Absentee Voting Begins Monday In Local Elections

Absentee voting will start Monday in the three elections which will be held in Robert Lee April 3. Voters who wish to vote absentee may cast their ballots from 20 days until three days before the election. The absentee voting period in this year's elections begins March 15 and continues through March 30. Saturdays and Sundays are not voting days.

Absentee voting may be done by personal appearance by those who are going to be out of the county on April 3. Others who will be unable to get to the polls may vote by mail. Persons who wish to vote absentee by mail should send a request for a ballot and other necessary papers to the proper officers in time to receive the ballot and return it before the deadline.

Requests for absentee ballots should be sent to the city secretary in the city election, to the Robert Lee School in the school trustee election and to the county clerk in the hospital director election.

Deadline for filing for the positions was Wednesday of last week, a few hours before the Observer's deadline. However, there were no more candidates to file in any of the races.

It is apparent that the most interest is in the school trustee election where six candidates are on the ballot to fill the three spots which will become vacant in April. None of the outgoing trustees filed for reelection, so the field was left wide open for the newcomers. The order in which the names will appear on the ballots follows:

For School Trustee
Joe Ash
Mary Herring
Gaylon Pitcock
Ben Bessent
Donnie Robertson
Les Gray

HOSPITAL ELECTION

All three of the incumbent directors of West Coke County Hospital District filed for reelection, but a contest developed when Mrs. Rheba Taylor filed as a candidate for one of the director places. Three directors are to be elected from a slate of four candidates. Here's the way the names will appear on the ballots:

For Hospital District Director
Rheba Taylor
T.M. Wylie Jr.
Wayne McCabe
Steve Oleksiuk

Nancy Rasco Attends Library Info Workshop

Nancy Rasco, librarian at the Coke County Library attended the Library Information Services workshop at Western Texas College in Snyder on Feb. 10 and 11, sponsored by the West Texas Library System at Lubbock and the Big Country Library System at Abilene. The workshop was designed to help local librarians provide better information services to adults and children in West Texas communities.

Librarians heard Margaret Nichols from North Texas State University at Denton discuss the kinds of questions library patrons ask and how librarians can help patrons find the answers to those questions accurately and quickly both in-person and over the telephone. Common reference books, such as dictionaries, encyclopedias, almanacs, directories, that all libraries own, were recommended as good sources for the kinds of questions that the average library user asks.

Ken Dowlin and Anne Harrington from the Pikes Peak Library District in Colorado Springs discussed the question: How will patrons get answers to questions in the future? Dowlin and Harrington believe the future is now. The computer system developed for the Pikes Peak Library District serves homes and businesses, by allowing users to telephone the library and receive information delivered on their home or business computer screens. Dowlin described other electronic services available to library users in some parts of the country - a video reference service that enables questions to be answered over cable channels or provide community television programming originating from the library.

Although many of the librarians attending agreed that such electronic reference service is not likely to be available in public libraries right away, they all agree that such service is right around the corner. Dowlin stressed that the time is coming soon when all libraries, large and small, will be linked together by computer terminals, so that library patrons will have access to books and information from a wide geographic area.

More than 50 librarians attended the workshop, representing 61 counties in west and central Texas area.

HOW MANY DISABLED PEOPLE?

How many disabled people are there in the United States? Good question, but did it ever occur to you how difficult it is to answer?

The reason: two other questions have to be answered first. What is a disability? Who decides who's disabled?

In most disability surveys in the USA, a sampling of people are asked whether they have any handicapping conditions which stand in the way of working or going to school or keeping house or whatever. They have to decide for themselves whether to answer "yes" or "no."

With many, there's no problem. You're blind or you're not; deaf or not; in a wheelchair or not. But with many more, the answer could go either way: controlled epilepsy; history of mental illness; heart condition; some hearing loss; some vision loss; some trouble walking; and so on.

If you're in one of these "iffy" categories, whether you answer "yes" or "no" depends on many things:

- Are you working or not? Somehow, people at work are less likely to think of themselves as disabled as people not at work.
- How do your family and friends consider you? If they constantly concentrate on your disability, if they constantly try to do things for you rather than let you do things for yourself, you are likely to think of yourself as disabled.

So you can see that we can never get a completely accurate count of all the disabled people in America. But we can get a fairly accurate estimate. And in doing so, we learn a couple of important truths about disabled people:

• It is important for disabled people to work, not just for the obvious reasons of making a living and being independent, but also for the less-obvious reason of thinking more positively about themselves.

• It is important for families and friends to think positively about disabled people as whole people and not just as bundles of disabilities. Positive thinking by families leads to positive thinking by disabled people.

P.S. How many disabled people are there in the United States? The U.S. Census Bureau, in a hefty sample in which people were asked to define themselves, found that one in eleven adults is disabled, physically or mentally. It's a good rule of thumb to apply to our own communities: one in eleven.

The buck starts here.

Making a start is probably the most important step toward saving.

There is a way to take the initial step and know you're on the right track toward a regular, scheduled savings. Just join the Payroll Savings Plan at work. A little is taken out of each paycheck toward the purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds. You don't have to worry about making a special effort to put something aside each payday. It's all done for you. Automatically.

The bucks start piling up, the interest grows, and you realize you've found one surefire way to save.

Take stock in America.

When you put part of your savings into U.S. Savings Bonds you're helping to build a brighter future for your country and for yourself.

Abuse of Alcohol

How much is too much? That question is being asked more frequently by persons who drink or those who are concerned about possible abuse of alcohol by friends or relatives.

Make no mistake. Alcohol is a drug. As a result, people who drink set themselves up for possible damage to their bodies. While the adverse effects of alcohol on the liver are fairly well known, other results of drinking may be even more destructive.

Among the specific dangers:

Brain and nervous system destruction. The possibilities are behavioral aggressiveness, mental deterioration and poor judgment. Heavy drinking among younger persons can lead to permanent brain damage even before irreversible liver damage occurs.

Cancer: Chronic consumption of large amounts of alcohol increases the risk of liver, mouth or esophagus cancer. Cancer of the lungs, pancreas, intestine and prostate also have been related to excessive alcohol consumption.

Lung diseases. Alcohol is believed to diminish the breathing function. When combined, smoking and drinking have a synergistic effect, which means their combined impact is greater than simply adding the two together.

Drug metabolism. Because of its effect on the liver, alcohol may interfere with the body's metabolism of other drugs. Many drugs, from aspirin to antihistamines, can be delayed in removal from the body.

The Annals of Internal Medicine recently disclosed that the 10-year mortality rate was lowest in persons who consumed two or fewer drinks per day. A drink is defined as an ounce of whiskey, glass of wine or 12 ounces of beer. People who had six or more drinks per day, however, had a doubled mortality rate.

Alcohol increases the amount of so-called good cholesterol-HDL or high-density lipoprotein. That explains why some believe moderate alcohol consumption can lower the risk for coronary artery disease--the cause of heart attacks.

Anyone with experience with alcohol knows the other, darker side of the story. For example, heavy consumption actually increases the risk for other forms of heart disease, such as direct damage to the heart muscle.

Although some scientists believe that a couple of drinks a day may be beneficial, the problem is that nearly 20 million Americans cannot control their drinking. For them, any alcohol is too much.

Plan Now For Retirement

People planning to retire in early 1982 should start making serious plans right now if they have not done so. A part of this planning should be applying for Social Security retirement benefits, Frank Upp, Social Security district manager in San Angelo, said recently.

Applying for benefits at the proper time is very important, Upp said. This is because benefit payments are geared to the month of application.

For example, a person applying after reaching 65 generally can receive benefits for up to six months before the month of application, but not before the month he or she reaches 65. A person applying between 62 and 65 cannot generally get any benefits for months before the month of application.

In addition, a person can receive benefits only for months he or she meets eligibility requirements for the entire month. Generally, this means that unless a person was born on the first day of a month, he or she cannot get a benefit for the month of his or her 62nd birthday. The first benefit payable is for the following month.

Before applying, a person should gather the required evidence. This includes his or her Social Security card or a record of the number, birth or baptismal certificate, and forms W-2 or self-employment tax returns for the past two years. If this evidence is not available, the people at the Social Security office may be able to suggest substitutes.

An application can be made either in person or by telephone, whichever is most convenient. The application process can be started by phone and completed by mail.

More information about Social Security benefits can be obtained at the San Angelo Social Security office, located at 2214 Sherwood Way. The telephone number 949-4608.

"LAYAWAY PLAN" KEY TO HEALTHY ECONOMY

The Reagan Administration's current budget is based on buying a healthy economy on the "layaway plan," and it's critical that the next installment payment (proposed budget) be made, according to U.S. Cong. Phil Gramm of College Station. Speaking to about 200 bankers and agricultural lenders at the 30th annual Farm and Ranch Credit Conference at Texas A&M University, Gramm said "it's important that we not back down from attacking things that have left us in this sorry state." He said that deficit spending by the government was the main culprit for today's economic woes.

LADY GOLFERS INVITED

The Ballinger Ladies Golf Association is having its annual Invitational Golf Tournament June 5, 1982, at the Ballinger Country Club. "Please reserve this date on your calendars," the women said. Flyers will be mailed within the next few weeks.

4-H Rifle Club

The Coke County 4-H Rifle Club had a practice session Sunday afternoon with seven shooters participating. Rifle Coach Richard Johnson didn't keep scores on the senior shooters, as time was spent on shooting positions and techniques.

Senior shooters present were John Walker, Phil Stephens, Kim Caston and Douglas Roberts.

Junior shooters present were Tina Hines who turned in a 71 score in prone position, Kerri Bilbrey who had a score of 68, and Claudette Walker, who was having trouble with her rifle sights, had a 55.

Word was received last week that James Paul Skipworth, a junior shooter, placed 78th in the National Rifle Association nationwide ratings, based on scores shot in two sectional championships in 1981. There were 298 shooters in his age bracket entered in the sectional championships from across the nation.

Next practice session will be at 2 p.m. Sunday, March 14.

DPS Changes Recruitment Requirements

Colonel Jim Adams, Department of Public Safety director, announced today that "effective with the June recruit class, DPS trooper candidates may substitute law enforcement-related experience for the current educational requirement of 60 college hours. Thus, applicants with two years of commissioned law enforcement experience or two years of honorable active military service would be eligible for a waiver of the two-year college requirement. Likewise, one year of such qualifying experience could be substituted for one year of college work."

"This temporary modification is intended to increase the reservoir of qualified applicants yet ensure a continuance of the high personal standards which have been the hallmark of the department's success."

"An evaluation of the results of the temporary modification of educational requirements will be conducted to determine whether a continuation is justified."

Colonel Adams said the DPS hopes to recruit 268 new troopers this year, including the 92 who presently are in training.

Recruits live in the DPS law enforcement academy in Austin during the 18-week training course. The starting monthly salary for recruits is $1,223. Upon graduation, the officers are paid $1,347 per month plus allowances for uniforms and equipment.

These salaries will increase Sept. 1, 1982.

"The Department continues to emphasize the recruitment of minorities consistent with our philosophy that a law enforcement organization must be representative of the community it serves," Adams pointed out.

Of the 92 recruits scheduled to graduate from the law enforcement academy on May 14, 1982, 35 are members of minority groups. There are six women in the class.

USE OLD SLACKS

Use your "old" slacks or jeans to make toddler's slacks or shorts in a jiffy, says a clothing specialist.

Adjust the grain lines, cut the front pattern piece from one leg and the back from the other leg.

Add pockets, trims, elastic and hem, and you have it, says Alma Fonseca, on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

For out-of-town business, picking up a phone can cost less than dropping a line.

The stamp on a letter is only a small part of the cost of doing business by mail. You have to include the cost of secretarial time, materials, mail handling and overhead. That adds up to something like $6.63*. You can do a lot of business with long distance for that amount, take care of orders faster, and save time and energy as well.

Plus you never have to lick stamps.

CONSIDER ALL-RISK CROP INSURANCE IN 1982

Farmers have no public protection for their 1982 crops unless they sign up soon for all-risk crop insurance, with the elimination of disaster provisions in current farm legislation. Farmers must now take action, such as purchasing crop insurance, if they want to reduce their exposure to production risk, explains an economist with the Texas A&M University System. All-risk crop insurance, available through the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC), allows a farmer to choose the protection level he wants for a particular crop. Some closing dates for spring crops are close at hand.

EXTENSION EXTRAS

To most Coke County residents, microwave cooking is something fairly new and different. However, the use of microwaves in cooking dates back to 1940.

A microwave is a high frequency, electromagnetic wave, much like ordinary daylight and radio waves. The waves used in cooking appliances are less than five inches long and cork screw shaped. Radio wave lengths vary from three feet to many miles.

Microwaves penetrate about one inch of food. Food does not cook from the center as believed by many. As the waves cause food molecules to vibrate, the friction heats the food. Microwaves cause no chemical change in food.

BRONTE, TEXAS

Motorcycle Recovered

Sheriff Marshall Millican said this week that a motorcycle stolen about three months ago was recovered in the north part of Abilene Wednesday of last week.

The vehicle belonged to Garland Richards and was taken from the Chadbourne Ranch northeast of Bronte. The cycle was valued at $2,000. Millican said it was slightly damaged, but the person who had possession of it had ordered a new part to replace the damaged part. No charges had been filed as of Wednesday morning, but investigation was continuing, the sheriff said.

No burglaries have been reported during the last week, Millican said, and "things have been pretty quiet, giving us some time to do some investigative work."

WTU Granted Rate Increase

West Texas Utilities Company has been granted an interim rate increase for power sold to its wholesale customers.

The increase was approved by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, effective Feb. 26, 1982, and will remain in effect until final resolution of a rate application filed last October by WTU.

The interim rates granted will result in an increase of $3.5 million, or 8.1 per cent, annually from 14 rural electric cooperatives, one municipality, and one investor-owned distribution system.

In its application, WTU had asked for a $4.3 million increase to become effective Dec. 15, 1981. The FERC initially suspended this increase for five months, which would have delayed the effective date of the new rates until May 16, 1982. Granting the interim rates has the effect of shortening the suspension period and allowing lower rates to go into effect subject to refund.

The FERC decision follows closely the increase in retail rates granted by the Public Utility Commission of Texas effective Feb. 12.

At General Telephone... We're Not Simply Talking About Service Improvements We're Making Them In Robert Lee

At General Telephone, better service isn't just a goal, it's a solid commitment. General Telephone spent over 354 million dollars in 1981 on capital expenditure projects (i.e. new electronic switches, expanded cable projects, modernization), and GTE will spend over 410 million dollars in 1982 to provide you the best telecommunications available.

For Robert Lee this investment in service improvement is working as shown below. General Telephone is working hard to continually provide you with the best of service.

The Texas Public Utilities Commission (PUC) has established certain standards in public hearings, and our service results are listed against those standards.

March 8: Was the birthday of Oliver Wendell Holmes, foremost American jurist of his time and justice of the United States Supreme Court. He was born on this day in 1841.

March 16: On this day in 1751, James Madison, fourth president of the United States, was born in Port Conway, Virginia.

March 21: Johann Sebastian Bach, the great German composer, musician and organist, was born on this day in 1685.

March 26: Was the birthday of Robert Frost, American poet, celebrated as one of the poetic interpreters of New England.

These famous birthdays were researched for the importers of Johnnie Walker Red, whose people have created a unique "greeting card" gift box that provides gift-givers with a gift and a greeting card in one. Now you can give a bottle of scotch and a pictorial birthday card at no extra cost.

S.A. Bishop Confirms 18 Young People

Bishop Joseph A. Fiorenza administered the Sacrament of Confirmation to 18 young men and women on Sunday, March 7, at Our Lady of Guadalupe Mission. The confirmation ceremony took place during the regular Sunday Mass at 10 a.m.

Confirmed were: Stephen Garza, Rosemary Costilla, Lee Ann Molinar, Lupe Munoz, Armando Sanchez, Michael Sanchez, Raynaldo Tijerina, Abel Torres, Benito Torres, Emma Torres, James Torres, Lupe Torres, Johnny Torres, Joe Lewis Torres, Mariabel Torres, Michael Torres, Ray Torres and Sally Ann Torres.

Following the ceremony, members of the confirmation class assisted Bishop Fiorenza in breaking ground for the congregation's new church, which is scheduled to be under construction within a few weeks. Ray Torres and Rosemary Costilla joined Bishop Fiorenza and Father Mark Woodruff, pastor, in turning shovelfuls of dirt marking the beginning of construction.

The entire congregation and guests completed the day's festivities with a covered dish dinner in the old recreation hall at the City Park.

The confirmation ceremony marked the third time confirmation was administered at Our Lady of Guadalupe Mission. The ceremony commemorates the self-commitment of the young people to church membership and the Christian way of life.

Angelo Service For Mrs. Brosh

Funeral services were held in San Angelo last week for Mrs. L.A. (Terry) Brosh, 53, sister of a Robert Lee businesswoman. Mrs. Brosh died at her home in San Angelo, Thursday, March 4. Rosary was said at 6 p.m. on Friday in Johnson's Funeral Home Chapel. Mass was at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday in Sacred Heart Cathedral, the Rev. Fred Nawarskas officiating. Burial followed in Calvary Cemetery.

Survivors included her mother, Mrs. Edna Owens of Bronte, a sister, Mrs. Virginia Frazee, San Angelo, owner of the Roadrunner Grocery in Robert Lee, a niece, Mrs. Billy Matlock of Bronte, and other relatives.

TYING KNOT LATER

Tying the knot -- it's happening later in life these days. As many young people postpone marriage and the rate of divorce increases, more and more marriages today involve individuals in their late 20's and early 30's, says Diane Welch, a family life education specialist.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Jacobs and children of Pasadena brought Mrs. Jacobs' mother, Mrs. V.M. Box, home over the weekend after a week's stay in their home. Mrs. Box has just returned from Athens, Greece, where she was under the care and treatment of a well-known cancer specialist there. The family also visited Mr. Jacobs parents, Mr. and Mrs. O.B. Jacobs, and other relatives.

WALLACES ATTEND ORDINATION SERVICE

Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Wallace Jr. were in Abilene over the weekend where they were guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Jack and Pam Wallace.

Also visiting were Dr. and Mrs. Jackie G. Smith and Jessica of Stephenville and Mr. and Mrs. Troy Millican of Sterling City.

Sunday the families attended services at Northwest Church of Christ, where in a special service Sunday morning, Jack Wallace and Milton Pullen were ordained by the congregation to serve as additional deacons. Lunch and fellowship followed the morning services.

COTTON FARMERS LIKELY TO REDUCE ACREAGE

Most Texas cotton farmers will likely participate in the 15 percent acreage reduction program recently announced by the Secretary of Agriculture, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. While participation is voluntary, farmers must comply if they wish to be eligible for target price protection and Commodity Credit Corporation loans on their 1982 crop. And that's incentive enough since farmers are faced with a poor price outlook for this year's cotton crop due to surplus supplies.

Mrs. Irene Maples and Mrs. Curtis Walker spent the weekend of Feb. 27-28 in Odessa. Mrs. Walker visited Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Walker and family while Mrs. Maples visited friends and attended to some business.

The Caribbean Basin Development Plan

For more than 400 years the people of the Western Hemisphere have shared the dreams and anxieties of building a new world. Since the time of Christopher Columbus, most of our forebears have come to this part of the world in search of a better life for themselves. Virtually all — descendants of the land and immigrants alike — have had to fight for independence and strive to retain it.

Our own history demonstrates that man's unsatisfied aspiration for economic progress and social justice can best be achieved by free men working within a framework of democratic institutions.

It is in this spirit that the President recently outlined his Caribbean Basin Development Plan. Briefly stated, the plan is aimed at combating Communist influence in Central America and the Caribbean through increased assistance, trade preference, and investment incentives. The emphasis is on what we can do to improve economic conditions in that area.

Some have hailed the proposal as being as important as the Marshall Plan was in rebuilding Europe following World War II. The broad outlines of the plan — under preparation since last spring — call for an immediate increase of $350 million in financial assistance to the region, preferential tariff arrangements for its products such as sugar and rum, and incentives for U.S. firms to make job-creating investments in the area. The centerpiece of the program is free trade for Caribbean Basin products exported to the United States for a period of 12 years. Much of the proposed program requires congressional approval.

Those of us who are faced with making decisions affecting our future must consider the program with an eye toward what could happen on our southern flank. The foes of freedom fear peaceful attempts to develop because it makes the message of the radical ring hollow. Cuba and its Soviet backers know this, as well as others who participate in the export of revolution and the import of repression. The record speaks for itself. Nowhere in its history have the promises of Communism been redeemed. Rather, the movement has a legacy of exploitation and aggravation.

To underscore what the President said in his recent message to the Organization of American States, I believe free and peaceful development of the Western Hemisphere requires us to assist governments confronted with aggression from outside their borders. We must do whatever is prudent and necessary to ensure the peace and security of the Caribbean area. The thrust of the proposed assistance is to help our neighbors to realize freedom, justice and economic progress.

Out of our common past, the Americas have emerged as more equal and more understanding partners. The Western Hemisphere has an unlimited potential for economic development and human fulfillment. We have a combined population of more than 600 million people. Our continents and our islands boast vast reservoirs of food and raw materials. We cannot, however, ignore the events unfolding in the Caribbean Basin and in Central America because the people of this hemisphere are in a fundamental sense fellow Americans. Freedom is our common destiny. A neighbor's call for help is addressed to all of us. It is, in fact, fundamental to our own security.
