

Labor Chief's Ruling on 'Foreign' Farm Help Stirs Senators: Easing of Bans Seen

There may yet be hope for Bailey county farmers in the troublesome labor picture. A faint gleam was visible this past week after U. S. senators, in a floor debate, chastized the Secretary of Labor for his domestic farm help ruling, a ruling which virtually eliminated foreign "cheap" labor.

That was pointed out this week by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., which said cautiously: "There is still hope in some quarters that all is not yet lost to farmers in the controversy over whether the Secretary of Labor will permit the importation of supplemental farm workers when citizen labor is not available and willing to do the job."

The National Council of Agricultural Employees (PCG) is a co-founder and charter member reports that recently a group of bi-partisan senators "severely criticized the Department of Labor's farm labor policies from the senate floor."

Chairman of the Senate Agriculture committee, Sen. Allen J. Ellener, Louisiana, opened the debate with a statement reviewing the recent hearings held by his committee. He said the Secretaries of Labor and Agriculture had heavy responsibilities to protect the interest of all concerned, and called on them to "make it plain and certain to growers that if, as, and when, crops that are to be planted become mature for harvest a sufficient number of stoop laborers will be able to come into the country should it be necessary to have those people do the work."

Senator Spessard Holland of Florida, whose constituents this year reportedly have suffered losses for lack of labor to harvest citrus crops, held the Senate floor for over three hours. He said between $4 and $6 million dollars had been lost from insufficient harvest labor and that there is also grave danger of sugar cane losses attributable to the same cause. The Senator termed arguments that Congress intended to end foreign supplemental labor programs as "completely inaccurate, completely false and is shown to be such by the debate (on Public Law 78) in numerous places." Senator Holland expressed sharp disagreement with the Secretary of Labor's assumption of authority to set wages and hours of farm workers, and pointed out that the farm labor problem was one affecting major areas of the country.

Other Senators — Democrats and Republicans alike — from Texas, California, Michigan, Wyoming, Colorado, Ohio, Tennessee, Arizona and Oregon expressed similar criticism of the Secretary of Labor's current farm labor policies. And, following this lashing from the Senate, a group of House members took the Labor Secretary to task on February 19.

Still Secretary Wirtz continues to refuse to certify foreign supplemental workers. His view remains that sufficient domestic labor is now and will be available to meet growers' requirements.

On this point, Senator George Smathers of Florida, said: "It appears to me that with the Secretary of Agriculture, who agrees with us on one side, and the Secretary of Labor, who does not agree with us on the other side, the eventual solution of the problem will probably come through our making an appointment, en masse perhaps, with the President of the United States, and presenting to him this very real problem insofar as we are concerned, and the very real problem insofar as the cost of living is concerned. . . . It is to be hoped that we shall obtain the relief that is so urgently needed."

At least the situation is not being allowed to rest, and so long as the fire burns, there is hope the pot will boil.

Commissioners Vote To Purchase New Car, Radios

Bailey county commissioners at their session Monday voted to buy a new automobile for the sheriff's department, and two new two-way radios. One of the radios would be installed in the new automobile and the other in the highway patrol car used here.

The session was a busy one, the commissioners going into matters including a complete report on the progress of widening U. S. 84. They were told that all but two of the tracts' valuations had been approved by the state Highway Department.

Judge Williams said the commissioners will call for bids on the new automobile and the two new radios at an early date.

Soil Readings' Service Is Due To Start Soon

New services to help Muleshoe area farmers cut weather-induced losses and conduct more effective operations in general will be featured by the specialized agricultural weather service in 1965 and future years, according to Oliver Newton, Agricultural Advisory Meteorologist at the South Plains Research and Extension Center.

Beginning March 15, daily reports on soil temperatures at both eight-inch and four-inch depths will be released as an aid to farmers in their choice of a planting date for the various crops. To assure that these soil temperatures are accurate and not affected by varied ground celebration, marking the successful 1964 campaign which saw the drive surpass its goal. Gil Lamb was named campaign chairman for the 1965 drive, and vice-president.

Robert Hooten was elected vice-president and budget and admissions chairman, and Bobby Airhart was elected vice-president and public relations chairman.

Mrs. Pat Bobo was renamed treasurer. Sixteen new directors were elected for three-year terms. They included Mrs. J. K. Adams, Roger Albertson, Irvin St. Clair, the Rev. Charles Grow, Pat Bobo, Joe D. Vaughn, James A. Cox, Mrs. Jack Ferguson, Jesse Osborn, Mrs. Cecil Cole, Arlene Phelps, the Rev. Don Bales, Judge Glen Williams, Eddie Faust, Don Harmon and Jack Ferguson.

More than a score of persons were recognized for their outstanding work for the United Fund in 1964 which had Joe Harbin as campaign director.

Speaker was Dan Eddy, Dallas, Texas director of The Salvation Army's 26 service units who warned his audience against "the evil of complacency," adding, "there is no truisim greater than this: 'He is happy only if he serves his fellow man, and through United Fund you are serving man, the helping him to help himself.'"

He characterized United Fund "not as a dole, handed out to a desperate man, but rather it's

"Ribbons of Gray" that the poet used to write about are disappearing; they are becoming ribbons of red, blue, pink, purple — you name it.

At least the "ribbons of gray" that are used for sidewalks are going to take on colorful hues in two West Texas towns — Littlefield and Hereford. Maybe eventually somebody will get around to turning the gray highway "ribbons" into bright colors, too.

It's all a part of tremendous downtown remodeling and re-vamping schedule, designed to

Martinez Guilty, Jury Says, Gets 3-Day Sentence

A jury of five men and one woman found Ebaristo Martinez guilty of driving while intoxicated and fixed his fine at $850, three days in jail and suspended his driver's license for six months.

The case was tried in county court before Judge Glen Williams with Roger Gorrell as the prosecuting attorney.

On the jury were Mrs. Boone Allison, Dale Fischgrabe, Joe Wheeler, Lewis Scoggin, Clarence Mason, and Ladon McCall.

Slated for trial Wednesday in county court was Joseph Baker, charged with driving while intoxicated. He has pleaded not guilty.

the state highway department attorneys had approved all but two of the 70 parcels involved in the widening program, Judge Glen Williams said Wednesday.

Hearings were being conducted in Austin involving several tracts which may have to be condemned by the state before finish on this phase of the program can be written.

"We feel we have made good progress in the land-buying program, and in state-approval of the parcels involved," Judge Williams said.

Meantime, highway engineers would make no estimate of a starting time for the road. Highway Engineer Rhea Bradley, Littlefield, said money for the work had not been scheduled as yet, but probably will be included in the 1966 plans.

Judge Williams' office made a break-down Wednesday for the Journal, showing the property owners and the status of the road expansion project.

Altogether, 70 tracts are involved but there are only 55 land owners. Of these, the state valuation approval has been given on 68 parcels, and complete deals have been closed on 26 of these. Judge Williams said.

At the present time, the state and county are in the process of closing six others, and an additional 15 parcels are in the "hope to close" stage. All these have been approved by the State highway department.

Checking over the record, Judge Williams said 11 parcels probably will have to be condemned. He explained that some of these 11 tracts will need condemnation because titles are defective, while some will go the condemnation route because owners have not accepted the state-approved valuations set by the appraisals. The judge said it was interesting to note that most of the larger tracts already have been bought, and some of the most troublesome tracts yet to be accepted.

credit volume, control accounts safely and decrease collection problems.

Persons interested in enrolling for the course were asked to contact the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce.

In discussing the school, local sponsors said: "This is an unusual opportunity for all persons engaged in the retail trade to learn the finer points of credit, and we feel fortunate in securing one of these schools for Muleshoe."

Area Folk Give $300 To CROP, $7000 In Cotton

Bailey County residents contributed $300 toward the support to the Christian Rural Overseas Program in the recent South Plains appeal for cotton for CROP.

The figure was reported as part of the total of 60 bales, in cotton and cash in lieu of cotton, representing about $7,000, which was donated to the program. The figures were reported at last Thursday's CROP cotton dedication meeting in Plainview, then workers from 10 of the South Plains counties were present.

The Cotton Appeal was part of the overall CROP program.

Littlefield is calling its colorful downtown program, "Park 'N Shop," and Hereford is calling its project "Vanity Fair."

In addition to colored sidewalks, Hereford plans to put up fancy boxes, colored canopies and other do-dads to make the downtown into a "Vanity Fair" shopping center. In both Littlefield and Hereford, the parking meter goes into the trash can. Even Lubbock, for that matter, is trying a 90-day experiment in eliminating the parking meter, the downtown merchants claim-

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER
FROM SENATOR
JOHN TOWER
Committee Banking and Currency Labor and Public Welfare

This week I introduced several pieces of legislation that I would like to report on briefly. Detailed reports will be made later on each of these bills, after they have been given numbers and assigned to committees for study. All the measures are designed to improve existing legislation.

I introduced two measures to amend the Economic Opportunities Act, the so-called anti-poverty bill, and also two bills to amend the National Labor Relations Act. I feel all these are they receive favorable consideration by the Congress.

One measure I introduced would, I think, vastly improve chances for the anti-poverty bill to operate effectively. As you know, I voted against this bill when it passed the Congress. I felt that it was unwise legislation, tinged with pork-barrel politics, and that it gave too much power to those who would run the program. Subsequent events have proven me at least partially right. The Administrator, in violation of the intent of Congress, established a nationwide minimum wage of $1.25 an hour for enrollees of the National Youth Corps. Congress intended, and said so, that the pay of these youngsters be set—and I quote—"appropriate and reasonable in the light of such factors as the type of work performed, geographical region, and proficiency of the employee."

When the Labor Department established the $1.25 per hour minimum wage, it effectively scrapped, or delayed, programs that had been planned in many states. Local communities simply were not going to bring in untrained youngsters and pay them more than they were paying local people who had been performing more skilled tasks for the same wage, or even less.

My amendment would rectify this by assuring that no enrollee wages could be greater than the prevailing rate for similar work in the affected area. This prevailing wage regulation is in effect for other federal programs, and the same principle should apply to the poverty program.

I introduced another amendment to the anti-poverty act which is designed to assure that no volunteer under the anti-poverty law may be utilized for political endeavors.

In January of this year, my office received a press release from the Office of Economic Opportunity which outlined the proposed activities of the VISTA program in San Antonio. The list of proposed activities included the registration of voters. I hardly think this is a legitimate endeavor for combating poverty.

My amendment simply states that "no workers under the anti-poverty law may take part in voter registration or any other politically oriented activity unless local officials of both major political parties have approved the planned project and members of Congress from the concerned state and its government have been notified."

My amendments to the National Labor Relations Act would do essentially two things:
(1) Remove the adjudication of unfair labor practices cases from the National Labor Relations Board, and place those cases in United States District Courts, and
(2) guarantee to the employer his right to go out of business when he decides to do so.

It seems strange that there should be need for even the consideration of legislation guaranteeing an employer the right to quit business. But that point has been argued in our highest court, and a decision is now pending. It got to the courts because the NLRB held, in the first case, that an employer did not have the right to go out of business under certain circumstances. Regardless of the outcome of the present case before the Supreme Court, I think we should upell out in our laws the simple proposition that an American citizen has the right to quit business when he wishes, without the necessity of clearing it with the NLRB.

There is nothing new in this proposal. It was first suggested by the late Senator Robert Taft, but he did not push the idea, in the hope that the NLRB would operate satisfactorily without involving the courts.

It is my observation that the NLRB has not properly handled many unfair labor practice cases. It is fairly obvious that most major labor decisions wind up in the courts anyway. It

First Reunion Set For Ex-Jaycees

Former members of the Texas Jaycees and their wives will gather in Lubbock March 26 and 27 for the first reunion of ex-Jaycees ever held in Texas.

Ralph Krebbs, member of a steering committee planning the affair, said more than 250 invitations have been mailed to ex-Jaycees throughout the state who were active during or prior to 1955-56. Men joining the Jaycees after 1955-56 are not eligible to attend, Krebbs said.

He said the two-day program will include dining and dancing, style show for wives and other activities.

Headquarters for the reunion will be the KoKo Palace. Fifty rooms at the KoKo Inn are available on a "first come, first served" basis, said Krebbs.

Cost of the entire weekend of activities for husband and wife will be $25, with a $15 charge for husband only. A couple may participate in the March 27 activities only for $17.50 and the husband will be charged $10 for March 27 only. Reservations should be addressed to Box 631, Lubbock.

Krebbs said more than 300 ex-Jaycees and their wives are expected to attend the reunion.

Other members of the steering committee are Harold Chapman, Gene McDonald, Rolan Simpson, Jim St. Clair, L. D. Whiteley, Rufus Rush and Glenn Woody.

AAUW Meeting Held In Library

The American Association of University Women met Monday March 8 in the Junior High School Library with Elizabeth Watson and Ola B. Jones as hostesses.

Mrs. Watson, program chairman presented the program topics for 1955-67 as selected by the AAUW Board. Mrs. Wilson Witherspoon discussed the Law and the Citizen. Ola B. Jones discussed Education: an antidote to Poverty. Mrs. Johnson spoke on Revolution in modern China and "Science, A Creative Discipline" was discussed Lena Hawkins.

Jean Moore, president, presided over the business meeting.

Refreshments were served and the room was decorated to carry out St. Patrick's Day theme.

Attending were Mrs. R. E. Everett, Mrs. Ray Daniel, Mrs. Jesse Fox, Mrs. Jack Beddingfield, Mrs. J. E. Bachman, Mrs. Wilson Witherspoon, Mrs. Ed Johnson, Mrs. Joe Costen, Latoyia Howell, Alene Siewert, Mabel Laughlin, Ola B. Jones, Lena Hawkins and Jean Moore.

It would seem not only logical, but wise to place them there in the first instance.

I think this legislation would be unnecessary if it weren't for the fact that the National Labor Relations Board has gone far beyond the intent of Congress in the various acts that it has passed granting certain authority and functions and responsibilities to the NLRB.

(Continued from Page 1) merchants was organized in July, 1964. One month later the city council sanctioned the proposal and McMorries and Associates of Amarillo were commissioned to draw up the design. Dr. Orr, his co-chairman Kenneth Ware, Harrison and other business and civic leaders spent hundreds of hours in conference, planning and travel before the project was ready for bid advertisement. Preliminary arrangements included alteration of utilities. Southwestern Public Service Co. has agreed to spend $72,000 of its own funds in relocating primary feeder circuits, installing underground conductors and new street light standards bearing 54,000 lumen mercury vapor lights on four blocks of Phelps Drive, both sides of the street. Pioneer Natural Gas Co. has agreed to enlarge its mains from four to six inches and go underground with all gas meters at a cost of $12,000 and General Telephone Company will install attractive pay telephone stations, and install underground conduit for future use. The City's $59,000 share of the project includes the installation of pedestal type traffic signals. All parking meters will be removed permitting free street parking and citizens will be provided with free parking on two off-street parking lots purchased by the city. The city will also incur the cost of installing a new four - inch water main on both sides of Phelps Drive to provide sidewalk gardens and planter boxes with water. Property owners pay the major cost or $189,778. The fee assessed is $30.81 per front foot on Phelps, $13.27 on XIT and L-FD Drives and $7.58 per front foot on side streets. Overall cost of the improvements, including alteration in utilities, amounts to $371,000. The heart of the project lies on the four blocks of Phelps Drive. Old sidewalks, curbs and gutters will be removed and replaced with 14 foot wide sidewalks, 10 feet of which will be standard concrete and the outer four feet colored exposed aggregate. Sidewalks will be expanded at the end of each block into platforms which will feature either 20 by 20 foot canopied benches or gardens. Besides the ornamental and functional corners, a sample block would include 13 individual planter boxes on both sides of the street. All planter boxes will be colored masonry ranging in shape from rectangular to toadstool. Littlefield's program is well passed the planning stage; it's practically under way. Hereford's program, however, still doesn't have the final approval of all concerned. Two alternatives have been proposed by the city engineer, Bill McMorries of Amarillo. A slightly cheaper route would retain existing sidewalks where possible. All indications are that city officials, who must set up the assessment program, are moving ahead with every intention of putting the project through. Mayor Ray Cowsert, said "We are doing everything that we can possibly do to lower the cost of the project. . . If you want it, we'll do everything in our power to see that you get it. If you don't, then we can forget it." Opponents will have one more chance to speak out against the plan at a public hearing which will be called after notices are issued. City Manager, Dudley Bayne, called on by Chairman R. P. (Dick) Barnard of the merchant planning committee to explain the cost estimates, was the first to bring up the sidewalk alternatives. "Really you're not being out much more for the full job than for going part way," he asserted. Figures prepared by McMorries show that the cost per front foot if all new sidewalks are laid is estimated at $26.02. The alternate route, in which 2 1/2 feet would be trimmed from present sidewalks on each side, would run an estimated $22.47 - about $3.50 per front foot less. McMorries said the project would take from 45 to 60 days. Each merchant should be affected about 10 days. "We'll provide dirt landings for access to each store and in case of rain we'll try to provide bridges." "The only thing we hope for is that it rains a lot in the country but not in town when we start," he said. Mayor Cowsert said the city's share of the project cost, if the all new sidewalk route is chosen, would be about $29,000 - $9,000 would be spent regardless for new traffic controls. The property owners' share of the cost would be about $62,500, according to the estimates. He said the contractor will be paid in cash, a procedure which the city hopes will result in a lower bid. Barnard was asked if a majority of the property owners have been consulted on the project. He replied that "on a front foot basis a large majority of your property owners are in favor of the project." City Manager Bayne said only one property owner has flatly rejected the plans, that being a Houston resident who owns property in the 300 block. McMorries explained how color or would be introduced into the Variety Park design. "We plan to have a lot of color on the end and center canopies as well as the sidewalks," he said. The sidewalks will be composed of colored exposed aggregate and will be tinted with pastel colors, blues, browns, yellows, and oranges. The final design would be selected by the city and merchant committee, he said, after the contractor has prepared several panels for study. The tall, soft-spoken engineer also revealed some of the inconveniences that merchants would have to face. He said storm sewers will have to be put in the 100 and 400 blocks. Fire hydrants will have to be relocated. Underground conduits will have to be laid for street lights and traffic controls, some of which will necessitate tearing up the involved intersections. Soil- (Continued from Page 1) conditions. Newton reports that each thermograph, or soil thermometer, has been placed under bare, cultivated land. And to give a better coverage of the High Plains area, thermographs are located at Seminole, Morton, Hereford, Silverton, Lubbock and at Lockerville, near Ropesville. For future years, Newton plans to collect historical data on soil temperatures, and from this data to extract a formula for predicting soil temperatures. This can be done, he says, by the evaluation of other weather factors and their relationship to soil temperatures, and will enable farmers to plan for planting ahead of time. Also beginning March 15, the agricultural weather service will put out five - day sprinkler irrigation efficiency forecasts in conjunction with their regular five - day weather predictions which are issued three times a week. These forecasts will evaluate the percentage of water leaving sprinkler nozzles which will actually enter the soil under predicted weather conditions. As an example, Newton pointed out that with 15 percent relative humidity and 20 to 25 mile per hour wind some 30 to 35 percent of irrigation water evaporates. "For this reason," he said, "a nine hour setting during early morning or late evening hours when there is little or no wind may be equal to only a six hour setting at noon or other times when humidity is lower and winds are higher." He pointed out that making use of this kind of information is particularly important to producers of cotton during the early bloom stage when sufficient water for the plant greatly affects staple length, and went on to say that this sort of thing could well account for the wide variations in staples from a single field which are sometimes experienced.

The widening of U. S. 84, publicly dubbed "Killer 84" by the Muleshoe Junior Chamber of Commerce, has been in the planning stage for nearly three years. Bonds to pay for land to be acquired were voted by Bailey County voters nearly three years ago. The Parmer county widening program has been completed, extending from a mile east of Lariat to Farwell. Another one - way strip lies east of the Bailey county line to just east of Littlefield. He warned that without leaders, small towns "dry up on the vine, and its citizens drift to the cities which are getting bigger and bigger all the time." He added: "only those small towns which have far-sighted leaders, such as you have here in Muleshoe, will continue to exist." He predicted the economy of West Texas will continue to be good for the next five years, not because it will just naturally be that way, but because West Texas has leaders, men and women with vision who are helping their fellow man to respect and self-support. He also cautioned the United Fund workers not "to sit back on your laurels and think the United Fund will carry itself." He explained that the third year (this is the third year here) for United Fund is always "the most difficult year." He said the first year is always an "enthusiastic one, and the second year carries over that enthusiasm, but it's the third year that requires hard work to keep the program going. After that, the pattern is so well established that it usually becomes a permanent way of life." The United Fund this year distributed $12,000 to nine agencies, including campaign ex-

DeShazo P-TA Elects Officers; Mrs Mardis is President-Elect

New officers for the 1965 - 1966 year were elected Monday afternoon at the regular March 8 meeting of the Mary DeShazo Parent and Teachers Association held in the school cafeteria.

Mrs. Clifford Mardis is president-elect for the coming year, with Mrs. Roy Wrinkle elected as first vice-president; Mrs. J. Lewis Dale, second vice-president; Mrs. Dan Darsey, secretary; and Mrs. Hugh Yeates, Treasurer.

The installation ceremonies will be conducted at the April 12 meeting, to be held at 4:15 p.m. in the school cafeteria, with Mrs. Melvin Hines, District P-TA president from Olton acting as installing officer. The program at that time will be "Has P-TA Been Worthwhile and How?" and a report of the current year's activities of the local unit will be given by Mrs. M. C. Street, Historian.

Mrs. Jack Schuster, president, presided over the Monday meeting. The afternoon's program was a panel discussion of the theme "Creating a Love for Learning", with the topic "What Hinders Our Children in Educational Process?" with Mrs. W. B. Kittrell, panel leader. Panel members included Ann Camp, Muleshoe Public Librarian; JJanice Phillips, second grade teacher, and Louis Powers, parent.

Mrs. Kittrell directed the question of how a teacher and parents can cooperate in the learning process. Mrs. Camp brought our three points including keeping the line of communication open, parental enthusiasm in helping child, and providing encouragement and praise whenever due.

Mrs. Phillips spoke on the influence of the home on the child's learning, bringing our factors of family atmosphere, family constellation for the first child and others, as well as methods and consistency in training. She also stressed the need for encouragement and praise.

Learning is hindered by neglecting to teach our children now to adjust to something new. Powers brought out in his discussion. Economic factors, how the child reflects the personality of the home, and that training belongs primarily to the parents, not teachers, as well as lack of interest, encouragement and praise on the part of parents, were discussed. In addition it was brought out that lack of interest, encouragement and praise on the part of parents, were discussed. In addition it was brought out that lack of interest in the individual student, due to large classroom and many duties, is a hindrance to learning.

PLANT PECAN TREES - If you plan to plant trees this spring, Texas' state tree, the pecan, might be a wise choice. B. G. Hancock, Extension horticulturist, says pecans are widely adapted, will grow into a stately tree and if properly cared for will produce a fine food crop. A real dual-purpose tree, he says.

The United States and Brazil are the world's largest orange producers.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Of Law and Love

SELF-DEFENSE

Law, like psychology, pays all due respect to the instinct of self-preservation. To defend yourself from danger, you have a legal right to use force. If the emergency is dire enough, you may even slay your assailant. But, like all rights, this one has limits.

Here are some warnings:
1) Your right, broadly speaking, is no greater than your need. A minor attack does not justify a major counterattack. Thus, a man who reacted to a slap by stabbing the other man five times was held to have exceeded his right of self-defense. So was a woman who shot another woman for merely pulling her hair.

Of course, in measuring your peril, the law will take into consideration the surrounding circumstances. Obviously a woman has more to fear from a furtive grab on a dark street than from a rude nudge in a crowded elevator.

2) Your right is only to defend, not to punish. If an intruder lies wounded and helpless on the floor, you have no right to kick him in the head to teach him a lesson. Punishment is the law's job, not yours.

3) Before arming yourself with a weapon, check with the police. Possessing it may be unlawful even though you never put it to use. For example, switchblade knives and tear gas squirters are permitted in some communities but not in others.

Now, here is some reassurance: You are not required, in the heat of the fray, to act with perfect judgment and nice restraint.

"Detached reflection cannot be demanded," wrote Oliver Wendell Holmes, "in the presence of an uplifted knife."

Moreover, the law makes fair allowance for the normal human emotions that such an occasion may rouse.

In one case, a bill collector had a housewife arrested for swatting him with a toy baseball bat. But she explained in court that the collector, trying to repossess her furniture by force, had cursed her, menaced her with his fist, and hurled her freshly-ironed laundry on to the floor.

Finding her innocent, the court said she had acted "Very naturally," and added:

"She would not have been a woman if she had stood for that."

Strange Bebfellows Line Up Against 2-Ounce Liquor Bill

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN — If you want to sit in on the committee hearing for the bill which would legalize the sale of miniature bottles of liquor in restaurants, you better come early.

That's what Sen. Jim Bates of Edinburg, sponsor of the bill in the upper house, is saying. He expects as many as 3,000 persons will be at the Capitol to testify or to listen when the bill comes up before the Senate Committee on Jurisprudence at 2 p.m., Tuesday, March 16.

Bill would allow establishments where at least half of the monthly business is for meals to get a state license for the sale of 2oz. bottles of liquor, enough for single cocktail.

There's organized support on both sides. The line up: — In favor, the Texas Restaurant Association which hopes the bill will permit its members to meet the competition of private clubs, which increasingly are getting its members to meet the competition of private clubs, which increasingly are getting the restaurant business from people who like a drink before dinner.

— Opposed, church groups which generally are against any liberalization of liquor regulations and a strange bedfellow, the Texas Package Stores Association, which contends the bill as written would prevent liquor stores from continuing to sell beer.

The Texas Package Stores Association also believes the same section it opposes would prohibit restaurants from selling beer and wine if they sold miniatures.

A hearing is yet to be scheduled on the House version of the bill by Rep. Willie Whatley of Houston.

REDISTRICTING — Texas Republicans, whose lawsuit resulted in present congressional districts being invalidated, have offered their version of how the lines should be redrawn. Plan is embodied in a bill sponsored by Rep. Frank Cahoon of Midland, only Republican in the 59th Legislature.

The GOP product satisfies many objections raised to other introduced so far, since it disturbs fewer incumbents than any plan to date.

Only U. S. Reps. Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls and Omar Bureson of Anson would be facing each other as opponents in a newly created Congressional District 13, and U. S. Reps. John Dowdy of Athens and Lindley Beckworth of Glade water, in a newly defined District 3.

Three new districts would be

LOAN HEARING — A housewife from Dallas told members of the House Committee on Banks and Banking that a $50 loan, which she later decided she did not need in the first place, cost her $1,500 over a three year period by the time she went through renewals and additional loans to meet high interest rates.

She testified in a hearing on a bill by Rep. W. Reed Quilliam Jr. of Lubbock, which would reduce interest rates on loans $100 or less by one half to two thirds.

An association of small loan companies appeared to oppose the bill. A citizens committee from Dallas and ex - Attorney General Will Wilson favored it. The bill went to a sub - committee.

PARK ASKED — Senate adopted a resolution by Sen. W. E. Snelson of Midland urging fast action by Congress to appropriate funds for buying land to create a Guadalupe Mountain National Park.

A federal agency has recommended that the park be created, and an area man has offered to sell 72,000 acres. Area contains the only stream in Texas where mountain trout thrive and is stocked with bear, mountain lion, elk, bighorn sheep, deer, turkey and a great variety of birds.

INTEREST BILL — Rep. James Nugent of Kerrville has reintroduced the amendment to the state conflict of interest statute which failed to pass during the last session.

Among the changes is addition of a section which would prohibit any member of the Legislature from introducing or causing to be introduced legislation which would directly affect any client or employer from who the legislator receives a retainer fee or any other financial consideration during his term in the Legislature.

HORSES STALLED — Rep. V. E. (Red) Berry of San Antonio was left at the post again in his latest try to legalize race track betting on the horses.

Berry couldn't win for losing when he argued for a constitutional amendment to permit parimutuel wagering in Bexar, Dallas, Tarrant, Harris, Galveston, Hidalgo, Cameron, Midland and Webb Counties on a local option basis.

House Constitutional Amendments Committee tucked Berry's proposal away in sub - committee. Frank Newsom, executive secretary of Texas Racing Association, said his group preferred a bill by Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville (scheduled for House State Affairs Committee hearing on March 29). That bill would permit parimutuel betting at licensed tracks in all counties, subject to local option elections.

INTEGRATION — Texas Education Agency notified federal authorities of compliance with school integration requirements of Federal Civil Rights Act.

All but 160 of 1,350 Texas school districts also have agreed to comply, according to Dr. J. W. Edgar, state education commissioner.

Agreement is necessary to continue receiving $40,000,000 in federal school aid.

GUARD FORCES CUT — Texas National Guard forces will undergo reductions more drastic than anticipated under Guard - Army Reserve merger troop allocation plans announced by the Pentagon.

Maj. Gen. Thomas S. Bishop, state adjutant general, said Texas as personnel will be reduced 4,645 from the 28,233 in the Guard and Reserves. And 155 of the present 367 existing units will be dropped if the proposal — still subject to negotiation — becomes final.

"This far exceeds the 25 percent (reduction) that we were advised to expect," Bishop commented.

SHORT SNORTS
"Equal legal rights for women" received another setback in the House, where the proposed constitutional amendment mustered only 91 of needed 100 votes.

Texas Commission on Higher Education picked three junior colleges and 11 four - year institutions to receive $12,000,000 in federal building aid.

Bill to place game and fish regulation in all 254 counties under Parks and Wildlife Commission ran strong opposition at House Game and Fisheries Committee hearing, was sent to sub - committee.

House amended Senate - passed bill to require imported meat to be so labeled.

Final approval has been given a bill by Sen. Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi, which adds milo maize seed and safflower to the list of products from which oleo - margarine can be made and sold in Texas without payment of the 10 cents a pound tax.

Rites Held Here For Mrs. Weaver

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at Northside Church of Christ here for Alice Weaver, 78, who died in Muleshoe Nursing Home Saturday at 9:40 a.m. She had lived here for four and a half years, moving here from Dodson.

The services were conducted by Frank Duckworth, the pastor and Van McCormick, Clovis, N. M. Burial was in Bailey County Memorial Park with Singleton Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were Borden Mullins, Bill Harbin, Buddy Hale, Freddie Savage, Dan Throckmorton and Charoes Hamilton.

Survivors include five sons, Horace Weaver, Muleshoe; Delton Weaver, Phoenix, Ariz.; U. C. Weaver, J. C. Weaver and O. V. Weaver, all of Amarillo; a daughter, Bernice Weaver, Southerland, Ore.; a brother, M. L. Lemley, Los Angeles; 25 grandchildren and 48 great grandchildren.

Mrs. Weaver was born June 15, 1886 in Bosque county. She was the widow of Marshall Franklin Weaver.

Orange growers have yet to find a mechanical substitute for the twist of the human wrist. Though highly mechanized, the industry must employ pickers to harvest the fruit by hand.

Glass fiber — one of the most versatile manufacturing materials — was unknown to housewives and drapers until the early 1930s.

Delivering letters is one of the oldest public services. In 500 B. C., Darius the Great operated a postal system throughout Persia. Post is derived from the Latin positus, meaning "placed" because horses were stationed at intervals to relay Roman dispatches.

State Treasurer Jesse James reports that revenue from cigarette tax stamps in February totaled $5,600,000 or $1,000,000 over February, 1964.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm takes a side look at big cities this week.
 Dear editor:
 According to an article I read in a newspaper which blew against my back door and I had to pull down anyway to see out — I know where that loose board is on the step but I like to see it before I put my foot on it — seventy per cent of the U. S. population now lives in or near big cities.

As you can see, this leaves 30 per cent in small towns and the country, which is all right with me, as it's not the percentage that counts, it's the quality, and when it's not the quality, it's the distance apart, which sometimes is nearly the same thing. But the most important thing about the article was its statement that in 40 years all these big cities will double in population.

I don't see how the cities can stand it. I never heard of solving the problem of over-crowdedness by crowding in more. What I mean is, go into any big city and try to imagine it with twice the traffic snarl it has now.

Furthermore, I saw a television report the other night showing one block in one city with 1600 people living in it. You try to picture 1600 people living on one block in Muleshoe and then multiply that by a few more blocks and while I don't know what you'd come up with, it's not for me. I like my fellow man, but not that many that close.

I understand that the main purpose of most big cities is to keep growing; any time a census report shows one has gained in population its newspapers come out with big headlines, but it seems to me the cities may be carrying this too far. If they all double in size in 40 years, they'll be building highway loops halfway around the country just to by-pass them, and a man in the country wanting to get to another spot in the country will have a choice of driving 200 miles to get around one or losing a week trying to go straight through.

I don't know that there's anything that can be done about this, or should, but it's a problem I intend to watch from a distance.

Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

CLAY COUNTY NOT HENRY'S
 FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Henry Clay is one of the few famous Kentuckians in the state's early history who does not have a county named after him.
 There is a Clay County, but it was named for Gen. Green Clay, a Virginian prominent in Kentucky before it became a state.
 said Captain Johnson. Many thousands of vehicle owners can expect to wait in long lines in order to get their vehicles inspected by the April 15 deadline.
 It is almost apparent now that many vehicle owners have waited too long for the inspections stations to safety inspect their vehicles by April 15. "Any driver operating a vehicle registered in Texas that is required to be inspected, on public roads after April 15 without a valid 1965 inspection sticker will be operating in violation of the law," stated the Captain.
 The DPS supervisor said, "The purpose of the motor vehicle inspection program is to discover any maladjustment which might become a link in a cycle of events leading to an accident, and by removing the link, prevent the accident."

No Extension of Car Sticker Deadline Seen

There will be no extension of the Motor Vehicle Safety Inspection deadline of April 15, announced Captain Alan Johnson of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Service, Texas Department of Public Safety, for this area.

"Only two million of the five and a quarter million registered vehicles in Texas have been inspected. This leaves over three million vehicles to be inspected in about five weeks,"

 If you could buy your medicine "across the counter" at the drug store, without needing your doctor's prescription you'd save money — but you'd lose something, too . . . your doctor's knowledge and experience in diagnosing ills and cures. In insurance, too, you need the "right prescription" which you can get from an experienced independent insurance agent. When sickness strikes, you appreciate your doctor's skill most . . . and when trouble comes is the time you really appreciate the kind of sound, thorough and friendly help our agency gives you . . . thorough good insurance and personal service.

A & M'S AGRICULTURAL PUBLICATIONS IN WIDE DEMAND — Almost 3 1/2 million copies dealing with subjects in agriculture and home economics were distributed in 1964 by Texas A&M University's Department of Agricultural Information. A majority of the publications were written by specialists of the Agricultural Extension Service or staff members of the Agricultural Experiment Station, according to Hal R. Taylor, editor and head, Department Agricultural Information. He reminds Texans that copies of the publications are free and are available through county Extension offices or from the Department at Texas A&M University, College Station.

LOT OF BEEF CAME FROM TEXAS FEEDLOTS IN 1964 — During the past year, 969,000 head of cattle and calves were marketed from Texas feedlots. Ed Uvacek, Extension livestock marketing specialist and assistant professor at Texas A&M University, said this was a 227 percent increase over the number marketed in 1958.
