Vol. 53, No. 7 Rain Pelts

Portions Of Plains

Thunderstorms which erupted in southeastern New Mexico Monday night moved through the western portion of the South Plains this morning, in advance of a cool front expected to trigger more precipitation tonight and Wednesday.

At midday, showers and thunderstorms ranged from near Dimmitt into the central Texas Panhandle. The heaviest thunderstorms were near Claude and Pampa. according to the National Weather Service. Movement of the storms was to the northeast.

But the heavy, low-hanging clouds clipping rapidly northward this morning signalled the return of rainfall to the mostly dry South Plains.

Farther north behind the front, snow continued to fall in the central and northern Rockies and high wind warnings were issued for eastern Colorado.

Ample moisture rolled up from the Gulf of Mexico and clashed with the leading edge of a cool front to trigger the showers and thunderstorms in Northwest Texas and eastern New Mexico. National Weather Service forecasters gave the Lubbock area a 30 percent chance of rain tonight and 40 percent odds for Wednes-

The showers and thunderstorms that developed in southeastern New Mexico Monday night moved slowly northeastward across the Texas border into the western section of the South Plains early today. The heaviest storms apparently missed reporting stations and pounded farms and ranches. Though several cities in the area reported light rain, amounts generally were insignificant.

The heaviest of the storms apparently hovered over Hobbs, N.M., where .74 of an inch of rain and quarter-inch hail was reported.

Winds in the South Plains area will be southerly at 15 to 25 mph today, switching to the north with passage of the cold front late this afternoon or early tonight. After enduring record high temperatures Monday, Lubbock will again have a high in the 90s today before temperatures cool on Wednesday. The morning low today was 72.

Elsewhere in Texas, no precipitation was recorded Monday and skies were clear to partly cloudy

Begin Denies Israel Yields Sovereignty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prime Minister Menachem Begin told Congress today that Israel has no intention of giving up its claim to sovereignty or its right to station troops in disputed areas of the West Bank and the Gaza Strip.

Begin told leaders of the House in a breakfast meeting that they should not misinterpret the Camp David accords to mean that Israel has committed itself to Begin commented as he and Egyptian President Anwar Sadat visited Capitol Hill to meet with congressional leaders and talk about the recently concluded

The two leaders planned to meet sepa rately with President Carter at the White House this afternoon.

Meanwhile, Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance added Syrian President Hafez Assad to the list of Arab leaders he will visit to explain the Camp David agreements and seek support for them. He previously had scheduled stops in Jordan and Saudi Arabia on the trip, which begins tonight.

Sadat told members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee he believes Jordan and Saudi Arabia eventually will support the Middle East agreements.

Later, he told reporters he plans to fly Wednesday from Washington to Rabat, Morocco, to meet with King Hassan. Then, he said, he will fly home to Cairo and make contact with Jordan's King Hussein.

Sen. Frank Church of Idaho, ranking Democratic member of the Foreign Re-lations Committee, said Sadat told the private breakfast meeting that he hopes Hussein will "play the role that must be played by Jordan if the issues of the West Bank are ever to be resolved."

Sadat told reporters, "Whenever there is any agreement that will permit the establishment of peace so that no one en-croaches on the other's land or sovereign-ty, then all Arabs will be behind it."

The Egyptian leader expressed confidence that the remaining issues between Egypt and Israel will be resolved so that: we can be good neighbors." And he said he has been assured the United States will remain "a full partner" in the search for Middle East peace. The Arab states have consistently said that Israel must give up its occup ritories on the West Bank of the Jordan River and the Gaza Strip to have peace.

But Begin made it clear that Israel views the matter differently. "I believe with all my heart that the Jewish people have a right to sovereignty over Judea, Samaria and the Gaza Strip," he said, using the biblical names for the lands on the West Bank. He said "the Bible gives us that right."

Begin added that sovereignty and military control over the West Bank and Gaza are essential to Israel's security, because those lands "are on the threshhold of our

Probers Of JFK Slaying Hear Denials By Castro

WASHINGTON (AP) - Cuban President Fidel Castro says it would have been "a tremendous insanity" for Cuba to have plotted the murder of President John F. Kennedy, the House Assassinations Committee reported today.

"I am going to tell you here that nobody, nobody, ever had the idea of such things," Castro said during a four-hour interview with committee members and investigators last April. The committee played portions of the tape-recorded interview during its hearings today.

Repeating his consistent denials of Cuban involvement in the assassination of Kennedy, Castro said:

"Never, in 20 years of revolution, I never heard anyone suggest nor even speculate about a measure of that sort, because who could think of the idea of organizing the death of the president of the United

"That would have been the most perfect pretext for the United States to invade our country, which is what I have tried to prevent for all these years, in every possible sense.

From the ideological point of view, it was insane. And from the political point of view, it was a tremendous insanity. Castro said he knew nothing about Lee Harvey Oswald and Oswald's visits to the Cuban consultate in Mexico City until after Kennedy was slain and Oswald was identified as the killer. The committee is weighing the merits gesting that Oswald hinted to Cuban officials at the consulate that he might kill Kennedy and that Castro learned of this before the assassination.

The committee took public testimony about the secret report, but the committee's chief counsel, Robert Blakey, said Cuban authorities blamed the Central Intelligence Agency for circulating the report as a "disinformation" tactic to implicate Cuba in Kennedy's death.

Blakey said the committee has reached no judgment on the overall reliability of the intelligence source. More specifically, he said, "whether in this instance is an issue the committee must decide in December" as it prepares a final report.

The committee then ended public examination of Oswald's interest in Cuba and Mexico and turned its attention to the Secret Service and the quality of the protection it had provided Kennedy. The suggestion that the Cuban leader had some inkling of Oswald's plan first emerged in 1967 in a National Enquirer article by Comer Clark, a British freelance journalist who died in 1972. Clark wrote that Castro told him in an

Tax Break For Families

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate Finance Committee is weighing a proposal that would give middle-income families a greater income-tax break than the one already approved by the House.

It could mean an extra $211 a year to a couple with two children and an income of $10,000 a year. The same couple with a $25,000 income would get $53 more than in the House version.

Generally, the measure under consideration on the Senate side would offset for one-earner families making $20,000 or less the Social Security tax increase that goes into effect next Jan. 1. That increase worker $155 and those earning $23,000 or more $333.

In most cases in which family income is under $20,000, there also would be enough relief in the Senate package to offset the tax effects of inflation, which pushes workers into higher brackets even though their real buying power has not

But it would do little to help neutralize inflation for those earning more than $20,000 a year.

The committee may vote today on the proposal, which was drafted by staff the panel, asked for options on giving more tax relief than the House had voted for couples and individuals earning less than $50,000 a year.

The Carter administration has criticized the $16.3-billion House-passed bill on grounds that too big a share of the benefits would go to those above the $50,-000 income level. Because of the large number of defend-ants and prospective jurors, the proceed-ings are being held in the Bailey County Civic Center and Coliseum.

Judge Pat Boone of Littlefield and the 154th District Court said Monday that the trial may be moved to the courthouse after a jury is chosen.

Three of the 12 defendants originally scheduled for trial pleaded guilty as Judge Boone took pleas and motions all day Monday.

Mrs. Baumgart is pregnant and sched-uled to deliver two weeks after her penitentiary release on Jan. 1. Judge Boone gave her a 10-year sentence which he said he will consider probating then. ## Bell Official Talks On Technology

Give Bill Haenhel 30 minutes and he'll enthrall any audience.

That was the consensus of the Lubbock Shriners at a Monday meeting in the Scottish Rite Center at Sixth Street and Avenue Q, where Haenhel, Southwestern Bell's science demonstrator, presented his show on telecommunications technol-

The presentation, entitled "Through the Looking Glass — Lightly," begins with the rudimentary tin can and copper wire and ends with computers, lasers and pure glass fibers.

Intertwined with his remarks about the improving telephone, Haenhel cited some Bell statistics: 97.2 percent of American households today have telephones; some 500 million calls a day are made in the United-States through the Bell system; and in 10 years the number of daily calls is expected to double.

To cope with this increasing load, the speaker said Bell will be relying on recent developments that have set an historical precedent of sorts.

In 1880 Alexander Graham Bell invented the "photophone," an instrument that transmitted sound waves over light waves by means of sunlight striking a mirror and then being guided by a series of lenses to a receiving source.

Unfortunately the device was severely limited it its use - it could only be operated in sunlight and between two direct places - but the principle of sound wave transmission over light waves had been

Today the light waves from laser beams are being used to carry electric waves through pure glass fibers.

"Laser light does not appreciably spread over great distances," Haenhel told the audience, making it capable of transmitting over a greater distance.

The pure glass fiber is an improvement over copper wire for two reasons. It is nearly indestructible due to its flexibility, and it is a significantly more efficient transmitter of calls, according to Haen-

Aiding these improvements is a revolution in microprocessing of computer data. Tiny chips, approximately one square inch in size, are currently able to store about 270,000 phone numbers.

The laser-pure glass fiber telecommunications system already has been successfully tested in parts of Chicago and now is in use in several cities in the southeastern United States. Haenhel added that it soon may be installed in Lubbock.

Businesses Prefer To Use Mails

By LeROY POPE

NEW YORK (UPI) - Although spiraling postage costs are a big burden to many companies, most still consider mail the best and cheapest communications means, the Administrative Management Society reports.

The society, based at Willow Grove, Pa., has just completed a survey in which it got 255 responses from a 500-member panel of representative companies.

Exactly two-thirds of these said the first-class mail letter still is satisfactory for most of their requirements. Interestingly, the other third all said "No." No companies seemed in doubt about this basic point.

Only 18 percent said recent postage hikes would make them shift to telephone calls from letters.

But just as business firms used the conventional telegraph for decades, they now make use of Telex and wired facsimile. Facsimile appears to be overhauling Telex as the favorite alternative to mail. Thirty-four percent of the companies said they used facsimile and 32 percent Telex.

The growth of private courier service is even more startling, with 30 percent of the companies saying they used it. But almost one third of the companies didn't answer the question at all, a probable indication that they still find the postal service adequate.

The biggest single departure from using the mails appears to be in fund transfers, for the obvious reasons that instantaneous electronic transfer prevents tieing up money waiting for checks to be delivered by mail, cashed and cleared. The interest savings by electronic funds transfer can be significant.

However, the way the society posed the question caused the answers to reflect intentions rather than change already accomplished. Fifty-two percent of those answering the question said they planned to use electronic fund transfers and 47 percent said they did not, but 40 percent didn't answer the question.

Payrolls and accounts payable were given as the more popular uses for electronic transfers but 27 percent of the firms answering said they expected their customers to use the electronic transfer to pay their bills.

The Postal Service's domestic express mail service won the approval of about 53 percent of the respondents but overseas express pant appears to be a dud. Only 12 percent of the companies said they were using it.

Increases in third class mail rates are not relished but only 12 percent of the companies said the higher cost would cause them to switch from direct mail to other advertising media. Seventy-four percent said they definitely would stick to direct mail. Others favored newspapers as the first advertising alternative, television second.

In the matter of parcel post costs, the story was different. United Parcel Service, Federal Express and similar private carriers formed to take over the old railway express business when passenger trains were phased out, have bitten increasingly into the post office's parcel

Thirty-one percent of the companies answering the Administrative Management survey said three-quarters of their parcels now move by private carriers, 12 percent move half their packages that way and another 35 percent give the private carriers a quarter of their parcel business

For the long term, 75 percent of the respondents look for an eventual degrading of the postal service, 94 percent expect constant spiraling of postage costs and 70 percent anticipate the substitution of other systems of communication.

"It's the biggest thing we've ever done as a company except the opening of Walt Disney World itself," says an official of this vacation resort.

The occasion is the 26th congress of the International Chamber of Commerce, a Paris-based organization representing businessmen in 60 countries.

President Carter is slated to open the session, while former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger will close it.

Other personalities slated to appear are: Shiek Ahmed Zaki Yamani, oil minister of Saudi Arabia, former Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare John Gardner, U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim, and Charles Schultze, chairman of the president's Council of Economic Advisers.

lect. If this amateur student of Wright's ideas of good design is any judge, the old boy might prescribe nothing less than dynamite for some of the structures that have gone up since last he looked.

Nowhere is that more evident than on Capitol Hill, where Congress, in the grip of what has been called an "edifice complex" has been busy erecting some of the most expensive and least attractive buildings this side of Hitler's plan for the transmogrification of Linz.

The subject arises because of the current flap over the third Senate office building, now under construction just to the northeast of the Capitol grounds.

The building is going to cost $120 million, give or take a few score million, and will offer the underprivileged solons a third gymnasium and a rooftop restaurant, along with some more office suites.

The plans for the building caused some dispute in the Senate, but a multi-million dollar installment on its construction costs was dutifully added to a bill that was going back to the House for final action. There, to the amazement of observers and the outrage of the Senate leadership, the membership chopped the funds out of the legislation.

The smart money on Capitol Hill is saying the money eventually will be restored and the Senate office building completed substantially as planned. This may be less a function of reasoned appraisal than of sheer momentum — federal construction projects, like presidential wars of recent memory, are easier to continue than end. It is too early to guess whether this building will be an adornment to the city. But if its predecessor, the Senate's Dirksen office building, is any model, it will be a mess. That building, for example, was designed with a formal portico which has no door and in fact has no formal entrance anywhere. The location and number of elevators was so badly planned that an additional lift had to be built after the building was already in

'Glue' Isn't Firm Yet

CHINKS BEGAN appearing in the Middle East "peace settlement" even before President Carter went before Congress last night to explain what was in it.

The President certainly is due full credit for emerging from Camp David with accords that both Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin and Egyptian President Anwar Sadat could sign in a spirit of friendship.

It takes nothing away from his diplomatic coup, however, to note that the euphoria of that moment began to give way almost immediately to the harsh realities of the historic enmities between the Jewish and Arabic

THE MURDEROUS Palestinian Liberation Organization thundered that it had agreed to nothing. Israel's Arab neighbors of Jordan, Syria and Lebanon, also not represented at the summit talks, must be integral partners in any long-range settlements.

Both Sadat and Begin face difficulties at home in getting backing for what the Camp David accords would accomplish. President Carter, too, may run into opposition over some aspects of American involvement in the peace-keeping guarantees.

Prime Minister Begin told his folks at home that Israel intends to keep its own forces in the West Bank after the five-year transition period to Palestinian autonomy, thus putting his finger on one of the many potential sticking points as detailed negotiations continue.

The initial agreement promises that Israel will have "secure borders" and that Palestinian Arabs now living under Israeli occupation there and in the Gaza Strip will choose their own "self-governing authority" and participate in negotiations to determine their future.

These may not be mutually exclusive twin goals but they can not be accomplished without a great deal more flexibility and mutual trust than has been evidenced until

THE BIGGEST surprise out of the Camp David negotiations was the pre-Christmas deadline for transforming its "framework for peace" between Israel and Egypt into a truly workable agreement.

Former Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger fairly well summed up the situation, however, when he said that President Carter "deserves the gratitude of the American people and the gratitude of the world" for bringing the Middle East nearer to a peaceful settlement but warning in the same breath that "everything in the Middle East has a fragile quality."

Camp David, then, was a success in that the antagonists are still talking instead of fighting-but to say that it guarantees peace would be wholly inaccurate.

Scoops From Yonder Sandhills

An item of national news interest, for example, as picked up in a 7 a.m. stroll down the main street of this Greeley County seat town of 580 'friendly people and one old crab," as the road sign at the entrance of this small Irish community reads.

In a chance meeting with Jim McQuillan, one of the main stockholders of the local bank and a friend from youth, he let drop that two of the most powerful government agencies have decided it has become too costly to use the U.S. Postal Service for part of their vital operations.

HIS FIRST hand information was a note from the Internal Revenue Service revealing that the 1978 federal income tax forms, which the IRS furnishes banks throughout the nation for the public to use, would be sent by private carrier.

By using a private carrier, the IRS will save taxpayers millions of dollars in delivery costs—always good news to taxpayers in an election year.

According to Mick MQuillan, a younger brother and part owner of the bank, the IRS was following the lead taken earlier in the year by the Federal Reserve System.

To cut down on expenses, the Fed began using a private carrier to deliver its bank account review statements, which it daily returns to banks in small rural communities. In making the switch, the Fed cut the $1.80 cost of each daily mailing by more than 50 percent.

MAURICE CURRAN, Publisher-Editor of the Greeley Citizen readily agreed there must be something done about the rising mail costs. As the biggest user of the mail, the weekly-newspaper editor worried out loud that the rising costs will force him to increase subscription prices and ad rates. Sipping his early morning cup of coffee at Greek's cafe, across the street from the Post Office, Curran noted that the mail truck scheduled to arrive at 7 a.m. with the day's mail hadn't arrived and the clock on the wall showed 7:30 a.m. For a country editor, who closed his shop for Labor Day, the late arrival of copy and ads by mail meant burning the midnight oil. The retired farmer said we all ought to be thankful that this wasn't the first of the month when the social security checks arrive.

With a twinkle in his eye, he remarked: "If this were the first of the month, we would have a big crowd waiting for the mail to arrive. We might even have our first demonstration in Greeley, should those checks be delayed. There is more interest here in the arrival of those checks than what happens at Camp David." A potential crisis was averted, however, as the dust. The driver had been delayed because he had stopped to give a helping hand to a stalled out-of-state motorist.

This act of human kindness is one of a series of signs found here that there are still a lot of people ready in their own way to help others even if it slows down progress.

That's why covering the scoops from the sandhills is worth the price that the 1,300-mile ride costs each year.

Carpet Prices Nailed To Floor By Bargains

IF YOU'RE BUYING big-ticket carpets and rugs during the traditional "bargain" clearances this month or at regular prices, you'll note one unusual fact: floor coverings have held remarkably stable in price through this entire span of rapmarked the most revolutionary change to hit the loom-woven carpet industry; this method now ac-

And this has been so despite the fact that this industry also has been hit by increased costs for materials, labor and fuel (natural gas used for drying operations) and higher taxes, as well.

The key: the floor covering industry has been able to checkmate increased costs through new technology and has been forced to hold prices in line by intense competition.

You, the customer, can, as a result buy good quality carpet for as low as $10 a square yard, including a broad color selection and attractive

NOT SO SUCCESSFUL, though, has been any effort to hold down the cost of carpet installation for wall-to-wall. You may have to pay from $5 to $6 a square yard for installation and padding in some cities.

The cost will be even more if you need tricky work around staircases, sunken living rooms, that sort of thing. The meaning to you:

* Unless you expect to move in a few years, now is the time to budget for a good mediumpriced carpet retailing, say, for $15 to $20 a square yard. You'll need to replace this quality carpet less often—and thereby you can slash or even eliminate the zooming installation costs.

* If you do plan to move in a few years, ask the store to cut the carpet into a room-size rug.

All you need do is arrange for binding or otherwise protecting the ends to prevent fraying-a simple but infrequently used method to give you double the service from your original wall-to-wall installation which previously you thought prohibited lifting of your carpet.

 CONSIDER BUYING AREA rugs, both decorative and fashionable today. They come in a wide range of prices-from low-cost styles featuring patterns printed on synthetic face yarns to ultra-expensive handwoven Orientals from Iran, China and India.

You might be among the mounting numbers buying imported Orientals-both new and old -as investments. But if this is your aim, you must not proceed without expert advice or you will risk your entire stake.

Of course, you also can buy machine-made Orientals and contemporary designed rugs produced in the U.S.

Karastan, for instance, long noted for its woven Oriental design rugs, is taking advantage of the advanced technology to offer similar Oriental designs developed from a patented process that works out the pattern by computer.

THIS, IN TURN, controls the forming of dyedin-the-wool yarns. The result of this technological breakthrough is a quality product at an afforda-ble price: an 8-by-11-foot wool Oriental design rug retailing for around $800 as against $1,300 for a woven item.

New equipment, much of it made in Europe, is now being used to reproduce random multicolor effects and detailed prints in plain-tufted carpets. This is the high-speed fabrication method that counts for more than 9 percent of U.S. output. MILLIKEN IS USING computers and a technique for jet-spraying colors on undyed carpet to make into area rugs. Other mills are using rotary printing machines for area rug designs a part of the technological breakthrough that has hit this segment of the textile industry-resulting in higher fashion within cost limits.

Meanwhile, there's less confusion about carpet fibers than in many years.

Nylon, accounting for 75 percent of total fiber consumption by the carpet industry dominates; acrylics, polyesters and a small percentage of wool make up the balance.

And the chemical industry is concentrating on improving existing products with "third generation" fibers instead of creating new fibers CAUTION: DESPITE the wide variety of styles and prices now available to you, resist buying very cheap carpeting, which could turn out to be false economy if you have heavy traffic areas. You may find that if you skimp, you'll soon be doing the job again.

Instead buy heavy traffic carpet priced from $10 to $15 a square yard and up, plus installation costs and padding. A guideline to remember: it's less expensive to reupholster a chair than to re-lay a carpet.

SALT End-Run Hits Stone Wall

WASHINGTON-Last year, on Nov. 3, in a public session before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Secretary of State Cyrus Vance was asked by Committee Chairman Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., if the U.S.-Soviet SALT II agreement would be submitted to the Senate as a treaty or to the House and Senate as an executive

The former would require a two-thirds vote for ratification; the latter would require a majority vote in both houses

Vance replied flatly that the administration planned to submit the SALT II pact "as a treaty." As recently as this past May, in a closed meeting with the Foreign Relations Committee, Vance reiterated this position.

But then, somewhere along the line—reported-ly about a month ago—the President switched his

CARTER INSTRUCTED U.S. SALT negotiators in Geneva to tell their Soviet counterparts to add an asterisk to the word "treaty" whenever it eared in the documents being negotiated. The asterisk would refer to a note explaining that the documents might be submitted to Conress as an executive agreement, not as a treaty. A few days ago in New York, in a question-and-answer period following a speech to the Foreign Policy Association, Carter's chief SALT negotia-tor, Paul Warnke, said that submitting the SALT agreement to Congress as an executive agree-ment was "a possible option" that "wouldn't make an awful lot of difference."

Confirming this possibility, White House press secretary Jody Powell told the Washington Post: 'There is no reason to close out any option at this time. There are good arguments both ways."

WELL, MAYBE this is the way it looks from

Wyoming. But here, the SALT executive agreement option trial balloon has been blasted to smithereens. In fact, there have been no good arguments to support this idea. Warning the President that he should not resort to "an end-run around the Senate," Senate Majority Leader Robert Byrd, D-

W.Va., has written Carter: "A strategic arms pact with the Soviet Union is of such consequence that it must merit the confidence of the American people and broad sup-port within the Senate...such a pact must be sound in every respect and able to withstand the constitutional test of advice and consent." If there is any doubt that the SALT agreement can stand such scrutiny, says Byrd, "then the American people are going to be pretty dubious, and so am I, and so are a lot of senators, in my judgment, pretty dubious about what is in that pact and why such an approach is being taken."

BESIDES BYRD, there are several other senators-many of whom are pro-SALT liberals-who are vigorously opposed to the executive agreement scheme. Asst. Senate Majority Leader Alan Cranston, D-

Calif., says that the idea is "a great error" and "would go down to defeat."

SALT study group, says he polled this group and found all but one "strongly opposed" to the executive agreement ploy.
Sen. Charles Mathias, R-Md., has also sent a letter to the President, signed by seven other sen-ators, which says it would be a "serious mistake"

Cranston, who heads a 20-senator bipartisan

President's "possible-option" of end-running the Senate on SALT, include: Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., who has written Carter what is described as a "blistering letter" on the subject; And one of the administration's strongest SALT supporters, Sen. Gary Hart, D-Colo., whose aide, Peter Gold, tells me that his boss "is wedded to an intelligent SALT agreement but is more wedded to the constitution which requires a twothirds vote to ratify a treaty."

In his remarks in New York, Paul Warnke said that the decision to send the SALT agreement to the Senate as an executive agreement is a decision that "will be made on the basis of congressional sentiment as much as any other considera-

Libel Suit Dismissed

MIAMI (AP) - A $10 million libel suit filed by former President Nixon's friend Charles G. 'Bebe' Rebozo against the Washington Post has been dismissed by a federal judge.

U.S. District Judge Sidney Aronovitz said Rebozo, who was a neighbor of Nixon at Key Biscanye, had become a public figure by the time the Post reported in 1973 that he had cashed $91,-500 in stocks after being told they were stolen. Rebozo has maintained the Post report was false and malicious.

Since Rebozo was a public figure, Aronovitz said, rules set down by the U.S. Supreme Court in 1974 and 1964 prevent his winning a libel judgment against the newspaper.

TRIAL FUNERAL

LUCCA, Italy (AP) - There was no hearse and no band, but 90-year-old Crazio Nannini went through with his trial funeral in this Renaissance town anyway He had hoped for a hearse, but the local company wouldn't supply one so the veteran of two word wars rode a bicycle through the streets to the village cemetery and, with a gesture of disdain, tossed a bunch of roses over the fence.

Don't waste cards unnecessarily. Even seemingly useless high cards can serve an important function.

North-South used a modern weapon to reach their best spot. South's first-round double was "negative," i.e., for takeout, not for penalties. After North showed his power by jumping to two no trump, South finally had the opportunity to introduce his five-card suit he was not strong enough to bid that suit freely at the two level. North raised to game.

West led the ten of spades, covered by dummy's king and won by the ace. East found the killing defense-at trick two he shifted to the in dummy and played ace of hearts and another, fetching the jack, queen and king.

East underled his spades, and West won the nine. He was quick to realize what his partner wanted, so he returned a club and East ruffed for down one.

Declarer was unfortunate to run up against a combination of a singleton club and deadly defense. Nevertheless, he had no one but himself to blame for going down in his contract.

As happens so often. declarer's error occurred at trick one. Considering the auction and the lead, there was no way that the king of spades could win the trick. Therefore, there was no reason to squander that card.

Observe the difference if declarer simply plays low from dummy at the first trick. The defense is helpless. Even if West is brilliant enough to shift to a club at trick two, East will be unable to get his partner back on lead after winning the king of hearts to obtain his club ruff. Declarer will lose only two spade tricks and the king of hearts. Rubber bridge throughout the country use the four-deal format. Do they know something you don't? Now my problem: Three weeks ago, when I went to my in-law's home for dinner, my mother-in-law wasn't home yet, but my father-in-law was. Well, he made improper advances toward me. At first I thought he was just being affectionate in a fatherly way, but he started holding me tight and kissing me, I realized that he had something else in mind. I was totally stunned when he started to unbutton my blouse! I freed myself, ran to my car and

Since that night I haven't been back there. My mother-in-law keeps asking me when I'm coming, but I don't want to face my father-in-law again. What do I tell my mother-in-law? Just thinking about that incident turns my stomach. Help me, please.

NAMELESS, PLEASE

Dear Nameless: Go back to your inlaws and try to resume your former good relationship. At the very first opportunity tell your father-in-law privately that if he ever makes another pass at you, you will tell his wife. I doubt if you'll have any trouble with him after that.

when diets don't...ESPECIALLY when diets don't! What's an Un-Diet? An Un-Diet is what you'd do - or

Got a weight problem? Undo it with the "Un-Diet." The Un-Diet works even should do - after dieting yourself slim. In other words: a "maintenance" plan to keep you where you want to be. An Un-Diet is the "normal" all-day, every-day eating pattern you'd be willing to follow once you're as slim as you want to be. An Un-Diet is not - repeat NOT - a return to your old ways of eating, to the diet that made you fat in the first place.

The idea of an Un-Diet is to skip the semi-starvation routine and go straight to 'maintenance.'

Why? Because a "maintenance" diet can be a "reducing" diet as well...only not so strict. A maintenance diet that will keep you at 125 pounds will also bring you there. You cannot possibly stay at 175 or 200 if you eat to "maintain" 125. (If you now weigh 200, it's because you're eating a maintenance diet to sustain 200 pounds. If you're slowly gaining, you might even be eating to maintain 300

"Un-Diets" don't work as fast as strict 900-or 1,200-calorie "reducing" diets, but your chances for success are so much better. A reducing diet asks a person who's used to 3,000 calories a day to cut his intake by two-thirds. No wonder he fails. On an Un-Diet, you simply cut back to what's "normal" for the weight you want to be...and stick with it. After all, if you can't stick with "normal" why bother to reduce in the first place? A return to eating like a 200-pounder means a return to 200 pounds, as surely as two and two make four!

How do you start an Un-Diet?

npry pick the wer and assume you're already there. Act, think and dress thin. And eat like the person you want to be. (The person you want to be doesn't have to be thin - just thinner. Don't aim for a goal any lower than what's appropriate for your height.)

How many calories a day can you eat to be the person you want to be? Here's a simple formula: multiply your goal weight by 14. If your goal is 125, that number multiplied by 14 means you can eat 1,750 calories a day.

Start immediately to limit your calories to 1,750 and eventually you'll come close. If you stop losing short of your goal, change the calorie quotient to 13. If you continue to lose when you no longer want to, up the number to 14 or 15; slowly add calories until your weight stabilizes. Fourteen is a good calorie quotient for the average, moderately active overweight. The older and less active you are, the lower your calorie quotient: an overweight inactive woman over 60 years of age could probably use a quotient of 12. Conversely, an overweight active younger man could use a calorie quotient of 16. Men generally use more calories than

Factors Vital In Day-Care Center Selection

By BETTY YARMON

NEW YORK (WNS) - Thinking of enrolling your child in a day care program? Be sure it is on the "morning side of the

Says Joel Sockwell, "The morning side of the street is a location on the righthand side of a thoroughfare that leads from a residential to a business area. This allows for most of the parents to easily enter and exit the center when they are dropping the child off in the morning. People have a tendency to be late in the morning and rush-hour traffic is a problem in getting to work on time."

Sockwell is vice president of a national day care organization, which operates 82 day care centers, mainly across the Southern U.S. and in Canada. Most of these centers are between residential and business areas.

The professionally managed day care company is a new phenomenon, brought on by the increase in working mothers. Recent testimony before a U.S. Senate subcommittee tells us that some 5,000,-000 children from 6 months of age to 6 years are affected: 1,600,000 of them in licensed programs, both privately owned or publicly funded, the balance cared for in homes of relatives or of women who take in neighborhood children as a daytime baby-sitting business.

Some 1,600 of the proprietary childcare centers have banded together in the National Association for Child Development and Education, which advocates the monitoring and licensing of such centers and develops standards for child

Here are some suggestions on how to choose a day-care center for your child so that the child will benefit and you will get the most for your money:

— Never shop over the phone. Be wary of a center that tries to sell you over the phone: the good ones will insist you judge their program in action. Visit each center and talk to the director and to the staff that would be involved with your child. Spend at least one day at the center before enrolling your child. If possible, make surprise visits at different times of the day after the child has been enrolled.

When you do visit, explore the entire facility. If you are denied admission to any area other than the lobby, be suspicious. A center should have nothing to hide from parents.

- At the center, ask to see a number of documents: the center's license, which is required in most states; papers testifying that the center is insured; current health and fire department inspection forms. - Since the safety of your child is your first consideration, watch for and ask for answers to such questions as: Are playground equipment and fence in good repair? Are electrical outlets covered? Is there any broken furniture or equipment in the classrooms? Since pre-school children should never be left unsupervised even for a moment, indoors or out, are there enough adults to supervise the children?

- Make sure that only approved persons will be permitted to pick up your child at the end of the day. Parents should be required to fill out forms with a list of those allowed to take the child, and the center should demand identification and watch for recognition on the child's face. The center should have a strict rule that if someone not on the list comes for the child, the parent should be called immediately and the child not be allowed to leave without the parent's ap-

- Cleanliness and hygiene are crucial. There should be no odor. Floors, carpets, windows, walls, bathrooms, and sinks should be clean, the kitchen immaculate, and you should satisfy yourself that good in sufficient quantity

- Check the educational goals, making sure that the center has a well-planned program of activities designed to enhance social, emotional, intellectual, and physical skills being acquired by each age

See if teachers prepare lesson plans, ask how teachers handle discipline and make sure that the center keeps parents informed of what is going on in the classrooms from day to day that it welcomes parent input and participation.

- Finally, ask yourself: "Would I want to spend two or three years of my life here?" Child-care centers should be nice places for parents as well as for children.

Youth, Aging' Conference Bridges Generation Gap

NORTHBROOK, Ill. (AP) - The generations came together as equals to learn about each other at a recent "Youth and Aging" conference organized by a Pennsylvania teen-ager.

Sixteen-year-old Joyce Collier gathered together her fellow student council members at her suburban Philade school to meet with representatives from such groups as the Gray Panthers. They all spent the day in a round of discussions and workshops on growing old in Ameri-

"The conference was very successful, says Joyce. "It was a mutual learning situation, though I think the young people gained more from the experience. We gained an understanding of how older people feel about social issues facing our nation. Now we are better able to form our own opinions. Joyce is one of scores of high-achieving teens listed in "Who's Who Among American High School Students" found to be building bridges across the generation gap by adopting grandparents, volunteering in convalescent homes and helping the elderly with chores.

There seems to be a trend toward breaking down age barriers among young and old, according to the book's publisher, Paul Krouse.

When we started talking to outstanding teens 12 years ago, 'generation gap' was a widely used and practiced term, he says. "Today's kids - at least the high achievers we know - want to expand their knowledge and understanding of all people, so many are getting acquainted with older adults and learning the lessons of wisdom which older people have to

Jim Firman, intergenerational services coordinator for the National Council on Aging, tends to agree.

"Young people are a tremendous un-tapped resource," says Firman. "There's a great need among older people for pro-fessional services like shopping, helping with cleaning and just friendly visiting The services that kids can provide are often critical, enabling older people to maintain their independence.

Two elderly women in Hico, Tex., age 84 and 94, are able to remain in their homes because busy teen-ager Debbie Barnett cooks, cleans and runs errands

"Neither one of them wants to go to a nursing home and, without me, they probably would," says Debbie, who gets high school credits for her work with the two seniors. "It makes me feel really good to know that I can help them. And, it's one of the easiest jobs anyone can

Older people in Orleans, Minn., were surprised to receive many gifts this year from teens like Patricia Stewart who chose them as "Secret Grandparents." One commonly-seen friendly visitor to Rew, Pa., nursing homes is Amber Bidclub to hold monthly birthday celebrations and holiday parties at nearby residences for seniors.

The club's teens sing to the residents, play bingo with them, make greeting cards for them and just simply talk with

"They love us," says Amber. "They'll join in with us, and play along on their in-struments. They tell us stories about when they were our age, and give us ad-

"If I could, I would tell other teenagers to just love older people as if they were their own grandparents," she adds. 'The older people are just as interested in learning about new things and in meeting new friends as we are."

As the span has narrowed between the generations, the teens' knowledge and experience has widened, Krouse points out. "At least these kids will grow older without the fear of aging. And that's a

Diets Reflect Varied Ethnic Backgrounds

Currently, most of the two million Puerto Ricans in the United States prefer traditional foods from their native islands. They often pay more to obtain food shipped in from their homeland. The Puerto Rican family dinner served in New York, Chicago or any other American city is as much like that served in San Juan.

San Juan.

Dr. Hada de Slosser, who studied the eating habits of Puerto Ricans in the U.S. as part of her graduate work at Columbia University, observes that they place great emphasis on the evening meal. That is where one can find the greatest proportion of ethnic loods.

"Little time is spent planning menus," she notes, "as traditional ethnic foods are preferred. Most women I talked with do not try new foods or new recipes. Most meal patterns are more or less rigid."

De Slosser notes that the core of the dinner is usually rice and beans. The side dish, called "mistura," can be eggs, sau-

"Food is one symbol that helps achieve and sustain a friendship," she notes. "Giving and taking food is one part of an enduring relationship."

Does the Puerto Rican diet measure up to American standards? Probably yes. Puerto Ricans get protein in their beans, strengthened by the milk they drink. (Often milk takes the form of "cafe con locke" but milk with a few "cafe con leche," hot milk with a few drops of strong coffee.)

Meany Opposes Inflation Plan

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) - AFL-CIO President George Meany has urged President Carter to abandon recommendations from his economic advisers to curb inflation with voluntary wage and price guidelines.

But United Steelworkers President Lloyd McBride isn't going along with Meany's adamant opposition to guidelines, saving instead he first wants to see what type of new anti-inflation program the administration unveils.

Meany told 4,000 USW convention delegates meeting Monday that workers would be victimized by a government program that limits wage inceases without first putting a lid on rising prices.

He said he feared the emphasis of the government's program would be to limit wage gains rather than prices.

We must keep on insisting that the administration address the real causes of inflation. that they do not penalize the victims of inflation, in their attempts to curb it," the 84-year-old Meany said.

He said rising prices for food, housing and medical care cause inflation, not wages, which he said have been rising on-ly to keep pace with the rising cost of liv-

The administration is preparing a new anti-inflation plan that reportedly would limit wage increases to no more than 7 percent a year and price rises to no more than 6 percent.

Currently, consumer prices have been rising at an annual rate of almost 10 percent. The administration says wage gains by many large unions have been running at that same rate or even higher.

Meany said that when mandatory wage and price controls were imposed by the Nixon administration to curb inflation in "wages were held down for a while...but there was not control on prices. Actually, there was no real effort made to control prices.

"I sincerely hope that the president is not persuaded by those who are beating the drums for controls to repeat our experience of 1971 to 1973," he added.

McBride, however, declined repeatedly when asked by reporters to state his opinion on the use of either voluntary guidelines or mandatory controls.

'After it (anti-inflation program) comes out, we'll take a look at it. We may or may not be critical," he said.

Earlier, McBride boasted that most of his 1.4 million members have received substantial pay increases in recent years to keep them ahead of the rise in the cost

Letter Can Serve As Mailing Envelope

By SHARI LEWIS

Someone sent me a sample of a super way to send a letter. Write your message on a sheet of paper and then fold your paper into thirds (Picture 1). At one end, you fold the corners down to make a point (Picture 2). Bring the bottom edge of the paper up so that it meets the bottom edge of the triangle near the top, and cut two slits so that you can clip the point right into one slit and out the other. If you just seal your letter with a tiny piece of tape, it's ready to go! Oh, of course - don't forget to stick on a postage stamp. By the way, did you know that in America before 1840, the person who got a letter was the one who had to pay the postage? And often a postman would go to all the trouble of delivering a letter only to have the person who received it refuse to pay the fee. In 1840 they changed the rules, so that the person who sent the letter had to buy a special stamp. This stamp proved that the postage had been paid for ahead of

Conferees Trim Budget For Farming Programs

Senate conferees have approved an $18.3 billion budget to operate next year's agriculture and food-aid programs, about $5 billion less than President Carter sought.

But the $5 billion gap involves book-keeping borrowing authority rather than specific programs. Also, the money package still is $213 million more than Carter sought last January, six months before asking for a hike in borrowing limits.

The $5 billion not approved would have increased the borrowing authority of the Commodity Credit Corporation in the corriculture Department — the agency that finances price support programs — in the budget year that will begin Oct. 1.

Although the bill raises CCC's authority to $20 billion from $15 billion, the administration wanted it raised to $25 billion. The House already had acted on the

for a further boost in July. The Senate approved the request in August, but the conferees decided that the funds weren't Both houses now must ratify the conferees' compromises.

Among the items, the measure would allow $56 million in Food for Peace aid to South Korea that the House had rejected in a dispute over securing the former South Korean ambassador's testimony for probes into influence-buying.

The Senate had supported the aid after the South Korean government agreed to relay congressional investigators's questions to Kim Dong Jo and "seek substantive answers" on alleged payments to members of Congress.

Comparatively, this year's combined spending by USDA and related programs in other agencies — including the Food and Drug Administration of Health, Education and Welfare - total about $12.9

One of the major arguments among conferees was whether to provide up to $220,000 to pay the expenses of some witnesses at hearings on proposed changes in federal regulations.

Those payments are supported by presidential consumer adviser Esther Peterson but are opposed by such lobbies as the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and the National Cattlemen's Association.

The conferees decided to allow the payments, but only to experts or residents of affected areas whose points of view aren't adequately represented by witnesses who pay their own expenses.

Widespread weekend rains and continued hot, humid weather delayed some harvesting. There were flood warnings in some Midwest areas and the wet weather, which prevented farmers from getting into the fields over the weekend, was expected to continue.

Also adding to the support was light cash grain movement over the weekend. There was little other weekend news to effect trading.

At the close soybeans ranged from 3% to 6 cents a bushel higher with September contracts quoted at $6.561/4 a bushel: wheat was unchanged to 41/4 cents higher, September $3.341%; corn was 1 to 11/2 cents higher September $2.11 and oats were 1 to 2 cents higher, September

Cancer Rare In Childhood

By LAWRENCE LAMB, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I don't really have a problem but it would set my mind at ease if you would give me some information. I'm talking about cancer in young children. In all the articles I've read they never tell about the symptoms. If more people were aware maybe it could slow the death rate. I sure hope so. Please help me and others learn about cancer in young people.

DEAR READER — Despite the publicity that cancer in children gets, I think you ought to know that the leading cause of death below the age of 15 is accidents. They cause 46 percent of all deaths below 15. Cancer is a poor second. There are four times as many deaths from accidents in children than there are from cancer.

The 1973 vital statistics show that for the entire United States there were only 2,961 cancer deaths in children below the age of 15. No matter how tragic it may seem in the individual case, cancer in children really isn't one of our major national health problems. Of course, it's always major to the people involved. That's the human tragedy and if they can be prevented or detected, so much the better.

You don't read about the symptoms of childhood cancer because usually there are no specific ones you can detect early. A third of the cancer group cases in children are leakernia. The disease is frequently detected from blood tests in the doctor's office or because of unexplained bruised spots or tendency to hem-

Another 10 percent of all cancers in children are caused by lymphomas and these are closely related to leukemia. They involve the lymph nodes and lymphatic system. Thus leukemia and lymphophatic systems represent almost half of all the cancers in child-

The other relatively frequent child-hood cancers are caused by these. Depending on their location, they may present few if any symptoms. They may cause headaches or if they involve an area of the brain that relates to body function, that function may be impaired. This could be a problem in vision or it could affect the body. Vomiting is sometimes as-conditions.

Leukemia, lymphomas and brain tumors account for two-thirds of the childhood cancers. The rest are really quite uccommon and other than causing an unexplained lump which may be felt there is not much that the non-professional person can do to detect childhood cancer.

PUBLIC NOTICE SUMMARY OF PROPOSED

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS GENERAL ELECTION NOV. 7, 1978

The Tax Relief Amendment"

(H.J.R. 1)

H.J.R. 1 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution allowing the legislature to exempt intangible personal prop-erty, requiring the legislature to exempt certain household goods and personal effects, and allowing the legislature to exempt all or part of the personal property homestead from state and local property taxation.

The amendment quires the legislature to provide for the taxation of farm and ranch land on the basis of its produc tive capacity instead of its market value and allows the legislature to provide for the taxation of timber land on its productive capacity. The amendment permits local governments to extend the present exemption of not less than $3,000 of the residence homestead of persons 65 and older to include certain disabled persons.

The amendment grants an exemption from public school property taxes of $5,000 of the market value of the residence homestead. It authorizes the legislature to grant an additional exemption from public school property taxes of an amount not to exceed $10,000 of the market value of the residence homesteads of persons 65 years of age or older and certain disabled persons. If a person 65 years of age or older qualifies for this exemption, the total amount of public school taxes imposed on that person's homestead may not be in-

The amendment prevents local governments from increasing property taxes unless the governing body provides public notice and conducts a public hearing. The amendment requires the legislature to provide by law for each property owner to receive notice of the revaluation of his property and the amount taxes will be increased. The amendment limits appropriations from state tax revenue to an amount not to exceed Texas' estimated economic growth rate, with the legislature authorized to make exceptions for emergencies. The amendment prohibits the statewide appraisal of real property for property tax pur-poses. Enforcement of uniform standards and procedures for appraisal of property for property tax purposes is required to originate in the taxing authority where the property tax is imposed.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the bal-lot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing for tax relief for residential homesteads, elderly per-sons, disabled persons, and agricultural land; for personal property exemptions; for truth in taxa-tion procedures, including citizen involvement; for a redefinition of the tax base; for limitations on state spending; and for property tax administration.'

Firemen Facing Court Charges

Striking firefighters in Wichita, Kan., and Butte, Mont., face possible court confrontations, while firemen and policemen in Biloxi, Miss., have been threatened with dismissal unless they return to

In Wichita, where 260 firemen struck Sept. 11, two officials of Local 66 of the International Association of Firefighters, were due in Sedgwick County District Court today to face possible contempt-ofcourt charges, Judge David Calvert already has fined the local $20,000 for violating his back-to-work order.

Thirty-six striking firemen in Butte voted Monday night to risk contempt citations by refusing to comply with a court order that they stop picketing at most municipal buildings. Their strike has drawn support from about 60 sheriff's

Strikers Arrested In Ohio

By The Associated Press

About 35 striking school employees were arrested in Dayton. Ohio, today for defying an order against picketing, while in Bridgeport, Conn., 49 striking teachers faced the prospect of joining 135 of their colleagues in iail.

In Cleveland, meanwhile, school officials planned to ask a judge to force 10,-000 striking employees back to work.

Strikes that have delayed the start of classes for some 425,000 students continued today in seven other states - Michigan, Pennsylvania. Massachusetts, New Jersey, Washington, Illinois and California. In nearly all cases, the main issue is

Judge Harry Hanna of Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court scheduled a hearing today on the Cleveland school board's request for a temporary injunction against the strike, which began Sept. 7 and has closed schools for 100,000 pup-

Union and school negotiators resumed talks Monday under Hanna's orders but broke off discussions later in the day without resolving the strike.

Also on Monday, Superior Court Judge James Henebry found 49 more striking Bridgeport teachers in contempt of court for defying his back-to-work order. He said they faced jail and fines unless they returned to work today

The new talks followed an 18-hour meeting at an undisclosed location near Camp Hartell, a National Guard facility where the teachers are being held for defying a court order to end the strike which began Sept. 6.

Classes for the city's 22,500 public school students were canceled today for a fifth straight school day schools were open in Dayton, Ohio, Monday, but attendance was cut by twothirds at elementary schools in the 37,-000-student system after about half the district's bus drivers refused to cross teachers' picket lines. About 90 percent of Dayton's 2,200 public school teachers and other employees began their strike when classes opened Wednesday.

Judge Carl Kessley of Montgomery County Common Pleas Court directed the sheriff's department on Monday to arrest any employee found picketing Dayton schools during school hours. The arrested strikers had walked in front of the Dayton bus barns, keeping the vehicles from starting on their scheduled

Chess Champ Seals Move To Halt Game

BAGUIO CITY, Philippines (AP) -Anatoly Karpov sealed his 42nd move today to adjourn the 24th game of his world chess championship duel with Viktor Korchnoi. One expert said the game likely will end in a draw when play resumes Wednesday Soviet defector Korchnoi, 47, shook off time pressure and made his last nine moves in 15 minutes, engaging Karpov, 27, a Russian who is world champion, in a rapid exchange of pieces that left each with a rook, a knight and four pawns. "It looks like a draw," said international master and chess author Harry Golombek of Great Britain. Karpov leads the series four games to

The Wichita firefighters turned down the city's latest offer Monday after Calvert spent nearly 40 hours trying to help negotiate a new contract.

They said they rejected the tentative contract offer because it tied a pay raise to voter approval of a sales tax increase and contained no amnesty provision for dismissed policemen who might return to

The Fraternal Order of Police, which represents 162 Wichita policemen who were fired for striking, met Monday with city officials. Joe Vertuno, an FOP official, said the union was asking for reinstatement of all striking officers.

But Police Chief Richard LaMunyon, who fired the striking policemen, refused to back off his hardline stand. "All I can say is that I have never, ever, rehired anyone I have terminated and unless I'm ordered to do so, I won't change my mind," said LaMunyon.

In Butte, District Judge Arnold Olson cited possible danger to public health and safety in ordering firemen to abandon picket lines at municipal buildings in which the union has no members employed. He also directed leaders of other municipal unions to order their members back to work.

The main issue in the strike, which began Sunday, is the firefighters' demand for economic parity with policemen. In Biloxi, firemen and policemen joined on picket lines to press their demands for a $150 a month across-the-board salary increase. Monday night, the strikers rejected a $100 across-the-board offer from the city.

There will be no further offers from the city of Biloxi," O'Keefe said.

The firemen's union claims 75 members of the department's 80-man force, while the Fraternal Order of Police says it repersents 35 to 40 members of the citv's 51 officers.

Biloxi Fire Chief Gabe Leman said about 10 firemen were manning three fire trucks, with additional aid promised from neighboring towns if necessary.

Clerks Join In Strike On Railroad

By The Associated Press About 2,200 Louisville & Nashville Railroad clerks in 13 states walked off their jobs early today in sympathy with fellow inion members striking the Norfolk & Western Railroad.

Pickets also were in place today at Delaware and Hudson Railroad yards in Albany, Binghamton and Buffalo, N.Y. and at yards of the Toledo, Peoria and Western Railroad and the Peoria and Pekin Union Railway in East Peoria and Creve Coeur, Ill.

A federal judge, meanwhile, was hearing arguments in Buffalo on whether picketing should be permitted to resume at Conrail freight yards in Buffalo and Columbus, Ohio, in support of the N&W

About 19.500 N&W workers have been on strike since July 10 in a dispute over job security, halting the railroad's operations in 14 states. The railroad is a major coal hauler and the strike has idled 25,000 coal miners. Negotiations to end the strike were under way today in Washing-in Louisville, said the picketing was affecting "all L&N operations, from Chicago to St. Louis to New Orleans to Atlanta, Memphis, Nashville and Louisville." Beasley said the L&N strike was disrupting only freight service. The railroad no longer operates passenger trains. Norman McGowan, an L&N division sales manager in Knoxville said, "I think it's pretty widespread. They are in sympathy with the N&W people. Beasley said the strike by members of the Brotherhood of Railway, Airline and Steamship Clerks began at 5:30 a.m. EDT at all L&N operations. Other unions were honoring the railway clerks' picket lines "and it's putting us in a bind," said Beasley. The L&N, he said, was using supervisory personnel to maintain rail service. Beasley said the L&N considers the strike illegal in view of a recent federal appellate court injunction that barred unions from broadening the N&W strike to other railroads until Sept. 22.

Judge Removes Himself From Davis Trial

FORT WORTH (AP) - State District Judge Tom Cave today disqualified himself from presiding over a change of venue hearing for millionaire industrialist Cullen Davis, saying he really didn't have to do so but that "descretion is the better part of valor.

Retired Judge Authur Tipps of Wichita Falls was appointed to hear the venue case for Davis, charged in a murder-forhire scheme, and Tipps immediately began the hearing. Cave cited numerous cases which he said clearly indicated no basis for him to disqualify himself, but that "common sense and prudence" dictated that he step down. He said he wants no hint of impropriety. Lawyers for Davis had argued Cave should not preside over the hearing because of previous statements he has made about the case. Prosecutors contend Cave is one of 15 persons on an alleged "hit list," and the judge had said he felt it would be "improper under the circumstances " for him to make the decision on where to move the hearing.

Later, acting on his own, Cave filed a motion for a change of venue in the case. It was Cave who presided over an early attempt to try Davis in Fort Worth when the industrialist was charged with murder and attempted murder arising from shootings at his palatial mansion in August 1976. That attempt ended in a mistrial and the case was moved to Amarillo, where Davis was acquitted of one count of murder. He was then arrested Aug. 20 and in a bond hearing, the state produced tape recordings and video tapes which show state witness David McCrory and Davis together. The voices on the tape, identified as Davis and McCrory, discuss the killing of several persons

Oaks Claims Democrats Independent

Bringing his statewide voter registration drive to Lubbock County today, Secretary of State Steve Oaks said in a courthouse news conference that the effort will not provide a boost at the polls for either major party.

You li

Although many more Texans consider themselves Democrats than Republicans, Oaks said, the huge turnout for the Ford-Reagan Republican presidential primary in 1976 shows that they vote independent-

'The Democrats in the state are pretty independent, and they go into the polls on Nov. 7 and pull all kinds of levers," said Oaks, who was appointed secretary of state when Mark White resigned to run for attorney general. "They don't just pull the Democratic lever."

Oct. 8 is the registration deadline. All that is involved in registering this year, Oaks said, is picking up a postagefree registration card at one of the banks, libraries, schools and other places where they have been stacked, filling it out and dropping it into the mail to Hardin, whose address is already printed on the

The secretary of state, head of the election division of state government, said 62,000 persons or almost 42 percent of the electorate in Lubbock County and nearly three million persons over the state are still unregistered.

"I don't think these 62,000 in Lubbock County have made the deliberate decision not to vote," he said.

Oaks said his office added one million voters to the active electorate in a drive last spring and that 6.1 million are eligible to vote now.

He is predicting a turnout of 2.2 million or about the same percentage as the 1.8 million who voted in the 1974 general election. Five million were registered that year, and the 28 percent turnout was the owest since 1926.

"We're predicting 2.2, and anybody can win an election with that small of a turnout." he said.

Oaks said anyone with questions about registration may call his office on the toll-free number of 1-800-252-9333 The cards and telephone assistance are bilingual, he said. He is taking his statewide tour on to Brownsville, Bryan, College Station, Harlingen and McAllen this week.

TODAY'S STOCK PRICES

Stock Mart Continues To Decline

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market continued to slide downward today amid fears about possible anti-inflation moves forthcoming from the Carter adminstration and the Federal Reserve.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial issues slumped 1.21 to 868.94, continuing the decline that has cost the Dow more than 36 points in the past four sessions.

Falling issues held a 2-1 edge over gainers on the New York Stock Exchange.

Carter administration inflationfighter Robert Strauss again stopped short today of calling for mandatory wage and price controls, but said he supported "the toughest possible program" to fight inflation.

And brokers said they expected the Federal Reserve to move to raise interest rates in an attempt to control the amount of money in circulation.

Ramada Inns led the most active list, off 11/4 to 131/4 as all casino-related issues continued to tumble in heavy trading. Stock exchange officials late last week further tightened margin requirements on the volatile issues

The NYSE composite index of all its listed common stocks lost .02 to 58.22. On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was off .63 to 170.64.

Volume on the New York Stock Exchange was 13.39 million shares at noon, compared to 15.90 million shares in Monday's first two hours.

Other active gambling issues included Holiday Inn, down 1 to 25%: Bally Manufacturing, off 1% to 551/4: Caesars World, falling 41/4 to 521/4; and Del E. Webb, down 11/8 to 295/8. On the Amex, Resorts International class A gave up 3½ to 164½. Nortek fell 1½ to 17% and Golden Nugget fell 1% to 291/4.

Bill Stinnett, associate director for fixed and administrative services, said the improvement can be attributed to most stringent collection efforts. In July, had, the hospital collected only about $200,000; last month, the figure was done.

"The things we're doing are turning around our accounts-receivable problem." Stinnett said. He predicted September cash collections would be $500,000, and that within the next few months another big jump would be recorded.

"The trend is notable," said Joe Stanley, a member of the hospital district's board of managers. He said collections will pick up even more "if we can get additional nurses in here and get these (presently unavailable) beds open. "Toward that end, the board voted unanimously Monday to contract with Medrec, a San Antonio-based firm specializing in recruitment of overseas nurses. The hospital district will spend about $25,000 to bring to Lubbock 30 registered nurses from such countries as England and South Africa, the board decided.

Ben Robinson, chairman of the hospital board's finance committee, explained that the hospital's "gross revenues are $1 million off (projections) due to the fact that we don't have enough patients in the hospital."

The smaller-than-anticipated patients

The smaller-than-anticipated patient load also has contributed to a "significant reduction in operating costs," so that the bottom line of the hospital's finances is only $100,000 below the budget, Robin-

But Stinnet and Robinson said the hospital is getting there, albeit slowly.

The amount of outstanding bills had been increasing by as much as $700,000 a month. In August, however, when the district billed patients for some $900,000 in services, the backlog increased only about $511,000.

Eventually, said Stinnet, the ho will be collecting more cash dur month than it is billing patient When that happens — possib in 1979 — the backlog in unp begin to shrink drastically.

The hospital's current backlog stands at just over $4 million. The hospital currently has about half of its approximately 300 accommodations open for use. Gerald Bosworth, executive director of the hospital district and hospital, said adjustments in staffing patterns may allow for the opening of a beds this month.

South African Cabinet Meets With Vorster

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) - The South African cabinet met today to hear whether Prime Minister John Vorster intends to resign and also to make a deci-sion on the United Nations plan for South-West Africa, but a spokesman said no announcements would be made im-mediately about the deliberations. Speculation has been rife in recent days that the 63-year-old Vorster, who is rumored to be seriously ill, would step down after 12 years as leader of the country's white minority government. Vorster, however, arrived at the cabinet meeting appearing ruddy and healthy and showing no signs of the illness he is rumored to have. On the issue of South-West Africa, the

By VERNON SCOTT HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Of all the drab, thankless roles on television few are less colorful or interesting than that of Caroline Ingalls, the linsey-woolseyclad homesteading wife of "Little House on the Prairie."

Worse, Karen Grassle, the actress who plays that homespun soul, is mistaken in Hollywood for mousey Caroline and her career has lagged apace.

"The TV and movie industries tend to think I am what I play," Karen laments. But beneath the shapeless, hand-wringing Caroline whose blonde hair is tied back in a bun, throbs a bright, feminine and shapely woman who has co-written (with Cynthia Lovelace Sears) her way to better things.

Karen will star Sept. 26 in "Battered," a two-hour TV movie she wrote, playing the contemporary victim of a wife-beating husband

Some 21/2 years ago it dawned on Karen that if she were going to break out of Car-oline's mold she would have to do it herself. At the same time, Karen, a strong advocate of the Equal Rights Amendment and the feminist movement, became aware of the proliferating crime of wife-beating.

She was galvanized to begin writing a screenplay about the problem.

A divorcee, Karen had not been a battered bride herself. But she had been punched out by a boyfriend, whom she never saw again. She knows the horror of getting smacked around by a man.
"I was so shocked when I found out how widespread the problem was that I wanted to help put a stop to this hidden crime." Karen said.

"So Cynthia and I got down to work. Neither of us had ever written anything professionally before. It was an opportunity for me to do something for women and to write a good role for myself.

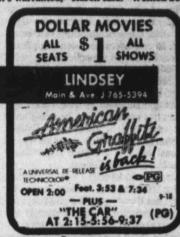

"There is no better forum in the world than television for bringing an important and controversial subject directly to the people. Battered wives should know it is appening to others and they can speak

By the same token, TV and movies traditionally have depicted macho males in the act of cuffing around their women, going back to the day Jimmy Cagney shoved a grapefruit in Mae Clarke's face.

In countless films and TV shows the hero slaps the leading lady to "bring her to her senses" when she gets hysterical, a perfectly acceptable means of restoring tranquility to the domestic scene. Inevitably, the chastened lady falls into the arms of her two-fisted lover.

"It's made to look like a guy is sexy when he pushes a woman around when it's warranted," Karen said. "Women be-

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) -Hurricane Greta crossed Belize during the night and was downgraded to a tropical storm as its winds dropped to 70 mph. The hurricane wrecked hundreds of huts along the north coast of Honduras, but there were no reports of casualties yet.

The U.S. National Hurricane Center in Miami said the center of the storm was over northern Guatemala at 6 a.m. EDT, moving west at 10-15 mph and diminishing steadily. But it warned that the mountains of Honduras, Guatemala and Belize were still threatened with 15 inches of rain or more, and this could cause serious flooding in the valleys

The storm hit the small British territory of Belize near Stann Creek, 40 miles south of Belize City, with winds of 95 mph Monday night. Parts of Belize City, on the coast, were reported under 8 feet of water.

The areas on the Honduran coast hit hardest were poor, isolated fishing villages where reports were sketchy and communications difficult or impossible. Government spokesmen said there was no way to know for certain the extent of the damage until air force planes were able to survey the coast, possibly today.

Information Secretary Herman Allan Padgett said military commanders along the coast and on the nearby Bay Islands reported 656 houses destroyed in a dozen communities.

Hardest hit appeared to be the fishing village of Punta Potuca, where 276 houses were reported destroyed.

interview: "Yes, I heard of Lee Harvey Oswald's plan to kill President Kennedy. It's possible that I could have saved him I might have been able to, but I didn't, I never believed the plan would be put into Clark quoted Castro as saying Cuban officials told him of Oswald's visit to the Mexico City consulate about two months before Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas on Nov. 22, 1963.

Clark claimed Castro said he was told Oswald said "someone ought to shoot that President Kennedy" and that he might do it himself.

Questioned about the account, Castro said he never granted Clark an interview and called the story absurd.

"I didn't say that," Castro asserted. "It has been invented from the beginning until the end. It's a lie. If this man (Oswald) would have done something like that, it would have been our moral duty to inform the United States.

cious bureaucrats from other agencies (who) would like to put an end to the cost-effective concept of centralized administrative services envisioned by the Hoover Commission in creating GSA."

Vincent Alto, GSA special counsel conducting the agency's internal investigation, told the subcommittee that since June, 50 employees had been disciplined for fraud and other wrongdoing.

In addition, he said, federal grand juries are working in Washington, Baltimore, Boston, Newark, N.J., and Manhattan and Brooklyn in New York City. Within two weeks, he said, he would turn over cases to U.S. attorneys in Dallas, Houston and New Orleans, and six major national cases to a Justice Department strike force being organized Solomon said he might be criticized for being too tolerant during my early days," but that during the past 88 days he had implemented 19 major changes intended to correct the agency's problems.

Among these were establishment of a central procurement office for GSA, reinstatement of so-called whistle-blowers who had been penalized for criticizing GSA, establishment of a central budget office, a central office to dispose of surplus stockpile property, a limitation on spending authority of low-level officials, and a series of changes designed to ensure sharper policing of work done for the government under contract.

A new "office of acquisition policy" to GSA, which Solomon said now "are decentralized among the services in the central office in Washington and in the 10

Alto said Monday that no GSA administrator since the first one, Jess Larson in the Truman administration, has really been able to run the agency.

"Lack of a central procurement office is a major reason for that and for the scandals, which really go back almost 20 years." Alto said. "We're the only billiondollar-plus agency in the government without a central procurement office."

Key Energy Vote Near

WASHINGTON (AP) - A leading Senate opponent of the natural gas pricing compromise today conceded defeat in the first showdown vote on the bill, a major portion of President Carter's energy

But Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, said the fight is far from over. He said the vote on a move to send the multibillion-dollar pricing scheme back to a House-Senate conference committee will fail, but by a narrow margin. "I don't think we will prevail today,"

Supporters of the White-House supported compromise say returning it to the conference panel would kill it.

Over the next eight days, however, Metzenbaum said the unusual coalition opposing the administration and Senate Democratic leaders will change their proposal in ways they hope will attract enough votes to defeat the gas bill.

Supporters of the compromise picked up a boost today when Sen. Maryon Allen, D-Ala., declared her support.

an emergency radio-telegraph system to That left an informal Associated Press count on the gas compromise with 49 votes firmly or tentatively in favor, 39 opposed and 12 undecided.

Both Metzenbaum and Senate Republican Leader Howard Baker said today's vote will be much closer than had been predicted by Senate Democratic Leader Robert Byrd, who had confidently counted a margin of five to 10 votes against recommitting the compromise.

The support of both nations is considered vital to the outcome of the "framework for peace" that Sadat, Begin and Carter signed at the end mf their 13-day

The other immediate concern was the status of Isaeli settlements in occupied Egyptian territory. The issue was unresolved at Camp David, with Sadat insisting that the settlements be removed as a condition to any Egyptian-Israeli peace treaty. Begin refused to agree to such a step, but finally said he would leave the decision to the Israeli parliament.

Carter, in an extraordinary appeal to the Israeli parliament, said in his speech "it is my strong hope that the question of Israeli settlements on Egyptian territory will not be the final obstacle to peace. The Knesset is scheduled to vote within two weeks on the settlements.

the issue, most Israeli leaders' initial reaction showed support for withdrawal of the Sinai settlements. Begin appears to have an easier domestic task ahead of him than Sadat, who faces trouble selling the agreements to his own government. Indeed, Sadat's foreign minister and close friend, Ibrahim Kamel, resigned, reportedly because of a difference with Sadat over the accords.

Senate Republican Leader Howard H. Baker of Tennessee, a potential challenger to Carter in the 1980 election, called the agreements "a real accomplishment House Republican Whip Robert Michel of Illinois predicted Carter's standing in public opinion polls would shoot up 20 points or more. In an AP-NBC News poll last month, only 26 percent of the respondents rated Carter's performance "excellent' or "good."

Carter telephoned Hussein on Monday in hopes he would support the accords, but the Jordanian king said he wanted to see the details before he would commit

One agreement would give Hussein a role in shaping a negotiated settlement for the West Bank of the Jordan River. Hussein has refused to participate in any peace talks unless Israel agrees to withdraw from the West Bank, seized in the Six-Day War of 1967.

He must now decide whether Israel's reported promise to end its military occupation, while keeping security forces there, is sufficient Vance postponed plans to continue arms limitation talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in New York on Friday. The meeting, arranged before the Camp David summit, instead will be held next week, State Department spokesman Hodding Carter said.

In Saudi Arabia, Vance will meet with a monarch likely to be concerned about the future of Jerusalem. That city's Arab quarter has been in Israeli hands since the 1967 conflict.

Several members of Congress saw the agreements as the basis for a separate Egyptian-Israeli peace, a step other Arab leaders have rebuffed.

The Sandinistas and the men in Esteli who have joined their fight appear better armed and organized than those in any of the other cities, however, and observers believe the battle could be far bloodier than the previous assaults.

Barricades of paving stones and sandbags chest high and 4-feet thick stretch across many streets. One major road into the city is blocked by no fewer than 10 massive barricades, one after the other. In addition, the rebels have cut trenches across some streets and set up sandbagged sniper posts on rooftops. Their weapons are mostly pistols, shotguns and hunting rifles, but they also include a few automatic weapons. Guard helicopters and airplanes have been strafing Esteli, a city of 30,000 on the Pan-American Highway, since late last week. Reporters who tried to enter the city were stopped at least three times by guardsmen firing automatic weapons. Southern Nicaragua is in government hands and Managua remains under heavy guard with Somoza's troops searching all vehicles entering and leaving the city and patrolling in force.

A curfew from 8 p.m. to 5 a.m. has been imposed, and streets are only lightly traveled during the day due to the continuing business strike called in an attempt to oust Somoza. The Honduran government said 83 Nicaraguan guerrillas had given themselves up to Honduran soldiers after being chased across the border Monday. A press spokesman said the guerrillas were being treated as political exiles and they would probably be expelled and sent to a country of their choice.

The guerrillas are members of the Sandinista National Liberation Front, which took 1,500 hostages in Managua's National Palace Aug. 22 and forced Somoza to ransom them for 59 political prisoners, $500,000 and safe passage to Pan-

Inspired by the guerrillas' success, political opponents of Somoza called the general strike, and businessmen not associated with the Somoza family in its widespread commercial and industrial activities joined the protest. Then on Sept. 9 the Sandinistas launched their uprising with attacks on national guard posts in most major cities.

The guerrillas, estimated to number anywhere from 400 to 2,000, were joined by hundreds of sympathizers and got control of Masaya, Leon, Esteli and Chinandega. But the rebels were outgunned by the 7,500-man national guard.

The Red Cross estimated 300 dead and 3,000 injured in Leon and 200 dead and 200 injured in Masava.

Maryland mountaintop do not produce quick settlement of the long-standing Arab-Israeli conflict, Carter probably will come out of it with a political profit.

Not that foreign affairs accomplishments are sure-fire presidential image boosters.

Richard Nixon weaned the United States from the pretense that Communist China did not exist and won the first strategic arms limitation agreement with Russia. These were considerable feats and they enhanced his standing.

But they were not the kind of accomplishments in which the average American could see an immediate personal stake. And they certainly did not help save the Nixon presidency when Watergate got out of control.

However, Carter's accomplishment in getting Israel and Egypt back on the track toward peace has much more potential for public impact than most foreign affairs developments.

Since 1973-74, most Americans have known very well that their personal interests are on the line in the Middle East. The long lines at filling stations and the huge increasee in fuel bills that followed

Linebacker Says Cowboys Lost 'Mental Edge'

DALLAS (AP) — Linebacker D.D. I ewis says the Dallas Cowboys have lost the mental edge that made them Super Bowl XII champions.

"This year we keep saying we can get to the Super Bowl but I don't think we believe it yet," Lewis said in the wake of Dallas' 27-14 National Football League drubbing by the Les Angeles Rams.

"We are a semi-great team," the 13-year veteran said. "Last year we were so mad because LA had beaten us in the playoffs the previous year that all we could think about was the Super Bowl. If we don't get with it, we could have a number of games like we had Sunday."

What happened to the Cowboys Sunday, Lewis said, was a "shock."
"It hurts when their coach (Ray Malavasi) comes out and says they are going to whip our tails, then the team comes out and does it," said Lewis. "There's not a lot you can say. Maybe it will be good for us in the long haul. Maybe it will get us back to basics."

Lewis said, "I'm concerned the way the Rams shut our running down. Something is wrong when we pass 45 times a game. (Coach) Torn Landry's philosophy is to run."

He said Ram quarterback Pat Haden was largely responsible for the confusion the Cowboy defense showed.

"Haden switched to a quick count and we couldn't disguise our defense," said Lewis. "Then sometimes they hit plays right into the strength of our defense and we had blown coverages. Now that's mental."

Lewis said on offense the Cowboys were "trying to go wide. We should have been hitting straight at them because they were stunting. Instead of having sec-onds and eight yards to go we had too many seconds and 12."

He said against St. Louis Sunday, "We've got to go on the field and get mear er. We've got to have a better pass rush. We've got to come out smokin'."

Mind Over Matter

By MICKEY HERSKOWITZ And STEVE PERKINS

Q. Earl H. (Dutch) Clark, no relastion of mine, died August 5 in Canon City, Colo. I knew him briefly years ago. Is it true he played high-school football, quarterbacked and drop-kicked for Colorado College, and then quarterbacked the Detroit Lions while playing with one sightless eye? I heard this story when I was writing sports in Laramie, Wyo., but never wanted to hurt his career so didn't print it.

-Bill Clark, Butte, Mont.

A. Dutch Clark, a Hall-of-Famer, played with "severely limited vision in one eve." according to a Detroit game-program story of 1968.

There have been other NFL stars who overcame a similar, or worse, handicap. Philadelphia's quarterback, Tommy Thompson, led his team to NFL titles in 1948-49, though he could see with only one eye. Bobby Dillon, an All-NFL safety in the 1950s with Green Bay, had one good eye. The same is true today of a fellow who caught two TD passes the opening week - Wesley Walker of the N.Y Jets, whose handicap is similar to Clark's.

Q. I have heard it again and again that Burt Reynolds played college football at Florida State, but I have looked up the records and I can find no such player ever listed for the Seminoles. Could you confirm or deny?

—Elliot Hastings, Knoxville, Tenn.

A. Let us quote to you from this year's Florida State press guide, which carries a special article by Bill McGrotha of the Tallahasse Democrat: "Among those who went to the Sun Bowl, after that 1954 season, was a freshman running back by the name of Buddy Reynolds. A better-than-average runner, Reynolds got hurt in an auto accident soon after. Later, after starting his acting career, Buddy (Burt) Reynolds was ready to give it all up for another fling at Florida State football. But after a brief period — he had a little problem playing defense in a day you had to go both ways — Reynolds returned to Hollywood and moved on to the box-office fame."

Q. Since Bob Griese got injured, can you tell me how many starters the Miami Dolphins still have from the 1972-73 championship years when they won 32 and lost only two?

-Harding Moorehead, Atlanta.

A. Aside from Griese, there are six other starters remaining from those title teams, and another player, Tim Foley, who has since moved from cornerback to free safety. Wayne Moore, Bob Kuechenberg, Jim Langer and Larry Little still are knee-to-elbow in the offensive line. The defensive holdovers are cornerback Curtis Johnson and end Vern Den Herder.

Lee Poses Challenge To Strong Plainview

Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff
Two games does not a season make, phi-

Plainview, considered one of the haves rather than one of the have nots this season, has rolled to two easy wins so far this season—one over AAA power Esta-cado, the other a 34-7 thrashing of Amarillo Tascosa. But, according to the PHS boss, things just might chance change this Friday

"Changes are a coming, all right," the first-year coach agreed. "Midland Lee's coming to town.' That doesn't sound like fun, huh?

"It won't be," confirmed the coach. We are expecting a heck of a game. During the past couple of weeks, Plainview has managed to put away opponents like a drunk does Ripple. Easily. 'We played a lot of people," said "But our starters have still been playing a lot. We had a tough time with Tascosa and really didn't put it away until the end." Sherwood said it took a 96-yard stroll by fullback Royce Coleman before Plainview was assured of its second win. "Before that," he continued. "The

"We've been lucky like that all year. We've gotten the good breaks when we've needed them and also got some get effort out of our kids."

At 193-pounds with speed to burn, Coleman is considered one of the top backs in the Panhandle. Against Estacado, he rambled for 212 yards. He picked up an additional 165 against Tascosa. "That's (the 377 yards) more offense than most of my teams get in a year,"

Sherwood said. He also said he was kidding.

This is Sherwood's first season in the going pretty well.

"It's really hard to say anything after just a couple of games," he pointed out when talking about the jump from AA ball . "About the only real difference is, now I have more good players to choose from. There's more depth. And I guess there are more good players to work with."

AAAA ranks. And so far, he says, it's

There has been talk that this year's Plainview team could be the one that wins the District 4-AAAA title, something no Bulldogs group has EVER managed to pull off.

Promoters Knock Ali

NEW ORLEANS (AP) - Unless Muhammad Ali apologizes for calling two promoters of his fight with Leon Spinks white dagoes" and racists, the promoters say they will sue him for $10 million. "I think he did $10 million damage to our reputations," Jake DiMaggio, one of the two promoters, said late Monday. "He is the greatest moral coward I have ever seen. He does not care what he has done to the families involved. He does not care what he has done to this town.'

DiMaggio said the damage suit would be filed in federal court today unless he or City Councilman Philip Ciaccio, a partner in the local promotion of the fight, heard from Ali

'We will not file the lawsuit if Muhammad Ali returns to New Orleans and we take Municipal Auditorium and fill it up with every black person who wants to come and every document from the outset, every piece of paper, every agreement, every loan that was signed is laid out on the table," DiMaggio said.

"And he can bring his own battery of lawyers with him. And after he reads them, he puts his arms around Jake Di-Maggio and Philip Ciaccio and says that the black community of New Orleans and the people of New Orleans owe a debt of gratitude to Jake DiMaggio and Philip Ciaccio and says 'I was wrong.' DiMaggio's outburst was prompted by an Ali diatribe earlier in the day after the boxer learned that DiMaggio and Ciaccio had filed a $1 million suit against their black partners, Sherman Copelin and Don Hubbard. That suit was later dropped after the white partners said that the funds allegedly misappropriated by Copelin and Hubbard had been accounted for. "No charge of racism was ever made until we had the audacity to protect our legal rights by filing a lawsuit," a joint statement by DiMaggio and Ciaccio said. Ali was supposed to read prepared remarks about the settlement between the two factions of Louisiana Sports Inc (LSI). But instead he lashed out at the men he called "two white dagoes." Whenever a nigger starts messing with money, the white man would rather see you with his woman, in his neighborhood, in his politics, in his church. The only thing he doesn't want to see you with is his money," Ali said. "And these niggers got the money. No white man was backing (the fight) and they (Hubbard and Copelin) did the brain work."

Contacted in Chicago, his manager, Herbert Muhammad, said, "All I can say is that I wish Ali would have stuck to the fight and have me stuck to handling the promoters. I know in my heart he is not a racist. I don't know what prompted him, if he said that."

Ciaccio said that whatever the reason, he and DiMaggio had not seen the final figures on attendance at the fight or how much money LSI, which they formed with Copelin and Hubbard, had made from the promotion.

Abernathy Pulls Off Surprises In 4-AA

By RUSS PARSONS Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff Most folks were ready to hang out the black wreaths for Abernathy before the season ever started. The Antelopes had struggled to a 1-9 season last year, hadn't won a single district game, and had lost 15 starters to Most folks just didn't give them much of a chance. In fact, most folks thought they'd be doing well to finish last.

Well, the Antelopes and coach Larry Aldridge have laid their critics low.

First off, Abernathy beat Class A power Petersburg 28-13 in its opener. Then, the Antelopes repeated the deed by topping Olton 9-7. To put that in perspective, District 4-AA favorite Idalou just got past Petersburg this past weekend by 13-12.

All in all, Abernathy has surprised a lot of people. In fact, it sometimes seems coach Aldridge is among them.

"We feel real good about it (the season) right now," he said. "We sure do. Both games were come from behind wins. I don't know, we've gotten some breaks, but I feel like we've made some. These kids have a great attitude. I can't say enough about how they've worked in the off season and I think this is a car-

"Our senior leadership is just great and we have an outstanding junior class. I hate to sound confident, but I really think we can play with anybody in our league. I just feel these ol' kids just have such a great attitude I guess it just flows to the

The Antelopes only had one player returning across the front wall but he (David Kennedy) was a three-year starter. And with a back like Lee McCune you can get by with an inexperienced line. McCune has rushed for 285 yards on 36 carries in the last two games, and, Aldridge says, has attracted attention from Oklahoma and West Texas State.

his first game out against Petersburg, scoring touchdowns on runs of 88, 75 and 31 yards and totalling 252 yards on 14 carries. Not bad for beginners.

"We're on the one yard line against Petersburg and we hold them for four plays. Then we turn around and drive 99 yards

"I believe that turned our whole season around. That was the defense that did that andthen it was the defense that won for us last night (Friday). They held Olton to a touchdown.'

Dawson Gridders Lead Honorees

Dawson High School sure doesn't lack offensive punch, especially not if last weekend's 67-0 devastation of Whiteface is any guide.

'We sure needed that," said coach Bill West. While a romp is a great moralebuilder for any team, perhaps the Dragons went a little overboard.

Tailback Lupe Rivas and quarterback John Hataway were among the top offensive stars of the weekend and thus head the Avalanche-Journal's weekly Schoolboy Honor Roll.

Rivas, a 5-9, 160-pound sophomore, scored three touchdowns on runs of 20, 60 and 66 and gained 203 yards on only 11 carries. Hataway, a 5-10, 160 senior, carried six times for 62 yards and a touchdown but completed another six passes for 158 yards and another pair of scores. All totaled, he had 220 yards total of-

The defensive star of the week had to be Springlake-Earth's Steve Monreal. A 125-pound, sophomore middle linebacker, Monreal was in on 17 tackles, nine of them unassisted.

He also recovered four fumbles and blocked a pair of point-after attempts in the Wolverines' 22-20 loss to Sudan. Coach Radford Taylor also said he was in on two of four key tackles in a goal-line stand. Another offensive star was Lazbuddie's

Charleson Steinbock. The talented quarterback rushed 17 times for 143 yards and a touchdown and passed 10 of 11 completions for another 98 yards and a TD in a win over the Muleshoe JV. In addition, Steinbock, who stands 5-10 and weigh weighs 160, punted four times for a 35-yard average and returned three punts for an average of 17 yards apiece. Lorenzo had another one of those power-packed backfields. Gary Cunningham, a 6-1, 180 senior tailback, rushed 12 times for 158 yards and a score. The fullback, 5-9, 175 senior Dale Miller, carried another 16 times for 114 yards and a TD; and the quarterback, 6-0, 160 junior Bobby Brown, carried the ball on-his 5-11, 180-pound frame 201 yards on 23 trips Friday night and crossed the goal twice. His backfield mate. Tony Garcia. carried only eight times but rambled for 119 yards and another pair of scores. Abernathy's Lee McCune is in the news again. He "only" gained 133 yards this time, on 22 carries. That, along with the opener, gives him 385 yards rushing in the two-game-old season.

Denver City's senior tailback Jerry Hill carried 27 times and wound up with 160 yards against Kermit

And, Springlake-Earth strong safety Kenny Wright (a 5-7, 135-pound junior) made 17 tackles, caused a pair of fumbles and made two fourth-down solo tackles.

Other heroes in other games included Crosbyton halfback Kelly Ferree who picked up 239 yards on 17 carries against Jayton in a 21-7 victory. Amherst's Wayne Johnson scored four times on runs of 35,8, 14 and 8 to lead the Bulldogs past Anton Whitharral's Jimmy Avery carried 23 times for 136 yards and also caught two passes for 73 yards, a total offensive output of 209 yards. Happy's James Moore and Eric Venhaus each scored three times as the Cowboys ripped past the Levelland sophomores.

Venhaus scored on runs of 78 and 58 yards and on an 87-yard kickoff return. Moore's scores were somewhat less spectacular but counted the same, his runs measuring 5, 16 and 23 yards.

A pair of hot rushers faced off in the Amarillo Tascosa-Plainview match. Royce Coleman led the easy winner (Plainview, 34-7) with 168 yards on 14 tries while Jerry Johnson led the losers with 142 on 32 tries. Depth had something to do with it: the Bulldogs had Billy Williams take up 163 yards on only eight tries and Ervin Davis get 97 on 15 cracks. Littlefield's Rudolph Smith got three touchdowns and 200 yards on 29 carries.

Shallowater's Pete Alvarado got 115 yards on 10 carries in the Mustangs' 39-7 win over Hart. That gives him 240 yards ly six times but wound up with three rushing in two games

His scores were 86, 25 and 18.

Reds Blast Dodgers 4-0

Johnny Bench analyzed the National League West race, borrowing from one of America's great orators, Yogi Berra - or maybe it was Casey Stengel.

'It ain't over with until it's over with." MIke LaCoss, the Reds' rookie righthander, handcuffed Los Angeles on seven hits Monday night, pitching Cincinnati to a 4-0 victory that prevented the Dodgers from reducing their magic number for clinching a second conecutive divisional

The Dodgers' magic number remains at five, as the Reds closed to within 71/2

"Tonight we played like world champions," said Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson, refusing to concede the championship to Los Angeles. "The trouble is, we haven't played that way enough times Asked flatly if the Reds can catch the Dodgers, Anderson said: "I don't know I'll let you know Oct. 1. I don't think it will take a miracle, but we're going to have to win every one of our (12) remain-

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Cincinnati's Cincinnati a 1-0 lead in the second and the Reds put it away with a three-run seventh. Griffey singled home one run, and Bench singled home the other two.

LaCoss, 4-7, snapped a personal sixgame losing streak as he hurled his first major league shutout

But he had to pitch out of a bases-loaded jam in the fourth inning after the Dodgers collected successive one-out singles by Steve Garvey, Ron Cey and Dusty Baker. He got out of it when Lee Lacy and Steve Yeager popped out.

Sign Up For Independence

When young people sign up for newspaper route work, they are really signing up for independence. The kind of independence that goes with earning your own money, running your own business, and dealing with people on a one-to-one basis.

Our carriers are young business men and women. They provide a vital service, handle their own finances and reap a handsome profit from their efforts. What better training to prepare them for the future? If you are interested in stepping into the business we and declaring your own independence, contact our carrier manager right now. He'll give you all of the important facts about carrier work. Then, if you are still interested, he'll provide the pen and show you where to sign . . . even if your name is
