Dry Front Nips Hope For Rain

A-J News Services
Some of the coldest temperatures of the season were recorded today in the East, but warmer air from the Midwest promised relief at least through the middle of the week.

A weak cool front moved out of the southern Rockies toward Northwest Texas this afternoon, but forecasters said that it would not result in precipitation or significant temperature changes in the Panhandle or South Plains.

At dawn it was 13 below in Burlington, Vt., 15 below in Portland, 5 in Boston and 9 in Philadelphia. The lowest readings were 36 below at Old Forge in New York State's central Adirondacks, 23 below at Glens Falls, N.Y., and 21 below at Lebanon, N.H.

At Old Forge, a village of 850 people, no particular problems were reported, but in Saratoga County firemen battled a barn fire for 12 hours when equipment broke down repeatedly in the freezing weather.

Fourteen companies fought the fire in Northumberland that destroyed a large barn and the winter hay supply. The animals escaped injury.

The warming trend was already under way in the Plains, with milder weather over most of the area Sunday and Sunday night. Temperatures rose overnight in the middle and upper Mississippi Valley, the Great Lakes and the Ohio Valley.

Skies were cloudy from Texas into the Great Lakes. Scattered drizzle fell from Texas into southern Kansas, rain in southern Arkansas and snow over the eastern Great Lakes. Snow and freezing drizzle were reported in northern Michigan.

In the West, rain or snow fell at higher elevations in Montana, Idaho, Wyoming and Utah and light rain dampened the northern Pacific coast.

Skies were fair in the Southeast, except northeast Florida. Daytona Beach had a half-inch of rain overnight. The desert Southwest was clear, except coastal California and the northern and central valleys.

Lubbock's old ally, but infrequent visitor — moisture — gave a hint of its presence early today with fog that dipped below the city's skyline and forced two commercial aircraft to carry their Lubbock-bound passengers to other destinations.

No departing craft were delayed, a Federal Aviation Administration spokesman said this morning, and by mid-morning See BITTER COLD Page 14

County Mishap Kills Two Men

By PAT CARLSON
Avalanche-Journal Staff

Two men were killed and another seriously injured in a two-vehicle collision just south of the city this morning.

One of the dead men was identified as Abel Trevino, 70, of Route 1, Box 329, Lubbock. Investigators at noon still had not established positive identification of the second man killed.

Gabriel Trevino, 42, also of Route 1, Lubbock, was taken to Methodist Hospital in serious condition. It was not immediately known what, if any, relation he is to the elder Trevino.

The collision of the pickup and a dump truck reportedly occurred about 10 a.m. at the intersection of a dirt road and a paved highway. Justice of the Peace Arvin Stafford of Slaton pronounced the two men dead at the scene.

The younger Trevino was the driver of a pickup, which was pulling a small wooden trailer. The driver of the manure-laden truck was not injured.

The mishap occurred on 98th Street and Beech Avenue, a mile south of the city limits at the Slaton Highway.

The 45-year-old Ulysses, Kan., man, who was driving the dump truck, said he was southbound on the unpaved Beech Avenue, and "just didn't see" the approaching westbound pickup.

"I saw the other truck (traveling behind the death vehicle), but I never saw this one until he was right on top of me," the visibly shaken driver of the larger truck recounted.

Willie Montgomery of 312 E. 34th St. was driving about eight car lengths behind the Trevino vehicle as it approached the intersection.

"Neither one was going very fast," he said. "He (the dump truck driver) said he knew he had time to beat us, but he just didn't see the one in front of us."

It was Montgomery who called for help on his CB radio.

The collision caused Trevino's truck to spin around and stop about 30 feet from the point of impact. The front of the vehicle was demolished and the three victims remained lodged inside the cab.

The elder Trevino, in the right passenger's seat, and the third man, who rode in the middle, suffered severe head injuries. A small trailer being towed by the Trevino truck was severed from the vehicle at the point of impact. A large pig, also injured, was pinned under a wooden cart in a shallow ditch.

The dump truck, which was only slightly damaged, stopped about a quarter-mile south of the intersection. The driver told investigators at the scene his brakes were affected by the collision.

The Kansas man, who said he had been in the Lubbock area for only a few days, said he has been passing through the intersection about once every two hours hauling the material.

Witnesses at the scene said the open space usually poses no problem in seeing oncoming traffic.

The bodies of the dead men were taken to Sanders Funeral Home.

Professor To Help Pair Regain Home

LOS ANGELES (AP) — If Jack Byerly's past record is any indication, a Seattle couple evicted last week by their son has a good chance of being back in their home by Christmas.

The 56-year-old Orange County college professor said Sunday he has rescued about 50 people who had been threatened with losing their houses.

Byerly has offered to buy the Seattle house from police Sgt. Tom J. Rhodes Jr. at $2,000 more than its reported $50,000 value. Rhodes won a court battle over ownership with his parents, Thomas and Sarah Rhodes.

"If the son just really wants money, then his parents may be back by Christmas," Byerly said in a telephone interview from his Villa Park home about 30 miles southeast of here.

"If there's a grudge involved, they won't be. But from what I've heard of the situation, it's probably a money problem made worse by a lack of communication."

"I'm not a wealthy man, and buying the Rhodes home will be a sacrifice," Byerly said, adding that friends may loan him the money. "But the situation just seems terrible to me."

Byerly, a real estate finance instructor at California State College-Fullerton and at Coastline College in Fountain Valley, said he hopes his bid to buy the Rhodes' home will help solve their problem, which he read about in a newspaper.

"I know how my mom and dad love their home," he said of his parents in Beaumont.

Re-Election Bid Eyed By Brazell

By PAT PATRICK
Avalanche-Journal Staff

Longtime Lubbock County Commissioner Alton Brazell filed papers today laying the groundwork for a re-election campaign to his Pct. 4 post.

Brazell — the only veteran among the four commissioners who include two men elected last year and one appointed this year — has been a proponent during his 18-year tenure of efficiency in government.

In other political news, The Avalanche-Journal learned today that Plains Cotton Co-op Gin accountant Jerry Airhart plans to run against Dist. 75-B state Rep. Froy Salinas next year.

Airhart confirmed he is planning to announce for race "after the first of the year."

Airhart, a 35-year-old Democrat, is the son of the late J.B. Airhart, a well-known oil Yarrow-rough-line liberal Democrat here.

First elected to the northwest Lubbock County Pct. 4 in 1958, Brazell was re-elected in 1962, 1966, 1970 and 1974.

The 49-year-old conservative Democrat has lived in the precinct since 1941 when he moved here from East Texas.

He farmed in the precinct for many years, but no longer does, being a "full-time" commissioner.

He is a director of the Lubbock County Historical Collection in Shallowater and represents the commissioners court on the board of directors and executive committee of the Food and Fiber National Institute of Achievement and the Lubbock Lake Site Development Committee.

He is a member of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce streets and highways committee and serves as chairman of the policy advisory committee of the Urban Transportation Study Group, a city-council committee.

Goodfellows Urge Early Donations

When is the best time to make a Goodfellow contribution?

"Right now," Chief Goodfellow hurriedly answered, "and I'll tell you why!"

He explained: "This is a real important time in our planned campaign to get Christmas to every boy and girl in the city who may need our visit to have any Christmas at all."

"Coupons (this is the last week to get them in) are pouring in daily. These tell us how many Christmas packages we will need and that's something we need to know right away. And also, we'll know if we can expect enough money to buy them all."

Mail contributions today to Chief Goodfellow, P.O. Box 491, Lubbock, Tex., 79408. The coupon for reporting the names of needy children to the Goodfellows is on Page 1, Sec. C.

And the leader of the Masked Santas laughed: "It would be nice if we did have $43,746.58 as listed in the morning edition of the A-J. But that was a typographical error. We actually had $3,746 at that tabulation."

Rural Fire Units To Get Subsidy

By JEFF SOUTH
Avalanche-Journal Staff

In a compromise with rural firefighters, Lubbock County commissioners today agreed to subsidize each of the county's small-town fire departments in 1978 at a level about the same as this year's.

However, instead of paying the departments a fixed rate for every run they make into unincorporated areas, commissioners decided to divide the county's total 1978 fire service budget among the various units in lump-sum payments, based on the percentage of the county's fire calls each handled this past year.

In effect, each department will make approximately the same next year as in 1977. A few departments may find their annual subsidy cut by a few thousand dollars, but commissioners said those departments' workloads will be lightened with the creation of new fire-fighting units.

Commissioners have been paying each department $275 per rural fire call — an arrangement that has cost the county about $101,000 this year. Keeping the same rate, commissioners said, would boost the cost to $130,000 next year.

Initially, they proposed to cut the per-call payment to $200, but the fire departments balked, saying they need at least $300 per call to break even.

Under the compromise, drafted by Commissioners Coy Biggs and Edgar Chance, the county will take the $100,000 set aside for fire call payments next year and distribute the money to all departments, based on the percentage of calls they handled in 1977.

Consequently, commissioners said, if the county experiences an unusually high

Home Computers On Christmas Gift List

By JACK DOUGLAS
Avalanche-Journal Staff

Fellas, are you looking for a Christmas gift that will help improve your wife's cooking? Or ladies, would a husband who better understands the family's finances be a nice Yuletide gift?

The answer is simple — buy a computer.

While it may take a computer to figure how to make such an investment, in-home computers are available in Lubbock this Christmas, and at a price considerably lower than in years past.

And for you single people, there are backgammon and chess games where the opposing player is a computer.

The "micro-computers" have not been readily available until about a year and a half ago, and they did not hit Lubbock until several months ago, said Randal Null, part-owner and manager of the Neighborhood Computer Store, 4902 34th St.

Null's business and Computer Mart of West Texas, 3506-D Ave. Q, apparently are the only places in the city where the mini-computers can be purchased. However, Tom Chrane, owner and manager of Computer Mart, said his line is directed mainly towards small businesses.

Radio Shack also carries a line of the small computers, but presently is not able to keep them in stock because of high demand.

Null, who has a Ph.D. in bio-medical engineering from Louisiana Tech, said he has sold some of the small mechanical brains to persons wanting them for home use. He also stocks the computerized backgammon game (about $200) and chess set (approximately $275).

Null suggested the computers, which range in cost from about $1,600 to $15,000, can be used to figure income taxes, formulate educational programs for children, store family recipes and help compute a dietary balance and serve as an entertainment center.

The computers, if modified, can also control house systems such as heating and cooling, or a burglar alarm.

The smallest computer stocked by Null is about the size of a shoe box, excluding the video display, a keyboard used to feed in programs and a simple cassette recorder which acts as a storing device.

Null said his smallest computer, which costs about $1,850, would have cost between $25,000 and $50,000 five years ago and been about the size of a refrigerator.

Chrane said there is an added cost in learning how to program the computers. While simple programming would not take long to learn, he said, more complex operations probably would take several years. "It (programming) takes experience. It's not an exact science as much as an art," Chrane said.

While the micro-computer is a relatively new thing, the micro-processor, or mechanical brain used in the computer, was developed in 1970.

Chrane said he sees a dropping trend in hobbyists buying the small computers to play with, and increasing sales to businesses and schools. "Most of the people who buy these things have a goal, either monetary or academic," Chrane said.

Null said, however, micro-computer sales are not good during the holiday season because the price is too high for a normal Christmas gift. "People are spending their money in other places," he said.

Null, who said he left the "academic world" because he could not find a job, got into the computer business because he sees a growing market in the miniature, manmade brains for domestic use.

He adds, "I feel we're getting to a point where there is so much paperwork, we're going to need a good record-keeping system and financial analysis."

Wayne Gives Jane Fonda Award

LOS ANGELES (AP) — John Wayne glanced at Jane Fonda and cracked, "I'm surprised to find you at the right of me."

The two met at the annual awards of the Hollywood Women's Press Club. The conservative actor presented the politically radical actress with the club's award as "Star of the Year."

Miss Fonda, previously recognized by the club for helping give Hollywood a bad image, said about Sunday's award: "It sure beats a lemon ... I'm glad to receive this from you, Mr. Wayne."

Wayne, another recipient of the "Star of the Year" award, said: "I've had the good fortune of knowing Jane's father (Henry Fonda) for 40 years and I've enjoyed watching Jane and Peter (her brother) develop into fine talents."

Solons Invited To Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cuban President Fidel Castro has invited U.S. Reps. Richard Nolan, D-Minn., and Fred Richmond, D-N.Y., to return to Cuba for deep sea fishing, Nolan says.

Nolan, who returned from a trip to Havana last week, said no arrangements had been made for the future fishing excursion.

However, he added, "We were told that Castro doesn't extend these invitations unless he really means it."

Evangelist Building 'Little City'

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Evangelist Leroy Jenkins is building a multimillion-dollar spiritual center in Arizona, but an aide says the religious crusader has no plans to move his base from Ohio.

Jenkins, who also has announced plans to run for governor in Ohio, is busy supervising construction of a $15 million spiritual center near the Painted Desert area of Arizona, said Betty Forbush, Jenkin's campaign manager.

The facility, due for completion by mid-1979, will include a medical center, a university, motels, a cathedral and other shops, Mrs. Forbush said.

"It will be like a little city out in the desert for people we hope will come from the world over," she said, adding, "he is not moving from the state. He has no plans to move now or in the future."

Official Seeks More Responsibility

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Lt. Gov. Mary Anne Krupsak says before she agrees to be Gov. Hugh Carey's running mate next year, she wants to be sure she will have more responsibilities in any second Carey administration.

Carey, she says, must agree to involve her more actively in the early planning stages of government decision-making. Both are Democrats.

"There has been very little reaching out from the second floor (Carey's offices) to this floor (her office) in the past three years," Miss Krupsak said in an interview published Sunday by the Albany Times-Union. "Decisions are made, and I read about them in the newspaper."

"I always have a feeling at meetings I am brought into that there were two or three prior planning sessions at which major decisions were already made," she said.

Moynihan Critical Of Raises

NEW YORK (AP) — New York is better understood these days in Washington, but it has to stop hurting itself by such practices as its local legislators voting themselves a raise, Sen. Daniel P. Moynihan says.

The New York Democrat said Sunday that President Carter "is responding with all that I'd ask, which is, 'Let's put this case out there. Let's look at it. What do we think?'"

He said Washington "knows we are trying, but they are concerned that we stay honest with them."

Asked what effect a 50 percent pay boost for city council members has, he said: "It is a spectacle ... We have to watch that. Every time you look up, somebody in one of the uniformed services is retiring at $35,000 a year with another 30 good years of work in him."

Young Blasts 'Evil System'

NEW YORK (AP) — Andrew Young says South African black activist leader Steve Biko's death probably was not planned, but resulted from the "evil system" in that white-ruled country.

"When you have an evil system like that, there will be deaths ... I don't think anybody sat down and made a decision that he should be beaten to death," the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations said Sunday during an interview.

Earlier, during a sermon on Human Rights Day at the Riverside Church in Manhattan, Young praised Biko as a "martyr ... a good man who laid down his life before his fellow man. We see in the martyrdom of Steve Biko an awakening of the conscience of the entire world."

Biko died of head injuries earlier this year. A South African court recently concluded that the death was accidental, not the result of a beating by police, as Biko's followers had claimed.

Heads In The Clouds

GREENVILLE (AP) — Newlyweds Jim and Jeanne Jackson had their heads in the clouds — literally — when they got married exactly one mile over Hunt County.

"We wanted a small wedding and we had one," said Jackson, 42, an avid pilot.

"Jim didn't want to interrupt his flying or his golf game and the golf cart was just too small," said Mrs. Jackson, 38.

Sunday's double-ring ceremony was broadcast to a chase plane, loaded with family and friends.

"It was perfect," Mrs. Jackson said. "A lot of fun."

Fatal Fire's Cause Eyed By Officials

BAY CITY, Mich. (AP) — Investigators picked through the ruins of a huge old apartment building today to determine whether a fire that claimed at least nine lives was set deliberately.

Several persons were listed as missing and five of the 45 persons hospitalized were in critical condition.

Insurance officials said damages could reach $10 million from the Saturday fire at the 70-year-old Wenonah Park Building, a residential hotel which housed mostly elderly people, low-income families and students.

"It's very suspicious," said Lionel Ayotte, assistant fire chief. He said firemen believed the blaze started on the east side of the building's third or fourth floor.

"When it started, it just went down the hall like wildfire," said Robert Bauer, an assistant police chief.

Arson investigators were checking reports that residents smelled gasoline in a hallway before the fire and that a gas can was seen near an elevator shaft.

They also were looking into reports that the fire broke out simultaneously on both ends of the block-long, four-story downtown building.

"There's no determination yet that the fire was caused by arson," said Austin Waldron, state fire marshal detective. He said the blaze spread quickly because the corridors were paneled with wood and the building had open stairwells.

Meanwhile, the first police officer to arrive at the scene said only one of the emergency wall hoses would work.

The officer, Gene La Poutre, said the other two hoses has rusty valves and the one that did work was full of leaks.

City and state officials could not say immediately when the 103-unit building had last undergone a safety or fire check.

Leader Agrees To Voting Age

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI) — Prime Minister Ian Smith, resuming negotiations today on a transfer of power to blacks in Rhodesia, has given in to demands that the minimum voting age be set at 18, sources close to the talks said.

The sources said Smith demanded in return several safeguards for Rhodesia's 268,000 whites, such as a guarantee they will control one-third of parliament although the 6.4 million blacks outnumber them 23 to 1.

Smith already has committed himself to universal adult suffrage.

Bishop Abel Muzorewa of the United African National Council, the most popular of the three black leaders engaged in the talks, has insisted the voting age be set at 18 instead of 21 — a step that would increase black leverage in the coming years.

Former POW's Honored At Party In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — More than 300 former prisoners of war from Mississippi and surrounding states had a turkey dinner and swapped stories during a weekend party that was termed a success by a couple who planned the affair.

The prisoners, who came from Mississippi, Alabama, Texas and Louisiana, were invited to Jackson Saturday night by a former POW and his wife who decided to give each other the party as a combined Christmas and 28th anniversary present.

"We just had a great time. I don't know how it could have been better," Hunter Gates said. "This was the best Christmas I have ever had and the most rewarding thing I have ever gotten into."

Gates and his wife, Pegge, originally planned to have the party at their home. But the cold weather forced the gathering to move to a National Guard Armory.

"Even with moving it to the armory at the last minute we still had a good turnout," Gates said. "We had ex-POWs from World War II, Korea and Vietnam. They all just seemed to really enjoy it."

Gates, who was a POW in Germany during World War II, said the affair was a combined Hanukkah and Christmas party, with neighbors and friends pitching in to help with the party meal.

A pharmaceutical firm representative, Gates said there were stories swapped "that would curl your hair, and others that uncured it."

"Gov. Cliff Finch also unexpectedly dropped in on the party and proclaimed Dec. 10 "Former Prisoner of War Day in Mississippi."

"I hope we can have another party next year," Gates said, "but it will take quite a party to top this one."

Rev. 8:13, 9:1-2, The Living Bible

3 Then another angel with a golden censer came and stood at the altar; and a great quantity of incense was given to him to mix with the prayers of God's people, to offer upon the golden altar before the throne.

4 And the perfume of the incense mixed with prayers ascended up to God from the altar where the angel had poured them out.

5 Then the angel filled the censer with fire from the altar and threw it down upon the earth; and thunder crashed and rumbled, lightning flashed, and there was a terrible earthquake.

6 Then the seven angels with the seven trumpets prepared to blow their mighty blasts.

7 The first angel blew his trumpet, and hail and fire mixed with blood were thrown down upon the earth. One-third of the earth was set on fire so that one-third of the trees were burned, and all the green grass.

8,9 Then the second angel blew his trumpet, and what appeared to be a huge burning mountain was thrown into the sea, destroying a third of all the ships; and a third of the sea turned red as blood; and a third of the fish were killed.

10 The third angel blew, and a great flaming star fell from heaven upon a third of the rivers and springs.

11 The star was called "Bitterness" because it poisoned a third of all the water on the earth and many people died.

12 The fourth angel blew his trumpet and immediately a third of the sun was blighted and darkened, and a third of the moon and the stars, so that the daylight was dimmed by a third, and the nighttime darkness deepened.

13 As I watched, I saw a solitary eagle flying through the heavens crying loudly, "Woe, woe, woe to the people of the earth because of the terrible things that will soon happen when the three remaining angels blow their trumpets."
CHAPTER 9

1 Then the fifth angel blew his trumpet and I saw one who was fallen to earth from heaven, and to him was given the key to the bottomless pit.

2 When he opened it, smoke poured out as though from some huge furnace, and the sun and air were darkened by the smoke.

Humphrey Gets Privileges During Visit

By LAURENCE McQUILLAN
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The wind atop the forested mountain sliced through winter coats without mercy as Jimmy Carter ushered a bundled and gaunt Hubert Humphrey to the presidential limousine.

Carter stood by the right rear door and gestured for the 66-year-old Minnesotaan to sit in the seat reserved for presidents. The president walked around the back of the black limousine and sat opposite his weekend guest, a veteran Democrat who has been a factor or candidate in every presidential election since John F. Kennedy ran for president.

The pair sat back for the two-to three-minute drive from the helicopter pad to the lodges inside the secluded presidential retreat at Camp David, Md.

Yielding the traditional seat of presidents in the limousine to a man who always wanted to be president was a small gesture. But no one could remember Carter doing it before.

It was the first time, too, Carter invited a colleague from his public life, a political comrade, to join him for the weekend at the presidential retreat snuggled in Maryland's Catoctin mountains.

The rustic compound, first used by Franklin D. Roosevelt, is considered "an extension of the official residence" by Carter, aides say, and he rarely invites outsiders.

It is a place where Carter can kick off his shoes or wander through the woods without protection or interruption, and generally leave the trials of a presidency behind.

"This is a very relaxed, friendly and warm time for these two men," explained deputy press secretary Rex Granum.

Humphrey, who learned in August he had inoperable terminal cancer, had just ended a grueling series of chemotherapy treatments for the cancer, treatments that whiten the hair and wrack the body with nausea.

Humphrey had never been to the presidential retreat, not even as Lyndon Johnson's vice president for four years.

Carter said he and Humphrey would spend the weekend sitting by the fire, chatting "about history, past, present and future."

The pair attended religious services Sunday at a lodge often used for movies.

A White House staffer who worked for Carter when he was in Georgia once said Humphrey was one of the few nationally prominent Democrats who took Carter seriously from the outset, unlike many politicians who readily dismissed the White House ambitions of a peanut farmer and former Georgia governor.

Humphrey was one of the few "who gave Carter more than a condescending pat on the head" when the southerner was fighting his way up, the aide said.

It was not the first time Carter went out of his way to fulfill a long standing Humphrey wish. Carter diverted Air Force One on a return trip from the West Coast to pick up Humphrey and his wife Muriel in Minnesota for the return to Washington.

As the presidential helicopter departed the mountain top Sunday for the 65-mile flight back to Washington, it took a wide circle over the retreat so Humphrey could see Camp David from the air. A Marine guard who has served on the security detail since the Nixon years said he had never seen that happen before.

Schools In Cleveland Resume Classes

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland schools were returning to normal operations today after the upheaval caused by a teacher boycott.

However, the court case over the problems that contributed to the financial crisis continues.

Acting under special authorization from the Ohio Legislature, the school board used borrowed funds to issue back paychecks last week to 11,000 employees who had not been paid since Nov. 11.

Teachers got two paychecks — one Thursday and another Friday — and agreed to end the boycott that kept the 112,000-pupil school system in turmoil for more than a week.

The system's financial problems apparently will get a full airing in U.S. District Judge Frank J. Battisti's court this week as hearings continue on a final desegregation plan for the schools.

Daniel R. McCarthy, Battisti's special master supervising the desegregation plan, said in a special report last week that the financial crisis has been building for several years.

Using a study prepared by the accounting firm of Ernst Ernst, McCarthy sought to show that the school system has been borrowing money for years, putting off paying bills and adopting budgets that did not work.

Two months ago, when the schools were threatened with a shutdown for lack of funds, school officials projected a $19 million deficit by the end of the year.

As a result of the Legislature's action, the school board will be carrying a huge debt over into next year. Exactly how much should be revealed Friday in a second report from McCarthy.

The schools face higher costs next year from pay increases, plus new expenses under the desegregation plan — although some of the higher costs will be offset by the closing of unneeded schools.

With enrollment continuing to drop, the school board tried to close eight of the system's 176 schools last summer but were rebuffed by Battisti, who told them to fit the closings into their desegregation plan.

The NAACP seeks to have the schools adopt some special programs such as remedial reading for blacks and extra teacher training to smooth the integration process. Proposals call for the Ohio Board of Education to finance some of these programs, but these suggestions are being opposed by state officials.

The Cleveland school enrollment is about 58 percent black.

Psychiatrist Says Gifts Important

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — If you listen to psychiatrist Edwin Fuchs, you'll take care what Christmas gifts you choose for friends and relatives.

Fuchs said recipients can feel rejected if their gifts are less than they expected or items that were hastily picked.

contributions to the legal plans nor the value of the legal services could be counted as taxable income. Without that legislation, a participant in a group legal plan who received $3,000 in legal services would have had to report the money as income and pay tax on it, as well as on his or her employer's contribution. The exemption applies only to those plans connected with employment. It does not deal with group legal plans set up by other organizations, such as religious or consumer groups. Group legal plans not only provide people with services they otherwise could not afford, they also offer them access to a service they otherwise might not be able to find. Murphy said that many people simply do not know how to go about finding and choosing a lawyer and added the legal profession itself has not worked out a way to help. A recent study by the ABA confirmed that view. The study showed that although more than 96 percent of all Americans had faced at least one legal problem in their lifetime, but only 66 percent had ever taken a problem to a lawyer.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL:

Takers Can't Be Givers

ONE OF THE most successful hoaxes of this generation has been the Carter administration's use of the word "rebate" to describe its socialistic crude oil proposal.

The Carter plan would not "rebate" these taxes at all. It would, instead, take the money from the taxpayers and give it to others.

"Rebate" is defined in the dictionary as a credit, a discount, a refund or a "return of a part of an amount paid."

Yet, even as Senate and House conferees try to hammer out a compromise energy plan, news stories continue to use Carter's word "rebate" to describe his tax proposal, which he calls the "cornerstone" of his energy package.

UNDER THE CARTER plan, as approved by the House of Representatives, a crude oil tax would be redistributed to Americans on a per capita basis next year.

"Mr. Carter wants the bureaucracy to set prices and to distribute the rewards politically," a group of nationally known economists warned in a full-page Wall Street Journal ad headlined "Demagoguery at the White House."

The President, in direct contradiction of an oft-repeated campaign promise, also wants to keep federal price controls over natural gas sold in interstate commerce.

Worse still, he even wants to extend these controls to gas produced and consumed without ever leaving Texas.

Senate conferees have hinted they might cave in to these Carter demands in return for higher prices than the President had recommended on gas and "old" oil.

"THERE IS NO energy crisis in the U.S. today but there is an energy problem," the economists said in their ad last month. "It was created by political manipulation and price controls in energy markets."

They proposed that Congress let the market set the price of gas and oil and let the owners keep their profits as an incentive to produce more.

There is a definition for this approach to the energy problem, too. Unlike Carter's misuse of the word "rebate," this phrase is used in its proper context to describe a system that works.

It's called "free enterprise."

James J. Kilpatrick:

A Mite Too Much Democracy

WASHINGTON—Every legislative body knows its silly season, but ordinarily the folly comes along in the closing hours of a session when members are tired, or tiddy, or both.

The Senate Judiciary Committee, by contrast, is refreshed by the recent recess and its members presumably are cold sober; and the committee is about to hold hearings on a remarkably silly proposal.

This is the proposal sponsored by James Abourezk of South Dakota to amend the Constitution so as to provide for a national scheme of initiative and referendum.

How on earth, one wonders, did Abourezk ever talk Birch Bayh into granting him two days of hearings on this populist resolution? Hearings are hard to come by in Senator Bayh's subcommittee.

DOUBTLESS THE fact that Abourezk is one of four Democrats on the subcommittee had something to do with it, but even so: This thing is nonsense. There are half a dozen other proposals for constitutional amendment now pending, and one or two of them might even have some merit. The Abourezk resolution has none.

The South Dakotans's proposed amendment is an example of what the Dormouse, at the Mad Hatter's tea party, referred to as "much of a muchness." Too much of a muchness. The theory is that government "by the people" is a good thing.

Once this principle is accepted, it follows that more government by the people is a still better thing. To permit the people to write their own laws—their very own laws!—must be the best thing of all. Goody, goody!

Sen. Abourezk would take the doctrine of "by the people" and run it into the ground.

IF THE Constitution were rewritten to the senator's desire, it would become possible for almost any pressure group to draft a federal law. This could be a proposal by Ralph Nader to prohibit the manufacture or importation of fast cars and chocolate bars.

It could be a proposal by the anti-tobacco people to ban cigarettes or to put a ten-buck tax on every package. It could be a proposal from Common Cause or the Sierra Club to tighten the laws against air and water pollution.

The proponents of the law would then undertake to obtain, over an 18-month period, the valid signatures of 2,450,000 registered voters asking that the proposal be put upon a national ballot.

At least 3 per cent of the voters in 10 different states would have to sign up. Once the attorney general had certified that the initiative requirement had been met, a referendum would be conducted in the next even-numbered year.

If a majority of the people voted "yes," the law would take effect. It could be repealed or amended during the following two years only by a two-thirds vote of the members of each house "duly elected and sworn."

THE LANGUAGE suggests that members who had been fraudulently elected and never sworn could effect an overthrow, but never mind. "Any law enacted pursuant to this article shall be a law the same as any other law of the United States."

One prays that the drafters of initiatives would be a little more literate than the drafters of this amendment. The drafters of this amendment do not even shudder at an "and which" clause. They speak of a petition that sets forth the text of the proposed law "and contains signatures...and which includes" certain other signatures. Yecch!

Sen. Abourezk says the initiative and referendum has worked just bully in 23 states. He asks why the system would not work nationwide. One answer, perhaps, is that we are not now, and never have been, politically one nation.

IN EVERY political act we take, we act through our states, as states. Under the Tenth Amendment, the states reserved all powers they did not delegate to the federal government or prohibit to themselves. In these areas, the states respectively are sovereign; they can do anything they want to do.

A system of national initiative and referendum would fundamentally alter our political structure. It would undermine the principles of representative government—principles that have served us well.

The scheme would lend itself to impulse, to emotion, and to the hambone appeals of eloquent demagogues pleading in the name of "the people."

No, sir. Perhaps the initiative works within a particular state for the enactment of a simple proposition. On any complicated national issue of real substance, it could not work at all.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

The Skeet Shoot

FIFTY YEARS ago today, the Model A Ford was introduced. It was so easy to keep running that some oldtimers are still convinced it was invented in order to provide a new use for baling wire.

Jeff Carter has sold a magazine 10 pages of family photos showing life at the White House. He was paid $10,000. Wonder if he has any White House tapes for sale, too?

The federal treasury borrowed $71 million last year to help finance presidential campaigns which resulted in the election of Jimmy Carter.

My Neighbor Twice Removed says he's been telling us all along that deficit spending would lead to nothing but trouble.

Ronald Reagan has returned $611,141 of the $5,088,910 in taxpayers' funds that he was given to boost his campaign for the Republican nomination. The public coffers are so generous that a fiscal conservative can't even spend all that's given him, no matter how hard he tries!

IN ITS DECEMBER newsletter, the Lubbock chapter of the National Organization for Women prints a personal attack on Mrs. Don (Skeet) Workman.

In an article under a headline using gutter slang, Mrs. Workman's removal from the Texas Commission on the Status of Women is demanded unless she quits refusing "to represent the views of all the women in her constituency."

Holmes Alexander:

Perils Of Sex Integration

WASHINGTON—I won't say that this fellow journalist who rushed up to me at the National Press Club had tears in his eyes, but he had them in his voice.

His was a cry of despair when he denounced the Woman's Movement, which had crossed the country to Houston under a high-held torch, and would have the prime purpose and final result, he declared, of inaugurating a heyday for homosexuality.

My friend had spent several years at work on a "clean" book with "straight" sex and the highest ideals of racial fairness, human decency, civil rights, human rights and international amity.

While I hadn't read his script, we had discussed it with mutual earnestness. He truly believed that a "new" society was about to burgeon among free mankind.

He was convinced that with the post-war struggle for prosperity and identity, people are becoming annually more capable of accommodating their differences—Jew and Moslem, black and white, collectivist and libertarian, male and female.

This is why he thought the march on Houston to be an historical setback. It subtracted from the universal scheme of balance. He was now going to be forced to write and publish his inspirational book in an atmosphere that would be increasingly monolithic and stultifying.

MY FRIEND MIGHT find an advocate of sorts in the editor of Harper's, Lewis H. Lapham, who has this striking image in the current issue. Speaking up for change which, if it is improvement, is a condition of civilized life on earth, Lapham writes:

"The structure of the idea resembles a suspension bridge rather than an Egyptian tomb. Its strength depends upon the strength and balance struck between countervailing forces.

"The idea collapses unless the stresses oppose one another with equal weight..."

Without special reference to the boy-girl sex question, Lapham is saying that we men must hold the balance and resist the militant women. We existists have got to fight to the death against any form of sexual coalition.

I blush to say it bluntly, but there must always be the jockstrap as well as the bra.

That's what most persons, I judge, believe in their hearts. The notion that Women's Lib and related revolutions are setting the fashion for uni-

NOW is upset because Mrs. Workman opposes equality for gays, the Equal Rights Amendment and other issues dear to the hearts of the feminists.

Mrs. Workman said she received fewer than 10 letters from pro-women's rights people but "more than 500" from pro-family writers. In recent days, however, she has received numerous "upsetting" telephone calls from pro-ERA activists.

"I went to bed in tears one night," she says, "but I won't quit. I won't give up."

Researchers have discovered that aspirin can protect male surgery patients—but not female ones—from forming blood clots in their veins.

Feminists are furious. They're accusing the aspirin manufacturers of sex discrimination.

Two Tulsa men were charged with assault and battery in separate incidents of planting a quick kiss on a female traffic person who stopped them. It proves again that you can't take the law in your own hands.

My Sweet Wife received an insurance solicitation through the mail. She's threatening to sue. It was for a "senior policy for persons aged 40 to 85." That's the awkward age. You say "awk" and try to ward off its advance.

Letter to an investment columnist: "I am an Army man, 25, married, will retire in 15 years..." Yep. Like they say, life really begins at 40.

A politician can be defined as an animal who raises the wages a business must pay, increases its Social Security taxes, requires it to hire new help just to fill out government forms and forces it to install costly new anti-pollution devices and employ safety equipment, then blames business for raising prices.

The Congressional Budget Office says President Carter won't be able to keep his promise to balance the budget by the end of his first term, nor even by the end of his second term unless he gets lucky.

Maybe the motion will die for lack of a second.

TEXAS' 3rd COURT of Civil Appeals has upheld the Texas Public Utility Commission's telephone rate-making formula.

Under that formula, the PUC bases rates on original cost of equipment less depreciation. Southwestern Bell says adjusted value of invested capital should be used.

Under either formula, the PUC is unfair to Lubbock.

It should base local telephone rates on the investment Bell has in local telephone service. Instead, the PUC takes Bell's investment statewide and sets rates the same for cities according to population (or telephones-in-use) brackets.

This causes Lubbock's rates to be higher, subsidizing telephone subscribers in other cities, if the PUC's initial action in raising rates here and lowering them elsewhere is any indication.

sex living and literature is not really all that scary if we do our part on the suspension bridge.

We must give full weight to what is conservatism, fundamentalism, the status quo.

But what if we find evidence that the laws of physics—the balances of the suspension bridge—are falling into abeyance? Do we then have true reason for pessimism about the race's future?

YES, IF NATURE'S own balance fails us, we must either give up entirely or re-think the equation.

A news item which shared an inner page with secondary events, such as corporate embezzlement and political partisanship, was the report of that University of California research team about the discovery of lesbianism among wild seagulls.

What happens to seagulls, to all birds of life, to creatures which live within feather and fur, can happen to our whole race of thinking bipeds, and happen sooner to free nations that to enslaved ones.

The all-female sex act cannot reproduce life. If this one species on the California coast is capable of sustained perversion, it is headed toward race-suicide.

Can general extermination of all that live by the breath of life be far behind?

Therefore, I join in the alarm of my colleague. He fears that all the laws, customs and prejudices which for centuries have kept men and women as the sustaining bridgehead of society are in danger of collapse.

One should emphasize "free society." It follows in logic that the dictatorships, always more puritanical toward governing the masses than are the democracies and republics, will be the last to go.

Seagulls, perhaps, have had their day. But the fascists and communists—forcibly insisting that their people do only what comes naturally—may have found another way to inherit the earth.

Sylvia Porter:

Before You Stick It In Your Ear, Listen

FOR THE FIRST TIME ever, new federal regulations are in effect to govern standards, manufacture, labeling and dispensing of hearing aids—used by about 3 million out of 15 million Americans suffering from hearing impairment.

Under the regulations of the Food & Drug Administration, which went into effect this past Aug. 25:

* A statement from a physician that a hearing aid may help a patient will be necessary for the purchase. (The FDA estimates that more than 10 million with hearing impairment never have had medical evaluation.)

The supportive medical evaluation must have taken place within six months before the purchase of a hearing aid.

* While buyers 18 years of age and older may waive the medical evaluation, the regulation forbids a hearing aid dispenser from encouraging a prospective buyer to do so.

There are approximately 1,200 hearing aid models in the marketplace. Older people account for 60 per cent of the market; children make up another 12 to 12 per cent; the balance are sold to people between 18 and 65.

* MANUFACTURERS ARE required to provide for each model of hearing aid a detailed brochure telling you what the aid will and will not do; how it works; how to use it.

The brochure must make it clear that an aid can only amplify sound; it cannot restore hearing or prevent further hearing loss.

* A hearing-aid dispenser must give you a brochure to read before completing a sale. The brochure must warn you to consult promptly with an ear specialist or other physician if any of these problems appears to exist: dizziness, ear deformity, pain, or fluid damage, rapid onset of hearing loss, foreign body in the ear.

THE FEDERAL regulation is based in part on a 1975 report on Hearing Aid Health Care issued by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

It was proposed in April 1976. The final FDA regulation is compatible with a regulation on hearing aid purchase plans and advertising proposed by the Federal Trade Commission.

"Hearing loss can result from a number of conditions and diseases for which a hearing aid may not be helpful," says the FDA.

No matter how tight the federal regulations, though, you bear the ultimate responsibility to protect yourself:

(1) FIRST ABOVE ALL, visit a physician for an evaluation. This, stresses Edward McDonnell, FDA spokesman, is necessary because "hearing loss is only a symptom of a disease."

Your condition might be improved by drugs, surgery, or even a change in diet.

(2) Comparison shop for an aid just as for any other product. Compare full costs, including one year's service.

(3) Check warranties. Manufacturers usually guarantee an aid against factory defects or breakdowns for two years. Many dealers offer a trial period.

(4) BEFORE YOU BUY, try this self-test: How is the sound quality? Does it help you understand speech in quiet places? In noisy places? Is the aid comfortable? Are the controls easy to operate?

(5) Recognize the differentials in costs and complexity. A top-quality aid can run to $350; an older person may find a good instrument between $195 and $250.

(6) To check on reputable dealers, contact your local Better Business Bureau; the National Hearing Aid Society, 20361 Middlebelt, Livonia, Mich., 48152, or a nearby local or state chapter of the society.

Lady Churchill Dies At Age 92

LONDON (AP) — Lady Spencer-Churchill, widow of Britain's wartime leader Sir Winston Churchill, died today at her home in London after a heart attack. She was 92.

Her grandson, Winston Churchill, announced her death.

He said she was lunching with her secretary when she was stricken.

Lady Spencer-Churchill, named Clementine but nicknamed "Clemmie" by Sir Winston, began auctioning off his paintings and other family heirlooms shortly this year to help meet expenses.

She had been in failing health for several years and progressively had retreated into seclusion since the death in 1965 of her husband of 57 years. He was 90 at his death.

Last July she underwent abdominal surgery at King Edward VII hospital in London. The reason for the operation never was made public.

Shocked Britons had suggested special legislation or an appeal to provide for her needs, but she said she deplored any such idea, and it was dropped.

Lady Spencer-Churchill was born April 1, 1885, to Sir Henry Hozier and Lady Blanche Hozier. Her mother was descended from a long line of British earls, as was Sir Winston — a grandson of the Duke of Marlborough.

By all accounts, it was love at first sight when Clementine Ogilvy Hozier, the 23-year-old daughter of a Dragoon Guards colonel, and Sir Winston met at a fashionable dinner party in 1908. He was a 34-year-old cabinet minister.

Churchill proposed soon after in the gardens of Blenheim Palace, his family's 16th century estate. They wed on Sept. 12, 1908, at St. Margaret's church in London, within sight and sound of Big Ben.

"I married and lived happily ever after," Sir Winston recalled 22 years later in his autobiography.

Their marriage produced one son and four daughters: Randolph Churchill, a politician and writer who died in 1968, aged 57; Diana Churchill, twice-married, who died in 1963 from an overdose of sleeping pills; Sarah Churchill, an actress; Mary Churchill, who married prominent British politician Sir Christopher Soames, and Margold Frances Churchill, who died at age 2.

Many Britons first became aware of the elegant, dignified lady at Churchill's side when German bombs began dropping on London in the blitz of 1940.

She visited air-raid shelters, bombed-out towns, public soup kitchens and other wartime scenes.

Today, her grandson Winston Churchill said she had no recent history of heart trouble. Lady Spencer-Churchill had been up and dressed, hoping to go for an afternoon drive, when she was stricken at her apartment, he said.

She had lived in the apartment on the edge of Hyde Park, in the center of fashionable London, since the death of her husband.

The younger Winston Churchill, a member of Parliament, issued a statement saying:

"Lady Spencer-Churchill died peacefully today at her London home following a heart attack at lunch time. The funeral will be private, and a memorial service will be held in the new year."

The time of the funeral had not yet been decided.

A Buckingham Palace spokesman said Queen Elizabeth II sent a private message of condolence to her relatives.

The queen had not yet ascended to the throne during World War II, when Lady Spencer-Churchill headed a Red Cross appeal that raised more than 4 million pounds in medical aid for the Soviet Union, one of the wartime Allies.

She was with her husband when, at a private ceremony at Windsor Castle in 1953, the queen knighted Churchill for his services to the realm. He became Sir Winston and she Lady Churchill.

She was elevated to the peerage in her own right after Sir Winston's death and took the title Baroness Spencer-Churchill.

Rites Pending For Victim Of Accident

Services for Dale William Walker, 60, who became Lubbock's 45th traffic fatality Sunday night, are pending with Rix Funeral Directors.

Walker was killed when he was struck by a car near the intersection of 16th Street and Avenue Q about 7:40 p.m.

Justice of the Peace Charles E. Smith ruled the death accidental.

According to witnesses, the traffic light had been green for Maclobio Benavento Escobedo of 312 N. Ave., driver of the northbound vehicle.

Police reports indicate the body was carried 160 feet from the point of impact.

Authorities Still Try To Identify Victim

PADUCAH — Authorities here today still were attempting to identify the body of a man found in a dry cistern near here Saturday.

Cottle County sheriff's deputies were searching a large section of ranch land 20 miles north of here and west of U.S. Hwy. 83 for clues to the identity of the man or his assailant.

Dist. Atty. W.H. Healy said the victim had been shot once behind the ear with a large caliber revolver at close range in what appeared to be an execution-style killing.

The man's body, hidden by boards tossed into the cistern, was discovered by the ranch's owner about 2:15 p.m. Saturday. However, the body was not removed until later in the day when firemen were summoned to help retrieve it from the 18-foot-deep reservoir.

Sheriff Frank Taylor said the victim, believed to be a white man about 30 years old and weighing 135 pounds, was dressed in small short-sleeved, zippered boots, light blue dress pants, a short-sleeved sports shirt and a tan vinyl jacket. He had dark brown hair and a moustache and was wearing a watch and a Masonic Lodge ring when he was found.

Taylor said the victim was not believed to be from the Cottle County area, but added that a positive identification would not come until a fingerprint analysis could be completed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation or until someone recognized him.

An autopsy performed in Dallas Sunday failed to uncover any trace of the man's identity or past, and doctors forwarded one of the man's fingers to the FBI for fingerprint analysis, Healy said.

Preliminary investigations revealed some trace that the man's killer tried to cover his tracks by obliterating a pool of blood just outside the opening to the cistern.

Autopsy reports indicated the man had been dead at least three days, but Taylor said his findings indicated the man probably had been killed "six to 10 days ago."

The murder weapon and the man's wallet were missing, but Taylor said deputies found a "suspicious" set of car tracks near the area. He would not elaborate.

San Francisco Residents Replacing Stolen Toys

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Corporations, small-change donors, truckers and even a wandering wino are pitching in to steal Christmas back from a "grinch" who looted a $15,000 cache of toys intended for poor children.

By late Sunday, the fire department reported it had received about 340,000 worth of donations and toys to replace those stolen or wrecked last Wednesday night.

Fireman had been using a vacant fire house to store its toys, which they had planned to give to 70,000 children this year. But someone broke in and loaded a pickup with more than $10,000 worth of toys.

Police arrived early Thursday to find a dozen teen-agers playing among another $5,000 worth of wrecked toys. The youths said the thief told them to help themselves.

The culprit, reminiscent of the villain in the "Grinch Who Stole Christmas," a children's story by Dr. Seuss, remained at large today.

But his crime whipped up a surge of charity that Lt. Dan McDermott, head of the fire department's 25th annual toy drive, called "utterly fantastic."

Donations came by mail from up and down California. Even a wino got into the spirit.

"I want to write you a check before I'm too drunk to write my name," he told firemen in Station No. 1. He signed and donated a $50 traveler's check.

Truck driver Terry LeBlanc — who is hailed on the highways as "Terrible Terry" — hit the CB radio waves and told his buddies he needed their help to fill up a truck with toys. He got it.

"I think it's a dirty shame that someone would go out and rip off little kids," LeBlanc said.

Bechtel, an international construction and engineering firm, purchased $15,000 worth of toys and presented them to the fire department. Mattel Toys promised to send $8,000 worth of its products. Varner Ward Leasing Co. provided a $5,000 check. Macy's said it would donate $5,000 today.

The San Francisco Giants baseball club pitched in with 1,008 jackets, 1,234 T-shirts and 360 baseball bats.

"And people with quarters and 50 cents have been coming in all day," McDermott said.

"The caliber of toys we're getting has changed," he added. "We're getting new toys, better toys. People are shopping up the street and bringing them in and they're all brand new."

Mayor George Moscone, who provided $1,000 from the city youth fund, added: "The people have responded so splendidly in making up for this act of Scroogism. This just proves that there are still two things that can break down all the cynicism in the world — Christmas and kids."

'Cold' Treatment Freezes Robber

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (UPI) — Tavern owner Duane McFadden has discovered a handy way to stop an armed robber cold in his tracks — a bucket of ice.

Police said a robber came in the back door of McFadden's bar over the weekend, pointed a gun and demanded money. But McFadden threw a five-gallon bucket of ice across the bar which hit the suspect in the face.

The suspect fired one shot, which lodged in the wall behind McFadden. The would-be robber then fled by the back door. Police said the same man may have been involved in robberies last week at two convenience food stores and a drugstore.

Medicine Man Enjoying Rebirth

ROUGH ROCK, Ariz. (UPI) — The medicine man, once the powerful center of Navajo culture, is benefiting from the Indians' new thrust toward self-awareness and cultural reawakening. His influence on the reservation may now be stronger than ever.

The medicine man, properly known as an "Hatahli" or singer, is a minister, physician, psychologist, wise man and historian rolled all into one. It is no wonder he has exerted so much power over Navajo life through the centuries.

As the white man's interests made their inroads on the reservation during this century and the Indian population became more mobile, so the influence of the medicine man had declined.

But there has been a rebirth of the medicine man on the nation's largest reservation, apparently partly because of a renewed interest among the Indians in their own culture.

The Hatahli, trained at a school for medicine men at this center of the reservation, now work side-by-side with medi-

Insurance Premiums Going Up

AUSTIN (AP) — Products liability insurance rates might not be skyrocketing, but that day seems near, says the chairman of the State Insurance Board.

Hugh Yantis testified last week before the House Joint Committee on Products Liability, which is studying the cal doctors. And now they have their own offices at the Rough Rock Community Health Center, the first Indian-run health facility in the nation.

"The entire Navajo religion is extremely strong now," says Beverly Njaa, editor of the Rough Rock News. "It has undergone a major renaissance. It is probably stronger now than any time since Fort Sumner." (The U.S. Cavalry defeated the Navajos and moved them to a reservation at Fort Sumner, N.M., in the early 1880s, when more than 1,000 Navajos died before being restored to their homelands in northeastern Arizona and northwestern New Mexico.)

"Last summer there were ceremonies every night," Mrs. Njaa said. "The people who know the Yelichei ceremony, the nine-night chant, are busy every day."

The school for medicine men, formally called the Navajo Mental Health Program, was started in 1966 under a grant by the National Institute of Mental Health. Currently there are a dozen students, including one woman.

"You don't really graduate," Mrs. Njaa said. "After you learn one ceremony you go on and learn another. Most of the people are middle-aged men, but there is one boy of 19 who just started."

DR. LAMB

By LAWRENCE LAMB, M.D.
DEAR DR. LAMB — I would like to know if it makes any difference if we eat certain foods together. For instance, some claim that since fruit is digested quickly, it should not be eaten with foods which stay in the stomach for a longer period. They claim this contributes to indigestion. Could you please tell me if there is any scientific basis for this?

DEAR READER — This was believed 50 years ago, based on so-called "acid ash" foods and "alkaline ash" foods, and it is a complex idea.

Your body has a very narrow range of acid and alkaline balance. If you are too acid or too alkaline, you will be sick or dead. It is an essential balance (as in sodium bicarbonate) in the body. If there is a relative increase in carbonic acid, the body becomes more acid, and if it is decreased the body becomes more alkaline.

Foods that leave an acid ash leave excess amount of sodium and potassium and related elements in the body after they have been metabolized. These are positive ions or acid ash. They combine with bicarbonate to form sodium bicarbonate or potassium bicarbonate. The increased amount of bicarbonate tends to make the body alkaline. Hence, the confusing end result that foods that are acid ash foods cause the body to be more alkaline. The acid ash foods are fruits, vegetables, milk and some nuts.

foods tend to cause the body to be more acid. These foods are meats, fish, poultry, eggs, cheese, cereals and some nuts.

Fifty years ago, the idea was popular that you should not eat acid and alkaline ash foods together. However, the normal person will produce acid digestive juices in the small intestine from its wall and from the pancreatic juice. So the normal body can regulate its own acid or alkaline environment according to the needs of the moment, at least in healthy people with normal digestive actions.

The body's own formation of acid and alkaline digestive juices completely overpowered the acid-alkaline characteristic of food. It makes combination of foods you eat together.

For information on how to prepare foods so you can decrease calories to still enjoy eating without getting fat, send 50 cents for The Health Letter number 9-12, Kitchen Power for Weight Control. Woman To On Culinary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Suzi Park Thomson, South Korean born hostess with a reputation for some fancy entertaining on Capitol Hill, is going to be charging congressmen for her culinary talents now.

She has opened her own catering service.

"Capitol Hill's hostess with the mostest, Miss Suzi Park Thomson, is pleased to announce Suzi's Catering Service," an ad in a Capitol Hill tabloid announced recently.

When reporters called the number given in the ad, there was no answer. Ron Kramer, a member of the advertising firm that put the ad together, said the phone had not yet been installed.

"I guess that catering service is not off to a very good start," said Sidney Yudin, editor of the paper that ran the ad.

Miss Thomson came to Washington in the mid 1960s and over a period of several years worked for five congressmen.

In 1875, Luigi D'Albertis became the first European explorer to penetrate the interior of New Guinea when he sailed a 9-ton steam launch the full navigable length of the Fly River.

Too Young To Understand

Some people avoid bringing children to funeral services. Their justification for this, usually, is that the children are "too young to understand."

Today's psychologists tell us that this is a mistake. Children must accept a loss and adjust to it... just the same as anyone else in the family.

And they need to share in the experience that the family is going through.

Lady Churchill Dies At Age 92

LONDON (AP) — Lady Spencer-Churchill, widow of Britain's wartime leader Sir Winston Churchill, died today at her home in London after a heart attack. She was 92.

Her grandson, Winston Churchill, announced her death.

He said she was lunching with her secretary when she was stricken.

Lady Spencer-Churchill, named Clementine but nicknamed "Clemmie" by Sir Winston, began auctioning off his

Talks Open In Dispute On Trade

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Japanese trade diplomat today began meeting with American officials in an effort to resolve the U.S.-Japan trade dispute, which Tokyo's foreign minister says is an emergency situation that could lead to political chaos.

The United States buys about $8 billion a year more in goods from Japan than Japan purchases from the United States. Critics of the trade imbalance say it contributes to U.S. unemployment.

Japan's minister for external economic affairs, Nobuhiko Ushiba, met today with Vice President Walter F. Mondale.

"These are important visits. We look forward to them with great, great interest," Mondale told Ushiba.

"There is intense congressional interest, indeed national interest, in your visit," the vice president said at the start of the meeting at the White House.

Ushiba's four-day mission in Washington is to explain the tariff reductions his country's cabinet approved last week for goods imported by Japan.

After his meeting with Mondale, Ushiba conferred with Robert S. Strauss, the Carter administration's top trade negotiator.

Asked if he was optimistic that the week-long discussions with Ushiba would resolve the serious trade problems between the two countries, Strauss said it was too early to say.

"I'm neither an optimist, nor a pessimist. I'm a realist and I will await the facts," Strauss said.

The discussions were closed to reporters.

Japanese Foreign Minister Sunao Sonoda said the economic proposal carried by Ushiba "represents the maximum possible package the Japanese government has come up with." He declined to say if any further concessions would be made by Japan.

Ushiba is believed to be offering a wide range of tariff cuts on foreign goods sold in Japan, plus increased quotas on some products and an increase in import financing. U.S. officials in Washington and Tokyo have called the package inadequate.

Sonoda said both sides must make compromises.

"If each nation pursues its own selfish interests and blames its own woes on the others, the economic chaos might very well lead to political chaos," he said.

Neither side was optimistic about settling their differences.

"We are frankly worried," the Japanese foreign minister said. "When it comes to this stage, politics in the future will not permit two countries to keep insisting on their own interests with the stronger of the two winning out. Since we are in an emergency situation, we must make compromises."

Details of the Japanese plan have not been made public, but one published account in Tokyo estimated the program will lead to a reduction of about 50 percent — to $5 billion — in Japan's current account surplus by early 1979. The current account includes payments for goods as well as services.

King Church Recognized

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Dexter Avenue Baptist Church, which spawned Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s role in the modern civil rights movement, has been designated a National Historic Landmark.

The church, built in 1878, was formally recognized as a landmark during ceremonies Sunday. Ira Hutchison, deputy director of the National Park Service, presented church officials with a bronze plaque and a certificate.

Landmarks are chosen by the secretary of the interior based on their historic significance.

King, who was slain in 1968, served as pastor of the church from 1954 to 1959. While pastor, he led the black organization that staged a boycott of the city's segregated bus system.

The boycott ended a year later with a court ruling that forced the desegregation of the bus line and propelled King to the forefront of the fledgling civil rights movement.

Five years after he left the church, King was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize.

Drunk Prisoners Report To Jail

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — A city judge lets certain offenders serve jail sentences on weekends so they can keep their jobs. But even the weekends are sometimes pointless.

Judge William Brown said some of the prisoners report to jail drunk.

He said if they continue, he will make them serve regular sentences.

paintings and other family heirlooms quietly this year to help meet expenses.

She had been in failing health for several years and progressively had retreated into seclusion since the death in 1965 of her husband of 57 years. He was 90 at his death.

Last July she underwent abdominal surgery at King Edward VII hospital in London. The reason for the operation never was made public.

Shocked Britons had suggested special legislation or an appeal to provide for her needs, but she said she deplored any such idea, and it was dropped.

Lady Spencer-Churchill was born April 1, 1885, to Sir Henry Hozier and Lady Blanche Hozier. Her mother was descended from a long line of British earls, as was Sir Winston — a grandson of the Duke of Marlborough.

By all accounts, it was love at first sight when Clementine Ogilvy Hozier, the 23-year-old daughter of a Dragoon Guards colonel, and Sir Winston met at a fashionable dinner party in 1908. He was a 34-year-old cabinet minister.

Churchill proposed soon after in the gardens of Blenheim Palace, his family's 16th century estate. They wed on Sept. 12, 1908, at St. Margaret's church in London, within sight and sound of Big Ben.

"I married and lived happily ever after," Sir Winston recalled 22 years later in his autobiography.

Their marriage produced one son and four daughters: Randolph Churchill, a politician and writer who died in 1968, aged 57; Diana Churchill, twice-married, who died in 1963 from an overdose of sleeping pills; Sarah Churchill, an actress; Mary Churchill, who married prominent British politician Sir Christopher Soames, and Marigold Frances Churchill, who died at age 2.

Many Britons first became aware of the elegant, dignified lady at Churchill's side when German bombs began dropping on London in the blitz of 1940.

She visited air raid shelters, bombed-out towns, public soup kitchens and other wartime scenes.

Today, her grandson Winston Churchill said she had no recent history of heart trouble. Lady Spencer-Churchill had been up and dressed, hoping to go for an afternoon drive, when she was stricken at her apartment, he said.

She had lived in the apartment on the edge of Hyde Park, in the center of fashionable London, since the death of her husband.

The younger Winston Churchill, a member of Parliament, issued a statement saying:

"Lady Spencer-Churchill died peacefully today at her London home following a heart attack at lunch time. The funeral will be private, and a memorial service will be held in the new year."

The time of the funeral had not yet been decided.

A Buckingham Palace spokesman said Queen Elizabeth II sent a private message of condolence to her relatives.

The queen had not yet ascended to the throne during World War II, when Lady Spencer-Churchill headed a Red Cross appeal that raised more than 4 million pounds in medical aid for the Soviet Union, one of the wartime Allies.

She was with her husband when, at a private ceremony at Windsor Castle in 1953, the queen knighted Churchill for his services to the realm. He became Sir Winston and she Lady Churchill.

She was elevated to the peerage in her own right after Sir Winston's death and took the title Baroness Spencer-Churchill.

Justice of the Peace Charles E. Smith ruled the death accidental.

According to witnesses, the traffic light had been green for Maclobio Benaven Escobedo of 312 N. Ave., driver of the northbound vehicle.

Police reports indicate the body was carried 160 feet from the point of impact.

Authorities Still Try To Identify Victim

PADUCAH — Authorities here today still were attempting to identify the body of a man found in a dry cistern near here Saturday.

Cottle County sheriff's deputies were searching a large section of ranch land 20 miles north of here and west of U.S. Hwy. 83 for clues to the identity of the man or his assailant.

Dist. Atty. W.H. Healy said the victim had been shot once behind the ear with a large caliber revolver at close range in what appeared to be an execution-style killing.

The man's body, hidden by boards tossed into the cistern, was discovered by the ranch's owner about 2:15 p.m. Saturday. However, the body was not removed until later in the day when firemen were summoned to help retrieve it from the 18-foot-deep reservoir.

Sheriff Frank Taylor said the victim, believed to be a white man about 30 years old and weighing 135 pounds, was dressed in small short-top, zippered boots, light blue dress pants, a short-sleeved sports shirt and a tan vinyl jacket. He had dark brown hair and a moustache and was wearing a watch and a Masonic Lodge ring when he was found.

Taylor said the victim was not believed to be from the Cottle County area, but added that a positive identification would not come until a fingerprint analysis could be completed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation or until someone recognized him.

An autopsy performed in Dallas Sunday failed to uncover any trace of the man's identity or past, and doctors forwarded one of the man's fingers to the FBI for fingerprint analysis, Healy said.

Preliminary investigations revealed some trace that the man's killer tried to cover his tracks by obliterating a pool of blood just outside the opening to the cistern.

Autopsy reports indicated the man had been dead at least three days, but Taylor said his findings indicated the man probably had been killed "six to 10 days ago."

The murder weapon and the man's wallet were missing, but Taylor said deputies found a "suspicious" set of car tracks near the area. He would not elaborate.

San Francisco Residents Replacing Stolen Toys

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Corporations, small-change donors, truckers and even a wandering wino are pitching in to steal Christmas back from a "grinch" who looted a $15,000 cache of toys intended for poor children.

By late Sunday, the fire department reported it had received about $40,000 worth of donations and toys to replace those stolen or wrecked last Wednesday night.

Fireman had been using a vacant fire house to store its toys, which they had planned to give to 70,000 children this year. But someone broke in and loaded a pickup with more than $10,000 worth of toys.

Police arrived early Thursday to find a dozen teen-agers playing among another $5,000 worth of wrecked toys. The youths said the thief told them to help themselves.

The culprit, reminiscent of the villain in the "Grinch Who Stole Christmas," a children's story by Dr. Seuss, remained at large today.

But his crime whipped up a surge of charity that Lt. Dan McDermott, head of the fire department's 25th annual toy drive, called "utterly fantastic."

Donations came by mail from up and down California. Even a wino got into the spirit.

"I want to write you a check before I'm too drunk to write my name," he told firemen in Station No. 1. He signed and donated a $50 traveler's check.

Truck driver Terry LeBlanc — who is hailed on the highways as "Terrible Terry" — hit the CB radio waves and told his buddies he needed their help to fill up a truck with toys. He got it.

"I think it's a dirty shame that someone would go out and rip off little kids," LeBlanc said.

Bechtel, an international construction and engineering firm, purchased $15,000 worth of toys and presented them to the fire department. Mattel Toys promised to send $8,000 worth of its products. Varner Ward Leasing Co. provided a $5,000 check. Macy's said it would donate $5,000 today.

The San Francisco Giants baseball club pitched in with 1,008 jackets, 1,234 T-shirts and 360 baseball bats.

"And people with quarters and 50 cents have been coming in all day," McDermott said.

"The caliber of toys we're getting has changed," he added. "We're getting new toys, better toys. People are shopping up the street and bringing them in and they're all brand new."

Mayor George Moscone, who provided $1,000 from the city youth fund, added: "The people have responded so splendidly in making up for this act of Scroogism. This just proves that there are still two things that can break down all the cynicism in the world — Christmas and kids."

'Cold' Treatment Freezes Robber

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (UPI) — Tavern owner Duane McFadden has discovered a handy way to stop an armed robber cold in his tracks — a bucket of ice.

Police said a robber came in the back door of McFadden's bar over the weekend, pointed a gun and demanded money. But McFadden threw a five-gallon bucket of ice across the bar which hit the suspect in the face.

The suspect fired one shot, which lodged in the wall behind McFadden. The would-be robber then fled by the back door. Police said the same man may have been involved in robberies last week at two convenience food stores and a drugstore.

Medicine Man Enjoying Rebirth

ROUGH ROCK, Ariz. (UPI) — The medicine man, once the powerful center of Navajo culture, is benefiting from the Indians' new thrust toward self-awareness and cultural reawakening. His influence on the reservation may now be stronger than ever.

The medicine man, properly known as an "Hatahli" or singer, is a minister, physician, psychologist, wise man and historian rolled all into one. It is no wonder he has exerted so much power over Navajo life through the centuries. As the white man's interests made their inroads on the reservation during this century and the Indian population became more mobile, so the influence of the medicine man had declined.

But there has been a rebirth of the medicine man on the nation's largest reservation, apparently partly because of a renewed interest among the Indians in their own culture.

The Hatahli, trained at a school for medicine men at this center of the reservation, now work side-by-side with medical doctors. And now they have their own offices at the Rough Rock Community Health Center, the first Indian-run health facility in the nation.

"The entire Navajo religion is extremely strong now," says Beverly Njaa, editor of the Rough Rock News. "It has undergone a major renaissance. It is probably stronger now than any time since Fort Sumner."

(The U.S. Cavalry defeated the Navajos and moved them to a reservation at Fort Sumner, N.M., in the early 1860s, where more than 1,000 Navajos died before being restored to their homelands in northeastern Arizona and northwestern New Mexico.)

"Last summer there were ceremonies every night," Mrs. Njaa said. "The people who know the Yelichei ceremony, the nine-night chant, are busy every day."

The school for medicine men, formally called the Navajo Mental Health Program, was started in 1968 under a grant from the National Institute of Mental Health. Currently there are a dozen students, including one woman.

"You don't really graduate," Mrs. Njaa said. "After you learn one ceremony you go on and learn another. Most of the people are middle-aged men, but there is one boy of 19 who just started."

When To Eat Foods

By LAWRENCE LAMB, M.D.
DEAR DR. LAMB — I would like to know if it makes any difference if we eat certain foods together. For instance, some claim that since fruit is digested quickly, it should not be eaten with foods which stay in the stomach for a longer period. They claim this contributes to indigestion. Could you please tell me if there is any scientific basis for this?

DEAR READER — This was believed 50 years ago, based on so-called "acid ash" foods and "alkaline ash" foods, and it is a complex idea.

Your body has a very narrow range of acid and alkaline balance. If you are too acid or too alkaline, you will be sick or dead. It is as essential as having enough oxygen for your body. The chemical mechanisms to maintain this delicate balance are very complicated, but sufficiently effective that you can insult your body with acids, alkaline substances, and all variety of substances, and your wonderful machine compensates for all your indiscretions.

The main final acid-alkaline balance is maintained by the ratio of the carbonic acid (which breaks down into carbon dioxide and water) to bicarbonate (as in sodium bicarbonate) in the body. If there is a relative increase in carbonic acid, the body becomes more acid, and if it is decreased the body becomes more alkaline.

Foods that leave an acid ash leave excess amount of sodium and potassium and related elements in the body after they have been metabolized. These are positive ions or acid ash. They combine with bicarbonate to form sodium bicarbonate or potassium bicarbonate. The increased amount of bicarbonate tends to make the body alkaline. Hence, the confusing end result that foods that are acid ash foods cause the body to be more alkaline. The acid ash foods are fruits, vegetables, milk and some nuts.

Foods that leave an excess of negative ions such as chloride ions after they have been metabolized, are the alkaline ash foods. The chloride combines with sodium or potassium to form sodium chloride salt or potassium chloride salt.

When they do this, they decrease the number of these available to form sodium bicarbonate and the end result is the increased formation of more carbonic acid and less bicarbonate compounds, causing the body to be more acid. So the alkaline ash foods tend to cause the body to be more acid. These foods are meats, fish, poultry, eggs, cheese, cereals and some nuts.

Fifty years ago, the idea was popular that you should not eat acid and alkaline ash foods together. However, the normal person will produce acid digestive juices in the small intestine from its wall and from the pancreatic juice. So the normal body can regulate its own acid or alkaline environment according to the needs of the moment, at least in healthy people with normal digestive actions.

The body's own formation of acid and alkaline digestive juices completely overpowered the acid-alkaline characteristic of food. It makes combination of foods you eat together.

For information on how to prepare foods so you can decrease calories to still enjoy eating without getting fat, send 50 cents for The Health Letter number 9-12, Kitchen Power for Weight Control. Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Dr. Lamb in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 328, San Antonio, TX 78292

Insurance Premiums Going Up

AUSTIN (AP) — Products liability insurance rates might not be skyrocketing, but that day seems near, says the chairman of the State Insurance Board.

Hugh Yantis testified last week before the House Joint Committee on Products Liability, which is looking for ways lawmakers can help reduce rates for such coverage and make sure it is available.

"Premiums are beginning to go up. I can't tell from talking to my staff whether they are skyrocketing, but the fuse is lit," Yantis said.

One possible method for easing the problem would be legislation placing a limit on how long a manufacturer can be held responsible for accidents resulting from the use of his products, he said.

"If a man makes a product, he should not forever be liable for it," Yantis said. He did not recommend, however, how long the statute of limitations should run.

Yantis, who has a flair for the dramatic, opened his pocket knife and simulated how he sometimes uses it to drill holes in wood.

He then showed how the knife blade could collapse "and cut my finger off."

"Does that mean it is a defective knife unless it has locks to hold the blade open?" he asked.

"We have got a lot of philosophizing to do that hasn't been done" about the extent to which manufacturers should be held liable for accidents involving their products, Yantis said.

Yantis said the products liability problem is only "at the beginning of a curve that is going up."

Ed Clay, president of American Body and Equipment Co. of Grand Prairie, which makes truck bodies and equipment, said only the legislature can solve the problem.

Later, he said he paid $600 for $300,000 worth of products liability coverage in 1973 and now pays $29,000 for $500,000 worth, while his sales have held steady at $3 million a year.

Yantis and Clay said the legislature should look into the practice of "double dipping," where an employee hurt by a piece of equipment collects both workers' compensation and damages for products liability.

Asked why insurance companies were raising rates and tightening coverage so drastically, Yantis said, "All I can tell that they are going on is being scared," without any hard data on losses.

"In our zeal to correct the product liability problem, we can't take it out of the hide of the insurance companies. They have to have an actuarially sound basis for doing business, too," Yantis said.

Transcontinental telephone dialing was established in the United States in 1951.

Woman To Capitalize On Culinary Skills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Suzi Park Thomson, South Korean born hostess with a reputation for some fancy entertaining on Capitol Hill, is going to be charging congressmen for her culinary talents now.

She has opened her own catering service.

"Capitol Hill's hostess with the mostest, Miss Suzi Park Thomson, is pleased to announce Suzi's Catering Service," an ad in a Capitol Hill tabloid announced recently.

When reporters called the number given in the ad, there was no answer. Ron Kramer, a member of the advertising firm that put the ad together, said the phone had not yet been installed.

"I guess that catering service is not off to a very good start," said Sidney Yudain, editor of the paper that ran the ad.

Miss Thomson came to Washington in the mid 1960s and over a period of several years worked for five congressmen.

In 1875, Luigi D'Albertis became the first European explorer to penetrate the interior of New Guinea when he sailed a 9-ton steam launch the full navigable length of the Fly River.

Long before the Korean influence-buying scandal broke, she had gained a reputation for hosting parties attended by congressmen and government officials.

In recent testimony at House hearings, witnesses said the South Korean Embassy had supplied liquor for some of the parties, but Miss Thomson consistently denied she ever was on the Korean payroll.

In an interview several months ago, the former congressional aide said she had been to 40 offices in Congress looking for a job. But she claimed she had no success because of "the malicious rumors against me."

Too Young To Understand

Some people avoid bringing children to funeral services. Their justification for this, usually, is that the children are "too young to understand."

Today's psychologists tell us that this is a mistake. Children must accept a loss and adjust to it... just the same as anyone else in the family.

And they need to share in the experience that the family is going through.

Steel Plant Closes In Brilliant, Ohio

BRILLIANT, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's battered steel industry has been rocked again with the announcement that the Ohio Ferro Alloys Corp. is closing its Brilliant plant and laying off 220 workers. The Brilliant Works, one of four electric furnace smelting plants in the corporation, has been idle since midsummer.

Tech Museum To Offer Christmas Exhibits

Texas Tech University Museum is offering special shows and exhibits during the holiday season to entertain people of all ages.

Most exhibits will be open through the Christmas holidays, and there will be special showings of the "Star of Bethlehem" in the Moody Planetarium during the holiday season.

This show annually draws overflow crowds of those who are searching for the reality of the Biblical star shining over the city of Bethlehem at the time of Jesus' birth.

"'Twas the Day Before Christmas" and the Treasure of the Month, showing creches, are of special interest to youngsters and the elderly. Children under 10 may register to win one of the tiny animals in "'Twas the Day Before Christmas."

The general store will close, along with the Ranching Heritage Center, at 5 p.m. on Dec. 30 for the remainder of the winter.

In addition to the special offerings, the museum is a Lubbock showplace for holiday visitors. While most offices of the university will be closed Dec. 23-Jan. 2, the museum will be open Dec. 27-30, with planetarium shows at 3 p.m. daily.

The Christmas display, "'Twas the Day

Before Christmas", depicts a family of yesteryear preparing for the holiday. Mother is cooking. Father is bringing home the tree. Decorations are ready. Packages are being wrapped. Even pets are around. And a tiny mouse family is hidden in one corner.

The creche display includes more than 50 of the scenes of the stable in which Jesus was born, most of them depicting the infant, Mary, Joseph, the wise men, shepherds, sheep and other animals.

St. Francis of Assisi, credited traditionally with the creation of the first creche, used people and live animals for his display in 1224. The practice of fashioning miniature nativity scenes was brought to North America by Moravians who settled in Bethlehem, Pa., in 1741.

The Treasure of the Month is from a collection made by Mrs. Glenn Heyton and members of her family.

Health Authorities Fear Toxic Danger

LOGAN TOWNSHIP, N.J. (AP) — Health officials say there is a possibility of toxic contamination to persons who were at the scene of the explosions and fires at a chemical storage plant. "We think it's improbable that this has happened, but just to be on the safe side we feel precautionary measures should be taken," said Wes Denman, spokesman for the state Department of Environmental Protection.

"He said there was a possibility that toxins were formed when a supply of polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs) ruptured and burned in the blast that killed five persons at the Rollins Environmental Services Inc. plant Thursday.

...the company has just made the biggest effort that I am aware of any company ever having made to break a strike and you have looked them right in the eye," said union official Justin Ostro.

The crowd rose and cheered demonstrating their support for continuing the strike action.

Last week Lockheed sent copies of its 108-page contract offer to all 8,500 employees on strike against the company's Southern California plants in Palmdale and Burbank.

The union has filed unfair labor practice charges with the National Labor Re-

Burglars Take Guns In Local Break-Ins

Firearms proved tempting targets for break-in artists, with several area residents reporting such losses to police this weekend.

Gary Wayne Farr of 4417 52nd St. said a shotgun and rifle, as well as a television set, were stolen from his house sometime Saturday or Sunday. The complainant reported that the burglar, who broke through a back door, made a haul worth more than $1,300.

An apparent quick thinker stole $1,000 worth of goods from the 2915 21st St. residence occupied by Mona Kay Johnson and Patricia Stansell Sunday afternoon.

Reports indicated burglars got through a garage door and stole a revolver, television and jewelry after appeasing three dogs with steaks taken from the victim's refrigerator.

James Edward Rash Jr. of 1608-A 44th St. told officers someone small enough to crawl through a back door window stole a shotgun, watch and radio from his apartment sometime during the past few days.

According to Royce Glenn of 2215 23rd St., a rifle and revolver were stolen from his pickup parked at his home last week.

Ralph Kleiber told police whoever broke through a window at his 5630 Ave. A residence Sunday made off with two shotguns and some jewelry, having a total value of $345.

Vickie Lee Sanders of 4005 44th St. reported the loss of $800 worth of goods, including a camera and jewelry, after someone got into her home by unknown means last week.

Neither was the point of entry determined at the 1101 44th St. residence of Emilio Mendez, who said his $600 television now is gone.

A window provided entry for burglars who stole a television set and stereo from Robert Victor Garcia's 2624 26th St. home this weekend. The complainant set his loss at $700.

Lubbock police said shoplifting incidents were at an all-time high for the year, but added that arrests were made in at least eight cases Saturday and Sunday.

Throughout the city, reports of broken Christmas decorations and lights were common.

Miles Sadler of 4124 62nd Drive told police someone didn't break all the bulbs in his Christmas lighting display, but instead took the time to unscrew each bulb between 7:15 p.m. and 10:15 p.m. Saturday.

Similar reports were common throughout the city.

Vandals, though, weren't the only residents out with criminal thoughts on their minds.

Rose Taylor of 1611 Ave. C told police she was at a Lubbock nightclub about 4 a.m. Sunday when a man she had been arguing with cut her with an unknown object.

Another Lubbockite, 21-year-old Guy Mitchell Lewis of 1611 Ave. O No. 1 told police two men barged into his home about 2 a.m. Sunday and began making demands. When he refused, Lewis said, one of the men pulled a knife and slashed his ear.

A 24-year-old Knox City man, Henry Denton, told police he was at a 50th Street and Avenue H club about 11:30 p.m. Saturday when someone hit him in the head. Denton was treated at Methodist Hospital and was released.

A 24-year-old Lubbock woman told police two men came to her front door about 10:20 p.m. Saturday and asked for "Danny." When she told them he wasn't at the Baylor Street address, they became enraged and beat her, she told police.

Burglars continued their assault on city residences and businesses throughout the weekend.

James Godwin of the Godwin Service Station No. 26 at 2902 Ave. A told police he came to work early Sunday to find that someone had taken $75 from the store's cash register.

Gordon Moore of the Gordon Moore Drug Store at 2609 Boston Ave. told police someone took $100 out of the cash register at his establishment about midnight Saturday.

A $385 color television set was reportedly stolen from Manuel Lopez, 109 Ave. C N home between 5:30 p.m. and 10:40 p.m. Saturday.

C.B. Farias of 3401 E. Colgate St. told police he found that his $100 stereo, several tapes and $5 in cash were missing from his home about 2:15 p.m. Saturday after noticing someone had broken into the home.

Charles Long of Bryan told police someone took a $300 rifle from his pickup while the vehicle was parked in the west alley behind the 1709 block of Avenue B between 5 and 6 p.m. Saturday.

art was not on hand later to receive his top pop single award for 1977 for the song "Tonight's the Night." At right, Donna Summer, given the top disco artist of the year award, expresses her joy at receiving the honor. The two-hour show lauded the 12 best selling artists of the year. (AP Laserphotos)

Performers Get Honors Investigation Opened On Show In Navy Plane Crash

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — If gravely voiced Rod Stewart had stayed at the Billboard No. 1 Music Awards long enough, he could have accepted his award for the top pop single of the year, "Tonight's the Night."

But soon after an energetic performance of "Hot Legs" for the audience at the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium on Sunday night, the straw-haired British singer took off, leaving presenter Natalie Cole to accept his award — a plastic "No. 1" mounted on a wooden base.

Stevie Wonder was among the winners who stayed around, receiving awards for both the year's top male artist and top solo artist in the awards from the recording industry magazine.

Wonder was presented his top male artist award by Peter Frampton, who also was in contention for the honor.

Top female artist of the year was Linda Ronstadt, whose award was accepted by Emmy Lou Harris.

A bearded Kris Kristofferson and the Bee Gees were co-hosts for the nationally televised NBC show, which featured such music luminaries as Glen Campbell, Johnny Ray, Teresa Brewer, Patti Page, Shaun Cassidy and Debby Boone.

The show's finale was a sentimental tribute to Bing Crosby, with all the performers gathering on stage to sing the late crooner's favorite song, "White Christmas."

Fleetwood Mac, stranded in Hawaii because of flight problems, was doubly honored as top pop group and for the top pop album for its "Rumours" LP. Cat Stevens accepted the first award, and disco queen Donna Summer accepted the second on behalf of the group.

A mop-haired Miss Summer also came on stage to accept her own award as top disco artist.

Barbra Streisand's award for top easy listening artist was accepted by Kristofferson.

"Wouldn't it be great if Barbra came down the aisle now, drunk and clapping her hands," he cracked, an apparent reference to a scene in the remake of "A Star is Born."

The music from that film won the award for top soundtrack of the year, with composer Paul Williams accepting.

Guitarist-vocalist George Benson was presented his award for top jazz artist by his friend, Stevie Wonder. Waylon Jennings won the top country artist award, which was accepted on his behalf by Kenny Rogers.

The best new artist award went to the British group Foreigner, whose "You're So Close" single was a million-seller.

Simpson To Seek Recount Of Votes

AMARILLO (UPI) — Defeated State Rep. Bob Simpson, D-Amarillo, said he plans to seek a recount in his loss to former congressman Bob Price in a runoff special election for the Texas Senate.

Price, 50, a Panola farmer and rancher, defeated Simpson Saturday for the 31st Senatorial District seat, according to unofficial returns.

The unofficial vote total from the 26-county district gave Price 15,197 votes, while Simpson, 33, garnered 14,963, a 234-vote difference. The seat was vacated in September when Max Sherman resigned after seven years to become president of West Texas State University. Simpson said if the official vote count still shows Price the victor, he will ask for a recount because "in counting paper ballots, there's always a chance for a mistake."

The federal government owns and operates a fleet of nearly 191,000 trucks, which makes it the motor vehicle industry's biggest truck user, says the Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Association.

VALVERDE, Canary Islands (UPI) — U.S. military personnel today opened an investigation into the crash of a low-flying Navy reconnaissance plane against a foggy mountainside in the Canary Islands.

Police in Valverde — the main town in the island of Hierro, one of the Spanish Canary Islands in the Atlantic Ocean — said they recovered 13 bodies from the wreckage. There were no survivors.

The four-engine turboprop Lockheed P-3 Orion, apparently on a training flight out of the U.S. Lajes military base in the Portuguese Azores Islands, smashed into a wooded slope Sunday and scattered debris for more than 2,000 feet.

"The bodies were so badly burned and mutilated and the plane so smashed that it was difficult to identify where the plane came from," said a police spokesman in Valverde. "But from the boots and the uniforms and a piece of burned paper that said 'Florida' we decided they were Americans."

U.S. officials had no immediate details on the cause of the crash, but the American Embassy in Madrid said military investigators from the Rota Navy Base in southern Spain were flying to Hierro today.

A Navy spokesman in Washington said the names of the victims would be withheld until relatives were notified.

The plane and crew were permanently based in Brunswick, Maine, but Rota had been their main overseas base, U.S. officials said.

The national news agency Cifra said the plane, which is built for submarine surveillance, was flying at an altitude of 1,200 feet over Hierro, which is the smallest island in the Canaries but has peaks reaching 4,200 feet.

Police in Valverde said the first report of the disaster was from a resident who "thought a truck had fallen on the highway."

"They said the plane was on a routine flight that was to take it out from Lajes and then back to that base, located in the north Atlantic Ocean west of Portugal."

The Canaries are located off the northern curve of the bulge of Africa.

Police said the weather over Hierro was overcast, rainy and foggy at the time of the crash. They said it was unusual for a plane to fly over the island, which has only a small landing strip.

Farm Authority Doubts Strike Will Be Success

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — An authority on world food supplies says basic disunity among U.S. farmers probably will stop a proposed farm strike from being a success.

Roy Laird, a professor of political science at the University of Kansas, said the farmers will have to use their resources wisely to weather the strike, which is scheduled to begin Wednesday.

"To sustain a strike the farmers would have to be tightly organized and demand funds to build a substantial strike fund," Laird said.

"Without funds to provide fuel for their machines and, even more crucially, food for their families, they will be unable to keep it going long enough to be effective."

Laird said the farmers' basic independent nature was working against the strike movement.

He said he sympathized with the farmers and warned that they must be put back on their feet to prevent upsetting of the U.S. balance of trade and to forestall world food shortages.

"There is no doubt, as shown by numerous studies, that at least one-third and possibly one-half of the farmers in this nation are faced either with refinancing or bankruptcy," Laird said.

The professor said that if Congress did not act to increase prices farmers get for their crops, the economic situation might force many of them out of business and there would not be enough crops to meet an increased world food demand.

Aussie Employees Receive Increase

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — The Arbitration Commission granted Australian workers a 1.5 percent, across-the-board wage increase today.

The unions had asked for an increase because the rate of inflation was 2 percent during the July-September quarter.

"Increasingly we need the agricultural exports to bolster our balance of trade. Governmental leaders cannot afford for the sake of the American economy to stand by and watch U.S. agriculture go bankrupt," Laird said.

Monterey Band Plans Concert

The Monterey High School Band will leave the marching field to take the concert stage for a program called "Musical Merry Christmas" at 7 p.m. today at the Monterey Auditorium.

A previous announcement that the program would be at 7:30 p.m. is incorrect.

Special guests for the concert will be children from Lubbock Children's Home and orphanages, as well as Lubbock State School. Rumor has it Santa Claus may also make a surprise appearance.

The Christmas spectacular is sponsored by the Monterey Band Booster Club, and is directed by Monterey band directors Keith Bearden and Mack Bibb. Student teaching assistant Freddie Hardin of Texas Tech will also conduct portions of the program.

Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Parks Board To Discuss Center Site

The Parks and Recreation Board will meet at noon Tuesday in City Hall's Emergency Operation Center to consider a site for a central senior citizens center.

Various proposals will be looked at by the board. The city council has authorized Community Development funds to finance the new center.

Randall Henson of Tech's park administration department will appear before the board to suggest an "interpretative center" for the Yellowhouse Canyon Lakes.

The center, which would be housed in an open-air structure, would provide visitors with a history of the project. The water reclamation aspect of the lakes would be emphasized, John Alford, parks director, said.

The city council already has set aside $12,000 in revenue-sharing funds for such a center.

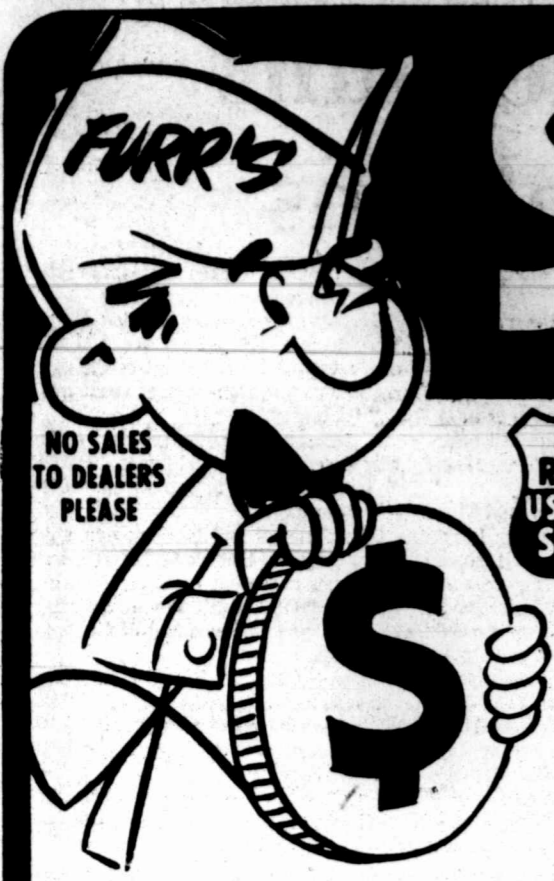

Staff members also will report on the progress of parks department capital improvement projects, Alford said.

High Court Rebuffs Slayer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Condemned Texas murderer Kenneth Albert Brock lost his bid today to have the Supreme Court review the death sentence he received for the 1974 slaying of a Houston grocery store clerk.

The court refused to hear Brock's 13-point appeal attacking his sentence and his conviction.

Texas' death penalty laws were upheld as constitutional by the Supreme Court last year.

Brock was convicted in the shooting death of Michael Sedita, a night clerk at a Houston grocery store on May 21, 1974. Brock was in the process of robbing the store when spotted by a passing policeman.

Brock fled on foot, taking Sedita hostage. He shot Sedita after the clerk fell down in an apparent attempt to escape.

Brock's appeal centered on his trial's jury selection and what his attorney called an inappropriate application of the death penalty in the case.

In a major decision, the Supreme Court ruled today that the federal law prohibiting age discrimination does not protect some 11 million workers from being forced to retire before they reach the age of 65.

In a 7-2 decision, the court said the law was primarily designed to encourage the hiring of older workers, not to prevent them from being retired under pension plans adopted before the statute was passed.

The dissenting justices, Thurgood Marshall and William J. Brennan, said the majority decision has "deprived many older workers of the protection which Congress sought to afford."

But they noted that the House and Senate recently passed amendments specifically prohibiting forced retirement of under-65 employees simply because of their age. Thus, they said, "the mischief the court fashions today may be short-lived."

The decision came in a case involving Harris McMann of Alexandria, Va., who brought suit contending that United Airlines had no right to force him to retire when he reached age 60 in 1973. He was a technical specialist in aircraft systems and had worked for the firm since 1944.

On other matters today, its last scheduled day of business until Jan. 9, the Supreme Court:

— Let stand a lower court's decision dismissing a libel suit against The New York Times and the National Audubon Society. That court had ruled that the press should not be required to suppress newsworthy statements merely because of doubts about their truth.

— Turned aside an attempt by Maryland authorities to water down the protection against self-incrimination afforded criminal suspects by the so-called Miranda rule.

— Refused a request by California inheritance-tax authorities to order a halt in a Texas trial over Howard Hughes' estate until the high court tries to decide which state the reclusive millionaire considered his legal residence at his death.

— Let stand an Oregon law barring most lawsuits by persons injured in a motor vehicle accident if the victims are guests in the vehicle.

McMann based his argument on the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, which took effect in 1968 and prohibited employers from firing workers or otherwise discriminating against them because of age. The act covered persons between the ages of 40 and 65. It extended no protection to those 65 and older.

The statute says it "shall not be unlawful for an employer" to observe a bona fide retirement plan, as long as the plan was not a subterfuge to circumvent the age discrimination ban.

Writing for the majority, Chief Justice Warren E. Burger said the act "does not prohibit all enforced retirements prior to age 65."

United's retirement plan was adopted in 1941, long before Congress even considered outlawing age discrimination, and the plan could not be considered a subterfuge, the court said.

Burger stressed that the court was concerned only with retirement plans established before 1968.

But he suggested that company policies established after 1968 and mandating retirement before the age of 65 might also be permissible.

The U.S. Circuit Court in Richmond, Va., had ruled in the McMann case that no pre-65 retirement provision was lawful unless there was "some economic or business purpose other than arbitrary age discrimination."

Overruling the circuit court, Burger wrote: "We reject any such per-se rule requiring an employer to show an economic or business purpose in order to satisfy the subterfuge language of the act."

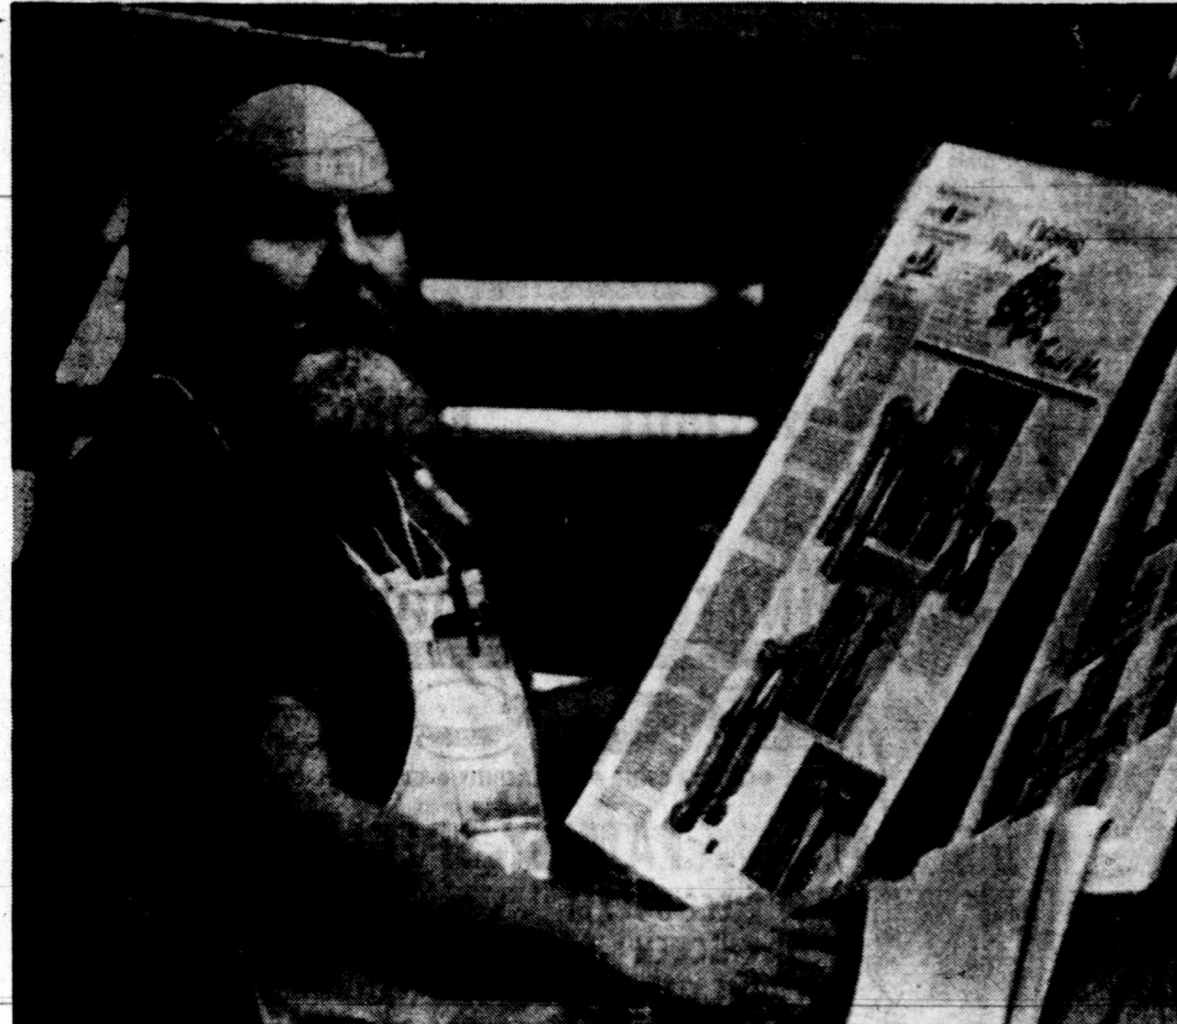

As for retirement policies established before 1968, the court said: "We find nothing to indicate Congress intended wholesale invalidation of retirement plans instituted in good faith before its passage, or intended to require employers to bear the burden of showing a business or economic purpose to justify bonafide pre-existing plans...."

"A plan established in 1941... cannot be a subterfuge to evade an act passed 25 years later."

United's attorney had told the court that some 11 million workers are employed with companies having policies established before 1968 requiring retirement before 65.

Justices Harry A. Blackmun, Lewis F. Powell, William H. Rehnquist and John Paul Stevens joined in Burger's opinion.

Justices Potter Stewart and Byron R. White voted with the majority but issued separate opinions. White said he would go further than the majority because he believes there is no question that the law allows forced retirement before age 65.

Cosmonauts Get Ready For Tests

MOSCOW (AP) — Two Soviet cosmonauts began unpacking equipment for their experiments aboard the orbiting Salyut space laboratory today after breakfast and a medical check, Tass reported.

The Soviet news agency said Lt. Col. Yuri Romanenko, 33, the flight commander, and Georgy Grechko, 46, his civilian flight engineer, were in good health on their second day aboard Salyut-6 and all systems were working normally.

Romanenko and Grechko were sent up from the earth Saturday and docked their Soyuz-26 spaceship to the orbiting space station on Sunday. The announcement of the linkup disclosed for the first time that Salyut-6 launched Sept. 22 had two docking systems and could receive two spacecraft at the same time.

"One docking system is installed on the station's transfer compartment and the other is on the other side, on the instrument section," said Tass, the official Soviet news agency.

"As distinct from the spaceship Soyuz-25, which in October approached the station from the side of the transfer compartment, the Soyuz-26 was joined with the station's second docking assembly."

The Soyuz-26 crew reportedly came within nearly 400 feet of the space station, then abandoned the mission and returned to earth, but the reason for the failure was never explained.

Tass said Romanenko and Grechko would "carry out maintenance, inspection, checking and testing of the other docking assembly in the transfer compartment."

There was speculation that if they found no defect in the other docking system, a second pair of cosmonauts would be sent up to join them.

ty-state group studying highways and mass transit.

In papers filed today in the county clerk's office, he named himself as his campaign treasurer.

Brazell, who resides at 4801 11th St., said, "I value the nearly 19 years of experience I've had on the commissioners court and I enjoy the work and am willing to work for the people."

"We have some projects going now that are vital to the citizens of Lubbock County and of great interest to me:

"The completion of the merger of the city and county jail operation, the two-year program of construction of a new county jail, and we're just beginning a program of hiring a computer coordinator to begin a detailed study to move into more operation of the county's business by computer," Brazell said.

"We've made good headway on new rural subdivision rules for public streets, platting and public health, but there still is a lot of work to do, and I'm very interested in that project, too."

For many years, Brazell did extensive work on behalf of West Texas farmers and in 1969 was selected as one of five young farmers to spend four months in Europe studying farming, customs, government and related problems.

Conferees Map Gas Price Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tired of waiting for Senate negotiators to act, House leaders of a congressional conference committee said today they will draft their own compromise effort to break a deadlock on the natural gas portion of President Carter's energy plan.

"It's perfectly clear we have to come up with something," said Rep. Thomas Ashley, D-Ohio, a key House conferee.

The 18 Senate conferees are equally divided on one of the toughest elements of the Carter energy package and have been unable to come up with a compromise proposal to the Carter formula for continued price controls approved by the House.

The deadlock has jeopardized conference committee agreement, not only on natural gas policy but on the rest of the Carter energy plan as well.

Sources say one portion of the House compromise offer, which is supported by Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill, would call for eliminating any federal control over the allocation of natural gas produced and consumed in the same state.

"Such federal regulation is included in the version of the Carter energy plan approved by the House.

Bitter Cold Chills East

ing air traffic was again flowing normally.

Despite its humid beginning, Lubbock's weather outlook includes no precipitation through Tuesday.

But South Plains residents can look forward to 70-degree weather today, according to the National Weather Service. Tonight's low should drop to the mid-30s.

A weak cold front is expected to bring northerly winds to the area tonight and slightly cooler temperatures. Tuesday's high should be in the low 60s.

A southerly wind pumped Gulf air over Texas during the night, generating today's humid morning and some light drizzle and fog in other areas of the state.

Fog cut visibility to less than one-half mile, from the hill country to the Pecos River Valley, while skies were clear over the Panhandle and extreme Southwest Texas.

Scattered light rain and drizzle were expected to moisten the eastern two-thirds of the state today, but Lubbock falls in the sunny one-third.

The state's high temperatures today likely will range from the 50s in North-Central Texas and Northeastern Texas to the 70s in western areas.

Lubbock winds should range from 15-25 mph and gusty today, braking to the 15-20 mph range tonight.

Wind warnings were posted for Lubbock-area lakes today.

Only traces of rainfall were reported in the state overnight. Nighttime temperatures ranged from 27 degrees at Marfa to 65 at Corpus Christi.

Early-morning readings today included 50 degrees at Abilene, Port Arthur-Beaumont, Houston and College Station; 38 at Amarillo; 43 at Dallas-Fort Worth; 35 at El Paso; 40 at Texarkana; 53 at Brownsville and San Antonio and 47 at Del Rio.

Ashley indicated the House offer probably would include an attempt to find middle ground on some of the most difficult natural gas questions, including whether to eventually permit deregulation and or to allow a higher price ceiling than the limit of $1.75 per thousand cubic feet permitted in the House bill.

Some conferees suggested today that any compromise should include deregulation, but also give the president authority to reimpose controls if the price rose too sharply.

The conferees met inconclusively for two hours today, then adjourned to permit House members to work out details of a compromise offer.

The Carter administration says the increase from $1.46 per thousand cubic feet to $1.75 is a high enough price to encourage exploration for new reserves.

The Senate has approved a two-to-five-year plan for deregulating natural gas prices, which critics say will give windfall profits to the industry and raise consumer heating and cooking costs.

The conferees have been meeting off an on for a week in both public and private sessions, but there has been no progress.

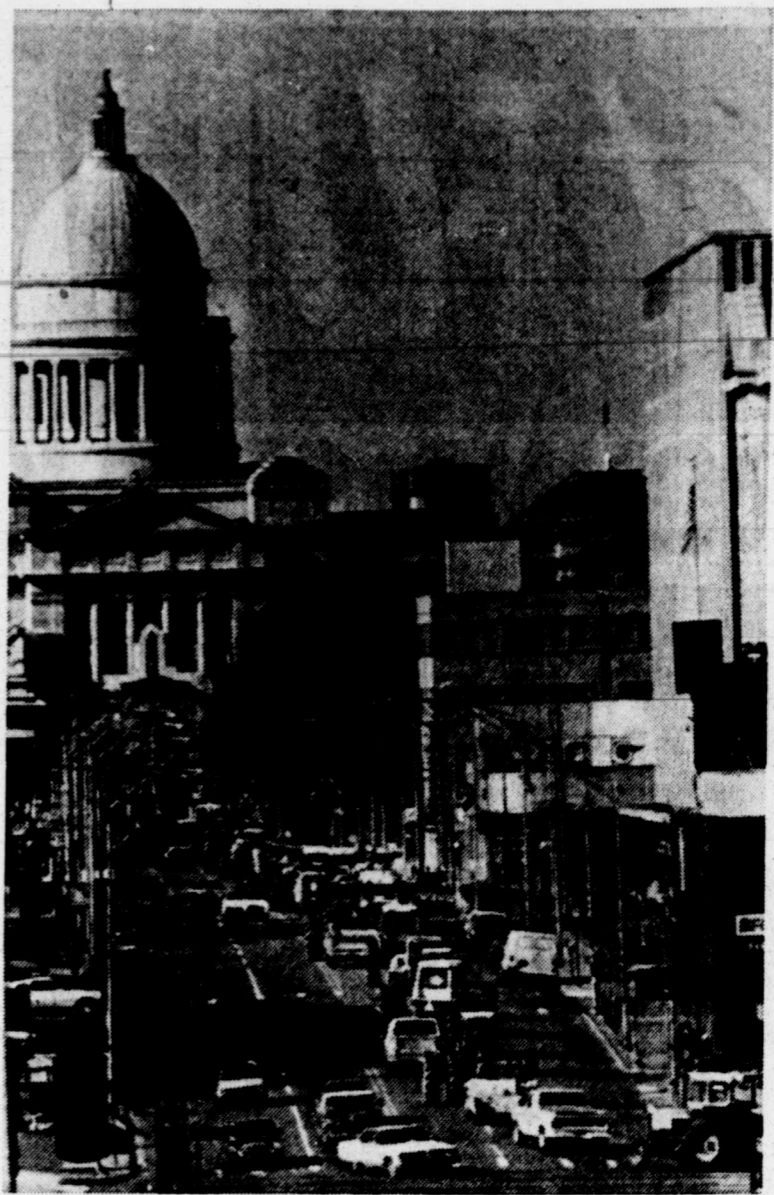

The House negotiators have been waiting for the Senate conferees to reach some compromise among themselves and make a proposal to the House.

Meanwhile, House-Senate conferees who have been considering ways of keeping the Social Security System afloat are looking for a way to settle a dispute over a proposed tax break for parents of college students.

The conferees have agreed on a $227 billion payroll tax increase over the next 10 years.

Angry Farmers Await Reaction

By The Associated Press

Thousands of farmers who drove tractors, pickup trucks and go-carts to weekend rallies in 30 states were back on the farm today waiting to see whether their demonstrations for higher prices for their products will have any effect.

The largest demonstration was in Atlanta, where the state patrol estimated there were 5,000 tractors. Organizers of the Georgia rally claimed it was 17,000.

In Topeka, Kan., 5,000 people showed up at the state capitol in one of the weekend's other large rallies.

They were organized by American Agriculture, the Colorado-based group claiming one million members which also is calling for a nationwide farm strike Dec. 14.

It is unclear what effect such a strike — which would include a halt to the purchase of farm equipment — would have.

Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland has endorsed the strike, but is among those questioning whether it will be effective unless nearly all of the nation's 2 million commercial farmers join in.

Appearing on a television broadcast, Bergland said Sunday that the government has to balance the needs of farmers, consumers and nations which import American farm products.

"We don't think it is a proper function of government to guarantee the kinds of profits that some people are demanding," said Bergland, a former Minnesota wheat farmer.

"We have to provide farmers with some measure of security, however, against the vagaries of international weather and politics and domestic economic circumstances," he said.

"The consumer is not going to be well fed at a reasonable cost if agriculture is driven to bankruptcy. We think to provide a federal guarantee at the cost of production is about as far as the government should go."

Bergland said he does not believe the farmers' protest — particularly a demand for 100 percent parity — will force any immediate changes in government policy.

Parity is a complex, theoretical yardstick based on an assumption that at 100 percent parity, the price a farmer gets for his goods, such as a bushel of wheat, should have the same purchasing power as the amount he sold it for during the 1910-14 base period used in the formula.

Some economists, however, say a goal of 100 percent parity is outmoded because it does not take into account the effect of increased farm productivity.

For example, farmers averaged 30.6 bushels of wheat an acre this year compared with 16 bushels an acre in 1914.

Tommy Kersey of Unadilla, Ga., coordinator of America Agriculture in Georgia, said farmers are planning a tractorcade to Plains, Ga., during the Christmas holidays.

He said they may be joined by Maryland farmers driving tractors to Camp David so President Carter would be assured of encountering a demonstration at one place or the other.

Fire Units In County Get Funds

number of fires next year, the county's budget won't be overrun.

Also today, commissioners indicated that unless Sheriff C.H. "Choc" Blanchard gives in, the Jan. 1 merger of Lubbock's city and county jails may not come off too smoothly — if it takes place at all.

Commissioners tentatively rejected Blanchard's request for seven additional employees, mostly book-in officers, to accommodate the proposed consolidation of jails. They said they need more time to study the request.

Under the planned merger, the Lubbock Police Department will close the municipal jail to all but illegal aliens and book city-arrested prisoners directly into the county jail.

Commissioners said Blanchard's jail staff already has been doubled this year to meet provisions of a federal court order and state standards.

"We've put enough people into the jail to absorb an increase of 10 more prisoners a day," the additional book-in workload projected under the consolidation, Biggs said.

Added Commissioner Alton Brazell: "With all the extra money we've had to spend on the jail, if we can't absorb an average of 10 more prisoners a day, we've gone wrong somewhere."

Commissioners said if Blanchard finds he absolutely must have the requested employees, the City of Lubbock may be asked to contribute more toward the merger.

And if the city won't do so, the alternative might be "for us to back up and take another look at this merger," said Biggs. "Maybe it's not as wise as we thought."

However, commissioners seemed hopeful that Blanchard's request was too high and that the jail consolidation will come off as planned.

Chileans Switching To Scotch Whiskey

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Chileans have begun to switch from domestic brandy to Scotch since the military government took off the high protective tariff put on by the late President Salvador Allende's Marxist government.

The fifth of Scotch that once cost $40 dollars now sells for $7. One distiller's representative said 96,000 cases were imported last year, four times the amount the year before.

Unique House In Fairbanks Looks Like Stack Of Wood

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — It looks like a stack of firewood, the house Richard and Kay Veazey built in a grove of birch trees on the outskirts of Fairbanks.

But don't take a log to stoke up the heater, the walls might come tumbling down.

The Veazeys built their cabin by stacking and mortaring logs to form the walls.

The logs are 13 to 15 inches long, set flush to form the inside of the wall, but staggered on the outside.

Veazey, a television cameraman, says he chose the design because "I like unique things, and it's also inexpensive."

There's another practical reason. The logs retain heat during the deep cold of a Fairbanks winter, and the walls are thicker than those of your run-of-the-mill log cabin.

Each log is held in place at each end by a ring of mortar. Between the rings of mortar, each log is encased in glass fiber insulation.

If mortar were used all the way through the wall, it would conduct heat out of the cabin, Veazey explains.

Veazey's one-room cabin does have a loft. The steps leading to it are part of the logs forming a portion of the outside wall.

He says the six cords of spruce logs he used for the walls came from the property of a friend. He estimates he spent about $500 for mortar and insulation.

It took about 200 man-hours, with the help of friends, to build the walls once the logs were cut for the 15-by-17-foot cabin.

Veazey says he used logs of varying diameter, from 6 inches to 12 inches, for "aesthetic reasons. If you plan beforehand, you can make designs in the wall."

As for the placement of windows, he says that doesn't require planning because "you can stand up and just about judge where you want them."

Veazey said the trickiest part of the project was construction of the walls at the four corners.

"We used pretty dead wood, so there won't be too much shrinkage, but we expect to have some cracks," he says.

Veazey and his wife have electricity, but at the present time they are carrying water to their cabin, located on a 2 1/2-acre plot six miles northeast of Fairbanks.

But the Houston native says that a well is planned for the future, to ease life a little when winter temperatures send the thermometer to 40 or 50 degrees below zero.

Sheriff Sells Old Equipment

AUGUSTA, Maine (UPI) — The Androscoggin County sheriff's department found a new way to meet its need for more weapons and ammunition — it traded in old jail doors, radios, a truck and other surplus equipment.

A state audit released last week also said the department used the proceeds from vending machine sales to buy such staples of the law enforcement business as badges.

There were several instances noted whereby the sheriff disposed of county property by trading for such items as new weapons, ammunition, capital equipment and safety supplies," the audit said.

It said Sheriff Lionel Cote traded such things as "old weapons, radios, a 1956 International van truck and the steel doors from the old jail."

There were no invoices listing the worth of items disposed of or items acquired in several of the trades, the audit noted.

The audit suggested future sales or trades of surplus property be handled by the county treasurer's office or county commissioners.

Dow Industrials Lagging Behind Other Indicators

By CHET CURRIER
NEW YORK (AP) — For investors who pride themselves on "beating" the Dow Jones industrial average, the stock market of the past year has been just about tailor-made.

At no time in recent years have the 30 blue chips that make up the Dow lagged so badly behind other measures of stock price trends.

Analyst William M. LeFevre at Wall Street's Granger Co. recently calculated the performance, from the start of the year through the end of November, of 11 different indicators. The Dow, with a 17.4 percent drop, came in last with room to spare.

Next to last in the rankings, with an 11.8 percent loss, stood Standard Poor's 500-stock composite index, which like the Dow is dominated by big-name issues that have been under pressure most of the year.

Five other indicators actually showed gains, led by the American Stock Exchange market value index, up a healthy 11.9 percent, and the NASDAQ composite index of over-the-counter issues, up 5.4 percent.

The Value Line composite index of 1,692 stocks from all the various markets — which differs from most of the other indicators in that it gives equal weight to big and small issues alike — posted a 0.6 percent advance.

These figures underscore two related points that Wall Streeters have been harping on all year: That many of the lesser-known stocks of small and medium-sized companies have held up reasonably well in what has been considered a poor market year, and that the typical individual investor probably hasn't suffered nearly as much lately as the Dow might suggest.

Leslie M. Pollack, chief investment officer at Shearson Hayden Stone Inc., noted that this environment has helped mutual funds consistently record better aggregate records of late than the Dow and the SP 500.

"This doesn't mean that suddenly everyone running a mutual fund got smarter than average," he observed. "It suggests that the market, while not a pleasant or profitable place to operate in 1977, was not as bad internally as it was on the surface."

Consoling as all this may be, some market observers don't see the popularity of secondary issues in entirely favorable light.

Comparative Market Indicators, a Cambridge Island, Wash., investment advisory service, points out that a flow of money out of top-quality stocks and into more speculative issues is often a danger signal for the market.

The service notes that its "quality indicator" — the percentage of total NYSE trading volume accounted for by the stocks in the Dow Jones industrial, transportation and utility averages — had slipped recently to just above 10 percent its lowest level since early 1976.

King Tut Would Have Loved New Orleans Life

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — In this mad-cap city, where they can't dig graves but really dig funerals, King Tutankhamen has found a sarcophagus away from home.

The boy king's royal barge-load of gold and alabaster coffin playthings is pulling the convention crowds away from the strip joints in the French Quarter and depositing them in three- to four-hour long waiting lines outside the New Orleans MATIONS OF Or, as Variety might put it: TUT TOPS TOPLESS TITILLATIONS OF BOURBON STREET.

Blaze Ss of the artinous, unspangled best never had as many students of the arts queuing up as appear daily outside the Pharaoh's transplanted burial chamber. But then she was playing a live act, and the folks at the delta of the Mississippi, like those at the delta of the Nile, always have had this thing about death and funerals.

"An odd thing about New Orleans," observed Walker Percy in "Lancelot," his current novel, "The cemeteries here are more cheerful than the hotels and the French Quarter. Tell me why that should be? Why 2,000 dead Creoles should be more alive than 2,000 Buick dealers?"

Well, for one thing, New Orleans cemeteries don't have any graves, on account of the city's low water table, and the above-ground tombs are cheerfully decorated with chubby cherubs, trumpeting angels, Confederate soldiers leaning on their rifles, real steamboat bells that ring for bygone river pilots and, all about, wrought-iron garden chairs for visitors to sit and chat a while.

Young Tut would have understood this better than the Buick dealers. He packed his royal throne aboard the royal barge for his final journey across the river and into the eternal trees. Evidently he planned to set awhile and rap with whoever happened by in the Valley of the Kings.

When the big Tut show came down the river, after out of town tryouts in London, Washington and Chicago, Time magazine made some snide comment about the city fathers painting the streets outside the museum "Nile blue" to welcome the 3,000-year-old funeral display.

Well, sir, they did even better than that. They erected a huge striped tent, as you might have seen in the west desert in Tukankhamen' heyday, and for the amusement of those waiting to view the burial vault and its treasures installed in it a Dixieland band and a bar a couple of miles long serving the strong spirits you might find in an Irish waiting room to the spirit world.

Tut, who obviously wanted to take it all with him, would have loved it. Isn't that his golden trumpet hanging there on the wall of the tomb behind the tiny carved wooden coffin containing his vital parts? No wonder there's a smile on his golden death mask, as if he were happy in the knowledge that three millenias later folks would still be making merry and stomping it up at his burial.

Where jazz is king, death has no sting.

We can see the boy king up there now, jamming it up with Louis Armstrong, Papa Celestin and the other Delta Rhythm boys, playing it slow and cool on the way out to the Valley of the Kings.

All the old favorites, you can hear them now, down the vault of history, with maybe Tut taking a toot or two on the royal trumpet: "Way Down Yonder in Old Luxor," "Nefertiti Won't You Please Come Home" and latest but mostest the great delta Dixieland dirge:

"Tut-tut-Tutsie, Goodbye."

Inventors Test New Auto Alternatives

WASHINGTON (AP) — As the automobile becomes more expensive to operate with every passing mile, hundreds of inventors are eagerly testing alternative means of locomotion, says National Geographic.

Most have met with little success. Both sun-powered and nuclear-fueled autos are impractical because of structural problems, Geographic notes. Electronic cars still need a super battery which would allow trips of more than 40 to 75 miles, and steam-powered cars need better boiler-heating fuel.

Some experimenters say that a blend of alcohol with 72 percent gasoline, called gasohol, actually improves mileage. Others have distilled methane gas from animal manure, which they say may give the equivalent of 30 miles to the gallon. "The Texas cattle country," said one fan, "may be tomorrow's Kuwait."

Dean Views Report Of Tampering

By CANDY SAGON
Avalanche-Journal Staff

The Dean of the Texas Tech University School of Medicine says he is "looking into" allegations that a faculty member altered a medical student's exam answers.

Dr. George Tyner told The Avalanche-Journal he is investigating a situation in which a med school student claims correct exam answers were erased on a computer-graded answer sheet by a professor and incorrect answers substituted.

Sources say the alleged tampering was discovered after the student requested that another faculty member examine her answer sheets for changes.

A comparison reportedly was made between the student's exam booklets, in which she had recorded her answers, and her answers on the computer answer sheets.

The computer sheets have small boxes which the student fills in with a pencil to correspond with the chosen answer. The faculty member apparently found evidence that some of the student's answers had been erased and the incorrect box filled in.

These changes had been made on four of the student's exams causing her test score on each exam to drop from a passing grade to a failing one.

Apparently 24 questions had been altered, resulting in a total of 48 points being subtracted from the student's overall score on the four tests.

Following the faculty member's examination, the student was sent a memo dated Nov. 28, "related to the reinstatement of credit for certain questions."

The memo, typed on Tech School of Medicine stationery, informed the student that "our records now show that you have been given credit for 24 questions distributed on Examinations 4, 6, 7, and 8. The effect is to raise your course average through 8 examinations from 68 to 74."

A below-70 average would be failing in the medical school.

Copies of the memo were sent to both the med school dean and the chairman of the department in which the course is taught.

In addition, a letter from the student officers and class of '81 student body was sent to the dean asking him "to determine the extent of this problem" and take appropriate action.

Sources say Tyner has requested statements on the situation from the faculty member suspected of tampering with the exam answers and from the professor who examined the student's answer sheets and booklets.

Dr. Marilyn Phelan, the university's interim legal counsel, apparently has been apprised of the situation, although she told The Avalanche-Journal she could not comment on any aspect of it because of the confidentiality of the matter.

Most Holiday Air Tickets Already Sold

If you've got your plane ticket in hand, then you'll probably make it out of Lubbock for the Christmas holidays.

But, if you haven't made a plane reservation yet, chances are excellent that you'll be spending Christmas in the Hub City.

Airline ticket sales have been brisk, and Sunday Lubbock's four major air carriers reported that the majority of their holiday flights are full.

On Dec. 23, chances are that a person desiring to go to Dallas will have only one choice: a first class seat on a Braniff flight.

The prospects of getting a flight out on Dec. 24 look a little brighter, with Texas International, Continental and Braniff reporting flights available to most destinations.

However, a Southwest spokesman said all its Lubbock to Dallas flights for the 24th were booked, adding that Lubbock to Dallas flights for Dec. 16-17 were also full.

But, if you must get out on a certain day on a certain flight, airline spokesmen suggest that "standby" is probably your best bet.

A Continental spokesman said that there is usually a higher number of no-shows during the holidays, adding that a person's chances of getting on a flight standby are measurably increased.

He encouraged those going the standby route to be at the airport at least one hour before departure since it is on a first-come, first-served basis.

Dumas Man Dies Following Wreck

HASTY, Colo. (UPI) — A Dumas man died from injuries suffered in a weekend head-on collision with a vehicle driven by a Kansas man on a county road in southeastern Colorado, the State Patrol said today.

The victim was identified as Myron Ragan, 44.

Officers said Ragan's vehicle was west-bound Sunday on U.S. 50 when it collided in the eastbound lane with a vehicle being driven east by John Schumaker, 46, of Wichita, Kan.

Patrol officers said Schumaker suffered minor cuts and bruises.

Man Still Suffers From Race Experiment

FORT WORTH (AP) — After 15 years, the hate letters — and the accompanying nightmares — still turn nights into a hellish marathon.

The last one almost killed John Howard Griffin, who darkened his skin through medical treatments in 1959 and journeyed through the South as a black man, recording his thoughts in the classic "Black Like Me."

Griffin, who has lived quietly here for 11 years, awoke from the nightmare last Tuesday in the dark morning hours with "a devastating attack" from his beleaguered heart, chronically weak from a major attack last year and plagued by diabetes and a bone disease that has kept him in a wheelchair for several years.

The nightmare had not visited Griffin for many years. But the horror, triggered by the letter, returned — the dream of being overtaken and lynched by a mob.

Even though the threats, hate mail and chilled friendships had long since passed, the letter — "one of the most vicious I have ever received" — inexplicably had come.

"I guess those things are still too close to the surface," said Griffin, 57, in the plant-choked living room of his small brick home near the Texas Christian University campus.

Even more painful than the ravages of disease is Griffin's belief that the tentative "understanding" he witnessed between whites and blacks in the 1960s is sinking back into the swamp of prejudice.

"What we've got now is a turnaround," said Griffin in his thin, reedy voice. "And you don't know how incredibly disheartening that is to people who struggled so hard for civil rights."

Certainly blacks can eat at any restaurant and ride on any bus.

"But those physical things are not the most dangerous things," said the author, scholar, civil rights activist, theologian, photographer and lecturer. "It's the psychological damage that is so utterly killing. The soul-killing, energy-killing frustration is still there."

A tape recorder sits by Griffin's bed, the repository of thoughts for several works in progress. "There are weeks when I can do no work at all," he said with a helpless smile.

Life, he said, has become a contest of getting through each day without upsetting his heart.

It was in 1959 that Griffin left his wife and two children, had his skin darkened with the drug oxoralin, and for six weeks traveled through the South as a Negro.

"I went into it thinking it would be a highly educational experience, but I never thought it would be such a transforming experience," said Griffin, who says he never regretted the book despite the threats.

It was in the small town of Mansfield, where Griffin lived when he wrote the book, that an effigy, half-black, half-white with Griffin's name scrawled on it, was hung from a downtown signal light shortly after the first installments appeared.

A cross was set afire near the home where his wife's mother still lives.

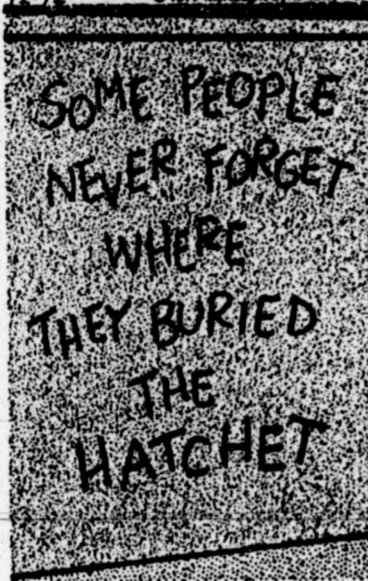

He said he moved to Mexico after the book's publication to escape ill will in the town but returned to Mansfield to live for several years before moving to Fort Worth in the late 1960s.

QUALITY, BEAUTY COMBO - Everything at The Lazy Daisy demonstrates a huge Christmas stocking against backdrop of decor items great for gifting.

Lazy Daisy Tells New Items Swelling Holiday Selection

How simple Christmas selection can be when shopping is at The Lazy Daisy, 5406 Slide Road!

Quality and beauty is paramount in the intriguing stock . . . without exorbitant price!

So . . . if interested in selection from a most impressive grouping of decor items, art and craft supplies and gifts, then note the following that are only a portion of the stock at The Lazy Daisy, easily found in southwest Lubbock, on the west side of Slide Road, with off-street parking:

Butterflies
 Real butterflies, in gorgeous array, are stocked! Select from varied size specimens from throughout the world!

And best news yet, these are not expensive, with most priced in the $2.50-$4.00 price range, with some to $13.00. In connection with the butterflies, that must be seen to be fully appreciated, The Lazy Daisy stocks shadow boxes in two sizes (with other sizes due in momentarily).

There are other Christmas gift items by the score, such as:
 Lap desks, stick horses and calico jump ropes;

"Make your own name" wooden letters, Doodle Art, printers trays reproductions;

Hand painted china that is the prettiest imaginable;

Lots of gifts for the artist friend and family member . . . easels, books, paint sets, lattice frames, and all.

Be sure and see the quality metal sculpture that would make a most appropriate gift, whether for home or office:
 "And so much more that is difficult to adequately describe . . . so come on in and see for yourself!"

There are decoupage supplies including wood.

Note the so-unique cradles and other quality merchandise items, all at prices to please.

New shipments and new creations continually make for enjoyment and appreciation of the Lazy Daisy.

Classes in numerous crafts and arts are part of the shop's program, and inquiry is invited for classes to begin after the first of the year in the fields of oil, china painting and toile painting.
 (All materials utilized in the classes are stocked.)

Assuredly, a pleasant experience awaits at this attractive and practical store owned by Sandra Copp.

Sandra is active in the management, with both she and her mother-in-law, Martha Copp, on hand to assist in selection and with each teaching in the sought-after classes there.

The stock within this store (in Plaza Shopping center) is most intriguing, with many items available that one "simply has not been able to find elsewhere."

Blank China
 Blank china is one of the popular and in-demand offerings, with a wide selection on hand, together with numerous patterns and prints.

Then there is the provocative stock of tin ware so adaptable for toile painting, including such unique pieces as buckets, cream cans, scoops and more.

Both unfinished and finished products are available in most departments at the big shop (where there is a large classroom for convenience of students in its classes).

Much of the work of both Sandra and Martha is stocked for selection. You'll like every item!

'The Christmas Shoppe' Tells Added Unique Gift, Decor Items For Season

New arrivals at The Christmas Shoppe add to the already-provocative and distinctive stock for which the Cactus Alley shop has become so favorably known region-wide.

Among these new items, the following could be singled out as especially to be appreciated:

There are completely etable gingerbread houses, for example!
 And scads of gorgeous wreaths and door pieces.
 Crystal and porcelain Christmas trees are stocked from Sweden, Italy and China.

And Christmas finger-tip towels.
 Be sure to see the Anri music boxes, with Thomas movements, from Italy.

Also there are music boxes from Germany, Switzerland and China.

Several different Madonnas are on hand, with some hand carved wood and some in marble, both of Italian origin.

Pewter Ornaments, Plates
 For pewter collectors, there are pewter ornaments from Italy and a delightful limited edition Christmas plate from Hudson Pewter.

Creche figures with stables, from Italy and Germany, can greatly add to a beautiful Christmas motif in any home.

Unusual stocking stuffers are stocked, and just arrived are wind-up robots "reminiscent of Star Wars."

Ornaments from throughout the world are provided, of course.

Designed to bring "Christmas from Around the World" in quality items, The Christmas Shoppe has numerous related benefits . . . such as a gift wrap service with a pick-up and delivery plan enabling picking up packages from anywhere in the city, with the customer selecting the wrap from photos, and with the actual pick-up and delivery free when 10 or more packages are involved.

There is layaway service, too.

The Christmas Shoppe is owned and operated by longtime Lubbock resident Jan Lynch, and she and her staff are quite adept in rendering the customer services one appreciates.

More about the really "different" items at The Christmas Shoppe:
 Be sure to note the quality handblown crystal from Germany, plus old-fashioned tree ornaments, wax ornaments and more.

The thornwood creches from Africa and of olivewood from Israel are drawing wide appreciation.

Collectors' thimbles from all over the world are stocked.

Be sure to see the Fitz & Floyd holly wreath china.

And the butterfly originals (nature spheres) that include Christmas ornaments, designed, made and shipped throughout the world by shop owner Jan Lynch.

"It is high time to utilize the advantages of The Christmas Shoppe, as likely you and your neighbors already have done! But time is short for Christmas selection, so come on out now to The Christmas Shoppe in Cactus Alley, just south off the Brownfield Highway at 2610 Salem Avenue in Lubbock."

Larger Lubbock Western World Adds Lines To Already-Popular Selection

A "Western" Christmas can come oh-so-easy with the help of Lubbock Western World, 4130 34th St., recently enlarged to even better meet the needs and preferences of the area.

(Lubbock Western World will be open from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. weekdays until Christmas.)

With the doubling of size of the already-large store, greater selection is noted, and new merchandise lines consequently have been added.

New in the stock are Lady Manhattan, Personal, Country Set, Beverly Ann Creations, Janie Winter, Ceramic, Legendware Products, H.I.S., Niven Western Wear and other labels.

Then there are the old favorites already stocked, including Panhandle

Slim, H.D. Lee, Fenton, Tex-Son, Wrangler, Levi, Tex-Tan, Tony Lama, Acme, Nocona, Morgan Miller, Hondo, Sun Bell, Tempo, Resistol, Western Traditions, etc.

Everyday Low Prices
 Not only is quality and selection thus assured, but attractive pricing is the rule of Lubbock Western World where a policy is maintained of everyday low inflation-fighting prices.

The store's extensive remodeling is completed, and one is invited to come in and recognize how Lubbock Western World has gone "all out" to serve.

"We invite you to use our layaway, and we honor Visa and Master Charge, too."
 "To avoid the hectic last-minute rush, hurry and scurry, we hope you will shop with us today. We still have a good supply of everything, with more arriving daily."

Kenneth Chaffin, genial manager of the big store, is most sincere in his invitation to trade there, and in his promise that all possible has been done to make Christmas shopping advantageous and pleasant for every customer.

Buying Power Aids
 As one of the more than 30 Tandy Corp. stores of its type, the Lubbock Western World was opened in 1973 and has become well known for its wide selection, big stock, roomy showroom and appealing prices made possible by the buying power as a Tandy Corp. company.

Robert Spence School, Fully Certified, Slates New Classes

"This year, why not give a gift that can be enjoyed throughout the upcoming year and for years to come? The Robert Spence School has just what you want, whether it be for yourself or for someone special. You are just a phone call away from the you that you've always wanted to be: poised, assured, looking and sounding your best. Maybe you want to be a model, maybe that's the farthest thing from your mind. The training you receive at The Robert Spence School can take you where you want to go."

The Robert Spence School is located in The Terrace Center, 4902-34th Street, Suite 26-A, phone 797-8134, in Lubbock. Registration is now underway for the spring classes which will begin January 9, 1978. The deadline for registration is January 6, 1978. Classes are offered in a schedule meeting on weekdays and Saturdays from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 Noon, or 1:00-3:00 p.m. Evening classes meet once weekly from 7:00-9:00 p.m. Fully Certified.

All schools in Texas that are teaching any course of instruction must be certified by the Texas Education Agency. This is not only a protection for the school, but also for the students. The Robert Spence School and its staff are certified by the Texas Education Agency and is owned and directed by Brenda Becknell.

Classes are offered in Self-Improvement and Personal Development, Professional Modeling, The Classic Woman Course, the Little Princess Course, and the Young Miss Course, and are designed to assist girls and women toward the self-realization that leads to mature confidence in one's own image.

The instructors can impart the skills taught because the classes at the school are small; no more than eight persons are assigned to any instructor in any phase; and teachers devote individual attention to the needs of each.

The basic course in self-improvement consists of instruction in several fundamental elements which combine to develop the truly poised person. These elements include posture and walking, skin care and make-up application, hair styling, figure correction, speaking, wardrobe coordination, and personality development.

Beyond the self-improvement course, the Robert Spence School offers instruction in professional modeling which opens career vistas to many women. The school functions as an agency and has placed many women in modeling jobs in the area.

The Classic Woman is designed for the woman who is interested in updating her wardrobe, hairstyles, makeup and being poised in all situations she may encounter. This course is especially successful for business organizations, clubs, and area groups.

GRADUATE — Among the grads of the Robert Spence School in Lubbock is Peggy Hall (pictured) who has been involved in runway modeling, tearoom modeling, photography, television and commercials.

The Young Miss and Little Princess Courses are designed for girls from age 5 to 14 to help them develop poise and manners and grooming. Pageant modeling is also offered to all ages who may be interested in entering pageants.

Instructors other than Miss Becknell include Mrs. Jerry (Lynette) Thuet, Mrs. Ralph (Gloria) Madrid, and Mrs. Ron (Donna) Chandler. These instructors are members of the World Modeling Association. They attend the annual WMA convention in New York each year to update their curriculum and teach new modeling techniques as they develop.

The instructors have been speakers in the public schools, social organization, banking institutions, small groups and clubs. They are available to give lectures and demonstrations to groups and organizations for a minimal fee. They also teach the short courses for groups of eight or more in the surrounding area towns and in the local area.

As a model agency, Robert Spence makes available its professionally trained models and instructors for those special occasions such as conventions, grand openings, fashion shows, commercials, and photography.

Miss Becknell is the owner-director of the school. She is a graduate of Texas Tech and a former teacher for the Ideal Public Schools. She has taught professional modeling and pageant modeling and has modeled and lectured for various organizations in the area.

Miss Becknell will be happy to talk to any interested person, and a phone call to 797-8134 can bring complete information. Mrs. Thuet is a Robert Spence graduate and a resident of Post. She has taught for the school three years and is well known for her modeling and lecturing ability in the area.

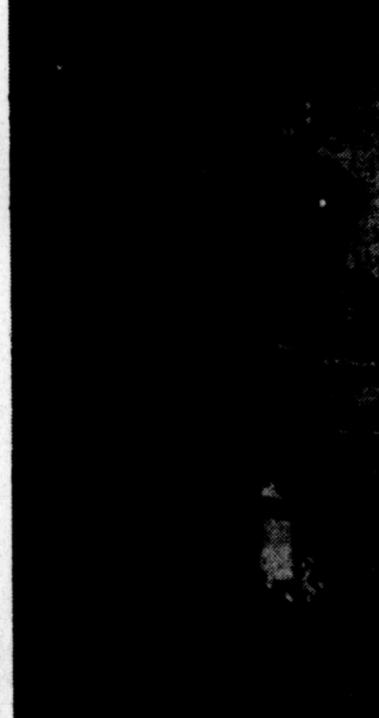

Mrs. Madrid, a Texas Tech and Robert Spence graduate, is a former high school teacher for the Lubbock Independent School District, as well as consultant for the Panhandle and South Plains venture. She is well known for her modeling in the area and has lectured for various organizations.

Mrs. Chandler is a graduate of Robert Spence and Texas Tech. She is involved in the area of fashion merchandising and has been modeling in the Lubbock area as well as teaching the curriculum at Robert Spence.

'Dream Trip', Shopping Spree Award Winners Announced By Rainbo Firm

Thanks to Rainbo Baking Company's "Quality Counts Breadstakes", seven area residents are richer this holiday season!

Six have been announced as recipients of shopping sprees for $100 worth of groceries each, courtesy of Rainbo.

AWARDED RAINBO TRIP — John W. Blackstock is shown with grandchild, Julia, 3, and with Chester Harris, marketing and merchandising specialist for Rainbo Baking Co. in Lubbock. Blackstock won an expense-paid trip to Tokyo in a recently completed Rainbo-sponsored promotion.

And the grand prize winner, Col. (Ret.) John W. Blackstock of Rt. 4, Lubbock, has been revealed as winner of an expense-paid trip to Japan, enabling him to have a "sentimental journey" to areas where he once served in the Air Force. Winner of the shopping sprees are Mrs. L. D. Browning and Mrs. J. M. Daniel, both of Lubbock; Mrs. L.W. Powell, Midland; Mrs. Bess Myers, Odessa; Mrs. Barbara Huffhines, Amherst; and Mrs. Edie Johnson, Big Spring.

In qualifying for the awards, the contestants secured entry blanks from specially marked Rainbo packages at favorite supermarkets, submitting them with a brief resume on qualities they most preferred in Rainbo bread. For the grand prize, choice of four destination included several countries, with Blackstock selecting Japan for a trip in the spring during the "beautiful cherry season" that he remembers from a former tour while in active service.

(Col. Blackstock recently was featured in a story in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, with highlights of his experiences cited from date of Pearl Harbor Day 1941 when word was received by him to report back to Chanute Army Air Field as the Japanese had bombed Pearl Harbor, and with latest event pinpointing the impending trip back to Tokyo.

The 32-year career Air Force officer began his service career in 1936 as an aircraft mechanic. A daughter, Jill, was an aircraft mechanic at Reese Air Force Base during a tour with the Air Force.

"Jack is a marine and Jim just got out of the Navy," Blackstock adds when telling how military life seems to be in the Blackstock blood.

Blackstock presently is retired and living just out of Lubbock, happily spending much time with grandchildren. And now... he is planning the sights to see and the folks to visit at the spring-time date he has selected to visit Tokyo courtesy of Rainbo. "Congratulations John Blackstock!"

AT McWHORTER'S, OF COURSE — McWhorter's, in downtown Lubbock, again has posted specials on "wheels for Christmas" to aid in the gifting program of a lot of families.

McWhorter's Arranges Dollar-Saving 'Wheels For Christmas' Price Cuts

McWhorter's says "Merry Christmas" in a most practical way. "Wheels for Christmas" is the big item this month at McWhorter's, 10th Street at Texas Avenue. The complete line of E-T mag's and the Appliance Industry chrome wheels and mag wheels all are on special until Christmas at McWhorter's! "Would selection from these be a most thoughtful gift? We have a complete stock, in all sizes and styles, and really, all are at terrific savings. Wheels, or even tires, are suggested for Christmas gifts (with gift certificates available at McWhorter's, of course). Such a gift can turn the miles ahead into all-year enjoyment.

Exceptionally good values in tires are now posted at McWhorter's, and one is invited to note the McWhorter ads in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal for outstanding specials. Aside from Christmas gifting, wouldn't new tires, front-end alignment and brake service be a most practical consideration for the family as holiday travel, inclement weather and all approaches? Each can be quite a safety factor. Front-end alignment at McWhorter's is now just $12.50 including complete analysis and alignment, correct to increase tire mileage and improve steering safety. Free estimates and complete brake service are featured.

Five ways are provided for purchases: McWhorter's own customer credit plan, cash, Visa, Master Charge, and 30, 60, 90 days with no handling charge. McWhorter's can be a very real aid in assisting one's efforts to economize, to get the best performance at minimum cost; for after all, the right tires and a brake and front end system that function properly all contribute to auto performance and savings. "Lively nothing would be more suitable to give dad or brother or son on Christmas than a new set of mag wheels, a new set of Goodyear tires, or Monroe shocks, from McWhorter's. Take it from the "pros", any of these would be appreciated and approved.

Jan's Casual Cottage Showing Outstanding Apparel Choices

For holiday wear or for gifting, excitement is the word if selection is from the intriguing stock at Jan's Casual Cottage, 3404 34th St. (in Indiana Gardens).

In junior sizes 3 through 13, and missy sizes 6 to 16, everything is refreshingly new and delightful, reflecting the styles and moods that are "in" for gifting or for one's own enjoyment throughout the season.

There is a profusion of so-pretty pastels for the holidays, and an especially good selection is offered in sweaters in the Montage and Collage lines, knit tops by Sweet Inspirations, Cinnamon Stick and Wiggle Worm.

Free gift wrapping is an appreciated service at Jan's Casual Cottage, and every transaction reflects the personal touch that has drawn appreciation throughout the store's existence.

Now in its second year, Jan's Casual Cottage has enjoyed enthusiastic acceptance. All merchandise is casual; all personnel friendly!

Essentially a "family operation" Jan's is owned by Jan Holleman, assisted by her husband, Ernie Holleman, her mother, Mary Pattillo, her daughter, Kellie, and other staffers as the need is presented. Jan, Ernie and Mary each are Texas Tech grads. They head a staff who "are your kind of people", folks who want you to have the best in affordable casual wear, people to whom one may turn with confidence in wardrobe selection.

Each sincerely hope you will come in at this time and renew or make new acquaintance, letting the staff express a personal Christmas greeting.

Master Charge, Visa and layaway purchases are welcomed. Selections are grouped for ease in shopping.

Jan's Casual Cottage is a relaxing and casual place in which to shop and select the newest fashion at affordable price.

Mrs. B's Arts, Crafts & Gifts Solves Many A Holiday Search

Actually it is a "Christmas type of store all year long", it would seem, but Mrs. B's Arts, Crafts & Gifts has stocked even more abundantly in this holiday season!

So much is exciting, new and interesting at Mrs. B's, now located in spacious, functionally attractive quarters at 5105 29th Drive in Lubbock.

Not only are craft project items and kits stocked in profusion, but there are many "finished" items and decorator pieces suitable for Christmas giving.

If it is a gift desired for the artist friend or family member, one could do well in selecting at Mrs. B's from canvas carriers, studio easels, paint boxes, unique Early American frames, canvas, books and more.

There is just about everything in art supplies. And craft books, decoupage boards of "different" designs, quality oil and acrylic lines, gold leafing.

And plaster (for which Mrs. B's is especially well known); Plus Rub-On Art, macrame supplies including jute and beads.

Scads of decor items: Decotiques that can be applied to wood, metal, glass, plastic, styrofoam, wax candles, lamp shades, rocks and almost any clean non-porous surface.

There are lots of ornaments stocked. And Fabulon "create your own" iron-ons, with a mini kit for all kinds of fabrics.

Half-Price Benefits
Many holiday items are marked one-half price at this time, including a miscellaneous selection from every department of the store.

It adds to this: Mrs. B's has so much going for it that only highlights can be pinpointed for key attention in any one report.

Not only is the stock and variety most intriguing, but practical and professionally-conducted classes in craft and art pursuits are a vital part of Mrs. B's; and inquiry is invited regarding the comprehensive class and workshop schedule arranged for the new year.

More about the present stock:

A large selection of wood, in unusual and preferred patterns, is stocked for the Toile painter.

Weekly there are new arrivals throughout the store, and frequent visits are invited to stay abreast of all that's new.

Record Of Growth
Mrs. B's, under the ownership and active management of Margie Berryhill, was at one time located at a West 4th Street address, some may recall. Since mid-1976 it has occupied the striking, well-designed and easily-found new home at 5105 29th Drive (on the cutoff between Brownfield Highway and Slide Road).

Everything at Mrs. B's says "welcome!"

From the easy access, off-street parking in an uncrowded area, a building specifically designed and remodeled for the craft and gift shop, the attractive arrangement within, and the friendliness of Mrs. Berryhill and daughter Stacey, and the instructors, all say "we're glad you are among our friends and customers!"

Farmers Insurance Group Agents Tell Scope, Benefits Of Firm's Services

"Christmas Greetings" from Dick Heath and Gary Jeter, each of 2221 34th St., and each an agent with Farmers Insurance Group.

Anything In Insurance
As two of the some 18 agents in Lubbock affording "anything in insurance" the Farmers Insurance Group way, they not only wish the best of holidays but they recognize that they can have a part in a bountiful New Year to follow... serving with insurance know-how and with a firm that hardly needs introduction.

Jeter
Jeter, a lifelong Lubbock resident, has been with Farmers Group since 1965, actually first representing it while a student at West Texas State College in Canyon where he graduated with a B.S. degree in 1967. That year he moved back to Lubbock and since has served most admirably in the fields of auto, fire, life, truck, commercial and other facets of the insurance needs in the area. Gary is married to the former Gertie Eslick of Pampa.

Heath
Dick H. Heath, a Lubbock resident of three decades, has been with Farmers Insurance Group since mid-1966. He is a native of Plains, and his wife, the former Ruth Hogue, is from Brownfield. The Heaths have four children. Like others of the Farmers Insurance Group, both Heath and Jeter profess an intense interest in the welfare of their clients, and each devote long hours in keeping abreast of all developments in the insurance field, also studying how best to serve each individual need.

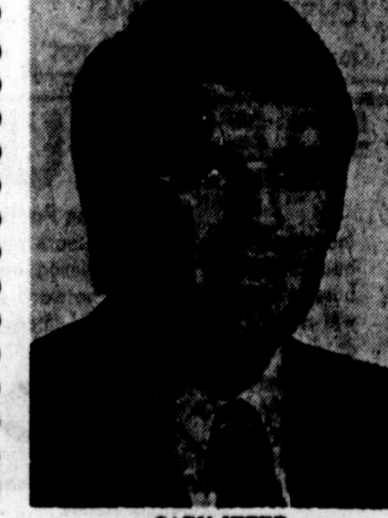

All the Farmers Insurance Group agents are being introduced from time to time on these pages of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, with two being featured each time (with pairings based on their proximity in office locations.)

"These men are your kind of folks... neighbors who not only have your interests at heart but are aligned with a company that can meet the multiple insurance needs of today."

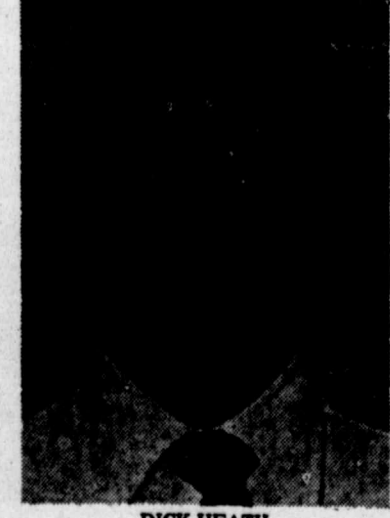

"Anything in insurance" is the correct image of Farmers Insurance Group, Los Angeles based organization celebrating its 50th anniversary in 1978.

Among the local Farmers Insurance Group agents are Jerry Rose, Jim White, Don Busby, Rick Dyer, Tom Malone, Gene Cribbs, Gary Jeter, Dick Heath, Al-line Baxter;

Joe Schoenig, John Hatchett, Howard Havery, Lee Robertson, Lanny Harris, Don Freeman, Jere Smith, Presley Sholner and Philip Wilbanks. Bill Hatchett is district manager.

Holiday Fashion Leadership
Hallmark of Li'l Mam'selle

"Tis a Happy Holiday Season that we at Li'l Mam'selle are wishing for you!"
"So... Merry Christmas from Opal, Ola, Oleta and Monta, the staff that appreciates the friends of this and years past and looks forward to serving you in seasons to come."
"Are you among those who have discovered the holiday readiness of Li'l Mam'selle Young Fashions, at 2147-A 50th St.?"
Actually, a truly outstanding collection of new fashions and gift numbers mark the attractive store.
"We'd love to have you come in and browse; we think you'll love what you discover."
Gift wrapping is available, and Li'l Mam'selle, in Oakwood Center, will be open from 10 a.m. until 5:30 p.m., six days weekly until Christmas.
Visa and Master Charge purchases are welcomed.

Wide Size Range
One may select from fashions stocked in girls sizes 7-14 and petite and junior sizes 1-13.
New lines are found in the already-elite stock. One now can select from long and short dresses, slack suits, gaucho blouses, sweaters, tops, pants, jumpsuits, etc.
(The long dresses are really "heavenly" and just right for the proms and Christmas-related parties.)
For the girls, sizes 7 through 14, there are both long and short dresses, blouses, sweaters, knit vests, jumpsuits, pants and more in a galaxy of colors.
Little girls' panty hose also are stocked.
Brand names are important at Li'l Mam'selle, with one noting such labels as One Main Place, Youth Beat, Wiggle Worm and other leading lines that can add to any girl's wardrobe.
Li'l Mam'selle doesn't leave out the career girl, it is stressed, with dressy and tailored pantsuits, dresses and skirts stocked that can enhance any business woman's appearance.
"Mothers are welcome to shop with us, along with their daughters, as we ac-comodate every girl or woman within our store.

(The young miss certainly is not left out at Li'l Mam'selle, as there are dresses for the season, and jumpers, gaucho sets, etc., much of which is great for school wear.

Even with its already-impressive stock, there always is "something new" at Plains Beauty Supply, such as:
Need a lift? Going to a party? Then call for a free facial appointment, with no obligation, featuring the Lovue Skin Care and Makeup. Organic, this line is great for people with allergies, popular with all races.
And note this:
"Our Wonderwand Teflon curling irons still are on special for only $11.88!"

The Hair Mate shipment of irons and dryers also is in.
"For long, strong, beautiful nails, Plains Beauty Supply now has De Lore (that does it all, and all in one bottle).
Also:
Week-Long Special
"Everything on our 'Christmas Idea' display will be marked at 20 per cent off from tomorrow, Dec. 13, through Dec. 17!
Many, many appropriate gifts, large and small, are included in this grouping.
Another new offering at Plains Beauty Supply is the Vidal Sassoon line; you'll like it!

For those who may not realize the fact, Plains Beauty Supply last year doubled its size, with complete, functional and beautiful remodeling and rearrangement, from carpet to ceiling, making shopping there of even more pleasure.
With the expanded space, stock was correspondingly enlarged.
But one thing remains constant: Pat Urbantke and her capable staff still give the friendly and personal assistance that makes selection a pleasure.
Ear Piercing Special
Ear Piercing, some may not realize, is a service of the firm, with the Steru-Quick method now on special at just $5.95, with no appointment necessary!
Also, Plains Beauty Supply is exclusive distributorship for Lee's Pharmaceutical sculptured nails.
Selling to the public at reasonable retail prices, and to the trade at discount, Plains Beauty Supply carries a stock that reflects the owner's study of better products for every beauty demand.

'Known' Lines
Among the products, whose names hardly need introduction, are:
L'Oreal Cosmetics, Queen Helene mint julip, nail and hand care products of all types from such lines as Diamond Deb, L'Oreal, Misslyn, Claire Topper and others.
There is an excellent supply of mirrors and jewelry for every preference, too.
Strip and individual eye lashes are stocked, as are hair rollers, permanent rods, permanent hair brushes and hair ornaments of all kinds.
Eva Gabor Wigs
Eva Gabor wigs, hair pieces and wig care items are stocked.
And curling irons.

Stock Mart Slows Down After Rally

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mixed today, flattening out after last Friday's rally. The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 17 at 815.06.

The market began to build up forward momentum late last week as the dollar showed signs of stabilizing against other major currencies after its recent slump.

But brokers noted that Friday's rally, in which the Dow rose more than 8 points, came on relatively light volume, and by mid-morning today it appeared to have faded.

Technical, subject of some adverse comments in Barron's magazine, fell 2 to 1 3/4 in active trading.

The NYSE's composite index of more than 1,500 common stocks managed a .05 gain to 517.77.

Volume on the Big Board remained sluggish, totaling 8.07 million shares by noon against 7.67 million at the same point on Friday.

Kollmorgen dropped 1 1/4 to 17 1/4 on the Amex. The company said its fourth quarter earnings would come in about a 10 cents a share less than previously projected because of technical problems with a new product.

Hussein Advice Valued By Vance

By BARRY SCHWEID AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance arrived in Jordan today to try to persuade King Hussein to send a representative to the Cairo talks between Israel and Egypt.

Vance said his talks in Israel showed the Jewish state was dedicated to peace and "working energetically toward that goal." His aides exuded optimism after their visits to Cairo and Jerusalem.

"Hussein is a true and valued friend and his advice and counsel at this time is particularly important to us," Vance said in an arrival statement.

In other developments: Syrian Foreign Minister Abdul Halim Khaddam said in Damascus that President Hafiz Assad will refuse to receive Vance on Tuesday if he is carrying a message from Israel.

Baghdad radio in Iraq reported that Vance was carrying two letters from Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin, one for Hussein and one for Assad. But the U.S. State Department denied Vance was carrying such letters.

Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan said Egyptian President Anwar Sadat expects to make serious progress at the Cairo talks within a week to 10 days.

Dayan said that "something he repeatedly has said he does not want to do."

Reporters traveling with Vance on his six-nation Middle East tour were told Jordan is expected to send a delegation to Cairo sometime next year to join the negotiations that Egypt and Israel began Wednesday.

However, Syria, Israel's other major adversary, remained as publicly opposed as ever to Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's peace initiative. Khaddam said his government "will not attend the Calro meetings even if they achieved some success ... because they come as a result of Sadat's visit to Israel."

"Syria believes any political activity, whether in Cairo or Geneva, would serve capitulatory schemes and be a coverup for plots," Khaddam told reporters in Abu Dhabi, where Assad conferred with President Zayid Bin Sultan al Nahyan of the United Arab Emirates.

Vance goes from Jordan to Damascus to try to get Assad to moderate his opposition to Sadat. But Khaddam rebuffed him in advance, saying Syria refuses to respond to "current international efforts" in the region.

Assad has been touring the oil states on the Persian Gulf trying to get them to put financial pressure on Sadat. Khaddam claimed his visits to Saudi Arabia, Kuwait and the U.A.E. had been a success because none of them showed an "inclination toward cooperation with the enemy."

Begin told a news conference he hopes Israel and Egypt will work out principles of a peace treaty that "will be a sample for the peace treaties to be signed with all our neighbors."

"There is no intent to have our countries signing peace treaties and leaving the other countries out," he said. "Our intent is to do our best to have treaties with all of them."

Vance's aides said Egypt and Israel were showing more flexibility in their positions than ever before.

"There is a different attitude," said one senior official. "They are searching to find each other half way."

"We never really believed we could talk peace with Egypt or Israel," said another. "There is a totally different kind of atmosphere, with both sides coming up with ideas on the Palestinian question and other problems."

UMW Seeks To Close Non-Union Mining

By MARTHA BRYSON HODEL CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Even as union and industry negotiators reported progress, some of the 160,000 striking members of the United Mine Workers announced increased efforts to close non-union mining operations in Appalachia.

"Today's the best day we've had," UMW Vice President Sam Church said Sunday after a bargaining session in Washington was adjourned for the day.

Contract negotiators met periodically throughout the day and were closed for more than three hours in the longest session since face-to-face negotiations resumed last week.

Church said UMW President Arnold Miller would be back in Washington today when talks resumed. The union chief returned to West Virginia last week, saying he would go back when progress was evident.

"Blood or no blood, they're going to stop those mines from running coal," said a Pike County, Ky., sheriff's deputy.

The deputy's remark came after about 1,500 rank-and-file miners from the union's District 17 in southern West Virginia and District 30 in eastern Kentucky met in Phelps, Ky., to discuss plans for closing all non-union mines in the area. In addition, a group of miners from the Athens, Ohio, area said they planned efforts to try to shut down all coal-loading operations in Lawrence County, Ohio, on the Ohio River.

President Ray Marshall of UMW District 28 in Virginia said he expected picketing of non-union mines in his district today.

"The local unions coordinate picketing. We told our people by all means to keep everything peaceful — no violence," Marshall said.

He added that various local unions met in the six-county coal mining section of Virginia on Saturday and Sunday "to decide who will go where to picket."

About half the coal produced in Kentucky and Virginia is produced by non-union mines.

The union has been seeking a re-financing of the financially troubled trust funds that provide health and retirement benefits to the union's 277,000 members, as well as a limited right-to-strike clause for local unions and a wage increase from $60 to $114.36 a day. Mine owners are seeking an end to the wildcat strikes that have plagued the industry in recent years.

Breast Cancer Testing 80 Percent Accurate

NEW YORK (AP) — A new form of breast cancer detection that uses temperature measurement instead of radiation has been found 80 percent accurate in detecting malignancies at Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center.

The technique was described by Sloan-Kettering on Sunday as combining computer safety with high accuracy.

If the findings are confirmed, the new technique could be a substitute for mammography, which uses radiation. Mammography could be reserved for further testing on women who are found to have suspicious lesions with the new method.

There has been controversy over the use of mammography in mass screening programs. Critics say the radiation may actually cause cancer, while supporters say it has found early and otherwise undetected breast cancer.

"I hope we're not being premature in announcing this," said Dr. Ruth Snyder, the principal investigator, but she said she was confident the findings were valid.

The test is based on the heat patterns emanating from tissue, called thermography. The test — Graphic Stress Thermometry, or GST — also can detect benign or non-cancerous breast lesions and distinguish them from malignant tissue.

The test measures the difference between the temperature of breast tissue and temperature of the forehead. Areas

Senior Citizens Get Own Television Version Of 'Sesame Street'

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Now there's a daily television series for the surgical stocking set, older folk who are coping with Social Security, medical complications, loneliness and other problems common to senior citizens.
 The show is "Over Easy," a Public Television System series devoted to Americans who have entered the second half-century of their lives.
 Hugh Downs, who for nine years was the honcho of the "Today" show, was lured out of semi-retirement to host the half-hour series which emanates from San Francisco's KQED. A $4 million government grant helped get it started.
 "Over Easy" is a melange of interviews, information, creative lifestyles, entertainment and reports on such things as how to beat city hall.
 Producers of the show use such terms as "mature audience" and "prime-of-life" to describe the people it is trying to reach in an attempt to develop a sense of worth in those who have been lost in the shuffle for youth.
 Downs hopes the show will assume an ombudsman stance in the future by encouraging viewers to write in their problems.
 "We like to think 'Over Easy' will be inspirational," he said. "The vital older people who appear on the show can help a great deal with viewers who are on the brink of despair."
 "Most television shows are aimed demographically at viewers from 7 to 39 years of age, considered prime customers in the marketplace.
 "TV has been operating in the wake instead of the van of society. It should be more responsible to the needs of viewers.
 "The Electric Company" and "Sesame Street" met some important needs for children. We think 'Over Easy' fills a need for millions of people who are in their 60s, 70s and older.
 "We also deal with death and dying and hospitals. But we don't dwell on them."
 Downs and producer Jules Power would like to think that "Over Easy" will attract a younger audience, too.
 "The new show beams nationally at 6:30 p.m., early enough not to interfere with prime time and, hopefully, before older viewers take their hot milk, don nightcaps and toddle off to bed.
 "PBS has lined up 271 stations which, Downs says, is a larger total than the 235 stations which carried "Today" when he was the star.
 Downs is a healthy, youthful 56 himself. He retired from regular broadcasting in 1971 to live in Arizona. In the past six years he has done four public affairs specials and a handful of PBS presentations. He also got rich doing Ford commercials.

 But Downs kept busy on personal projects. He is president of the National Space Institute, consultant to the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions and a former co-chairman of the Citizens' Committee on Population and the American Future.
 Downs is no newcomer to gerontology. His most recent book, "Potential," dealing with the aging process, was published five years ago.
 "I dived back into the heavy schedule because I believe this is a refreshing cause," he said. "I believe everything should be non-age related. Competence should be the sole measure for keeping jobs, driving automobiles and all the rest.

"Changing the mandatory retirement age is a step in the right direction. But it doesn't go far enough. There should be no specific age for retirement.
 "As you get older you look for causes you can believe in. I've been interested in mental health since 1954. Ecology, the preservation of natural resources and the environment have always been of interest to me.
 "There is no greater natural resource in this country than people in the second half of their lives who have so much to contribute.

 "I think I can be the mortar between the bricks in keeping this show together. That's essentially what I did on the 'Today' show."
 "Over Easy" features a panel of distinguished specialists in various fields whose expertise is utilized on the show. They range from sociologists to botanists.

"Our show is too new to get a reading on what the demographics are," Downs said. "We're seeking a broad audience but obviously the median age will be older than the viewers for other shows.
 "We have an interesting, worthwhile show — and we're assured of running for at least a year."

Woman Says Christmas 'Too Short'

CHICAGO (UPI) — Sister Patricia Knopp believes there's one thing wrong with Christmas — it's too short.
 Dec. 26, she said, is a day of desolation. There are no Christmas tunes on the radio, no Christmas stories on television and stores begin tearing down their Christmas displays.
 Somehow, Sister Knopp wrote in the current edition of U.S. Catholic, Christmas has gotten lost in the shuffle of shopping and advertising.
 But she said there is one sure way to retain the Christmas spirit and avoid the Dec. 26 letdown — make Christmas longer.
 "If you have ever awakened on December 26 with the feeling that you missed Christmas, that somewhere it got lost in the shuffle — or that you got lost — you might consider joining a new movement. Celebrate the 12 days of Christmas," she wrote.
 She said Christians for centuries began the celebration of Christ's birth on Dec. 25 and continued the celebration through the Epiphany, Jan. 6.
 "Although it would be impossible to expect places of business to close for 12 days, the time between Christmas and Epiphany always includes a weekend and there are still evenings," Sister Knopp said.
 "With a little planning a family might do something that each member enjoys.
 "One of the simplest and most overlooked ways to celebrate the 12 days of Christmas is to extend the gift-giving time. Why do all gifts have to be given by Christmas Day? More leisurely gift giving allows both giver and receiver to enjoy the occasion more."
 She also suggested that traditional holiday foods each be given a place in the 12 days of Christmas.
 "Instead of making ourselves uncomfortable, if not downright miserable, by eating them all on Christmas Eve or Christmas Day, we probably would enjoy them more if we indulged in them one at a time," she said.
 "It could start a whole new tradition. The day of the fruitcake. The day of the springerles. The day of the eggnog. The day of the Wassail bowl. The day of the candy cane."
 She suggested families think of several things they would like to do for the Christmas season, then space the events over the 12 days.
 "You might find that celebrating 12 days of Christmas not only helps you enjoy the holiday more, but leaves you feeling genuinely renewed rather than done in," she said.

Lady Bird Had Early Aversion To Politics

By ANN ARNOLD
AUSTIN (UPI) — Lady Bird Johnson wasn't pleased when she realized her future husband had ideas about entering politics.

"Lyndon, please tell me as soon as you can what the deal is ... I'm afraid it's politics ... I would hate for you to go into politics," Claudia Alta Taylor wrote her future husband in 1934, a month before she became Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson.

The excerpts from the Johnsons' courtship letters and White House reminiscences read by Helen Hayes and Kirk Douglas were part of the program for Sunday night's "National Tribute to Lady Bird Johnson."

As the program showed, she overcame her early aversion to politics to play a key role in her husband's political career.

Douglas read a 1968 statement by the president calling his wife "one of the wisest and certainly most trusted counselors I've had."

"In May of '64 I asked her to evaluate whether I should permit myself to become the party nominee and she said, 'Yes you've got to run. But if you do, you've got to do it with the understanding and knowledge that you can say to the people you're not going to succeed in another term.'" Douglas quoted Johnson.

The tribute to Mrs. Johnson was a fund-raising effort for the Lyndon B. Johnson Library. Sponsors said more than $1.25 million was collected for the library.

House Majority Leader Jim Wright, former Treasury Secretary and Governor John Connally, former Secretary of State Dean Rusk and numerous other national and Texas political figures were among the crowd of 1,000 attending the black tie affair.

"Lady Bird Johnson is not only a remarkable person, she is truly a national treasure. She has lifted the spirits of all of us and taught us much about effective woman power," said Henry Ford II, chairman of the fund-raising effort.

Mrs. Johnson, 64, said she was thrilled at the tribute and especially grateful for the endowment fund that will permit the Johnson Library to remain open to the public without the admission fees other presidential libraries charge.

"It's been beautiful and dear and wonderful of you all," she said. "There's so much of my life when I almost feel like saying, 'Is this happening to me? Tonight is one of those nights when I wonder if this is really happening to me. I thank you all with all of my heart.'"

The Johnson library opened on the University of Texas campus in 1971, two years before Johnson died of a heart attack at his ranch near Stonewall, 16 miles from Austin.

President Carter sent a special message honoring Mrs. Johnson and said, "She has inspired us all through her years of dedicated public service."

A citation by former president Gerald Ford when he awarded Mrs. Johnson the Medal of Freedom in January also was read.

"As one of America's great First Ladies, she claimed her own place in the hearts and history of the American people. In councils of power or in homes of the poor, she made government humane with her unique compassion and her grace, warmth and wisdom. Her leadership transformed the American landscape and preserved its natural beauty as a national treasure."

Fort Worth Police To Present Gripes

FORT WORTH (AP) — The Fort Worth Police Association, which had 359 of 432 members vote recently to oust Police Chief A.J. Brown, is expected to present its demands to the city council Tuesday.

But the association, which has 670 members, will be going up against Fort Worth Mayor Hugh Parmer, who supports Brown.

"Some people are engaged in political ploys to select their own police chief," said Parmer. "We've got a bunch of people running around acting irresponsibly."

He said the people are acting under the premise they are going to win.

"That's not going to happen," the mayor said.

An association member, D.W. Branson, said the balloting showed the public and the city council that they are dissatisfied with Brown. He pointed to the grievance procedures, a seniority system and also arbitrary action toward some officers.

"I think most members of the council are still firmly behind Brown," Parmer said. "When the unrest first surfaced in the form of a petition against Brown, it was my understanding officers were upset by team policing and that Brown in some way had contributed to the death of two officers."

Dance Pavilion Destroyed By Sunday Fire

CISCO (AP) — The famous Lake Cisco dance pavilion and clubhouse — where Guy Lombardo, Henry Busbee and other Big Band-era musicians played to hundreds dancing on the smooth hardwood floor — was destroyed Sunday by fire.

"There was not another place like it in all the state in the '30s and early '40s. Now it's gone forever," said Truman Kirk, who held a lease to the clubhouse and grounds.

"It's the end of a period that brought statewide attention to Cisco. I don't know what will happen to the area now."

The empty clubhouse and pavilion caught fire about 2:30 a.m. Sunday, creating a blaze so large that it was sighted almost 30 miles away.

Firefighters, unable to use a fire hydrant near the blaze because of the intense heat, were forced to watch the landmark reduced to ashes after their water supply had been exhausted.

The huge, 12,000-square-foot structure was built in 1929 by a group of Cisco businessmen.

At Wit's End...

By ERMA BOMBECK

I just figured out "Star Wars" isn't just a fun, frivolous adventure movie. It's a prophecy.

It became apparent yesterday when I rounded a corner in the bathroom and came face to face with a blow dryer that nearly-sucked me off the floor.

"Will you turn that thing off?" I shouted desperately, fighting to keep my feet on the floor by clutching the towel rack.

My son flipped a switch on it, blew away the smoke from the nozzle, and returned it to his bathrobe pocket. "What are you so uptight about? It's only a 1200 watt. It can't hurt anyone."

"That's easy for you to say. Yesterday I was defrosting hamburger with it, and the force had me dancing off the walls."

"I told you not to use it in the kitchen. Besides, you probably had it on the wrong setting."

"I don't see why there have to be four blow dryers in this house. When they're all going at once it sounds like we're being invaded by a plague of locusts."

"No one is invading you."

"This whole house is weird. Your brother walks around like a drone...strobe lights everywhere and loud stereos that give me a headache."

"Mom, there is no way we can turn those stereos down."

"What if I tell you the other day I heard the words loud and clear?"

"We'll turn 'em down," he said quietly.

"As for the hair dryers, I don't know what is so great about fat hair. You kids are consumed with your hair. You baste it with protein, creme rinse, conditioners, hair spray and blow it dry every six hours."

"What about your hair?" he charged. "You bleach it, color it, streak it, moisturize it, crimp it, and tease it."

"That's different. I'm desperate. Besides, you all scare me running around like an evil force ready to take over."

"You've been seeing too many movies, Mom."

Later he sneaked up behind me in the kitchen wearing a ski mask and pointing a hair dryer in my ribs. "We're at war against the wet heads. THE FORCE IS HERE!"

That wasn't funny. COPYRIGHT 1977 FIELD ENTERPRISES, INC.

The Slim Gourmet

By Barbara Gibbons

During the holiday season, even the humble hamburger takes on party airs...passing itself off as titled nobility in fancy foreign dress. Here are some slim-but-savory meatballs you can pass off to anybody...not just calorie-counters. (Today's "beautiful people" are all watching their weight!) Take note that these party-goers start with the same thing...premium-priced...premium-priced fat-trimmed ground round, not fatty chopped beef. Ground round with the fat removed is only 612 calories a pound, ordinary hamburger is 1,500 calories or more!

POLYNESIAN PARTY MEATBALLS
3 lbs. fat-trimmed beef round, ground
1/2 cup Japanese-style soy sauce, divided

1 tsp. MSG (optional)
2 eggs or 4 egg whites, beaten
2 tsp. mixed pickling spices
2 green bell peppers, seeded, thinly sliced into strips
2 red bell peppers, seeded, thinly sliced into strips

1 tbsp. cornstarch
1/4 cup cold water
Combine meat, one-quarter cup soy sauce, MSG, eggs, and toss lightly. Shape into tiny one-inch meatballs. Arrange in a single layer on cookie tins or large shallow broiling pans. Broil, turning once, until brown.

In a large nonstick fry pan or electric skillet, combine remaining ingredients, except cornstarch and cold water. Cover and simmer two minutes. Combine cornstarch and water and stir into skillet; cook and stir until sauce thickens and bubbles. Stir in meatballs and heat through. Keep warm in skillet or chafing dish. Makes about 50 party servings, under 60 calories each.

BAVARIAN MEATBALLS IN 'CREAM SAUCE

1 cup water
6 slices dry protein or high-fiber bread
2 large (13 oz.) cans evaporated skim milk
3 lb. fat-trimmed beef round, ground
2 eggs (or 4 egg whites)
1/2 cup chopped fresh parsley
2 onions, finely minced
2 tsp. caraway seeds
2 tsp. salt (or garlic salt) pinch of (red) cayenne pepper
8 oz. canned mushrooms, including liquid

3 tsp. flour
paprika (optional)
butter-flavored salt or butter flavoring (optional)

Combine water and bread with one-half cup evaporated skim milk. Mash well, then add meat, eggs, parsley, onion, caraway, salt and pepper. Toss lightly and shape into tiny one-inch meatballs. Arrange in a single layer and brown under roller, turning once. Combine remaining evaporated milk with mushrooms and flour in a sauce pan over low heat. Cook and stir until cream sauce thickens. Season to taste. Combine browned meatballs and cream sauce in an electric skillet or chafing dish and keep warm. Sprinkle with paprika or chopped parsley, if desired. Makes about 50 servings, 60 calories each.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

BY CHARLES H. GOREN AND OMAR SHARIF

© 1977 by Chicago Tribune

Q.1—As South, vulnerable with 90 on score, you hold:

♠AJ8 ♥A95 ♦K8763 ♣52
Partner opens the bidding with one spade. What do you respond?

A.—Your normal response would be two diamonds, but that is no longer forcing since you have a partscore. We suggest a raise to two spades. If partner has a really good hand, he will give you the chance to clarify your raise by making another bid.

Q.2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠AK ♥A8 ♦954 ♣A98742
The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ 1 ♠
2 ♠ Pass 2 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Since partner has rebid voluntarily, you could have reasonable play for game. However, the hand might play better in no trump than in hearts. Instead of raising to three hearts, the way out of the dilemma is to cue-bid two spades and hear what partner has to say. In view of your minimum rebid at your second turn, partner won't expect you to hold more.

Q.3—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AK4 ♥AQ83 ♦AQ8 ♣J92
The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South
Pass Pass 1 ♠ ?
What action do you take?

A.—Double. Your hand is too strong for an overall of one no trump, which shows the equivalent of a no trump opening bid. By doubling first, then bidding no trump at your next turn, you will describe your hand exactly.

Q.4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠Q976 ♥AK85 ♦K4 ♣J73
The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 3 ♣ Pass
4 ♣ Pass 4 ♥ Pass
5 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—If partner is interested in slam, you certainly intend to cooperate with your wealth of prime controls. We suggest a bid of five no trump. That cannot be the grand slam force, since neither you nor partner has shown first-round control of diamonds. Slam might play best in no trump, where your king of diamonds is not exposed to a lead through. Your bid must show second-round diamond control, and it must be the king since you are prepared to play no trump.

Q.5—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AQ ♥J6 ♦K1072 ♣Q8653
The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
1 ♥ Pass ?
What do you bid now?

A.—The auction has developed very favorably for you. A jump to two no trump will not only announce your intent to be in game, but will also inform partner that most of your strength lies in the suits he did not bid.

Q.6—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠1065 ♥7 ♦A983 ♣KJ1064
The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West
1 ♥ Pass 1 NT Pass
3 ♣ Pass ?
What do you bid now?

A.—What started out as an ordinary hand has suddenly become very powerful. You must flash the message to partner. A jump in clubs will not convey the full strength of your hand. The only sensible approach is to cue-bid at your next turn. Don't concern yourself with the possibility that partner might pass three diamonds. He guaranteed another bid when he made a jump shift.

Q.7—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠K96 ♥854 ♦Q72 ♣AJ105
The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East
Pass Pass 1 ♠ Pass
1 NT Pass Pass Dble. ?

What action do you take?

A.—If partner has a sound opening bid, East is in trouble—your side has a significant edge in strength. A redouble now will tell partner you are at the top of your range for your original response, and will leave him well placed to make intelligent decisions as the auction progresses.

Q.8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠KQ873 ♥A ♦KJ ♣J9762
The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
2 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Slam is a distinct possibility, and you must alert partner of this by making a big jump in clubs. The choice lies between four clubs and five clubs, and we prefer the former. With so much of our strength outside the trump suit, we will need the maximum amount of room to explore. A jump to five clubs would suggest better trumps and not so much in the red suits.

DEAR ABBY

DEAR READERS: Christmas will soon be here, so take a tip from me and do your Christmas shopping early. If you're wondering what to give Aunt Matilda or Great Grandpa, who don't get out too much, let me tell you what not to give them: no dusting powder, aftershave or cologne. (They probably have several unopened boxes gathering dust on their closet shelves.) Grandpa doesn't need another necktie, and Grandma doesn't really want any more brooches, necklaces or bracelets.

With the price of groceries up so high, folks who live alone on a fixed income would probably be delighted to receive a basket of assorted groceries. Include small cans of salmon, chicken, ham, tuna, vegetables, fruit, instant coffee, tea bags, crackers, cookies and instant soup mix.

Old folks can always use lined stationery with envelopes and a generous supply of postage stamps. (And enclose some new felt-tip pens, too.)

Shut-ins would appreciate a box of greeting cards for all occasions so they can send birthday, anniversary, graduation, get-well and condolence cards to others. (And be a sport and stamp some envelopes.)

Don't give anyone a gift of clothing unless you're absolutely sure the size is right. And that goes for the color and style, too.

If you're tempted to pass along a scarf, purse, wallet or some useless little doodad you received for Christmas three years ago, please don't. It's a pretty fair bet the recipient will find it just as useless as you did. (Besides, you might get it back the year after next.)

If someone on your gift list is living on a pension, a check for any amount would be much more appreciated than a frivolous little trinket. Or give someone who's counting his pennies a year's subscription to the daily newspaper or to a magazine you know he'll enjoy.

Don't give anyone a pet unless you're absolutely sure he wants one and is able to care for it properly.

Don't give gifts of wine or liquor unless you're sure the recipients imbibe. Candy, nuts and fruitcake make wonderful gifts for those who aren't counting their calories, but have compassion for those who are, and lead them not into temptation.

Resist giving toddlers stuffed animals and dolls that are bigger than they are. And parents will thank you for not sending their children horns, drums, sirens or whistles. If you give a child a game or book, be sure it's in the right age range.

Instead of giving someone a gift with permission to "take it back and exchange it if it's not what you want," why not save yourself (and them) much time and effort by giving them a gift certificate in the first place.

DEAR ABBY: A reader signed Pedantic Pundit took you to task for having made a "grammatical error."

Pundit should know that there is no such thing as a "grammatical error," but there may be an "error" in "grammar!"

Sign me as a teacher of English, NOT as some say, "an English teacher."

Movie Gives New Actress Chance

It's 40 years since William Wyler bought the movie rights of a wonderful book, "The Sailor's Return" by David Garnett, last survivor of London's "Bloomsbury Set." Now at last, it's being filmed in England.

And because the story is about a sailor who marries an African princess and brings her home to help run an English pub in Victorian times, it has brought to the surface a beautiful and remarkable new black actress, Nigerian Shope Shodeinde.

She's playing opposite Tom Bell. Her dad is a singer in Nigeria and she was "discovered" studying at England's Manchester University for a drama degree.

Says Shope: "This role is a pioneer of all the immigrants who came to Britain. The most important part of the story is the fact that no matter who you are, in this case a princess, you are still black."

13-YEAR-OLD CHAMP — Jackie Jo Perrin Of Antlers, Okla., is pictured in the barrel racing style that earned her the world title during the National Finals rodeo that concluded Sunday night. The 13-year-old is the youngest contestant to ever compete in professional rodeo's world championships. Her registered quarterhorse carried her so far ahead in the standings her nearest competitor was almost $200 behind. She is shown rounding the second barrel during Sunday's go-round. Solon Has No 'Hidden Agenda'

HOUSTON (AP) — While rumors swirl about Congresswoman Barbara Jordan's future, Miss Jordan, who has said she will not seek re-election, says, "I trust there will be something for me to do, but I honestly don't have a hidden agenda."

Miss Jordan, the first black woman to be elected to the U.S. House from the South since Reconstruction, announced Saturday that she will not seek re-election.

Some speculated that Miss Jordan, 41, was in poor health. Others speculated that she would seek a federal judgeship or a post on the U.S. Supreme Court.

"The longer you say in Congress the harder it is to leave," she said. "I didn't want to wake up one fine sunny morning and say there is nothing else that Barbara Jordan can do."

The woman whose oratory highlighted the 1976 Democratic National Convention and the impeachment proceedings against then President Richard Nixon said she wanted to clear up the rumors concerning a judge's position.

"Some of you already have me slotted to the Fifth Circuit (Court of Appeals at New Orleans) or the Supreme Court. This statement really speaks for itself. I have never said to anyone I have a desire to become a judge," she told newsmen Saturday.

Appearing somewhat drawn and limping on her right leg, Miss Jordan joked about a knee ailment, but gave no clue to her future plans.

"My health is good. I've got a bum knee which assures that I wouldn't join the cast of a chorus line or become a running back for the Houston Oilers," she quipped.

When asked if she had talked to President Carter about her future, Miss Jordan replied "He doesn't consult with me about my future but I need to consult with him about his."

High School Singers Named To Area Choir

Forty-eight area high school students Saturday were named to the all-area choir. These choir members are now eligible to compete for seats in the all-state choir. All-state choir auditions will be Jan. 14 at Coronado High School.

The selection of the all-area choir members was the highlight of two days of clinic and auditions held at Estacado High School. Members of the Region XVI All-Region Choir presented a concert Saturday night at the high school auditorium, under the direction of Carol Smith, Texas Education Agency music clinician.

The all-region choir concert and selection of all-area choir members was sponsored by the Texas Music Educators Association.

All-area choir members are:
Soprano I: Trina Foster, Dunbar; Carrie Bishop, Coronado; Julie Prather, Monterey; and Ramona Paul, Coronado. Alternates: Renee Futch, Denver City and Sandra Nixon, Monterey.
Soprano II: Brenda Duncan and Camille McCown, both of Monterey; Vickie Walker, Coronado; and Lavon McDonald, Levelland. Alternates: Cathy Faith and Sharla Teeters, both of Monterey.
Alto I: Ruth Boyd, Monterey; Melinda Pena, Levelland; Karen Harris, Plainview; and Karen Cooper, Levelland. Alternates: Barbara Fore and Jeanell Nordberg, both of Coronado.
Alto II: Kathy Kline, Coronado; Jeanne Fuller and Leslie Wolfgang, both of Monterey; and Kathy James, Dunbar. Alternates: Shea O'Shea, Monterey and Linda Warner, Lamesa.

Tenor I: Harold Graves, Lubbock High; David Morrow, Post; Danny Ellis, Plainview; and Tom Ford, Monterey. Alternates: Doug Stone, Lubbock Christian High and Leslie Cross, Dunbar.
Tenor II: Tracy Boyd, Coronado; Russel Bishop, Monterey; Chuck Platten, Coronado; and Clyde Trotty, Dunbar. Alternates: Mark Hindman, Monterey and Mark Daniels, Coronado.
Bass I: Clay Anthony, Monterey; Donald Ross, Dunbar; Tim Denton, Monterey; and Lesley Donnell, Levelland. Alternates: Steve Shedd, Post and Doug Kirkpatrick, Coronado.
Bass II: David Ribble, Monterey; Leon Ginn, Dimmitt; James Shelby, Lubbock High; and Peter Harris, Monterey. Alternates: Rogan Nix and Darr Health, both of Lamesa.

Spy Ring Leaks Military Plans

BONN, West Germany (AP) — Top-secret NATO and West German military plans were among more than 1,000 confidential documents leaked to the Soviet bloc by an East German spy ring, a Defense Ministry spokesman said today. Spokesman Kurt Fischer cited a report on the ring by Federal Chief Prosecutor Kurt Rebmann, based on the interrogations of three Defense Ministry employees arrested in June 1976 on suspicion of high treason.

The three are Renate Lutz, a secretary to the head of the ministry's state affairs department; her husband, Lothar-Erwin Lutz, an armaments department employee, and Juergen Wiegell, who worked for the ministry's naval command staff.

Fischer said "a large number of documents were the higher and highest secrecy ratings were apparently passed on."

He said an account of the leaks in the Frankfurter Allgemeine Zeitung, a conservative newspaper, was "essentially correct."

The paper said the scope of the leaks makes the spy affair that toppled former Chancellor Willy Brandt pale by comparison. "Brandt resigned in May 1974 after admitting that his own negligence helped Guenter Guillaume, a personal aide, pass state secrets to East Germany."

The newspaper said state prosecutors assumed the secrets passed to the East Germans included detailed information about the organization, strengths, weaknesses and contingency planning of West Germany's 500,000-man

Ike's Letters Refute Affair Stories, Son Claims

By LEE LINDER
PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Letters written by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to his wife during World War II refute allegations that he wanted a divorce to marry his army chauffeur, according to a book edited by the late president's son. "I think Dad's letters shoots that as flat as it can be. It completely punctures that," said John S. D. Eisenhower, who edited "Letters to Mamie." The letters were written by Dwight Eisenhower between June 1942 and November 1945 when he was supreme Allied commander in Europe. The chauffeur was Lt. Kay Summersby, an attractive British divorcee who claimed she had a love affair with Eisenhower.

John Eisenhower dismissed Miss Summersby's 1976 book as "just a bunch of trash." But he didn't rule out the possibility that his father did have some affection for the aide.

"Nobody can bear witness that something did not happen," the son said during a recent interview. "How can I ever go on the witness stand some place and swear that Dad didn't get a couple drinks of scotch in him sometime and get affection."

"I think the tone of the Summersby book is refuted by these letters, especially when she implies that Dad and Mother were hardly on speaking terms."

The alleged divorce plan was reported in a 1973 autobiography of Harry S. Truman by Merle Miller who quoted Truman as saying Eisenhower asked to be relieved of his post in a letter to Gen. George Marshall so he could straighten out his personal problems.

"It's just not so," said John Eisenhower. "It can't be so ... It makes my Dad look like a moron to write a letter like that ... Truman would give 'em hell but he wasn't always so damned accurate about it."

In a foreword to his book, Eisenhower said the alleged divorce plan "is exposed by these letters ... to be the egregious falsehood that it was. There is no evidence that divorce ever seriously crossed Dad's mind, even in the loneliest moments across the Atlantic."

Specifically on that point, Ike (as he always signed his name) told Mamie in a June 4, 1945, letter that he wrote Marshall about bringing her to Europe.

"I'd be willing to risk the cry of 'favoritism' to have you here," Eisenhower wrote. "The last six weeks have been the hardest of my life (referring to the closing days of the campaign and Germany's surrender). But I'm brushing them off in looking forward to meeting you very soon now!"

The book, to be published Feb. 3 by Doubleday & Co., contains 319 letters. In their original form all the letters were handwritten because Mamie refused to have her husband dictate personal notes.

The letters are neither sensational, titillating or gossipy, but point up Eisenhower's isolation as the war's top general who had to wheel and deal with Roosevelt, Churchill and the other Allied political and military leaders.

John Eisenhower said he was grateful to his mother for saving the letters and allowing them to be published, which his father would have opposed. But he wouldn't characterize them as love letters.

"Love letters are if you're courting some dame, and you're writing all these lavish things," John Eisenhower said. "But I think there's a lot of affection here, about what you'd expect of somebody married 26 years ..."

In editing the letters Eisenhower made some deletions to avoid injuring the feelings of persons still alive, none of whom are public figures. He divided them into 18 sections and wrote a brief commentary to explain the military problems and campaigns that faced his father while he was writing to Mamie about love, about family, about friends.

Some comments in Ike's 1943 letters to Mamie indicated she had written often about women soldiers attached to his headquarters, and he constantly urged her not to think about it.

"I love you all the time — don't go bothering your pretty head about WAACS, etc. etc." was a typical refrain. "You just hold the thought that I'm not so worn out by the time this is all over that you'll have a wreck on your hands; because I'm on the run to you the day the victorious army marches into Berlin!"

And another time: "You must realize that in such a confused life as we lead here all sorts of stories, gossip, lies and etc can get started without the slightest foundation in fact ... I love you — only!!"

He underlined "I love you" and added the two exclamation points.

A reference to Kay Summersby cropped up in a March 1943 letter from Algiers, responding to Mamie quoting Life magazine that Ike's female aide had left London to join him in North Africa.

"The big reason she wanted to serve in this theater is that she is terribly in love with a young American colonel and is to be married to him come June — assuming both are alive," Ike wrote. "I doubt Life told that."

"But I tell you only so that if anyone so banal and foolish enough to lift an eyebrow at an old duffer such as I am in connection with WAACS — Red Cross workers — nurses and drivers — you will know I've no emotional involvements and will have none."

He also told Mamie to stop fretting that some Army censor might peak at letters she was writing him.

"It would be quite a brave man that would try to sneak a look at a letter of mine," Ike wrote. "Nothing could make me more furious than to have someone try it on me. Everyone around me knows this — so I think you can assume the safety of your letters."

Ike also suggested to Mamie it might be a good idea to save all the letters she was getting, from him and others, and some day they could go over them "and that will be a lot of fun, because we'll say, 'That's when we were big shots.' Then we'll chuckle!"

ARABIAN BALLOON RACE — This cartoon by Denver Post writer Todd Phipers illustrates a proposed balloon race to be held Dec. 2, 1978, in Arabia. Balloonist Chauncey M. Dunn was contacted recently by the finance minister to a sheik in Arabia and asked to arrange a race to help celebrate the opening of a new airport. A desert-type twist has been added to the race: when the balloon takes off it will be followed on the ground by a man on a camel. (AP Laserphoto)

Sheik Sponsors Balloon Race

DENVER (AP) — "You run into a ding-a-ling every so often in the balloon business," says Chauncey Dunn. But an Arab sheik with a spare half million dollars checked out, so the Colorado balloonist signed on to stage an elaborate hot-air balloon race.

It's not your average balloon race: first prize is a baby elephant, and the balloonists will have to race back to the starting line on camels.

Sheik Sultan Bin Mohammed Al-Qasimi, ruler of Sharjah in the oil-rich United Arab Emirates, wanted something special to celebrate the opening of a new international airport on the Persian Gulf.

The sheik had wanted 50 balloons — but there are limits. Dunn, a board member of the Balloon Federation of America, will provide 20 American balloonists and stage the event Dec. 2, 1978.

Details of the race were published in a copyrighted story in The Denver Post. The sheik will pay all expenses plus a fee for the balloonists and provide such frills as special new racing clothes and $165-a-night hotel rooms.

Dunn was first contacted two years ago by one of the sheik's advisers who flew to Indianola, Iowa, where Dunn was officiating at the national championship balloon race.

Dunn said he was a little surprised when he presented his $500,000-plus budget — there was nary a murmur.

"I'm used to negotiating," Dunn said. "I'll send someone a budget and they'll say, 'That's a little more than we can spend,' so I'll cut out a couple of balloons and cut expenses and we'll get together."

There were some problems. The sheik's subjects don't know much about racing hot air balloons, but they are red hot on camel racing.

Dunn decided to add something for the locals. When each balloon lifts off, a man on a camel will follow it on the ground. When the balloons land, the pilots will mount the camels and race back to the starting point.

The prizes? Well, said Dunn, a baby Ceylonese elephant is worth $9,600 to $14,000 and can be donated to a zoo or sold.

Dunn said he worked out second and third prizes with the sheik. Second prize will be two camels, third prize three crocodiles.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

By Bernice Bede Osol

- SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Ribbing or kidding others may seem innocuous to you tomorrow, but be careful who you put on the pan. Someone could take your joshing seriously.
- CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) In financial matters you're normally very disciplined. You will do well tomorrow unless you permit someone less prudent to influence your thinking.
- AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Indecision could be your undoing tomorrow. You may postpone a decision so long you have to make a snap judgment. Such things rarely turn out well.
- PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) There's so much you want to do for others tomorrow you could be upset because you can't accomplish it all. Be grateful you can help when and where you can.
- ARIES (March 21-April 19) The request of a demanding friend will more than likely get under your skin tomorrow. Normally, you can tolerate or at least cope with him.
- TAURUS (April 20-May 20) If you're involved in something competitive, don't let your guard down. If you relax for even a minute, the opposition could win.
- GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Subdue a tendency tomorrow to contradict others just for the sake of argument. All you'll do is trigger needless, futile debates.
- CANCER (June 21-July 22) Be wary tomorrow in joint ventures lest the lion's share of the expense fall upon you. You may be operating from a weak position.

- LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Don't be watching your own interest so guardedly tomorrow you don't recognize the needs of associates. You might be surprised when they desert you.
- VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You know you've been putting off certain duties. Someone else does, too. Better get after them. He's ready to remind you in a very offensive manner.
- LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) It's best not to yield to social pressures tomorrow. Giving in against your better judgment could spoil the fun for all.
- SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) That little green-eyed monster may sit on your shoulder tomorrow when you compare your status to the people next door. It's not a good game to play.

Earl Scudday Dynasties In Trouble

ALTHOUGH A FEW of the division races still hinge on the final games this weekend, it is obvious that the playoff bracket in the National Football League will be filled with familiar names. Denver's rise to glory in the AFC West has been the only real shocker this season, although Pittsburgh and Baltimore are in serious trouble at this point.

But even the most casual pro football fan, back in August, could have done a good job of predicting the winners. Dallas in the NFC East, of course, and Los Angeles in the West, with an aging Minnesota team holding a slender edge over the improving Chicago Bears.

Monday, Dec. 12, 1977

In the American Conference, Oakland was everyone's choice in the West. So Denver's upset of the Super Bowl champs has to rate as the surprise of the year. Oakland won the AFC wild card berth, however, and it would take a brave man to count the Raiders out.

Pittsburgh started the year as the AFC Central kingpin, but Cincinnati was given a good chance to dethrone the unhappy Steelers. That's the way it has worked out, too, although the Bengals have another big hurdle at Houston before they can claim the title.

Bert Jones and the Baltimore Colts were the pick in the AFC East, by just a whisker over the New England Patriots. That's still a good bet, even though Miami managed to make it a three-cornered race. Most of the experts thought it would take Don Shula another year to rebuild, but the Dolphins are back!

FANS WHO HAVE become accustomed to seeing the same old faces in the playoffs each year may have a shock in store, though. NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle has come up with a gimmick that should bring in some new challengers in 1978. The gimmick is called position scheduling, and it bodes no good for the dynasties.

Rozelle had to get the approval of 20 of the 28 NFL teams to install position scheduling, under league rules. It wasn't easy, because the high brass of the Cowboys, Rams, Steelers, et al, recognized the threat. Dallas' Tex Schramm

WHO WAS THAT MASKED MAN? — Dan Pastorini, Houston Oiler quarterback, calls signals Sunday against the Cleveland Browns at Cleveland Stadium.

The chill factor dipped below zero although it stayed partly sunny. Pastorini's ski mask is regular equipment carried by the Oilers, who gave the Browns a few chills as they posted a 19-15 decision in a game Pastorini termed "bleepball." (AP Laserphoto)

Houston Survives Elements, Browns

CLEVELAND (AP) — Houston Coach Bum Phillips called it "miserable" and quarterback Dan Pastorini called it "bleepball," but the Oilers ignored the frigid Ohio weather long enough to beat the Cleveland Browns 19-15 Sunday in a ragged National Football League game.

With huge piles of snow surrounding the frozen field, the Browns outgained the Oilers 400-167. But they continually blunted their own attack by losing four of six fumbles and throwing four interceptions.

"This wasn't football," explained Houston cornerback Willie Alexander. "It was survival. The team that survived won the football game. Late in the second half, I thought my toes would freeze off."

"I would call this kind of a game bleep-ball," said Pastorini, who threw just 12 times in the game. "Screens and straight ahead, that's the only way to play in weather like this."

Phillips added, "I only saw snow twice in my life. You can't practice being miserable, but weather like this is part of the game."

The Browns, losers of three games in a row and five of their last six, allowed Houston to build a 19-6 lead, but came back to make it close with a third-quarter safety and a three-yard scoring pass from quarterback Terry Luck to tight end Gary Parris with 3:05 remaining.

Cleveland (6-7) got the ball back once more, but an interception at midfield killed their hopes of a come-from-behind victory and gave Houston (7-6) sole possession of third place in the AFC Central Division.

"I couldn't be happier with this team than today," said Cleveland Coach Forrest Gregg. "We've had a lot of strife and we've lost some tough games. Last Sunday (at San Diego), we just didn't play."

"Today, they (the Browns) came to play," he added. "They played their hearts out. Maybe they even tried too hard. The fumbles were because our people were playing hard. They were trying to get the extra yard."

An interception by Houston middle guard Curley Culp deep in Cleveland territory in the first quarter set up the first of two close-in touchdowns by Ronnie Coleman, a three-yard dive, putting the Oilers were ahead to stay.

Houston added a second-period score on a two-yard Coleman sweep, capping a long drive which began when Cleveland runningback Greg Pruitt, who gained 92 yards in 23 carries, fumbled at Houston's 23.

Don Cockroft kicked first-half field goals of 26 and 40 yards to keep the Browns close, but Billy "White Shoes" Johnson assured the Houston victory by turning a line drive Greg Coleman punt into a 72-yard touchdown burst at 10:03 of the third period.

Cleveland started second-year player Dave Mays at quarterback, but Luck, a rookie, came in early in the second period and piled up 188 yards on 16 completions in 27 passing attempts.

Say It Ain't So, Hank! Bucs Win First

Pats Top Miami; Lions Stun Colts

By The Associated Press
Undoubtedly, Archie Manning has learned to keep his mouth shut.

The Tampa Bay Buccaneers only wish there were more outspoken players like him in the National Football League.

Manning, the veteran quarterback of the New Orleans Saints, infuriated the hapless Bucs last week by saying that it would be disgraceful to lose to Tampa Bay.

The downtrodden expansion team, which had lost 26 consecutive games since joining the NFL last season, made Manning regret his comments Sunday.

Rising to the greatest heights in their brief history, the aroused Bucs physically blasted the Saints 33-14, then verbally tormented Manning.

"It's disgraceful! It's disgraceful!" the Tampa players jeered at Manning as the clock ticked toward the Bucs' first previous victory.

"We just read the article to them where Archie said it would be disgraceful to lose to Tampa Bay," relieved Coach John McKay said with a smile in the joyous Bucs' dressing room. "Whatever Archie Manning said, I agree with him. He said it would be a disgrace to lose, and it is."

"Archie must have been looking at our offense," McKay added. "Our defense has never been disgracedful."

Tampa Bay had scored only 53 points in 12 games before Sunday. Against the Saints, their defense was outstanding.

The Bucs intercepted six New Orleans passes and scored on three of them, with Mike Washington, Richard Wood and Greg Johnson getting the TDs.

"If we can get some more guys to make statements like that . . ." McKay said.

While the Bucs were regaling in their first victory, the Oakland Raiders, last season's Super Bowl champions, also were celebrating. The Raiders were rejoicing after clinching the American Football Conference wild card playoff berth with a 35-13 victory over the Minnesota Vikings, their victims in last January's Super Bowl.

Elsewhere in the NFL Sunday, the Chicago Bears whipped the Green Bay Packers 21-10, the New England Patriots defeated the Miami Dolphins 14-10, the Detroit Lions upset the Baltimore Colts 13-10, the Denver Broncos downed the San Diego Chargers 17-9, the Los Angeles Rams trimmed the Atlanta Falcons 23-7, the Houston Oilers topped the Cleveland Browns 19-15, the Seattle Seahawks outscored the Kansas City Chiefs 34-31, the Philadelphia Eagles overcame the New York Giants 17-14 and the Buffalo Bills shaded the New York Jets 14-10.

Saturday, the Cincinnati Bengals beat the Pittsburgh Steelers 17-10 and the Washington Redskins defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 26-20.

In tonight's nationally televised game, the San Francisco 49ers entertain the Dallas Cowboys.

Tampa Bay's victory left New Orleans owner John Mecom and Coach Hank Stram in near shock.

"The disgusted Mecom said the Saints 'are a poorly coached team.'"

"What a nightmare! It was the worst experience of my coaching career. We're all ashamed for our people, our fans, our organization," said the unbelieving Stram.

For the Bucs and their victory-starved fans, it was the greatest experience of their lives.

"I thought it was the greatest victory in the history of the world," McKay said after the Bucs arrived in Tampa Bay Sunday night to a wildly enthusiastic gathering of an estimated 8,000 fans at Tampa International Airport.

The Bucs' entourage also was greeted by a band playing "When the Saints Go Marching In."

At Tampa police headquarters, Lt. Tom Wilson said, "You'd think it was the Super Bowl."

"Next year, we're going to the Super Bowl," said Gary Garcia, who had driven the 650 miles from Tampa to New Orleans with his wife, baby and four friends.

Another Bucs' fan at the game probably best expressed the feelings of all of them. He held up a sign that read: "At last!"

Raiders 35, Vikings 13

Oakland, capitalizing on Minnesota mistakes, scored three times in the first 8 minutes and romped to their 10th victory in 13 games. "We got stopped," Vikings Coach Bud Grant said after his team had three passes intercepted.

The loss dropped Minnesota into a first-place tie with Chicago at 8-5 in the National Football Conference Central Division. However, the Vikings can win the division title by beating Detroit Saturday night.

Bears 21, Packers 10

The running of Walter Payton and the pass catching of James Scott keyed Chicago's victory over Green Bay, the fifth straight triumph for the Bears. Payton, the NFL rushing leader, ran for 163 yards and two touchdowns and returned two kickoffs for 95 yards. He needs 199 yards rushing in the final game against the Giants to break O.J. Simpson's single-season record of 2,003 yards.

Scott caught seven passes for 94 yards and one score.

Patriots 14, Dolphins 10

New England's victory over Miami, coupled with Detroit's upset over Baltimore, threw the AFC East race into a three-way tie for first place among the Patriots, Dolphins and Colts, each with 9-4 records. A Baltimore victory over New England Sunday would make the Colts division champions. If the Patriots win and Miami wins, the Dolphins would be champions. And if New England wins and Miami loses, the Patriots would be alone at the top.

"We have to sit back and hope we can get in the back door," said guard Larry Little in the solemn Miami dressing room after the Dolphins had been frustrated by a tenacious Patriots' defense.

Lions 13, Colts 10

Detroit overcame Baltimore with 9 seconds remaining when Leonard Thompson blocked David Lee's punt, recovered the ball at the Colts 2 and ran for a touchdown.

Detroit Coach Tommy Hudspeth said he was surprised that the Colts, leading 10-6 before the blocked punt, didn't take a safety and the field position it would have brought them. Baltimore Coach Ted Marchibroda, however, said he did not want to give the Lions a last chance to score from scrimmage, which a safety or an intentional downing could have produced.

Broncos 17, Chargers 9

The Broncos, heading into the playoffs for the first time in their 18-year history, increased their record to 12-1 — the best in the NFL — by overcoming San Diego on Jim Turner's 36-yard field goal and Rick Upchurch's 19-yard scoring run in the fourth quarter. A crowd of 74,905 raised Denver's season home attendance to 528,595 — a club record and the best in the NFL.

Rams 23, Falcons 7

Los Angeles, the NFC West champion, assured itself of the home field advantage in the first round of the playoffs Dec. 26 and eliminated Atlanta from playoff contention by beating the Falcons.

Lawrence McCutcheon, a former Plainville High School star, set Rams' career and single-season rushing records. He carried 17 times for 152 yards, boosting his five-year career total to 5,498 yards, breaking Dick Bass' mark of 5,417, established from 1960-69, and raising his single-season record to 1,213 yards.

Seahawks 34, Chiefs 31

Seattle's victory marked the fifth straight loss for Kansas City and jeopardized the job of Tom Bettis, the Chiefs' interim coach. The poked-faced Bettis said after the game that he didn't know his chances of coaching the team again next season. Kansas City General Manager Jack Steadman said the decision on the coach would be made after the season.

The Seahawks scored all five of their touchdowns in the first half, while Kansas City's Gary Barbaro tied an NFL record by returning an intercepted pass 102 yards for a touchdown.

Eagles 17, Giants 14

Rookie Wilbert Montgomery returned the second-half kickoff 99 yards for a touchdown and quarterback Ron Jaworski ran 1 yard for a score with 20 seconds remaining, lifting Philadelphia over the Giants.

"Twenty years from now, when I'm at the fireplace, I'll always remember that kickoff return as the play that was the hinge of this ball game," said Giants Coach John McVay.

Philadelphia Coach Dick Vermeil called the last-minute comeback "the turning point of Eagle football."

Bills 14, Jets 10

Joe Ferguson's second touchdown pass of the game to Bob Chandler — an 11-yarder with 40 seconds remaining — carried Buffalo to its victory over the Jets. The scoring play capped a 92-yard drive in 1:17.

Dayton Site For '79 Volleyball Tourney

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Dayton will be the site of the 1979 national tournament of the U.S. Volleyball Association, William Peck of Indianapolis, the organization's president, has announced.

The Ohio city prevailed over Denver and Chicago, which also competed for the event. Peck made the announcement at the USVA's winter policy meeting in Dayton last weekend.

SEATTLE (AP) — Dewitt Jones, the winning coach, was so impressed with the losing team, Southwestern Oklahoma State's Bulldogs, that, doggone it, he re-dogged they would be a contender even in the Lone Star Conference.

"I'd like to think it that it wasn't one of our better performances," said Delaporte. "We got behind and didn't respond. That may have had a lot to do with it. It forced us to change our game plan. We tried to catch up too quick. We did some things maybe we shouldn't have done."

Bobbling Lakers Topple Braves 124-119 In OT

By The Associated Press The Los Angeles Lakers have been averaging a whopping 19.3 turnovers every time they play... but they couldn't even give the game away to the Buffalo Braves. The fumbling Lakers made more than their average of errors — 20 turnovers, in fact, on Sunday night — yet despite their inefficiency at times, held on to beat the Braves 124-119 in overtime.

"Right now, our defense is hurting us — and the turnovers, too. I'm concerned about the overall play of the team." The Lakers, champions of the Pacific Division last year, have turned things around this season — in the wrong direction. Currently they are fourth in their group, with a 10-15 record.

In the other NBA games, the Seattle SuperSonics whipped the Houston Rockets 116-84 and the New Jersey Nets trimmed the Washington Bullets 106-95. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Lou Hudson combined to score 14 of Los Angeles' 15 points in overtime as the Lakers edged the Braves. Abdul-Jabbar wound up with a season-high 43 points and 19 rebounds.

The teams were tied at 109 at the end of regulation play after the Lakers' Tom Abernethy evened the score with a 15-foot jumper with four seconds left. Fifteen seconds into overtime, Hudson fired in a jump shot and followed with a layup after a rebound and a long pass from Abernethy. The Lakers led the rest of the way.

Razorbacks

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks concluded three days of fundamental work with a grueling 3 1/2 hour practice Sunday, and football coach Lon Holt was impressed with his team's progress.

"So far we've just tried to get better fundamentally. We've made good progress. We've had three good, hard days," Holt said.

The Razorbacks haven't yet worked against the offensive and defensive sets of their Orange Bowl opponent, Oklahoma. Holt said they will begin work against Oklahoma next weekend.

He said the team will take a break for finals, then practice Friday or Saturday.

"It's important we retain what we've accomplished in these three days, and bounce back strong next weekend. We'll need some good work in the four or five days before we send them home for Christmas."

Holt was pleased with defensive tackles Don Hampton and Jim Elliott in Sunday's drills and overall thought the team's attitude has been outstanding.

"I can't say enough about how our players have worked and worked and worked," he said.

Tomjanovich

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — Houston Rockets forward Rudy Tomjanovich suffered a fractured jaw in addition to a broken nose when he was punched by the Los Angeles Lakers' Kermit Washington, it was disclosed Sunday.

Tomjanovich was placed in the intensive care unit at Centinela Hospital Medical Center after he was bloodied by Washington in a game Friday night.

He was out of intensive care Sunday and his condition was stable, a hospital spokeswoman said.

It was first reported he suffered only a broken nose but hospital examination disclosed the jaw fracture which will leave him sidelined indefinitely.

Washington expressed regret over the fight which started when he and Houston backup center Ken Knett got into a tussle in the opening minute of the third quarter of the game which was won by the Rockets 116-105.

The Lakers forward can expect to be fined and possibly suspended for his part in the fracas.

The Lakers' Kareem Abdul-Jabbar was fined a record $5,000 by NBA Commissioner Lawrence O'Brien for belting Kent Benson of Milwaukee in the season opener. Abdul-Jabbar fractured his hand and just returned to action last week.

Washington suffered no injury in his fight.

Films of the game show Washington trailing Knett and apparently the Lakers player grabbed him by the shorts or tried to slow him down by holding him. Knett elbowed Washington in the head, then swung at him twice.

Washington retaliated by hitting Knett in the face with three punches and Knett fell to one knee.

At that point, Tomjanovich, who may have been trying to act as peace-maker, rushed to the scene. Washington, 6-8 and 230 pounds, planted his feet and hit Tomjanovich in the face with a hard right.

Tomjanovich, 6-8 and 220, fell backwards, sprawling on the hardwood, blood gushing from his nose and cut lip. He was helped up and taken to the hospital.

During Lakers practice Saturday, Washington said, "I feel bad, really bad, about the whole incident. I couldn't sleep at all last night. I want to go over and see Rudy, or at least call him."

"I saw him coming at me and I just swung. I had no idea who it was. Now that I've talked to other people, I understand Rudy wasn't going to fight. He's honest, unfortunate mistake."

Commissioner O'Brien was expected to study films and hear reports of officials before taking any action.

Grid Playoffs

By United Press International
Coach Doug Eubridge of the unbeaten Port Neches-Groves Indians reached in his pocket Sunday and pulled out a quarter.

"Call it," he said to Plano Coach Tom Kimbrough, who was standing next to Eubridge in a meeting room at the Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport.

Kimbrough called "tails," and when the coin came down Kimbrough had discovered he had won the home field advantage for next Saturday's high school Class AAAA football game.

Then, after further discussion, officials of the two schools chose to play their tie game in Texas Stadium rather than the Cotton Bowl and set the kickoff time for 2:30 p.m.

The meeting between the Indians and Wildcats will wrap up another season of Texas high school football with what should be a thrilling encounter between a team that expected to be in the title game and one that did not.

Port Neches-Groves has rumbled along untouched this year and shut out San Antonio Lee 19-0 Saturday in their semifinal encounter.

Plano, meanwhile, received a favorable ruling from district officials in a controversial game with Sherman, overcame a 27-point deficit against Highland Park in the quarter-finals and Saturday made a first-quarter field goal stand up to down favored Odessa Permian 3-0.

The final weekend of the season will also include the title games in Classes A and AA. In Class AA Bellville will face Wylie at Baylor Stadium Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. and in Class A Seagraves and East Bernard will tangle in Brownwood at 2 p.m.

Last Saturday Dickinson upset Brownwood to win the Class AAA championship 40-28 with Donnie Little rushing for 255 yards. That set a rushing record for Texas high school championship games.

And Wheeler annexed the Class B crown with a 35-13 decision over Lone Oak.

Representatives of Port Neches-Groves and Plano decided to flip for the site rather than choose a neutral city such as Austin.

"We felt that if we went to Austin we would probably have about 20,000," said Plano principal Barney Newton. "But if we played in either Houston or Dallas we thought we would get at least 30,000."

"We think by playing at Texas Stadium we have a chance to have 40,000 because of the big following Port Neches-Groves has, because of the tremendous support we have and because of the interest of the game in this area."

If Port Neches-Groves had won the coin toss the Indians would have wanted the game in the Astrodome, where the Indians are 10-1 in playoff competition and where they have drawn more than 30,000 the past three weeks.

SWC Basketball

The nights are fast disappearing when it was a wonderful idea to get a Southwest Conference basketball team on your schedule.

The State of Oklahoma will give testimony, amen. Oklahoma, Oklahoma State and Oral Roberts tumbled last week as SWC teams with a 12-5 won-loss outstring an overall 33-13 record on the stringer.

Oklahoma now has been defeated by Texas, Baylor and Arkansas. Oklahoma was supposed to be a Big Eight Power.

Arkansas whipped the Sooners 64-53 Saturday without the services of Marvin Delph, who watched most of the contest from the sidelines with a sprained ankle as the sixth-ranked Razorbacks gave their bench a workout.

Oklahoma State took a 106-87 thrashing from Texas while Texas A&M went to Tulsa for a 79-73 victory over Oral Roberts.

Prestige holiday tournaments break out their trophies this weekend with Baylor at the San Francisco Tourney, Texas A&M at the Birmingham Classic, Texas Tech at the Volunteer Classic and Houston and Rice at the Bluebonnet Classic.

Powerful Long Beach State comes calling Tuesday night at Heart 'O Texas Coliseum to face Baylor where the Bears clawed Memphis State 106-87 over the weekend.

Arkansas, Texas A&M and Texas Tech remain unbeaten. Arkansas is 6-0 and both the Aggies and Red Raiders are 5-0.

Arkansas doesn't play again until Dec. 19.

Spaniards, Player Nab Cup Titles

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — Severiano Ballesteros, who might have been emboldened by his Spanish team victory over the Philippines in the World Cup, said modestly that he did not feel ready to play on the American Professional Golfers Association tour.

"It is too early for me to go to the American circuit. Maybe in one or two more years," the 20-year-old Spaniard said after he and Antonio Garrido paired for a three-stroke advantage over the Filipino team of Ben Arda and Rudy Lavares.

Gary Player won the individual title with a 4-over-par 76, his worst round of the four-day competition, for a 283 total, three strokes ahead of American Hubert Green, who had a final round 74. Lavares finished next with a 73.

Seiichi Kanai of Japan shot a 293 and Canadians George Knudson a 294.

Canada's World Cup veteran Knudson and rookie Dave Barr had led the first two rounds in the team competition on the par-72, 7,134-yard east course of Wack Wack Golf and Country Club.

Canada and South Africa paired for the last round, and Spain and Japan were in the other foursome.

At the end, Spain had 591 to 594 for the Philippines and 595 for Canada. Japan and South Africa were 597 each, while the United States totaled 601 and South Korea 603.

In the final round, Knudson and Barr led the Spaniards by two after the front nine. But Garrido's birdie on the par-4 10th shaved that lead to 1 as the Canadians matched Ballesteros' par for that hole. Both Canadians bogeyed the par-4, 384-yard 11th and gave the Spaniards a one-stroke lead.

The score was evened again on the par-4, 439-yard 12th as Ballesteros blew up to a double-bogey and Knudson bogeyed.

Adversity was Ballesteros' tonic.

"That was a disastrous hole for me," Ballesteros said. "So I tried to recover in the next hole."

He did it with a 270-yard drive on the par-5, 523-yard 13th, then put his second shot on the green with a two iron. He sank his 25-foot putt for an eagle-3. Garrido parred the hole. Knudson was par, too, and Barr scored a birdie, allowing the Spaniards to go one ahead.

Ballesteros and Garrido never looked back, and proceeded to pile up three more strokes on their lead by the end of the round.

"I felt very good with that eagle. I needed it," Ballesteros said.

Other players talked about the pressure they felt playing against Player.

Cowboys Tackle 49ers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dallas Cowboys Coach Tom Landry thinks he knows what the San Francisco 49ers will be trying to do tonight in their nationally televised National Football League contest.

"They'll figure with Roger (Staubach) not throwing as well as he normally does, that if they can stop (Tony) Dorsett, then they can have a chance to win the game," says Landry. "That would be my plan against us."

Rookie runningback Dorsett is coming off a 206 yard performance last week against Philadelphia, while quarterback Staubach has been in a mild slump since injuring his hip and right thumb several weeks ago.

The 49ers, stumbling through a 5-7 season, could be forgiven if they have bad memories tonight stemming from a game last week and one five years ago against Dallas.

A week ago, the 49ers were coasting

Southland Cagers Remain Undefeated

HERMLEIGH (Special) — Undefeated Southland clipped host Hermleigh 46-42 Saturday night in the finals of the Hermleigh basketball tournament.

Harry Hill and Sherman Dougherty scored 14 points each for the winners, and Charles Riley tossed in 14 points for Hermleigh.

along with a 24-7 lead over Minnesota going into the fourth quarter, only to lose 28-27 as rookie quarterback Tommy Kramer led a last period rally.

The last time the 49ers hosted the Cowboys, in a 1972 playoff game, Staubach came off the bench to erase a 28-13 deficit in the fourth quarter and give Dallas a 30-28 victory.

Dallas, who owns the best record in the National Conference at 10-2, won its first eight games of the season before losing consecutive games to St. Louis and Pittsburgh, but has won its last two.

Much of the attention of tonight's less-than-capacity crowd will be focused on the dynamic Dorsett, who has rushed for 865 yards, averaging 5.1 yards per carry. Dorsett will be matching strides with 49er veteran Del Williams, who needs 169 yards in his last two games to net his second straight 1,000 yard season, a feat no 49er has accomplished since Joe Perry in 1953-54.

Dallas will bring the league's top offense into the game, averaging 172.8 yards rushing and 173.2 passing, while the 49ers have the league's most ineffective passing attack.

Quarterback Jim Plunkett has completed barely 50 percent of his attempts for 1,228 yards and has thrown only four touchdown passes. The 49ers have averaged only 87 net yards passing per game.

Scribe Feels UT Already National Champion

By JACK PATTERSON
Akron Beacon Journal

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — If you are willing to accept that the Cotton Bowl battle between Texas and Notre Dame is for the national collegiate football championship, you have been brainwashed by television.

Plain and simply, the Texas Longhorns won the national title fairly and squarely by demolishing Texas A&M two weeks ago. The national championship, for want of a valid playoff system, should be decided on the basis of regular season play. Texas' credentials in that respect are impeccable.

The Longhorns, at 11-0, are the nation's only unbeaten, untied major college team. They turned in a marvelous trick by defeating No. 3 Oklahoma and No. 6 Arkansas on successive weekends. They steamrollered No. 12 Texas A&M in their finale.

Only the Aggies managed to score more than one touch-down on the ground against them during the season.

Yet you keep hearing on TV that unless Texas beats Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl, it may lose its title. I am amazed how many of my colleagues in the press are inclined to go along with the TV promotion.

Perhaps, they, like fans, are so hungry for a long overdue national championship playoff format that they'll accept anything. The wire services, which currently determine the champ with their polls, knuckled under to TV a few years ago when they switched their final poll from regular season's end until after the bowl programs.

What has been forgotten here is that bowl games were never designed to settle championships. Their purpose was, and remains, to draw attention to the area in which they are played—tourist attractions designed to pump big bucks into the economy of their area.

At best, bowl games are exhibitions. Ratings count but matchups more often are made after deciding which schools will bring the most fans with the fattest wallets.

Of the 13 bowls this year, only four are major, the Rose, Orange, Sugar and Cotton. And in those four, there are only three berths open because conference championships determine the other five teams.

These conference tieups preclude having national championships on the bowl games. Such is the case this year. No. 1 Texas is committed to the Cotton Bowl, No. 2 Alabama to the Sugar Bowl, No. 3 Oklahoma to the Orange Bowl and No. 4 Michigan to the Rose Bowl.

To jump Notre Dame to No. 1 should it beat Texas would be ethically unfair since Alabama, Oklahoma and Michigan, all rated ahead of the Irish, are locked into other bowls.

Perhaps the best thing which can come out of this year's post-season scrambling is the realization by the NCAA that a valid playoff format is imperative and be given top priority at its winter meetings.

Hosts Treated Rudely In Tournaments

By The Associated Press

The hosts usually have the most on the ball in college basketball's innumerable home-grown tournaments, but that wasn't the case in the state of Utah over the weekend.

In both the Utah Classic and in Salt Lake City and the Cougar Classic in Provo, the hosts were treated rudely.

Utah, the nation's 14th-ranked team, lost an 80-79 decision to Long Beach State Saturday night in the Utah Classic and Brigham Young suffered the double indignity of losing the consolation game as well as the opener. The Cougars, who had shown well earlier in the year at UCLA, dropped an 80-75 decision to California-Fulton in the consolation

"I feel really rotten about the loss," said Utah Coach Jerry Pimm. "We broke down on offense. We just lost momentum in the second half and missed a lot of free throws."

Long Beach State Coach Dwight Jones, who prior to the game had expressed a fear of Utah's speed, counted the victory among the most cherished in his life.

"It was probably the biggest win of my coaching career," said Jones.

Cougar host Brigham Young suffered the double indignity of losing the consolation game as well as the opener. The Cougars, who had shown well earlier in the year at UCLA, dropped an 80-75 decision to California-Fulton in the consolation game. Bruce Parkhill, whose William & Mary team shocked second-ranked North Carolina last week, was just happy to be in the finals of the Cougar Classic — no less win it.

"In my mind at least I wanted to get into the finals," Parkhill said. "I felt like after that anything else would be icing on the cake."

In other tournaments, North Carolina-Charlotte captured its First Union Invitational at Charlotte, N.C., with a 68-67 decision over La Salle; Florida State crushed Seton Hall 94-63 in the finals of the Big Sun Tournament at St. Petersburg, Fla.; Auburn routed Oklahoma

State 112-94 in the Marshall Memorial Invitational at Huntington, W.Va.; New Orleans tripped Stetson 84-61 in the Hatter Classic in Deland, Fla.; Pepperdine won its Malibu Classic in Los Angeles by defeating Loyola, Calif., 79-76 in overtime and Georgetown won the Hoya Invitational in Washington, D.C., Sunday night with a 66-60 decision over Georgia.

Elsewhere in college basketball over the weekend, top-ranked Kentucky defeated No. 19 Kansas 73-66; North Carolina crushed Rochester 101-43; No. 3 Notre Dame edged No. 5 UCLA 69-66; fourth-ranked Marquette defeated Florida 81-67; No. 6 Arkansas beat Oklahoma 64-53; No. 8 San Francisco topped Cal-Santa Barbara 63-57 in overtime; No. 9 Michigan trimmed Dayton 71-61 and 10th-ranked Nevada-Las Vegas took a 104-103 double-overtime victory over Tulsa.

Indiana State, the nation's No. 11 team, whipped Evansville 102-76; George Washington upset 12th-ranked Maryland 101-90; Rutgers surprised No. 13 St. John's 72-61; No. 15 Holy Cross trimmed Yale 67-62; No. 16 Louisville routed Robert Morris 104-68 and No. 18 Syracuse blasted St. Bonaventure 107-81.

Utah had a hefty 59-43 lead with 10 minutes left in the game when Long Beach made a comeback behind two mercurial guards, Rickey Williams and Donnie Martin. Three minutes later, the score was tied at 64. With just over a minute to play, Williams scored a field goal to give the 49ers an 80-77 lead and their eventual winning points.

William & Mary's victory was fashioned behind John Lowenhaupt's 16 points. The winners took an early lead and never lost it, although Montana cut their advantage to 46-44 at one time with the help of a full-court press. But Montana tripped over its turnovers near the end.

"I think their class showed up a little bit," said Parkhill of Montana's comeback attempt. "We knew they were going to come back. It was just a matter of when."

James George came off the bench in the final seven minutes to score 13 points and lead North Carolina-Charlotte over La Salle; Harry Davis scored 22 points and grabbed 22 rebounds as Florida State beat Seton Hall; Matt Mitchell's 31 points led Auburn past Oklahoma State; Wayne Cooper and Ardrith Warren combined for 29 points to power New Orleans past Stetson; Pepperdine defeated Loyola behind Raymond Knight's 35 points and Derrick Jackson's 18 points led Georgetown over Georgia. Mike Phillips and Kyle Macy scored 14 points apiece and sparked a second-half surge that carried Kentucky past Kansas. Al Wood scored 18 points and North Carolina jumped to a 20-0 lead in taking an easy victory over outgunned Rochester.

Dave Batton scored 22 points, 18 of them in the first half, to lead Notre Dame over UCLA at the Bruins' Pauley Pavilion.

"This is five years of ecstasy," said Notre Dame Coach Digger Phelps, referring to the fifth straight season that he has beaten the Bruins at least once.

Notre Dame's victory, incidentally, marked the second straight year that the Irish had won at Pauley, a virtual no-man's land for most visiting teams.

Marquette's victory over Florida was sparked by 26 points from Butch Lee and 16 from Bernard Toone. Sidney Moncrief's game-high 25 points led Arkansas over Oklahoma. James Hardy scored all eight of his team's points in overtime to lead San Francisco over Cal-Santa Barbara. Freshman Mike McGee and senior Dave Baxter scored 18 points each to power Michigan over Dayton.

Nevada-Las Vegas beat Tulsa on Earl Evans' two free throws with 24 seconds left in the second overtime. Larry Bird and Harry Morgan combined for 61 points to pace Indiana State over Evansville. Bob Lindsay and Mike Zagardo teamed for 48 points as George Washington upset Maryland. Rutgers defeated St. John's behind a 26-point performance by James Bailey.

Ron Perry's 23 points led Holy Cross over Yale; Darnell Griffith and Larry Williams combined for 12 points during a game-breaking 22-2 run to power Louisville past Robert Morris and Marty Byrnes and Louie Orr combined for 49 points to trigger Syracuse over St. Bonaventure.

Rupp Tributes Pour In

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Adolph F. Rupp, whose 42-year coaching record at the University of Kentucky is unparalleled in college basketball history, was a driving force in the sport's transformation from football stepchild to international pastime.

Rupp, 76, died Saturday night in the university's medical center, where he had been hospitalized since Nov. 9 and had received treatment for cancer of the spine for more than a year.

His death prompted an outpouring of tribute from coaching rivals and former players and came minutes after top-ranked Kentucky's 73-66 victory over Kansas, his alma mater.

Gov. Julian M. Carroll proclaimed Tuesday a day of mourning and flags will be at half-staff when Rupp is buried in Lexington Cemetery.

"Coach Rupp was a legend when I was playing college basketball," said Tennessee Coach Ray Mears, one of Rupp's longtime adversaries. "I played against the Fabulous Five (in 1949). He was one of the greats, I mean really greats, in the game."

"Basketball is a game that was started in the United States and he's one of the men who got it off the ground," Mears said. "He was the man who made basketball what it is in the Southeastern Conference."

"He made it a challenge for every school in the SEC to get its program off the ground," Mears said. "You had to do that or just get embarrassed by his teams. The other teams had to get better or keep getting beat by 40 points by Rupp."

"One of the most exciting things to me about taking the job at Tennessee was the opportunity to coach against someone of Rupp's stature," he said.

Rupp was a 28-year-old high school coach in Freeport, Ill., when the university beckoned him to be its sixth basketball coach in eight years. Forty-two years and 874 victories later, he was forced to retire as the winningest coach of all time.

Five years before, an 81-73 victory over Notre Dame had given him 772 career wins, pushing him past his mentor at Kansas, Forrest C. "Phog" Allen.

It also left him far ahead of UCLA's John Wooden, who retired in 1975 after winning 667 games and 10 national titles. The latter statistic fueled arguments that the Wizard of Westwood was a better coach than the Baron of the Bluegrass, but Wooden staked no such claim.

"You never look at it in that manner," he said. "I never considered myself at any time to be competing with other coaches. Certainly, when we won our fourth championship, I knew there was only one other coach in history that had done it and that was something I was very proud of."

"Since we were coaching in different parts of the country, Coach Rupp and I never saw each other regularly, except at coaching clinics and NCAA conventions," Wooden said. "But I certainly enjoyed those times. He was an amazing person to talk to and always enjoyable to be with."

The two met three times from 1951 to 1961, with Rupp besting Wooden in each game. The Wildcats trounced the Bruins 84-53 in Memorial Coliseum here in their first meeting, edged UCLA 68-66 in Los Angeles eight years later and eked out a 77-76 home court victory the following season.

"He had a tremendous effect on the game," Wooden said. "He was one of the soundest coaches basketball has ever had. He didn't use a lot of fancyness and flair, but he didn't have to. His teams knew what he wanted them to do and they did it well."

"They played all facets of the game well, which is something I admire as a coach myself," Wooden said. "A lot of people considered Rupp the best offensive coach and (Oklahoma State's) Hank Iba the best defensive coach, but I think Rupp's teams were just as sound defensively as they were offensively. The offense simply overshadowed the defense."

Rupp assumed his Kentucky duties at a time when football was indisputably king in the SEC. As the Wildcats methodically marched to 27 conference titles under his tutelage, other schools were reluctant to make serious attempts to challenge Kentucky's supremacy. Mississippi State grabbed power for a while, winning four SEC titles from 1959 to 1963, but Rupp was never down for long. Not even the "point-shaving" scandal of the early 1950s, which included suspension for the entire 1952-53 season, lessened Kentucky's momentum.

Rupp was protective of his power and autocratic in protecting Kentucky basketball fortunes. His competition for the limelight with Paul "Bear" Bryant finally drove Kentucky's most successful football coach to Texas A&M.

In the end, it was the university's mandatory retirement policy that ended the Baron's reign. He fought it tooth and nail, and gathered considerable support for an exemption. But the board of trustees ruled that Rupp step down after the 1971-72 season and Joe B. Hall, a former player and longtime Rupp assistant, was named as his successor.

But Rupp's name has been indelibly stamped on Kentucky's basketball. Just as he towered over his contemporaries, the 23,000-seat arena that bears his name in downtown Lexington dwarfs other basketball houses around the country.

- Mar. 16, 1972 — Kentucky defeats Marquette 85-69 for Rupp's 874th victory, the last of his 42-year career.

Scribe Sees Dallas, Oakland Squaring Off In Super Bowl

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

The Dallas Cowboys and the Oakland Raiders — two teams on a collision course toward football's Super Bowl.

Here we go again. A matchup of the squares and the free swingers, the disciples of stern discipline against the easy riders, the toe-the-line boys against the swashbucklers, the old crew-cut Cincinnati Reds and shaggy-bearded Charley Finley A's in helmets and pads instead of baseball uniforms.

Choose up sides. America's socialist order is subjected again to the looking glass. Which is the highway to success — the straight and narrow or the one strewn with hijinks and temptation?

The contrast between these two National Football League powers who appear headed toward their respective conference championships is marked at almost every level of their organizations but it's most conspicuous at the key offensive spot — quarterback.

"I like to run around, keep bad hours, drink, stuff like that," says Oakland's Ken "The Snake" Stabler, twice-divorced, a self-confessed brawler who admits he lives as if quarterbacks are an endangered species.

The lean Navy veteran who directs the field destinies of the Cowboys, Roger Staubach, will never be caught busting up a local saloon.

"People wonder why they do not see me in public much," says Roger. "I am a family man. I like my privacy. After a game, I want to go home to my wife and children." Staubach, active in the Federation of Christian Athletes and involved in numerous charities, is married and has five children, aged six months to 11 years.

The personalities and life styles of the two signal callers partly reflect the images of the men who pull the strings behind the curtains.

Al Davis, managing general partner of the Raiders, is a volatile, innovative maverick whose career has run the gauntlet from assistant coach to commissioner of the old American Football League. The Dallas hierarchy of Clint Murchison Jr. and Tex Schramm reeks of Texas wealth and conservatism.

Oakland's head coach is a 6-foot-4, 260-

Texas City Praised For Bowl Effort

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — The NCAA Division II national title game apparently has a home at Wichita Falls' weather-beaten Pioneer Bowl — as long as the city's notoriously miserable weather isn't too miserable.

A near-sellout crowd of more than 14,000 turned out Saturday to watch Leigh pummel Jacksonville State 33-0 in the Division II crown despite raw weather, temperatures in the high 20s and a numbing wind whipping off the North Texas prairie.

The national championship game, played at the Pioneer Bowl during equally poor weather for the first time last year, will be held here again next season.

The NCAA will then decide on its future site, with Sacramento, Calif., expected to bid on regaining the game.

"You people put on a great show," an NCAA spokesman said. "I just wish you could have a break in the weather, but that's the one thing nobody can do anything about."

NCAA officials said they felt the nationally televised game would have been a sellout if not for the poor weather, which has plagued all but one of the seven Pioneer Bowl games.

Wichita Falls, a city of 125,000 perched on Texas' northern fringe and buffeted yearly by bitter Arctic cold fronts, stages a week of Pioneer Bowl festivities that has drawn raves from NCAA officials and visiting teams.

The opportunistic Leigh Engineers, the nation's leading passing team while using the ancient Wing-T formation, rolled through Jacksonville for 305 yards.

"They were baffled by the Wing-T. I couldn't believe it," said Leigh All-American quarterback Mike Rieker, a deadly passer who led Division II in total offense.

Grambling Tops Temple

TOKYO (AP) — All-America quarterback Doug Williams had a chance for a season touchdown pass record late in the game against Temple University Sunday, but he scrubbed it to run Grambling to victory.

Williams scrambled 14 yards on fourth down to set up the winning touchdown as the Tigers nipped Temple 35-32 in the final regular-season collegiate game of the year. The two teams had been scheduled to play Dec. 3 before moving the trip to Japan.

Grambling trailed 22-28 with 59 seconds left when Williams went back to pass on fourth-and-seven at the Temple 22. Instead, he ran to the 8 and Floyd Womack scored on the next play with 48 seconds pound bull of a man with an unkempt shock of red hair, John Madden, who prowls the sideline like an uncaged bear, bellowing at players and officials in a voice that shakes the stadium. Dallas' Tom Landry, quiet, analytical, impeccable in hat and neatly-creased business suit, looks like a man going to a Sunday church service.

Stabler says discipline is not Madden's "bag," that the coach gives the team a great deal of freedom. "He knows where to draw the line... It's a little farther back than most lines."

Of Landry, who sends in Dallas' plays from the sidelines, Staubach says, "I might prefer to call signals but we all have the greatest respect for Tom's judgment. He is a brilliant man."

Staubach, a midwesterner out of Cincinnati, is spit and polish, four years in the service after graduating from the Naval Academy, tough and wiry at 6-3 and 202 pounds, clean-cut and low key. He has been called the consummate quarterback.

Stabler prides himself on being an "ole country boy from Foley, Ala." An imposing figure, 6-3 and 215 pounds, he wears a scruffy beard and lets his hair dangle to his shoulders. Blue jeans and cowboy boots are his favorite attire.

"I'm an admirer of Joe Namath," Stabler recently told Sport Magazine. "But Bobby Layne's more my kind of guy. The kind who bird-hunts, fishes and drinks in little dives. When he was playing, he'd get blasted the night before the game, then go out the next day and throw the bomb."

Says Staubach: "I lost four years of football in the Navy. I've got to take maximum care of myself to prolong my career."

Stabler adds, "I like the whole load on me—either fish or cut bait." Staubach says, "I don't want to sound corny but I am just fortunate to be on a good team." So, you just "flips a coin and takes your choice."

battled it fang and claw because he thinks the procedure will penalize success and reward failure.

The clubs wrangled over the issue for hours at the spring meeting, before Oakland yielded to Rozelle's pleas and gave the schedule change the necessary votes. Why the Raiders surrendered is difficult to understand, because they stand to lose as much as any of the other powers through the shift.

The whole idea of position scheduling is to make the top teams play each other, while the dogs battle it out with other canine contenders. The only trouble is that some pretty good teams finish in fourth place in tough divisions, and an easier schedule will give them a chance to jump all the way to the top while the big boys are killing themselves off.

So don't give up on Houston and Green Bay yet!

ALTHOUGH SOME of the division races still are a bit unsettled, it is possible to get a glimpse of the 1978 schedule facing the NFL teams. Keep in mind that the regular slate has been extended from 14 to 16 games for '78, and that there will be two wild-card teams in each conference instead of one. Using the Cowboys as an example, here's how it shapes up:

The 'Pokes, as NFC East champs, will continue to play home-and-home series with their four division rivals. That will give them eight of their 16 games.

Then, under the new system, Dallas will play the top four teams in the AFC East — Baltimore, New England, Miami and either Buffalo or New York. Finally, the Cowboys will play the first and fourth teams in the NFC Central and West divisions. That means Los Angeles for sure, and either Minnesota or Chicago in addition to the Packers and Saints.

IT DOESN'T TAKE a guy majoring in nuclear physics to figure out that the result of that system bodes no good for the 'Pokes or other perennial powers with dynasty ambitions. The Cowboys are going to be playing the Rams and the Vikings or Bears, while the Redskins and Cardinals meet the 49ers and Falcons.

More important, the Giants and Eagles, who are just a step away from being very good teams, will be playing relatively easy marks such as Tampa Bay and Kansas City. That will be some kind of advantage over the Cowboys, who will be beating their brains out against division champs.

The road will be long and rough for the big names in pro football, no doubt. And that is just what Rozelle had in mind when he invented the whole mess.

Cauthen's Rides Hit $6 Million

By The Associated Press
The sixth race at Aqueduct Saturday wasn't named in honor of Steve Cauthen but it could have been. It was called the Gold Seeker.
When the 17-year-old Cauthen won the $25,000 Gold Seeker aboard an unbeaten 3-year-old filly named Little Happiness, he became the first jockey to ride winners of $6 million in a single year. Only he and Angel Cordero Jr. have passed the $5 million mark in a year, both doing it in 1977.
"I don't think about records. I just try to win," said Cauthen whose 475th win of the year on Little Happiness boosted his purse total to $6,007,540.
Cauthen, who picked up first money in the opening race at Aqueduct and second money in the fourth, boosted his total to $6,010,180 with a second-place finish in the seventh race but was out of the money in the $53,800 Firenze Handicap and in the ninth race.
But the Boy Wonder was not finished. He went across the river and added $10,690 to the total by finishing second on Just Right Classi in the $53,450 Giant Step Handicap at night at the Meadowlands.
"I'll ride through next Saturday," said Cauthen after his history-making day. "Then I'm going to take a vacation, spend Christmas at home (Walton, Ky.) with my folks. I'll ride the day after Christmas at Santa Anita."
Youth also was served on the West Coast, where Mark Sellers, the 18-year-old son of famous jockey Johnny Sellers, rode Painted Wagon to a three-length victory over Argentine-bred Sudannes in the $75,000 Bay Meadows Handicap at Bay Meadows.
"He did it all. I just stayed with him," said Sellers, who recently lost his apprentice allowance. Painted Wagon led almost all of the way, racing the 11-16 miles in 1:41.2-5 under 120 pounds for a winning mutual payoff of $8. Favored Mark's Place finished third.
The Firenze for fillies and mares was won by Mrs. Morton Rosenthal's Water Malone, who caught favored Northernette an eighth of a mile from the finish and outdrew the Canadian-bred filly for a nose victory. Sweet Bernice was third. Water Malone, ridden by Jean-Luc Samyn, ran the 1 1/8 miles under 121 pounds, one more than Northernette, in 1:50.2-5 for her third straight stakes victory.
Water Malone, who paid $6.40, ran as part of a P.G. Johnson-trained entry with Crab Grass, who was ridden by Cauthen, and Helias II.
Mombro Jumbo shot through on the rail under Larry Saumell and won the Giant Step Handicap by three lengths over Just Right Classi, with Al Battah third. Flying W Stable's Mombro Jumbo carried 119 pounds, four more than Just Right Classi, over the six furlongs in 1:09.4-5.
In other Saturday stakes, Worrisonne Thing, $29.26, upset the $44,350 Anne Arundel Handicap at Laurel; favored Baldski, $4.40, won the $30,250 Gold Coast Handicap at Calder, and Dr. Dean, $4.20, won the $20,000-added Louisiana Futurity at the New Orleans Fair Grounds. The Sportsman's Park Program was snowed out.

Flyer Defenseman Sets Record

By The Associated Press
It was no different from any of the hundreds of sticks Tom Bladon had used in his last 400 or so National Hockey League games. Same lie, same modest curvature, same amount of tape at the top of the handle and the bottom of the blade.
But Sunday night, Bladon recalled that "As the game went on I started to look at my stick and wonder if there was something funny about it."
Nothing was funny about it, but everything was special about it, since the four goals and four assists it produced for the Philadelphia defenseman have earned it a permanent resting place.
"This stick will go to the Hall of Fame and I'm sure a lot of people will say, 'Tommy Who?'" said Bladon.
The eight points were a record for defensemen, eclipsing the mark Bobby Orr established by scoring three goals and setting up four others in a 10-2 Boston rout of the New York Rangers four years ago. For the record — pardon the expression, please — the most goals scored by a defenseman is five, set by Toronto's Ian Turnbull on Feb. 2, 1977.
Bladon's performance sparked Philadelphia's 11-1 thrashing of the Cleveland Barons and highlighted a high-scoring evening of NHL activity. Elsewhere, the Boston Bruins blasted the New York Rangers 8-2; the Chicago Black Hawks bombed the Minnesota North Stars 8-3; the Atlanta Flames scorched the Pittsburgh Penguins 5-1; the Buffalo Sabres blanked the Vancouver Canucks 3-0 and the Washington Capitals trimmed the St. Louis Blues 2-1.
It was a fairly high-scoring evening for the goalies, too, since Dan Bouchard of Atlanta and Tony Esposito of Chicago each collected two assists to help their teams win and tie a record set three years ago by Cleveland's Gilles Meloche. But the spotlight belonged to Bladon, recently the source of trade talk.
"Every time it came up, I vetoed it," said Flyers Coach Fred Shero. "He must be a pretty good defenseman; he's been a regular on two Stanley Cup champion teams. I told him a couple of times the fans will always pick on somebody. I told him he'll just have to live with it. I told him not to worry about the fans; to worry about me."
Eventually, Bladon did just that. "There have been times here when I've been blamed for things that really weren't all my fault. I don't do things the fans like. I just try to stay within my limitations. I read all the stories and it got to the point where I just said I'm not going to worry about it any more. I said, 'Who knows more? The writers or me?'"
He answered that question Sunday night by helping the Flyers extend their unbeaten streak to nine games.
Bruins 8, Rangers 2
Rookie center Bob Miller had two goals and two assists while 42-year-old left wing John Bucyk scored the first two goals of his 23th season to help extend Boston's unbeaten streak to 17 games. The Bruins, who last lost on Nov. 5, have won 15 and tied two of their last 17.

Black Hawks 8, North Stars 3
Esposito was credited with assists on goals by Stan Mikita and Darcy Rota in helping Chicago down Minnesota. Rota had two goals for the evening as the Black Hawks won for just the eighth time in their 28 games this season but rose to a first-place tie with the Canucks in the struggling Smythe Division.
Flames 5, Penguins 1
Bouchard collected assists on the goals

Loan Pleases Quebec

By The Associated Press
QUEBEC (AP) — Matti Hagman, the former star center of Finland's national hockey team, was not getting enough ice time with the Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League this season.
He wanted out and got his wish when the Bruins loaned him to Quebec of the World Hockey Association Dec. 2.
"He is on loan to Quebec with no rights of recall from Boston," explained Quebec Coach Marc Boileau. "We own his rights for 1977-78 and we are happy with the way he has played for us since he got here."
Hagman, who had three goals Saturday night in Quebec's 5-3 triumph over the Indianapolis Racers, had two goals and four assists Sunday night as the Nordiques hammered Czechoslovakia's national B team 8-4 before 11,155 fans.
In other WHA games, Houston defeated Edmonton 4-2 and Winnipeg routed Indianapolis 7-1.
"He's a very intelligent guy with a good sense of position," said Marc Tardif, who plays left wing on Hagman's line while Real Cloutier patrols the right side.
Cloutier had a pair of goals for the Nordiques with Paul Baxter, Warren Miller, Tardif and Paulin Bordeleau getting the others.
Jindrich Kokrment led Czechoslovakia with a goal and two assists. Frantisek Cernik had two goals for the visitors with by Tom Lysiak and Bob Simpson that beat Pittsburgh and Willi Plett, last year's Rookie of the Year, scored for the first time in 25 games for Atlanta. Guy Chouinard and Curt Bennett also connected for the Flames. Lowell MacDonald ruined Bouchard's shutout bid.

Sabres 3, Canucks 0
Rick Martin, Rene Robert and Craig Ramsay scored the goals that backed Don Edwards' second shutout of the season as Buffalo beat travel-weary Vancouver.
The Canucks were finishing a skein of five road games in seven nights. "I don't know what you can do about it, except possibly move the team to Toronto or something," said Vancouver Coach Orland Kurtenbach.

The Czechs fired 44 shots at Quebec netminder Ken Broderick while Vladimir Dzurilla faced 40 Nordiques' drives in the free-wheeling contest delayed 45 minutes by a power failure, just after the second period finished.
Coach Stanislav Nevesely said the better team had won Sunday's contest.
Aeros 4, Oilers 2
Ernie Wakely's 30 saves and goals by John Schella, Terry Ruskowski, Don Larway and Andre Lacroix keyed Houston's triumph. Ron Chipperfield scored twice for Edmonton.
Jets 7, Racers 1
Ken Baird scored his first three goals of the season. Ulf Nilsson added two and Bobby Hull and Thommie Bergman also scored in Winnipeg's easy victory.

'Portrait Of Billie' Returns To Theater

By MARY CAMPBELL
NEW YORK (AP) — The moving, crystal-sharp "Portrait of Billie," meaning the late Billie Holiday, has returned to the repertoire of the Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater.

Until Thursday night, it had been missing for several seasons and so had its dancer, Sara Yarborough.

The New York dance public is fortunate to have both "Portrait of Billie" and Miss Yarborough back as part of the Ailey season at the City Center.

"Portrait of Billie" was choreographed by John Butler in 1959.

It has three simple parts, performed to recordings made by Billie Holiday, early in her career, then as her voice had become more full and beautiful and, to the sounds of a live audience, late in her career when the song would be a brave try and end on a harsh note.

Miss Yarborough somehow changes her muscle tone as she dances. She is fresh and pretty, excitedly happy, her arms strong, at first.

She and Ulysses Dove do a strong duet, side by side, then she, weak with love, is unduly subservient to him. He mistreats her. By the time she throws him out, he has crushed something in her.

Newsday Editor Recipient Of Zenger Award

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — This year's John Peter Zenger Award, issued by the University of Arizona Journalism Department, will go to senior editor Robert Greene of Newsday, a Long Island, N.Y., publication.

Greene is the 24th recipient of the honor. Last year it was awarded posthumously to Don Bolles, a reporter for the Arizona Republic who died of injuries suffered when a bomb exploded beneath his car in 1976.

Greene also heads the Investigative Reporters and Editors, Inc., which spent months probing crime in Arizona and published a lengthy series of articles as a result of Bolles' death.

Two men have been convicted of Bolles' murder and a third pleaded guilty.

The award will be presented in Phoenix Jan. 21.

Zenger was a colonial publisher who was acquitted in 1734 of seditious libel. That verdict is seen as a major victory for the establishment of a free press in America.

Former winners of the prize make nominations, which then are voted on by 400 editors and publishers.

The award recognizes "distinguished service in behalf of freedom of the press and the people's right to know."

Parents Forget Twins' Names

GREENFIELD, Wis. (AP) — Michael and Matthew Carrick are identical twins born June 5, 1976, whose parents have lost track of their identity.

To tell them apart, their parents, Robert and Mary Ann Carrick, had special silver charms with the name of each twin pinned to their clothing. "As time went by, we started losing the charms," Carrick said. "Some broke off. We forgot to put them on sometimes."

The Carricks asked the Greenfield Police Department if it could determine who was who by using the fingerprints taken of the twins at birth at the hospital.

The authorities tried, but reported that they couldn't determine the correct identity because of the poor quality of the fingerprints taken at the hospital.

"From now on, the one we think is Michael now is going to be Michael and the one we think is Matthew will be known as Matthew, and we are going to leave it at that," said Carrick with a sigh.

MASTER WEAVERS
Among the spiders, the master weavers are the araneids, whose unique orb webs have distinctive cartwheel designs that often measure over a foot in diameter and are unsurpassed in delicacy. Their silk-spinning organs can produce threads of different thickness, as well as fibers that are sticky or dry.

Carol Burnett Stays Cheerful As Show Moves To New Slot

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — There are three options open to a network when one of its shows falters in the ratings:

1. Cancel it.
2. Beef up the cast.
3. Change the time slot.

"The Carol Burnett" show, wallowing around in the bottom half of the ratings this season despite or because of replacing Harvey Korman with Dick Van Dyke, has been moved from its successful Saturday night slot to Sunday nights.

The switch marks the fourth move in 11 years for the versatile comedian who candidly admits her show is in trouble.

"I'm pleased with the move because we're being whopped on Saturday," she said, displaying that happy, toothy smile of hers.

"It's either that or cancellation. This show has gone 10 years longer than I thought it would. I just live one day at a time and for the past two years I've learned to take things as they come.

"We're off to our slowest season in the ratings yet. When I come to work I see long faces on the set. But I'm as cheerful as ever. Probably the cast and crew think I'm just keeping up a brave front.

"But that's not true. I'm really not upset. What difference does it make if the change in our time slot doesn't work? Look how long we've been on the air. If we get canceled it's not the end of the world or the start of World War III.

"Actually, it's good when you're pushed through another door. When decisions were forced on me in the past everything worked out for the best. It usually means a whole new adventure for me."

Carol's career has been zooming upwards for the past 20 years. In the course of her 11 years on the air she has made three movies, "Pete and Tillie," "The Front Page" and "A Wedding" which she just completed with Mia Farrow, Vittorio Gassman and Geraldine Chaplin.

She has, moreover, appeared on stage in "I Do, I Do," "Plaza Suite" and "Same Time Next Year."

But "The Carol Burnett Show" has remained her first love. For whatever reason, the addition of Van Dyke failed to work out as well as her ensemble playing with the departed Korman. Van Dyke no longer is with the show.

However, it wasn't cast changes that caused the ratings nosedive. According to Carol, the trouble was with the opposition.

"We were opposite a bonafide smash hit, "The Love Boat," Carol explained.

Bean Field Blocking Road To Airport

PROBLEM BEAN PATCH — Hidemasa Koizumi and his wife work on their farm at the edge of Tokyo's new international airport at Narita, Japan. The $1.5 billion complex is scheduled to open in March, 1978 — provided they can get Koizumi out of his bean field, which blocks the highway into the airport, in background.

NARITA, Japan (AP) — Tokyo's big new international airport is scheduled to open in three and a half months, but Hidemasa Koizumi's bean field still blocks the highway to the main terminal.

The Tokyo International Airport Authority purchased the quarter-acre of land, but nobody remembered to check what Japanese law calls the "cultivation rights." They are held by Koizumi, whose family has farmed the plot since the end of World War II.

The airport authority didn't notice its oversight at first because it was beset by lawsuits and demonstrations to block construction, including battles between police and protesters in which four persons were killed. These delayed the opening of the airport six years.

The demonstrations have abated and most of the lawsuits have been settled. Construction costing $1.5 billion is nearly finished and a "final" opening date of March 1978 has been set. But Koizumi is still there.

"I intend to fight them as long as I can," the 29-year-old farmer said in an interview. "I have farmed this field all my life. My mother farmed it, and her mother. They have no right to take it away."

The airport authority has once again gone to court, requesting permission to expropriate the bean field even though it already owns it, as the simplest way to get Koizumi out. But the farmer is getting legal and other help from one of the anti-airport organizations.

Koizumi has been sleeping at the field for the past week, "partly to get publicity," he said, and also because he's afraid the airport authority won't wait for a court ruling.

"They could bulldoze this field any time they wanted to and argue about it later," he said.

Two airport guards watch Koizumi 24 hours a day from a truck parked at the edge of his field, where the new four-lane highway stops.

"We're just supposed to tell them what he does," one said.

But Koizumi claims they harass him, waking him in the middle of the night and trying to prevent him from having a fire.

"They keep my wife waiting at the gate a long time when she brings meals," he said. "If I leave, they might not let me come back."

The airport public relations man says airport officials can't prevent Koizumi from going back and forth to his field until the court rules in their favor. And they are confident that will happen.

"We have to have that road to open the airport," he said, "and there's no way we can lose."

Biography Of Santa Revealed

PORTLAND, Maine (UPI) — Santa Claus lives in a church and has a part-time job selling pizza. He went to college in Massachusetts, met his wife in Virginia and found Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer in Tampa, Fla.

Those were a few of the answers provided when the Portland Evening Express asked a class of first-graders at the North School about the jolly old elf's personal life.

The newspaper said it asked the children to provide details for a biography about Santa Claus.

Stephanie Clemens, 7, thought up the background about Claus' education and the fact that he met his wife in Virginia, where she worked in a paper factory.

Stephanie also came up with the tidbit about Rudolph's hometown and said Claus' belly, which reputedly jiggles like a bowlful of jelly when he laughs, was caused by "Italian sandwiches."

She said Claus vacations in Portland but wears green suits so he won't be recognized.

Amanda Weitzell, 6, said Mr. and Mrs. Claus have been married 10 years and lived in the country until Mrs. Claus recently decided to move to the North Pole and live in a church.

The couple has two children and a cat, and Claus works part time in Brunswick and also sells pizza and candy at the North Pole, she said. Pizza is Santa's favorite food, Amanda reported.

Santa's diet was on many youngsters' minds, but only Eddie Theriault, 6, knew that Claus eats a lot of spinach before making his annual Christmas Eve deliveries.

Debbie Glynn, 6, said Claus eats carrots to keep his health, but Mrs. Claus fixes him a nice bowl of stew after his deliveries are completed.

Chris Lee, 6, didn't know what Claus ate, but said he feeds his reindeer marshmallows to keep them fit and flying.

And what does Claus do when his chilly night of gift-giving is over? According to Alysa White, 7, he returns to his small, red house and takes a hot bath because "Santa is old ... about 31."

Educator Raps Compliments About Chinese

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The head of a nationwide teachers' union has criticized a top education official's complimentary remarks about the Chinese school system, saying they are the product of "spoon-fed propaganda."

The dispute between Albert Shanker, president of the 475,000-member American Federation of Teachers, and Mary Berry, assistant Health, Education and Welfare secretary for education, surfaced in letters and telephone conversations between the two released last week.

Miss Berry replied to Shanker that she hoped "we have moved far enough from the anticommunist crusade of the 1950s to feel secure enough to consider ideas, whatever their country of origin."

Miss Berry was the first U.S. education official to visit the Peoples Republic of China. She toured its schools from Oct. 28 to Nov. 6 as one of 14 prominent American educators and met with China's minister of education.

In a Nov. 17 speech at the University of Illinois in Chicago, she praised Chinese university enrollment quotas for ethnic groups and its degree of unity between education and labor, while rapping U.S. press reports of education in China as inaccurate and misleading.

She said that while not all Chinese school policies could be applied to American schools, "the direction of their overall policy ... should, I believe, represent our basic direction also."

Shanker told her he was deeply disturbed that she came back "so unimpressed of the results of a totalitarian educational system."

He said he was "even more shocked" that as this nation's highest education official you have chosen to extol various aspects of Chinese education as models for us to emulate."

Demo Post 'No Fun' For Curtis

By WALTER R. MEARS
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Kenneth M. Curtis is a nice guy with a lousy $48,000-a-year job. He's quitting.
 Which may show that nice politicians don't win pennants, even when they work for presidents who preach the politics of loving kindness.
 Curtis is pleasant, soft-spoken, open, a former governor of Maine and an early supporter of Jimmy Carter for the Democratic presidential nomination.
 And so he was installed as chairman of the Democratic National Committee on the day after Carter's inauguration. That's the way it always works. The president is the boss of his party, and the national chairman is his man at headquarters.
 On Friday, two months after telling Carter that he wasn't happy in his party post, Curtis announced that he's had it, although he said he would stay on to help find a successor and get him started.
 It all sounded like a divorce made in heaven.
 Curtis said Hamilton Jordan, the real heavy hitter in the White House political lineup, never evidenced any unhappiness about his management of the committee. Nor, he said, were there any complaints from Tim Kraft, the appointments secretary.

Curtis said those two, and the president himself, were his main contacts at the White House.
 But it was no secret that Mark A. Siegel, a Jordan deputy and a former executive director of the Democratic National Committee, didn't think much of Curtis' performance.
 Siegel was supposed to be a liaison man between the White House and party headquarters. "I was frankly never informed that he had a role," Curtis said.
 Carter himself doesn't seem to have been very dismayed at the prospect of losing Curtis' services. Curtis told the president about it on Oct. 13, and said he couldn't recall whether the president had asked why he was going to resign. Nor, by the chairman's account, did Carter try to dissuade him.
 Curtis said the president remarked that the chairman seemed to have given his decision a lot of thought. "He said 'Do you think that you might reconsider?' and I said 'I doubt it.'"
 That's hardly the message of a president interested in keeping a man on the job.
 "Is this just a lousy job?" Curtis was asked.
 "That's one way you could put it," he said.
 He said it wasn't much fun trying to meet the payroll in a bankrupt operation — the Democrats still are $2.5 million in the red — or answering to 364 bosses.

 That would include the state politicians who make up the national committee and who had taken to complaining that they were not getting enough support or service from headquarters in preparation for the 1978 campaign. Curtis said that was for lack of money and added that he didn't think the dissatisfaction was very widespread.
 Then there were the rest of the bosses — the real ones, at the White House. There are few more promising paths to obscurity than service as the national chairman of the president's party.
 "The president is the political leader of our party," Curtis said. "I think in the final analysis it's the president who has to give direction to the party."
 The job carries some clout when the White House is in opposition control. That's when people like Republican Ray

C. Bliss and Democrats Robert S. Stauss and Lawrence F. O'Brien came on to take charge of parties in need of rebuilding.
 While Lyndon B. Johnson was president, he just about dismantled the Democratic National Committee. And they're laying off at least 15 staff members at party headquarters even now.
 As for Curtis, he said he really hasn't had time to get used to Washington. He said he went to an appointment last Thursday and found a placard at the door:
 "The meeting with Gov. Curtis has been cancelled and will not be rescheduled."
 "I thought, 'My God, you really die fast around here,'" he said.
 But Curtis may not be gone for good. He says he'll probably resume his law practice in Portland, with no plans to run for office. "But it would be fun."

Helicopter Roundup Nets Horses, Mule

LITCHFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Fifty wild horses and a young mule that had once roamed the high desert country near here were recently captured in a helicopter-aided roundup.
 They will be placed in new homes under the U.S. Bureau of Land Management's "Adopt A Horse" program.
 The roundup was held to reduce the numbers of wild horses and burros which officials said were over-populating the 2 million acres of range in the BLM's Susanville District.
