

GOP Tower, Price; Demo Connally Win Bailey, State Sweepstakes

Bailey, joining state and national trends toward conservative-moderate government, voted another "history-making" ballot Tuesday.

Republican John Goodwin Tower won his first full term with his re-election as the first Republican U.S. Senator since Reconstruction from Texas. He carried the county with a lead of 199 votes over Democratic-Lubbockite Waggoner Carr.

Another Republican, Bob Price of Pampa, won this county's vote in the 18th district race, and joined GOP's George Bush of Houston "in twin congressional triumphs offsetting Texas Democratic victories in the LBJ landslide of 1964," Lubbock newsmen commented.

John Connally was re-elected governor of Texas. Bailey carried for Connally 942 to 368 for Republican Kennerly.

The 16 constitutional amendments vote shows all but four, five and 13 carried in Bailey County. Interestingly, No. 4 provided for 6-year terms for directors of conservation districts; No. 5 authorized consolidated governments in counties of more than 1,200,000 population.

Total county vote was approximately 1,420 in the county, County Clerk Hazel Gilbreath said late Tuesday night.

"This is a good number for this county, with no contested local offices and for an 'off-year' election," she stated. In the general election in 1964, 2,558 votes were cast; last May's primaries showed 1,347 Democratic votes and 27 Republican vote, making a total of 1,433.

Bailey voters in all precincts except two carried for Tower and Price. Three Way returns were 59 for Carr; 30 for Tower; with 64 to 20 for Miller in Three Way; 105 to 24 in Bula.

Democrats came through with the governorship and most state offices as predicted. Local candidates, all unopposed, were elected.

Political observers continue comment after the election trend became apparent: that the "GOP victories across the county signaled an end to Democratic stranglehold," on not only state house seats, but state and US congressional seats and governors' chairs across the nation. This county - and Texas - and other voting trends in-dicade desire for a two-party system. The outcome was indicated in early trends in this county.

Tower carried 866 to Carr's 567 in Bailey; Price carried 817 votes to Miller 601.

Ten counties joined this county in northern portion of 18th district to give Price a 8,382 to 7,462-vote lead over Miller. Tower carried Bailey, Castro, Hale, Lamb, Parnar, Andrews, Borden, Dawson, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Martin, Scurry, Terry, Yoakum, Lubbock, Deaf Smith, Ector, Howard and Midland counties.

Complete returns showed: Gov.: Connally 941, Kennerly 368; Gillespie 3; Logan 15, U.S. Sen.: Carr 567, Tower 866, Holland 3.

Lt. Gov.: Smith 1,016; Dibrell 903; Johnson 8.

Atty. Gen.: Martin 953; Stewart 435; Williams 10.

Agriculture commissioner: White 928; Garrett 473; Bownds 4.

Land Commissioner: Sadler

992; Fay 425; Tiller 6. Comptroller: Calvert 1,042; Garza 362; McDaniel 10.

Treasurer: James 1,016; Gilmer 391; J. L. James 7. Rail commissioner: Tunnell 1,154; Clark 47.

U.S. Rep.: Dee Miller (D) 601; Bob Price (R) 817.

Muleshoe and the Big City Votes rallied together and this made the difference in this 1966 general election in Texas.

VETERAN--H. H. Carlyle, Veteran of World War 1, is one of the charter members of the local Ben Richardson American Legion Post. Veterans will be honored at a breakfast at the hall tomorrow.

Veterans... They Preserved Our Rich Heritage

Once more, gallant Americans are committed to the field of combat, manning the battle lines, and demonstrating their willingness to make the supreme sacrifice for our most prized possession... freedom.

Tomorrow, Veteran's Day, has a deep-seated meaning which began to take root when the first shot was fired by our men during World War I. Then there has been Pearl Harbor... the magnitude and it's aftermath... Korea, Viet Nam and various other points on the universe where American men have been called to duty, weapons in hand, defending the cause of freedom wherever it may be threatened by acts of aggression.

H. H. Carlyle, one of the charter members of the local Ben Richardson American Legion Post was a part of the World War 1 conflict and is being honored tomorrow along with countless thousands for the part they contributed toward making this great nation what it is today.

Carlyle left his home in Muleshoe in May, 1918 and was assigned to Company "C", 103 Machine Gun Battalion. His first three weeks training was at Camp Travis. From there, he went to Camp Bowie for a short time, then overseas and into

Where's The Fire? Everywhere!

(Editor's note: This is second in a series of articles about the Bailey County Fire Department, commemorating their 40th year of organized fire-fighting. The first article appeared in the Bailey County Journal on October 9.)

by Clea Creamer Williams

What started as an ordinary, quiet weekend in Muleshoe and Bailey County went up in flames, literally... ending up at midnight Sunday with the entire crew of the Bailey County Fire Department bone-tired. All 45 of them. Then... there was a post script to the matter running into the late afternoon Tuesday.

Sometime during the weekend they all worked fires, and most of them-several fires. In the Bailey County area there were a total of 11 fires. None of them too costly and not a great amount of damage done, but they were time-consuming and certainly canceled any plans that most of the fire department may have made as individuals for the weekend.

The Bailey County Fire Department during that 48-hour period of time, actually worked a total of 296 1/2 man-hours. That total is broken down as to fires, total of men who worked, and the time spent fighting the fires as follows:

1. On Saturday morning around 1:30 a. m., they were called to the Progress Gin for a burr pile and mote house fire - 21 men battled the blaze See FIRE on Page 6

Florida's Spurrier May Become First $1 Million Pro

By F. T. MacFeely
Associated Press Writer

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP)--Steve Spurrier may become pro football's first million dollar rookie, and people say he'll be worth that much and more to the team who gets him. The boyish looking quarterback probably is the most valuable player who ever put on a University of Florida uniform. As a junior last year, The Associated Press football board for the area named him the outstanding college player in the Southeast and he became second string All-American. Southeastern Conference followers say he is SEC's prime candidate for the Heisman trophy. A few years back, he was outstanding at Science High School in Knoxville, Tenn., and sought by many colleges. "The nicest thing about him is that he is as fine a boy off the field as he is on it," says Florida's Coach Ray Graves. It didn't even shake up Graves very much when Spurrier married his campus sweetheart, Jerri Starr of Fort Lauderdale, three days before Florida's opening game this fall. Spurrier and his bride live in an off-campus apartment. Changing roommates didn't reduce Spurrier's ability to throw the football one iota. Bill Carr, senior center from Pensacola who has snapped the ball to Spurrier and blocked for him throughout their college career, was his roommate the past three years. Spurrier doesn't know how much the merger of the pro leagues reduced his potential income with with the price of top grade rookies skyrocketing to Donny Anderson's $700,000 deal, it seems time for a rookie millionaire and Spurrier could be it. "If I have a good season, I can still get quite a bit of money, can't I?" he asked. The answer will have to wait until Florida finishes its season - possibly in January with a bowl game.

tural poise and peripheral vision. This fall, the Gator coaches decided to take advantage of place kicking ability he showed in practice. Florida had a very accurate short kicker in Wayne Barfield, who rarely missed extra points as a sophomore, but the coaching staff thought Spurrier might be used for all place kicking. Graves talked to Spurrier about it. The coach says Spurrier told him: "Barfield should kick the extra points, if we need a field goal, I'll kick it." In the season opener against Northwestern, Spurrier kicked two field goals and Barfield was five-for-five in extra points. "It's a pleasure just to know a boy like Steve," Graves said. "He is a leader of the younger players and one of the leaders in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. You couldn't ask for a finer one."

stressed the American principle, "worth fighting for." . . . to be Born free is an accident, to live free is a responsibility, and to die free is an obligation" to keep our American society freedom principles.

Three main points of 4-H work experiences, which include all elements in life, Gleason said, include means for success, present and future.

"We must be able to make sound decisions - ask advice, observe, conclude after thought and deliberation." That extra observation of minor details is as important in life as in weighing merits of a buying of a barrow as in everyday life," Gleason said.

Secondly, education is more necessary than ever, a college education, if possible," he added.

"A college degree will always be yours - no one can take away your diploma and the education that goes with it," Gleason added.

Determination to carry out sound decisions, to go forward to goals; school, college, then competition in workaday world as well as "putting one's heart in whatever one undertakes are important to success. Enjoy, like and be interested in carrying out that determination - no matter what field in life's work.

Sugar Beet Payments Released

Final payments for the 1965 sugar beet crop were made October 31 by Holly Sugar Corporation to some 2,000 growers in the Rocky Mountain and Texas-New Mexico regions.

The Holly final payments, which total $1,929,000, were made in the Corporation's six plant areas as follows: Sidney, Montana ($356,000); Hardin, Montana ($215,000); Worland, Wyoming ($275,000); Torrington, Wyoming ($177,000); Delta, Colorado ($211,000); and Hereford, Texas ($695,000).

Complete returns to growers for 1965-crop beets, including both Holly and Sugar Act payments, total $23,405,000 in these plant areas.

Dennis O'Rourke, president and chief executive officer of Holly Sugar Corporation, stated that the Rocky Mountain region was enjoying normal, good quality beets with some of the best yields since 1963. O'Rourke noted an exception in the Hereford, district where, although yields per acre are normal, sugar contents are below the averages for the past two years. He stated that the harvest was progressing well and that it was nearing completion in several of the northern areas. O'Rourke stated that sugar prices have improved, which are reflected in higher returns to growers for beets.

Best Texas Deer Shoot Seen Ahead

AUSTIN--A massive man-versus-beast conflict that could pit half a million hunters against Texas' well estimated 2,500,000 deer herd will be initiated Saturday, November 12.

That is the opening date for the annual big game season in most Texas counties under direct harvest supervision of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The kickoff for most counties where wildlife resources are managed by the Texas Legislature will be Tuesday, November 16, the traditional opener.

There are many deviations from these dates, according to the Department, including the popular Trans-Pecos 16-day season beginning Saturday, November 26.

Every indication points to a tremendous harvest of deer. And that is the fervent wish of game management authorities. Their successful efforts over the years have raised the once sparse white-tailed deer herds to such enormous proportions that only a record harvest will avert a possible over-population crisis.

Likewise, the wild turkey prospects are reported substantial.

The response by sportsmen seems adequate. Department headquarters personnel report unprecedented requests for hunting licenses that apparently will far exceed last year's 745,000 overall report.

Ammunition dealers report sales so brisk that their supplies of certain kinds of rifle bullets have become limited.

From the ranges comes word to the Department that deer have never been so numerous and generally are in good condition, all because of the food supplies. The surplus is so great in many counties that a bird, or bonus, antlerless deer is authorized under the permit system.

And the weather provided a pre-season bonus in some places for homecoming queen candidates. They are Marsha Blackman, Ann Phelps and Gail Locker. The winner will be determined by a vote of the football boys and will be crowned by the Football boys at half-time Friday night.

Our 7th and 8th grade boys end their season with outstanding records.

The seventh grade went undefeated through eight games. We hope each one of them will continue to improve and continue in athletics.

The eighth grade won 5 and lost 1 game and tied two.

This is another of our small classes as there is only around 28 boys out for football now in the 8th grade. Our Freshman and "B" team finish their season here tonight. The "B" team goes against Canyon and the 9th grade meets Morton.

Heard from the Freshman football coach at Dartmouth with this word:

"Joe Adams is presently working as a defensive back, he has good speed and loves to hit. I think his future in playing lies in defense. He also kicked off for us and has done an outstanding job. Joe is a very likable and coachable boy."

Sincerely,
John Curtis

It is nice to know that Joe is continuing to impress people with his hitting.

Well, thats all until next week.

ces, with rain to moisten the tinder-dry range, lush with vegetation, plus cool temperatures to hasten defoliation of brush areas to improve hunters' visibility.

The setting was so ideal that the Department could add only the suggestion that sportsmen inform themselves on various regulations involving bag limits and dates in different areas.

A specially prepared Hunting Guide long ago was sent to license agents and field forces to be distributed on request.

There is an old saying the "When it Rains it Pours" and it certainly has been a rainy season as far as defeats have gone. We dropped our fifth game of the season Friday against Hereford.

Hereford had a large football team, but our mistakes again hurt us.

Hereford, is believed by most people, to be a strong contender for our district crown along with Dumas.

Dumas and Hereford will meet at Dumas Nov. 18 in the final district game for both teams.

I personally think that Dumas will beat Hereford by 2 or 3 touchdowns. They both defeated us by the same score, 34-0, but I believe our kids played better against Dumas than they did Hereford.

This Friday night, Canyon comes to Muleshoe for our homecoming game. We have defeated Canyon the last two years in District play and have barely edged them for last in the district.

This year we both go into the game with identical conference records of 0-3. We must win this game to escape the cellar of District I-AAA.

We have never finished last and we certainly don't intend to finish there this year.

Canyon has seven senior starters with one Sophomore and three Juniors. They are led by the running of Joe Moore, a 185 pound 6'3" halfback. Art McAnaune, an all-district guard last year returns at left guard.

The average weight of the Canyon offense is 167 pounds. They are a tough team defensively. They like to run the power play on offense and have been successful with Moore carrying the ball.

Canyon will be trying to win to keep out of the cellar as will the Mules. I think this is enough incentive for both teams to be fired up for the game.

The Senior boys this week nominated three senior girls

Last Rites Conducted for Young Alligator

Small graveside services were conducted a few feet from the back porch at the Pauline Myers home for the year old alligator of Tootsie Moore.

The death of the 9 inch alligator was undetermined, but was thought to be from spraying throughout the house for flies. The alligator had been suffering from a cold for the past 2 or 3 weeks, which could have been fatal to the animal. Dr. Jerry Gleason was summoned, but to no avail.

The alligator, a pet of the family for some 8 months, was brought from Tula from the J. R. Moore residence. He or she was placed in a bushel basket with about 2 or 3 inches of water in the bottom and this was its home. Only when his master was changing his water each morning was he allowed to get fresh air outside and get his daily exercise.

Chicken livers seemed to be his favorite food, which was splashed in to his "house" 2 or 3 times a week. Upon occasion he had a rare treat of a grasshopper or a soft backed bug.

Like some animals, he dearly loved to have his stomach rubbed and would completely relax and enjoy the ordeal.

Dempsey gave the group booklets on the statistics of injuries and death over the last two years in Texas. The Oct. 27 meeting ended with a question and answer session.

Mrs. Reuel Kirby was the hostess at the meeting held in the Three Way School Library. Mrs. Carter Williams, president, opened the meeting with the roll call. Members recited the club collect and Mrs. Billy Simpson gave the treasurer's report.

Final plans were made for the club's pantry at the Halloween Carnival which was held in the Three Way School. Mrs. Mickey Sowder and Mrs. Reuel Kirby reported on the Federated Workshop held in Morton recently. Participating in the program were Mrs. D.F. Seay, TFWC Trustee, Mrs.

Fire...

 a summons to Newsom Gin - burr pile, eight men, one hour, forty minutes-man-hours.
 3. Next call was five minutes after the Newsom Gin fire was extinguished, cotton on fire in a ditch near Evans Oil Co. - four men for five minutes - 20 minutes total man-hours.

 4. No more than 20 minutes later a call to Purdy Gin for a mote house fire answered by five men who worked one-hour-

15 minutes man-hours.
 5. Two and a half hours later the firemen returned to Newsom Gin for another burr pile fire - 10 men for 30 minutes or a total of three man-hours.
 6. False alarm on car fire - two men - 10 minutes to trace down.

Sunday started out much the same as Saturday:
 1. First call was to Progress Gin where a trailer belonging to Kenneth Wells was blazing - five men who spent a total of 10 man-hours.
 2. Shortly afterward, another call to the Progress Gin for a burr pile fire - seven men again battled a burr pile blaze for a total of 14 man-hours.
 3. Early afternoon the firemen were summoned to Doyle Turner's corn patch, where a corn-picker had started a blaze in the field-16 men - a total of 16 man-hours.
 4. Firemen were alerted at 4:15 that a mote house was on fire at Purdy Gin - four men - a total of one man-hour.
 5. 4:20 p. m. - A call came from the County Line Gin asking for help from the Bailey County Fire Department. It is located 2 miles north, and 8 miles East of Morton in Cochran County. Three units and 18 local firemen battled the stubborn blaze, along with firemen and two units from the Lamb Co. Fire Department for eight hours or a total of 144 man-hours. Being hampered by a lack of water, which ran from an irrigation well for exactly one mile down the ditch across the road from the gin and a hose was laid across the highway to the fire. During several hours of that time, Cochran County Sheriff Hazel Hancock, Morton based Highway Patrolman T. A. Rowland and Levelland Highway Patrolman B. E. Kuykendall kept the highway blocked from thru traffic.

Monday the firemen were allowed to rest for awhile. No fires were reported on Monday.
 Tuesday, with a stiff south wind blowing, firemen were called twice in the afternoon to Progress Gin. Both times a burr pile was blazing furiously upon their arrival. The first fire lasted almost two hours and the second fire approximately an hour and a half.
 So, during this fall cotton harvest season, our local fire department is being kept up late, gotten up early, that is, if they have managed to get any sleep at all. After the Progress Gin fire Friday night, almost all of the 21 men who fought the blaze had regular jobs to report to as usual on Saturday Morning.

And, how was your weekend?

Would You Believe Female Firemen?

By Lonnie D. Stuart

CEDAR FORT, UTAH (AP) - A fireman wearing an apron? How about one who leaves a cake in the oven when the fire siren blows?
 These things can happen in this Central Utah town - the volunteer fire department is partially manned by women.

 Two years ago the 250 citizens of Cedar Fort, 30 miles southwest of Salt Lake City, decided they needed fire fighting facilities. They found trucks and equipment available through the Utah Department of Forestry and Fire Control.

 There was one problem - most of the community's men were employed at least 20 miles from town during the day. Only one telephone line served the entire community.
 The obvious solution: man the fire department during the day with women.

 Now, when the siren blows, six housewives trade their baking and cleaning chores for duty alongside their husbands and other men.
 Glen S. Cook, Cedar Fort fire chief, praises the girls for their activity and interest. "It's hard to get the men out to regular drills and meetings," he says, "but nearly always 100 percent of the women turn out."

 Cook's wife, Donna, is chief of the women's crew. Five of the feminine volunteers are relatives, and three couples are man and wife.
 Lack of water is of greater concern to the department than the firefighters sex.
 The town is supplied by two streams from the west foothills. And, it takes six hours by garden hose to fill one of the two water tankers.

"If we can't put the fire out with the water we have available," Cook says, "it doesn't get put out."
"The ladies have been quite fortunate with fires," said Mrs. Cook. "Most have occurred on Saturday when the men were at home."
The women went out on a fire soon after they were organized, but before they had any training, they almost lost a truck in the blaze.

"We finally put the fire out," Mrs. Cook says, adding:
"It's surprising how much you can learn about firefighting. Some persons think anyone can grab a truck and go, but it takes a lot of instruction to become an efficient firechief." The Salt Lake City Department has sent firemen to conduct training sessions for the women. Five of the six females firefighters are licensed to drive the tankers.

Asked what women wear when the siren at the town's new fire-hall sounds, Mrs. Cook says: "We just wear what we have on and chase the truck."

Study Shows Low Prices Are Preferred

The merchandising appeal of lower prices is on the increase, according to Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist at Texas A&M University.

She quotes Ben L. Schapker, vice president, Borgoyne Index, Inc. Detailing results of a survey of some 2,000 supermarket shoppers in six cities, Schapker said, "This is the first year that lower prices on groceries have displaced quality and freshness of meats as the leading factor for shoppers selecting their favorite supermarket."

The survey showed that 31.4 percent of the shoppers named low prices on groceries compared to 19.9 percent who named

Local Woman Named to New WTCC Committee

Mrs. Larry B. Hall of Muleshoe has been named by Mrs. John J. Kirchoff of Plainview, chairman of WTCC Women's Activities Committee, to serve as a charter member of the newly-formed West Texas Chamber of Commerce first Women's Committee, according to John Ben Shepperd, president of WTCC.

The Women's Activities Committee will meet for the first time in joint session with Cultural Affairs Committee and other WTCC Committees in "one of the most significant meetings in the history of West Texas Chamber of Commerce." The goal is to move West Texas forward, Shepperd announced.

High-light of the two-day meeting Nov. 10 and 11 in Denton will be a Cultural Achievement Recognition Banquet when special achievement awards to outstanding West Texans will be presented by Mrs. John Connally, Principal speaker for the event will be Governor John Connally.

The Women's Committee meeting Nov. 10 will be followed by a style show at the Denton Country Club.

Mrs. Hall is among the more than 1,500 women who have been invited to this first meeting. Mrs. Kirchoff was named last week by Shepperd to head the newly authorized WTCC Women's Activities Committee. This is the first time an action of this type, with women leadership, has been pioneered.

"It should be a long ranged, carefully planned program - a program designed to enlighten - not to burden - us," Mrs. Kirchoff stated. "The opportunity is here - planning with ten other districts engulfing 132 Texas counties - and a tremendously rewarding undertaking for our area with national implications . . ."

Mrs. Kirchoff will preside at the Nov. 10 meeting and will introduce the program of work that is scheduled for her co-workers on the local and regional basis. Sessions begin at 1:30 p.m. at Texas Woman's University.

In describing Mrs. Kirchoff - the former Mary Virginia Nixon of Plainview - Shepperd announced her selection as a "Woman on the Go." He added that the board of WTCC feels exceedingly fortunate to obtain the leadership of such an outstanding person for this important newly-created post.

Mrs. Kirchoff will bring to her new committee co-workers her enthusiasm, and organization that is so vital to its success, Shepperd said.

Purpose of the Women's Activities Committee is to involve West Texas women in all WTCC activities and in planning and implementation of all progress for improvement of West Texas, especially to urge every community in West Texas to establish a Leadership Team to fully utilize the talents and abilities of its men, women and young people.

The committee will assist in establishing a "Tell 'em Team" to tell and sell the West Texas story . . . the economic opportunities . . . cultural advantages . . . healthful climate . . . good schools and higher education institutions . . . fine medical services . . . and facilities . . . diversified recreation . . . aggressive civic organizations and excellent shopping facilities . . . local tourist and historical promotion and leadership . . . dissemination information and checking to see that the community is appealing and presentable . . .

As women, the committee will serve on community and state advisory services, as consultants, preparing special action and material appealing to tourists; present the women's views in attracting industry; encouraging theatrical personnel, invite out-of-state playwrights and critics; interchange Texas Cultural tours, seek and recognize writers and artists; promote music, literature, art, and museums, Mrs. Kirchoff summed up the committee challenges.

Other WTCC committees meeting at the fall meeting Nov. 10 and 11 will be the tourist and travel, agricultural and ranching committees.

The Women's Activities committee will assist in the organization of women's groups within the local chambers of commerce. These members will serve actively on industrial, tourism, cultural, educational and all other local committees. The "women's viewpoints" will thus be utilized to strengthen the work of each committee. Promotion of the use of West Texas products will be one important activity. These will include manufactured products as well as products of farming and ranching. Special lists of these items will be prepared by the groups in cooperation with growers, manufacturers and processors.

Tourist development, one of the most important phases of the WTCC work program, will be aided by women who organize special tours in their communities. Special attention will also be given to civic improvement in all physical, educational and cultural assets of the area.

Aoudad Trophies Beckon Sportsmen

SAN ANGELO--Palo Duro Canyon landowners will receive 83 aoudad sheep permits from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department for the December 9-10-11 season, reports Phil Evans, Panhandle wildlife biologist.

Last year landowners with surplus aoudad sheep on their property received 70 permits, and sportsmen quickly claimed all that were available. The permits will again be in high demand this year. Interested sportsmen should contact the Amarillo District Office of the Parks and Wildlife Department for the names of landowners who might possibly have hunting permits available.

Penn State's women athletes will compete in nine varsity sports during the 1966-67 academic year. Field hockey is the only fall sport. Basketball, fencing, gymnastics and rifle are on the winter program with golf, lacrosse, softball and tennis listed for the spring.

District Library Association Meet

District I of the Texas Library Association, which comprises 44 counties of the Panhandle area, will hold its annual meeting Saturday, November 12, at the Amarillo College Library with Mrs. Christine McGregor, Plainview, Chairman of the district, presiding.

The Friends of the Bivins Memorial Library, Amarillo, with Miss Peggy Stack as Chairman, will serve coffee during the registration which is from 9:00 - 10:00 A. M.

The theme of the one day meet is "An Opportunity and a Decision." William Gooch, Librarian of Ector County Library, Odessa, will present slides and talk on proposed library laws for Texas. Mrs. Virginia Pauwels, Librarian of Hutchinson County Library, will speak on the Dana Cotton International Award which Hutchinson County Library won in 1966. Mrs. Dorothy Pijan of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, will speak at the luncheon on children's reading habits and the Newbery Books. In the afternoon the librarians will have sectional meetings and the opportunity to discuss problems relating to their local libraries. Librarians, Library trustees, Friends of Libraries and anyone interested in better library services are invited to attend. Miss Jonnie Rowan, Librarian of the Helium Research Center, Bureau of Mines, is Local Arrangements Chairman.

A Big Person

Election - time 1966 is over. Now, we can all settle down to "everyday" living under those governmental representatives that are elected in such election-days.

It is an interesting time to note disagreements, dislikes, preferences, agreements, philosophy or people. . .

It takes a big person to say, "Okay, you don't agree with me. . .and I don't agree with you. . .but I like you anyway."

It is so easy for a person to dislike another person just because that person has a difference of opinion. Maybe it doesn't even concern politics. . .it can happen in a committee meeting within our churches or at a luncheon. (A difference of opinion is not important enough (is it?) to cause two persons not even to speak socially to each other???)

There was once an old timer who said, "I don't never fall out with any feller. . .just because he disagrees with me."

It takes a big person to maintain an open mind. . .they don't let their difference of opinion hinder their feelings for each other. That is the commendable trait we all need to encourage within our own consciences; the ability to disagree and not dislike.

Veterans Day--Nov. 11

With American troops once more locked in combat defending the cause of freedom, Veterans Day--November 11--takes on added significance this year. A new generation of war veterans is in the mold as the nation pauses to honor the men and women who have honorably served in the uniform of their country.

This day--which was once known as Armistice Day--was originally the anniversary of the cease fire of World War I. From that war came the American Legion. But this year's observance of Veterans Day is in no way a consecration of the memory of any past armed conflict. Instead, it is a time to express the esteem and prestige with which Americans regard the role of the veteran.

While Veterans Day is meant to honor the 20 million men and women who have performed the highest obligation of their citizenship, the day is also dedicated to the cause of world peace with honor.

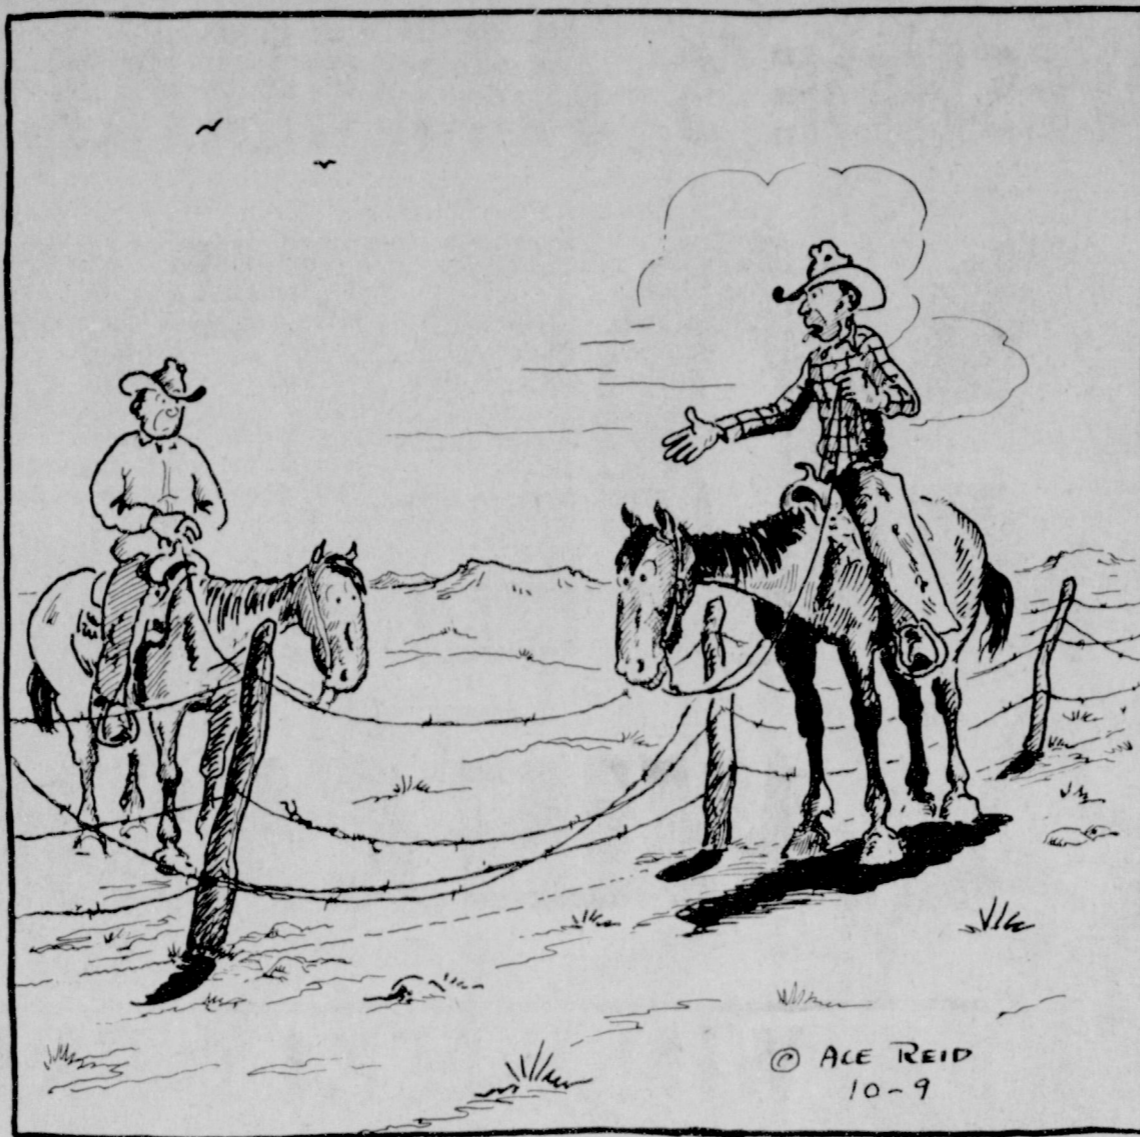

No one hates war more than the war veteran. No one strives more ardently for an honorable world peace than the veteran who has known war in all its brutalities. But that same veteran knows that the lofty goals of an honorable world peace and recognition of individual dignity cannot be attained while there are forces in the world seeking its domination through acts of aggression.

This year, Veterans Day calls for an expression of national unity in support of the gallant men and women who are serving our nation's exalted purpose. They are writing inspiring pages of history with their sacrifices in the struggle against a godless ideology which seeks to subjugate mankind. Once again, they are proving the willingness and capability of ordinary citizens in meeting the challenge to champion the cause of freedom anywhere in the world.

The Citizens of Muleshoe can contribute much to the meaning of Veterans Day by active participation in this year's observance. By our actions on this special day let's add strength to an expression of national unity at a time when the forces of aggression seek signs of internal weakness. As we honor our veterans--our champions of freedom--let us resolve to preserve what they have won and to persevere in our defense of freedom's cause until that day dawns on a world blessed with an honorable peace.

One Move is Left

(Editor's Note: Farwell banker Gabe Anderson recom mend-ed this reprint to The Journal. We agree it is most enlightening, and feel our readers will profit from reading same. Thank you, Mr. Anderson, president of Securities State Bank, Farwell.)

Welfare State Britain, birthplace of Fabian socialism and Keynesian economics, is a dying nation. Bled white by two world wars, shorn of its former colonies, largely ignored by its commonwealth members, whose attachments are more sentimental than real; propped up and saved time and again, by infusions of billions of dollars stolen from the American people by their own government--dollars which were wasted. Socialist Britain stubbornly refuses, as it stumbles along the road to oblivion, to take the one action that would save it, it refuses to remove the weight of a parasitical government from the tired backs of the British people.

And the British people, those with some ambitions remaining, those who have not been bled and regimented into unthinking hulks, having heard the death rattle, are beginning to leave. Starting with a trickle shortly after World War II, the exodus from the former "tight little isle" is swelling into an ever growing flood--Gresham's inexorable law at work; the bad driving out the good. As the law applies to money; so too, does it apply to people.

The British governmental authorities, seeing the ambition and talent, the life blood of the nation departing, and realizing sub-consciously that they and the masses of socialized incompetents are being left to wallow in the muck of their own ineptitude, can only think of more regimenting and paralyzing controls. When freedom, the only cure possible, is crying to be heard, the British authorities, emulating their philosophical counterparts behind the "Iron Curtain" to the East, and having tried economic barriers in an unsuccessful attempt to stem the flight, are on the point of erecting a physical "Iron Curtain" of their own.

In bits and pieces, a news story here, a governmental announcement there, the story comes out. As in Ayn Rand's fictional but prophetic novel, "Atlas Shrugged," of coming events in this country, the individuals left in socialized Britain are shrugging and leaving. Two Associated Press items Sept. 17 --one filed from London, the other from Birmingham, England--help us to piece together the mosaic of human action.

First, from London: "British bobbies joined the long queue of doctors, professional soccer players, aircraft workers and scientists wanting to emigrate to dodge Britain's economic squeeze."

"Most want to go to the United States in search of better pay and conditions. Others are headed for Canada, Australia, South Africa and New Zealand for the same reasons."

"British newspapers coined the phrase 'brain drain' when scientists started heading for America in recent years."

"But policemen are something different. A recruiting campaign for the Toronto Metropolitan Police showed that more than 1,200 British cops want to pull out and settle in Canada."

"An estimated 500 general practitioners and young hospital doctors are expected to quit the state-run national health service this year for the United States."

"Although Britain still gets a large intake of doctors from' (even more socialized) 'India, and other Commonwealth countries, the drain on home doctors is seriously hampering

HODEIDAH, Yemen (AP) -- This Red Sea port city is half empty of people in the summer and overcrowded in winter, because of its weather.

When the summer heat begins in May, the temperature soars to 113 degrees and the humidity rises to between 80 and 100 per cent. Paper becomes soggy, clothes stick to the body and hair wilts.

All those who can afford to move up to the capital city of Sanaa, 10,000 feet up in the inland mountains. Sanaa's weather is brisk and refreshing in summer, and the humidity is as low as 12 per cent.

In winter, a reverse migration takes place. Sanaa becomes very cold and rainy, and Hodeidah receives an influx of people seeking its warmer weather and bright sunshine.

the health service.

"Like the bobbies, the doctors claim they are underpaid and overworked. The drain on top British talent has even entered the sports field."

"A delegation of the newly formed National Professional Soccer League of America descended on these shores last month seeking players and coaches. As a start they signed Welsh international star Phil Woosnam as manager-coach for a projected Atlanta club; and offered Eric Taylor boss of England's Sheffield Wednesday Club the post of executive secretary of the new U. S. league at a salary of $30,000 a year. Other offers are expected to follow."

"The trek of British scientists and aircraft workers to the United States has been going on since the end of World War II."

Giving evidence that the British bureaucracy is thinking of tuning the island into a physical prison, the news story ended on this note:

"But the government has warned sternly it just cannot afford to allow too many doctors to pull out."

The news release filed from Birmingham reports in the same vein:

"Britain simply cannot afford to train doctors for the purpose of swelling the membership on the American Medical Association," says Britain's health minister.

"Kenneth Robinson expressed his views Thursday, only 24 hours after 600 young British doctors took an examination by the U. S. Educational Council."

"One wants to see a reasonable exchange of medical personnel across national frontiers, preferably on a temporary basis. But to accept a fine medical education in Britain with the deliberate intention of selling it elsewhere where the price may be, or may seem to be, higher, is in my view a cynical and selfish act," Robinson said.

"Doctors in Britain's state-run health service claim they are overworked--some put in a 110-hour week--and underpaid. The starting salary is about $2,000 a year."

Socialism is a disease which like cancer, eats away at the healthy cells until, finally, the host body itself collapses and dies. So it is with an afflicted nation.

The vehicle of socialism--in which the parasites ride while the productive walk and pull--is called taxation.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm takes a look at a new piece of legislation.

Dear editor: Now that the elections are over I can get around to a piece of news I read in a newspaper a few weeks ago.

According to it, Congress has passed a bill allowing tax payers to indicate on their income tax form that they want one dollar of their money to go to financing the next presidential campaign.

It's figured that if 60 million people do this, the number who file income tax reports, that'll give 30 million apiece to the Democrats and the Republicans, so they can finance their campaigns without becoming beholden to private contributors.

I have thought about this and, in the same way I handle most big problems, have come to no conclusions.

At the same time, however, I can detect a possible trend.

If the people are going to be taxed, and that's what it amounts to, to finance the Presidential campaigns, what's going to keep Senators, then Congressmen, then Governors, then State Representatives, then Sheriffs, then Constables and Justice of the Peace, from thinking up the idea of getting in on the same deal?

And if the people are taxed to finance all campaigns, wouldn't this mean politicians would start raising your taxes even before they got in office? Some people would say this would be giving them an unfair headstart.

On the other hand, everybody knows the oddities of the present system, where a man will spend 50 times as much to get elected as the office pays. Outside of farming, I guess politics is the only profession where you can spend more than the job pays and still stay in business. I can tell you how it can be swung in politics.

I don't have any answers to these problems, but the fact remains it costs more and more to get a man elected, and sometimes a lot more than that to allow him to stay there.

Faithfully yours,
J. A.

Second Year Research

HALFWAY--The second year of operation of the 504 1/2 acre J. Frank Triplett Research and Demonstration farm of the High Plains Research Foundation is showing the value of the Foundation's research program as applied to a typical West Texas farm, according to Dr. Earl Collister, Executive Vice-President and Director of the Foundation. The purpose of the J. Frank Triplett Research and Demonstration Farm is to demonstrate the value of research findings of the Foundation to achieve more "Take home money" for the agricultural industry on a farm-wide basis. The first year of operation of this new venture by the Foundation was considerably handicapped by early hail and heavy rain, just as many farmers have experienced. The 1966 season has thus far been free from severe adverse weather conditions and excellent progress has been made in its operation by manager, Don Staggs. The Foundation staff assisted in the planning of the new operation, using the research findings achieved at the Research Foundation Farm at Halfway. The High Plains Foundation Farming System is achieving results found through many years of research results on this System at Halfway. Cotton has been interplanted with grain sorghum and also castors on five different acreage areas. The grain sorghum harvested from the interplanted acres yielded 7250 pounds per acre and it was ready for harvest ahead of the solid planted sorghum. The solid planted grain sorghum yielded 6350 pounds per acre. A sprinkler irrigation system has been successfully used this year. A lake pump has also been in operation, utilizing the accumulated tail and rain water received in the playa lake on the farm. Irrigation methods involving proper timing and minimum application for maximum results proven from years of research at the Foundation were found to be successful on a commercial farm basis. Fertilization rates recommended by the Foundation Staff also were successfully applied to a large acreage of various crops. All major soils of the High Plains are found on the Demonstration Farm. Dr. Collister said that utilization of the J. Frank Triplett Research and Demonstration Farm is another step in the Foundation's program of giving the agricultural industry information which will make farming more profitable on the High Plains.

GOLD STAR WINNERS --- Gold Star awards, the highest recognition paid to Bailey County 4-H members, were presented Tuesday to Jona Goucher and Dennis Newton. Jona Kay is a member of Muleshoe 4-H; Dennis in the Enochs 4-H. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Newton, Enochs; she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Goucher, Muleshoe. (Journal Photo)

Plains Freeze Blamed For Cotton Production Loss

The November 1 cotton production estimate for the 23 High Plains counties represented by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., dropped to 1,418,250 bales from the 1,585,000 bales estimated on October 1, a drop of 10.5 per cent.

The freeze which hit most of the northern and western sections of the Plains on October 15 is given blame for the reduction. Normal frost or freeze date for the area is about November 5 and the first cotton-killing weather often holds off for another two or three weeks beyond that time.

The 23-county cotton estimate is jointly compiled each year on the first of every month by the Lubbock Cotton Exchange and Plains Cotton Growers, beginning August 1. The final estimate is issued on December 1, at which time the harvest is ordinarily just getting into full swing.

This year, however, with reduced acreage and the early freeze, most observers expect to see at least half of the crop taken to the gin before the final estimate is made. The harvest, weather permitting, will be virtually complete in much of the area hit by the first freeze.

Cotton over the entire Plains was killed by freezing weather by November 1 this year.

Suffering most severe damage from the freeze, percentage-wise, appears to have been Briscoe County where almost all crops were abnormally late as the result of hard, blowing rains and hailstorms last Spring. Production in that county is now guessed at 11,000 bales, down over 31 per cent from the October 1 estimate of 16,000 bales.

Swisher County's loss, estimated at 28.5 per cent is coach at Wayland College at Plainview.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hardage visited in Lubbock Saturday and Sunday to see the new grandson.

Members of The Mid-Way variety Club met in the home of Mrs. Lacy Hardage Tuesday of last week, then went to Herford to tour Holly Sugar Plant. After the tour, the group had lunch together, then went to King's Manor Rest Home and visited friends.

Making the trip were: Dorothy Mason, Mildred Redwine, Dorothy Brown, Mrs. Carthel, Mrs. Roy White, Lora Garrison, Vergie Mason and Mrs. Hardage. Congratulations to the Lazbuddie Longhorns with their win over the Texline team.

The score was 34-18. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Houston, Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Redwine and son, Hub visited Houston's and Mrs. Redwine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Houston, Sunday.

Guest speaker for the services at the First Baptist Church in Lazbuddie Sunday was Rev. Charles Sager from California. He is originally from Latvia.

The Pastor, Rev. Calvin Beach attended the Baptist Conference at Dallas the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hardage were in Lubbock Sunday to visit the Billy Hardage family.

Mrs. Dorothy Mason and Brenda visited the Billie Hardages in Lubbock Monday.

close behind. The production guess remained constant from October 1 to November 1 in only five of the 23 counties -- Dawson, Dickens, Garza, Howard and Lynn. No county came up with an increase.

Not enough of the area's cotton crop has been classed to date to give any clear indication of what the overall quality may be, according to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers.

Johnson says the first PCG Quality Report, published every two weeks during the harvest season on the Plains, is now scheduled for November 16 and will cover cotton classed through November 11. The report covers all major quality characteristics of the High Plains crop, including elongation and strength, neither of which are factors covered by the Cotton Classing Division of USDA. Both, however, are significant in determining the spinning value of cotton.

According to an estimate from the Cotton Classing Office, the first report should cover approximately 100,000 bales.

Through November 3 classing offices at Brownfield, Lamesa and Lubbock had classed a total of 38,612 bales of the 75,512 samples received from area gins.

Clasping delay, according to Norman Sloan, market news director at the Lubbock office, is the result of this year's crop being almost a month early on the Plains and from two to three weeks late in other parts of the cotton belt.

He points out that this area usually gets its peak-load classers in late November or early December. By that time, normally, other parts of the cotton belt have passed the peak of their harvests and can release classers for the Lubbock area offices.

About twice as many classers are needed in the area as are available, Sloan says, but he doesn't expect this situation to persist for long.

New classers are arriving almost daily, and it is expressed that from 90 to 80 will be on the job in the area by November 15.

Only 58 per cent of the cotton classed on the Plains in the week ended November 3 had micronaire readings of 3.5 and above, dropping from 76 per cent the week before when most of the cotton coming in was hand harvested.

Most farmers in the High Plains cotton producing area have been concerned over a move mounted in the El Paso Valley-New Mexico section of the cotton belt, with some support from California and Arizona, to get USDA and Congressional approval of increased cotton acreage in 1967 for producing Acala-type cotton.

But Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., says "Let's join 'em."

Plains Pre-School Meeting Slated

The South Plains Pre-School Association will have its fall meeting Thursday November 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the Mesa Room of the Texas Technological College Student Union Building. Miss Ruth Huey, of Austin, Consultant in preschool Education in the Division of Elementary Education of the Texas Education Agency, will be the featured speaker. Her topic will be "What's Ahead for Young Children in Texas."

Persons interested in pre-school education are encouraged to attend. Those who are responsible for parochial or private kindergarten, nursery schools or day care centers will be especially interested in attending this meeting where Miss Huey will discuss the 13th year of school as proposed for the Texas Public Schools.

Officers of the South Plains Pre-school Association are Mrs. Frances Lyle, Regional Training for Head Start, President; Mrs. Verna Hildebrand, Assistant Professor of Home and Family Life, Vice President; Mrs. Zoe Ward, Regional Licensing Worker, State Department of Child Welfare, Secretary, and Mrs. J'ceal Murphy, Director of Carver Heights Day Nursery, Treasurer.

pers interviewed were: Convenient location 13.4 percent; attractive, clean store, 12.6 percent; variety and selection, 7.1 percent; quality and freshness of fruits and vegetables, 3.2 percent; and friendliness, 4.5 percent.

Schapper noted that "I'm inclined to believe that in their desire to reduce costs by cutting down on help, many supermarket operators have reached the point where service to the customer is suffering, especially at the checkout stand, and that this is responsible for causing a loss in sales."

formed at a recent El Paso meeting to investigate the possibility and devise methods of securing the additional acreage. Johnson says maybe we should write the Committee and offer the full cooperation and assistance of PCG -- adding, of course, that the High Plains will be happy to get its part of any acreage increase that develops from the effort.

The Plains is not normally thought of as a producer of Acala-type cotton, but Johnson would remind the Committee that for the past three years Acala 1517 BR-2 has been commercially, and successfully, produced near Lubbock, and that its quality characteristics have been entirely equal to most Acala produced elsewhere.

Some say there will be a shortage of certain Acala qualities this year, and it is generally agreed that there will be such a shortage in 1967.

Johnson says he is certain that High Plains farmers, given additional acreage would be happy to help alleviate the shortage if it develops.
