The second annual Stratford Jamboree Celebration closed Sunday afternoon widely acclaimed as one of the most successful celebrations to have been staged in the City on such a large scale.

Not only was the celebration a success from the standpoint of entertainment, it was a success in developing the talents of many young business and professional men of Stratford who had never before attempted to take part in public service.

Although worried by the fears of inexperience, the events of the celebration worked out with a smoothness which left the promoters of each event somewhat awed by the success of each undertaking.

Consolidation Election Fails

Supporters of the Stratford-Kerrick school district consolidation failed to secure a majority vote at Kerrick in the election held Tuesday.

24 ballots were cast at Kerrick, 10 favoring consolidation and 14 against.

Forty-three votes were cast at Stratford, 42 favoring consolidation and 1 against.

Kerrick and Stratford school trustees face several headaches as the result of the election.

Kerrick trustees must transfer several of their students to other districts, most of whom attend school in Stratford. They must also maintain a school at Kerrick or they will automatically be swallowed up in the Dalhart consolidated school district, a policy most Kerrick residents bitterly oppose.

Stratford trustees face the problem of working out equitable tuition charges for the students who will attend the Stratford school.

Information Centers Warn Texans of Cancer

Cancer information centers, sponsored by county units of the Texas Division of the American Cancer Society, are at present reminding Texans that cancer can be cured, if caught in time, and are conducting an educational program to cut the Texas cancer death rate, which took the lives of almost 7,000 Texans last year. Volunteer workers of the American Cancer Society operate the centers, along with full-time employed executive secretaries at the full-time centers. The centers are located at densely populated points about the state. The Texas Division of ACS is urging county units to establish centers in every county of the state.

Stratford Wins First Game In Dalhart Tourney

The Stratford Independent Baseball Club won its first game in the Dalhart Invitation Baseball tournament Tuesday night when it beat the strong Texhoma nine 2 to 1. It was a pitchers battle all the way between Tex

Flanagan, the lanky blonde Irishman of Texhoma, and lion hearted Moss of Stratford. Flanagan had beaten Moss the last time they had opposed each other in late August, but Tuesday night Moss had sweet revenge.

Rumors had it that Stewart, the Stratford manager, was going to start Katen, the speed ball artist of Cactus, yet the pleas of Moss for revenge on Texhoma were listened to and headed by the Stratford manager. So it was quite a surprise to the big crowd when they took the blanket off of Moss for the initial game in the tournament, with little fireball Herring doing the catching and his team mates playing tight ball. Moss set them down with three hits, while striking out ten of the Sooners, Flanagan going down three times swinging. An infield error prevented Moss from a shut out in the last inning with a walk and error. Texhoma had runners on second and third and one away. Moss then went to work on the next batter and struck him out on three pitches, then forced the next man to hit a slow bouncer to Davis at short stop who threw to Tiny Chisolm at first base for an easy out ending the game.

Little Red Cotney, playing center field for Stratford, was lead off man. In his first time at bat he hit Flanagan's second pitch for a clean double into left center field. He then advanced to third on a passed ball, and a second later he scored on a perfect sacrifice by Davis the Stratford shortstop. Tiny Chisolm opened the third inning with a sizzling double through the box, but it went for naught as Flanagan made the next three batters ground out to his infield. Stratford scored again in the fourth inning on an error, and a bad throw to first advanced Lollis to second who scored later on Chisolm's hard hit double to center field. With little fire ball Herring and speedy Katen in reserve for mound duty, Stratford has high hopes of beating Amarillo in the semi-finals Thursday night.

Legion Airs

(By Earl Bond)
Today I cannot help but feel proud, proud that the Stratford

Jamboree was such a success. It was a success not because I, or Commander McIntosh, nor any other of the many who were workers or committeemen made it a success by our efforts, but because the people of Stratford and the surrounding area made it a success. All our efforts would have been in vain had we not had your enthusiasm and cooperation. I am sure that now not one of the many who worked so hard on the preparation of this celebration begrudge one minute of the time they put in.

There are many who deserve special thanks for their work on this program, but I am not going to start mentioning names for fear that I would leave out someone who had done as much or more than some I might name. But to each and all of you who helped in any way to put over this event, I wish to extend the sincere thanks of the American Legion. We would especially like to thank the Chamber of Commerce for their fine cooperation in putting over the parade, and also the merchants whose splendid cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce made it possible for us to have such a fine parade.

At this moment, all bills are either paid or else money set aside for their payment, all without any collection taking. To show for it we have the makings of a fine rodeo park for the city. It is hoped that next year we can put up a grandstand to handle a larger crowd in more comfort, but we could not do so this year without asking for contributions, and that we would not do. However, since the celebration is over, there have been some who wished to contribute something toward the rodeo pens. If there are any of you who would like to contribute something, we would be glad to accept it and put it to good use, but we certainly aren't going to ask you for it. Since the rodeo pens are already paid for, any monies received now will go toward the completion of the Legion Hall.

We had hoped to make some money on this celebration toward the completion of our building, but the rodeo pens cost so much and some phases of the Jamboree did not bring in the money we expected, that there is no money left over for the building except possibly a couple of hundred dollars. We need about two thousand.

I am sure that everyone appreciated the new air conditioning system in the Legion Hall. I was out of town during the celebration, but I was told that in spite of the tremendous crowd, it was as cool as a cucumber in there. We have certainly needed this before, but it was just another one of the items awaiting a little money. I know that the building will be much more useable during the warm months now that we finally have some ventilation.

I am sure that everyone now feels that the Jamboree is here to stay as an annual affair, and that it will be one of the outstanding celebrations in the Panhandle within another year or so.

Except in the length of their parades, I don't think that there is another celebration in the Panhandle that can top it now. Publicity is responsible for the widely acclaimed XIT and Pioneer Day celebrations, and that is where I fell down. I take that as my personal responsibility, but I simply was not able to get out all the publicity that I should and at the same time help take care of the thousand other details. Another thing that hindered publicity was the fact that it was impossible to get all the details settled in time to get the publicity that they should have had. Everything had to be done over right at the last, because things that were already settled a month before, suddenly became unsettled again, and by the time we made new arrangements, there was no time for publicity. I never tackled a more heart-breaking job than this one.

In spite of all the setbacks, we had a wonderful celebration and I know that all of you had a good time, and will be in there pitching for us again next year for an even better Jamboree.

Cosmic Rays Are Born In Huge Galactic Clouds

NEW YORK.—Huge galactic clouds in the interstellar space are the "birthplace" of the mysterious cosmic rays that bombard earth from all directions, according to Dr. Enrico Fermi, Nobel prize physicist.

In reporting the new theory of the cosmic rays, Dr. Fermi believes that the rays originate from collisions between protons, atomic particles, with a magnetic field in a huge galactic cloud.

Other scientists have expressed belief the rays come from the sun or from far-off stars, but no hypothesis has been proved—hence, the many studies being made today of cosmic rays.

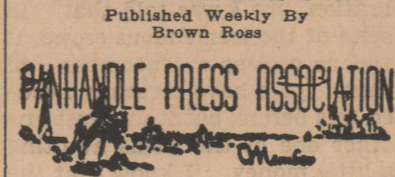

Dr. Fermi, inventor of the first uranium chain reaction pile that led to the atomic bomb manufacture, said his new theory was based on an idea originally proposed by H. Alven, a Swedish physicist, who called attention to the fact that the galactic clouds in interstellar space carry magnetic fields with them as they move about.

Fermi, writing in the Physical Review, said that the fast-moving magnetic fields acting upon protons, or atomic particles in space, would gradually accelerate them to energies, ranging from one billion volts to energies of one million times larger.

Christ in the Psalms

Jesus found in the Psalms also prophecies. There is a rather thin line between illustration and prophecy.

For instance, when the Jerusalem boys and girls were making such a noisy welcome for him, and the dignified priests were protesting, Jesus quoted Psalm 8:2 in defense of the children: "Out of the mouths of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise."

Did he mean that the Psalmist had predicted that very occasion, or did he mean that the Psalm expressed a truth always good.

At all events, we do know that Jesus often took a Psalm, or a part of one, as a prophetic picture of himself. He knew himself to be the true King of Mankind, "the Lord's Anointed," as his use of Psalm 110:1 plainly shows.

Yet he also knew that he must pass through suffering to his throne (Luke 24:26). When the leaders of his people rejected him he was not surprised, for he thought at once of Psalm 118:22-23. When he hung on the cross, and saw the soldiers gambling for his clothes, Psalm 22:16-18 would surely come into his mind.

And can we doubt that in his last agonies, one who knew the Psalms so well would not have remembered also the later lines from the same prophetic Psalm? It begins with the tragic question—Why? But it rises to a song of triumph—"When he cried unto him, he heard!"

Jesus and the Psalms

Lesson for September 11, 1949

SOME parts of the Old Testament Jesus never once mentioned. Others he quoted again and again. Could this be because some parts were more helpful to him than others? At any rate, the Psalms were one section of his Bible which he often quoted.

Worship

ONE USE Jesus made of the Psalms was in public worship. Whenever he went up to the Temple he would join in singing or in listening to the great choirs singing these ancient hymns. Many of our own best-loved hymns, while not direct translations, are based on Psalms. For example, "Still, Still With Thee" is from Psalm 16; "God Is My Strong Salvation" from Psalm 27; "The King of Love" from Psalm 23; "O Worship the King" from Psalm 104.

In private worship also we know Jesus used the Psalms. One of the Hebrew names for them was "The Book of Prayers," and Jesus, like many another who has loved these Psalms, found in them the natural expression of what was deepest in his heart when he turned toward his Father in heaven.

A striking proof of this comes from the story of Calvary. The cry, "My God, why hast thou forsaken me?" is a quotation from Psalm 22:1, and "Into thy hands I commend my spirit" is from Psalm 31:5.

Thus, two out of three prayers he uttered in his last moments were from the Psalms. So the reader today, pondering in a quiet moment these immortal poems, either from the printed book or better yet, as Jesus did, from the treasures of memory, may often find in them prayers which seem breathed from his own mind and to which he need only say, Amen.

Truth about God

JESUS also found in the Psalms a revelation of truth. It would be too much to say that Jesus derived his ideas of God from the Psalms. But certainly some of the great teachings of God which we hear from Jesus we can read already in the Psalms.

Jesus did not use the Psalms stupidly, of course. He would never have supposed that you could take just any sentence about God out of some Psalm or other, and quote it as the last word about God.

For instance, during his temptations the thought was suggested to him that he could jump off a high building and not be hurt; had not God promised just that in a Psalm? Now it is true that Psalm 91:9-12 does say that God will keep you from "dashing your foot against a stone" but Jesus knew that does not mean that God will guarantee to keep you out of trouble or harm no matter how foolish you are!

Christ in the Psalms

Jesus found in the Psalms also prophecies. There is a rather thin line between illustration and prophecy.

For instance, when the Jerusalem boys and girls were making such a noisy welcome for him, and the dignified priests were protesting, Jesus quoted Psalm 8:2 in defense of the children: "Out of the mouths of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise."

Did he mean that the Psalmist had predicted that very occasion, or did he mean that the Psalm expressed a truth always good.

At all events, we do know that Jesus often took a Psalm, or a part of one, as a prophetic picture of himself. He knew himself to be the true King of Mankind, "the Lord's Anointed," as his use of Psalm 110:1 plainly shows.

And can we doubt that in his last agonies, one who knew the Psalms so well would not have remembered also the later lines from the same prophetic Psalm? It begins with the tragic question—Why? But it rises to a song of triumph—"When he cried unto him, he heard!"

Watch Your Kidneys!
 Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.
 Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up sights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
 There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS
Russia Threatens Yugoslav Regime; Truman Takes Arms Row to People; Excise Tax Cut Stymied This Year

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

YUGOSLAVIA: War Clouds

Was the United States ready to go to war on behalf of Yugoslavia? That was a paramount question as the hard-boiled struggle between Yugoslavia and Russia reached the threat-of-war stage. Diplomats pondered the question: What would the United States do if Stalin sent the Soviet army to overthrow Marshal Tito's regime in Yugoslavia?

BRITISH and American diplomats, however, ruled out the likelihood of a shooting war. They regarded Moscow's threat to "take more effective measures" in Yugoslavia as only a part of the war of nerves. British newspapers took a different view. They regarded the Soviet note as the "worst threat of war since 1939."

No one outside the Kremlin could know for sure what was coming next. But the threat that began 14 months ago to upset Tito when the Cominform read him out of the Communist party developed long ago into frequent shootings along the satellite borders.

Diplomats in Belgrade frankly were worried. As an example of the jittery situation, one embassy thought it had an inside tip on an "invasion" date.

THE QUESTION of American involvement was not quite as academic as it might appear. With the issue squarely joined between Communism and the west, and with the U.S. serving as the arsenal of the west, involvement as a result of any warlike Kremlin move was an ever-present possibility.

EXCISE TAX: Not This Year

All hope for any reduction this year of federal excise taxes appeared doomed as congress shut the door on the issue. Excise taxes are collected on such items as furs, jewelry, luggage, cosmetics, transportation and telephone bills.

CHAIRMAN DOUGHTON (D., N.C.) of the tax-writing house ways and means committee issued a statement saying that he sees no prospect for a reduction in these taxes now. He gave as a reason the federal deficit threat of more than five billion dollars in the current fiscal year.

To clarify the subject for consumers, he added: "I believe it is important to make this clear so that consumers will not postpone the purchase of goods subject to tax in the hope of an immediate reduction."

BUT HE HELD out hope of tax relief in the future. He said he had requested the congressional staff of tax experts to begin now a study of possible tax revisions and reductions for the consideration of congress next year. There was a hint, however, that if present excises are lowered, some other taxes may be increased—unless federal expenditures are reduced. There remained a middle course, Doughton went on, which might provide a reasonable reduction in government expenditures, to require some increase in taxes where the increase can be borne without disturbing the economy, and to provide for a reduction in those taxes which are crippling enterprise and interfering with business expansion.

ACID TEST: Fails For Granny

The gambling grandmother of Gardena, Calif., had a relapse. MRS. SULA BELL STIMSON, 49, had been stricken with a compelling urge to gamble. She reached the stage where she forged checks with which to obtain funds for poker playing. She just couldn't resist the yen to see what that next card would be.

Last November she was brought into court for her weakness and was placed on probation for three years. Last April she was arrested again and a physician testified she had undergone a personality change from a normal housewife to a person afflicted with a craving for gambling. HE SAID doses of glutamic acid had been used with some success in similar cases, recommended such treatment for Mrs. Stimson. The court agreed, and she was released to the custody of her family with court orders to continue the treatment. It didn't work. The gambling grandmother had succumbed again to the fascination of the poker deck. The acid test had failed.

U. S. AGENCIES

Six Departments Undergo 'Streamlining'
 As a result of congressional action several government agencies went under the streamline plan and some mild reshuffling came about. Some 3,300 federal employees were affected as six of President Truman's reorganization plans went into effect under terms of the reorganization act of 1949.
 Summing up, here is the gist of what occurred: The U.S. employ-

TRUMAN: To The People

President Truman submitted his arms-for-Europe proposal to the people through the medium of the golden jubilee convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Miami.

DECLARING the armament proposal was the "price of peace," he termed it this nation's guarantee against war and urged approval. The President, contending that peace with freedom and justice cannot be "bought cheaply," urged that congress immediately approve the 1.5 billion-dollar arms outlay.

He conceded the cost was "considerable," but added that it "represents an investment in security that will be worth many times its cost."

There were those in congress, however, who were in noticeable disagreement with President Truman. These included several congressmen who have been stalwart supporters of administration policy.

THE DISSIDENTERS argued that it was "pouring money down a rat-hole" to attempt to prevent war or adequately arm the north Atlantic pact signatories as the Truman proposal planned. Others declared the program was simply "putting small arms in the hands of constabulary of little nations." U. S. military experts agreed that even with the program operative as envisioned by the President, Russia could overrun the continent in 60 days.

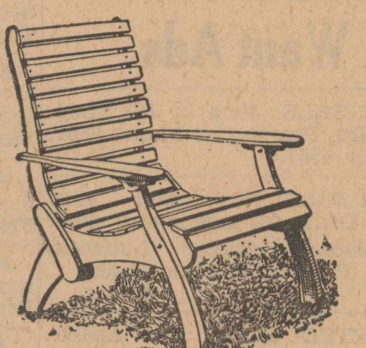

Claiming this, they added that since the U.S. would have to pay for World War III anyway if and when it came, the wiser course would be to build up national defense and striking power to the point where no surprise attack on this nation could be successful.

ELECTRONICS: Machine Has 'Brain'

The parade of "mechanical brain" devices appeared never-ending. The newest group—an automatic computer called Binac—is smaller, cheaper, brighter than the others. It can calculate 12,000 times faster than a human being and does problems 25 times faster than more complicated machines. The inventors predicted it would usher in another industrial revolution in which machines can take over many jobs now done by man.

BINAC, built to order for Northrop aircraft company, was designed especially for complicated engineering problems such as in designing new military aircraft and guided missiles. But Binac was not the last word in the field of mechanical "brains." A larger, general-purpose type of "magic brain" called Univac was under construction. Its first customer will be the U.S. census bureau. UNIVAC, it was said, could even play chess, but only about as good as an average player, not an expert. It is expected that the machine also would be able to write simple melodies and lyrics because musical harmonics follow simple rules. With Univac, according to reports, the American people will find out a lot of things they didn't know about themselves—that is, statistically speaking.

G-Man Hoover Scans Career

Has Served Bureau For Past 25 Years

WASHINGTON, D. C.—It was 25 years ago that John E. Hoover, a librarian turned lawyer, took command of a run down police force whose officers could neither make arrests nor carry guns. In a quarter century, much has happened. America's criminal glossary has been swelled by such terms as "G-man," "G-heat" and "public enemy." The era of gang warfare as a national characteristic and kidnaping as a big time source of racket money have flowered and faded. The careers of "Machine Gun" Kelly, Dillinger and Karpis have boomed in the news headlines and ended at morgue and prison gates.

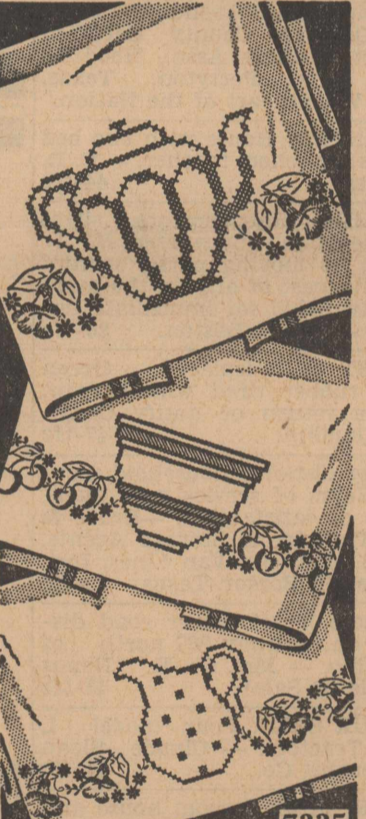

And along the way, "John E." has become "J. Edgar" and the sad sack police force of May 10, 1924, has blossomed into the pride of a nation which once maintained that law enforcement was a strictly local problem and no business of Washington's bureaucrats. In honor of his silver anniversary as head man of the federal bureau of investigation, director Hoover reviewed the FBI story and told how it all began. It is a story of politics, good and bad, of an era that created a new enforcement approach, and of a criminal punk with a machine gun and a smart wife who did a million dollar publicity job for the FBI. Above all it is the biographical tale of an unimportant federal employe who took an unimportant appointment in 1924, and, without changing jobs, has become one of Washington's and the nation's most potent figures.

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE
 by Roger C. Whitman

QUESTION: Is there anything I could put on my aluminum outdoor clothes line so that black smudges can be kept off the clothes? Even after thorough wiping it is possible to rub "black" off the line.

ANSWER: After thorough cleaning, rinsing and drying, give the line a coat of good spar varnish. To get an even coat, saturate a piece of cheesecloth with the varnish and wipe it on the wire. Since there will be a great deal of friction, the varnish gradually will wear off, and the treatment must be repeated. Instead of all this fussing, why not use a good cord clothesline, to be taken down and put away when not in use?

SEEDS Germinate FASTER
 when you put ROLKLEEN TIRES
 ON YOUR PRESENT STEEL PRESS WHEELS

 Rolkleen V-Tires help speed germination by pressing seeds down into bottom and sidewalls of furrows, where moisture is most highly concentrated. The plant comes up 2 to 5 days sooner in many cases — giving you a head start on an earlier, bigger-yielding, better-paying harvest.
 Fig. A Fig. B
 NO DIRT BUILD-UP. FIT PRESENT WHEELS
 * Smooth V-side walls prevent build-up of dirt and mud so common with flat press wheels. Semi-pneumatic Rolkleens shake off dirt and mud — and pull easier, roll quietly, and absorb shocks.
 * Prolong press wheel life. Hub turns 1/2 slower. Less dirt gets into bearings, because wheel flanges don't dig into furrow sidewall.
 * You can easily install on your present steel wheels. Made of tough, long-wearing rubber. Rolkleens soon pay for themselves!
