month congressional hassle over President Carter's energy program probably is best typified by a note tacked on a committee room door "No Energy Conference Today" The

note is becoming a fixture Some lawmakers who have grown weary of the protracted debate, centering on natural gas pricing, have suggested the scrawled note be done over in polished woud and be made permanent in view of its ever in

Even though House and Senate en ergy negotiators have made intensive months to resolve their differences on the natural gas issue, there have only been two public meetings of the full 43 member conference panel so far this vear

Repeated meetings have been post poned during the past few weeks as a fragile compromise calling for natural gas deregulation by 1985 keeps oming unglued

The deadlock on natural gas is stalling action on Carter's entire energy program, which was submitted in April 1977 as a plan to reduce substantially the U.S. reliance on im-

Heeding advice from delegate Harris Kerr, representing the Reso lutions Committee, to "avoid trying to adopt any resolution that would divide this convention." Midland County Democratic Convention partici pants Saturday voted down resolu tions concerning the Equal Rights Amendment and abortion

The delegates turned down a resolution against abortion and one which opposed the extension of the time limit for ratifying the Equal Rights Amendment

In presenting the report of the Reso lutions Committee, Kerr said there were disagreements among the delegates on several issues because the Democratic Party takes in a wide spectrum of people. I think we do not need to make public those disagree ments nor saddle our candidates with those disagreements. Kerr

Republicans favor limiting abortions

By MARLEEN RAY

Resolutions passed by the Midland County Republican Convention Satur day ranged from the serious to the droll with delegates voting to urge the Texas Legislature to restrict abortions and labeling Jimmy Carter as the "39th worst President of the United States

By a 79 to 39 standing vote, delegates adopted a resolution asking that the Legislature be urged to pass laws to restrict abortions as much as possible under the present circum stances" and require that aborted babies who still are alive be given all the medical attention available

Ernest Angelo Jr , convention chairman and Midland mayor, asked the group to adopt the resolution. "It (abortion)," he said, "is clearly murder It's just as blunt as that '

On the other hand, Rosalind Glenn of Precinct 12 said she was against any type of abortion law. The rich and powerful, she said, always have been able to get abortions on demand If anti abortion legislation is passed in this country, she said the poor and other minorities will be stuck with unwanted children

You can't pass laws some people can buy their way out of." she said Brad Patteson of Precinct 7 pro posed an amendment to the resolution, stating that the Midland County Republican Party considers abortion immoral, an extinction of human life and favors an anti-abortion amendment to the U.S. Constitution

At the request of Angelo, Patteson withdrew his proposal, explaining that it appeared that he didn't have enough votes to pass it and that the best alternative was to adopt the original inal resolution

Angelo pointed out that the resolu tion accepted by the convention affects only those abortions done after the 24th week of pregnancy. A U.S. Supreme Court decision prevents any restrictions on abortions performed prior to that time.

In addition, the convention en dorsed the resolution, stating that family planning is the responsibility of the husband and wife, not the gov

In other resolutions, the delegates voted to urge the Legislature to re seind or recall its ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment and ask states which have not approved it not to do so. They further decided to ask the U.S. Congress to reject any at tempts to extend the ratification deadline for the ERA. Currently, the deadline is March 1979.

The party members voiced their support for "right to work" legislation and reaffirmed their respect for law and order and law enforcement agencies. They passed resolutions, asking that government restraints on the agriculture and petroleum indus tries be removed and free enterprise restored, and encouraging public officials to recognize that government should not interfere in the work and resources "rightly belonging to individuals, their families, local schools and churches.

By ROB WOOD HOUSTON (AP) - Late on a May night in 1977 on the banks of a muddy, trash-filled bayou, an incident occured, hidden from the eyes of thousands of Houstonians by darkness and isolation, that has brought turmoil to the nation's fifth largest city. Six policeman and one young, drunk Mexican-American laborer were the characters in this first act of a drama that later brought convictions against three officers; charges against several others; a riot in a city park, and the city council granting emergency powers to the mayor.

THE STORY that began that night at Buffalo Bayou near the Houston police station has not ended. The leading roles were to be played by unlikely persons—a rookie policeman, an officer with a file filled with citations for his exceptional service, a state court jury, a U.S. District Court judge and a former Army Ranger, known by only a few persons until he died It was the rookie officer — Carless Elliott, 20, son of a veteran policeman — who wrote the first pages of the story when he told his superiors that a Mexican-American had been taken screaming, cursing, kicking and drunk from a bar in a tough section of Houston by officers following a call from the

Elliott said he and five other officers took the man to a deserted area, beat him, and then the prisoner either fell, jumped or was pushed into the bayou from a 16-foot high embankment. Elliott, who said he had no part in the beating, was never accused of any wrongdoing and is still on the force.

THREE DAYS later the body of Joe Campos Torres was found floating in the murky bayou, which flows through a section of downtown Houston.

Then the name of Joe Campos Torres, a self-styled karate expert, occasionally known for having a few beers and a few fights in his part of the city, became a symbol of police brutality against the minorities, especially the Hispanics.

The death of Campos Torres, 23, resulted in state murder charges against two officers and later civil rights violations against four policemen.

It resulted in the creation of the first internal affairs division in Houston police department history a unit to investigate citizen complaints against officers.

It resulted in several rallies calling for justice for Mexican-Americans, who comprise 13 percent of the city's some 1.7 million residents

Campos Torres' death on that May night — a night when Mexican-Americans celebrated a Mexican holiday called Cinco de Mayo, began to spread and flow like lava through the city.

Two officers, Terry Denson, 27, with several citations for his work in the past, and Stephen Orlando, 22, were convicted in state court of negligent homicide and given one-year probated sentences. LATER they, along with Joseph Janish, 22, were convicted of civil rights violation charges and sentenced to one year in prison and 10-year suspended terms. A fourth officer is to be tried later and a fifth pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor in exchange for his testimony

The light sentences brought cries of anger from the Mexican-American community and there were more rallies and protest marches.

The U.S. marshal's office in Houston now is keeping a 24-hour guard on U.S. district court Judge Ross Sterling, the man who handed down the sentences, because of a letter threatening his life.

The new internal affairs division, sensitive to the police activities

The Mexican-Americans for years had complained of mistreatment by officers, but it was seldom more than grumblings among themselves. As one said recently, "What good would it do for us to speak out, nobody would listen.

WITH Campos Torres, who apparently has gained far more fame in death than he would have in life, now a symbol, more voices were raised-and heard.

Under new Police Chief Harry Caldwell, the internal affairs unit looked into the death of two teenagers shot to death after seperate high speed chases

Five policemen were fired and one resigned in one case, three were dismissed in the second case. The possibility remains of criminal charges against some of the officers.

An FBI investigation, with internal affairs division assistance, resulted in the filing of federal charges against Assistant Police Chief Carrol Lynn for obstruction of justice. The charges involved an alleged effort to solicit $45,000 in exchange for quelching an indictment against a prominent Houston business-

Caldwell said recently, "maybe we are seeing the end of the tunnel.

The offsprings of the Campos Torres death continued last Sunday during a Mexican fiesta in a city park. Violence erupted with 15 persons injured, including three policemen and two television newsmen. Two drive-in stores were looted and fire caused heavy damage to a bakery, a variety store and a laundry.

The next night about 100 teen-agers threw bricks and rocks at officers. One policeman was hurt. Forty persons were arrested during the two nights

THE MAYOR said he wouldn't hestitate to use his new emergency powers, such as setting a curfew, clearing streets and parks, and controlling the sale of alcoholic beverages.

Sam Ellis, 33, a member of the Harris County grand jury, recently rode with police on midnight patrol and said, "many officers nowdays are on edge, concerned about what the community thinks of them. They go out of their way to show citizens they have behaved properly. In the grand jury room, you wonder if all this crime is really going on. Then you go out one night and see that it is.

Ellis said, "I think we'll have a much better department because of all of this. That is, if there is a it will be on display from police department left. No one seems to be running to Oct. 13 through Nov. 26 apply for a job.

Hospital district attacks health care costs

Midland County Hospital District has announced adoption of a resolution attacking rising health care

Wayne Ulrich, district administrator, said, "We have been working diligently for a long time to hold down the cost of hospital care. This resolution indicates our strong desire to reassess our current operating and capital budgets to determine which expenditures can be reduced without sacrificing the quality of care."

The hospital industry's program to control costs is known as the Texas Voluntary Effort. It is part of a national effort to reduce the rate of cost increase by 2 percent a year for two

Public hearings slated Monday

The educational needs of handicapped children in Texas and the services provided them will be discussed during public hearings Monday and Tuesday in Midland, according to state Sen. Pete Snelson, chairman of the Interim Study Committee on Special Education.

Scheduled by the study committee, the hearings will be held in the Tom B. Campbell conference room of the Region 18 Education Service Center on La Force Boulevard, Midland Regional Air Terminal. Monday's hearing will begin at 10 a.m., and the second one will start at 9 a.m.

Wilburn Buttery, president of the Midland Association for Children with Learning Disabilities, said he expected to testify on behalf of the organization at the Tuesday hearing.

"Anyone desiring to present testimony to the committee will be wel comed," Snelson said. The study committee has scheduled a series of hearings throughout the state. It plans to report its findings and recommendations to the Legislature in January 1979.

Explosions kill at least four persons MEXICO CITY (AP) - A series of explosions triggered fires Saturday that destroyed two large department stores only a block apart in downtown Mexico City and killed at least four persons, authorities reported.

They said the bodies of three firemen and a night watchman had been recovered and at least 50 persons were injured in the twin infernos that possibly were set.

A spokesman at the central fire station said it was feared that between eight and twelve firemen were trapped in the blazing rubble when sections of the five-story Astor department store collapsed in midafternoon. He said hope was fading that any of them might be rescued.

Fire Dept. Col. Juan Gomez Rodriguez reported the fires started within minutes of each other at about 2:30 a.m. at the Astor and Blanco department stores, which are owned by different companies.

the now-forbidden unit rule.

Smith told the convention that his ruling was based on his interpretation of party rules.

The same method of voting was used for at-large delegate selection, although several precincts had no representatives to cast their votes for the at-large positions.

The report from the Credentials Committee indicated there were several "technical flaws" in some of the precinct convention minutes, but Sam Turner, speaking for the committee, recommended that the names be accepted "in the spirit of the democratic process." There were no dissenting them understand the petroleum industry. He said that, in Midland, 70 percent of a company's employees said more regulations are needed in the oil and gas industry.

'If the people in Midland don't understand the problem, I don't know how (others) will understand the problem," Craddick said.

Local, state and federal governments are becoming more involved in private industry, he said, so it's up to people to "turn the tide.

The state representative talked about legislative accomplishments this past session, pointing to the sunset laws, which call for periodic reviews of state agencies to determine if they should be continued. He said he hoped this legislation would be "a good deal" for Texas citizens.

"We need to keep laws down, get some off the books and abolish some agencies," Craddick said. He said he helped combine three agencies dealing with water resources, saving Texans more than $4 million. DuringNthe convention, party members also endorsed Republican candidacies for all local, state and national offices and commended party officials for their work.

In a lighter vein, delegates passed a resolution, stating that President Jimmy Carter "has given great encouragement to the Republican Party" through his ineptitude. Carter, the resolution said, "mounted his white charger...only to find he had to leave his 'lance' behind." The delegates resolved to see that Carter faces an early retirement in 1980.

Delegates and alternates to the state convention in September were elected at the meeting. The delegates are Angelo, Jim Allison Jr., Pat Blackwell, Win Brown, Sara Branum, Craddick, Fran Henderson, Bud Hensley, Larry Hunnicutt, James W.

Betty Ford discussed

NEW YORK (AP) - Betty Ford was a jealous and insecure wife whose drinking problem prevented her from outwardly reacting to an assassination attempt on her husband, says former White House press secretary Ron Nessen. New York Post columnist Harriet

Gallup Poll brings Carter both gloomy, cheerful news

WASHINGTON - Last week the Gallup Poll brought us more findings about President Carter, parceling them out in the best two-a-week fashion: the bad news for Carter on Sunday, then the good news on Thursday.

The bad news was that not only had Carter fallen to his lowest point so far in public popularity. but that the Democratic rank and file voter did not even favor him as the' party's nominee for President in 1980. They preferred Sen. Edward J. Kennedy, and by a

VISA/BANKAMERICARD

Recently, Permian Basin residents have been receiving out-of-state telephone calls concerning BankAmericard (VISA) cards. They ask to confirm your address and subsequently may send you new cards with instructions for you to destroy your current cards. DO NOT DESTROY YOUR PRESENT CARDS. If you've already destroyed your card contact your local bank for a replacement.

The Banks of Midland would like for you to know that this is a solicitation technique used to get your business, and that the Midland banks are not a part of this operation. We recommend that you keep your current card and if you have any questions about it-please call your local bank.

Only your local bank gives you personal assitance and local service should you have any problem with your VISA cards. If you do not presently have a VISA card they can help you obtain one, and if you have a current card they will automatically send you a new one when it expires.

Our banks value your business and will be eager to assist you with any banking need. An out of state bank simply wants to broaden its base of card holders. If you do not currently have a VISA card and want one, your hometown bank will be glad to accept your application.

Brezhnev now slowly losing health battle

By HARRY DUNPHY

MOSCOW (AP) - Soviet President Leonid I. Brezhnev has undergone a slow but steady physical deterioration in the past year, but his grip on the reins of power in the Kremlin appears as firm as

The 71-year-old leader's difficulty in walking and getting up, as well as a puffy appearance during a recent visit to West Germany, refueled speculation about the state of his health.

Brezhnev holds the dual position of president and secretary-general of the Communist Party. As such - and also because of his occasional long absences from public view - his health has been the subject of many unconfirmed reports for the past five years.

There is no indication he plans to retire, a step that would be unprecedented for a top Soviet leader. In fact, as huge banners bearing his image in Moscow's recent May Day parade demonstrated, his personal adulation has never been greater.

Well-informed Western diplomats said his West German trip was significant if only for the fact that those in his entourage and the 14-member ruling Politburo felt he was able to do it.

The diplomats said Brezhnev's three days of talks with Chancellor Helmut Schmidt and other West German officials — on a variety of issues for which Brezhnev was said to show command of detail bodes well for a summer summit with President Carter if U.S. and Soviet negotiators reach agreement on a new strategic arms limitation pact.

Brezhnev's reported alertness on his West German mission contrasted with his last trip abroad, to France in June 1977, when officials said he some-times was glassy-eyed and stared off into space during talks.

Some observers in Moscow thought the French reports were exaggerated. They pointed out that West European officials are in a difficult position to assess Brezhnev's health since they see him so infrequently. Even their ambassadors in Moscow get a close look at him only at a Kremlin reception once

U.S. officials are better situated to judge the state of the Soviet chief's health. Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance and his aides have met with him twice in the past 13 months. U.S. Ambassador Malcolm Toon has seen him alone on two additional occasions.

Brezhnev reportedly handled his two-hour April 22 meeting with Vance very well, but he was said to have become impatient toward the end. Officials had no trouble understanding his Russian, although he still slurred his words, as he has for several years now, possibly a vestige of an earlier stroke.

His long-time interpreter Victor Sukhodrev had no trouble understanding what his boss said. This wasn't the case during the Vance visit a year ago, when the interpreter had to refer to a position paper because Brezhnev's enunciation was so bad.

The speech problem aside, about the only other thing Western diplomatic sources here will say for certain about Brezhnev's health is that they believe he has some cardiovascular problem for which he may be taking medication that sometimes gives his face a puffy look.

"But it's not a Pompidou situation," said one source, referring to former French President Georges Pompidou, who died in April 1974 from cancer and who had a moon-face appearance the last year of his life as the result of medication

Analysts here tend to be skeptical about reports from Washington quoting U.S. intelligence sources as saying Brezhnev has emphysema, a non-fatal form of leukemia, gout and a pacemaker to control irregular heartbeat.

The known facts are that he has worn a hearing aid for years and has given up smoking, although he says he likes to be around people who smoke heavily so he can inhale the fumes.

There also has been in the past few months a very noticeable slowness and stiffness in Brezhnev's walk. He sometimes suffers from the lapses in memory common to elderly people.

Medical experts said the difficulties in walking and getting up from a chair may be temporary problems that could disappear as the Soviet leader regains his Brezhnev was out of sight for most of December and all of January, with the exception of one brief appearance for an awards ceremony. Soviet sources said he had influenza, recovered briefly and then suffered a relapse.

"If he were confined to bed, let's say for two three-week periods," a source with medical experi-ence said, "it would be reasonable to assume there would be some deterioration of muscle tone unless he exercised regularly.

"He wouldn't be crippled but he wouldn't be as strong as he was before the illness, which would explain the problems in Bonn. Exercise could correct this condition."

Before going to Germany, Brezhnev underwent a tiring train trip to Siberia, touring a new railroad line under construction north of the Chinese border, as well as Russian defense installations in the area. The trip was regarded as a sign despite his problems that he was in reasonably good health and fit to travel abroad.

Although some Soviets may grumble that a picture of a leader having to be helped to his feet does not go with the country's superpower image, such arguments are unlikely to impress Brezhnev's Politburo

Three of them, including the influential Mikhail Suslov, are older than Brezhnev and in uncertain health. And another, Andrei Kirilenko, who has been mentioned as a possible successor in a transition regime, is the same age.

Sloan gives views on transportation, housing, city

By LANA CUNNINGHAM

Black reading glasses perched at the end of his nose, Tom Sloan leaned back in his padded chair and looked at the green-colored figures sliding across the wall at one end of the

"I found myself sitting here and complaining about the way the city (Midland City Council) was doing things, and I decided to get up and do something about it," he said.

Sloan last week attended his first City Council meeting in his two-year Tall City. He started first in the oil business, did some ranching in West Texas and Colorado, and finally settled into his current job in the brokerage business in 1958.

Midland is encountering an important time in its growth, according to Sloan. "It's changing from a little West Texas town into a city.

The City Council has not done a bad job in running the city, he emphasized. "I was never critical of my opponent in the race, but I felt it was time for someone new to try his

Now that Sloan is in the driver's seat, he has been looking at issues facing the city government, including transportation, housing and planned growth of the city.

Air transportation is one of the most important modes of travel to Midland, he said, and the city should keep up with its growth. "We have miles and miles of land (at Midland Regional Air Terminal) where we can expand," Sloan said.

He also feels sidewalks tie in with transportation. The Council has waivered the sidewalk code for several citizens who have requested it. "We need sidewalks for a public transpor-tation system. It will be difficult in the future to come back and put them in."

Sloan lives on West Missouri Avenue and walks to and from work. Some parts of the residential street have sidewalks and others do not. For anyone walking, the houses with no sidewalks force the walker into the street with the busy traffic, Sloan ex-

A requirement for rent subsidy on a Community Development grant from the Department of Housing and Urban Development was rejected by the City Council last year, and the application for funds was rejected by HUD. As a result, the issue of housing may face the council at some time during Sloan's term, he said.

"Any federal intervention in city government is wrong," he said. The government taxes the citizens and then gives part of it back, but "it's like sending in a roast beef and giving us back the bones," Sloan theorized.
"If we are offered funds with no strings attached, I don't think it is wrong to take it and use it to the greatest benefit in the community.

While there are some people in the community who could work and get into better living conditions, Sloan said he realizes there are many who are physically unable to work, some who can not manage money correctly and some who are not qualified to work at a higher-paying job.

Concerning a housing project attached to a funding application, Sloan thought a minute about his move on such a project. "I don't want to make the decision to take approved living facilities away from someone who needs it.

All citizens are required to pay taxes, and if the city does not accept what they can get back, "it will go to Odessa or New York or some other city," Sloan said. "Hopefully, if we get the money, we can use it to the best advantage. I can't see turning it

Midland has never had a period when it did not grow, he noted. Like many West Texas cities, Midland is growing north and west. The Council is making a push for more growth and development east and south, he said, adding that it is one reason the city has been waivering the sidewalk requirement for some citizens. Downtown he sees as expanding toward the east, and cites the move of Gibralter Savings and Loan and the location of the Midland Hilton as reasons for his

Looking at both sides of an issue is something Sloan is having to do with the planned downtown Exhibit Center and property north of The Midland Hilton, which the Council has decided to purchase. That block will be used as a park, but to be a proper park the whole block is needed. The area also is being considered for a parking area, which is badly needed for downtown, he said. On the other hand, Mrs. Fred Wemple, owner of the property, and the business owners have their reasons for not wanting to move, he

"This job (as city councilman) takes a lot of time and a lot of work," Sloan said. "It's one where you don't make friends every day."

Life CAN be beautiful. It is, here.

TEN GOOD REASONS WHY YOU OR SOMEONE YOU LOVE SHOULD LIVE AT LEISURE LODGE.

HAPPINESS. Everyone has the inalienable right to the pursuit of happiness. And for many of us, as we grow older, true happiness comes from being around people our own age - people with whom we can enjoy conversation, reminiscences, our real feelings - people who understand.

COMFORT. At Leisure Lodge, we recognize that we are all individuals; everyone is different, and has different needs. Thus, we make every possible effort to see that these needs are met - from turning a thermostat up or down, locating a more comfortable chair, opening the drapes, or closing the drapes - or whatever it takes.

COMPANIONSHIP. We think one of the best reasons for living at Leisure Lodge is knowing that there will always be someone to be with; someone like you (or perhaps someone different, if you prefer.) At Leisure Lodge, you're alone only when you want to be - and we think that's awfully important.

LOVE. That's what living at Leisure Lodge is all about. From the Nurses, to the Aides, to the Cooks, to the Administrators - and certainly, from one guest to another, our home is filled with love. It always will be. Because that's what makes it a home. And we wouldn't have it any other way.

FOOD. There just isn't any better food anywhere. Hot, home-cooked meals, as much as you want, planned and supervised by a dietician, and prepared with love. (We eat here, too, you know, and we eat the same food as our guests.) Strict attention is paid to special diets. Everyone gets what he or she needs; no one gets what they shouldn't have. And usually, with older people, that's not true in even the best of private homes.

CLEANLINESS. We take special pride in making Leisure Lodge shine. Every part of our home is cleaned daily - and you know how important that is, when it comes to preserving good people's good health, at any age. Linens are always clean and fresh, and our guests' personal laundry is done right here in the home, at no charge.

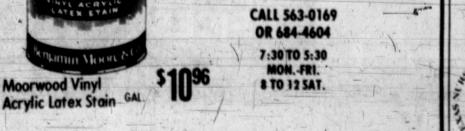

ECONOMY. You might think it costs a lot of money to live here - but it doesn't. In fact, it doesn't cost a bit more to live at Leisure Lodge than at any other home. We're approved by the State Welfare Department for Medicaid - and of course, we're licensed by the State Health Department. Yet the fact is, you can probably live here for less than you can live at home.

ACTIVITIES. Want something to do? Want to have fun, with people your own age? Come to Leisure Lodge, and you've come to the right place! Our Activities Director has more ideas than fifteen computers! There's always something going on. And you'll love it!

NURSES. Ours are the very best anywhere. Bar none! We think so, anyway, and we'd bet you will, too. They care for our guests. They see to it that the proper medications are given, at the proper time. And baths, and shots, and all the other things. But; most of all, they like what they're doing, and they love our guests. And they always remember that a smile, and a cheerful greeting, are sometimes the very best medicine of all!

THERAPY. It comes in all types. Not just in helping people learn to use limbs that have grown weak, or to do things for themselves. We do that, of course, but we do other things, too, that may be even more important. Like making people feel good inside. At Leisure Lodge, we really do care.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Doctors and hospital emergency room workers must learn to make comprehensive and uniform medical examinations of rape victims if rapists are to be successfully prosecuted, according to an expert on the crime.

"Without adequate medical evidence, you can't make a case against a rapist," said Cathy Bonner, executive director of the Texas Rape Prevention and Control Project in Austin

"And, there seems to be a lack of understanding among doctors, especially in rural areas, about what is a good medical examination for rape," she said in an interview.

Ms. Bonner was among several speakers at a seminar on rape at the Texas Medical Association convention last week.

Her agency has developed a Rape Examination Kit, which is available to every hospital emergency room in Texas.

The kit, she said, is a step-by-step list of procedures that should be followed to assure "the fastest, most humane and thorough medical examination of rape victims."

The procedures, she said, would "maintain a chain of forensic evidence."

The seminar on rape was aimed at teaching physicians how to perform a good medical examination of a rape victim, and how to give the expert testimony required later in a trial court.

Ms. Bonner said a doctor's testimony must give scientific evidence of force and penetration—the key legal elements of rape.

Among the specific recommendations given to doctors was one that scrapings be taken from beneath the fingernails of a rape victim. Skin tissue from the rapist found there would show evidence of a struggle, Ms. Bonner said.

"With the Rape Examination Kit, a victim would come to the hospital emergency room and the doctors and workers would pull out the kit, follow the list and make a good case," she said.

If the procedure is followed, she said, it also will help maintain the emotional stability of a rape victim, which is necessary to assure the victim's cooperation in prosecuting the rapist.

"If a medical examination is poorly handled, we can lose the victim emotionally and that will destroy the legal case," she said.

Ms. Bonner also stressed that a rape victim — to prosecute successfully — must receive the medical examination in a hospital emergency room and not in the office of a private physician.

She said a 1976 survey, conducted by the Texas Department of Public Safety through mailed questionaires, indicated that for every rape Feported to police, 4.5 rapes were committed in Texas.

Projecting the results of the survey, the DPS said that in 1976 there were 16,000 forcible rapes in Texas — one for every 300 women in the state. And, there would have been also some 45,000 attemped rapes.

Retiring principal looks back on his tenure

Reflecting on his 31 years of service with Midland public schools, retiring Midland High School Principal Au-drey Gill said he has derived "a great deal of satisfaction" from his work with young people here. Although he only is 56 years old, Gill said he is retiring at the end of this month because, "I want the opportu-nity to try other things in life when I'm not too old and have my health."

He said he thinks it is in the best interest of all concerned that he makes this change, though he regrets leaving before Midland High's building program is completed. "I would have liked to have stayed until some plans in the program were concluded that would update the facilities at Midland High," he said.

Gill, a native of Fisher County, grew up in Sweetwater on a farm and gfaduated from Sweetwater High School. Since his family was poor, he said he didn't have much of a chance to see the "outside world" until he received an athletic scholarship from The University of Texas at Austin. There, he studied physical education and science and also met his future

Later, he earned his master's degree in administration from Sul Ross State University in Alpine and gar-nered another 30 hours of graduate studies at UT.

In August 1947, Gill came to Midland and was employed as an assis-tant coach and science teacher at the old Midland High School, where The Midland National Bank now stands. When he first arrived here, Gill said, it never entered his mind to move into school administration. He said he prefers "direct contact" with students as a teacher and coach.

However, he said, administrative jobs offer greater financial reward and security, so he took the job as part-time athletic director and head football coach at Midland High in 1956. In 1959, he was appointed athletic director full-time, handling the physical education and driver's education programs at all secondary schools.

He became assistant principal at Lee High School in 1967 and returned to Midland High in February 1969, serving as the principal there to this

Explaining why he worked for the Midland school district for so long, Gill simply said he liked the commu-

"I've never found any school district with more opportunities to offer than Midland. I wanted my children to continue in Midland schools because education here is comparable to any (other school district) and better than most," he said.

Among the high points of his 31-year career, Gill said, was his involvement in the planning and opening of Lee High in 1961. In addition, he said, he has made "thousands and thousands of friends" with young people. Many, he said, are living in Midland now and have their own children who are attending Midland High. He said he feels like a grandfather to their chil-

These friends, he said, are the things he will miss when he is retired. Not only is Gill well thought of by school officials, but he seems to be popular with his students. He said he has learned, "If you're honest, fair, straight-forward in working with young people that they accept you, work with you and, in most instances, are honest with you. Gill said he has no definite plans on what he will do in his retirement. He did emphasize, though, that whoever takes his place at Midland High must like young people and be willing to work with them, putting in long, hard

Dominican head faces challenge

SANTO DOMINGO. Dominican Republic (AP) — Pro-American President Joaquin Balaguer, seeking a third consecutive term in Tuesday's election, faces a challenge from the party whose ouster from power in 1963 led to a bloody civil war and U.S. mili-

DR. NEIL SOLOMON

Psoriasis treatment results promising

Dear Dr. Solomon: I have been terribly bothered by psoriasis for about the last five years. I have been hearing a lot lately about some new sunlamp and drug treatment. Do you know anything about it?-Debbie T.

Dear Debbie: I think the sunlampand-drug treatment you are referring to is the one called PUVA (in medical shorthand.) the patient takes an oral drug-a psoralen-and is then exposed to special long-range ultraviolet radiation in a newly devised kind of booth

PUVA was introduced by Dr. Thomas B. Fitzpatrick, chairman of dermatology at Harvard Medical School, and colleaues over three years ago. It is still considered experimental, and has not yet been approved by the Food and Drug Administration for general use

But it has been carefully tried out in major medical centers on over a thousand patients suffering from severe psoriasis-with encouraging results: The condition cleared up in almost nine of 10 cases. There have been some unpleasant side effects. however, such as reddening of the skin, blisters, swelling, nausea, dizziness, and headache. And relapses did occur in about a third of the pa-

Therapy is in two stages. First, an intensive phase of two or three treatments a week. Then a maintenance phase during which the psoralen-plus-radiation is given once every single, second or third week. What we don't know yet is what the long-term effects of PUVA are, and the American Academy of Dermatology has cautioned against its widespread use before certain questions are answered. These include: What is the lowest effective dose of ultraviolet radiation, so as to minimize the chances of long-term damage? How much radiation is needed for maintenance? What is the best way of protecting the eyes and skin against injury? Is there danger of cancer from the radiation?

The Academy's statement con-cluded by saying PUVA could not be recommended until these matters had been fully evaluated. Meanwhile. there have been some interesting recent developments. Dr. Klauss Wolff of Innsbruck in Austria, another PUVA pioneer, has found that the amount of radiation and the duration of treatment can be drastically reduced if the patient is given retinoic acid-an experimental drug derived from vitamin A. And Dr. John W. Petrozzi, chief of dermatology at the Veteran's Administration Hospital in Philadelphia, reports good results. with local applications of psoralen followed by fluorescent sunslamp

So it does seem that progress is being made. But it is important that you understand one thing: much of this is still at the experimental stage. For the best advice about what new or older treatment is likely to be most effective for you, I think you really should talk to a dermatologist. If you have a regular doctor, he could refer you to one. Otherwise check at the nearest teaching hospital or the local

New package guidelines helping, says postmaster

Following new packaging guidelines eliminates damage to parcels, according to Postmaster D. E. Hol-

Checks at bulk mail plants show more than 80 percent of articles damaged in the mails were packaged incorrectly.

The first step is to select a strong carton, such as a fiberboard box with the burst-test number printed on it. If the box says 125 pounds, it can be used for mailing objects weighing up to 20 pounds. To ship heavy or dense materials, a stronger box is needed, such as one with a 175 pound burst test for 10 pounds of books.

Wrapping paper should not be used, Holster said. If it is torn or lost in transit, the mailing address can disappear.

Masking or cellophane tapes are prohibited. String also is not recommended. Pressure-sensitive tapes are almost unbreakable and should be used, he said.

If the package is marked "Do Not Bend" the container should have stiffeners to protect it from being bent. If using a second-hand box, mark out any addresses or numbers that could be confused with the zip codes.

PLENTY OF FREE PARKING WITHIN WALKING DISTANCE OF DOWNTOWN

An innovative new service has opened in downtown Midland to fill a need in efficient short-run copy production.

Copy Corner of Midland, owned and operated by Aubrey Linne and Dwayne Hooper, has announced the acquistion of an AB Dick 1600 Copy Printing System with an in-line 200 bin.

The 1600 System is designed for economical short run offset printing with the added feature of in-line collating at no exra cost. Prior to this venture, Midlanders had to either abuse their copy machines, most of which wre designed to reporduce 15 copies or less, or go to regular offset methods that were more expensive for quantities of less than 200. Copy Corner has been able to fill this need for high quality short run offset copy printing with this new system.

The AB Dick 1600 System is unique in that the printing plate is prepared and fed on to the press automatically. A couple of hundred copies of the same original takes only a few originals can be reproduced with equal ease. For example, 50 copies of a 12 page report printed both sides takes only little over an hour and that includes collating at no extra

A unique binding system, along with folding, cutting, padding, stapling and drilling equipment support the copy printer to insure complete, fast service to Copy Corner's customers.

Hooper and Linne have been residents of Midland for 5 years and will be adding Copy Corner to their other operations-BPI Sports Publications and Graphicon Graphic Arts Consultants. BPI Sports Publications publishes football programs for Southwest Conference Schools and Graphicon provides typesetting, layout, design and other graphic arts assistance in Midland.

Copy Corner is located at 301 South Main and is open Monday thru friday from 8:00 a.m. til 5 p.m. Aubrey and Dwayne invite you to come by to see the latest in copy printing.

UT migrant study disputes federal illegal aliens count

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The nation's illegal alien population has been greatly overestimated in studies prepared for the Immigration and Naturalization Service, say a group of University of Texas econo-

Their report, issued by the UT Bureau of Business Research, also says the Carter administration's proposed Alien Adjustment Act would only encourage more Mexican nationals to Allan G. King and Jorge Rizo-Patron.

The researchers attacked methods used by Lesko Associates to estimate that 5,204,000 Mexican nationals resided illegally in America in 1975 but made no estimate of their own.

They said federal officials privately have rejected the figures in the Lesko report.

The Lesko report based some of its estimates of return migration to Mexico on return of legal European immigrants to their own country, the UT researchers said. The Lesko report assumed only 2 percent of Mexican illegal aliens return to Mexico

"A large body of research suggests that the analogy to European migration is completely inappropriate - that the typical Mexican migrant will remain in the United States less than a year and will maintain strong ties to Mexico, returning there frequently," the UT report said.

One interviewer in central Mexico found that illegal aliens average a six-to eight-month stay in the United States, with 71 percent staying less than four months on their first trip, the researchers said.

The largest numbers of illegal Mexican aliens come from six central Mexican states. The population of males between 15-40 in those states in roughly 2.5 million, the economists said.

However, the Lesko estimate implies that 2.1 million males from that region reside in the U.S., or four out of five men.

"As a shortage of manpower of this magnitude could not escape the attention of observers," the UT researchers said, the Lesko estimate is incorrect. The proposed Alien Adjustment Act would give legal status to persons who could prove residence in the United States since 1970, even if the stays were seasonal.

Through improper use of documents obtained during their residence, seasonal migrants could become permanent residents," the study said. "Thus, by reflecting a false view of the migration process, the Carter bill could have the ironic effect of creating a larger and more permanent illegal alien population than the United States presently contains.

"But we don't just play polka music," Bomba said during a break while playing at the Berwyn Moose Lodge. "We're versatile. We give people what they want to hear."

That was the qualification that counted for director Norman Jewison, who picked Bomba to form a band from numerous others around the Midwest from Cleveland to Milwaukee. "The story is about a union movement in the '30s. As part of the story, a Hungarian man, Stal lone, marries a Lithuani an girl," Bomba said. Producer Patrick Palmer wanted an authentic band to play at the wedding reception

"What they needed was a group that could play Hungarian and Lithuanian music the way it was then. We've been playing that kind of music for years and years," Bomba says. He developed his polka specialty when he returned from World War II, married Janima Bochinski, his grammar school sweetheart, and started playing at Polish weddings, picnics and society meetings.

Weddings these days are nothing compared to them," he remembers. "We'd start playing on Saturday at 3 p.m. and wind up at around 6 or 7 the next morning, then start all over again the next day.

That old-time ethnic feeling may be what Palmer and Jewison had in mind for the wedding scene in the film.

Bomba says they insisted he include a cymbalin for his band in the wedding scene. After calling a few friends, he managed to find one.

Carter's prestige on line in Mideast arms package

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter is putting his administration's prestige on the line in a forceful, last-minute appeal to senators to support his Middle East arms package. He warns of "dire consequences" if the deal is rejected.

The president called the attempt to block the proposed sales to Israel, Egypt and Saudi Arabia, which go to a vote in the Senate on Monday, "a vital test of our national purpose." He told the senators their choice is "stark and fundamen-

HUNDREDS OF MILLIONS WILL BE MISSING!

The Bible predicts in I Thessalonians 4:5-17, "The Lord Himself shall descend frcm Heaven with a shout, with the voice of an archangel, and with the trump of God. And the dead in Christ shall rise first," (all believers in Jesus who ever died along with those who served God before His birth will be ressurrected and taken to Heaven with a brand new body), "And we which are alive and remain," (referring to believers in Jesus still living)",... will be caught up Into the air to meet the Lord." Many believers refer to this as the RAPTURE. What will happen on earth when the Rapture takes place? According to Luke 17:22-36, one person will be taken to be with the Lord and another left. The Bureau of Missing Persons will be overloaded because this phenomena is going to happen internationally as hundreds of millions will-vanish into thin air. There will be no natural explanation for it. The terror will be unparalleled. Jesus has come back and many gave been left. Most will not know what has happened. It is the RAPTURE! Jesus promised this is going to happen! What next?

fearful that WORLD WAR III, ARMAGEDDON, could explode at any time in the Middle East. The Bible predicts that after the "RAPTURE", a powerful leader it describes as the Anti-Christ, will arise who will be known as the "Man of Peace" because he will negotiate a world peace. Daniel 8:24; 11:21-24. He will have a solution for the Middle East problem, set up a World Government, solve the economic situation with a socialistic program of financial equality controlled probably by a computer digital system based on the numbers 666, Rev. 13:18.

The Bible predicts, "When they say peace and safety, then shall sudden destruction come." | Thessalonians 5:3. Armageddon, World War III, is unfortunately going to happen in the Middle East. Rev. 16:14-16; Zechariah 14:1;11 Peter 3:10,12. The book of Revelation 9:16, speaks of an army of 200,000,000 that will come to fight. It is an amazing fact that Red China boasts of an army of 200,000,000.

The Bible predicts that the northern army, Russia, is going to invade Israel to try to destroy her from off_the face of the earth. Joel 2:20, Daniel 11:36-45: Psalms 83:4; Ezekiel 38:1-16; 39:2. The Bible also predicts that all nations will be involved in this war and will meet in the valley of Megiddo, territory now controlled by Israel. Zechariah 12:2-3. This by far will be the worst war in history. Revelation 14:16-20 predicts that the blood will flow like a river. The Bible predicts in Zechariah 12:2-3,9, "Behold, I will make Jerusalem a cup of trembling unto all the people round about, when they shall be in seige both against Judah and Jerusalem. And in that day will I make Jerusalem a burdensome stone for all people: all that burden themselves with it shall be cut in pieces, though all the earth be gathered against it."

Why do you think President Sadat of Egypt withstood the criticism of Russia and his Arab neighbors to go to Jerusalem to meet with Israel's Prime Minister Begin and to its Knesset pleading for peace? Sadat is a smart man and he knows that eventually Russia, China, the United States and other nations are going to get involved one of these days in a big showdown over there if this issue isn't resolved soon. What is it that Sadat sees? HE SEES THE BATTLE OF ARMAGEDON BUILD-ING UP WHERE EVERYBODY IS GOING TO LOSE! Consider the massive buildup of arms in the Mideast; Russia and Cuba's adventures in Africa; the U.S.'s struggle with Russia over supremacy of the Mediterranean and Indian Ocean; and finally the weakened position the U.S. has gotten in over Arab oil. THE SEEDS TO ARMAGEDDON ARE THERE! Those who are left when Jesus comes back will face this war! I'm sure you don't want to be left when the Rapture takes place to face this inevitable showdown that is building up in the Middle East.

WHEN IS HE COMING BACK? Jesus told His disciples, "I am not going to tell you the day or the hour when I will return," but . . .

JESUS SAID, "I WILL GIVE THE WORLD A SIGN! In the generation that you see war, pestilences, famine, earthquakes (Matthew 24:30-36) on an international scale; and Israel becomes a nation again (Psalms 102:16), "This generation shall not pass till all these tings be fulfilled and I return!"

HAVE THESE SIGNS APPEARED IN GENERATION?

Sign 1. WAR: This century has seen the first world war in history. Approximately 30,000,000 died directly or indirectly from World War I. Jesus' prediction in Matthew 24 that "nation shall rise against nation and kingdom against kingdom," was fulfilled for the first time in history in the great alliances of nations. 20,000,000 were slaughtered in World War II. Since then we have had the Korean War, the Viet Nam War, the '67 War, The Yom Kipper War, purges in Red China, wars in Africa and South America. War is an international problem.

Now the superpowers have silos holding missiles with nuclear warheads; nuclear submarines carrying more firepower than all World War II; and bombers ladened with hydrogen bombs. Every nation is in an insane stampede toward Armageddon. This is the first generation that has had the technical capability to destroy mankind. Sign 1., PROVEN! Sign 2. PESTILENCES OR PLAGUES: Shortly after World War I the plague of Spanish Influenza swept the world taking the lives of over 20,000,000 people. When Gerald Ford was President, he initiated a crash program to develop a vaccine to counteract the Swine Flu which many scientists felt was going to sweep the earth. The Swine Flu is of a killer strain similar to Spanish Influenza which has the potential to kill millions.

The superpowers have biological bombs that can cause new diseases in the time of war. They can cripple, blind and kill. It is the first time these biological weapons were available in This Generation. Sign 2. PROVEN! Sign 3. FAMINE: We are familiar with the famine in Biafara which took over a million lives. These are thousands starving to death in India, Bangladesh, and the Hungerbelt right now. During the Oil Crisis, the international cupboard became nearly bare. People in the U.S. were eating horse meat and hoarding food realizing famine could be a reality in this country. The weather had been erratic and hard on the crops. The POPULATION BOMB is staggering to scientists. How many more people can this planet feed? The earth has never had the population or food problems it is facing in This Generation. Sign 3. PROVEN! Sign 4. EARTHQUAKES: There have always been earthquakes, but never on the frequency and international scale that is happening now. The almanac shows that twice as many major earthquakes have happened in the last seventy years as had happened in the previous 1450 years. Over a million and half have died in just the major earthquakes in this century. One tenth of all major earthquakes that have happened since 536 A.D. happened in one recent year, the year 1976. Scientists are alarmed! Peru, Nicaragua, Guatemala, and China have recently been devastated by them.

Earthquakes are happening in California, Alaska, Oklahoma, Iran, Turkey, and on every continent. Why are they suddenly increasing in frequency internationally in This Generation? Is it an omen? Sign 4. PROVEN! Sign 5. ISRAEL BECOMES A NATION AGAIN: Psalms. 102:13-16. "When the Lord shall build up Zion, He shall appear in His glory." Matthew 24-30-33. After centuries of the Jews being scattered throughout the nations, it was just in 1948 that they gathered back, as if supernaturally drawn, to Palestine to become a nation again. This happened after 2,500 years of being scattered. Jeremiah 37:3; Isaiah 61:4; Ezekiel 36:24; 27:21-22. 6,000,000 Jews died during World War II, and this is why it is so difficult to negotiate with them regarding their security: Begin says, "Never again!" Uncannily, Menachem Begin claims Biblical rights to the new Jewish settlements under dispute, declaring God gave this land to Israel. This is the first generation in 2500 years that has seen Israel become a nation. Jesus said, "This Generation shall not pass, til I return". Fifth & Final Sign. PROVEN! Jesus said in Matthew 24-29-32, "Now learn a parable of the fig tree; when his branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, you know summer is nigh: So likewise you, when you shall see all these things, know that it is near, even at the doors. Verily I say unto you, This Generation shall not pass til all these things be fulfilled."

THIS IS THE GENERATION

.THAT HAS SEEN THE FIRST World Wars and has the very real potential for a third such as described in Revelation, called Armagedon. ...that has been devastated by plagues of diseases and the threat of future killer epidemics and biological warfare.

that has seen the scourge of famine and faces grave dangers of food shortages caused by changing weather and the population bomb.

that has witnessed an alarming escalation of the scale and frequency of earthquakes.

that has seen Israel become a nation again.

Jesus said, "no man knows the day or the hour when He will appar", we were just given the sign of The Generation. He said, "I will come as a thief in the night". I Thessalonians 5:2. "To him that looks for me will I appear", He promised. Are you looking for Him to come? Jesus said when He returns it will be a sudden and quick as the lightning flashes. Matthew 24:27. He said, "In the last days there will be scoffers saying, where is His coming? Il Peter 3:3-4. Jesus said, "In that day men's hearts will be failing them for fear and for looking after those things that are coming on the earth: for the powers of heaven shall be shaken; Luke 21: 26-28.

HOPE FOR IS THERE ANYONE? Positively YES!!! Jesus said in 1

Thessalonians 4:15-18, "When you see these things," (wars, pestilences, famines, earthquakes in many places; and Israel reborn), "Coming to pass, Look up; for your redemption draws nigh.: He is going to come back to get His people. How do you get ready? IT IS SIMPLE! Romans 10:9 is the plan. "That if you confess with your mouth the Lord Jesus, and shall believe in your heart that God has raised Him from the dead, you shall be saved." Romans 10:13 says, "Whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved."

No one can take these prophesies lightly in the view of world current events. Jesus said, "Today is the day of salvation, now is the acceptable hour." YOU CANNOT AFFORD TO PROCRASTINATE! Why not personally prepare your heart for the Rapture RIGHT NOW!

If you will pray this prayer in sincerity, God will honor it and you will be prepared against that coming event. Now the prayer: (say it loud)

"Heavenly Father, I come to you in sincerity. I realize that I have sinned. I know I cannot save myself. I accept Jesus as my saviour and Lord. I am sorry for my sins and I ask you to forgive me. I receive your love and forgiveness by faith in Jesus' name. I love you dear God and I want you to help me to live right from this day forward. Help me to find a church that will teach me your will for my life. In Jesus name, Amen!"

NOW . . . Tell God you thank Him for hearing your prayer-go ahead in your own words. You will definitely feel better! BE SURE TO TELL A FRIEND!

Now that you have asked the Lord to prepare you for His coming and have decided to live for Him, you can live with peace of mind knowing God has your future inHis hands. Would you write and share the good news with me? I will write you back and send further helpful articles.

Gulf of Alaska maritime tyrant

ABOARD THE SS ARCO JUNEAU
(AP) — The Gulf of Alaska is a meanly capricious tyrant.

Sure, man may drill deep into the earth to extract oil to serve his needs. Sure, he may build mighty ships to earry it to distant places.

But when those ships put out from Valdez, Alaska, and leave Prince Wilham Sound, the tyrant Gulf calls the tune. It may be benevolent, a peaceful lake without shores. But from October through April, the Gulf turns savage, the roughest waters in the world. The log of Atlantic Richfield's 883-foot tanker Juneau: "Ship working heavy in rough seas and swells, taking seas and spray

"Ship rolling deeply."

A floodlight on the foremast, 37 feet above the waterline, is torn away. The clapper of the ship's bell, fastened by a 11/4-inch bolt, snaps off. Metal fittings on the bow and deck are ripped free. That February voyage was one of the worst in the memory of the veteran crew.

Yet, the ship set out again the same month from Cherry Point, Wash., for Valdez, and back again in March to Puget Sound with 813,484 barrels of erude oil. The skies were bright, the seas gentle, and the crew was busy sprucing up the ship.

Painting outside in March in the Gulf of Alaska? Unheard of," said Bosun Paul Farrenkopf of Philadel-

"It's one of the few times you'll ever see the sun in the Gulf this time of year," said Capt. Emery A. McGowen of Huntington Beach, Calif. "I've seen seas 40 to 50 feet high many times in this Gulf."

A tankerman 41 of his 60 years, McGowen thought back and said, "When you get weather like that, you stand your watch and try and rest and you don't get much of that."

"You can't really rest. You just hang on," added Mike Ames of Matinicus, Maine, the third mate and, at 22, one of the youngest crewmen aboard.

"When the seas are running, you don't dare go out on deck," said second mate Justin Raymond of Somers, Mass. "There is blue water over everything, four to six feet deep. All of the watertight doors are kept closed, right up to the captain's

The captain's deck is 45 feet above the waterline. McGowen remembers seas that smashed windows on the bridge 57 feet up.

"How do you rest? You get used to it, after a fashion says chief engineer Walt Olsen of Conroe, Texas. 1 wedge myself into bed with pillows." There is rarely talk of danger.

glad when this is over,' or something like that," says Olsen. "But that's primarily the inexperienced. Look at the size of this ship. It's hard not to feel safe."

"It's always something out here during the winter months," said seaman Jim Hines of Los Angeles. "Fog, wind, rain. You name it.

Hines, who has been sailing since he was 16, is 56 now and one of the old hands aboard the 120,000-ton Juneau. The ship is equipped with the latest in electronic navigation gear, including a computer which can plot the course and speed of as many as 40 other vessels in a 48-mile radius. Every critical piece of equipment

The ballast tanks are segregated: there is never oil in them. If ballast water is pumped into the cargo tanks, it is pumped ashore to remove all oil before it is returned to the sea.

And all of the ship's waste - from the galley garbage to the oil-streaked water of the bilges — goes into a slop tank which, when the ship is docked, is pumped into shoreside waste treatment facilities.

"Nothing is pumped over the side while we're at sea," McGowen said. "We want to see clean water just like everyone else, and we'd never do anything deliberate to pollute.'

For the seagulls following the ship at sea, the pickings are slim. Everything aboard is spick and span, even the engine room. The walls are clean, the floors are waxed and the woodwork is polished.

Inside and out, the paint is fresh. Even in calm seas the ship rolls and pitches slightly. The neophyte measures the motion by watching sunlight from a porthole dance up and down on the wall. But the stomach begins to dance too, and that's enough of that.

On the steel deck, there is always a sound like that of rushing wind. It's oil sloshing back and forth in the cargo tanks below - some $10 million worth of crude.

The replacement value of this 4year-old ship plus its cargo comes to about $70 million. Yet the crew numbers a mere 29.

The seagulls play an endless game of king-of-the-hill for the right to the three prime fish-watching perches of the ship, stop the foremast and the two king posts amidship.

The beat of the engine and the vibration of the ship's huge propeller blots out all other sound in the deckhouse

It takes only 81 revolutions per minute for the five-bladed prop - 271/2 feet in diameter - to drive the ship along at its cruising speed of 16 knots fully loaded. Dress is informal. The skipper wears slacks, a plaid shirt. Four hours on and eight hours off.

Junior officers and the unlicensed crew have time to kill every trip.

Recreational opportunities are limited. Food takes up the slack. It is solid, varied and unlimited fare. Crewmen order as much as they want from every menu.

Arguments set in water suit

Austin Bureau

AUSTIN-Oral arguments will begin Aug. 30 in the lawsuit between Texas and New Mexico over delivery of Pecos River water, Assistant Attorney General Doug Caroom reports.

The lawsuit is being heard in Denver by Special Master Jean Breitenstein.

Caroom was in Denver May 1 and 2 for the cross-examination by New Mexico of Bill Klemt, Texas Department of Water Resources, on groundwater in the Pecos River Basin.

The delay until Aug. 30 was ordered to allow an engineer advising the judge to acquaint himself with the filings and exhibits in the case.

It's casebearer time, pecan men

By CHARLES W. GREEN
Hidland County Extension Agent

The weather continues a hostile force to farm and anch operators in the West Texas area. Drying vinds have dried much of the moisture received in he rain on May 2. Some cotton planting of irrigated and was underway in the Midland area this week, but the wind and threat of unsettled weather cause ome operators to postpone planting for a few days.

Wind erosion hazards are increasing each passng week without rainfall. Very little improvement in ange conditions have been noted from the light rain and much more will be needed to bring on summer orage.

Cotton growers in the southern section of the state nave had a lot of trouble in getting their cotton up to a stand this spring, according to extension specialists. The problems they have encountered might be factors for West Texas are irrigated cotton growers to consider in planning planting operations.

The reasons point mainly to two factors—poor quality seed and loss of moisture due to improper seeded preparation. A good seedbed is vital to getting a good stand of cotton. The soil needs to be in good tilth, firm with good moisture supply. The cool spring and poor quality seed have also caused problems.

Young seedlings that are low in vigor are especially affected by cool temperatures and dry conditions. Most cottonseed from western states is of good quality this year. However, some cotton produced under drought states is of good quality this year. However, some cotton produced under drought stress last year resulted in small seed with small embyos and hard seed coats that take up water slowly. So, if such seed are planted too deep or where soil moisture is limited to the soil is still cold there can be problems in obtaining a stand.

I have promised to notify pecan growers through this column when and how to treat pecan trees for control of pecan nut casebearer, the pest that destroys young pecan nutlets right after pollination. I had banded a number of pecan trees around Midland in April in an effort to trap some overwintered larvae going into pupation so that we could more accurately predict moth emergence and egg lay. However, I did not catch a single larvae.

Charles Neeb, area extension entomologist, has advised me that it appears at this point that the recent cool temperature have delayed the first generation activity of pecan nut casebearer until around May 15 through May 22. There are some varieties of pecans that now have pollinated nutlets and adult female moths will start laying eggs on these immediately on emergence and mating.

Now is the time to start checking pecan nutlet clusters for the casebearer. Detection of eggs or feeding damage indicated when chemical control applications should be made. After eggs are deposited on the nutlets they should hatch in 4 to 7 days. Eggs are usually placed singly on the tips of the nutlets. Eggs are flat and blue-greenish white in color when first laid but take on a pinkish red color after 1 or 2 days. Eggs are small in size, about the size of a pin head, but can be readily seen on close examination.

At least 100 pecan nutlet clusters should be checked on trees for eggs and worm feeding damage. Check trees 2 to 3 times a week for the next two weeks. Where eggs are detected, chemical treatments should be applied in 3 to 6 days. Where feeding damage is detected, chemical treatment should be made that day.

Sevin or Malathion sprays may be used for control of pecan nut casebearer on home yard trees. A second insecticide application about 7 days after the first is needed in most years for effective pecan nut casebearer control. I want to stress that precise timing is necessary for insect control of any kind.

In the past, casebeaer infestation has been low and rather sporadic in Midland. Each person should inspect trees to determine whether casebearers are actually present before spraying. Indiscriminate use of pesticides can cause everyone problems in the future. When needed and used correctly they are valuable and safe to the applicator and environment. When used incorrectly pests are not controlled and other problems such as inducing resistance or tolerance of certain pests to chemicals may result.

The fact that trees may have dropped nuts last year does not necessarily mean that casebearer was the problem. Learn to identify and become familiar with the life cycle of insects.

Car lawsuit brings $2.4 million award

HOUSTON (AP) — A state district court jury has awarded $2.4 million to a former Houston man who claimed a defective rear suspension in his automobile caused an accident which resulted in permanent and disabling injuries.

The seven-man, five-woman jury returned the 10-2 verdict Friday after deliberating about 16 hours over a three-day period.

Attorneys for Harold L. Bryant, 48, argued that their client suffered brain damage and became paralyzed on his right side because of the March 5, 1965 accident near here.

They argued that the 1962 Chevrolet Corvair sudtenly went out of control, left the roadway and rolled ever due to the defective design and manufacture of the right rear suspension.

Bryant, a former Houston steelworker, now is quartered in a nursing home in Traverse City, Mich. Gay Brinson, representing the Chevrolet Division of General Motors, said he would appeal the verdict. He argued there was nothing wrong with the car and that testimony showed Bryant "simply ran off the

Study shows death row inhabitants mostly blacks

By W. DALE NELSON

WASHINGTON (AP) - Persons arrested for killing whites are more likely to end up on death row than those arrested for killing blacks, according to a sociological study of three Southern states.

Statistics from research being conducted under the direction of Dr. William Bowers at Northeastern University in Boston were presented to a Senate subcommittee last week.

Bowers and his associates compared homicide arrests in 1976 in number of persons on death row in those states. The figures were then broken down by the race of the offender and the victim.

The researchers reported that blacks accused of killing whites accounted for only 4 percent of arrests. but 36 percent of those sentenced to death. Forty-nine percent of those arrested, but only 7 percent of those under death sentence, were blacks charged with killing blacks.

Forty-five percent of the persons arrested and 56 percent of those on death row were whites charged with and I percent of death sentences were accounted for by whites charged with killing blacks.

"The conclusion is inescapable that the death penalty is reserved for those who kill whites, because the criminal justice system in these states simply does not put the same value on the life of a black person as it does on the life of a white," said Hugo Adam Bedau, professor of philosophy at Tufts University in Medford, Mass. Bedau testified before the subcommittee on administrative practice and procedure of the Senate Judiciary bill to reimpose the death penalty for some federal crimes.

Previous federal and state capital punishment laws were struck down by the Supreme Court in 1972, but the court has since ruled that the death penalty is not inherently unconstitu-

Many studies have shown that a high proportion of those on death row are black. As of April 15, the National Coalition Against the Death Penalty reported that blacks accounted for 235

The Bowers study, however, is believed to be the first to compare death sentences with arrests on the basis of the victim's race. In a telephone interview, Bowers said this information was not supplied in FBI arrest compilations until 1976.

He said the figures might be accounted for in several ways. For in stance, he said, it might have been that persons killing blacks wer charged with non-capital offense such as second-degree murder, the prosecutor "did not care as much am did not try to develop a case" or the jury convicted of a lesser charge.

ressures continue for greater, less tax relief

EDMOND Le BRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) - President arter's decision to scale down his tax eduction proposal is being praised by ey members of Congress, but ressures continue both for larger nd smaller measures of tax relief.

The White House announced Friday at Carter was lowering his objecve from a $24 billion net tax reducon to a range around the $19.4 billion figure favored by congressional budget writers.

Reduced unemployment and stubbornly continuing inflation were cited as the reasons. It was evident, however, that the administration also was. reacting to widespread opposition in Congress to a tax cut that would greatly swell the deficit and to indications the Federal Reserve would crack down on monetary policy unless the deficit were kept within bounds.

Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee which is handling the tax legislation, applauded the change. But he said he still thinks the net tax reduction should not exceed about $15 billion, including any scaling down of the Social Security tax increases scheduled for next year. "More people are interested in reducing the deficit than in reducing taxes," Ullman said. "Inflation now is the No. 1 problem.

But Rep. Barber B. Conable of New York, spokesman for Republican ways and means committee members who are seeking tax cuts up to $38 billion with accompanying spending restraints, said they were not giving

He said Carter "has a different fiscal policy every day," but is basically in error by concentrating on taxes without considering spending

The conference committee now reconciling the tentative House and Senate budget drafts agreed to make, room for a $15 billion tax reduction during the year beginning Oct. 1.

The tax cut, however, would begin only on Jan. 1, 1979 - reflecting another concession by Carter - and so would apply for only three quarters of the fiscal year. On an annual basis, the cut would therefore be in the $19.4 billion range Carter agreed to.

In a joint statement, the chairmen of the two budget committees, Rep. Robert N. Giaimo, D. Conn., and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D. Maine, said Carter agreed at a meeting Thursday that the deficit should be reduced.

The House had projected a $57.9 billion deficit, the Senate $55.6 billion. With the scaled-down tax cut, the chairmen said, the red ink figure could be reduced below these levels. The conference committee was to continue work Monday.

After all it's difficult to convince people to make sacrifices of life and limb if you are forbidden to say anything nasty about the people who will be taking their lives and dismembering their limbs.

No, in our country, the people are the sovereign. The president is our employee. Therefore, military officers swear an oath to defend the Constitution and the country; they do not swear an oath of personal fealty to the president.

Secondly, contrary to popular belief, neither the president nor his appointed Defense Secretary have the responsibility for the defense of the country. The Constitution places that responsibility squarely on the Con-

It is true the president is the commander-in-chief and that military, men must obey his lawful orders. That, however, is not the issue nor has it been disputed by Singlaub, The issue is can a military officer express' a personal opinion in public which, the president doesn't happen to

To anyone familiar with the principles on which this country was founded the answer is obviously yes. The essence of self-government is that the people must be knowledgeable. If we are denied the opinions of experts in military science and strategy, how can we as voters make an intelligent judgment about the decisions in those areas which are made by our elected

The Fulbrights and Carters don't want you to make a judgment. Selfgovernment is the last thing they believe in. They believe you and I are nerds and that they have, by reason of their superior intellects, the right to manipulate us into accepting on faith whatever they say.

To that I say the unprintable.

Furthermore, to order as Carter has done, the military to support his policies in public statements or facé reprisals is to block honest communication between the military experts and the Congress, which has the Constitutional responsibility for making defense decisions.

These undemocratic elitists have been proven by recent history to have more arrogance and influence than brains. They rejected military advice in Korea and Vietnam and both were disasters. They took weapons procurement out of military hands and now the lead time between saying yes and getting the weapon in the field is 12 years. They rejected the advice of the military defense strategy and now the Soviet Union is more powerful than we are and is starting to shove us around.

It's time we, the people who must pay in blood and money for these mistakes, demand that the politicians unmuzzle our senior military officers so that we can have the benefit of their counsel.

Campaign spending proves to be critical in primary contests

Former Gov. Preston Smith, whose campaign effort wasn't particularly well-financed, attacked the spending in the Democratic governor's race as 'disgusting" and "ridiculous," suggesting that there should be some sort of limitation on how much money could be spent in statewide races.

Of course, a few years back, Smith had plenty of financial backing - and likely would have been less receptive to suggestions that he be restricted on how much he could spend.

In Texas, the classic invitation in politics and other areas has been to 'put your money where your mouth is," and many folks have been willing to do just that.

But in Texas, as everywhere else, money, like rainfall, isn't distributed evenly, and while folks occassionally get enough of the latter, no one — and probably political candidates in particular - has enough of the former.

So when the campaigning starts, those with money spend it - while those who don't have it try to get it, and accuse their opponents of having sold out.

And, more often than not, money has to be borrowed at some point of the effort, in the hopes that funds will come in to pay off those debts.

For the winners, the funds usually do come in - although there have been many instances where a victorious candidate has completed his term, and gone on to the next campaign with debts from the previous

For the losers, it may be a different

Candidates realize that, and sometimes the decision on whether to risk being caught short on votes and long on debts can be a crucial one.

Democratic attorney general nominee Mark White apparently took that chance, and it seems to have paid off

White spent heavily in the last three weeks of the race against Price Daniel Jr., ending up with a substantial (but as yet not exactly determined) deficit.

White's media campaign seems to have been a major factor in reversing what many had declared to be an insurmountable lead by Daniel - who limited his spending during the final

Daniel campaign officials told reporters in the final weeks that they had anticipated the White media barrage, but were confident enough in their polls to feel that White couldn't reverse Daniel's lead.

Besides, they said, money wasn't that plentiful, so it was being conserved for the general election effort against Republican Jim Baker.

A few days after the primary, the same Daniel workers sadly admitted they had misread the "slippage" shown in the polls in favor of White, and had not had time to get together a counter-campaign on the media to attempt to reverse what proved a fatal trend.

Reportedly, Daniel was told during the last phase of the campaign $80,000 for media time would offset White's efforts. "We would have borrowed $100,000," a Daniel aide said.

Daniel didn't - and ended up without large debts, and without a victory. Senatorial hopeful Joe Christie, who made opponent Bob Krueger's financing an issue during their race, - with over $97,000 of that in the form of money he loaned himself.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe, however, ended up farthest in the hole-with a deficit of some $1 million or so at present, his campaign workers say. Additional contributions which have come in, and expected contributions, will cut that "considerably." The winners in those races - White, Krueger and John Hill - all report they have quite a few debts, but are expecting goodly amounts of contri-

Calls for limitations on campaign spending aren't new, and aren't likely to be heeded any more in the future than in the past, since they generally come from those who lacked the funds - and are "down and out."

But it is a problem - and a sérious one - which even the winners would ended up with some $175,000 in debts in Texas.

Another "ingenious" plan to enact cutbacks in spending was recently proposed by the current administration. Carter's commission's proposed plan to overhaul the military retire-personnel. Critics contend the current plan allows military personnel to retire too young at the expense of the taxpayers. The proposed plan would increase allowable retirement from 20

ment system can be considered a real slap in the face to many military to 30 years. Military service on the whole is a very demanding job with many of its personnel being on call essentially 24 hours a day. To state that 20 years of service is too short a time is sheer insanity, considering many elected governmental officials can conceivably retire after fewer years of service with substantial benefits. By the year 1985, the military retirement system is expected to cost the taxpayers $13 billion. The commission, the current administration, and the Congress seem to be conveniently forgetting that in the same year it will cost taxpayers an estimated $17.9 billion to support the retirement system of all other federal employees.

Yet Congress adamently states the retirement system for all federal employees has paid for itself. We can omit military personnel from this statement as it has been said there is general support on Capitol Hill for tem because it is too expensive. It is abundantly clear the military has become the scapegoat for cutbacks within the government.

Over the past years we have seen more and more money being taken away from the Defense Department's budget while substantial and what may be considered fraudulant spending occurs elsewhere. We have heard little about HEW's claiming to have "misspent" $8 billion (said to be a conservative estimate). And up on Capitol Hill, members are voting themselves pay raises and then screaming when it is suggested their retirement system costs too.

Now is the time for the administration to seriously measure the efficiency and returns of allocated cash and begin cutbacks in departments that seem so capable of misspending such vast amounts of money, rather than continually cutting back the Defense Department's budget.

Julie Rogers Rt. 1, Box 78 Stanton

For all to see

A great deal has been said recently about the need for entertainment and recreational facilities for the citizens of Midland. I would like to bring to your attention a form of "entertainment" that Midland has which may very well add to our problems rather than help them. If you have entered our city from the north or have driven down Wadley Avenue from Hogan Park or Cub Stadium in the evening during the last week or so, you are aware of the type of movies being shown at the Fiesta Drive-In. A poll of the parents in the city would probably tell us the majority would not want their children exposed to scenes such as are flashed on this screen night after night for all

It's true the newspaper ads say "adults only," but I have observed young children on their bicycles watching from across the street. Those of us who live in the area cannot leave the confines of our homes without being confronted with the nudity and sexually explicit pictures on this drive-in screen. I object to this not only for myself but for my family

If others enjoy this kind of movie, I am not suggesting they be deprived of their so-called rights to view it. What I am suggesting is that they allow me my right not to see it. Put it in one of the indoor theatres or a drive-in that has a screen that doesn't face occupied residences and major throughfares.

There must be others in Midland who share my feelings about this. If so, I appeal to them to make their feelings and thoughts known not only to our city officials but to those who are responsible for allowing this situation to exist. To object within yourself and yet do nothing is the same as not objecting at all.

Horses are really the best athletes

WASHINGTON - I watched the Kentucky Derby on May 6 along with millions of other people and really enjoyed it. During one of the breaks for commercials I tried to figure out why I like horse racing more than any other sport on television. Then it dawned on me. Horses can't talk.

In the age of TV sports hype, we are constantly barraged by athletes sounding off. Whether it's boxing. football, basketball, baseball, tennis or golf, there has to be controversy or the viewers will turn off their sets.

The sports announcer is always shoving a microphone down someathlete's throat and asking, "Doesn't it really get you mad that Wilmot Slobovik is getting twice as much money as you are?' Or, "Champ, you haven't shown anything since your last fight with the Liechtenstein Mattress, Helmut Flug. Are you washed up or just coasting until you can get a $15 million gate?" Or, "Tommy, the Yankees paid a million dollars for you to win a series for them. Now people are saying you have a glass arm.

A horse never holds up his hoof to indicate he's No. 1 when the TV cameras are on him.

Noble and graceful, he keeps his head high whether he's running in the Kentucky Derby or a claiming race in Cheyenne, Wyo. The horse is the ideal athlete - the last one left still unspoiled by all the TV hoopla and money that most sports are now associated with.

There may be jockeys, trainers and owners who will spout off when they see a TV red light, but the racing horse is the only athlete who doesn't bore you.

Although Affirmed won the Kentucky Derby, he took the victory in his stride. Alydar lost it, but he showed no hard feelings toward the winner. Believe It, who came in third, happily went to his paddock refusing to speak to Howard Cosell.

I was proud of all the horses who raced that day. They behave with dignity and refuted the American belicf that "Winning is everything." They were, if you'll forgive the pun, "a credit to their race."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Observations To The Editor:

Commenting on some letters of late: The lady whose neighbors wouldn't vote because it did no good. The golf course is being built because more voted yes than no. In April 1977 this was defeated, but less than a year later, at a cost of about $4,000 to taxpayers it passed after propaganda of 'It won't cost the taxpayer anything." Anyone who believes that you can have a half million dollar anything and maintain it for nothing isn't able to go vote. When the four issues in April 1977 were voted down you'd think our taxes would be lowered. But no, all were raised. I suppose so they will get the money first then try to tell the taxpayer we can have all these luxuries for nothing. Our streets need work but the "fathers" know we will vote for the needed things if they can only get the luxuries paid for first.

The Lozano tragedy: What was a very minor one-man accident turned into a brutal thing. We can't do anything about that, but Ector County citizens can vote every officer who runs for office next time out if they want to.

When partiality is shown in Midland by elected officials, then vote them out. If only we would know just how powerful votes are.

This idea of it doesn't do any good to vote is not so. Sure the "fors" will spend $4,000 more of our money to hold another election, but we can still

Two parks that I thought would not be expensive and low to maintain are a bicyle trail park and lots of things to encourage old and young to ride bicycles. Then a municipal travel trailer overnight park "free" for the many, many trailers that are on the road. We went to Alaska and stayed in many of these all the way up and when we did we made sure to spend money at that city before we left. Dumas, Texas, has one with hook-ups and so does Andrews. How many times of voting did it take to get liquor in Midland? The "fors" will keep on until they get what they want. But never will that happen unless more vote for than against. How many times have we voted to legalize gambling? The fors will have it on the ballot until they get gambling legalized and use every technique they can think of. But we will not have gambling and betting until more vote yes than no. Please vote. It is a powerful weapon every taxpayer has.

A peace officer's duties are many occupations rolled into one. Their job is not only an extremely demanding one, but is also difficult to meet the requirements for qualification.

The city and county of Midland should feel fortunate that they are served by such dedicated, honest, upright officers. Both departments are commendable for their services.

Those who degrade these officers should ask the question, "Could I do it?" before going any further. Three cheers for Sheriff Dallas Smith and Chief Wayne Gideon.

MATTRESS COMPARISON RESULTS REVEALED!

GOOD SLEEP PROMOTES GOOD HEALTH.

Doctors insist that physical rest and mental relaxation are of primary importance to your daily well-being. The odd rest-less night isn't a handicap to any person in good health, but a constant shortage of the body's sleep requirements is soon reflected in a variety of

It is generally accepted that a person can live 40 days without solid food, 7 days without food or water, but only 5 days if deprived of sleep. Only air is more vital than sleep.

Some years ago, several hundred soldiers in California volunteered to stay awake as long as possible. After 24 hours, they became highly irritable. Later, they suffered memory loss. Still later some began hallucinating, and several developed symptoms of serious psychoses. However, after they made up lost sleep. they snapped back to normal.

On a less dramatic scale, inferior bedding disrupts the body's normal relaxation and causes the mind and muscles to work overtime adjusting tomattress variations. cramped space and other discomfort factors. Instead of awakening refreshed and eager for the demands of the day, you find yourself longing for another hour or two in bed. That's a warning signal that you're probably ready for a new sleep set.

With these thoughts in mind, take a frank look at the bedding you're now using. If you find body hollows, lumping areas, or sagging edges or if you don't have all the sleep space you need to turn in or curl up freely in - it's time you made a change. To get started, consider the benefits of moving up to an Orthopose sleep set. Decide what features and size you need. Then shop Be sure the bed you choose today promotes the best state of health and well-being possible for you over the years

QUEEN IS TODAY'S STAN-DARD SIZE.

When updating your bedroom, the first thing to go should be your old double bed. It gives each sleeper only 27" of width - the same width as a standard baby crib. And it's just 75" long, fine perhaps for anyone under 5'6" tall, but a built-in discomfort factor for anyone taller. A queen gives you 20% more room...more width, more length. You can stretch, roll and turn without fear of bumping each other or hanging over the edge. (Did you know experts say you turn 40 or 50 times a night?)

Queen size fits most any bedroom that will take a double. Of course, if you have the space, you'll want the superlative King, with a full 50% more stretch-out room.

Choose your Eastman House sleep set with your own needs in mind. Remember, you will spend about 3,000 hours each and every year in bed. The cost of enjoying the very best in quality and size is only pennies per night. The rewards are priceless!

BURLINGTON, IOWA -Detailed point-by-point comparisons between the Eastman House Sleep Sets and four top national brands proves the Orthopose coil-on-coil construction outranks them all.

For 111 years, Eastman House has produced and pioneered structural advances in some of America's finest bedding. The quality control policy ensures constant re-evaluaion of their established construction standards and product refinements against the products of other top mattress makers. It means continually comparing their perfected engineering of the coil-on-coil Cushion-Top construction, band of buoyancy, structural strength, quality cushioning, etc: against the products of other top mattress makers.

Competing top-of-the-line sleep sets are purchased and delivered to the Burlington, Iowa headquarters. Here, each unit is carefully and completely dismantled and compared sideby-side, piece-by-piece, and point-by-point with the Orthopose brand.

The latest comparison revealed staggering differences in the construction and content beneath the variety of handsome covers and famous labels.

ENOUGH.

Each and every year Americans spend nearly 3,000 hours in whatever beds they buy. The quality of the rest they get in those sleeping hours has a major influence on the vigor, vitality and energy they enjoy in the other 6,000 hours of the year. Penny-pinching on the price of bedding or underrating the comfort and support importance is a common failing. Yet the cost of buying the very best possible, pro-rated over the many years its quality will endure, is mere pennies

The new comparison results released by Eastman House are a dramatic lesson in consumer value and illustrates how consumers can ensure they get the quality and benefits they pay

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) - Lee Trevino, a runner-up in two of his last four starts, shouldered his way past Steve Melnyk with a solid, two-underpar 68 and took the third-round lead Saturday in the $200,000 Colonial Nationa! Invitation Golf Tournament.

Trevino, who birdied two of his last four holes on the tough, unforgiving old Colonial Country Club course, had a 54-hole total of 202.

That was eight shots under par on the rose-bordered layout on the Trinity River and a single shot in front of Melnyk, who bogeyed the final hole to drop out of the lead for the first time in the tournament.

"I got just what I deserved, a five," said Melnyk, who pull-hooked his drive on the 18th and finished with a round of par 70. "It doesn't make me happy and it kind of gives me a bad taste in the mouth, but that's exactly what I deserved.'

He had a 203 total in the quest of his first title in eight long years of tour

Jerry Heard, who started the hot, humid, sunny day in a tie for the lead with Menlyk, droped back to 204, two shots off Trevino's pace, with a 71.

"I didn't putt well, but I played well enough not to take myself completely out of it," he said. "I'm still confident. I don't feel like it's a mistake for me to be in this position. I can still win."

Tom Watson, who claimed his third title of the year and the leading money-winning spot with his victory over Trevino last week, got in position with a 68 and a 205 total.

Grid drills near end

Midland and Robert E. Lee wrapped the second week of spring football drills with some more hard hitting during the week.

Coach Dennie Hays put his Bulldogs through an hour and a half scrimmage on Friday and then took off for the state track meet in Austin, Quarterbacks Tracy Gann and Michael Feldt stood out along with Blake Feldt in the line. Gann suffered an elbow injury. It was feared that it might be broken atfirst, but it proved not to be.

Across town, Coach Gil Bartosh battled the flu bug all week and finally went to bed Saturday, but was pleased with the team's hitting earlier in the week. "We are still short five or six players due to baseball and track, but I feel like we have some people who really like to hit and I like that," added Bartosh.

Both teams wind up the 21-day period for drills with final games under the lights Friday and Saturday with the Rebels going after it on Friday and the Purple Pack on Saturday night in Memorial Stadium.

Tennant fans 14 in taking 3-0 victory

By TERRY WILLIAMSON

The Midland Cubs are fast becoming an endangered species against the San Antonio Dodgers, and pitcher Mike Tennant isn't the cure for what's ailing the Bruins.

Tennant, who fires smoke at the Cubs, blanked Midland, 3-0, Saturday night at Cubs Stadium before a disappointed Jacket Night crowd of 1,596. He is now 3-0 on the year, and he is making a career of winning at the Cubs' expense. All three of his victories have come against the Cubs. He beat the Cubs 4-1 twice in the first six-game series of the season in San Antonio, and he accomplished Saturday what he couldn't do the first two times--he went the distance.

Tennant missed two starts this year with a sore arm, but the Cubs will testify that the flame thrower has recovered. Fourteen Cubs went down on strikes against Tennant, and that's really nothing new. He KOed 11 the first time he beat Midland and sent down six Midlanders in the second win of the year.

"I don't really have anything against the Cubs, but every time I've faced them this year, I've had a good fast ball. When that happens, I don't have to rely on the breaking stuff as much, and I'm more effective then."

over the possible minimum of 27. Catcher Mike Scioscia helped in that department by gunning down two Midland runners, who had the nerve to try to steal on Tennant in the second inning. It was the second night in a row Scioscia has not let the here-to-fore fleet feet of the Cubs move on the bases.

Midland's Aaron Randall was the only real threat to Tennant as he got two singles in four trips to the plate, but Tennant struck him out to end the game as another insult to the Cub

"This is the best game of my career," Tennant said. "I've never struckout 14 batters as a pro before. I was getting a little tired late in the game, but the infielders kept telling me to get down and drive. That helped a lot. I was getting a little high with my pitches late in the game, but the fast ball was still there. I threw

137 pitches, and that was more than I

And for every winner there is a loser. Unfortunately, that was the Cubs' Randy Martz, who deserved a better fate. Martz gave up 12 hits to the Dodgers, but only one of the three runs was earned. Martz seemed to always be in trouble, but he still managed to strand 12 Dodgers on the base paths.

San Antonio got two unearned runs in the second when Mickey Hatcher scored from third on a sacrifice fly by Myron White and Scioscia came home on a single by Jack Perconte. White, who was 3-for-3 with two RBI, tripled home Kelly Snider, who had doubled to open the inning, for the Dodgers other tally. The rest was left to Martz and Tennant. And Tennant had the best of that.

CUB PRINTS: Midland shortstop Steve Macko got married at 10 a.m. in Dallas Saturday. It wasn't too good for his game either. He struckout three times against Tennant and was charged with an error. . . Tony Pepper, who scored two runs and singled Friday against the Dodgers, was shipped out to the AAA Wichita Aeros.

Dickey outruns Texas' Jones Tennant faced only five batters over the possible minimum of 27.

By PAUL DOMOWITCH R-T Sports Writer

AUSTIN - It was a classic battle of your hard-punching heavyweights. only these two guys faced off on a track instead of a boxing ring. But it had all the atmosphere and excitement of anything Louis and Schmeling ever cooked up.

Johnny "Lam" Jones and Curtis Dickey faced off in the eagerly awaited 100 meter dash final at the Southwest Conference Track and Field Championships here Saturday night, and when it was over. Dickey had won again for the second time in six weeks. The 19-year-old Texas A&M sprinter beat Jones out of the blocks and then held off a late charge by the 1976 gold medal winner from Texas for a .04 victory. Dickey, the 1978 NCAA indoor 60 yard dash champ. was hand-timed at 10.05, while Jones, who was beaten by Dickey in the 100 at the Texas Relays last month, came across the finish line in 10.09.

Dickey's victory vaulted A&M into the team lead and the Aggies never looked back. They finished with 126 points, while runnerup Baylor was far back with 82. Rice was third with 71, Houston fourth with 65. Houston fifth with 65, SMU sixth with 55, Texas seventh with 49. Texas Tech eighth with 14 and TCU ninth with 4.

The crowd of 20,000, the largest in the history of this meet, was up on it's feet a good five minutes before the 100 meter dash and they weren't disappointed. There was concern earlier this week that Dickey, bothered by a sore toe on his right foot, might not be

"I came here to win and that's what I did," said a pleased Dickey. "My start was nothing special. It was just OK. I thought I took control of the race about halfway down the track."

The Aggie sophomore did admit however, that Jones, who had been bothered by a hamstring pull the past month, may not have been 100 percent for the cinder battle.

As for his sore toe, Dickey said it "hurt just a little, but I'm all right." Jones found that out the hard way.

The crowd that watched the early evening battle on UT's Memorial Stadium tartan track were hoping for a world record performance. But even if Dickey or Jones had beaten Jim Hines mark of 9.95, it wouldn't have counted because it wasn't electrically timed. The timing device on the camera went haywire, and as a result. SWC officials had to rely on hand timers.

"It (the electric timer) had an 8,600 on it." mused Texas coach Cleburne Price. "So it obviously was malfunctioning. It wouldn't have been a world record anyway, but it was disappoin-

It was a disappointing day all around for Jones. The 1976 gold medal winner finished fifth in the 200 meter dash, which was won by Ray Brooks of Texas A&M with a time of 20:30. Jones ran the distance in 21.01.

The Aggies also recorded victories in four other events Saturday night to make a farce of the team race. The A&M 400 meter relay team, with Dickey running the anchor leg. edged out Texas and their anchorman Jones. The Aggies ran a 39.54 to UT's

Also victorious were Leslie Kerr in the 400 meter dash (45.71), Randy Hall in the pole vault (16-10%, a new conference record) and the A&M's 1600 meter relay team (3:06.13).

Baylor's Todd Harbour won an exciting 1500 meter final from Mike clarke of Arkansas, nipping the Razorback distance man with one final thrust at the tape. Harbour was clocked in 3:42.53, while Clarke was .05 back at 3:42.58.

Orioles topple Texas Rangers

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - Scott McGregor fired a four-hitter and Lee May drove in four runs with a pair of homers and a single as the Baltimore Orioles beat the Texas Rangers 5-1 Saturday night.

McGregor, 2-3, didn't allow a hit until Jim Sundberg singled in the fifth inning. Sundberg, who got as far as second, and Kurt Bevacqua, who walked in the second inning, were the only Texas baserunners until the eighth when Toby Harrah's single was followed by Bump Wills' runscoring double

May singled a run home in the second inning, hit a solo homer in the fourth and a two-run blast in the sixth, all off Jim Umbarger, 1-2. The home runs were his sixth and seventh of the

The Rangers had trouble getting the ball out of the infield against McGregor, who hadn't lasted past the fifth inning in three previous starts this year. First baseman Eddie Murray was credited with 16 putouts and McGregor fanned five batters.

Lee's McCowan finishes third in state shot put

By PAUL DOMOWITCH R-T Sports Writer

AUSTIN - Three weeks ago, if someone would have suggested that Jeff McCowan was the third best AAAA shot putter in the state of Texas, that gentleman would have been laughed right out of town. And with good reason

Until he finished second in the regional meet in Lubbock two weeks ago with the best throw of his life, the muscular, 205-pound Lee High junior had never done anything to indicate he was anything more than an average shot putter. His credentials were suspect, to say

He was regarded as only the second best shot man in the district, let alone the third best in the state. And his throws, which never once exceeded 56 feet, didn't make track fans look

But there was one person who had all the confidence in the world in Mc-Cowan. One person who always knew he had it in him. Jeff McCowan.

'I'm gonna surprise some people.' he said unhesitatingly before the regional meet. And surprise he did He heaved the 12-pound iron ball 58-81/2 in Lubbock, nearly three feet better than his previous best, and earned a berth in the state meet by finishing second to Kevin McGinnis of El Paso Eastwood, who had a 58-9

BUT THE biggest surprise of them all came Saturday afternoon at the Boys State Track and Field Championships, where McCowan battered his regional performance by almost another two feet and finished third with a 60-6% heave.

Michael Carter of Dallas Jefferson won the event when he became the first Texas schoolboy ever to throw the shot 70 feet with a 71-1%. Jerry Ross of Dallas Kimball was second

Yankees defeat Kansas City, 5-2

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) - Reggie Jackson drove in three runs, two with his seventh homer, and scored twice while unbeaten Ron Guidry won hisfourth game as the New York Yankees whipped the Kansas City Royals 5-2 Saturday night.

Loser Dennis Leonard, 3-6, retired the first 11 batters before yielding a two-out single in the fourth to Thurman Munson. Jackson then slugged a 2-2 pitch into the Yankees bullpen in left field, an opposite-field shot against a wind gusting more than 30

In the eighth, Jackson engaged in a cat-and-mouse game with reliever Al Hrabosky before scoring Willie Randolph with a sacrifice fly for the Yankees' fifth run. Guidry scattered eight hits before giving way to Rich Gossage after Hal McRae opened the bottom of the ninth with a single. Al Cowens doubled off Guidry in the second and seventh innings and scored both Kansas City runs. Amos Otis moved him to third each time with a fly ball and John Wathan brought him home with a single and a grounder.

MONTREAL (AP) -The four-word slogan is hand-printed in magic again - to a Montreal marker on a piece of white paper tacked to a bulletin board in the Montreal Canadiens' dressing room.

It reads: "Work, skate, shoot, win." And because the Canadiens put that theory into action to the fullest extent Saturday night, they defeated the Boston Bruins 4-1 and took a 1-0 lead in the National Hockey League's championship playoff series.

Reds take victory over Phillies, 4-3

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Cincinnati pushed across two runs in the ninth inning on Joe Morgan's forceout and a throwing error by Philadelphia second baseman Jim Morrison on a relay that could have ended the game, lifting the Reds to a 4-3 victory over the Phillies Saturday night.

The Reds had fallen behind 3-2 in the bottom of the eighth when Mike Schmidt slammed a three-run homer off reliever Doug Bair, who took over for starter Fred Norman with two on and one out. Jerry Martin walked to start the Phillies' eighth and Jose Cardenal's third hit of the game dropped into short right for a single. Schmidt then hit a 3-2 pitch into the left field seats.

Bair had not given up a run in 12 appearances this season over 192-3 innings.

But in the ninth against reliever Tug McGraw, 1-1, Ken Griffey opened with a double. After Cesar Geronimo fouled out, pinch-hitter Ray Knight walked and Dave Collins ran for him.

Pete Rose walked after an argument on a checked swing resulted in the ejection of Philadelphia first baseman Rich Hebner and Manager Danny Ozark. Rose eventually walked, loading the bases. Mor-gan hit a perfect double play ball to shortstop Bud

Players' association to argue

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - The National Football League Players Association will argue before the 8th U.S. District Court of Appeals in Minneapolis Tuesday that the current free agent system is not working and should be returned to the courts for further investigation.

According to Ed Garvey, NFL Players Association executive director, this action was taken because "it is now apparent that the NFL clubs. with one or two exceptions, are not engaged in serious bidding for free agents under the new bargaining agreement.

'Only six players of 93 received offers this year, and objective people must conclude that something is wrong," Garvey added. "We believe we have discovered the reason why it is not working. The clubs are taking the position for the first time that they have a perpetual option on free agents who fail to get offers from other

"We vigorously oppose their interpretation of the agreement and want to bring this new development to the court's attention.

On Feb. 1, 126 players became free agents. Thirty-three received no qualifying offers from their old clubs and were totally free to sign with other

An additional 22 players resigned with their old clubs and another 15 either are expected to retire or not pass physicals.

Of the remaining 56 players, only six were signed by new clubs, and, according to the NFLPA, therein lies the problem.

"Why not?" asks Garvey. "First, several teams did not enter the bidding at all, and several more talked with only one or two players. This indicates bad faith on the part of the management.'

Those players who received no offers could become free June 1 if their old team makes them no qualifying offer. But if the team makes a qualifying offer before then (at a 10 per cent raise over the 1977 salary), the player must sign with the old

Thus, the NFLPA is saying that owners may not be playing the game correctly; perhaps deliberately not signing players in order to protect their own investments. "You're really not a free agent," said Minnesota's Phil Wise, who received no offers from other clubs and was given a renewel offer by the Vikings. "You're kind of tainted merchandise."

In Wise's case, he could sit out the 1978 season, or sign and become a free agent all over again next Feb. 1.

Buckner tops loop hitting

Jimmy Buckner, Midland Cubs fleet-footed outfielder, continues to lead the Texas League in batting. according to latest statistics released by statistician Ed Williams.

Buckner owns a .413 batting average to pace a Midland team that tops the Texas League with a club batting average of .294, four points better than runnerup El Paso

Buckner retains the lead in stolen bases, 17, while El Paso's Bill Ewing meved into the RBI lead with 24.

San Antonio's Rick Sander was the ERA leader a week ago, but gave up 12 earned runs and lost his lead to Stewart Clibuern, Shreveport, who has a 1.44 ERA. Jackson's Neil Allen continues to lead the league in shutouts with two and in strikeouts with 41. Allen also lost one game, 1-0.

While the Cubs are setting the pace in hitting, the Midland pitching staff is at the bottom of the barrel with a team ERA of 6.19. Amarillo is seventh with a 6.03 ERA while San Antonio shows the best staff ERA mark, 3.01.

One of the hottest bats of the week belonged to San Antonio's Mickey Hatcher, who raised his averages from .362 to .371, hitting two homers, two triples and three doubles along the way to reclaim the slugging leadership with a .629.

Ivie paces Giants to 7-6 triumph

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Mike Ivie, a replacement for the inured Willie McCovey. drove in three runs with a double and a sacrifice fly to lead the San Francisco Giants to a 7-6 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Saturday.

Jack Clark drove in two runs with a triple and a single as the Giants maintained their lead in the National League West by winning for the 11th time in 14 games.

St. Louis reached winning pitcher John Monte fusco, 2-2, for three runs in the first on singles by Lou Brock and Tony Scott, an RBI double by Keith Hernandez and a two-run single by Ken

tennis win

DALLAS (AP) - Sweden's Per Hjertquist edged 16-year-old Ben Testerman of noxville, Tenn., 7-6, 6-4 Saturday to win the Future Stars juniors tounrament held in conjunction with the WCT finals. Hjertquist took an early 5-1 lead in the first set, but the Tennessee high school sophomore reeled off five consecutive games to go ahead 6-5. The 18-year-old Swede rebounded to win the set on a tie-breaker.

Hjertquist then broke Testerman's strong serve in the 10th game of the second set to clinch the match. Four top junior players from around the world are invited for the tournament each year during the WCT finals.

West Germans top Americans

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) -Marcus Kuhl scored three third-period goals as the West German team erupted for five scores in the final session to down Team USA 8-4 in the final game for each squad in the World Ice Hockey Championships

In an earlier game, Finland defeated East Germany 7-2.

The West Germans finished fifth in the competition, one spot ahead of the Americans, who finished 2-6-2 after losing their first five games.

The American squad trailed 3-2 entering the final session but were overwhelmed by the Germans' attack in that third period.

Kuhl scored on an assist from Erich Kuehnhackl at 1:45 of the third period, but the Americans rallied to tie the score 4-4 on goals by Jim Warner and Dave Debol. Kuhl scored again at 8:51 to put the Germans ahead to

Dibbs entering finals in World Tennis play

DALLAS (AP) — They lost Eddie Dibbs in the hubbub of Corrado Barazzutti's upset Thursday of second-seeded Brian Gottfried. And he was forgotten Friday in the excitement of top-seeded Bjorn Borg's default because of a painfully inflamed

But somewhere in there, Dibbs waltzed into Sunday's World Championship of Tennis Finals without losing a set. He meets Vitas Gerulaitis at noon Sunday for the WCT title.

The diminutive, 5-foot-7 Dibbs easi ly crushed lethargic Ilie Nastase 6-3, 6-3, 6-0 in Thursday night's late match while everyone was buzzing about the surprising Italian's five-set, comefrom-behind upset of Gottfried.

The focus Friday was on Borg's swollen, bandaged right thumb that resulted in his semifinals default to Gerulaitis. Dibbs, meanwhile, out-baselined Barazzutti 6-2, 7-6, 6-4, Friday night in a mesmerizing, three-hour battle of baseline shots before a crowd thinned by the loss of Borg.

'This is the best I've consistently played," said Dibbs, who has a shot at $100,000 and his first major title. He gets $40,000 even if he loses, the most he said he has ever earned in a week. Dibbs has played both of his matches here since Gerulaitis elimin-

Rains hammer Indy 500 time trials for delay

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - An overnight thunderstorm that drenched the Indianapolis Motor Speedway turned into a steady drizzle Saturday morning, delaying the start of qualifications for the May 28 Indy 500-mile

"Heck yes, we're ready to qualify," said driver Salt Walther, who was bumped from last year's lineup after starting five races in a row. "We were ready yesterday.

Pancho Carter said he was eager for qualifications to begin, even though he has less than 30 practice laps here since a serious crash at Phoenix last December. "I'm ready, and the car is ready," said Carter, whose fastest practice lap this week was 195.8 miles an hour. We just wish the weather would cooperate.

Scypion drops boxing match

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) - Wilford Scypion a light middleweight from Galena Park, Texas, was disqualified Saturday night in his bout against Ilia Iliev of Bulgaria at the World Amateur Boxing Championships and put on a show of anger that left American officials embarassed.

The 19-year-old Scypion was disqualified in the second round when Algerian referee Tahar Khali said he was throwing rabbit punches (punches to the back of his opponent's neck).

Sypion tried to storm out of the ring but was held back by his seconds. He then refused to stand by the referee's side in the traditional announcement of the winner. U.S. officials sitting at the were clearly disturbed at Scypion's behavior. International Boxing Federation officials were considering taking action against Scypion.

Earlier Saturday night, Michael Felde, a flyweight from Missoula, Mont., won by default when his Wgandan opponent Adron Butambeki failed to appear for their bout. Uganda and Libya had quit the championships because of Israeli participation.

Griffith agrees to ink Marshall

Minnesota Twins owner Calvin Griffith bowed to player pressure and announced Saturday that reliever Mike Marshall, a free agent, would be signed to a contract.

Rod Carew had been hotly critical of Griffith for refusing to offer Marshall a contract. The six-time American League batting champion accused Griffith of being niggardly and said he was not interested in building a winning team.

Carew, who is in the final year of his current contract, said he would play out his option and sign with another team after the 1979 season. Furthemore, the 11-year veteran said he would block any trade for him, which would mean Griffith would receive no compensation for the loss of his best

A brief announcement issued by the Twins Saturday said that the 35-yearold Marshall had agreed to terms and would be signed to a contract as soon as a spot on the roster can be cleared, probably Tuesday. Salary terms were not announced people, the Minnesota Twins have decided to bring pitcher Mike Marshall in to work out with the club Monday," the statement said. "As soon as we can clear our roster problems, Marshall will be signed to a 1978 contract, the terms to which have already been agreed upon.

Marshall worked out with the team in Chicago earlier in the week but Griffith balked at signing the 1974 National League Cy Young award winner, who reportedly made $150,000 last season...

Marshall was 2-2 with the Rangers before going on the disabled list last June 28 because of a knee injury. He passed up a contract this spring to finish a master's degree at Michigan

Marshall's best year was 1974 when he appeared in a record 106 games, had a 15-12 record with a 2.42 earned run average for the Los Angeles Dodgers

Twins pitching has been spotty this season as the team slowly slipped into last place in the American League

TCU opening Houston Lee's Dowlen doors for Dry meeting

Friends of Texas Christian University from the Midland-Odessa area are being invited to "An Evening with Coach F. A. Dry" Tuesday.

The event, to be held at the Coors Distributing Company on Highway 80, is one of a series designed to give TCU alumni, parents of current students and friends of TCU an opportunity to meet football coach F. A. Dry, and other members of the athletic staff. The programs are being coordinated by Alvin "Tookie" Berry, associate director of annual giving at TCU.

A 12-member alumni committee from Midland and Odessa are in charge of the program scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. They are Ronnie Berry, Jerry and Nancy Cooper, Hoy Harrison, Hal Lambert, Bob Lynch, Ronnie Peoples, Clarence Scharbauer, Pat Sheehan, Scott Shelton, James Shelton and Jimmie Todd.

A special feature of Mayfair each year is the big art and crafts show held in conjunction with the fair. The 1978 show put together by Mae Chappel showcased the creative specialties of some 50 artists and artisans, including Midlanders Alicean Kalteyer, Marian Ford, Dorothy Peterson, Mary Griffith, Norma Helm, Nancy H. Neeley, Fay Grissett, Betty Lynch, Paul Hanssen, Florence and Charles Henderson, Jack Hickman, Charles N. Pruitt and Gwen Swails, and others from such points as Alpine, San Antonio, Waco, Abilene, Austin, Houston and El Paso.

Several hundred art-loving Midlanders paid extra for the privilege of attending a cocktail buffet and preview of the art and crafts show Friday night. 'Funny thing' at PPH

Way to the Forum," a rowdy romp through ancient Rome, opens Friday night at Odessa's Permian 2329. Playhouse.

The comedy-with-music is the final attraction of the 1977-78 season at Odessa's community theater. The setting is Rome in 200 B.C., but the plot is reminiscent of the Keystone Cops and the Marx Brothers. There are no serious moments in the whole play - all is fun, farce and fantasy.

"Funny Thing" features Jeryl Hoover as Pseudo-lus, a slave who yearns to be free; Al Beatty as Senex, an old patrician Roman who dreams of sowing his last wild oats; Dana Tyler as Domina, Senex's loud-mouthed wife; Chuck Moore as Hero, young and innocent and hopelessly in love with Philia, a virgin who lives in the house of Lycus, the flesh-peddler. Philia is played by Mary Parker and Gary Lipscomb portrays Lycus.

Others in the cast are Charley Tyler as Miles Gloriosus, the soldier; Billy Cook as Hysterium, a frantic slave who is aply named, and Kerry Pell as Erronius, a Mr. Magoo-type Roman citizen. Still others contributing to the merriment in the show are Sabrina Green, Jan Berry, Sandra Harrington, Doris Russell, Ginnye Nance and Cathleen McNulty as a group of slaves-for-sale, and Dave Skinner, Mark Phillips and Oza Whitten playing a variety of parts.

"Funny Thing," written by Larry Gelbart and Bert Shevelove, has music and lyrics by Stephen Sondheim. The show was a solid success when it played on Broadway in the 1960s

Permian Playhouse's version of the slapstick comedy has been staged and directed by Jane Crum. interim director at PPH.

Following its opening performance at 8 p.m. Friday, the show will have a presentation at 8 p.m. Saturday and additional performances on the evenings of May 26 and 27, and June 2 and 3. A matinee is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. May 28.

Strawberry

Wilma T. Mehafko (pronounced mef-ko) is considered by some to be the "Mother of the Strawberry". Wilma's Father, Terrence Mehafko really wanted a son. Being a Strawberry lover, his plan was to follow a similar tradition in apples and put the boy on the road as "Terrence Strawberry Seed". Having a daughter didn't change a thing. Wilma traveled mainly through the South and Southwest planting Strawberries. She finally married and settled down near Chitwood and had a son named Strawberry Mehafko, they call Red. Jet sale support draws thanks from Saudi king

By BETTY ANNE WILLIAMS

WASHINGTON (AP) - King Khaled of Saudi Arabia thanked President Carter and members of Congress on Saturday for supporting the proposed sale of warplanes to the

In a letter released by the State Department here, Khaled said he wanted to "emphasize the planes are being acquired for defense," and added that Saudi Arabia "is continuing to make every effort in pursuit of a just, comprehensive and lasting settlement in the Middle East.

The Senate is scheduled to vote Monday on a resolution that, if passed by both Senate and House, would disapprove the proposed $4.8 billion jet fighter deal, which involves Saudi Arabia, Egypt and Israel.

"Saudi Arabia's long-delayed need for the planes has become a matter of ressing urgency because of the continuing, and recently stepped up, communist expansion in the area," Khaled said. "I want to convey my high esteem and that of the kingdom for your leadership to complete the

His reference to increased communist activity in the area came at the same time that President Carter revealed the presence of Cuban military forces in South Yemen.

Khaled's letter was presented in Washington by the Saudi ambassador and then delivered to Carter at Camp David, Md., according to the State Department.

growth in the state.

Earlier Saturday, Senate Majority Leader Robert C. Byrd said he feels confident the Senate will refuse to interfere with Carter's plans.

Under law, both houses of Congress must express disapproval of the sale or the deal goes through. The Senate could settle the issue by refusing to approve the resolution aimed at blocking the sales.

Carter has maintained the warplane sales are in the best interests of United States, and will boost peace efforts in the Middle East. But oppo nents claim the deal would upset the military balance in the region.

Byrd said, "I think we have the votes to allow the sales to go forward and to dispose of the disapproval resolution one way or another.

Carter's plan is to sell 75 F-16s and 15 F-15s to Israel, 60 F-15s to Saudi Arabia and 50 F-5Es to Egypt. The administration also has announced its willingness to sell 20 additional war planes to Israel later as a conciliatory gesture to win support for the three-

Credit-tightening moves could hit consumers

By KRISTIN GOFF AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - The connection between federal funds and auto loans is by no means direct, but economists are predicting that credit tightening moves by the Federal Reserve Board will soon squeeze consumers in the market for mortgages and other types of loans.

The Fed, which acts as the chief monetary watchdog for the nation, has been forcing up short-term interest rates since mid-April in an inflation fighting effort to slow the rapid growth in the nation's money supply. But another large jump in money in circulation and ready cash in banks, reported this past week, has led market watchers to predict even more pressure by the central bank on interest rates.

Federal funds, which represent unused reserves banks lend each other for short periods of time, have moved up from about 6% percent in early April to about 71/4 percent lately and along with them, rates on a variety of commercial and short-term funds.

In the mortgage market, the latest round of credit tightening has already had some impact, says Dennis Jacobe, economist at the U.S. League of Savings Associations.

Because of increases in short term nterest rates, savings institutions 'have to scramble" and pay more to get advance money for mortgages at a time when housing demand is picking up after a winter lag, says Jacobe.

Interest rates on conventional mortgages, covering 80 percent of the cost of a new home, have been rising steadily for the past five months and reached a national average of 9.30 percent in April, according to Federal Home Loan Bank Board. In some big cities and in California, where the housing demand has been exceptionally strong, the rate is nearing 10

Board opposes tuition credits

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Proposed federal tax credits for private school tuition would foster racial and socioeconomic group isolation, the State Board of Education said Saturday in a resolution.

"Passage of such legislation could be detrimental to the public educational system by encouraging private schools through parent tax credits at double the per capita rate of federal aid provided to public schools," the resolution states.

Other state groups, including teachthrough taxation by those with children attending non-public schools," the resolution continued.

In other action at its regular monthly meeting, the board postponed consideration of new bilingual education guidelines.

Current state guidelines call for bilingual programs in kindergarten through third grade. Proposals drawn up the Texas Education Agency staff would extend the program throught the fifth grade.

The proposals also would have called for a separate program of English as a second language for grades six through 12.

The board is awaiting word from the U.S. Office of Civil Rights on whether the proposals meet federal standards. The federal office said it would review the guidelines by March 30, but the school board has not received any notice.

Current bilingual education programs in 59 Texas school districts are under review and some already have been cited for non-compliance.

Carter says he'd like summit at White House

- President Carter says he'd love to see an Israeli-Egyptian summit at the White House and he rejects any claim that his Middle East policies are influenced by a U.S. need for Arab oil.

Cold snake warmed up

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) - Leon Selbe saved a snake. He found the 15-inch garter snake stretched out on his front porch earlier this past winter, apparently on the verge of freezing to death. He picked it up, took it in a bucket and put it near the fire. 'And in less than half an hour, it was moving around, striking at the side of the bucket and trying to get out," he Selbe said he couldn't help but have some compassion for the slithery creature. "I'm disabled with a heart condition and the cold air really bothers me," he said. "I know just how that snake was feeling out there in that snowstorm.

The statement that kicked up a brief storm in Egypt dealt with Carter's conception of a potential permanent settlement in the Mideast. Egyptian concern was heightened by the fact that the statement appeared in the semi-official Cairo newspaper Al Ahram as Begin was preparing to visit the United States. Carter said: "My belief is that a permanent settlement will not include an independent Palestinian nation on the West Bank. My belief is that a permanent settlement will not call for complete withdrawal from occupied territories. My belief is that a permanent settlement will be based substantially upon the home rule proposal (for the West forward. Egypt has taken the position that an independent Palestinian state for Palestinians would be an essential part of any peace settlement. Israel opposes such a state, arguing that it would serve as a base for terrorist raids

"MECHANICAL INSURANCE HELP YOU CHOOSE YOUR

New car buying decisions are important and should be considered carefully. One option you might be secure about buying for your new car is low cost MECHANICAL INSURANCE, developed by Motors Insurance Corporation-the insurance people from General Motors. MIC'S MECHANICAL INSURANCE. protects you against unforeseen mechanical repair bills for the major working parts of your car. I think it's one of the smartest new car buying decisions you can make.

WHAT EXACTLY DOES IT COVER?

MECHANICAL INSURANCE covers parts and labor; subject to a $25 deductible, for replacing major parts of the car's engine, transmission, drive axle, steering, brakes, electrical system and factory-installed air conditioning, except when covered under the manufacturer's warranty.

For new cars, MECHANICAL INSURANCE is good on all items mentioned above for the first 36 months or 36,000 miles-whichever comes first.

WHAT IF REPAIRS TAKE OVERNIGHT?

If, for any reason, your car is tied up for one night or longer for repairs as a result of

WHAT DOES IT COST?

The cost of MECHANICAL INSURANCE is surprisingly low. For example, on new Chevrolets, Buičks, Oldsmobiles and Cadillacs, the cost of protection varies from $95 to $134-depending on the make or model. But don't forget-that's protection for the first 36 months or 36,000 miles. whichever comes first.

By SUSAN RUTHERFORD

"They call and we take them." It's that uncomplicated when Midland Child Welfare workers phone foster mother Sharon O'Conner about another child.

Larger cities have emergency shelters to house battered, abused, neglected or runaway children overnight or for a few days. These are often the children whose parents have been put in jail and a relative can't be found, or the children who are in danger of being harmed by their parents, or the children whose parents are too drunk to remember they exist.

In these large cities the foster homes are for extended periods of time-such as the time it takes adoption proceedings to take place.

But all of Midland's child or teenage victims go to either Sharon or one of the other foster mothers in town-at present there are only four foster homes here.

So Mother's Day has a special meaning for Sharon. She hears the name "Mama" a thousand times a day, she says, from both her own two children and the 26 foster children she has housed over the last two years.

Mothering is her occupation, and she takes it seriously and warmly, even with the knowledge that inevitably she must give up each of her foster children one day-many times sooner than she would like.

But Sharon could never be considered an ordinary foster mother. She will tell you she had a rough life as a child. Her parents were divorced when she was eleven after a great deal of damage had been done. She herself was sexually, physically and mentally abused. This allows her to have a special relationship with children who have similar problems, she says. "When a child who has been sexually abused, for example, comes here all becomes very natural-I understand their feelings and though their circumstances may be different the problems are basically the same. It helps them when somebody can say, 'I've been there.' And yes, at times its frightening for me reliving my own experiences: But I've managed to overcome these things. It can either destroy you or make you

Sharon says she got involved in foster parenting by way of an unpleasant accident. Her older daughter, now age 11, spent the night with a friend and the friend's father tried to attack the O'Conner girl. The police were called in and they in turn called the Child Welfare department. The police were concerned about the man, while Child Welfare workers were interested in the other children in the home and their potential danger.

worker and eventually this led into conversations on becoming a foster

"I always thought, 'isn't a shame somebody doesn't do something about those children'," said the 31-year-old from Chula Vista, Calif., who graduated from beauty school and decided to get married rather than pursue a beauty career. Suddenly her mind was changed-foster parenting was her responsibility.

The job has its ups and downs. Since she's dealing with the lives of children, the down times are a bit harder to cope with than would be the case in another type of work. Like the teenager the family got so attached to, the O'Conner girls thinking of her as a big sister, and Sharon and Dennis loving her as their own. "One day she just left with a friend. She was 17 and it was her perogative, but it threw us all off. We thought she'd be with us for another two years. We asked that they not give us anymore long-term children for a while so we could get ourselves together emotionally again,"she said, paused, then added she usually can't turn down a child. Then there was the easy going little boy who was taking drugs and was on a high for a week in the hospital.

"This type thing isn't disruptive to our lives exactly, it just keeps us busy," she said.

"It seems those things you expect to happen won't, and the last things you'd dream would happen do happen. You never settle back and total-

The hardest children to give up are the babies, she says. One premature infant was picked up by Sharon and a case worker from the hospital. "Once a week I took her to the Baby's Clinic. She was a beautiful baby, a very happy baby--and it came time for her to go home. I had worked harder to prepare myself for this than any other, but it still hurt. The smaller ones are so helpless and depend on you so much.

"You know when you get them the time will come for them to go. All you can do is pray that they'll know that at least for a short time they've been loved and cared for. And in your heart you know that something nice they do someday is because of you.

"This is why we want to help. Sometimes you get so hurt you say, 'that's it.' Then two or three days later they call you again asking for help with another child, and we can't

At one time Sharon had a total of seven children in her four bedroom. home on Michigan Street. That was also the week her mother decided to > younger ones. A major concern to the O'Conners when they first got involved with foster parenting was whether this would disrupt their own family life. Most days, according to Sharon, the household looks very normal with from one to five children over their own two. Currently, the O'Conners have one permanent foster child, Kay, age 13, who is an integral member of the family. The children do their chores and play with each other and the scores of toys around the house.

Yet each foster child must go through a period of getting used to the O'Conner home. This get-acquainted period is usually done by letting the children fill-in the newcomer on house rules, which room is their's, which bed and so on. "Kids seem to know instinctively what to do," says Sharon. "My kids all gather when a new kid comes. I let them take over. I think this is why I've had such good luck with the children who come

Sharon said her mother's first reaction to her foster parenting was not all favorable. "She thought it was terrific that I was doing it, but she wondered how my children would be affected-what were they seeing and hearing? Was it a bad influence on them?

heart to needy children

"My own children have to know that what is normal to them is not to others. Some children lie, some steal. But you have to be understanding. And you have to accept the child. while not accepting his actions. This has done more good than anything for my children. They have seen and heard lots in life that adults haven't. A lot of this they hear from me, because I'm very honest with them and we talk about the problems the chil-

"On occasion my children are resentful," she adds. "A particular child may need more of my time. I have to be on guard, and try to balance my time. The majority of the time my children feel that everything is normal. When I threaten to stop taking children they say, 'Oh Mom, please don't quit.' They may com-plain about a kid, but I tell them that nobody says they have to like everybody. But they do need to understand why the children do what

Let Pat Walker help create a new you.

S. Nelson is perhaps one of the more spectacular examples of the stunning results that may be attained through Pat Walker's Figure Perfection Salons International. Read what she has to say about the program that has benefited millions throughout the world over the past 26 years: "I hated myself fat, and every new year I promised to really get with it and lose; however, it never happened. Finally my doctor advised me, tactfully, to stay out of his office until I decided to lose weight. He ist couldn't help me. Out of desperation, not believing, I called for a courtesy treatment at Pat Walker's. This was the turning point in my life. With a loss of 51 pounds and several inches, I began to enjoy my life with my friends and family, especially my three grandchildren. The Pat Walker program gave me a positive approach to everyday living."

How's your approach to life?

Now the national director for Pat Walker, Ms. Nelson firmly believes the program can upgrade the life outlook of the overweight as surely as it makes them slimmer, trimmer, more confident of their appearance—and themselves.

In the elegant atmosphere of a Pat Walker salon (where there's none of the noise and confusion you may have encountered at gyms and spas), you can reduce IN ABSO-LUTE PRIVACY. Moreover, you have assistance from interested professional counselors (who also conduct their counseling, by the way, in complete privacy).

Another difference: SYMMETRICON

Symmetricon is the equipment, exclusive to Pat Walker's, providing passive exercise that gently shapes and firms your figure while it also improves your circulation and helps correct posture. You wear your regular street clothes during treatments. At Pat Walker's you can lose weight (and keep it off) ON YOUR OWN INDI-VIDUALIZED PROGRAM—without strenuous physical exercise or stringent diets.

Mr. Richardson presented his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of pure silk organza and Venise lace. The gossamer sheer organza Victorian silhouette was created with Bobbian Venise lace ringing the high neckline and medallioned down the long full sleeves cuffed to points. Striping the fitted Empire bodice and A-line skirt were rows of the same lace entwined with pearl embroidery and small Venise lace flower motifs.

Draping from the back bodice was an organza Watteau falling into a chapel train enhanced with rows of identicaliace and appliqued motifs at the hemline. A traditional elbowlength veil of silk illusion accented with Venise lace medallions and bonded with Venise lace framed her face and fell to shoulder length. She

AT WIT'S END

When God created mothers...

By ERMA BOMBECK

When the good Lord was creating mothers He was into His sixth day of "overtime" when the angel appeared and said. "You're doing a lot of fiddling around on this one.

And the Lord said, "have you read the specs on this

She has to be completely washable, but not plastic; Have 180 moveable parts...all replaceable; Run on black coffee and leftovers;

Have a lap that disappears when she stands up; A kiss that can cure anything from a broken leg to a disappointed love affair: And six pairs of hands: ..

The angel shook her head and slowly said, "Six pairs of hands ... no way.'

t's not the hands that are causing my problems,' said the Lord. "It's the three pairs of eyes that mothers have to have."

"That's on the standard model?" asked the angel.

The Lord nodded. "One pair that sees through closed doors when she asks, What are you kids doing in there?' when she already knows. Another here in the back of her head that sees what she shouldn't but what she has to know, and of course the ones here in front than can look at a child when he goofs up and say, 'I understand and I love you' without so much as

"Lord," said the angel, touching His sleeve gently, "Come to bed. Tomorrow ...

"I can't," said the Lord, "I'm so close to creating something so close to myself. Already I have one who heals herself when she is sick...can feed a family of six on one pound of hamburger...and can get a nineyear-old to stand under a shower."

The angel circled the model of a mother very slowly. "It's too soft," she sighed.

"But tough!" said the Lord excitedly. "You cannot imagine what this mother can do or endure." "Can it think?"

Finally, the angel bent over and ran her finger across the cheek. "There's a leak," she pronounced. "I told You You were trying to put too much into this

"It's not a leak," said the Lord, "it's a tear." "What's it for?"

'It's for joy, sadness, disappointment, pain, loneliness and pride.

"You are a genius," said the angel.

The Lord looked somber. "I didn't put it there."

The uproar over the Durate, Calif., Rotary Club attempt to include women came at a time when I'd been pondering men's and women's clubs. An acquaintance put a bee in my bonnet when I invited her to a businesswomen's club with me.

'Why would you join a club for women only?" she asked.

Why? The question stumped me. I hadn't set out to join a women's club. It just happened. A friend invited me to a meeting. I liked the group. It was a nice mixture of businesswomen. administrators, editors, attorneys and the like. So I joined.

But after the question arose, I began to ask it of myself. Then came Rotary wrangle. The relaization dawned that perhaps this had been my only option. Most lunchtime business organizations are drawn along sex lines.

The idea of separate organizations does offend me. It constitues a real barrier to women and men working together. Whey have a women realtor' group, or a women teachers' group, unless there is a probelm? The purpose may be to encourage women to do better at their profession, or it may be an alternative to a maledominated professional organization. At any rate, it's a signal that men and women feel the need to clump together to defend themselves from one other. Somehow that seems unprofessional and unhealthy.

By PEGGY SIMPSON Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - The National Women's Political Caucus says 10 members of the House rate a perfect score on issues often championed by women's groups. None of 18 congresswomen made the grade.

The poll was based on 16 issues that a caucus spokeswoman said represent a wide range of concerns to women.

They included three votes on federal aid for abortions, day eare, aid to poor families, food stamps, minimum wage increases, "full employment" and changes in the Social Security

The 10 members with scores of 100 were Reps. Norman Mineta, D-Calif.; James Corman, D-Calif.; Edward Roybal, D-Calif; George Brown, D-Calif.; Parren Mitchell, D-Md.; Robert Drinan, D-Mass.; Frederick Richmond, D-N.Y.; Theodore Weiss, D-N.Y.; Richard Ottinger, D-N.Y., and Louis Stokes, D-Ohio.

Twelve members got less than 10 per cent on the caucus rating.

The caucus said 24 per cent of members of the House scored more than 80 per cent on issues the caucus selected for the poll. The average score for all congresswomen was 71 per cent.

"The percentage of women voting in elections has increased remarkably in the past decade," said NWPC Chairwoman Millie Jeffrey, "and candidates' stands on women's issues are crucial when voters decide whom to support.' This was the first such poll conduct-

Today, the use of plastic pipe for both hot and cold water is approved in two of the three so-called model plumbing codes, 12 states and a num ber of local codes, with more communities permitting such usage every week or so. This approval is for chlorinated polyvinyl chloride (CVPC) pipe, which is rigid and

Series to inform public on child abuse

A series of informative programs for the public dealing with child abuse, neglected and exploitation have been scheduled for May through July in Room 203 of the First Presbyterian Church.

The programs are a project of the Human Relations Council of Midland. with assistance from the Beal Foundation and the Texas Department of Human Resources. The first program to be held Tuesday will be a review of the recent presentation by Dr. Alexander Za-phiris; on "Child Abuse, Neglect and the Sexual Exploitation" given by Susan Edwards of the Human Relations Council.

A panel will discuss a special topic entitled "Parenting: Preventing the Need to Abuse." Members of the panel will be Beverly Acker of Child Welfare in Midland; Tamra Oatman, a counselor with the Permian Basin Planned Parenthood; Julie Wolfe of the Junior League of Midland, Inc., and Linda Saucedo of Family Servies of Midland.

Some films on parenting from the Middle Road Traveler series developed by the Texas Department of Human Resources will be shown by Mrs. Acker.

June 6 and will answer the question of "What is Child Abuse and What Happens When it is Discovered?" The discussion will tell how to recognize child abuse and neglect, who has the responsibility to report suspected abuse (medical, legal and school) and treatment for the abused child and the abusing parent (internal and external resources for child welfare). This will be followed June 20 with "What are the Rights of our Children?"-, The Texas Family Code will be discussed, along with children's rights in abuse-cases and divorce and custody agreements.

On July 18, community involvement and how a community can develop alternatives for families in need will be the topic of discussion. During this time, community "abuse," adequate health facilities, foster care, adoption, crisis cases, child care and volunteer opportunities will be talked

All of these programs will be held from 7: 30 to 9: 30 p.m.

West Texans reported more incidents of child abuse and neglect to authorities in 1977 than ever before, according to the Texas Department of Human Resources.

A 30 per cent increase in reported child abuse was recorded in the Mid-

Department officials said the increased number of reports indicated greater public awareness of child abuse and showed that the public wasconcerned enough about the problem to report alleged incidents to author-

The actual number of child abuse and neglect incidents is estimated to be several times the number reported to authorities

In Midland and Ector Counties, 1,-478 reports were received by the de partment in 1977, compared to 1,032 in 1976. Total validated cases in the two-county area numbered 591 last year compared to 525 in 1976.

Although the state has sponsored a child abuse awareness campaign for the past several years, department officials said it wasn't until last year the number of reports increased significantly

Molly Whittington, who oversees. hild abuse reporting in Midland-Odessa, said "both the high number and better quality of child abuse reports last year could be attributed to intensive coverage of abuse and neglect by newspapers, magazines, television and motion pictures.'

She also attributed some of the increased child abuse reports to population increases in the Midland-Odes-

According to Abbylou Jones, Child Abuse Campaign liaison in El Paso, regional headquarters for the Midland-Odessa area, Texas Department of Human Resources, the largest number of telephone calls about abuse received by the Department of Human Resources involved neglect. These are cases in which the needs of children are not attended to by par-

The lack of parental attention to a child is categorized into environmental, supervisional, medical and edu-

"Usually, reports of neglect will be made by an aggravated neighbor who sees the children roaming in their yard or playing in the street," according to Ms. Jones.

The neglect is sometimes the result of a simple parental negligence, too many children to supervise, a single working parent not being able to afford day care and leaving the child in the care of an older child, or ignorance of basic parenting skills.

Neglect situations can often be remedied by simply informing the parent they are not providing adequate supervision for their child.

Parents who physically abuse their children are provided with intensive psychological counseling. Those who physically harm their children seriously or repeatedly abuse their children sometimes have their parental rights terminated.

Department officials point out that child abuse is not limited to infants or small children. Often, teenage children become victims of sexual abuse by a father, step-father or mother's

In the past few years, department officials have noted a sizeable increase in the number of incidents of sexual abuse reported to authorities.

"More awareness of sexual abuse and a greater willingness to talk about the problem have caused the increased number of reports in this category," Ms. Jones said.

State law requires any person having knowledge of child abuse to make report to state or local authorities. Persons can call the local office of the Texas Department of Human Resources, local police or a special tollfree "hotline" number (1-800-252-5400) operated by the state in Austin.

Engagement I announced RULE--Mr. and Mrs.

Delbert Howell announce the engagement of their daughter, Wanda Sue James, to Gerald Guy Callicoatte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Callicoatte of Midland.

Miss James is a graduate of Rule High School and is employed by M System in Haskell.

Callicoatte is a graduate of Tarleton State University. He is a farmer at Old Glory.

"Punk is responsible for launching a new style," says Madeleine LeClerc, spokeswoman for the French designer, Ted Lapidus.

"High fashion has finally caught up with punk," adds Martin de Brock of the French edition of Men's Vogue. "A 30-year-old man can now wear his college ties and look in style. They should continue thinning for about three years.

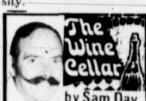

The phenomenon of London Punk — or other styles — blowing across the English Channel and winding up on Paris' design sheets is nothing new to the breezy world of high fashion. Fashion often takes its cue from the young or the excessive," says Le-Clerc. "St. Laurent's designs of hearts and lips dyed on silk blouses were inspired by kitsch."

Punk has already made very visible inroads into women's fashion. Pins, strings, ribbons and leather and visible lingerie have all cropped up in the latest women's fashion.

Though men's designers are generally less fickle than women's, Punk came at a time when men's wear was ripe for change.

Grumley explores night folk in book

Most people work days, checking in at 9 a.m. or thereabouts and leaving for home at 5 p.m. or after.

"After Midnight" is a sometimes interesting study of the people who go to work after the day people leave, who do their jobs while the day people are sleeping. Although Michael Grumley's portraits are uneven in interest and occasionally marred by florid writing, the book manages to hold the reader's interest most of the time, if only for frozen fruit fully thaws, its rather unusual subject matter.

National program now most popular grab-bag

By CLYDE LA MOTTE Reporter-Telegram Washington Oil Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D.C.-The national energh program, such as it is at present, has become one of the most popular political grab-bags in Washington. Any congressman worth his salt is busy trying to line up some energhrelated good for his state or his dis-

Time was when dams and harbors and even new postoffice buildings were rthe primary targets for those seeking gto impress the peodple back home with their clout in Washington.

But now, with the government spending big money on various and assorted energy researh and other projects and with the government regulating oil and gas prices and handing out valuable oil "entitlements" to this group or that region, the stakes are high and the rewards to the winners are good.

Therefore, today's targets are an experimental plan to transform manure or garbage dumps into gas supplies, or tapping gas that is trapped in coal mines, or building windmills and so on virtually without end. The Department of Energy has billions of dollars of tax money to spend on such matters so funds are readily available. It obviously would not do to have any funds left over at the end of a fiscal year

The opportunities for making deals have been especially plentiful during the congressional consideration of energy legislation. A congressman who is a conferee on an energy issue such as the natural gas bill can get White House attention in a hurry and if he has a special project in mind for his district he has a very good chance of getting it.

Whether it likes to or not, the Carter Administration is having to play the political log-rolling game as it tries to get support on Capitol Hill and elsewhere for its energy package.

Energy Secretary James Schlesinger has met with various groups,

Hrubetz appointed

DALLAS-Albert Hrubetz has been appointed president and chief operating officer of Texas Pacific Oil Co.,

The announcement was made by Philip E. Beekman, president of Joseph E. Seagram & Sons, Inc., the parent company of Texas Pacific, and Howard H. Hinson, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Texas Pacific.

Hrubetz joined Texas Pacific as a senior vice president in 1972 and became executive vice president-Exploration and International in 1975, a position he held until his recent appointment.

Prior to joining Texas Pacific, he was employed as a vice president of Hamilton Brothers Oil Co. Before that, he was with Continental Oil Co.

He is the recipient of the 1965 Alumni Merit Award from St. Louis University and is a member of the American Petroleum Institute, the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, the Society of Exploration Geophysicists, and the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

SEPM slates McGowen

Dr. J. H. McGowen, research scientist with the Bureau of Economic Geology in Austin, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Permian Basin Section of the Society of Paleontologists and Mineralogists Tuesday.

The meeting will start at 11:30 a.m. in the Midland Hilton

His topic will be "Depositional Framework of the Lower Dockum Group (Triassic), Texas Panhandle." All interested persons are invited to attend the meeting.

including some oil producers a short time ago, to discuss administrative actions the White House might take to mollify them and lessen their opposition to the President's plan.

He also has indicated to Northeast groups a willingness to alter the entitlements program to keep down the cost of fuel oil in that region, andhe has met frequently in closeddoor sessions with groups of congressional conferees on the natural gas legislation in an effort to work out compromises that would make a majority of the conferees reasonably happy. That has resulted in the addition of one provision or another to an already complicated bill or the change in some of the language to appease one or more congressmen. The log-rolling technique was vividly evident last week while the Senate Energy Committee was marking up a bill authorizing $12.7 billion for the Department of Energy to spend in the fiscal year ahead.

For instance, Sen. Wendell Ford, D-Ky., sought and got an extra $17.5 million earmarked for developing a number of unconventional natural gasresources and then added another $1 million so the Department of Energy could hire more staffers to administer the coal loan guarantee program to aid small coal companies. Since Kentucky is a coal-producing state, his interest was not surprising.

Sen. James Abourezk, D-S.D., who isn't seeking re-election so he doesn't mind stepping on toes even more than is his usual bengt, waxed a bit sarcastic at this point: "The purpose (of the Ford amendment) I gather," he said, "is to get mom-and-pop coal companies into business." He went on to say he didn't understand why loan guarantees for coal companies are needed with the price of coal whit it is nowas high as $23 a ton.

Abourezk claimed the Department of Energy "is becoming the most gigantic windfall I have ever seen."

But Abourezk was clearly out of tune with the other committee members becaue he was outvoted on this point, 13-1.

Sen. John A. Durkin, D-N.H., said the President "gave away everything but the furniture in the Oval office" to drumup votes for the energy package. ments to help New Englanders with their fuel bills was part of Administration manuevering to get energy votes. As the senator from New Hampshire sees it, such entitlements are fair andjust.

In any event, committee members headed by Sen. Bennett Johnston, D-La., lopposed the rumored Schlesinger offer to use entitlements in such fashion. In the end, the committee voted, 17-1, to squelch the proposal on the grounds that it would make consumers in other regions of the country help foot the bill for New Englanders. Also, they said, such action would fuerther stymie refinery expansion in this country.

Sen Lowell Weicker, R-Conn., caused aripple of surprise by also opposing theplan, even though he is from the region that would benefit.

"New England has babied their people long enough," he said. "They don't want refineries and they don't want to conserve." He was one of the 17 voting to bar the Administration from utilizing the entitlements program further to aid New England.

Politicking for government-funded projects and politicking to get government regulations tailored to help a congressman's home district is nothing new to Wash-ington. Neither is White House horse-trading to get its programs adopted. But because energy has moved into the spotlight, that is the area where most of the bargaining is being done these days.

This technique may not help solve the nation's energy problems but there is no denying that it can help get votes, which is what politicians have to have to stay in office.

Withdrawal announced

Tipperary Corp. has announced the withdrawal from registration with the Securities and Exchange Commission of its $15 million subordinated convertible debenture.

The withdrawal is due to the prolonged testing of the No. 1-11 Cobb well in Marshall County, Okla., in which the company has a significant investment. The company is investigating institutional financing in lieu of the public offering.

Creditors to meet

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) - The first meeting of creditors of the financially-troubled Commonwealth Oil Refining Co. is to be held here Monday in U.S. Bankruptcy Court.

Bankruptcy Judge Joseph Elliott said no business will be conducted at the meeting except to receive the preliminary statement of the courtappointed fiscal agent, Robert A.

In its voluntary petition for reorga-nization under Chapter 11 of the feder-Bankruptcy Act, Corco in March listed debts in excess of $500 million.

The company has its executive headquarters in San Antonio, but its manufacturing and refining operations are all in Puerto Rico.

Judge Elliott said that following Baker's preliminary statement Monday, he will recess the creditors' meeting and begin hearing a motion by the Puerto Rican government to transfer the Corco case to bankruptcy court in San Juan.

After the hearing and after the court has decided on the venue change motions, Elliott said he will notify creditors and other parties as the site, date and time for reconvening the creditors' meeting.

Program completed

HOBBS, N. M .- A recent rig-upgrading program has been completed by DA&S Oil Well Service Inc. of Hobbs to give that firm an all doublederrick fleet.

The firm achieved 100 percent double-derrick status with the recent purchase of six Crane Carrier Corsair rigs from Crane Carrier in Tulsa. Okla

The new rigs replaced the last four single-derrick rigs in the DA&S fleet and two double-derrick, drive-in rigs all of which were sold to make room for the new rigs.

DA&S operates-41 rigs in West Texas and New Mexico.

DEAR HELOISE

For those readers who crochet, here is something fun to make, useful and decorative. Just take an ordinary wire clothes hanger, crochet a single stitch (using a variegated thread) around the hanger. Then crochet a lace, with ruffles along the edge

Next, get you some of those plastic snap-type clothespins with holes through the top. These come in different colors. So get the colors to match your thread.

Now, across the bottom starting at one end of the ruffle, crochet five chain stitches, loop through holes in clothespin, then five stitches more, bringing it back up to loop (skipping one ruffle) into next end of ruffle.

Keep doing this all across the bottom of the hanger and you should end up with six or eight pins hanging from the bottom of the clothes hanger.

This makes an attractive item to hang in a baby's nursery. There are always those little socks, booties, plastic panties, bibs, etc. you don't want to put in the dryer. These are perfect to hang them on.

your laundry room, you can't do without it! Madge Hewett

And once you make one for

Madge, I think you are simply ingenious! Wouldn't these make nice baby shower or wedding shower gifts? I'll bet they would really sell at bazaars, too!

BLANKET POLICY

DEAR HELOISE:

We were given several lovely handmade baby afghans, quilts and receiving blankets when our first son was born three years ago, and when our new son was born a few months ago.

I enjoy using the handmade blankets often, but some were stuffed into drawers and out of

Then I bought a new shoe storage bag with ten shelves that hangs in a closet. It's a perky yellow color and has a clear vinyl front. I folded all the pretty baby blankets and put one on each shelf, and hung it in the nursery closet.

Now when I open the nursery closet I can see all the pretty blankets at once! They are easily accessible when I'm in a hurry, and the zipper front keeps them dust-free, too! Deidre Jo Parker

FOILED AGAIN!

DEAR HELOISE:

Wasps always made their nests in my mom's clothesline poles, so I taped foil over the holes at the ends.

Now my mom hangs clothes without being afraid of getting stung because the wasps can't get in to make a nest.

T. Noriega

SAVE THAT RED!

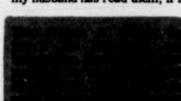

DEAR HELOISE:

Often I see ads, coupons, recipes, etc. in the newspaper that I want, but can't remove them until my husband reads the paper.

Many times I'd forget about these items and miss good bargains.

Now, what I do is, as I read the paper I use a red felt-tipped marker. When I spot something I want to keep, I color the outside corner of the paper for about an inch. The ink shows through on both sides automatically.

When I stack the papers after my husband has read them, if I spot a red corner, 1 know there's something on that page that I wanted and can now clip and save.

Mrs. Robert Thompson-

POTTY PLANTER!

DEAR HELOISE:

I just transformed an old potty chair into a pretty

After painting it to match my decor, I put it in the bathroom. Everyone that sees the "planter" exclaims over it, and starts making the garage sales. Think this would even look nice enough in other parts of the house - maybe on the front porch!

TRICK OF THE WEEK

DEAR HELOISE:

When washing walls, cut the tops off an old pair of cotton socks and roll them down around your wrists. Water won't run down your arms! L.P.

GOOD COVER-UP

DEAR HELOISE:

If you wash your pantsuits and slacks rather than having them cleaned, here is a good substitute for the plasticlaundry covers the cleaners put on them.

The other day I took a white, good-sized garbage bag and cut a hole in the bottom center. Then I slipped the hook of the hanger up through the hole in the bag. Keeps the dust off!

KIDDY MURALS

DEAR HELOISE:

We bought a new mattress and box spring for our 2-year-old's "big bed." The two pieces came in large brown paper

Rather than throw the wrappers away, we taped them to our basement wall, one layer over another.

Now our daughter can create her own mural with crayons or chalk on rainy days. The neighbor kids like to help, too. Of course we've explained that this is the only "writing wall." Janet W. Bloodgood

HINTS FROM HIM

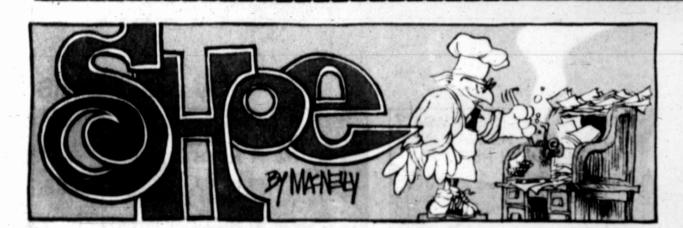

DEAR HELOISE:

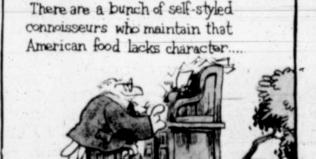

My wife just rejuvenated a tired bulletin board by taking a piece of denim that matched the room, removing the tack board from the frame, then... She stretched the fabric over the board, stapled it to the back and replaced it in the frame.

Very fresh looking and attractive and different.
