State Warned Traffic Congestion To Increase

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas traffic will become so congested in the next decade that some country roads will resemble big city freeways, predicts the top transportation researcher at Texas A&M University. Traffic deaths and serious injuries will rise, said Dr. Charles Wootan, with smaller private cars forced to share the roads with a growing fleet of larger trucks. Wootan, director of the Texas Transportation Institute, said traffic will increase by 50 percent in the next 10 years, but there will be few new freeways to handle the increase. He said the Federal Highway Administration has indicated it will shift from building new systems to maintaining old ones. Environmental groups also are leading the fight against construction of new highways, and have halted several major projects in both urban and rural areas. Wootan forecast the future of the state's highway transportation in the newsletter published by the Texas Good Roads-Transportation Association. More traffic spilling out of the big cities, a mix of different size vehicles and increasing truck transport of goods — including hazardous materials — seems certain, Wootan said. The traffic increase results from Texas' economic growth and influx of new population, he said. Harris County and Houston last year added a net of 400 cars per day to its roadways. "This annual addition, if parked bumper-to-bumper, would stretch from Houston to Plano (near Dallas)," Wootan said. "At the same time, Houston did not add a single mile to its freeway network. The same pattern is being repeated to some extent in every metropolitan area of the state." A study by the transportation institute for the Legislature estimated that by 1990 Dallas-Fort Worth-to-Houston and Dallas-Fort Worth-to-San Antonio traffic corridors will be "over capacity" in some areas. Congestion will extend from urban areas to overload networks between Corsicana and Dallas, Conroe and Houston and Hillsboro and San Antonio. "As this occurs," Wootan said, "I think we will see segments of the rural system having traffic problems and accident experience similar to our urban freeways."

President Defended By Demos

BOSTON (UPI) — The nation's Democratic governors, building a backfire to President Carter's slumping poll ratings, today unanimously approved a resolution supporting the president and his policies. "This is our administration — we're all a part of it," said Gov. James Muntz Jr. of North Carolina, newly elected chairman of the 38-member Democratic governors' caucus. "When the president is hurt, we're hurt," Hunt said. Carter's problems are "exaggerated," Hunt said, and "a change is already taking place ... I am confident the polls will be coming back."

Hunt said the resolution was offered from the floor of the caucus' breakfast meeting by Gov. Jay Rockefeller of West Virginia. He said it specifically supported Carter's "open door" to governors, but also covered the president's policies in general. Democratic National Committee Chairman John C. White, who attended the meeting with White House aides Jack Watson and Tim Kraft, told reporters the resolution was "spontaneous."

Hunt was elected to succeed Gov. Mike O'Callaghan of Nevada.

Hunt said he laid Carter's problems at the doorstep of "Congress and the special interests" which he agreed had tied up the legislative process, although both the White House and Congress are controlled by the Democratic Party.

Meanwhile, Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., today warned the nation's governors that the failures of the health care system will spark a citizen revolt more far-reaching than the current tax revolt. Kennedy, speaking at the opening session of the National Governors' Association, vigorously campaigned for his national health insurance legislation despite indications the cost-conscious state executives were in no mood to endorse the medical plan.

Kennedy already has publicly broken with the administration on the timing and extent of a national health insurance program. Administration officials also are at the meeting to lobby for President Carter's version of a health care program.

"The current non-system of medical care is a failure," Kennedy said. "If left unchecked, that failure will become a disaster — a disaster which will destroy federal and state budgets, seriously injure the economy, cause countless human tragedies, and in my opinion create a citizens revolt that will pale the current concern over taxes," he said.

"There is a growing grassroots constituency which is organizing now, which cares deeply about this issue, and which will make itself increasingly felt in the months ahead," he said.

SMASHED BEETLE — Despite the heavy damage to this car, the driver, Jack Slaymaker of Beaumont, survived the collision with only minor injuries. Police said the driver failed to make a curve this past weekend near Beaumont's downtown area and ran his vehicle underneath an empty railroad tank car on the Missouri-Pacific tracks. Court Hears Story Of Gambling Trip

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Star prosecution witness David McCrory today said he told friends and business associates at T. Cullen Davis' suggestion that he won $20,000 on a gambling junket to Las Vegas, which he previously had said was financed by the millionaire to launder $50,000. McCrory, entering his fourth day of testimony in the Davis bond hearing, also said he gave the money he made from the junket to his 17-year-old son for future college expenses. The hearing, which was recessed Thursday after four days of tape recordings, video tapes and testimony about an alleged meeting between McCrory and Davis in which the murder of a judge was discussed, resumed early today with defense attorney Richard "Racehorse" Haynes again attacking McCrory's credibility as a witness. McCrory had already testified he stole $5,000 from Davis during the junket and that Davis had given him another $4,500 for "investigative work" in late May and early June. He said he gave his son the entire $9,500 in $100 bills. "When I came back from Las Vegas, I didn't tell him where I got it," McCrory said. When Haynes asked him about the first $4,500, McCrory replied that he didn't remember when he gave his son "the first portion." "I gave him $1,500 when I got out of the hospital (for an apparent heart attack) and I gave him the other $3,000 and told him I wanted him to have the money to go to college on." McCrory also disclosed he had not personally contacted the FBI about Davis' alleged request to hire a "hit man." He said his best friend, Pat Burleson, contacted the FBI on Aug. 16 and arranged a meeting for him for the next day. Burleson is a cousin of Phil Burleson, one of Davis' defense attorneys. When Haynes asked him when he had first been approached about contacting the federal authorities, McCrory responded: "In June. I asked God for help." Prosecutors have asked that Davis not be released because of the latest charge — solicitation of capital murder — was filed while Davis was free on bond set on a charge of capital murder and two of attempted capital murder. Davis last November was acquitted of the death of Andrea Wilborn, 12. However, he still faces trial for the death of his estranged wife's boyfriend, Stan Farr, and for the shootings of Mrs. Davis and a family friend at the Davis mansion in August 1976. The prosecution believes the tapes introduced last week during the bond hearing are strong evidence for their case. But Haynes has dealt with that kind of evidence before. In 1973, Haynes suggested that his client, Arlington attorney John Foster, had been set up by the state's main witness, a county commissioner who was wired for sound during meetings with Foster. Foster, along with two others, was acquitted of conspiring to bribe then-County Commissioner George Richardson to secure his vote on the county's purchase of voting machines.

He said the diversion of much mail to other means of delivery would hurt the unions by reducing the need for manpower in the Postal Service. "A strike would be the worst possible thing that could happen to the Postal Service," Bolger said. Meanwhile, one union president is mandated by his members to call a strike by midnight tonight if there is no resumption of bargaining. Another union president, under similar mandate, has a midnight Wednesday deadline. There was no sign Sunday of any give in the union positions. Union leaders met and off with federal mediators and for a time informally with Bolger. A source close to the situation said, "Of substance, nothing really has changed." The Postal Service, citing the law against mail strikes, got a court restraining order Saturday forbidding strikes by the two largest postal unions. However, neither the law nor a court order prevented widespread local walkouts in 1970. Members of three unions have voted down a tentative contract reached July 21. They are the 299,000-member American Postal Workers Union, the 181,000-

Storm Brews In Gulf; Coastal Area Alerted

GALVESTON (UPI) — A blustery tropical depression kicked up stormy seas and dumped heavy rain along the coastal regions of Louisiana and Texas today, chasing hundreds of oil and gas workers from their offshore rigs. At least one death was attributed to the storm. A freak 15-foot wave swept a Danny G. Jackson, 27, of Winnboro, La., overboard from a rig about 30 miles southeast of Cameron, La. His body was recovered several hours later. At noon, the National Weather Service said the depression was becoming slightly better organized than it had been since it developed in the Gulf of Mexico Saturday night. The broad and ill-defined center was located about 75 miles south of Galveston, heading slowly north. Flash flood watches were posted for Southeast Texas and Southwest Louisiana. The weather service said rains of 4 inches or more were possible in squalls generated by the weather system. "The slower it moves, the more rain we can have," said David Barnes, head of the National Weather Service New Orleans office. "Some of the most innocent looking tropical cyclones — and of course this is only a depression — can produce tremendous amounts of rain because they can move very, very slowly." Seas of up to 16 feet were reported. Barnes said it was unlikely the disturbance would strengthen much beyond its sustained winds of 35 mph with gusts of 45 mph. "It's of course not impossible, but at the present time we don't see the conditions that would cause it to suddenly strengthen. It could strengthen a little bit, but unless it drifts way back into the Gulf I think it'll continue to move north and be a rain producer," Barnes said. Dozens of helicopter flights to offshore platforms were cancelled. "We haven't started operating yet today and it doesn't look like we're going to go for a while," said Harold Campbell of Petroleum Helicopters, Inc., which normally runs about 125 flights each day out of Cameron with crews and supplies for offshore operators. "There are as much as 16-foot seas and winds of 40 to 50 miles per hour, with gusts up to 60 miles per hour reported at one of the rigs," he said. Onshore, the depression caused little more than apprehension and some heavy thunderstorms. "It's no problem, none whatsoever," said Hayes Picou, Civil Defense director of Cameron Parish. Five workers were stationed at the Civil Defense center preparing for the blow, but there was little for them to do. "It's still a depression and we're just sitting here monitoring it. We'll continue to monitor it until it blows," Picou said.

immediately, before the guerrillas increase their strength and play a dominant roll in any future government. The earlier strike in February failed, as businessmen after Somoza held firm on demands to resign. Anti-government demonstrations have been more effective in the interior than in Managua, since the center of the city was destroyed by an earthquake in 1972 and never rebuilt. There is no central area around which demonstrators can congregate and all businesses are now located on the outskirts of the city. The Somoza family has been in power

Strike Spreading In Nicaragua

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UPI) — A strike by businessmen wanting to topple President Anastasio Somoza Debayle spread to the capital today as the death toll from antigovernment demonstrations rose to four. Members of the National Guard drove through the shopping malls surrounding the city and offered their help to any businessmen who wanted to defy a call from the Managua Chamber of Commerce and open their doors as usual. The Chamber of Commerce met over the weekend and voted by a wide margin to support a nationwide general strike, which started Friday in the interior. The business boycott — similar to one in this Central American nation for decades. The Red Cross reported Sunday marksmen fired at helicopters rushing the wounded from earlier clashes in the capital. Demonstrators also fired at troops from the roof of the Matagua social club and from nearby hills in a city of 70,000 people, Red Cross officials said. New fighting also broke out Sunday in Jinotepé, 25 miles south of Managua, where National Guardsmen continued to occupy the National University. Unconfirmed press reports said the fighting hit a number of dead and injured.

Rumors, Expectations Start To Fly About Kalvar

By PHILIP GREER
And MYRON KANDEL

One of the strangest companies Wall Street has known — one that actually developed a cult following a decade or two ago — is beginning to stir again. True to its history, the stock is surrounded by rumors and expectations — precious little in the way of supporting facts.

The company is Kalvar Corp. of New Orleans, once described as "less a stock than a religion" because of the fervor of its supporters. Kalvar has been around for more than 20 years. It's never made any money — the last time it showed a profit was 10 years ago as a result of non-operating income — but that didn't keep the stock from soaring as high as $800 a share, including a run from $600 to $800 and back to $600 all in one day.

That isn't likely to happen again. After a four-for-one split and the sale of more shares to raise money, the stock has languished around $1.50 a share for the past couple of years. Over the last few weeks, it's climbed to around $4, enough of a move to start the rumors flying again and to stir up some of its old followers.

"After what I've been through with it, if that stock ever moves and I don't own it, I'll just cut my throat," one Kalvar-watcher told us.

Kalvar's attraction — now just as it was 20 years ago — is a film process called vesicular photography, used in micro-filming and computer duplication. The film doesn't have a silver base as conventional film does, which makes it insensitive to ordinary light. It's developed by heat and is somewhat less expensive and easier to handle than conventional films or the diazo process that competes with it in the microfilm field. The film has always held promise, but Kalvar has never been able to capitalize on it.

New photographic inventions have a way of turning Wall Street on, and when Kalvar started in business in 1956, it became a favorite of the hot-money traders. Stories abounded about the potential of the film in motion pictures and later in television, but aside from a joint venture with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer that hasn't produced much, nothing ever happened.

There have been recent rumors that the company is about to report a profit in the full-year statement due out in about three weeks. John J. Flanigan, its president, told us though, that "for the first nine months that ended in December, we had a loss of about $1.1 million, and there's been no announcement of any development that would indicate a change in that trend."

One Kalvar insider, asked about the possibility of a profit, said, "I can't talk about the company, but I'll tell you this: I don't believe it."

There has also been talk of a takeover — you can find those rumors about almost any company short of General Motors and American Telephone — but there hasn't been any indication of any concerted buying of the stock.

Flanigan, in addition to his Kalvar post, is a vice president of Anacom Corp. of Indianapolis. In February, 1976, Anacom took over Kalvar's management because, according to chairman and president Ronald Palamara, "the average age of the management was 64 and the company had never made any money, but the directors didn't want to be taken over."

Palamara says Anacom (which has an option to buy 51 percent of Kalvar's stock) arranged for new financing, put in new management methods, made some new distribution arrangements and went after a microfilming market Palamara estimates at about $70 million and growing about 20 percent a year. (In Kalvar's best year, its sales were only $9.89 million and it lost $727,000.)

According to Palamara, Kalvar just wasn't a business. "They had 28 patents and they kept writing scientific papers, but they viewed the customer as a nuisance," he told us. "They didn't want to bother with the mundane part of running a business; they didn't want to do the same thing today that they had done yesterday. Quality control they could care less about, so they never built the business."

Kalvar's chief competition in its field is Xidex Corp. of Sunnyvale, Calif., which currently has 75 percent of the market.

Palamara says all that is changing. "We've put in marketing and operating management on a contract basis. We've strengthened the balance sheet by bringing in $1.75 million in new capital. We've brought in a new marketing director.

We've gotten contracts from the General Services Administration for the Internal Revenue Service and the Social Security Administration. This company isn't going to show a profit in its next quarter — it could never become profitable as fast as Wall Street thinks it will — but the company has excellent prospects for the first time since 1958."

Peanut Farmers Eyeing Microwaves

TIFTON, Ga. (AP) — South Georgia farmers may soon be applying space vacuums and microwaves to the commonplace task of drying their peanuts.

A spokesman for McDonnell Douglas Corp. said recently the firm plans to unveil next week its MIVAC — Microwave Vacuum Crop Drying System.

With a $550,000 grant from the Energy Department, the St. Louis-based company has built a small pilot plant at the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Coastal Plain Station near Tifton.

Ray Deffrey, a spokesman for McDonnell Douglas, said the pilot facility will dry crops at the rate of about seven bushels of corn per hour, but production units would have a much larger capacity.

"In addition to lowering energy bills from crop drying, MIVAC does a better job of drying delicate crops such as peanuts and rice," Deffrey said.

"Microwaves heat the produce from the inside out, thus minimizing heat damage to the outer shell," he said. "And the vacuum lowers the boiling point of water to speed the process. Compared to conventional crop drying equipment MIVAC is faster, quieter, cleaner, more efficient, simpler and safer."

Most dryers use a big fan to blow hot air from a burner past the grain kernels.

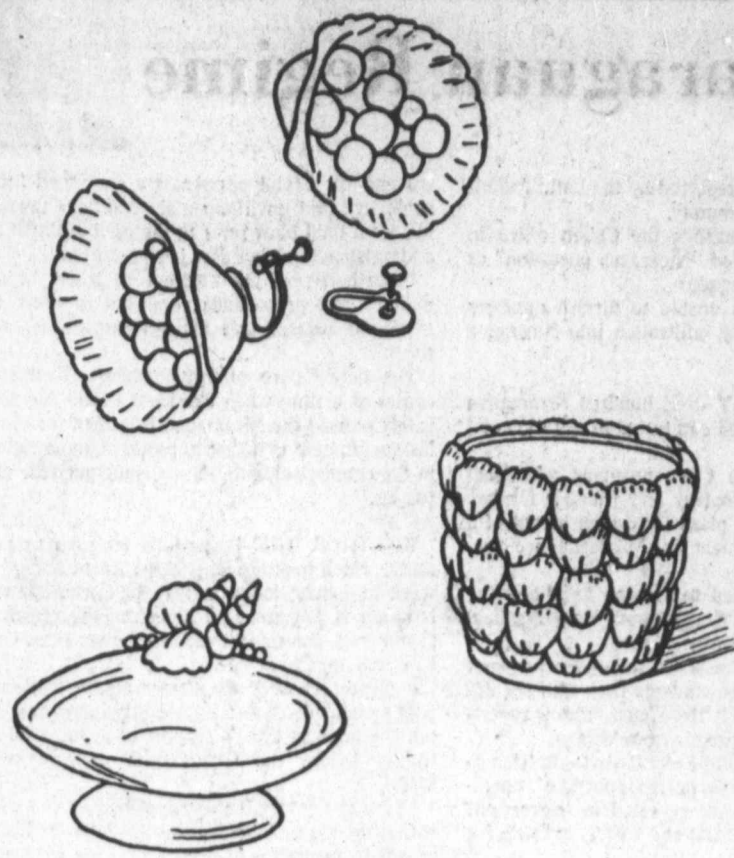

A fire at the Government Records Center in St. Louis in 1973 prompted McDonnell Douglas to think about applications for its vacuum chambers and microwaves. The company was asked to salvage water-soaked Veterans Administration files.

"By putting a vacuum on the records and applying some microwave treatment, we dried the water-soaked documents out. We dried millions of them," Deffrey said.

Shells Can Serve Useful Purpose

By SHARI LEWIS

By this time in the summer, I'm normally shellsocked! I've been picking up shells here and there, and they are all over the house. Are they all over your house, too? Perhaps you'd like some ideas of things to do with your collection.

You can clean them by scrubbing off the outer coating with a stiff brush and soaking them in diluted household bleach. You can shine them with oil or shellac. Glue them with fast-drying cement — a few strands of cotton combined with the cement will make the shells stick better — or tint them by soaking them in solutions of fabric dyes. You can poke holes in shells by putting the shell on a firm surface and pressing with the biggest needle you have. But be careful because you might break them.

Make a beautiful flower pot by gluing small shells to the outer surface of a clay pot or make earrings by attaching them to earring clips. Make a candy dish by gluing two big clam shells back to back.

Make something lovely to remind you during the winter of your days by the beautiful sea.

TODAY'S BRAIN TWISTER: Which do you think weighs more — a pint of milk or a pint of cream? (Look for the answer in tomorrow's Kids-Only Club column.) (Mail to Shari should be addressed Kids-Only Club, in care of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, P.O. Box 1111, Los Angeles, Calif. 90053.)

Dog Prefers Brick 'Toys'

FORT WAYNE, IND. (AP) — One look at Lady gnawing on a brick could make anybody nervous.

After all, she is a watchdog, and very protective of her family, Vicki Derrrow and her three children.

"She will not touch any kind of dog toy," Mrs. Derrrow said. The three-year-old German shepherd-collie also fancies a 16-pound bowling ball.

Mrs. Derrrow's ex-husband brought the dog home when she was 3½ months old. They bought their new puppy rubber balls and bones to chew on, but Lady wasn't interested.

One day, Mrs. Derrrow noticed some of the bricks she had placed in her flower bed were missing. Lady had finally found a toy she liked.

A DAILY MESSAGE FROM The Newspaper Bible.

Mark 14: 27-55, The Living Bible

37 Then He returned to the three disciples and found them asleep. "Simon!" He said. "Asleep? Couldn't you watch with Me even one hour?"

38 Watch with Me and pray lest the Tempter overpower you. For though the spirit is willing enough, the body is weak."

39 And He went away again and prayed, repeating His pleadings.

40 Again He returned to them and found them sleeping, for they were very tired. And they didn't know what to say.

41 The third time when He returned to them He said, "Sleep on; get your rest! But no! The time for sleep has ended! Look! I am betrayed into the hands of wicked men."

42 Come! Get up! We must go! Look! My betrayer is here!"

43 And immediately, while He was still speaking, Judas (one of His disciples) arrived with a mob equipped with swords and clubs, sent out by the chief priests and other Jewish leaders.

44 Judas had told them, "You will know which one to arrest when I go over and greet Him. Then you can take Him easily."

45 So as soon as they arrived he walked up to Jesus. "Master!" he exclaimed, and embraced Him with a great show of friendliness.

46 Then the mob arrested Jesus and held Him fast.

47 But someone pulled a sword and slashed at the high priest's servant, cutting off his ear.

48 Jesus asked them, "Am I some dangerous robber, that you come like this, armed to the teeth to capture Me?"

49 Why didn't you arrest Me in the Temple? I was there teaching every day. But these things are happening to fulfill the prophecies about Me."

50 Meanwhile, all His disciples had fled.

51,52 There was, however, a young man following along behind, clothed only in a linen nightshirt. When the mob tried to grab him, he escaped, though his clothes were torn off in the process, so that he ran away completely naked.

53 Jesus was led to the High Priest's home where all of the chief priests and other Jewish leaders soon gathered.

54 Peter followed far behind and then slipped inside the gates of the High Priest's residence and crouched beside a fire among the servants.

55 Inside, the chief priests and the whole Jewish Supreme Court were trying to find something against Jesus that would be sufficient to condemn Him to death. But their efforts were in vain.

"We have completed our negotiations as far as I'm concerned...I still am not going back to the bargaining table."
— Postmaster General WILLIAM F. BOLGER, commenting on his negotiating position in the face of a possible postal strike.

Liz Taylor Attends Fundraiser

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — Fried chicken, baked beans and actress Elizabeth Taylor were the drawing cards at a "Sizzling '70's Picnic" to raise money for the U.S. Senate campaign of Miss Taylor's husband, John Warner.

Warner was nominated two weeks ago to replace Richard Obenshain, killed in an airplane crash Aug. 8, and his wife filled in for him at the Sunday event while he campaigned in Dinwiddie County.

Nearly 700 people showed up and Miss Taylor spent about an hour shaking hands and chatting with the crowd in Fort Ward Park. The informal event was sponsored by the city's Republican committee.

Fairbanks Considering Comeback

NEW FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Douglas Fairbanks Jr., who has appeared in more than 75 movies, is looking for a swan song, but not on film.

The actor, famous for roles in movies like "Gunga Din" and "Angels Over Broadway," is weighing whether to make a long-postponed Broadway debut with a new musical revue that is playing on the summer theater circuit, "Out on a Limb."

"I won't make up my mind until October whether the show is strong enough to try to take it to Broadway," the 68-year-old actor said.

"I was looking for a one-man show for my swan song when Haila Stoddard spoke to me about this," he explains. "I want to do something, then stop while I'm ahead, like any good gambler."

Critics' reviews have been mixed about "Out on a Limb," and the play needs revisions, Fairbanks said.

Nixon To Deliver Eulogy

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Richard Nixon, who five months ago proclaimed his love of New York City, reportedly plans a return visit to the Big Apple.

Newsweek magazine says in this week's edition that Nixon is expected to deliver a eulogy at a Sept. 13 memorial service for Elmer Bobst, a pharmaceutical executive, philanthropist and Nixon backer who died recently at the age of 93.

The magazine said the two men knew one another for 25 years and grew so close that Nixon viewed Bobst as "a father figure."

Others expected to deliver eulogies at the service in New York University's Elmer Holmes Bobst Library, a research center built with $11 million that Bobst donated, are Laurence Rockefeller, Dr. Norman Vincent Peale and Cardinal Terence Cooke.

Nixon was in New York for the first time in six years last April. He had lived in the city between 1962 and 1968 — the years between his unsuccessful bid to become governor of California and his election as president.

Garden Nightmare

MONROE, La. (AP) — Brian Bullock realized right away that he needed more than a shovel to kill the snake his neighbor had found in her flower garden. It was a 10-foot boa constrictor.

"It was curled up asleep in a big pile in the flower bed," Pat Cobb said. "I didn't scream because I didn't want to disturb it."

Mrs. Cobb found the snake when she went out to water the flowers Saturday afternoon. She said her husband wasn't home so she called to Bullock who was polishing his car nearby.

"Can you come kill a snake for me?" Bullock quoted Mrs. Cobb as saying.

"I got my shovel," he said. "But when I saw it, I told her a shovel wasn't going to kill that snake."

He dispatched the reptile with 10 shots from a .22-caliber rifle.

Sheriff's deputies speculated that the snake was once someone's pet, but had escaped.

"He must have been (a pet)," one deputy said. "I hope they're not crawling out of the woods."

George Bush Criticizes Natural Gas Pricing Bill

By CANDY SAGON
Avalanche-Journal Staff

Midland oilman and GOP Congressional candidate George Bush Jr. criticized the Carter administration's natural gas pricing bill Sunday, telling a group of about 75 South Plains farmers that the proposed legislation "made no sense," and would produce a tremendous amount of uncertainty if passed by Congress.

The 32-year-old candidate for George Mahon's 19th Congressional district seat said the president's bill established 22 different pricing categories for natural gas.

"These categories were not determined by the free market, but by bureaucracy. It just doesn't make any sense to me," he stressed.

Bush criticized the bill for overlooking the fact that there is more oil and gas to be found. "Less than two percent of the ocean's acreage has been explored. The hydrocarbons can be found — we just need to unleash the producers," he said.

Bush was in town Sunday to woo farmers visiting the High Plains Agribusiness Exposition at the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center.

"Many people thought I was crazy to come speak here," Bush told the farmers who listened quietly to his speech.

"There is this misconception that agriculture and the energy business are in conflict. In fact, there are many similarities between the two groups," he noted.

"Bush stressed to the group that oil producers, like farmers, need incentives to produce.

"We have the technology to produce our way out of our (energy) problems, but the federal government has to provide tax incentives and credits in order to encourage producers to look for more oil and gas," he said.

He denied there was a "conspiracy" to hold natural gas supplies off the market in order to drive up the prices. "Right now in Texas there is a glut. Our lines are full (of natural gas) but we can't sell it because of the decreased demand during the summer months.

"I'm sure this will be remedied this winter," he added.

Bush said both oilmen and farmers were "independents," resentful of government involvement in their business. "We're also both subject to the high taxes and inflation caused by the bureaucracy in Washington," he said.

One cotton farmer remained skeptical, however.

"I don't think you're suffering like a farmer," he told the Midland oilman.

"That may be true, but there's some fellows who have drilled dry holes down near Midland who wouldn't agree with you," Bush replied.

Artifacts Removed Near Adams Home

QUINCY, Mass. (AP) — Artifacts stolen earlier this month from the historic home of John and Abigail Adams have been recovered in woods about 500 yards from the house.

Two boys discovered two swords while playing in the area and took them home. The father of one of the boys called police, who on Sunday found other items, including muskets, a powder horn and the wedding vest of the nation's second president.

"Yeah, but if I grow more cotton, I don't get a better price," the farmer retorted.

Another listener asked Bush how farmers can get better prices.

"There's an oversupply — you need to be able to sell overseas to get to better markets. But Washington has prevented that so far," Bush answered.

The candidate said farmers are justified in their gripes about too low prices

Gen. Omar Bradley Favors Draft

SANTA FE, N.M. (UPI) — The nation's only living five-star general believes the military draft system should be restored to back up the volunteer Army.

Gen. Omar Bradley, in the state to speak at a conference of the New Mexico National Guard during the weekend, said the draft would have to be implemented swiftly in the event of war.

"You've got to have something (in existence) when war starts," Bradley said. "I think we should have a draft system at all times."

The draft could be automatically activated when there is danger of war, he said.

The 85-year-old Bradley, who lives at Fort Bliss, said the volunteer Army "is in good shape," but the experiences of World War II proved the country could not fight a war with only volunteers.

Bradley received the state's distinguished service medal from New Mexico Adjutant Gen. Franklin Miles during the National Guard conference.

Computer's Aid-Eligibility List Causes Problems

By DON McLEOD

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sooner or later it had to happen. The pork barrel has been computerized.

This latest marvel of the computer age may have reached its height of folly when the White House released a list of 12,000 counties, cities and villages that might be eligible for aid under President Carter's new national urban policy.

A list that size brings new dimensions to pork barrel — projects included in a bill that provides money for home districts and assures that enough members of Congress will vote for the bill to get it passed.

The urban aid would provide funds for such things as neighborhood rehabilitation and industry recruiting. The hope was most congressmen would be pleased to grab some of this for their districts.

In hindsight, however, some White House strategists concede the list may have been a mistake that helped dig a grave for key portions of the program. But they say it was nonetheless unavoidable.

Only a computer could have produced such a list. It screened every community in the United States according to the eligibility criteria in the Carter plans, and then printed out the 12,000 that passed the test.

Immediately it caused problems. Some congressmen looked at the 275-page list and didn't find their hometowns on it. Others looked at the bulk of paper and denounced the foolishness of trying to slice one pie 12,000 ways. Nobody, they said, is going to get enough to do any good.

But the fatal blow may have come when sharper eyes spotted places like Shaker Heights and Mercer Island on the list of eligible communities. Shaker Heights, outside Cleveland, and Mercer Island, a Seattle suburb, are two of the best heeled communities in America.

This was all the excuse needed for the program's critics to man the torpedoes. In fact, there were several hundred wealthy communities on the list, a result of a fluke in the formula for determining the need.

One test of need was a slow growth rate, on the assumption that a community with a static population and economy is in trouble. But some communities plan it that way and have practiced deliberate no-growth or slow-growth policies for years — not because they are poor but to keep the poor out.

A retirement community for the wealthy, for example, might have a stable population figure, and since incomes would largely be fixed for retirees, the income growth figure also would be level.

When this loophole created some embarrassing anomalies on the list, the White House moved quickly to fix it. An additional criteria now excludes any community whose per capita income is 125 percent or more of the national average.

This is loose enough to let in communities with pockets of poverty but enough wealthy residents to keep up the average. And it cuts off wealthy but stable communities.

Consequently, 433 names have been lopped from the list. But not before the damage was done. The key programs associated with the list are dead or ailing in Congress, thanks in part to the mischief of listmaking.

Which raises the obvious question of why the White House would build such a booby trap. The answer is that Congress demanded it. When the fiscal assistance portion of the program was sent to Congress last spring, there was no list. And the House committee that got the bill demanded one.

Do congressmen actually comb these lengthy computer printouts in search of pork?

"You better believe they do," said one harried White House official. "Right now I'm writing letters to three different congressmen wanting to know why this community was left off, or how this one will be treated."

"Every time we go out to make a speech or meet with a group to explain the programs, everyone wants to see the list," he said.

This portends hard times for any future efforts to target government resources to the needy areas.

The old approach was to define a problem and design a program to solve it with help directed at the need and not spots on a map.

In general terms the lawmakers had a pretty good idea of where the aid was going, but in most cases it wasn't pinpointed until after the law was passed and in action.

Now, they know who gets the pork before they get the barrel, and sharing it gets harder and harder.

Wooden Statue Of Hitchhiker Returns Home

POLLOCK PINES, Calif. (AP) — Happy the Hitchhiker, a four-foot wooden statue traveling from California to Connecticut, is finally home. But he's on the wrong side of the continent.

Woodcarver Chip Fyn, the statue's creator, found Happy on his doorstep in this community east of Sacramento last week. Attached to his arm was a newspaper article and a note that read: "Waldo told us he wanted to come home for a bath and repairs. We found him in Reno."

"I guess whoever it was that returned him renamed him," said 40-year-old Fyn. "Happy's a little scuffed up and needs a new paint job, but the only thing missing is his little pouch."

Happy, made in Fyn's likeness with bright blue eyes and a handlebar moustache, set out for Connecticut last November for a visit to Fyn's parents.

But Happy apparently never made it east of the Rockies.

Fyn kept track of the statue's progress through self-addressed, stamped envelopes in a pouch around Happy's neck. The letters traced a route from California to Carson City, Nev., on to Denver, Las Vegas and Reno.

And Happy carried a letter to his road-way hosts. It said, among other things: "People think he'll get ripped off, but I really think he'll make it. ... If you really are tempted to take him, do so for one month if you wish, then send him on his way."

Fyn hadn't heard from Happy since April, but he wasn't prepared for his return.

"I couldn't believe he was standing there," the woodcarver said. "He's going to be back on the road in a couple of days. This time I'm going to contact some truckers and hopefully he'll hitchhike from the truckstops."

"He's got to be at dad's house by Christmas, so every day counts," Fyn said.

LOSSES HIGH
NEW YORK (AP) — Sports or specialty-type 1978 cars have higher than average losses in collisions, while regular four-door models have lower than average losses, according to the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety Information. The institute said a study also showed that collision losses were almost always more frequent and more costly for regular two-door models than for regular four-door cars.

Newspapers Applaud Successful Ballooning Team

(Following is a sample of what the nation's newspapers have been saying this week.)
 By United Press International
 Christian Science Monitor, Boston:
 Maxie Anderson, Ben Abruzzo, Larry Newman. The three New Mexico businessmen who scaled the Everest of ballooning gave us all a lift. Why? Partly because there is something about a balloon in the jet age that brings a smile to people's faces, as reported by members of today's growing band of sports balloonists. Mainly because the aeronauts from Albuquerque were doing in a spectacular way — what comes naturally to the human race: setting goals and achieving them, seeing obstacles and overcoming them, learning from failure and going on to success.

 Some say their feat of being first to cross the Atlantic, breaking distance and endurance records on the way, met the last of the great challenges of human flight. But does anyone doubt that someone will find something else that hasn't been done — and do it?

After all, it is almost two centuries since the Montgolfier brothers lofted the first passenger balloon in France — and Benjamin Franklin predicted that the difficulty of defending against balloon attack might convince sovereigns of the "folly of wars." Nuclear missiles have long since replaced the balloon in Franklin's equation. The wonder is that their gentle, leisurely precursor seems to have taken a new lease on life among all the surrounding higher technology.

This month's balloon championships in Indianola, Iowa, drew a couple of hundred entrants and thousands of spectators. The closest most of us may have come to their sense of free flight is the remarkable film "To Fly" on the enormous curved screen at the Air and Space Museum in Washington.

But every day human beings come close — or can if they choose — to the essence of this triumph of ballooning. They do so each time they stick to it and find that they can do what they thought they couldn't do before.

 Pittsburgh Post-Gazette:

More than one observer was tempted to say that their welcome in France recalled the throng which turned out to cheer Charles Lindbergh's arrival in the Spirit of St. Louis half a century ago. But the passage of the balloon called Double Eagle II from Presque Isle almost to Paris is an event all to itself. It was not progress in the technical sense that brought the spectators to the village of Miserey. Rather, the arrival of Ben Abruzzo, Max Anderson and Larry Newman was a victory for that restless search for adventure and risk which, in pushing human faculties to their limits, defines the breadths of existence.

The ballooists' spectacular triumph helps to remind the less adventuresome that it is still possible to expand — or inflate — the imagination. For that object lesson the balloon is a most suitable vehicle. It is a small particle in the currents of the wind. To ride this route of mischief and danger, one must call upon his skill and imagination in ways not necessary in the routine of life.

 Newport (R.I.) Daily News:

It should be no surprise to anyone that the People's Republic of China gave North Vietnam more than $10 billion in aid while it was pursuing its victorious war in the South. The Chinese Communist party newspaper, People's Daily, disclosed that the bulk of the aid was in free grants and the rest in interest-free loans.

"China provided Vietnam with millions of rifles, tens of thousands of artillery pieces, over a billion rounds of bullets, tens of millions of rounds of shells, in addition to other weapons and military equipment," the People's Daily said.

"We remember all too well how Americans opposed to the Vietnam War spoke of our efforts on behalf of South Vietnam during the late struggle. We are not speaking of those who opposed the war for logistic and geopolitical reasons. After all, a good case can be made for the proposition that America is a Pacific power — not an Asian land power — and should never have been involved in a fighting war with Asia.

But that's not the point. The point is the disgusting chants like "hey, hey, LBJ, how many kids did you kill today" leveled against the late President Lyndon B. Johnson. And then there were the ugly charges made later by Americans against former President Richard M. Nixon and Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, likening them to war criminals for such attacks as the air raid on Haiphong harbor, where arms to be used against us were being offloaded.

Truly, American opponents of the Vietnam War used a double standard in opposing our role in that struggle. While condemning America politicians and military personnel as murderers, they might have spoken with equal harshness about the communist Chinese and Russians who stood behind North Vietnam.

We wonder what Joan Baez and her ilk will say now that communist China, newly angry at at North Vietnam, has revealed the truth of its relationship with Hanoi.

 Willimantic (Conn.) Chronicle:
 No wonder Vietnam is making fervent diplomatic gestures of accord, seeking to ingratiate itself with the United States and to launch "a new era" — one of those things again — in relations.

The government of Vietnam also is warning its people to prepare against a "large-scale war of aggression" apparently fearful that its deteriorating connections with China will end up with Chinese intervention. China has threatened reprisal for alleged persecution of ethnic Chinese living under Hanoi sway. The two Red governments of China and Vietnam are about as hateful toward each other as are China and Russia.

Then, also troubling Vietnam, is the little matter of a raging border war with communist Cambodia — the Reds are raging all around.

The best course for the United States is to take a most wary view of any sudden offers of Viet friendship. We should not become makeweight for the ambitions or security of some two-bit half-made nation like Vietnam. In Hanoi they have dug a hole for themselves: now let them climb out if they will and depend on their "friends" — China and Russia.

Those are the friends Hanoi most wanted, not us, by any means, and now let them enjoy both, and good luck to Hanoi.

 Los Angeles Times:
 Among the most grievously self-wounding results of the Cultural Revolution in China was the disruption and in many cases the virtual destruction of the educational system. Teachers and professors were purged, learning was replaced by Maoist idolatry and dogma, the universities — if they remained open at all — became havens for the intellectually incompetent. The loss to China during this period of young persons trainable in desperately needed skills was vast and irredeemable.

The death of Mao Tse-tung and the eventual consolidation of power by a more pragmatic leadership keenly aware of China's developmental needs have brought a slow but accelerating change in educational policies. The rule that all high school graduates must devote an extended time to labor in the countryside is being bent to allow large numbers of young people early entry into colleges. In an even more significant shift away from romantic ideology, China is seeking to send thousands of its brightest students abroad in pursuit of the technical training that is a requisite to modernization.

Western Europe, Japan and Australia have heretofore been the areas of choice for overseas study by Chinese. Now, in an abrupt and major change in policy, China is proposing a large student-exchange program with the United States, putting aside its previous insistence that full diplomatic relations must precede any such move.

China is, of course, acting in its own self-interest. But the interest of American students and scholars also promise to be served by the exchange programs. Certainly it is a welcome step in U.S.-China relations. It may indeed prove to be historic.

 Pawtucket (R.I.) Evening Times:
 The charge by a responsible government agency that the Social Security Administration files on 170,000,000 Americans are subject to the misuse by snoopers who have no right to access to them is enough to send shivers up the spines of all Americans.

Social Security files contain data on individuals that could conceivably be used against them in any of several embarrassing ways — none of which was intended when the act was passed four decades ago. And now the General Accounting Office, which launched its investigation at the behest of two Congressmen, reports that these data are not properly safeguarded within the offices where they are located and are subject to loss, and destruction — in addition to being open to prowling eyes that have no right to look.

This untenable situation, implicitly admitted by Don Worlman, who is the SSA's acting commissioner, stems from one factor: the computer. These with experience with these modern machines will be able to envision what GAO means when it states that Social Security employees have manipulated these files for personal profit, and that one private firm has built a prosperous business by gaining access to these files.

TOOL PUSHER — "I worked offshore in Utah," read signs on this oil drilling rig in Great Salt Lake. Roger Durant, left, rig supervisor of "tool pusher," operates the rig with Gerald Reiger, one of three drilling foremen. (AP Laserphoto)

Amoco Begins Offshore Drilling In Salt Lake

INDIAN COVE, Utah (AP) — More than 800 miles from the nearest ocean, ringed by mountains, parched rangeland and desert salt flats stands an offshore drilling rig. The shore it is off belongs to the Great Salt Lake, where Amoco is looking for oil.

"You've never seen anything like this before and you'll never see it again," said Frank Shanafelt as he nodded his head toward the speck 10 miles away.

Shanafelt works for Amoco Production Co., directing shore operations for the $5.5 million venture — the first well to be drilled in the lake. The rig itself, on a 90- by 180-foot barge, is anchored west of the Promontory Mountain peninsula about 45 miles northwest of Salt Lake City.

Gerald Reiger, one of three Amoco drilling foremen, said the well is the only one of its kind — a land drilling rig mounted on an offshore barge. It is being drilled by Parker Drilling Co.

The novelty of an offshore rig in a landlocked state has inspired a certain amount of pride among the operation's

40 to 50 workers: plastered around the rig are stickers reading, "I worked offshore in Utah."

Roger Durant, Parker's rig supervisor or "tool pusher," said, "I had a chance to go pushing on one of Parker's brand new rigs and that's something, but this looked a little more exciting."

Drilling in the state-owned lake has not been easy or cheap. It would cost a fraction as much, about $300,000, to drill on land, said Reiger.

Barge sections were brought from offshore drilling areas in the Gulf of Mexico, said Richard Murphy, Amoco public information officer. A base camp was set up at an abandoned harbor. Amoco established a small navy of three crew boats, a pollution-control boat and two barges large enough to hold cranes and supply trucks.

The drilling barge itself was assembled at the base camp, then towed out.

Special anti-pollution precautions have been taken, Murphy said, since the rig is "practically in a national monument." Besides blow-out preventers on the well shaft and a 600-foot oil containment boom around the barge, about $300,000 worth of standby cleanup gear is waiting on shore.

Reiger said all cuttings from the hole are taken ashore, "a tremendous nuisance and expense," but part of the guarantee to the state that the lake would not be harmed.

Other unique problems include swarms of brine flies and the high salt content of the lake, which makes falling in particularly uncomfortable, but never fatal. There have been no recorded drownings in the lake because its high salt content — up to four times that of the ocean — increases a person's ability to float.

Accident Causes Alarm

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — A tiny cube of highly radioactive iridium caused alarm after the truck carrying it crashed and burned along Interstate 75.

But a quick-thinking radiographer in the truck already had anticipated the danger and yanked the lead-lined box containing the material from the truck seconds after the wreck Sunday, authorities said.

terstate 675, the freeway's business loop through Saginaw.

The two radiographers manning the truck were treated for minor injuries at St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw and released. The drivers suffered cuts and scratches. Two state troopers directing traffic also were bruised and cut when they were bumped by a passing car.

Southbound lanes of I-75 near Saginaw were closed for more than six hours as a precautionary measure. The Saginaw County sheriff's department said it did not know what caused the two-ton truck to veer off the highway.

Seconds after the accident, radiographer Jimmy Sheldon, 34, of Jackson, Mich., jumped in the rear of the vehicle and grabbed a box containing an industrial X-ray machine loaded with iridium-192, according to deputies.

Owned by American X-Ray & Inspection Inc. of Farmington Hills, Mich., the equipment was being hauled back to the Detroit suburb after an inspection of pipe welding at a power plant construction site, said Don Grashaw, an executive of the firm's parent company, UTEC Inc.

Grashaw said radiation levels at the surface of the lead-lined storage container were five milli-roentgens, which is normal. He said the truck crash did not damage the container.

Saginaw County's emergency services coordinator, James Elliott, agreed with Grashaw that there was no hazard to firemen and other workers at the scene.

The truck, southbound on I-75 in Buena Vista Township, crashed shortly before 7:30 a.m. It was demolished in the wreck and fire. Motorists were rerouted on In-

Two Robberies Reported To City Police

Police this morning were investigating reports of two aggravated robberies within about three hours of each other.

Rusty Harlan, 19, of 2124 16th St., said he answered his door about 1:10 a.m. today to be confronted by a man toting a sawed-off shotgun.

The Tech student said he was ordered to lie face down on his living room floor while another suspect went into a bedroom and woke up Harlan's roommate, who was ordered to go into the living room.

Harlan told police the two men asked for money, and were directed to $30 on a fireplace mantle. One of the suspects went into the bedroom and got a shotgun. "Harlan's roommate reportedly was struck once in the mouth after he asked one of the intruders what they wanted.

Harlan said just before the two men left, one of the suspects placed his shotgun next to Harlan's head and said "I'm going to kill." He said he rolled over and grabbed the bandit's gun, but let go after being kicked.

In another reported robbery, Jose Peralta said he was robbed about 10:30 p.m. Sunday by three suspects at a bar in the 700-block of 13th Street.

Peralta, of 2000 E. 44th St., said he was led to the back entrance of the nightclub, where one of suspects revealed a gun and demanded Peralta's money.

Peralta said he told the men he had only $20, which he gave to them. The suspects then ordered Peralta to take off his boots.

According to reports, one of the suspects threw a boot at Peralta after apparently getting discouraged with not finding any more money. As he hurled the boot, however, $200 fell out of it, Peralta said. The three men left with Peralta's $220.

DEMO SUCCESS SEEN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic National Chairman John White says his party's candidates in the fall will win by emphasizing that they can handle domestic issues better than Republicans. In an interview in U.S. News & World Report released Sunday, White said: "We relate to people programs, to people needs on a broader base than the Republicans do. We've always run that way and I'm not much for changing a successful formula."

'Talking Tortoise' Legend Irks Idi Amin

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) — This is another strange story from Idi Amin's Uganda — the case of the talking tortoise.

Tens of thousands of Ugandans believe such a creature exists and is currently padding around the countryside near the capital of Kampala, stirring up trouble for "Big Daddy" Amin.

Village folklore, perhaps.

But Amin is taking the matter of the tortoise so seriously that he has threatened to shoot anyone spreading the tale.

Government officials, police, security forces and local chiefs held crisis meetings recently to discuss the mysterious "entundu" — tortoise.

Amin launched a full-scale press campaign to ridicule the story.

"Totally untrue, baseless and nonsensical" blared a recent page-one story in the Voice of Uganda newspaper.

Tales of the tortoise became so widespread nevertheless that telephone callers besieged newspapers in neighboring Kenya, reporting on the creature's progress.

At one point the callers disclosed the animal was "under arrest" in Kampala's central jail. Wardens there confirmed in another telephone conversation they had "heard the story."

In the bizarre world of Amin's Uganda, such strange reports surface in times of internal stress and are seen as a method of embarrassing the government. Everyone takes the matter very seriously.

There are current reports from Uganda that the army, Amin's main base of support, is again restless following a major shakeup of senior officers.

There have been purges in the barracks of suspected malcontents, the reports said.

But back to that tortoise.

According to the government's own report of the incident, the talking tortoise recently waddled into a local village police station and demanded to be taken to the town of Jinja on the River Nile just outside Kampala.

From there, the tortoise asked to see the province government and the provincial commissioner of police with an undisclosed message.

Reported the Voice of Uganda indignantly: "The provincial governor and the provincial commissioner of police have dismissed as totally untrue the rumor that has been circulating around that there is a talking tortoise anywhere."

Officials called a meeting and then denounced the population as "always drunk with rumors."

The government appealed to both the public and police to "arrest anyone who trades in such rumors," denouncing them as "confusing agents who are collaborating with the exiles to try and confuse the people of Uganda."

Toymakers Get Help From Feds

By JEFFREY MILLS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is working with manufacturers to make such backyard play equipment as swings, slides and climbing devices safer for children.

The Consumer Product Safety Commission decided on the action Thursday after its staff reported there were 41,000 injuries tied to the devices last year.

The commission voted unanimously to work with an industry group to stiffen voluntary standards on building safer home playground equipment.

Because many injuries are caused by how the equipment is used, rather than how it is built, the commission also approved a public relations effort urging safe play by children and adequate supervision by parents.

The commission rejected a proposal for setting a federal standard on how the equipment should be built, but said it could do this later if the effort to work with the industry fails.

The commission staff said the major hazards with the equipment are risk of falling, protruding bolts, sharp edges, being hit by moving equipment and having clothing or parts of the body trapped.

The commission said most injuries studied could not have been prevented by more stringent design standards than those recommended by the industry organization, the National Association of Children's Home Playground Manufacturers.

However, the staff said that improvements could be made in at least three areas of construction: making swing seats less likely to cause injuries when the moving seats hit someone, making the sides of slides higher to reduce falls and reducing the danger of exposed and protruding bolts.

The staff report said, "Four out of five injuries reported were suffered by children under 10 years of age." It said cuts and bruises, mostly to the head and face, were most common and bone injuries, mostly to the arms and hands, next.

Of head injuries, 62 percent occurred to children up to four years old, the age group where falls are most common.

The staff recommendations, adopted by the commission, said federal regulation cannot address such factors as child behavior and supervision. But a public relations drive can address these problems, the commission said.

Therefore, an information program is expected this fall. The commission said this will include trying to get warnings issued by park and recreation authorities, elementary school teachers and leaders of scouting and other organized children's groups.

Grasshopper Boom Caused By Drought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Drought in the Western Plains created optimum conditions for egg-laying by grasshoppers last year and the result is the worst infestation of grasshoppers in 20 years.

According to the National Geographic Society, the drought reduced the predators that normally feed on grasshoppers.

To make matters worse, heavy winter snows offered protective cover for spawning of the eggs, then spring rains assured ample vegetation to feed the newly hatched hoppers.

The last outbreak of similar severity was in 1958, when the insects caused a $60-million crop loss.

Teen Uses Ingenuity To Rejoin Family

DALLAS (AP) — Barret Wissman recalls the feeling that swept over him when he realized the train carrying his vacationing family from Moscow to Leningrad had pulled away without him.

"It was just horrible. I went from platform to platform. Everyone had disappeared," the 15-year-old Dallas youth recalled at his home this week.

However, the enterprising Wissman turned $5, a little ingenuity and an episode of teen-age espionage into a ticket to rejoin his family in Leningrad.

It was just past midnight when Wissman found himself alone in Moscow, and he decided the best thing to do was get a ticket for the next train to Leningrad. But station officials either did not or would not speak English and Barret spoke no Russian.

Armed with a $5 bill, Wissman returned to the hotel where his family had stayed.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Wissman had discovered their son wasn't aboard their train to Leningrad, but Soviet officials refused to let them off to try to locate him.

The young Wissman meanwhile left the Moscow hotel, and wandered to Red Square where he sold some chewing gum for the equivalent of $1.50 a pack, but got no closer to finding his family.

Later, he found the American embassy and a place to spend the night. Two Marines there arranged a flight for Wissman from Moscow to Leningrad.

The next morning Barret was taken to the airport where, after walking around for some time, he found the right terminal. There, an official at Intourist, the Russian travel agency, said she would try to get him a ticket and would telegraph his parents in Leningrad.

"You've got to understand how it is over there," he said in a voice weary from just recalling the incident. "If you're American, it's just impossible to get a plane unless you plan it six months ahead."

He said the people at the airport were "rude and nasty" to him and made him wait a long time. They told him he had to pay them 18 rubles (about $27) for the plane ticket, despite Wissman's plea the tour was prepaid and he should pay only the difference in ticket costs.

"Well, I was desperate at this point," he said. "So I told one of the women at the Intourist desk her English was perfect and really played on her emotional senses."

Ultimately, he paid only the difference in ticket prices.

Then, Wissman found officials refused to change his $5 bill because he didn't have a customs declaration. Still determined, the youth slipped behind the counter when no one was looking, picked up a customs declaration and filled in some numbers.

He later returned to the desk, presented the form and got the needed money, he said.

When he deplaned in Leningrad, an Intourist guide met him and took him to a cab where his father was waiting.

Barrett's mother said being in Russia was like being "dropped into a bottomless pit."

Will the family revisit Russia in the future? "Never!" Mrs. Wissman said.

Community Board Helps Solve Many Neighborhood Problems

By TERESA CHUH

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Howling dogs, unresponsive landlords and youthful vandals posed chronic problems for two neighborhoods here until residents began a program which replaces courtroom battles with living room discussions.

Begun nearly a year ago in the Bernal Heights and Visitacion Valley areas at the south end of the city, the Community Board Program is one of the country's first low-cost alternatives to solving neighborhood problems.

The set-up is simple: panels of five residents — selected by their neighbors to represent the community in terms of race, sex and age — go through 20 hours of training, listen to complaints and then mediate problems.

A typical Visitacion Valley case involved three boys who broke a window and burglarized a school classroom.

At the hearing and in discussions with the school principal and parents, the boys themselves suggested a solution: they agreed to apologize to the class whose things were taken and work with the school janitor an hour a day for six weeks to pay for the broken window.

Residents who have participated in the program speak highly of it. One young girl, Jenny, who had been accused of burglarizing a neighbor's home with a group of friends, said her hearing was "better than going to court because it made our neighbor understand how I feel and made us understand how he feels."

The effects of the neighborhood project have been far-reaching. Legislation was pending in Sacramento to provide $1.5 million to set up similar centers around the state.

The legislation proposes to fund dispute resolution programs which "are very strongly based in the community."

It has been suggested that programs such as CBP would help unclog the courts, "but they really won't have that much of an effect overall — at least not in the short term," said J. Anthony Kline, Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr.'s legal affairs secretary.

Courts are ill-prepared to handle "minor" disputes with little monetary value or no compelling legal issues, Kline said.

Goose Takes Up With Maine Pig

WASHINGTON (AP) — That old saying "birds of a feather flock together" is not necessarily so, according to National Geographic World.

To illustrate the point, the magazine tells of a goose that became separated from its flock and moved in with a pig in a Maine farmyard.

The goose follows the pig everywhere. The pig will lie for hours while the goose walks along its back, cleaning the pig's bristles with its beak.

"so the real significance of the CBP is that it creates a forum for these problems that wouldn't otherwise exist."

San Francisco lawyer Raymond Shonholtz, who came up with the idea for the CBP, said his faith in a community's ability to solve its own problems simply, cheaply and in a non-adversary setting has never faltered.

"After all, no one knows more about a community than its residents," he said. "The program allows those who have the greatest stake in a case to become directly involved in resolving it."

State Act Ends Town

DENVER (UPI) — The tiny village of Rosita is gone, and nobody cried about it, not a tear. With a stroke of a pen on paper, a state official signed the town into yesteryear.

Rosita, about 10 miles southeast of Westcliffe, at 8,600 feet in Colorado's Wet Mountain Valley, officially was listed as abandoned Monday by Secretary of State Mary Estill Buchanan.

The action means the streets and any other municipal property in town, which consists of a few gray wooden buildings, revert to the control of the Custer County commissioners.

"It doesn't make any difference to me," said Thelma Penfold, one of Rosita's few remaining inhabitants. "As far as I'm concerned, my doctor is in Canon City and my bank is in Canon City."

Rosita, a silver mining town where 1,

500 people once lived, was incorporated in 1881. Mrs. Penfold, who has lived in Rosita periodically for 50 years, could not remember when it last had a town government.

She said only three families now live in the town, which has a population of 12, according to the 1970 census. One current resident works in Pueblo, another works in Leadville.

Rosita, the first Custer County seat, once had stores, churches, hotels, a bank, a brewery and a newspaper — the Rosita Index. When the nearby silver lodes and gold fields played out by the turn of the century, the town faded.

It had a reprieve in 1957 when Metro-Goldwyn Meyer put up some temporary buildings and filmed "Saddle in the Wind."

CLARKLIFT

Western Clarklift & Supply Reveals Another Step Forward

It is another in a progression of forward steps for Western Clarklift & Supply, Inc.

Groundbreaking has been conducted and it is full speed ahead for a new and even larger facility for Western Clarklift & Supply, long meeting every materials-handling lift truck need, whether in rentals, sales of new and used units, or service of all makes.

Now located at 111 Slaton Road, Western Clarklift is building its new facility just "down the highway," at 118 E. Slaton Road.

With a March 31 completion target date, the new facility will involve some 14,500 square feet under roof, including a big 7,250 sq. ft. service department that is double the size of the present one. The enlarged parts department will involve 2,250 square feet.

Located on more than two acres of property, the new building will be functionally attractive, primarily of steel construction with finish including exposed aggregate concrete panels.

Long On Scene
With a dealership in Lubbock since the early '40s, the present Clarklift organization here was incorporated in 1971. Joe Bob Johnston is president; Ed Patton, controller; Bill Harek is sales manager; Robert Christopher, service manager; and T.A. Pool, parts manager.

The firm has an Amarillo facility at 6654 Canyon Drive in Amarillo, and also has an Odessa representative, facilitating speedy and efficient service throughout a vast West Texas, Panhandle and eastern New Mexico area.

It seems that Western Clarklift & Supply has recognized and provided all the elements necessary for meeting materials-handling lift truck needs. The product needs no introduction to those recognizing the appreciating quality and performance of New York; and 100 per cent cottons, cotton blends, etc., all great for school.

Special Orders
The Fabric Mart remains interested in aiding schools, sororities, wedding planning, etc., with special orders, and the firm is well known for its service in this field.

The Fabric Mart "may be a little hard to find, but it is worth the effort to locate it!"

The 2801 26th St. address is just one block west of Boston Avenue on 26th, and the Fabric Mart is the only store of its type in this vast area of the city.

Home-owned and operated, the Fabric Mart takes pride in offering quality fabrics at reasonable prices, with a broad price range stocked.

Long established in the same location for a quarter century, Fabric Mart has since January 1977 been owned by Mr. and Mrs. E.P. Hensley of Lubbock.

Mrs. Edna Redden, with the firm for 12 years, is the very capable manager; and experienced staffmembers are the rule, with all well versed in the fabric field and with several excelling as seamstresses themselves.

Satisfaction is guaranteed at the Fabric Mart, and special discounts are available for schools, churches, sororities and civic organizations.

And something else... you don't have to wait on yourself at Fabric Mart! Qualified assistance is right there!

Accessories
Exciting fabric arrivals are noted at all times, and Fabric Mart carries a full line of notions, too.

Patterns are stocked from Butterick, McCall's, Vogue and Simplicity.

The Fabric Mart, 2801 26th St., phone 795-5519, is open from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m., six days a week, and the folks there only ask the opportunity of proving that this is an extraordinary store... with you in mind, and with satisfaction guaranteed.

NEWEST PATTERNS, FINEST QUALITY — Mrs. Edna Redden, manager of The Fabric Mart, 2801 26th St., calls attention here to imported 100 per cent wools among newer arrivals at the big store where "things are happening" as outlined in the accompanying story.

Bike Give-Away, One-Week Accessory Sale Told At Tipton's Bicycle Shop

"Welcome students, whether in Texas Tech, Lubbock Christian College, the numerous high schools and elementary schools; welcome to Lubbock and to the enlarged Tipton's Bicycle and Lawn Mower Repair that has great things in store at 2235 19th St."

Several announcements from Tipton add emphasis to this welcome:

(1) Registration is underway for a free 20-inch Motocross bike; don't delay, register now without obligation.

(2) Throughout this week, a full 10 per cent discount will be given on all accessories within the large stock as a back-to-school aid.

(3) Remodeling of Tipton's has been completed, with new convenience and larger display and work areas (with the facility doubled in size).

Owner Julius Tipton, in business at the location for nine years and six months, recognizes the popularity and desirability of bicycling — to school, for fun and pleasure and for economy, and he consequently has stocked what he considers the very best, the most practical lines.

Right now he has a good stock of Vista and Volkcycle bikes, and is introducing the all-new AMF Moped with the famous McCulloch engine.

Students, parents and folks who just plain like the benefits of a bicycle are in for real value at Tipton's where service is by men who know their business.

Whether the need is for bicycle purchase, service or accessories, satisfaction is certain at Tipton's, 2235 19th St., where owner Julius Tipton has proven his capabilities and service in seasons past.

"Ask a customer; you'll find that Tipton's is a good place to trade."

Village Craft Corner Schedules Top Artists For Fall Classes, Workshops

Imagine... a selection of instructors, workshops and classes for the fall schedule at Village Craft Corner that even surpasses the presentations and successes of seasons past!

The proven and so-popular instructors returning include Barbara Bilberry, Mac Carow, Virginia Jones, James Ivey Edwards, Paul Wylie, Georgia Bartlett, Jane Hodgkins, Elwanda Ketron and Sally Wax.

Classes begin in early September, so immediate arrangements should be made for participation. Details on all workshops and classes will be gladly given at Village Craft Corner, in South Plains Mall.

A Christmas workshop is being planned, to be conducted by the celebrated Mary Moudy of Happy (Tex.).

A lot of Christmas merchandise already is in, with encouragement given to "begin those projects now!"

She is a really qualified personality in her field, and always popular as an instructor at Village Craft Corner.

Toile instruction by Jane Hodgkins will be on Monday nights and Saturday mornings. Jane has taught extensively and is another of the more popular instructors.

Elwanda Ketron will teach beginning and intermediate oils on Tuesday nights and Wednesday mornings. Quite versatile, she paints in water color, oils and mixed media presenting a realistic impression of a variety of subjects including landscapes and flowers. She has been honored with several one-man shows and is another of the "award winners" widely recognized and honored. She has studied with numerous artists including Wm. Henry Earle of Connecticut.

A good selection of new brooms and dried flowers for decoration has arrived.

A new shipment of picture frames has been placed in stock, with these beautiful frames marked at a full 25 per cent off!

Village Craft Corner will be open Labor Day.

Note the following thumbnail sketch of impending classes and instructors:

Barbara Bilberry will instruct in oils on canvas Monday mornings and nights, in toile painting on Tuesday mornings and nights, and mini-painting Tuesday afternoons! Barbara has worked and studied with Ruth Barnett, Jeanie Lewis, Sherry Nelson, Mary Stewart, Jane Hodgkins, Walter Foster in California; Aubrey Holder Jr., Los Angeles; Don B. Williams, Morro Bay, Calif.; E. John Robinson of Mendocino, Calif., and with others, studying techniques in seascape, sketching, etc.

Paul Wylie will instruct in western art, landscapes, and sculpture on Thursdays (morning, afternoon and night). Wylie, of Cochran County, has exhibited and sold extensively and his paintings and bronzes can be found in numerous private and public collections.

Georgia Bartlett will conduct workshops in oil painting on Sept. 13 and Sept. 16. Georgia specializes in florals, and her work has been shown in numerous Fabric painting will be taught by Sally Wax on Monday mornings.

What a list of superb instructors! What a galaxy of opportunities for fun and achievement!

But be sure and get full details and register early at Village Craft Corner, the shop that also stocks scads of craft, art and hobby supplies.

CARPET NEVER PRETTIER — OR BETTER VALUE — AT TUFTWICK

Summer Clearance Situation Proves Boon To Carpet Buyer

Summer Clearance opportunities at Tuftwick Carpet have been a big assist to a lot of regional folks the past few weeks. Now comes word that fantastic buys are continuing, as "the boss is away and staffer Arvel English says we're going to move carpet like nobody's business while he's away! How? By marking prices to the bottom, that's how!"

So... without doubt the greatest carpet sale in Tuftwick's 23 years in business is now underway, with the boss out of town and with the staff trading dollars to reduce inventory and impress the manager upon his return!

"Save $3, $4 and even $5 a square yard on first-quality carpet from the nation's leading mills."

"Bring your measurements during this event and we will be happy to figure your carpet needs... at a carpet cost you will appreciate."

"We'll again prove that we're the carpet store where your dollar buys more!"

There are full rolls and short rolls, and remnants, too, all at fantastic savings.

Note the following as examples of the values, selected at random from the huge list of specials at Tuftwick:

There is Columbus Bolereau, heavy continuous filament nylon with thick foam back, in gold dust, new leaf and spicewood, now $4.99 sq. yd. (carpet only); compare at $7.95.

And Philadelphia Reliable hi-low nylon shag, in tobacco leaf, Otto brown, Coral beige, blue, etc., at just $9.59 sq. yd. installed over 1/2-in. pad (compare at $11.95).

There are exceptional buys in remnants. This list is far too long to itemize here, but includes fantastic opportunities.

Sometimes a firm conducts a sale with prices so fantastically low that even those unfamiliar with true value can recognize the exceptional savings.

Such a situation is presented in the current sale at Tuftwick. Store owners report the inventory must be reduced, so everything is placed on sale. There just isn't a better way to move quality merchandise fast than by pricing it at rock bottom!

This storewide sale at Tuftwick Carpet, Inc. (Slide Road at Brownfield Highway in Lubbock) is special.

So... even with the always-low prices and the sales posted from time to time at Tuftwick Carpet, the current extravaganza is something most, most outstanding.

To further assist one in the sale purchases, remember these facts about Tuftwick Carpet, Inc. at Brownfield Highway and Slide Road in Lubbock, phone 795-5251:

Hours are 8 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. Mondays through Fridays, with evenings by appointment. Saturday hours are 9 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Easy terms are available, with no money down and with up to 36 months in which to pay.

"It all is proof that Tuftwick goes all out to pass fantastic buys on to you, our valued customer, making everything as convenient for you as possible.

A shopping trip to Tuftwick is worth the trip from anywhere in the area, and the current sale makes this double so.

Extraordinary savings, even for Tuftwick, are presently enabled. Don't delay, shop now at Tuftwick Carpet, Inc., at Slide Road and Brownfield Highway to your profit, selection and complete satisfaction.

"If you have not been through the showrooms of the big Tuftwick Carpet, Inc., within the last few weeks, you are in for a real treat at your next visit."

First, there is a thrilling selection of patterns and materials.

Secondly, the prices and values simply cannot be beat.

Third reason for a trip to Tuftwick Carpet at Brownfield Highway and Slide Road could well be the most attractive display yet. Everything in the showroom has been conveniently displayed for easy viewing, comparison and selection. It is an attractive, inviting place in which to shop.

Jones Ornamental Decor Tells Storewide Savings

"This annual Summer Clearance time at Jones Ornamental Decor, and this means that everything storewide is marked at $50 to $350 off!"

Featuring indoor-outdoor ornamental elegance for timeless charm and beauty, Jones Ornamental Decor is really a "showplace," and a visit there now is of double benefit, what with the sale continuing, and with the new merchandise arriving.

(See the etageres and bakers racks great for plants this winter.)

Where is Jones Ornamental Decor? At 3403 34th St., in Indiana Gardens, in the former TG&Y location.

New, Modern Home

"If you were excited about the unique Jones Ornamental Decor store that was established in early 1977 at 1406 Ave. Q, then you will be even more enthused about the firm's present home with its roominess, easy access, off-street parking and other advantages. More than 5,000 square feet of showroom space is provided, and the big store is chock full of a tremendous and selective merchandise offering. It now is believed to be the very largest store of its type anywhere in the Southwest.

Name brands in home furnishings are attractively and profusely stocked, together with a wide variety of decorating ideas... beautiful handmade ceramics and floral arrangements designed especially for Jones Ornamental Decor, elegant ornate accent pieces of brass and copper, hanging scale planters, door knockers, coal buckets, teakettles, brass

WILBURN JONES OWNS GREER IRON WORKS, and custom construction of barbecue units, fireplace screens and log holders, fences, gates, etc., are among the specializations, as is wrought iron and cast aluminum furniture.

"A pretty good combination, wouldn't you say... Jones Ornamental Decor and Greer Iron Works!"

Earl Ray Music, In Briercroft, Meeting School, Student Needs

"If you are a band student, or are the parent of one, a visit in the near future to Earl Ray Music Co. in Briercroft Center will assure that you are all set with the best — for the new school semester and beyond." Service does not end with the rental or sale at this leading band house. Earl Ray maintains the largest band instrument repair department on the South Plains, with fulltime specialists on the job. "Wouldn't this be a very good time for you as a band student to 'trade up' to a quality instrument to best serve you in the progress that you have made in your music pursuit?" "Let us at Earl Ray Music Co. show you how easy and rewarding this can be." Reliance upon the Earl Ray Music Co.

can solve (and easily so) the many situations and even problems for the music minded. Long a standby as "the South Plains' leading Band House," the Earl Ray Music Co., at 5302 Ave. Q in the Briercroft Shopping Center, pledges the finest in instrument repair and sales, even leasing and trade-up. For more than a quarter century of being known and trusted by band directors, parents and bandsmen throughout the area, Earl Ray Music Co. early in 1974 moved to the large modern home it now enjoys — a facility that has met with exceptional response from customers who appreciate the added conveniences and still-fine service at Earl Ray's. Selling, servicing and trade-rent-lease of fine instrument lines still is the whole business of Earl Ray. Whether selection if Conn, Vito, Selmer, Bunday, LeBlac, Ludwig, Bach, Olds, Gemeinhardt, etc., quality is assured. More and more students throughout Lubbock and entire area are learning the advantages of "trading up" to a better instrument at Earl Ray Music Co. As the students progress in their musical careers, the "trading up" is especially advantageous. "Whether or not you purchased your present band instrument from Earl Ray, they will be glad to give you a price you are sure to appreciate with trade on a better one. A wide choice of instruments is stocked.

Week's Special Among Considerate Gestures From Red Barn Meat Market

Not only is Red Barn Meat Market (at 8112 Indiana Ave.) superb in quality, but it passes on savings whenever possible. . . . Such as beef halves, this week only at just 99 cents per pound! And this is fine USDA Choice corn-fed beef!

"better and complete service market", a description to which a lot of area residents have attested since in market's opening in mid-1976. Willis Watts formerly owned and operated the Red Barn facility on the Leveland Highway, selling that unit in June of 1977.

The South Indiana market was planned and functionally designed to not only be attractive, but to be convenient, efficient and thoroughly service oriented. Watts opened this big market in May 1976, and reports that it is the largest independent retail meat market in all West Texas.

THREE-STEP COOLING — Owner Willis Watts of Red Barn Meat Market calls attention to the progressive and vital cooling areas for beef there, with up to 35-head capacity in the initial aging cooler (top), then to the second room (center) where the meat is cut for the cases, and finally placement in the cases themselves for customer comparison, selection and purchase.

Research Uncovers Backlog Of Scrap Iron

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There are a lot of junked automobiles, old refrigerators and other metal discards — some 672.3 million tons of them — that could be recycled into useful products, a new report says.

The backlog of scrap iron and steel was cited recently in a study commissioned by the Metal Scrap Research and Education Foundation.

Robert R. Nathan Associates, an economic consulting firm, found there was 636 million tons of iron and steel scrap at the end of 1975 and it has increased by more than 36 million tons since then.

"This nation's inability to recognize that it is literally wasting valuable iron units for recycling, and to take concrete action to reverse such a dismal trend in resource recovery is economically and environmentally irrational," said Morton Plant, the association's president.

Latest Television 'Jiggle Show' To Broadcast Pilot On CBS

By JOAN HANAUER
NEW YORK (UPI) — It is tempting to call "Flying High" a new low on the television trite scale, but perhaps it would be the better part of valor to save that designation in case of a more deserving candidate.

Instead call it "Charlie's Angels Go to Flight School."

The pilot for the new series about three stewardesses goes on CBS today at 8 p.m. CDT. If you like looking at pretty girls, you'll enjoy "Flying High." If the show is lacking in plot, or characterization or laughs, there are three beautiful models in the starring rolls, and lots of extras who turn up now and again to show off their legs.

To use current television terminology, this is a jiggle show, obviously inspired by the success of ABC's "Charlie's Angels."

The three main jiggers are Kathryn Witt, Pat Klous and Connie Sellecca as girls from a blue-collar home in Trenton, N.J., a farm in Sweetwater and the wealthy hunt and ride-to-hounds set of Greenwich, Conn.

They all go off to "stew school" to become flight attendants for Sun-West Airlines, learning from instructor Marcia Wallace, whose toothy smile flashed on "The Bob Newhart Show" as Carol, the secretary-receptionist.

Experienced television watchers will be able to predict the girls' personalities by their hair color. The blonde from Texas is dumb and dizzy, the sultry brunette from Greenwich has the most savvy and the curly brown-haired lass from New Jersey is sweetly sincere.

flight attendant trainee asking what he should do while the girls are doing exercises to firm the bust (answer: pushups). Or there's the farm girl who complains about how boring it is to look at cows' udders all day and then shrugs philosophically and says, anyway, it gives you a firm handshake.

If "Flying High" is not your cup of coffee, tea or milk, try CBS on Tuesday at 7 p.m. when Sally Struthers (Gloria of "All In The Family") and Harry Morgan (Col. Potter of "M-A-S-H") host "The Leningrad Ice Show," taped on location in the Soviet Union at Leningrad's Sports Palace.

Morgan and Miss Struthers work well together, and there's magic on the ice, ranging from a slapstick hockey game to the ballet-like beauty of the Prince and Princess from Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker Suite" and the spectacular "Jewels from the Ural Mountains."

The stars of the 80-member Leningrad company are the husband-wife skating team of Irina Phillipova and Alexander Jakolev, who do for Soviet figure skating what the Bolshoi does for ballet.

Miss Struthers, incidentally, takes to the ice in a duet with Jakolev. Peggy Fleming she ain't.

Advertisers Gave Singer Good Tip

NEW YORK (AP) — When a young man, fresh out of Duquesne University, applied in 1957 for a job at a Pittsburgh ad agency, he was advised to forget advertising as a career.

Officials at the agency, Ketchum, MacLeod & Grove, said he should keep plugging away at his first choice — the entertainment field.

The man was Bobby Vinton, who went on to sell more than 25 million hit records.

Freight Stocks Show Increase

By CHET CURRIER NEW YORK (AP) — Thanks in part to strong earnings gains and the removal of federal regulation, stocks of air freight companies have attained high-flyer status on Wall Street this year.

Restrictions Eyed For TV Imports

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Unless South Korea agrees to a quota arrangement, Korean shipments of color television sets to the United States will be hit with unilateral import restrictions, Korean officials said.

Officials said U.S. Special Trade Negotiator Stephan Lande, who left here Wednesday after a two-day stay, notified the government of the intended action by the United States.

equally impressive gains. Emery Air Freight of Wilton, Conn., the largest company in the industry, climbed from a 1977 low of 16 1/2 to above 28 this month. Airborne Freight, headquartered in Seattle, rose from 11 1/2 to above 26; Seaboard World Airlines of New York from 2 1/2 to 14 1/2, and Los Angeles Tiger International from 10 1/2 to 22-plus.

But Standard & Poor's says the lifting of restrictions "has created a new competitive environment that promises a fresh surge of growth."

Rollins Maxwell, an analyst at E.F. Hutton Co., said the highly successful Federal Express public offering helped call attention to the general strong growth in the industry.

The problem for investors looking at the industry now, Maxwell and others note, is that much of this rosy outlook is already reflected in the prices of the stocks.

While he remains optimistic about the industry's outlook, Rollins cautioned, "I don't think these stocks have much in them near-term."

In a similar vein, SP said: "The brightened outlook has contributed to sharp run-ups by most stocks in the group recently, and a period of price consolidation appears to be in order."

Domestic airlines dealing exclusively with cargo have increased their freight revenues 353 percent in the last 10 years, United said, while international revenues have swelled by 639 percent.

The tangible impact of deregulation has been limited to date, analysts who follow the industry point out. Tiger International's Flying Tiger subsidiary was among the first to map plans for expanded service.

Rollins Maxwell, an analyst at E.F. Hutton Co., said the highly successful Federal Express public offering helped call attention to the general strong growth in the industry.

Pope John Paul Reappoints Top Vatican Officials

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John Paul I demonstrated his dedication to the policies of Pope Paul VI today by continuing in office the chief officials of the Roman Catholic Church's central administration appointed by his predecessor.

The new pontiff reappointed French Cardinal Jean Villot as Secretary of State, the equivalent of the Vatican's prime minister, and the heads of the nine Sacred Congregations, the main departments of the Vatican Curia.

Among the latter is Cardinal John Wright of Boston, who heads the Congregation for the Clergy and did not participate in the election of Pope John Paul Saturday because he was hospitalized for eye surgery. He was released from hospital Saturday and is recuperating.

In another affirmation of Pope Paul's policy, the new pope reconfirmed Archbishop Agostino Casaroli as Secretary of the Council for Public Affairs, the Vatican's foreign minister.

The Vatican announcement said all the heads of congregations would serve the remainder of the five-year terms to which they were appointed by Pope Paul. However, this five-year period does not apply to Villot, Casaroli, or Archbishop Giuseppe Caprio, the substitute secretary of state, who are the pope's personal choices.

In addition to Cardinal Wright, the congregation heads are Cardinal Franjo Šeper of Yugoslavia, the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, the former Holy Office; Cardinal Sebastiano Baggio, Congregation of Bishops; Cardinal James P. Knox, Australia, Sacraments and Divine Worship; Cardinal Eduardo Pironio, Argentina, Congregation for the Religious; Cardinal Angelo Rossi, Evangelization of the Peoples; Cardinal Corrado Bafile, Italy, Causes of the Saints; Cardinal Gabriel Marie Garrone, France, Catholic Education; Cardinal Pierre Paul Philippe, France, Oriental Church-

Vatican sources said the pope may call a consistory this year to appoint new cardinals. Several cities which traditionally have cardinals presently are headed by bishops. They include Tokyo, Dublin and Turin. Also, the pope is said to have promised a cardinal's red hat to Bishop Ernesto Civardi, secretary of the conclave which elected him.

The new pope dug into the business of church administration after pledging to overcome "internal tension" within the church and to continue the work of his two predecessors whose names he took.

All executive appointments in the Curia, the church's central bureaucracy, expired automatically with the death of Pope Paul on Aug. 6. But John Paul had been expected to reappoint most or all of them both because of his commitment to carry on Pope Paul's policies and because of his own lack of Curia experience.

Vatican was as a member of the executive board of the Congregation for Sacraments and Divine Cult. He has spent nearly all his life in the Venice area, as a priest in his native diocese in the Alps, as bishop of Vittorio Veneto and for the past nine years as Cardinal Albino Luciani, patriarch of Venice.

Elected Saturday on the first day of voting by 111 cardinals locked in the Borgia Apartments of the Apostolic Palace, the new pope will be crowned Sunday. But the Vatican has not announced whether the coronation Mass will be in St. Peter's Basilica or in the square in front of it, where Pope Paul VI held his coronation in 1963.

A surprise choice who doesn't have an international reputation, John Paul is considered by some a conservative but was termed a "moderate" by Cardinal John Dearden of Detroit. And moderation was the keynote of his speech Sunday to the cardinals in which he pledged to carry on the reforms launched by the 1962-65 Vatican Council and the programs of Pope Paul.

He said the church's first duty is evangelization. He also pledged to go ahead with the movement for Christian reunification, "without doctrinal ceding but also without hesitation," to carry forward "with patience and firmness" the dialogue with non-Christians, and to help peace initiatives in "the turbulent world."

He made clear he gives high priority to obedience to the hierarchy. "We wish to preserve the integrity of the great discipline of the church in the life of priests and of the faithful," he said, and he called for "a strict response to our will."

This and his insistence on doctrinal continuity was interpreted as a clear indication that he would continue Pope Paul's controversial bans on artificial contraception, married priests and the ordination of women. But he made no direct reference to these issues dividing the church.

"He's taught theology, and he wants to keep the church true to solid theology," said Cardinal John Carberry of St. Louis.

"I don't see much change, but he will be very effective at continuity of program," said Cardinal John Cody of Chicago.

"I do not have the wisdom or the heart of Pope John. Nor do I have the preparation and culture of Pope Paul," John Paul told a crowd of 200,000 in St. Peter's Square Sunday. "However, I stand in their place. I must try to serve the church. I hope you will help me with your prayers."

He also received his first official invitation for a trip abroad. Archbishop Rosendo Huesca of Puebla, Mexico, sent a telegram asking him to attend a conference of Latin-American bishops opening Oct. 12. Cardinal Pablo Munoz Vega of Quito, Ecuador, said it was too early to say whether the pope would go abroad so soon after taking over.

New Pope Commits Himself To Issues

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

VATICAN CITY (AP) — "An unknown," "Only time will tell," "Half and half," they said of the new pope of the Roman Catholic Church. But he quickly began filling the void with simple candor and commitments.

Shunning the customary pontifical "we," Pope John Paul I told 200,000 persons jamming St. Peter's Square Sunday: "I do not have the wisdom or heart of Pope John. Nor do I have the preparation and culture of Pope Paul. However, I stand in their place."

Speaking earlier to the cardinals who elected him, he reviewed the issues confronting the church and set himself firmly to press on with reforms launched by the 1962-65 Second Vatican Council, carefully but with vigor.

He acknowledged the turbulence of discontent and contention buffeting the church. But the church "is safe and secure, though in the midst of storms," he said confidently.

He dedicated himself to "overcoming internal tension," reinforcing social justice for the deprived, putting a priority on evangelism, working through the synods of bishops and pursuing the ecumenical quest for Christian unity.

"The mutual relationship among the churches of the various denominations has made constant and extraordinary advances," he said. Yet the divisions remain a "contradiction and a scandal."

He pledged his attention "to everything that would favor union" without "diluting doctrine" but also "without hesitation."

Since he became patriarch of Venice in 1969, it has become a kind of ecumenical center for meetings of Catholic officials with Anglicans, Pentecostals, Jews and Protestant and Eastern Orthodox representatives of the World Council of Churches.

At these gatherings, Cardinal Albino Luciani demonstrated his support by "picking up the tab," according to the Rev. Charles Long, an officer of the Vatican Secretariat for Christian Unity.

He also dined sometimes with the visitors.

How Cardinal Luciani emerged so quickly from far back in the field to be elected pope on the first day of balloting was still a conclave secret.

"It's a mystery to me, and to say he's a nice guy doesn't explain the mystery at all," said the Rev. Robert Graham, a church historian and Vatican expert.

Some theorized that the fact that he had not served in the Curia, the Vatican bureaucracy, was a factor in his favor with other bishops who have had their

Lubbock Man Reports Shooting To Police

Lawbreakers weren't out in large numbers during the latter part of the weekend, but that didn't make the few persons who were victimized any happier.

For instance, there's Isaac Garcia of 2624 Amherst Ave. who was wondering this morning, along with police, why someone shot at him as he drove in the 2600-block of Auburn Street about 1 a.m. Sunday.

Garcia told police he was with some friends when a white 1969 Chevrolet Malibu pulled up beside him and one of the two occupants opened fire on his vehicle.

Garcia said he tried to get away from the suspects' car, but his vehicle was hit by gunfire 10 times before he could lose the Malibu.

One of Garcia's two friends in the car suffered a wound during the brief chase, but his injury was not thought to be serious, according to reports.

Jaime Mandrell, attendant at a convenience store at 82nd Street and Hudson Street, said she had a customer about 3 p.m. Sunday who decided to make a purchase while his pants were undone.

She said the man, described as white, about 23-25 years old, with brown hair, walked in, went to the back of the store to pick up a bottle of soft drink, and then came to the counter with his pants unfastened.

Apparently not satisfied with his first revelation, the suspect appeared at the store again about 4:30 p.m., and the attendant called police.

Police reported arresting four 17-year-old boys Sunday who were allegedly disturbing the peace and drinking beer at a city park in the 6900-block of Nashville Drive.

Police said that during the 10:30 a.m. arrests, one of the teenagers put up a fight before being persuaded to get out of his Volkswagen and into the patrol car.

Don Earl Burrell of 506 Quirt Ave. said his trailer was broken into about 11 p.m. Sunday and $295 in stereo equipment stolen. One of Burrell's neighbors told police she saw someone entering the trailer by breaking a front-door window.

A $150 pistol was reported taken out of E.L. Follis' vehicle while it was parked in front of a restaurant at 19th Street and Avenue Q.

Follis, of O Donnell, said his 1976 Chevrolet had been parked at that location from 7:30 p.m. to 10:40 p.m. when someone apparently broke in and took his 22-caliber pistol.

Randy Earl Hughes of 3501 Canton Ave. said his 12-gauge shotgun, a tent and camera were stolen during a burglary of his residence between 11:30 a.m. and 7:15 p.m. Sunday.

According to reports, the intruders apparently made themselves at home. Police found drawers opened and their contents scattered about the house, the television still warm from being played and two pop bottles which apparently had been emptied and then placed back in Hughes' refrigerator.

Hughes said it appeared there was more than one burglar since his chess set had been used. He estimated his loss at about $400.

Lubbock police Sunday were investigating a reported robbery, three aggravated assault incidents and the rape of a 16-year-old girl.

Marshall Cook of 1601 15th St. said three Spanish men drove up while he was walking in an alley near Avenues N and O early Sunday and left $42 richer.

Cook said the men asked him a question and before he could answer overpowered him, taking his wallet which contained $15 and $27 in cash from his pocket.

The suspects reportedly left the scene in a light-colored import station wagon.

A 16-year-old Lubbock teen-ager ran screaming out of a garage apartment about 3:30 a.m. Sunday and told her mother she'd just been raped.

The girl said she awakened about 3 a.m. to find a man climbing on top of her, reports indicated.

After a witness, who overheard the incident and the woman notified police, officers arrested a suspect sometime later.

Simon Ochoa of 1806 E. 1st St. told police late Saturday someone had tried to kill him minutes earlier.

The officer had another driver stopped on an unrelated incident when Ochoa drove up, reports indicate.

The victim said he had been driving in his car when three young men pulled alongside him. One of the trio reportedly fired a shotgun blast into the passenger door glass, injuring Ochoa slightly.

After police broadcast a description of the suspects, three young men were arrested. Two 17-year-olds and a 23-year-old suspect were taken into custody, police said.

Police were called to Health Sciences Center Hospital's emergency room early Sunday, where Martin Samarripa of 2613 Amherst Ave. was being treated for two gunshot wounds.

The young man, who said he could not recall the location where the shooting had occurred, told officers he thought the shots might have been meant for someone else. The wounds, to Samarripa's thigh and elbow, were believed to have been superficial, police said.

In still another assault incident, police arrived at a 713 Broadway club Saturday, to find a Texas Tech student bleeding from a forehead gash and a cut chin.

A security guard had custody of an 18-year-old electronics firm employee, who authorities allege hit James Saied of 2001 9th St. in the face with a beer mug. The motive for the attack was not known. Saied's injuries were not believed to have been serious.

After police received information recently that a woman was in possession of stolen clothing at an East Lubbock housing project, a raid was carried out.

The resident of the apartment, who consented to a voluntary search, according to police, was arrested after officers found several hundred dollars worth of new clothing in one of the rooms.

Additional questioning lead investigators to another address, where a suspect refused to admit officers without a search warrant.

After securing a warrant from Justice of the Peace Charles Smith, the officers entered the residence, where they found more clothing. Some of the articles had been stuffed into a washing machine and into dresser drawers, police said.

The items were confiscated and a 32-year-old and 24-year-old woman were arrested. Three female juveniles also were taken into custody, police said.

George Lepel of 3608 42nd St. said someone broke into his storage area during the past few months and swiped a custom, rebuilt engine from his Ford Mustang. The engine, taken from storage sheds at the Lubbock International Airport, was valued at $1,000, Lepel said.

Alfred Reich of 2007 35th St. said burglars stripped his residence bare recently, making off with a television, table lamps, a fan, silverware, a watch, a stereo system, a pair of beer steins, clothing, camera equipment, tools, dishes and other items, estimate of loss.

Martha Dickinson of 2311 33rd St. said vandals took advantage of her hospitalization recently and threw a rock through a window at her home, causing about $1,000 in total damage. An $800 lamp was broken after the missile sailed through a large window, the victim told police.

Two air conditioners were stolen from the Sugar Shack Motel, 2103 Ave. Q, recently, according to the management.

Krueger Rebukes Attacks By Tower

By CURTIS BURTON
Avalanche-Journal Staff

Retaliating vigorously and aggressively, U.S. senatorial candidate Bob Krueger asserted Sunday that "John Tower was grossly in error" in his attacks on Krueger's attendance record.

"The New Braunfels Democrat spoke to a capacity crowd at a $10 a plate fundraising spaghetti supper at the KoKo Palace Sunday night."

Krueger, who currently is a U.S. representative from the 21st District, has been campaigning extensively in West Texas and the Texas Valley this week in one of the stiffest challenges to incumbent John Tower's re-election.

The former Duke University English professor said the record indicates he was 85 percent in attendance in 1977 opposed to Tower's 78 percent.

"This year," said Krueger, "the records show that Tower has been in attendance 73 percent" opposed to my 77 percent, and I don't think the one percent makes that much difference."

"Attendance is important," he said, "but what one does in attendance is more important."

Krueger emphatically charged that Tower had not produced one single piece of legislation bearing his own name in the 17 1/2 years he has been in office.

"Tower is more renowned for being inconsistent and generally voting against beneficial legislation," said Krueger.

For example, he noted that Tower under President Ford voted to extend aid to New York City during its financial dilemma, but under President Carter he voted against the proposal.

Krueger said he would have been opposed both times.

The 42-year-old candidate said during Tower's 13 years on the Armed Forces committee, 11 bases have been closed in Texas and only two in California.

"Tower does not exhibit the leadership needed to help Texans," he said.

"Because of the excellent leadership George Mahon has exhibited over the years, the people in Lubbock know what quality leadership is," Krueger said.

Krueger said he wanted to give Texans a new spirit of leadership in an open environment, offering sound programs in every area.

Philippine Helicopter Crash Kills Three

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — A Philippine Air Force helicopter crashed into the sea Sunday, 420 miles southwest of Manila, killing three officers, the Defense Ministry said today.

Two other persons are missing, the ministry said.

It said the helicopter was carrying eight persons to Tarumpong Navy Station — an important military installation in the oil-rich Palawan province — when it plunged into the beach.

Among the dead officers was a woman nurse. Three persons are known to have survived, the ministry said.

The probable cause of the accident was bad weather, the ministry said.

Murder Trial Moved

DENTON (AP) — The capital murder trial of a man charged in the rape-strangulation of a Lewisville cheerleader has been moved to Wichita Falls.

State District Judge Stanley Kirk Friday set Oct. 9 as the date John W. McCrory will go on trial in connection with the June slaying of Jeana Melissa Walker, 17.

Miss Walker's partially nude body was found off a farm road in South Denton County June 3. McCrory, 27, was arrested June 12 and indicted three days later on the charge he raped, then murdered the high school junior.

McCrory, of nearby Argyle, remains in Denton County jail in lieu of $150,000 bond.

There are two legal organizations to aid the poor in Lubbock, and they have an uneasy alliance as a dispute worsens over which one should handle the legal aid money sent here by the federal government.

The Lubbock office of West Texas Legal Services in Fort Worth has divided work with the Legal Aid Society of the Lubbock County Bar Association; the bar wants Lubbock legal aid controlled in Lubbock, however, and has enlisted the help of U.S. Sen. John Tower to have the entire program transferred to the legal aid society.

George Nelson, then president of the bar, wrote Tower a letter earlier this summer about "a very serious problem created by the Legal Services Corp."

"It is a story of a very typical federal program which has overwhelmed the efforts of local citizens to control their profession and their own problems," Nelson wrote.

"There have been many complaints from practicing attorneys in Lubbock and the surrounding area that the Legal Services Corp. has handled fee-generating cases. They are openly soliciting free legal services on the radio and in the printed media. They are, in fact, in many cases in competition with private legal practice."

"They are spending a mountain of money, and the representatives of the Legal Services Corp. have openly admitted that they are not interested in some fields of the law regardless of how poor someone is. The Legal Services Corp. attorneys are directed to handle on a priority basis only legal work that has some direct effect on what they term 'target social problems.'"

"For example, they have openly admitted that they do not care to handle and do not intend to handle on any kind of equal priority basis domestic relations matters. They do not consider that a 'target' impact area."

The Legal Services Corp. was created by Congress as a separate federal agency after the legal services branch of the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) was abolished in 1974.

It is funded directly by Congress, and West Texas Legal Services has a budget of about $1.5 million for calendar 1978. It has 30 attorneys among its total of 60 employees in its Fort Worth, Lubbock, Amarillo, Wichita Falls and Abilene offices.

William Garrett, director of litigation for the agency in Fort Worth, said in late July that offices are being planned for Denton and Midland-Odessa.

He and Marvin Rogers, managing attorney of the Lubbock office, also denied that they have a list of social issues on which they would like to file suits.

But Nelson said Garrett, manager of the Lubbock office after it was opened in February, 1977, told a meeting of the bar when he was in Lubbock "that family problems and domestic relations were way down on the list of their priority areas."

For that reason, he said, and to justify the continued support of the Legal Aid Society by United Way, it was agreed that the legal aid society would handle domestic relations cases for the indigent in Lubbock County and legal services all other types of cases.

Funded entirely by United Way of Lubbock, the legal aid society has a budget of $35,800 this year.

Most of its work is done by director Thomas Giovannitti, who works out of an office provided by the county on the fourth floor of the courthouse, and 10 second- and third-year Texas Tech University law students per semester supervised by society president and law school professor Daniel Benson.

Tower press secretary Allen Balch last week said the Lubbock Bar Association letter was referred to Legal Services Corp. President Thomas Ehrlich in Washington last June 20 and that a response from Ehrlich had not been received.

Balch said Tower asked Ehrlich to respond on "what the law provides" as to the possibility of control being transferred to the Lubbock organization.

"This may or may not be possible, depending on how the law reads," Balch said. "Until we hear back from the president of the corporation in Washington, how he views the request, we have no position and no indication of what we might be able to do."

He said they are querying Ehrlich now "to find out the status of the inquiry."

The matter is being handled by the Houston office of the senator, and Robert Byrd of the Gulf Coast Legal Foundation there, formerly of the Legal Services office, called Benson earlier this month to ask for copies of records, letters and related papers pertaining to the establishment of the legal services office here.

Benson mailed copies of the papers to Byrd two weeks ago. They date back to a Nov. 10, 1976, letter to U.S. Rep. George Mahon from then-Legal Aid Society director Larry Glazner on the possibility of an OEO grant for Lubbock.

In a Nov. 30, 1976, response to Mahon, Ehrlich wrote, "Because it is economically feasible to do so, expansion in the Lubbock-Amarillo areas is being effected through the Fort Worth program. It is conceivable, however, that an independent program may eventually result in this area."

In his Aug. 15 reply to Byrd accompanying the papers, Benson wrote, "I think major hostility on the part of the local bar was generated when it became clear that Fort Worth would run the program from now on and that Lubbock's lawyers would not be able to do so except as members of the Fort Worth board."

"In any event, it is unfortunate that a joint operation with the Legal Aid Society of Lubbock was not possible, and I think the poor of this area are the real victims of that particular failure."

Although it has been operating in Lubbock for 19 months, legal services did not become controversial outside the legal profession until this summer, when in quick succession it filed a $31 million lawsuit against Lubbock schools to elect school board members from single-member districts and won a federal injunction for Iranian students to demonstrate in a Lubbock residential area.

Nelson said he never knew what priorities Garrett was referring to but added, "From the filing they've done since then, I think what's on their list is pretty obvious."

Lubbock attorney Zant Woodul represents the Lubbock bar on the Fort Worth board.

William Wade is the recently installed bar president.

At Wit's End...

By ERMA BOMBECK
I'm a pushover for those magazine articles that tell me I can put out a six-course dinner for eight in less than half an hour. (I can't shave my legs in less than half an hour.)

You know the ones I'm talking about. Those timetables that give you a minute-by-minute game plan of how you proceed with your meal. At 5:30, clean and chill the greens. At 5:40, put the water on to boil for the rice. At 6:00 slice the French bread and put in the warmer. At 6:15, toss the rice, etc., etc.

I tried one of those timetables a week ago that looked and sounded fantastic. The menu was: beef stroganoff over noodles, green salad, buttered fresh asparagus, dinner rolls and baked Alaska. The company was due at 7:00. I started dinner at 6:30. It went something like this:

6:30: Washed greens for salad.
6:32: Lined kids up to smell their breath to see which one had ripped off the cherry tomatoes for the salad. Sent son with cherry seeds in front tooth to store for new supply.
6:35: Put ice cream out to soften for the baked Alaska and cut pound cake in half.

6:40: Sliced beef and put in skillet to brown.
6:40: Toilet stopped up in hallway. Ran to garage for plunger.

6:42: Found cookie sheet for the rolls under hanging basket in bedroom to catch water from Boston fern.

6:45: Put water on for noodles.
6:47: Smacked dog for licking ice cream that melted down side of cupboard.

6:50: Put on water for frozen asparagus.

6:53: Water for noodles went dry and burnt pan.

6:54: Discovered you had to put baked Alaska on board in very hot oven. Sent kids to find a board.

6:56: Water for asparagus boiled dry and burnt pan.

6:57: Husband announced ice cube trays were empty.

6:59: Put cake on board, filled with ice cream, topped with meringue in preparation for final minutes in oven.

6:59 1/2: Kids informed me they got the board from bottom of bird feeder.

7:00: Doorbell rang. Poured two tablespoons of sherry into the stroganoff.

7:00: Poured remainder of sherry into the cook.

SUMMER FAVORITE
Regally-colored purple prune plums with their light silver "frosting" are a favorite summer fruit both for fresh eating and for use in baking. Although their season is short, lasting from August through September, purple prune plums can be enjoyed all year long because they are especially suited to home canning and freezing. Homemade preserves and relishes are also a delicious way to enjoy this luscious summer fruit from season to season.

DEAR ABBY

DEAR ABBY: Since statistics show that 98.3 percent of all child molesters are heterosexual, I'm organizing a crusade to prohibit heterosexual teachers from instructing children of the opposite sex.

I don't want my daughter molested by a heterosexual male teacher, or my son seduced by a heterosexual female teacher. I'd appreciate your comments.

Dear Parent: Your statistics are correct, but banning all heterosexual teachers on the chance that one might molest a child is unfair. However, if you proceed with your crusade, be sure to enlist the help of Anita Bryant — since she wants so desperately to "save" our children.

DEAR ABBY: I've been married for 38 years and my problem is my mother-in-law. Mums has been a widow for 10 years. She lives 400 miles from here, and spends most of her time and money just traveling around visiting relatives.

We have a guest room, but Mums prefers to sleep on the living room sofa where she can see and hear everything. And she snores so loud we can't hear the TV.

She complains about my coffee, my cooking, our children and our grandchildren. She soaks her false teeth in one of my best china cups, and when she leaves I have to throw the cup out.

We never know when she's coming. She just calls us from the bus depot and tells us to come and get her. If we had plans to go out of town ourselves, it's too bad. We can't leave her in our home alone because she never locks a door. She's not forgetful — just trusting.

I have a strange feeling she's headed this way and I don't think I can stand another one of her visits. When she comes she stays anywhere from three days to three months. Help!

HAD IT WITH MUMS

Dear Had It: A telephone call to Mums would put you at ease. Call her and find out what her plans are.

Next time she comes, tell her where you want her to sleep and where to soak her false teeth, and also set a time limit on her visit. And while she's in your home, be firm with the crusty old girl. She sounds like she'd rather enjoy going a few rounds with her family.

DEAR ABBY: Timmy and I have been married for six years and have two cute kids. We've had our fights, but nothing serious.

Timmy's mom has never really liked me because before I met Timmy he was serious about girl named Doris, and his mother wanted him to marry HER.

Well, last week Doris came to town. She's divorced (no kids), and I heard (from one of Timmy's sisters) that his mom arranged for him to meet Doris at her house twice! I don't know the purpose of those meetings, but if Timmy had told me he wanted to see Doris, I'd been happy to invite her over here.

I am boiling mad at Timmy's mother for that sneaky trick. When I told Timmy what I thought of the whole business, he said I was making a mountain out of a molehill. Am I?

FUMING IN NEW ORLEANS

Dear Fuming: No. If you think Timmy's mother is deliberately trying to undermine your marriage, you have a right to complain. But Timmy's not entirely blameless. He cooperated (twice), if what you heard was true. Take it up with Timmy.

If you put off writing letters because you don't know what to say, get Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters For All Occasions." Send $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents) envelope to Abby: 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

The Slim Gourmet

By Barbara Gibbons

With 60 percent of Americans consciously cautious about calories, the food industry is rushing to join the "Lite" Brigade, spurred on by the stunning success of "Lite" beers. Implying good taste for fewer calories, the word "lite" (or "light") is about to replace "natural" as the big buzzword for food adwriters and package designers.

That is good news for calorie-counters. The growing insistence on less fattening fare encourages all segments of the food industry to edit the unneeded calories out of popular products.

However, just as all "natural" foods aren't necessarily healthy, neither are all "lite" foods low in calories. Some food manufacturers are using the word lightly to gull waistline watchers into thinking ordinary products are less fattening than their competitors'. (Caution: look for calorie counts on the label. "Light" can mean anything: color, texture, weight or whatever!)

FLAT-GUTTED BEER DRINKERS — Credit for launching the "Lite" revolution goes to Miller Brewing Co. for succeeding at the supposedly impossible task of selling a less fattening brew.

Miller's "Lite" beer was launched in 1972 with a brilliant ad campaign: "Everything you always wanted in a beer and less" (one-third less: under 100 calories instead of 150). Miller's won in the marketplace but lost in the courts: a legal bid to keep the word "Lite" for itself failed. Now, any product can call itself "lite." Or "light."

Today, there are some 20 decaffeinated brews on the market, ranging from a lightweight 70 or so calories a can (Gablinger Extra Light, Pabst Extra Light, Players, Olympia Golden Light and Carling Highlight from Canada) all the way up to a not-so-light 137 calories for Michigan "Light." Other me-too brews with "lite" or "light" on the label include Schmidt's, Schlitz, Coors, Iron City, Texas Pride, Peter Hand, Rheingold, Lucky 96, Rainier and Canada's Labatt's Special Lite. Research shows that "lite" beer drinkers are younger, better educated and make more money!

NAME YOUR DRINK! For wine drinkers there's Manischewitz "light" red, white and rose wines, 85 calories for 3- and one-half-ounces instead of 150. "Pepsi Light" is a sugar-reduced cola partly sweetened with sugar substitute (47 calories for 8 ounces).

LIGHTWEIGHT BREADSPREADS — ordinary jams and jellies are 16 calories a teaspoon but "Polaner Lite" is Polaner's sugar-reduced fruit spread with more fruit than sugar. Smucker has a similar product without the word "light" on the label. Flavors include grape, strawberry, apple, apricot, blackberry, boysenberry and orange marmalade — all 8 calories per teaspoon.

Fleischmann is test-marketing a new "light" margarine made from corn oil. At 75 calories a tablespoon, it's hardly a lightweight: diet margarine is only 50 calories per tablespoon. In Indianapolis a new table spread based on yogurt is being tested. Named "Yogo-Light," it's 66 calories a tablespoon.

"LIGHT AND LUSCIOUS" frozen cakes and pies "that nobody doesn't like" are the big winners for Sara Lee. Sweetened with fruit sugar and very low in fat, the cakes weigh in at 120 calories for a one-eighth portion. Cakes include chocolate or vanilla with chocolate frosting, and banana with banana icing. Also 120 calories a slice are the new Sara Lee frozen yogurt chiffon pies with strawberry, cherry or blueberry topping.

NOT SO LIGHT, on the other hand, are the so-called frozen "Light Pies" from Mrs. Smith's bakery — no calorie counts or nutrition data on the label. These tiny pies are only seven inches across, weigh 14 ounces, cost $1.80 each, and taste like colored Cool-Whip. We called the company for the calorie count. The chocolate pie — supposed to serve six — is 1,500 calories, or 250 per serving, about the same as regular chocolate cream pie. Banana is 1,320 and coconut is 1,380.

HOMEMADE 'LIGHT' LAYER CAKES from a mix may soon be possible — saving about 100 calories. Both Pillsbury and Betty Crocker are test-marketing mixes with "Lite" on the label. We tried a Pillsbury lemon sample and found it every bit as good-tasting and easy-to-make as more fattening mixes. With the Pillsbury product a 12-serving layer cake weighs in at 130 calories for the cake and 120 for the frosting, per one-twelfth of a standard-size layer cake. Betty Crocker is making vanilla and chocolate "Lite" frosting, at 100 calories a one-twelfth serving. Most frosted layer cakes from a mix are about 350 calories per serving. "Batter Lite" is the trademark of another "light" cake mix for the diabetic and dietetic market — 100 calories a one-eighth slice, sweetened with sorbitol.

OTHER LITECOMERS INCLUDE McCormick's "Lite" gravy mix at 10 calories a serving (brown gravy and chicken gravy mixes). Pizza lovers in Wisconsin and Illinois can try "Diet Lite" frozen pizza, 25 percent lower in calories. And then, there's Pringle's "Light" potato-like chips (the pseudo-chips in the tennis ball can). But the "light" refers to taste and color, not calories.

Workbook Provides Information For Women In Political Arena

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
United Press International
 Office-seeking females no longer need to learn election strategy by serving on the staff of a male's political campaign.

They can leap right past that old-fashioned school of politics and run their own campaigns like professionals — with the help of a campaign workbook put out by the National Women's Education Fund in Washington, D.C.

Betsy Wright, executive director of the Fund and workbook editor, made those points in an interview.

"The record reflects nothing but reasons for optimism in the future," she said.

"In no sense is there a falling back but slow and steady progress."

Some proof: in the period 1975-1977, female membership in city councils in America went from 4 to 8 percent. School board membership, 1973-1977, went from 13 percent female to 20 percent; from 1970 to now, the number of women in state legislatures went from 400 to 900.

The Fund was set up in 1972 to provide information and programs aiming to increase the numbers and influence of women in public life.

Mrs. Wright of Alpine, cut her political teeth in Texas liberal Democratic campaigns for seven or eight years.

She helped run Frances "Sissy" Farentholp's campaigns and was on the campaign staff of Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Texas.

The workbook, in preparation for several years, was put together with help from other pros on campaign trails. Taking nothing for granted, it spells out everything — from the modus operandi for passing out 25,000 bumper stickers to raising money (sometimes by passing the hat) and running public opinion surveys.

Throughout the theme is "keep your eye on the ball," a sports expression meaning if you lose sight of the ball you'll be out of the play and more likely to lose.

"The object of a campaign is to win, the looseleaf workbook starts. Women have been winning. But they hold fewer than 7 percent of all public offices in the United States — despite the fact that a majority of Americans are women, and 'despite the basic American commitment to widely representative, democratic government,' according to Mrs. Wright.

Two women currently serve in the United States Senate. Eighteen of the 435 United States Representatives are women. It adds up to women being 3.6 percent of the total membership of Congress.

In 200 years, 1776 to 1976, the federal government has included:

- 11 women and 1,715 men in the United States Senate.
- 87 women and 9,591 men in the United States House of Representatives.
- No women and 101 men on the Supreme Court of the United States.
- 5 women and 507 men in the President's cabinet.

The record in the state legislatures currently: 702 of 7,562 members are female. That's 9.3 percent of the total.

Women hold roughly 8 percent of all public offices in America today, according to Mrs. Wright. She cited these other facts about women and public life, all showing plenty of opportunities for women with a yen for office:

- States with the highest number of women legislators include New Hampshire, 27.8 percent; Connecticut, 19.8 percent; Arizona, 17.8 percent; Maine, 16.3 percent; Colorado and Washington, 15 percent.
- States with lowest number of women legislators include Mississippi, 1.2 percent; Louisiana, 1.4 percent; Alabama, 2.1 percent; Arkansas, 2.2 percent; Tennessee, 2.3 percent.
- Six states have no women state senators and 18 have only one.
- Women are governors in Connecticut and Washington; three are lieutenant governors, in New York, Mississippi and Kentucky.
- Women hold approximately 16 percent of statewide elective and cabinet offices.
- Among mayors and councilors in municipalities and townships, fewer than 8 percent are women.
- A study of appointed state boards and commissions in 39 states shows that 53 percent of these bodies have no women members. An average of 15 percent of the members of all state boards and commissions are women.
- Women constitute about 20 percent of school board members.
- Women's under-representation lies in part in the resistance — and in some cases the outright discrimination — which women encounter when they seek an active part in the political process," Mrs. Wright said.

There is also resistance from party leaders when women seek to run, and resistance at the polls, from an electorate not yet fully accustomed to women's new roles.

"Women's under-representation also lies in part in women themselves. It is true that more women run each time there is an election, and that steady, although exasperatingly small, gains are made each year. One of the reasons so few women hold office is that so few run..."

In the "Campaign Workbook," Mrs. Wright cites "important" reasons women don't seek public office. They include:

- Draft mythology: "Many women adhere to the myth of the political draft or public interest vineyards. They prove their ability, leadership and reliability, and wait to be called to public office as a 'reward.' In practice, this does not happen; political office must be sought."
- Self-concept: "Many women campaign for office holders, work for office holders, direct lobbying efforts toward office holders, and criticize office holders — but never think of themselves as office holders."
- Fear of rejection: "It is difficult for most persons to put themselves on the 'public auction block' for the first time. But this seems especially traumatic for women since men's socialization processes generally prepare them better to compete for positions in society. Filing for public office is in fact an exercise for the ego of most women. And many potential women candidates — overwhelmed by thoughts that their offer of public service may be rejected — are lost to the 'last-minute filing jitters.'"
- Campaign mystique: "To most Americans, the campaign is a mystical process. Even long-time campaign workers frequently accept this view. Yet campaigning does not involve a 'magic formula' for success; it is no more than a combination of good planning, management, common sense, and hard work."

But why put out a book on how to run for office when there are a lot on the subject?

"There was nothing for the woman office-seeker," Mrs. Wright said. "In addition, the available guides all started with advice on putting together a campaign staff and opening a headquarters — rather than beginning with the first steps of assessment, consideration, and planning."

Mrs. Wright believes that as more women seek and win local offices, the pool of experienced women politicians will grow and there are bound to be more successes for women going after state and federal offices.

"It is a gradual process, but gradually the pool is growing. That is the way to put more women in Congress."

Does Mrs. Wright herself have political ambitions?

"I am keeping my options open," she said.

Q.1—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠Q82 ♦Q1097643 ♣A92
 The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South
 1 ♠ 2 ♠ ?
 What action do you take?

A.—Despite possession of a seven-card suit and reasonable all around values, beware of the danger of a misfit. A response of three diamonds by you would be forcing, probably leading to a rebid of three spades by partner. What do you intend doing then? So pass now and allow partner to reopen the bidding if he has a good hand.

Q.2—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠KJ854 ♥Q93 ♦A♦J3 ♣Q84
 The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South West
 1 ♥ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
 2 ♥ Pass 2 NT Pass
 3 ♠ Pass ?
 What action do you take?

A.—With a minimum hand with six hearts and four diamonds. (With a better hand and 6-4 distribution, partner would rebid two diamonds, then three hearts.) You should be castigated if you considered, even briefly, bidding three no trump.

Q.3—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠KJ9762 ♥A83 ♦Q732
 Partner opens the bidding with three clubs. What action do you take?

A.—Pass. It would be presumptuous on your part to expect you have a better place to play the hand. Even if three spades would be a superior contract, you cannot play there. A response of three spades by you would be forcing and, in all likelihood, partner will rebid four clubs. That could lead to disaster.

Q.4—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠AK852 ♥K ♦J965 ♣AKQ
 The bidding has proceeded:
 South West North East
 1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass ?
 What do you bid now?

A.—Whatever you do cannot be criticized, but for our money, we would gamble out three no trump. Your side has a combined count of at least 26 points. Even if the opponents can run the heart suit, your king will prevent that if the opening is away from the ace.

Q.5—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠J5 ♥72 ♦Q983 ♣AJ1076
 The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South West
 1 ♠ 2 ♠ Pass Pass
 2 ♥ 3 ♠ ?
 What action do you take?

A.—It seems as if East has taken one bid too many. Since your hand should produce three defensive tricks, double; the penalty could be substantial when your side cannot make any contract. If partner is bidding on distribution, he is not honor bound to leave in your penalty double.

Q.6—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠854 ♥KQ94 ♦KJ76 ♣52
 Partner opens the bidding with one spade. What do you respond?

A.—You do not have the values for a two-over-one response, so you must choose between two bids: a raise to two spades or one no trump. We are never eager to raise partner on three low trumps, but we dislike even more responding no trump when our hand contains a weak doubleton in an unbid suit. A raise to two spades is the lesser of evils. Experience shows that partner will usually have a five-card suit when he opens one spade.

Q.7—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
 ♠AQ8752 ♥94 ♦K6 ♣A106
 The bidding has proceeded:
 South West North East
 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass
 2 ♣ Pass 4 ♠ Pass ?
 What action do you take?

A.—In terms of high cards your hand is minimum, but the auction has improved its trick-taking potential—the king in partner's suit is a most important card. Indeed, slam could depend on no more than partner's heart holding. We suggest one move by cue-bidding five clubs, and wait to hear what partner does at his next turn.

Q.8—As South vulnerable, you hold:
 ♠Q9 ♥K109 ♦AJ10652 ♣J7
 The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South West
 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
 2 NT Pass 3 ♠ Pass ?
 What action do you take?

A.—Although partner probably has no more than a doubleton in your suit, your hand merits a move toward slam—you have a good six-card suit, fine intermediates (10s and 9s) and 11 points. The obvious bid is four no trump. That is not asking in this sequence. It's a quantitative raise in no trump, asking partner to bid a slam if he is maximum.

PEACHES AVAILABLE
 Peaches appear at produce markets in mid-July and are available into October. The three popular varieties of peaches are the Red Haven, Elberta and Hale. All three have freestone qualities and are excellent for fresh eating, baking, canning and freezing. Look for golden-yellow peaches with a rosy blush. They should be fairly firm to slightly soft and are best kept in the refrigerator until ready for use.

Yippies Mark 10th Anniversary Of Chicago Riots

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ten years ago a country burdened with the specter of the Vietnam War watched police and anti-war demonstrators clash outside the Democratic National Convention.

The Yippies were there, in the midst of flying rocks, bottles, nightsticks and the violence later called a "police riot."

The Yippies and police again walked the site of the 1968 Democratic convention riots this weekend — in Lincoln Park Saturday and at the statue of Civil War Maj. Gen. John Logan in Grant Park Sunday.

But something — besides the absence of war — had changed.

About 250 Yippies celebrated the 10th anniversary of 1968, calling the occasion

"the Festival of Life." But in striking contrast to the "Days of Rage," they rallied peacefully — smoking marijuana and listening to activist speeches and rock music.

The Yippies made numerous attempts to antagonize police. But this time, the nightsticks did not fly.

The strategy of the police was, for the most part, to stay out of sight. At the rallies, only the trained eye could pick out the few plainclothes police mulling around and an unmarked squad a block away.

On Sunday morning, as the Yippies gathered for a march downtown along Michigan Avenue, they jeered at about 20 uniformed cops nearby. One of the policemen said he hoped everything would be quiet — that the Yippies would just go home when they were done.

"We don't need 1968 all over again," he said.

The rally Sunday was at the Logan statue, which rests atop a small hill at the edge of Grant Park, only four blocks from police headquarters.

The speakers called over the public address system for such things as women's and workers' rights and for an end to pollution and utility bills. Their denunciations of "fascist pigs" and Chicago newspapers echoed off the tall buildings along Michigan Avenue.

hill or sat atop the statue of soldier and horse — from which police yanked down demonstrators 10 years ago. The group included teen-agers and people in their 20s and 30s with small children.

Marijuana "joints" and pipes were passed freely as rock and folk music filled the air. Yippie banners with a green marijuana leaf on a red star inside a black circle wafted in a warm, humid breeze.

From time to time a young Yippie would scream, "Yippie!" from next to Gen. Logan's ear atop the statue and his cry would be matched by several from below.

DR. LAMB

Bleeding Needs Check

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.
DEAR DR. LAMB — Would you please write something about hemorrhoids. I never knew when I got pregnant that I was going to have a life of pain. After 26 years of pain, all the doctor says is, "How are the hemorrhoids today?" And when I would ask what I can do for them he says, "Oh, hot sitz baths, watch your diet and use this ointment."

For years doctors would say, "Oh, they aren't too bad. Wait until they get worse and you can have this operation." It just feels like glass. Then I would talk to other people and their doctor just made an injection and they no longer had any trouble.

Now my obstetrician is deceased and I will not go to a hospital. Why didn't someone do something while they could? Please can you help me. After all these years why isn't there something that can be done that's simple and why aren't more girls warned of this before pregnancy?

DEAR READER — You may have to go to the hospital if you are going to get any satisfactory treatment of your hemorrhoid condition. Remember that hemorrhoids are nothing more than varicose veins of the rectum no matter how irritating and uncomfortable they may be.

These large dilated veins in the area can be either external where all the little sensitive nerves are or they can be internal and not cause any pain at all. The internal type are the ones that are apt to cause bleeding.

The hemorrhoid veins pop out because of excessive pressure that prevents the veins from draining.

Women do develop hemorrhoids in association with pregnancy. The uterus presses against the veins that drain that area.

The treatment depends a lot on the kind of hemorrhoids a person has. The internal type can sometimes be injected, but injection does not work for external hemorrhoids that cause symptoms. Some hemorrhoids involve both internal and external areas. These variations explain why treatment for one patient may be entirely different from the best treatment for still another patient.

In general, hemorrhoids aren't cured unless they are either injected or surgically removed. It is also true that good bowel habits tend to prevent hemorrhoids because that, in turn, prevents excessive straining at the stool.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 2-1, Spastic or Irritable Colon and Constipation to give you some information on proper bowel habits. Other readers who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

It's important for my readers to realize that bleeding often comes from hemorrhoids, but there is no way you can be certain of this on your own. Anyone who has rectal bleeding must see a physician because it may be an early sign of rectal cancer which can be cured if detected early enough. Moreover, an area can cause pressure to create hemorrhoids.

No one, regardless of how young he is or how old he may be, should neglect the symptom of rectal bleeding and simply conclude that it's "just my hemorrhoids causing a little trouble." To do so is to court disaster and possibly to miss the chance to cure a serious or fatal disease.

Peron Transferred To Family Retreat

Buenos Aires, Argentina (AP) — The government transferred former President Isabel Peron from a bungalow at a navy base about 250 miles south of here to "more flexible" quarters at one of her late husband's weekend retreats near the capital, military sources said.

The weekend move was the third for the wife of the late dictator Juan Peron since her government was overthrown by the armed forces in March 1976. She now lives under house arrest at the Peron estate at San Vicente, 18 miles southwest of downtown Buenos Aires.

Schools Seeking Volunteers In Integration Move

Voluntary student transfers are being used to integrate Dunbar High and promote a better racial balance at other senior high schools here.

The Dunbar campus now includes the nearby former Struggs Junior High facilities. The resulting Dunbar-Struggs High School will offer such unique features as:

- An advanced course in watercolor painting and the use of acrylics for career-minded art students.
- Three levels of commercial art, from photography and cartooning to graphics and architectural rendering.
- A jazz-rock laboratory.
- Piano classes for both beginners and advanced students.

- Computer science and programming.
- Optional 7:30 a.m. courses for students who want to get out finish their class day early.
- Extension of "senior study hall" privileges to junior students. This option allows students who schedule a study hall for their last period to leave school during that period.

Also relocated at Dunbar-Struggs will be courses previously maintained at Coronado and Monterey high schools. These classes include distributive education, cooperative health education, industrial cooperative training and home economics cooperative education.

And the school district's electronics course and student radio station will be discontinued at Monterey and moved to Dunbar.

Dunbar-Struggs also will offer honors courses and such competitive athletics as golf and baseball, previously unavailable due to low enrollment.

The idea is to draw Dunbar students from other high schools, notably predominantly white Monterey and Coronado.

Buses will run between the Dunbar and Struggs campuses at the end of each period for students who may have courses in both buildings. Also, the district will provide transportation between Dunbar-Struggs and other high schools throughout the day.

Students may attend Dunbar-Struggs as part-time or full-time pupils. Whatever their status, they will have the option of graduating with Dunbar-Struggs or their previous high school.

Although many students will be transferring from Coronado, Monterey and Lubbock High to Dunbar-Struggs, some students will be transferring from Dunbar-Struggs (and Lubbock High) to Coronado and Monterey. Such transfers are for special courses (agriculture, for instance), or for purposes under the district's majority-to-minority transfer policy.

As a result, the district will provide east-to-west bus transportation as well as west-to-east bus transportation. Students also may choose to drive their own cars.

Buses will leave Monterey bound for Dunbar-Struggs at 7 a.m., 8:25 a.m., 9:25 a.m., 10:20 a.m., 11:20 a.m., 12:55 p.m., 2 p.m., 2:30 p.m. and 3:45 p.m. These buses will arrive 15 minutes later at Lubbock High and go on to Dunbar-Struggs.

Buses will leave Coronado bound for Dunbar-Struggs at 7 a.m., 8:15 a.m., 9:15 a.m., 10:10 a.m., 11:10 a.m., 1:50 p.m., 2:20 p.m., and 3:35 p.m.

Buses will leave Dunbar-Struggs bound for Lubbock High, Monterey and Coronado at 7:30 a.m., 8:30 a.m., 8:55 a.m., 9:55

Busing Order Alters Junior High's Zone

The desegregation court order will have a great effect on students in the Struggs Junior High School zone.

Previously this zone was bounded by 19th Street on the north, Avenue A on the west and 82nd Street on the south, and extended to the school district's eastern boundary (including the Yellowhouse Canyon area).

Under the district's previous integration order, seventh-graders and eighth-graders in the Struggs zone went to Struggs and ninth-graders in the Struggs zone went to O.L. Slaton.

The new desegregation plan first of all reduces the size of the Struggs zone. The western boundary now is Avenue A (also known as Ash Avenue). All students in grades seven, eight and nine who live between Avenue H and Avenue A in the old Struggs zone will go to O.L. Slaton Junior High.

The Struggs building is being closed as a junior high school. Students in the revised Struggs zone — bounded by 19th Street on the north, Avenue A on the west and 82nd Street on the south — will be reassigned in two ways.

All seventh-, eighth- and ninth-graders who live south of 50th Street in the revised Struggs zone (including the Yellowhouse Canyon area) will go to Atkins Junior High. This is a change from the school district's previously announced plan.

For such students a bus will start pickups at 7:15 a.m. at King Avenue and 50th Street. The bus will go south on King to 54th Street, east on 54th to Quirt Avenue, north on Quirt to 82nd Street, and east on 82nd to Yellowhouse Canyon, arriving there at approximately 7:25 a.m.

Two elementary schools, Sanders and Southeast, have been closed under the court-ordered integration plan.

Students in the former Sanders zone, generally the Hub Homes area, have been assigned to the nearby Guadalupe Elementary School.

A bus will begin picking up students at 7:30 a.m. at Fourth Street and Avenue A. The bus will run through the residential area surrounding the old Sanders school and arrive at Guadalupe at 7:35 a.m.

Students from the Sanders area then will follow the reassignment procedures announced for Guadalupe students. In the afternoon, a bus will return Sanders-area students to their neighborhood at about 3:25 p.m.

With the closing of Southeast Elementary, students who reside in that zone will go to Brown Elementary.

One bus will start picking up students in the former Southeast zone beginning

Desegregation Closes Sanders, Southeast

at 7:35 a.m. at Ute Avenue and 49th Street. The bus will go north on Ute to 47th Street; west on 47th to Quirt Avenue; south on Quirt to 54th Street; west on 54th to King Avenue; north on King to 50th Street and on to Brown.

Another bus will pick up students in the south part of the former Southeast zone. This is confusing to some pupils and their parents because some students in this area, though they technically have been in the Southeast zone, have been attending other schools. For instance, elementary students in Yellowhouse Canyon have been going to Roscoe Wilson Elementary. Under the desegregation plan, all students in this southern area will go to Brown.

A bus will start in the Yellowhouse Canyon area, at Quirt Avenue and 61st Street, at 7:15 a.m. The bus will run through Yellowhouse Canyon, make pickups on Quirt Avenue at 74th and 82nd streets, then proceed on 82nd Street. After the last pickup, the bus will go to Brown.

Students bused to Brown from Southeast zone, regardless of their race, will stay at Brown. Unlike other Brown students, they will not be subject to desegregation assignments to Posey Elementary.

The bus from the former Southeast zone will arrive at Brown at 8 a.m. In the afternoon, the bus will make a return trip, getting back to the Yellowhouse Canyon area about 4 p.m.

Myasthenia Clinic Set

HEALTH CENTER (Special) — The official Medical Faculty Masters Clinic for myasthenia gravis patients will be Friday and Saturday at Hi-Plains Hospital here.

Dr. J.E. Tether, physician in charge at the Myasthenia Gravis Clinic at the Indiana University Medical Center, will conduct the clinic. The Northwest Texas Chapter of the Myasthenia-Gravis Foundation is sponsoring the event.

Dr. Tether will begin seeing patients at 10 a.m. each morning. Appointments may be made by calling the Hi-Plains Hospital.

The regular annual meeting of the Northwest Texas Chapter of the Myasthenia Gravis Foundation will be at 7 p.m. Friday at the hospital. Dr. Richard S.A. Tindall of the Southwestern Medical School at Dallas will be guest speaker.

Myasthenia Gravis is a neuromuscular disease which affects the communication between a nerve and muscle caused when the body lacks a substance which functions as an electrical conductor between the nerve and muscle.

Neighbors Pull Plug On Record Attempt

MANCHESTER, England (AP) — Sleepy neighbors put a stop to Paul Anthony's attempt to set a record for playing the electric organ.

The neighbors called the police after the 22-year-old musician had been playing for 36 hours and 19 minutes at the Golden Fry Restaurant. Four policemen arrived shortly after midnight and told him to stop.

The Guinness Book of Records says the celebratory record for the electric organ is 411 hours, set by Vince Bull at Southampton, England, June 2-29 last year.

Magnet School To Instruct Gifted Students

Iles Elementary is now a magnet school, offering special learning opportunities for students throughout the city.

Iles will put an extra emphasis on the arts and on instruction for gifted and talented students; give students additional adult attention by tapping Texas Tech University personnel and resources; and pilot many new trends in education.

Also, Iles will offer supervised activities before (7:30 a.m. to 8:20 a.m.) and after (3 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.) the regular school day.

Transportation will be provided for students attending Iles for the regular school day. Buses will run between Iles and three other sites — Williams, Bayless and Roscoe Wilson elementary schools.

In the morning, a bus will pick up students at Williams at 8 a.m., at Bayless at 8:16 a.m. and at Wilson at 8:30 a.m. The bus will return to Wilson at 3:03 p.m., to Bayless at 3:17 p.m., and to Williams at 3:33 p.m.

Dental Student To Get Welfare

DETROIT (AP) — A University of Michigan dental student has put the bite on Uncle Sam, winning a 30-month legal battle to collect food stamps.

Gregory P. Lynne applied for the stamps in 1975, saying he had only $514 to pay bills for a semester. In considering his eligibility, however, the federal government rejected Lynne's claim for "household expenses" that included a dental instruction kit, lab fees and equipment.

This week, the U.S. Agriculture Department relented. In a consent agreement, it said Lynne could collect.

Earl Scudday Cowboys Get Ready

READY OR NOT, the National Football League race opens next weekend. So it is encouraging that the Dallas Cowboys appear to be at least reasonably prepared for that featured battle with the Baltimore Colts a week from tonight at Texas Stadium.

Not that everything is A-okay with the 'Pokes at this time. The place-kicking problem is serious, after rookie Jay Sherrill blew his big chance against Pittsburgh. By the time this column reaches the readers, it is entirely possible that Sherrill will have been replaced by a kicker with some NFL experience. The Cowboys have not been as lucky about injuries as they were a year ago, either. At least half a dozen players are hobbling around on bad wheels at this time. Most should heal fairly quickly, given a little rest, but the Cowboys will not be at full strength for the opener.

Cowboy officials were a bit on the grim side Sunday, despite that amazing finish that gave the 'Pokes a victory over the Steelers a few hours earlier. Things have not been going all that well the last couple of weeks, and the streak of bad luck continued with the foot injury to promising young running back Todd Christensen Saturday night. Todd had been groomed as a fullback, third-down pass target out of the backfield, and as a backup tight end.

After serious deliberation, the club placed Christensen on the injured reserve list, meaning that he is lost for the entire season.

DESPITE THE PROBLEMS, Coach Tom Landry must have gone to bed after the win over the Steelers feeling much more confident about the Cowboys' chances this season. When the chips were down and the clock was running out against the Steelers, the 'Pokes came through with a dazzling closing act. Quarterback Roger Staubach, long considered one of the best clutch performers in the league, was in top form as he pitched the Cowboys to victory in the final minutes. He had lots of help from that fine corps of receivers headed by Drew Pearson, Billy Joe DuPree and flashy newcomer Tony Hill.

But Roger is the trigger and the catalyst, and he looks more and more like Bobby Layne as one of the great fourth-quarter performers of all time. Dallas' defense, caught asleep and flat-footed by the aggressive Houston Oilers just a week earlier, regained some respect against the Steelers. A team like Pittsburgh is going to make some yards and score some points, but Doomsday II held the Steelers to just one earned touchdown. The other came on a deflected and intercepted pass deep in Dallas territory.

That isn't too shabby against Terry Bradshaw and Franco Harris.

THE COWBOYS HAVE been a great fourth-quarter team for a long time, but it is reassuring to their fans to know they haven't lost the magic touch. Each season the squad changes a little, so it must prove its courage and character all over again.

Just a few days ago, Landry was saying that he didn't have a definite feeling about this Cowboy team. It was too early, he explained, to tell how the 'Pokes would react to challenge or adversity. He also was worried whether the team would have time to jell before the opening of the title race.

"It takes longer for our club to get ready," Landry remarked. "We are a coordinated defense and a complex, versatile offensive team, and it just takes longer to get our units ready. We tried to speed up the process this year, but we haven't been too successful with speeding up our attack. But I hope we are on schedule."

The Cowboy offense got back on schedule that last five minutes against the Steelers.

SHORT SHOTS — Second-year center Jim Cooper played the entire game Saturday as the sub for the ailing John Fitzgerald and apparently did a good job. That eases the load on fine young guard Tom Rafferty, who had to shuttle between the two positions last year when Fitz was sidelined. Cowboy coaches believe Rafferty has All-Pro potential.

The status of veteran tackle Rayfield Wright will be decided within the next few hours. Coaches are not pleased with his blocking and his slow recovery from knee surgery, but they hate to cut a former standout who has contributed so much to the team in the past. Landry must evaluate him on the basis of his present ability, however.

And what is going to happen to No. 1 draft choice Larry Bethea? The big defensive tackle has limped through training camp and played only occasionally in the exhibitions. Will his high rating and physical potential save him from the ax?

Only Landry knows.

Watson Captures No. 4

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Tom Watson is the year's leading money-winner again, holder of four 1978 tournament titles, in position to gain another Player of the Year title and closing in on some other ambitions such as the Vardon Trophy and Ryder Cup.

At least some of those good things can be attributed to the instant, iron-clad and unhesitating adherence to the rules of golf by Tom Kite, who called a self-imposed penalty for an infraction no one else saw, a penalty that eventually knocked him out of a playoff role and let Watson escape with the title in the Hall of Fame Classic.

"That cost me the tournament," a disconsolate Kite said Sunday, then responded to a question: "You're damn right it hurts."

The incident, which occurred well out of the range of the national television cameras and wasn't even observed by Kite's playing partners, Hale Irwin and Howard Twitty, took place on the fifth hole of the final round on the No. 2 course at the Pinehurst Country Club.

Kite had missed a 15-foot birdie putt. He had a tap-in of less than a foot for a par. As he set the club down, the ball rolled, "about this much," he said and held thumb and forefinger less than one-quarter inch apart.

Under the rules, it was a 1-shot penalty. Kite immediately stepped back from the ball and told Hale Irwin, one of his playing partners, "I'm calling a penalty. My ball moved."

Neither Irwin nor Howard Twitty, who were playing with Kite, saw it. Those three eventually tied for second behind Watson — by the margin of the 1-stroke penalty Kite called on himself.

Watson, playing in front of Kite, Irwin and Twitty, was unaware of the incident until after he'd watched both Kite and Twitty fail on long, 18th hole birdie putts that would have sent it to a playoff. Twitty's putt hung on the lip. Kite's just slipped by, and he collapsed in an agonized heap.

"It has to be very disheartening," Watson said. "It's something you have no control over."

He won this one with a 277 total, 7 under par, after a closing 71. He had a commanding 5-shot lead at the turn, then had to hang on against the trio who finished a single shot back. Irwin had a closing 73, including a birdie on the last hole. Kite a 71 and Twitty 67. Danny Edwards came out of the pack with a 65 and took fifth at 279.

Injuries Riddle Quarterbacks

By The Associated Press

And now the season begins for real...except for Bob Griese...and Bert Jones...and Ken Anderson...and perhaps David Whitehurst...and...

It's not the brand of football the National Football League was hoping for this season, not after last year when 20 quarterbacks were sent reeling to the sidelines for various lengths of time by injuries.

On one murderous Sunday, Fran Tarkenton suffered a broken ankle, Bill Munson and Lynn Dickey each sustained a broken leg, Brian Sipe and Terry Bradshaw received shoulder injuries and James Harris limped off with a sprained ankle.

In the off-season, when the NFL wrestled with the problem of injuries in general, the hue and cry died down. It may well increase once more this week.

Last weekend, the final one of the exhibition season (when players are supposed to be working themselves into shape), another covey of quarterbacks bit the dust — along with the usual number of injuries to other players.

Griese's left knee was torn up when he was tackled after throwing a pass during Miami's 24-20 victory over Tampa Bay. Griese will probably be out for at least half the season. Don Strock, who threw just four passes in 1977, will quarterback the Dolphins.

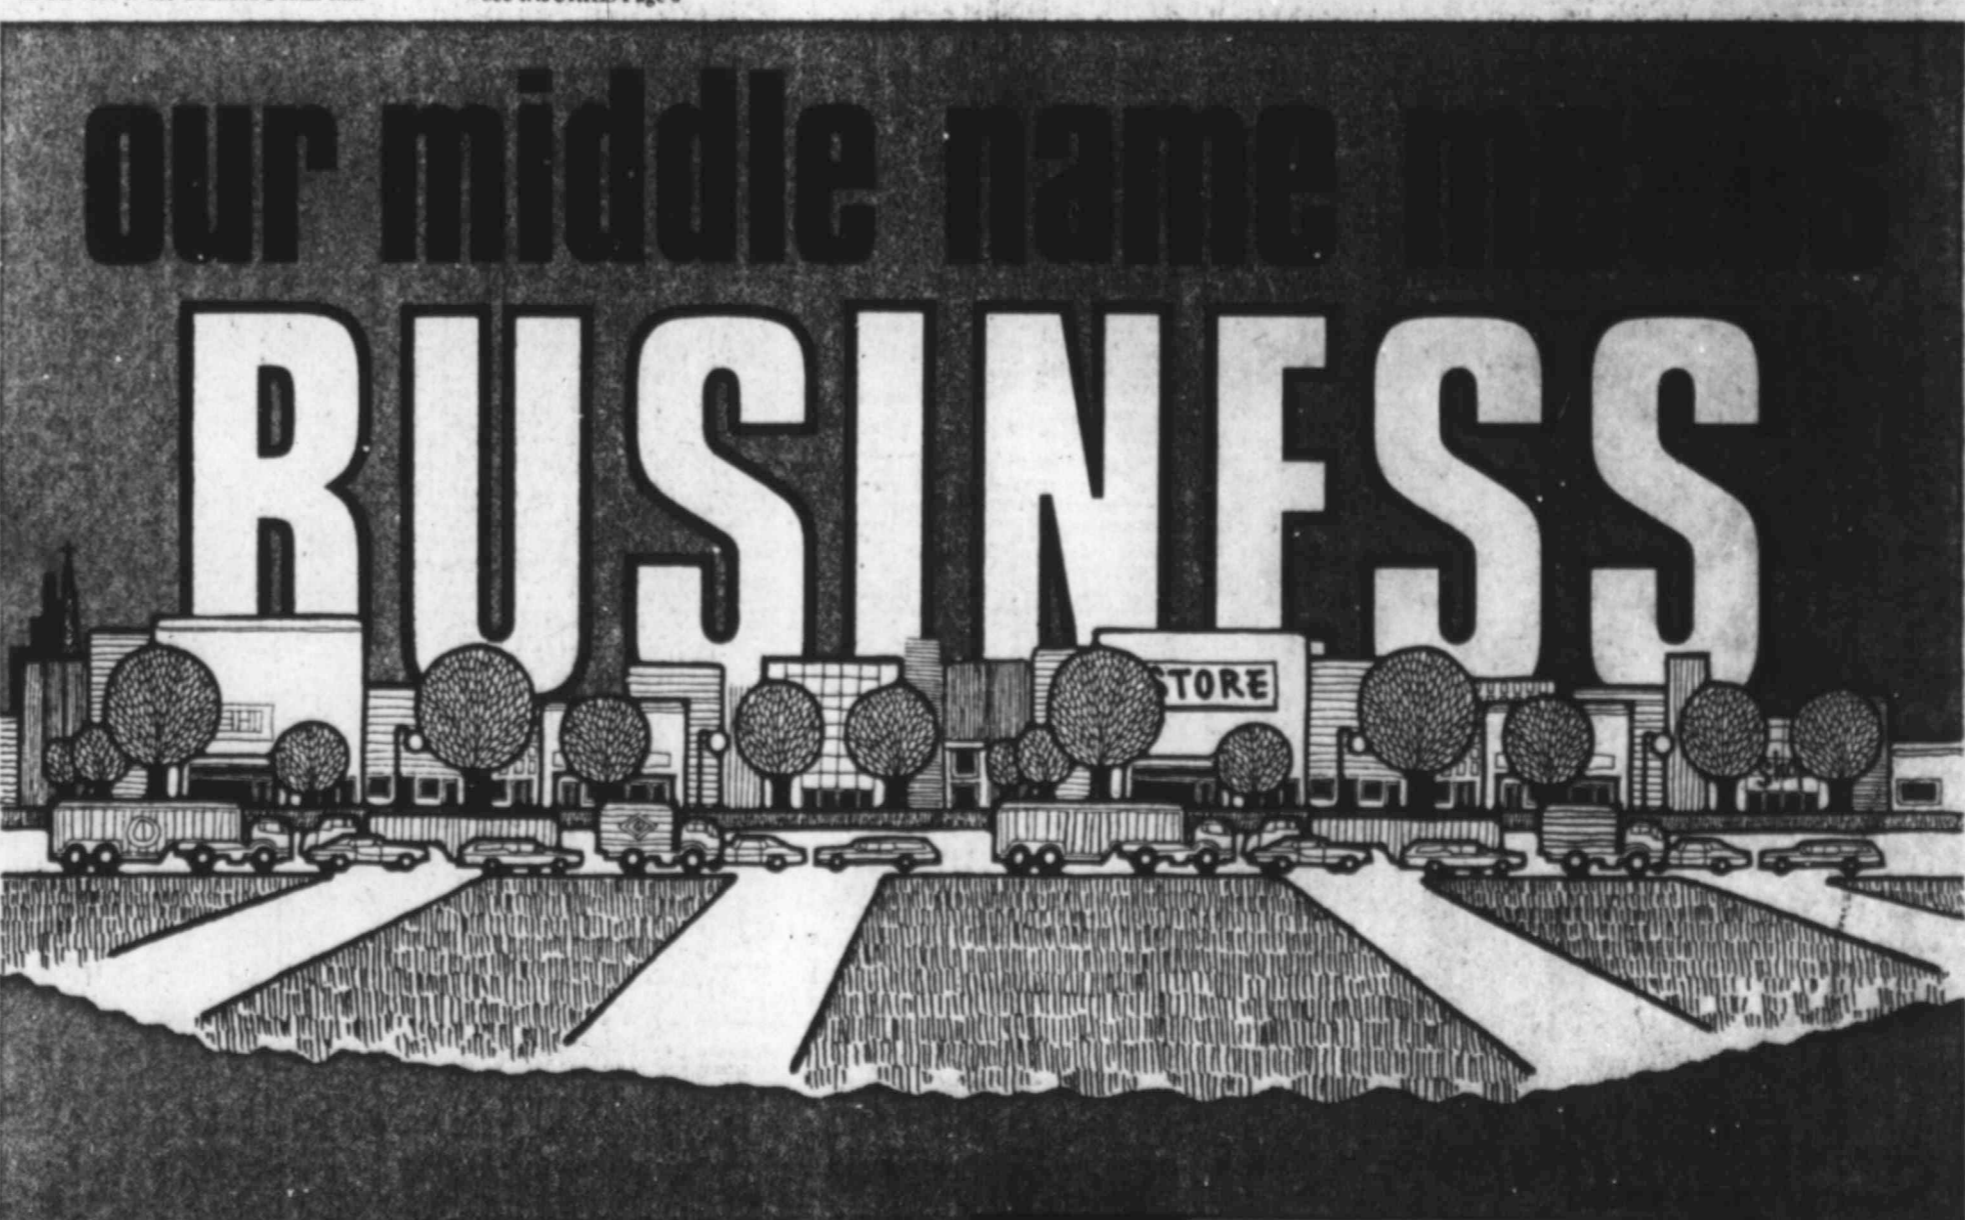

Jones sustained an incomplete separation of his right shoulder when he, too, was tackled during Baltimore's 17-3 victory over Detroit. It's not known how long Jones will be sidelined. Bill Troup is the Colts' No. 2 quarterback — but he's also injured, so Mike Kirkland will probably end up with the job.

Anderson of Cincinnati and Whitehurst of Green Bay were injured in the Bengals' 17-14 triumph. Anderson received a broken middle finger on his right hand, an injury that will sideline him at least four weeks and make John Reaves No. 1.

Whitehurst, who became a starter last year in his rookie season when Dickey was flattened, received a mild dislocation of his left shoulder. Dickey still hasn't made it back from his broken leg —and if Whitehurst can't start next Sunday, Neil Graff will likely become No. 1. In the rest of the weekend's final exhibitions it was Atlanta 10, Washington 7, Philadelphia 14, New York Jets 0. San

Royals Slap Rangers To Regain Lead

By The Associated Press
The hometown Texas crowd at Arlington Stadium was getting on Kansas City catcher Darrell Porter Sunday night, so Porter took it out on the hometown Royals.

He hit a pair of solo homers and Amos Otis drove in two more runs with a homer and single as the Royals ended a four-game losing streak, as well as the Rangers' four-game winning streak, 4-2 and hopped over the California Angels back into first place in the American League West.

"The crowd was really getting me off tonight," Porter said. "They always do."

The reason being that Texas fans blame Porter for a brawl between the two clubs last year.

Elsewhere, the Boston Red Sox nipped California 4-3 in 12 innings, the New York Yankees beat the Oakland A's 6-2, the Detroit Tigers downed the Milwaukee Brewers 4-2, the Baltimore Orioles edged the Seattle Mariners 4-3, the Chicago White Sox blanked the Cleveland Indians 6-0 and the Minnesota Twins shaded the Toronto Blue Jays 3-2 in 11 innings.

"It's just great to be back in the driver's seat," Porter said as the Royals moved one-half game ahead of California after letting the Angels hold on to the lead for all of three days. "Of course, nobody has really taken command of the division this year. You can get four or five games down and still not be out of it, like Texas."

The third-place Rangers are five games out.

Texas starter Doc Medich had a three-hitter and a 1-0 lead until the seventh when Porter led off with his 12th home run of the season. Two outs later, Otis hit his 16th. Porter homered again with one out in the ninth and the Royals added another run when Al Cowens singled, stole second and scored on a single by Otis.

"It was tough in the ninth inning," said winning pitcher Dennis Leonard, who needed last-out help from Al Hrabosky with two runners aboard. "That's the hardest thing. You need one out and you're watching from the dugout and you don't have any control over the outcome."

Red Sox 4, Angels 3
It appeared Boston didn't have any control over the outcome of its game until pinch runner Jerry Remy scored the tying run by sprinting home from second base on a two-out throwing error by California third baseman Carney Lansford in the 12th inning. That put the Red Sox in control and Butch Hobson followed with a game-winning single. The Angels, who tied the score 2-2 in the ninth on Danny Goodwin's pinch double, had taken a 3-2 lead in the top of the 12th on a double by Rick Miller and a single by Don Baylor. A single by Carl Yastrzemski and a walk to Fred Lynn set up the decisive runs in the bottom of the 12th.

Yankees 6, A's 2
Chris Chambliss and Graig Nettles slammed two home runs apiece and Catfish Hunter won his sixth consecutive decision with help the last two innings from Rich Gossage. The game was enlivened by an argument in the fifth inning in which crew chief Russ Goetz had to shove Oakland's Joe Wallis away from second base umpire Nick Bremigan.

Bremigan called Oakland's Mike Edwards out on an attempted steal after hesitating to be sure that shortstop Buckley Dent had not dropped the throw. Edwards was ejected for flinging his helmet. As the teams changed sides, a towel was thrown from the Oakland dugout and Wallis, who was not in the game, charged onto the field. When Wallis began berating Bremigan, Goetz showed the player aside and stepped between the two. Wallis also was ejected.

"I don't generally get on umpires," said A's Manager Jack McKeon, "but these guys are looking for trouble. The first word out of the dugout and the home plate umpire has his head in there. This is the first time in my life I've ever seen a guy kicked out for waving a towel. They want three weeks vacation; that's a good idea. In fact, some of them ought to get a whole season off."

Tigers 4, Brewers 2
Lou Whitaker drove in three runs with a pair of singles and Jim Slaton won his 14th game, despite yielding the 29th home run of the season to Milwaukee's Gorman Thomas. Whitaker singled home a run in the third inning and singled two more runs across in the fifth.

Orioles 4, Mariners 3
Eddie Murray's two-run homer off Enrique Romo in the bottom of the ninth inning following Ken Singleton's double lifted Baltimore to its sixth consecutive victory. It was the 25th homer for Murray, who also doubled home Baltimore's first run in the opening inning.

White Sox 6, Indians 0

tossed a five-hitter for his first shutout and complete game in the majors. He walked one and struck out six and had batting support from Thad Bosley, who collected two singles, a double and a triple.

The 23-year-old Baumgarten said he's made the majors in my mind so much

Cardinals Burn Atlanta 14-3

By The Associated Press
For most of this season, the St. Louis Cardinals have suffered. Finally, however, the enigmatic National League team is playing the way it was expected to.

Hardly lacking for talent with players like Ted Simmons, Lou Brock, Keith Hernandez, Garry Templeton and Ken Reitz in the lineup, St. Louis languished in last place in the NL East for almost four months. Now the Cardinals have hit a hot streak that has seen them victorious in 17 of their last 22 games, including a 14-3 bombing of Atlanta Sunday that was their fourth straight triumph.

"What has turned the Cards around?" "Runs," said Manager Ken Boyer. "Our pitching has been basically good all along. We just weren't putting any runs on the board."

St. Louis put plenty of runs on the scoreboard in Atlanta this weekend. They scored 11 runs Friday, nine Saturday and 14 Sunday.

Reitz led the way with three hits, his 10th homer and three RBI as the Cardinals handed the Braves their seventh straight loss.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Chicago Cubs defeated Cincinnati 7-1, Philadelphia bested Los Angeles 9-3, Montreal won the opener of a doubleheader with San Francisco 2-1 in 10 innings, then the Giants took the second game 11-2. Pittsburgh was an 8-5 victory over Houston and San Diego beat the New York Mets 3-0.

Both Boyer and Reitz think platooning has helped the Cards.

"Since we got Wayne Garrett to play third," said Boyer, "we started playing right-handers against left-handed pitchers and left-handers against right-handers. It has worked out pretty well."

"They are relaxed now," Boyer said of his players. "They know they are going to beat somebody rather than waiting around to see how we beat ourselves."

Cubs 7, Reds 1
Cincinnati would like to get that winning feeling back. The Reds have dropped 14 of 20 since taking a half-game lead in the West on Aug. 6. They're five games behind first-place Los Angeles.

The latest loss was Tom Seaver's 13th in 24 decisions, the most games he's ever lost in one season. Dave Kingman had a three-run homer and drove in four runs for the Cubs.

Phillies 9, Dodgers 3
Philadelphia maintained its 2 1/2-game lead in the East thanks to a healthy hitting display. Bake McBride slugged a homer and three singles and scored four times and Greg Luzinski singled and doubled with three RBI.

Mike Schmidt and Larry Bowa each had three safeties in a 12-hit Phillies attack.

Prospectus

Break up the Buccaneers? Well, they do have that two-game winning streak, the only victories ever in regular season play. Fact is, the John McKay program is beginning to show some results.

Offense

Everything starts with the run. That's because of superstar Payton, who gained 1,852 yards. His foils at fullback are Roland Harper, big Robin Earl. The blocking up front is spirited and at times awesome with such as Noah Jackson, Revie Sorey, Ted Albrecht and Dennis Lick winking out people.

Defense

It'll look strange without Wally Chambers, gone to Tampa Bay, as the anchor up front, but he already spent '77 on injured reserve. That's why they picked up Tommy Hart from 49ers.

Prediction

Expect the Bears in execution to be prototype of the Vikings, where Armstrong got his grid philosophy. But I think they'll go down notch because of over-reliance on Payton.

Cowboys' Improvement Eases Landry's Mind

IRVING (AP) — Tom Landry says there was no comparison between the Dallas Cowboys in their 16-13 victory over Pittsburgh Saturday and their 27-13 loss a week earlier to Houston.

"The guys hustled and worked tonight. We played football tonight and we did not last Saturday," Landry said after the victory over Pittsburgh, which finished exhibition play for both teams.

Not that the Cowboy-Steeler game in Texas Stadium didn't have its disappointments for Landry. The Cowboys threatened twice in the first half and again in the third quarter, but got only one field goal out of it.

But Roger Staubach wiped most of the painful memories away, taking the Cowboys 71 yards in 11 plays and 48 yards in six plays in the last three minutes to turn defeat into victory.

Staubach, who connected on 25 of 46 passes for 334 yards, his second-best passing performance in the pros, hit Drew Pearson with a 17-yarder touchdown pass with 2:46 left and Tony Hill with a 15-yard scoring strike with 31 seconds remaining.

"Dallas has a big-play offense and it played well at the end, that's all," said Pittsburgh linebacker Jack Lambert.

"There were a couple of big plays, and they deserved to win." Terry Bradshaw completed 5 of 10 passes for 96 yards the first half, but only 2 of 9 the last half for 38 yards the last half and was sacked three times for 32 yards in loss.

Bradshaw hit Lynn Swann on passes of 20 and 35 yards to set up Rocky Bleier's two-yard plunge for a 6-0 lead in the first quarter, but Roy Gerela missed his third try for the extra point after offsides calls voided his first two kicks.

Staubach was intercepted once, when linebacker Jack Ham deflected his pass into the arms of defensive back Tony Dunny. Dunny took the interception and dashed 16 yards into the end zone for Pittsburgh's other touchdown and a 13-3 lead.

Bradshaw, playing with a mask to protect a broken nose, went all the way for Pittsburgh. Staubach sat out only the last half of the second quarter. Danny White completed 4 of 6 passes for 23 yards, finding up an interception to Mike Wagner that gave Pittsburgh the ball on the Dallas 46 in the final minute of the first half.

Bradshaw threw a bomb to John Stallworth, who outleaped Cliff Harris and Aaron Kyle in the end zone for the apparent touchdown reception, but an illegal motion call wiped it out.

Staubach brought the Cowboys from their 35 to the Pittsburgh 25 late in the third quarter, but three straight penalties nullified completions of 2, 22 and 45 yards, and a long field goal try failed.

Injuries Hit Quarterbacks

New England's Sunday victory, built on No. 1 quarterback Steve Grogan's touchdown run and No. 2 quarterback Tom Owen's scoring pass, enabled the Patriots to wind up as the only unbeaten team in the exhibition season. On the other end of the spectrum, Buffalo and Chicago wound up as the only winless teams in the preseason.

"I am hopeful that Griese will rehabilitate and be able to help us the second half of the season," Miami Coach Don Shula said after it was determined that his quarterback would wear a cast for three weeks. After that it will be decided whether Griese will undergo surgery or attempt to play.

The last time Griese was seriously hurt, in 1972, Earl Morrall guided the Dolphins through a perfect season, then Griese took over in the playoffs and Miami wound up at 17-0 with a Super Bowl title.

Hamlin Wins First LPGA Tournament

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — The celebrity attention Shelley Hamlin received for winning her first LPGA tournament Sunday was just as surprising to her as the victory itself.

"Do you always have champagne after every tournament," she asked, spying the winner's libation on the tables. "I haven't ever done this before, you know. In fact, I've never gone into a press tent."

Miss Hamlin's personality reflected the champagne she drank — bubbly. The 29-year old former National Collegiate champion from Stanford had just sunk a 6-foot birdie putt on the 18th hole to claim a one-stroke victory over Kathy Whitworth in the $75,000 Patty Berg Golf Classic at Keller Golf Course.

"I love to talk too," she warned reporters. "You probably won't be able to shut me up now."

Miss Hamlin fired a 4-under par 69 for a 10-under, 54-hole total of 208. Miss Whitworth, who started the day one shot behind second-round leader Marlene Floyd, birdied the first four holes, but suffered through two double bogeys on the back nine to finish with a 72.

"I folded like a wet noodle," said Miss Whitworth, the LPGA all-time leading money winner and a member of the ladies' Hall of Fame. "I don't know how else to put it. For 52 holes I held it together. Maybe next time I can hold it together for 54 holes."

Miss Whitworth was 13-under par at one point and held a two- or three-stroke lead through most of the final round. But her first double bogey came at the 14th hole and she missed a 5-foot bogey putt on 17 for the other.

Miss Hamlin, meanwhile, was 11-under through 16 holes. "When I looked back at Kathy's scoreboard on 17 I figured I had a chance. I thought if I parred 17 and birdied 18 I'd be okay," said Miss Hamlin, who picked up a winner's check of $11,250.

She took a bogey on the rugged 17th hole, however, leaving her in a dead heat with Miss Whitworth.

"After I left the 17 I was a little disappointed in myself," Miss Hamlin admitted. "I knew I had to birdie 18, and everything went just right."

Miss Floyd and Jeryl Britz tied for third with 9-under totals of 210. First-round leader Barbara Moynihan, who shot a tournament record 65 Friday, dropped out of contention with a 77 and finished at 216.

YOU'RE KIDDING—Shelley Hamlin stares in disbelief after her 18th hole, 6-foot birdie putt as she won the Patty Berg Golf Classic in St. Paul, Minn. Sunday. She carded a 4-under-69 Sunday for a 54-hole total of 208. (AP Laserphoto)

Zahn Grabs Dirt Victory

Don Zahn, who a few weeks ago sold Lubbock Speedway so he could concentrate on driving instead of running a race track, hit the payoff Saturday, piloting his No. 81 sprinter to wins in the heat, semi and main at the now-dirt southside oval.

Charley Bolton was the spoiler that blocked a clean sweep, taking the trophy handed out by Jody Davis, who rode to the presentation in a glistening black 1922 Ford touring car.

Bolton trailed Zahn to the checker in the main and had third place finishes in the heat and semi.

Crashes marred racing in the modified stock car division, with Don Sutch hitting the wall during the hot laps and Charley Whorton following suit during the feature. Jerry Winton won his second modified main of the season as Jimmy Bilbrey and Larry Johnson both exited the fray with mechanical problems.

Andretti Nabs Easy Victory

ZANDVOORT, Netherlands (AP) — Two decades after he started car racing, veteran U.S. driver Mario Andretti looks like he's ready to hit the jackpot and win the Formula 1 world championship following an easy victory in the Dutch Grand Prix.

"Mario has got the world title sewn up and he deserves to win it," Austria's reigning world champion Nikki Lauda said after Sunday's race on the Zandvoort circuit, where he lost his last hope of defending the title.

The only man who can catch Andretti, 38, in the three remaining races is his Lotus teammate Ronnie Peterson, but the Swede is bound by his contract to play second fiddle to the American and he has promised he'll do just that.

Andretti led the Dutch event from start to finish with Peterson tucked in behind him all the way in second place. Lauda, driving a Brabham-Alfa, finished third, 12 seconds back. The victory gave Andretti 63 world championship points, followed by Peterson with 51 and Lauda way back in third with 35.

"I must admit that there is not much that can go wrong, but all the same I'll have to play it cool," Andretti said. "I feel in good shape, although obviously I'm under a lot of pressure."

If he wins the world title, Andretti will be the first American to do so since Phil Hill back in 1961.

Andretti, who was born in Italy but moved to the United States when he was 15 and now makes his home at Nazareth, Pa., is looking forward to the next Grand Prix at Monza in Italy on Sept. 10. "It's always been at the back of my mind to appear at Monza and be on the way to winning the world championship," Andretti said.

Plainview's Prospects Bright, Sherwood Says

By RUSS PARSONS
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff

PLAINVIEW — The sky was slate gray, it was cold and it was raining for the first time since practice started this summer. It was also coach Greg Sherwood's first press day at Plainview High School.

"I can't believe it," he mused. "I think it's been 17 years since it rained last." Sherwood isn't used to such disappointments. The last five years he coached Spearman High School and in his tenure, never lost a district game.

"I don't think we've gotten that tight a hold on things," he said. "Not so that we can control the rain."

There was an unspoken "YET" at the end of that statement. The Bulldogs are picked to be one of the top teams in West Texas this season and are supposed to battle Monterey to the wire for the district 4-AAAA title.

"We think we have a fine football team," said Sherwood, sounding exactly like a football coach. "But we have an extremely strong schedule."

"Of course, we're also putting in a new offense and defense," he continued. "We're getting used to those things still so we can run them under fire."

But with a team like this, even Bear Bryant couldn't complain for too long. "I think we have an excellent offensive line," Sherwood said. "We've got a lot of starters back there. We also have some good runningbacks, but they're no better than the line."

"I still support that old saying that 'it's what's up front that counts.'"

What's up front right now is led by tackle Kelly Raper, a 6-4, 230-pounder. The line averages 210 pounds a man.

The other starters are Kevin Igo (6-0, 190) at guard, center Bruce McWilliams (6-1, 185), guard Tim Burge (6-0, 230) and tackle Grant Taylor (5-11, 215).

The offensive backs have some size too. Running fullback out of Sherwood's new wing-T offense is Royce Coleman (5-11, 195). And the halfback, moved from linebacker last year, is Ervin Davis (5-11, 210).

Right now two players are alternating at quarterback. Scott Sherwood is a 5-11, 175-pounder. His competition is Bruce Wesley (5-9, 160).

All totaled, eight starters are returning on offense for the Bulldogs this year. The defensive line is almost as big as the offensive group. A pair of fireplug defensive tackles lead the way. Gary Russell only stays 5-7 but weighs in at 220. His partner is Robert Wafer. Wafer is a little taller (5-9) but also holds 220.

The ends are Jay Miller (6-2, 195) and Luis Rios (5-10, 200). Linebackers are Don Palmer (5-10, 185), Mike Smith (5-10, 185) and Mitchell Hearn (6-11, 175).

Sherwood says that only two spots in the defensive secondary are nailed down right now. They belong to William Brown (5-10, 160) and Mitchell Hearn (6-11, 175).

Last year the Bulldogs managed a 6-3-1 mark and finished 2-1-1 in district play, a game and a half out of first place.

This year, unless Sherwood's 107-29-2 career mark lies, should be worse better. "What we're doing here is what we've had success doing other places," Sherwood says. "I think they'll probably let me stay two or three games before they fire me. That's better than George Allen," he joked.

"Seriously, I'm optimistic about this year. I think we have to improve in consistency and stop making mistakes."

1950s TV Hero 'Captain Video' Making Comeback In Movie

By VICKI VARELA
NEW YORK (AP) — He was "Captain

Video," hero of hundreds of episodes of a popular 1950s TV space show.

But when the show ended, so did Al Hodge's acting career, for no producer wanted someone so identified with one role.

Now Hodge is making an acting comeback as a CIA agent in a new movie, his first role since his six-year run as the heroic space captain ended in 1956.

"I am tickled pink to be back," the 60-year-old Hodge said as he signed a contract with producer Irwin Schiff for the movie "The Killing Season."

"Captain Video," billed in the '50s as "television's most famous space show," featured a time machine in which Hodge traveled in each episode.

It had as much impact for young people in the 1950s as "Star Wars" or "Star Trek" has today, said Stan Epstein, who was assistant director of the weekday show.

As Hodge signed his movie contract, a tape of one of the old "Captain Video" shows was running. Only about six tapes have been preserved, the others discarded accidentally about 10 years ago.

"I think this is the first time I have seen the show since it went off the air in 1956," Hodge said, moved by the memories it stirred.

"Captain Video" was filmed live five days a week from 1949 until 1956. Hodge was paid $60 a week for the Dumont network show, which was carried by 165 stations.

Hodge maintains his fine physique, but his hair has grayed and his eyes show that the last 20 years haven't been easy ones.

"Libraries, men's stores, real estate, clerical work. I have done it all since the 'Captain Video' days," Hodge said. "Unfortunately, there has been no show business work."

Hodge said people recognize him as "Captain Video" more often than you would think, "and often greet him on the street as 'Captain'."

He returns to crime-fighting in his upcoming movie, which will be filmed in Canada in September.

CAPTAIN VIDEO MAKES A COMEBACK — Actor Al Hodge, left, is shown as "Captain Video" with sidekick, "Ranger" Don Hastings in a scene from the 1950s TV series. Hodge is returning to television and acting after more than two decades. This time he will portray a CIA agent in the movie, "The Killing Season." As to his absence, Hodge explains no producer wanted an actor so identified with one role. (AP Laserphoto)

Tomorrow's Horoscope

By Bernice Bede Osol

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You could find yourself in an embarrassing position tomorrow if you pal around with those who are able to spend more freely than you. Don't be caught short.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) There will be much opportunity about you tomorrow, but you're not apt to take advantage of it unless you strongly discipline yourself.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Experience and logic will not lead you astray tomorrow, yet you are liable to depend more on fanciful thinking and draw conclusions that aren't factual.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Take care in any transactions you have with slight acquaintances tomorrow. You could easily be taken advantage of because of your generosity and good nature.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Lack of initiative will erase the good fortune that surrounds you tomorrow. Be prepared to roll up your sleeves. Major goals can be realized.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) It's very probable you'll mistakenly rely upon another to take care of something important that you could do better yourself tomorrow.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) People will be paying a lot of attention to you tomorrow, so you must be careful of the image you project. By all means don't try to upstage another.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Double check to be sure you don't slight anyone if you're inviting a few pals over to the house tomorrow. You'd feel worse than the person overlooked.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Don't let an emotional person dissuade you from doing things in a way your reasoning tells you it should be done, or things will go awry for everyone.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Just because your pocket will contain extra cash tomorrow is no excuse to spend frivolously. Your wastefulness will only harm you.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Because you're in such good spirits, you'll let those in your charge get away with things they shouldn't tomorrow. They'll try the same thing again later.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You're instincts will be good tomorrow, but if you allow imagination to run rampant, it's liable to play tricks on you. Don't overanalyze your hunches.

Group Sees Record In Air Passengers

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's airlines continued to carry record numbers of passengers in July, leading the Air Transport Association to predict that the airlines will transport a record 275 million people by the end of the year. That would compare to the old record of 240 million in 1977.

The association attributed much of the surge to widespread discount fares, reporting that nearly half the passengers this year have flown on low-cost tickets. In its monthly report, the association said the 23 U.S. scheduled carriers had an increase of passengers in July of 20.5 percent over the same month in 1977.

U.S. May Help In Developing Vietnam Oil

HONOLULU (AP) — U.S. companies will have a chance to participate in the development of Vietnam's oil and natural gas resources if trade relations between the United States and that communist country are restored, a congressman says.

"It was brought out very forcefully that the Vietnamese are interested in the exploration of oil and gas both onshore and offshore," U.S. Rep. Sam Hall Jr., D-Texas, said Sunday as he and six other congressmen returned from Vietnam.

The special House committee went to Vietnam and Laos for a six-day visit and were given the remains of 15 American servicemen killed in the Indochina war. The remains, 11 from Vietnam and four from Laos, were flown to Hickam Air Force Base on Sunday and taken to a laboratory for positive identification.

Vietnamese officials said there had been some drilling for oil and natural gas in the Mekong River delta and they expected drilling in North Vietnam, Hall said.

"There has been some production, not in commercial quantities I don't believe, but enough to find out that the oil they have discovered is a very low sulphur content oil of less than 2 percent sulphur content," he said at a news conference.

The Vietnamese officials have been contacted by several Western oil companies expressing interest in exploring for oil, Hall said.

Exxon is among the interested companies, Hall said, but is hamstrung by the lack of formal relations between Vietnam and the United States.

Vietnamese officials said "they will try to strike a deal with some companies and stated, in essence, that once a deal has been made, those who are not involved in the oil and gas program will probably be left by the wayside," Hall said.

Hall and the other congressmen said they would support the normalization of relations with Vietnam and the lifting of the U.S. trade embargo against that country.

Boeing Expecting Additional Orders

SEATTLE (AP) — The president of Boeing Commercial Airplane Co. says the firm expects to end 1978 with about $6 billion in orders for existing production airplanes and new models.

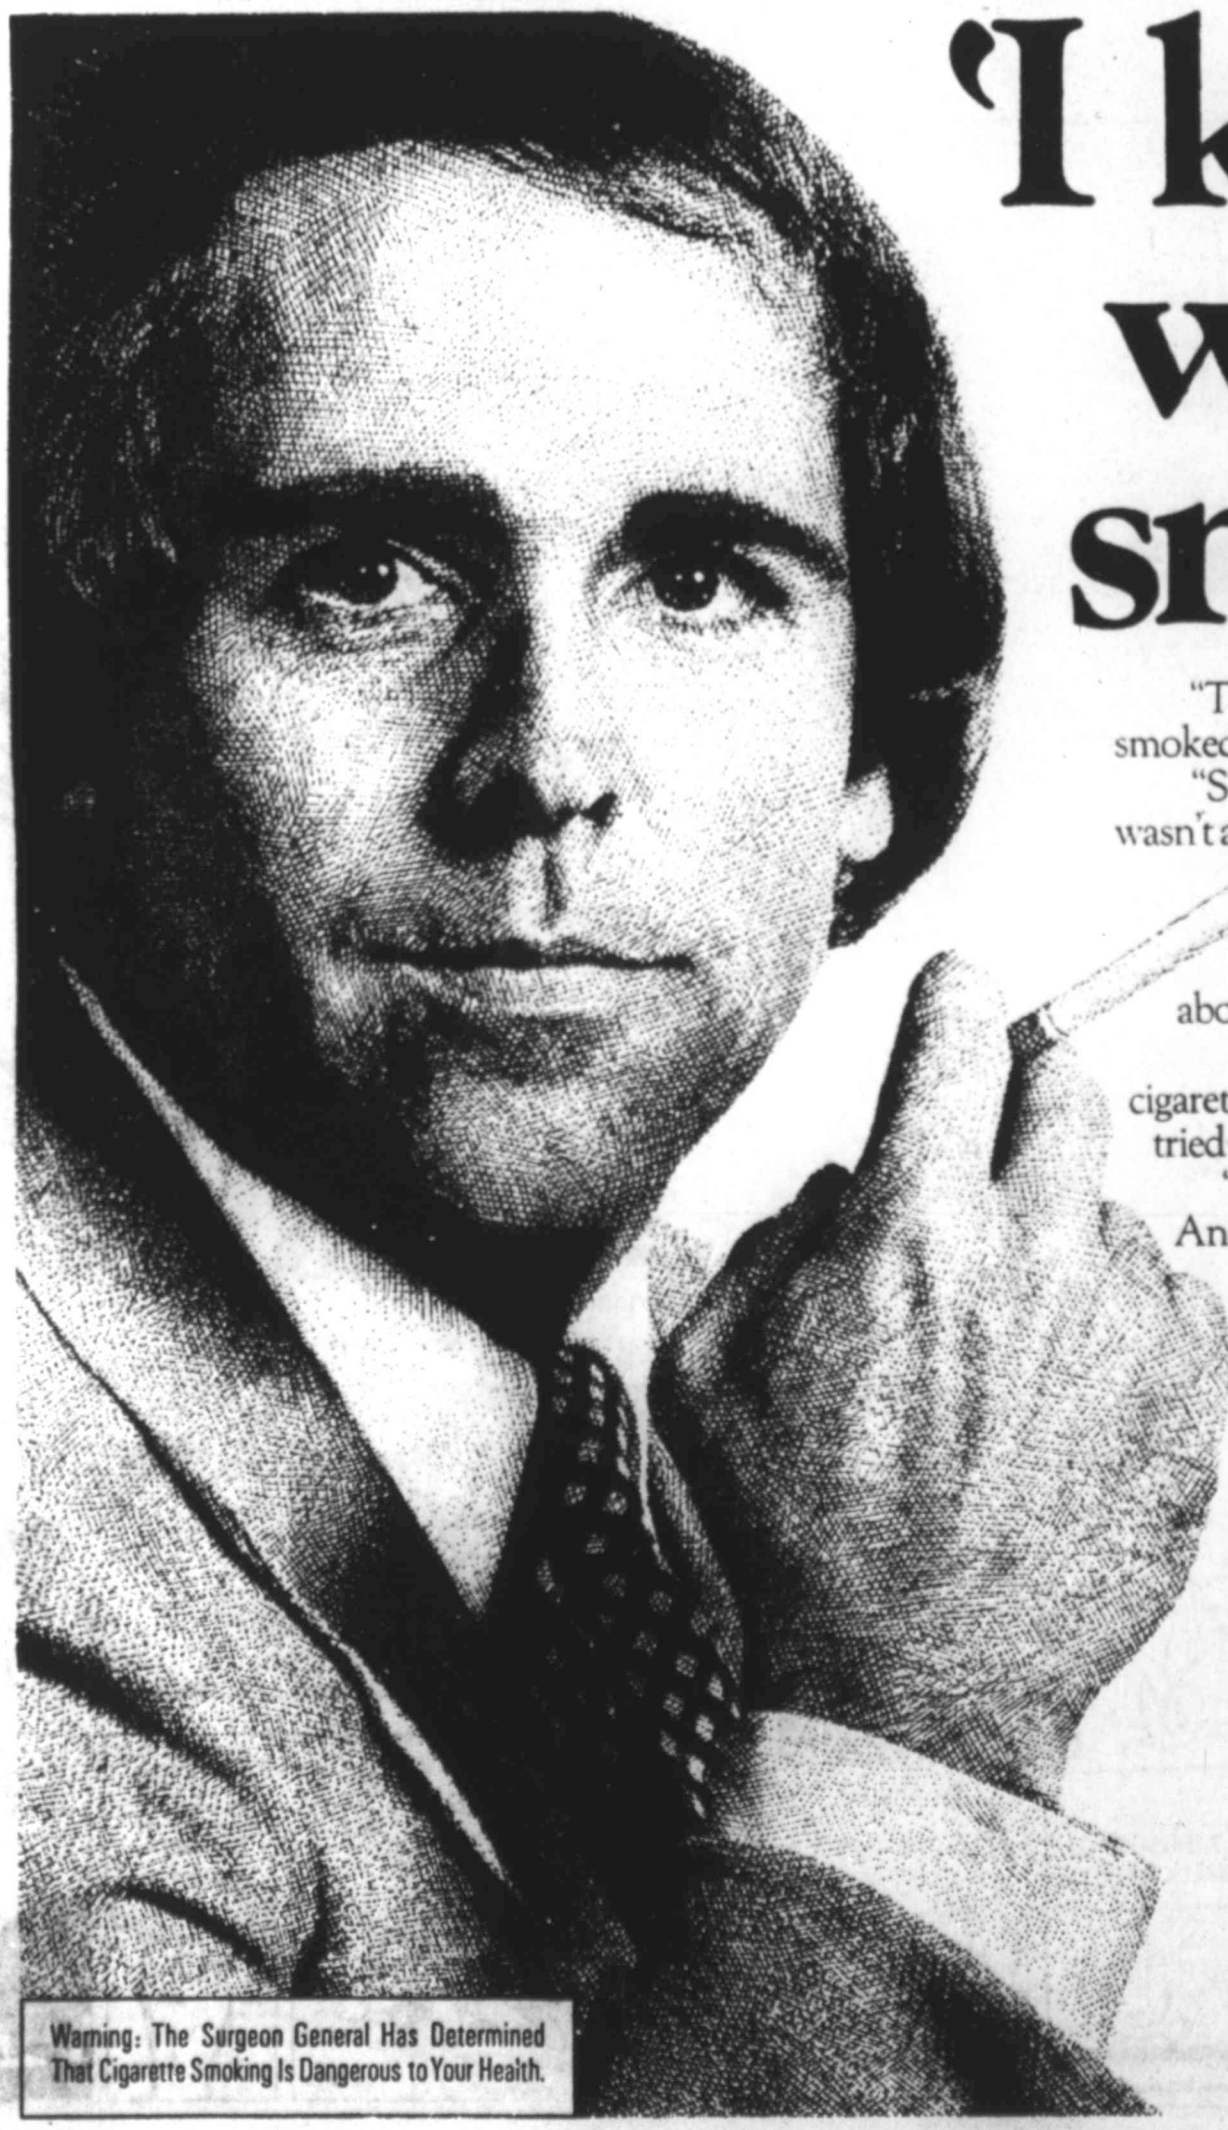

E.H. Bouliouin said that so far this year Boeing has won orders for about $3.3 billion worth of 727s, 737s and 747s. That figure does not include the yet to be completed United Airlines order of 30 Model 767 twin-engine airliners.

'I know why I smoke!'

"There's only one reason I ever smoked. Good taste.

"So when I switched to low tar, I wasn't about to give that up. If you don't smoke for taste what else is there?

"But there was all that talk about tar.

"Unfortunately, most low tar cigarettes tasted like nothing. Then I tried Vantage.

"Vantage gives me the taste I enjoy. And the low tar I've been looking for."
