

Last of Old Muleshoe Ranch Land Sells, New Owner Sees Extensive Development

LANDMARK SELLS — This old cookhouse of the Muleshoe Ranch is included in property sold to Medlock Co., Lubbock, this past week. However the building, a Historical Society plaque-bearer, will be retained and improved, the new owner says. (Journal Photo)

The Medlock Co. in Lubbock, operated by Lubbock City Councilman W. E. Medlock, has bought the last of the old Muleshoe ranch land west of Muleshoe. It was announced this week. Purchase price was not revealed, but the land covered in the transaction was described as "being what was left of the J. D. Leftwich property."

Medlock said the area covers 2500 acres of land, starting at the west edge of Muleshoe and extending west for some three miles.

The old ranch headquarters are included in the transaction.

Medlock told the Journal this week that he will sell off approximately half the land which he has bought. He said he will offer "all or a portion of the 1100 or so acres to the city of Muleshoe first," adding: "It would make an ideal park at the west edge of Muleshoe, and I would like to see the city buy it for that purpose. Being a city commissioner in Lubbock, I realize the importance of parks to a city's development and growth."

(The area previously had been suggested as a park site for Muleshoe.)

However, two other possibilities exist: Medlock may sell the land to area farmers or he may offer it to a real estate firm here for development as housing units, a possible shopping center or the like.

He said if the city will buy the 1100 acres he will "make them a very attractive price" on the land. He explained that the land includes one mile of highway frontage.

The balance of the land will be retained for Medlock and his son, Winfred Medlock Jr. He plans to revamp the old headquarters buildings, which also include the old Muleshoe Ranch cookhouse which was dedicated this past summer as a state historical site.

"We plan to build a better road to the headquarters, including the shrine," Medlock said, "and 'doll up' the entire layout. We'll put in an entirely new entrance and a new sign, designating it as the old Muleshoe Ranch."

Medlock said his son will move to Muleshoe as soon as he has completed work on his degree at Texas Tech. He is majoring in animal husbandry. The present foreman, Jack Hicks will be retained as foreman of the ranch. He is the son of the original ranch foreman.

Medlock said he had "always had an eye on the country around Muleshoe. He explained that he and his father came to Muleshoe 38½ years ago when Medlock was only six months old.

"My father worked for a time in that area and we still have many friends there. I think it is interesting that we now own the area which was once part of one of the historic old ranches of west Texas."

He said his son is "eager to finish school and move to the ranch," adding: "He has always been intensely interested in farming, so is very pleased that we have bought the old Muleshoe ranch."

He said the Medlocks also own a larger farm in Lubbock county which they plan to retain.

"I expect I'll spend quite a bit of my time in Muleshoe area also," he concluded.

Cotton May Smash All-Time Record

Grain is Setting Record Yields Here

Bailey county's two biggest crops, grain sorghum and cotton (in that order) are heading toward possible new records this year, and for grain sorghum, the results should be known before long. The reason: Grain sorghum harvest is fast approaching a finish for 1965.

Yields have been high and quality good on the county's 140,000 acres. The county received an allotment of 200,000 acres at the start of the season, according to Charles Daniel, ASCS manager here. However, the final figure is estimated at 140,000 after feed grain programs have sliced away a sizable chunk of the original allotment.

Yields up to 8000 pounds per acre have not been uncommon this year, it was pointed out, and even dryland grain sorghum has been running around a ton to the acre. There was a time when 800 pounds to the acre on dryland was considered a fair yield.

With most of the grain sorghum already combined and with cotton moving toward harvest, farmers already are making haste to prepare for next year's planting. County Agent J. K. Adams pointed out. This preparation process, he pointed out, is ahead of schedule, but as the grain sorghum particularly is stashed away, farmers are running plows behind the other machinery making ready for next year.

About the only other crop left on the 1966 schedule — other than cotton — is carrots. While this county has only a small acreage of carrots, apparently the industry is growing, and possibly more acres will be planted to carrots in 1966 than ever before.

Arvic Grogan has a 25-acre plot of carrots on the Sherman Inman farm, and he is making ready to start harvesting operations. Prospects are good for a high-yielding, high quality crop.

West Texas' newest industry, "Bravo Smokes," had its debut this past week in Hereford, and throughout the area, smokers are puffing away on the new "cigarettes" made entirely of specially-processed lettuce leaves. So far the company, headed by Puzet Tegan a former New York chemist, has been unable to meet the demand for the new nicotine-free smoke.

County Could Pass 115,000-Bale Mark

It's going to be a big year for cotton in Bailey county — from all appearances — and the more optimistic experts foresee a yield of 115,000 bales this year at least — possibly even higher.

This follows the Plains, Texas and National trends, all may see record yields this year when the final count is made.

The trend already has been partially established, even as cotton is only starting to arrive at the gins.

Of the prospects for 1954, County Agent J. K. Adams puts it conservatively like this: "Don't be surprised if the yield is as great as we have ever had before."

The prospects for high yield, possibly record outputs, on both irrigated and dryland farms, Adams says: "The dryland boys expect a few thousand extra bales."

He pointed out that we probably "don't get credit for all the cotton we produce each year, since part of our cotton goes out of the county for processing; however, 115,000 bales is a fair estimate."

Bailey county had an allotment of 96,000 acres at the start of the season this year; however, land "released" by other counties boosted the figure to 203,000 acres, says Charles Daniel, ASCS manager.

United States Department of Agriculture released optimistic prospects reports, setting the national estimate at 15,079,000 bales, and the Texas output at 4,725,000. This is 25,000 bales higher than the Oct. 1 prediction by USDA.

Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

issued its weekend report of 2,218,000 bales for the High Plains cotton output for 1965, an increase from 2,141,000 estimated at the start of October.

The PCG estimate covers the 23-member counties of the association and was compiled by PCG and the Lubbock Cotton Exchange.

The indicated total production rise is attributed to excellent weather conditions for maturing the crop during the past month.

(Here in Bailey county, the weekend rain of .2 inch was not believed to have adversely effected the cotton prospect. Adams said the rains were too gentle to jar the cotton from the open bolls.)

The PCG guesses in past years have proved accurate to within a few percentage points. If the current prognostication is correct, it will mean the third largest crop on record for the 23 counties, less than 5.4 percent below the top crop in 1961 of 2,344,803 bales. Second highest production for this area was in 1962 when 2,328,293 bales were harvested in the 23 counties.

All federal offices will close, it was announced. ASCS, FHA and SCS all will be closed today, and Spencer Beavers, postmaster, said the post office will be closed all day. No mail delivery is planned, either in the city or on the routes, he said, but mail will be "worked" as — See LEGION, Page 8 —

Grid Top Money Goes to Woman

The Journals' top money in the weekly football guessing contest went this past week to a woman, Ruth Malone, 620 W. 7th. She picked all but one of the nine college winners, missing only the Duke-North Carolina State battle.

She also predicted the Muleshoe Mules would be flipped by Hereford Whitefaces in the tie-breaker estimate.

The tie-breaker was necessary to determine the week's winner — See GRID, Page 8 —

Lazbuddie Pair To Celebrate 50th Anniversary

By Mrs. C. A. Watson

LAZBUDDIE — Mr. and Mrs. Claud Meath will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, Nov. 14, at their home in the Lazbuddie area. Their daughter, Mrs. Harvey Hudnall, invites all their friends to attend the reception.

Lazbuddie folks listed on the Petit jury at Farwell this week are John McGehee, Mrs. Charlie Gustin, Clarence Mason, J. B. Jennings, Lee Mason, Ralph Broyles, Alton Morris, Howard Bridges, Earl Peterson, Paul Jones, Truman Gleason, Volley Hodges, Harold Carpenter, Jim Roy Daniel, J. B. Young, W. R. Mabry and George Crain.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Houston visited in Oklahoma last week with her brother, J. T. Bostle of Wanett, and his brothers, Bill at Woodward and Bob at Wanette, Okla.

Weekend guest in the Raymond Houston home was a niece, Judy Jones of Slayton. A former Lazbuddie boy was in serious condition at last hearing in a Houston hospital. Bob Haynes, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Haynes of Dumas, was flown to the Houston hospital after taking seriously ill at his home. He was carried to the Dumas Memorial hospital then to Amarillo N. W. Texas hospital before it was decided he must be rushed by plane to Houston.

Bobby was quarterback on his football team and making plans that day to play when he became sick. Word received Thursday of last week was that he was still seriously ill. Doctors in Houston are making X-rays and tests and say it will be several weeks for Bob in the hospital there. His temperature was 105 last hearing. It has been decided he has a blood disease related to leukemia. His father says the child had never been seriously sick before in his life. He had been an active player in his football games and had played baseball last summer and placed second in a recent YMCA golf tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hinkson were in Houston Thursday of last week to see the father of the boy who was there to attend to needed business that day. Mr. Haynes is a teacher in the Dumas school system. He was high school principal at Lazbuddie a few years ago. Mrs. Haynes is also a teacher in Dumas school. They have been by the bedside of their son almost constantly during his illness.

Barbara Lust was feted with a surprise birthday tea and coffee in the home of her mother, Mrs. Frank Hinkson, Friday a. m. of last week. The women of the Methodist church of Lazbuddie were responsible for the surprise event.

The women of the Lazbuddie Church of Christ went to Portales Thursday of last week to help out with mending and ironing in the children's home there.

The Lazbuddie Junior High and High School basket ball games have proved successful so far. The first was played at Whitharrel there, the next with Anton here and then Whitharrel there. The Lazbuddie girls won all three games. They will play Anton there Nov. 9. Earl Ellis is their coach.

Mr. and Mrs. Harey Ethredge attended the funeral of a friend, Mrs. Cecil Hucabee in Goltwater Friday. Mrs. Hucabee, 39, passed away on Wednesday.

Judy Watson flew to Ft. Holibird, Md. Wednesday of last week where she joined her husband Howard. He has been in Officers Intelligence Training school there for several weeks. The couple plan to go to Washington D.C. to see points of interest there before returning home. Judy caught a plane from Lubbock.

Only 40 voted in the election at Lazbuddie Tuesday of last week.

The Orville Burnetts, Clay's corner, were Sunday dinner guests in the home of the Wayne Moores.

The Midway Variety Club met in the home of Mrs. A. E. Redwine Wednesday, Nov. 3, for an all-day quilting party.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Young attended the homecoming game at Baylor University last week and visited their son, Cooper. Steve was also at the game and met his parents there to be with them over the weekend.

Steve is a student at junior college at Temple. Both Cooper and Steve will be home Friday and Saturday of this week.

B-52's Playing Prominent Role In Vietcong War

By Sen. Jola G. Tower
The fighting in Vietnam generally is thought of as a Guerrilla War, fought by tactical methods. But, Vietnam has, in fact, also taught us a new lesson about the use of strategic aircraft.

The flights our B-52's are making to attack Viet Cong strong points are particularly significant not only in winning this war, but also for our future defense planning.

These huge strategic bombers are so fast that they achieve virtually total surprise. The first thing the Viet Cong knows is that bombs are dropping all around him. These B-52 raids have made it possible for the first time for our forces to penetrate Viet Cong strongholds.

Thus, even in limited war the flexible, manned strategic bomber plays a vital role; a role which augments and complements the big bomber's primary role of nuclear deterrence.

It is strange, indeed, that in the face of these clear facts the Secretary of Defense remains most hesitant to program a future strategic bomber for our defense arsenal.

Presently flying B-52's will be too old to fly and will be out of inventory by 1970. I think we must have ready then another bomber to take their place. Virtually the entire membership of the Armed Services Committee feels this way, and we have urged the Secretary of Defense to get on with work on an advanced manned strategic aircraft — called AMSA.

Unfortunately, even if we were to start tomorrow, it would take us from five to eight years to get a replacement for the B-52's in the air and operational.

Therefore, we are going to need an interim manned bomber to fill the gap between 1970 and the readiness of AMSA. I'm hopeful that the F-111 aircraft now being built in this area can be modified to fulfill this pressing need.

It is fully possible to develop an enlarged version of the F-111 — perhaps called the B-111 — which would maintain our strategic air power during this gap period.

I hope the Secretary of Defense will get on with this B-111 development, and I hope all Texans will become interested in the possibilities since many probably will be helping to build B-111's and thus to assure our nation's continued security and strength.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Of Law and Love Witness Stand Jitters

Right now, cases are pouring into our legal channels at the record rate of half a million each week. One result is a growing likelihood that you yourself, some day soon, will be summoned to the courtroom to

Gil Lamb Speaks At Youth Rally

Gil Lamb spoke at a youth rally held in Littlefield Monday night on alcoholism. The rally was held in the Park View Baptist Church.

The choir from the First Baptist Church here sang a special song.

Refreshments of cokes, sandwiches and potato chips were served to Pat Peterson, Jeanie Beach, Marilyn Barnes, Janette Slayton, Montey Barnes, David Wimberly, Ragena Trieder, Lee Ann Harlin and the sponsor, Mrs. Calvin Beach from the Lazubdee Baptist church.

Program opened with song by group, "Jesus Calls Us" followed by responsive readings from the Methodist hymnal on Mission and Mrs. Young giving the opening prayer.

Mrs. Bahlman, president, conducted a short business meeting. The meeting closed with giving the Lord's prayer in unison.

Attending were Mrs. Harvey Whittenburg, Mrs. Roy Young, Mrs. Paul Young, Mrs. Tommy Kirk, Mrs. F. L. Simmons, Mrs. Charlie Landers.

be a witness. Many people get the jitters at the mere thought. A woman witness was so flustered that, when asked for her age, she gave her bust measurement instead. A man, when asked if he wanted to clarify a point, blurted out that he would "rather depend on the ignorance of the court."

No doubt the very setting of a courtroom helps to frighten the witness. Above him sits the robed judge, majestically representing the awesome might of the Law. In front of him, hanging on his every word, sit the embattled litigants and their attorneys. Stranger in the jury box study him intently to see if he is telling the truth.

Yet, if you should be called upon to testify, you might find reassurance in a few fundamental facts:

1. You are a witness, not an actor. You are not expected to give a smooth performance. Remember that the jurors, too, are in unfamiliar surroundings—likely to know just how you feel. Sincerity, not glossiness, will impress them most.

2. You have powerful allies. One is the lawyer who summons you. And the judge has every reason to be patient and sympathetic. The more he helps you to do your job, the more you are helping him to do his.

3. That big bugaboo, cross-examination, is usually not terrifying. Tell the truth and you have nothing to fear. The slashing, bullying cross-examination so often seen on TV, is seldom seen in court.

After all, a lawyer's cross-examination-like a wife's cross-examination of her tardy husband has one main purpose: to probe for lies. Unless the opposing attorney has good reason to think you are lying, he is not likely to treat you roughly. He would be running too much risk of winding up as a villain in the eyes of the jury. Why not see for yourself? Before your own day in court, visit a courtroom to watch what goes on. For witness stand jitters, familiarity is the best antidote of all.

year is reflected in the first 1965 cotton quality report from PCG. Each year the producer organization published every two weeks a complete analysis of the High Plains crop as it is harvested.

The first report this year shows an increase over the first period last year in cotton staple length from 30.9 thirty-seconds of an inch to 31.4 thirty-seconds. However, this is probably not an indication of the staple picture for the entire season. PCG also pointed out the fact that "a more open-boll, longer-stapled cotton was planted on the Plains this year. The first picking of this type cotton usually done either by hand or with spindle-type pickers before shorter storm-proof cottons are ready for stripping. Therefore, it is likely that the early season average may have been unduly weighted by bales of longer stapled cotton.

"Even so," PCG continues, "there is still reason to hope that the season's staple average will be up to some extent over last year's 30.1 thirty-seconds of an inch. On additional since Sanford Gilbreath, 212 W. 6th, also missed only one result; he missed the Michigan-Illinois setto, but his score on the Muleshoe-H. reford game was slightly farther off base than Ruth Malone's guess. Thus the tie-breaker decided the week's winner.

Mrs. Agee placed a white vase with geeny in the center of a table. She then asked the new president, Ruth Wilson, to come forward and place a white and gold rose in the vase as a symbol the liking to Faith and with faith she would be able through her efforts to be a good president, even though her first duty was to teach in the school as she had promised, when she accepted the job of music teacher. Mrs. Wilson, in turn, explained she would have to work hard as a dedicated teacher and then be a good president for the PTA.

Marlene McDonald, the new secretary, was called to place the white rose in the vase as a likeness to hope. With hope to do better and bigger things, there is always the anchor both sure and steadfast, and with the anchor on will well accomplish well his or her position. Bonnie Hartley placed the lavender rose in the vase as the symbol of patience. With patience one will well accomplish that work with accuracy. Then all is well.

Mrs. Earl Ellis, Homemaking instructor was called to place a pink rose and rose bud to represent service of the faculty, and the cooperation with the student body. Mrs. Agee placed a yellow rose in the vase to symbolize kindness and cooperation between the faculty, parents and students.

Then last Mrs. Agee placed a blue rose in the vase to symbolize the times the officers may get blue but with all the symbol of the God Given attributes placed before the blue rose the P-TA can-not loose. The meeting then adjourned after the new president made forthcoming announcements.
