Cosmonauts Preparing Home Trek

MOSCOW (UPI) - Two Soviet cosmonauts who hold the world's space endurance record were preparing Sunday to return to earth, the Communist Party daily Pravda reported.

Pravda said Cosmonauts Vladimir Ko-

They began their preparations on their 136th day aboard Salyut 6, which will be mothballed to await a new crew next year, reliable Soviet sources said.

New Data Gathered Praising the mission, Pravda said, "New information has been put at the disposal of biologists, medical men, glaciologists, volcanologists, oceanologists and firemen." "For instance, they discovered the earlier unknown regularity of glacial movements in Latin American mountains. And they observed seven forest fires in Australia."

"By four cameras of different types the cosmonauts shot kilometers of movie and photographic film depicting events taking place on earth," Pravda

It also noted they performed more than 60 experimental meltings in special furnaces that led to combinations of metals that normally would not mix in the gravity of earth.

"About 50 different substances and their modifications have been obtained, seven technological processes have been explored," Pravda said.

On Aug. 26, Cosmonauts Valery Bykovsky of the Soviet Union and East German Sigmund Jaehn flew to the Salyut 6 aboard the Soyuz 31 for a one-week international mission.

As with previous dual assignments, Bukovsky and Jaehn returned to earth aboard the Soyuz 29, leaving their freshly fueled and supplied Soyuz 31 docked to the Salyut 6 to carry Kovalenok and Ivanchenkov home.

Earlier this month, Salyut program officials said the project proved it would be possible to set up technological factories in orbit where rare alloys and crys-

Cullen Davis' capital murder solicitation trial, his second criminal prosecution in little more than a year.

Davis, 45, is charged with trying to hire the murder of his divorce judge, Joe Eidson, who since has withdrawn from Davis' stormy and still incomplete divorce from his wife, Priscilla.

Prosecutor Jack Strickland said the trial will test the ability of the American judicial system to deal with a defendant of Davis' wealth

"If Cullen Davis gets off this time, he can do anything he wants. He can shoot me between the eyes on national television and he won't even be arrested,"

Strickland said. "That scares me. Not because I'm worried about getting shot, but because of what it means for a man to be above the HOUSTON (UPI) — Jury selection be-gins today for Fort Worth millionaire T. convict Davis on charges he killed his stepdaughter, Andrea Wilborn, 12, in a stepdaughter, Andrea Wilborn, 12, in a mansion shooting spree in which his wife's lover, Stan Farr, died and Mrs. Davis and a family friend were wounded. Davis, who was acquitted, was estimated to have spent $3 million on defense Defense lawyer Richard "Racehorse" Haynes estimated it will take about a week to choose the 12 jurors, plus alternates, who will consider the charges. The trial, moved from Davis' hometown because of publicity, was expected to take at least a month. Jury selection might be interrupted briefy by a scheduled hearing before the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin Nov. 7 in which the defense will seek Davis' release on bond. State District Judge Wallace "Pete" Moore has refused to free Davis on bond pending trial and Haynes has appealed.

Prosecutors expect to present tape recordings of Davis conversations, including one in which he allegedly said to an FBI informant, "Good," when shown phony pictures indicating Eidson had

The informant claims Davis also planned to have several other persons killed, including his own brother, with whom he had had disputes over the billion-dollar oil tool empire founded by their father, Ken Davis Sr.

Holiday Turkey May Cost More

Avalanche-Journal Staff

AREA residents should have no trouble finding a turkey for Thanksgiving dinner this year if they're willing to pay higher prices for less of a selection. Despite a recent government report predicting a November shortage of the gobblers, local grocers do not foresee any problems in meeting consumer demands for the bird.

But all agree that the price per pound for turkey will run 10 to 15 cents above last year's prices, and a major turkey supplier for the area said assortment and sizes of birds will be limited range from 89 cents to $1.09. Turkey suppliers say the shortage of the bird is due to a rising consumer demand for turkey year-round, rather than just seasonally.

Although the U.S. Department of Agriculture reported 361.7 million pounds of frozen turkeys held in cold storage warehouses as of Sept. 30, the total is down 12 percent from a year ago and is 21 percent under the 1976 level. The demand for turkey has historically been seasonal but with the high costs of ham, beef and chicken, the market demand for turkey has been steady since March," said Dwayne Myram, sales manager for Cargill Foods of Springlake, Ark. The company produces turkey for area wholesalers.

Everyday Demand Greatest Ever
"I've been in the turkey business for 18 years and have never seen such a steady demand for the product as I have seen this year," Myram noted. While no supermarket should run out of the bird, assortment and sizes will be limited, Myram said.

A spokesman for Waples-Platter, a supplier for several local supermarkets, said the stores would be receiving less turkeys than they had ordered.

Turkey orders are up over last year, the spokesman said, and the firm could not supply the full amount the stores requested. Demand for turkey roasts, hams, rolls and weiners have added to the supply

Rhodesia Turnover Deadline Extension Seen By Ian Smith

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) - Prime Minister Ian Smith, who seven months ago agreed to black-majority rule for Rhodesia by the end of the year, said Sunday he doubts his government can meet that deadline for the promised hand-over of power.

This was Smith's first public acknowledgement of what had long been predicted here - that the escalating guerrilla war would effectively rule out holding peaceful elections in Rhodesia's embattled countryside.

Smith, speaking at a news conference, said only that the administration he heads with three black leaders was having difficulty planning Rhodesia's first universal-suffrage elections, which had been scheduled to be held by Dec. 31. Almost Certain Spillover

The white prime minister said it was almost certain that "this exercise will spill over a few months into 1979." The military command reported, meanwhile, that a Rhodesian border outpost was shelled from neighboring Zambia, the first such attack since Salisbury's ed 1,500 insurgents. A communique said there was no damage or casualties in the brief attack Saturday night on the security-force position at the village of Chirundu, 200 miles northwest of here. Smith last March reached an agreement with three moderate black leaders based inside Rhodesia - Bishop Abel Muzorewa, the Rev. Ndabaningi Sithole and Chief Jeremiah Chirau - to form a bi-racial interim government that would prepare for national elections that would establish black-majority rule. Denounced By Guerrillas

Black guerrilla leaders Joshua Nkomo and Robert Mugabe, who are based in neighboring black states, have denounced the "internal" settlement as a sell-out to the white minority and vowed to disrupt the planned elections. The Smith settlement would give whites disproportionately large representation in the Parliament and would retain white veto power over constitutional changes here for 10 years.

Smith told reporters that the transition government would continue to move toward majority rule "to the best of our

He said he hoped a new timetable would be announced later this week for the transfer of power from the 260,000 whites to the 6.8 million blacks. Smith made no mention of a planned referendum of white voters, called for under the March accords to affirm the white minority's support for the surrender of power to the majority.

Sithole, in London, later told reporters he and the other blacks on the four-man Executive Council would not resign because of the expected delay in elections.

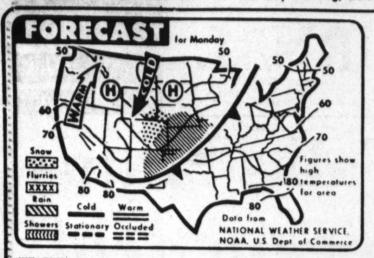

Sithole went to London for talks with British Foreign Secretary David Owen, who with U.S. officials has been trying to bring about an all-parties cmnference between the interim government and the guerrilla leaders to settle the Rhodesian

In another development, the presidents of Tanzania, Zambia, Botswana and Angola - four of the five "front-line states" supporting the Rhodesian guerrillas gathered in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania, for talks aimed at averting further discord among their governments.

Marauders Rip Apart Theater Screening 'Pro-Nazi' Movie

NEW YORK (AP) - Terror revisited a theater director whose family died in Nazi concentration camps as 10 marauders ripped apart a theater showing what they said was a "pro-Nazi" film.

Jack Garfein, artistic director of the Harold Clurman Theater, and about 50 people in the audience stood by horrified as the intruders destroyed a movie projector and stage sets Saturday night in the theater on Manhattan's West Side. One person was injured slightly.

"If I'd wanted to, I couldn't give them a better demonstration of fascism," said Garfein, whose daughter, actress Blanche Baker, won an Emmy for her performance in the NBC mini-series

"It reminded me of when I was a kid and the Nazis broke in and took the rings off my mother's fingers. Then they ushed my father against the wall and broke the furniture because my father had dared stand up against them," said Garfein, 48.

Garfein said that his mother and 8year-old sister died in the gas chambers of Auschwitz and that his father died in the camp at Ordruf. He survived camps at Auschwitz and Bergen-Belsen, and was freed in 1944 at age 14, his weight having dropped to 48 pounds.

That was 34 years ago, but it all came back to Garfein when the marauders rushed into the theater during the showing of "California Reich," a documentary which some believe favorably portrays ECONOMIC RESTRUCTURING governments should no longer allow ecoomic policy to be the sole preserve of the federal government, says a University of Missouri political scientist. Nazi followers in California. The film was nominated for an Academy Award two years ago.

Theater workers said the intruders shoved an usher and a woman in the audience and began busting sets and tearing down the screen. They grabbed the stage manager by the throat and choked him until he opened the projection booth so they could destroy the projector and make off with the film.

A anonymous caller to The Associated Press said the incident was the work of a group called the Revolutionary Socialist League and Committee Against Racism. The caller said the assault demonstrated that "we won't allow a Nazi film to be shown in this city."

The group and others have demonstrated against the film that had been showing at the theater for 21/2 weeks as a companion piece to Eugene Ionesco's play "The Garfein said the movie and the play portray "the banality, the ordinariness of evil" that he saw firsthand.

An hour after the rampage, Garfein located a copy of the film and another projector and resumed the show.

"If necessary, we'll get 10 projectors

15 For his sermons in the synagogues; everyone praised Him.

16 When He came to the village of Nazareth, His boyhood home, He went, as usual, to the synagogue on Saturday, and stood up to read the Scriptures.

17 The book of Isaiah the prophet was handed to Him, and He opened it to the place where it says:

18, 19 "The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me; He has appointed Me to preach Good News to the poor; He has sent Me to announce that captives shall be released and the blind shall see, that the downtrodden shall be freed from their oppressors, and that God is ready to give blessings to all who come to Him.

20 Then He closed the book and handed it back to the attendant and sat down, while everyone in the synagogue gazed at Him intently.

A sharp wind buffeted the 58-year-old pontiff, clad in white robes and red cape, as he stepped out of the Italian air force helicopter after it landed near the 12thcentury Mentorella Monastery, atop a rugged 3,960-foot mountain 40 miles from

The local friars and about 10,000 tourists broke into applause when the pope arrived, and the nearby hills were dotted with people watching through binoculars.

The monastery is run by five Polish friars, and the Polish-born pope spent a day there before entering the conclave of cardinals that elected him pontiff Oct. 16.

At that time, the then-Cardinal Karol Wøjtyla walked seven miles up the mountain to the isolated monastery.

"This is a spot where man is naked be-fore God," John Paul said in a greeting.

"It is a spot far from everything — but at the same time close to nature — where one speaks confidentially with God."

The pope was met at the helicopter landing by Bishop Guglielmo Giaquinta of Tivoli, then went into the abbey to say

The pope remained at the abbey for about 90 minutes. He then made the 20minute return helicopter flight to Vatican City, circling first over St. Peter's Square before landing in the helicopter pad in the Vatican gardens.

his election to visit a Rome hospital and comfort an ailing Polish bishop. As pope he also has visited the papal summer palace in Castel Gandolfo

Earlier in the day, Vatican officials estimated 150,000 persons overflowed St. Peter's Square for the pope's blessing at

Speaking in Italian, the pope devoted his address to the importance of the rosary, which he called his "everyday and favorite prayer."

After reading the remarks in Italian, the pope drew hearty laughter and applause by asking, "Is there anybody in the square who can tell me where Mentorella Monastery is located?"

normal contract."
Oswald: "If declarer goes right after clubs he will be able to win eight easy tricks. Two spades, two hearts and four clubs. That won't be quite enough since the de-fense will grab three spades and their two aces."

Alan: "So every alert de-clarer will try to snaffle a diamond trick first. They will win the first spade in dummy and lead a diamond. The best diamond to lead is the deuce, but some desperado types might try the jack. In any event, a good East player will hop up with the ace and shoot a spade back. That is good play and will give East and West a good score. If East ducks, South will shift to clubs, make his contract and give East a bad score."

Oswald: "Skill has determined the East-West score. Luck has handled the case of North and South."

The Justice Department, in rejecting a plan which the citizens of this city have accepted in good faith, in effect has thrown down the gauntlet and is challenging the right of Lubbock citizens to run their own

IT IS DOING so in a community long noted for its good racial relations, its efforts in behalf of all ethnic groups and its tolerance, both in the schools and economic sector.

Initial response of the Lubbock Independent School Board of Trustees is that the district will fight the appeal and stand on the plan now in effect, a costly one which is working, at least from the physical standpoint.

Spokesmen for the trustees have indicated that the School Board will take the case all the way to the Supreme Court if that becomes necessary. It is a course, along with others, which should be pursued vigorously.

THE JUSTICE Department, in its appeal, is making two major points.

One is that racial segregation here has been systemwide, and thus any solution to the so-called "problem" should likewise be systemwide. In brief, this means massive busing of students throughout the city.

A second point is that the present plan, as proposed by the School Board and approved May 8 by U.S. District Judge Halbert O. creeds we might add.

The Justice Department apparently also questions the construction of three new schools south of Loop 289 to alleviate crowded conditions in that part of town and prevent students having to make dangerous trips to and from classes.

SHOULD THE Justice Department, and others, in their fuzzy-headed, "do good" thinking succeed in implementing a systemwide busing program in Lubbock, the school district's taxpayers immediately would face a financial crisis.

Also, use of many additional buses to implement such a program would entail heavy fuel usage at a point when the Carter admin-istration is shouting from the rooftops about conserving energy

This newspaper has repeatedly said that it is opposed to forced busing under any circumstance. We believe that a vast majority of the citizens of not only Lubbock, but the entire nation-including most minority groups-also oppose forced busing.

Under such a "Big Brother" concept, whites, blacks and browns all become blurred pawns in the hands of faceless bureaucrats "playing games" with the lives and education of citizens of this nation.

We do not advocate under any circumstance violent protest to block such a dictatorial approach to self-government. But, we do urge that the Lubbock Independent School District pursue at every level -every level-ways and means to block further intrusion into the lives of the citizens of this community-citizens of all races and

A Vote For Texas Industry

IT'S BEING CALLED the "Jobs for Texans" opportunity but, more formally, Amendment No. 2 on the Nov. 7 ballot would give political subdivisions the authority to issue revenue bonds to encourage industrial development.

The bonds would be repayable from the lease or sale of land and facilities. No other funds could be used for bond retirement.

Chambers of commerce and other organizations interested in the state's economic growth are solidly behind the proposal.

STATES WHICH border Texas have similar industrial revenue bond programs already on the books. This puts Lubbock and other Texas cities at a competitive disadvantage in trying to get plants that are fleeing the Snow Belt to locate within their borders. Texas voters turned down industrial revenue bonds a decade ago by a narrow margin on the theory that it was not needed. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce says, however, that all but four states now have this capability. Also, this year's proposal has been modified and strengthened. For example, the Texas Municipal League withdrew its opposition because, under the new plan, ad valorem taxes can be collected on the leased property just as though the firm holding the leased actually owned the

The enabling legislation also protects the taxpayer by providing that cities and counties cannot be held liable for bond repayment in case of default. No general taxes can be used for this purpose.

y's financial stability would have to be verified by the Texas Industrial Commission before it could qualify to lease facilities built from the revenue bonds.

THE BONDS COULD not be issued on behalf of a company wishing to relocate a plant from one Texas city to another, proponents also point out.

Together with Texas' right-to-work law, the industrial revenue bond capability will help make the state unusually attractive for industrial development that will keep our unemployment rate low.

The Avalanche-Journal recommends a vote "for" Amendment No. 2.

A Traffic Puzzle...

"ONE OF THESE days, we are going to have to come up with a traffic dispersal system that will meet Lubbock's needs or choke on our own

The speaker was Lubbock City Manager Larry Cunningham. We had met Mr. Cunningham at a recent Memorial Civic Center function and were discussing city problems in general.

Only a day or so earlier, Mayor Dirk West had written to explain his reasoning and answer some criticism of the City's new traffic crackdown.

The gist of both men's comments was that Lubbock no longer is a small town, that with an estimated 200,000 persons, and a like number of vehicles in the Metro area, "something has to be done, and soon...'

THE CITY Manager was in something of a rare outspoken mood. He usually plays his cards, and opinions, close to his chest.

'Some City Council at some future date may have to make up its mind it is going to be a 'oneterm' Council and do whatever is necessary to relieve the congestion," Larry said.

This will include coming up with plans for, and seeking funds, to build a major crosstown East-West freeway, the conservative Mr. Cunningham observed. "From an economic, safety and health standpoint, we can't continue as we are. In another five years, at the present rate, we literally will choke on our own traffic." Anyone who has fought the battle of the bulge on Lubbock's streets during early morning, noon and evening rush hours will agree that the City Manager knows whereof he speaks. The $64 million, or perhaps a little less, question of course is where to get the money. It probably will take

THINGS PROBABLY have gone too far to move the proposed Interstate 27 farther west in its North-South path across the city. But, if the southern leg of it can be brought as far west as possible, then talking the State Highway Commission into a major crosstown East-West freeway might not be so wild a dream after all. Lubbock still is the largest city in the state without one.

federal, state and local outlays.

Barring that, and this is our opinion, the City eventually must consider going to more One-Way thoroughfares in all directions, use of extra lanes -with a system of lights-for heavy traffic in certain directions in rush-hour traffic and barring parking on the more heavily traveled streets in various parts of the city.

In the meantime, something also has to be done about the City's soaring traffic death toll, which with 51 deaths, was among the worst in the nation on a per capita basis last year. And that is where Mayor West, who has faced angry taxpayers, Aggies and now trate motorists, says he is going to stand his ground.

HIZZONER HAD read remarks here that we as well as many residents had taken a "wait and see" attitude toward the mayor's "get tough" enforcement edict.

The Dirk says he can appreciate such a stance "since there have been so many safety programs launched with apparently little success.." West then went on to make some very valid points, among them these: Lubbock's traffic problem, he says, stems from the fact "we have city traffic on a small town traffic system. Business and regular traffic use the same streets, making thoroughfares out of West also notes that much of the traffic pours motorists are used to more "moving room." He also cites the "terrific amount of young folks driving with a tendency of going too fast, too quick and with a lack of respect for the law.

neighborhood streets...

THE MAYOR makes the point that a large number of clubs and bars offer an opportunity for drivers to sometimes over-indulge and thus become potential drunk drivers.

He also notes that Lubbock, being an affluent community, most families not only have two cars, but sometimes more. And lastly, the Mayor says what a lot of natives and visitors admit, if they will be honest about it, Lubbock is recognized as having some of the worst drivers in the State of Texas, with their ages ranging from 16 to 90. There are those who may take umbrage at the Mayor's candor. And while we disagree with some parts of the so-called "crackdown," you have to give Dirk credit for saying what he thinks. And furthermore, trying to do something about a problem which affects all of us FRANKLY, BOTH the Mayor and the City Manager are right on several points. Lubbock desperately needs new traffic outlets and the sooner the better. And yes, Lubbock drivers rank right up there among the worst in some respects.

Having said that, we will add some other thoughts, based mostly on letters and phone calls of late. Basically, most residents support the idea of cracking down on "the flagrant, dangerous and repeat and drunken violators. Many persons, however, feel that what they see as "mass ticketing" of motorists in an effort to "put the fear of Dirk" into every driver will in time defeat the purpose of the program. If a later study, which should be made, shows the majority of tickets in the five and ten MPH over the limit category and many of them given in "radar trap" situations, then the whole thing will be viewed as a scheme to raise money, not save lives. Too, something will have to be done to cut the city's crime rate—including armed robberies, rapes and burglaries—or the public will demand the emphasis be shifted. For the moment, the program deserves a chance. But the burden of making it work is a two-way street.

Guests Pronounce Rare Wine Magnificent

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) - A hush fell over the lavishly decorated banquet room where 30 guests in evening dress turned away from a medieval feast to stare at a very ordinary looking bottle of wine swathed in brown wrapping paper.

It was time for the decanting of the 1864 Chateau Lafite - the most expensive bottle of wine ever sold.

J. Michael Broadbent, the wine director of Christie's who had flown in for the Saturday night occasion from London, carefully inserted a corkscrew into the dark brown cork. Worried that the 114year-old wine might taste like vinegar, the connoisseur was concerned as the crumbling cork came out in tiny pieces.

Picking the pieces away from the rim, Broadbent shoved a siphon into the bot-tle and inserted a tube. The wine trickled into a glass.

He sniffed the Chateau Lafite several times and then raised his eyebrows with

Hints from Heloise

DEAR LADIES:

Sorry, gentlemen, but if you don't use electric hot curlers, I don't think this hint will appeal to you.

I use my electric curlers every time I wash and set my hair, which is about every other day or so, usually in the evenings when I'm going out.

I think most of you know how much heat is created in the bathroom. I get out of the shower and it is a little steamy.

Then I plug in the electric curler and comb my hair and reach for the hairdryer. Well, you know how warm one can get in a few seconds with one of those blow dryers.

That set of curiers really puts out a lot of heat. I know that most of them have plastic-type covers or lids, but mine has long since been lost, since this is the same set I was using 10 years ago.

I finally discovered that if you just place a hand or face towel over the curlers, it absorbs the heat and they heat up faster, too. Then, when I finish putting the curlers in my hair, I unplug it and replace the towel back on the curler base.

If you have the same problem I do, just try this and I think you will be able to feel the difference in the temperature in the I sure can, and it helps me stay cool. -

LETTER OF LOVE

DEAR HELOISE:

A day seems a waste without reading

Thanks for such a warm thought, be-cause without my devoted readers and their ever-so-helpful hints, my day would most certainly be a waste. — Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

Recently I was trying to find a cute, but inexpensive way to decorate the bedroom of my year-old daughter, when I came upon a marvelous solution.

My older daughter had many dolls and stuffed animals in various sizes.

Using regular sewing thread and a tiny nail, I tied a thread to each of the smaller dolls and animals, leaving each thread about 10 to 12 inches long. I looped the other end of the thread around a nail-(with a head) several times and then nailed it into the ceiling.

Since the thread was light in color, all-the toys gave the appearance of being led in air.

The larger dolls and animals I hung on the wall, using a heavier thread or twine. The effect was beautiful, practically cost-free and the baby was thrilled with it all., From the practical viewpoint, this solved the problem of having to store all of these toys. — Mrs. David Spradling

HINTS FROM HIM

DEAR HELOISE:

Got a lot of keys on your key ring and have a hard time finding the right one? Here's an easy and inexpensive way tomake a color-coded key ring. Just cut the end off the handle of a used toothbrush just below the hole (the toothbrush willstill be usable for other things). Slip the cut-off part onto your key ring, separates ing the keys as desired (house, car, office, a toolbóx, etc.). - Robert V. Smith

For one who carries around a wholed bunch of keys (15), this is certainly a great remedy. - Heloise

LONDON (AP) - The Ashbrooke-Pembleton-Frenchs have returned to Britain.

Mrs. Ashbrooke-Pembleton-French is glad to be back, wayward son Julian is in some sort of difficulty again, and daughter Amanda is still having problems with her love life. Mr. A-P-F remains quiet.

It all sounds like some television soap opera, but in fact it's just another outbreak of that wacky humor that spreads like an epidemic through the upper-crust British from time to time.

The current epidemic started last April in the personal columns of the august London Times - where else? Sandwiched between cryptic lovers' messages, attorneys seeking lost heirs, and people wanting to sell their houses was this deadpan anouncement:

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Cosmos Club, whose members have received more than 50 Nobel and Pulitzer prizes, still admits only men and accepts only half-heartedly such modern contraptions as radio and television.

Such mechanical marvels were simply "the enemy of good conversation," one member declared.

And in 1951, when a television set was suggested, a prominent lawyer-member complained. "We haven't even accepted radio vet." he said.

The club decided it could not decline a donated set, but it has been ignominiously stashed away in an upstairs corner room ever since.

The Cosmos Club was founded in 1878 by a scientist, explorer and humanist, John Wesley Powell, with the guiding spirit that "no philosophy is so serene and so comforting as that which unites the love of study and of books with the fellowship of men."

China Head's Japan Mission Called Success

OSAKA, Japan (AP) - Chinese Vice Premier Teng Hsiao-ping returned to Peking Sunday after an eight-day sales mission aimed at both public opinion and big business in Japan. China's offi-cial news agency described the trip as a Teng's visit, the first to Japan by a top-ranking Chinese leader since the establishment of China's communist government in 1949, was made for the ceremonial exchange of final documents of the Chinese-Japanese peace and friendship treaty.

But the vice premier made use of the visit to tour industrial facilities and talk with Japanese businessmen, encouraging them to consider investing in China.

The 74-year-old Teng said China will need help from highly industrialized nations like Japan to reach its goal of becoming a major industrial power by the

The Chinese official impressed many Japanese on national television broadcasts with his ready smile and instinct for popular, impromptu actions, like insisting on having his picture taken with a pair of surprised young Japanese newlyweds.

China's Hsinhua news agency, reporting Teng's arrival in Peking, said his visit to Japan had been "successful" and that he brought home with him "the friendly feeling of the Japanese Teng was met in Peking by Premier and Commmunist Party Chairman Hua Kuo-feng, Japanese Charge d'Affaires Shoichi Ban and other officials.

After a rest in Peking, Teng is scheduled to visit Thailand, Malaysia and Singapore in early November.

This major diplomatic effort, observers say, is a plan to counter what Peking sees as Soviet plans to move into the Pacific and establish military bases there.

Teng's travels are also a continuation of the Chinese campaign to spread the word that Peking has opened its doors and will welcome whatever aid it can get in achieving its ambitious development objectives.

Cheer Squad Urges Victory In Academics

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) - When the cheerleaders at Richmond's Chimborazo Elementary School lead the rah-rah-rahs at pep rallies, they're urging their class-mates on to victory, all right — but over

The battlefield at Chimborazo is the classroom, not a football stadium; the opponent, not a football team but the standardized achievement tests that all the pupils are required to pass.

"We have a cheering squad for academics," explains Dr. Leon Harding, the Chimborazo principal. "If whole student bodies can get inspired for a coming game, why not for tests?"

To instill such inspiration, the 25-girl cheerleading squad holds pep rallies for the various grades before the state and city tests are given.

Prancing around in the school gymnasium, leaping into the air, shaking their pom-poms with all the enthusiasm you'd find at a sports event, the squad adapts its yells to an academic motif. Like so: "What do we want? Higher scores! "What do we need? Higher scores!

"We've got to have ... higher scores!"

Harding says the cheering hasn't been going on long enough to determine how it affects grades.

Family Link Services Reach Rural Handicapped Children

By LYNN HOHERTZ Family News Staff

If a child needs special education but doesn't live in Lubbock, parents shouldn't get discouraged. Family Link I and II, Texas Tech University's Regional Training office program, which provides a home-based intervention program for developmentally slow pre-school children, may be the solution.

Family Link I, which is in its second year, is funded by the Bureau for Education of the Handicapped and serves children outside Lubbock.

According to Harold Orr, the ojective of Family Link I is to provide services to children, newborns through 4 years of age, and their families who live in rural areas surrounding Lubbock. These rural counties include Bailey, Cochran, Dickens, Hale, Hockley, Terry, Yokum, Lamb and Floyd.

Education of the parents is important in helping these children.

"Parents are often reluctant to seek help because of environmental impact, lack of direction or motivation concerning a child who may be handicapped," Orr said.

Some parents may not think their child is handicapped enough to benefit from special services. Mental retardation is not the only handicapp which slows the development of a child.

"The program literally helps overcome language problems and hearing problems and the child's adjustment in general is improved," emphasized Orr. "Early intervention is the key," he added.

In order to qualify for the program, each child is assessed by the Alphern-Boll Developmental Profile method. "We arep't interested in the I.Q. of the child, only the developmental age," said Orr.

A home teacher is assigned to each child. The teacher visits the home once or twice a week to instruct the parent in what to teach, how to teach, what to reinforce and how to observe and record be-

Individual curriculum is prescribed weekly based on an assessment of each the program, Family Link II serves childchild's behavior in language skills, selfhelp, cognitive, motor and social skills. Each weekly lesson selects three behavioral goals on which to work. "If only one area is stressed, the other suffer," said

A record is kept of each projected goal including data taken to determine if the prescribed concepts have indeed been

All Family Link teachers (or para-professionals) are given in-service and preservice training for teaching developmen-tally slow children. "We require that our staff have experience working with young children and handicapped children," said Orr. "It is also ideal, particularly in this region, if they are bilingual."

We try to match our parents, child and teacher in order to obtain the best working relationship," said Orr. "If learning is easier for the child in a language other than English, we provide is-truction in that language. Family Link also attempts to enlist siblings into the program as helpers in the delivery of lessons as part of family enrichment activities.

Every six weeks the program sponsors a family day on the Tech campus.

"This allows the parents to share information and is a type of low-key family counseling service," said Orr.

In addition to the home-based teaching program, Family Link I also provides transportation to medical facilities and a materials lending library.

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I live in the Middle West. We go to New York once a year to visit the art galleries and Broadway shows. Something extraordinary happened on our last trip. What would you have done?

We had a pair of choice (and expensive) seats for a terrific musical - fifth row center. Three minutes before curtain time a couple arrived and sat down directly in front of us. The woman had a two-story hairdo which stood mysteriously erect. - about nine inches above her empty skull. She blocked my line of vision completely.

I was angry and frustrated. If she had been wearing a hat I'd have known what to say. But you can't tell a woman to take down her hair. This may never happen to me again in a hundred years, but if it does - what should I do? Or, to put it differently - what would YOU have done? - Anne Noyd

Dear Anne: I would have tapped the woman on the shoulder and, in a voice dripping with molasses, said, "Your hairdo is simply beautiful but it's interfering with my ability to see. Would you mind moving your head about five inches to

It so happens we have two children. The oldest is five and the baby is eight months old and weighs 16 pounds. It's difficult for me to hang on to the hand of the five-year-old and hold the baby, too. The matter of vitamin A and night blindness is not as simple as you think it

Vitamin A is important for healthy reti-nas (where we distinguish colors). But the eyes have ways of deteriorating with age, so you can't always hang poor night vision on the vitamin A deficiency hook. In fact, it seldom is vitamin related

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 65 and have in recent years had trouble driving the car at night. I have read that night blindness is caused by lack of vitamin A in the diet. I mentioned this to my doctor. He

The liver stores most of our vitamin A. It apparently takes a long time for that store to be used up. In one experiment with humans, vitamin A was restricted for periods up to two years. In only 3 of 26 volunteers was there any real impairment of night vision.

The adult daily needs are set at about 5,000 I.U.s for the male and 4,000 for the female. Normal servings of dark green leafy vegetables and yellow ones such as carrots and squash provide sufficient vitamin A. If you are getting that and do have poor night vision traced to vitamin

I love a houseful of plants as well as the next person, but frankly I am sick and tired of people telling me how easy it is to maintain an indoor jungle.

Oh sure, there are a few plants that thrive on neglect and take root on my kitchen tile, but generally plants take a lot of care. I must have 15 or 20 plant books that divide species into "Easy to Grow" and "Takes a Little Extra Care." Today, I'd like to list in this column 'Plants that Will Never Grow." (Please clip and save.)

The Nephrolepis (Boston Fern) grows only in the pages of Better Homes and Gardens and Sunset magazines. To my knowledge, it has never prospered without a camera ens trained on it.

There is no way you can water them in hanging baskets without killing carpet and tile. It was just an amusing

The species is so demanding that many women are looking for options. A friend of mine said she would not have a Boston Fern this year, but would have a baby. She explained, "I'm getting too old for ferns.

The Euphorbia pulcherrima (Christmas poinsettia) would take another miracle out of the East to keep it alive after Christmas Day

Once you follow explicit instructions to set it in a cool, dark room until spring in a dormant stage, it slips off into a sleep of death and you're stuck with a stupid pot of dirt and a dead twig in the closet for six months. (Poinsettias have been known to die on a church altar attended by four priests and three bishops.)

Euphorbia grandicornis (cowhorn cactus) are born dead. I have never known of a person who had the courage to pull the support systems on a cactus and say, "Throw it out! It's gone."

Saintpaulia (African violets). I had one that lived for three weeks once only because it had the perfect blend of light and humidity. If I had just been able to keep the oven door ajar, flick the light on the toaster 20 minutes out of every hour, keep the vaporizer going and the earth from revolving on its axis, I felt I could have sustained life.

I do not want all of you gardeners who have had success with these flowers to write. It is depressing and I wouldn't believe you anyway.

Face it. When my Maranta Ieuconceur kerchoveana (Prayer Plant) thumbed its nose at me . . . I knew it was all over.

A deficiency, the cause would lie elsewhere than in your diet. It could be either an inability of the body to store it or a tendency to lose too much of it. Vitamin A deficiency would also produce skin symptoms. To further complicate matters, night blindness is also associated with retinitis pigmentosa, which seems to be hereditary. That usually affects children.

Doses oi vitamin A for correction of a true deficiency are usually higher at first than normal daily needs. Finally, dosing yourself with this vitamin can be danger-ous. It is one of the fat soluble vitamins. It is, as mentioned, stored, which means matord arthritis, less so in the advanced kind where there has been destruction of the joints. The chief disadvantage is the threat of reaction — chiefly rash, mouth inflammation and stomach upset. It's estimated that about 20 percent of users are sensitive to it.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My neighbor (a-bout 80) is diabetic. Her legs and feet have been swollen for about two weeks. They are very hard and the ankle oozes. She has been doctoring herself with oint-ments. She refuses to get professional care, even though we suggest this to her. She claims she has had this before and will take care of it herself. - Mrs. J.G.

This lady needs professional attention. There is nothing she can do by herself to help the swelling, except perhaps restrict salt intake. The swelling can mean congestive heart failure, kidney failure, varicose veins or liver problems. The local applications can be damaging, espe-cially ones that burn. The fact that she is diabetic increases her insensitivity to heat, so that should be stopped. Her stubborn independence is working against her. Isn't there an organization (like Visiting Nurses Assn.) that can help? Many elderly live out later years ignorant of the medical care (including medicines) available to them. You can help this woman by looking into that matter for her.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Does cirrhosis of the liver always indicate a person has been a heavy drinker? — B.D.

No, it doesn't. A figure I saw on this recently indicates that as many as half the people who have cirrhosis do not have any alcohol-related problem. The scarring of cirrhosis can oocur with hepatitis or any condition that irritates the organ. It is true, however, that most alcoholics do end up with cirrhosis.

Aide Says Hitler Gifted With Hypnotic Powers

BONN, West Germany (UPI) lbert Speer, the former Nazi war roduction chief, says only Adolf Hitler's hypnotic powers could hold his henchmen — "desperados of all classes" — together through the rise and fall of Nazi Germany. "If Hitler had a friend I was it," said the 73-year-old Speer, who served a 20-year sentence in Spandau prison for war crimes. Speer called Hitler hypnotic, pedantic, petty, illogical - "irrational until the end."

Speer discussed the Nazi leader's personality in new memoirs pub-lished by the West German newspaper Welt am Sonntag. The series was eagerly awaited because Speer was a Hitler favorite and probably knew him better than anyone else. In the first installment Sunday dealing with Hitler's dominant personality traits, Speer for the first time commented on reports of the hypnotic influence Hitler exerted over his associates.

"I never directly discussed the suggestive effects of Hitler because it could have been considered an attempt by me to find excuses for my actions," Speer said, using the words "suggestive" and 'hypnotic" interchangeably.

But he said only Hitler's hypnotic powers could have held together the other Nazi leaders - "desperadoes from all classes who followed him for different reasons" through the years when his prediction he would gain power legally seemed unrealistic.

The state of the s

This to me is still today overwhelming proof of Hitler's hypnotic powers," Speer said. "This gift of Hitler's to influence others in the years of his battle for acceptance and recognition in the party must have been irresistible.

"Looking back I still feel today that no less astonishing than Hitler's unexplainable successes during the struggle for power were the days of his defeat.

Rhodesian Grant Angers Churches

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Angry triotic Front camps. But critics say the dissent over an $85,000 grant to Rhodesian black nationalists is shaking the unity of the World Council of Churches. Two member churches next month will decide whether to withdraw from the international organization in protest.

The debate among the 293 member churches was sparked two months ago when the council announced its donation to the Patriotic Front, whose guerrillas have been battling white-minority dominance in Rhodesia for six years.

Council officials say the money, awarded by the council's Special Fund to Combat Racism, is to be used for "humanitarian" purposes - for example, food and health costs of non-combatants in Paence in Rhodesia, and some point out that guerrillas have been blamed for massacres of missionaries in Rhodesia.

Fears that the money could be used to finance guerrilla activities inspired the London-based Salvation Army - a founding member of the WCC - to announce that it was suspending membership "pending inquiries" into the grant.

Western Churches Protest Dr. Baldwin Sjolleman, director of the Special Fund, acknowledged that unfavorable reaction has been widespread but he said it all has come from Western

"Other parts, like the All-African Conference of Churches, strongly supports the action taken," Sjolleman said.

The Special Fund gets its money from cash donations made outside the council's regular budget. Most of it comes from churches, groups, individuals and governments in Sweden, the Netherlands and Norway.

In a letter to the Geneva-based council, Switzerland's Protestant Church Federation assailed it for taking a decision "which you are in no way permitted to exercise on behalf of the offices you lead." The Swiss group asked "from which spiritual sources" the council derived its decisions to give assistance.

The Norwegian Missionary Society asked the bishops of the Church of Norway to cut ties with the council, a demand that will be considered next

Reappraisal Urged

The Presbyterian Church in Ireland, which will also consider pulling out in protest next month, has sent a letter to other WCC members urging a "thorough reappraisal" of the grant fund.

Other letters of concern have been received in Geneva from churches in the Netherlands, West Germany and Scotland. Within six weeks after the announcement, the WCC office in New York reported having received 144 letters from members on the subject.

The Swiss federation said its members were particuarly distressed that the council had refused to give similar aid to Bishop Abel Muzorewa and the Rev. Ndabaningi Sithole, who have both joined Rhodesia's white prime minister, Ian Smith, in a bi-racial transitional government that is opposed by the Patriotic Front.

"We protest if a politically motivated method is imposed on member churches as ecumenical behavior and when humanitarian help is coupled with political options," the Swiss said.

The council said Muzorewa and Sithole joined the Smith government after they filed their aid appeal, and "their groups now belong to a white-dominated government ... against which complete and mandatory United Nations sanctions are in force. No Control Over Grants WCC officials admitted they have no control over how grants from the special fund are spent but said the Patriotic Front "gives us no reason to believe the money we give is used for anything than the purposes for which it is requested. We invite anyone with evidence to the plaints individually, supplying members with information that they hope will satisfy them, the council says.

Other attempts to mollify protests will be made at the council's central committee meeting in January in Kingston, Ja-

District Clerk Hopefuls Queried

What are your qualifications that you consider pertinent to being district clerk?

I have worked in the office for 25 years and have been the chief deputy for the past 15 years. I have served in every capacity, and this has allowed me to fully experience the responsibilities of the off-

My experience, which includes many years of administrative work, business management, teaching and social work, which has developed my ability to work with people, to recruit and train personnel, to juggle the multiple and simultaneous administrative details of large office, the capabilities of taking initiative and making decisions. I feel I am qualified for the office, also, because of my access to and capability of working with impor-tant resource people throughout the com-munity, to help make the working of the office more efficient and more responsive to the public it serves.

How do you perceive the role of a district clerk in the legal system?

The functions, in general, of the clerk of the court have not changed much over the years. The duties of a clerk of court are, generally speaking, to serve in a ministerial capacity for the court; ordinarily to perform certain judicial duties in connection therewith; to act as custodian of its record: to receive money in his official capacity and to perform generally such duties as are enjoined by statute or imposed by the lawful authority of the court.

The district clerk's office is to the legal system as the heart is to the circulatory system. If the heart isn't functioning properly, the circulatory system is in trouble. Since the district clerk's office handles all the paperwork and documents for the legal system, it is obvious that the legal system depends greatly on the district clerk's office functioning in a speedy and efficient manner. The office keeps the minutes and records of the court, compiles the list of potential jurors and impa-nels the individuals, maintains the court dockets, handles the processing of all indictments, initiates filings and pleadings, processes all depositions and carries a large accounts receivable file for all court ordered payments, such as child support payments and judgments — to name only part of the duties of the district clerk's

Do you feel that the party affiliation of candidates is relevant in a district clerk for all parties.

Yes, but the oath of office is the same

As a generality, normally I would say that party affiliation is not that important to the qualifications for district clerk. In fact, it is my feeling that, because of the nature of the position, along with several others at the county level, certain of these offices really should be non-partisan. However, at this time, I believe there is one important reason to consider party affiliation. I believe the greatest hope for our country is a strong two-party system. When one party becomes too strong, and is in power too long, the old adage, which says, "Power corrupts, and absolute power corrupts absolutely, holds true, and it becomes imperative for the voters to restore the balance of power to make both parties and their governments more responsible to the people. This balance is just as important at the county level as it is at the national or state level. At this time we have a single party-dominated county government, most of which have been there for a long. long time. For the good of the community, it is time for change.

Is there any issue not covered by the above questions on which you would like

There is a special need and responsibility of safekeeping any and all records which may be passed on to our successors in office for the benefit of posterity.

One important issue is that of procedure. The system used today in the district clerk's office is the same one put into use during the 1920s. We do not need to look at the statistics to realize the tremendous growth in Lubbock County since then - growth in population and growth in the crime rate. Changes must be made in the district clerk's office to handle the tremendous work load, and to do a better job of assisting the courts. The election of a new district attorney was indicative of the voters' desire to do something about the rising crime problem in Lubbock County. In order for Mr. Montford to do the job people want him to do, he will need the cooperation of a district clerk who is willing and able to work with him and a more efficient system in the district clerk's office.

If voters approve Amendment No. 4. one of the nine proposals on the long ballot, the Legislature will be authorized to exempt from property taxes any solar or wind-powered energy devices Texans use in their homes.

The constitution currently permits exemptions for government-owned property and church property and authorizes special homestead exemptions for persons over 65, but requires payment of property taxes on all other property.

The move to exempt solar and windpowered energy devices was prompted by the shortage of natural gas and oil, the most popular fuels for home heating and a key ingredient in generation of electricity by utilities in the state.

Backers of the amendment say the tax breaks could encourage homeowners to invest in solar energy devices such as water heaters, which would reduce the drain on remaining natural gas resources. Opponents contend, however, the exemption would merely shift the tax burments are not likely to reduce expenditures because of the new exemptions.

Amendment No. 8 would expand the authority of water districts, known in some areas as municipal utility districts, to permit the districts to spend tax revenue and issue bonds to provide fire fighting services areas they serve.

The districts currently are limited to providing water and sewer services, and many of the subdivisions they serve are outside city limits and have no fire prot-

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) - Jay Swanson, finance chairman for Kansas Attorney General candidate Robert Stephan, found out what it's really like to dig for donations.

A $125 campaign contribution - in coins - was delivered Thursday night in a half-gallon jar filled with honey.

The gooey donation came from William D. DeVore, a friend of Swanson and Stephan, who decided that he wanted Stephan "to work for" a contribution he planned.

As a result, fire insurance rates for the suburban areas are higher than in areas which have municipal fire protection. Biggest impact of the amendment would be in Harris and adjoining counties, where about 425 of the state's nearly 1,000 water districts are located. A House committee studying the problem concluded fire insurance rates outside cities could be significantly reduced by allowing water districts to install water lines sufficient to serve fire hydrants.

ing services Although some of the areas served by water districts have volunteer fire departments, constitutional restrictions prohibit the districts from installing fire hydrants on their water lines, making firefighting difficult.

Opponents contend residents of water districts already face high taxes and should not have to bear the additional burden of financing firefighting operations by the district. They also argue development of firefighting functions would utilize time and money the districts should be devoting to their primary function, conservation and development of local and state water resources.

This time more than 1,000 persons crowded into the basement chapel of St. Joseph of the Palisades Roman Catholic Church and offered thanks that their prayers were answered.

Smiling broadly, Jascalevich embraced well-wishers, including an estimated 300 former patients, many of whom he called by name. He made his way to a rear pew accompanied by his wife, Nora.

This is a spontaneous gathering of all the people who loved and trusted him through his long ordeal," said Nelly Arriola, the surgeon's former assistant.

"When he said he would come here to give thanks, they all decided they would come, too. No one had to organize them," she said.

In a dramatic ending to a 34-week trial, Jascalevich was acquitted Tuesday of charges he had given fatal does of curare, a muscle relaxant, to three patients at a small hospital in northern New Jersey in the mid-1960s.

Moments before the 51-year-old surgeon was acquitted, New York Times reporter Myron A. Farber, whose articles

Pumpkin Hunters Sink To New Depths

SEATTLE (AP) - Wearing diving suits instead of monster masks or witch costumes, about 300 entrants began an early Halloween celebration on Sunday called the 5th annual Great Underwater Pumpkin Hunt.

"I'm enjoying the change in climate," said Pat Savland, 20, of Hoonah, Alaska, as he put on scuba equipment before slipping into the chilly waters.

This is one of the craziest things we've ever done," confessed Harry Truett, chairman of the festivities Sun-

Contest organizers submerged about 100 pumpkins at depths of 20 to 50 feet off Seattle's Alki Beach. To retrieve a pumpkin - and a prize - contestants had to don scuba equipment before wading into the water.

In addition to the pumpkins they dragged from the drink, finders were eligible for prizes ranging from a $400 diving suit for the giant pumpkin to a lowly abalone plucker, a device for scooping the mollusk from its shell.

The plucker, presumably, was for those having shellfish rather than pumpkin stew for Halloween dinner Tuesday.

Truett said diving into the 50-degree water and planting the pumpkins was not an easy task. "They float, you know," he said, and had to be anchored or wedged in.

"The reason we picked Alki is that's a training site for most diving schools," Truett explained. "Dive clubs years ago sank a lot of stuff there ... like car bodies, refrigerators, old furnaces - junk. It makes good hiding places for marine life." And pumpkins. Fall is a good time for an underwater event in the Northwest. Truett said, because underwater visibility is at its best - at least good enough to tell a pumpkin from the giant octopus, which calls this area home

The jailing of Farber and the leveling of $285,000 in fines against the Times made the trial the focus of nationwide attention on the conflict between the rights to a free press and a fair trial.

That was enough to make Jack decide to celebrate his fifth wedding anniversary as though the Depression did not exist with a large party at the Long Island place. It was to be a summer of parties reminiscent of the great balls that went on in Vienna as troops marched through the city. Beggars and panhandlers might be crowding the streets and the suburbs

> But the Depression was not over. Still. there were brief bright spots for Jack

In the summer of 1933, he made a profit of $2 million from his liquor stocks. At his father-in-law's advice, he sold them and deposited the money in Lee's Chase National Bank. He swore that the money would stay there, drawing interest, until the day he died. But the temptation to speculate was too great. By the following January, all that was left of the $2 million was $195,-

Roosevelt had appointed former stock-Commission, and designed to police the checked speculation of the 1920s from

At first, Wall Street interpreted the appointment as a conciliatory gesture in Wall Street's behalf. After all, Wall Street knew Joe Kennedy as "one of us" and perhaps an even greater scoundrel than any of them when it came to speculating. But when Joe Kennedy began imposing all sorts of rules and regulations designed to hamstring his old cronies and bridle their familiar, carefree practice, there were cries of dismay. Kennedy was called a traitor to his class and a great many worse things. Kennedy was blackballed by every exclusive club in the country, even ones he had no desire to join.

To Jack Bouvier, the name Kennedy was enough to make his entire face clench. If anyone told him in 1934 that his daughter would marry Joe Kennedy's son, he would have knocked that person to the floor and kicked him. When Jacqueline Bouvier was learning to read and write, one of the first things she learned was that Kennedy was a dirty word around the house Bouvier. That year he earned a mere $4,683.75 in dividends and $2,188.44 in brokerage commissions.

Where was the money coming from? From a steadily diminishing supply of capital. But it must have seemed a very secure world to his 512-year-old daughter, being taken for strolls in the park with her crisply uniformed nanny, kissing Daddy goodbye as he rolled off for the office in a big chauffeur-driven car. "You're a very fortunate little girl," her nurse reminded her.

Old Uncle Michel Bouvier died the day after Jacqueline's sixth birthday. Everyone waited excitedly to see what his or her slice of Uncle Michel's pie might be.

It turned out that Uncle Michel wasn't quite as rich as everyone thought. His estate amounted to only about $3.25 million. Charities got $145,000.

Jack himself, of whom his great uncle never really approved, got $5,000. But in addition to this token bequest, he inherited the "mantle" of his uncle's brokerage business, along with such intangibles as the firm's prestige and good will. With this, he quickly formed the firm of Bouvier, Bishop & Co., which on its letterhead proclaimed itself "Successors to

What should have been clear to evervone was that Jack and Janet Bouvier were ill-suited to each other from the beginning. Their temperaments and goals were quite different.

Jack was a man born for good times, not bad. Also, Jack was a man not meant for midd'e age. He was a youth at heart, a Yalie who had never grown up because he had never had to. In 1936, Jack Bouvier was 45. Fifty loomed. The

West Texas Salvage Sales Includes Drug Stock Purchase In Key Savings

Ave. Q, we surely must have one of the most diversified businesses in the city

Not only is there a regular stock of grocery items, drugs, furniture, tools, clothes and cosmetics, but from week to week there is new merchandise in the way of totally different items.

"For example, only this week we were fortunate enough to purchase a complete drug store in Austin. Everything you could imagine in the line of Christmas items came with this purchase! We bought it all, and it was a big store stocked to the rafters with really good cosmetics ourselves . . . the eye shadow, creams, lipsticks, perfumes, etc., all of which are respected name brands!)"

Small Kitchen Appliances And there is a bunch of small appliances in this purchase, too, great for completing one's own kitchen needs, as example, or for Christmas giving. Select from such handy and practical items as toaster, air pots, mixers and all.

Being in the sales business affords us many contacts," the owners of West Texas Salvage Sales report," from school desks to burglar alarms! We buy from throughout the country, from Memphis, Tenn., to Las Vegas, Nev. West Texas Salvage Sales is owned by '(It has been difficult for the salesla-

Kitty Brown and Alice Moreno. The firm is open seven days a week. Hours are 9 to 5:30, Mondays through Fridays: Saturdays from 9 until 6; and on Sundays from 10 to 5:30.

With a motto of "where you never pay retail for anything", the firm adds further that its regularly-stocked grocery items are priced even below wholesale! And all is absolutely first line merchandise, the managers emphasize. "For low, low salvage prices without sacrifice of quality, and for a fabulous selection that provides something new every week, come to West Texas Salvage Sales, under its present ownership for four months, at 3524 Ave. Q in Lub-

Lubbock Electric Announces Industrial Supply Expansion

Lubbock Electric Co., 1108 34th St., has quite a record of making numerous throughout the region trouble-free and less expensive. And in keeping pace with the industrial growth of West Texas, Lubbock Electric has expanded its stock to include a vast quantity of industrial supplies . such as V-belts, bearings, pulleys, fuses, sprockets, power tools and gin parts.

Netting Stocked Of special interest to area farmers is the large supply of Vexar netting for cotton modules and stripper bats and Compressor Sales-Service Although Lubbock Electric is well known for electric motors, few may be aware of its air compressor sales and Whether it is for the large industrial screw-type units or the smallest reciprocating machines, Lubbock Electric stocks repair parts and has the knowhow to keep all types of compressors on Presently in stock are the Quincy and Campbell-Hausfield lines of both portable and stationary units.

(Lubbock Electric also is a warranty repair station for both the lines above.) Custom Building The sales force is trained in design and applications, and the service department can custom build compressor units from available components. Sale Priced On sale now is the 1/2-hp electric

Campbell-Hausfield tank mounted portable, Model FL-3301, and is now priced at only $135.63. Stop in now, or give us a call and we will come to you to help satisfy your air needs. Service is a big item at Lubbock Electric Co. The complete staff is on call 24 hours a day, seven days a week; and this can be mighty important to the person with a crucial task awaiting qualified assistance.

"Call Lubbock Electric now, at 744-2336, and learn of the many products and specific services available whether regarding a compressor, changeover to electric power for farming operations, the fine products stocked, etc. Lubbock Electric Co. can be of assistance, whatever your electric or compressor need. # Lellem Welch Firm Urges Early Pre-Winter Heating Unit Check

That's right, the heating season is approaching, as has been hinted in some late October weather.

So . . . now is the time to start checking out those heating systems, is the wise word from Lellem Welch, Inc., 1401 Ave. J, phone 762-8797. Save On Heating Costs

Most people actually don't pay much attention to the appliances used for home heating, but with the cost of energy going up for both gas and electricity, users of heating appliances will begin to look closer at those heating costs. Right? Clean filters are a "must" for efficient heating operation. Dirty filters eat up energy by making the furnace motor run harder because less air is pulled over the lower also helps, but the addition of a umidifier (either portable or one attached to the heating ducts) helps put moisture back into dried-out heated air, and a humidifier makes lower temperatures more comfortable.

Floor furnaces should also be checked out to be sure they are clean. Remember, lint is a fire hazard and that a floor furnace just hangs under the floor out of sight and mind (and jumping up and down on it to make it come on is a hazard to one's health, for sure.)

Wall heaters should be checked for cracked heat exchangers, and all vents on all types of heating should be checked out to be sure the vents are checked for leaks. All copper supply lines should be removed for safety rea-Lellem Welch maintains a service department for those who do not wish to do this themselves, but Welch also maintains a complete sales store, with professional plumbers as salesmen, to help the 'do-it-yourself" person. "So, if you are looking for a part or parts for that old heating unit, give us a try. We also stock wall furnaces, floor furnaces and forced air heaters and fur-

Fireplace Screens, Tools, Accessories Included In Childress Hardware Stock of stocking needed items - and the Stanley Tools, Revere Ware, Pyrex,

We know of some folks who already have tried out their fireplace or other heating units this year! Did you find, if you were one of these, that possibly a new screen was needed, or that tools and accessories were inadequate?

"And if you have not tried out your heating unit, wouldn't it be a good time to look ahead and be ready when the need arises?

Then, why delay; turn to Childress Hardware . . . for the best in Dearborn space heaters, gas logs, stoves, grates, logholders, fireplace sets, screens, radiant heaters, wood stoves, andirons, other fireplace accessories and heat-related needs.

Hardware, on the corner at 902 Main. Whatever the job at hand, there is no reason for it being made more difficult by inadequate tools and equipment. So - rely on the Fred Childress Hardware Store where again the finest builders' tools have been stocked. Remember the old-fashioned hardware store, where one could buy just about anything from a box of nails to harness snap or a pulley wheel for the The Fred Childress Hardware Store still retains that well-remembered atmosphere, while at the same time stocking the most up-to-date items offered by spaceage hardware suppliers. No Newcomer There has been a hardware store at this location, right across the street north of the courthouse, for more than 50 years, and the Childress name has been associated with the hardware business in Lubbock for nearly half a centu-

"If it's in the hardware line," partners Leslie Duncan and Dick Jay emphasize, you can get it here.'

'And at inventory time we show more than 10,000 different items!"

Childress Hardware is a popular place with carpenters and craftsmen, who make it headquarters for nails of all sizes, as well as a wide range of other fastenings - capscrews, stove bolts, carriage bolts, machine screws and brass

Then there's chain and rope in all sizes for anything from home to industrial or

Cabinet Hardware

Hand tools of all kinds are displayed and brands - Stanley, Crescent, Thorson, Nicholson, Bluegrass, Disston, Lufkin and Plumb - are those associated with quality and integrity in tool-making for generations.

Fred Childress Hardware also stocks one of the most extensive line of cabinet hardware in the city, with latest designs in hinges, pulls and latches attractively displayed. Here again, brands such as Stylecraft, Christensen, Wicker-Stamey, Phylrich and Pfanstiel are indicative of top quality and design.

"For a certainty, if you have not become acquainted with Crown House Flowers and Gifts, 4403 50th St., you have missed enjoyment of one of the most extensive selections of quality items and services imaginable."

Whether the desire is a custom flower arrangement, green plants, gifts and decor pieces to please . . . or selection from the weekly specials, satisfaction and a new experience in selection awaits at Crown House.

MEARTLINE is a service for senior citizens. Its purpose is to answer questions and solve problems — fast. If you have a question or a problem not answered in these columns, write Heartline, 114 E. Dayton St., West Alexandria, Ohio 45381. You will receive a prempt reply, but you must include a stamped, self-addressed envelope. The most useful replies will be printed in this column.

HEARTLINE: I am totally confused. I am drawing Social Security retirement and also working. This new ruling on allowed income just goes right over my head. I thought that the monthly allowed income had been completely done away with, and that now the only one to be concerned with is the yearly allowed income amount. However, several people have disagreed with me lately, and now I'm concerned that I could be wrong. Please explain this to me.

The Social Security bill enacted Jan. 1, 1978, eliminates the monthly earning measure, except during your first year of retirement. A person who starts (or started) drawing benefits in 1978 will receive a full Social Security benefit for any month in which their income is less than $270 (or $333.33 if over age 65). For e returing in 1979, the monthly limit is $290 per month (or $375 if over age 65). Remember, this monthly earnings limit is only for the year in which you retire. After that, it reverts to the yearly

HEARTLINE: My mother is 82 years old and living in my home. I really cannot take care of her any longer as I am recently disabled. I would like to know the requirements for being eligible to receive 100 days of coverage in a skilled nursing facility under Medicare. - T.Z. There are six basic requirements. They

1. Your medical care needs require daily skilled nursing care, or skilled rehabilitation services;

2. A doctor determines that you need skilled nursing or rehabilitation services and orders such for you: 3. You have been in a participating hospital for at least three days in a row before your admission to the skilled nursing facility: 4. You are admitted within a limited period, generally 14 days after you leave 5. You are admitted for further treatment of a condition for which you were treated in the hospital; and,

6. The skilled nursing facility is Medicare approved. Heartline offers a book that covers the entire Medicare program. The book is written in easy-to-understand questionand-answer form. To order our new 1979 edition, send $2 to Heartline's Guide to Medicare, 114 E. Dayton St., West Alexandria, Ohio 45381. Please allow six weeks for delivery.

HEARTLINE: Nowadays medical costs are unbelievable. Everything is up. up, up! What is the cause of this and what can we do about it? - S.F.

Since 1963, medical costs have escalated nearly 450 percent. This soaring rise is mostly due to the millions of dollars spent by the U.S. government on hospital construction. In the U.S. there are over 100,000 empty hospital beds. The annual bill for keeping these unused beds ready to use is approximately $2 billion dollars. Doctors also call for extended stays in the hospital for more tests, etc., just to keep the beds occuexpensive equipment when the hospital right down the road has a similar machine. Meanwhile, costs keep going up. What can we do about it? Cut government spending.

HEARTLINE: Is it required by law that everyone have a Social Security number? - T.J.

No. However, anyone who is employed in work covered by Social Security must have a number for proper recording of his earnings. Certain other federal agencies also have regulations requiring the use of Social Security numbers in their programs: The Internal Revenue Service requires all taxpayers to use the number as the taxpayer identification number; the military services now use the Social Security number in place of serial numbers; the number is a requirement for eligibility for assistance under the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program. Many other public and private agencies ask for the number on their forms and applications, but such requests are generally not based on any legal requirements.

Agricultural Expert Hits Shipping Costs

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) - The author of the recently passed Agriculture Export Act has criticized the high cost of the American shipping industry for keeping the American farmer out of competition in the world export market.

Until the bill was passed, American farm products had to be exported on American freighters.

Retiring Rep. W.R. Poage, D-Texas, said with the high cost of American shipping American farmers couldn't expect to compete with other countries.

"Freight oftentimes accounts for 20, 30, even 50 percent of the goods when delivered." Poage said in a copyrighted interview on Iowa Public Television's Farm Digest program this weekend. "If you're going to ship on American bottoms, you're going to charge the man who finally gets it probably 50 percent more than the man who ships it Greek"

Poage said allowing the use of non-American shippers for American farm exports was one of the portions of the bill toughest to get through Congress.

The Agriculture Export Act also provides for longer term credit for countries buying American goods, however in liberalizing export regulations both Poage and Tom Saylor, deputy administrator of foreign exports with the USDA, cautioned against a possible trade and credit

"The last thing we want to do is trigger a credit war," said Saylor, also appearing on the program. "Everybody loses if we start a downward spiral in credit terms." However, "If other countries tend to undercut our credit terms, we would have the authority to match it," he said.

Both Poage and Saylor favor extending credit to China. "I think we have enough levitation that we're safe in extending credit to the Chinese," Poage said. "We're not going to take any big losses and we may develop a substantial market." Saylor agreed there is a tremendous potential for export to China. He said China will be importing 10 million tons of wheat this year and about 700,000 tons of feed grain.

Saylor said the Agriculture Department also hopes to establish trade offices in places such as Kuwait and Singapore as well as in established markets such as London and Paris.

Poage said the new export act will allow for 10 to 25 new overseas trade offices. He added the bills original intention was to upgrade the agricultural attaches.

Bengals Stop Losing At Houston's Expense

Rice says the Cincinnati Bengals, who went into Sunday's game with nine straight loses, have been a "time bomb" waiting for a spark. 'We had a team meeting Saturday and I told them 'We're a time bomb just waiting to explode. It's just a matter of time." said Rice.

The Bengals blew up Sunday, snapping their plunge with a 28-13 National Football League upset of the Houston Oilers.

Rice said he knew quarterback Ken Anderson was back at full strength after a workout Friday.

"He started zipping the ball again. I knew he had his arm back. Kenny hasn't been ready to go deep," said Rice, who won his first NFL game after three straight loses since replacing Bill Johnson earlier this month.

Cincinnati's long-dormant offense came to life behind the long-range passing of Anderson. The veteran quarterback's bombs and a 65-yard run by rookie running back David Turner set up three short-yardage touchdown as the Bengals errupted for their largest point total of "The big thing was we made the big plays, things that make the offense click.

CINCINNATI (AP) - Coach Homer And Kenny was throwing like he can," said Rice.

Anderson credited a running game that run up 189 yards against a stout Oiler de-

"For the first time our running game worked and that opened things up for our passing game. The five guys up front (the offensive line) took charge. The difference was a diversified attack."

Fullback Pete Johnson scored twice from the one and Anderson hit wide receiver Issac Curtis on a 45-yard scoring pass as the Bengals ended a touchdown drought stretched over 13 quarters.

The Bengals, gambling all the way, broke open a 7-0 battle with two touchdowns in the third quarter. Cincinnati, now 1-8, had gone 10 games without scoring a touchdown by rushing. Anderson, back in form after being hampered by a hand injury, heaved bombs of 43 and 57 yards to set up the first two touchdowns. Both scores came after new coach Homer Rice elected to go for first downs on fourth and one situations near the goalline. Anderson hooked up with wide receiver Billy Brooks on the 43 yarder and also had another 45-yard completion to Brooks and finished with 268 yards on 11 of 16 attempts. Turner topped Cincinnati rushing with 84 yards on 13 carries. Curtis caught four passes for 130 yards. Houston's rookie sensation, Earl Campbell, ran for 102 yards on 18 carries

A 50-yard pass interference penalty late in the fourth quarter gave the Oilers their first scoring threat of the day. Cincinnati's first touchdown came after a nine-play, 70-yard drive. Johnson rammed over from the one with 1:15 remaining in the first quarter. Tony Davis scored from the one with 9:14 left in the third period, capping a 71yard drive keyed by Anderson's 57-yard completion to Curtis. The Oilers deepest drive in the first half was to Cincinnati's 41 yard line. Ross Browner spearheaded the Bengals bris-

The Construction Business is important to the economy of Lubbock as you can see in every area of the city. We're happy to have been involved in many of the projects which have added to the city's growth. Our financial guidance and know-how can minimize the risks which are part of a business with high costs of machinery and land, and huge payrolls. Builders are doers and we believe they often make the difference between a city that stands still and one that shows continued growth.

Major College Standings Key Game In 2-AAA Friday

Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff Fort Stockton's opponent Friday night had just as much success against the Panthers' defense as seven previous foes. Meanwhile, the Pecos Eagles have relinquished points about as rarely as the St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Bengals have won football games. Last week, the Panthers walloped Open Date, while the Eagles blanked Monahans 24-0.

In seven football games, Fort Stockton has scored 238 points while shutting out its opponents. On the other hand, Pecos has put 219 points on the scoreboard and allowing just 28 in eight contests. This week. Fort Stockton (rated fourth in AAA) will visit Pecos (rated sixth) in a battle for first place in 2-AAA. Kickoff is slated for 7:30 p.m. "I really don't know why our defense has been able to dominate," said Fort Stockton Coach John Blocker. "So far, our defense has played sound aggressive football."

The Panther defense also has Pecos Coach Jerry Millsapps confused about establishing an offensive game plan. "I really don't know what we can do against Fort Stockton," said Millsapps.

we're definitely going to have to block better. We will also throw.' In regard to putting the football in the air, Millsapps is confident about the arm of quarterback Jim Bob McNeil. "He hasn't thrown much," said Mill-

Fort Stockton mentor Blocker agrees with his opponent and plans Fort Pecos to run a balanced attack against the Panther defense

'We scouted their game against Monahans," said Blocker. "In that game, the Eagles threw three times. However, in

How does Millsapps evualate the Fort Stockton offense?

"Their a big-play offense," said Millsapps. "We're going to have to prevent the long pass or long run in order to win the game

But Blocker doesn't agree that the Panthers are big-play oriented.

Earlier in the year, we did make the big play," said Blocker. "But in our last three games, our offense has been controlling the ball and being able to eat up the clock.

Guiding the Panthers offensive attack is quarterback Rick McIvor. McIvor has relied on fullback Paul Pogue to spark Fort Stockton's rushing game. 'We're not going to put in any wrinkles for Pecos," said Blocker. "After all, what you've done the longest is what you'll do the best.'

What Fort Stockton has been doing the longest is pounding the football down the "I would have to say that we're bigger, but they're (Pecos) quicker," said Block-Eagle Coach Millsapps agrees with the

"We've always had a small team," said the Pecos coach. "I really can't even say that we're an experienced team this year. We had 30 seniors graduate, however, there are 25 seniors, most of whom played on our junior varsity last year, that will play against Fort Stockton."

Defensively, Millsapps isn't concerned that the Pecos defense will be at a weight disadvantage. We've been getting great leadership out of ends David Gomez and Joel Rodriquez, tackles Gernaro Rodriquez and Ben Deishler," said the Eagle mentor. "Our defense is small, but they're quick." Blocker doesn't feel Pecos will have a home field advantage. According to Blocker, "we'll have just as many people there as them.' Both clubs are injury-free, undefeated and are looking forward to settling the question-who has the best football team in 2-AAA?

Stockton.

With Theismann watching unhappily from the sidelines, Kilmer eventually unlimbered his worn right elbow enough to throw two touchdown passes and led the Redskins back into the victory column, 38-20, after a two-game skid.

The 49ers cooperated by turning over the ball five times, including three interceptions off Steve DeBerg that set up Washington scores.

The 49ers dominated the first quarter and Washington fans already had started their "We want Joe!" chants before John Riggins cashed in on Ken Houston's interception off DeBerg with a 1-yard scoring plunge.

said Pardee. "But we were just as flat as we've been the last couple of weeks in the first quarter.

"San Francisco's turnovers have haunted them all year long. We just kept enough pressure on them for it to happen again.

San Francisco coach Pete McCulley conceded: "We gave them good field position and they were able to take advantage of it. Today's score wasn't indicative of the differences in these two teams."

PATRIOTS 55, JETS 21

Steve Grogan passed for 281 yards and four touchdowns in the first half Sunday as the New England Patriots clobbered the New York Jets 55-21 for their sixth consecutive victory.

CHARGERS 27, RAIDERS 23

Dan Fouts threw a 29-yard touchdown pass to Greg McCrary with 52 seconds remaining and placekicker Rolf Benirschke added the extra point and a field goal to give the San Diego Chargers, beaten by Oakland on a freak play early in the season, 27-23 revenge.

The extra point sent the Chargers ahead 24-23 in the National Football League game and, with 10 seconds left, Benirschke kicked a 32-yard field goal.

STEELERS 27, CHIEFS 24

Franco Harris's two touchdowns helped the Pittsburgh Steelers to a cozy lead, but they needed a third-quarter fumble return touchdown by safety Don Shell to insure a 27-24 win over the battling Kansas City Chiefs.

The Steeler victory, coupled with Houston's upset loss to Cincinnati, restored Pittsburgh's three-game lead in the American Football Conference-Central Division.

SAINTS 28, GIANTS 17

Archie Manning came out slinging Sunday, throwing for two touchdown passes and rallying the New Orleans Saints from a 10-point deficit to a 28-17 victory over the New York Giants.

Manning had thrown only a dozen times in two previous games for New Orleans, but he put the ball in the air 21 times Sunday, completing 13 of his attempts.

CARDINALS 16, EAGLES 10

Rookie wide receiver Dave Stief's first NFL catch, a 55-yard touchdown from sore-armed quarterback Jim Hart, triggered the St. Louis Cardinals to a 16-10 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles, the first win of the season for the Cardinals.

Late in the fourth quarter, the Eagles moved from their 30 to a first down at the St. Louis 13, but lost the ball after four consecutive incomplete passes. And with 58 seconds on the clock, Philadelphia gained a first down at the St. Louis eight, but the drive was broken up by a pass interception in the end zone.

DOLPHINS 26, COLTS 8

Bob Griese hit two touchdown passes and veteran defensive end Vern Den Herder got his first career touchdown on a faked field goal attempt as the Miami Dolphins rolled to a 26-8 victory over the error-beset Baltimore Colts.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) -Madame Alexander, who has brought happiness to children round the world for over half a century with her exquisite line of dolls, has launched a new career at 83 recorded stories for youngsters.

Although the more than 5,000 Alexander dolls she has created over the past 53 years have left her financially comfortaole, the octogenarian's love for children remains insatiable. "Now I want to do with children's records what I did with dolls," she said.

In her first album, Madame Alexander narrates the fantasy world of dolls in a moving manner that tugs at the heartstr-

'Have you ever watched how a little girl hugs a doll?" she asked. "She holds it tenderly and always carefully puts it down. That's the maternal instinct born in her and which she has seen in her

Because of the vital role a doll has in helping a child mature, Madame Alexander has never made a mechanical doll. Instead, her creations emphasize detail down to the creases in the knuckles of the tiny fingers and the miniscule eyelashes like those of a baby. "To allow a doll to perform mechanically for a child would have the tendency to have her sit back and have others perform for her," explained the woman who delights those near her with her enthusi-

She speaks often about her youth when as the oldest of four girls she watched her father, a German immigrant, struggle to make a living in New York City with his procelain repair shop. "I wasn't unhappy and having to help care for my sisters was my first training to be an executive," she said. In those days, she had no doll of her own, but was allowed to play with the broken porcelain dolls that were brought to her father for "I saw so many children and unhappy parents who had broken dolls that I be gan to dream of making a doll that would not break," Madame Alexander recalled. In the 1920s, she designed and made her first cloth dolls which sold in her father's shop for $14.40 a dozen, or $1.98 each.

Today, those dolls are collector's items worth more than $300 each.

She soon convinced her husband, Philip Behrman, to quit his job with a New York hat company and take over the business end of the budding enterprise she had begun.

But the legal tender would raise eyebrows on the outside. Costs are measured in packs of cigarettes, ranging from one pack for two pages of typing to 10 packs for a review before the state parole board. A habeas corpus writ is "negotiable." Warden Edward Foreman discovered the schedule of fees earlier this week posted on the prison's law library wall. "I thought it was funny as hell when I saw it," said Anthony Antonetti, deputy superintendent of prisons.

But the laughter has died. Prison officials say the rates are exorbitant for some prisoners who earn as little as 50 cents a day.

And those prisoners working in the law library are supposed to help other inmates — not profit from the assign-

Prison officials plan to cope with the problem by making law library duty a paid position, Antonetti said. The inmates' earnings will be the same as the dining room workers' — 50 cents a day.

French Filmmaker Wages War

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Claude Lelouch isn't your typical high-brow French film director. He's direct and funny and he hates intellectuals

"I've declared war against intellectuals because they're boring," said the 41-year-old Lelouch, who has been writing and directing comedies for almost 20 years.

"I like real people, who know that life is a big put-on but enjoy it," he said. "I prefer a real lunatic to a fake one." And he likes true stories.

Lelouch's new comedy, "Robert and Robert," is based on the experiences of his friend Jacques Villeret, a rotund actor who plays himself in the fable about a computer dating service.

The film, which was shown for the first time at the San Francisco Film Festival early in October, focuses on two shy bachelors who meet in the waiting room of a matrimonial agency. They find each other instead of a mate.

A lot of his characters are French versions of Woody Allen - Lelouch's idol who "would be the perfect client for the dating service in the film."

"Woody Allen is the Chaplin of the '70s - playing characters that are neurotic, insecure, generous and full of life," Lel-Lelouch, 5-foot-8, thin with curly hair, said he never tires of combining laughter and emotion in his "optimistic slices of "Obviously I haven't found the perfect combination yet," he quipped. "But I'm always looking. He likes to dress casually - wearing a brown leather jacket, white slacks and a grey and beige plaid shirt - and travel lightly, with only a briefcase in hand. "Films are my passion, but I mustn't take myself too seriously," he said with a grimace. "That's what flops are for, to deflate the egos of film directors and reduce them to human size.'

Lelouch was born and raised in Paris. He dropped out of school to make films, working as a freelance television news cameraman until he could raise enough money to make his own films

"I hated school because teachers were trying to cram facts into my head instead of-etting me learn at my-own pace," he And he never joined or founded a film
