New Cotton Bill Due; Views Here Are Mixed

The nation's new cotton program was nearing its final legislative action this week with next Tuesday slated as the day for House action. Here in Bailey county farmers are awaiting the final action with much interest — and with mixed views.

Basically the bill as it nears final passage is the Cooley bill, I. R. 9715, which has the blessing apparently of Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

Freeman Monday sent a statement to The Journal defending the measure, and pointing out these five "major" provisions of the house bill:

1. The cotton law would continue the one-price approach that has increased the use of cotton in the United States this year and given cotton farmers greater freedom of choice.
2. The feed grain program, which has added $3 billion to farm income the past four years, would be extended and improved.
3. An improved wheat program would boost wheat farmers' incomes by $150 million a year while reducing government costs and providing more freedom in the marketing system.
4. A new cropland adjustment program would help farmers shift a part of their allotted acreage out of crops into conservation and recreation used — if they wanted to — and be paid for it.
5. In addition, the wool program would be continued.

Supporters assert it will protect producer income, and it can be conceded for 1966, and perhaps even for the life of the bill, that producer net would not suffer appreciably. But under this bill the producer would be dependent on a government check for from 40 to almost 70 percent of his income.

PCG goes on to say: "If government stocks of cotton and the corresponding costs are reduced as expected, how long will congressmen and senators stand still for this? Inevitably the cry will go up that the government's cost is too high, and the only logical place to cut will be at the throat of the cotton producer — either through reduced payments per pound or limitations on payments to an individual."

Freeman, in his statement to The Journal pointed out that "farmers have more at stake in this proposed program than does anyone else. The problem facing cotton farmers is more critical than it has been at any other time since programs started in 1933." He added: "I hope the vast majority of growers who stand to benefit substantially from a farm program will give serious thought to the cotton situation and the need for a sound cotton program."

Continuing with its charge that the bill, if passed, will mean a serious reduction in cotton acreage, Texas Cotton Ginners' Association said "best estimates indicate that, contrary to House Agricultural committee's figures, Texas cuts in acreage would be in excess of 35 percent. Texas, in the past, has enjoyed considerable success in getting unused acreage released and in shifting this acreage to farmers who desired to grow cotton. The proposed omnibus farm bill would eliminate, for all practical purposes, the release and reappportionment feature of the present law."

Kookie Plates

Bailey county folk apparently just don't give a darn about having their initials, trademark, name or nickname on their license tags.

This is the conclusion Tax Assessor - Collector Jean Lovelady has reached.

Several weeks ago it was announced that the state is now ready — for a $10 extra fee — to offer special plates for those who want them, come Sept. 1.

"But so far we've had only one applicant for one of the special tags," Mrs. Lovelady said this week. "He wanted his initials and his trademark."

All these items, apparently can be worked into a six-letter plate. Because the limit is six letters or figures.

Anyway, Mrs. Lovelady took the gentleman's initials and his trade mark and his 10 bucks and sent them all to Austin. Whether he gets his special tag or not, is now up to Austin. He will get the combination requested — provided nobody else wants the same tag exactly.

Mrs. Lovelady says interest in the new special plates probably will increase after Sept. 1 when the new duces start appearing on automobiles.

"But I don't look for very many applications before next year," Mrs. Lovelady says, "since folks who spend $10 extra would get to use them for only six months or so; new tags come due April 1, and I believe most folk will want a full year's use of these special plates if they are going to pay a $10 premium for them."

So far Texans have bought 1900 of these special plates, and the governor figures that once the new individual tags have "caught in," that Texans will go for them in a big way — say $5 million worth eventually.

So far there are applications for such tags as "I Fix TV", "Impact" and "Univac."

The ginners statement said that last year 5,850,000 acres were planted to cotton in Texas; estimates indicate that under the proposed bill, acreage would be reduced by 21,102,000, a reduction of 35.94 percent.

"Translated in terms of income, assuming that crop conditions will be about the same as they were last year, this would mean a reduction of 1,462,992 bales of cotton, worth $219,500,000 to Texas cotton farmers.

"The Texas economy, however, would be decreased by a figure approaching $1 billion since it is a well established fact that cotton multiplies itself in the channels of trade five or more times."

In answer to this charge, Freeman's statement says:

"The cotton community would not suffer damage or be destroyed. Actually, cotton income would be maintained. Allotment transfers would be permitted within a county; also within the State if producers

Bailey County To Mark Farm Safety Week

Bailey county will observe National Farm Safety week July 25 - 31, with Farm Bureau leading the program, it was announced Wednesday. A proclamation was signed Tuesday by County Judge Glen Williams, setting the week aside for safety emphasis.

Whether you live on a farm or not, the farm week should serve as a reminder to promote safety in the home community and highways, points out the Texas Safety Council, which says that "accidents in the home and on the farm take a terrific toll each year. The council cites a breakdown of latest figures as evidence of the high toll: Last year, nationally, more than 8'000 residents died from accidents and nearly 800,000 were injured. The cost of these accidents has been placed at $1.5 billion.

President Johnson in proclaiming the special week said, "This tragic and needless waste of human and economic resources is detrimental to the well-being of the Nation. I therefore view farm safety as a matter of vital concern."

"I urge all farm families, and all people and organizations allied with agriculture, to engage in a united effort to reduce accidents at work, in homes, at recreation, and on our Nation's highways and roads."

Co-sponsors of the 22nd annual National Farm Safety Week are the National Safety Council and the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Special emphasis is being given this year to preventing accidents involving slow-moving vehicles, chemicals, electricity and in recreation.

Our Naughty Nudie Now In Calaboose?

The young man who has a penchant for removing his clothes and going native, may be in jail in Dimmitt.

Officers believe a lad captured near Dimmitt last week may be the same unclad youth who frightened a Pleasant Valley farm wife nearly out of her wits and startled (to put it mildly) a traveler on U. S. 70 by appearing, sans clothing.

Officers described the youth as "very blonde and 16 years old" whom they took near the community of Flagg in southern Castro county after he had allegedly forced his way into a pickup truck driven by a woman. The youth fled after threatening the woman when her husband appeared in another vehicle, according to word received here. He also was alleged to have attacked another woman in the Four Square community in the same county and to have cut her about the arms and legs with a broken pop bottle.

Officers here have learned that the youth has admitted the two attacks in Castro county but vows that he has never been in Bailey or Lamb counties.

"Actually we can't do anything about it here," said a deputy. "Any violations which he may have committed occurred in Lamb county — not Bailey county, and besides nobody can identify him as the offender."

"The woman who saw him in her back yard at Pleasant Valley, wearing only a T shirt, can't identify him, and the woman traveler who told Earth officers she had seen a nude man calmly walking down U. S. 70 didn't bother to stick around and identify herself."

Incidentally, the 16-year-old youth arrested at Dimmitt was fully clad when he made both the alleged attacks in that county. In fact the only clue that ties the Lamb and Castro offenses together is an automobile the boy drove, a blue Buick. An automobile fitting that description also was seen in the Pleasant Valley community after he was twice seen in his birthday clothes. Oh, well, maybe it was just an extra warm night.

Today's Meditation

The Beginning of Wisdom
B. W. Felts Pastor,
Calvary Baptist Church
In Proverbs 9:10 Solomon states that "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." The Phrase "fear of the Lord" is the Old Testament statement for "trusting in the Lord, with a hatred of evil."
We are living in an age now that boasts itself of containing the wisest men and women in the history of mankind I must agree that the men of this age have done some phenomenal things. It takes wise men and women to build many of the machines that we have today. Men and women are developing their intelligence to a very high level in the field of science.
The Bible tells us that it will be thus towards the end. In the Book of Daniel, chapter 12, and verse 4, the Lord says, "But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time of the end; many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased."
So we see that knowledge is to increase toward the end of time. Personally, I believe that we are in that time spoken of by the Lord. But knowledge without wisdom is useless, for we must have the wisdom to apply our knowledge. And then too, a wisdom which does not begin with a fear of God and a trust in His precious Son, the Lord Jesus Christ is useless. For God said that the very Foundation upon which wisdom is built must be "the fear of the Lord."
I am inclined to believe that most of the wisdom of this world is not built on that foundation and thus it shall prove to be disastrous. But the world is made up of individuals such as you and I. I know about my salvation, for I "fear the Lord." My faith and trust is in the Lord Jesus Christ to whom I have yielded my allegiance and my life. But have you? A man is not wise until he does. Jesus said a wise man will build upon a rock (Christ and his teachings) Matt. 7:24.

From Colonial Days to Modern Times, Volunteer Citizen-Soldiers Have Been Defense Backbone

Someone once said, in reply to the question "What is a National Guardsman?" that the National Guard volunteer soldier was "a civilian some of the time, a soldier part of the time, and a patriot all of the time." This describes a system which goes back to earliest colonial days, when the very first Guardsmen were members of volunteer militia bands formed to patrol the trails around the settlements in the early and middle 1600's.

The National Guard is the nation's oldest military organization, older than the country itself, with some units that can trace their history clear back to 1636. Today's modern Army Guard stems directly from the militia system of yesteryear. The first President was a Guardsman. George Washington, at 22, commanded a Virginia militia regiment in the French and Indian War, personally exemplifying the creed he would express in later years, that "every citizen who enjoys the protection of a free government owes not only a portion of his property but even of his personal services to the defense of it."

Sam Houston is remembered chiefly as the architect of Texas independence. Less known is that, following War of 1812 service under General Andrew Jackson, he became the Adjutant General of Tennessee. He was Tennessee's No. 1 soldier from 1818 until 1823, when he entered the United States Congress.

In the Mexican War, a cry rang out above the din of battle on a fateful day at Buena Vista—"Stand Fast Mississippians!" This was the beginning of the legend of the famed Mississippi Rifles whose commander was—Colonel Jeff Davis.

The name "National Guard" was first applied to a state militia organization on August 16, 1824, when New York's famous Seventh Regiment, acting as honor guard for the Marquis de Lafayette during his visit to this country, adopted the name in tribute to his service to this country during the Revolution and in honor of his command of the Garde Nationale in Paris in 1789. By 1896, most states had adopted this title.

The National Guard has served in every war fought by the United States, and the caliber of service was summed up by the German High Command just after World War I, when six of the eight U.S. divisions they rated excellent or superior were National Guard divisions.

During World War II the National Guard put more than 300,000 men into service, nearly doubling the size of the U.S. Army. They entered active duty in the form of 18 infantry divisions and many non-divisional units, including air observation squadrons. It has been estimated that nearly 82,000 Guardsmen won commissions during this war, either through officer candidate schools or on the battlefields. National Guard units participated in seven assault landings and 34 separate campaigns, and were awarded over 150 Presidential citations. National Guard divisions suffered nearly 200,000 casualties, and over 25 individuals who entered as Guardsmen earned the Medal of Honor, for valor.

Again, during the Korean emergency, the Guard responded to the country's call by supplying 183,000 men in eight infantry divisions, 22 air wings and many other units. Of these, two divisions and two wings and many individual Guardsmen saw action in Korea. The National Guard was called upon, since Korea, to reinforce the U.S. position during the Berlin crisis of 1961.

Farm Population Small, But Farm Economy Important To Everybody

Agriculture's importance to the economy of Texas is not determined by the number of people living on farms and ranches. And, points out John G. McHaney, Extension economist at Texas A&M University, don't be misled by the fact that only eight percent of the state's population now reside on farms or ranches.

There's a lot more to the story. In addition to the eight percent who operate the state's farms and ranches, another 32 percent of the state's residents derive all or a part of their income by supplying production items for farm and ranch use or by processing or distributing agricultural products for consumer use. That, says the economist, adds up to 40 percent, and a mighty important segment in the state's overall economy. No citizen is far removed from agriculture nor its business generating effects upon the economy of Texas, emphasizes McHaney. As for the distribution of population, McHaney says this too can be misleading. A check of the 1960 census figures shows 168 Texas counties with farm populations exceeding 10 percent or more of the total population and only 68 counties with less than 9 percent of their total population living on farms or ranches.

Almost half of the counties in the group with 9 percent or less of the total population living on farms or ranches are located in far west and southwest Texas where ranching is very important. The discovery of oil and gas in these and other areas increased the total population and caused the drop in the percentage of persons engaged in farming and ranching. Agriculture is just as important to the economy of these counties as before, explains the economist. And to go a step further, McHaney points to Lubbock County where the percentage of farm population dropped to only 7 percent of the total in 1960, but farm products sold had a value of $62.2 million. Lubbock County ranked number one in the state in farm income in 1960. El Paso County which ranked sixth showed only 1 percent of its total population living on farms or ranches. Parmer County which ranked ninth in farm sales in 1960, on the other hand, showed 47 percent of its total population living on farms and ranches. The top 10 counties in farm income in 1960 in percentage of farm population to the total ranged from 1 to 47 percent.

And asks McHaney, are these farm producers, even though they make up a small percentage of the total population, important? He gives an emphatic yes for his answer. The growth of towns and cities in many of the top agriculturally producing counties must be credited to agriculture and businesses, agribusiness, closely associated with or related to agricultural production.

McHaney doesn't play down other factors which have contributed to the growth and prosperity of Texas towns and cities but says that through the years, the large cities became trade centers for wide areas and the development of agricultural resources throughout the state played a major role in their early growth and continues to do so today. Oil and agriculture are the state's largest industries and they mean a lot to us. We shouldn't take either for granted because a decline in either is felt all the way from the lo-farms or ranches. Parmer County which ranked ninth in farm sales in 1960, on the other hand, showed 47 percent of its total population living on farms and ranches. The top 10 counties in farm income in 1960 in percentage of farm population to the total ranged from 1 to 47 percent.

And concludes McHaney, don't let anyone tell you that agriculture isn't important since only about 8 percent of the total Texas population now lives on farms or ranches. Don't forget the other 32 percent who derive all or part of their income from agribusinesses.

Agriculture's importance is not determined by the percentage of the total population which now lives in the country but by the contributions it is making to the well-being of Texas, the nation and the world.

Witnesses Make Final Plans

Final plans have been concluded by the Muleshoe Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses who are leaving this week to attend their four-day convention at Lubbock.

According to Boyd Lowery, presiding minister for the congregation, the "Word of Truth" District Assembly at Lubbock is expected to draw some 6,000 delegates from parts of Texas and 20 other states as well as two foreign countries.

Lowery stressed the invitation local Witnesses will be extending both here and in Lubbock for interested Bible students to attend any or all of the sessions to be conducted at the Fair Park Coliseum. The featured address at the convention will be at 3 p.m. Sunday, July 25 and entitled "World Government on the Shoulder of the Prince of Peace."

Judge Williams' official proclamation follows:

"WHEREAS all the citizens of Bailey County are deeply concerned about the safety and well-being of farm families from whom we receive our abundance of food and other essential agricultural commodities; and

"WHEREAS farm and ranch accidents reap a grim harvest of lives each year in Texas; and

Fire

A loose connection on the furnace was believed to have caused the leak. Damage from fire was small, but panelling in the bathroom and in the bedrooms was blown loose, and metal underpinning on the 1957-model mobile home was ripped away.

The county treasurer said she had walked into the kitchen and struck a match to light a cigarette. The explosion followed and she noticed fire was dancing along her right hand. She put out the fire and hurried next door to the mobile home occupied by Mrs. Dess Stafford. She said they could find little evidence of fire, the explosion apparently being of a "flash" variety which blew itself out.

"I feel that I was extremely fortunate not to have suffered greater injury," Mrs. Wilt said. "Although the explosion was heard for several blocks away, it didn't even knock me down."

agree to such transfer in a referendum.

The Cropland Adjustment Program would assist local and area economies. It is expected that very little cotton acreage would go into the Cropland Adjustment Program — only 628,000 acres of cotton allotment nationwide were enrolled in the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank at its peak in the late 1950's. The new program would have a number of safeguards to minimize the impact on any one community.

The release and reapportionment program would be continued. Farmers who have been relying on release and reapportionment would not be deprived of this allotted acreage. In fact, they could acquire additional acreage permanently by purchase or on a long-term lease.

If the Farm Bill fails to pass, we would go back to the 1958 law on cotton, with price support at 65 to 90 percent of parity and continued overproduction. There would be no effective feed grains, wheat or wool programs. A continued rise in stocks of cotton would threaten the whole program, while the unfairness of the two-price system would drive American textile mills into still greater use of man-made fibers. (The

Cal Farley's Boys Ranch Located On Historic Land, Old Tascosa

There's a touch of the Old West and a lot of the new for visitors to see up in the Panhandle country of Texas. The place to see it is at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch 120 miles northeast of here.

The ranch, the first of its kind in America, is open to visitors and there are park facilities at the entrance for those who wish to picnic.

Situated along the bank of the Canadian River, the Boys Ranch is about 36 miles northwest of Amarillo and may be reached by taking U. S. 385 from Hereford. It occupies the site of what was once Old Tascosa, Cowboy Capital of the Plains, Old Tascosa for a time was the center of the open range world, stamping ground for some of the West's most notorious bad men and focal point for cattle thieves and ranchers.

Located at an easy river crossing, the site started as a meeting place for Indians and Mexican traders who exchanged contraband goods, including women and children. The first permanent settlement was made by sheep herders in 1876, the same year Charles Goodnight and Thomas S. Bugbee brought the first cattle to the free grass empire.

Small ranchers and nesters followed and the boom was on.

Hundreds of miles from civilization, Old Tascosa lured the lawless and the law men.

use of synthetic fibers on a cotton equivalent basis already exceeds the use of cotton.) The two-price system could eventually eliminate a substantial portion of our domestic market.

The program proposed in the Omnibus Bill (H. R. 9811) would make U. S. cotton competitive — both in the world cotton market and with synthetics here at home. The Administration is in favor of a strong cotton economy and would oppose any limitations on payments. The bill provides ways to support the income of cotton farmers through other means if limitations on payments are prescribed by Congress.

Names like Billy the Kid and Pat Garrett live in its history. Gun fights made a "Boot Hill" cemetery necessary. The heaviest toll in a single shootout occurred March 21, 1886, when three cowboys and a restaurant owner died in a five-minute period. All went to Boot Hill.

The coming of barbed wire pinched off the cattle trails, Tascosa's life blood, and sealed the fate of the settlement. Today, only the town's stone court house and Boot Hill remain. Twenty-five years ago, the court house and 120 acres surrounding it were donated to a dream of a home in the country for boys who needed a helping hand.

The man who had that dream is Cal Farley, a champion athlete successful businessman who founded the Boys Ranch with a handful of unfortunate kids. Since that time, boys from 4 to 17 from virtually every state in the Union have come to the ranch for help at the request of relatives, social workers, ministers and juvenile court judges, and Cal and Mrs. Farley have served as foster parents to more than 1500 youngsters who have become useful, productive citizens.

Financed by donations and operating on a nonsectarian basis, the ranch has thrived without fraternal, religious or governmental affiliations.

Today, Boys Ranch covers 1,400 acres, has 30 buildings, and boasts its own bank, post office and independent school district. Some 350 boys are living there in a normal, family atmosphere with staff "parents who live right in the dormitories or "homes."

Old Tascosa had its day, but the atmosphere has changed. A different breed of cowboys is at home on the range there now, frequently used chapel stand next to the court house, and only pets are buried on Boot Hill.

Insurance Boosts Stir Furor Protest

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN — Rising insurance rates continue to stir up most of the excitement in the state capital.
A Dallas attorney, Bert Bader, filed suit in the 98th District Court here challenging legality of the State Insurance Board's order boosting insurance premiums an average of 13.4 percent.
In asking the court to set aside the recent order, which hiked some key liability and collision rates more than 20 percent, Bader maintained that the state law under which premiums are set is unconstitutional.

He also criticized the Board's allowance of 37 percent of premium income for company expenses and its failure to consider the investment income of insurance firms in fixing rates.
Bader pointed out that Texas' laws virtually make it mandatory that Texans buy auto insurance. Therefore, the arbitrary increase in rates violates due process of law.

Another factor cited by Bader is that the Board failed to take into consideration the actual operating expenses of the insurance companies affected.
He also said that the accident rate is decreasing.

For these and other reasons he contends that the new rate, to become effective on August 1, is grossly excessive.

ALLOWABLE CUT — State Railroad Commission set August oil production allowable at 2,905,312 barrels a day, a slight reduction from the July allowable of 2,911,115.

Figure is based on a formula of 28 per cent of potential, compared with 28.1 per cent for July.

August, 1964, allowable was 2,794,312 under a 26.5 per cent factor.

COURTS SPEAK — Texas Supreme Court decided to hear appeals from both the state and four Gregg County oilmen penalized $304,800 for allegedly drilling and operating a slanted oil well (1952 - 62) in Wood County.

Supreme Court left standing a verdict denying a $4,000,000 suit against the estate of the late San Antonio oilman, Tom Slick. Suit resulted from a uranium venture which never got off the ground.

Fourth Court of Civil Appeals had ordered the trial court to determine whether two corporations owned by Slick breached a contract to furnish funds for a Colorado uranium mill.

High court said it did not necessarily agree with lower court's opinion that only nominal damages may be recovered for loss of sales of uranium concentrate.

APPOINTMENTS — Governor Connally has announced judicial appointments in Dallas and Harris counties and named four to the State Board of Medical Examiners.

He picked First Assistant Dist. Atty. A. D. (Jim) Bowie for judge of the new Criminal District Court No. 5 of Dallas County, effective October 1.

Fred M. Hoey, formerly of Floresville and now a Houston attorney, was named judge of Harris County's new Criminal District Court No. 6, effective September 1.

Robert L. Lowry, another Houston attorney, will be judge of the new Harris County juvenile court, to be created January 1.

Dr. L. G. Ballard of Granbury was appointed to the State Board of Medical Examiners. Drs. L. H. Denman of Lufkin, Howard O. Smith of Marlin and Clarence S. Kemp of Bryan were reappointed to new terms.

SCHOOL PER CAPITA — State Board of Education set per capita fund apportionment to local school districts for 1965-66 at $80.65 per pupil.

Well over $200,000,000 will be distributed on the basis of 2,559,208 scholastics. This represents an increase of 15 cents each.

Meeting for the last time as the junior college supervisory board, the officials approved new junior college districts for Bee and McLennan Counties and denied one sought by Maverick County.

They referred to the newly named Coordinating Board for Texas Colleges and Universities applications for new institutions in Jefferson and Scurry Counties and joint petitions from Van Zandt, Kaufman and Rains Counties.

New coordinating board takes over junior college jurisdiction on September 1.

A variety of new school policies was laid down by the Board of Education, including rules for new vocational school districts, special education programs and "merit pay" raises for teachers.

Chandler School District was accredited for one year probationary period.

Board advised River Road Independent School District (near Amarillo) of possible violation of accreditation standards in its unauthorized start of a ninth grade. Consideration of formal application for the additional grade will be delayed.

VANISHING BOARD — Texas Commission on Higher Education held its last meetings prior to being replaced on September 1 by the yet-to-be-named Coordinating Board for Texas Colleges and Universities.

Commission approved 23 program and reorganization proposals of state colleges and universities. In summarizing results of its nine years Commission concluded it had done a good job but wished even greater success to the new Coordinating Board.

POVERTY — Governor Connally has approved application of Community Council of Austin and Travis County for a $529,706 community action grant under the Economic Opportunity Act. Project is aimed at combating causes of poverty in the capital.

Connally also announced approval of Neighborhood Youth Corps projects in New Braunfels, San Antonio, Pharr, Abilene, Daingerfield, Pasadena, Galveston and Carthage.

He said that new teaching methods at the Gary Jo bCorps Training Center near San Marcos (model installation in nation's war on poverty program) may well result in "a complete revamp of vocation and technical education in Texas."

Base soon will be offering 36 of the most modern vocational courses. A group of top industrialists working in an organization known as Opportunities Incorporated helped set up the curriculum and obtain up-to-date equipment.

BIG BISON — Research by the Texas Archeological Salvage Program — under contract with the National Park Service — reveals that the kind of buffalo which roamed Texas some 8,000 years ago were at least twice the size of present day buffalo.

Those facts, covered over and obliterated by centuries of deposited earth, are coming to light in an ever-broadening program of archeological field and laboratory work concentrated mainly in areas soon to be covered by reservoirs.

Contracts for such salvage programs have been negotiated with archeologists at the University of Texas, Texas Tech. and Texas Western. Southern Methodist University will start a program this fall.

Beginning September 1, a $12,000 a year salary will be available for an archeologist to be a member of the staff of the reconstituted Building Commission.

SHORT SNORTS
State draft quota for August calls for 891 men, compared to 908 for July.

As the result of weather damage, emergency loans were authorized by the Farmers Home Administration in Burleson, Duval, Floyd, Hidalgo, Jim Wells, Live Oak, Milam, Motley and Willacy Counties.

State Securities Commission authorized the sale of $29,200,000 in securities in Texas during June.

Texas Highway Department has received an award of merit from National Safety Council for its 1964 safety record among employees.

A Texas Highway Department survey shows that a total of 11,700,000 tourists came to Texas by auto last year for an all-time record. They added $524,700,000 to Texas' economy.

A list of 321 textbooks offered for Texas public school adoption has been mailed to superintendents of all county and independent school districts. State Textbook Committee will hold a public meeting on October 12 to hear the citizen's views on the books.

Four Corners Gets Library On Geology

FARMINGTON, N. M. (AP)—Geologists in the Four Corners area of New Mexico, Colorado, Arizona and Utah now can catch up on their reference work at home.

Instead of traveling 200 or more miles to the nearest reference library, the geologists now have one of their own established by the Farmington Geological Society in the town's public library.

The special section, called the Tom Carter Memorial Library on Geology and Earth Sciences, has 163 volumes valued at more than $1,500. This doesn't include the more than 200 technical bulletins and professional papers.

The collection was begun shortly after the society was formed in this area in late 1954. That was even before the Aneth and Bisti field discoveries boomed oil and gas activities.

Plants Using Less Water Sought; New Hormone May Be The Answer

Farmers have searched many years for ways to produce crops on less water. This may be just around the corner for Texas farmers due to research at the High Plains Research Foundation at Hallway.

Laboratory, greenhouse, and field experiments currently underway at the Foundation may disclose the possibility of securing the same yield from cotton on 1/4 to 1/2 of the irrigation water now used. A hormone applied in research by Dr. Arthur F. Gohlke, Assistant Director and Senior Soil Scientist for the Foundation, has been found to produce cotton plants with shorter stems, thicker stems, and thicker darker green leaves than untreated plants. This change of the plant inhibits the evaporation of water through the leaves of the plant.

Treated plants undergo a great change, but this change does not reduce the yield of quality of harvested cotton. The application of the hormone in sufficient amounts shortens the internode distance between leaves and stem. This, in turn, produces a short dry weather cotton plant capable of possibly producing from one to two bales of cotton per acre on less irrigation water.

The Plains of Texas grows 16 percent of the nation's cotton on 1.6 million irrigated acres. Water alone has made this possible. It is hoped that by the full utilization of this chemical hormone, the productivity of the land can be maintained.

It is thought that yields on dryland cotton may be obtained, through the use of this hormone, similar to those now being harvested off irrigated acres. On irrigated land, the reduction of up to 50 percent of irrigation needs might not be too far in the future. Due to the dwarfing effect on the plant caused by the hormone, it is also thought that yields may be increased in some instances by closer planting of the crop.

At this time, Dr. Gohlke reports that his research will be complete on this project in about 3 years. The results of the 1964 hormone research showed an increase in lint of from 16 to 50 percent per acre. Quality was unaffected with some indication of a stronger fiber.

This is one more area of research not more than 25 percent of his income.

2) Moral — The debtor must have an earnest desire to make good on his obligations, even at the cost of prolonged belt-tightening and penny-pinching. And, in most cases, his wife must share that desire.

The Wage Earner Plan is not an easy alternative. Nevertheless, last year about 27,000 debtors chose that way of keeping the stigma of bankruptcy from their record.

For, even though debt is not considered as sinful as it once was, there still are a lot of job applications and credit forms that ask the question: "Were you ever a bankrupt?"

And there still is comfort in being a person who, like Henry Wedsworth Longfellow's village blacksmith, "looks the whole world in the face, for he owes not any man."

Consumers' Cost Index Advances, Wirtz Reports

Consumer prices advanced by 0.3 percent in May, the United States Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics announced Friday. Higher prices for meats, fresh vegetables, apparel, and gasoline, were primarily responsible for the increase. Prices of most consumer services also rose during the month.

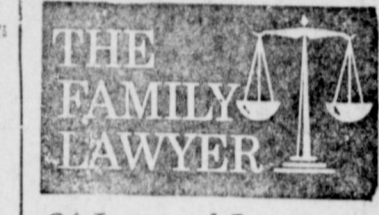

The May Consumer Price Index, at 109.6 (1957-59 equal 100), was 1.7 percent above May of last year. Increased charges for services and higher food costs were largely responsible for the advance from a year ago.

An increase of 0.6 percent in average food prices during the month was caused primarily by higher prices for fresh vegetables, especially potatoes, lettuce, cabbage, and tomatoes, which were in short supply as a result of unfavorable weather. Cucumber prices dropped substantially, however, as supplies increased. Rising demand and short supplies pushed up prices of beef, veal, pork, and lamb. On the other hand, prices of frying chickens, milk, eggs, coffee, and bread were lower.

Transportation costs rose 0.4 percent as gasoline prices increased in response to lessened competitive pressures. Used car prices advanced seasonally, but new car prices declined. Car owners also paid more for insurance premiums in some areas.

The return of women's and girls' summer apparel items to the market at higher levels than last year's end-of-season prices was the main reason for the 0.5 percent rise in the apparel index. Prices for men's clothing also advanced, reflecting returns to regular levels after special sales.

Cigarette prices continued to rise during May and the services associated with professional medical care and personal care also cost more. Housing costs did not change on the average, as lower prices for most durable house furnishings and lower mortgage interest rates combined to offset rising costs of housekeeping services, maintenance and repairs, and property taxes.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Of Law and Love

INSTEAD OF BANKRUPTCY

To the wage earner drowning in a sea of debt, the Bankruptcy Act offers two kinds of rescue. One is bankruptcy itself, whereby most of a person's debts are wiped out. Last year about 155,000 individuals chose that course.

The second alternative, although not so well known, has been gaining favor steadily in recent years. Called the Wage Earner Plan, it is designed for the person who is ready, willing, and able (eventually) to pay his debts — if only he can have a breathing spell to put his finances in better shape.

Although the Wage Earner Plan is administered by the bankruptcy court, the debtor continues to be called a "debtor" — never a "bankrupt." In a typical case it works this way:

The debtor agrees to turn over a fixed percentage of his weekly wages to a court-appointed trustee, who makes regular payments to the creditors. In return, the debtor is protected from wage attachments and most other forms of pressure by creditors.

In short, the Wage Earner Plan gives a debtor time to pay his debts gradually, under the protecting wing of the court. It requires an OK by a majority of the unsecured creditors, and also by the court.

Under what circumstances will the court approve a debtor's application? There are two main tests:

1) Financial — The debtor's earnings must be large enough, in proportion to his debt burden, to give a reasonable chance of success. As a rule, the court will approve only if his debts can be paid off in not more than three years, using

Regional tastes differ. For example, in New England corned beef is likely to be a gray color; to achieve this, processors omit the nitrates that along with sugar, salt and spices usually go into the brine that "corns" beef.
 Ordinarily, skim milk—because it has the fat removed—does not carry Vitamin A. But nowadays fluid skim milk, to which the A vitamin has been returned, is available.

Social Security Threat Is Seen In Medical Bill

SEN JOHN G. TOWER
 The Senate last week approved a severely limited medical care bill and tied its high cost to the Social Security taxation system. I regarded the medical care provisions as most inadequate, and I fear that the added expense will endanger the financial stability of the entire Social Security system upon which so many older Texans depend.

Therefore, I voted against the medical care bill, because I could not vote to destroy Social Security as we know it.
 The medical care bill covered — at excessively high cost and with excessive tax increases on working Texans — only very limited hospital costs. It did not deal at all with the crucial problem of long - term illness. In addition, it provided the limited care for everyone, be he poverty - stricken or millionaire.
 This medical care problem is a very simple one: It is the need to provide comprehensive care for those who cannot provide it for themselves. There the problem ends. I fully agree that we should provide care for citizens over 65 who have neither the income nor the resources to provide for themselves and that care should cover ALL their medical needs, including hospital, doctor, drugs, and nurses. As you know, our state has such a comprehensive program in increasingly broad operation.

Back in January, I introduced the "Eldercare" bill. It would have increased state - federal cooperation in providing total medical care for all needy elderly Americans. And it would not have been tied to or have endangered Social Security.

One week later, I introduced a bill to increase Social Security benefits by a seven percent cost - of - living factor. The bill just passed by the Senate included that increase. I am not happy that unwise governmental fiscal policies have MINOR LEAGUE CHAMPS — Here are the Minor League champions for 1965, the Cashway Sluggers, sponsored by Thurman White. The team won 14, lost three games and tied one. In the picture are (top row, l-r) Assistant Manager Lewis Hodge, Larry Jones, Perry Hall, Joe Fox, Perry Stockard, Ronny Davis and Manager Ed Edminston. forced the cost of living up, but I do not think we can any longer penalize our older citizens because of the government's past fiscal mistakes. I will continue to support an adequate, financially sound Social Security system.

I would like to caution older Texans not to drop their present medical care insurance policies just because the Congress has voted on "Medicare". Even the limited care under this bill will not go into effect until 1966 and 1967. In the meantime, I know Texans will continue to support and to improve our state program to assist the needy and that those Texans who are financially able to provide for themselves will continue to do so.

When you are stuffing an eggplant, halve the vegetable lengthwise, then cut out the pulp in chunks leaving a shell that is about 1/4-inch thick. The pulp can be cooked until soft and mixed with bread crumbs, milk, eggs, plus seasonings and liquid for the filling. The stuffed eggplant halves will need about 3/4 hour baking in a moderate oven.
