Property 'Moves Back'

"Moving Back Operations" on U. S. Killer 84 west of here is just about complete, as these pictures reveal. Only some trees are left on the original roadside at Progress, buildings either having been moved or pushed back. Lower shot shows the last house still not sold on the route just west of Muleshoe. The building will be sold at auction soon. (Journal Photos)

Road Programs Making Strides

Final Property To Sell

Bailey county's three-pronged road program, each of which should have a vital effect on the county's economy, is making progress, County Judge Glenn Williams said Tuesday.

The roads, widening of "Killer" 84, the building of a please-don't-rain route to Portales, N.M., and the changing of a county road into a state road have made much progress, the judge said. In fact, the tedious job of widening U. S. 84 from Muleshoe to the Parmer county line, has reached the stage where "only one house remains to be sold off before all the land work is cleared," the judge explained.

Of U. S. 84 the judge says that the right-of-way buying is finished, and most of it is cleared as well. The one house to be sold (see picture at left) is a four-room structure that has been vacated by its former occupants.

He says there is also some more work to be done by utility companies in relocating their facilities, but these matters are relatively minor.

He said the state engineers are working hard to finish the

Cotton Farmers Start Voting On '67 Acreage Allotment Transfers

Among candidates for graduation at the University of Texas is Gail Rex Miller, Muleshoe who will receive a bachelor's degree.

Postmaster Spencer Beavers reminds rural patrols of the Muleshoe post office to on the lookout for June livestock survey cards. USDA bases livestock and poultry estimates on replies to this survey, Beavers explained. Carriers who are assisting with the survey are Babe Barbour, route 1; Boyd Landers, route 2; Pal Scott, route 3; Jake Roberts, route 4, and Kenneth Hicks, route 4.

Cotton growers were reminded today that the period May 16 through May 25 is the time for voting on whether a cotton farmer may sell or lease his farm's cotton allotment and so transfer it for use on another farm outside the county (but within the State). A "yes" vote by at least two-thirds of the county's cotton farmers who vote in the referendum will permit such transfers to be made for the next three crops, 1967-69.

E. W. Locker, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, explains that a grower is eligible to vote in the referendum if he produces upland cotton in the county. Ballots have been mailed to all known cotton producers, and any cotton producer who (has, did) not receive(d) one by mail is urged to get in touch immediately with the ASCS county offices. The ballot may be mailed in or brought to the county office at any time within the voting period, but the Chairman emphasized that the ballot must be in the county office by the close of business on Wednesday, May 25. A ballot will not be counted if it is in an envelope which is postmarked May 25 but not delivered to the county office before the deadline.

The vote will not affect the transfer of upland cotton allotments by sale or lease from one farm to another within the same county, and it will not affect transfers across county lines from one farm to another owned or controlled by the same person. Both of these kinds of transfers are already provided by law.

If more than a third of the growers voting in the referendum vote "no", sales and leases of cotton allotments outside the county may not be made for the 1967 upland cotton crop, and another referendum on the question will be held next year.

MAIF to Draft Work Program

Muleshoe Area Industrial Foundation (MAIF) will do a bit of account-taking next Monday night, chart its course and name committees to step out with new and broader programs.

This was announced Wednesday by Harmon Elliott, MAIF's general chairman who said that the meeting is for the 103 members of the organization, "but will be open to the general public." He added: "We want everyone present who is interested in seeing our area grow."

The session will be held in the senior-junior cafeteria, starting at 8 o'clock. Meantime, membership chairman Jim Cox reported four new members: Spencer Beavers, Morris Childers, Don Harmon, and Gil Lamb.

"At this session next Monday night, we will go into the mechanics of how the plan of action will work and who is to make it work. We will give all the membership a report on exactly what plan of action is planned and let them know what they are getting for their $100 memberships. They will learn just how effective their organization is."

MAIF is a new organization which opened its charter membership period following an economic development clinic March 22. Charter memberships, however, are still open. Of the 103 members, 27 are farmers, Elliott pointed out and that "interest in the economy-building organization has proven to be strong among business men, professional men, property owners and farmers."

He added that "the purpose of this initial program of action is

It's Dog Day In Muleshoe

This is dog day in Muleshoe when Fido gets himself immunized against rabies for a one-fourth markoff in price.

In fact it's Tabby the cat's day also, because the old family feline also can get the bargain rate. It's a once-a-year event when Dr. Jerry Gleason, veterinarian, whacks $1 off his vaccination price and that makes the rabies shot and the city license fee come to only $3.

The immunization will take place at the city hall between 1 and 5 o'clock.

County's '65 Sorghum Yield was 16th in Texas

Bailey county farmers produced 26% more grain sorghum last year than they did the year before, winding up 16th for the state. However, neighboring Parmer county led the nation. Bailey county had 5,546,400 bushels in 1965 as compared with 4,100,000 the previous year.

The comparisons and the 1965-64 figures were announced by the Grain Sorghum Producers Association in Amarillo. All Panhandle counties had sharp increases from the previous year, but Parmer county set a national mark, the GSPA release said.

Parmer county farms produced 16,287,000 bushels in 1964 which was a pretty good record within itself. However, last year that county's farmers reported a whopping output of 18,683,500, an increased 12.8%.

Bill Nelson, executive vice-president of GSPA, made this comment: "The trend for the past several years has been increased grain sorghum production in both Parmer county and the state in general. Last year's crop was the largest we've ever had in Texas and the nation. National production was 666,062,000 bushels, 35% above 1964 and 21% above the five-year average."

He said the figures show that all Panhandle counties had increased sorghum production last year.

The GSPA executive said the biggest production shift came in the 13-county North Plains territory which produced 81,111,600 bushels, 12% of the national production and 21% of the Texas production.

He said he expects to see the upward trend continue in the North Plains area, and also in the Coastal Bend region and the South Plains. Corpus Christi also had an increase, Nelson said, and Nueces county moved up to fourth place in the state with 12,784,000 bushels. Lubbock jumped from 4,715,000 bushels to 6,104,000 bushels

Cotton Coming Up

Acreage is Down... But Cotton's Off to Good Start

Bailey county's 1965 cotton crop of 63,194 acres is beginning to poke itself through the ground despite a cool spring that did little toward getting any kind of crop off on schedule. Although the cotton is already coming up in irrigated sections, there are other areas where cotton hasn't even been planted, farm experts pointed out.

Johnny Wheeler who farms at Three Way and in the West Camp community, is one of those who got his cotton off to an early start, but he wore two pairs of overalls when planting the crop "just to keep from freezing plum to death." Wheeler has 106 acres of cotton three miles south of Lariat to about 12 miles northwest of Muleshoe. Variety is Gregg but he doesn't recall the number.

He remembers that he planted the crop the last two days in April — "and they were chilly days, too," he remembers with a shiver. "I wasn't kidding when I said I wore two pairs of overalls just to keep warm." But the soil was warm, he explained — or at least it was warm enough for cotton planting. Wheeler has been growing cotton for 45 years on his own, and even longer counting the time he helped his father back in the Honey Grove section. He says he guesses he'll grow cotton "all my life," but he adds, "there have been times when I considered seriously giving up the crop entirely. Funny thing," he muses, "I

To begin on June 5 under the direction of Dr. Maurice Boyd, TCU professor of history, the NDEA session will be the only one in Texas dealing with "Contemporary Europe and the Underdeveloped Areas."

The Institute, whose participants are senior high school teachers who hold bachelor's degrees with concentration in social science or history and who have taught world history or European civilization a minium of three years, will be the first such concentrated study in history to be offered at TCU.

Thirty-two Texas cities will be represented in the enrollment.

Dr. Boyd, Institute director, joined the TCU faculty in 1964 after having been on the faculties of Bradley University and the University of Florida, in addition to holding a visiting professorship at Vanderbilt. The author of articles published in numerous scholarly journals, Dr. Boyd holds degrees from the University of Missouri and the University of Michigan.

A few more days like the past four and hip boots and motor boats will be as much in demand here as they are in East Texas. Since last Sunday morning, the government station has recorded a total of 1.95 inches of rain, with the ground already soaked.

Work on construction of an east-west highway across the southern section of Lamb county got underway May 7. First unit of the new development will be a nine mile stretch running east from the Bailey county line. Initial work of setting back fences and poles along the right-of-way is underway, and caliche base will be laid in preparation for asphalt topping.

Construction work will start June 10 on a new theatre building for Muleshoe, to be located on Main street, adjoining B&M Cafe. When completed the new structure will represent an outlay of $32,000 and will use some of the most modern equipment to be found.

Study to Reveal Evaporation Losses

LUBBOCK - An initial grant of $10,850 for intensive studies of water evaporation losses has been approved by the Office of Water Resources Research U. S. Department of Interior for the South Plains Research and Extension Center here.

The grant will support research to get basic scientific information about evaporation and to find methods to control it, according to Charles E. Fisher, research superintendent at the Texas A&M University.

Learning what atmospheric factors and soil properties exert major influence on the evaporation process will be the first objective of the study, Fisher said.

Supervisor of the project will be Dr. C. W. Wendt, who was recently appointed associate soil scientist at the Research and Extension Center.

Meteorologist Oliver Newton, with the U. S. Weather Bureau at the center, and Agronomist Shelby Newman, in charge of water conservation and utilization research there, will both cooperate in the study.

The Department of Interior grant also calls for efforts to find methods of decreasing evaporation losses by biological, cultural, mechanical or chemical treatments.

"Approximately 40 percent of the total annual water budget for Texas is lost to evaporation of water from soils," Fisher said.

"If we could avoid just one percent of this loss," he said, "it would save enough water to supply 26 cities the size of Lubbock for one year or enough water to irrigate the South Plains cotton crop 1-1/2 years."

The evaporation study will combine into the current program of research on conservation and utilization of rainfall and underground water at the center, Fisher said.

other items in this area. Also this road will contribute to the development of thousands of acres of new land."

Summing up the three road programs, Judge Williams said: "Thus Bailey county and the Muleshoe area continue to progress. This is good, solid growth that reflects the fact that ours is a very fine community. Let us continue working together to keep it that way."

Related research underway there includes irrigation requirements of crops, techniques and practices of adjusting to limited irrigation water, influence of slope on runoff and crop yield, different methods of applying irrigation water, land levelling, plastic and chemical mulches, planting techniques and breeding crops especially suited to limited water.

The South Plains Research and Extension Center is one of the major experiment stations of the Texas A&M University system. It is operated in cooperation with the Agricultural Research Service, other government and private agencies, and Texas Tech.

The Department of Interior grant is one of two approved for the State of Texas, and it will receive high priority at the Center, Fisher said.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

Combination Bait - To jazz up a topwater lure that fish ignore, try adding a leader about six inches long to the back hook. Then add a single hook and minnow.

Often the fish will strike the minnow when they'll ignore the lure.

String Chases Insects Away - If you are being bothered by insects and have no insect repellent, try this trick.

Attach some pieces of string to your hat band, long enough so the strings hang down over the hat brim.

As you move about the dangling action of the string will keep the insects flying.

Gathering Grasshoppers - An ordinary flyswatter works just fine when collecting grasshoppers for bait.

Just swat them lightly and they'll be stunned enough to pick them up.

Snap Hook Speeds Fishing - It takes time and caution to get a catfish off a hook without getting finned.

When cats are biting fast and furious attach the hook to the end of your line with a "snap" rather than a knot. This way

Clyde Holts, Johnny Ethridges Take First in Tourney

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Holt, Muleshoe, and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Ethridge, Amarillo, tied for first place with rounds of 68 Sunday at the Muleshoe Country Club Mixed Foursome Golf Championship.

Thirty teams entered the handicap tourney. Tying for second were Mr. and Mrs. Houston Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Bill St. Clair and Mr. and Mrs. Stan Barrett with 69s.

Coming in sixth were the Irving St. Clairs while the seventh place was taken by Babe Barber and Mrs. J. M. Forbes, Mr. and Mrs. Woody Lambert tied with Sam Ghoul-son and Mary Sweetman for eighth.

At 5 p.m. the tournament chairman, Dorothy St. Clair and Wayne Wash awarded the prizes for the day's winners. A luncheon was served which featured turkey tetrazzina, green beans, combination salad, fruit cobbler, iced tea, coffee, hot rolls and butter. Dorothy St. Clair, Ruth Malone and Marie White were in charge of the luncheon.

In other recent opinions, Carr ruled that: Public employees are entitled to 15 working days leave for military training, regardless of whether duty is on consecutive days.

A defendant is not entitled to calendar time served on a subsequent conviction when the original conviction for the same offense has been set aside and declared void by a federal court.

Atascosa County commissioners can't lease a county-owned building to a furniture manufacturing firm, since public buildings must be devoted to public use.

Special information can be submitted by firms bidding on the sale of cars to the state, showing their car's adaptability to the uses of different agencies.

Cattle Dipping Completed - Dippings of scabies-infected cattle in the Texas Panhandle was completed on April 27, according to Dr. S. B. Walker, executive director of Texas Animal Health Commission.

A total of 15,452 head were dipped twice to 14 days apart in an approved manner and solution, while 257 head were dipped once.

Federal quarantine for Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley and Randall Counties still is in effect, though cattle from these counties have undergone state and federal inspection.

A request for release of the federal quarantine is being prepared, Dr. Walker said. Requirements for shipments to other states remain the same.

Dr. Walker praised cooperation which prevented the six Texas outbreaks from spreading.

Auto Insurance Up For Review - On June 15 the State Board of Insurance will hold a public hearing on automobile insurance rates.

Based on evidence presented to the Board at its 1965 hearing, rates were upped an average 13.4 per cent. But a relatively minor change in motor vehicle traffic accident rates for 1965, compared to a dropmatic increase in 1964, may mean good news for car owners.

Planting Extension Granted - Agriculture Commissioner John C. White extended the cotton planting deadline from May 10 to midnight, May 25, for farmers in 22 counties whose plantings have been washed out or delayed by heavy rains.

These counties include Atascosa, Bee, Bexar, Calhoun, DeWitt, Dimmitt, Frio, Goliad, Jackson, Karnes, Kinney, LaSalle, Live Oak, Maverick, McCullen, Medina, Refugio, Uvalde, Val Verde, Victoria, Wilson and Zavala.

Medicare Setup Approved - New procedures for medicare aid to the aged have been approved by the State Board of Public Welfare.

All old age assistance grants will automatically be increased $3 a month beginning in June. This will enable those 65 and older to pay supplementary medical insurance benefits. Old age assistance grants will thus be raised to $100 maximum, with aid to blind increased to $95 top.

A contract will be signed with Blue Cross-Blue Shield to handle payment of medicare deductibles. Separate contract will be signed for dependent children and for the disabled.

Beginning date on contracts is July 1.

Texas' General Revenue Fund was in the black - more than $23,900,000 - at the end of May. J. R. plans and specifications as soon as possible. They are then to be approved by the Bureau of Public Roads, after which it will be contracted for construction.

He said it "is impossible to tell exactly when this will be, but please be assured that it is being carried forward as fast as possible."

Reviewing the steps in the slow process of widening 84, the judge said "to finance this project, Bailey county voted $250 thousand in bonds in April, 1961. And today, after having practically finished with the right-of-way purchases, we have a balance of about $50 thousand on hand.

"Approximately $10 thousand is yet to be expended, and we are approximately $20 thousand in re-imbursment from the state. Thus we should finish with a balance of about $60 thousand. This can be used to retire some of the outstanding bonds. All construction costs are to be paid from state and federal funds, and the road will be maintained by the state."

He also added a note of thanks: "The patience, understanding and cooperation of the people through this long process is greatly appreciated."

Of FM 2487, the judge said this 7-mile strip leads north from the Baileyboro cemetery to the Longview church to intersect FM 746 south and west of Muleshoe.

He says the right-of-way is all cleared, the plans are complete and it is scheduled to be let for contract May 25. Construction should start shortly thereafter, and the road should be completed sometime this summer. The people of that area should have an all-weather, hard-surfaced road to transport their crops over this fall."

Much interest also has been shown in the new short-cut to Portales. This is a county dirt road to extend west from the Tom Smith place on the west terminus of Farm-to-Market Road 1760 west of Muleshoe, a distance of 7-1/2 miles to the Texas-New Mexico State Line.

The judge said four miles is already graded, and the balance is to be new construction. The right-of-way for this route has been obtained and cleared. Loyd Stephens, county commissioner, has done some construction work, Williams explained, "but is having to wait for moisture to complete it. Much of the route is sandy and would be extremely expensive and difficult to build as dry as it is now.

He added that "it is practically finished on the New Mexico side, and will be completed on this side of the state line when we get sufficient moisture."

He explained that this road will shorten the distance between Muleshoe and Portales by between 15 and 20 miles, and will be of mutual benefit to each community.

"Many people from the Muleshoe area," he pointed out, "attend school at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales, and many folk from Portales area buy hay, machinery and

Concentrate Aid On Our 'Friends,' Tower Pleads

By Sen. John G. Tower

Once again, Congress has received a request to appropriate $3.5 billion for foreign aid. That's about the same amount as was requested last year.

This year, there are, however, a couple of important innovations in the foreign aid request. In previous years the foreign aid bill was a single measure encompassing both economic aid to foreign nations and also the military assistance we give many of those nations. This year foreign economic aid and military assistance are to be considered separately.

I have felt for several years that economic aid and military assistance could be more rationally considered by Congress as separate measures, and I am pleased the Administration has now adopted that course.

Some $917 million is being requested for military assistance to our allies. I will support that request, unless serious and unexpected circumstances arise to involve it. And, $2.4 billion-nearly three times as much-is being sought for foreign economic aid. Some of this proposed foreign economic aid appears worth while; some of it is of dubious value.

Half a billion dollars will go to South Vietnam; this money must be considered as just another part of our strategic effort to make that nation free and stable. It would make no sense for us to mount a massive military effort to save South Vietnam without also contributing what we can to that troubled nation's economic development. I'll support these funds.

Another half billion is programmed for Latin America under the Alliance for Progress to be used for such projects as programs of education, health and housing; and public works like dams and irrigation systems. Most of this money will also have my support. I believe all Texans appreciate the need to strengthen our neighbor republic of Mexico and the other free nations of Central and South America. These nations have been targeted by the communists for increasing subversion and infiltration. We must do what we can now to help Latin America resist communist encroachment. However, we must be careful not to drive private capital out of Latin America.

There are many other programs involved in this foreign economic aid request about which I have grave doubts. There have been over the years far too much graft, corruption and waste in foreign aid program. I don't think enough has been done to end that waste.

As you know, I long have been a critic of our tendency to scatter foreign aid funds all over the countryside without aiming our dollars at specific programs, projects and nations. I think we simply must concentrate our help on nations not hostile to America, nations that give solid evidence of determination to help themselves. We ought not to use American-free-enterprise dollars to build up socialist governments or to promote socialistic schemes abroad.

I have no doubt that Congress can find several places to cut back this foreign aid request, aiming it in a more reasonable fashion at more realistic goals.

Pvt. Lingnau Completes Work

Army Pvt. Melvin H. Lingnau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto H. Lingnau, completed advanced training, plus a week of guerrilla warfare training at Fort Polk, La. recently.

During his instruction he lived under simulated Vietnam conditions for five days, fighting off night attacks and conducting raids on "enemy" villages.

Lingnau was taught methods of removing booby traps, setting ambushes, and avoiding enemy ambushes. Other specialized instruction included small unit tactics, weapons firing, map reading, landmine warfare and communications. The 20-year-old soldier entered the Army in December 1965 and completed basic training at Fort Polk.

Lingnau is a 1964 graduate of Farwell High School and was engaged in farming before entering the Army.

Sorghum. . . THREE WAY

Nelson added that the use of grain sorghum also has steadily increased at home and abroad through the intensive promotion program of GSPA.
 "When such programs were started in 1956, livestock use of sorghum was 179 million bushels. Now it is 479 million," he said. "Exports in the same period moved from 22 million bushels to more than 200 million. The other major uses of grain sorghum, commercial and industrial, now promise to double with the opening of the new wet milling plant to be built in Dimmitt."
 By counties, 1965 yields and percentage of increase over the previous year were as follows:

 you can remove the hook and the fish together, then snap on another hook and continue your fishing.
 Later on, when you clean your catch, you'll have time to remove the hook with ease and safety.

 De-Bugging The Boat - In trailering your boat on long trips, here's how to keep the windshield from getting all bugged up.
 Coat it with window cleaner before taking off. Let the cleaner dry, but don't wipe it off until after you arrive at your launching site.

 Bolts As Tent Pegs - Are you having trouble with broken and bent tent pegs?
 Use one-half inch by 10 inch building anchor bolts. They're tough, cheap and last forever.

 Corn Cob Ramrod - Bet you never thought of using corn cobs to clean your shotgun?
 Well, a smart farm boy does and the cobs do a mighty fine polishing job when properly oiled.

grew up in cotton country - Honey Grove, Paris and that country and we raised lots of cotton. Well, not too long ago we bought a place down at Cunningham near Paris - right in my old childhood stomping ground. And do you know what? There's not a stalk of cotton on that 1100 acre place; it's all cattle country now.
 He explained that the farming economy of that northeast Texas county "had changed completely since 1960. He explained: "Used to it was all small farms - cotton, corn and such. Well, the farmers went broke at that system, so they put the old worn-out row-crop farms back into grass and the country is making a good comeback."
 Wheeler says the most cotton he ever grew at one time was 900 acres. That was in 1953 at Maple.
 Texas reached its peak in lumber production in 1907 when it ranked third in the Nation with a production of 2,229,590 board feet.

Dear Editor:

Dear Sir,
 The membership of Epsilon Chi Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha wish to state our views in regard to the P.T.A. campaign presently underway to remove pornographic literature from our local news-stands.
 Although we believe that the primary responsibility for censorship lies in the home, we do support this movement.
 It is our belief that the community as a whole would benefit with the absence of all such literature from places of public distribution.
 Sincerely,
 Mrs. Roald D. Johnson

What's the best 5-letter word for fertilizer?

And for cotton—NIPAK 45. Get better cotton production and earn bigger profits. Side dress your cotton with NIPAK 45 right now — for greater yield. (You may get more than the average $6 return for every $1 invested in fertilizer, depending on your farm. Experiment station tests averaged this.) NIPAK 45 — 45% nitrogen fertilizer from Urea — gives you one-third more nitrogen per pound than any other form of solid nitrogen fertilizer — which enables you to handle less fertilizer and cover more ground in less time. NIPAK 45 is uniformly prilled, too. It flows easily, won't cake, clog or corrode your equipment. NIPAK also dissolves in the soil moisture and moves quickly to the root zone where it stays put until your crops need it. So for more grow power, ask your local NIPAK dealer about NIPAK 45. He can help you plan a complete fertilizer program because he can provide a complete fertilizer service.
