MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — President Anastasio Somoza declared martial law today in two states where guerrillas attacked national troops and broke open a fresh offensive aimed at forcing Somoza from power.

"There is no longer any doubt. It is a civil war," said Alvaro Chamorro Mora, vice president of the anti-Somoza Conservative Party.

A decree issued by the presidential press secretary said all constitutional guarantees were suspended for 30 days in the states of Esteli and Masaya in the southwest, where guardsmen battled guerrillas in the streets of the capitals.

The guard, Nicaragua's 7,500-man army and police force, claimed Sunday that its forces were "maintaining control and order in the whole country." But the Red Cross said there was heavy gunfire in two sections of the capital and in the cities of Esteli 65 miles north of the capital, in Masaya 18 miles to the south and in Leon, 65 miles to the northwest.

A Red Cross spokesman described the cities of Esteli and Masaya as being "a bloody situation," but since telephone lines between the capital and the cities were cut, it was not possible to verify reports of continued fighting.

The Red Cross spokesman said no exact figures were available, but there were casualties in the Sunday battles in the outlying districts.

In the capital, the central area of the city where Somoza lives and works in his bunker was quiet. Heavily armed troops patrolled the streets.

A national guard spokesman said "complete normality" had been restored to the capital, where the government newspaper Novedades said at least 16 persons were killed in fighting Sunday.

Unofficial reports said there were many casualties in other parts of the capital, and incomplete reports told of at least 20 dead and many more wounded in other cities in the terrorists' new offensive.

"Casualties among the terrorists were high," said a government communique, but it gave no figures.

The government communique said it "invites citizens to renew their daily labors, with the conviction that the authorities will be permanently watchful over the maintenance of order."

Chamorro Mora said the Sandinista guerrillas, named for a guerrilla leader killed fighting the U.S. Marines in the 1930s, had launched an offensive throughout the country.

The Sandinistas struck almost simultaneously at five police stations in the Managua area, witnesses said. They also attacked national guard command posts in Leon, Masaya, Esteli, Diriamba, Chinandega and Granada. All the attacks began between 6 p.m. and 7 p.m. Saturday, launched by guerrillas firing automatic weapons.

One witness said a jeepload of gunmen drove up to a police station on the outskirts of Managua. The guerrillas ran to the building and fired their weapons through the door and windows until there was no further resistance. Then they set the building on fire.

In Leon, a witness said the attack on the guard command post there began a 7 p.m. "by guys who were very heavily armed. Almost simultaneously there were outbursts of shooting and contact bomb explosions in the barrios."

Guerrillas took over the Leon cathedral and began firing from the cupola down into the national guard compound two blocks away. An armored car attacked the cupola with cannon and machine-gun fire and troops raked the roofline with automatic weapons, driving the guerrillas out.

The national guard claimed it ended the fighting in Leon by 2 p.m. But the Red Cross said there was heavy firing again late Sunday night.

Ivan Alegretti, a general who has been in the forefront of the battle against the guerrillas, was killed Friday in the crash of a light plane he was piloting. The crash was blamed on bad weather.

Three other passengers in the plane, said to be former military men who helped to train guardsmen after the United States withdrew its military assistance program, were also killed.

The current crisis threatening Somoza, whose family has ruled this Central American nation for 41 years, is the second this year. It began Aug. 22 when Sandinista guerrillas took over the capital and about 1,500 hostages. They forced the president to free 59 political prisoners, pay the guerrillas $500,000 and let the prisoners and their liberators leave the country.

A nationwide strike, called by opposition political parties and joined by the country's major business organizations, began Aug. 25.

Panel Certifies Record City, School Tax Rolls

By JEFF SOUTH
Avalanche-Journal Staff

The tax equalization board today certified the largest tax rolls ever prepared for the City of Lubbock and the Lubbock Independent School District. The rolls will be used in tax bills that go out in October.

According to assessor-collector John Brooks, the school district's 1978 roll totals $1,324,852,083 — a record 20 percent increase over last year.

The city's new roll of $1,309,243,733 represents an 18 percent jump from the previous year. The increase is not as hefty as the school system's because the city offers a higher homestead exemption ($10,000) for the elderly than does the school district ($3,000).

Most of the growth was attributed to the recent revaluation of homes in Lubbock's southwest quadrant.

Both actual tax-roll totals are significantly more than the estimates plugged into the city and school budgets for the 1978-79 fiscal year.

Since neither governmental body has set a final tax rate yet, public officials will be able to use an exact tax base — instead of a projection — in calculating their tax levies and rates.

For instance, the city council, which will adopt a tax rate Thursday, based its original budget on an estimated roll of $1.25 billion. The actual higher-than-expected roll would give the council more than $500,000 in additional revenues to

Gas Proposal Gains Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Carter administration forces narrowed the gap on a natural gas deregulation bill to an apparent dead heat today as the Senate began debating the compromise that took almost 10 months to draft.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, chairman of the Senate Energy Committee, opened debate by urging approval of the complex legislation designed to bring more gas in production by gradually lifting price controls from new-found gas.

"Yes, the legislation is complicated. But it works. And, more importantly, it works far better than existing law," Jackson, D-Wash., told colleagues.

Senate Majority Leader Robert C. Byrd told reporters before the start of debate that he was "increasingly optimistic" that the administration would win on this crucial element of President Carter's energy program.

Both sides worked hard at lobbying the large number of uncommitted senators who still are depriving either side of a clearcut majority. Vice President Walter F. Mondale led the administration lobbying team, while representatives from industry, labor and consumer groups made rounds of offices of undecided senators seeking "no" votes.

With a big boost from Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, the administration managed to bring a number of previously uncommitted senators into the fold. Muskie had been publicly uncommitted until late last week.

According to an Associated Press survey, there are now 38 senators who say they are for the bill or leaning for it — the same number the opposition can claim.

Bank Shifts Leadership

R. Ransom Gallaway of Spur has been named chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Texas Bank, according to a joint announcement by Gallaway and John Grist, current president.

Gallaway purchased a block of stock from a previous director, B. R. "Rip" Griffin, to acquire, with Preston Smith and Dr. Royce Lewis, majority interest in the bank.

Grist will continue with the bank during a transition period.

The new chairman is a native of Coleman County, and has resided in the Lake Ransom Canyon community since January. He is a 1942 graduate of Texas A&M. See CITY BANK Page 14

Deluges, Floods Threaten State

A-J News Services

A tropical depression moved inland south of Brownsville and spread rain-showers over most of South Texas today, but heavier rains fell on the upper Texas coast as another cluster of rainclouds drifted in from the Gulf of Mexico.

The rains spread into the Hill Country and into North Central Texas during the morning, triggering flash flood watches and warnings.

The storm system dumped 3.39 inches of rain on Yoakum, in the San Antonio area, and rains topped 2 inches at many other places. Austin recorded 1.29 inches during the morning.

A heavy storm socked Baytown, just east of Houston, causing several streets to flood Sunday night. State highway 146 near Baytown was closed about two hours shortly after midnight because of standing water.

"The street was so flooded in front of the police station we couldn't get patrol cars out for a short time," said a Baytown police spokesman. "We had to tell all the cars out patrolling to stay out because they couldn't make it into the parking lot."

Houston Intercontinental Airport recorded 1.81 inches of rain in the 24 hours ending at 7 a.m. Other heavy rainfall reports in the area included Waller, 2.94; Clodine, 2.53; and San Jacinto, 1.86 inches.

Meanwhile, the National Weather Service kept a close watch on the tropical depression, saying it had the potential of dumping flood-causing rains on South Texas.

Forecasters said the depression would merge with a cold front coming in from the north and lose its identity.

Much of southern part of the state remained under a flood watch today, although by mid-morning there were no reports of major flooding.

Gale warnings were lifted for the lower Texas coast today, but the National Weather Service said small craft should remain in port because gale force winds were still possible in lingering squalls.

The tropical depression had threatened to develop into a tropical storm, but it weakened after moving into Mexico early Sunday. By 5 a.m. today, the depression's poorly defined center was near Laredo, moving to the north-northwest.

While heavy precipitation pounded other sections of the state, there was no drastic change in South Plains weather. Mild days, cool nights and no precipitation continue in the area.

Temperatures in the Lubbock area today are expected to reach a high in the low to mid 90s before cooling to near 60 tonight. Skies should be generally fair through today and tonight, with no significant precipitation forecast through Tuesday.

Winds from the southwest at 15 to 20 mph and gusty today are expected to shift to westerly and northwesterly at 10 to 15 mph tonight and Tuesday.

No rainfall was reported in the Lubbock area on Sunday as temperatures reached an afternoon high in the high 80s to low 90s and a low near 60.

The extended forecast through Friday for the area indicates no important change in temperatures, with highs continuing in the high 80s and lows near 60.

Battered Christians Appeal To Summit

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Christian leader Pierre Gemayel appealed to the Camp David summit to take up the new Lebanese crisis as the Syrian army pounded Christian militia positions in Beirut for the fifth day today.

Chamoun, whose militias the Syrians have been trying to bring under their control since February, charged that the new offensive was an attempt to sabotage President Carter's meeting with Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin and President Anwar Sadat of Egypt.

"There is no justification for this escalation of hostilities by the Syrians," said Chamoun. "The Syrians are trying to undermine the Camp David summit."

The Syrians gave no explanation for their latest attack, which began Thursday. But Syrian President Hafez Assad opposes the Camp David meeting and Sadat's other efforts to make peace with Israel because he fears the Egyptian will not get Israel to withdraw from the Golan Heights, which it seized from Syria in the 1967 war.

Police said night-long shelling by Syrian armor set 26 buildings on fire in scattered parts of the capital's Christian sector and wrecked about 300 cars. The Christian radio Voice of Lebanon said one Christian was killed and 25 were wounded in the bombardment that tapered off this morning.

President Elias Sarkis scheduled an emergency session of his cabinet to decide whether to seek an extension of the mandate of the 30,000-man Arab League peacekeeping force, most of whom are Syrians. That mandate expires Oct. 26, and local newspapers reported the government is split over the issue of extension. But it was considered doubtful that the Syrians would leave if the mandate was terminated.

DR. LAMB

Truly Terrible Diet

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.
DEAR DR. LAMB — My husband and I are both in our 20s and we lost weight on a low-carbohydrate (40 grams a day), high-protein diet. He lost 40 pounds and I lost 15.

We are trying to maintain our weight loss by eating fish, chicken, beef, ham and quite a bit of cheese. We eat vegetables such as spinach and broccoli. My husband includes one or two slices of high-fiber bread in his lunch but he is not a big fruit eater. I like salads and fruits and we sometimes go through a dozen eggs in a week.

From reading your articles I am certain part of this diet affects our health negatively as far as fat and cholesterol content, but how can we avoid this and still eat protein that is low in carbohydrates?

Why does there seem to be an almost instant weight gain of several pounds when we resume eating carbohydrates of any form? We find it hard to hold our desired weight and wonder if the constant see-saw of two to five pounds is harmful.

DEAR READER — First about that see-saw effect of two to five pounds that you're describing. That's a change in the amount of water your body holds.

When a person does not have sufficient carbohydrates in the diet, the kidneys lose excess salt and water. That accounts for the initial loss of two to five pounds on many fad diets like you've been on. That's not fat loss at all. It's the loss of normal healthy water and salt that your body needs.

Obviously as soon as you start eating sensibly again, the body starts reacting in a normal healthy manner and retains the salt and water it needs.

Yes, your diet is terrible. The main point in avoiding weight gain is to limit your calories to the level that your body needs, either in terms of running the body at rest or to enable you to do physical activity.

Lean meats such as fish, chicken and very lean beef are satisfactory low-fat sources of protein, particularly most fish. None of these are high in cholesterol. If you've removed all the fat and don't cook them in fat, that shouldn't be a big problem.

Cheese can be a deterrent to your diet depending on the kind of cheese you use. If you use uncreamed cottage cheese, it is very low in fat and contains almost no cholesterol while providing an adequate amount of complete protein plus needed calcium for your diet. Also you can use fortified skim milk in the same way.

There isn't any reason a person can't have a low-calorie, low-fat, low-cholesterol diet which is balanced and provides all the necessary vitamins and minerals. I am sending you a basic diet plan which you can use for that purpose.

I recommend that anyone who is dieting should have a regular, daily exercise program and, if possible, the exercise activity should be increased. If this is continued regularly, it will help immeasurably in protecting the body against some of the bad effects from dieting as well as helping you do a better job of getting rid of unsightly body fat.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 47, Weight Losing Diet, which gives you this type of diet. Other readers who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

Credit Card Business Sees Customer Boom

By MARK POTTS
 NEW YORK (AP) — Years ago, a favorite subject for cartoonists was the credit card. Many cartoons showed Americans paying for everything with a little piece of plastic.

The cartoonists may have been more accurate than they thought. More and more purchases can be paid for by credit card — due in large part to the fact that aggressive sales campaigns by banks have produced record numbers of cardholders.

And the competition is getting heated. Shortly after Visa proclaimed itself the nation's most popular card recently, the competing Interbank Card Association described that claim as "smacking less of fact than fancy" — and said that Interbank's Master Charge card was still No. 1.

Whoever is No. 1 — and the numbers are close enough to make a recount mandatory — business is way up. According to the two companies' most recent statistics, Visa had 62.4 million customers, a jump of more than a third over the previous year. And Master Charge was up about 20 percent, to 62.9 million customers.

But while Master Charge can claim the lead in customers, Visa holds an edge in sales volume: $4.6 billion to $4.5 billion in the U.S. in the first quarter.

One of the biggest hustlers of the cards has been New York's Citibank. The bank has scattered millions of Visa and Master Charge applications around the country in an attempt to drum up business.

Citibank won't discuss the campaign, but industry sources say it's the biggest in history. And one of the simplest — all that's needed from the customer is a signature. The lists Citibank is using for its mail campaign have already been screened for credit problems.

Citibank and other banks mounting card campaigns are taking advantage of a 1976 Supreme Court ruling allowing banks to issue both Visa and Master Charge cards.

Citibank isn't satisfied with just issuing the two major bank cards. It is also trying to buy Carte Blanche, one of the major "travel and entertainment" cards with which the bank cards compete. If that sale isn't blocked on antitrust grounds, it is widely expected that Diners Club will also be sold to a bank, setting up a battle that will also include the biggest entertainment card, American Express.

The prize is a nice piece of change. Banks make money on credit cards by charging interest on balances — usually about 18 percent — and by paying merchants less than the amount charged, thereby making money on both ends of the transaction.

Banking regulators are worried that the card blitz will create problems of the magnitude of those in the late 1960s when the first wave of cards hit and many consumers complained of getting unsolicited cards in the mail.

Rules changes make that almost impossible now, but there are other problems — most of them with the banks. At Citibank, for example, income from many of the cards may not cover what was spent to acquire the new business.

Business Investments To Drop

WASHINGTON (AP) — The outlook for jobs-creating investments by the nation's industries remains poor for at least the rest of this year, a Commerce Department report showed recently.

The agency said businesses plan to increase investments in new plant and equipment by only 5 percent this year, after discounting for inflation, down from a 6.5 percent gain last year.

Investment plans in the third quarter provide for a 2.9 percent increase, while the gain is projected at 2.5 percent for the final three months of the year.

Actual investment spending in the second quarter increased 4.5 percent, following a 4.4 percent rise in the first quarter. So the outlook for the second half of the year is for a slowdown in investment activity from the pace of the first six months.

It is now clear that investments in new plant and equipment will fall far short of the Carter administration's January estimates of a 7 to 8 percent increase in 1978.

This means that business will not be doing as much to strengthen the economy and create jobs as the administration had been expecting.

One possible explanation, some economists speculate, is that businesses are waiting to see what Congress approves in the way of investment incentives.

Other explanations are that the administration has not moved ahead with some of the economic stimulus it had planned early in the year, and that the Federal Reserve Board has boosted interest rates sharply in recent months.

Doubts about the outlook for the economy also may be dampening investment plans. Both the cutback on stimulus and the hike in interest rates are aimed at providing for slower economic growth as part of the effort to help contain inflation.

In its report, the Commerce Department said businesses plan to spend $152.5 billion for new plant and equipment during all of 1978, up 12.3 percent from last year in dollar terms. After discounting for an inflation rate of about 7 percent, however, the increase shrinks to 5 percent.

Investment spending in 1977 totaled $135.8 billion.

In its industry-by-industry breakdown, the Commerce Department said manufacturers plan a 13 percent increase in spending this year in dollar terms, with durable goods industries up by 14 percent and non-durable goods ahead 12 percent.

Among durable goods industries, the biggest increases are planned by stone-clay-glass, 28 percent; aircraft, 26 percent, and electrical machinery, 22 percent.

The agency said sizable increases are planned by most other manufacturing industries except iron and steel, up only 2 percent, and paper, ahead only 1.5 percent.

Guardsmen Fight New Hampshire Fires

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — National Guardsmen handled two fires in succession over the weekend with little trouble and are doing a good job of covering for striking firefighters, Fire Chief John Lydon says.

He added, however, that regular firemen probably would do better.

The firefighters, whose "sickout" entered its 10th day today, indicated the strike could last a long time.

"If the city thinks it can use the Guard to break this strike or to wait us out, they will have a very long wait," Cel Kelly, a representative of the International Association of Firefighters, said Sunday.

The first test after a seven day lull in major fires came late Saturday when units were called to a fire in a large abandoned downtown building. Shortly after midnight, the trucks returning to the station were diverted to a house engulfed in flames.

"No one was injured and the men did an outstanding job on both fires," Lydon said.

"They did everything they had to and did it well," he said. "Perhaps not quite as fast or smoothly as our regular men, but they did the job."

Deputy Chief Bill Durand agreed, but added that the guardsmen still have not been tested with a fire that endangers life.

"We were lucky. There were no people involved in either of the fires they fought this weekend," Durand said. "People in a burning structure add a difficult and vital element to firefighting. Lifesaving is still the most important part of our job."

About four dozen guardsmen are manning five of Manchester's seven stations.

Although some had never fought fires before this weekend, a careful screening of the Guard's 1,800 members uncovered several men experienced in firefighting.

Lydon said city officials have ordered that firefighters not be paid during the sickout. A judge has ordered the firemen back to work, and six strikers were found in contempt of court Thursday for not returning to work and fined $50 for each day they ignore the order.

The union insists the work stoppage is not a strike but rather a sickout and that the courts cannot order sick men to return to work.

The bargaining appears to be deadlocked on hours and wages.

Firefighters, whose basic salary is $220 a week, have asked for a 42-hour week and a 6.5 percent raise this year, followed by a 7 percent increase. The city has offered a 46-hour week, a 4.5 percent raise this year and a 7.3 percent raise next year.

New Queen To Avoid Hot Issues

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Kylene Barker opposes legalization of marijuana, thinks the proposed Equal Rights Amendment goes too far and isn't terribly interested in politics. But she promises her reign as Miss America won't be controversial.

The 22-year-old daughter of a Galax, Va., meat cutter told reporters after her selection as the 51st Miss America that she considers herself to be "like the girl next door" and wants "to be friends with everybody."

"As Miss America, I'll have to be careful how I answer questions," the former cheerleader and baton twirler said Sunday. "I just might refuse to answer some questions about hotly debated issues."

Miss Barker, who is the shortest Miss America since 1926 and the first to be chosen from Virginia, said two of the people she admires most are Jacqueline Onassis "for her fashion innovation" and actor Burt Reynolds.

"I love all his movies and I would like to meet him," the 5-foot-4 blonde told reporters.

Miss Barker defeated 49 other state contestants Saturday night for a $20,000 scholarship and more than $50,000 in personal appearance bookings that go with being Miss America.

Her talent performance of an acrobatic dance to "Rocky" and "Feel So Good" treated the audience of 18,000 at Convention Hall to a spectacle of aerial cartwheels, splits and backward somersaults.

Miss Barker, who said being genuine is the most important quality Miss America should have, said she "enjoys the advantages of being a woman," like having men open car doors for her and being taken to dinner. "I don't get upset when someone calls me a girl," she added.

She said she probably would vote for the ERA, but that she has reservations about how it might affect such areas as military service.

"I wouldn't like to go to war and wouldn't want my daughter to go to war," she said.

Miss Barker said she has not tried marijuana and does not plan to.

"In junior high school, I did a research paper on heroin and other harder drugs," she said. "I feel that if you start out with marijuana, then you could eventually go to the harder drugs."

The green-eyed swimming enthusiast said religion should be an important part of life for American youth. Asked if she was a religious person, she said, "I am a Christian and I was baptized."

Miss Barker said she did not vote in the last presidential election because she missed a promised ride home from college.

She described herself as a "fairly conservative" person, but said she never got involved with politics.

Miss Barker, an apparel design and fashion merchandising graduate of Virginia Tech who has designed many of her clothes, said her ambition is to open a women's clothing shop in Roanoke.

"I feel that I am a typical American citizen," she said. "I think Miss America should look like an all-American person, like the girl next door, and not someone superficial that people are afraid to touch. I don't want people to put me on a pedestal."

TODAY'S EDITORIAL:

He Shells SEC Shores

THE WARNING to the nation's business community is forceful and explicit: voluntarily accept greater social responsibility or face the threat of mandatory changes imposed on behalf of an indignant public.

THE SEC HAS been accused, with considerable justification, of abandoning its mission to serve the public to become a captive of the industry it was originally supposed to regulate.

'You Sure He's Losing His Grip?'

Triad Poised For Carter Fumble

WASHINGTON—President Carter is basing his political plans for 1980 on the hard-nosed assumption his renomination bid will be opposed by three major democratic candidates unless he can dramatically boost his popularity during the next 12 months.

BROWN'S RECENT stopover in Maryland to publicly endorse the Democratic governorship bid of Theodore C. Venetoulis of Baltimore is being taken at the White House as a move by the California governor to tie down his political base in that politically strategic state.

West and his recent visit to New York City to sign federal loan guarantee legislation for that city are all part of his re-election strategy to try to boost his popularity to quiet the opposition that is growing within his own party.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

Lubbock's Alligator

YOU CAN LOOK for a lot of muddying of the waters this week as the City Council wrestles with a pet alligator it set loose on The People of Lubbock.

—Is it right to use the fuel cost adjustment as a significant source of revenue for municipal operations? The answer to that question, if honestly and open-mindedly approached, has to be "no."

CITY COUNCIL members tell me they are giving open-minded consideration to the proposal. Mayor Dirk West, who does not vote on electric revenue matters because SWPS is a major client of his, says he is "certainly not opposed to reducing electric bills."

Holmes Alexander:

Prep For War; Pray For Peace

WASHINGTON—The old adage about keeping the peace by being prepared for war is getting the supreme test in the Mideast, and it'll be instructive to see which side cracks first.

The decision in Tel Aviv is now whether to equip its larger and on-coming fighter-bomber Arieh (Lion) with foreign-bought engines, or to go all-out and invest in the development of the first Israeli jet-engine.

equipped troopers. This could be an important item, when it is recalled in the Yom Kippur War, the Russian cargo carriers began landing supplies in Damascus and Cairo within hours after the fighting started, while the U.S. C-5 carriers didn't make it into Tel Aviv until a week later.

Inflation Bite More Than We Can Eschew

OUR PROUD nation is fast becoming a land in which deceit dominates the way we conduct our economic affairs with each other—as individuals, in business, at all levels of government.

* AT THE SAME TIME, our politicians follow policies that, if not openly dishonest, are not honest either. A politician who makes promises that he knows cannot be met in real terms is surely dishonest.

SO PERNICIOUS has inflation's impact been on our nation's moral structure that we must be equally concerned with regaining a perspective on what is right and wrong. There are no easy solutions but there are solutions!

Air Base Commander Given New Assignment

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — The commander of Clark Air Force Base who cracked down on high-profit black marketing of PX goods has been transferred to a desk job in Nebraska, a move the Air Force calls routine.

Col. Paul C. Mathis, 44, of Phoenix, Ariz., left quietly last week for his new post at Strategic Air Command headquarters in Omaha after serving as commander at Clark for 11 months.

Military sources called the new assignment a "minor desk job," compared to command of Clark, home of the 13th Air Force and the largest American air base outside the continental United States.

Clark, 60 miles north of Manila, is about the size of Washington, D.C.

A Clark spokesman said the transfer of Mathis, a B57 bomber navigator in Vietnam during the 1960s, was routine and had nothing to do with the colonel's intense crackdown on black market activities at the post exchange, known in servicemen's jargon as the PX.

"There will be no letup in the black marketing campaign," the Clark spokesman said. "We will continue with it."

But a published report in Manila said Congress may have played a major role in easing out the hard-nosed commander. The primary reason cited was Mathis' order to cancel PX privileges for 1,764 people and the courts-martial of 155 U.S. servicemen over the past nine months. Since Mathis took command at the first of the year, monthly commissary sales had been reduced from $4.3 million to $1.2 million.

McCrea Recalls Rogers Films

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — Famed cowboy actor Joel McCrea says Will Rogers was just like a father to him, so he is going to be sure the late Oklahoma humorist is properly honored on the 100th anniversary of his birth.

"I met him in 1930," said the 72-year-old McCrea. "I was going to do a movie called 'Lightnin' for Fox studios. The man in charge told me Will wanted me to play the juvenile lead. That was the biggest break ever for me."

McCrea was 24 at the time. He appeared in only two Rogers movies — "Lightnin'" and "Business and Pleasure" — but the two became good friends.

"During those five years I saw him practically every week," said McCrea, who is serving as co-chairman of the commission which will plan the celebration of Rogers' 100th birthday on Nov. 4, 1979. "I roped with him at his ranch in Santa Monica. I used to go and watch him play polo."

"He affected every part of my life," McCrea said. "He was dynamic, tremendous. He set an example in his behavior that I just naturally had to cling on to."

"He was just like a father to me. He was the biggest star Fox had. And he was just like a father to me."

Teen Partygoers Killed By Car

DENVER (AP) — One moment, they were laughing and waiting for more friends to arrive at the deserted country road they had chosen for their party.

Soon, four teenagers were dead, their mutilated bodies strewn along the road. Two others were injured.

A schoolmate in a car had plowed through the crowd gathered on the road, police said, then crashed into two other cars. The 18-year-old driver was jailed later Sunday for investigation of vehicular homicide, Denver police said.

Dead at the scene were Jay Chase, 17; Barry G. Harrel, 16; Jerry L. Rimpley, 17, and Jeffrey M. Cain, 18, police said. All four were from Commerce City.

"I just looked up in my rear view mirror and saw him coming at me about 50 miles an hour," said Jimmy Vigil, 18, who was driving one of the cars allegedly struck by Crowe's automobile just after midnight Sunday.

"I was mad because he hit my brand new car, but then I got out and saw about six bodies just laying on the street. They were mutilated real bad." Police said the victims were thrown from 75 to 100 feet from the point of impact.

Robert Nelson and Robert Blum, both 17 and also of Commerce City, were flown by helicopter to St. Anthony Hospital, where they were reported in stable condition Sunday, police said.

The six teenagers were having a party in the middle of a dead-end road near Denver's Stapleton International Airport, said Detective Donald Curtis of the Denver Police Department.

The group was sitting in the middle of the roadway when Crowe's car came down the street, Curtis said, apparently at high speed, and rebounded off a parked car.

Busing Plan Begins In Delaware

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — More than 20,000 students became suburban commuters today as northern Delaware climaxed a 22-year legal battle over integration and opened its schools under a court order that consolidated 11 Wilmington area districts.

Gov. Pierre S. du Pont IV predicted Sunday that the worst problems would be children missing buses, bus drivers missing students and confusion over classroom assignments.

William D'Onofrio, president of the anti-busing Positive Action Committee, said, "I don't think there will be any violence to speak of." But he added, "There may be some scattered acts by those inclined to violence anyway."

Police reported four cross burnings in the affected area over the weekend. There were no injuries and no arrests.

About 37,000 students took buses to schools last year in the 11 area districts. An estimated 47,000 were scheduled to ride buses today, including 21,500 being driven between the city and its suburbs to promote racial balance at 92 schools.

Officials expect an enrollment of 65,000 students in the new district created by U.S. District Judge Murray M. Schwartz's integration order.

Du Pont toured three schools Sunday, chatting with some of the thousands of parents, students, teachers and administrators who attended open houses. Little concern was expressed about possible trouble and most talk concerned new teachers, class schedules and bus rides.

School officials got extra time to prepare for the merger and desegregation when Schwartz delayed the effective date for a year in August 1977.

School authorities have attempted to keep the schools much as they were before the merger, at times transferring teachers to follow their former students. Individual schools will have black enrollments ranging from 13.7 percent to 30.2 percent.

Aside from causing friction over busing, the plan also has resulted in labor trouble.

Teachers are demanding to be paid under the highest salary scale in the former districts, but the new district says it cannot match those salaries for three years. The teachers, who are working without a contract, will be paid on the basis of contracts with the 11 old districts during negotiations.

"We are ready and able to make a smooth transition to the countywide school system," said Michael F. Epler, president of the New Castle County Education Association. But he added, "We are not ready or willing to teach for an indefinite time without a contract."

Dollar Scores Gain On Japanese Market

TOKYO (AP) — The U.S. Dollar opened sharply higher at 193.30 yen on the Tokyo foreign exchange market today.

It stayed strong in early trading, ranging from 193.30 to 193.60, compared to Friday's close of 191.05.

Dealers said the increase was due to Friday's announcement of a drop in the U.S. wholesale price index.

"For the time being, the trend (to a lower dollar) has been broken," one dealer said. "The dollar won't go down but it can't go up much either."

Hotline Offers Help To Sexually Abused Children

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer
"Hello. This is a recorded message. If you think you are being sexually abused, please stay on the line ... You may feel scared now, but help is available ... You don't have to give your name."

That is the beginning of the 2 1/2-minute message you will hear if you call the sex-abuse hotline operated by Child and Family Services of Knoxville, Tenn., under a grant from the federal government. Nine hundred calls a month come to the hotline. The average age of the callers is 15; most are girls. They seek help with a problem that people are reluctant to even recognize: the sexual abuse of children within a family situation. Incest. One in 10 of the callers stays on the line after the recording ends and talks to a counselor. The others listen to the information and hang up. Officials say some youngsters — they do not know how many — dial the recording several times, trying to work up the courage to tell their mothers. Charles Gentry, head of Child and Family Services, a private, non-profit, voluntary agency, said he believes sexual abuse of children is increasing. "With more single-parent households we're going through a transition in our whole culture as far as family structure and I think it does lend itself to sex abuse of children ... Many people who are feeling inadequate as adults turn to children for affection and may eventually turn to the child for sexual pleasure." Other authorities say the increase in divorce and remarriage, creating parents who are not biologically related to their children, has helped make the problem worse. Douglas Besharov, director of the National Center on Child Abuse and Neglect, which provided $43,000 to finance the Knoxville hotline in a year-long experiment, said an estimated 60,000 to 100,000 children are sexually abused by family members or friends every year. According to 1974 statistics compiled by the National Clearinghouse on Child Neglect and Abuse of the American Humane Association, about 12 percent of all validated cases of child abuse involve sex. The Knoxville program, which started in February, is believed to be the only one of its kind in the country, combining a taped message with follow-up counseling for the youngsters and their families.

Kee McFarlane, a program director with the National Center on Child Abuse, said the impersonality of the initial recorded message encourages children to call about sexual abuse. "There is a fear of reporting, a fear of asking questions," Miss McFarlane said. "Knowing for sure that they can get a tape recording that they can hang up on" makes it easier for the youngsters, she said.

"The anonymous call permits the person to relax a bit," said Gentry. The hotline is aimed primarily at children, rather than at social workers, counselors or other adults. It is designed to help them with a problem which they often are too scared to admit.

Youngsters who stay on the line after the recorded message talk to one of two professional counselors. They may give their names if they wish but do not have to. Information on callers who identify themselves is relayed to the protective services division of the Tennessee Department of Human Services for investigation.

"Ordinarily, about 10 percent of the people who call stay on the line," Gentry said. "On the average we report eight to 10 cases a month that we feel are fairly certain, valid, sex-abuse cases."

The others who stay on the line want information or reassurance.

The taped message also is designed to reassure and inform: "Sex abuse may be any kind of physical contact that makes you uncomfortable and uneasy. In other words, if you have a feeling something is wrong you may be right."

"Sex abuse is any kind of fondling or sexual play between an adult and a child or between an adult and a teen-ager or between a child and someone slightly older ... It can include exposing private parts of the body. Sometimes it means taking pictures of nude or partly nude children or teenagers ..."

Most of the callers to the Knoxville hotline are children, but some are adults. "Occasionally, we get a call from an abuser," Gentry said. "I remember one of the situations was a fellow who had attempted sex with a 5-year-old ... He started feeling very guilty about it and then he called us and reported himself."

One caller, a girl, was only 7 years old. "It was an attempted intercourse situation by the father," Gentry said.

Federal officials hope to use the experience gained in Knoxville, a city of 180,000, to help other communities set up similar programs. Authorities also are trying to train school counselors and other professionals to recognize the problem.

Too often, said Gentry, adults do not want to hear a child's problem; they block out what they do not want to believe. "It's very easy for a counselor to say to a kid, 'Oh, that didn't really happen.'"

The Knoxville hotline has brought more callers than expected. As a result, Gentry's agency has a "tremendous waiting list" — 50 cases — for follow-up counseling. If the youngsters are not helped soon, he said, it may be too late. "Many of those 50 cases will not be treatable by the time we get to them," he said. "They will start to build defenses against counseling services."

No studies have been done so far to determine what has happened to the youngsters who called the hotline and reported a problem. Gentry is encouraged, however, by the initial response.

"I think people are beginning to talk about the problem," he said.

Warden Eyes Awareness At Prison

ALDERSON, W.Va. (AP) — As the new warden at the Federal Prison for Women here, Ken Neagle says he'll use his authority over 515 female inmates to make them more aware of their femininity.

"I'd like to help the women here improve their self-image," said Neagle. "I'd like to make them more aware of their woman-ness. I'd like to see more emphasis on the arts, more time devoted to music, painting and pottery-making and less time to softball and shooting pool."

Neagle, a 20-year veteran of the federal prison system, two months ago became warden of the nation's largest federal prison. One inmate is Sara Jane Moore, convicted of trying to assassinate then-President Gerald Ford.

The inmates he is now in charge of are 70 percent black and come largely from the urban areas of the eastern half of the country, especially the Washington, D.C., area.

"I feel I understand women," Neagle said. "I want to help them better understand themselves as women, help them understand what it's like to be a parent and a concerned mother. I plan to put a lot of drive and attention into social education."

One prisoner, when told of Neagle's hopes to make the inmates more feminine, just laughed.

"I'll settle for a better work-release program and improved medical care," said the woman, who asked not to be identified. "There's only one doctor here and he's gone home by the middle of the afternoon. Also, because we're stuck way out in the country down here in southern West Virginia, there aren't any jobs and therefore no work-release."

Solon Calls For Peace In Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rival government investigators probing the General Services Administration are being pressured by a prominent senator to bury the hatchet and get on with uncovering what has been termed the largest money scandal in federal government history.

Sen. Lawton Chiles, D-Fla., has undertaken the peacemaking effort after becoming upset at what he calls the "inter-secular warfare between bureaucracies."

Chiles had a meeting scheduled today with Assistant Attorney General Benjamin Civiletti and GSA Special Counsel Vincent Alto.

"As public interest in the GSA scandals rises, the race for glory becomes more intense," Chiles had said in announcing the meeting. "Unfortunately, this race is working to the detriment of the investigation itself."

Chiles, who heads the main congressional probe into the GSA scandals, also planned to meet with Attorney General Griffin Bell about the problem.

The antagonisms, which have sparked investigations to trade accusations of incompetence, are rooted in the often parallel nature of the GSA and Justice Department probes.

Both probes are searching for corrupt employees and contractors. Officials say the various theft and fraud schemes involve as much as $66 million annually.

Alto's task force has the job of rooting out corruption and suggesting changes to prevent recurrence while the FBI and U.S. Attorneys offices concentrate on prosecuting criminal cases.

The cooperation among the agencies has varied widely.

Sources say that a Baltimore probe involving GSA self-service stores and government credit card fraud is a good example of smooth cooperation. GSA investigators, say the sources who asked not to be identified, are working as a team with FBI agents and U.S. prosecutors.

The FBI Washington field office, however, has been mentioned often as a source of little cooperation.

For example, one non-GSA source said GSA investigators are frustrated because they have seen little FBI action.

"They gave them 40 nearly complete cases months ago," said the source who asked anonymity. "Now depending on who you talk to, six or a dozen of the cases are ready according to the Justice Department people."

But Justice Department investigators have, in turn, been frustrated by what they see as GSA trying to take all the credit.

A brief glimpse into the current set of antagonisms was seen Friday when GSA Administrator Jay Solomon and Bell disagreed about what role Charles Kirbo, President Carter's close friend and unofficial adviser, would play in monitoring the probes.

Deputies Hold Carlisle Man In Shooting

Sheriff's deputies arrested a 50-year-old Carlisle man about 9 a.m. today in connection with the shooting death of his son-in-law early Sunday morning, sheriff's Capt. J.B. Douglas said.

The death of Eddie Joe Palacio, 19, of 909-B 40th St. was ruled homicide by Justice of the Peace Wayne LeCroy. The suspect was being held early today in county jail pending bond, Douglas said.

Deputies investigating the report of a 4:50 a.m. shooting found Palacio on the living room floor of the suspect's home with a gunshot wound to the left side of his neck.

EMS attendants called to the scene worked for 20 minutes to revive the young man before transporting him to Methodist.

Apparently the shooting stemmed from a family disturbance, officers reported. Deputies recovered a .22 caliber revolver at the scene.

Services for Palacio are pending with Henderson Funeral Home in Lubbock.

He was a member of Christ the King Catholic Church.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Palacio of Lubbock; eight sisters, Mary Rodriguez, Minnie Rodriguez, Arleen Orta, Diana Palacio, Joan Palacio, and Betty Jean Palacio, all of Lubbock; Dora Lara and Nancy Garcia, both of Killeen; and two brothers, Raymond and Ernest Jr., both of Lubbock.

Nkomo To Avoid Future Discussions With Smith

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP) — Guerrilla leader Joshua Nkomo said today he has turned his back on any talks with Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith because there isn't "anything else to talk about" to try to peacefully resolve Rhodesia's future.

"The all-party conference is dead," said Nkomo, leader of the Zimbabwe African People's Union and its six-year war against the Smith's government. Zimbabwe is the black nationalist name for Rhodesia.

"Smith means war," Nkomo said. "If he means war, we are ready to fight and to remove the regime. That regime is dead."

Nkomo called a news conference in reaction to a nationwide speech Sunday by Smith in which he announced plans to "liquidate" local affiliates of Nkomo's ZAPU party.

About 30 officials of ZAPU's 360 members in Rhodesia have been arrested in Rhodesia, according to Josiah Chinamano, Nkomo's chief aide in Salisbury.

Smith said he was imposing a limited martial law and cracking down on parties representing black nationalist guerrilla groups in retaliation for the downing of a Rhodesian airliner Sept. 2 in which 48 civilians were killed.

Nkomo, who makes his headquarters in Zambia, admitted his men shot down the plane but denied the report of eyewitnesses that guerrillas killed 10 of the 18 survivors.

The Rhodesian government already is armed with emergency regulations that permit detention without trial and death penalties for guerrillas and their helpers. But a 14-year ban on Nkomo's ZAPU and the second member of the Patriotic Front, Robert Mugabe's Zimbabwe African National Union, was lifted in April.

The Patriotic Front is the organization through which Nkomo's party and Mugabe's ZANU forces coordinate their political and military campaign against the Smith government.

In his speech, Smith did not rule out more talks with Nkomo. Smith also admitted meeting secretly with Nkomo in Lusaka two weeks ago.

But Nkomo said he was not interested in talking with Smith any more.

"If he says surrender, OK," Nkomo told reporters, "but I don't think there is anything else to talk about."

Jury Selection Begins For Murder Trial

Jury selection was underway this afternoon in the murder trial of Kenneth Wayne Herndon, accused in the grisly Christmas Eve slaying of a 28-year-old Lubbock man.

Herndon, 36, was one of six persons charged with the murder of William Drew Young III, who was found stuffed in the trunk of his burning car about 10 p.m. Dec. 24, 1977. The car was located less than a mile south of FM 1585 on Avenue P.

Testimony in the trial, being conducted in Judge Thomas L. Clinton's 99th District Court, was expected to begin later today.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Jim Darnell told prospective jurors he expects testimony will show that Young was shot to death inside a bar.

He also indicated he expects three persons charged in the case to testify at the upcoming trial.

Defense attorney Jim Alexander filed a change of venue motion, but withdrew that motion this morning.

was invited to Zambia by President Kenneth Kaunda and said the secret meeting was at Smith's request.

"The essence of the meeting is that Smith wanted to surrender power to the Patriotic Front."

Nkomo described Smith as "a broken man" during their talks.

"He was a sick man, a broken man. He admitted that he was finished politically."

"You could tell this last night, just listening to him talk on the radio. He kept clearing his throat," said Nkomo, who then imitated Smith's cough, drew a big laugh from a crowd of sympathizers at the back of the hall. "He couldn't even finish a sentence."

"Militarily, Smith is finished," Nkomo said. "The military is in tatters. The situation is above Smith. He cannot contain the situation."

Nkomo said again that his men were responsible for bringing down the Air Rhodesia airliner and he issued a blunt warning to the public against flying aboard such planes in the future.

"Keep clear of those planes," he said. "Stay away from them." He said they are considered to be military targets.

Smith said in his speech that his government is still ready to talk with the guerrilla leaders if they are prepared to give up their demand that the government be handed over to them.

"At present we are not satisfied on this score, with some justification," he said.

Smith signed an agreement on constitutional principles with three moderate black leaders early this year and formed a transition biracial government with them. The government has pledged to hold universal-suffrage elections early next year that should give Rhodesia its first black-dominated government. Nkomo and Mugabe refused to participate in the negotiations and vowed to continue their guerrilla work until they replaced the government.

Rep. Daniel Flood Released On Bail

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rep. Daniel J. Flood, D-Pa., was arraigned on three federal perjury charges today in a case involving thousands of dollars in alleged bribes.

Flood, a former actor noted for his flamboyance and handlebar mustache, stood flanked by his two lawyers, Axel Kleiboerner of Washington and Richard M. Coleman of Los Angeles.

The 15-term congressman, who is seeking re-election, spoke briefly during the proceeding to acknowledge that he understood his constitutional rights and had read the indictment returned by a grand jury last week. He has vehemently denied the charges.

Flood's case was assigned to U.S. District Judge Malcolm Lucas. Under normal circumstances, Flood would have proceeded to the judge's court to enter a plea immediately. However, Lucas is on vacation. U.S. Magistrate Harvey A. Schneider set Flood's hearing before Lucas for Sept. 25.

Flood was released on a personal recognizance bond of $10,000. He walked through a crowd of reporters silently.

The 74-year-old Flood is accused of lying under oath when he testified on Oct. 11, 1977, at the trial of his former aide, Stephen B. Elko. He swore he did not know about a $5,000 payoff given to Elko by William F. Peters, a former trade school operator.

Flood's indictment alleges the congressman knew of the bribe within a few days after Elko took the money in the spring of 1972.

Elko was convicted of taking $25,000 in bribes to influence Flood in getting federal funds and favors for Peters' now-defunct West Coast Trade Schools chain.

Elko, who is serving a three-year sentence and is cooperating with federal authorities, has accused Flood of taking more than $100,000 in payoffs.

As chairman of the House labor, health, education and welfare subcommittee, Flood exerts influence over the distribution of billions of federal dollars to schools and hospitals.

The indictment also charged that Flood testified falsely when he told a federal grand jury he did not receive $5,000 from Peters at the congressman's command post for disaster relief in the Wilkes-Barre, Pa., area.

Flood also was accused of lying when he denied to the grand jury on June 2, 1977, that he received $1,000 in the Congressional Hotel in Washington from former lobbyist Deryl Fleming.

"I completely deny all of these assertions and implications as well," Flood told reporters after his indictment.

"For 30 years I have served the people who elected me in the best manner I knew how," Flood said, "and time after time they have demonstrated their confidence by returning me to office for 14 additional terms. I have never done anything to destroy that confidence...."

Flood is also under investigation in connection with his efforts to push through federal financing of a construction project at Philadelphia's Hahnemann Hospital, according to federal investigators.

Lake Drowning Ruled Accident

The early Saturday morning drowning of a San Francisco, Calif., man at Buffalo Springs Lake has been ruled accidental by Slaton Justice of the Peace Arvin Stafford.

Joe Rodolfo Saenz, 36, was pronounced dead at the scene about 2:40 a.m. by Stafford. Lake manager Jim Segrest said Saenz apparently drowned while attempting to swim across the upper lake with his brother, Oscar of Dalou.

Segrest said the drowning was reported about 12:45 a.m. by the victim's brother, and the body was recovered about an hour later.

The Saturday morning mishap marked the first drowning this year at the lake, where swimming is prohibited.

Palbearers will be John Oliver, Roy DeJulio, Billy Queen, Dennis Moore, Edwin Cox and Tim Lerzo.

Mrs. Petty

TAHOKA (Special) — Services for Mrs. Marvin (Alice) Petty, 82, of Sonora, Calif., and formerly of New More, here, will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Draw Methodist Church at Draw.

Burial will follow in Draw Cemetery under the direction of White Funeral Home in Tahoka.

Mrs. Petty died Friday in a Sonora Hospital of natural causes.

She was born in Texas and was an employee at Babbitt Ranch at Flagstaff, Ariz., about 10 years. Mrs. Petty was a member of the Church of Christ.

Survivors include a sister, Nettie Elizabeth Brown of Sonora, Calif.; and a brother, Travis Brady of Oklahoma City, Okla.

Mrs. Ramey

SOCORRO, N.M. (Special) — Services for Lowellen Smith Weatherly Ramey, 68, will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday in St. Paul's United Methodist Church here.

Burial will be in the Socorro Cemetery under the direction of Steadman Funeral Home in Socorro.

Mrs. Ramey died at 10:20 a.m. Sunday in the Socorro General Hospital following several months of illness.

Her first husband, Bill Weatherly, died in 1964 and her second husband, Roy Ramey, in 1969.

A native of Oklahoma, Mrs. Ramey and Weatherly lived in Ryan, Okla., and operated a grocery store. They later moved to Morton and then to Socorro, N.M., where they operated the Weatherly and Son Grocery Store until his death. She was a member of the Eastern Star in Morton.

Survivors include a son, Sonny Weatherly of Albuquerque, N.M.; a daughter, Nelma Holloman of Lubbock; five brothers, Buel Smith of Thomas, Okla., Halon Smith of Putman, Austin Smith of Waurika, Okla., Jay Smith of Okemah, Okla., and Carl Smith of Williston, N.D.; two sisters, Juanita Weatherly of Ryan, Okla., and Ola Fitzgerald of Duncan, Okla.; nine grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

Cora Schwartz

Services for Cora Schwartz, 87, of Stamford will be at 11 a.m. Tuesday in the Resthaven-Singleton-Wilson Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Tom Reynolds, pastor of University Baptist Church, officiating.

Burial will be in Resthaven Memorial Park under direction of Resthaven-Singleton-Wilson Funeral Home.

Mrs. Schwartz died at 3:15 p.m. Sunday in Stamford Memorial Hospital following a lengthy illness.

A native of Tyler, Mrs. Schwartz moved to Shallowater in 1952 and to Stamford in 1961. She was a member of the First Baptist Church of Stamford.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Helen Hess of Odessa and Mrs. Ida Mae Potts of Del Rio; a son, Bob of Grand Prairie; and a grandson.

The family suggests memorials in the form of donations to a favorite charity.

C.A. Stewart

Services for Charles Alfred Stewart, 76, of 3409 39th St. will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday in Memorial Baptist Church with the Rev. Gene Anglin, pastor, officiating.

Burial will be under direction of Resthaven-Singleton-Wilson Funeral Home.

Stewart died at 11:30 p.m. Saturday in Methodist Hospital after a long illness.

He retired from farming in 1963 and moved to Lubbock from Plains in 1973. The Dover, Ark., native and U.S. Navy veteran was a member of the Oddfellows Lodge in Plains and Memorial Baptist Church, 31, 1934, in Gaines County.

Survivors include his wife; five daughters, Rene Gurnell Thompson of Denver City, Laura June Henkle of Lubbock, Alice Marie Booe of Oklahoma City, Okla., Leta Mae Georgiopoulos of Albany, N.Y., and Jean Carol Murray of Houston; a son, James Anderson of Salt Lake City, Utah; nine grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

His grandsons will serve as pallbearers.

Rail Panel Agrees To Hold Hearing

AUSTIN (AP) — The railroad commission Monday agreed to hold a hearing in Knox City on a request by Atehison, Topoka and Santa Fe Railway Co. to close its agency station at that North Texas town.

Protesting the application to close the depot are the Knox City Chamber of Commerce; O'Brien Gin Co. of Knox City; and the Brotherhood of Railway, Airline and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees.

Mark 15: 41-47; 16: 1-11, The Living Bible

41 They and many other Galilean women who were His followers had ministered to Him when He was up in Galilee, and had come with Him to Jerusalem.

42,43 This all happened the day before the Sabbath. Late that afternoon Joseph from Arimathea, an honored member of the Jewish Supreme Court (who personally was eagerly expecting the arrival of God's Kingdom), gathered his courage and went to Pilate and asked for Jesus' body.

44 Pilate couldn't believe that Jesus was already dead so he called for the Roman officer in charge and asked him.

45 The officer confirmed the fact, and Pilate told Joseph he could have the body.

46 Joseph bought a long sheet of linen cloth and, taking Jesus' body down from the cross, wound it in the cloth and laid it in a rock-hewn tomb, and rolled a stone in front of the entrance.

47 (Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of James were watching as Jesus was laid away.)

CHAPTER 16

1,2 The next morning when the Sabbath ended, Mary Magdalene and Salome and Mary the mother of James went out and purchased embalming spices. Early the following morning, just at sunrise, they carried them out to the tomb.

3 On the way they were discussing how they could ever roll aside the huge stone from the entrance.

4 But when they arrived they looked up and saw that the stone—a very heavy one—was already moved away and the entrance was open!

5 So they entered the tomb—and there on the right sat a young man clothed in white. The women were startled.

6 But the angel said, "Don't be so surprised. Aren't you looking for Jesus, the Nazarene who was crucified? He isn't here! He has come back to life! Look, that's where His body was lying."

7 Now go and give this message to His disciples including Peter. Jesus is going ahead of you to Galilee. You will see Him there, just as He told you before He died!"

8 The women fled from the tomb, trembling and bewildered, too frightened to talk.

9 It was early on Sunday morning when Jesus came back to life, and the first person who saw Him was Mary Magdalene—the woman from whom He had cast out seven demons.

10,11 She found the disciples wept-eyed with grief and exclaimed that she had seen Jesus, and He was alive! But they didn't believe her!

"There is no justification for this escalation of hostilities by the Syrians. The Syrians are trying to undermine the Camp David summit." — Former Lebanese President CAMILLE CHAMOUN, commenting on new attacks by Syrian peacekeeping troops against Christian forces.

Pope Praying For Peace Talks

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John Paul I, declaring "all men are hungry and thirsty for peace," says he is praying for the success of the Mideast peace talks at Camp David and is impressed that the men involved seek help in public prayer.

Speaking in Italian Sunday to a crowd of 80,000 from the window of his apartment overlooking St. Peter's Square, the pontiff said the desire for peace was especially fervent among the poor, "because they suffer the most as a result of troubles and wars."

JOHN PAUL I Egyptian President Anwar Sadat attended Moslem prayer services Friday at the Maryland mountain retreat, where he, Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin and President Carter are discussing a Middle East settlement.

Begin observed the Jewish Sabbath on Saturday and President Carter participated in Protestant services Sunday.

"I have been very impressed by the fact that the three leaders have wanted to pray in public, expressing their hope in the Lord with their prayers," the pontiff said.

Composer Eyes Mayor's Chair

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Internationally renowned composer Mikis Theodorakis, a longtime political activist, is running for mayor of Athens.

Theodorakis, who announced his candidacy Sunday for the October election, is officially backed by the pro-Soviet Greek Communist Party.

The party made the 51-year-old Theodorakis its choice after drawn-out negotiations between the Communists, Socialists and other leftist groups failed to reach agreement on a joint candidate. Such a joint centrist-Socialist-Communist backed candidate won the last Athens local elections in 1975.

Callers Quiz New York's Mayor

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Edward Koch says his most trying experience since assuming office last January was negotiating contracts with the city's labor unions.

"The worst thing (of being mayor) relates to the labor negotiations," the mayor said during a radio broadcast Sunday, in which callers questioned the city's chief executive for 90 minutes.

A woman called in to say that her area "should be cleaned up" because men were regularly soliciting her for prostitution.

The mayor told the woman if she would write him, arrangements would be made to have police follow her in an effort to arrest the men.

Another caller was concerned about apartment rents increasing at 7.5 percent a year and asked if city government could help.

"The city of New York is not an endless stream of money," Koch responded, adding, "We can't do everything."

Pooch Party

SEATTLE (AP) — It was Taras' sixth birthday and a party seemed in order — champagne, presents and formal pageant.

Not many dogs have lavish birthday parties with 200 formally dressed human guests and a belly dancer for entertainment.

"Taras is sort of my substitute child," says his owner, Darlene Novak, a Northwest Airlines stewardess who gives the Samoyed a birthday party every year.

The party went into the early hours Sunday with yacht cruises, disco dancing and door prizes that were donated. The winners received evenings for two at discos and restaurants, sporting equipment, tennis lessons and dog grooming coupons.

Staff at the party wore T-shirts with pictures of Taras and bow ties. Tuxedo-clad guests wore name tags with pictures of Taras. The cake was decorated with a picture of Taras and was flanked by an ice sculpture of — you guessed it — Taras.

Taras received "oodles of bones," a personalized towel, a Waterford crystal drinking bowl, and a singing telegram.

Jewish Group Raps Meeting

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Jewish Congress has called the scheduling of a national conference by the National Institutes of Health during the Jewish New Year an "insensitivity."

The National Institutes of Health has set Oct. 3 — the second day of Rosh Hashanah, one of the holiest days on the Jewish calendar — for the National Conference on Medical Research Principles.

"We find it astonishing that federal government agencies should display such insensitivity to the American Jewish community and specifically to those many members of that community who would normally be invited to attend such a conference," declared AJC president Howard M. Squadron in a letter to Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare Joseph A. Califano, Jr. and NIH director Donald S. Frederickson.

Califano is scheduled to speak at the national conference on Oct. 3.

"We are especially appalled that this decision apparently was made with full knowledge that it would conflict with one of the most awesome and austere religious holidays of the Jewish year," he continued.

Garrow Still At Large

BEACON, N.Y. (AP) — Confessed four-time killer Robert Garrow, who prison officials thought to be partially paralyzed until he abandoned a wheel chair and escaped from jail, continues to be the subject of a painstaking search in brush-choked woodlands near the Fish-kill state prison.

Garrow, 42, who frustrated one of the most extensive manhunts in state history in 1973 for 11 days in his favorite Adirondack mountain prowling grounds, was believed by police to still be somewhere in the 700 acres of woodlands near the medium-security prison he fled early Saturday, leaving his wheelchair behind.

Garrow, a former Syracuse bakery mechanic whose wife and children still live there, was thought to be partially paralyzed from gunshot wounds suffered during his 1973 capture in the Adirondacks. But Saturday, he left his wheelchair, forced his way through steel bars and somehow got past a barbed wire-topped, 15-foot fence.

Garrow was convicted in the summer of 1974 in the stabbing death of Philip Doblewski, 18, of Schenectady, whose body was found tied to a tree at a campsite in Hamilton County with a knife sticking from his chest.

During his sensational trial, Garrow confessed to killing Daniel Porter, 22, of Concord, Mass., Boston University coed Susan Petz, 21, of Skokie, Ill., and 16-year-old high school student Alicia Hauck in a cemetery near Syracuse.

Disorder Detected By Chemical Test

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Scientists say they have developed a simple chemical test to diagnose schizophrenia, a group of mental disorders believed to affect millions of people.

Dr. Rajendra Varma, a biochemist with Warren State Hospital in Warren, Pa., said Sunday that a chemical test of urine would help back up traditional, imprecise ways of diagnosing the disorder such as watching for changes in behavior and attitudes over a period of time.

She said she knew of no other similar chemical tests.

Schizophrenia is a group of mental disorders that affect people in varying degrees. The condition can occur at all ages, but most frequently begins to appear in young adults.

Sometimes brought on by a traumatic event or another change in a person's life, schizophrenia can be expressed as a detachment from reality, difficulty in making logical associations and a decreased range of emotion.

Doctors treat the disorder primarily with drugs and psychotherapy.

Mrs. Varma's work involves measuring the level of glucuronic acid in the urine. Studies of 60 male schizophrenics showed that it was significantly lower in 72 percent of them than in 30 normal males, she said at a briefing during the national meeting of the American Chemical Society.

"As the patient recovers, the values should go up and these values could be coordinated with other tests to check the progress of treatment," Mrs. Varma said in an interview.

Tests so far have been with white men age 25 to 45, but work with women is expected soon, she said.

Females normally have lower levels of glucuronic acid, so males were used first to better test the method.

In recent years, scientists have been looking at possible biochemical causes of schizophrenia, focusing on changes in brain chemistry that affect how information is processed or transmitted.

Glucuronic acid is a glycosaminoglycan protein substance that is a component of the blood-brain barrier and certain nerve-cell sites in the brain.

These substances are made naturally in the central nervous system, but studies show they undergo chemical changes because of such environmental factors as learning, experience, stress and emotional changes, Mrs. Varma said.

Changes in brain chemistry that could be involved in schizophrenia therefore

Doctors Prove You Can Help Shrink Swelling Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues Due To Inflammation. Relieve Pain And Itch Too.

Gives prompt temporary relief from hemorrhoidal pain and itch in many cases.

When inflammation and swelling exist in hemorrhoidal tissues—it can be very painful for the sufferer. But there's an exclusive formulation which in many cases gives hours of relief from the burning itch and pain in hemorrhoidal tissues. It also helps shrink the swelling of such tissues. Sufferers are delighted at the way it acts so gently and is so soothing to sensitive tissues.

Tests by doctors on hundreds of patients reported similar successful results in many cases. And it was all done without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or stinging, smarting astringents of any kind.

You can obtain this same medication used in these tests at any drug counter. Its name is Preparation H®. Preparation H also lubricates to protect the inflamed, irritated surface area to help make bowel movements more comfortable. Be sure and try Preparation H. In ointment and suppository form. Use only as directed.

Quintuplets Unaffected By Childhood Publicity

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP) — They are five teen-agers who wear braces on their teeth, play basketball, take piano lessons, throw slumber parties — ordinary kids growing up in an ordinary town.

It was planned that way, their ordinariness. For these children are probably America's most famous set of siblings, the Fischer quintuplets. They entered high school two weeks ago and will turn 15 on Thursday.

The five became national sweethearts on the morning of Saturday, Sept. 14, 1963, as America's first surviving quintuplets. It was a celebrated event. Their pudgy faces filled the papers for weeks and brought their family riches beyond their dreams.

Through the extraordinary efforts of their parents — especially their mother — they have, by all accounts, emerged unscathed by the hoopla that surrounded their early years.

The four girls, Maggie, Anne, Cathy and Margie, play on the freshman basketball team and wear their hair long. Friends say they are "like anyone else. Kinda quiet. All nice."

Certainly to their schoolmates, and to most people in town, they have lost their celebrity identities as "The Quints." Not since they were babies have they walked together or dressed alike although, ironically, they are wearing like uniforms at Roncalli High, a Catholic school where uniforms are required.

Jim, the fifth quint, worked on a neighbor's farm this summer.

Each Sunday, the family attends the Sacred Heart Church, filling two pews.

The parents still shield the children from publicity, but they don't try to hide them. All requests for interviews still go through the family attorneys. There are monthly requests, all turned down.

Two miles southwest of town, just beyond where the pavement turns to gravel, the windbreak is tall and thick behind the No Trespassing sign. They live in a corner of the 800 acres Andy Fischer was able to buy from the proceeds of his children's fame, and where he raises black Angus.

The family house — a mansion with 17 rooms and five baths — is more secluded than ever after 15 years. It was built soon after the quintuplets were born through services and materials donated by townspeople.

An older sister, Charlotte, 7 when the quintuplets were born, has married and moved from home. The oldest brother and another sister will marry later this year. Two older children, the quintuplets and Cindy, born a year after the quintuplets and now in the same grade, remain at home.

Mary Ann Fischer often said she wanted to raise the quintuplets not as five special children, but as part of a family of 11 children.

"They were not treated any differently from us," said an older sister. Like all younger brothers and sisters, she joked, they were "snotty little ones."

The Fischers and their attorneys studied carefully the case of the 1934 Dionne quintuplets, whose exploitation by their father — they were on display at a world's fair — led to lawsuits and sibling rivalry.

When photographers were still allowed to record the Fischer quintuplets, Mrs. Fischer insisted that all 11 children be in the picture.

Three quint contracts were signed — one with Curtis Publishing for an exclusive Saturday Evening Post feature, one with Brown & Bigelow for calendar paintings, and one with Borden, advertising cheese and disposable diapers. Fischer once said the Curtis and Brown & Bigelow contracts totaled $80,000 the first year.

Money from the contracts was invested in guardianships for all 11 children — payable at age 18.

The guardianships pay some school expenses, but Andy Fischer, a $76-a-week clerk already supporting a large family when the quintuplets were born, has been able to support his family by farming.

The contracts have long since expired, and there has been no need for extra money. The Fischers, says one acquaintance, "had their cake and ate it too," for the quintuplets' fame allowed their parents to buy a normal life for the children, and then turn their attention inward, to their big family.

Tanker Sinks On River

PORT ALLEN, La. (UPI) — A 557-foot Liberian tanker loaded with 18,000 tons of molasses sank Sunday night at a general cargo dock on the Mississippi River. Officials said the vessel's stern was resting on the river bottom.

No injuries were reported.

The Tollana was reported taking on water about 10:30 p.m. Sunday and a Coast Guard spokesman said its engine room was flooded. The river is approximately 40 feet deep at the Port Allen dock, officials said.

The Captain of the Port and the Gulf Coast Strike Team from Bay St. Louis, Miss., were ordered to the scene to remove water from the holds of the ship with heavy duty pumps.

The spokesman said there was one pump already on the scene, but more were being sent in. There was no immediate indication how the Tollana began to sink, since officials said it apparently was docked.

Sadat Claimed Key To Mideast Talks

A-J Wire Services
CAMP DAVID, Md. — The Camp David summit on the Middle East reached a decisive stage today, and sources said Egyptian President Anwar Sadat has now assumed a pivotal position in determining the outcome.
 Sadat joined President Carter at 9:30 a.m. CDT for the latest round of crucial talks, which began Tuesday and are expected to run until midweek. Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin was not present when the morning session began.

 Conference sources said the success or failure of the summit is now in Sadat's hands, because it is up to him to decide whether he, as a representative of the Arab world, can accept the proposals put forth in the meetings of the three world leaders.
 These sources said, to date, the negotiations have focused on the future of the occupied West Bank territories and the Gaza Strip, plus the future of the Palestinians.

 If the Israeli proposals — with American modifications — prove acceptable to Sadat, it would mean a continuation of negotiations, probably at the foreign minister level.
 U.S. officials are hoping the next stage of the talks can get started as early as the latter part of this month, during the U.N. General Assembly session.

Begin said Sunday the summit was "going well" but other sources offered more cautious assessments.
 "We need another two or three days to crystallize things," said Ezer Weizman, the Israeli defense minister, who again met separately with Sadat during the weekend.
 Sources close to the Egyptian delegation said the summit was moving slowly and that there had been no breakthrough.

After taking Begin and Sadat on a Sunday tour of the Civil War battlefield at Gettysburg, Pa., President Carter met for an hour with the Israeli prime minister at Camp David. The two leaders were joined by key advisers.
 Begin made his optimistic comment about the meetings when he encountered reporters during the battlefield tour.
 "You can see they are going well," said Begin.

He seemed to be referring to the evident rapport among the participants rather than to the Arab-Israeli dispute itself.

Weizman was more cryptic than the prime minister when he was asked, "How are you doing?"
 "We are doing," the defense minister responded.

Before the Gettysburg trip, Carter attended Protestant religious services here and conferred by telephone with the Shah of Iran.

Carter lent the Shah his personal support but also called for more "political liberalization" in the troubled country.

The White House press office announced the phone call, which lasted nearly 15 minutes, hours after it took place.

Iran is considered a force for stability in the Middle East and Persian Gulf. Carter, in telephoning the Shah, reaffirmed the U.S. commitment to the embattled monarch.

Anti-Shah demonstrators turned up at the press center in Thurmont, Md., six miles from Camp David, on Saturday and called for an end of massive U.S. arms shipments to Iran.

Considered a quiet friend of Israel and its principal source of oil, Iran has strong ties with Egypt.

The three summit leaders traveled together to Gettysburg in Carter's bullet-proof black limousine.

The Georgian, showing his guests a monument to the southern troops who were overwhelmed there, said they could have won, "with tanks."

Carter showed Begin and Sadat several of the high spots of the 1863 campaign in which Southern forces led by Gen. Robert E. Lee were repulsed with heavy casualties in their second and last effort to invade the North.

Mrs. Carter, daughter Amy and Mrs. Begin also made the tour.

FUNNY FACE — Monique Davis, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Davis of Lubbock, finds the ZIP code sign at the central post office lots of fun. ## Protests Flare Again In Iran

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — New anti-government protests flared today in two of Iran's Moslem religious centers and reports reaching here said five persons were killed there in clashes with troops.
 The unconfirmed reports said two persons died in Qum, 75 miles southwest of Tehran, and three were killed in Mashhad, 440 miles northeast of the capital. Both cities are under martial law. There were no details of the clashes.

The new bloodshed came as several thousand mourners, many bearing coffins on their shoulders, gathered at a cemetery here to bury the 97 persons killed Friday when troops fired on rampaging anti-government demonstrators in Tehran.

Under banners proclaiming, "We gave you love, you gave us coffins," the embittered mourners shouted slogans denouncing Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi.

Troops ringed the Behsh-Zahra cemetery, on the outskirts of the capital, but did not interfere with the mass funeral.

Funerals are one of the few public gatherings allowed under the martial law clamped on Iran's major cities shortly before Friday's rioting erupted.

Thousands of troops blanketed the capital, enforcing the martial law decree aimed at quelling a growing civil revolt against the shah's authoritarian government.

The shah imposed martial law after failing in efforts to pacify the hardline

Moslem religious leaders spearheading opposition to his efforts to Westernize this predominantly Moslem nation. He had named a devout Moslem as prime minister and took other measures to appease religious critics.

President Carter took time off from his Mideast summit talks at Camp David Sunday to telephone the shah. According to a presidential spokesman, Carter expressed personal support for the shah and said he hoped "the movement toward political liberalization would continue."

Carter also "expressed his deep regret over the loss of life and his hope that the violence would soon be ended."

Eight-months of turmoil, which have claimed an estimated 1,000 lives, came to a head in the capital Friday when stone-throwing demonstrators, defying the newly-imposed martial law ban on public gatherings, marched on troops in eastern Tehran.

Soldiers fired into the air to disperse the crowds, then lowered their gun sights into the oncoming throng.

The religious strife has focused on the shah's efforts to modernize Iran's almost feudalistic society. The conservative religious leaders sharply opposed the government's decision to give lands formerly owned by the clergy to rural peasants.

They also are against the granting of political and social freedoms to women, including the rights to vote and attend universities.

Action Set On Funds For Juvenile Center

By BOB CAMPBELL
Avalanche-Journal Staff

The Texas Criminal Justice Division will consider two grants for $500,000 to build the new Lubbock County juvenile detention center, county commissioners were told today.

Lloyd Watts, administrator of the county juvenile probation department, said the CJD juvenile delinquency prevention committee will take up the grants Oct. 6 and the corrections committee on Oct. 13.

The applications are for $150,000 in already budgeted South Plains Association of Governments money and $350,000 in a separate allocation.

Watts will attend both meetings to deal with complications if any arise, he told the commissioners.

He said the grants especially need to be approved in October because the committees do not meet again until December. "If these funds come through, we'll be ready to start letting bids," Watts said. "I think it'll go, but there's a lot of work to it and a lot of people to persuade."

SPAG already has approved the project and grant applications.

The $1 million center on nine acres of county-owned land at North University and Loop 289 also would be paid for with $500,000 in federal revenue sharing money allocated by the county commissioners.

Commissioners also approved the receipt of a $66,834 as second-year funding of Project Intercept of the juvenile probation department of Lubbock schools.

Housed in the north wing of Sanders Elementary at 610 Third St., the project is for the education of school students with behavior problems too severe for them to be taught in regular classrooms.

One hundred students were assigned to the program last year, Watts said, and 42 remained in it at the end of the school year.

This year's first student was assigned to it today, he said.

Students whose behavior and learning difficulties improve are returned to regular classrooms, he said.

County engineer Arnold Maeker reported that the new computer center on the courthouse fourth floor is in operation and preparing to take over property tax rolls next month and that only final work remains to be done by contractor C.B. Thompson.

The commissioners awarded a low bid of $42,997 with a trade-in from Yellowhouse Machinery of Lubbock for a John Deere road grader for Precinct No. 3.

West Texas Equipment was the next lowest bidder with an offer of $48,584 including a trade-in.

County Judge Rodrick Shaw was in Houston at a national councils of government meeting and did not attend the commissioners court meeting.

Panel Certifies City Tax Rolls

work with, city officials said.
 The school board built its new budget on a projected $1.3 billion roll. The actual roll, however, would generate about $330,000 more tax money than is required by that budget.

Both the city council and school board tentatively have approved reductions in their tax rates. The city has proposed cutting its rate from $1.41 per $100 valuation, to $1.12; the school district, from $1.58 to $1.38.

By using the windfall produced by the difference between estimated and actual tax rolls, the city and school system still have a chance to trim their rates even more. Or they could use the extra revenues to take care of expenses not included in their respective budgets.

Some school trustees, for example, say the district should use the $330,000 to pay for school crossing guards — who previously were provided by city government — and for expenses related to declining enrollment this year. They also want to beef up the district's contingency fund, which had been cut to free up money for tax relief.

The tax equalization board, appointed by school trustees and the city council, unanimously certified the rolls as correct. The city roll now must be approved by the council, and the school roll, by the school board.

The school board meets Sept. 21, and is expected to set a final tax rate.

Deaton Rigby, equalization board chairman, commended his colleagues for their service. He noted that the job this year was tough, because of the many

Agreement Reached In Strike

By The Associated Press

Negotiators in New Orleans announced a tentative agreement to end a 2-week-old teachers' strike early today, but more than a half-million pupils across the country were still out of school because of teacher walkouts.

New Orleans school officials canceled classes today pending approval of the contract by teachers and the school board, but they hoped schools would reopen Tuesday for the district's 91,000 pupils.

Several other contracts affecting 280,000 pupils around the nation were approved over the weekend, but some new strikes began today. Most disputes concerned pay and class size.

The biggest back-to-work movement today was in Philadelphia where the 250,000 pupil school system opened a week late after a strike by the city's 13,000 teachers. Teachers accepted a two-year contract calling for a 15 percent increase during the second year that will raise starting pay from $10,070 to $11,580 and the average salary from $19,600 to $22,540.

Norwalk, Conn., teachers voted Sunday night to accept a new contract and return to work today, ending a four-day strike against the 14,000 pupil system. Details of the pact were not announced. Teachers salaries ranged from $9,700 to slightly more than $20,000 under the previous contract, and the system had offered annual raises of about 7 percent for each of three years.

In Waterloo, Ill., officials of the school board, the teacher union and the service worker union agreed Saturday to seek federal mediation in their recognition and contract disputes, ending a two-week strike against the school system of 2,000 pupils.

In Collinsville, Ill., teachers voted 289-14 Sunday to ratify a two-year contract that gives raises of about $1,700 in the next two years, ending a strike against the 7,200 student school district.

neighborhoods of Beirut with more than 2,000 rockets Saturday night and early Sunday. Christian sources reported three persons killed, 60 wounded, 22 buildings set ablaze about 300 apartments damaged by shell holes in that attack.

The Syrians opened up again Sunday afternoon with heavy artillery and rocket grenades, damaging more buildings, the Christian radio said.

Syrian snipers fired all day at key street intersections in the Christian areas, hindering civilian traffic, the broadcast said.

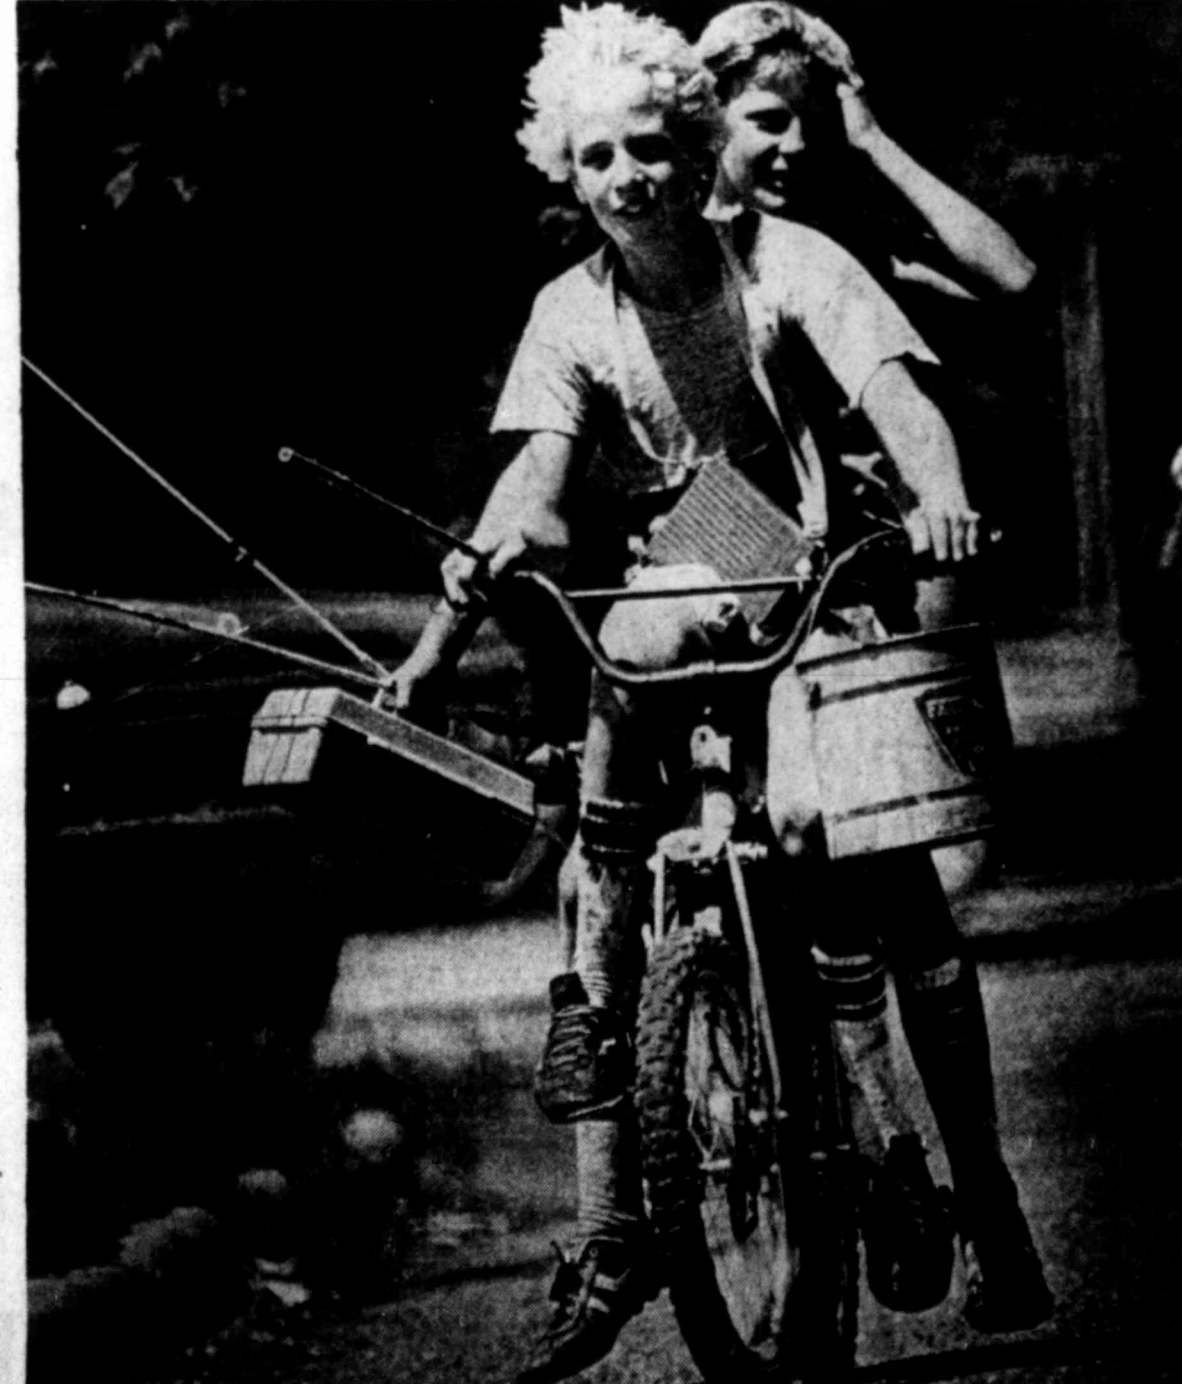

Syrian troops intervened in the Lebanese civil war in 1976 to prevent the Christians' defeat by the leftist Lebanese Moslems and their Palestinian allies. The Syrians stayed to police the armistice that ended the war, but the Christians have refused to disarm their militias and surrender their areas to Syrian control because the Syrians have not forced the Moslems to disarm.

The Syrians also are angered by the Christians' acceptance of Israeli support in southern Lebanon.

A spokesman in Tel Aviv for Israeli financier Samuel Flatto-Sharon said plans are being made to raise $10 million and recruit 20,000 volunteers to help the Lebanese Christians against the Syrians. The spokesman said many of the volunteers would be doctors and nurses, but some would be fighting men.

"We plan to bring innocent women and children from Beirut to Israel if necessary to save them from the Syrians," he said.

Flatto-Sharon, whose election to the Israeli Parliament gave him immunity from extradition to France on fraud and tax evasion charges, claims to have arranged the exchange of Robert Thompson, convicted of spying in the United States for East Germany, for an American imprisoned in East Germany and an Israeli pilot from Mozambique.

Grads Give Grades To Teachers

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — In a major educational role reversal, a cross-section of recently graduated University of Minnesota students gave out controversial "report cards" to their teachers. Twenty percent flunked, 20 percent were given "D" grades, 29 percent received "C," and 24 percent got "B."

Only 7 percent were rated "A" teachers. Four teachers were judged perfect by their students.

"We hope there is a lesson in this for the university and that students will understand their responsibility to themselves and their fellow citizens, the taxpayers," said Terry Marchiniak, a liberal arts senior active in student government.

The undertaking, called the Minnesota Teaching Evaluation Project, was developed by student government leaders with initial funding of $6,000 by the Twin Cities (Campus) Student Assembly. The Board of Regents opposed publication of the findings and independent publication supported by advertising was impossible without the regents' approval. The full survey finally was published today as a supplement by the Twin Cities Reader, a free weekly newspaper.

A questionnaire — using questions developed in a University of Michigan study — was sent to 6,700 graduating seniors last spring. Of the group, 2,561, or about 39 percent, responded.

The TPE, or Teaching Proficiency Index, was based upon student ratings of teachers' skills, organization, feedback, respect, assignments and atmosphere.

Eliminating Squeaks Not Hard

By ANDY LANG
Associated Press Writer

Can you eliminate squeaks in wooden floors by using graphite, talcum powder or some other dry lubricant?

Many times, yes.

Will this be a permanent solution?

No. The squeaks will return in a few days, a few weeks or, at best, a few months.

Such squeaks can be eliminated indefinitely, with a little know-how and a little work. Just so we will understand each other during the explanation, treads are the horizontal parts of the stairs on which you walk, risers are the vertical boards under the treads, and stringers are the heavy wooden members on the sides to which the treads and risers are attached.

When the underside of the stairs is accessible, an examination will quickly disclose exactly where the squeaks are coming from and suggest, via common sense, how to get rid of them. Nails, screws and wedges are the equipment that will correct the condition, whether it is the treads, risers or stringers that are at fault.

When you can't see or get at the underside of the stairs, you must first determine whether the joints in the squeaky area are of the butt variety or the groove-and-rabbit type.

Get on your knees and look at the top of the riser at the point where it joins the tread resting on it. If there is a piece of molding there, pry it off very carefully.

You can often tell at once what kind of joint is there, but if you can't, insert a knife blade upward along the riser into the tread. If the blade slides upward, there is a groove-and-rabbit joint. If it meets solid wood, it is a butt joint.

With a butt joint, have someone stand on part of the tread while you drive two 8- or 10-penny finishing nails through the tread into the riser. Hammer the nails in to place at an angle so that they enter the wood in the shape of a V. One set of nails will usually do the trick, but use another set if necessary. Drill pilot holes for the screws if the wood is hard. Testing to see whether the problem is solved consists merely of walking up and down the affected area a few times and listening carefully.

A different technique is required when there is a groove-and-rabbit joint. You will need small wooden wedges instead of nails. They should be driven upward into the loose joint where the knife blade had been inserted. Use as small wedges as possible, but if they do not go upward all the way and part of them sticks out, trim them off.

If you remove any molding, replace it.

Sometimes the stairway handrail is loose because the heavy newel support post at the bottom of the stairs is no longer tight. Use screws to tighten it. Nails may split the wood. Sometimes the support post is secure, but the handrail is loose because, in certain types of installation, the screws in a wall bracket are no longer tightly set in place. Use heavier screws or fill the holes with wood putty or plastic wood and, after an hour or two, reset the old screws.

Wind, Rain Pose Big Problem For Louisiana State Library

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI)— Even on a sunny day a steady drip, drip, drip through the roof of the state library keeps time like a watery metronome. In a fifth-floor aisle— between the pre-1950 books and the stacks of aging periodicals— plastic trash cans catch the slowly dripping water.

Two sections of bookshelves have been cleared in a side aisle to make way for the water that occasionally comes through there.

When it rains hard, and the wind blows against the windows of the 20-year-old building at the south end of the Capitol gardens, water creeps through the cracked and shrunken caulking.

Leaking problems extend down through the fourth and third floors.

"I have a serious problem," said state librarian Thomas Jaques.

So far the library has avoided damage to its vast stores of books, films and records. When the rain comes and leaks are spotted, books are moved out of the way of the leaks.

"If it isn't stopped, something is going to be damaged," Jaques said.

It is not as if no one has tried, said Les Robinson, assistant superintendent of buildings and grounds.

"A new roof was put on in 1975, and I have been fighting with the contractors ever since it was put up," he said.

Robinson said the contractors worked on the library about five months ago.

"They redid all the parapet walls. They thought that was the cause, but the leaks haven't stopped."

The leaking problem was aggravated recently with a deluge resulting from the advance of tropical storm Debra. That was when Robinson wrote to the contractor and threatened legal action if they did not get someone out to inspect the building immediately.

"I'm sure he'll take some action. He has never failed to come out when we called him. But they just can't seem to solve the problem."

Part of the problem is the flat roofs common to most state buildings. Another problem might be leaks from cooling towers that sit atop the buildings. And water may travel laterally through porous concrete for many feet before it drops through a weak spot in the plaster, making it difficult to find the source of the leak.

The problem is not unique to the library.

Across the street the Department of Health and Human Resources is getting a new roof.

The Almanac TODAY IN HISTORY

United Press International Today is Monday, Sept. 11, the 254th day of 1978 with 111 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase.

The morning stars are Mercury, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mars and Venus. Those born on this date are under the sign of Virgo.

American short story writer O. Henry was born Sept. 11, 1862.

On this day in history: In 1777, troops of Gen. George Washington were badly defeated by the British in the Battle of Brandywine.

In 1841, all members on President John Tyler's Cabinet resigned except Secretary of State Daniel Webster. They were protesting the veto of a banking bill.

In 1963, all 81 persons aboard an Indian

Airlines Viscount died when the plane crashed near New Delhi.

In 1973, the regime of Socialist Salvador Allende of Chile was toppled in a military coup in which he died, reportedly by his own hand.

A thought for the day: American poet Ralph Waldo Emerson said, "Life is not so short but that there is always time for courtesy."

Texans Waging Tax War

Lubbock Avalanche-Journal Monday, September 11, 1978

By RICK SCOTT
Associated Press Writer

From the blackland farms of the north and east to the oil fields of West Texas to the sprawling cities of Houston and Fort Worth, Texans are waging a guerrilla war on escalating property taxes and local government spending.

In Sherman and Palestine, citizen groups have successfully blocked implementation of new property tax rolls that would raise their levies as much as 500 percent.

About 100 residents of Odessa in West Texas, angered by property tax revaluations, burned a barrelful of tax notices at City Hall this summer.

In Fort Worth, 3,000 property owners attended a tax protest rally where Howard Jarvis, an author of California's Proposition 13, was the keynote speaker.

In Houston, the state's largest city, a protest group has petitioned the City Council for property tax reform and threatened a recall of elected officials unless their demands are met.

While the Texas protest movement lacks the statewide coordination of the tax rebellion in California earlier this year, brush wars have sprung up all across the state.

"It wasn't until things like...this Proposition 13 in California that people got mad enough to make a big issue out of it (property taxes)," said Houston Councilman Homer Ford after residents in that city held a big rally earlier this year.

"These tax protestors are plenty mad, and we've got to damn sure do something," Ford added.

Reports from Texas newspapers which are members of The Associated Press showed that property owners in communities across the state have stepped up their battles against rising property taxes and spending by local governments.

City officials, like Ford, say California's Proposition 13 success has probably encouraged tax protestors and given them higher visibility, but griping about taxes is nothing new.

"The complaints I got about taxes came before the California vote June 4," said Nueces County Judge Robert Barnes of Corpus Christi. "But I couldn't say Proposition 13 doesn't encourage you."

"People are coming unglued when they discover their property appraisals have increased by 40 to 50 percent within four years," said Mayor Pro Tem Jim Bradshaw of Fort Worth. "I think there has to be a way to assure these people their tax money is not being wasted through unnecessary bureaucracy."

"They (the protestors) recognize, and I believe they are right, there is a lot of waste at City Hall and a lot of fat that can be cut without affecting essential services."

But determining what is "essential" is not easy.

Corpus Christi City Council members voted to reduce property taxes by 16.1 percent this summer, then had to back down to a 7 percent reduction because of citizen protests against service cutbacks.

And, even with the smaller reduction, the council — to balance the city budget — approved higher fees for such services as garbage collection, building permits, swimming, tennis, golf, slip rental at the city's marina and for keeping animals at the city shelter.

Smaller cities and counties have not escaped the taxpayers' anger, either.

In Sherman and Palestine, suits by taxpayers have blocked, at least temporarily, the certification of 1978 property tax rolls which contain revalued — and higher — property listings.

Farmers in Grayson County, around Sherman, had for years seen their land taxed at the 1920 level of $7 an acre. They sued to block the new roll that values some property at $500 an acre.

The revaluation, however, was the result of a suit brought by taxpayers living in the city, whose property was valued at far higher prices than that of their rural neighbors.

Most communities, especially larger ones, revalue property in sections of the city each year, on a rotating basis, so that a home is revalued once every several years instead of annually.

And inflation in several years causes some big value increases.

Many cities have partially offset the higher property valuations by lower tax rates. Politically, a city council does not have to raise taxes. It can simply allow the tax assessor to increase property values.

It was the revaluation notices that angered the Odessa residents who burned their tax notices.

"If the council doesn't do something," threatened protestor Jim Coonce, "we'll be getting rid of them. The people are sick and tired of taxes and that is the general attitude of our oil field, which is the backbone of our city."

While Texas residents do not have the constitutional power of initiative, which was used in California to get Proposition 13 on a statewide ballot, they can petition to recall elected city officials, although there have been no reported cases of recall this year.

The brush wars have yet to turn into any full-scale, statewide protest, possibly because despite rising property values, Texans are still among the least taxed residents in the nation.

The Texas Research League says Texas ranks 45th among terms of state and local taxes levied as a percentage of income — 9.37 percent.

Q.1—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠95 ♥KQJ10763 ♦852 ♣6
Partner opens the bidding with one diamond. What do you respond?

A.—The choice is between a response of three hearts and four hearts. We recommend the more aggressive action for two reasons: (1) Partner will be reluctant to move over three hearts if he is short in your suit for fear of two trump losers when, in fact, your suit is capable of playing for one loser opposite a void. (2) You have length in partner's suit, which increases the trick-taking potential of your hand. With a different distribution or concentration of high cards we would be content with three hearts.

Q.2—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠AK83 ♥954 ♦K6 ♣QJ104
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♦ Pass 1 ♦ Pass
1 ♦ Pass 3 ♣ Pass

A.—Partner's jump is forcing, so we must bid, but we do not reinitiate our rebid. Three no trump might be our only makable game. However, we cannot bid it because we do not have a heart stopper. The only solution is a waiting bid of three diamonds. Even though partner might think our hand is unbalanced, that seems to be the lesser of evils because it doesn't bypass our probable game.

Q.3—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠5 ♥A1072 ♦83 ♣K109843
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
3 ♣ 4 ♣ Pass ?

A.—If partner feels he is strong enough to force you to select a contract at the five-level, you surely have enough strength to contract for a small slam. We would make the straightforward response of six clubs. If partner passes, fine. Should he correct to six diamonds, we would correct to six hearts. (On this sequence partner would be marked with a heart-diamond two-suiter.)

Q.4—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠KQ1052 ♥AK ♦A83 ♣A103
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♦ Pass 4 ♦ Pass ?

A.—Although North's bid is pre-emptive, it is difficult to imagine him making that bid without the ace of spades, a minor suit card and a singleton. That should give you reasonable play for slam, so we would take a shot at six spades.

Q.5—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠K7 ♥AJ872 ♦KQ83 ♣95
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♥ Pass 3 ♥ Pass
4 ♥ Pass Pass 4 ♣ ?

A.—Double. You have a minimum hand with nearly a quarter of your values in the opponents' suit. Since you are likely to incur a minus score in five hearts, you must warn partner not to bid again. If you pass at this point, which is forcing, partner will place you with little or nothing in spades, and is likely to make the wrong decision.

Q.6—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠A95 ♥AK843 ♦KQ ♣874
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♦ Pass 1 ♥ Pass
2 ♥ Pass 2 ♣ Pass
4 ♥ Pass ?

A.—The purpose of your two-spade bid was to prepare for a slam try if North jumped to game over two spades. Even though North has not shown much more than a minimum, the fact that you have so many controls could mean that slam depends on no more than your partner's club holding. You can highlight this by bidding five diamonds, even though this entails a slight risk in that partner, too, could have three losing clubs.

Q.7—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠AK6 ♥AK1072 ♦92 ♣875
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♦ 1 ♦ 2 ♥ Pass
3 ♣ Pass 3 NT Pass
4 ♣ Pass ?

A.—There are only two reasons why North would refuse to play three no trump—either his hand is too weak and distributional to play in no trump, or he is interested in slam. In either case, it would be wrong to rebid your hearts or repeat your no trump bid (which would be natural, not Blackwood). The correct action is a cue-bid of four spades, telling partner you have a good hand and allowing him to make the final decision.

Q.8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AJ73 ♥AJ1082 ♦6 ♣KQ6
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
Pass 1 ♦ Dble. 1 ♦
Dble. Pass Pass 2 ♦
Pass 3 ♦ ?

A.—It looks as though West was taking advantage of the vulnerability to throw a monkey wrench into the auction. Partner has shown good spades by making a penalty double of one spade, and you have much more than you might have had for a takeout double. Bid three spades.

Have you been running into double trouble? Let Charles Goren help you find your way through the maze of Doubles for penalties and for takeout. For a copy of his Doubles booklet, send $1.70 to "Goren Doubles," P.O. Box 259, Norwood, N.J., 07648. Make checks payable to NEWSPAPERBOOKS.

Fashion Review Highlights Tech Program

Fashion, food and fun will entertain the public Thursday at 6:30 p.m., in the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center with spotlights on Texas Tech University women.

Texas Tech's department of clothing and textiles will spotlight students as models in a fashion show highlighting the third annual meeting of the Food and Fiber National Institute of Achievement.

Round roast and smoked turkey will be served with the trimmings at the "Taste of Texas" buffet, catered by the Texas Agriculture Products Marketing Division of the Texas Department of Agriculture. The dinner begins at 6:30 p.m.

Beginning at 8 p.m., original creations by Christian Dior, Chanel, Bill Blass and many other top designers will be shown. A special showing of gowns worn by Greta Garbo, Joan Crawford and other movie stars will be followed by "The Fashionable Ladies of Texas," honoring donors of the collection.

The garments are part of a $4 million designer original collection, "The 20th Century in Fashions," from the Texas Center for Fashion Studies-Dallas Museum of Fashion at North Texas State University.

Betty Marzan, curator of the Center-Museum, will serve as commentator. Dwight Byrd of the Dallas Apparel Mart will choreograph the program.

John W. Arnn, executive director of the Food and Fiber Institute, said the institute's goal for the fashion show and buffet is to "communicate to the general public the impacts of changes in food and fiber production and processing technology."

Seminars and exhibits of the institute's meeting will be at the Civic Center. Individual contributors to the fields of food and fiber will be recognized.

Marilu Grace, instructor in the department of clothing and textiles, sponsors the Fashion Board and chose the models.

Tickets for the buffet and fashion show are $5. Those interested in the style show only may purchase a $2 ticket. Tickets may be obtained from the Food and Fiber Institute, the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, Hemphill-Wells, Sears and Furr's Family Center.

After my courtesy treatment, the counselor explained the Pat Walker figure correction program to me. When she assured me that the program was guaranteed, I felt I had finally found the solution to my figure problems.

When I began my program at Pat Walker's Figure Salon, I weighed 178 lbs. and wore a size 20 dress. Today I weigh 126 lbs. and wear a size 8 dress. My life style has changed completely because today I can do "skinny" things. I can't wait for summer so I can lounge around the pool in my new size 8 bikini!

Police Jail Elderly Man For Hotel Disturbance

A 71-year-old man who insisted he wanted to visit a 91-year-old woman about 4 p.m. Sunday at the Pioneer Retirement Hotel, 1204 Broadway, was arrested when police said he caused a disturbance in the hotel's lobby.

The retirement center's manager told police the man walked into the lobby and was using loud and profane language. When told to leave, the man instead went upstairs to visit the elderly female tenant, reports indicated.

When police arrived, the suspect returned to the lobby where he was again told to leave. However, he ignored the officers, went back to the woman, and reportedly took her arm in an attempt to lead her out the building.

The elderly woman, according to reports, also wanted nothing to do with the man, telling him to get away from her. The suspect was then arrested by police and transported to County Jail.

Earlier Sunday, police went to a 16th Street address where they arrested two women for prostitution and operating a massage parlor without a city permit.

A police detective, posing as a prospective customer, said he called the parlor and two prices over the telephone.

He said he went to the location about 1:15 a.m. where he was met by a 21-year-old woman who led him to a bedroom and told him to undress. The officer said the woman told him that for more money she would provide him with sex.

Reports show the detective gave the woman the money and, when she accepted, she was arrested. A 27-year-old woman also was taken into custody at the parlor for operating the business without a permit, police said.

Lucille Graham of 2022 36th St. said she came home about 6:35 p.m. Sunday and found evidence that someone had attempted to set fire to her house.

She said she had left her residence about 10:30 a.m. and when she came home she found a lawn mower gas tank and paint can placed next to the rear of the residence.

Mrs. Graham told police towels had been placed inside the gas tank and paint can and then set on fire. But the paint and gasoline failed to ignite.

Cecilia Perez of 2003 Ave. K said she was waiting in her car for her daughter to come out of a downtown theater about 11 p.m. Saturday when she was attacked by two Mexican-American women who attempted to take her purse.

Mrs. Perez said the two suspects, described as heavy-set and in their 30s or 40s, forced her out of her car and began hitting her. She said the women tried to take her purse, but she fought back and the suspects eventually fled.

Mrs. Perez received minor injuries and was taken to a local hospital where she was treated and released.

Kim R. Specht of 4208-E 18th St. said his residence was entered between 7 p.m. and 10 p.m. Sunday and $950 in property stolen, including jewelry and a television.

The apartment reportedly had been ransacked and entry appeared to be gained through a bedroom window.

A large Mexican-American man in a blue pickup was being sought by police in the reported Sunday burglary of Martin Garcia Valdez, 2701 Duke St. residence.

Valdez' father told police he saw the suspect enter his son's house about 6:30 p.m. Reported missing were a television and grandfather's clock, totaling $600.

Bud Claude Elmore said he was inside a 19th Street disco club between 11 p.m. Saturday and 1 a.m. Sunday when his car parked outside was burglarized. Elmore, a Tech freshman, said $1,000 in cassette tapes, speakers and a CB radio were taken from his vehicle.

Mrs. Francis C. Sanchez of 2919 E. Bates St. said her loss would be about $1,400 after her home was broken into and $300 in cash and stereo equipment were taken. The reported burglary occurred early Sunday morning.

Authorities today were continuing their investigation of a reported rape of a 17-year-old Lubbock woman Friday night.

The woman told police she was parked in front of a doughnut shop about 11 p.m. when her brother-in-law and two of his friends drove up next to her. She said she got into the car after being invited to drive around and drink beer.

Deputies, who later turned the case over to city police, were told the woman's relative took his two friends home and began driving south on Quirt Avenue past the Lubbock International Airport. Along the way, the suspect reportedly told the woman he would get revenge on his wife — and her sister — through her.

She said the man stopped the car and raped her in the front seat. The suspect, according to reports, drove his victim back to her car after the assault. The woman reportedly arrived at her sister's house about 5 a.m. Saturday and notified sheriff's deputies.

In another weekend incident an 18-year-old city waitress told police she was abducted and raped.

The young woman told police that she had been walking near the 200 block of Cherry Street Saturday night when two men confronted her and forced her into their car.

She reported that one of the subjects pulled a knife on her and told her, "I'll cut you up," if she didn't go with them.

The woman related that the duo drove north on the Amarillo Highway to a dirt road where both men took off her clothes and raped her.

After the incident, the woman said she was dropped off at a dirt road around 1528 E. Broadway. The victim described the two suspects as Mexican-American, 18 to 25 years old and of medium build.

The 7-11 convenience store at 27th Street and Ave. Q was the object of the city's latest armed robbery.

Sales clerk William Bell told officers that about 3:05 a.m. Sunday four young men approached the store, three of them entering the establishment while the other man stood outside. Bell, who was standing near the cash register, said the three men walked toward him and that one of them asked him for a pack of cigarettes.

The sales clerk bent down to get the cigarettes. As he got up, however, he reported that one of the men pointed a pistol at him and demanded all the money in the register.

Bell told officers he removed the money and gave it to the men in a paper sack. The robbers told the sales clerk to go to an employees' room before they made their escape with an undetermined amount of money.

Bell described the men as Mexican-American, 17-20 years old, about 5-feet 9-inches to 6-feet tall and of medium build. He said the men, who all had shoulder-length black hair, were wearing blue jeans, blue jean jackets (with the sleeves cut out) and no shoes. One of the men had a three-inch scar on his left cheek, Bell told officers.

In other criminal activity, a laundry at 121 North University Ave. was the site of a Saturday night strong-arm robbery.

Attendant J.P. Hammons told police that about 9:20 p.m. Saturday two men entered the business and asked him where the restroom was.

Hammons reported that the men went to the restroom, came out, grabbed him and dragged him back to the restroom.

While in the restroom, the men demanded Hammons' cash. He gave them his billfold which contained $150. The attendant told police that the men took his cash, threw his wallet to the floor and told him to stay in the restroom until they made their getaway.

The suspects were described as Mexican-American, about 26-35 years old, tall, muscular with black hair.

An Ardmore, Okla., man was the victim of an assault early Sunday at 2403 3rd St.

Jesse Dawkins told police that he had met a woman at a local nightclub and had gone to her home. Dawkins reported that two men began beating and kicking the front door, entered the house and began hitting him.

The Oklahoma man told police he made his escape by jumping through a window.

Burglars and mischief makers also were making their presence known throughout the weekend.

Kenneth S. Smith of 3009 Bates reported the theft of more than $1,000 worth of household goods. Thieves made off with a 10" color TV, a microwave oven and a stereo from Smith's home sometime late Saturday or early Sunday.

Dewitt C. Simons Jr. returned to his 4931 17th Place residence Saturday afternoon only to find burglars had taken a portable black-and-white television set, a gold watch, cash and numerous valuable coins.

Police later recovered the TV in the alley behind Simons' home.

Burglars apparently gained entry to the residence by breaking a bathroom window.

Albert Chavez of Jayton told police that someone had taken $670 in tires and wheels from his car, which was parked at a grocery store at 1701 Parkway Drive. The theft occurred sometime between 4:25 p.m. and 4:45 p.m. Saturday.

While some people were enjoying a movie Saturday night, burglars were busy taking items from their cars parked at a theater at 4200 19th St.

James A. Copeland of Anton told police that someone had removed the guns and CB radio from his pickup, which was parked at the west side of the theater. He estimated the loss at $600.

Rodney Dale Ray, who had his car parked on the east side of the theater, lost his tapes, tape player and CB radio to the thieves. The items were valued at $500.

And some residents in the 3600, 4000 and 4200 blocks of 40th Street got more than their share of criminal mischief.

Bob Harris of 4202 40th St., Niki Cumbe of 4008 40th St. and Ken Easley of 3612 40th St. reported Sunday that someone had thrown a brick through the rear windows of their automobiles.

Combined damage to the vehicles was estimated at $750.

NEW THUMB — Dr. Donald Serafin examines Trudy Howie's new thumb, fashioned in an operation last July from the second toe of her left foot. ## Toe-Thumb Train Strikes House, Kills Three Persons MIAMISBURG, Ohio (AP) — Two women and a month-old baby were killed when a Conrail freight train derailed and crashed into a two-story house while people inside were playing cards, authorities said. Seven people suffered minor injuries.

"Someone said, 'Here comes the 5:30 and she is going awful fast,'" said Michael Call, whose son was among those killed in the train wreck Sunday night. "When I saw what was happening, I turned around to yell for everyone to get out of the house and the whole wall just came down on top of me."

"All we've got left is a hope chest. It's all gone," Call said today as he watched workmen clear away the crumpled freight cars from his home.

One freight car stood inside the ruins of the house where the bodies were found and another was part way into the structure. Other cars in the 20-car train were piled nearly as high as the house.

"They just stacked up like a car wreck," said Police Chief Ronald McBride. "They squeezed together like an accordion."

The dead were identified as 4-week-old Michael Joseph Call and Kathy Barkalow, 17, both of Miamisburg; and Linda Humerick, 26, of Germantown, Ohio.

Seven people were taken to Grandview Ambulatory Center, where six were treated for minor injuries and released, officials said. The seventh, a bystander who was not in the house, was kept at the hospital and was reported in good condition today.

Police said they believed they had accounted for all the people in the house but that they were still searching the debris.

Police said Call and his wife, Donna, who lived in the house, Miss Barkalow and Miss Humerick apparently were playing cards in the living room when the train hit Sunday. They said Miss Humerick was found clutching the child when the rubble was cleared from the bodies nearly two hours later.

Police and Conrail officials were still trying to determine the cause of the derailment, which squeezed most of the cars against an abandoned feed mill.

Dale Trucker, who lived with his family in the other half of the two-family house, said he was on the back porch when he saw a freight car "with all its wheels in the air and all of a sudden, there was a sound like they dropped a bomb."

Trucker said he ran inside, grabbed his 6-month-old baby and yelled to his wife to get out of the house.

As they reached the front door, he said, the train hit, dislodging bricks and plaster.

Their four other children, ranging in age from 4 to 9, were playing in the front yard and ran across the street to safety.

Jerry Jones, emergency room supervisor at Grandview Ambulatory Center, said Michael Barkalow, 24, who was one of those treated and released, told him the Calls had just moved into the house a week ago.

"They had just gotten things straightened around, and this was the first chance they had to invite over some of the people who had helped them move in," Jones recalled Barkalow as saying.

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Back in July, little Trudy Howie of Gastonia, N.C., let Duke Medical Center surgeons cut one of her toes off. And then in a rare 14-hour operation, those surgeons turned that toe into a thumb for the 8-year-old.

Last week for the first time in her life, Trudy was able to touch her right thumb to her right little finger. Until the operation, such a simple movement was an impossibility for her because of a congenital birth defect that left only a nub where her thumb should have been.

A team of six plastic surgeons at Duke Medical Center used a technique called a microsurgical composite tissue transplantation. It took them 14 hours because the microscopic arteries and veins had to be attached separately, some being as small as one millimeter in diameter.

Trudy's second toe on her left foot was severed and then transplanted to create the new thumb. Skin, bone, muscle, blood vessels, nerves and fatty tissue were moved.

Then the surgeons drilled a hole in the end of the toe bone and secured it, much like a cap, over the sharpened remainder of the protruding bone in the thumb.

In order to give the thumb feeling, two nerves were attached; three tendons were attached to allow free movement. "We are confident that she'll have full feeling and use, just like a normal thumb," said Dr. Donald Serafin, associate professor of plastic surgery.

"Because we transplanted the growing center, it should grow as her hand does. It looks very much like her other thumb now. It has a nail, which will also continue to grow."

The cast on Trudy's thumb was replaced last week by a splint, but it will take several months for the thumb to fully heal.

Serafin said the procedure was perfected only a few years ago, and is performed in only three or four medical centers around the country.

Now the third grader will be able to hold a pencil properly in school and manipulate objects in a grasp others take for granted. "I think I'll be able to play games and write and draw a lot better. I can already touch my little finger," she said Friday.

Ancient Vessel Search Proves To Be Fruitless

By BILL KIDD
A-J Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — The Gulf of Mexico, which three centuries ago swallowed up two of the ships of the French explorer Rene Robert Cavalier, Sieur de LaSalle, has refused to yield the remains of those historic vessels.

Marine archaeologist Barto Arnold, who headed efforts this summer by the Texas Antiquities Committee to locate the wreck of the "Armable" and a smaller vessel, said this summer's TAC field season failed to find the sites, if they are in fact within Matagorda Bay near Port O'Connor.

Arnold said "documentary evidence" indicates the vessels were lost there in 1685, but a magnetometer search of five square miles of the sandy bay bottom guided by 17th century maps as well as 20th century technology failed to locate the French ships.

Twelve "anomalies" were located, five of those turned out not to be shipwreck sites, according to Arnold, including one "interesting" wreck of a small sailing vessel dating to the period of the Civil War or slightly later.

Two of the vessels date from this century, Arnold said, while two seem to

'Test' Signs Help Reduce Accidents

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Some Californians may be wondering what the "test" is about when they see highway signs stating, "Test Zone. Turn On Headlights."

Now they know. There isn't any, says the California Department of Transportation.

But the signs might be cutting the fatality rate.

Department spokesman Richard Friedman said in an interview that officials determined years ago that 80 to 95 percent of all drivers respond to such signs.

Statistics indicate that the signs help keep drivers alert. While they don't cut the number of accidents, they seem to lessen their severity, Friedman said.

"If there is no clear reason for a number of accidents, we will try this unless we can think of something better," he said.

'Soap' Returning To Air Without Earlier Uproar

By JAY SHARBUTT
LOS ANGELES (AP) — ABC's sex-spice "Soap," lambasted by religious and homosexual groups when it began last fall, is starting Season No. 2 with almost none of the criticism that preceded its debut.

But he said Miss Fawcett-Majors, when the suit against her was dropped, agreed to do three more "Angels" episodes next season.

The graying, 40-year-old executive grinned when asked to predict which networks would be No. 2 and 3 in the ratings this season. He declined to hazard a forecast.

"I'm just going to take the position ABC is going to be No. 1," said Thomopoulos, whose network officially starts its new season tonight.

This is the gospel according to Anthony D. Thomopoulos as he begins his first full season as ABC's programs chief. He began there last February when Fred Silverman decamped to run NBC.

In a wide-ranging chat recently with eight scribes here, he said he thinks the reason "Soap" is returning with little public uproar is that the show "has been fairly well-received and accepted."

He said he feels that when viewers finally saw the half-hour sitcom after all the hullabaloo last year, "the judgment made by the public was that the critics were wrong."

And, in contrast to last fall, when 19 ABC affiliates either aired the series late at night or refused to put it on at all, virtually all ABC stations will air it this season as scheduled, he said.

Among them, he added, is WJZ in Baltimore, the only top 50 market station last fall to say no soap to "Soap," which chuckles about such matters as homosexuality, infidelity and the Mafia.

And unlike last season, when each "Soap" began by advising that certain of its "dialogue and situations may not be suitable for all members of the family," there'll be no such advisory now except when ABC's censor feels it is warranted, he said.

On another item, he was asked if he felt Fred Silverman shuffled NBC's new schedule at the last minute to avoid taking on top-rated ABC early in the season, in effect stalling for time until he can get shows he thinks will be hits on the air to challenge ABC's top shows.

Thomopoulos diplomatically said he didn't know why all the shuffling, he'd have to be at NBC to understand Silverman's motivation, and added:

"I could make a lot of assumptions, but it would be unfair."

Two other matters: John Travolta and Farrah Fawcett-Majors.

Travolta, the "Welcome Back, Kotter" co-star who hit it big in the movies "Grease" and "Saturday Night Fever," will return to "Kotter" this season, but only appear in eight episodes.

Miss Fawcett-Majors, who left "Charlie's Angels" to try for a film career, then was sued for leaving her show, will be back in "Angels" this season, but only for three episodes.

Will they return to their series next season, too?

"There are plans to have them come back on a limited basis if we do proceed with the shows," Thomopoulos said. He gave no details on how many episodes Travolta would appear in during the 1979-80 season.

Scientist Sees Cleaner Cotton

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Dr. H. Muramoto, a University of Arizona plant scientist, may well be able to bring respiratory relief to the world's more than two million textile mill workers. After eight years of research, he feels he's on the brink of presenting a cotton variety that drops its "bracts" early. Bract dust is a prime suspect as the cause of byssinosis, or brown lung disease. Bracts are those small leaves which grow beneath the flower. On current commercial cotton, they begin to dry, yet cling to the floral axis, after the plant has bloomed.

Richard III of England was killed at the Battle of Bosworth Field in 1485, ending the Wars of the Roses.

Critic Lauds McCowen Performance

By WILLIAM GLOVER
NEW YORK (AP) — Alec McCowen's solo performance of St. Mark's Gospel is a theatrical stunner. Living up to advance glist tidings, the eminent English actor opened recently at Marymount Manhattan College theater for a stay through Sept. 24. A cross-country tour follows, but because the local engagement sold out in advance at the 250-seat auditorium, a return visit at a Broadway theater has just been booked for Oct. 24-Nov. 12. To get to specifics, what McCowen achieves in the show is a double demonstration of the acting art. First is the sheerly technical feat of memorizing a formidable text that keeps him talking for over two hours. His only surcease is a short intermission and an occasional sip of water. The second, far more challenging accomplishment, has been to transform a narrative, which for many people is enshrined with devotional solemnity, into a vibrant, engrossing, vital animation. St. Mark, as the star points out in a brief prologue, concentrated on telling of the ministry of Jesus Christ. There is no mention of the Nativity, the Sermon on the Mount or many of the teachings which fill other Bible books. This is an incident-packed story of the Nazarene's travels, miracles, the disciples and Calvary.

Clad casually in a white-striped blazer, open-necked shirt, nondescript slacks and shoes, McCowen strays about the stage like a troubadour of old, unfolding the drama. For props there are a table and three chairs, one of which he occasionally if you hope to succeed. Taurus (April 20-May 20) Friends you normally count upon will be too involved in their own affairs tomorrow to do you any good. Don't bank on them to cover for you. Gemini (May 21-June 20) If you press hard enough tomorrow you can impose your will upon others. The important consideration, however, will be if the victory is worth the price. Cancer (June 21-July 22) Avoid the company of wastrels tomorrow, as you will tend to be influenced by their vibes. In situations where you would normally be prudent you'll be extravagant. Leo (July 23-Aug. 22) Don't make important agreements under pressure tomorrow. In situations where you are leaned on by others your sound judgment will go awry.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

By Bernice Bede Osol

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Normally you're extremely astute at judging the capabilities of others. Tomorrow, however, you may gamble that nonproducers will become productive.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't confuse positivism with wishful thinking tomorrow. Banking too highly on blue sky hopes will only lead to disappointment.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You'll be lucky tomorrow, but there is a possibility that you may push it beyond its limits. This is particularly true in career and domestic areas.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) In situations where you feel strongly, you could go to extremes tomorrow to prove your point. Use only moderate measures.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Beware that you do not lose your cool tomorrow in challenging situations. If you do, you could take risks you'd not dream of otherwise.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Instead of doing your own things tomorrow, you're likely to succumb to the influence of persons whose judgment is not as astute as your own. This could prove costly.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Tomorrow your compassionate instincts could lead you to promise to do things for someone less fortunate, even though you're not in the position to do so.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your optimism will be exaggerated tomorrow by glasses on the rose-colored side. Deal with life realistically if you hope to succeed.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Friends you normally count upon will be too involved in their own affairs tomorrow to do you any good. Don't bank on them to cover for you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you press hard enough tomorrow you can impose your will upon others. The important consideration, however, will be if the victory is worth the price.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Avoid the company of wastrels tomorrow, as you will tend to be influenced by their vibes. In situations where you would normally be prudent you'll be extravagant.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Don't make important agreements under pressure tomorrow. In situations where you are leaned on by others your sound judgment will go awry.

Gallery's Paintings Damaged By Trio

TURIN, Italy (AP) — A man and two women, disguised as a monk and nuns, firebombed an art gallery featuring paintings that dealt with the Holy Shroud and the kidnap-murder of former Premier Aldo Moro, police said Sunday.

The three visited the exhibit Saturday and the man drew a gun and locked gallery director Giuseppe de Grazia in a side room, police reported.

They said the trio slashed several paintings and on one depicting the kidnapping of Moro painted the slogan, "Basta con Moro" — Enough about Moro — before setting fire to the building. The blaze was quickly put out by firemen.

WEATHER FORECAST — Rain is forecast today for New England as well as part of the Pacific Northwest. Rain is also anticipated over the northern Plains, changing to showers over the Great Lakes and running as far south as Louisiana. Showers are also expected for most of Florida. Temperatures will be cool over the Pacific Northwest and warm over much of the remainder of the nation. (AP Laserphoto)

New York, Connecticut To Pick Demo Gubernatorial Hopefuls

By The Associated Press
Democratic voters in New York and Connecticut will pick gubernatorial candidates in primary elections Tuesday, while Minnesota voters seek a candidate to run for the late Hubert Humphrey's Senate seat.

New York Gov. Hugh Carey is favored to win renomination over his former lieutenant governor, Mary Ann Krupak, and state Sen. Jeremiah B. Bloom. The winner faces Assembly Minority Leader Perry Duryea, the unopposed Republican whose extensive television advertising has been aimed against Carey.

Connecticut Gov. Ella Grasso also is expected to survive a challenge by her lieutenant governor, Robert Killian. The Republican gubernatorial candidate, Ronald A. Sarasin, is unopposed.

A lively campaign for the Democratic nomination to fill the rest of Humphrey's Senate term between Rep. Donald Frasier and businessman Robert Short comes to a close with Minnesota's elections. The Republicans have a five-way race for a shot at the Humphrey seat. The featured combatants in that election include party-endorsed David Durenberger and former University of Minnesota President Malcolm Moos.

Humphrey's widow, Muriel, has sat in her husband's seat since shortly after his death in January. She decided not to run. In the state's other Senate race, polls show incumbent Wendell Anderson, who faces five opponents in the Democratic primary, trailing Rudy Boschwitz, a 47-year-old businessman favored to win the Republican primary over Harold Stassen, 71, a former governor noted for his once frequent bids for the presidency.

Minnesota Gov. Rudy Perpich, a Democrat, and Rep. Albert Quey, a Republican, are expected to have little trouble in bids for their parties' gubernatorial nominations.

Republican Contests Top Elections In Colorado

DENVER (UPI) — Colorado's primary election campaign drew to a close today with little apparent interest from voters despite record spending by a large field of candidates.

Republicans Jack Swigert and Bill Armstrong ended their campaigns for the nomination for the U.S. Senate Sunday with a debate that aimed more at the winner's opponent in the general election — incumbent Democratic Sen. Floyd Haskell.

Armstrong, the congressman from the 5th district, played down his differences with Swigert to attack Haskell. Swigert concentrated on philosophical differences between himself and Armstrong.

The Republicans have both of the major contests in Tuesday's primary — the Senate contest and the one for governor. Democrats have a battle for the lieutenant governor's office between two state lawmakers — House Minority Leader Ruben Valdez, D-Denver, and Rep. Nancy Dick, D-Denver.

There also are primary battles in all of the congressional districts with the exception of the suburban 2nd District where Rep. Tim Wirth, D-Colo., has a fight with Lakewood businessman Ed

Scott, who nearly toppled the incumbent two years ago.

Figures released earlier this month by the Secretary of State's office reveal a record 1,285,688 persons are eligible to vote in Tuesday's primary. That is an increase of 13.3 percent over 1974 and up 7.3 percent over two years ago.

Most of the national interest in the Colorado primary has been focused on the Armstrong-Swigert race.

Armstrong and Swigert have directed their primary campaigns almost solely on Haskell rather than on another. Armstrong, 41, is a veteran campaigner with a strong organizational base, while Swigert, 46, is a newcomer to politics who has been unable to raise as much campaign money as his more experienced opponent.

Seeking the Republican nomination to battle incumbent Democratic Gov. Richard Lamm are two state senators — Majority Leader Richard Plock, R-Denver, and Ted Strickland, R-Westminster, vice chairman of the legislative Joint Budget Committee.

The main issue in the Plock and Strickland campaign has seemed to be which is more conservative.

Challenger Expecting Close Vote

By The Associated Press
Not since the son of the late Sen. Huey P. Long, Russell Long, beat Robert F. Kennon in the 1948 election has a Senate race in Louisiana appeared even remotely in doubt.

At least not until this year, as state Rep. Louis "Woody" Jenkins is fond of reminding voters.

Jenkins contends he has a serious chance of unseating incumbent Sen. J. Bennett Johnston in the statewide primary Saturday, the first open primary in history.

But Johnston contends the race won't be that close and he will win. Less than half of Louisiana's estimated 1.8 million voters are expected to cast ballots as elections are held in seven of the eight congressional districts, including the 4th where nine candidates are clamoring for a chance to succeed retiring Rep. Joe Waggoner, a Democrat.

Two seats on the five-member Public Service Commission and one of the State Board of Elementary and Secondary Education also will be at stake.

In addition, there are hundreds of area and local races. Those range from district judgeships and district attorney posts to battles for seats on police juries and school boards.

This will be the first time that Louisiana's U.S. Senate and House candidates — regardless of party — run in an open primary. It replaces the party primaries of past years.

All voters, regardless of their party affiliation, may participate. The general election is Nov. 7 but most of the races will be decided Saturday.

Runoffs matching the top two votegetters in the primary will be held in November only in races where the leading primary candidate received less than a majority.

Presentation Of Spur To Head Prairie Party

More than 1,000 persons are expected to attend the Sept. 22 National Golden Spur Award and Prairie Party in the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center.

The first National Golden Spur Award, a gilded OK working spur encased in Steuben Glass designed with a reflection of trail dust, will be presented to Albert K. Mitchell, a rancher from Albert, N.M. He was chosen by representatives of all major facets of the livestock and ranching industry.

The Prairie Party, to include 19th century pageantry and music, is one of a trio of events scheduled in conjunction with the award.

Among those toasting the ranching industry will be an emissary from Great Britain expected to bring messages from Queen Elizabeth II and the National Trust, an organization charged with the preservation and restoration of England's historic places.

Margaret Douglas is a retired official of the National Trust who was involved with the restoration of Old Washington Hall north of London where George Washington's ancestors were the land and cattle barons of their time. Descendants of many cattle barons of the Old West, who helped build the heritage preserved by the Ranching Heritage Center at Texas Tech, will be in attendance.

The Livestock and Money Symposium will be held from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Sept. 22, at the Museum of Texas Tech University. Moderator will be Charles Ball, executive vice president of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association. Speakers include Everett Harris, president emeritus of the Chicago Mercantile Exchange; Gene Edwards, board chairman, First National Bank, Amarillo; W.D. "Bill" Farr, Farr Feedlots, Greeley, Colo.; and Dr. Robert Jensen, head of the Department of Nutrition, University of Connecticut.

President Barbara Keating of Consumer Alert, Stamford, Conn., will be the luncheon speaker and the chuckwagon lunch is included in the symposium registration fee of $15.

Ranch Day begins at 9 a.m., Sept. 23, at the Ranching Heritage Center of The Museum of Texas Tech University. Activities will be going on in all buildings at the HANDICAPPED SESSION — The Employment and Training Administration will meet with state Job Service officials Sept. 20-22 in Salt Lake City, Utah, to discuss helping the handicapped get employment. The session will be held just prior to the annual meeting of the National Rehabilitation Association, also in Salt Lake City, starting on Sept. 24, it was announced by Assistant Secretary of Labor Ernest G. Green.

center until 11:30 a.m. A chuckwagon lunch will be followed by entertainment and a brief annual business meeting of the association, including election of officers.

All activities are open to the public. Ranch Day, including lunch, is $5.50 for adults and $2.25 for children for non-members of the association and $4.50 and $1.75 for members.

Wray Finney, seventh generation cattlemen and past president of the Oklahoma Cattlemen's Association, will speak at Ranch Day. The group Ft. Griffin Fandangle will perform.

The National Golden Spur is to be presented annually to an individual for outstanding contributions to the livestock and ranching industries, with special emphasis on humanistic contributions.

Tickets, at $15 each or $120 for a table, are available through the Ranching Heritage Association.

For reservations to the symposium or the Prairie Party, checks should be sent to the Ranching Heritage Association, The Museum of Texas Tech University, Lubbock, 79409. Ranch Day tickets may be purchased up to the day of the festivities.

Representatives of early ranching families will model fashions from the historic collection of The Museum of Texas Tech University.

Proceeds from the Prairie Party will benefit the Ranching Heritage Center, a 12-acre outdoor exhibit of authentic ranch structures at The Museum of Texas Tech University, depicting the history of ranching in the American West.

Local Women Seek Crown

Carrying on the tradition of the women who fought for Mexican Independence, six young Lubbock women will compete at 8 p.m. Thursday for the title of "Adelita."

Dressed in the traditional costumes of revolutionary women, the contestants will compete at Azlan Park. The selection of the "Adelita" will be one of the first activities planned to celebrate "El diez y seis de Septiembre" — Mexican Independence Day.

The legend of the Adelita tells the story of a beautiful young woman, probably around 16 years old, who fought for her people's rights during the war for independence. She is a symbol of all the women who fought in the war.

The winner will be selected by six judges on the basis of talent and costume. The winner will replace last year's Adelita, Nelda Flores, and preside over 11 different fiesta activities.

Adelita candidates are Armandina Barera, 19, of 2414 5th St., who is sponsored by the Raza Unida party, and Juana Montalvo, 18, of 2211 20th St., who is sponsored by the Bidal Aguerro Campaign Committee.

Rita Ortega, 20, of 3310 Emory St., is sponsored by Montelongo's Restaurant, and Josie Ponce, 17, of 3322 Jarvis St., is sponsored by Ladies LULAC Council 281.

Elizabeth Mary Vasquez, 18, of 1923 E. Brown St., is sponsored by Ramon Castro Motors and Amelia Soto, 16, of 2106 28th St., is sponsored by All-American Real Estate.

Earl Scudday Challenging The Champs

AFTER JUST TWO weekends of the National Football League title race, it is rather obvious that the Dallas Cowboys have one of their best teams ever. It is equally obvious that they are going to have to fight with fang and claw for the next 14 games.

Contradictory? Not at all. The Cowboys have awesome offensive and defensive potential this season, but their opponents are facing them with the fury of pioneers defending their log cabins against an Apache war party. It's the Alamo in reverse, with the Texans cast as the bad guys.

Not surprisingly, the rest of the NFL teams want to knock off the Super Bowl champions. Green Bay was in the same situation back in the middle 1960s, when the Packers were at their peak, then the Dolphins and the Steelers found it impossible to remain king of the hill against kamikaze attacks every Sunday.

Some clubs, it seems, would rather upset the champ than to win a half-dozen games against lesser opposition.

Whatever the motivation of the enemy, the Cowboys must be ready for a no-quarter duel every time they trot onto the field. It's open season on the 'Pokes!

FORTUNATELY FOR THE Cowboys and their fans, Coach Tom Landry's club is particularly well equipped to meet all the challenges this year. Sir Thomas certainly would not trade his pitcher and catchers for any combo in the league.

Roger (Staubach) has been the best quarterback in the league the last couple of years," Landry remarked at a recent session. "He's at the top of his game and continues to do an excellent job."

An excellent rating by Landry is equal to All-University by other sources. The addition of Tony Hill to the receiving corps has turned an outstanding group of pass-snappers into a sensational aggregation. Hill has hands like Drew Pearson and the speed of Tony Dorsett. That is some kind of combination.

Add the two big tight ends, Billy Joe DuPree and Jay Saldi, plus the use of canny Preston Pearson on obvious passing situations, and the problem for the defense is staggering.

DALLAS' DOOMSDAY GANG was the best in the NFL last year in many categories and has the potential to improve a notch or two this autumn. The New York Giants found a way to stop Harvey Martin, by goading him into a temper outburst that got him ejected from the game, but that probably won't work again.

Some observers Sunday thought Harvey got a bum rap from the zebras a couple of plays earlier, when he was tagged for roughing the passer. The sack didn't look illegal, unless Harvey's forearm contacted the passer's helmet as he clinched the tackle. It was a very close call.

Then the Giants, spewing indignation over the alleged abuse of their quarterback, ganged up on Harvey and gave him the old we'll-get-even-for-that treat-

Dorsett's TD Clinches 34-24 Win For Dallas

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) — Tony Dorsett gained 1,007 yards as a rookie despite starting only the last five games of the season and being uncomfortable with Dallas' intricate offense.

Things are different this year, however, for the former Heisman Trophy winner. Two outstanding performances in the opening weeks of the season indicate the shifty halfback is finding life in the National Football League more to his liking this time around.

Dorsett followed up last week's 147-yard showing against the Baltimore Colts by rushing for 111 yards and scoring the clinching touchdown in the Cowboys' 34-24 victory over the New York Giants Sunday.

"The difference this year is, No. 1, I'm starting and, No. 2, I'm more comfortable and relaxed with the system," Dorsett said. "I don't have to think about each move I make now, I just do it. Just like it was in college."

Dorsett's 3-yard TD run made it 34-17 in the fourth quarter after the Giants had staged a second-half comeback. Roger Staubach connected on 18 of 28 passes for 212 yards, including short first-half TDs to Billy Joe DuPree and Jay Saldi. Robert Newhouse bolted over for scores of 1 and 2 yards.

Joe Pisarcik, who completed 15 of 37 passes for 261 yards, hit Al Dixon on a 4-yard TD. The Giants' other scores came on Bobby Hammond's 11-yard run, Dan Doornink's 1-yard plunge and Joe Daneolo's 42-yard field goal.

"It's easy to prepare mentally this year knowing I'm going to start," Dorsett said. "Last year I knew I wasn't going to start but I didn't know how much I was going to play."

"Our team, in my opinion, has unlimited potential. We're explosive and can score from anywhere on the field. The best is yet to come," Dorsett added. "I cheated myself last year because I was hurt and I didn't feel in it. I fell behind on my studies and our system can be confusing. This year I got it down and am running with authority."

Dallas Coach Tom Landry was upset that his team lacked intensity after building a 21-7 halftime advantage.

"It wasn't one of our best defensive efforts," he said. "It's tough to get up every week. It obvious we weren't up defensively. On a 16-game schedule, there can be a lot of down games. When we got 21 points I know a lot of the guys were

Earl Rolls; Oilers Nip KC 20-17

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — When the time came to win, the Houston Oilers went to work like loan sharks foreclosing on a widow.

All the papers are in order, gentlemen, let's wrap this deal up.

Sixty-five yards the Oilers needed and 65 they got. The emotionally charged Kansas City Chiefs, gunning for a second straight upset victory that would have put their season in orbit, saw them coming but seemed powerless to stop them.

Earl Campbell carried four straight times for 39 yards and delivered them to the Chiefs' 26. Rob Carpenter took his turn and toted three times for 23 yards to the three. Let Tim Wilson make a yard.

Then with 1:53 remaining Campbell hurdled a stack of desperate defenders at the goal line for his second touchdown of the fourth period and the Oilers went home with a 20-17 victory.

"I knew we were going to score all the way," said Quarterback Dan Pastorini. "You get that feeling sometimes."

Said Campbell, "I was only thinking about doing my job. That's the way they teach you. If you do your job the other people will do theirs."

"This was a real test of our character as football players and a football team," said Bum Phillips, Houston's folksy head coach.

Connors, Evert Triumph

NEW YORK (AP) — Bjorn Borg's Grand Slam dream and Pam Shriver's Cinderella story both ended as tennis love match, former sweethearts and current "good friends" Jimmy Connors and Chris Evert, waltzed off with the big prizes at the U.S. Open.

Connors was at his fiery, fist-shaking, foot-stomping best Sunday in trouncing Borg, who was bothered by a blister on his right thumb, 6-4, 6-2, 6-2 for the men's title.

Hours earlier, Miss Evert sent the 16-year-old Miss Shriver back to school with a 7-5, 6-4 tennis lesson in the women's championship before a record crowd of 19,537, including 18,032 paid, and an international television audience.

"I came here to play tennis, to win the U.S. Open — and I did it," exulted Connors, who achieved a measure of revenge for the 6-2, 6-2, 6-2 beating he suffered against Borg two months ago at Wimbledon.

It was Connors' third U.S. Open title. He won in 1974 and 1976 and was a beaten finalist in 1975 and 1977.

"I won the Open on grass, I won it on clay. I won it here (on a fast artificial surface, Devo-Turf II, at the new National Tennis Center)," said Connors. Now I've shown I can win on any surface. I'm riding on a cloud right now."

Before the tournament, Connors had vowed to go "to the ends of the earth" to stop Borg's Grand Slam bid — the French, U.S. and Australian opens and Wimbledon, all in the same year. Borg already had won the French Open and Wimbledon, but instead of the ends of the earth, Connors was able to halt that streak in New York.

"It seems I play my best tennis when I come to New York," Connors told the crowd, which often has roared against him in his matches here and which had mixed allegiances Sunday. "Whether you like me or not, I like you."

Borg, meanwhile, couldn't give his best effort because of a painful blister on the thumb of his racket hand. The injury occurred Saturday and was treated with ice packs, oral medication and spray antiseptic in the 24 hours before the match.

Twice the racket flew from Borg's hand as he attempted to serve, and on other occasions he seemed to mis-hit the ball after apparently losing his grip. Although Borg insisted the blister hadn't bothered him during the match, his coach said otherwise.

"It was very obvious that it bothered him," said Lennart Bergelin. "He was in pain. Anyone could see that. He couldn't hold the racket."

thinking it was going to be easy. But the Giants are a hustling, hard-working football team."

Despite the loss, Pisarcik thought the Giants played well offensively. He was especially pleased with the wide-open play.

"This was my kind of game," Pisarcik said. "I like throwing the ball. When I played in Canada we used to call runs to set up the pass. We're coming on, I thought we could beat them."

New York Coach John McVay was impressed with the Cowboys.

"Dallas is a great football team," he said. "Staubach is a great player, the premier quarterback in football. They have so many great players. They're just a great football team."

The Giants, 1-1, face the Kansas City Chiefs next week while the Cowboys, 2-0, travel to Los Angeles.

Intentional Fumble, Recovery Saves Oakland Win

By The Associated Press

Yes, said Ken Stabler, I really did fumble on purpose.

Yes, said Dave Casper, I really did help the ball along.

No, said Jerry Markbriet, there was nothing wrong with any of that.

The Oakland Raiders, a National Football League power for many years, appeared doomed to their second straight loss of the season Sunday.

But with 10 seconds to play and the Raiders 14 yards from the San Diego goal line, Stabler intentionally fumbled and Casper fell on the ball in the end zone for a touchdown. Errol Mann kicked the extra point with no time remaining and Oakland had a 21-20 victory.

Markbriet, the referee, ignored the howls from the Chargers' bench.

Victory is something Baltimore Coach Ted Marchbroda would like. For that matter, he probably would be happy with just a touchdown, a field goal, a safety... any kind of a score.

The Colts have not been playing the best brand of football this year. They've been shut out twice and have allowed 80 points — tops in the NFL. After their 38-0 loss at Dallas last Monday night, the Colts came home Sunday and were blitzed 42-0 by the Miami Dolphins.

In Sunday's other games it was Chicago 16, San Francisco 13; Cleveland 13, Cincinnati 10 in overtime; Green Bay 28, New Orleans 17; Houston 20, Kansas City 17; Pittsburgh 21, Seattle 10; Dallas 34, New York Giants 24; the New York Jets 21, Buffalo 20; Washington 35, Philadelphia 30; New England 16, St. Louis 6, and Los Angeles 10, Atlanta 0. On Saturday night it was Detroit 15, Tampa Bay 0. Raiders 21, Chargers 20.

"Somebody (defensive end Fred Dean) grabbed me and I was trying to throw the ball about the time I got hit. I fumbled it on purpose. Yes, I was trying to fumble," Stabler said after his quick thinking enabled the Raiders to defeat San Diego.

Casper was equally candid when asked about his part in the play. "I got lucky," he said. "Sure, I helped the ball along into the end zone. I saw the fumble come out of the pile."

Markbriet said Chargers Coach Tommy Prothro protested that the fumble had been thrown forward and batted illegally by Casper. "I ruled it a fumble," said Markbriet.

Dolphins 12, Colts 0

"We don't have a great deal of excuses. We were beaten in every phase of the game," Marchbroda said after the Colts suffered successive shutouts for the first time ever.

Marchbroda, trying to deal with the absence of quarterback Bert Jones, failed with Mike Kirkland against the Cowboys and had no more success with Bill Troup facing the Dolphins. He was intercepted six times, one of them run back 53 yards for a TD by Norris Thomas.

"The 100 yards was nice but it doesn't mean a thing since we lost," O.J. Simpson said after winning his first head-to-head confrontation with Walter Payton. Simpson had 108 yards rushing to Payton's 62 — but Simpson's fumble turned out to be a pivotal one.

He recovered the ball but lost 6 yards on the play and the 49ers, leading by four points in the fourth quarter, had to go to the air to try to maintain possession. Doug Buffone then intercepted and Chicago wound up with the winning touchdown.

Browns 13, Bengals 10

"You have to give it total concentration. You don't hear the sound (of the crowd) or anything. You go through and kick it, you hit it and it is on target," said placekicker Don Cockroft.

For Cockroft, it was his 27-yard field goal 4 1/2 minutes into sudden-death overtime Sunday gave Cleveland its victory.

Packers 28, Saints 17

Rookie James Lofton wound the crowd in Milwaukee, Green Bay's "other" home, with touchdown catches of 42, 47 and 18 yards from David Whitehurst.

Pittsburgh's Terry Bradshaw passed for touchdowns of 4 yards to wide receiver Lynn Swann and 20 yards to running back Sid Thornton and talked Coach Chuck Noll into another TD try, a successful one, against the Seahawks.

The scoring strikes came after Bradshaw bruised his throwing hand on a Seattle helmet in the first period. With the Steelers up 14-10 in the second half and fourth-and-goal at the Seahawks' 11, Bradshaw got Noll to withdraw placekicker Roy Gerela. The result: Franco Harris' scoring drive.

Jets 21, Bills 20

Richard Todd passed for three touchdowns, two of them to Jerome Barkum. The second of those, a 3-yarder with 50 seconds to play, enabled the Jets to beat the Bills.

More accurately it was Pat Leahy's extra point that did Buffalo in. The Bills also scored three TDs, two on Joe Ferguson passes, but on one of them, placekicker Tom Dempsey missed the conversion.

Redskins 35, Eagles 30

As far as Joe Theismann was concerned, the biggest man in the Washington offense was Joe Walton, the Redskins' new offensive coordinator.

"Walton has a tremendous offensive mind and he's given this team a confidence we've never had before," said Theismann, whose three TD passes and one TD run were instrumental in defeating Philadelphia.

Patriots 16, Cardinals 6

Steve Grogan passed for one TD and ran for one in New England's victory over winless St. Louis. "If we had anything we did particularly well, we'd work on that," said Bud Wilkinson, the Cardinals' disheartened coach. "But there is just not that much that went well."

Rams 10, Falcons 0

Rookie Frank Corral kicked a 19-yard field goal in the second quarter and Cullen Bryant scored from a yard out in the fourth period as Los Angeles defeated Atlanta.

Swedish Auto Racing Driver Peterson Dies

MILAN, ITALY (AP) — Swedish auto racing driver Ronnie Peterson died today from injuries suffered in Sunday's Grand Prix of Italy Formula 1 event, his manager, Steffen Svedny, reported.

The 34-year-old Swede had suffered multiple leg fractures and scalds in the arms when his Lotus car was struck by other racers, hit a guardrail and caught fire soon after the start of the Italian Grand Prix at Monza, which was delayed for nearly three hours following the pile-up of cars.

Early today, Peterson had developed severe kidney and breathing failure following "gaseous embolism" due to the severe fractures, doctors reported.

He had been reported in deep coma and in desperate condition soon after dawn surgery.

A spokesman at the Niguarda hospital, where Peterson had been rushed soon after the accident, later said the driver clinically died at 4:10 EDT.

Peterson, born in Orebro, Sweden, on Feb. 14, 1944, suffered the fatal injuries when his Lotus was involved in the collision of 10 cars in a narrow section of the track following the starting straight of the Monza Autodrome.

He was dragged out of his burning car by Britain's James Hunt, who also was involved in the accident but escaped unhurt.

Yanks Catch Red Sox

By The Associated Press

Who's afraid of the big, bad "Green Monster"? Certainly not the New York Yankees.

With fabled Fenway Park and its legendary left field wall as the backdrop, the Yankees swept through a four-game series with alarming ease, Sunday capping its own Boston Massacre with a 7-4 beating of the Red Sox.

That pulled the blazing New Yorkers even with the Red Sox in the American League East, a circumstance hardly imagined when the Yankees started the important series last Thursday night four games back.

"The whole country must be shocked at what we've done," said reliever Rich Gossage, one of Sunday's heroes for New York.

Bouton Loses In Debut

By The Associated Press

Jim Bouton, World Series hero in the mid-1960s, is back in the middle of a pennant race.

Somebody else's.

Bouton, the recycled pitcher from another generation, made his first start for last-place Atlanta Sunday. He pitched no-hit ball for three innings before Los Angeles solved his knuckleball for six runs in the next two frames en route to an 11-5 victory.

Several of the Dodgers felt that Bouton, who last pitched in the major leagues in 1970, shouldn't be masquerading as a pitcher in the middle of their National League West Division race with San Francisco.

"Yes, it's a joke," said Reggie Smith.

"At some point (Braves owner Ted Turner) is going to have to stop making fun of this game."

"The only way the Giants could feel it would be fair would be for Bouton to face them," said Davey Lopes. "That's the only way they can cover up what they did today."

Elsewhere in the NL, Cincinnati dominated the stumbling Giants 8-1, St. Louis stopped Philadelphia 8-6 in 10 innings, the New York Mets beat sliding Pittsburgh 11-9, the Chicago Cubs defeated Montreal 6-3 and Houston nipped San Diego 3-2.

In the NL West, the Dodgers led the Giants by four games going into tonight's important meeting between the teams at San Francisco, with Cincinnati 6 1/2 games back. Philadelphia moved four games ahead of Pittsburgh, with the Cubs 2 1/2 games further back, in the NL East.

There were some reports that Bouton, called up Thursday from Savannah in the Southern League, would start against the Giants later in the week.

"If he starts against the Giants, they shouldn't be upset," said Dodgers' Rick Monday, whose three-run homer — the 200th of his career — was the key blow against Bouton.

Monday, who also hit No. 201 against reliever Max Leon, didn't think the 39-year-old comeback kid was particularly effective. He said he was surprised that the Braves would use Bouton while a division race was going on. "But it doesn't matter who the pitcher is out there," he said. "We still have to go out and prove we can beat him."

Lopes, who also homered off Bouton, and Smith thought that beating the right-handed knuckleballer was like catching a routine fly ball. Easy.

Raiders, Coach Learn From Opening Defeat

By JIM FERGUSON
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff

If Rex Dockery could have had his way, no doubt he would have stopped the game between his Texas Tech Red Raiders and the Southern California Trojans at halftime, packed up the Q-T and headed home to Lubbock.

But that's just ain't the way it works, he said.

"I felt we played them pretty even in the first half," the first-year coach pointed out. "Our offense and defense both did a good job. But in the second half we didn't execute offensively and the game changed momentum."

After getting field goals of 39, 33 and 27 yards from Bill Adams, the Raiders held a 9-0 upper hand over the Trojans at the halftime break.

However, the Trojans, ranked ninth nationally in the preseason poll, put their game faces on during the intermission and went on to post a 17-9 victory over Dockery's club Saturday afternoon in the season opener for both teams.

The Raiders headed into the game as 19 point underdogs.

Some say it was a moral victory for the Raiders. But not so, says Dockery. "We didn't look at it as a moral victory. But we did learn some things, both positively and negatively about the team."

Dockery said he feels the team learned they could stay on the field with any team, be it USC or any other.

"We showed something with the goal line stand," said Dockery. "And we took the ball on the one and drove it down to their 20. That showed a lot of character, too."

Dockery was referring to, of course, Tech's stand in the second period, when it held the Trojans out of the end zone from inside the five on four tries.

After taking over at the one, the Raiders marched down to the 20 where Adams kicked the third of his three field goals.

In the second half though, the Trojans used their superior size and strength, scoring a pair of touchdowns in the third quarter and adding a 34-yard field goal by Frank Jordan in the closing moments of the contest.

The Trojans finished up with a 468-161 edge in total yardage, as Tech managed just seven offensive yards in the final two periods.

Ouch, that second half.

Heisman candidate Charles White, the owner of a 1,600 season as a sophomore, and running mate Lynn Cain spearheaded the USC ground attack. White carried 30 times for 156 yards, while Cain added 70 yards on 18 tries.

However, both had trouble hanging on to the ball. White lost three fumbles—one at the Tech 12, another at the Raider goal line—and Cain fumbled twice.

Raider Johnny Quinney recovered two miscues and also intercepted a Paul McDonald pass, to pace the Tech defensive unit.

Tech quarterback Tres Adams and fullback James Hadnot played well in the opening half to help the Raiders. Adams hit four of six passes for 89 yards during the first two periods. He wound up, however, with 8 of 17 for 110 yards.

Hadnot, a converted tight end, collected 54 yards on 16 carries in the first half, but ended up with just four yards on five more carries in the final two stanzas.

"We're going to be trying to get better as a football team," said Dockery. "We've got a couple of weeks before we play Arizona. And we plan to take advantage of it."

"Nineteen days just wasn't enough time to get ready for someone like USC."

offensive performances of runningback Paul Pogue and quarterback Rick McIvor.

"I'd have to say that Paul is one of our best runningbacks," paused Blocker. "No, I have to say he's our best runningback."

Pogue only carried the ball five times against Canutillo, but picked up 68 yards including a 33-yard scamper.

In regard to quarterback McIvor, Blocker said, "what can I say other than Rick threw a 91-yard touchdown pass."

are the whole Panther team.

Helping the duo cover the rest of the field included fullback Billy Ray Gordon and fullback Brad Jackson. Gordon had 70 yards on six carries, while Jackson ran for 55 yards on five attempts as Fort Stockton accumulated 340 yards total offense in the first half.

Meanwhile, Blocker didn't forget that the Panther defense shut out Canutillo.

The Panther coach cited the play of linebacker Poplin, end Bart Graves and tackle Jerry Jogie.

"I can't recall who our leading tackler was," said Blocker. "We sent our second and third teamers in the game pretty early so no one dominated the defensive statistics."

By BOB BAJACKSON
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff

Even before viewing the game films, Fort Stockton Coach John Blocker didn't have any trouble summarizing the performance by his team Friday night against Canutillo.

Said the Panther mentor: "We got a few points."

You'd have to agree with Blocker's analysis after knowing that Fort Stockton scored the first six times it touched the football. The Panthers went on to record a 47-0 triumph.

In fact, Fort Stockton scored so frequently that Blocker couldn't recall all of the touchdowns drives. Wouldn't every coach like to be in that situation?

But Blocker didn't have any trouble remembering the players that made the evening pleasant.

Bergman, McGee Win Divisions

Don Bergman of Amarillo and Scott McGee are reigning season-end champions in sprint car and street stock car auto racing, respectively, at Lubbock Speedway.

Bergman won everything but the semi — in which he placed second — as he bested a slim field over the 3/8 mile dirt oval.

McGee had it a little tougher; the main was the only event he won, but it was enough. As the feature lined up, McGee had only a third in the conso to show for his night's efforts.

Local Drivers Set For Finals

Saturday night's season finale racing at Lubbock Dragway established the field of 32 cars and six motorcycles that will compete in the National Hot Rod Association Division 4 competition at Green Valley Raceway, Dallas, Oct. 14-16.

For the Service Insulation Trophy, Mike Maberry posted a 13.50 dial-in and then ran true to form to snare the award.

Southern Open Scores

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—Here are the final scores in the 1978, 2000 American Open Golf Tournament played over the par 76, 799-yard Green Island Country Club Course, Jerry Pate, 6-71, 6-62, 6-62, 6-62 to capture the men's title.
Miss Evert, 23, became the first woman since Hane Jacobs in 1935 to keep the Open crown for four years.
In the men's doubles final, Bob Lutz and Stan Smith defeated fellow Americans Marty Riessen and Sherwood Stewart 1-6, 7-5, 6-3.
COLUMBUS, Ga.—Jerry Pate dropped in a 12-foot birdie putt on the 15th hole to halt a bid by Phil Hancock and capture the 1978, 2000 Southern Open.
Rocky Thompson, 6-71, 6-62, 6-62, 6-62 to capture the men's title.
Pate finished with a 69 for a 72-hole total of 268, 11 under par, while Hancock shot a final round 64.
WATERLOO, Belgium—Nick Faldo of Britain won the third day of Australia's Nikki Lauda. Faldo won in a sudden-death playoff with Spain's Severiano Ballesteros. Both finished the regulation 54 holes tied at 209, 10 under par.
DENVER—Kathy Whitworth fired a 5-under-par 47 for a 54-hole total of 211 and won the National Jewish Hospital Open by 3 strokes over Pat Bradley. Jo Ann Washam and Gloria Ehret, 54-54.
Miss Bradley finished with a 7-over 74 for a 214 total.
Hollis Stacy and Sandra Post finished with totals of 215, followed by Jan Stephenson with 217.
MONZA, Italy—Mario Andretti clinched the Formula 1 world auto racing championship in an accident-marred and controversial Italian Grand Prix that was won by Austria's Niki Lauda.
Andretti's Lotus crossed the finish line first, followed by Gilles Villeneuve of Canada in a Ferrari, but both were penalized one minute for starting early.
Andretti had mathematically clinched the title after Sweden's Ronnie Peterson was injured in a fiery collision involving 10 cars just seconds after the start of the race. Peterson died early today, apparently from kidney failure during surgery.
Peterson and Vittorio Brambilla of Italy were taken to a hospital. Peterson broke both legs and suffered brain while Brambilla suffered head injuries and was reported in serious condition.

Avery, George Win Crowns

Earl Scudday

ment. Harvey survived, but he blew his top on the next play when he was blocked high from two sides and a third Giant tackled him around the ankles.

Harvey tried to drop-kick his tormentor through the goalposts, but all he succeeded in doing was getting tossed out of the game.

Foes of the Cowboys should note, however, that the departure of the hoss in the rush-line didn't exactly destroy the Cowboy defense. The Giants made some yards and a few points, but they didn't roll at will.

Good depth at every position is going to be a big factor for Doomsday through this long, long season.

THE COWBOYS WILL have little time to heal their wounds or to savor their win over the Giants, because next weekend they travel to Los Angeles to battle the formidable Rams.

There is no love lost between the two clubs, for sure. The 'Pokes have ousted the Rams from the playoffs a couple of times in recent years, and the Rams returned the favor in 1976. So there's a lot of pride at stake.

Even the top officials of the two clubs are feudin' and fusing. Ram owner Carroll Rosenbloom got so mad at Dallas club President Tex Schramm a couple of years ago that he cancelled the lucrative exhibition series between the two teams. That shows genuine anger, when the cash register comes second.

Many NFL observers think the Rams are one of the few teams in the league with more talent than the Cowboys. The Rams have speed and power in the offensive backfield, a smart young quarterback and a mean-eating defense. Their linebackers are named Hacksaw, Killer and Godzilla, and the Incredible Hulk may be hiding in there somewhere.

It's enough to scare the young Cowboys out of their game pants!

Still, you can bet that Landry and his lads will show up at the Coliseum next Sunday afternoon. It would be a shame not to let the Rams have their shot at the world champions.

Business & Industrial Review

AT WARP 'N WEAVE — Tom Beck, who with his wife, Nancy, owns and operates a truly one-of-its-kind store at a 34th Street address, is shown at a familiar stance at one of the looms. Yarns and other supplies and equipment, plus a most impressive class schedule by qualified instructors, are among the benefits there. Early registration is emphasized necessary to be included in fall classes.

Beck's Warp 'n Weave Unveils New Class Schedule, Products

Beck's Warp 'n Weave, at 3021 34th St. in Lubbock, not only has a tremendous selection of yarns and supplies for fiber arts, but it has an instruction schedule "second to none."
In fact, it is said to be the only complete spinning and weaving shop in a vast region bounded by Austin, Denver, Albuquerque and the Dallas-Ft. Worth area.
Owned and operated by Tom and Nancy Beck, the shop has a most appreciated selection including great yarns not found elsewhere (most in wools and wool blends), but immediate concern probably is the fall class schedule where an invitation to a fall of fun is extended to both beginners and advanced students.
Classes start the week of Sept. 18, and early inquiry is advised, as pre-registration is necessary.
Classes Outlined
Classes include Harness Loom, Beginning Frame Loom, Advanced Frame Loom, Tatting, Advanced Tatting, Basketry — Coiled and Natural; Cardweaving, Navajo Weaving; and Rigid Heddle.
Tom Beck will instruct in the Multi-Harness Loom, with instruction including dressing (warping) the loom, plain or tabby weave, various twill weaves, lace weaves, tapestry, double weave and one pattern weave per student.
Modest Cost
(As example of the cost and duration of classes, this one involves 15 hours of instruction at $36; loom rental of $10 per month; and supplies of $15 to $30. Time schedules for this and other instruction are available upon inquiry, with both day and evening classes offered. Limited number of students of necessity are accepted in each class.)

Qualified Instructors
Beginning Frame Loom is under instruction of Nancy Beck who is most adept in the field. Instruction includes weaving a sampler, and thus learning warping, tapestry, knotting, piles, laces and other basic techniques.
Beginning Frame Loom instruction also will be given by Lynn Haney, well-known art instructor at Atkins Junior High School. Lynn has been recognized in national publications and is a most valuable member of the Warp 'n Weave instructor staff. This particular class will involve methods of warping, simple design, variety of weaves, inclusion of beads, feathers, found objects, slides and demonstrations. Lynn also will instruct in advanced frame loom.
Rigid Heddle Loom will be instructed by Tom Beck, with individual instruction given upon request, with arrangements possible on individual basis.
Cardweaving will be under direction of Virginia Riggs, and includes warping, weaving and drafting of patterns.
Coiled Basketry classes are directed by Lynn Haney, with attention to techniques using a jute, fiber rush or rope core wrapped and stitched with yarn.
Natural and Yarn Basketry is under instruction of Nancy Beck, with study of natural and manmade fibers including cane, reed, pine needles, raffia, fiber rush, yarn, seagrass, etc., and actual construction of basketry.
Tatting, by Betty Bradford, is offered on both beginning and advanced levels, with the numerous stitches utilized and with the advanced unit expanding basic techniques into making medallions, crosses, etc., using different threads.

Navajo weaving, by Tom Beck, will include building, setting up and warping a Navajo style loom, starting the basic rug and one or two simple designs and stitches.
What an opportunity for fun and achievement is made available through this comprehensive class presentation!
The Becks continually are studying and seeking ways to better serve in the Lubbock shop. They recently attended "Convergence '78" in Ft. Collins, Colo., the bi-annual conference of the Handweavers Guild of America, and attended up to five sessions daily there in broadening their knowledge and in making personal contact with suppliers to better serve their Lubbock area customers.
Nancy also has studied basketry under Papago and Apache weavers.
Not only are the Warp 'n Weave classes outstanding, but the stock selection cannot be overemphasized.
Preferred Supplies
Ladies who do crochet, knitting and weaving find the preferred supplies, including "how to" books, at the intriguing shop.
Among these supplies are the "Incredible" rope machines for sale, and it is pointed out that many yarn belts seen in boutiques are made from the yarns carried at Warp 'n Weave, a most, most unusual but appreciated kind of store.

Fullest Customer Assistance Among Hughes Services, HUCO Assurances

For full janitorial services with "plus-benefits that we like to prove", the name to know in Lubbock, Amarillo and throughout the South Plains and Panhandle is Hughes Services, Inc., 101 Sherman Ave. in Lubbock!
(And for purchase of professional maintenance supplies, at the same Lubbock location, there is HUCO Products, Co., taking pride in stocking the very best in equipment and related needs.)
Hughes and HUCO each "go the extra mile" in assisting the customer, helping in maximum benefits from both the services and equipment selection and use.
Customers have long profited from the learning and experience, plus capacity for service, of the Hughes and HUCO personnel. Offices are maintained in both Lubbock and Amarillo, and counties throughout the area are well served by Hughes (with current accounts noted in Levelland, Slaton, Hereford, Canyon, Plainview and other area points.)
"Are you included?"
Hughes Services has a record of customer assistance... such as supervision to assure the right procedures and results for each account.
"If your building has a problem in janitorial servicing, there is no charge from Hughes for an in-depth survey and recommendations."

And if a housewife has a problem on floor care within the home, we are glad at Hughes and HUCO to tell what use and how it should be used.
All this is made possible by "the right products, the devotion to service, and the training that is a continuous procedure for all staffmembers."
Demonstrations, films, on-job training — all are part of the Hughes and HUCO concept of fullest service, and in keeping with a record of foresight and achievement that might be dated from establishment of Hughes Service back in 1954 and the addition of HUCO Products in 1970, with numerous additions to products and services marking the intervening and ensuing years.
In explaining HUCO Products, president George Hughes puts it this way:
"We believe a professional wants strictly professional merchandise; hence any product we sell is used in our own professional maintenance business; we have tested it before recommending and selling it, for sure."

And who cannot benefit from patronizing Hughes Services, Inc., at the same address!
Specifies Cited
Briefly, eight prime reasons are itemized here to be considered in knowing the Hughes firm better:
(1) Hughes services banks, school office buildings, manufacturing plants, churches, public utilities and more.
(2) As the oldest janitorial service company in Lubbock, Hughes has been in business since 1954 — 24 years of service.
(3) Free estimates at no obligation are gladly given.
(4) A maintenance program "for you" can be professionally and correctly planned by the qualified staff.
(5) References are gladly furnished.
(6) Hughes Services, Inc., is insured and bonded.
(7) Employees are thoroughly trained by demonstration, training films and regular rigid inspection.
(8) And not the least of the considerations is equipment: Hughes has the best equipment and cleaning supplies to be found.
"Hughes wants to have a part in your future."

West Texas Trade Exchange Cites Barter Program Benefit

"Kings do it; countries do it; huge conglomerates do it! And now with the widespread use of the computer, according to Larry Goldston, president of the West Texas Trade Exchange, small business can participate in the newest trend in business purchasing: bartering."

For insight into the multiple advantages of the bartering practice, one can read in the September issue of Texas Business, with a comprehensive report explaining how hundreds of Texas businessmen are buying goods and services without paying cash... through organized bartering.

Even better understanding of the program... and how it can work for you... is available at the West Texas Trade Exchange, a member of the International Trade Exchange, located at 7212 Juliet St., Suite 3-B (just off South Loop 289 and Indiana Avenue) phone 793-0731, Lubbock.

Growth — With a Reason

The local West Texas Trade Exchange has been under ownership of Goldston since May 1, and the membership growth has been tremendous... exceeding 100 at this time! In fact, there already is a waiting list in some professional and business categories, as only one member in each category is accepted.

(Not only are businesses members, but recent publicity pointed out how an area college was utilizing the Exchange's services.)

Program Explained

Membership in the West Texas Trade Exchange is open to qualified businesses that have goods or services to offer. Briefly, exchange members' trade goods and services with each other. The club takes a small percentage for the bookkeeping. For example, suppose a business needs printing, advertising or remodeling. By taking in the members business in trade dollars, the small business person can use them to pay for the printer, the advertising, or the contractor.

In turn, these other businesses spend their accumulated trade dollars for their business needs.

This revolving system of TD and debits has several key features. For one, cash outlay is reduced, freeing it for other uses. Let's say, a business spends $500 a year on printing. By purchasing the printing from another exchange member with the TD, the proprietor is only out his wholesale cost of doing business, say 50 per cent or $250. He has obtained the $500 worth of printing for $250; the other $250 is like cash in his pocket, since he has paid for it with his wholesale costs of merchandise or service and not hard currency. Naturally, when an exchange member comes to him, the full retail price is charged — in the TDs. Whether it's an accountant, dry cleaner or florist, the same principle of trading each one's essentially wholesale costs at retail prices holds true. Indeed, members in some exchanges have been known to sign up long standing business associates so they can continue to do business — this time on a trade basis rather than cash.

Another significant element of an exchange system is that it steers new customers in the door — customers that would not normally come in. Since the other members have to spend their TDs, it makes sense for them to use the professional and business services listed in the exchanges' directory. In addition, there's the ripple effect. Satisfied customers will recommend more customers, this time cash paying ones. Therefore, if an exchange is able to refer more business, increased profitability occurs with no increase of overhead.

Who Can Benefit?

What types of businesses and professions are involved? Besides the standard categories of office supplies, data processing and answering services, exchanges deal in real estate, restaurant supplies, accounting and growing plants — almost every conceivable thing available. One exchange boasts of a local college that needed some remodeling done. They offered 10 scholarships in exchange for the contractor's work. The college got 10 new students and some newly refurbished offices and classrooms — all on barter.

There are even some sister exchanges that have their Chamber of Commerce and Better Business Bureau on the exchange. They take TD for membership and in turn use it for office supplies, gasoline and routine expenses. It also helps build membership among smaller businesses that would not normally join those organizations.

"We've all heard rumors of possible recession. In bartering, it can help curb that scare because it really doesn't make any difference what happens to our dollar, goods and services are going to remain sound."

Actually a mature exchange can offer the businessman an economy within an economy. Members will trade and barter for a majority of their needs and bank their cash. What ever is happening to the U.S. economic picture will have less effect on an exchange member.

Enquire magazine summed it up in its May 25 article on inflation when it stated, "Bartering is inflation proof."

"In bartering one is only limited by his imagination. For instance, several large scale trades are pending, one is the construction of a camera store in the South Plains area, another is a several hundred bale of cotton trade pending with several farmers. The exchange has the ability to offer unnumbered cotton almost 20% more than the current market price. This is a little closer to parity to the farmer. Another trade pending is with a local auto dealer. Cars for computer equipment — about a hundred thousand dollars worth."

Get full details now; meet Larry Goldston and staff... and profit accordingly; the bartering program can work for you, too!

Texas Insulation Systems, Lockney, Affords ThermoCon Process, Products

"Know Texas Insulation Systems, Box 591, Lockney, Texas, phone 653-3346, and profit."

Specializing in ThermoCon spray-on and loose-fill for residential, commercial and industrial applications, Jerry Ulmer and staff are masters in their field. For full details see Ulmer at the Lockney facility, write Box 591, Lockney, Tex. 79241, or call (808) 653-3346.

Spray-on ThermoCon affords temperature, sound and fire control in one application!

Because of its chemical content, it permanently bonds to steel, wood and masonry surfaces painted or not! It provides a strong color-stable environmental system that will not chip, shed, flake, dust or be subject to rot or fungi. ThermoCon is odorless and non-toxic.

Because it forms a monolithic unit, it can be used wherever temperature, sound or fire control is needed on ceilings or walls, exposed or unexposed. No taping, undercoating or preparatory base is required!

Because of its workable fibrous texture, ThermoCon can expand and contract with your building without losing its hold. Its built-in flexibility makes it easy to cut, saw, mold, shape or paint.

Because of its application by pneumatic spray, it is much faster and more economical than conventional insulation, Ulmer emphasizes.

(ThermoCon, incidentally, is a national company with dealers throughout the nation and in Canada.)

Appropriate buildings for this Thermo-

Con system include farm buildings, airplane hangars, industrial plants, warehouses, auditoriums, gyms, showrooms, supermarkets, mobile homes, apartments, condominiums, office buildings, etc.

"It is twice as effective as wire-backed fiberglass batts; heat intense enough to melt metal will not penetrate ThermoCon's protective barrier!"

LIMITED-TIME FRANCISCAN SAVINGS PROVIDED

September Franciscan Event Spells Savings At Pigg Bros.

"It is the sale you can't afford to miss!"
It is the once-a-year gigantic Franciscan September Fest underway at Pigg Bros. Shamrock Jewelry, 2147 50th St.
It all is at Pigg Bros., a firm still at the forefront in diamonds, gifts, watch repair, etc., and at a convenient Oakwood Center location.
Imagine... such values as these:
Franciscan Specials
A full 40 per cent off on three-piece place settings!
And 20 per cent off on selected open stock items.
A whopping 33 per cent off on place setting pieces.
And 20 per cent off on Madeira Crystal, too!
Select from Franciscan patterns including Apple, Desert Rose, Ivy, Meadow Rose, and new October, an example.
It is a great opportunity to buy the very pieces one needs, on sale. Buy extra, bowls, replace some cups, add place settings, go for that nice-to-have platter, gravy boat, coffee pot and other serving pieces — over 50 in Desert Rose alone!

Specific Savings Cited
Examples of the dollar-and-cents savings include the three-piece setting (dinner plate, cup and saucer, regular $14.85 but sale priced at just $8.79! And three-piece settings in Dogwood, Hacienda Gold, Hacienda Green, Jamaica, Madeira, Mirasol, Picnic, regular $12.90 but now $7.74 during the September Fest at Pigg Bros.
So... the wise word is to select your dinnerware now, for your own collection and use or for gifting.
It is possible, though not probable, that some may know of Franciscan's quality features... such as its high resistance to chipping. It never fades and it never crazes. Every piece of Franciscan dinnerware is decorated by hand.
(The Franciscan sale has been held annually for 26 years at Pigg Bros., but this one is said to be truly the finest ever.)
Gift Needs
While taking advantage of this sale, it also would be prudent to consider the opportunities in the wide jewelry selection at Pigg Bros.

There are numerous unique and quality gift items... such as the Bowl of Roses ($23.95 for the grouping of three red roses; $29.95 for five; and $27.95 for the light-colored roses).
And the musical figurines of porcelain; the diamond drops and ear screws; a large selection of rings (dinner, engagement, diamond guard, etc.)
Layaway
Pigg Bros. is not trying to rush the season, but "if you have a someone very special in mind for a very special Christmas gift, why not do some planning and looking ahead (and using layaway) at Pigg Bros. Shamrock Jewelry, 2147 50th St. in Lubbock?
The gift choices there reflect the firm's consideration for every age group.
Fine watches are stocked, of course.
And there are baby gifts, birthstone rings, costume jewelry, beautiful lockets, pens, pencils and lighters, Franciscan Ware, and more!
For big savings and big selection... it is Pigg Bros. Shamrock Jewelry, Oakwood Center.

Optical Store & Boutique's Concept, Products, Services Distinctly Unique

"Our Boutique is Unique."
It is The Optical Store & Boutique, the first and only of its type in the area, located at 5202 Slide Road, phone 792-0901.
Quality lines in frames and glasses are just as near as The Optical Store & Boutique where a departmentalized arrangement of rooms and areas provides the four distinct categories: (1) economy, (2) quality, (3) designer frames, and (4) Boutique.
So, whether the need is economy and quality in frames and glasses for the student, as example, or the very finest in choices from the Designer collection of the unusual and expensive lines within the Boutique, this Lubbock facility is outstanding, in a class by itself.
(Opened July 15 at the Slide Road address, both a Boutique and optical store is provided, with a sister operation under the same ownership providing an optical store in the Town & Country Center, especially convenient to Tech students.)

Upon entry into The Optical Store & Boutique, one is impressed with the pleasing but striking decor (such as the art deco in the Designer Room carried out in mirrors, pictures and fixtures), a customer consideration that exemplifies the firm's uniqueness.
One may first discover the Designer Collection where an area is devoted entirely to designer frames by Ralph Lauren, Givenchy, Diane Von Fustenberg, Oscar de la Renta and other top designers.
Then there is the Children's Corner in another segment of the complex.

And who could not help but be most intrigued by the Boutique where antique decor dominates and where the unusual and expensive lines are displayed. Some glasses are set with diamonds, some with 18k gold settings, some with real cultured pearls. Custom design with special precious stones, etc., is a specialty.
Lines are out-of-the-ordinary, with some exclusive in Lubbock to the Boutique, such as the Martin Creations from West Germany.
"See what we mean when we say that 'Our Boutique is Unique,' providing a product and service seldom experienced anywhere?"
"May we have the pleasure of your visits? We know we can serve you within one or more of our departments."

OPTICAL STORE & BOUTIQUE EXCELS — Wonneta Owen, manager of the Boutique, 5202 Slide, is shown with one of the really unusual and fine selections in better eyewear. Available are four groupings — economy, quality, designer and boutique, each selected to best and most fully serve the preferences of the public in eyewear.

Storkie's Opens With Complete Lines Clothing, Gifts For Mother, Baby

"Have you discovered Storkie's with its complete line of clothing and gifts for mother and baby?"
 "Perhaps you have not learned of this entirely new home-owned and home-operated business at 3414-B Ave. H (in Family Park Shopping Center, next door to Anthony's), for it only opened Sept. 11."
 So... let's get acquainted, and we'll help at Storkie's by inviting registration for a free gift certificate to be awarded Oct. 7! And we'll help by providing a really great selection of maternity fashions, baby gifts, Christening sets and baby furniture.
 "Isn't this a great service, especially in the south Lubbock location?"
 Owners and founders of the attractive store are Genevieve Judd and Faye Spoth, both of whom are active in the business, and both of whom are longtime Lubbock residents with a host of friends.

 Genevieve formerly taught in the Western Hills Baptist Academy, and Faye was in the manufacturing business.
 They invite and merit your trade.
 All-new carpet and other decor additions mark the shop, together with its comprehensive selection of quality merchandise.
 Select maternity fashions by Cori of California, Paulette Originals, Astor Separates of New York, Lady Roi, M.H. Fine, etc.
 And comfortable, fashionable blue jeans by Special Additions Ltd. of New York.
 And lingerie by Mary Jane.
 The maternity fashions are priced in a range from budget to better, and from casual to formal.
 Many baby and gift items, especially designed for Storkie's, are in stock, plus Christening sets and take-me-home outfits for infants.

 Furniture items from Nod-a-Way and Pride Trimble are stocked.
 Really gorgeous hand bags, custom made for Storkie's, are stocked and must be seen to be fully appreciated for their beauty and quality.
 Fashion designing in ladies wear is provided by Genevieve as another of the "pluses" at Storkie's.
 The shop is open from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m., six days a week, and layaways are invited as are Master Charge and Visa purchases.
 Gift wrapping is one of the appreciated services.
 "Aren't you glad that there is a Storkie's to serve you? Let's get acquainted (or renew acquaintance); we want to be your kind of store."

Shallowater Mix & Match Shop Continues Savings Tradition

The Mix & Match Shop in Shallowater approaches its Fourth Anniversary with greater values than ever before!
 Owned and operated by Barbara and Al Monteith, the shop opened in late '74 and has made friends throughout the region by catering to the cost-conscious buyer of quality ladies' wear in latest styles... pleasing folks who recognize the fashion and price "rightness" at Mix & Match, No. 1 South Ave. L in Shallowater.
 Prices have not increased during these four years at Mix & Match, and selections are numerous.
New Additions
 Some new additions to the inviting stock include junior tops and pants in sizes small to large, with one-price of $6.99 for tops, and $8.99 for pants. These are the latest styles and come directly to the shop from the factories.
 These are latest styles "not available in other shops because they come directly from the cutting tables at the factory."
 There is a complete line of gabardine pants in polyester cloth which is the wash-and-wear fabric needed and wanted for the "in" look of today, with waist band and zippered front.

 For the ladies (and juniors love these)... there are the bubble blouses in small sizes through the extra large, and the shirt blouses in sizes 8 to 44, in both solid colors and prints... all top grade fabric with pants to mix and match.
 Junior tops are now on sale at $6.99 (for any item on the junior rack), and $8.99 for any of the gabardine pants, remember.
Volume Savings
 Ladies full-cut pants also are $8.99 or 3 for $24. Blouses, size 8-44, are at $11.45, or 3 for $30, with all of these special prices available to group purchases, too.
 And look at this service:
 Barbara will be glad to notify you of new shipments and sales at Mix & Match if you will let us have your phone number and home address.

 Also check the close-out rack at Mix & Match, where prices are below factory cost, the owners emphasize, with some of the items perfect and of current style, but marked down to make room for new shipments.
 Would you believe ladies pant suits at $12.49! Double knit pants at $3.49? And many more items similarly reduced.
 And there is a good supply of panty hose and knee-hi hose at 3 pair for 99 cents!
 "For a friendly, convenient store, easy to find and providing a real service to a wide Lubbock, Shallowater and South Plains area, it is the Mix & Match, 1 South Ave. L in Shallowater, where you can save on your clothing needs."

SPRING CREST, RIGHT FOR EVERY ROOM

Spring Crest Draperies Tells Special Prices For September

"Isn't it time you moved up to Spring Crest?" This move can now be made at special economy... with Spring Crest Draperies of Lubbock now conducting a special sale throughout September.

Among the sale values at Spring Crest, 5302 Ave. Q (in Briercroft Shopping Center) are three of special note:

- (1) Del Mar woven woods are marked at a full 15 per cent off.
- (2) There is a tremendous 50 per cent saving on lining and used in custom draperies!
- (3) Crestwood decorator rods are sale priced 15 per cent off.

Such values make it exceptionally easy to secure "something better for your home", affording a great opportunity to get acquainted with Spring Crest in Lubbock... with the products and services afforded, and with the very personable husband-wife team manning the home-owned and home-operated business.

Fair Display
Ben and Brenda Powell are owners, and they not only invite visits during the sale but also at the booth they are arranging at the South Plains Fair later this month.

Free estimates are a feature of Spring Crest of Lubbock, and there is full assurance that each valued customer is completely satisfied with the latest in design and workmanship that are hallmarks of Spring Crest, "the finest in the industry".

Hang From Steel Spring
Why is Spring Crest different? "Actually, Spring Crest Spring-Pleated Custom Draperies are the neatest hanging draperies in the world because they actually hang from a steel spring inserted in the top hem, with no crinoline headers to get soft and fall apart. They must be seen to be thoroughly appreciated."

Furthermore, aside from their beauty and simplicity, they are competitively priced. Spring Crest Draperies of Lubbock stocks a complete line of drapery fabrics.

Warranty Unique
There is 10-year warranty on drapery hardware. Only three to four week delivery time is involved for the custom made drapes. Also available are woven woods, shades, shutters, custom bedspreads and the Classique metal blinds.

Drapery hardware is stocked for the "do it yourself" trade, too, with its simplicity lending itself to ease in installation.

Crestand, the alternative to sheers (the elusive sheer that is different and popular) is stocked. It is beautiful, unique and thoroughly different.

BankAmericard and Master Charge purchase plans are welcomed at Spring Crest Draperies of Lubbock, located re-member in Briercroft Center, between Earl Ray Music Co. and Maxine's Accent, with plenty of off-street, at-the-door parking for customer convenience.

And remember this: "No matter what your style, Spring Crest can dress your windows better; these custom draperies add elegance to the most formal setting, but also can be the perfect finishing touch to a casual room. These unusual draperies are formed by threading a spring steel pleater through a narrow hem at top of the material. Result: a drapery that hangs beautifully with rounded, supple folds rather than the sharp, stiff edges of conventional pinch-pleated draperies."

Modern, Knowledgeable Service Sure At Harold Harvey Agency

"Is your insurance program up to date, meeting the needs of today and tomorrow?"

"Does your insurance fully serve the purpose of your personal preference?" "Does it need review by a trusted and knowledgeable expert in the field?"

Then, turn to Harold Harvey, whether the need is for complete planning, for review, for mortgage cancellation life insurance or whatnot.

Harold Harvey's continuing efforts and subsequent successes in insurance service are matter of record.

For a fact, the Harold Harvey Agency (No. 5, Briercroft Office Park, phone 747-6673) can materially assist, professionally and correctly, in the insurance picture.

Harvey takes pride in representing companies with good records, and prompt payments can be (and should be) a big factor in choosing one's insurance agent. Harvey prides in promptness.

The Harold Harvey Agency calls to attention some other situations in which they can be of prime benefit: "Re-evaluation of one's insurance makes good sense what with property values going up every day."

"Specializing in fire and casualty insurance, the Harold Harvey Agency can render services that can be rewarding for every client.

Among the key areas in which Harvey can render a special service is that of home owners mortgage cancellation life insurance, paying off the mortgage in full should the breadwinner die.

The complete homeowners and mortgage cancellation package can be placed through Harvey with one company for maximum convenience and efficiency—the Floyd West Co. organization with which Harvey has had close contact since back in 1959.

Harvey also is a specialist in bonds, whether the need is administrator, guardianship, various types of court bonds, etc.

Whatever the insurance or bond need, Harold Harvey can simplify the problem. It is as elemental and easy as that.

"A package policy" that affords a substantial decrease in premiums in one of the services made available at the Harold Harvey Insurance Agency!

Applicable to commercial interests including hotel-motel and office, institutional, apartment, mercantile, processing and industrial, the Multi-Peril "package plan" is now available in Texas, and Harold Harvey at No. 5 Briercroft Office Park, is eager to assist with this program in improving one's insurance situation.

In the complex world of insurance, it makes good sense to rely on Harold Harvey, a veteran in the field of "modern insurance practices with old-fashioned service."
