ALMOST TOMATO TIME — Tomatoes have been coming out of the fields here for two or three weeks, but only the "pinks" and "grades" so far have hit the market. Next week, however, the canning tomato is due to be harvested. Here's a scene on the W. H. Lee farm in the Progress community where ripens are being picked and boxed for local trade. (Journal Photo)

Harvest of Tomato Crop Due to Start; Price, Yield Good

Muleshoe tomatoes will start rolling to canneries in Arkansas and Colorado next week if they show as much progress during the next 10 days as they have made in the last week. This was the consensus of opinion of farm experts who said grades and "pinks" so far have been practically the only kinds to move to market. The price and yield apparently will be good - or at least fair, says Elvon DeVaney, field man for Western Canning Co., LaJunta, Colo. "The labor situation looks fairly favorable," DeVaney summed up, "but we are keeping our fingers crossed, hoping that the demand and supply will remain constant until the 1965 crop has been stashed away." Producers of tomatoes here are hoping for two more months of growing weather. "If frost will hold off until the very last of October or even into November, we could turn out an excellent tomato crop here," he explained. "But an early frost would put us behind the 8-ball since the crop already is late." While harvest has been underway for the "fresh" market for several weeks, growers count on canner tomato for their prin-

Bailey county, following the trend of the High Plains counties, favored the proposed enlargement of the state senate from 31 to 39 members. In Tuesday's election, 231 in Bailey county cast ballots favoring the proposed enlargement to 34 against. State-wide, however, the trend was the opposite, the amendment being snowed under by a top-heavy city vote.

Mules to Travel, Morton Seeks to Revenge First Loss

Muleshoe Mules, happy over their season's opening victory against Dimmitt last week, are scampering to the south this Friday night to meet the Morton Indians.

Barnett to Log 'Colorful' Runs In Asian Area

Richard Barnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Barnett, a Muleshoe high school graduate who has been hopping around the country flying planes on private commercial runs for six years, plans to put a bit more color - and danger - into his flying career. Next Monday he'll be leaving Los Angeles for Southeast Asia, and during the next few months (a year at least) he'll be flying big aircraft in that troubled section of the world. It will still be commercial aircraft that he'll be herding through the skies, but the area is war-tight with tension these days. Actually he will be living in Vietnam, a spot on the map which few folk ever heard of before the Viet Nam war started.

Richard will leave behind his wife and four children, but along about December they'll

The Indians, for their part, are smarting under a loss to Olton in their first game of the 1965 season, and will be out to make the going tough for the Mules.

The Indian squad had 12 lettermen returning this year - five of them regulars. While depth may be a problem, the Indians are ready to make a run for it behind the rear whoops of halfback Kenny Palmer who weighs 190 pounds and stands 6-foot-1, and end Eddie Holloway and guard Mike Irwin.

High up on the Morton totem pole is John St. Clair, who quarterbacked the Indian club this year.

Other top performers on the Morton squad are Jerry Elliott, Jimmy Joyce, Larry Smith, Eddie Lyons and Kenny Coats, all in the line department. Two other top backs (besides St. Clair) are Jimmy Stoddard and Randall Tanner.

The Mules showed up well in their opening game with fumbles - the usual bugaboo of early games - not too consistent. In fact, the outfit which Coach Willie McAlpin and his assistants have got together, apparently is going to be a good ball club.

Grand Jury Gets A 'First'; Woman Named to Panel

Mrs. Cecil Jones is a "first" in Bailey county history. So far as anybody can recall, she is the first woman ever drawn to serve on a district court grand jury.

"I've been checking these grand jury lists for a long time," says Clerk Hazel Gilbreath. "and this is the first time I ever knew of a woman to be named to the panel."

Other court officials also said Mrs. Jones is the first woman ever to appear on a grand jury here. Many, however, have served on petty juries.

The district court jury was called by District Judge Pat Boone, and went into session Tuesday after receiving instructions from the judge. The group elected Lester Howard as foreman.

Other members included Guy Austin, V. L. Benedict, Jacque Baker, D. B. Head, J. H. Sower, Baker Johnson, R. O. Gregory, James Warren, K. K. Krebs, and Clinton Rogers.

Hobo and The Red Auto

Hobo wasn't exactly the smartest dog in the world. Maybe if he had been smart he would have known better than to chase automobiles - especially the red one with the groaning tires.

But to three little Muleshoe boys - 2, 4 and 9 years old - Hobo was a blue ribbon winner, dog royalty if ever there was dog royalty.

Actually nobody knew exactly what breed Hobo could claim as his own. Mostly he was a Manchester, probably. He was little and black and wiry and had a shrill little yelp of a bark that he let off every time he saw a "bugger" real or imaginary.

Hobo and the three boys got acquainted about three months ago. Hobo wandered in, hungry, lean and lank, and his fur had

Texas Industry Growth is Shown In U.S. Report

Texas industries reported a 1963 value added by manufacture of $7.05 billion, an increase of 40 percent over the value added for 1958, according to a preliminary report of the 1963 Census of Manufactures just issued by the U. S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census.

Muleshoe area is preparing to launch a study of industrial possibilities here, and Harry W. Clark, executive director of the Texas Industrial Commission, spoke to a large Muleshoe audience Wednesday night on industrial possibilities.

"Value added by manufacture" approximates the value of products shipped minus the materials used to manufacture the products.

Chemicals and allied products led the State's industries with a value added figure of $1.7 billion, an increase of almost 37 percent over the value added for 1958, last previous year of the Census.

In second place was petroleum and coal products, which reported a 1963 value added of $956 million, more than 61 percent higher than in 1958. Food and allied products climbed 30 percent in the five-year period to a 1963 total of $923 million.

Fourth place went to transportation equipment, which reported a 1963 value added of Aiding in the program this past summer were members of the AAUW who gave two hours of volunteer work each Wednesday afternoon for a total of 52 hours during the summer.

Plans are being made for a pre-school book club. Mrs. Camp explained, for the fall and winter months. Those interested were asked to inquire at the library. She said if enough persons show an interest, a story hour will be held regularly for the tiny tots.

LIBRARY HAS BUSY SUMMER

Reading Program Draws 230 Youths

Muleshoe Area Library has just completed an elaborate summer reading program with 230 boys and girls participating. Anne Camp, librarian, said Wednesday.

Of this number 105 completed their "reading logs" and returned them to the library. On the log, Mrs. Camp explained, the boys and girls kept a record of each book read during the summer, many listing 30 to 40 - or even more books on the back of the log.

The six enthusiastic club members pictured at right all read and turned in a total of 251 books. They all said they enjoyed coming to the library.

"Nearly every day, when I went to the library," Mrs. Camp said, "I found one or more members parked by the front door, waiting to get in."

Besides checking out books, each member worked on posters at the library and when completed, they were given to the young artists to take home.

Today's Meditation

THE ATONEMENT OF CHRIST
By Ira Waddell
Pastor Richland Hills Baptist Church

Long before Christ was born of a Virgin in Bethlehem, in Judea, people brought their sacrifice from the animal life. The blood offerings of goats and calves were to point to Christ by faith who would take away their sins. The Hebrew word "Atonement" means "To cover up." Christ gave His life's blood at Calvary to atone for the sins of men. The blood of Christ was superior to the blood of animals. "How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal spirit offered himself without spot to God." Hebrews 9:14. The atonement of Christ is called "The Heart of the Gospel."

An atonement was necessary because of man's sinful condition. The Bible teaches us that man is born in sin. "Behold, I was shapen in iniquity, and in sin my mother conceived me." Psalms 51:5. Man has a sinful nature. Sin corrupts man's mind, body, and soul. "As it is written, there is none righteous, no not one." Romans 3:10. Every human being has been effected by sin. God hates sin with a divine hatred; His whole being reacts against it. "For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men." Romans 1:18. Therefore it was necessary that Christ should be offered as an atoning sacrifice for sin, and become a mediator between God and man.

The chief mystery of the atonement of Christ seems to lie in the fact that God chose to accept the unmerited sufferings of Christ as a just equivalent for the sufferings due to sinners. An individual can be saved by accepting Christ by faith, and His sacrificial work at Calvary. "In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace." Ephens 1:7.

Mammoth Attack On Boll Weevils Ready to Launch

LUBBOCK — Officials with the High Plains Boll Weevil Control Program are busy checking last minute details as they prepare to launch the second year's campaign against boll weevils.

This year's attack on the insect will start September 7 and officials say surveys show they should be able to eliminate about 40,000 acres from last year's spray area.

Current plans call for spraying 250,000 acres this year, compared to the 294,000 acre-area sprayed last year.

The boll weevil control program is an all-out effort to prevent the dread insect from some two million acres of High Plains cotton. It is financed by funds matched by money from the federal government.

The program takes in parts of eight counties bordered by Briscoe and Hall counties on the north and Garza and Kent counties on the South.

High Plains producers contributed 50 cents per bale to the effort in 1964, but Plains Cotton Growers acrewide boll weevil committee has reduced this figure to 40 cents per bale for 1965.

The program has gained nationwide attention because of the magnitude of the operation and the method used for weevil control. The idea behind it is to attack weevils in the fall

Undiluted technical malathion is used in the spray program because it has been found to be highly effective in small dosages. It is described by scientists as one of the safest insecticides available. Although highly effective against boll weevils, it has extremely low toxicity to warm blooded animals and has no residual hazards.

Appropriations Sought for Texas' National Monument, Alibates Flint

By Cong. Walter Rogers
It is my hope that the Congress can approve before the end of the current session an appropriation to begin development of the Alibates Flint Quarries National Monument.

Now that the President has signed into law my bill creating the Alibates Monument, I am going to exert every effort to see that development of the site can begin as soon as possible.

The Alibates National Monument, including flint quarries used by American Indians for more than 12,000 years and the ruins of pueblos inhabited during the 12th and 13th centuries, is the first national monument to be designated for Texas.

We in the Panhandle can take special pride in the fact that the Alibates Monument is a first for our State. Designation as a national monument is the highest classification that can be placed on a historical site.

At the same time the President signed the Rogers Bill creating the new national monument, he signed another Rogers measure naming the Canadian River reservoir "Lake Meredith."

For many months, Panhandle residents have been calling the reservoir "Lake Meredith" in honor of the late A. A. Meredith of Borger. Now the name is official.

The Alibates National Monument will be located near the south rim of Lake Meredith and adjacent to the Alibates recreation area, one of the major recreation areas to be developed by the National Park Service at the reservoir.

Meanwhile, I have scheduled sessions of his Irrigation and Reclamation Subcommittee for Thursday and Friday of this week to consider the proposed construction of a third powerplant at the Grand Coulee Dam, in Washington. I also will attend sessions of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce considering legislation affecting jurisdiction of the National Railroad Adjustment Board.

The full House of Representatives will consider, as its major item of business, Foreign Aid appropriations.

Fall Fertilizer Is Recommended For Sorghum

"Farmers should consider applying fertilizer in the fall, especially on ground to be used for grain sorghum in the spring," says Dr. Elton Cook, agronomist at Texas A&M University's Blackland Experiment Station, Temple.

In a test conducted at the Blackland Station, fertilizer was applied in each of the months of October, November, December and January, last fall and winter. The fertilizer was applied at two rates, 30-30-0 and 60-30-0.

Grain sorghum was planted on each of the fields this spring. Recent harvest of the crop revealed no significant difference in yield from any of the fields. The month in which fertilizer was applied did not affect the yield.

The ground fertilized in October yielded 2,764 pounds per acre. That fertilized in November yielded 2,716 pounds. The December fertilized ground yielded 2,826 pounds, and the ground fertilized in January produced 2,879 pounds of grain per acre. The largest difference was only 163 pounds, between November fertilized ground and January fertilized ground. This may have been caused by a number of other factors, pointed out Dr. Cook.

Farmers have been hesitant about fertilizing in the fall for fear of the fertilizer leaching out over the winter, or bacterial action destroying the fertilizer before spring. Dr. Cook said there was plenty of rain last fall and winter so conditions should have been right for leaching and bacterial action. "Since there was only slight differences in the yields, we can assume the fertilizer stayed in the ground even though it was put on as early as October," he said.

Dr. Cook said many farmers fall plow their land. This makes it even simpler to apply the fertilizer. Sometimes heavy spring rains make it difficult to fertilize, too.

The fertilizer at the Temple Station was applied in the fur-

Wedding Shower Honors Huttons

The Oklahoma Lane Community Center was the scene of a wedding shower honoring Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hutton at 2:30 p.m. Friday.

Linda Weaver and Joyce McGeehee registered approximately 30 guests.

The serving table was laid in gold and white at which Billy Mason and Paula Tarter served.

Hostesses for the shower were Mrs. Dee Brown, Mrs. Quinn Weaver, Mrs. Calvin Embry, Mrs. Loraine Gallman, Mrs. Pete Mimms, Mrs. Joe Tarter, Mrs. Clarence Mason, Mrs. Burt Gordon, Mrs. John McGeehee, Mrs. R. B. Seaton and Mrs. Wesley Barnes. The hostesses presented the couple with a combination sandwich grill.

When there are small amounts of cooked vegetables left over, cut them fine and add enough mayonnaise to moisten and season them. Butter slices of bread and arrange thin slices of cooked ham on them; spoon the vegetable mixture over the ham. Serve as open sandwiches for lunch.

Diced cucumber as well as the usual diced celery makes an excellent addition to a shrimp and mayonnaise mixture that is to be used as a salad or sandwich filling.

rows between beds. The land was then rebedded over the furrows to cover the fertilizer.

Stuffed tomatoes make a fine luncheon salad. Cut out the pulp from the tomatoes and rid it of juice and seeds; dice and mix with cooked green peas and mayonnaise. Return this mixture to the hollowed-out tomatoes and serve on salad greens with sliced hard-cooked egg.

For a combination salad and dessert, pare fresh pears, halve and remove the seed and stem structure. Fill the pear cavities with small seedless grapes and top with commercial sour cream. Garnish with tiny inner leaves of romaine, watercress sprigs or the inner yellow leaves of escarole or chicory.

To vary the popular sliced orange and onion-ring salad, add chopped fresh mint. Arrange the orange slices and onion rings on salad greens, drizzle with French dressing (oil and vinegar) and sprinkle with the mint.

Next time you are preparing a grated raw carrot salad, try adding minced scallion (green onion) to it. Either mayonnaise or French dressing may be used on the salad.

Some good cooks like to "flour" small pared parboiled potatoes before they are added to the pan in which meat is roasting. A little paprika, as well as salt and pepper, may be mixed with the flour.

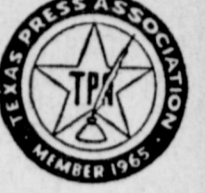

Cream cheese to which grated orange rind has been added makes an excellent filling for slices of nut bread.

BEACH SCENE at Long Beach, Cal. got suddenly brighter as girls from International Beauty Pageant took workout.

JOAN REILLY shows picture and model of dormitories leased by Southampton College of Long Island U. from C.I.T. Educational Buildings.

PAT PRIEST of films and TV makes with plastic snowballs at studio.

KNOW WHO this strong-visaged gent is, repeated so endlessly? It's UAR President Gamal Abdel Nasser. He's "donating" busts to new village for every street corner.

Hobo

(Continued from Page One) several spots missing. Those missing patches of fur were where fleas had attached themselves to the tiny dog, so Hobo had done the only thing a dog knows to do - scratch and scratch until the fur comes off.

But to Jim, the oldest of the three sons, he was a beautiful dog, skippy fur and all. "Can't we keep him?" he asked. "We can get rid of those fleas; I'll wash him and I'll take care of him myself." (You know what it's like if you have ever been a parent and some "beautiful" animal like Hobo wanders in.)

And, as is usually the case, Mama gave in. Jim went to work on the flea problem and Hobo went to work on anything that looked like food. Within a short time the fur was sprouting out again like grass nipped by a late frost in the spring. You couldn't say that Hobo actually got fat; he just wasn't the kind to get fat, but for a Manchester, he did pretty well. At least his ribs took on enough covering to look decent.

And Hobo loved to play once he had got rid of those fleas and had stashed enough food in his little tummy to give him strength to play.

He even knew one trick - to walk backward on his hind feet and beg for food. Hobo was very proud of his one accomplishment.

And the three boys and Hobo had a lot of fun together.

They got him a collar - sky blue with little bells that rang almost constantly. "Blue looks good on such a black little dog," Jim said.

But then Hobo discovered the automobile. He found he could chase it up and down the street and the automobile seemed to be scared of Hobo because it ran away very fast.

There was this red car that came by several times a day.

It's owner apparently didn't know that it was possible to start an automobile without "gunning" it. The red car roared and Hobo lived dangerously, and...

Jim and the two other boys buried Hobo in a little pasteboard box in the back yard. But they saved the blue collar with the bells on it, and Hobo's box where he slept under the little boy's bed. There was plenty of room for the box under the bed. You see Hobo was small and the red automobile was very, very big!

Negroes Not Barred By Tax, Carr Claims

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
 Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr came up with some interesting arguments in answer to the Federal suit which attacks the Texas poll tax.

Suit filed by the U. S. Justice Department seeks to get the poll tax ruled invalid as a requirement for voting. Contention is that the poll tax discriminates against Negroes.

That isn't so, Carr argued Friday in a pre-trial hearing before U. S. District Judge Adrian Spears. Carr claimed that a survey this spring by the Southern Regional Council showed that 57.7 per cent of the Negroes in Texas eligible to vote paid poll taxes and registered to vote, but only 53.2 per cent of the Caucasians registered in that fashion.

Carr also contended that the $1.50 State poll tax, levied in 1837 as a "head" tax, was tied to the right to vote in 1902 not to keep Negroes from voting, but to assure collection of the head tax. He added that revenue from the present $1.75 poll tax goes to the Available amounting to more than $2 billion last year.

The Federal suit citation — which centers on an all-white Austin precinct — was filed under the new federal voting rights act. Carr noted that the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights in 1961 found no discriminatory disenfranchisement.

Poll tax procedure is the only form of voter registration in Texas. So, a Federal court invalidation of the poll tax would mean a special session of the Legislature for the purpose of enacting a new voter registration law.

Carr also asked the court to order U. S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach to clarify whether his suit is aimed at striking down requirements that only property owners may vote in bond elections.

DAM AUTHORIZED
 First action of the new State Water Rights Commission was to solve a long-pending problem. It approved the Colorado River

Municipal Water District's application to locate its next dam at Robert Lee in Coke County, instead of the earlier authorized site in Mitchell County.

Proposed dam will boost the water supply of Big Spring, Odessa, Snyder, Midland and other areas of West Texas.

Reservoir on the Colorado River will have a 489,000 acre-foot capacity with 40,000 acre-feet of water annually diverted for municipal use, 8000 acre-feet for oil well flooding and 2000 acre feet for industrial plants.

Commission specified that use must come first from existing Lake J. B. Thomas and total diversion from new dam and Lake J. B. Thomas will be limited to 73,000 acre feet a year.

LCRA General Manager Sam Gideon praised the commission's order and said the compromise would effect better use of Colorado River water.

Commission also authorized construction of a system of low-flow diversion works in the Colorado River channel in Scurry and Mitchell Counties as a salt water pollution control measure and to divert waters for industrial and mining purposes.

BOARD NAMED
 Gov. John Connally appointed the 18 members of the new Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System and handed it the expected assignment to make Texas higher education second to none.

John Gray of Beaumont, who served on the Governor's Committee on Education Beyond the High School which recommended the "Super-Board," was named chairman.

Other new Coordinating Board members who served on that study committee are Dr. D. M. Zachry, San Antonio; Tom Sealy, Midland and M. Harvey Weil, Corpus Christi.

Coordinating Board appointees who have been on the Texas Commission on Higher Education are Dr. Joaquin Cigarroa, Laredo; J. C. Looney, Edinburg; Dan Williams, Dallas; and Charles Prothro, Wichita Falls.

COTTON BANNED
 Texas border will be sealed to free movement of Mexican cotton beginning September 25, John C. White has announced. White said late cotton plantings in excess of 6,000 acres and "abandonment of mutual cultural practices against the destructive pink bollworm in Mexico" required the border control action. Pink bollworm has destroyed as much as $4,000,000 of Rio Grande Valley cotton in one season alone, the commissioner stated.

NEW AGENCIES MEET
 At its first meeting, new Board for Mental Health and Mental Retardation named Dr. Horace Cromer of Austin its president and Dr. C. J. Ruilmann as acting commissioner.

Tuberculosis Advisory Committee elected Arthur H. Dilly of Corpus Christi acting chairman during its first meeting. Committee also recommended appointment of Dr. Roger Smyth as acting director for tuberculosis services and Dr. James Schless as acting assistant director for tuberculosis hospitals.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm reports on a new telephone invention this week. We didn't even know he had a phone.

Dear editor:

The thing about progress is that you've got to know how to handle it, or it's more trouble than it's worth.

Take the telephone. It's all right if you need to call somebody, but it frequently becomes a nuisance when somebody calls and leaves a message to call him, saying it's important, it's generally important to him, not to me.

This is going to be changed soon, although I don't think the telephone company intends it that way.

As I understand it, they've perfected a system where you can transfer your own calls, so in a sense your phone follows you around wherever you are. Say you're expecting a big business deal by telephone and you have to leave your office temporarily. All you do is dial a code number, then dial the number of the phone where you'll be while you're out, and if a call comes in it'll bypass your office and ring at the other number.

Now the phone company figures this will be a great service and I'm sure it will, but it has other possibilities the company may not be aware of. Say you're sitting down to watch a western and don't want to be interrupted. Just dial the code number, pick out somebody else's number, instruct your phone to switch to there, and let his phone ring instead of yours.

Walter Denney Enters U.S. Army

Walter Denney, son of Mrs. Ina Wilemon, Muleshoe and Clay Denney, Tucumcari, N.M. departed for a four-year tour with the United States Army.

Denney, who attended Muleshoe High School was selected for the Army Security Agency, a branch of the U. S. Army Intelligence Corps following completion of eight weeks of basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri and a brief leave.

Prior to leaving for basic training Denney stated that the opportunity to choose his career field with a written guarantee before enlistment had been a big factor in his decision to enlist.

Speaking of progress, the latest 8-day trip of the astronauts proves that man can survive in space, and right now another group of men are living in a capsule on the bottom of the ocean to see if man can survive under water.

I predict he can, and then the only test left will be to see if he can survive on earth.

Yours faithfully,

Farm Feeding Boosts Profits For Cattle

Cattle producers can earn up to 54.6 percent of the consumer's beef dollar if they raise and feed their animals to slaughter weight on the farm.

This fact was brought out in a recent USDA study on price spreads of beef. The purpose of the study was to demonstrate distribution of the consumer's beef dollar among ranchers, feeders, packer-wholesalers and retailers.

The study included six U. S. Choice grade steers from six states, all but one going to distant retailers after feeding and processing. One steer, raised and fed on the same farm, went directly to a market close to home.

The advantage of using home-grown feed to raise cattle to slaughter weight on the farm was illustrated by this steer as it netted the producer 54.6 percent of the consumer's beef dollar. Cattle sold at weaning weight earned only 25.6 percent for the cattleman.

For farmers this can make a big difference. Meat is the most important item in the consumer's food budget, beef making up about 25 percent of this. Beef consumption has increased from an average per capita of 63.9 pounds in 1949 to 99.7 pound in 1964. Further, beef faces a rapidly increasing demand as incomes continue to rise.

Very fine waterground corn meal is excellent for breeding small whole fish that are to be pan-fried.

Cooked pork sausage meat (bulk style) makes a flavorful addition to a corn bread stuffing for roast chicken or turkey.

Ever season the cream sauce for cooked diced chicken with a little garlic powder?

Tower Would Keep Right-to-Work Law

By Sen. John G. Tower
This week I want all Texans to be assured that a strong and determined fight is going to be made in the United States Senate for retention of our state's Right-to-Work law.

The Administration has said it wishes, as a priority matter, to repeal the Taft-Hartley Law section which permits our state, and 18 other states, to have Right-to-Work laws.

Within recent weeks, I have participated in bipartisan Senate planning designed first to delay and ultimately to defeat this Federal government attack upon Texas law. You may be assured that I will take a leading role in an extended Senate debate pointing out the merits of Right-to-Work legislation.

If Section 14-b of the Taft-Hartley Law is repealed under this Administration's pressure, many Texans will be forced to join unions — or at least to pay dues to a union — before they can get or keep a job. This is the situation which exists in 31 states. Compulsory union membership or compulsory financial support of a union is required of workers if they want to work.

In 1947 our state's legislature decided that Texans should not face this compulsory situation, but that they should have the right to work without supporting a union, if they so desired. Our legislature should be free to make their own decisions about union membership; that Texans should retain the right either to join or not join a union.

It is illegal to deny employment to any person because of race, color, creed, or national origin. It seems most strange to me, therefore, that some persons so staunchly for those employment freedoms would deny employment to a citizen who prefers not to pay dues to a union.

Right to work means a man cannot be forced to pay dues to an unwanted bargaining agent in order to earn a living. Right to work also means that a man remains free to become an active, dues-paying union member if that is in his best interest.

Let me make it very clear that right to work does not interfere in any way with legitimate union activity. It does not restrict the right of employees to organize and to bargain collectively with their employers.

Our state law certainly has not restricted Texas unions. They are strong and well led. Texas unions are that way because they pay better attention to their knitting than do unions in states where compulsory membership frees union leaders of responsibility to union members.

This seems to me a very basic issue. We should not any more make a man join a union to hold his job than we would force him to work for a specific firm, if he wants a job.

In addition, there are economic consequences to be considered. Our state's continued favorable economic progress is at stake.

Over the past decade all Texans have benefited because freedom of choice has been preserved for our workers. For instance, in the number of new jobs created over the last 10 years, Texans enjoy nearly a 10 percent advantage over compulsory-unionism states. In number of new manufacturing jobs created, the Texas advantage is 29 percent.

Our state ranked second in the nation last year in attracting new industry with its new jobs. And, all of these new jobs are available for all Texans whether they prefer union membership or not.

National polls indicate that nearly 70 percent of Americans, who understand the issues involved, oppose repeal of Taft-Hartley, Section 14-b. And, I believe this public sentiment will become even stronger if an extended "educational campaign" is mounted in the Senate.

I have placed top priority on this "educational campaign," and I will speak at length in expressing to all Americans the devotion of Texans for the principles of freedom of choice and of the right to work — even though such efforts may force me to curtail my many trips to Texas and visits with Texans.

I regard this right-to-work debate as the most important action which will face the 89th Congress, and I will support the Texas law with all my energy; with faith in its correctness of principle; and with confidence that the right to work can be preserved.

New Variety Of Spring Oats Shows Promise

A new variety of oats, Houston, has been developed and tested by the Texas Experiment Station and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

While Houston is limited in use as a fall-seeded oat because it lacks cold weather resistance, it has good disease tolerance, strong straw and is well adapted to spring seeding throughout the area of Texas where spring oats are sown, grain researchers at Texas A&M University explain.

The new variety is a short-stature oat which remains relatively short even under high production levels. Young plant growth is upright and produces early forage. Because of this growth habit, it should not be grazed until well established and should not be grazed or clipped too close to avoid plant damage. Houston has the best straw strength of any variety available in Texas.

Researchers say the grain is of high quality. Kernels are medium to large, are light red in color and have awns that break off easily in threshing.

Disease resistance of Houston has been highly effective during tests but, like all other varieties, it is affected by some types of crown and stem rust. It displays good resistance to culm rot and Victoria blight.

Houston is highly recommended for spring seeding in the North Central Plains, Rolling Plains and High Plains. Its strong straw makes it especially suited to seeding as an irrigated crop.

The new variety should be fall seeded only in the area generally south and east of U. S. Highways 79 and 81 in Texas where diseases are an important factor in oat production.

Foundation seed was released to certified seed growers in South Texas in the fall of 1964. Therefore, a good supply of seed should be available after harvest of the 1965 crop.
