"That is, they pay less for these items and the people of the rest of the United States pay more because of this amendment. This is basically what will happen to gas: People of Texas will pay more and actually have less supply because of the allocation provisions in the gas bill."

In one report of the vote, foes to the measure blamed it's success on the lobbying efforts of the administration. Dillard agreed, saying, "Without knowing at this time the individual senator's vote, I would venture that the 'goodies' passed out by the administration were much more effective than the efforts of the oil and gas producer who will have to live by this bill and the thousands of rules and regulations that have yet to be written and implemented.

"The effect on the state of Texas beyond 1980 or 1981 will be more severe than most people have been led to believe, and the intrusion by the federal agency into the state regu-latory process is unprecedented," Dillard added.

As to any long-range effect on Midland producers, Ike Lovelady, a Midland independent operatorwho thinks it is a bad bill, said he believes "we can dig our way out of it."

Considering the industry in Midland, Charles Canfield, vice president of Texas Oil and Gas Corp., said, "I don't believe it will have an adverse

Actually, Letchford, a 20-year-old quantity surveying (project management) student at the University of Reading near London, came overseas last June to do clerical work in a Midland bank. (He plans to be a pilot for British Airways after college.)

He and a chum, Jonathan Somper, 20, made the night flight from the Isles to New York last June. And to best get the feel of the land and its people, they strapped on their backpacks and hitched down the East Coast to Midland by way of New Orleans.

They planned ahead. They had connections.

Twenty-one-year-old Robin Yeager, an American friend of theirs, who happened to be attending Reading in finishing her degree work at Southern Methodist University, turned out to be the daughter of Midland bank President Wilbur A. Meanwhile, backers of Carter's five-part energy plan hope to push through as much of it as possible before the scheduled mid-October congressional adjournment - even including some of the plan's long-neglected tax proposals.

The five parts deal with natural gas pricing, industrial coal conversion, energy conservation, electric rate

The coal conversion bill, aimed at forcing gas- and oil-burning utilities and industries to switch to coal, has already passed the Senate and is awaiting final house action.

In addition, conferees on the fifth part - energy taxes - plan to meet Friday to approve proposed tax credits for home insulation. They may also agree to watered-down versions of taxes on cars with poor fuel economy and on inefficient industrial use of oil and natural gas.

The big tax in Carter's plan - one designed to make U.S. oil as expensive as imported oil - has been abandoned for the year by even its most ardent supporters, but chances seem good for approval of the other tax proposals.

The natural-gas deregulation compromise took House-Senate negotiators nearly a year to frame, and Carter indicated he was optimistic it would make it through the House after Senate approval. Rep. Philip R. Sharp, D-Ind., head of a task force named by House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill to rally House support for the compromise, said, "The Senate vote was a very strong one. It will help.

Israel prepares for peace talks

JERUSALEM (AP) - The Israeli government began preparations today for peace negotiations with Egypt, its largest Arab foe, after the Israeli Parliament voted by an overwhelming margin to ratify the Camp David accords and withdraw all Jewish settlers from the Sinai peninsula if Egypt makes peace.

Prime Minister Menachem Begin said negotiations could start as early as next week on the peace treaty which he and President Anwar Sadat pledged at Camp David to complete within three months.

Egypt's acting foreign minister, Butros B. Ghali, said in Cairo that Israeli and Egyptian delegations would meet either in Ismailia, on the Suez Cana, or in El Arish, the Sinai Sadat severed in July. The 120 members of the Knesset, Israel's one-house parliament, put peace with Egypt in exchange for the Sinai settlements to a vote early today following more than 17 hours of emotional debate. The vote of 84-19 with 17 abstentions showed wide acceptance for the two frameworks for peace drafted at Camp David and the painful settlement resolution demanded as a condition for further negotiations by Sadat.

Winding up the debate, Begin said a peace treaty between Israel and Egypt would be "the great turning point in the history of the Middle

'The circle of wars would be closed for five years, perhaps 10 years, perhaps 50," he said. "Syria can't attack us because it knows that would be suicide. Jordan can't attack because the Hasehmite king (Hussein) would lose his crown.

President Carter hailed the Knesset vote as "a great step forward" and "sure proof of the tremendous courage of Prime Minister Begin and the Israeli Knesset."

The sharpest opposition in the Knesset came from Begin's Likud bloc, the mainstay of his parlimentary coalition. Eight of the 20 members of Herut, Begin's own faction, voted against the accords or abstained along with the eight-member Laam faction because they believe abandonment of the Sinai settlements will set a precedent for the settlements Israel has established in the West Bank and on the Syrian Golan Heights.

Trooper White hangs it up after 41 years

The last 22 years White, well-known in both Midland and Odessa since he worked in both cities, has served warrants on citizens. At 23, the former cotton picker and drug store employee decided he would seek a "good steady job." He found it and stayed with it, winning many friends and carving out an interesting career. Captain Hugh Shaw of the Midland Texas Highway Patrol graduated with White in the DPS Academy Class of 1937 in Austin, considered one of the largest graduating classes at that time. "If it hadn't been for that Class of 1937 the DPS would have went under," quipped White earlier this week as he prepared warrants to be served on Midland residents. "The DPS has never had a harder working, more loyal and dedicated employee than John White," said Shaw.

Shaw recalled White serving a warrant to a Midland woman in a beauty parlor years ago. "He thought he served warrants on her before, but it was her twin sister this time!" declared Shaw as he and White laughed

White said, "I'm a senior citizen now. Bought my hunting license for $1.25 and I get to go fishing for free - that's after you reach age 65." Shaw and White were two of 133 graduates of the Class of 1937 at the DPS Academy in Austin.

At that time, Shaw recalled, there were only 100 troopers in the Texas Highway Patrol, compared to the 1,400-plus who now work the state. Except for a 2 1/2 year hitch with the U.S. Coast Guard, White has worked his entire life in West Texas with the DPS.

"It's been enjoyable because I was dedicated," he said. "I like to treat people just like I would like to be treated myself, too. When you operate that way, you have few regrets."

White recalled once earning 75-cents a day pulling cotton after graduation in 1930 from high school in Wichita Falls. Then he took a job in a drug store earning $23 per week. "I learned the value of a dollar" he said. "A dollar back then would buy what $10 does today." In August of 1937 White took a test for a job with the newly-created Department of Public Safety, and he was accepted.

Rookie White earned $125 per month initially, learned how to shoot a pistol, ride motorcycles, weigh trucks and everything else a highway patrolman will need to know at one time or another during his career. Still, he said he considers Odessa "home."

As a warrant officer the past 22 years, White said he has tracked down people charged with traffic violations.

And, like most lawmen, White has worn a gun. But, he said, "I've never had to use it. Closest to it was letting some air out of some tires." He admitted his career has been interesting. As an example, he recalled that in February of 1958 an Ector County Sheriff's Department deputy was killed. "I received some information the killer was holed up in a house. I and some other officers chased the man and his cohorts down. The killer was shot dead.

Said Shaw, a longtime friend of White, "John White got that information because of his being around here many years." Another time, White drove his 1939 Ford patrol car 800 miles one night tracking down another manwho had shot an officer near Morton, halfway between Midland and Lubbock. "We caught him near Goldsmith," said White, smiling. "There were ten of us officers when we caught up with D.W. Mann. The guy apparently had killed a sheriff's deputy," he said.

Now, White said, as of Friday, he intends to "go fishing."

Provisions of tax bill outlined

WASHINGTON (AP) - Here are key provisions of the $23 billion taxcut bill approved Wednesday night by the Senate Finance Committee.

Most of the changes would become effective next Jan. 1.

INDIVIDUALS

-The current $750-per-person exemption, which reduces income subject to taxation, would be raised to $1,000. (Totally disabled persons under 65 who get no government welfare-type benefit would ge allowed an extra $500 exemption.) The existing individual credit of $35 per person or 2 percent of the first $9,000 of taxable income, whichever is higher, would

-The zero-bracket amount, formerly known as the standard deduction, would be increased, from $2,200 to $2,300 for single persons and from $3,200 to $3,400 for couples filing a joint return. Single persons who qualify as head of a household (usually widows or divorced women with children) would get a $3,000 deduction.

-The deduction allowed for state and local gasoline taxes would be repealed. This change, also approved by the House, would affect only taxpayers who itemize deductions.

-The earned-income credit, which provides up to $400 a year for working families with earnings under $8,000, would be expanded. The maximum benefit would rise to $600 and some benefits would be available to families with incomes under $11,000.

effect overall on the industry here. It probably means jobs for another hundred thousand bureaucrats."

According to Dillard, "The media, both printed and electronic, have been far from factual in reporting and analyzing this bill. The main fallacy is that the media has reported that by 1985 most natural gas will be decontrolled. This is abolsutely in error based on today's market.

'The approximate amount of gas controlled today is 60 percent which is the interstate market. Forty percent is uncontrolled, being the intrastate market. According to the best estimate possible by 1985 the federal government will control at least 63 percent of the gas produced, and those categories that could be decontrolled in 1985 and 1987 can be extended to 1989

He went on to say, "The only category of gas that is mandated to be

After nine consecutive days of .1 inches. The rain gauge on top of The cloudy skies and showers, it has stopped raining and the sun is shining. The weatherman said the weather should be clearing and warmer.

Apparently the rain records set for the month of September in 1974 will stand for at least another year. The National Weather Service at Midland Regional Airport reported .07 inches of rain fell during a 24-hour period ending this morning. The rains came to an official halt at 6:45 p.m. Wednesday. In 1974, it rained for 11 straight days and 6.16 inches were gauged here, the weatherman said. The forecast through Friday calls for clearing and warmer weather. Low tonight should be in the middle 50s. The high Friday should be in the low 80s. Winds are expected to be light and variable through Friday.

Rainfall was light around Midland and vicinity, varying from a trace to Reporter-Telegram building measured .1 inches. A trace of rain was reported in the east and north central parts of the city. Texas Electric Service Co. reported

.01 inches in east Midland, .03 inches in Odessa and :02 inches throughout other parts of the Permian Basin.

The official high temperature reported by the National Weather Service Wednesday was 62 degrees. The record high for Sept. 27 is 102 degrees set in 1977. The overnight low was 52 degrees. The record low for today is 41 degrees set in 1936.

Recent heavy rains in Southwest Texas combined with large releases of water from Mexican reservoirs to send both the Rio Grande and Rio Concho near flood stage.

Early morning temperatures ranged from the 50s in West and Northwest Texas to the 70s along the

City officials in Big Spring hope for Lockheed deadline

BIG SPRING - Big Spring officials, who are banking on Lockheed Aircraft Corp. getting the multi-million-dollar Navy contract to modify the F-4 Phantom II jet fighter, may know Dec. 15 if Lockheed will be setting up "shop" here, Mayor Wade Choate said Wednesday

"We're negotiating with them (Lockheed)," Choate said. "They're making a bid to get the Navy con-

If Lockheed, one of four major bidders for the job, is awarded the contract, the aircraft company will make modifications on the supersonic fighter at Big Spring Air Industrial Park, formerly Webb Air Force Base. Webb, a jet-pilot training base, was closed about a year ago in an economy move by the Department of Defense. The base acreage was turned over to the city.

Aircraft service companies bidding for the contract include Lockheed, World, North American Rockwell, Ling-Temco-Vought and McDonnell Douglas.

Last December, Lockheed and Big Spring officials signed an agreement whereby the aircraft company would do modification work on the aircraft here. At that time, Lockheed was bidding on modifying the Air Force version of the McDonnell F-4 Phantom II, which was the "workhorse" of U.S. air power in the Vietnam War.

However, Lockheed lost out to McDonnell Douglas in the bidding. Since then, the Navy issued offers on bids to modify its Phantom aircraft.

The modification program would take about 41/2 years and would call for a work force of 550, Choate said.

Col. Harry Spannaus, former commander of Webb AFB and now manager of Big Spring Air Industrial Park, said the modification program likely would entail installing new electronic gear and strengthening the aircraft's structure for stress and longevity.

"It's such a tremendous airplane, Spannaus said of the fighter, which he flew in combat over Vietnam. "... It's probably the greatest airplane ever" as far as its ability to take ground fire and still keep on flying. Spannaus said between 6,000 and 8,000 of the attack fighters have been built since 1961, when McDonnell (which later merged with Douglas) first produced the Mach 2-plus speed attack fighter-interceptor for the Navy. He said the Air Force was so impressed with the plane's capabilities that it purchased the aircraft, stream for years to come in quantities to be helpful.' Ron Loyd, area manager her for Northern Nataral Gas Co., said he sees the bill as a way to initially take regulation off the new gas and allow it be competitive on the free market. On the surface, it would seem in the best interest to the natural gas industry and customer," he said. Dillard said that while the bill has been touted as a phased deregulation act to help the consumer and producer, "as time passes, both the producer and consumer are going to have a different opinion. The interference by the federal agency in charge is going to be greater and more costly to the industry and the consumer.

"This bill creates more, not less, regulation," Dillard said. "It extends into areas heretofore left to the state regulatory bodies where it should remain, but will not under this bill."

Ted Collins, vice president of American Quasar Petroleum, described the bill "as an administrative nightmare as far as paperwork. But I think it is better to have something settled. We will get a little higher price on new gas, but I do not like the intrastate regulation. Collins added that he was against the bill, but he has become reconciled to the fact it was going to pass.

To Loyd, it appears on the surface "to be in the best interest to natural gas industry and the customer."
Collins added a positive note, saying "Hopefully, some people sitting on the sidelines will go ahead now and drill wells.'

While the Texas producers are worried about their futures, Collins said New Mexico economics will be enhanced. "It will have a positive effect on gas prices in New Mexico. They have been allowed $1.49 per thousand and I think they could receive $1.94 a on a new well.

"This energy bill is a hodgepodge of compromises and the end product is not what anyone wanted," Collins added. "Total deregulation would have been the preferred route.

A unique provision would make this credit available at the time a working person picks up his or her paycheck each pay period. Just as most persons have taxes withheld from their checks, some poor beneficiaries would have their checks increased by the government aid.

CAPITAL GAINS

Capital gains are profits from the sale of assets owned for a year or longer, including stocks and real estate. Current law subjects half a capital gain to the same tax rate applied to the individual's other income. After a $10,000 exemption, the other half is subject to a 15-percent "minimum tax.

Together, those taxes result in a theoretical maximum tax of 49.1 percent, although the average paid is about 16 percent.

The House voted to retain the 50-50 split but to exempt capital gains from the "minimum tax," resulting in a top tax of 35 percent.

The Finance Committee would subject 30 percent to the regular income tax. After a $20,000 exclusion, a new "minimum tax" ranging from 10 to 25 percent would be applied to the other 70 percent. But this tax would be paid only if it-exceeded the taxpayer's regular income tax.

This would result in a maximum tax of 21 percent on capital gains. Capital gains from the sale of a person's principal home would get more generous treatment. Under the Finance Committee plan, the profit from the first $50,000 of sales price would be tax-free. When the selling price is above $50,000, the tax-free portion would be determined by dividing $50,000 by the sales price and multiplying by the profit.

As under current law, a person could continue to defer any capitalgains tax on home sales by buying a new home costing at least as much as the old one. A person 65 or older could take advantage of both this "rollover" provision and the new tax break; those under 65 would have to choose one or the other.

The provision affecting the sale of a home would be effective retroactive to July 27, 1978. The other capitalgains cuts would take effect next January.

BUSINESS

-The maximum tax rate on corporate profits would be cut from 48 to 46 percent. The lowest rate, applying to the first $25,000 of profits, would be cut to 17 percent.

-The 10-percent investment tax credit, which rewards businesses for investing in equipment and machine-ry, would be liberalized and made permanent.

-Businesses would be allowed an additional tax credit of up to $3,000 for each new worker hired from the ranks of such hard-core jobless groups as ex-convicts, Vietnam-era veterans and young persons from poor fami-

on the day of his leaving, "and that's how we like it." So did Letchford.

He declares that he's coming back to visit the Yeagers and friends next "I did have a bad impression of America before I came here," Letchford said. "In New York, the people are very impersonal ... and not too helpful. "I still hold," he said, "of the states I've been in, Texas is the friendliest.

It's a pleasure just to walk down the street. People don't turn their eyes away (as "they" do up North). As for Midland, Letchford said he has an attachment for the Tall City that's known for high-rise office buildings and bustling masses of white-collar office workers and executives sustained and enriched by petroleum money.

"It's something of an unique town," observed Letchford. "It's location; it's development. It's a very wealthy town. I like it a lot. I got to (considering) ... it my second home, not because of the town but because of the people I've met."

In the six weeks he worked and played (such as rugby for the Mad Dog team) here, Letchford benefited from the experience.

He and Somper worked under the supervision of Marshall Surratt, vice president of The First National Bank of Midland.

"Marshall will probably tell you Governments lack loop funds, Chamber told how badly we worked and how well we socialized during breaks," Letchford said. "Marshall is a very good teacher. He taught us a lot about the American banking system."

They weren't loafers or featherbedders - to hear Surratt tell it.

"They're good boys - intelligent, enthusiastic representatives of Her Majesty," Surratt said after their de-parture. "Of course, I think they've become Texanized." (Letchford did say that he was "speaking almost like an American.")

"They worked in the credit department in collateral," Surratt said. "We tried to teach them about U.S. commercial banking, lending and credits while they were with us.

While they were in America, the Englishmen learned more than bank-

Letchford talked a bit about some of his and Somper's hitchhiking experiences. -In general: "We wanted to hitch-hike everywhere and meet some people." They did not linger in New York City. -Hospitality: "That (in Philadelphia, Pa.) is where we had our first introduction to American hospitality." They got free rooming at the luxurious Warwick Hotel due to (1) they were congenial English tourists and (2) confusion in room rates. (They got a hold of an old listing - $13 a night -, expected a "seedy" hotel, which today rents for about $50 a room, and the sympathetic hotel manager took 'em in.)

-Not so impressive: They passed though Washington, D.C., and were disappointed. "I didn't expect it (the White House) to be Buckingham Palace, but I did expect the same kind of aura," Letchford said. The White House was without spacious lawns and was closed in by buildings. -So fine: "Yeah, we just loved New Orleans. You can walk down any street, and it's really pretty." -Big town: "We didn't spend too much time in Houston. They (at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration - NASA) didn't show us as much as we would have liked to see what goes on behind the scenes." But they did hitch up with a NASA engineer who fed them "American hot dogs" at his home and analyzed their biorhythms. ("He was a typical scientist," Letchford recalled. "His biorhythms are the only ... (reliable) ones. They were accurate. I was surprised.

-Alamo city: "I liked San Antonio a lot. I think it was one of the more interesting towns we went through." On weekends, after their arrival in Midland, Letchford and his chum play rugby with Morris Lasater and his Mad Dog Rugby Team here and elsewhere and did some water skiing. More travel via hitchhiking followed their six-week work stint.

-No hassle: "Most people say they picked us up because we looked reasonably clean and respectable.' -The gamut: They hiked in the Grand Canyon, found a most hospitable ride, and traveled widely. And they almost spent the night in jail after a ranger in Arizona arrested them for fishing without a permit. Each paid a $28 bond to stay out of jail. "I would have liked to spend the night in jail, have a free breakfast, and to have had the experience." The next day, the understanding justice of the peace let the Englishmen off and refunded their money.

—Grand Canyon: "It's unbelieveable; you must go That was everything we hoped it would be." Later, they went up the West Coast, and developed a liking for the forests and mountains of northern California, Oregon and Washington. They particularly like the Redwood Forests.

-Hip: West of Eugene, Ore., Letchford and Somper hitched a ride with a long-haired, bearded, dirty, untidy hippy, who apparently liked loud hard rock 'n' roll music. "We were (apprehensive), but for the fact he had two children with him He wasn't aggressive... We were a bit worried at -Hitching: Trying to get a ride a night is "bad news," Letchford said. 'Lifts were very easy to come by," said the enterprising Englishman.

If he didn't get a ride right off, he'd find a way to hitch. He'd begin walk-

I thought if people saw I was walking, they'd think I was making the effort.'

It worked for the respectable Englishman.

"We're walking on a tightrope," County Commissioner Durward Wright said Wednesday at a Midland > ferring to the lack of funding by the city and county for Midland's North Loop Road. The future of the North Loop and its importance to the continued growth of Midland was discussed by the chamber board of directors at its monthly meeting. Since the State Highway Commission gave approval for the loop in 1977, land values have increased along the proposed loop.

> Chamber of Commerce luncheon, re-

Neither governing body now has the money needed to purchase land for rights-of-way, according to City Council Member G. Thane Akins and "If the county withdraws from the project because of lack of funds, it kills it (the Loop Road)," Wright said.

"We need the project." Akins added the city council has not considered killing the project. "We need some relief from the Highway Department or we have to come up with the funds some other way, maybe a bond issue."

The city and county received approval for the project from the commission on the condition they would be responsible for purchasing rightsof-way needed for the road, Akins said. The Highway Department is allowed to pay up to 90 percent of the cost for the land.

Wright said county officials believe land could be bought then at 10 percent of what is costs now "and we felt we were in no jeopardy.'

But, land costs have risen along the proposed route at FM 868, and what used to cost $200 to $300 an acre now costs upwards to $15,000 and $20,000, he said.

Also causing a problem is a federal law which states the city must advise each landowner they are entitled to fair market price for the land. Akins said the city had planned to ask that some of the land be donated.

Chamber President Harrell Feldt said, "The chamber recognizes the development of the North Loop is necessary for development of Midland. We are aware of the critical projects taking shape out there."

The Highway Commission will be hearing the city and county's case when it meets Oct. 23 in Austin. Akins said the city will need support from interested citizens at the meeting. Feldt announced a lease agreement has been made with the city of Midland for land on the northeast corner of the block where the exhibit center will be located. The chamber will construct a twostory building with about 4,800 square feet on each floor. The chamber will occupy the top floor and rent the bottom floor for retail business, Feldt said. Architects already have started plans for the $500,000 building. Lease will be $940 a month for the first four years and will increase every four years thereafter according to appraised value, he said. Results of a parking survey were outlined by Les Riek. Summarizing, he said people would be willing to have high-rise parking garages downtown, but they do not want to pay more than $25 a month. Estimated cost would be $40 per month for each car, he said. Feldt added the results did not reflect the problem downtown businessmen are having with employees parking at the meters all day, taking space away from customers who only need to be downtown an hour or so.

Hance campaign trying to prevent Bush from carrying Midland by 2-1

The Kent Hance congressional campaign is working to keep Republican George Bush from carrying Midland County by more than a 2-1 margin in the November election, a campaign spokesman said Wednes-day night.

economic miracle' of '70s ation sours Brazi

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) - Inflation has soured Brazil's "economic miracle" of the early 1970s, eating away at salaries and provoking widespread consumer unrest.

A ban imposed on strikes by the military government 14 years ago was broken last May by a walkout of 50,000 auto workers in Sao Paulo, gaining for assembly line workers wage increases above governmentset inflation indices.

But under military rule, dissatisfied wage earners are never sure how far they can go without provoking police action against them.

On Aug. 27, when 20,000 Sao Paulo residents massed in a public square to call for inflation relief, they were met by club-wielding police who scattered them with dogs and tear gas. The protesters were part of the grass-roots Cost of Living Movement, founded five years ago by the Roman Catholic archbishop of Sao Paulo, Dom Evaristo Arns, and now gaining momentum under the weight of an inflation rate of 41 percent.

Three weeks later 21 representatives of the movement came to this national capital to present petitions that they said bore 1.3 million signatures to President Ernesto Geisel. The petitions asked for a government price freeze on staples such as rice and beans, wage increases above government set indices and immediate salary bonuses to compensate for buying power lost to inflation over the

Made up largely of housewives, the delegation was stopped by security officials 150 yards from the presidential palace. The group was told only five of them could enter the palace, to meet, not with Geisel, but with an adviser to one of his advisers.

The Sao Paulo housewives, most of them married to blue-collar workers, refused the audience with the minor official but did carry the petitions, weighing 200 pounds, across the street, depositing them in the palace's public records office.

"The government doesn't seem to worry much about our problems," Ana Maria Martins Soares, the wife of an electrician, told The Associated Press. "But we are not going to disappear. The movement is going to get bigger," she said.

In his public pronouncements, Geisel has expressed sympathy for the plight of the worker but many government actions have fired up popular resentment against his economic po-

Shortly before the Sao Paulo auto workers' strike, newspapers charged Finance Ministry officials with a downward juggling of inflation figures, used to determine all wage increases. The errors had resulted in millions of dollars in lost wages over a five-year period, the newspapers claimed.

The government promised to check into the charges but did not deny there had been miscalculations. No retroactive compensation has been offered.

A Brazilian journalist reported recently he asked Finance Minister Mario Henrique Simonsen about high interest rates for installment buying, and quoted him as replying: "Tell the people to pay cash. They can get a loan for less interest from a bank if they don't have the money.'

The price of television sets in Bra-zilian department stores in 24 monthly payments are roughly double the cash price. But bank credit is hard to get for such a small purchase.

Until 1973 when oil prices quadrupled, the Brazilian economy, which imports 80 percent of its oil needs, was booming with average annual growth rates of 11 percent.

The boom became known as Brazil's economic miracle. In 1978 growth dipped to 4 percent and in August of this year, inflation had reached an annual rate of 41 percent, according to government figures.

Critics say the inflation is caused by the military government's investment in ambitious development projects, such as the $7 billion Itaipu hydroelectric dam in southern Brazil, billed as the world's largest. Borrowing for these projects over the years has built up a foreign debt, expected to reach $40 billion by year's end.

Geisel and his military backers say the investments in basic industry, highways, dams and bridges are necessary for the development of Brazil as a future superpower, a leader in Latin America, and a rival to Europe, the Soviet Union and the United

on citizens are refusing to tig their belts for future greatness. I most people, they want a higher s dard of living now.

Says Antonio Guimaraes, an of cleanup man here, "It's fine for Bra-zil to be strong in the world but it won't mean much if we are not eating well."

Bold burglar robs Austin's chief of police

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A bold burglar robbed Austin's chief of police Wednesday with Frank Dyson's wife yelling at him from the back yard.

"It takes someone kind of silly to rob the chief of police," Dyson said after reporting the loss of three shotguns and a portable television set to the sheriff's department.

Dyson said his wife was at the horse stables back of the Dyson home in south Travis County when she saw a car park in the driveway. As she walked back to the house she realized the driver had already gone inside. When she yelled "Who is it?" the man turned and ran, with the loot. Mrs. Dyson chased the fleeing burglar's car down the driveway but was unable to see any license plate for identification.

David Lee Powell convicted of AK-47 slaying of Austin patrolman

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - David Lee Powell, portrayed by his lawyers and psychiatrist as a "model boy" with a genius IQ who degenerated into a "speed" pusher, has been convicted of the AK-47 slaying of Patrolman Ralph Ablanedo.

The seven-woman, five-man jury who convicted Powell of capital murder Wednesday returns today to hear evidence on whether his punishment should be life imprisonment or

If jurors find the slaying was unprovoked and deliberate and that Powell would present a continuing danger to society, the death penalty would be automatic.

Powell, 27, took the guilty verdict with no sign of emotion, but his mother sobbed loudly after State District Judge Tom Blackwell read it and while his clerk polled the jury.

Jurors rejected psychiatric testimony that Powell was a paranoid top spades and then lead a spade for West to ruff, but this hands South his game contract. After West ruffs he can lead a diamond to force out the ace, but South promptly draws trumps and discards diamonds on the extra spades. South ruffs dummy's losing diamond, and then dummy is good.

CONTROL

East must keep control of the spades to defeat the contract. After taking the first trick with the king of spades, East must immediately return a low spade for West to ruff.

West returns a diamond to force out the ace, and South can draw trumps but cannot discard his diamonds because the spades are not yet established. If South leads a spade to drive out the ace, East can take the setting trick with a diamond.

After drawing trumps South's only chance is to try the club finesse since he will be able to discard dummy's losing diamond if East has the king of clubs. When the club finesse loses, South is down two.

"We take care of our overseas friends," explained Chang Ting-chuan of Hsinhua, the national news agency, when questioned about all this.

He explained that several years ago someone attacked a foreign visitor near a Peking hotel. The foreigner was not killed, but his assailant was executed as an example, Chang said.

Other Chinese say the biggest crime is theft, with money usually the object. A strong peer group and tight communities make the sale of stolen goods difficult, if not impossible, they add. Steel bars, or wooden slats, are frequently seen on ground-floor windows in the countryside and in such cities as Shanghai, Kweilin and Sian, as well as the steel center of Anshan. High walls around factories and communes sometimes have glass shards atop them to discourage trespassers. Virtually all of China's several hundred

Repeated offenders of lesser crimes, such as theft,

Crane takes on big trouble Friday

By STEVE O'BRIEN R-T Sports Writer

Crane takes to the road in their fourth appearance of the season and when they get on those Greyhounds Friday night they're going to know there's trouble waiting at the end of the line.

That's because the end of the line is Tahoka, Texas, and in Tahoka trouble wears jersey number 30.

The player inside that jersey has

The player inside that jersey has been causing plenty of trouble for Bulldog opponents. His name is Clifford Bailey and he may be the best running back in Texas.

The 6-3, 200 pound speed merchant rushed for over 2,000 yards a year ago and is on a similar pace this season. The Bulldogs have played only a pair of games so far, but in the season opener at Stanton Bailey rushed for 198 yards and scored three times as Tahoka won easily, 34-7.

AS BAILEY GOES, so go the Tahoka Bulldogs. Last year when Bailey was piling up all those gaudy statistics the Bulldogs won a regional championship. This year they're the No. 3 ranked team in Class AA.

So, it's easy to see the Golden Cranes will have their work cut out for them. After rushing off to a 2-0 start, Crane lost it's first game of the season last week to Coahoma. It was a disappointing loss for Crane as two lost fumbles spelled the difference in a 10-9 ballgame.

Though Crane will go into the game a decided underdog, they've got plenty of reason for optimism. At this stage, Crane is the top defensive team in District 7-AA and they're number two in offense. The Crane defenders have limited opponents to only 125 yards per game while the offense has been good for 277.6 each outing.

CRANE'S CARL GIBBS is the league's number two rusher, picking up 232 yards on 39 carries and scoring a pair of touchdowns. Rocky Rives has shown Crane can move the ball in the air when they have to and he stands second on the district list of passers. Rives has completed 13 of 29 passes for 244 yards and two scores.

Just about half of those passing marks have come on hookups with senior split end Andrew Hannon. Hannon has caught six of Rives' tosses for 112 yards and one touchdown. Slotback Rodney Roussarie has been the breakaway threat. He's caught only three passes but they've gone for an average of 31.3 yards.

Andrews will be out to keep pace with District 2-AAA counterparts Pecos and Fort Stockton when they entertain Snyder Friday. Fort Stockton and Pecos, who entered the Class AAA polls this week in the number seven and nine positions, respectively, are both unbeaten as is Andrews, the defending district champion.

THE MUSTANGS will find Snyder a more than worthy opponent. After big wins in all threee contests so far, Andrews can expect more of a dog-fight this time. Snyder stands 2-1 on the season, their only loss coming to powerful Midland Lee in the opener.

With Hobbs, N.M., coming into town the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes are hoping that wins, like shoes, come in pairs. After being shut out in their first two contests, Lamesa rode Dennis Borland's shirttail to a 14-12 win over favored Levelland last week.
Borland turned the tide for Lamesa with a 90-yard kickoff return in the fourth period.

Hobbs found out last week that playing before the home folks sure isn't enough to secure a win. Odessa High was Hobbs's guest a week ago and the Bronchos left town with a 20-0 win.

REAGAN COUNTY COACH Melvin Burns must have taken a special interest in Sonora's 37-7 thrashing of Mason last week. Burns' Owls, who are 2-1 in the coach's first year, have the dubious honor of playing the part of unbeaten Sonora's guest this

But there are other-reason's for Burns' attention. He was the coach at Mason for several years before going Reagan County this year. Also, Mason is a District 9-A foe the Owls will have to meet on down the line.

While Sonora, 2-0-1 on the season, was enjoying a big win last week Reagan County was looking at things from the opposite end. The Owls lost their first game, 36-0, to powerful Iraan.

McCAMEY WILL try to get back on the winning track when they travel to Eldorado this week. After winning their opener McCamey has lost two straight, the latest an 8-0 heartbreaker in Stanton.

Eldorado, on the other hand, broke into the win column for the first time this year last week, edging winless Ozona, 7-0. The game's only score came on a third quarter pass from quarterback Randy Morrison to John Cheatam. The play covered 13 yards and not only gave the Eagles their first win of the season, but also their first touchdown of the year.

Yanks retain one game edge in AL

By FRED ROTHENBERG AP Sports Writer

One game — it could have been the loss to Cleveland in April, Toronto in May, Oakland in June, Minnesota in July or Seattle in August. Reverse the outcome in any of those games, and the Boston Red Sox would be in much better shape today.

They have been one game behind the New York Yankees in the American League East since Saturday and each day that one game looms larger.

Boston beat Detroit 5-2 Wednesday night, while the Yankees were defeating Toronto 5-1, so the Red Sox are still running, albeit running in place. "It's never over until you're out of

"It's never over until you're out of it, and we're not out of it — not in any way," said Boston's George Scott. "We're only one game out with four left to play. You can't call that being out."

"It's the same thing I've been saying for the last few days," said Manager Don Zimmer. "We've got to win tomorrow night (tonight) and hope for help. Here we are with 95 wins, four games to play, and we're fighting for our life."

THAT'S BECAUSE the Yankees keep winning, although they would prefer a little more breathing room.

"This is the tightest race I've been in," said Reggie Jackson, who played for three straight world championship teams at Oakland. "I don't like it."

Those A's teams took the AL West five straight times, winning the division races more comfortably than the 2½ games by which New York won last year and the slim one-game edge they hold going into the final four games of this season.

"Last year was close enough for me," said Jackson.

Red Sox 5, Tigers 2

The Red Sox, helped by a three-run first inning keyed by Carlton Fisk's two-run triple, posted their fourth consecutive victory and eighth in the last 10 games.

Scott, fighting a season-long slump, knocked in a pair of runs with a single and his 12th homer of the year. Luis Tiant, Andy Hassler and Bob

Stanley combined for a five-hitter, with Stanley picking up his 10th save. Tiant, 12-8, allowed homers by Rusty Staub and Ron LeFlore before

Yankees 5, Blue Jays 1
Jackson and his old Oakland teammate Catfish Hunter helped reduce the Yankees' magic number to four in pursuit of their third straight division flag.

Hunter, 12-5, won his ninth game in the last 10 decisions with a six-hitter. He gave up his usual homer, this one to Roy Howell, who committed a key error in the Yanks' three-run second inning.

"Cat was super tonight, completely in charge," said Jackson. "But I've seen him better. I've seen him win Cy Young awards. I've seen him 21-5 when you'd get him two or three runs early and the game was over."

The three second-inning runs were enough, but Jackson and Graig Nettles belted booming solo homers for good measure.

Toby Harrah rapped out his 1,000th career hit, a three-run homer that capped a five-run fifth and propeled Texas over Minnesota. The two-out homer came off reliever Mike Marshall and followed a two-run single by Juan Beniquez.

Rick Miller's second double knocked in two runs in the fifth, breaking a scoreless tie. Ken Landreaux hit his fifth homer for California in the seventh.

Midland gives UNM offense new punch

A couple of years ago, Brad Wright was quarterbacking Midland Lee to a District 5-4A football championships and last year, like most dutiful freshmen forced to bide their time, he was riding the bench for the University of New Mexico as the Lobos went 4-7.

With veteran Noel Mazzone in front of him, Brad seemed destined for more of the same this season, especially since his one play last season against Colorado didn't exactly constitute an auspicious collegiate debut. Brad got in for the last play of the game and threw an end zone interception. Hardly anyone noticed since the Buffs had the Lobos draped over the ropes, 42-17, at the time.

Still, to Brad, the interception wasn't a comforting memory to take through the off-season. Sure, all quarterbacks throw interceptions, but they can usually recall something positive to blur the memory.

MAZZONE WAS at the helm in the opener when Hawaii upset the Lobos and the Midlander didn't even get into the game and it was beginning to look like his sophomore year might be a replay of his freshman year.

Then, along came Wichita State, riding high off an upset win over Oklahoma State. It

Reeves gets starting nod for Red Raiders

By DENNE H. FREEMAN AP Sports Writer

Freshmen quarterbacks could decide Saturday night's Southwest Conference football clash between the sixth-ranked Texas Longhorns and the surprising Texas Tech Red Raiders.

Tech Coach Rex Dockery said Ron Reeves, who engineered the Red Raiders' 42-26 come-from-behind victory over Arizona, will start against the rugged Texas defense which has eight starters back from last year.

Texas Coach Fred Akers will likely start either Randy McEachern or Mark McBath but freshman quarterback Donnie Little will be on call.

"You'll start seeing more of him," said Akers after Texas struggled to a 17-3 victory over Wyoming last week.

ODDSMAKERS rate Texas a 14-point favorite over the Red Raiders, who scared Southern California before falling 17-9 in their opener. Texas will be missing All-SWC defensive end Tim Campbell who is out for the season with torn ligaments in his left knee. "Texas has a great defense," said

Dockery. "It will be a big test for our offense."

A sellout crowd of 50,000 plus was expected for the 7:30 p.m. kickoff.

In intersectional games involving SWC teams, Texas Christian was a three-touchdown underdog to unbeaten Penn State on the road; Baylor was a 14-point underdog at Ohio State; Houston was a six-point underdog at Florida State; Arkansas was a three-touchdown pick over Tulsa; and Louisiana State was a four-touchdown nod over Rice in Houston.

The SWC is 9-7 against outside competition. The league was 14-6 after three weeks last year when it went on to lead the nation in non-conference winning percentage.

THERE CAN be no more a frustrated team than the Baylor Bears who have lost by two points to Georgia and four points to Kentucky.

gia and four points to Kentucky.

"I said before the season that we could be a good or great football team," said Baylor Coach Grant Teaff. "Right now I'd say we are a good team. The difference between good and great is being able to do what it takes to win."

Penn State had to charge from a 21-12 deficit to beat Southern Methodist last week while TCU is on the upswing with a 14-10 victory over Oregon.

Houston outgunned Utah 45-28 after losing its opener to Memphis State.

Phillies, Pirates barrel toward final showdown

By BERT ROSENTHAL AP Sports Writer

The Pittsburgh Pirates have won 22 games in a row at their home park, Three Rivers Stadium. If they don't stretch the streak to 26, they can forget about winning the National League East title - and the Philadelphia Phillies will be division champions for the third straight year.

The Phillies, leading the NL East by 31/2 games, and the Pirates, in second place, begin a crucial fourgame series at Pittsburgh Friday night with a double-header. They play single games Saturday and Sunday.

Philadelphia needs only one victory to capture the championship. However, if the Pirates sweep the series, they would be one-half game ahead of the Phillies and would have to play a makeup game against Cincinnati

A VICTORY in that game would make the Pirates champions. A loss would deadlock them with Philadelphia and the two teams would meet in a one-game showdown.

'If we don't win one out of four in Pittsburgh, we don't deserve to win it,"!said sparkplug shortstop Larry Bowa, voted the Phillies' most valuable player by the team's fans.

Philadelphia Manager Danny Ozark agreed with Bowa. "If we can't win one, we don't deserve to win," he said after the Phillies had edged the Montreal Expos 5-4 Wednesday

Should Pittsburgh win all four games against Philadelphia over the weekend, they would equal the longest home winning streak in major league history-26 games by the 1916 New York Giants.

Philadelphia's pitchers for the big series will be Dick Ruthven and Steve Carlton Friday night, Randy Lerch Saturday and Larry Christenson Sun-day. Pittsburgh will counter with Bruce Kison and Bert Blyleven Friday, Don Robinson Saturday and John Candelaria Sunday.

NEW YORK (AP) - The first-place New York Yankees would be out of the American League East pennant race by now if their record on the field was as bad as their record in the

As it is, the world champions keep winning games and losing decisions. They are dressing down the opposition and undressing in front of women

On Wednesday, U.S. District Judge Constance Baker Motley denied a request by the Yankees and baseball Commisioner Bowie Kuhn that she temporarily suspend her earlier order admitting women reporters to Yankee Stadium locker rooms.

Attorney Jesse Climenko said the appeal was lodged because Kuhn viewed her earlier decision as "inimicable, by his standards, to the welfare of organized baseball."

He also said Yankee players viewed the decision as a violation of their privacy, though some players said they did not object to the order.

THE APPLICATION for a stay was opposed by attorney Robert Joffe representing Melissa Ludtke, the Sports Illustrated reporter whose successful sex discrimination lawsuit resulted in Judge Motley's decision that cleared the way for women reporters in the Yankee dressing room.

In turning down the latest request by the commissioner and the Yanthe judge asked why the club could not use one of her alternate suggestions to protect player privacy. Those included swinging doors, curtains or a practice of the Yankee players using towels to cover themselves.

Climenko contended that the play-ers did not think their privacy would be protected by such measures. "We feel a player who has to resort to using a towel has lost his right to privacy," Climenko said. JOFFE COUNTERED, saying of the group of women reporters allowed in the dressing room Tuesday night:

Plano, Highland Park rematch hogs spotlight

My gosh! There isn't much to do this weekend as far as high school football games what with Midland and Lee open along with the other six District 5-4A

Looking back as last week-end's schoolboy picks by this corner, it wasn't a bad week, hitting 37 and missing seven and with that, moving above 80 per cent for the first time since the season opened up three weeks

On the season, the record is 101 right and 24 wrong for an .804 percentage.

Since the Little Southwest Conference teams are resting this week, I guess that the big game will be the Plano-Highland Park game Friday night. Last year, Highland Park blew a 28-0 lead in the third period to lose to Plano, 29-28 in the state Class AAAA quarterfinals and this year, the Wildcats and Scotties are in the same district, so that's a big game.

Plano has shut out three opponents thus far, beating South Garland, Dallas Kimball and Sherman thus far. In fact, the Widlcats blanked Sherman's Bearcats, 24-0, last week. Highland Park, meanwhile, has beaten Irving MacArthur, John Reddell's Trinity Euless team and had an open date last week to give the Scotts two weeks

Highland Park has Lance and Lott McIlhenny, sons of the former SMU great Don McIlhenney while Billy Ray Smith, son of former Balitmore Colt great, Billy Ray Smith, Sr., heads the tough Plano defense again this

A win by Plano Friday will get the Wildcats off to a great start since they already have that big win over Sherman in District

Anyway, without any more hesitation, here are this week

PLANO WILL have too much defense for Highland Park, but it still will be a real nell-ringer with the Wildcats posting a 14-10 victory in the top game in the Lone Star state this weekend.

OTHER PICKS include Pecos over El Paso Irvin, 28-8; Amarillo Palo Duro 20, El Paso Coronado 8; Ysleta Bel Air, 26, Las Cruces, N.M. 13; Las Cruces Mayfield over Ysleta High, 26-6; Plainview to roll past Amarillo High, 34-8; Amarillo Caprock 26, Levelland 0; Amarillo Tascosa 20, Lubbock Coronado 16; Borger 20, Pampa 18; Lubbock Monterey 20, El Paso Eastwood 14; Lubbock Dunbar 14, Lubbock High 9; Haltom, last week's upset winners over Abilene Cooper, to down Smith High of Carrollton, 27-7; Arlington Lamar to remain undefeated with 27-8 victory over Carrollton-Turner; Arlington Sam Houston 20, Denton 14; Wichita Falls Rider 28, Richland Hills 13; Wichita Falls 19, Lawton, Okla. 13; Arlington Heights to down Trimble Tech 26-20; Southwest 10, Western Hills 8; Arlington over Lewisville, 20-8; Tyler 26, Corsicana 13; Dallas Skyline 22, Wilson 12; W.T. White to post 21-7 win over Spruce; South Oak Cliff 28, Sunset 23; Sherman 14, Lake Highlands 13; Lufkin to take a 14-10 win over Spring Woods on Saturday night; Conroe 22, South Houston 6; Stratford over Lamar Consolidated, 20-12.

Missouri plays all the toughies

The No. 1 ranking in college football is like being top gun in one of those old wild west movies. There's always some young punk around eager to bump you off. Missouri is more than a young punk. This is the team that took on national champion Notre Dame in the opening game and won. Then it tackled top-ranked Alabama and led into the third period. Then it beat a good Mississippi team. Now it goes gunning for No. 1 again.

NFL scoring has defensive coaches gnashing teeth

By BRUCE LOWITT

AP Sports Writer
The National Football League is proudly proclaiming an increase in scoring this season. There's also an increase in the gnashing of teeth by defensive coaches.

The problem, more than a couple of them seem to feel, is that it's their department that gets picked on every time somebody looks for a scapegoat to explain a dip in attendance or excitement, and that sometimes changes are made simply for the sake baseball every time the hitters find themselves overmatched.

IN THE most recent off-season the league decided that, offensively, more is better. So it voted to eliminate contact against a potential receiver more than 5 yards downfield and to permit greater use of the hands and arms by linemen protecting quarter-

"It's kind of frustrating to defenthe sake of making changes.

"It's been going this way for the last three or four years because it seems the more conservative coaches, the ones who run the ball more, are the ones who get to the Super Bowl. It's been that way ever since Vince Lombardi and then Don Shula. They won titles with good, sound running games."

BUT CHUCK Noll of Pittsburgh, a defense-ortented head coach (he spent nine years as a defensive assistant with San Diego and Baltimore), agrees with one of Collier's points. "I feel that tinkering with the rules doesn't particularly aid the offense," he says. "I think it's a good game and should stay the way it's been."

And George Perles, Noll's defensive coordinator with the Steelers, adds: "The thing they end up doing that they don't want to do when they make ers play the game down on the field.

"From talking to one official, I found out they don't want it either," Perles said. "This year it's been magnified by a few controversial calls. You can't believe how many things they have to look for. Naturally they can't see everything. The gay I they can't see everything. The guy I talked to, heck, he sounded a bit depressed over the things he has to a lot of other ones we don't really

"Besides, every time they put a rule in, we sit down on defense and study it, see what we can get away with, not to break the rules but to at least level things off again."

Which is sort of how Jim Carr, San Francisco's defensive backfield coach, views things. "The offense is always working to catch up to the defense. It's the defense that does something the offense has to try and find a way to beat.

Pastorini back at practice

HOUSTON (AP) - If O.A. "Bum" Phillips knows his Houston Oiler football team, and he says he does, problems of the past week will be put aside Sunday for an important American Football Conference Central Division game at Cleveland. But Phillips is a confirmed opti-

"There's no problem with this team," Phillips said. "We're not a junior high team where they say if this guy doesn't come out or this guy doesn't do that, you'll have a prob-

Phillips referred to a Tuesday walkout by starting quarterback Dan Pastorini, angered when he was criticized in public by offensive coordinator Ken Shipp for his play selection in Sunday's 10-6 loss to Los Angeles. Pastorini also was unhappy that Phillips told his weekly news conference before he told Pastorini that the Oiler coaching staff would start calling plays in clutch situations.

Phillips said he'd bet his job that Pastorini would be back at Wednesday's workout and sure enough, the controversial quarterback showed up and worked out. Phillips termed the

'The situation with Pastorini was touchy but he is a grown man and I am a grown man and we've kissed and made up - not literally," Phillips

With the emotional problems apparently settled, Phillips still faces physical problems - those of two key players, rookie Earl Campbell and kick-return ace Billy Johnson.

Campbell suffered a strained hamstring in the fourth quarter against the Rams and Johnson, who missed the early season with a knee injury, injured the knee again in Wednesday's workout. Both are expected to play but whether they will be at full speed is looked as though the Wheatshockers had more of the same in mind for the Lobos and Mazzone wasn't helping matters. In the second period, he fumbled the ball away and then threw an interception that led to a TD.

Coach Bill Mondt decided to take a chance with his young quarterback, after all things couldn't get much worse and Mazzone did hurt his hand. Maybe the idea was to restore the concentration of his veteran quarterback. Whatever the intent, it didn't turn out that way.

WRIGHT ARRIVED in the second quarter and got the Lobos' offense moving and while the stubbron Shockers twice repelled the Lobos at the lip of the end zone, Brad finally beat the clock with a 33-yard drive, personally taking it in from the two to give New Mexico a 16-14 win.

One bad game isn't enough to bench a three-year starter, but Brad got a chance to start against the University of Nevada-Las Vegas because of a bonechip in Mazzone's right hand. Mazzone was available for duty if needed, but as it turned out he wasn't needed.

Wright started out with a bang, tossing a 52-yard scoring strike to split end Ricky Martin on the fifth play of the game and the Lobos never looked back.

It wound up 24-0. It could have been worse. Wright had one pass intercepted in the end zone and an offside penalty wiped out a 19-yard scoring pass. A fumble aborted another scoring threat.

Brad completed nine of 20 passes, which isn't that spectacular, but the results were. With 214 aerial yards, he averaged over 20 yards a completion.

After a performance like that, Mazzone may have that injured hand ready to go in a hurry, but chances are Brad will be starting again this week. However, he'll have to be at his best for the key WAC contest against Brigh-am Young, which has Marc Wilson, one of the nation's top

ABC would carry Bosox, Yank playoff

NEW YORK (AP) - If the New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox finish in a tie for first place in the American League East Division, ABC Television will carry their one-game playoff, the network announced Wednesday. The Yankees led Boston by one game with five to play going into Wednesday night's action. If the teams finish tied, the one-game playoff will be Monday afternoon at Boston's Fenway Park.

ABC will televise the game nation-

Knepper's five-hit pitching and an RBI grounder by Roger Metzger. A crowd of 4,708 raised the Giants' home attendance for the season to 1,740,477, the second highest in the team's history and an increase of more than 1 million over last year.

Knepper's shutout was his second in a row and sixth of the season, tops in the National League.

Prior to the game, it was announced that Giants Manager Joe Altobelli had been given a new contract. "It's been a good year," said Altobelli.
"The only disappointing thing was that we were in first place for so long and couldn't win it.

Astros 4, Braves 0 Vern Ruhle and Joe Sambito collaborated on a five-hitter and rookie Jeff Leonard rapped a three-run double during a four-run eighth inning, helping Houston top Atlanta. Ruhle worked the first seven innings, extending his shutout string against the Braves to 25 innings. All three of his victories this season have been against the Braves.

WEST TEXAS OUTDOORS

Heavy rains put damper on dove season opening

The South Zone dove season opened over the weekend and up until last Thursday I thought that this would be the chance to finally get in on some outstanding shooting.

I have been all over South Texas for the last couple of weeks and have seen 10 times as many doves as we currently have in the West Texas area. I had thought that over the weekend I would try some hunting down around LaPryor, as the North Zone opener was a real wash out. That was until the monsoon hit Thursday and inundated most of my hunting

It now seems that the South Zone opening was just as wet and un-

West Texas area. The cool weather has moved a lot of birds into our area and into the South Zone, but the rains have just about eliminated any chance for some real good shooting.

I thought that maybe my old standby, a stock tank out of Snyder, would be a good alternative to hunting in South Texas, but then Snyder got four inches of rain last Thursday. As a result, my plans were changed and the opening of the South Zone was spend watching TV and cleaning my shotguns and fishing tackle. Probably some hunters got their kill limits in both the North and South zones over the weekend, but, if so, it was due more to luck than an abundance of

DR. NEIL SOLOMON Drugs better

Dear Dr. Solomon: I've heard that it's possible to learn how to lower your blood pressure with the "biofeedback" technique. Does this really work?—

Dear D.K.W.: There have been cases where people with mild hypertension have been taught to lower their blood pressure. The instruction was done in a laboratory, where they were hooked up to an apparatus that told them at any time what their blood pressure was doing. They learned how to lower—or raise—it in an instinctive hit or miss way, a little like learning how to ride a bike. And they were able to apply these remarkable skills at home too.

However, in a recent experiment along similar

However, in a recent experiment along similar lines the biofeedback technique didn't do nearly so well. So for the time being, it should be thought of as an interesting experimental method, not as an alternative to the drug regime your husband is

Medication to lower blood pressure is very effective—it is, in fact, the main method of treating this serious problem. The important thing is for the patient to stick to the regime worked out by the doctor, as hypertension can only be controlled, not cured. Unless it is simply a symptom of some un-derlying trouble—and one that can be dealt with

So just make sure your husband continues doing what the doctor ordered.

Dear Dr. Solomon: Who are you trying to kid? Nobody gets those childhood diseases you are always writing about any more.—Mrs. H.N.

Dear Mrs. H.N.: Oh yes they do. And some of the diseases are actually on the rise. In recent years, small outbreaks of polio and not-so-small outbreaks of measles have caught neighborhoods, schools, and, in some cases, larger areas, by surprise. The other diseases, too, are still taking their toll. Overall, the percentages of vaccinated children have fallen so low that experts warn that we once again face the danger of epidemics.

Dear Dr. Solomon: I've been reading your articles about vaccinating children. I'm not sure I know what to do. What do you suggest?—Mrs. D.O.

Dear Mrs. D.O.: Check your children's medical records. If one of your children has not received all his vaccinations for all the diseases, arrange with your doctor to have the vaccinations completed without further delay. If your records are incomplete or if you aren't sure that your children have been fully vaccinated, ask your doctor. Immunization is vital protection for your children. Don't put it off.

Dear Dr. Solomon: Do the polio vaccines provide protection against all types of polio?—Mrs. A.S. Dear Mrs. A.S.: Yes, the vaccines provide im-munity against all three forms if all of the recommended doses of vaccine are given.

(If you have a medical problem, see your doctor. If you have a medical question, write to Neil Solomon, M.D., 1726 Reisterstown Road, Baltimore, Md. 21208. Dr. Solomon cannot give personal replies but will answer as many questions as possible in his column.)

JIMMY'S WHITE HOUSE uses tree house

Sanderson, a local computer worker whose hobby is barbecue cooking, was enlisted to prepare woodsmoked pork and beef for an outdoor White House party Monday night for youthful Carter campaign workers and the offspring of Congress members.

A dedicated barbecue chef, Sanderson ignited his supply of wood at 11 p.m. Sunday. Since he had to put the meat on the fire at 3 a.m. Monday, and turn the meat at two-hour intervals thereafter, he needed a resting place close to his work.

By all accounts, President Carter is comfortable with the "town meeting" format that finds him fielding questions from citizens

And with questions like the following, who can blame him?

"My first question is I would like to ask you if you do think you will run for a second term?" said a young woman at Aliquippa, Pa., last Saturday. "And also, I would like to ask you, if possible, and if Rosalynn wouldn't mind, could I please give you a

They're not all that easy, of course. At the Allquippa town meeting, for example, Carter was asked:
"We want to know why your administration has not had the courage to stand up to Menachem Begin (Israel's prime minister) and to the American Jewish communify by simply cutting off all foreign aid to the Israelis until they give back all territories stolen from the Orthodox Christians and others in occupied Palestine.

Carter retorted, "I thank you for your very objective and unbiased question." He then paused for laughter and applause before launching into an extended discourse on the Palestinian issue.

One Pennsylvania woman, after telling Carter she would leave "all the big questions" to others, came at him with the following:

"How would you like to be the first president of the United States to honor us by being a member of the Beaver Castle Girl Scouts?"

Carter was invested on the spot. When Begin left the Oval Office after announcement of the Camp David summit results, the president presented him with a small blue plaque. It

"Shalom, Y'all."

Ever since the summit, Carter has been joking about that marathon negotiating session.

Teaching Bible school at the First Baptist Church here on his first post-summit Sunday, the president announced to his class, "It's always nice to come back from a two-week vacation at Camp David."

In a more serious vein, he confided that the summit provided some of the most unpleasant moments of his life — "and, of course, some of the most

NEW YORK (AP) -For the liberal arts student, for the homemaker worrying about prices, and for the gloomy of heart who believe the American worker has become a goofoff, these items of interest:

-For the liberal arts graduate. Liberal arts students are prized by some business organiza-

True, many companies look for business or related majors, but others esteem the liberal artists for their reasoning and other abilities. Cargill, Incorporated, a Minneapolis-based, privately owned, multi-billion dollar, worldwide trader of commodities, traditionally hires liberal arts graduates among its management train-

We feel they have a rounded education, are generally able to express themselves, and have an open mind," said W. B. 'Barney" Saunders, a group vice president who interviews potential

Saunders, himself a liberal arts grad "who knew nothing about the grain business," doesn't believe, as some do, that broadly educated students lack the sharpness, the sense of direction needed by business.
"One of the best things learned in college was how to learn — about something completely new, with no previous frame of reference," he said. A year or so after being hired, he was buying and selling grain. A grain merchant, he says, must be a fast thinker, a hard worker, be able to express himself, get along with people and have a fast, analytical mind. The liberal arts, he maintains, are

-For homemakers the message is less refresh-

According to Howard Hjort, Agriculture Department chief economist, "a stable farm price situation in 1979 would likely result in food price increases on the order of 4 or 5 percent." Not bad - so far.

At that point Citibank economists began making their own projections. Hjort's prediction, they said, assumes an inflation rate of 6.5 percent to 7.5 percent. "We expect 8 percent or more,'
they said.

Based on Hjort's statement, they continued, the grocery bill of a typical four-person family next year would rise by about $3.40 a week, if farm prices remain sta-

The calculations get even more foreboding. 'Smaller meat and dairy supplies," the economists maintain, "could push that bill up by $6.15 a week." And the mes-sage continues to dark-

"These increases, if realized, would be on top of the $6.21 weekly increase already foreseen for 1978 for the typical four-person family who spent $62.10 a week on groceries in 1977," the economists state.

And they are not through. Relentlessly, insensitively, they pile on the misery with this concluding statement:

"Applying the 1979 increases to this year's indicated weekly average food bill of $68.31, that family could be spending as much as $74.46 a week for food by the end of 1979." That's the end. Yes, indeed.

For the worker, and for those who think he no longer is interested in a good day's work for a good day's pay. It isn't so, says Prof. David Cherrington of Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah.

Cherrington surveyed 3,000 workers nationally and learned from them, he says, that pride in doing a job well is the highest priority of the American worker.

On a scale of one to 100, 'pride in craftsmanship" placed 84, outrank-ing "more money or larger pay increase' two points.

In a survey of popular periodical literature, Cherrington found that the value of hard work, perseverance and industry was a common subject of articles prior to

Gradually, he says, the subject became less common, and almost completely disappeared in the years 1963-1967, replaced by articles la-menting the passing of the work ethic. But, while productivity gradually fell and nostalgia for the old days overwhelmed writers and bosses, the worker's pride, conscience and ambition apparently didn't waver. Whether it became smothered by events or ignored or misunderstood is another matter. Cherrington concludes that if the work ethic isn't to die, it must be cultivated.
