Did You Know Hayfever Is Caused By Love-Love of the Ragweed for Its Mate? .

In the Fall a ragweed's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love and this month, throughout most of the United States, every upstanding ragweed will be on the hunt for a mate. All this seedy pursuit of happiness is all right for ragweeds but it's tough on you if you are one of the millions who suffer hay fever as the result of inhaling pollen. In that case you cannot afford to look down your nose at the activities of the young ragweed Romeos and Juliets. Many of them may not find each other, but find your nose instead. Worse, they may even have a date there. In that case you ought to know about Neohetramine (2-(Nodimethyl-aminoethyl-N-p-methoxybenzyl) - amino - pyrimidine mono-hydrochloride) and don't sneeze at that either. This interesting sounding and acting drug a product now made available by Wyeth Incorporated on a doctor's prescription, has been found in a number of recorded clinical tests to give relief to 82 per cent of seasonal hay fever sufferers, and what is most remarkable of all, with almost complete absence of deleterious, or "side," These tests, as reported by Drs. Leo H. Criep and Theodore H. Aaron of the University of Pittsburgh Medical School and Montefiore Hospital to the American Academy of Allergy, showed Neohetramine to be the safest of all similar drugs. In fact the incidence of side effects was so low that they named it the "safest" antihistaminic.

Neohetramine, the physicians showed, has also proved star-tlingly effective in curing or moderating headache, bronchial asthma, the skin eruption known as urticaria, and allergic rhinitis. The tests were extensive, 124 hay fever sufferers being treated with Neohetramine by Drs. Criep and Aaron.

The development of Neohetramine is the result of clever medical detection work. Allergies are a comparatively recent gies are a comparatively recent medical discovery. The word "allergy" has been in the lan-guage only half a century. It is now known that the inhalation of pollens, especially that of ragweed, can produce asthma, sneezing, face swelling and other allied symptoms. Many foods, shellfish and strawberries for example wool cat fur and for example, wool, cat fur and scores of other things may cause various unhappy reactions among those allergic to them.

the body with anti-bodies. But the real villain of the hay fever and other similar griefs is now believed to be a chemical called birteria.

histamine which is normally found in minute quantities in minics to medicine can be apmost of the body tissues. Pollen preciated when it is remembered and the antibodies it creates combine to cause the liberation of histamine in the body. The histamine in turn dilates the blood vessels so that the tissues which the blood vessels feed become graph of the blood ve come swollen and gorged, like the stomach of a man who has eaten far too much. When the tissues of the mucous membrane of the nose get this indigestion and stomachache, the result is hay-fever or perhaps rhinitis. Other tissues so afflicted may result in hives, asthma or worse.

Histamine thus acts as a sort of fifth columnist in the body for allergens. But it was only recently that histamine's devious underground work was discovered. Once that was established however the recently lished, however, the research laboratories got to work and developed the so-called antihistaminics. Of these, Neohetramine, as shown in the Criep-Aaron report, is the least likely to produce in the patient such side reactions as dizziness and drowsiness.

The antihistaminics have been found valuable also in other respects — notably in overcoming certain patients' allergies to Others are allergic to heat. The list of allergens run the gamut from cat's fur to milk.

The case of a man who broke into a rash on Monday mornings puzzled physicians for months. They tested him for one allergy after another until they remembered that his rash always occurred on Mondays. Then the answer finally came. He was allergic to furnity they have the state of the s

A woman married for five and a half years had suffered asthma for five years of that time. She went to Arizona, was cured within a few months and returned East to her husband. Five months later she had asthma again. She went hack to Tueson again. She went back to Tucson and was again cured. Her hus-band moved to Tucson to be with her. Five days later she was hospitalized with an acute attack of asthma.

Farm Bureau Week Designated For October

Governor Buford Jester has issued a proclamation in Austin designating the week of October 21-28 as "Texas Farm Bureau during freezing of peaches, pears, Federation Organization Week." and light colored cherries.

The American Milking Shorthorn Society has recently set up its own independent registry office for Milking Shorthorn cattle. This was done upon the unanimous vote of the member breeders and, according to Secretary W. J. Hardy, because this branch of the Shorthorn breed had made such rapid growth in the past decade that it was felt to be in the best interests of the members to record and promote their cattle under independent direction.

This branch of the Shorthorn breed should not be confused with the Beef Type Shorthorn, although formerly all the registration work had been handled by the American Shorthorn Breeders' association.

The new organization makes it debut with 8,000 member breeders who are highly enthused and full of plans for the future promotion of the shorthorn breeders.

Mr. Keith King is the president—an active breeder who resides at Victoria, Ill. King also is one of the inspectors on selection of cattle for the forthcoming National Breed Show and Sale at Dallas, Tex., Oct. 18 and 19. This is perhaps the biggest feature among the many plans for promotion and is unique in the fact that it will be a show of "State Herds," something no other cattle breed has ever done. The first show of its kind was held at Kansas City last year and was highly successful.

In the picture is President King (in dark suit) looking over a likely prospect for the national event where these dual-purpose cattle will be showing for $5,000 in premiums and which, after the showing, the best animals will be selected and sold at auction. The first annual meeting of the society will be held at this time also and more than 1,000 members and delegates are expected to be present.

Offices of the American Milking Shorthorn Society are located at 4122 S. Union Ave., Chicago 9, Ill.

The history of Pheasants can be traced back many centuries, but it is the present and future of these stately birds that interests most bird lovers. A description of each of the many breeds of Pheasants would fill a large volume. The Golden with his beautiful gold and black ruff; the Lady Amherst with his red top knot and silver and black laced ruff; the Silver with his large erect body and silver, and black laced coloring; and many more of the beautiful ornamental breeds. Their coloring covers about every phase and variation of the rainbow, they are truly things of beauty.

Then comes our common Ringneck Pheasant. This is the old fellow with which most of us are familiar. Strutting along the country land head erect, feathers ruffed, always ready to challenge any intruder that dares

"STORE GRAIN ON

SAYS SECRETARY BRANNAN

"HERE'S HOW" Says QUONSET*

QUONSET 40

Fast action is called for to provide covered storage for 1948's huge grain crops . . . and fast action is just what the Quonset provides-fast delivery from your dealer, fastest erection on your farm.

A Quonset 40 (40 x 100 feet) holds 40,000 bushels of wheat. Over the years that the permanent, all-steel Quonset will serve you, your wheat-storage costs become almost negligible.

Look at the savings! You save not only excess storage costs, but also haulage costs, and dockage on ground-stored wheat. And the government allows 7c per bushel for stored wheat, in addition to the wheat loan of about $2.00 per bushel. You save money as you save your wheat ... to sell at the most favorable time. You control your own marketing. And, when the wheat is sold, you have a permanent steel building adaptable to implement and machinery storage and many other uses.

In short, wheat in a Quonset means extra money in the bank.

For fast action, call us today. We have your Quanset for immediate delivery.

Practical Wood Shelf Adds Decorative Note

THE Wedgwood narrow shelf illustrated above is designed for use over sink, stove or in the bathroom. On it you can keep the many small articles you're always taking extra steps to reach. It not only provides a handy and practical amount of extra shelf space but it also adds a decorative note to the room.

The full size pattern offered above is traced on the wood which the pattern specifies. Then saw and assemble. A really professional note is obtained by placing upholsterer's tacks on shelf where pattern indicates.

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSES By Roger Whitman

QUESTION: We have just emp-tied the last gallon from our 50gallon range-oil drum, and the drum seems to be full of rust. Is there any way to clean this out before we have it refilled?

ANSWER: I believe the lower inside part of the drum has probably corroded. If you do not wish to buy a new one, you might consider having the lower part cut out and a new piece welded on After opening up the drum it can be cleaned out thouroughly before welding on the new piece.

QUESTION: I have a pair of wrought iron candlesticks. I have just removed a coat of shiny black enamel from them. Now what is the correct, dull black paint or finish to use on them?

ANSWER: First wipe with ben zine to remove all traces of what ever kind of remover you used to take off the old finish. Be careful of fire when using benzine. Finish the pieces with a flat black paint intended for metal surfaces; the better stocked paint stores sel this paint.

All-Time Best Seller

Lesson for October 3, 1948

IF ALL the Bibles sold in one year by one manufacturer, the American Bible society, were piled on top of one another, flat-not endwise—that pile of Bibles and testaments would be 26 miles high. In 1947 that firm put out the astonishing total of 9,310,439 Bibles, testaments or portions. During the first 125 years of the society's existence, 305,579,217 Dr. Foreman copies of Scripture were printed and sold by them, this would make one shelf 870 miles

The Bible is the best selling book in the world. No other book is in its

Not to know the Bible is not to know the most widely read book in the world. The American Bible society publishes it in only 167 languages, but parts of it have been translated into as many as 1,000 languages and dialects.

Many Authors

SUCH popularity must be deserved. There are many reasons why the Bible continues to be, year after year, the all-time best seller. But one of the reasons is its impressive variety. It is not one book, it is a library of books. Whatever your mood, whatever your need, there is a page in the Bible, somewhere, for you.

A Christian will try seriously to appreciate the whole Bible and not merely one or two parts of it. Yet there is such variety in it that invariably some persons are attracted by one feature of it while another feature makes stronger appeal to others.

Our studies these next three months will be in "The Literature of the Bible" and each week we shall be noticing a different feature. This week we give a thought to the tremendous variety of the Bible, along with its underlying unity.

Many Types

LOOKING through the Bible you find all varieties of literary types; you find poetry and prose; stories, essays, sermons, biographies, dramas; rhapsodies, love songs, funeral dirges and battle hymns.

Here are pages as prosaic as a telephone book and here are pages more exciting than any fiction. Here are simple, straightforward ideas that a child can understand as soon as he understands the words and here are mysteries so profound that the world's mightiest and holdest minds shrink back in awe.

The Bible is not like a piece of music played on one single instrument, like a tune on a piccolo; it is more like an immense symphony -the more often we listen to it, the more we hear in it.

Many Times

NO ONE knows exactly how long it took for the Bible to be written. Let us suppose that the earliest parts came from the pen (or stylus) of Moses, and the latest part from about 100 years after Christ (John and the Revelation). If Moses flourished around 1200 B. C., that would mean that the Bible was completed 13 centuries after it was begun.

In 13 centuries much can happen, and much did. There is hardly any circumstance or crisis, there is scarcely any time, however humdrum or thrilling, which does not have its match in the Bible. Its writers were inspired men; they knew God. But they also knew the times in which they lived, and thus can speak to ours.

One Theme

FOR all the vast variety of the Bible, there is in it a deep and lofty unity. It is bound together by its mighty purpose, which throbbed in the heart's blood of every man who wrote a line of it. That purpose is to make God real to man, and to bring man to God. The writers of the Bible may have had their lighter moments, but they did not write these pages then.

They wrote under the irresistable impulse, born of the Holy Spirit, to make plain to other men what God had revealed to them.

So as you come to the Bible, remember its purpose is not to make you admire or revere it as a book; its great purpose is to be transparent, a window through which you shall see God.

Millions of women are doing it all over the world; saving fuel, saving fats, serving hearty delicious one-dish meals, drawing husband and children into the game that will hold the family together through the disturbed years ahead.

To Bert, therefore, and to many another husband, my advice is this: Wait until you've eaten the dinner before you break onto fretful criticism. On the table, soup and muffins and succotash and deep dish apple pie may look rather meaningless. Satisfaction Guaranteed.

But if the soup is hearty, the vegetables very hot and well seasoned, and the apple pie as good as homemade apple pie should be, then you'll inche square, dinner napkins are lean back from the table just as 19 inches square, and tea or bridge satisfied, and really better off gas- napkin is usually 111/2 inches square. tronomically than if the $2.20 meal had cost $8.40.

So you tired businessmen all over the country, or at least as many of you as have good wives like Lois, take this suggestion from me: Eat your dinner before you criticize. Imagination Is Key to Simple But Effective Table Settings

By Ertta Haley

OH, HOW I wish I were artistic and could do interesting things with my table settings," is a frequent cry heard when women gather. It happens especially when someone has put forth some thought in her table setting.

Well, you can all relax, that is, all of you who don't think you have artistic ability. If you know anything about color, and add to that omething out of the ordinary.

Have you a red and white checked cloth? This is very seasonal currently and can be used for a baked bean and cider supper. Use some charming pottery plates for the dinner, brown mugs and a centerpiece of glowing red Indian corn arranged with dark green leaves in a polished wood salad bowl. Is there anything simpler?

Durst was commissioned a Ranger in 1918, serving on the Texas border patrol. He joined the refinery guard force immediately after Pearl Harbor. A protection sys-Pearl Harbor. A protection sys-tem, only slightly relaxed from that used in wartime, is still maintained at this refinery, country's largest in point of production, to safeguard petroleum resources so critical to both the national de fense and economy.

age ex-service man madder than for the newspapers to make a big play on a criminal's service record, and try to somehow justify his crime by the fact that he went through the same experience as a few million other citizens who are law abiding and a credit to their community, state, and nation. The armed services were made up of every type of man from the best to the lowest, and neither rank nor medals changed the man one bit.

I don't know upon what grounds he was released, nor will I ever know, but we all know he was guilty of the most repulsive crime he could commit, and should now be paying the penal-The jury in releasing this man has committed as great a sin as he did. They have made an innocent girl pay the penalty for his crime, and furthermore have released him upon society, free to do it again and give encouragement to those who would like to do the same, but were afraid of paying the heavy penalty. For their sake, I hope those twelve men make the proper penance before going to face the Sam Wohlford has come to me with a problem, asked the American Legion to back him up in his fight. I believe Sam is right, as usual. Sam has been fighting this battle ever since I have been here, and someone needs to come to his aid. The County Commissioners have cut off the salary of our cemetery sexton. A lot of work has gone into that cemetery in the past year or so, and it is in fine shape, but now it will have to grow up in weeds again unless we can do something to keep the good work going. The maintenance of it is a pretty small item in the county budget, and there is no good reason for the richest county in the state to have their cemetery growing up in weeds. If you want this to happen, just sit still and keep your mouth shut, but if you want to see it continue to be a nice, neat, and decent place of burial for our dead, go talk to your County Commissioner. He is your servant, and enough of your petitions will probably bring him in line.

We are having a dance Saturday night. We have a band from Breckenridge, Texas which comes to us highly recommend-
