project is Lubbock's first vocational training program for the handicapped — and one of the leading efforts in Texas.

Herring said the new program is sponsored by the Lubbock school district with federal monies channeled through the Texas Education Agency. The Texas Rehabilitation Commission also contributed funds toward the capital investment of the project, he said.

Students Score Low On Reading Exams

CHICAGO (UPI) - The reading level of Chicago elementary school students still averages two grade levels below the national norm although it improved slightly during the past school year.

Figures released by the Board of Education also showed 30 percent of high school freshmen and 40 percent of eighth graders failed a minimum proficiency examination.

The exam is designed to test the students' abilities to perform such basic tasks as reading aspirin bottles and want ads, computing sales tax on purchases and understanding paycheck deductions

After another little hop, the 93-ton craft

Prince Charles, who had met Haise and Fullerton during his visit to Houston, 'was a little tense" when the craft bounced on landing, said NASA official Stan Miller, who watched the landing with the prince. "But he's a pilot, and I think he understands those things.

Haise, who piloted two of the other test flights, said Wednesday's bumpy landing made the test "somewhat of a personal want to do the right thing, and in this case, the right thing was to put it down right on the line." "Overall, however," Haise added, "I'm very happy beause we got the vehicle on the ground safely." Fullerton blamed the landing problem on the fact that "our gliding performance was better than expected" and the shuttle was "too hot" - coming in too fast as it approached touchdown. Fullerton said the bouncing was "no-

Fullerton, Haise and testing project manager Donald Slayton termed the test

So the next time a shuttle files on its own — in 1979 — it will be boosted like a rocket into space bearing two astronauts who will orbit the Earth, then pilot the craft back down to an airplace-like landing here.

The shuttle flown Wednesday now will be sent to the Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala., where it will be tested for vibration and stability in preparation for vertical launch.

An identical craft now being assembled in Palmdale, Calif., will actually be the first to enter space in the 1979 flight. By the 1980s, space shuttles will be well into their duties—carrying carse and men in-their duties — carrying cargo and men in to orbit and back in reusable craft.

by Whipple and Borth Carter's Campaign Financing Revision Has Trouble In House

of President Carter's plan for changing the election laws is in trouble in the House where a proposal for public financing of congressional races has been laid aside until next year. Rep. Frank Thompson, D-N.J., withdrew the public financing proposal this week after the bill was broadened to where its supporters believed it would cost too much for Congress to go along

The strategy aimed at killing the measure was played out in the House Administration Committee.

An amendment sponsored by Rep. Mendel J. Davis. D-S.C., was approved to expand public financing to cover House election campaigns.

The move, which seven Democrats supported in a 15-10 vote, was seen by Thompson as an indication they wanted to delay the matter.

The legislation already had become such a partisan issue that House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill said he knew of only one Republican who would vote for the bill if it came to the floor.

The committee also voted to strike membership in a "major" political party from among the qualifications needed by a candidate to qualify for federal matching funds. A "major" party was defined in draft legislation as one which received 25 per cent of the vote in the previous el-

Mats, Snyder Set Survival Battle

Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff Louis Kelley sat behind his desk spouting out one-liners like he was born with a silver cliche in his mouth.

"There's no doubt about it, " Kelley said. "This is a must win game for us. "Their record surprises me. They have a lot better team than that.

"They probably have the most physical team in the District.

After Wednesday's practice, it was apparent that the leg was improved, but Texas Tech head coach Steve Sloan still listed Allison as "real doubtful" for Saturday's game versus

"I think I can play some against Texas, but I don't know how effective I could be, and 'effective' is the key word. I don't want to play unless I'm ready to play. It wouldn't be good for the team if I couldn't execute things properly.

Allison doesn't have to be 100 per cent to play, but, as Sloan indicated, the Tech staff won't use him if there is great dansuffered a cracked fibula against Texas A

The Red Raiders have four games after the Texas contest and, with just one loss now, are in solid contention for a bowl. In other words, there is the whole season to worry about, not just the Texas game.

Allison said, "You have to be realistic

Texas real badly - it just makes me sick to have to prepare for them under these conditions - but we've still got the whole season to think of."

As matters stand now, sophomore Mark Johnson will be the starting quarterback versus Texas, while junior Tres Adami is slated to see some action. Johnson has been troubled by a bruised thigh, but Sloan said Wednesday that "he looks 100 per cent to me and has done well the

Penalties Up, But Not By Much

By MICKEY HERSKOWITZ

And STEVE PERKINS

-Luther Edwards, Pensacola, Fla.

A. Through the first four weeks of the season, officials called 801 penalties for 6,953 yards. That compares to the 1976 four-game total of 750 penalties for 6,474. That's an increase of fewer than one penalty a game, but you will note the 51 additional penalties were for nearly 500 more yards. That's where the impression came from. Officials are calling more holding penalties, to make up for the ruling that denies defensive linemen use of the head slap. Q. I thought the George Atkinson case, which included a $1500 fine, would have put a stop to violent play in the NFL. But almost every game I see an incident of a leg hit, or a dirty elbow to the face or the back of a head. Do you know if this has been noticed by league officials, and what, if anything, they plan to do

-H.G. Fleming, Chicago

A. Commissioner Pete Rozelle recently sent around a league directive on the subject, which included the following warning Accordingly, all players, coaches and clubs, are reminded that unnecessary violence outside the rules of the game will be cause for serious League discipline, up to and including multi-game suspension, whether or not it is detected

HOT LINE believes that the cheap (and highly dangerous) shots will not cease until the commissioner sets a player down for two or three Sundays in a row. (It is standard procedure, by the way, in international soccer for a game ejection to include an automatic one-game suspension.) Only when coaches are deprived of one of their star players will they stop chuckling, or even bragging, about this type of play. An example in your town was the late hit to the head by Waymond Bryant on Joe Namath in the recent Monday night game.

Q. How many people apply for NFL officials' jobs every year, and what are the qualifications?

-Robert Weisler, St. Louis

A. Any applicant, and there are about 800 every year, must have at least 10

Drucker Favors Three Refs For Pro Games

NEW YORK (AP) - Norm Drucker, the National Basketball Association's new supervisor of officials, says he favors using three-man crews to referee NBA games.

"The way the game of professional basketball has changed, it really behooves the league to take a hard look at it this year," Drucker said of the switch from two referees a game to three, something a few college conferences will be experimenting with this season but which has never been tried by the NBA.

"The game has speeded itself up, but the referees haven't kept pace. Football went from two or three officials to six. Baseball started with two, then went to three, now has four and in the World Series has six. Basketball is getting to that "I like three-man crews from a technical standpoint," Drucker added in an interview at NBA headquarters here. "It's easier to cover the complete floor There would be other problems - personalities and things of that nature - but I think over-all, for getting the best job done, three referees would help.'

Drucker, who joined the NBA as a referee a quarter-century ago and last month succeeded the retired John Nucatola as supervisor of officials, says he also favors some sort of no foul-out rule.

"The no foul-out rule in the ABA was my idea," said Drucker, who refereed pervisor of officials part of that time - before rejoining the NBA last year.

Under the present NBA rule, a player must leave the game after committing his sixth personal foul. In the ABA, if a player committed six fouls he was permitted to remain in the game, but after each subsequent foul he committed, the other team received possession of the ball as well as its free throws.

"I think that penalty is too severe," said Drucker. "That could mean a five or six-point play, and not too many coaches are going to keep a player in under

"There's a school that thinks if a player is that poor and fouls that much, he should be penalized. I really don't think so. I think whether he plays or not should be a coach's decision. It's like saying if a shortstop makes four errors, he has to leave the game. If he's making four errors, he's hurting his team, and it's the manager's problem.

One thing Drucker does not favor is the ABA's three-point goal, where a player got three points for a shot made from beyond 25 feet.

'The ABA did certain things for show business,' observed Drucker. "I don't think the NBA really needs it. It's a gimmick, that's all. Why should that be worth three points, and if some guy drives through and makes a layup with people handing all over him and that's only worth two?'

Drucker explained that the job of supervisor of officials consists of administrative and supervisory duties.

"The administrative end involves answering letters, making intelligent pairings of officials, handling the four million forms that go with technical fines - a

"The supervisory part is where I attempt to raise the level of officiating in the league. That's one of the objectives of the league - to get the best possible people and to make sure that the people we have do the job professionally on and To help him, Drucker has a full-time assistant plus four scouts. "We see nearly every ballgame, and those we don't we get films on," he said. "We evaluate referees, and based on what we've seen we help to improve them. We have personal conferences — all part of a continuing evaluation process. Drucker says he looks for two things above all else in evaluating the referees in the NBA, or those who want to join. "One is good judgment — that's a high priority," he said. "The other is the referee's alertness and reaction to changing situations. Without those two ingredients, you just can't be a good professional referee.'

HUSTLING FOR VICTORY - Detroit's Marvin Barnes dribbles past Golden State's E. C. Coleman in second quarter Wednesday night. Barnes' 19 rebounds and teammate Bob Lanier's 25 points led Pistons to 123-107 win. Lanier is in background. (AP

How's this for balance — the National Basketball Association season is only eight days old, and there's just one undefeated team left.

What's more, every team except one has at least one victory.

The defending champion Portland Trail Blazers fell from the unbeaten list Wednesday night, dropping a 111-108 decision to the Nuggets at Denver. That leaves Phoenix as the only club in the 22-team league with an unblemished record. The Suns were idle Wednesday and do not play again until Friday night, when they put their 3-0 mark on the line against the Jazz in New Orleans. The New Jersey Nets, meanwhile, dropped to 0-4 by bowing to the Atlanta Hawks 113-110 in overtime.

In other NBA games Wednesday night the Detroit Pistons defeated the Golden State Warriors 123-107, the New Orleans Jazz beat the New York Knicks 123-106 and the Seattle SuperSonics topped the Buffalo Braves 97-92.

Nuggets 111, Blazers 108

Denver took a 34-22 first-quarter lead by scoring 19 in a row but saw Portland chip away at the lead and finally go ahead in the fourth quarter. But Denver came on again, going ahead to stay on a jumper by Dan Issel with 1:57 left.

Rice Favored In 11-Team Harrier Meet

GEORGETOWN (Special)— Rice will be the favored team today when the Texas Invitational Cross-Country Meet unreels here today at 4 p.m.

Eleven teams, including Texas Tech, Norris Division. Texas, TCU, Rice, Texas A&M and Baylor, will compete over 10,000 meters -about six miles. The distance is the same as will be used in the NCAA and Southwest Conference meets.

Tech will run the unit which won its invitational last week. Tech will have senior Marc Johnson, juniors Tony Lozano and Ricky McCormick, sophomores Greg Lautenslager, Randy Yates, and freshmen Robert Wilson and Richard Postma.

"We really ran good last Saturday (in beating West Texas State)," said Tech track coach Corky Oglesby. "It was the best we've run. And, I got to looking back, and Lautenslager's time (25:01 for five miles) is a second faster than Terrell Pendleton did in getting second in the SWC meet for us last year over the same course."
Lautenslager finished third last week in individual competition.

"What were the penalties in the first period, 6-1 against us?" he said. "That tells the story right there. It's hard to get

Elsewhere in the NHL, the Montreal Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafe played to a 2-2 tie; the Washington Cap tals defeated the Atlanta Flames 6-2; the Philadelphia Flyers and Chicago Black Hawks fought to a 2-2 deadlock; the Detroit Red Wings downed the Pittsburgh Penguins 4-2; the New York Rangers stopped the St. Louis Blues 6-2 and the New York Islanders and Los Angeles Kings tied 2-2.

Tim Young and Pirus scored first-period goals and Glen Sharpley added the clincher on a breakaway in the third period as the North Stars and goalie Pete Lo-Presti blanked the Bruins for their first victory of season after six losses.

The game ended in a seige of penalties. Boston's Terry O'Reilly was ejected for slapping his stick at referee Denis Morel after a double-minor call at 14:54.

CBS Likes Early Cotton Bowl: UT Vs. Irish

over the networks' new contracts with the National Football League seems to have resulted in one clear winner . . . the

The league will realize an estimated $656 million over the length of the four-year agreement which starts next season. That's roughly twice as much as it got over the last four

All things included, ABC will pay about $240 million, CBS about $216 million and NBC about $200 million. Each NFL club will get at least $5 million a year.

CBS retains the National Conference package, NBC the American Conference and ABC the Monday night games. Everyone gets more games for their money since the NFL expands from 14 to 16 regular season games next season and both CBS and NBC get an extra playoff game each.

The thorny issues of who gets the extra prime time games and ABC's desire to get into the Super Bowl rotation were resolved by a compromise. Orginally the NFL was offering two of the four Super Bowls in the new contract as a bonus to whichever network picked up the new prime time package, consisting of four to six games per season to be shown Tuesday, Thursday or Sunday nights.

But ABC decided it was more important to protect its exclusive rights to prime time NFL games than to pick up a Super Bowl or two. So CBS and NBC will continue to rotate the Super Bowl with ABC getting the extra night games.

Notre Dame's big victory over Southern California last Saturday has projected the Irish into the post-season bowl picture in a big way. And the early speculation has Notre Dame meeting No. 1 ranked Texas in the Cotton Bowl on CBS.

Sounds like a dream pairing. The nation's top-ranked club against the resurgent Irish who could theoretically wind up on top themselves.

Golf Tournament

It would also be sweet revenge for CBS. Last year, amid cries of foul play and rumors of extra inducements. ABC lured then top-ranked Pitt into the Sugar Bowl against Southeast Conference champ Georgia. This year CBS has a good shot at stealing the show because the Southwest Conference champ, which could be Texas, is committed to the Cotton Bowl. And Texas is the only major power still undefeated, a challenge the Irish would be hard pressed to ig-

Of course the whole picture could change if either Texas or Notre Dame stumbles en route to their rumored Jan. 2

ABC used Frank Broyles as its commentator for Saturday's game, the first time since his retirement that ex-Notre Dame coach Ara Parseghian has not worked an Irish TV game. ABC denies that Parseghian was replaced because of alleged pro-Irish tendencies.

The network says that Broyles was used strictly as a change of pace. ABC claims it has not gotten much flack over Parseghian's commentary on Notre Dame games. The only notable complaints have come from Alabama fans who felt he was pro-UCLA in last year's Liberty Bowl and from those who just don't like his voice.

Upcoming on ABC Dec. 3 is Texas A&M vs. Houston, which looms as a one-sided romp for the Aggies. Not upcoming on ABC is the Nov. 26 Texas vs. Texas A&M game, which looms as the battle for the SWC title. ABC, along with everyone else, underestimated Texas this season and, having to chose parts of its TV schedule early, decided Houston-Texas A&M would be the better game. When it became apparent that the Cougars were going nowhere, the network tried to get Houston to relinguish its TV game so that A&M-Texas could be shown instead.

ABC promised they would give the Cougars a TV shot at a later date in return. But Houston refused. The Cougars go on NCAA probation for recruiting violations next season and will be barred from TV. They apparently didn't feel like waiting until 1979 for more TV exposure.

Richard Todd: Future

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) - Considera-By The Associated Press bly more than a $25,000 first prize is at stake this week in the Pensacola Open

For a handful of players, their performance in the tournament that began Thursday will have a major effect on the conduct of their lives for the entire 1978 sea-

As the last official event of the year, the Pensacola Open is the touring pros' last shot at a coveted exemption from qualifying for next year's Tour. If they make the exemption, they can play in any regular tour event they want. If they miss, then they face the rigors and traumas of the Monday morning qualifying rounds, what they call "the Suicide Open," just to gain a spot in the tournament field

'The first goal any player sets for himself is making the top 60 and getting that exemption," said John Mahaffey. "It's almost impossible to over-emphasize the importance of having an exemption. It may be the most important thing on the tour: probably it's the most important."

Mahaffey, slump-ridden and plagued by injuries most of the season, is in one of the two major races for an exemption. He's gunning for a position in the career top 50 money-winners. The other race involves the top 60 money-winners from the 1977 season. Both lists close with this tournament.

The current top 60 is unusually stable this season, with only a couple of players in the scramble for the No. 60 spot now held by Roger Maltbie with $51,462. Often, as many as 15 or 20 players come to the last tournament with a letigimate shot at the man in the No. 60 position.

Ed Sneed, 61st on the list, is recovering from surgery and isn't playing. Kermit Zarley, with $50,391, and Mike Hill, with $50,323, are next. As a tournament winner, Hill is exempt for most of 1978, but the veteran Zarley needs to win $1,072 more than Maltbie to go into the top 60 and get the exemption.

Gary McCord is 64th but is more than $5,000 behind Maltbie and has very little chance or replacing him. Mahaffey, who lost a playoff for the 1975 U.S. Open and led the 1976 American National championship for three rounds, has won only $7,430 this seas

It had been years since there was so much frenzied activity around Weeb Ewbank Hall, training quarters of the New York Jets. Richard Todd, I'd like to see Richard Todd," said the man with the portfolio, a visiting journalist not one of the regular Jets corps. The receptionist put through a telephone call and, moments later, a harried gentleman with an armful of papers burst through the swinging doors. "It's not going to be easy," said Frank Ramos, director of public relations for the National Football League club. "Let's see." He examined a chart. "He is in a quarterback meeting until 12, then he's on the phone with New England writers. 'After that, NBC wants to do a radio spot with him and Phyllis George of CBS is coming over to do something for the pregame show Sunday - may take an hour. He's got to dress and be out for practice at 2.

"We'll try to squeeze in a few minutes

The birth of a new football super star crowning of the Jets' "Golden Boy," successor to Broadway Joe Namath. Richard Todd had arrived.

I wish people would quit trying to fit me into Joe Namath's mold," Todd said, once he had been able to plop down on the stool in front of the locker he inherited when the game's most celebrated quarterback moved to Los Angeles.

'I admire Joe, we are the best of friends. I knew him two years before I came to the Jets. We worked out together on the campus at Tuscaloosa.

"I can understand the correlation. We are both out of Alabama. We have the same business manager (Jimmy Walsh). We came up with the same pro team. We are both quarterbacks and both bache-

"But he is Joe Namath and I am Richard Todd - two different people. That's the way I want it to be."

Being Richard Todd is not such a bad circumstance at the moment. In leading the Jets to early season victories over New England and Buffalo and in almost upsetting the Super Bowl champion Oakland Raiders with a 396-yard passing performance last Sunday, he suddenly has become one of the hottest commodities in the sport.

A superb athlete, 6-feet-2 and 215 pounds, handsome and talented, he looms as the future matinee idol of the Sunday tube.

New York is a city that must have its heroes. It turns its sports stars into giants and saturates them with rich tradition -

Babe Ruth, Joe DiMaggio, Mickey Mantle, Namath and, more recently, Reagie Jackson.

Todd, poised and charmismatic, appears perfect for the role. Yet he is only beginning.

The Namath image will continue to haunt him for a while, until he can shake it and cement his own identity. Newspapers already have begun to stalk his social pursuits, snap him with beauty queens. Already they are busy building him up as a sex symbol.

"A guy asked me the other day if I liked women," the young quarterback said "Isaid 'sure.' Then he asked me what kind. I told him tall ones, short ones and middle-sized ones, redheads, blondes and brunettes.

"I'm a bachelor. I have dates and I like a glass of wine occasionally. But what's that got to do with football?

Pretty Phyllis George, a former Miss America, has interviewed the great and near great in her role as sportscaster. On her personal scale of 1 to 10, she rates Todd close to 10.

Lubbockites Capture Racquetball Titles

The Lubbock Racquetball Association sponsored a tournament at the YMCA last Saturday.

Simon Alvarado of Odessa won the Class A championship, and Lubbock's Steve Waldron took the consolation title. In Class B, Mike Ponsford of Clovis, N.M., won the championship, and Jim' Aldridge of Lubbock was the consolation year and Wellman claims it's sheer luck that has enabled his Wellman Wildcats to rally for 19-18 and 36-30 victories.

Gary Blankenmeister of Lubbock was the Class C winner, while Don Steen of the Hub City took the consolation title. Gail Boyce of Lubbock won the Women's Open division, while Pam Hancock of Amarillo was the consolation winner.

It was that 36-30 triumph which almost wrapped up the 3-B (Six-Man) North Zone title for Wellman. The Wildcats would have to lose both against Southland this week and Loop in the finale to keep from representing the zone.

'We've still got to win one more and anyway you look at it, it's not going to be easy, because in six-man ball anything can happen.

He could have been speaking about Friday's game when he said that. You see, Wellman was down 22-6 at intermission. Yet before Three Way could run an offensive play in the second half, Wellman

How, you say? The Wildcats received the second half kickoff and marched it in. Then, they recovered three onside kicks in a row-Tony Dill getting two-and just missed a fourth. The 'Cats controlled the ball for all 10 minutes of the third period and only 7:34 was left to play when Three Way got the ball.

"It was just one of those freaky things," Wellman said of the onside kicks which must travel 20 yards in six-man ball. "We were lucky in that all were touched before they went 20 yards.

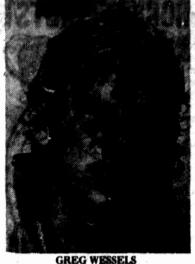

"It only took them two plays to score after they got the ball... you just can't contain that (Albert) Rand." Wellman was also pleased with the kicking of Ron James, who booted three PATs (worth 2 points each in six-man) during that third-period surge. "That's just like getting an extra touchdown and was the eventual difference in the game.

"I think our whole defensive unit did a good job controlling Rand as much as we did because he's very hard to stop. Our offensive line (consisting at times of James, Brad Tankersly, Terry Sansing and Dill) did a good job blocking up front the second half.

"Because your backs run so much, we've been alternating three of them (Joe Nunez, Alan Berryhill and Lewis Arrezola)," explained Wellman, whose team now has an 8-0 mark and is the only undefeated six-man team in the area.

Wellman has not advanced to the playoffs since winning district as an eightman club in 1969. Still. Wellman-the coach-was thinking of the Three Way

NCAA, Prep Cagers Go Separate Ways

ELGIN, Ill. (AP) - The National Collegiate Athletic Association and the National Federation of State High School Associations have agreed to go their separate ways in writing and interpreting basketball rules at the end of this season. The two organizations have prepared separate rules publications for 40 years but have joined in a National Basketball Committee in forming uniform rules governing both interscholastic and intercollegiate basketball competition. Despite the change, effective after the current season, rules differences will be minimized by having the committees meet at the same site and conducting

The new arrangement will allow for differences of rules when the level of competition necessitates differences, both groups said.

The separation was authorized by the high school associations' executive committee in Kansas City Oct. 18 and announced Wednesday at its headquart-

Wessels Recalls

Aggie Game Too

Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff Greg Wessels has a personal reason for remembering the play against Texas A &M when Rodney Allison was injured on -Wessels hasn't played since then, ei-

The senior guard had aggravated a back injury earlier in the game on the screen-pass play that accounted for Texas Tech's first touchdown versus the Aggies. He tried to continue, but he was forced out of action two series later on the same play that Allison suffered his leg injury. "I was doubled up when I came off the field," the 6-2, 235-pounder said. "I couldn't stand up for a half."

Wessels first injured his back lifting weights about three weeks before fall practice began and missed much of fall drills. After the A&M game, the injury was diagnosed as a ruptured disc, and he wasn't able to return to practice until last Monday.

"I've been running through all the plays, and I went through pass protection drills Tuesday," Wessels said. "I did pretty well on that. My back didn't bother me much at all. "Of course, I haven't had to do a lot of straight-ahead blocking in practice since I've been back, so I'm not sure how my back will react to that. But I was encour aged because I could hit a pretty good lick on that pass protection, and my back did all right.

Wessels said the injury has put pressure on some nerves, so there is some numbness in his left leg below the calf, which causes some awkward moments.

"It's kind of like my leg is asleep sometimes, but most of the pain is gone

"I'll make the trip and suit out, unless omething happens between now and nen." he said, "but, if I play, I'm sure it will be sparingly."

Wessels says he's in decent shape, de-spite the layoff. He hasn't lifted weights since first injuring his back, but has been exercising and feels "fairly strong."

"I haven't gained any weight, which kind of surprises me. Actually, I've lost three or four pounds."

Wessels was expected to be a mainstay in what was a veteran Tech offensive line. The loss of him and quick quard Greg Davis (out for the season with a knee injury) and other injuries in the line have reduced the line's size, exper

"I've been traveling to all the games, but it hasn't been any fun standing on the sidelines," he said. "Especially with Rodney not in the lineup, some of us linemen could have helped provide some experience and leadership. Between Greg, me and (Kenny) Thiel, we had a lot of experience." perience.

Thiel, the starting quick tackle at the beginning of the fall, suffered a severely sprained ankle during two-a-days and hasn't yet regained his original form. Thiel started some last year, Davis had started for two years prior to this season and Wessels had a year of starting time under his belt.

Mel Carter

DALLAS (AP) - The eighth name drawn Wednesday for Cotton Bowl tickets was Richard Chaplin of Anchorage, Alaska.

"He wanted 10 tickets, too," said a Cotton Bowl official, who couldn't remember another Alaskan landing in the top ten of names drawn for the annual classic featuring the Southwest Conference champions against a visitor at

The first choice went to Michael T. Scott of Carrollton with Mel Carter of Lubbock second.

The Cotton Bowl game is Jan. 2 this vear.

Cougars

HOUSTON (AP) - The Houston Cougars feasted on the Southwest Conference last year with a 9-2 regular season record and topped it off with a Cotton Bowl victory for dessert.

When the Cougars returned for seconds this year, they discovered the cuisine had soured Quarterback Danny Davis, the heart and soul of the UH offense, went out for the season with a shoulder separation in the second game against Penn State.

Then on Oct. 4, three days after Houston had opened defense of its SWC co-title with a victory over Baylor, the Cougars were placed on probation by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) for recruiting violations.

The Cougars haven't won a game since, losing to Southern Methodist in the final 39 seconds and to Arkansas in a 34-0 rout. They'll take a 3-3 record into Saturday's match against rejuvenated Texas Christian

But coach Bill Yeoman says Houston's probation can't be blamed for the Cougar's demise. It goes back farther, like to January

"It's hard to sit there and tell a guy he's hungry when he's just finished a l6ounce serioin," Yeoman said, referring to his team's frame of mind following its Cotton Bowl triumph.

"If your frame of mind isn't very firm from about January all the way through it's not enough to sustain you," said Yeoman. "With teams getting closer and closer, it's becoming more important.'

Razorbacks

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (UPI) - Despite a padless workout Wednesday in an effort to improve the team's health, the Arkansas Razorbacks had three offensive players injured and two of them may not be able to play in Saturday's game against Rice.

Starting center Rick Shumaker and backup right guard Jerry Sullivan sprained their knees and starting tackle Steve Heim bruised his knee. Shumaker it helps to be playing at home," said Akand Sullivan are doubtful for Saturday's game. Heim is expected to be able to

Cowboys

DALLAS (UPI) - The Dallas Cowboys Wednesday announced their regular season ending game Dec. 18 with the Denver Broncos had been sold out.

Tickets remain for only one Cowboys home contest, against Philadelphia Dec. 4. If the Eagles game also sells out, it would mean five of this year's Dallas home games would be televised locally a Cowboys record since the television blackout was lifted by Congress four seasons ago

J.R. Richard

HOUSTON (UPI) - A surgeon removed Houston Astros pitcher J.R. Richard's appendix at Methodist Hospital Wednesday "He's doing fine," an Astros spokesman said. "He'll probably be confined to the hospital for four to six days."

Dr. John Overstreet operated after the 6-8. 235-pound pitcher, the second 20game winner in Astro history, became ill at his home early Wednesday.

Bass Tourney

KISSIMMEE, Fla. (AP) - Defending champion Rick Clunn held the lead today when anglers began casting in today's second round of the $50,000 Bass Masters Classic Fishing Tournaent being held on Tohotekaliga Lake.

Clunn of Montgomery, Texas, boated a nine-fish catch Wednesday weighing 19 pounds, 10 ounces, to take the opening day lead. In second place was Larry Nixon from Hemphill, Texas. His catch of 10 bass weighed 15 pounds four ounces.

Mike Renfro

FORT WORTH (AP) - Mike Renfro. Texas Christian's unforgettable receiver. has made his way into the Southwest Conference record book — despite playing for the team the SWC would rather Renfro, who has snared 137 passes for a SWC-record 2.379 yards, has set seven school records in his three and one-half year career. TCU's victories for that tinespan number exactly four.

"I think the other record is within reach." Renfro said of Jerry LeVias' $WC career reception mark of 155. "It would be a great honor, but actually I'm nore excited about winning two games n a row. We've never done that be-

Renfro, who broke LeVias' SWC carer yardage mark this season, saw the apless Horned Frogs win only one parne in each of his first two years. They ost all 11 in 1976 and the first four of 1977 before winning their last two out-

"It got very discouraging," said Reno "After three seasons with only two ins, I got kinda used to it. I just tried to keep my individual pride."

Despite the Frogs' woeful record, Renfro, the son of former All-Pro receiver Ray Renfro, was named consensus All-SWC for the past two years. Some pro scouts predict he'll be drafted early

"I think he ranks with some other great receivers I've had, like Drew Pearson and Howard Twilley," said new Frog coach F.A. Dry, who coached Pearson, the Dallas Cowboys' star receiver, and Twilley, former Miami Dolphin standout, at Tulsa.

"He puts pressure on the defender. If they make a mistake he'll catch it." added Dry. "He's been the big play guy for

"Renfro sees double coverage all the time and he still catches the ball," said Arkansas coach Lou Holtz. "If there was a way to stop him, people smarter than me would have figured it out a long time

Renfro burned Holtz' secondary this season for five receptions for 48 yards and a touchdown

"I always think to myself that there's no way he can be that good," said Southern Methodist coach Ron Meyer. Renfro has riddled Meyer's pass defenses the last two years for 13 receptions, 231 vards and two touchdowns

Last Saturday, Renfro forced the nation's stingiest collegiate pass defense into two crucial pass interference penalties in the end zone, grabbed a 28-vard touchdown pass and kept another drive alive with a sliding 16-yard reception in TCU's 21-17 upset of Miami, Fla.

For the rest of the weekend, TCU officials left the stadium scoreboard burning with the winning score - something they had seen precious little of in Mike Renfro's TCU career.

HOUSTON (UPI) - A University of Houston trainer said Wednesday the injuryplagued Cougars finally are beginning to mend.
"We're in as good shape physically as we've been since early in the season," said trainer Tom Wilson Wilson said only two starters were ex-

Rangers

DALLAS (UPI) - Baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn Wednesday held a two-hour hearing into comments Texus general manager Danny O'Brien made last month concerning Minnesota outfielder Larry Hisle.

At a sports writers luncheon O'Brien said the Rangers would probably be interested in signing Hisle once he became a free agent. Officials of the Minnesota Twins complained to the commissioner's office that O'Brien might be tampering with Hisle.

Sports writers and broadcasters who heard O'Brien's comments testified at Wednesday's hearing.

Following the hearing Kuhn said he hoped to reach a decision on the matter

A STATE OF THE PROPERTY OF THE

Clovis' Title Hopes On Line

Dave Perini gets his wish this week.

More than two months ago, when a poll of the District 4-AAAA coaches gave the favorite's not to Clovis, Perini said all his Cavemen needed to prove they're the best in the league was a chance. They get that Friday night when they host Clovis in a game that will, in all probablility, settle the 4-AAAA championship issue.

The Carlsbad-Clovis battle is a big one in New Mexico, indeed. However, it's not the only big game in town.

Every schoolboy district in the southeast corner of the state has a championship-type showdown on its agenda.

In 4-AAA, where Artesia has been the kingpin for three years in a row, it looks like another Bulldog year. Coach Mike Phipps' Big Orange unit, which struggled to a 3-3 nondistrict record, proved last week that it isn't exactly dead by powering past Portales 28-14 in a game many people think decided the league title. However, Artesia hosts Tucumcari this week in a game that matches the only two teams in the district minus a loss.

Among the 4-AA schools, Jal can sew up its second district title in a row in a bout against arch-rival Eunice. The other game in the conference this weekpits Dexter against Ft. Sumner in a game that will determine who gets the league's other playoff spot.

And in 4-A, the big shootout sends No. 1-ranked Hagerman against No. 2-rated Tatum for the district title. Neither team needs to worry about making the playoffs since two of the three teams in the league advance into postseason activities and Cloudcroft has already lost to both the Bobcats and Covotes.

The Carlsbad-Clovis game grabs a lot of headlines across the Land of Enchantment because it matches two of the topranked teams in the state. Possibly one game, between No. 1 Albuquerque Sandia and No. 3 Alamogordo in District 3-AAAA has gotten more ink this week. Carlsbad is second and Clovis fourth in this week's poll.

Clovis, according to coach Dunny Goode, may just now be hitting full stride after a string of early-season injuries haunted the Wildcats. Still. Clovis managed to win five of its seven nondistrict contests and last week opened its 4-AAAA schedule with a 34-7 socking of Roswell. During the injury siege, Clovis lost three quarterbacks. With Layne Walker

Woods No Longer Known As 'Pete-The-Complete'

COLUMBAIA, Mo. (AP) - Before a knee injury sidelined him early this year, Missouri quarterback Pete Woods ran the ball as often — and as well — as he threw it.

He returned two weeks ago and in two games has run only three times, but passed for an eye-catching 467 yards.

'The roles have switched around he conceded. "Suddenly I'm Pete-the-Passer, not an option runner now healthy, the Wildcats may be hard to stop. Goode hinted after Clovis held Roswell to one first down and outrushed the Covotes 399-15 last week.

"Having Walker healthy and playing quarterback opens our offense a lot more because of his running and passing ability," Goode said after his signal-caller passed for 60 yards, including a 9-yard TD strike to Scott Petty. "This game was helpful because we proved to ourselves that we can throw and catch the football.

Carlsbad warmed up for the Clovis invasion by roasting Hobbs 36-0 last week. Perini, for one, feels his chargers are ready for this week's challenge. DISTRICT +AAAA

Avalanche-journal Sports Staff
Despite the fact four of the 25 ranked teams suffered defeats last week, there are no newcomers on The Avalanche-Journal's Area Football Poll this week. runner-up position all year, by a 34-0

Odessa Permian in AAAA, Perryton in AAA, Idalou in AA, Seagraves in A and Ropesville in B maintained their No. 1

"I think they'll be able to keep playing as they did this past week." However, the Valley mentor isn't taking his last two foes-Nazareth and Lazbuddie

Paterno's Son

Gets Release

DANVILLE, Pa. (AP) - David Paterno, son of Penn State football coach Joe Paterno, was released Wednesday from the Geisinger Medical Center where he had been hospitalized 12 days for a fractured skull.

The 11-year-old, who was injured when he fell from a trampoline at school, was driven to his State College home some 60 miles away by his father.

The sixth grader had been unconscious and in serious condition until last week. The family kept a constant vigil at the medical center and Paterno missed the Penn State-Syracuse game Oct. 15 so he could be near his son.

A hospital spokesman said physicians had expected the youngster to be transfered to the Mountain View Hospital, near State College, after leaving Geisin-

The Birmingham Football Foundation suggested that a panel of experts choose the top two teams in the nation to play on the second or third Saturday in January, but the NCAA rejected that idea.

We pursued it through 1970," says Cecil Stubbs, vice president of the foundation. "When it became obvious it wasn't going to pass we proposed a Christmas Bowl. But in the meantime the Fiesta and Peach Bowls were certified and the NCAA told us there were too many bowls, most of them in the South."

In 1972, the National Football Foundation was in need of a source of income and former Alabama star Fred Sington. president of the Birmingham group, proposed a bowl game with net proceeds going to the Hall of Fame.

In April of 1973, the Birmingham group told the NCAA it wanted to join forces with the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame and the bowl finally was approved last January when the NCAA received assurances that it would not be a Southeastern Conference bowl or a southern bowl.

'We're committed to the policy of picking the two best teams we can get." says Stubbs. "Many people have told me they've seen SEC football all their lives and they'd welcome a chance to see teams from another part of the country."

The Hall of Fame Classic has already sold 18,000 tickets and, since the NCAA requires one-third of Legion Field's 720000 seats be put aside for the competing schools, that only leaves 30,000 more tickets available to the general public. Football-mad Birmingham should have no trouble snapping them up and next year the seating capacity will be increased to 84,000.

'We plan to have a sellout," Stubbs says. "And if we have a sellout, along with the TV money, we can pay each team at least $250,000 and we'll be on a par with the Gator and Liberty Bowls and, from a financial point of view, better than the others, except for the big four (i.e., Rose, Orange, Cotton, Sugar).

"Obviously, we're not in competition with those bowls. And when I say we'll be sold out I'm not saying it with tongue in cheek. Teams will go where they get the best offer, and when the Nov. 19 invitation date rolls around I'm confident we'll be able to call a major school and make a financial proposal as attractive as any bowl except the big four."

Frank Broyles, Arkansas' coach for 19 years from 1958-76, is finding himself on the go as the school's athletic director almost as much as when he held down both ing High.

ple say fall is the best time to play golf but I haven't played at this time of year for more than 30 years," Broyles says with a sigh. "I figured I was really going to enjoy playing this fall, but I've only had time to play twice.

"I've been busy doing color commentary for ABC-TV, doing a little television show in Arkansas and processing our applications for season basketball tickets. I just haven't time to play much golf but I enjoy what I'm doing.

Broyles was in South Bend, Ind., for the Notre Dame-Southern Cal game and Friday afternoon he was ribbing John Robinson, USC's second-year coach.

"John, you're making coaching look too easy," he needled. "You won last year and you're winning this year. I lost my first six games at Arkansas and I told my daddy to save a place for me in his insurance business.

Brovles also managed to take in the annual Texas-Oklahoma war a few weeks back, a game he'd never seen before.

With a 16-3 record at USC. Robinson is having no trouble following in the footsteps of the immensely successful John McKay.

"We're fortunate to be in a large population area where the weather is good and the kids play outdoors all year," he says. "We don't really recruit outside our area too much. Southern Cal has good players and good tradition and any coach would love to start with that kind of base.

'Lucky' Youth Gets Wish

SEATTLE (AP) — On Sunday, O.J. Simpson and Jim Zorn will meet Jimmy Gallegos, a 14-year-old who's fighting a losing battle with cancer.

Jimmy thinks it's an honor to meet two professional football standouts, but when it's over Simpson and Zorn may feel it is they who've been honored. Jimmy's counselor at Washington Junior High in Yakima, Wash., Jerry Gibbons, says Jimmy is "just a gutsy kid."

In July 1976, Jimmy's left arm was amputated at the shoulder. The diagnosis was cancer. The amputation was deemed necessary to buy Jimmy some time. In November 1976, Jimmy had part of one lung removed. He now has a tumor on the other lung, and sometimes it is tough for him to get going in the mornings.

The biggest fear is that Jimmy will come down with pneumonia. Last August, he did have a siege, but he recovered and is back in class — and in athletics — at

The reason Jimmy will watch Sunday's National Football League game in the Kingdome between the Seattle Seahawks and the Buffalo Bills is simple. Gibbons, his counselor, learned that Jimmy recently expressed three wishes - to go deep sea fishing, to see a good football game and to meet O.J. Simpson, the Bill's superstar runningback.

Gibbons wrote Don Andersen, the Seahawks' public relations director, about the football game and meeting Simpson. Andersen not only got Simpson, he added Zorn, the Seahawks' young quarterback.

Last weekend, Jimmy's mother, Kathy Gallegos, informed her son of the Seattle-Buffalo game and the opportunity to meet Simpson. Saturday, Jimmy and his mother will make a periodic visit to Children's Orthopedic Hospital in Seat-tle for a checkup, stay overnight with friends and attend the game Sunday. Gibbons says there are several other things people should know about Jimmy

Gallegos. He started on the Washington Junior High football, baseball and basketball

"There was nothing honorary about any of this," says Gibbons. "Jimmy earned his way on the teams. I'll tell you what kind of a young man he is. Less than a week after he had his arm amputated, he was on a playground playing

"There is nothing he can't do in those sports. He wouldn't accept it if he couldn't make it on his own. Jimmy's never asked for anything special. He's just a super young man.'

His mother admitted, "Jimmy always wanted to be a professional football player. That's why Sunday's game and meeting O.J. Simpson and Jim Zorn are

The bottom line is that Jimmy Gallegos is losing his battle with cancer. There was some doubt he would make it to this weekend.

He knows his losing odds, has accepted them, and will not let this interfere with things like competing in athletics, maintaining his school work and this week realizing a couple of his wishes.

"Jimmy considers himself lucky," his mother said. "All the time, you know, he sees kids who can't move around or do anything."

SA Kennedy Pass Combo Tops AP List

By The Associated Press

San Antonio Kennedy quarterback Jerry Deller and split end Raymond Cortinas performed near-magic feats with their record breaking pass-catch act last week but Del Rio, their opponent, pulled a late Houdini maneuver and escaped with a victory.

Deller completed 15 of 29 passes for 370 yards and three touchdowns to Cortinas, who finished with nine catches for 303 yards. Despite their combined efforts, Del Rio came from behind in the closing minutes to score a 29-28 victory.

Both individual yardage totals established San Antonio city schoolboy records and Cortines' 303 yards ranks third on the state all-time list and earned the pair mention this week in The Associated Press Schoolboy Honor Roll.

They gave us the type of coverage they had been playing all year and we had plays planned, for that one," Kennedy coach Gary Malesky said. "We went a little more to Cortinas than normal and their coverage just opened it up.'

The Deller Cortinas pass-run combination worked for touchdown passes of 85, 75 and nine yards.

Malesky said Deller had a very strong arm but also could throw with a good

"Another thing that helps Jerry is he can read situations and dump the ball off when he has to," Malesky said. "He was putting the ball in the right spot and Cortinas does a great job of running his pat-

Chris Craft of Class 3A state-ranked Huntsville and Dennis Moore of Irving Nimitz also turned in gaudy statistical performances last week to help their teams to victory and earn mention on the

Moore, a 5-11, 195-pound senior, rushed only 12 times but gained 257 yards and scored first half touchdowns of 75, 86 and 69 yards in a 41-14 victory over rival Irv-

Moore, who mostly rested in the secseason and it was his fourth 200-yard plus performance this season.

Craft, a senior tailback for No. 5-ranked Huntsville, rushed 208 yards on 29 carries and scored on runs of 33, 1, 17 and 18 yards in a 41-7 victory over Tomball. Craft, 5-10, 165, had non-scoring runs of 35, 28, 70 and 21 yards

Craft's yardage against Tomball gave him a 1,087 total for the year.

Petersburg's Jones Takes Scoring Lead

Petersburg's runningback Mike Jones, who in eight games has accounted for 1,566 yards, took over the area scoring lead with a three-touchdown performance against Spur last week.

Jones, third a week ago, now has 124 points. Last week's leader, Jerry Lee of Motley County, was forced from the Valley game at intermission with a sprained ankle and was blanked—as were his mates—for the first time this year and mates-for the first time this year and

Gainers held a 3-2 lead over losers in today's tally of New York

Stock Exchange-listed issues. Analysts said Wednesday's strong showing was sparked by the assertion of Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur Burns that the Fed would stick with its goal of curbing inflation by restraining the growth of the money

They also noted encouragement over resistance from some leading California banks to the latest increase in the prime lending rate from 712 to 734 percent.

Citicorp was the most active NYSE issue, up % at 22.

The Big Board's composite index of all its listed common stocks rose .09 to 50.50. On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was up .43 at 112.59.

At the same time, the fair market price of a taxi medallion - the limited number of cab licenses issued by the city - shot up to a record $48,000. Earlier this week, a seat on the

The law of supply and demand sent the price of taxi medallions skyrocketing 14 percent since March when the city permitted a 13 percent fare increase. Meanwhile, the price of a seat on the exchange has plummeted to reflect a depressed stock market.

If a person wants to buy a medallion he must join a waiting list kept by authorized brokers who sell medallions when they are put up for sale. The current down payment is $20,000.

To buy a seat on the New York Stock Exchange is a lengthy process of petitioning the Big Board's admissions office, passing a written examination, undergoing a background check, and putting down 20 percent of the seat's price. Like stocks themselves, the seats are sold through the exchange according to "bid" and

Ted Knight Ambushed In Fantasy

By WILLIAM GLOVER NEW YORK (AP) - For his Broadway debut, television's Ted Knight has gotten himself woefully ambushed in a doleful fantasy, "Some of My Best Friends." Knight, the once happy anchorman of the "Mary Tyler Moore Show," comes on strong and displays a fine stage presence during the silly and unconvincing events which premiered this week at the Longacre Theater. Sympathy for effort also is merited by several other participants.

The author, Stanley Hart, has concocted a yarn about a hard-driving a genial idler. Somewhere during the transition he learns to talk with plants and animals, thereby outdoing drama's earlier hero "Harvey" who could communicate only with a huge hare.

Playwright Hart, however, has a leaden imagination, a wooden sense of humor and unfocused purpose. His ex-tycoon spends a large part of the play in chatter with a wolfhound who sounds like Arthur Treacher, and a tree which claims to have been Millard Fillmore in a previous incarnation, but now has a Yiddish accent. Gabin Reed and Lew Wallace are the victimized impersonators, respectively, of those assignments.

Eventually a baby joins the dubious symposium, clutching wildly at fading memories of some other life. It's a job Ralph Williams probably won't list high on his Equity credits.

The humans who turn up in Hart's tangled skein are almost without exception equally hard to take. Particularly the happy looney's wife, played with desperate determination by Alice Drummond, and the couple's grown-up son, a mass of infantile tantrums in the person of Bob Balaban.

Trish Hawkins portrays a kooky young mother with a kleptomaniac itch

Director Harold Prince, a veteran of many happier Broadway events, seems as boggled as his cast by the script and never finds a way to lighten the tedium.

"Some of My Best Friends" ends with Knight back in the workaday world, stripped of his mystic ability to talk with all nature. There's probably a moral there, if anyone is still awake.

Eugene Lee designed the tatty cold-water flat and Franne Lee the costumes that include several sets of underwear for Knight.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - "The Best of Families," a much-publicized, eight-part series, premieres on public TV tonight in most areas. The series covers the period 1880-1900 and is set in New York City.

Taped in that hamlet, it uses three fictional families representing the upper, middle and lower classes to illustrate an era of profound change in America's technology, politics and society.

It was made by the Children's Television Workshop, which says the project cost $6,150,000. Seems high, considering that 13 episodes of "Six Million Dollar Man" would total about $5.3 million.

But "Families," whose costly, meticulously researched costumes and sets were created from scratch, isn't intended as throwaway pop entertainment. It aims at educating as well as entertaining.

Indeed, 14 advisers, mainly historians, worked on it, as did a full-time team of six researchers. And the noted actor John Houseman was hired to host it, to explain each chapter's significance.

All this care is mighty admirable

But honest to Pete, the first half of to-deadly dull it seemed wise to skip Hour Two, lest that one cause the mortal sin of snoring in the screening room.

Loring Mandel, one of six writers doing various episodes of the series, wrote the premiere, which wanders back and forth from family to family, introducing them and getting their crises under way.

Our lower-class folks are the devoutly Catholic Rafferty's. The clan's head and his two grown sons are barely making ends meet as laborers on a building project. Suddenly it goes bust, and they're out of work.

The upper class is the Wheeler family. It also runs into fiscal woe - but only because the head of the family disregards his banker's advice to sell his stock in a railroad which now is in bankruptcy.

The in-between set is represented by the Baldwins and ambitious James Lathrop. He's a young engineer-architect who, like the Rafferty men, is thrown out of work by the collapse of the building

He seeks help from his middle-class minister, Dr. Frederick Baldwin, who is plugged into New York's Protestant power structure. The reverend also has a comely daughter, a Vassar graduate. She catches Lathrop's eye in church, setting the stage for wooing and wedding. The show opens on a promising note the opening of an Irish saloon.

It also has at equally important aspects of New York life in 1880 — Tammany
