Today, it's voters' turn to do talking

By GARTH JONES

It's the voters' turn today. After almost a year of some of Texas' most bitter and expensive political campaigning, some candidates will still be out trying for a few more votes before the counting begins Saturday night.

Most polls in the Democratic and Republican primaries open at 7 a. m. and all must close at 7 p. m.

Democratic and GOP precinct conventions, the first step toward the state conventions in September, will be held after balloting stops.

An estimated 1.8 million voters are expected for the Democratic primary, 36 percent of those eligible. About 1.5 million voted in 1974 and 1976.

Republicans expect about 150,000.

A few thousand voters likely will take part in the Raza Unida Party primary, where there are no contested state races.

The big race in both the Democratic and Republican primaries is among candidates hoping to be the next governor of Texas.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe, 55, seeking four more years to give him an unprecedented decade as Texas' governor, is challenged by Attorney General John Hill, 54.

Both were rich before entering politics and both claim there is no need for new taxes the next four years. The agreements stopped there. Hill called Briscoe a do-nothing governor, and Briscoe said Hill was a wild spender.

Both Briscoe and Hill will be out Saturday for last minute efforts to woo big city voters as they arrive at polling places.

A third man in the race, former Gov. Preston Smith, 66, could cause a runoff if he has many supporters.

Also on the Democratic ballot are political unknowns Ray Allen Mayo, 65, of San Juan, and Donald R. Beagle, 36, of Nederland.

In the Republican primary, Bill Clements, 61, wealthy Dallas oil well drilling executive, and Ray Hutchison, 45, Dallas bond lawyer who for merly was state GOP chairman, have fought a hard contest.

Also on the ballot is Clarence G. Thompson, 46, Fort Worth, who made no effort at a statewide campaign.

The other big Democratic primary duel is between U.S. Rep. Bob Krueger, 42, champion of the oil and gas industry, and Joe Christie, 44, El Paso, former state insurance board chairman.

The winner meets Sen. John Tower, R-Texas, a 17 year incumbent with conservative friends in both parties.

Still another hot statewide race is the Democratic battle for attorney general between Price Daniel Jr., 36, Liberty, former Texas House speaker, and Mark White, 38, Houston, former secretary of state.

The surviving Democrat meets Republican Jim Baker, 47, Houston atorney who was President Gerald Ford's campaign manager.

Texas voters also will be picking party nominees for 24 seats in Congress including replacements for Reps. George Mahon, W. R. Poage, Omar Burleson and Olin Teague, four of the state's oldest and most powerful Democratic lawmakers, who are retiring. Also not seeking re-election is Rep. Barbara Jordan, D-Houston, who was a member of the House Judiciary Committee during the Watergate investigation and keynote speaker at the 1976 Democratic national convention.

A Democratic runoff is considered likely in the four man race for an unexpired term on the Texas Railroad Commission. Candidates are recently appointed Commissioner John Poerner, 46, Jerry Sadler, 70, Grape-land, former railroad commissioner and state land commissioner, Jake Johnson, 46, Round Rock, former state representative, and Ray Lemmon 51, Houston attorney and former state legislator. The Republican candidate is James W. Lacy of Midland.

Railroad Commission Chairman Mack Wallace, 48, Democrat, is seeking his first full term. His opponent is John Thomas Henderson, 71, Austin, who has done little campaigning.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, 45, is highly favored in his race with three Democrats. None of them, including Hobby, campaigned widely. The challengers are James L. McNeese Jr., 61, Dallas, Troy Skates, 65, Leander, and John Hill Westbrook, 30, Tyler. The Republican candidate is Gaylord Marshall, 43, Dallas.

Recently appointed State Treasurer Warren G. Harding, 56, former Dallas County treasurer, had a hot campaign with Harry Ledbetter, 33, Austin, former deputy state comptroller. Also in the race is Charlie Sanderson, 48, San Antonio accountant. Agriculture Commissioner Reagan Brown, 56, appointed by Briscoe, is in an active Democratic race with state Rep. Joe A. Hubenak, 40, Rosenberg. Also in the race is Don Sewell, 48, Nocona.

Judge Jim Vollers 47, an appointee to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, is opposed by Austin attorney Sam Houston Clinton, 54. Both are Democrats.

Judge W.C. Davis, 55, another appointee to the court of criminal appeals, is opposed by Houston attorney Marvin Teague 44.

The Democratic candidates for the vacancy on the Texas Supreme Court are San Antonio District Judge Franklin Spears, 46, and District Judge O'Neal Bacon, 57, of Newton.

Supreme Court Associate Justice T.C. Chadick, 67, is opposed by Robert Campbell, 42, Waco attorney.

No signs of progress apparent at halfway mark of Bonn summit

By MICHAEL GETLER
The Washington Post

BOON, West Germany — Lengthy private talks here Friday between Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev

Thursday, German sources said the 71-year-old Soviet leader used the entire scheduled one-hour meeting with Schmidt by reading a lengthy prepared statement. The chancellor had to extend the meeting 15 minutes to get in a reply.

There is great interest here in and West German Chancellor Helmut Schmidt centered on disarmament but yielded no signs of progress and apparently included a Soviet refusal to trade any of its military superiority in Europe for a U.S. ban on neutron weapons.

After the second day of a four-day German-Soviet summit, spokesmen for both sides indicated little progress was made on questions dealing with Berlin, which the Germans view as a key measure of Soviet good will.

There were also some German words of caution with respect to trends in trade between the two European powers, a subject that is of central interest to the Kremlin.

Friday's talks lasted two and a half hours, twice as long as the first day, and German spokesmen described them as "a real dialogue." This was in sharp contrast to what was for Brezhnev and his German hosts, a strange opening day on Thursday.

Brezhnev's ailing health, and repeatedly arms and hands of Soviet aides or German hosts have reached out to steady him or help him. A widely reproduced newspaper photo showed him being helped to his feet by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko when he had difficulty getting out of a chair.

Friday morning, Brezhnev showed away photographers, telling an aide, "we can do without them" and then asking impatiently, "Where is Schmidt?" But during the day, he seemed to recapture his more jovial gestures and there was no indication that the lengthy discussions were too much for him.

Though both leaders have stressed the great improvement in Soviet-German relations in recent years, the overriding importance of detente to the peoples of central and eastern Europe, and have generally attempted to create a good mood for these talks, the differences, especially on disarmament, are being made clear publicly and there is no sign yet of any change in positions.

In a luncheon address, Schmidt stressed what are both German and NATO concerns about the disparity in Warsaw Pact military strength arrayed against West in terms of both ground armies and intermediate-range missiles targeted on Europe. A balance of forces was necessary for political military stability, he said.

Schmidt expressed the hope that a new U.S. Soviet Strategic Arms Limitations Agreement would be forth coming soon and that this would then lead to reductions in armies and in the intermediate-range missiles at the East-West troop reduction talks in Vienna. The chancellor said Bonn was ready to take part in whatever troop reduction steps are agreed upon in Vienna.

But at a news briefing following the private talks, Soviet spokesman Leonid Zamyatin, under questioning, indicated that the Kremlin was not prepared to allow the United States or NATO to use the neutron bomb as a bargaining chip in either the SALT or troop reduction forums.

Asked specifically whether the controversial new U.S. developed weapon could be dealt with at SALT or in Vienna, Zamyatin stressed Brezhnev's position that the neutron weapon was "clearly a weapon of mass destruction" and therefore should be banned internationally under a resolution covering such weapons which the Soviets will propose at the special United Nations session on disarmament later this month.

Crash kills road worker

CRANE — A Crane County employee died Saturday after the truck he was driving crashed into a sand bank and overturned approximately 20 miles northwest of Crane.

Elias Williams, 55, was driving a truck loaded with caliche on a caliche surface county road when he apparently lost control of the vehicle and crashed into the sand bank, said Sheriff Raymond Weatherly. He said the truck overturned.

An autopsy has been ordered to determine cause of death, the sheriff said.

Williams was an employee of the county Road and Bridge Department.

15-year-old girl dies before decision reached

HOUSTON (AP) — Kitty Pence, 15, died Friday, hours after her parents had said they knew she was "technically dead."

The blonde hazel-eyed ninth grader from Rosenberg had been injured Tuesday in a motorcycle accident. Doctors said tests showed no brain activity and that her heart continued to beat only because of life support systems.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Pence, with their pastor at their side, prayed Thursday night for guidance on whether to have the life support systems removed.

"Technically, she's dead," Mrs. Pence said.

Friday afternoon, a spokesman at Hermann Hospital announced that Kitty had died at 2:55 p.m. The spokesman could not say whether the life support systems had been removed prior to death.

Mrs. Pence said Friday, "God is the only one who can help us decide. If we turn them (life support systems) off, it will be God's decision, not all ours."

"And you wouldn't believe the people who have called and come over, people we didn't even know. Ten churches held special prayer meetings for her," she said.

Kitty borrowed a friend's motorcycle for a short ride when the bike went out of control and smashed into a tree.

Scott Dicus, 13, riding a motorcycle behind Kitty, administered cardiopulmonary resuscitation techniques he had learned just two weeks earlier until the ambulance arrived.

She was taken to a Houston hospital and placed in the intensive-care unit.

Mrs. Pence said the doctors "will leave her on the machinery as long as we wish, but they say it is no use. God must decide."

Carter says AMA 'major obstacle'

By BROOKS JACKSON

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — President Carter denounced the American Medical Association on Friday as "the major obstacle to progress in our country to having a better health care system in years gone by."

At a town meeting in Spokane and earlier Friday at a curbside news conference in Portland, Ore., the president said repeatedly that both doctors and lawyers care individually about their clients and patients, but tend to come together in organizations that serve their own selfish ends.

The president was continuing a theme he struck a day earlier in a sharply worded lecture to the Los Angeles Bar Association. There, he said lawyers tend to represent the interests of privileged classes and have too often obstructed progress toward civil rights and social justice.

In Spokane, speaking to a group of 1,750 persons at a "town meeting" that was the final event in his three-day trip to the West, the president turned his fire on the medical profession.

Four more messages signal fate of Moro

By HILMI TOROS

ROME (AP) — Four identical messages attributed to the Red Brigades said Friday the terrorists were "carrying out" the death sentence against kidnapped former Premier Aldo Moro because the government has refused to bargain for his life.

But "Communique No. 9" did not say specifically that the 61-year-old Moro had been killed.

Justice Minister Paolo Bonifacio said he regarded the statement as authentic but speculated it might be a ploy by the ultra-leftist terrorists to heighten tension in the country. "However, everything is possible," he added.

Police said they had an anonymous telephone tip about the location of Moro's body and sent investigators to the seaside resort community of Terracina, 60 miles south of Rome where the Moro family has a summer home. They said the search was fruitless and they believed the tip was a hoax, adding that the massive search for the kidnapped politician would continue.

The method of releasing the latest messages simultaneously in four cities and the kind of typewriter used were the same as for previous Red Brigades' messages that were judged authentic.

"We conclude the battle which began March 16 by carrying out the verdict to which Aldo Moro has been sentenced," the statement said.

Moro, president of Italy's ruling Christian Democrat Party, was kidnapped March 16 by a dozen terrorists who killed his five police bodyguards, and the terrorists later said a "people's trial" had "sentenced" him to death.

The latest statement, carrying Friday's date, did not use the past tense — to say Moro had been already been killed. It was in the present tense, opening the way to different interpretations.

A purported terrorist announcement April 18 of Moro's "execution" later was disowned by the Red Brigades, who then made public a photograph showing him alive. That "communique" said the body had been dumped in a mountain lake, but a massive search of the area by authorities proved fruitless.

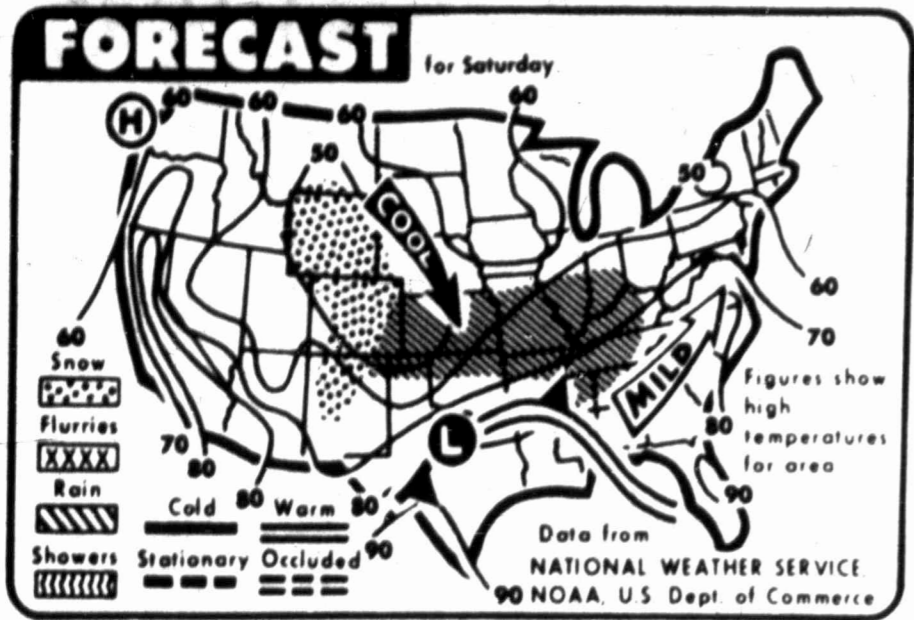

The latest message said the Marxist revolutionary guerrillas had given the ruling Christian Democrat Party "a possibility, the only one practicable... for the freeing of Aldo Moro" — to release 13 jailed terrorists.

"In these 51 days the reply of the Christian Democrats, and its government, and the accomplices which support it has arrived in all clarity," the message said. It said the government's refusal to negotiate made it necessary to carry out the "sentence."

The death message came only a few hours after a National Security Council meeting in which the Christian Democrat government rejected a Socialist proposal to free some minor, non-terrorist criminals from Italian jails to induce his captors to release Moro.

Mondale pledges aid to refugees

By DAVID LAWTON Special to The Washington Post

BANGKOK, Thailand — Vice President Mondale, in what he called "one of the most moving experiences" of his Asian journey, Friday shouldered his way through a crowded refugee shelter here, listening to first-person accounts of terror, mass murder, and daring escapes from Communist Indochina.

He emerged pledging action and money to aid the refugees. "The refugee problem is a product of the most pressing and tragic human rights problems in the world today," the vice president declared.

Officials from the vice president's party and from the U.S. Embassy in Bangkok noted that many of the refugees already in Thailand stand little chance of going to America or other countries, even with the 20,000 figure.

THAI OFFICIALS showed Mondale a map marking the locations of 13 much larger refugee camps outside Bangkok. Those camps now shelter a total of 102,093 refugees from Cambodia, Vietnam and Laos.

"When I return to America," the vice president pledged later in the day, "I will look into the possibility of speeding up the admission of refugees."

During talks with Thai Prime Minister Kriangsak Chomanan, Mondale expressed the U.S. government's intention to admit 15,000 to 20,000 refugees yearly "for several years" from Thai camps.

That number would come with the total of about 25,000 refugees that the administration recently said it will admit each year from Asia.

MONDALE also announced Friday that the United States intends to allocate about $2 million for a "substantial assistance effort" aimed at helping refugees still left within Thailand.

Controversial general replaced

By DIAL TORGERSON The Los Angeles Times

JERUSALEM — Amid praise from local Arab leaders, a new general was sworn in Friday to replace the one sacked for covering up a tear gas attack on a West Bank school.

When Brig. Gen. David Hagoel was transferred Wednesday from his job as the head of the military government on the West Bank, it was the first time an Israeli general had been fired for conveying erroneous information.

His replacement, Col. Mishne Bin-yamin Ben-Eliezer, was promoted Friday to general. He has already taken over from Hagoel, who left his office, an underling joked, as if via an ejection seat.

The sharp crackdown on Hagoel and two other West Bank officers won Defense Minister Ezer Weizman praise in both Israel and the West Bank for correcting an abuse and admitting a wrong. Wrote the East Jerusalem Arab language daily Al-Quds, "We hope that Weizman's courageous initiative is the start of a new period vis a vis the Arab citizens of the occupied territories, at least from the humane aspect."

BUT IT WAS unclear, still, whether Weizman's action spelled out a change in Israeli techniques for controlling dissidents in the occupied territory or was merely the imposition of discipline in a case where the Israeli defense forces were clearly wrong.

Israeli military sources now admit that March 21, at Beit Jala, an Arab-populated city in former Jordanian territory five miles south of Jerusalem, soldiers entered a school and threw tear gas grenades into classrooms. Ten teen-agers reportedly suffered broken legs and ankles by jumping from upper floor windows to escape.

Under occupation regulations, Israeli troops are forbidden to enter Arab schools in the West Bank. When the first stories appeared here the Israeli authorities denied the soldiers entered the school. After an Israeli reporter investigated and cast serious doubts on the denial, Weizman ordered another investigation. This time it reported that the incident had occurred much as described in the stories and that Hagoel's office had passed on erroneous information.

WEIZMAN ORDERED Hagoel transferred — he was this week reported to be considering resigning from the army — and a lieutenant colonel and a major under his command were reprimanded. "Justice has triumphed," said the headmaster of the school where the incident occurred. "Apparently the authorities had the truth and could not get away with it."

Let Gen. Raphael Eitan, new Israeli chief of staff, is a strict disciplinarian and took part in reaching the decisions with Weizman. Some observers feel the crackdown on the officers was inspired more by the breach of proper military reporting than by an attempt to punish the persons responsible for the original incident. Weizman was getting the credit, however, and it is believed Ben-Eliezer will carry out a policy closer to Weizman's than that of his predecessor. Hagoel and Weizman had a well-noted difference of opinion when the minister went to the West Bank city of Ramallah and personally straightened out a number of issues long pending between Mayor Karim Khalaf, an outspoken proponent of the Palestinian Liberation Organization, and Hagoel.

Theft of racing pigeons reported

Police are investigating the theft of eight racing homer pigeons, valued at approximately $400 by their owner. Bob Sheppard of the 4600 block of Comanche Drive told police that sometime between 3 and 4:30 p.m. Thursday, someone stole four pigeons belonging to him and four belonging to his brother, Jim Shepard. Officers said entry was gained by bending back the wire on the loft.

2,000 expected to cast votes today

About 10,000 Midland County voters are expected to go to the polls today to select Democratic and Republican nominees for state and county offices.

Midland County Republican Chairman Bill Shaner said he originally had predicted a turnout of 5,000 in the primary, "and I just hate to change it (the prediction)." However, a high absentee ballot may foreshadow a higher turnout than that, he added.

Darrell Smith, Democratic county chairman, predicted 5,000 to 6,000 voters in the Democratic primary. Voters will select nominees for U.S. senator, governor, 19th Congressional District seat, and a host of other statewide offices. On the county level, the ballot will list candidates for county judge, two county commissioner posts, two district judgeships, county clerk, district clerk, county treasurer, peace justice and county surveyor. None of the candidates for those offices face opposition within the party primaries, however.

Both county chairmen expressed hope for a large turnout. "Wouldn't it be nice if we could have a turnout for both primaries equal to the general election (total vote)?" Shaner said.

Marquardt named to top energy position

Texs Electric Service Co. President Bill Marquardt, formerly of Midland, this week was elected president of the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation at a meeting in Corpus Christi. Also elected at the annual meeting were three vice presidents of the foundation, Durwood Chalker of West Texas Utilities Co., E. K. Wall of El Paso Electric Co. and J. F. Skelton of Texas Power & Light. Howard R. Drew of Texas Utilities was re-elected executive vice president and secretary of the foundation. The foundation was formed by investor-owned electric utilities in 1957 as a non-profit organization to promote the development of energy resources, particularly nuclear energy, through scientific and education activities. "Through nuclear fusion research, the tremendous energy of the sun and stars may eventually be harnessed to produce electricity," Marquardt said. "However, many obstacles remain to be overcome in developing this new technology."

Laker gets LA route

LONDON (AP) — Freddie Laker, the independent British airline operator who pioneered walk-on, cut-price Skytrain flights between London and New York, won the right Friday to open a new Skytrain route to Los Angeles. The British Civil Aviation Authority gave Laker Airways a license for a single-class, no-frills service three times a week between Los Angeles and Gatwick Airport, 30 miles south of London. The first flight to Los Angeles will be Sept. 26. The London-Los Angeles Skytrain fare from Oct. 1 to June 30 will be 84 pounds — $155. In the peak period July 1-Sept. 30 the fare will rise to 96 pounds, or $178.

High in 70s likely today

Cooler weather and gusty winds are expected to greet Midlanders as they go to the polls today, and there is a slight chance they may see some rain. The National Weather Service at Midland Regional Air Terminal forecasts partly cloudy skies through Sunday, with temperatures turning cooler. Today's high is expected to reach the upper 70s, with a low to night in the mid-40s and a high Sunday near 70. Winds are predicted at 15 to 25 mph and gusty today. There is a 20 percent chance of rain today and tonight. Friday's high reached 89 degrees, and the low was 50 degrees. Area cities Friday night reported warm and clear skies for the most part, although Andrews and Lamesa had some clouds and blowing sand.

Playday set at Lamesa

LAMESA — The annual Dawson County 4-H Open Invitational Playday will be held May 27 at the county rodeo arena here, announced George H. Kimbriel, assistant county extension agent. The playday is open to 4-H'ers in neighboring counties. Judging the horsemanship in the day-long event that begins at 9 a.m. will be Doug May of Fort Stockton. Competition will be in three age categories: pee wee, junior and senior. Prizes will include a hand-tooled saddle each for the overall high-point junior and senior contestants; halters to first-place winners; a cooler sheet each to the grand champion mare and gelding and reserve champion mare and gelding; hand-tooled breast harnesses and ribbons to those placing in the top 10 in the pee wee, junior and senior categories. Those wishing to enter the playday may obtain entry forms from area county extension offices, Kimbriel said. Entries may be mailed to Mrs. Albert Culp, 1608 N. 14th St., Lamesa.

Laker gets LA route

LONDON (AP) — Freddie Laker, the independent British airline operator who pioneered walk-on, cut-price Skytrain flights between London and New York, won the right Friday to open a new Skytrain route to Los Angeles. The British Civil Aviation Authority gave Laker Airways a license for a single-class, no-frills service three times a week between Los Angeles and Gatwick Airport, 30 miles south of London. The first flight to Los Angeles will be Sept. 26. The London-Los Angeles Skytrain fare from Oct. 1 to June 30 will be 84 pounds — $155. In the peak period July 1-Sept. 30 the fare will rise to 96 pounds, or $178.

Trial jury deadlocked in Waddill murder trial

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — The jury in the Dr. William Waddill baby murder trial said Friday it was hopelessly deadlocked, but the judge ordered jurors to resume deliberations anyway. One juror had asked to continue deliberations, saying that perhaps if there was "clarification from the court" a verdict could be reached. Waddill is accused of strangling an infant who survived an unsuccessful abortion.

The judge polled each juror, and the 11 others all said they felt a verdict was impossible. The deadlock was 9 to 3, but it was not known whether it was for acquittal or conviction. The judge retired to his chambers to confer with attorneys on whether further talks should be ordered, then came back to court and ordered deliberations to resume.

The juror who suggested that further deliberation might help — Frank Darling of Laguna Beach — told the judge he thought what was needed was "deliberation with clarification from the court." It probably would have to be testimony, and a definition of testimony, he told the judge. After the judge and lawyers conferred in chambers, the judge told Darling: "The court and counsel don't know what you mean by 'definition of testimony.'"

He ordered Darling to put his request in writing with more specifics on what he means. It was Darling who asked Wednesday in open court for the judge to repeat a new definition of death involving death of the brain. He appeared confused about its importance to the evidence. The definition said: "There can be death if a person has suffered a total and irreversible cessation of brain function."

The jury asked Thursday for further definitions of terms involving brain function, but the judge told them all he could do was have testimony read that related to the subject. Waddill and his wife, Janet, appeared dejected as the jury's deadlock was announced. It had seemed earlier that the jury was close to reaching a verdict when it decided against rehearing expert medical testimony on the nature of brain function.

One of the jurors, Kathy Davis of Fullerton, plans to be married Saturday, and the jury appeared to be working toward freeing her for her honeymoon. If a verdict was not reached Friday, the newlywed juror would have to return for deliberations Monday.

The jury of nine men and three women withdrew a request early Friday to hear the testimony of a doctor reread. They changed their minds about it after hearing it would take most of the day for the reading. Orange County Superior Court Judge James K. Turner summoned the panel to his courtroom at mid-morning and expressed concern that they were putting time ahead of other considerations in making their decision.

He said he found out one juror had quizzed the court clerk about the length of time it would take for reading testimony. "Time is not an element that you should consider," he told them. "If any or all of you want to hear the doctor's testimony we'll give it to you, but please don't consider time as an element."

He then sent the jurors back to their deliberations, but they sent no further word of a desire to hear anything more. The defense team was disappointed in their change of heart, because the testimony they had requested was considered favorable to Waddill.

It was the testimony of Dr. John Menkes, a UCLA pediatric neurologist who said the baby Waddill is accused of killing was probably dead before he ever saw it. Waddill, 42, whose obstetrics practice was the largest in Orange County, is charged with murder in the death of Baby Girl Weaver after she survived a saline abortion.

Waddill is accused of strangling an infant who survived an unsuccessful abortion. The juror who suggested that further deliberation might help — Frank Darling of Laguna Beach — told the judge he thought what was needed was "deliberation with clarification from the court." It probably would have to be testimony, and a definition of testimony, he told the judge. Betty Ford leaves naval hospital

By ROBERT LOCKE

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Former first lady Betty Ford, smiling broadly, left Long Beach Naval Hospital on Friday after nearly four weeks of treatment for addictions to alcohol and medication.

Mrs. Ford, wearing a tan dress and carrying a gold-wrapped package, left the hospital shortly before 4:30 p.m. PDT. She did not talk to reporters, but when asked how she felt, she simply replied "just fine."

Looking slightly tired, Mrs. Ford waved to nearly 40 reporters and photographers and entered a waiting car. A handful of spectators applauded softly as she made her exit. She was accompanied by Secret Service agents.

More than 200 attending convention

More than 200 legal secretaries from throughout the state are attending the Texas Association of Legal Secretaries convention at the Midland Hilton this weekend.

The convention, hosted by the Midland Legal Secretaries Association, started Thursday night and ends Sunday with a farewell breakfast.

Events scheduled for today include reports from committee chairmen, election of officers for 1979, and selection of the 1979 convention site.

The day's activities will climax with a reception and banquet tonight, when 1979 officers will be installed.

No members of her family were present. A spokeswoman said former president Gerald R. Ford and the couple's children were at the Ford home in Rancho Mirage near Palm Springs.

Mrs. Ford, 60, was traveling by car to her home about 100 miles east of here, the spokeswoman said. Bob Barrett, a Ford family spokesman called Mrs. Ford's treatment at the hospital a complete success, saying "she's in magnificent health."

He added, however, "There is, of course, the need for continued awareness, as there is with any kind of chemical dependence."

To maintain that awareness, Barrett said, Mrs. Ford is considering weekly or monthly group activities.

Mrs. Ford was admitted to the hospital's alcohol and drug rehabilitation center April 10 with what was described then as "a problem with medication." For years she has suffered from painful arthritis and a pinched nerve in her neck and was taking several prescription drugs, Barrett has said. "I was overmedicating myself," she said in a statement shortly after entering the hospital.

A subsequent statement said, "I have found I am not only addicted to the medication I have been taking for my arthritis but also to alcohol."

Details of her treatment have not been discussed. Dr. Joseph Pursch, who heads the center, said it involves "a recovery plan in which we help them find a way of life in which they will not use medication or alcohol."

Escapee indicates car could reveal more crimes

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — One of two Oklahoma prison escapees convicted of murder in Arkansas told a Logan County sheriff where to find a car with the bodies of two fishermen in it and then said the discovery would link him and his companion to another murder, the sheriff said.

In a telephone interview with a reporter at Oklahoma City radio station KEBC, Logan County Sheriff William "Dub" Hamilton said Paul Ruiz has been slowly revealing details about the multi-state crime spree he and Earl Van Denton went on before their recapture.

The men have been convicted of the murders of an Arkansas town marshal and a park ranger and are facing several other murder charges.

Last weekend, investigators fished a car containing the bodies of two elderly fishermen from a pond near Franklinton, La.

"He did tell me where that car was — where the bodies were," Hamilton said.

The sheriff said Ruiz also told him the men had not been shot, but were put in the trunk of the car and driven into the gravel pit pond to drown.

"I talked to him several times when I transported him back and forth to court," Hamilton said. "He just talked a little more each time."

The information wasn't given in any attempt to get a lighter sentence, the sheriff said.

"He just kind of acted like it wouldn't do any good if he kept them hid," Hamilton said. Ruiz, when he revealed the car's location, said: "and when you find it, that will link us to another murder," the sheriff said.

The car was being driven by a Sallisaw, Okla., area youth when he disappeared June 25, 1977, en route to a dance. Hamilton said Ruiz has not told investigators where to find the body of the missing man, Gerald Tiffie.

Information from Ruiz will probably be used in prosecution of Louisiana murder cases arising from the deaths of the fishermen and a motorcyclist.

When other candidates promise to spend more money, the money they're talking about is yours.

One of the Democratic candidates for Governor this year thinks he's discovered the secret of how to win votes and influence Texans.

Just tell the voters what they want to hear. Promise them anything but get their vote.

But who is going to pay for these promises if John Hill is elected Governor? Whose money is this big-spender going to be spending?

Yours. Where is this money going to come from?

From higher taxes and new taxes, specifically a State income tax. On you.

But you do have a choice. You don't have to choose a big spender. Because there is one man who believes that the people of Texas are already overtaxed.

That man is Dolph Briscoe. You don't have to vote for a governmental activist. Because there is one man who believes in governmental restraint.

That man is Dolph Briscoe. And you don't have to support a big-government advocate. Because there is one man who believes that government is already too big.

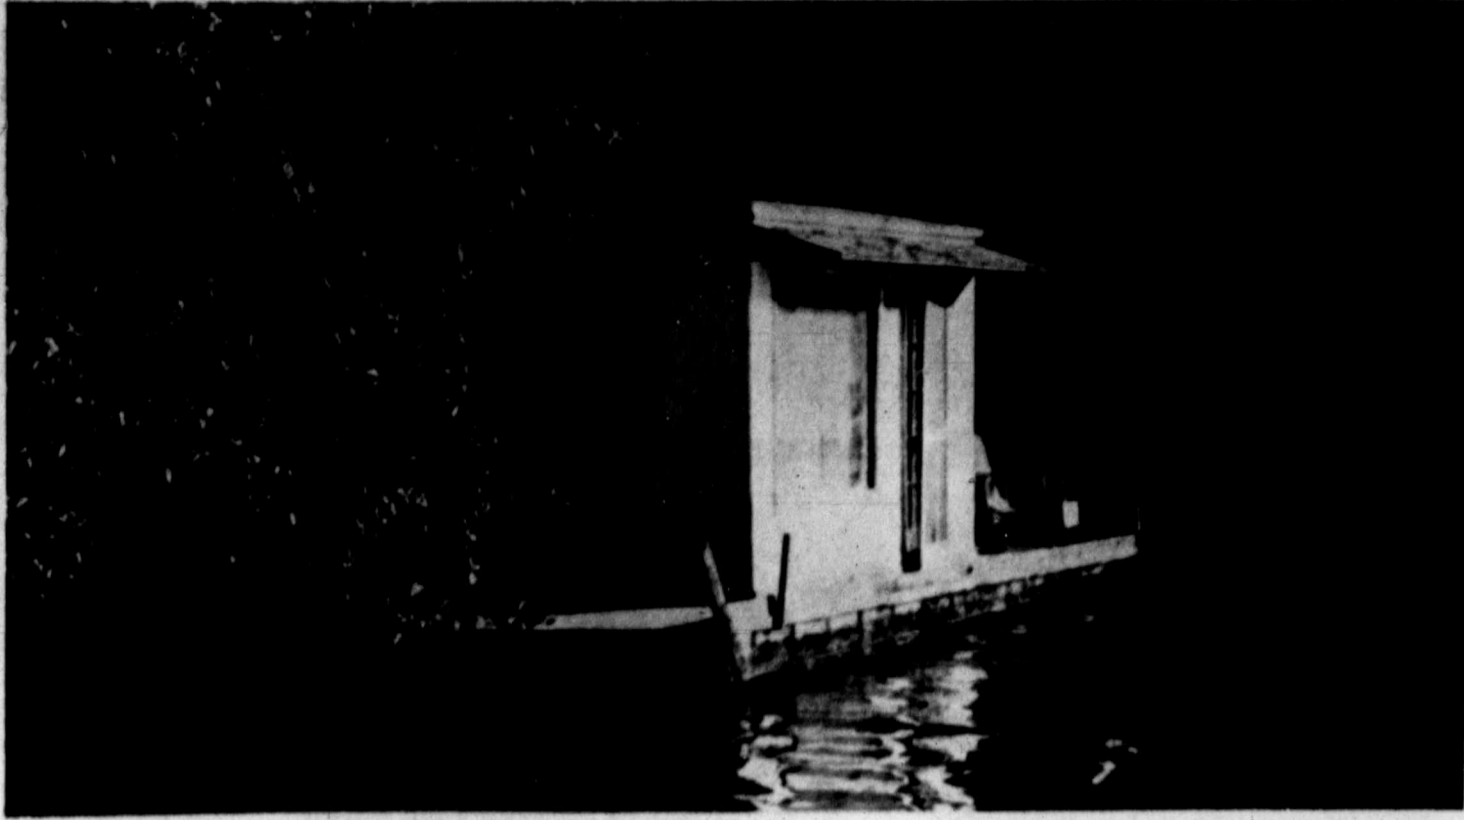

That man is Dolph Briscoe.

To assure the future of Texas without a State income tax, let's keep the candidate with the proven record. Let's keep Dolph Briscoe as our Governor.

California Delta provides haven for river rat breed

By NEIL MORGAN
Copley News Service

STOCKTON, Calif. — islands have towns, none larger than about 1,000 residents. No major highways cross it, and those that do are in a hurry to avoid its quiet land where grass is still what farmers call cable ferries.

Some islands are devoted to farming and others are owned by affluent city dwellers or corporations; these are inhabited by foremen and laborers living in barracks.

Others, like Bethel, are over a $700 million peripheral canal that would drastically affect the Delta's future, old river rats live on in private gun clubs.

One day last fall I took a flask of rum and went to visit Case, a grizzled old salt with flying red hair who lived here for more than 40 years aboard the Virginia S.

A raspy roar welcomed me to the best place in the world.

"I worked on tugboats for awhile. It was a rough life then, bad hours. I sailed square-riggers in Shanghai and Navy boats off Siberia. But since I first saw the Delta, way back in 1906, it's been my true love."

His sideboard held old medals, scrapbooks and a photo of himself at 14, in his first sailor uniform. He kept up a full-size when she was with the Coast and Geodetic Survey," he said as we poured glasses.

"They had to retire her about 1935. I always liked her, so I bought her. She's nothing fancy, but she's paid for. She's been kind to me. She might get out of line a bit, but she's better company than a woman 'cause she don't talk."

Case said he's never known whether he was born in New York, Honolulu or Des Moines, but he thought the year was 1892. At that, he's 20 years older than the Virginia S.

"I've been every damn place there is," he said. "Amsterdam, Rotterdam and every other damn dam. But this little port is the best place in the world."

He dismissed his audience waters of the two rivers and invited me down a flow westward to San Francisco Bay and the with a nine-foot ceiling. Golden Gate.

About 1,100 miles of carved cabinets of levees rim 55 islands mahogany.

"I worked this boat island. Only nine of the from California to Alaska bathtub and the refrigerator he built 40 years ago when he couldn't find one that would go through the galley door.

A square dining table held a ragged guest book for the strangers who dropped by to talk. Summer is a busy time, he said, but winter can be lonely in the Delta. A few friends checked in regularly and did his shopping.

But the camaraderie of the nearby Lost Isle Club was lost to him for three months in winter.

"It wouldn't be a serious handicap, but the bar isn't open," he said with a broad wink.

For years Case told anyone who would listen that he would someday sail the Virginia S. across the Delta and downriver to San Francisco. Her engine room gleamed around a 200-horsepower engine, but she was a musty museum piece.

"I wasn't feeling too well for awhile, and I got behind," Case said when I last saw him. "But I'm gonna get the Virginia all fixed up, polished and painted and real presentable. Next time you come to call she'll be so beautiful you won't know her, and I'll greet you in striped pants and a top hat."

It was a dream, the dream of a river rat. Tom Case has gone to a rest home, now, no longer able to manage alone. And the other day they came and towed out the Virginia S. With her master gone, she was a derelict.

Red tape slash saves wine

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Gov. Robert Bennett cut through red tape to liberate 15 cases of French wine, five days before the French delegation that sent it to Wichita was to arrive in the city.

The wine — a gift of Wichita's sister city, Orleans — became entangled in Kansas' compli-ated liquor laws. The 180 bottles of French Vouvray Mousseux white wine were impounded by the U.S. Customs Service because the gallonage and enforcement taxes had not been paid.

Wichita officials offered to pay the $50 in taxes. But an attorney for the state Alcoholic Beverage Control office said the state's liquor law prohibited that.

Bennett then signed a bill forwarded to him by the legislature Thursday that allows the city to pay the tax.

Youngsters learn Shakespeare fun

By IKE FLORES

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Shakespeare — as dramatists are fond of pointing out — reaches out and grabs the masses as well as the cultural elite.

The power of the Great Bard is being proven by a small but determined traveling troupe which brings Shakespeare to Central Florida schools and underdeveloped areas where audiences would normally cringe at the mention of his name.

Dr. Stuart Omans is creator, producer, director and mover of the dozen or so players in the Simply Shakespeare troupe.

Omans, associate professor of English at Florida Technological University, is in his fifth year of demonstrating with the students that Shakespeare can be fun while being serious. Their intent, they say, is to present the "simple humanity of Shakespeare."

Army ROTC program gaining new interest to collegians

FORT MONROE, Va. (AP) — College students around the country are showing renewed interest in Army Reserve Officers Training Corps, says Maj. Gen. Charles C. Rogers, deputy chief of staff for ROTC at the Army's Training and Doctrine Command here.

"Whatever the motive — to receive a commission as second lieutenant in the U.S. Army; to be awarded a merit scholarship; or to develop leadership and management skills — students are enrolling in Army ROTC, which is making a strong comeback," says Rogers.

plus more than 600 other schools which offer the program through cross-enrollment.

"In the past five years the program has been overhauled and given a new approach," the general says. "For example, the academic curriculum has been thoroughly and thoughtfully revised to meet the needs of today's college students in terms of their field of study and future careers. Emphasis is placed on leadership and managerial skills.

"We provide a stimulating challenge for our students — not just an intellectual challenge but a physical one as well," adds Rogers, noting that one of the most popular programs developed in recent years is Adventure Training.

Adventure Training includes instruction in rubber rafting, mountain climbing, survival training, rappelling and orienteering. Rappelling is controlled descent down a rope from high cliffs such as mountains, cliffs and helicopters. Orienteering is a relatively new sport that takes boredom out of cross-country running. The objective is for the participants, known as orienteers, to navigate themselves over rugged and mapped-out terrain with the aid of a topographical map and compass.

Another attraction of Army ROTC is the scholarship program, Rogers points out. The four-, three- and two-year merit scholarships are available to qualified students on a competitive basis. These scholarships pay the entire tuition, plus the cost of textbooks, laboratory fees and other education expenses. In addition, ROTC scholarships provide a living allowance of as much as $1,000 a year, each year the scholarship is in effect.

Open beach law violations cited

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, Texas (AP) — An assistant state attorney general says he saw a "surprising" number of apparent violations of the open beaches law during a day-long tour here.

Jose Uranga of the environmental protection division of the attorney general's office in San Antonio said several area developers will probably be sued by the state for violation of the statute.

Uranga said the 1959 state law prohibits building in the area between the mean low tide point and the vegetation line on the beach.

One previous legal action filed against a South Padre Island developer was settled out of court, he said.

"The thing that surprises me is that despite the previous suit the developers seem to be ignoring the law. I'm quite surprised that there is this much development in violation," Uranga said Thursday.

The assistant attorney general spent Wednesday here making measurements with a local parks and wildlife ranger. Uranga said the number of suits to be filed will be determined after he sees aerial photographs of the shoreline.

The investigation was prompted by complaints from local citizens.

Uranga said suits will probably be filed against developers of existing structures and builders with proposed projects in apparent violation.

While the courts will decide what should be done to existing buildings in violation, Uranga said the state will ask that owners of such property be prohibited from making any additions or repairs.

He said the state will seek restraining orders to prevent work on new buildings in violation.

drop, it was clear that South would have to lose a diamond and a spade. The contract would depend on limiting the loss in the clubs to one trick.

HELP FROM THE ENEMY
If declarer led clubs from dummy, West would get two club tricks. If South led a diamond, the result would be the same: East would take the king of diamonds and return a club.

Declarer found this answer by picking this moment to lead the jack of spades. This gave West only the spade trick that he was sure to win sooner or later.

The important point was that this was the moment when West had only black cards left in his hand. If West returned a club, South's king would win a trick; and if West returned a spade, dummy would ruff while South discarded a club.

Either way, South would score game and rubber.

DAILY QUESTION
Partner deals and bids one heart. The next player passes. You hold: S-K762; H-5; D-K109; C-109862. What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one spade. Since the hand is worth a response, show your suit, such as it is. A response of one in a new suit promises only 6 points. Your partner may hope that you have more, but that is all he can rely on.

A State Income Tax. A Hangman's Noose For Texas.

If you think taxes are choking you now, consider the possibility of a State income tax. It would be a noose around your neck. Around the neck of every Texan. And around the future of Texas.

A vote for John Hill is a vote for:
• bigger government.
• more government spending.
• more inflation.
AND FOR A STATE INCOME TAX.

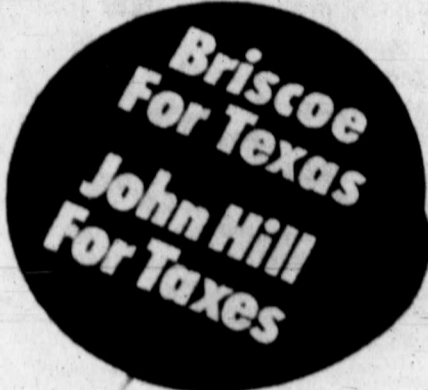

A vote for Dolph Briscoe is a vote for:
• fiscal responsibility
• less — not more — government.
AND FOR NO NEW TAXES.

• We don't need New York-style government in Texas.
• We don't need Washington-style bureaucracy in Texas.
• And we don't need a big spending liberal activist as Governor of Texas.
LET'S KEEP DOLPH BRISCOE AS OUR GOVERNOR.

"We are already footing the bill for run-away government in Washington. As Texans we should not have to foot the bill for run-away government in Austin.

"I don't think Texas should spend itself into a state income tax. That is exactly what will happen if Mr. Hill fulfills only some of his political promises."

Don't believe everything you read in the papers... all the time.

We think our candidate has earned the endorsement of three of the largest papers in the district because he's without equal. But don't place too much stock in any one source. Before you make your mind up, we'd rather you talked with your neighbors, your friends, about the qualifications for this office — word of mouth is our most important endorsement. Our real strength lies with the people who are excited about the vision of a new future that George Bush stands for... one in which our resources are bargained for fairly... one with proper incentives.

It's going to take a strong and intelligent voice to get our message across in Washington — to make them understand that West Texas won't compromise — we won't sacrifice our economy or suffer mediocrity under the pretense of equalized opportunities. Our heritage is built on hard work to get ahead... we want that chance... we want a government that works for us, not against us.

Vote this Saturday in the Republican Primary. Vote George Bush... for the future of West Texas.

Boy Scouts drop age ruling

CHOSEN as Greenwood High School's valedictorian for this school year is Ricky McCurdy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. McCurdy. McCurdy has earned 91.72 out of a possible 100 points. He has served as treasurer, vice president and president of the Student Council and is president of the senior class. In the past, he has competed in University Interscholastic League contests in number sense, science and debate, going to regional competition in number sense four years. A member of the National Honor Society, McCurdy has lettered in football and earned the title of "Mr. Greenwood" at his school. He also is a member of the Math and Science Club. He plans to major in civil engineering at Texas Tech University. (Staff Photo)

NORTH BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — The Boy Scouts of America dropped age restrictions for the physically handicapped Friday, clearing the way for a 23-year-old man to become an Eagle scout and for other handicapped youths to remain scouts past the normal age limits.

Effectively immediately, physically handicapped Boy Scouts may be enrolled past their 18th birthdays, Cub Scouts may be enrolled after their 11th birthdays, and Explorers may remain in posts beyond their 21st birthdays. There is no top limit on the age.

As one result, an Eagle scout badge will be forwarded immediately to local scout officials for Gregory Wittine, 23, of Baldwin, N.Y., said Harvey L. Price, the chief scout executive.

Applications for Eagle status are also pending from eight others turned down because of age. Scout headquarters told local councils to process those papers — and all applications turned down because of age.

It was Wittine, a cerebral palsy victim who qualified for the Eagle badge in part by completing a 10-mile hike on his hands and knees, whose case helped raise a public outcry over Boy Scout policy toward the handicapped.

The denial of his Eagle scout application — and denial of Eagle status to two handicapped New Jersey youths who had substituted oral tests for physical requirements — preceded a special telephone conference Friday in which the BSA's national executive committee decided to change the age rules for the handicapped.

The action does nothing to change the status of the New Jersey youths, however, leaving intact a policy that even the physically handicapped must meet the normal requirements for advancement.

The 1.2 million scouts in the Boy Scouts of America include more than 60,000 physically or mentally handicapped individuals who are active in Cub Scout packs, Boy Scout troops and Explorer posts. The Explorer posts include young women.

The age requirements for many mentally retarded scouts had been lifted previously. A statement from BSA national headquarters here said "it was felt that it was reasonable and consistent to change the same membership criteria to the severely handicapped, including the blind, deaf or emotionally disturbed."

An Eagle award goes to those who come up through the ranks of the Boy Scouts and are approved by the national council after earning 11 specified merit badges and any 13 other badges from a total of more than 100 choices.

Parents seek new decision

BOSTON (AP) — Parents of a 2-year-old boy who has leukemia asked the state's highest court Friday for a chance to show that Laetrile can do more for their son than chemotherapy.

"We ask the court to take judicial notice of evidence that the claims of chemotherapy have been exaggerated," said John Remington Graham, a St. Paul, Minn., law professor who is an attorney for the parents of Chad Green. "And of evidence that Laetrile and nutrition offer genuine hope to little Chad."

The seven justices of Massachusetts' Supreme Judicial Court took the case under advisement after a 40-minute hearing with no sign of when they would return a ruling.

The parents went to the court to seek reversal of an April 18 Superior Court order making Chad the legal ward of the state Department of Public Welfare. The order also requires that he undergo chemotherapy at home and at Massachusetts General Hospital here.

The youngster's parents, Gerald Green, 27, and his wife, Diana, 24, who were in the courtroom, oppose chemotherapy. They claim its side effects turn Chad into a "wild animal," a point disputed in the lower court decision. They want him treated with a special diet and with Laetrile, the controversial extract of peach and apricot pits which some claim helps cure cancer.

Carter speech created plain English dilemma

By MICHAEL GRANT
Copley News Service

I can't document it, but I strongly suspect President Carter brought this "plain English" dilemma on himself when, during the '76 campaign, he promised (among other things) to deflate the bureaucracy by reorganization and consolidation.

It thus became necessary, within the federal sancta, to justify one's existence (both as agency and individual) to this new, plain-spoken President, and bureaucrats long have honored the generation of paperwork as the surest means to that end.

Overnight, two-page documents (containing perhaps two paragraphs of usable information) swelled to 20 pages or more.

Agency staffers, furtively gauging the heights of the attacks in their neighbors' out baskets, pushed themselves to new lengths of bureaucratic, until the diagram of a single sentence began to resemble the organizational chart at the HEW.

And so Mr. Carter, run to high ground again by his own good intentions, has hoisted the white flag over an exceptionally turgid staff study for (in a broadside of irony) the reorganization of U.S. intelligence activities.

Henceforth, he ordered, agencies in the executive branch will write their regulations, studies and other proposals "in plain English that I can understand." (Note that he said "plain English," and not "Plains English," which is altogether a different language.) He also ordered a review of existing regulations, "for clarity and usefulness."

I must say this has afforded me the most scintillating sort of vicarious thrill: Imagine, waving your hand over the government, commanding a halt to the gobbledygook.

But it won't work miracles, of course, as anyone knows who wrestles with plain English on a regular basis. It is one of the toughest subjects known to English-speaking man.

The old saw, "A little knowledge is a dangerous thing," has one of its clearer reflections in the practice of plain English. Those of us (fancying ourselves writers, or even poets) who get into it for a living too often become trapped — nailed to the page in eternal nakedness — by our pretensions to literacy.

I hope he'll forgive me, if ever he sees this, but I can't neglect a paragraph by one young former sportswriter as the finest example of that of which I speak.

We worked for the same newspaper back in Texas that Saturday in 1969, when Texas beat Arkansas in the afternoon for the Southwest Conference football championship.

The Arkansas basketball team played that same evening in our town, and it also lost. He covered that game.

His lead paragraph in Sunday morning's paper: "If it were feasible that thoughts in the retrospect could soothe one's feelings, then it must be said that two athletic outfits hailing from the state of Arkansas must be full of the aforementioned."

He knew what he wanted to say, but not quite how to say it, and so he threw a web of syntactical camouflage over it, and left it for the reader to figure out.

There was obvious opportunity in Washington for a style such as his. But he still would have had to work hard.

It is one thing to obscure the meaning of the misfortunes of a pair of Arkansas athletic outfits, and quite another to confuse the President about national intelligence strategies.

Washington is the Big Leagues. It takes a lot of practice in the minors, in places like state legislatures and city hall and the county administration building. Few, even with qualifications like my friend's, can make the jump directly from a newspaper.

All this conditioning cannot, of course, be shaken off like an old pair of shoes. Mr. Carter's patience will be tested before he again reads a staff study he can understand.

It may take a second term (he would be advised, in the '80 campaign, to avoid mention of "consolidation" in government).

But his greater aggravation may rise from his command for a review of all existing regulations, if their authors in fact wrote to mask their failure to understand the regulation's essence (and many of them are, to be fair, incomprehensible on their face).

What if "usefulness" is as absent in them as "clarity"? There may be no regulations there, once the semantic sifting is done. This country, in plain English, may be operating on fiction.

I wouldn't panic, however, it will take years to find out.

Rocky Oliver real friend to prisoners

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP) — "When I first saw the guy, I thought he was a phony," said an American prisoner at La Mesa State Penitentiary. "But he's one guy who says he is a Christian and really is."

The Rev. Rocky Oliver is a friend of the prisoners — American and Mexican alike. He and his black-haired wife, Karen, bring home-baked cookies, cakes, occasionally turkey and always a message of hope. Oliver, 31, believes he is accepted by the prisoners, many of whom are jailed for narcotics violations, because he was an addict five years ago.

A former sailor from Vienna, Ill., he joined a group of traveling Christians after straightening himself out with help of the Salvation Army, he says. He married and was ordained last year as a minister.

Together, the Olivers live at Linda Vista Baptist Bible College about 40 miles away in El Cajon, Calif., where Oliver is two years into his credits for a bachelor's degree in divinity. Their only income is from odd jobs and itinerant preaching.

The prison visits are profitless for Oliver. He brought his Bibles and hymnals the other Saturday, as usual. In the tiny room used for a chapel, there were four U.S. citizens and two Mexicans. Oliver stood behind the lectern, read to the prisoners from the Book of Acts, and talked about the betrayal of Jesus Christ.

In the courtyard later, Oliver divided up his cakes. He agreed to buy ulcer medicine for an inmate and listened as another told how a pickpocket named Mario stole money from a prisoner who had access to a gun and was shot through the head the next dark night.

The prisoners at Penitenciarío del Estado are allowed everything they can afford — families, girlfriends, even liquor. The marijuana which many of them manage to buy costs $5 for a one-ounce packet, less than it does on U. S. streets in nearby San Diego, Oliver said in an interview. But he and his wife have quietly delivered something free every Saturday since 1975 — their brand of Christianity to the imprisoned. "I can't stand by," said Oliver, "and let these people feel lost."

Police drug dog back in action

A week after treatment for a possibly fatal parasitic disease, the Midland Police Department's $3,000 drug dog is back in action. Previous estimates indicated that, if the dog survived, it could be out of commission for a month.

Final tests for heart worms were conducted recently, and the results were negative, Police Chief Wayne Gideon said.

Police learned shortly after Smokey's arrival that tests showed the offspring of heart worms in the dog's blood stream.

Heart worms are a parasite in the blood stream that most commonly attach themselves to the pulmonary artery, the artery from the heart to the lungs. The worms give birth to living young, which float in the blood stream, the veterinarian treating Smokey said earlier.

Smokey was treated with a drug to kill the offspring.
"We have one of two things happening. Either the adults are not dead and are giving off more young or the drug with which Smokey was treated was not effective," the vet said.

"The problem here is that, if killed, the adult heart worm acts like a blood clot and goes directly to the lung. Pneumonia also can set in very easily."

"So it is very imperative that the dog not be subjected to any exercise for 30 days," he said.

Police officials were notified late last week that Smokey's treatment had been successful.

The success of the latest treatment will prevent Smokey from undergoing treatment with an arsenic solution. Had the latest tests had positive results, it would have been evident that Smokey still had heart worms and would have to undergo the arsenic treatment.

"As a last resort, there's an arsenic solution that is used in treatment, but there's a chance the animal could be cured or killed," Chief Gideon had said earlier.

Travel's tough Tennessee style

By DENNIS MONTGOMERY
Associated Press Writer

From Frog Jump to Wartburg is an easy stretch of the imagination, but like an old wives' tale's logic, the drive is a bit circuitous.

A motorist must meander across Tennessee to make the connection, through two-thirds of a state chock-full of singular signposts: From Arp to Glimp, from Buckhorn to Skinem, in these parts, towns with head-turning handles are thicker than a pond in tadpole season.

Difficult ties hard by Defeated, Goldust near Giltedge, and Royal Blue not far from Dukedom. Prosperity is within striking distance of Enterprize. But it's a long hard trek from Miser Station to Needmore — more tedious than a trip from Dull to Spot.

Allowing for a respite in Pillowville, a weekend tour of Tennessee's anatomy can ramble from Skullbone to Lightfoot to Finger and Oral. Sunday drivers can putter from Tabernacle to Bible Hill to Brick Church.

For traveling salesmen there are Commerce, Sale Creek and Farmers Exchange, and a banker's holiday might take him to Dollar or Greenback. If gardening is your game, there are Bean Station, Cherry, Sugar Tree, Nut Bush, Hanging Limb and Soddy-Daisy. Outdoorsmen may be interested in Turtletown, Ducktown, Bucktown, Owl City, Leapwood or Hornbeak.

Everyone's welcome in Friendship, but if it's relaxation you're after, consider Reverie. Stylish folk may find Chic worth a try and honeymoons, Bride.

Farm prices up
AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Prices for Texas farm products rose an average of 9 percent during the 12 months that ended May 1 but reached only 1973 levels, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan Brown said Friday.
Brown said some prices — notably grain sorghum, wheat, calves and soybeans — remain less than they were in 1973.
"Under these circumstances, there is no justification for blaming farm prices for the food price increases headlined by the national press this week."

Political ad blitz about to conclude

DALLAS (AP) — Tired of opening your paper or turning on your television and coming face to face with a Mafia gambler or a toothy politician?

Patience. It's about over. The advertising blitz, of course, is pointing toward swaying John Q. Texan's vote in Saturday's primary races. During the last hectic days, TV and newspapers reaped the benefits as the candidates spent thousands of dollars to make sure their messages got across. Several major papers reported advertising revenues up between 15 and 40 percent over the last election. In rural areas, most would-be politicians stuck with "honesty" and "integrity" images. The vows were always found beside a well-dressed individual whose forthright gaze hinted that he or she might somehow be kin to the Founding Fathers. One such candidate even told the voters where to look for his name — "Last on the ballot, first in your heart."

An exception to low-key ads was the Rio Grande Valley. One candidate there portrayed himself as a "family man" with the two words underlined. His opponent, of course, is single. Another listed his supporters, then listed those who supposedly support his opponent. The names included some persons involved in the recent Manpower scandal in the valley.

A third valley candidate promised to abolish the job he was running for if elected. The mud-slinging picked up in heavily-populated areas. City dwellers were treated to impressive 8x10 blockbusters showing everything from a hangman's noose to some poor soul being strangled to a hapless candidate standing in a graveyard beside ol' man Death.

One San Antonio candidate asked voters why his opponent was "lenient with the (Fred) Carrasco Gang?" Carrasco was killed during an aborted prison breakout in 1975. His widow was questioned in San Antonio and freed.

Dallas advertising executive Ed Gage said the so-called dirty ads can do the trick if the candidate has a valid flaw to point out in his opponent. "But if it gets too far out, or if the candidate has used that kind of ad for some time, he can come off sounding like a kook," said Gage. "Generally, you don't find someone running for a high, dignified office stooping to the really dirty ads. That's usually found in the smaller races."

Gage praised the slick ad campaigns of both Gov. Dolph Briscoe and challenger John Hill. Inside virtually every major newspaper Friday, Briscoe could be seen telling the people Hill's campaign promises would constitute a tax increase. Turn a page or two and there's a somber Hill denying the charge.

The ad experts left nothing to chance this year, not even the football fanatic who went into hibernation last January until the season starts again.

Dallas Cowboy Coach Tom Landry was his stoic self when he appeared on television recently detailing the ills of pari-mutuel betting. Houston Oiler Coach "Bum" Phillips' visage appeared in a large ad praising the worth of a Panhandle county candidate. Phillips, of course, can't vote for his friend.

Plan for Berkowitz guilty plea eyed

NEW YORK (AP) — A plan to have David Berkowitz plead guilty to all six Son of Sam murders before three judges in a single Brooklyn courtroom was under discussion Friday.

State Supreme Court Justice Joseph Corso, who has been handling Berkowitz's Brooklyn murder case, called reports that such a court session had been arranged "speculation that may turn out, but at this moment it is sheer speculation."

"As of this moment, there is no such thing," Corso added. "There has been some talk, but there is nothing definite. It might work out, but at this moment there's nothing definite."

The plan would call for the 24-year-old postal worker to plead guilty before Justice Corso on Monday to the fatal shooting in Brooklyn last July 31, of Stacy Moskowitz, 20, the last of the Son of Sam victims.

Corso then would be replaced on the bench in his own courtroom by the Queens Supreme Court's Justice Nicholas Tsoucalas, who would accept pleas from Berkowitz to two slayings in Queens: Tsoucalas, in turn, would be replaced by Bronx Justice William Kapelman for the purpose of accepting Berkowitz's plea to the three remaining murders, all of them committed in that borough.

The plan would lessen the security risk as well as the expense of moving Berkowitz from one borough to another. Since his arrest last Aug. 10, he has been lodged under heavy security in a Kings County Hospital psychiatric ward, and court proceedings, involving him have been held in a makeshift courtroom on the sixth floor of the hospital.

Autopsy performed on body of boy, 5, in Tulsa

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — An autopsy was being performed Friday to determine whether a 5-year-old boy found in the backyard of his grandfather's home had been mauled to death by two Doberman Pinscher dogs.

The boy was Sean Walsh, whose home was next to that of his grandfather, E.L. Hoag Sr. His body was found about 10 p.m. in a corner of the back yard where the two dogs were fenced in.

Officers said the boy had numerous bites on the head, neck and shoulders, along with several bruises on the chest.

Family members said the boy got along well with the dogs and there were no reports of the dogs growling or the boy crying out at the time.

"We missed him about dusk," his grandfather said. "We started looking for him but we couldn't find him."

Hoag said police were called then. Shreds of the kindergarten youngster's clothing were found near the grandfather's house about 10 p.m. and the body was found shortly afterward.

MHS' Ricky Goode ...has sizzling bat

Cubs win behind Martz

BY TED BATTLES

Take away those six season-opening losses and the Midland Cubs would be right in the thick of the Texas League West Division pennant race. And even with those losses, the Cubs aren't that bad off for a team that played 17 of its first 23 games on the road.

The Cubs came off an 11-game road trip to beat Amarillo 5-3 for their fourth straight Friday night behind an eight-hit route-going effort by Randy Martz, the Chicago Cubs' No. 1 draft choice last June.

The win gave Midland a four-straight streak and upped the Cubs' record to 11-13. The Cubs resume hostilities with the Gold Sox with a 7:30 p.m. bat night game at Cubs Stadium today and Manager Jim Saul has nominated Herman Segelke, 3-1, to go against Jim Stehle, 1-2, who will be striving to pull the San Diego Padres' farmhands out of a nine-game metal spin.

THE GOLD Sox got to Martz for a couple of first inning runs, but after that the righthander from the University of South Carolina was in control, although experiencing rough innings in the sixth and eighth.

In the sixth with two out, Jim Beswick tripled off the scoreboard in left and then Joe Hicks and Tony Castillo rapped authoritative singles and Earl Battey hung a line drive that shortstop Steve Macko leaped up and speared to avert big trouble.

Then in the eighth, Martz sandwiched a strikeout with a couple of walks and got a visit from Saul, who decided to stick with his starter, and it paid off. Martz got the next two batters when Eric Grandy ran a fancy 220 in center to shag Hicks' drive and Castillo popped out.

Martz said, "I really wasn't tired at all. The hot weather felt good, but I always have trouble against Amarillo. Yes, I think it could have been my best game of the year. I had very good velocity and was getting them out with my fastball in the early innings. Later I began mixing in my curve and got a lot of outs with the breaking pitch."

THE WIN gives Martz a 4-1 record with the season less than a month old. Last year after reporting to Midland in June, he posted five wins, so he is well ahead of that pace. "I know how to pitch this year. I've faced all the batters and know what I can get away with."

Saul disclosed that he had no intention of pulling Martz in the eighth. "Randy is a sinker ball pitcher. When you get the sinker, you get ground balls. You don't want a flyball pitcher in this park. He was still getting his pitches down and they were hitting on the ground. After all the wind and cold weather in El Paso, a warm night really helped him."

Amarillo took a 2-0 lead in the first on a couple of walks and singles by Dane Ilertsen and Beswick.

Kurt Seibert got one of them back in a hurry when he hit Gary Lucas' second pitch over the left field fence for a leadoff solo homer. "It was a fastball, but I think he took a little off it," Kurt said. The blow equalled his homer output of 1977 with the Cubs.

Kurt, who attended Clemson University, is another who is benefiting from a season in the league. Last year, he was brought up from Pompano Beach after the campaign started and was a sparkplug in the attack, yet he admits he wasn't completely comfortable.

I had been a shortstop in college and second base was a new position," he explained. "This year I feel a lot more comfortable," and it shows in the increased range and sure-handed fielding which makes him a delight to watch.

MIDLAND TIED it in the fourth when Jimmy Buckner walked, went to second on a balk and scored on Aaron Randall's two-out single to right.

Then a three-run burst in the fifth chased Lucas and gave Martz the margin he needed in his second routing game of the year.

Mike Gatlin, who just joined the club from Minnesota's Orlando Southern League farm club, singled and stole second. With one out, Javier Fierro lashed a line single to left. After Seibert grounded to second, Macko doubled over the center fielder's head. Buckner then came through with a run-scoring single and that brought Rod Leslie out of the bullpen to pose the fire.

BRUIN BREWIN'S—Steve Macko stretched his hitting streak to seven straight and 17 of the last 18 games while two other Midland streaks were

Rebels seek 5-4A title today

By BOB DILLON

Robert E. Lee can win the District 5-4A baseball championship today.

The Rebels must beat cross-town rival Midland High at the Memorial Stadium diamond to do so at 2 p.m.

Lee and Big Spring are currently tied for first place in the second half of the race with 5-1 marks, but if Lee beats the Purple Pack, it won't matter what Big Spring does against San Angelo Central.

The reason being that Lee tied Abilene for the first half crown with a 5-2 mark so another share of the title in the second half with somebody other than the Eagles, automatically puts Lee into the bi-district playoffs.

A Big Spring victory and Rebel loss, however, would give the Steers the second half outright and Lee would have to play Abilene for the first half crown and then face the Steers in a best-of-three series for the state playoff slot.

It all boils down to a Rebel victory today and the Rebs would then face the Wichita Falls Coyotes in the opening round of the Class AAAA state playoffs.

(Baseball averages, 2-B)

IN OTHER final games today, Odessa Permian entertains Odessa, Abilene Cooper, still with an outside chance if both Lee and Big Spring lose, to share the second half title, meets the Abilene Eagles at Rose Park in Abilene and of course, the Steers square off with the Bobcats.

Craig Van Horn gets the nod to pitch today against Midland while the Bulldogs will counter with Archie Booth. Booth is 5-1 on the mound while Van Horn has a 4-0 reading.

Midland centerfielder Ricky Goode has been on a hitting spree recently, going nine-for-eleven in his last four games and topped that off with four hits in four trips to the plate Thursday against Cooper.

Goode has moved up to the No. 4 hitter in 5-4A with his sudden surge.

Odessa Permian's Gary Hix continues to lead the league with a .512 average followed by Pat Moore of Lee and Mike Anderson of Cooper.

Moore is hitting at a .438 clip while Anderson is hitting .412. Big Spring's Tony Mann is also hitting .405 to share the No. 4 slot in the loop.

WICHITA FALLS won the District 6-4A crown Friday, beating Rider, 4-1, to move into the playoffs against the 5-4A representative.

Joining Booth in the lineup today for the Pack will be Mark Med Mead at first base; Mike Mowles at second; Steve Cole at short and Jimmy Zachry at third with the outfield being made up of Tracy Gann, Goode and Joe Mowles. James Allen will catch.

Lee will go with Doug Schmidt at first; Don Rasure at second; Steve Pitts at short and Terry Willis at third. In the outfield it will be Todd Clements in left; Moore in center and Richard Josefy in right with Clay Calhoun catching.

Besides Moore's robust .438 average, Van Horn is hitting .395 Josefy .381 and Rasure .366 in league play. Clements owns a loop average of .356 while Zachry is hitting .333 for the Bulldogs in league action.

On the season, the Rebs are hitting at a .330 clip as a team

MC athletes honored during annual banquet

By TERRY WILLIAMSON

Midland College showed its appreciation to athletes in four sports Friday night during the school's third annual athletic banquet, and there were enough awards to fill a stadium, much less the Student Center.

Don Maynard, former all-pro receiver for the world champion New York Jets, was the guest speaker, but the night belonged to the 50 athletes that represent four sports at MC.

Every member of all four sports were given special awards, but each sport also named most valuable players and Fighting Chaparral awards for special service.

Ron Jones and Rickey Hudgins received the top basketball awards from coach Jerry Stone. Jones was given the special Fighting Chaparral award while Hudgins was named as the team's most valuable player. Alvin Mayes was named as the best defensive player while Hudgins was named as the top rebounder.

It was also announced that sophomore Jones has accepted a scholarship with Pan American University for next fall, and freshman Mike Denny will be lost to the Chaps to attend Wichita State University next fall.

Mike Shrader and Linda Miller shared most valuable honors for coach John Jordan's swim team while Gary Rose and Susan Overhue were named winners of the Fighting Cha-parrral awards for the men and women's swim squads. Swimming's scholastic award went to Sherry Page.

Tommy Harper, the only sophomore on the men's varsity squad, was given the Fighting Chaparral award. Harper came to Midland College from McCamey. Bert Wimberly was named as the most valuable player. Tammy Tyer was named as most valuable for Susan Holland's women's team while Claire McFarland won the Fighting Chaparral award. Coach Brian Gilley, who is presently leading the Chaps in the Region V tennis tournament in Odessa, named Reg Luttrell and Ann Layman as the most valuable players while Geraldine Sayers and Jose Rivera took the Fighting Chaparral awards. Steve Weyett and Blanca Barriga won scholastic achievement certificates. Delnor Poss, head golf coach and

Rankin wins golf crown; Lee fourth

AUSTIN — Led by Jamie Gossett and Kim Ratliff, Rankin High School won the Class A team title here Friday at the Girls' Texas State High School Golf Tournament.

The Red Devils shot a 790 in this two-day event to win the team championship by 37 strokes over runner-up Dennado, which shot an 827.

In the AAAA competition, Lee High finished fourth, 61 strokes behind winner Crockett, which shot a 684. Dulles was second with a 727, while San Antonio East Central was fourth at 738. The Rebels shot a 745.

Wendy Goodwin had Lee's best individual two-day total. The youngster shot a 166.

Susan Yantas of San Antonio Holmes took AAAA medalist honors in a playoff over Debbie Hale of Corpus Christi Carroll. Both girls shot 156s during the 36 regulation holes.

Rankin made a farce of the A competition. The Red Devils led by 11 strokes after Thursday's play and left the rest of the competition in their dust Friday. Gossett shot a two-day 172 total to finish second in the medalist race behind winner Tina Foxhall who shot a 157.

Ratliff was eighth in the medalist race, shooting a 205.

Kuhn in denial over intervention

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn denied Friday that he failed to act on an attempt to delay Pete Rose's 3,000th hit until the Cincinnati Reds were at home.

Reds Manager Sparky Anderson had said he would pull Rose from the lineup if he were within one hit of the milestone. National League President Chub Feeney intervened.

TOM WATSON blasts out of the rough on the seventh hole Friday during the Byron Nelson Golf Classic in Dallas. Watson fired a 67 and a two-day total of 136 to give him share of the lead going into today's third round of play. (AP Laserphoto)

Spring football drills please Midland, Lee coaches

Gil Bartosh and Dennie Hays are well-pleased.

The two new football coaches at Robert E. Lee and Midland High, have nearly completed their first full week of spring football drills at their respective camps and both are pleased.

Bartosh, new headmaster for the Rebels, really liked the way his youngsters hit during the first big scrimmage Wednesday. "They have a super attitude, but still need to get tougher. Much tougher in order to survive in tough District 5-4A this fall," quipped the likeable coach.

Lee has an entirely new varsity staff and Bartosh is proud of his crew. It's a hard-working staff that has been putting the 1978 Rebs through their paces. There are more than 143 athletes out for football on the combined varsity and junior varsity.

"We will be short some folks today, so I don't know if we will scrimmage or not," said Bartosh in reference to Saturday's schedule. The Rebs have several in baseball, track and other activities, but this doesn't worry Gil.

On the other side of town, Hays is also happy with his team. "They have been working hard and I was especially pleased with the blocking of the offensive line in our scrimmage Thursday," said Dennie. He went on to say that his team, like Lee's will be somewhat short-handed with baseball and track, but the Purple Pack will hold a scrimmage at 10 a.m. today on the Memorial Stadium turf.

"I really like our backs even though they are not real big, they are plenty quick," said Hays. The Midland Bullpup junior varsity held a controlled scrimmage on Friday afternoon with 53 taking part.

There are also 53 candidates on the varsity, giving MHS 106 out for football.

Hays is holding out Jimmy Zachry, Link Grimes and Jerry Holums competently this spring to let injuries heal during the summer months.

"Attitude is our biggest asset right now and the kids are working hard and this pleases me," said Hays.

Lee opens the 1978 campaign, Sept. 8 in Memorial Stadium against the Class AAA Snyder Tigers while Midland travels Amarillo for a date with the Tascosa Rebels in their opener on the Panhandle.

Lee also plays El Paso Austin and Plainview again this year in non-district play while the other Bulldog opponents are El Paso Eastwood and Lubbock Monterey.

The spring drills wind up with Lee playing the Maroon-White game on Friday, May 19 and Midland concluding the following night in the annual Bill Mims Game in Memorial Stadium.

Folk, Thompson lead Ernie Nelson tourney

Ron Folk and Steve Thompson fired a 70 Friday to take the first round lead in the 4th annual Ernie Nelson Memorial Invitational Partnership Golf Tournament being held at Midland Country Club.

Three teams are tied for second at 71 in this three-day tourney. Trailing Folk and Thompson by just a stroke are Mike Shapira and Bill Yost, Dub Malaise and Jim Johnson, and Graham Mackey and Ron Leverich.

Mariners win

SEATTLE (AP) — Steve Braun drove in four runs Friday night to lead the Seattle Mariners past the Toronto Blue Jays 9-1.

Seattle pitcher Rick Honeycutt, 2-3, yielded an unearned run in the first inning but then handcuffed the Blue Jays on four hits. Honeycutt retired the final 19 batters in posting his first complete game in the majors.

Braun drilled his first home run in the first inning to tie the score at 1. He added a two-run single in the third and a run-scoring single in the fourth.

A starter last season, Braun has seen limited duty this year, being used primarily as a designated hitter against right-handed pitching.

Seattle scored seven runs in the third and fourth innings off three Toronto pitchers to break the game open. Bruce Bochte and Leon Roberts had run-scoring singles and Bill Stein contributed an RBI double.

Seattle's two other runs came across on a Toronto throwing error and a passed ball.

Dean Strack and John Farquhar head a quartet of tandems deadlocked at 72, two strokes back. The others include Sam Terry and Mike Mullins, Punk Patton and J.B. Fraley, and Bill Bunting and Carl Beard.

Bob Wright and Hal Looney are two strokes up on Ed Moses and Ted Collins in the second flight competition. Wright and Looney fired a first round 71, while Moses and Collins shot a 73.

Golfers are competing for titles in ten flights in this 54-hole event, and while the championship flight is drawing most of the attention, the performance of Bob Boyd and Bill Gessell in the seventh flight drew some raves Friday. The two toured the beautiful MCC course to the tune of a 71 and are an amazing seven strokes up on the second place team of A.A. Jones and Jim Walker, who shot a 78.

CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT: Ron Folk-Steve Thompson, 70; Mike Shapira-Bill Yost, 71; Dub Malaise-Jim Johnson, 71; Graham Mackey-Ron Leverich, 71; Dean Strack-John Farquhar, 72; Sam Terry-Mike Mullins, 72; Punk Patton-J.B. Fraley, 72; Bill Bunting-Carl Beard, 72; Andy Shapira-Jim Caubon, 73; Ken Sewell-Al Boudreau, 73; John Carey-Ross Strasser, 73.

SECOND FLIGHT: Bob Wright-Hal Looney, 71; Ed Moses-Ted Collins, 73.

THIRD FLIGHT: Jim Inzer-Frank Stringer, 72; Joe Gies-David McMahon, 73; Bill Clegg-Steve Poage, 73.

TENTH FLIGHT: Gene Motter-Ronnie Parker, 78; Larry Foster-Jack McIntosh, 78.

Baylor's Duncan steals show

WACO, Texas (AP) — Baylor's Davy Duncan captured the only double-win of the night while teammate Blake Burleson set a new record in the pole vault Friday night as Baylor University hosted the Southwest Collegiate Track and Field meet here.

Duncan's two wins came in the 10-meter high hurdles and the 100-meter dash. Duncan, who has previously qualified for the national in the high hurdles, won with a time of 13.95, while in the 100-meter dash he was first with a 10.29 clocking.

Burleson became the first vaulter in school history to clear the 16-foot barrier with his winning jump of that height. No team scores were kept at the meet, but there were entrants from North Texas State, SMU, Texas-Arlington, Angelo State, Tarleton State.

Chap netters lead regional ODESSA - As expected, Midland College and Odessa College completely dominated the opening day of play in the Region V Junior College Tennis Tournament here Friday.

The Chaps hold one-point leads over Odessa in both the men's and women's competition, and both seem assured of sending full units to the national tournaments later this month. Midland has a 9-8 lead over the Wranglers in the men's competition, with New Mexico Military Institute in third with six points. MC and OC are the only two teams to score points in the women's play, with the Chaps holding on to a 13-12 advantage.

The Midland women's team's title hopes took a surprising step forward Friday, when Blanca Barriga knocked off fourth-seeded Julie Sanderson of Odessa in the quarterfinals of the singles event, 6-3, 7-5. The Chap sophomore will face teammate Ann Layman in one of today's semifinals matches. In the other, Joanne Hall of Midland will try to make a dent in the armor of top-seeded Sandy Collins of Odessa.

Midland and Odessa will face each other in both women's doubles semifinals, and a win by the Chaps in either one of the matches would sew up the team title for the Chaps. Hall and Layman will face Sanderson and Jill Patterson in one match and Barriga and Geraldine Sayers will tangle with the top-seeded Odessa tandem of Collins and Debbie Phillips in the other.

The men's singles competition has been split into four divisions, and Midland has a finalist in all but one of them. Reg Luttrell, a 6-1, 6-2 winner over Rocky Rodriguez of South Plains in the semis, will face Craig Richardson of Odessa in today's Division I finals.

Tony Luttrell, Reg's twin brother, will face Hitoshi Shirato of New Mexico Military Institute in the Division II championship match. Tony made it to the finals by knocking off favored Greg Ketterman of Odessa in the semis, 6-2, 6-4.

The third Chap to earn a finals berth was freshman Jose Rivera, who will face Odessa's soon-to-be-deported Paul Mooney in the Division IV title match. Rivera, the top-seed, breezed by Cook County's David Rios in their semifinal clash late Friday afternoon, 6-2, 6-2.

The men's doubles event was split into two divisions, and not surprisingly, Midland has reached the semifinals of both. Reg Luttrell and Rivera will face New Mexico Military Institute's Alberto Jimenez and Daniel Oropega in one Division I semi, and Ron Cetrone and Tony Luttrell will face Rene Trevino and David Rios of Cook in one of the Division II semifinals.

MEN'S SINGLES
Division I: Reg Luttrell, Midland def. Richard Stephenson, McLendon, 6-0, 6-0; Luttrell def. Rocky Rodriguez, South Plains, 6-1, 6-2.
Division II: Tony Luttrell, Midland def. Darrell Darling, McLendon, 6-1, 7-4, 6-3; Luttrell def. Greg Ketterman, Odessa, 6-2, 6-4.
Division IV: Jose Rivera, Midland def. Art Hobbs, McLendon, 6-3, 6-3; Rivera def. David Rios, Cooke, 6-2, 6-2.

WOMEN'S SINGLES
Joanne Hall, Midland def. Kathy Kohl, Cooke, 6-2, 6-1; Hall def. Ruanna Gossett, South Plains, 6-2, 6-1; Hall def. Jill Patterson, Odessa, 7-5, 6-4.
Blanca Barriga, Midland def. Julie Williams, Cooke, 6-3, 6-0; Barriga def. Julie Sanderson, Odessa, 6-3, 7-5.
Ann Layman, Midland def. Rita Kohl, Cooke, 6-1, 6-0; Layman def. Debbie Phillips, Odessa, 7-4, 6-4.

MEN'S DOUBLES
Division I: Reg Luttrell-Jose Rivera, Midland def. Surt Stephenson-McLendon, 6-2, 7-5.
Division II: Ron Cetrone-Tony Luttrell, Midland def. Montoya-Stanford, Amarillo, 6-1, 6-4.

WOMEN'S DOUBLES
Barriga-Sayers, Midland def. Tribari-Erickson, Weatherford, 6-0, 6-3; Barriga-Sayers def. Berryhill-Newton, South Plains, 6-1, 6-4.
Hall-Layman, Midland def. Adreas-Kohl, Cooke, 6-1, 6-0.

Dodgers, Baker rap Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Dusty Baker slammed a two-run homer as the Los Angeles Dodgers jumped on Pittsburgh's Bert Blyleven for five runs in the first inning and coasted to a 7-2 victory over the Pirates Friday night behind Burt Hooton's seven-hit pitching.

The Dodgers pounded Blyleven for six hits in the opening inning. John Milner singled home a Pittsburgh run in the bottom of the first, but a leadoff double by Davey Lopes in the second inning chased Blyleven, 1-3. Lopes stole third and scored on a sacrifice fly by Reggie Smith. After the first inning, Hooton, 2-3, checked the Pirates until Ed Ott homered in the seventh.

The Dodgers' five-run first began when Bill Russell singled with one out and took third on a double by Smith. Steve Garvey's sacrifice fly brought Russell home and Smith scored on a single by Rick Monday. Baker followed with his second homer of the season. Lee Lacy then singled, advanced on a wild pitch and scored on Jeffery Grote's single.

The Dodgers added their final run in the ninth off Will McEneaney. Russell singled and came home when Glenn Burke's single to right bounced past Dave Parker for an error.

The Pirates, losers of three in a row and five of their last seven games, scored their first-inning run when Omar Moreno walked, stole second, moved to third on a grounder and came home on a single by Milner.

Rogers halts Cincinnati with surprising home run

CINCINNATI (AP) — Montreal's Steve Rogers yielded Pete Rose's 3,000th career hit and also survived a two-run homer by Dan Driessen in the eighth inning in pitching the Montreal Expos to a 4-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds Friday night.

Rose, Cincinnati's home-grown superstar, became the 13th player in major league history to reach the 3,000-hit plateau. The switch-hitter did it with a fifth-inning single to left field off the right-handed Rogers.

The 37-year-old third baseman, a three-time National League batting champion, beat out an infield chopper back to the mound in the third inning for hit No. 2,999. When Rose delivered No. 3,000, the game was held up for five minutes while the crowd of 37,823 gave him a standing ovation.

Rogers, 3-3, scattered six hits, including a solo home run to Johnny Bench in the fourth inning.

With the Expos ahead 1-0 in the fourth, Ellis Valentine and Larry Parrish belted two-out homers off loser Tom Hume, 2-4, to cushion Rogers' lead.

Montreal made it 4-1 in the eighth when Valentine doubled with two out and scored what proved to be the winning run on a single by Parrish.

The Expos took a 1-0 lead in the second on a run-scoring single by Chris Speier after Gary Carter walked and Tony Perez singled.

Munson paces Yankees' win

NEW YORK (AP) — Thurman Munson had three hits and drove in two runs Friday night to lead the New York Yankees to their fifth consecutive victory, a 5-2 triumph over the Texas Rangers.

The loss broke a seven-game Texas winning streak. New York has won eight of its last nine starts.

Ron Guidry, 3-0, got the victory with relief help from Rich Gossage in the seventh.

Texas starter Jon Matlack, 2-4, was touched for a run in the first inning when Willie Randolph singled, went to third on Matlack's errant pick-off throw and scored on a single by Munson.

The Yankees took a 4-0 lead in the third on a single by Bucky Dent, a walk to Randolph and run-scoring singles by Munson, Reggie Jackson and Chris Chambliss.

Texas scored its first run in the seventh inning when John Lowenstein walked, Bobby Thompson singled, Mike Hargrove singled to load the bases and Bert Campaneris walked, forcing in the run. Guidry was then lifted in favor of Gossage, who got Kurt Bevacqua to hit into an inning-ending double play.

Richie Zisk hit his eighth homer of the year in the eighth to complete the Texas scoring as Gossage picked up his second save of the year.

Bullets trip 76ers

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) — Bob Dandridge scored 30 points for Washington while Julius Erving managed only 12 for Philadelphia as the Bullets whipped the 76ers 123-108 in a rough National Basketball Association playoff game Friday night.

The victory gave the Bullets a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven Eastern Conference finals with the fourth game to be played on Washington's home court Sunday afternoon.

Erving, reported to be suffering from a swollen right hand, hit only 4 of 14 shots.

An 11-point string by Washington gave the Bullets a 57-39 lead with 3:07 remaining in the second quarter. Philadelphia rallied with Erving on the bench to pull to within 94-85 when Erving returned with 9:28 remaining.

But a 9-2 spurt by the Bullets, including four points and two steals by Charles Johnson, stretched the lead to 103-87 and finished the comeback by the 76ers.

Dandridge hit 14 of 20 shots and had seven assists. Kevin Grevey, suffering from a strained neck, added 21 points. Elvin Hayes had 16 and Greg Ballard 12 while pulling down 15 rebounds for Washington.

George McGinnis, who spent eight minutes of the second half on the bench with five fouls, led Philadelphia with 16 points while Doug Collins had 15.

Speedway opening today for 1978 Indy trails

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The Indianapolis Motor Speedway opens for practice today, with new President Joe Cloutier officiating at trackside ceremonies and six former winners, including defending champion A.J. Foyt, on hand to begin preparations for the May 28 Indianapolis 500.

For the first time since Tony Hulman took over at the end of World War II, the Speedway is under new management. No major changes are likely under Cloutier, who was Hulman's right-hand man until the sportsman-businessman died last fall.

The biggest problems were expected to result from the replacement of seven top U.S. Auto Club officials who died in a plane crash two weeks ago. But the two most critical positions — technical chairman and registrar — already have been filled, and processing of paperwork and the inspection of race cars has been going smoothly.

A cold drizzle over Indianapolis the past two days could prevent action on the 2½-mile oval track Saturday, but the steady stream of cars and drivers into the Gasoline Alley garage area will continue through the weekend.

As of late Friday, about 20 cars already were in their garages and a half-dozen or so had begun the various phases of technical inspection under new USAC chairman Jack Beckley. The Speedway safety crew was also testing a loud crash warning buzzer.

Joining Foyt, who is trying to extend his Indy records to 21 consecutive starts and five championships, will be former winners Al and Bobby Unser, Mario Andretti, Johnny Rutherford and Gordon Johncock. Other favorites include defending USAC champion Tom Sneva, who set the official track record of 200.535 mph during qualifications last year, and second-year driver Danny Ongais, the USAC points leader.

Much of the initial interest that made Janet Guthrie the most highly publicized rookie in Indy history two years ago disappeared last year when she finally qualified for the race. But the 40-year-old Guthrie is still sure to draw a lot of attention.

Her new Wildcat racer, purchased from George Bignotti, is capable of running in the 190s, she said, but many drivers speculate the pole-position qualifying speed will be better than 200 this year. Al Unser set the unofficial track record of 202 mph in tire tests last month.

USAC has certified seven rookies. Rick Meers was cleared for immediate practice after driving in races at Pocono and Ontario.

Gary Irvin must complete a refresher test. Larry Rice, Chuck Gurney, Phil Threshie, Tom Bagley and Roger Rager must take the full 100-mile exams.

The field of 92 entries — the largest in the Speedway's history — includes 17 makes of chassis, more than half of them Dan Gurney Eagles, British-built McLarens or Lindsey Hopkins Lightnings.

A week of practice precedes pole-position qualifying Saturday, May 13. More time trials will be held Sunday May 14, and the next weekend, May 20-21.

The track will be closed until race day, except for the misnamed carburetion tests May 25. The Indy-type cars have not had carburetors for years, relying instead on fuel injection.

Carew plans to play with another club

BALTIMORE (AP) — Rod Carew collected a lot of hits for Minnesota last season, enough to win the American League's Most Valuable Player award and flirt with a .400 average most of the way.

But the veteran first baseman says things are much different this year with the Twins and that he expects to be playing elsewhere by June 15.

"It would be a lot more fun for me playing with a winning team," Carew said. "For the first time, I'm looking at baseball as a job. I'm swinging at pitches that I used to take."

"I want to hit the ball out of the park because we need the runs to win. I swung at some of Luis Tiant's pitches (in Boston) Wednesday night that I would have let go in other years when we had Larry Hise and Lyman Bostock in the lineup."

The six-time AL batting champion added that he was carrying too heavy a load trying to make the Twins a winning team.

Carew's comments were made in Boston, where Minnesota was beaten 8-1 by the Red Sox Thursday night.

The comments were reported Friday by Minneapolis Tribune columnist Sid Hartman.

Carew, here as the Twins opened a weekend series with the Baltimore Orioles, was unavailable Friday.

Going into Friday night's game the Twins were 8-18 and next-to-last in the AL West, 11½ games out of first. Carew — who hit .388 a year ago — was took a .352 batting average into the game.

Minnesota finished fourth in the division with an 84-77 mark a year ago, then were hit hard by free-agent defections over the winter. Hise and Bostock, both .300 hitters in 1977, were among those signing with other teams.

Carew said he doubted that Twins President Calvin Griffith would keep him if the club doesn't start winning. Griffith said he feels Griffith won't offer him the money he can get by playing out his option and becoming a free agent at the end of 1979.

Griffith, however, said he was preparing an offer that he will present to Carew soon.

"I'm going as far as I can without breaking the Twins," Griffith said. "I don't want to see Rod leave. I know there are some clubs that will pay him a lot of money and we're going to do everything we can to make him happy. We have no plans to trade him."

Griffith added he believes there is a spot in the Twins' organization for Carew after he gets through playing. "In fact," the Twins' owner said, "I consider him managerial timber."

WEST TEXAS HUNTING AND FISHING

High Sky Bass tourney underway at Amistad

BY JON CHASE

As you read this, the High Sky Bass Club Invitational Tournament on Lake Amistad is in full swing with an expected 200 plus field of fishermen and fishermen competing.

First prize for the men's division is $750, second is $300 and $150 for third. The ladies division will have the same prize money the first three places. More than $2,400 of merchandise will be awarded to the finishers below third place and all places in the team competition will be awarded by merchandise. There also will be a prize for the largest bass of the tournament.

I reported last week that the High Sky Bass Club finished third in the regional tournament on Twin Buttes Lake in San Angelo. The top four finishers qualified for the state tournament at Lake Palestine to be held later in the year.

The first place team was the Concho Bass Club of San Angelo with 24 pounds, 14 ounces while second place went to the Permian Bass Club of Odessa with 24 pounds, 13 ounces, third went to High Sky Bass Club with 23 pounds, eight ounces and fourth went to Snyder Bass Club with 15 pounds, 14 ounces.

THE FISHING was very slow on the weekend of the tournament due to high winds and other adverse fishing conditions. This is reflected by the fact that weights given for the first four finishers represented two full days of fishing by six men from each club, or an average of a little over two pounds of fish per day per man for the winning team.

The surprise of the tournament was the fact that out of the six fishermen on the qualifying Snyder team, only one caught a fish and he caught the entire team total of 15 pounds and 14 ounces on Sunday afternoon with one bass going six pounds and five ounces. This fellow's last ditch effort qualified the Snyder team for the state tournament.

Since this is the time of year when every fisherman from tyro to pro is dreaming of catching a truly big fish, I thought I would pass on some state rod and reel records and where and when they were caught to give you an idea of your competition/in getting your name in the Texas record books.

Largemouth bass, 13 pounds, eight eight ounces, Medina Lake, Jan. 16, 1943.

Striped bass, 30-6, Toledo Bend, Jan. 7, 1978.

White bass, 5-9, Longhorn Dam, March 31, 1977.

Channel catfish, 36-8, Pedernales River, March 7, 1965.

Flathead catfish, 70¼ pounds, Lake Livingston, July 10, 1977.

White crappie, 4-9, Navarro Mills, Feb. 14, 1968.

Alligator gar, 279 pounds, Rio Grande River, 1951.

Bluegill, 3-4, farm pond, April 25, 1966.

Walleye, 10-4, Lake Meredith, April 7, 1977.

Northern pike, 18-2, Greenbelt Lake, June 11, 1975.

The above records are for rod and reel. The trotline records are 114 pounds for flathead catfish, Lake Livingston, Oct. 13, 1976; 302 pounds for alligator gar Nueces River, 1953; and 70 pounds for blue catfish, Marsh Lake, 1965.

The record that amazes me most is that 279 pound alligator gar on rod and reel. I hooked one a few years back while fishing on the Oklahoma side of the Red River and he must have weighed in the vicinity of 150 pounds. I was fishing with 25-pound test line and this monster didn't even know he was hooked until I got him close enough to the bank to look at him.

He saw me at the same time and the nonsense was over. One mad run down the river took care of all 150 yards of line on my reel against a fairly tight drag, and you know the rest of the story. I can't imagine what one close to 300 could do.

FISHING REPORTS for the past two weeks haven't been too exciting on area lakes due to the high winds, but the fishermen who were able to get on the water in the protected coves were finding fish in the shallows and on out to about 15 feet of water.

I talked to Eddie Marberry who guides on Lake Palestine and he said that he took a party from Austin out last Friday and put four bass in the boat before noon that weighed 3, 6, 6 1/2 and 7 pounds. He said that the fish still weren't on the spawning beds and that these four all came from worm holes. The East Texas fishing is like everywhere else, with everyone waiting for the fish to hit the shallows and begin their spawn.

Aussie takes lead in international

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — Australian Jan Stephenson, despite consecutive bogies on the back side, put together a 4-under-par 68 Friday for a two-stroke lead after the first round of the Women's International Golf Tournament.

In second place at 70 was Pam Higgins, followed by four golfers tied at 71 — Carol Mamm, Debbie Austin, Donna Caponi Young and Gerylyn Britz.

Swirling winds caused some grief among the 68 players on the Devil's Elbow Course at Moss Creek Plantation. But the breezes were gentle compared to the gale Thursday which caused first-round play to be delayed 24 hours. The final round in the 72-hole tournament will be held Monday, a day later than scheduled. The winner will take home $12,000 of the $80,000 total prize money.

Stephenson birdied the first, fifth, 10th and 11th holes before her first bogie on the 12th. She rammed her second putt 5 feet past the hole on the 13th and 3-putted for another bogie.

Then the blonde Australian, now playing out of Palm Springs, Calif., settled down with birdies on the 14th and 16th.

"I didn't play as well as I normally think I should, but the greens were spectacular," said Stephenson, the

L. Ray Sutton continues his blistering pace in league play on the lanes in the Tall City.

After pounding out his 299 game in the Oil Star League, it was announced that the current kingpin of bowling had hammered out his third 700 series of the past three weeks with a 720 in the Petroleum American League. He turned the 700 trick again on May 2.

Richard Moore also put on a torrid show with an 899 four-game set last Sunday and an 880 the week before for a 222 average over the last eight games.

SONNY POOL'S 274 game would make headlines any other time except for the scoring display by Sutton. The game for Sonny is the highlight of his bowling at this point of the season. Included in Pool's 274 game were a 661 three-game series and an 848 four-game set.

Tommy Gammage had a great Sunday, bringing in a 640 series in the Dellwood Mixed League, topped by a 235 game. He followed with a 691 three-game set and 874 four game with games of 232 and 241.

Vernon Williams racked up a 668 in the Air Park Men's League, but the real story from that league is Jerry Lakey, a 135 average bowler who turned in games of 191, 199 and 208 for a 598 series.

PACING THE women was Mary Wester, whose 239 game and 611 series were the top marks turned in among the women this week.

The Midland Bowling Association's annual Council of Delegates meeting will be held Friday at 7 p.m. in the First National Room of the First National Bank, according to Howard Shelton, city bowling secretary. The meeting is open to all bowlers who are members of the Midland Bowling Association. Everyone is invited to attend and encouraged to bring along a friend.

Shelton also reports that Charlie Lacy, while participating in the ABC Masters, made it through the first round of play, but was eliminated in match play. That is an outstanding accomplishment.

Boggs sparks victory

FRIDAY'S SCOREBOARD

Nelson golf Girl's track LPGA scores

DALLAS (AP)—Second round scores Friday in the 50th Byron Nelson Classic on the 100-year-old, par-70 Preston Trail Golf Club course (4-decimes amateur):

ATLANTA (AP)—Pitcher Tommy Boggs belted his first major league home run and recorded his first National League victory Friday night as the Atlanta Braves defeated the Houston Astros 5-2.

Boggs, 1-3, drilled his home run over the left field fence in the fifth inning off knuckleballer Joe Niekro, 1-4.

Boggs had a 1-10 record during two seasons with Texas in the American League before the Braves acquired him in a trade. He worked seven innings, allowing five hits, before being relieved by Buddy Jay Solomon.

Atlanta broke a 2-2 tie with two runs in the sixth. Dale Murphy walked and was trapped off first but made it to second when no one covered for Houston. Rod Gilbert doubled to score Murphy and Pat Rickett followed with a run-scoring single.

The Braves scored an unearned run in the second inning when Houston second baseman Art Howe threw a wide of home plate attempting to cut down Murphy.

Bob Watson smashed his fourth homer in the sixth inning. The Astros scored their first run in the opening inning when Terry Puhl singled and eventually scored on Cesar Cedeño's ground-er.

Atlanta 5, Houston 2. Boggs 1-3, 1 HR, 1 RBI. Niekro 1-4. Murphy 1-1, 1 HR, 1 RBI. Watson 1-1, 1 HR, 1 RBI. Puhl 1-1, 1 R. Cedeño 1-1, 1 R. Puhl 1-1, 1 R. Cedeño 1-1, 1 R.

Maple Leaf star out

TORONTO (AP)—Maple Leafs defenseman Borje Salming, whose nose was broken and right eye badly injured, was taken during Toronto's quarter-final playoff series with the New York Islanders, will not return to the National Hockey League team's lineup this season.

After examining Salming, Dr. Michael Easterbrook said, "Although the sight in Borje's right eye is 95 percent of normal, we cannot take chances because another blow now could do serious damage."

Are you tired of buying rent receipts? Here's good news! Recent lending laws have made it very easy for career oriented singles to purchase a home. Single men and women no longer have to invest their hard earned dollars in rent receipts. With a minimum down payment, your monthly payments will be comparable to the rent you may now be paying. Plus you'll have that all important investment that can have a substantial impact on your future. Real estate has outperformed all other types of investment.

Farms & Ranches

BOB LILLY & HIS PARTNER

Have 2 ranches and are going to sell one. This ranch is located in the beautiful Comancheo Country. This 2,000-acre ranch is 30 miles south of Cleburne, 2 miles from each side of the Red River, coming out of Palo Duro Canyon. It has mature deer, blue and bob white quail, wild turkey, ducks and doves. The land leased for grazing is $200 per acre when cattle markets were depressed. If you are seriously interested in one of the finest hunting and ranching lands in the country at a low, low price, call the Big Boy.
