On Sunday, March 7, Bishop Joseph A. Fiorenza of the Diocese of San Angelo led members of the congregation of Our Lady of Guadalupe Mission in a prayer

Preparations Being Made For Election

County Democratic Chairman Martin Lee ordered ballots and election supplies for the May 1 primary which will be held in Coke County and over the rest of Absentee voting is scheduled to start April 12 and continue through April 27. Lee said voters should locate voting registration cards and take them to the county clerk's office when voting absentee. "It will save quite a bit of paper work if you have your registration card with you if you vote absentee," the chairman said, "or if you vote in the regular election on May 1.'

MEET THE CANDIDATES

" "Meet the Candidates" gathering is planned for 7 p.m. Monday, March 29, in the Robert Lee Recreation Center. Everyone is invited to attend and visit with Considerable activity has developed in three races with three candidates out for each job. Contests have developed in the races for county judge, commissioner of precinct 2 and commissioner of precinct 4. Candidates in the other local races have no opponents.

Coke County will have six voting boxes this year: Precinct 1 at the Rec Hall in Robert Lee: Precinct 2 at the City Hall in Bronte; Precinct 3 at the Courthouse in Robert Lee; Precinct 4 at the Community Center in Tennyson; Precinct 5 at the Old Depot Building in Bronte; Precinct 9 at Pecan Baptist Church at Green Mountain.

service and ground breaking for the congregation's new church. The brief ceremony followed the regular Sunday Morning Mass at which 18 young people received the Sacrament of Confirmation.

The new church will be built by McRan Construction of San Angelo. The heating/air conditioning units will be installed by Gideon Sheet Metal of Robert Lee. Some interior work will be done by members of the congregation.

Completion of the structure is scheduled for early May.

Registration Deadline For Voting Nears

The Deadline to register in order to be eligible to vote in the May 1 primary elections in Texas is fast approaching. The law says a person has to register 30 days before he is eligible to vote, and that April 1 date is Thursday of next week.

Persons who want to vote in the primaries should go by or send in an application card to the office of Coke County Tax Assessor-Collector O.B. Jacobs at Robert Lee before the final day.

Some detailed information on voting, including qualifications, is being carried in another story in this week's newspapers. However, the main qualification for being eligible to register is to be at least 18 years of age before the

Young people, particularly high school seniors, may be eligible to vote in the primary elections and should make application before the April 1 dead-

City, school and hospital district elections are coming up in Robert Lee April 3, but anybody who is not registered has already waited too long,

Contractors Seek Writ To Force Fees For Work

The entire membership of the Coke County Commissioners' Court was further pressed for action this week when two county contractors, Johnny Moore and Donald Saunders, filed a citation in 51st District Court for the issuance of a writ of mandamus to force the commissioners' court to set fees for doing private road and dirt work with county equip-

Meeting Called To Set Rates

It was learned Wednesday just before noon that the Coke County Commissioners' Court met at 10:45 a.m. in executive session. The only information released from the closed meeting was that a special meeting of the court has been called for 10 a.m. Monday, March 29, for the purpose of setting rates for private road ment and personnel.

A reliable source that chose not to be identified said that County Commissioners Jerry Parker, Finis Millican, George Newby and Bobby Vaughn and County Judge D.W. Sims are listed as respondents in the case.

The matter of using county equipment and road personnel for building private roads and . performing other private dirt work jobs, without receiving any compensation for the county, has been a sore spot with county contractors for some time.

Moore and J.D. Harmon, Robert Lee contractor, went before the commissioners at their first meeting in February and tried to get a rate schedule set up, but the matter was tabled. A story in the Feb. 5 edition of The Robert Lee Observer and The Bronte Enterprise, compiled from interviews on Feb. 2, states, "(Harmon and Moore) met with the court to request that the county set up prices for doing work on private property, but they said they had no success in their appeal to the commissioners to comply with a law which went into effect Jan. 1, 1981, to allow the use of county equipment and personnel to do private work in small counties (under 5,000 population), but requiring the work to be paid for at a competitive price."

The Feb. 5 story continues: "The request of the two contractors to get the commissioners to act on the matter was tabled and they (the contractors) said it was the second trip they had made to a commissioners' meeting and the first one turned out the same way."

The publisher of this newspaper, upon being alerted Tuesday afternoon to the potential court action, called County Judge D. W. Sims, who is one of the respondents.

Judge Sims, upon being questioned, said, "I think we could have avoided any litigation by handling our responsibilities and complying with the law, as I advocated before the commissioners' court on several occa-

"My major concern at this particular point," he said, would be whether or not we are going to comply with the law or whether we are going to spend taxpayers' dollars to fight the setting of rates."

When asked how much he thought it would cost to fight the request for the writ of mandamus, the judge, who has made no bones about the validity of the law and the necessity for the county to set rates for private work, said, "From a taxpayer's standpoint, it would probably cost Coke County $10.000 in attorney's fees, since any further litigation would probably include an application to the court for plaintiffs' attorneys' fees for a suit that has no defense. I'm against trying to defend something that's indefensible with taxpayers' dollars. The only thing we can hope for is a delay of the inevitable.

A telephone call to County Attorney Bill Helwig was pretty fruitless in shedding light on the matter. When he was asked to comment on the filing of the citation, his comment was, "No comment, no comment."

A check of this newspaper's file on Feb. 5 shows, however. that Helwig did have an opinion on the matter at that time.

Absentee Voting to Continue Through Tuesday, March 30th

Absentee voting will continue through Tuesday, March 30, in the three elections which will be held April 3 in Robert Lee. Considerable interest is expected in the school trustee and hospital director election where contest have developed. The city election has only one candidate for each of the vacancies coming up.

A check Wednesday morning with absentee voting clerks showed unusual interest in the school trustee race with 26 ballots cast. This is an unusually high number and three days remain. Eight persons have voted absentee in the hospital director election and two have cast absentee ballots in the city election.

Six candidates are listed on the ballot for the three vacancies on the school board. Candidates are Joe Ash, Mary Herring, Gaylon Pitcock, Ben Bessent, Donnie Robertson and Les Gray.

Hospital director position are not sought by so many candidates; however, four persons filed for the three vacancies. Names on the ballot are Rheba Taylor, T.M. Wylie Jr., Wayne McCabe and Steve Oleksiuk.

The city election is the quiet one this year with no opposition to the incumbents who are seeking reelection. Listed on the ballot are Mayor Robert Vaughan and Council Members Alice Beaty and Wilson Bryan.

The Green Mountain School and P.T.A. entertained a large crowd Friday night with an interesting program, ole fiddler's contest, and pie supper. The following program was rendered: songs by the primary grades, violin music by Mr. Whitely, readings by Tom Billie Smith, Hazel Ruth Peay, Gertrude Landers, and Florene Hines, songs by Fanette Clemients and Claudia Vest, jokes by Densil Burgess, and music by the Jones boy's band. In the ole fiddler's contest were R.E. Whitely, Mr. Powers, Mr. Whitely and Joe Schooler, Mr. Whitely Sr. won the prize and walked off with the pie. Miss Pauline Burgess won the big cake for being the prettiest girl and the cake brought $8.75. A pie was given for the ugliest man, D.K. Smith received the largest number of votes. Charley Thompson came in next and Mr. Smith passed the artificial pie on down to him. The pie supper was a big success. The P.T.A. thanks everyone and especially Luther Bruton who furnished all the good old coffee.

Fishing has been fast and furious at Lake Spence this last week. Stripers have been somewhat slower than white bass, crappie, and black bass, but great catches are being reported. It is common for families to turn in counts of 60 to 100 white bass and crappie. Some success by trotliners on catfish have been reported but slow on rod and

A record striped bass had been reported (one weighing 29 pounds!). Lake superintendent Mike Ross verified the catch but said the whopper was caught on a trotline and would not qualify for a record. The fact remains that Richard Bohannon's big striper proves we've got some good'uns in there! Fishermen are also excited about the fact that the black bass seem to have made a comeback after a lull of 3 or 4 years, two being reported this week over 7 lbs.

High winds have laid some, after a month of it, and it promises to be a good spring for fishermen.

Now used for storage, it housed several articles of furniture, tools, and other items, including a $1600.00 television set belonging to Mrs. Elkins' son.

The blaze apparently resulted from the cleaning and burning off of high weeds, limbs and trash on the back of the lot by family members. Unnoticed, it had burned too close to the storage building, igniting it for a total

Jim Morrow Honored As County Conservationist The Year

Jim Morrow of Bronte was recently honored as Conservationist of the Year in the Coke County Soil and Water Conservation District.

A banquet was held in the Houston Harte Ballroom on the ASU campus to recognize all award winners in the area surrounding San Angelo. Eight conservation districts sponsor the awards program to recognize farm and ranch operators who carry out good conservation programs on the land they operate.

Morrow owns and leases farm and ranchland east of Bronte. Brush managements, range seeding, fencing and good grazing management are some of the practices that have been carried out on the rangeland by Morrow. Small grain is usually planted on the cropland fields. The land is terraced and contour farmed to help prevent erosion on the cropland.

Forage production has been greatly increased by reseeding grasses such as sideoats grama, Indiangrass, sand bluestem, and caucasion bluestem. Proper grazing and periodic deferments have helped maintain the stand of

"Morrow is very knowledgeable in the design and operation of the various kinds of grazing systems in his work on the Chadbourne Ranch," SCD officials said. "He is to be commended for the work he has done in the field of resource conservation in this area," they added.

Quoting from the Feb. 5 story:

'County Attorney Bill Helwig was contacted after the two men who appeared in commissioners' court Tuesday morning. He said he has had no formal complaints filed in regard to the new law.

Helwig said he was sympathetic toward both sides of this matter. However, he added that the new law has been passed and is going to have to be obeyed.

'I told them (the commissioners) last December they should set rates (for work with county equipment and personnel) but they tabled it.

The county attorney said he would like to see a public meeting held where the law could be explained to everyone.

"I don't think anybody's out of line," Helwig said, "but I do think it's a matter for the commissioners and the people to understand."

Noting that private work has been going on for years, Helwig said, "I think the law is there and it is going to have to be abided by, but I think the citizens should understand the limitations of the commissioners. It is a law of the state and something our commissioners will have to deal with."

NOTICE OF TAX RELIEF AVAILABLE TO CERTAIN HOMEOWNERS OVER 65

Homeowners who were 65 years of age or older on January 1, 1979, and failed to receive their school district homestead exemptions in 1979 have until April 10 of this year to do so. In this way, elderly homeowners will be able to take advantage of the school tax freeze associated with the $10,000 homestead exemption.

According to a law passed by the 67th Legislature, over-65 homeowners who were qualified for the school homestead "tax freeze" in 1979, but who did not receive their homestead exemption, may file an application with the chief appraiser of the Coke County Appraisal District at 710 Austin St., Robert Lee, Texas.

Eligible over-65 homeowners in Coke County must make application to the Coke County Appraisal District.

To qualify for this tax relief, a homeowner must have satisfied these requirements on January 1,

- * Been 65 years of age or older
- * Owned his home
- * Used that home as his residence homestead

The chief appraiser of the Coke County Appraisal District will consider all applications and notify each applicant before April 15, 1982. If the application is approved, the chief appraiser will make an entry on the appropriate school district's 1982 appraisal amount of school tax the over-65 taxpayer should have paid in 1979, had he applied for and been granted the $5,000 general homestead exemption and the $10,000 over-65 homestead exemption. No refunds of taxes paid may be given for 1979, 1980, or 1981.

For 1982, the taxpayer's school taxes on his homestead may not exceed the amount of taxes the school district would have imposed on the homestead for 1979, had the taxpayer received his homestead exemptions. This frozen tax amount will remain the same as long as the homestead remains the same.

Cotton owes a lot to electricity

Electricity is needed for irrigating, then ginning, compressing, spinning, weaving, washing and ironing cotton. Yet with all this electric assistance the cost of power is a tiny fraction of the cost of the finished product.

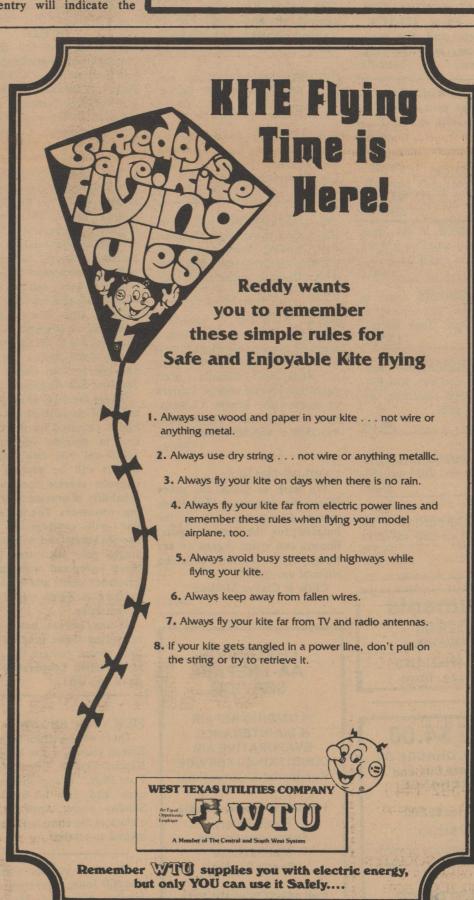

Cooperative electricity is vital to the production of food and fibre. Thus, rural electric power at its lowest possible cost, a forty year tradition with the electric cooperative, is advantageous for all Americans.

Concho Valley Electric Cooperative, Inc., P.O. Box 2140, San Angelo, Texas, 76902, announces its intent to construct 10.0 miles of 69KV transmission line in Sterling County, 0.5 miles of 69KV transmission line in Tom Green County, and 1.5 miles of 69KV transmission line in Coke County. One new distribution substation is planned in Sterling County, West of Sterling City; one in Coke County near Silver; and one in Tom Green County, South of San Angelo.

These facilities along with 212 miles of associated distribution line is required for the Cooperative to provide service to an additional 900 new consumers that it will be serving and to reliability of service to the existing consumers. The transmission line will conform to R.E.A. specifications and will consist of single pole structures carrying three energized wires and one grounded static and is similar to existing facilities owned by the Cooperative.

If any person has questions regarding these proposed facilities, please contact Concho Valley Electric Cooperative before April 26, 1982.

FILM TO BE SHOWN

Jerry Lackey's Country Folk

P.O. Box 1542 San Angelo, TX 76902

In visiting the other day with Reagan Brown, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, we discussed a number of things, but one which stood out concerned fire

These pesty little critters were first heard of when they became a problem some 15 years ago in the South. They started their westward movement from Mississippi like unto an army. When they arrived on the Texas border their path left 124 million acres in nine southern states damaged.

When this writer wrote a series on the subject back in 1976 (which was carried on the Associated Press and won a state award), the ants had reached Fredericksburg. Since that time, a nest has been found and treated in San Angelo.

Commissioner Brown says 107 counties have been infected. "But help is on the way," he smiles. "The federal government has allotted $900,000 in the Texas eradication program. This money is being matched by Texas farmers and ranchers and the agriculture department.

More studies have been conducted. "We thought there was one queen to each colony. Now researchers are telling us there are several queens in a colony and breeding is done underground," comments Brown. We have also found that when the queens are killed, the whole colony just lies down and dies."

A new colony of fiery cobra-like ants have been located in the big bend area, Brown said. They are not related to the fire ant but have similar characteristics. Researchers are looking for scales or germs which may be transported to the fire ant through breeding or another carrier. "We may find a similar method to rid us of fire ants like we did 20 years ago with the screwworm situation," added Brown.

Also during the San Angelo visit by Commissioner Brown, it was mentioned that only two percent of the total national population is involved in agriculture today. I got to thinking about

Every day here in San Angelo I see more land taken into this growing city. More businesses and home being built. More concrete and asphalt being poured. Results: Less land to grown crops and livestock.

If two percent is having to feed the other 98 percent of the country, they are doing a super job and getting less return than the rest, money wise. The farmers and ranchers do not receive a cost of living raise. They are receiving the same price for much of their produce that they received 10 or 20 years ago.

Also of note is $13 million in sheep and goat raisers annual income being lost because of an increased population of coyotes.

It would seem to me that the 98 percent in this country who make their living in other endeavors besides agriculture, but who love to eat, would demand something be done in a more drastic way about predator control, namely coyotes and fire ants. Otherwise, that two percent providing for the rest might decide "to heck with the rest" and retire. Plastic cheese, roasted ants and covote jerky may not be too appetizing!

4-H Rifle Scores

The 4-H Rifle Club met Sunday afternoon, March 21, for a practice in preparation for the upcoming District 4-H Rifle Contest to be held in San Angelo May 1.

Coke County will have a junior team consisting of four shooters, age 10-13. Team members are James Paul Skipworth, Tina Hines, Claudette Walker and Kerry Bilbrey. Senior team members, age 14-18, are John Walker, Kim Caston, Douglas Roberts and Phil Stephens.

No scores were kept, as coaches Richard Johnson and Jim Herford are busy working on the basics of three-position shooting.

This will be the second year of competition for the Coke County Rifle Club. Last year Coke County finished in the top four teams in district competition, which was a good showing, considering it was their first year to compete. The top two teams in the district qualify for the state match to be held at Texas A&M in June during the State 4-H Roundup. There are 14 4-H districts in Texas and 28 teams competing in the state championships.

By Mary Anne Lackey

Saving Vitamin C -- A Delicate Matter - Saving the vitamin C in foods is a delicate matter -- and important, too, so you get the vitamin you've paid for -- especially in orange juice.

Vitamin C, a water - soluble vitamin, can be completely destroyed in some cases by air, light, alkali and heat -- when the vitamin is in liquid.

That includes orange juice, the beverage from which many people get most of the vitamin C they need each day, so be careful about the way you treat it.

Vitamin C in orange juice has a 'short life' -- only one-third or one-half is left after just two or three days in the refrigerator.

Put the orange juice in the refrigerator promptly after meals and cover it with an air-tight lid.

If you cook the vegetables, remember you can easily destroy their vitamin C by overcooking. To save the nutrients, cook vegetables quickly in a small amount of liquid with a tight-fitting lid on the pot or pan.

Finally, read the labels on foods you're buying: do they really contain the vitamins you want, or are you merely buying flavored water?

Mrs. Jerry Thomason recently spent the weekend with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thomason, Stacy and Jill in Clyde. Stacy returned to Robert Lee and spent a week with her great-grandmother, Mrs. Pete Smith.

Harrington Rites Held

Funeral services for Dora Marie (Brunson) Harrington, 80, who lived 8 miles south of Graford, were Wednesday, March 17, at 2 p.m. at the North Oak Church of Christ. Cleburne Martin and Bennie Wood officiated with interment at the Woodland Park Cemetery.

Mrs. Harrington died March 15, 1:02 a.m. in a Mineral Wells hospital. She was born May 17, 1901, in Mineral Wells and had lived at the Graford address for the last two years. Mrs. Harrington was an active member of the North Oak Church of Christ for 27 years and had attended the Church of Christ at Graford for the past two years. J. Otis Brunson and she were married May 16, 1920 in Mineral Wells. He preceded her in death Nov. 26, 1949. Mrs. Harrington was a homemaker. Carter H. Harrington and she were married Oct. 2, 1953. He preceeded her in death on Sept. 25, 1964, in Mineral Survivors include two sons: James R. Brunson, New Braunfels, and Everet Norman Brunson of Fort Worth; one daughter, Darlene DeLaughter of Graford; one step-daughter, Peggy Kincaid, presently in Germany; one brother; George Nelson Goodbar; three sisters, Ethel Halford, Zina Owens, Viola Reed, all of Mineral Wells; one half sister, Maud Bostick, Sulphur, Okla.; twelve grandchildren, 21 great-grandchildren and two great-great grandchildren; numerous nieces and nephews.

Pallbearers were grandsons.

Mrs. Harrington was a former resident of Bronte in the 1930's, when she was Mrs. J. Otis Brunson.

Plans Made for Lions Banquet

Tentative plans are being made by the Robert Lee-Silver Lions Club for the annual Community Banquet to be held on May 7 at the RLHS cafeteria.

Scheduled guest speaker is Mrs. Marilynn Golightly of San Angelo, regional director for Texans War On Drugs.

It is at this banquet that the Robert Lee Citizen of the Year and Lions club honorees are recognized.

Mr. and Mrs. G.B. Shelburne of Houston spent the weekend visiting with Mr. and Mrs. David Key, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith and other relatives. Mr. Shelburne conducted the Sunday morning worship services at the Northside Church of Christ.

Family Films Continuing

The "Focus On The Family" film series continues at the Robert Lee Baptist Church this Sunday. They are being shown at 6:00 p.m. each week, with nursery and child care provided. The course of films deals with all aspects of family life and has been commended by teachers, counselors, parents, and others in authority as a guide to family problems. Films 4 and 5, March 28, and April 4 will both deal with adolescense. Everyone is invited to attend.

KNOW WHEN TO CONTACT SOCIAL SECURITY OFFICE

People in the San Angelo area should be aware of the times they should contact social security, Frank Upp, social security district manager in San Angelo, said recently.

Knowing when to contact social security is important. Not doing so could mean a permanent loss of benefits. Or, it could mean an unnecessary delay, Upp said.

The times to contact social security are:

When a person needs a social security number, needs to replace a lost social security card, or report a change in name. Be sure to apply for a number in plenty of time, since it may take about 6 weeks to get a number after the necessary evidence has been supplied.

Whenever a family member dies, to determine if survivors benefits are payable.

If a person becomes disabled, to find out if disability benefits can be paid.

At 62, or when a person plans to retire. Generally a person who applies between 62 and 65 cannot receive benefits before the month of application.

Two or three months before 65 even if the person has no retirement plans, to arrange for medicare health insurance protection. Unless a person is receiving social security benefits, there is no need to notify social security of a change in address.

Most social security business can be taken care of by telephone. One exception, Upp said, is for aperson 18 or older who is applying for a social security number for the first time. Such a person must apply in person. The people at the San Angelo social security office will be glad to answer any questions about social security or medicare. The office is located at 2214 Sherwood Way and the telephone number is 949-4608.

LUNCHROOM MENUS

Monday, March 29: Pizza, whole kernel corn, combination salad, ice cream and milk.

Classes will be dismissed for Spring Break Tuesday through Friday of next week.

FIRST AID FACTS

No Wound is Minor

All minor wounds require basic first aid treatment. Even the tiniest cut, if left unattended can result in a dangerous infection.

In order to prevent a minor wound from becoming a major medical problem, you might like to make these simple rules standard operating procedure in your home.

CLEANSE all wounds with mild soap and water, making sure to wash your, own hands first

TREAT with first aid cream or a topical antibiotic COVER the wound with a sterile gauze pad dressing or Band-Aid to prevent contamination or reinjury

TAPE the dressing securely with first aid tape Change the bandage frequently and check for signs of infection. Swelling or inflammation of the wounded area, chills or fever are usually signs of trouble. You should contact your doctor immediately if you suspect an infection.

A word of caution! If the wound is more serious than a minor cut, scrape or abrasion, get immediate medical attention to avoid complications.

Wylies Leader In Ceramics

(From Faculty Notes in the February, 1982, issue of QUAD-RILLE, the Bennington College newspaper, Bennington, Vermont.)

The recent works of ceramist Jane Ford Aebersold will be seen at the Impressions Gallery, 275 Dartmouth Street (at Newbury Street) in Boston, from March 4 to 31, with an opening from 3 to

During August and September (1981) Jane was honored with a one-person show at the Museum of Art, Carnegie Institute, in Pittsburgh. The show traveled to Los Angeles to be the first one-person show at the new Garth Clark Gallery, the first West Coast gallery to be devoted to ceramics. She also recently showed six new works in the Christmas Editions show at the Elements Gallery in New York.

The work to be seen at Impressions will consist of a new series of slab and thrown forms developed with the rich texture and luminous color associated with her works.

A graduate of Monterey High School in Lubbock, of Sophia Newcomb College in New Orleans, and of Alfred University in Alfred, N.Y., Mrs. Aebersold (formerly Jane Wylie) is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McNeil Wylie of 4807 Canton Avenue, Lubbock, formerly of Coke County. She is professor of ceramics and chairman of the Visual Arts Department of Bennington College, Bennington. Vt.
